LIBERTY BOND AT THE LAVERING. SENATOR BORAH AND D. W. DAVIS ADDRESS AN IMMENSE AUDIENCE

Chairman Davis Made Strong Appeal for Prompt and Liberal Subscription to Liberty Bonds—Senator Borah Made Powerful Argument in Defense of His Taxation Theory, Which Congress Rejected. Both Are Enthusiastically Applauded.

The Liberty Loan campaign was opened last night at the Lavington before an immense crowd which was addressed by D. W. Davis of American Falls, state chairman of the movement, and Senator W. E. Borah. Cards for the answering of queries bearing on the subject and for the purpose of signifying a desire to subscribe, were passed out among the people before the speaking. The platform was tastefully and patriotically decorated at the hands, we are advised, of Mrs. Conway. The Twin Falls band played several patriotic airs on the streets and the people straggled the women at home, filling every available inch of space in the large structure. The greatest enthusiasm was shown while the singing of the national anthem and the obligations of citizens to buy them were being set forth.

Senator M. J. Sweezy opened the meeting by reading a letter from Chairman E. J. Pech and in a few patriotic words introduced Chairman Davis. Mr. Davis said that he had received his appointment from Washington about five days ago. He felt that this was a time when every citizen should make some real sacrifice for his country. It is being called upon and are getting forth gladly to risk their lives and if necessary to lose them, in order to preserve for the blessings secured by the sacrifices of Washington and his soldiers during the revolution, and of the boys in blue during the Civil war. During the struggle the women at home suffered many privations in order to help maintain the fight for liberty. What they did for the boys in blue, the people at home have been called upon to do now. They are enjoying unusual prosperity. The land is fertile, the crops are abundant, the banks are overflowing with money. The people are prosperous and at this time, all should do something to show an interest in the maintenance of the government in its fight for a more efficient and more powerful earth. The committee is going forth with the Liberty Loan, so far as possible all should subscribe in proportion to their means. The man who, out of the present prosperity can spare $5000 is a slacker if he should buy only a $50 bond. The present issue four per cent and made them subject to income tax, so that there would be no incentive to collect. The man who has a large amount of money but that they might remain in the hands of the masses. Those who have government bonds always have something to fall back on. The man who has money but cannot use it as collateral to secure loans at a bank, should the owner want money and at the same time wish to keep it, Senator Davis made a forcible patriotic plea and was heartily applauded by the entire audience. His argument that all should subscribe to show their patriotism was popular and made a strong impression.

Senator Borah was introduced by State Chairman Davis and made an eloquent tribute to Twin Falls country. He said that he had been speaking about the wonderful growth of Twin Falls through the country since he had been here five years ago and had been charged with exaggeration, but was himself surprised when he arrived here to find that the growth of the country hereafter. He said that no other country in the world would equal this and repeated the compliment paid it by Governor Aronson who declared that the valley of the Nile was inferior to it. Turning to the bond proposition, Senator Borah made a powerful plea for the purchase of the pro-German that this struggle was European in character. It was an American war, fought because Germany murdered our people and it was to them that they should travel only where she permitted in the way she permitted, or the murdering would be done. He said that the Liberty Loan for this year would be $25,000,000,000. This was necessary because the "entente" powers were at the limit of their resources and must be given aid at the same time we must prepare to meet a great military power that had been preparing for thirty years. # HEFLIN MATTER IS STILL SIMMERING

Efforts of Party Leaders of Both Sides to Riffle—Discussion—Proves Fruitless.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Despite the organized efforts of Republicans and Democrats alike to keep the Heflin charges another Representative from Illinois today forced a ruling that a question of personal privilege was involved in statements made by Heflin on August 3, charging him inferentially with treason. Mr. Mason caught the parliamentary of the majority side off his guard by using his question of privilege on the remarks made by Heflin August 3 instead of more recently. Representative Garrett of Tennessee attempted to argue that there was no privilege involved but was laughed down by the house.

Mr. Mason declared flatly that he had introduced a bill for the repeal of the draft law and in the words of Mr. Heflin which he complained to "leave the country without an army." Heflin will attempt to reply later.

The Illinois representative stated Mr. Heflin admitted flatly for the first time that Mr. Mason was one of the men he had in mind when he said "thirteen or fourteen" men in congress had acted suspiciously. In fact, he said, the von Bernstorff "salsh fund."

At the other Mr. Mason explained that the people of the country are at the present time interested in a controversy between Mr. Heflin and himself. He said, "for taking your time but if the man who made the statement was as well known in my state as he is in congress, I would not take the time."

Sammy Who Was "International Incident" Locked Up in Guardhouse by Prose Officer.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) FIELD HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Oct. 4.—A certain private, the "first Sammy hero" is serving time in the guard house today after bathing in the swimming tub for several days and receiving the attention of all the French girls in the village near the camp.

To a reporter of the Paris edition of a New York paper the private received a thrilling story of how he was picked up a bomb dropped by a German aeroplane and throw it into a river before it could explode, thus saving the lives of the villagers. In reward, said the private, he was awarded the croix de guerre (the war cross) by a French colonel who happened to be very conveniently by the spot.

LAFOLLETTE IMPEACHMENT IS CONSIDERED

COMMITTEE BELIEVES IT HAS POWER TO PROCEED ON INVESTIGATION

Senator to Speak in His Own Behalf

Constitution Demanding Action and Senators Are Getting Timid Regarding the Effect of Inaction.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—An investigation to determine whether the actions of Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin warrant his impeachment for sedition became a strong probability today, following an hour's session of the senate privileges and election committee. The committee will meet again tomorrow to decide finally what action it will take.

