

FIRST NATIONAL BANK HOME TO BE COMMODIOUS

THOROUGHLY MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT IT WILL BE CREDIT TO CITY

Interior to be Beautifully Decorated

One of the Finest Edifices in the West Will Take Care of Business of Prosperous Institution When Completed.

Judged from the description of the work to be done by Hoegson Brothers, the Chicago and New York builders, the remodelled home for the First National bank will be a thoroughly modern banking institution, fitted out with up-to-date appliances and equipment—fully adequate to meet the demands of the bank's rapidly increasing business.

The alterations to the banking room will practically double the available space. The store facing on Main street will be enclosed into the banking room, resulting in a room 48 by 92 feet. In addition there will be storage rooms and vaults in the basement.

Hoegson Brothers, who are the recognized bank planning experts of the country, have given careful consideration to the layout of the banking room, so as to insure the greatest facility and economy of operation, while providing at the same time for the utmost comfort and convenience of the bank's patrons.

The alterations to the exterior include the remodeling of the entire first floor—front—on Main street—to provide a suitable bank facade, with a handsomely designed central entrance of Indiana limestone. This entrance will have a double vestibule with three sets of double doors. On the outside will be the heavy paneled night doors, which give necessary protection during the hours when the bank is closed. Back of these will be the double storm doors with a single plate glass panel, and on the inside will be the in-and-out doors dividing the vestibule with the main banking floor, with sign of the same material.

The interior of the bank will be beautifully and tastefully decorated, and finished in marble, mahogany and bronze.

There will be a commodious public space, 20 by 49 feet. The terrazzo marble floor will have panels outlined by mosaic borders. The public space will be enclosed by a handsome paneled marble and bronze counter-screen, the lower portion of which will be of Taverriello Florent marble with base of the same material. The upper portion of the counter-screen will be clear plate glass framed in delicately moulded and carved bronze pilasters, pierced with telescopic window-panes—open-bronze grilles—through which public business may be transacted.

Special consideration has been given to properly lighting the banking room and working space. A most pleasing effect will be obtained by the use of incandescent radiators located on the floor or counter-screen, giving continuous lighting along the whole case system. At each wicket will be installed a special type of special design in glass on which is etched the designation of the case, which, by means of light from overhead reflected through the glass, is thrown in distinct relief.

The space set aside for the officers back of a low rail, in to the right of the public space, is to be immediately for the officers' quarters will be a cage for notes and collections and one for deposit business.

Behind the public space at its rear, and facing the entrance, are the three cages for receiving and paying (telers); on the left hand side of the public space are three cages for special business, statements, and exchange and savings. At the rear, adjoining the telers' cages and exchange cages are the cages for the enclosed office for assistant cashier. On the Shoshone street side, where the best natural light is obtainable, are the cages for the three cages space equipped with modern labor saving devices to expedite the routine business of the bank.

A concrete vault structure will be built from the foundation up through the banking room, independent of the building construction. This concrete vault will afford space for the storing of old books and records, and on the first floor for safe deposit boxes and fund assets. The door to the security vault will be eight inches thick, composed of tool-resisting chrome non-burnable and open hearth steel for tensile strength. This equipment will include modern actuating and locking devices, such as a continuous train of bolts, double pressure bar system, goose-neck pattern catches, heavy bolt frames, glass cover cases, double combination locks and three-movement time locks. The vestibule will also have a day gate to guard the vault during business hours when the door is open. The interior of the vault will be divided by a heavy steel grille into compartments for the bank's checks, deposit tickets, books and record correspondence.

A large room for the directors and for committee meetings will be located at the rear of the Shoshone street side. Ample locker and retiring room facilities have been provided for the working space.

Special attention will be given to the women patrons of the bank. Provision has been made for a private room for their use in the front part of the bank, at the left of the vestibule. The room will be decorated in grey enamel and fitted up with easy chairs, writing tables and other conveniences. The remodeled building, with its enlarged quarters, will afford ample accommodations for the steadily increasing volume of business of the First National bank of Twin Falls. Its equipment, appointment and conveniences it will be the equal of any like edifice in the west.

Patrick McGunigal Gets First Medal

First Prize For Extraordinary Bravery Goes To Man Who Saved Pilot From Drowning

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The first medal of honor for extraordinary bravery to be awarded to an American fighting man during the war has been given to Patrick McGunigal of Youngstown, Ohio, the navy department announced today.

McGunigal is a ship's fitter aboard the U. S. cruiser Winona. His heroism in rescuing the pilot, who was killed in a balloon from drowning brings him, with the honor, the gift of $100 from the navy department.

The captain's log of the cruiser was four hundred feet in the air, its observer searching for submarines, when it was struck by a squall. The balloon, dropped 200 feet. The square basket was hauled in on the ship, but the basket was whipped and twisted and the pilot entangled in the ropes. The basket was hauled to the ship's side, but the basket trailed in the water, submerging the pilot.

McGunigal, who has been fourteen years in the navy, went over the ship's side and jumped to the ropes. He cleared the tangle, and fastened a bowline around the pilot, who then was hauled on deck. McGunigal was so exhausted from the struggle with the heavy seas that he had to be rescued by others aboard the cruiser.

Von Tirpitz Demands Great Concessions

Would Annex Belgian Coast to Germany and Month of Danube to Austria and Get Indemnity.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
ZURICH, Nov. 12.—Admiral von Tirpitz, one of the founders of the new national party in Germany, in a short speech at Zurich today, said that Germany must retain part of the Belgian coast for submarine bases, and also Alsace, according to advice received here today.

Without economic indemnities for Germany would mean defeat for the central powers, von Tirpitz was quoted as saying.

In conclusion the German junker added that Austria must secure control of the mouth of the Danube and retain Trieste, by these questions, he said, affected Germany as much as Austria.

The German national party was forced to effect the growing strength of the liberal coalition in the German Reichstag, which is on record as favoring without exception and indemnities. The nationalists are Junkers and Pan-Germans.

GETS JOB BAKING PIES FOR PERSHING

(International News Service)
Chicago, Nov. 12.—Mary Shelton's making pies for Miss Mary Sholden. This is the expression common at Salvation Army headquarters here today.

When General Pershing landed in France, Major D. W. Axtew, in charge of the Salvation Army here, called asking him what the Salvation Army could do that would be most appreciated by the commander of the American forces in France.

"Send me some pie," was General Pershing's request, and Ensign Mary Sholden forthwith was dispatched. Ensign Sholden gained fame here showing mothers of Chicago slams how to cook.

THE MALE CENSUS TO BE TAKEN IN 1920

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
BOISE, Nov. 12.—A census of the male population of Idaho between the ages of 16 and 40 years has been decided on by the state council of defense of which Dr. A. H. Boyd, state commissioner of education recently was elected chairman. The council also has instructed Governor Gooding to call a conference of state and city men to discuss problems confronting the industry.

CIGARETTETS OF SUFFRAGE ARE ALL FOUND GUILTY

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The 41 women arrested last Saturday afternoon for picketing the White House in behalf of suffrage were found guilty in police court this afternoon.

Judge Mulhoney did not sentence the women but took the case under advisement and said he would give it Opportunity Awaits You on the Gooding Tract!