The committee today became clear of the question of whether it has authority to make an investigation without specific instructions from the senate. At tomorrow's session it probably will be finally decided and when the investigation should be made.

Discussion revealed a growing sentiment in favor of an investigation to satisfy the adjustment of the senate for LaFollette's expulsion. Many members of the committee took the position that the demand for action was becoming too insistent to be longer ignored.

The advisability of letting Senator LaFollette down with a sharp reprimand in the form of a resolution of censure was discussed today. The introduction of such a resolution in the senate at this time, however, would stir up bitter discussion and prolong the adjournment.

On the other hand the privilege and election committee could conduct the investigation and report to the senate and be ready to make its recommendation just as soon as congress reconvenes in December.

Senator LaFollette is preparing to break the silence he has maintained regarding the demands for his expulsion. He plans to take the floor today or tomorrow with a carefully prepared speech answering his critics and explain his actions and utterances since the war started.

Among the telegrams was one from the executive committee of the Republican state central committee of Wisconsin, asking to recall Senator LaFollette last fall. The committee demanded the expulsion of Senator LaFollette and offered to furnish evidence sufficient to justify his impeachment.

British Prepare for Reprisal Campaign

Fleet of Airships Pass Over Cologne and Drop Bombs and Escape Unharmt.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) LONDON, Oct. 4.—A British air ministry, which have charge of the air operations against Germany, is to be created, according to a newspaper announcement today.

It is supposed that an effort will be made to destroy the Krupp works at Essen and that Berlin will come in for the same treatment that the Germans have accorded London.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 4.—Allied aeroplanes passed over the German city of Cologne on Tuesday night but did not drop any bombs, said a dispatch from there today. They were heavily shelled by high angle guns, but none were hit.

MONEY SPENT ACCOUNTED FOR BY NAVY DEPARTMENT

Questions About Disposition of Funds Answered in Statement—Vast Fleet Under Construction and Many Destroyers Now in Service—Convoys Sending U-boats Down Regularly and Stopping Submarining of American Ships.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The national capital has been deluged with demands from all over the country during the last fortnight for accurate information as to how the money is being spent. The people are plainly chafing under what they consider unwarranted secrecy. They do not demand war secrets. But they do ask what the various high-priced boards, created as a result of the war emergency, are doing with the money.

To relieve this condition the International News Service today officially was permitted to give the exact status of today—October 4—the United States shipping board's program.

There are under construction for the board and its auxiliary organization today 1,039 vessels, within a few weeks, five at the outside, the (15,000) tons of ship tonnage which were let early in the summer, will be ready to leave the ways.

Commencing January 1 delivery of the tonnage to work and to meet standardized vessels will begin.

By March 1, launching of from 2 to 10 ships a day under construction will take place each week. Under construction today are vessels aggregating 5,527,700 tons.

By the midsummer of 1918 there will be 10,000 tons of ship tonnage at the seven seas under the direction of the board.

In addition to the ships under construction the shipping board daily is rationing vessels for use in transoceanic traffic which have heretofore been consigned to South American trade. It is expected that as the American fleet abroad grows greater the number of ships requisitioned will increase and the American tonnage will be enormous.

The Pacific coast will practically be denuded at least temporarily by the above program.

One year from today the United States will have achieved—President Wilson's pledge that we have "in comparison with any other nation in the world" so many destroyers are concerned.

This was the statement today of a high official of the navy department by the beginning of next October the entire destroyer program, contemplated by the construction of more than 250 vessels, will have been completed.

Destroyers, the contracts on which call for the delivery in November, 1918, will be turned over to the navy January next. Under the intensive construction program now in force destroyers are being built in eight months. Heretofore the average record time for destroyer construction.

Navy officials have completely reworked their opinion of submarine attacks when they held that convoys merchantmen with destroyers "only gave submarines more targets for submarine attacks."

Today they say the destroyer is the answer to the submarine menace. Every day the navy is sending sailing through the war zone in addition to having a naval armed guard, is escorted by destroyers. And instead of floating on the surface, the presence of a submarine an American merchantman always offers fight.

Figures on the numbers of submarines sent to the bottom by American destroyers are withheld by the navy department but that many are being destroyed by the statement of a high official today that "the numbers fluctuate from week to week." Navy officials hold that to give out the figures when a large number of U-boats have been sunk would be to paint too rosy a picture and to give them out when the weekly score is low would be to give the enemy a false picture of the situation.

FLANDERS FIGHT FLARES FIERCELY NEAR THE YPRES

GREAT CONFLICT THROWS BIG GERMAN STRONGHOLD INTO GRAVE DANGER

Many Trench Prisoners Are Captured

Russian Offensive Still in Progress East of Riga but No Important Positions Have Been Taken by the Muscovites.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The battle of Flanders flared up with a terrific burst of fighting today when the British renewed their offensive and gained important ground east of Ypres. As a result of this victorious thrust which followed a violent bombardment of the German positions, the German hold upon Passchendaele ridge is seriously menaced.

With this strategic ridge in their possession the British will be in plain sight of their main objective in Belgium—the seizure of the German submarine base at Ostend and Zeebrugge. Not only did the Germans lose important positions, but last night many killed and prisoners as well. Latest reports said that the fighting continued.

The assault was delivered over a wide front north of the Ypres-Menin road and north and south of the Ypres-Houthulst road. The British plunged forward in the night, stumbling through shell craters and great ragged furrows where bursting projectiles had literally plowed the ground into a series of jagged trenches.

The wrecked front line trenches were bursting with prisoners. "There was heavy fighting all along the front over which the attack was delivered, for the Germans resisted stubbornly but they could not withstand the British thrust."

Isolated machine gun positions inflicted some loss upon the advancing British but the British losses were very far less than the German casualties.

Many German prisoners were captured. The latest drive in the battle of Flanders is part of the British campaign to take the German line from Passchendaele ridge back upon the Belgian plain where there is no better ground to give them shelter.

The Russian offensive in the Riga sector of the eastern front is still in progress but no new offensive of a decisive nature had been reported from that sector to the time this dispatch was written.

Bola Pasha Trial Begins in Paris

Millions Spent to Influence Public Opinion by The Master Spy, Charged With Having Enemy Relations.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) PARIS, Oct. 4.—The preliminary judicial interrogation of Bola Pasha, a Turkish spy who has been convicted, it was announced today. Bola is charged with having relations with the enemy and with revealing secrets of state. It has been determined that his activities not only extended to France, but to America as well.

Even more sensational exposures than those already made are promised, although the prisoner is reluctant to answer many of the questions put to him.

Millions of dollars passed through the hands of the alleged spy, most of which were used to influence the press and turn public opinion towards peace through the lecture platform and magazine.

When arrested Bola went upon a hunger strike, declaring "he would thus end his life, but afterwards he changed his mind."

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—State Attorney General Lewis examined additional witnesses named in the investigation of the German financial system used to further spy and propaganda activities in this country.

The arrest in Paris of Paul Pola, also known as Bola Pasha, was charged with being a German master spy.

MEASURES TO BE TAKEN TO STOP DRAFT DEERTERS

Will Be Confined in Prison and Then Forced into Service Says General Crowder.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Drafted men apprehended and tried as deserters will not be permitted to escape service by being dishonorably discharged after serving a sentence of confinement.

This official statement was made by Provost Marshal General Crowder today. "The policy of the department will be," he said, "to retain them in the service after they have been punished by desertion."

Commanding officers have been ordered to instruct their officers to examine personally all men charged with desertion.

"If it is found they did not fully realize the gravity of their offense and can be retrained by their failure to comply with the orders of the military authorities," General Crowder said, "they will be sent to the military prison and will be tried for desertion and be permitted to attain an honorable status. Those who fully seek to evade the draft by fleeing the country will be tried for desertion if apprehended."

There is no present intention of applying the death penalty to those who are deserters under the draft, General Crowder said.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A second draft is not far distant in the opinion of army officers today as the work of mobilizing their forty per cent of the army is well advanced. Plans are being made with a smoothness that delighted the war department.

Provost Marshal General Crowder today discussed the situation in any way. War department officials, however, who are thoroughly in touch with the situation, are confident that the draft call will come within a few weeks, probably early next month.

Lowest Number of Ships Sunk Last Week of Any Similar Period of Belligerent Warfare.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) LONDON, Oct. 4.—The German boast that nearly 1,000,000 tons of allied shipping is being destroyed by submarines every month is at least partly untrue, it was stated today by a high naval authority.

The number of British ships sunk last week was the lowest since the outbreak of the war, according to the admiralty figures. Eleven vessels were sunk, less than 100,000 tons and two of less than 10,000 tons were sent down.

Armenian-Syrian Conditions Serious

Local Chairman Receives Letter and Copy of Telegrams Revealing Serious Conditions in regard to Relief Work in Armenia and Syria.

The following letter was received by the chairman of the local committee on Armenian and Syrian Relief with a request for publication at the earliest possible date. The revelations of destitute conditions in these stricken countries are appalling. Appeals for help are coming constantly. Contributions will be received by the local chairman with appreciation, for the relief of these awful conditions.

Sept. 17, 1917.

Mr. V. G. Beckman, Kimberly, Idaho.

Dear Mr. Beckman: We deeply regret that you could not be with us at our three-day conference last week. It was probably the most representative conference of authorities on Western Asia that has been held in recent years.

I enclose herewith an official statement prepared at the conclusion of the conference and formally adopted at a meeting of our committee attended by fifty-six persons including committee members and such authorities on Western Asia as Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., Dr. George E. Vincent, Melville E. Stone and others who recently returned from Syria and Asia Minor.

Will you take this statement with the accompanying "Circulars" to any editors of religious or secular papers with whom you may be acquainted, or to whom you may secure introduction, asking for the widest possible publication of these distressing and little-known facts.

We are permitted by all the governments concerned to administer relief without interference; approximately one hundred missionaries and former consular agents are remaining at their posts for the express purpose of insuring effective distribution to those who would otherwise perish.

We can show auditor's statements to prove that one hundred cents of every dollar contributed goes for relief, no salaries of any kind being paid from relief funds either in the United States or in Asia, the administrative expenses being care for privately by a member of the committee.