The following are a few of the many bargains in irrigated lands which we have to offer in the fertile Wood River Valley:

- 160 Acres 6 miles from Gooding, on mail and school wagon, 65 A. cleared and has been in cultivation, exceptionally good terms will be granted to purchaser who will improve the land. Price $65.00 per A.
- 240 Acres 3 miles from Gooding on Boise-Yellowstone Highway, all in alfalfa, fenced with woven wire, Little Wood river runs through the land making a splendid stock proposition, this is all bordered and the flood system used for irrigation. Price $140.00.
- 40 Acres 2 miles from Gooding. All in cultivation, 20 A. in alfalfa, 7 A. in asika, 4 A. red clover, 4 A. in bluegrass pasture, 4-room house, barn for 5 cows and 6 horses, deep well and wind mill, fenced and cross fenced. Price $155 per A. Cash $2200.00, balance easy terms.
- 80 Acres 5 miles from Gooding, 30 acres alfalfa, 25 acres tame grass pasture, fenced and cross fenced with woven wire. Good 4-room house. Price $155.00 per acre. Terms, $1800.00 cash, balance $1000.00 annually at 7 per cent.

Gooding is the educational center of Southern Idaho, has $40,000 graded school building; $65,000 high school building; $10,000 State School for Deaf, Dumb and Blind; $400,000 Methodist college now being completed. There is ample water for all irrigation purposes stored in the Magic Reservoir which impounds 200,000 acre feet of water. Plenty of fine quality soft domestic water can be obtained anywhere on the tract at depths of 50 to 150 feet. Gooding is on the main line of the O. S. L. railroad. Probably no portion of Idaho has better opportunities for raising sheep and cattle than the Wood River valley, with plenty of range in the unsurveyed foothills and plenty of government reserve land.

Further information will be gladly furnished on request.

Senior Senator Says Conditions Are Serious Throughout the Western States

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Lack of proper transportation facilities and methods coupled with scarcity of labor is seriously menacing the prosperity of the west, United States Senator William E. Borah said today. Discussing the transportation problem, Service the situation as he found it during a three weeks trip, the senator said.

"There is a serious condition in the west, but it does not arise out of the want of patriotism but a want of means by which to effectuate the desire of the people to do the proper thing in this emergency.

"Last spring the farmers went forward and produced crops in splendid condition. Now when the crops are being gathered it is impossible to find transportation facilities to carry the products to market. Any amount of fruit and potatoes are going to waste. There is very little use of talking economy and conservation when stuff is rotting and going to waste about you, and there is no encouragement to plant crops under such conditions.

"Now that the boys are being taken from the farms under the draft, the situation is such that you cannot get labor to plant and certainly not sufficient labor to take care of the crop. Unless the situation is changed through some method there will be vast decrease in the crop acreage next year through the inability to plant or sow and take care of it."

61-YEAR-OLD AMERICAN WINS FRENCH MEDALS

Daniel Dillon (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) AMERICAN—FIELD HEADQUARTERS, Expeditionary Forces, Oct. 13.—At sixty-four years of age he was a second-class private in the French army. Today at sixty-seven he is a lieutenant and wears on his breast the French military medals the Croix de Guerre with palm, and over his left shoulder hangs his regimental Pomme.

three years he has fought in the French army and always as an American citizen. At the age when most men are beginning to look back on the road of life he looked forward to the big adventure stretching before him, and with an enthusiasm and intrepidity of spirit that shamed even youth he followed in its perils and dangers. His own story, as he narrated it to me with a simplicity unforced and a delightful current of humor carrying it along, was material worthy of a modern Chateaubriand and a title that made you proud that your country had given France such a man. "At seventeen, I landed in San Francisco," he told me. "Then, I continued, 'all the world was young and all the trees were green; America became my young wife;

France was my mother.' AMERICAN 1870 I heard my mother was attacked I hastened to her defense. I had spirit then. Why, when I left America I felt single handed I could defend her. But I was too small for the job or the job was too big for me, I do not know which. But I did know when the close of the war it returned to California, because I fought in that war, as in this, as an American, that I had witnessed the opening scene of a terrible drama. I had been present at the birth of European world domination. I did not know whether I would live to see its destruction. "With a bump in my right knee from a wound and a tiny medal of honor that my country gave me, and there are mighty few of us in the French army today left to be wearing them, I came back to the good U. S. A. and landed in Los Angeles when it was an adobe town of 2,500 people, 2,000 of whom were Mexicans. "Today, sir, it is the finest city in the world." I will spare you the description of the Queen City of the world that he gave to me for fifteen minutes, because inadvertently, I had asked him if it was a better city than San Francisco. Just imagine a thirty degree Los Angeles booster, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, describing the city as follows: "The city all bound in one, and you will have some idea of the talk he gave me. He showed me photographs of his home, No. 364 Douglas street, that he had carried safely through all his campaigning. "California has been good to me. I have prospered. I have raised a good American family and they are today all residents of California. At sixty-three I was married—the daughter that the best part of life-traffic behind me. I had forgotten: 'Come grow old along with me, the best of life is yet to be' but the rumors of war, and then war itself, swept me away from my life's quiet moorings. "I saw the final act of the play, the first act of which I had seen staged in 1870, was to be enacted. And I saw clearly it was not merely a struggle this time between France and Germany. I knew that it two world forces contending—autocracy against democracy. I knew that in this struggle I would not only be fighting for France but for America as well. I made up my mind to get in it.

"Employing a statesman I left home without worrying my family. "I landed in Havre, but had not been on the street an hour before a sentry called me over to his military business. 'I have come to enlist and fight for France,' I told him. He scowled at me and said: 'Old man, don't get tony with me—these are dangerous times, and I want to know your errand here.' 'Take me to the nearest commission office,' my good man, I said, 'and I will show you. Not knowing what else to do with me he did as I suggested. "We entered the office, and fortunately a colonel was in charge. I walked up to him and said: 'Colonel, I have come five thousand miles to fight for France, and if your regiment will take me, I'd like to get at it right away. The colonel laughingly said: 'Why didn't you come earlier?' "And I retorted: 'Why didn't you start the war earlier?' 'Well,' he said, 'maybe we can use you as a cannon driver.' 'No, you won't,' I said, boldly, 'I didn't come all the way from Los Angeles, California, to drive a pair of mules. I've come to fight. " 'Bravo,' he says, 'that's the spirit. We want you come back at two o'clock this afternoon, and if you can convince the doctor that your heart is half as strong as your spirit, you may get a rifle. " 'Promptly at two I was back in the office. The doctor ordered me to at once strip. I did so. He jumped and bumped me prodigiously, and that was enough. When I joined my new regiment they were fighting at Verdun; men were needed, and one asked me any questions; within a week after I arrived I was in the hospital nursing a wound. "He was very reticent in explaining how he had obtained his medals, but by dint of persistent prodding I found that he had won the Croix de Guerre when in a trench he had seen his commander discovered they were about out of ammunition and asked for a volunteer to creep forward over a shell swept field to notify headquarters. He successfully made the perilous trip, receiving only a slight wound. His palm came to him when he left a position of comparative safety to rescue his wounded colonel and install him in his retreat while he guarded him during the night until relieved in the morning. "This medal militaire I never expected to wear," he said. "The action in which I won this I never believed I would live through. Three hundred of us took a German advance trench, and before we had consolidated it a thousand or more Boches springing from the ground like the famed harvest of dragons' teeth, had surrounded us. They called on us to surrender. Our answer was volleys and lead. Of the three hundred, twenty of us got back to our own trenches, and I, who was then a sergeant, was the senior officer in command. "Three times I have been wounded. The most serious of them was when an exploding shell hurled me against a tree, fracturing my right leg. I was in the hospital then for three weeks. My age has never handicapped me. "I am happy beyond words that I have escaped death so as to be able to serve my own country in this war. My comrades said when I left the regiment: 'Ah, you are deserting us.' I said: 'Not so, mon. What have you called me all these months that I have been with you?' 'The Americans,' they answered. 'Well,' I said, 'now I am showing you that you were right. I am not deserting France, but I am going to help my own America.'