Sincerely yours,

O. V. VICKROY

Following is the latest official statement concerning destitution in Western Asia:

The two-day conference on Western Asia, called by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief in New York City, September 11 and 12, 1917, attended by 139 persons, including American consuls and other American officials in Turkey, teachers from American colleges in Turkey, physicians and missionaries, practically all of whom have returned to America since the beginning of the war, many of them within the past few weeks, and whom 44 had spent 592 years in service in Western Asia, present the following statement:

After close comparison of official cablegrams recently received by the committee and the later information brought personally by American consuls, teachers and missionaries just arrived from Turkey and Syria, the committee consider the following a conservative estimate of the number of persons in Western Asia now actually destitute and in need of daily maintenance:

Region	No. Destitute	Orphan
Asia Minor	500,000	200,000
Syria (including Palestine)	1,500,000	75,000
Caucasus	220,000	100,000
Persia	30,000	23,000
Egypt
Southern Mesopotamia
Totals	2,140,000	400,000

The above figures do not include refugees in Egypt and Southern Mesopotamia concerning whom details are not at hand.

The cost of sustaining life varies in different areas from $3.00 to $16.00 averaging throughout the entire field not less than five dollars per person per month. Most of these people are now living on the charity of their Moslem neighbors, whose scanty food supplies are nearly exhausted. The committee is convinced that the widespread death by starvation during the coming six months of winter, at least 3,000,000 is needed.

In addition to this, for repatriation and rehabilitation, and additional $15,000,000 should be planned for, of which $3,500,000 are needed at once in the Caucasus and Persia.

The following extracts from cablegrams recently received by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, also cite the urgent necessity for funds:

Constantinople. Estimate number of reported destitute Armenians, Syrians and Greeks, now in Asia Minor, Syria, and Palestine at one and one-half millions. The bread winners generally have perished through massacre, deportation, or in army. Practically all now destitute were self-supporting before the war. Property taken from these people by military or destroyed in deportations, has left millions of dollars. The number of destitute is increased by the deportation of Greeks from the sea coast. Refugees from regions occupied by military are in the greatest poverty. Business paralyzed. Animals requisitioned. Schools and all churches generally closed. Buildings used by military. Prices of food and other necessities of life increased several hundredfold, going higher. Needs greater because newly people are more numerous than last year.

Extermination of material civilization of Christian races greatly deplored, as the hope of future rebuilding which is most useful for regenerating the entire American and Syrian missionaries remain on the field for continuing the work for destitute as in the past. They are now imploring that we continue financial contributions.

Funds in Constantinople are exhausted; cannot respond. Expense on moderate basis, for transportation, rebuilding homes, seeds, animals, tools, necessary for self-supporting life $5,000,000. Present need is for relieving the people of food, clothing, shelter for 1,000,000 poor, needy people, $1,000,000 per month, 35,000 orphans, $30,000; minimum total needed, monthly $150,000. As stated in cable of May 21, can forward all funds received.

THE SUPERMAN

There are some objections offered by certain classes of people to the habit of making a distinction between men of great accomplishments and those of lesser attributes. There is little doubt concerning the evident fact that there is injustice upon the part of the wealthy and powerful in regard to their dealings with the man lower down; if we may be permitted to use that term. As we formerly said, men object to our making a distinction or classification of individuals contending that the man of lesser accomplishments is as worthy and as good as the man of superior accomplishments. There is where the whole trouble

There is a certain amount of selfishness in his nature, but he is not so greedy to be born upon the shoulders of the man under his power. He lowers their wages, lessens their income and increases the prices of their necessities for the sake of mere profit. And as oppression is always followed by rebellion, sooner or later it is only natural that some enmity should arise under such an economy. As the oppressor is unjust in his oppression, so the oppressed is not unjust in his demands. He, for instance, refuses to recognize the superiority of the man above him, and we now make this distinction, consequently, but rather claim the luxuries and successes of the rich as his in all rightfulness, but stolen and grafted from him. This attitude is a bad mistake, and from it rises a great deal of trouble. As sure as one horse may be better than another, just so sure is it that one man may be superior to another. The whole world commonly assents to the fact that there is a difference in the physical strength of individuals; that one man is more powerful than another; that so-and-so is a keener business man than such-and-such. Thus it is that in the physical world, the intellectual, spiritual, and moral world we commonly accept distinctions between individuals as regard to talents. But in the political and industrial world only one element accepts the distinction, and the other element refuses absolutely to acknowledge that any such thing exists. Here is where the injustice of the man lower down in the scale of accomplishment comes in. Here is the difference between the injustice of the rich and the injustice of the poor. The injustice of the rich comes from selfishness, and the injustice of the poor from covetousness. The rich is prone to neglect and ignore; the poor is apt to condemn and withhold credit from those to whom it is due. Should we leave this problem to the rich and powerful to solve, they would seek the solution in the subjugation of the weak to their stronger desires. Should we leave the problem to the poor and weaker class, they would seek the solution in bringing the powerful down to a common level with them. Either solution would be a calamity to the progress of the whole

A Wonderful Value Saxon Roadster at $395

You may think you have seen big values in motor cars. And perhaps you have. But you have never seen a car offering so much visible, provable motor car value for the money as this Saxon Roadster.

Just stop and count some of the things that distinguish Saxon Roadster and make it the big-value car of the market.

First, it is the lowest-priced completely equipped car. The next lowest priced costs $600—that's over $200 more than the Saxon Roadster price of $395.

Next, it is the lowest-priced car with an electric starting and lighting system—Saxon Roadster has the Wagner 2-unit type. The next lowest-priced car with this feature costs $750.