The roof is the last to go on your building; but the selection of an efficient and economical roof is of first importance. If you will use on your building you will get the most efficient roof, and will cut down the cost of the roof materially. CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is economical to buy, inexpensive to lay, and it costs practically nothing to maintain. It is weather tight, fire resistant, clean, sanitary, and gives the utmost roofing service over a period of years. CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply). The quality and merit of CERTAIN-TEED have made it the preferable type of roofing for office buildings, hotels, factories, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings, etc. If you are building it will be to your interest to investigate CERTAIN-TEED. There are many roll roofings, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. As it costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED Roof than it does to lay a poor roof, it will pay to get the best, and save on renewals and upkeep. You can't tell the quality of roll roofing by its appearance, or by feeling of it; your only safety is in the label. Be sure it is CERTAIN-TEED.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire resistant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are made of the best quality materials and are mixed by modern machinery to insure uniformity. Made for all uses and in all colors and sizes. Any dealer can get them for you. With paint and varnish, at which roofing, the name CERTAIN-TEED is a guarantee of quality and satisfaction.

WHO CAN VOTE SATURDAY?

Why each and every man and woman who is over the age of twenty-one years, who is a citizen of the United States and who shall have resided in this state six months and in the county thirty days immediately preceding this election?

PROGRESS OR STAGNATION!

Whatever may happen to the proposed issue of bonds, for the improvement of county highways, it should not be afterwards said that the question was either carried or lost because the voters of the county failed to go to the polls and register their wishes in the matter. Such a result would be disastrous to everybody. Should the bonds carry with only a partial vote, their opponents will feel overruled; should they fall under the same circumstances, their supporters will say that no fair and full expression has been had, and will strive to try it again at the first opportunity. The question is now up under favorable circumstances; all its points and bearings are being made known, canvassed and understood. By all means let it be settled one way or the other in such manner that the will of all the people of the county be made clear and unambiguous. If we are to continue to waffle through the mud in winter and to bump the bumps, and dust and break springs on rocks hidden in its depths, during the summer, let us know it, once for all. If, upon the other hand, we are to fall into the ranks of progress and begin expending road money systematically upon a real system of road repair, let us know that, also, and relate the reasons therefor.

THE ITALIAN DEFEAT.

The explanation so far given for the great defeat and retreat of the Italian army seems inadequate. The Italians up to this catastrophe had conquered the most stupendous difficulties. The English and French could barely make progress in a level country. Yet those plucky Italian fighters could hack their way over precipitous cliffs and high mountains.

LABOR CHEERS PRESIDENT

She had access to all markets in the world, but never in these markets of Germany because of her almost irresistible competition.

MAINTAIN THE LAW

The great speech of President Wilson before the American Federation of Labor yesterday was especially significant in the passage in which it advised the maintenance of law and order.

for and the maintenance of law and order. Superior to most things in all other people, the Americans have not made a crowning success in law enforcement. This is a great extent due to the fact that law has been looked upon as a curial for every evil. "If anything is wrong pass a law against it" is a theory on which, as a people, we have too much proceeded. Having enacted more laws than it is possible to enforce, we see some wholly unenforced and many others enforced with hesitancy. To emphasize this we have resorted to Lynch law. This in turn has meant less law enforcement against criminals. The twin evils fed one another. Some years ago an investigator showed more crimes of violence per capita in this than in any other country. Not only that but in populations of similar origin and ancestry, this country and France had a comparative equality in the number of crimes. Canada had fewer laws, enforced them better and lynching was practically unknown. We Lynch more than any other people.

As an abstract proposition, there can be no time when law is so completely "overthrown" that the people are compelled to take the law in their own hands. In practice it seldom happens. Violence breeds violence. One trouble with lynching is that the wrong men are lynched. By the official investigations during the past year showed that in no less than eleven instances it was proven that innocent men were killed in this way. The effect is doubly bad. The criminally inclined who are deterred by fear of punishment, get the idea that they might as well commit the crime as they are likely to escape if they do, and maybe be lynched if they don't. The guilty seeing others punished are encouraged to repeat their offenses. That is why Lynch law and crimes of violence have proceeded in a vicious circle.