Then, Saxon Roadster is the lowest-priced car with a 3-speed transmission. And that means 25% faster acceleration, more speed on less power, and it protects the motor from overheating and overworking.

Saxon Roadster is the lowest-priced car with Continental motor. The next lowest-priced car with this attraction costs $1095.

Saxon Roadster is the lowest-priced car with demountable rims and 30 inch x 3 inch tires.

Further, Saxon Roadster is the most economical car in the world to own and drive.

A close and accurate record of upkeep costs turned in by thousands of Saxon Roadster owners show that only 3 per mile completely covers all expenses including gas, oil, tires, service-attention, storage, depreciation on investment, and interest on investment.

Saxon Roadster is a handsome car, and roomy, too. Two passengers have room aplenty—both in seat space and leg length.

It is powerful and flexible. Every part is rugged and strong—built to meet hard service and long service without weakening.

Now, of all the year, is motoring time. Come in and see Saxon Roadster. Let us give you a demonstration in the "bargain" car. Price, $395, f. o. b. Detroit.

world and would very quickly and most unsatisfactorily determine the destiny of the human race.

The contention resolves itself into two elements of human nature. Selfishness is one, and covetousness is the other. Eliminate these two constituents of human nature and you have opened the door for the entrance of the one great element that produces perfect harmony, the element of cooperation.

In the process of solution then we must recognize the natural source of the trouble; that is, the selfishness of the rich and powerful, and the covetousness of the poor and the weak. Moreover, we must recognize one other great fundamental fact in the nature of human kind; the fact of the superior man as compared with the inferior man. The jealous idea of the inferior man, that he is as good as as much the rightful heir to the blessings of wealth and power as the superior man must be completely eliminated. The oft-quoted conception that "all men are created equal" must be banished from our reasoning, for fundamentally and practically there is no truth in it.

We are forced to recognize the existence of certain men who from the nature and inborn qualities are destined to rule, to lead, to accomplish. And again, on the other hand, we find men who because of inborn weaknesses, cramping environment, and other outward and inward disadvantages can never accomplish what is attained by the super-man.

Thus we are obliged to assume that there is a certain moral duty to be performed by every man, based upon cooperation with every other man for the general benefit of industrial and social conditions. And that in the performance of the moral duty of the superior man, the world must first reach the stage of excellence when it will recognize that service is the main issue. That is service rendered to those in need of service. Every man doing to the extent of his ability, whether he be great or small, what he can to idealize conditions. We must institute a system of harmony and cooperation between the super-man and the inferior man. We must quit blinding ourselves with the assumption that there is no difference in abilities, that all men, if you please, are created equal.

FAREWELL PARTY

Monday evening, in the basement of the Christian church, was held a farewell party, in honor of the Messrs. Burton Dunn, Frank Richards, and Earle Newberry and Miss Mary Dunn, who are leaving for Corvallis to attend the Oregon Agricultural college.

The room was prettily decorated in the colors of the young people's society, and the young people's class, in red, white and green. There was also a large table of flowers, and our national colors.

The program consisted of a welcome speech by the pastor, and talks from all the young folks that are going away, and a reading by Mrs. E. E. Needa. The talk was quite an interesting one, especially the talk of Miss Mary Dunn, who advised the future high school graduates to plan on going to college and to work hard to accomplish the plan, saying that every one with grit and ambition could make it through college and be more for it than the young man or woman who did nothing more than enjoy in a wrong manner, the advantages of a wealthy father and mother.

After the program and interesting games, refreshments were served, consisting of two courses. The first was sandwiches, coffee and pickles; the second was ice cream and cake.

The crowd then retired, saying that they had had a splendid time, and wishing the young folks all the success in their college career.

Miss Rita M. Ferguson, of Ponderosa, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. V. G. Backman. Miss Ferguson came in on the noon train Saturday, and expects to spend the winter here, attending the local high school as a senior.

Miss Alta King made a flying trip to Buhl last Friday to attend a party given by a young friend of that city.

Miss Mary Dunn, Mr. Burton Dunn, Frank Richards, Earle and Lester Newberry, all young farmers of the community are leaving this Thursday to attend the Oregon agricultural college at Corvallis. They are intending to make stop overs at Portland, and arrive in Corvallis on Sunday evening. They will get there in time for the opening of school Monday morning.

Mrs. Eubanks, who has been quite ill for the past several weeks, with rheumatism, is again reported to be feeling better, and her many friends are hoping that she will continue to improve.

Earle Barnhart was quite ill at his home the first part of the week, and it was thought for a while that he was coming down with typhoid, but he is able to be at work again now.

The Methodist League are having a Jarowall party in the interest of the young folks who are leaving this week to attend college. The party will be held in the church parlors on Wednesday.

LOYALTY TO THE GOVERNMENT

The troubles President Wilson has experienced with those opposed to the new army legislation—our own—has compared with those which President Lincoln was compelled to use during the civil war. In 1862 there were plottings and riotous, the difference between what took place then and what is taking place now lies in the origin of the attempt to hamper the government. The anti-draft conspirators of the civil war period were, to a main, political opponents of the Lincoln administration. The anti-bond societies and other agencies were more open, the Democratic party sought to prevent the use of the north's main power to preserve the union. Today no Republican, openly or secretly, is engaged in trying to thwart the administration in its plans for carrying on the war. Nor is it likely that any Democrats are so employed. The opposition to the registration and the draft proceeds almost entirely from the group of related political beliefs which are generally included in the term Socialist. Of these the most active are the I. W. W. Against the Socialists and the I. W. W. the Republican party has always secretly set its face. The Democrats, on the other hand, have frequently given aid and comfort to both. The Protectionist.

The above contemptible effort to make political capital for private use under the cover of pretended patriotism deserves rebuke. It is true that many members of the Democratic party at the time of the civil war did join organizations tending to hamper the work of the national administration, but it is likewise true that hundreds of thousands of Democrats enlisted in the northern armies and that many distinguished Union generals were members of the Democratic party. Democrats stood loyally by President McKinley during the Spanish-American war, when sectional lines disappeared.

On the other hand the statement that "today no Republican openly or secretly is engaged in trying to thwart the administration in its plans for carrying on the war" hardly fits with the declaration of a Republican governor, J. A. Barquist, in his petition asking the United States senate to impeach a noted Republican senator, Robert M. LaFollette, for reasonable utterances and for endeavoring to interfere with the carrying on of the war.

Whatever their motive, a small elite in congress is opposing the carrying out of the war plans of President Wilson. They are equally divided between Democrats and Republicans. The overwhelming majority of both parties—in both houses, regardless of party affiliations, have stood loyally by the administration since the war began. Only organs of privilege try to create discord by questioning the patriotism of the majority of either party or by trying to create discord between them on this score.

The charge that the Democratic party has given aid and comfort to Socialists and I. W. W. members is also false. The Democratic party has shown a more active sympathy with legitimate labor unions than has the Republican party, and it has fought for the establishment of certain articles that grew up under Republican rule, against which Socialists and I. W. W. members have also sometimes railed. This is what is the matter with "The Protectionist." It stands for every tariff abuse and every predatory enterprise of big business. These abuses and predatory enterprises have a semblance of justification for the Socialist agitator.

Holler, for the past two years proprietor of the Weaver hotel, in this city, has leased the Weaver rooms which he will maintain at the former high standard and improve from time to time. Mr. Holler says that he will try to cater to the moral and physical well-being of his patrons.

Adjourned Meeting Held—The city council held an adjourned meeting on Tuesday afternoon at which they passed an amendment to the traffic ordinance, published elsewhere in this issue, an ordinance creating a district for the paving of alleys on both sides of Shoshone and increased the amount available for contractor Helmer for work done on the sidewalks from $15,000 to $20,057.50.

Auction October 15—Following a free lunch at noon on Monday, October 15, H. B. Lue will conduct a sale for C. E. Meeson, at his farm three miles south and a mile and a quarter west of Kimberly, at which will be offered several cows and horses, a number of Chester White pigs, several dozen chickens, ten chickens, a lot of farm implements, besides twenty tons of alfalfa and clover hay.

Baraca Class Meets—The first meeting of the Baraca class was held Sunday at the M. E. church. After the regular report a business meeting was held at which new officers were elected for the coming year. Prof. Linder of the Twin Falls high school will give an address on Sunday, October 7, at 8 p. m., on Local and Universal Military Training. A cordial invitation is extended to all young men of the community.

Why Not Twin Falls?—Mr. W. G. Reed, the well known contractor of this city, closed an agreement yesterday to construct, at Burley, commencing the work at once, a thirty-five thousand dollar apartment building, the plans and estimates for which were prepared by Architect Burton E. Morse, also of this city. This, when completed, will put Burley one ahead of Twin Falls—unless some one gets busy in the meantime.

Payette Won Technically—Because technical failure on the part of successful competitors to get their exhibits all registered according to the letter of the law at the state fair, Payette won a first prize, although it received only 830 points, while Adams county got 1270 and Twin Falls 875. The judges, on technicalities, gave Payette first place, Twin Falls second and Adams third place. Twin Falls was entitled to second place either way of counting.

Adjudged Insane—Otto M. Hanson, aged twenty-four years, was adjudged insane by Probate Judge C. P. Davall Wednesday. He is a native of Norway and rational, but has delusions regarding astrology. He said that at one time he contemplated committing suicide by the ingestion of the contents of Halley's comet, and that the stars prevented him from killing his father, as he had at one time contemplated doing. It is hoped that treatment will bring about his recovery.

Another Contingent Left—Eason Mason, Richard Kniggen, and E. J. Finch, Constantine Reene, Gilbert Miller and William Perry Dingman left last night for American Lake to join the day of collection. There are two from this county in the list of delinquents, who failed to respond. Dwight Moore, a negro from Minto, taught in school in Oklahoma after he had been drawn, but has not been heard from since. Foster Staples is also among the missing.

Bankers Meet Tuesday—The bankers of Twin Falls county met Tuesday evening with the Liberty Loan executive committee of which E. J. Finch is chairman, and laid preliminary plans for taking care of the loan in this county. It was decided to appoint a committee of five—one to canvass for subscriptions, though the personnel was not selected until the next meeting at the Borah meeting week also, perfected. Although Buhl is an independent district the bankers from that city were represented and participated in the discussions that followed. The representatives of the banks are: Idaho State Bank of Twin Falls, P. Brackton; First National Bank of Twin Falls, John Maxwell; Twin Falls Bank & Trust, J. G. Bradley; Bank of Hanson, M. B. Probst; Farmers Merchants Bank of Kimberly, H. H. Waldos; Bank of Kimberly, W. H. Turner; First State Bank Guy, H. S. Purdy; National Bank Buhl, J. W. Purdy; Citizens State Bank of Buhl, R. W. Allred; Farmers National Bank of Buhl, G. E. Stocomb.