Crimes of violence growing out of labor troubles are Lynch-law, or mob law, on a big scale. A corporation threatened with strikers is dissatisfied with the manner in which officials of the law act toward the workmen and hire a lot of strike-breakers and "detectives" to "protect" its property. A bunch of striking laborers, tired of waiting for conditions to work out, might use violence on employees of the company or destroy its property. Result: a private war of two lawless mobs within the country to defiance of its authority. Every time mob violence is used, it weakens the country and defers settlement of differences. The government has no power to prevent. It has enacted legislation that is broad enough to take care of any situation, and as President Wilson says: "Those who kick over the traces will be put in a corral." The thing to do is to encourage officials in discharge of their duties, and help them corral the mal-contented, and deal with them after they are corralled.

LABOR CHEERS PRESIDENT

LABOR CHEERS PRESIDENT

"Germany is determined that political power of the world shall belong to her. There is no such ambition before, they have been real. But never before based on such exact and scientific plan of domination. Power cannot be used against free people if it is used by free people. What I am opposed to is not the feeling of the people, but the stupidity. My heart is with them who my mind has contempt for them. "Any people that compounds with the present German government is compounding for its own destruction. I want peace, but I know how to get it and they don't." A great cheer went up as the president spoke these words. "You all know I sent a friend of

Col. House, to Europe who is a great lover of peace as there is in the world but I didn't send him on a mission. I sent him on a mission to find out how the war can be won. "He knows as I know that the way to get peace if you want it takes more than a few moments. If we are true friends of freedom we will see that the power of this country and the producing activity of the country shall be raised to the highest degree and nobody should be allowed to stand in its way. "Our duty if we are to do this great thing and believe that America has the hope of the world, we must stand together night and day. I think we are fighting for freedom, we must see that labor is free. "And that means a number of things. We must see that the conditions of labor are rendered not more onerous during war but see that the instrument through which labor conditions are improved must not be checked. The president eulogized President Gompers. "I like to lay my mind alongside a mind that knows how to pull, in the harness," he said. "The horses that kick over the traces will have to be put in a corral." He continued: "Stand together means nobody must interrupt the progress of our energy if interrupted can be avoided, without invasion of freedom. "Nobody has the right to stop progress of labor until all process of the council has stopped. "I might as well say right here that I am not talking to you alone. You do sometimes stop the progress of labor, but there are others who do the same. "You are more responsible in a larger number of cases than capital is. I haven't said these things to you personally because I haven't had a good chance. "Everybody has got to transact business. I would like to see all of the critics extorted. "A settlement is hard to avoid when parties are brought face to face. "Who must insist in every instance the parties must come into each other's presence. "My counsel to you is this: Let us show ourselves Americans by not going off into separate camps but by co-operating in releasing the world from bondage. "I would be willing to set that up as a part of an American. "I have been very much distressed by the mob spirit that displays itself here and there in the country. I have sympathy with men who take punishment into their own hands. "I want to utter my earnest protest against lawlessness in any cause or anywhere. Democracy means first of all we can govern ourselves. "The man who takes the law into his own hands is not the right man to co-operate in the development of free institutions. "Some of the processes that capital and labor take are very near to what I described. Democracy means first and obey common counsel. "Some instrumentally of co-operation must be devised between labor and capital. "The reason I came from Washington is that I sometimes get lonely there. "There are so many people in Washington that know things that aren't so and so few people that know what the rest of the city is thinking about. "I wanted to talk to men who are up against the real thing and say to them: 'I'm with you if you're with me.' "The thing to do is not to think about me personally but the power and dignity of the thing I represent. "What the speaker with Woodrow; the delegates shouted as the president sat down. President Gompers proposed three cheers for the president of the United States and his good wife. The crowd gave them with great heartiness. As the president was leaving, Buffalo and women representing the New York Woman Suffrage party presented him with a large bouquet of orchids and violets and thanked him for his efforts in behalf of the suffrage cause in New York state. Governor Whitman addressed the convention after the president had gone. He declared that labor and democracy are in this war together, one can't survive without the other. "The people of New York are supporting the administration's conduct of the war enthusiastically," he declared.