A Quiet Dining—The impromptu gathering of a small party to meet Senator Borah, Dr. Day and Mr. Anderson at a six o'clock dinner in the Rogers restaurant evening was apparently managed by Mr. Carl De Long and the affair may be called a quiet one from the fact that no speech making was indulged. Carl De Long, county chairman for the Liberty Loan Campaign committee and Mr. C. C. Anderson, who is a Boise merchant, is here to organize this county in the interest of food conservation. The local men who were asked to meet and become acquainted with the visitors were Mayor Brackton, E. J. Finch, county chairman for the Liberty Loan, Senator M. J. Sweeney, Messrs. Nixon and Bradley, representing the First National and the Bank and Trust, as a Messrs. R. Read and C. L. Loughey. An hour was spent over the more or less well appointed table, which was pleasant. This was Senator Borah's first visit to Twin Falls for five years, and he declared the improvement to be simply marvellous.

The Red Cross Card Party, held yesterday afternoon at the Parish hall, proved a grand success. In the first place the hall, under the direction of Mrs. Conway, was most effectively and tastefully decorated. Each of the forty-three tables bore the name of some fort and fluted a flag of its own. As there were four persons at each table, there must have been one hundred and seventy-two participants in the game, besides a considerable number of other visitors. Excellent music was furnished by Mrs. Gilbert and Miss Ester, and Mrs. Dygart, a guest of Mrs. Palt, also favored these present with two much appreciated vocal solos. The proceeds of the entertainment to the benefit of the Red Cross, were $175—certainly a great credit to the normal ladies having the matter in charge.

Some Wheat—During the month of September just closed the Twin Falls Milling company purchased three quarters of a million bushels of wheat for which they paid substantially a million five hundred thousand dollars. Those figures sound pretty large for a little sage brush city, and as a matter of fact the storage capacity of the company is pretty nearly exhausted, albeit they have shipped whenever cars were to be had—some forty or fifty loads in all, and have kept constantly making flour, at a rate of some five hundred barrels per day. At the present time, Mr. Breckinridge says that no cars are to be had; but he did not appear to be nervous about the matter, no doubt believing that after the way in which millers and grain men have acceded to all governmental requirements, their shipping needs would not be neglected to their detriment. Certainly since the government has taken control of transportation such ought not to be the case.

Her husband was at one time president of the Bank of Ephraim, Utah, and a representative of that institution is on his way here to bring the body there for interment.

Spud Crop Large—That the spud crop is going to be big this year is the opinion of Dr. E. R. Bennett, field horticulturist of the extension department of the university of Idaho, who was here this week, accompanying County Agent Donald McLean on a tour of the county. Although the seed crop will not be up to normal, owing to the character of the season, the yield will probably average between 200 and 300 sacks an acre, which is considered a pretty good crop.

Gov. E. B. Brooks, of this state; "Doc" Klancy, millionaire sheepman; State Senator "Pat" Sullivan, Jeremiah Mahoney and many others well known in the nation business and prominent in state and national politics, are among those reputed to have accumulated vast sums of money in the past few months through operations in oil.

Perhaps the most sensational story of newly-acquired wealth in the Wyoming oil fields is that of Leslie Parker. The tale reads like a chapter from the Arabian Nights—Parker came to Wyoming as a railroad brakeman. Two years ago he was an attendant in a Casper social club. Despite the fact that geological experts reported unfavorably on the Big Muddy field a couple of years ago, Parker's faith was unshaken and he put every cent he could earn into holdings in that acreage. His confidence has been rewarded by the recent shooting of big wells in Big Muddy and it is said he will soon be classed a millionaire.

Arapahoe and Shoshone Indians own much land in districts where drilling for oil is progressing and indications are that the red men will gather in snug fortunes as a result of the developments of the petroleum industry in this state. The Arapahoes and Shoshones have a joint tribal council that conducts the business of the tribes through the United States Indian agent. The majority of leases of their lands provide for a 25 per cent royalty on all oil produced. United States government approval is required on all transactions made by the Indians and it is probable that Uncle Sam will care for the money derived from this new source of wealth.

Within the past few weeks many representatives of New York and other eastern capitalists, accompanied by well-known geologists, have visited the Wyoming fields with a view of making personal investigation of conditions, but they may be in a position to advise clients who are bombarding eastern brokers with the query regarding the advisability of investing here. Frank L. Innes, former postmaster general and chairman of the national Republican committee, was the latest representative of eastern financiers to inspect the territory.

At present the Wyoming fields are yielding about 62,000 barrels of crude oil daily. The entire 1917 output will probably reach 16,000,000 barrels, an amount 6,234,135 barrels in 1916. Up to eight months ago minor operations were being conducted in the Salt Creek, Grass Creek and Elk Basin districts, but the rich strike in Big Muddy has increased the flow of oil tremendously, and geologists now maintain that this flow will increase rather than diminish. And, according to these same experts, the Wyoming wells, which are much deeper than those in other producing states, will flow much longer.

Big Muddy has seen seven producing wells developed since Jan. 1, 1917; nearly a dozen others are said to be ready for shooting and scores of drilling rigs dot the whole district. The great success in the fields near Casper has started prospecting in all sections of the state, and geologists express the belief that oil will be found in unlimited quantities all over Wyoming, and say that the oil line may extend into South Dakota.

TWIN FALLS OIL INVESTERS IN A FAMOUS FIELD

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE WRITER DESCRIBES WYOMING PETROLEUM

Growth of Towns Happens Overnight

"Noble Red Men" Making Fortunes With Pale-faced Brothers—Autos Take Place of Traditional Pack Mules.

The fact that Manager W. T. Wood and a party of Twin Falls stockholders in the Idaho-Wyoming Oil company are now in the Casper district looking over their investments and properties there, will add local interest to the following description by the International News Service, of the vast oil developments of Wyoming: CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 4.—Oil, not war, is the feverish topic of conversation in every nook and corner of this former center of "wild and woolly Wyoming."

With railroad trains bringing constantly increasing numbers of oil seekers and investors from every part of the United States, as well as from foreign lands; with old mining men come to make a last attempt at a "lucky strike" with brokers and promoters crowding the hotel lobbies, the fame of Wyoming's oil fields is rapidly spreading.

With the more important operations being conducted in the Big Muddy and Salt Creek fields, near here, Casper is the whirlwind center of dealings in hundreds of newly-formed investment companies. It is estimated that the population of this erstwhile sleepy sheep market city has increased nearly 60 per cent in the last ten months, going from about 8,000 inhabitants to nearly 12,000. Apartment houses and hotels full to provide accommodations for the newcomers, and building construction is going forward at a rapid pace.

Business enterprises of various kinds are springing up overnight and the entire community is enjoying boom conditions that followed in the wake of discovery of the industrial excitement in the Desamont (Texas) oil fields, and in Oklahoma and Kansas. It is a prosperity that transforms obscure speculators into possessors of ample fortunes in the course of a few days, and bids fair to replace wind-swept plains with seeming and hustling towns in the territory adjacent to Casper.

In place of the sure-footed burro and saddle horse that had for years been almost the exclusive mode of the chuck-chuck of automobiles. It is estimated that close to 1,000 machines are driven in Casper alone, while thousands are said to be 3,000 automobiles in the Wyoming oil field in this district, not including hundreds of motor trucks. Automobile salesmen complain of their inability to fill the large volume of new orders for buzz wagons.

Sheepmen from all sections of Wyoming are seen daily discussing oil with the well-groomed broker and promoters in the streets and hotels here. And romantic are the stories of shepherds being lured up as a result of the bringing in of large producing wells in the Big Muddy and Salt Creek fields. While many of the wealthy sheep herders retain their interests in the sheep industry, they are "paying" the oil game enthusiastically.

"WAR FOOD" MAY BE NECESSARY FOR U. S.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Undernourishment of thousands of the people of the United States probably will result in the establishment of war restaurants and war food, says Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture.

Two months ago he reached this conclusion, believing they would afford the only adequate way of supplying palatable, nutritious, cheap food to the average family. He has been at work for several weeks on details of a plan to establish such restaurants and such food.

"Millions of Americans have been badly nourished," he said. "Many have been seriously undernourished during the last few months owing to the high cost of food. The average wage-earner or other citizen with a small income has had to cut out of his diet most of the meat, butter, milk and cream and he has not made up for it by adding other foodstuffs containing protein and fat in equivalent quantities.

"The price of food is still high and during the war may be expected to remain higher than normal. During the coming winter the average day laborer, clerk or other person with small income will find it almost impossible to feed his family on nourishing and palatable food unless, in the first place, he learns just what foodstuffs combine to the greatest possible degree the three qualities of cheapness, palatability and nourishment, and unless, in the second place, he is aided by some kind of organized effort to secure these foodstuffs at approximately low cost."

TELLS CONSTITUENTS THE REASON WE ARE AT WAR

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Representative Jacob E. Meeker, of St. Louis, has demonstrated to his colleagues that it is not absolutely necessary that congress be adjourned in order that constituents might learn the why and wherefore the United States is at war with Germany, and just why it is that every loyal citizen is so earnestly supporting the president.

A short time ago he made up his mind to conduct a literary campaign on the subject. He obtained 60,000 copies of "How the War Came to America," and "The War Message and the Facts Behind It." He prepared a copy of the St. Louis directory, with the aid of three extra clerks and his sleeves up, his collar off, and a big pitcher of ice water near, he started

Franklin Car Values
Based On Results

We've seen the day in the automobile business when cars were virtually sold by the pound.

Unless a car was big and heavy, many people thought, it was not worth the money.

The number of such cases nowadays is fast dwindling.

Nothing has influenced this change more than the Franklin Car.

Since its first appearance in 1907, the Franklin has never been an eye-fail of motor mechanism.

It is not so much iron, steel, wood and rubber that a man buys in a Franklin. It is the service that the car will give, and that is what the car owner is ultimately interested in.

It is light weight and simplicity, not heavy weight and multiplicity, that makes possible maximum service.

We are glad, therefore, that you can point out to our customers places where weight has been saved and parts eliminated.

Of course, it costs money to cut down weight and eliminate parts. But that money, which goes into the best materials, the most painstaking design and the most advanced construction, helps fight operation expense and wear and tear, while heavy weight encourages them.

Value in the Franklin has a much broader meaning than mere physical value. We call it service value—that you get out of the car—in comfort, convenience, reliability, safety and economy.

Next time you have a few minutes, stop in at our salesroom and let us show you how scientific light weight is attained and what it does for the user.