Sold Out—A Twin Falls business house last week ran a three-inch ad in the TIMES regarding one day's sale of the article named at a special price, and before 5 o'clock of the day of sale the entire stock of the article advertised was more than a hundred—had been disposed of. And yet we had sometimes told that people do not read advertisements.

All Vote—Remember there are no restrictions on voting at Saturday's special road bond election. Every person over the age of 21, who is a citizen of the United States, and shall have resided in the state six months, and the county 30 days immediately preceding the election, shall be entitled to vote at such election.

A Removal—Mr. I. H. Brashears, after closing out his affairs in Twin Falls, left with his family the first of the week for Lone Beach, California, expecting to remain in that locality permanently. Mr. Brashears is a long-time and well and favorably known resident of this city. His removal of himself and his good wife, who is a daughter of Capt. R. H. Barren, is a distinct loss. The TIMES hope that the best of good fortune in their new home.

Speaking elsewhere of the fine thing done by our high school boys in the matter of the Y. M. C. A. fund, we are reminded that a late letter from Mr. R. L. Arore, marine barracks commander at Lone Beach, California, says that not less than $160,000 was subscribed to the Second Liberty Loan by the body of marines stationed there. While this was a loan, and not a gift, it constituted an average of about $56 per capita, and was certainly a notable and a fine thing.

Proud of our high school boys—yes we are! Not only because they meant Bull at foot ball, not only because they were successful in their own way, but because in the service of their country, and more are counting the months and days standing between them and the front porch, but also because ninety-six of them on last Saturday subscribed ten dollars each to the Y. M. C. A. fund. The seventh lot, the total amount laid against this county! And most of those boys are not in a position to write a check, and not a gift, got all about it! To them it means care, work and self-denial—the more honor to them!

Important to Advertisers—In a late card sent to our patrons, it was stated that copy for any display advertisement must be filed by 10 o'clock a. m. on the day of publication. The demand for space in the TIMES has become so great that this rule must be insisted upon. For Tuesday's edition must be filed by 5 o'clock Monday p. m., and those for Thursday by the same hour on Wednesday. The same rule for paper advertisements will be received up to 12 o'clock a. m. of Saturday. The old rule has crowded out of each report, and the columns of the paper are a matter that should have appeared, and the rule here announced will have to be insisted upon hereafter in order that the Justice do not do a wrong paper itself and to its reading patrons.

Regular Drive in Town Over This Evening—Final Report Friday Night—Farm Reports Not Yet Coming in From Workers.

The second day's drive for the Y. M. C. A. fund began this morning under hopeful circumstances, the first day's work having proven extremely satisfactory. Eight thousand of the $14,000 allotted to southern Idaho had already been received according to word in the hands of Chairman E. L. Macfarlane. Twin Falls county yesterday subscribed $5,019.26, aside from the amount raised by the high school students and the Boy Scouts. So that over $5,000 of the $6,000 allotted to the county has been raised on the first day, and this without any report from the thirty-seven farm bureaus. Hansen doubled the allotment the first day, giving $300, when only $160 was asked. Twin Falls subscribed $2,253.50, besides the amount raised by the high school and the Boy Scouts, which totalled $985. Bull reported $801.75. No report came from Bull—no to that high school to the regular headquarters, so that anything raised by the boys there will be so much added to the total from Twin Falls county.

District Chairman Macfarlane received a telegram from national Y. M. C. A. headquarters this morning saying that indications were that the percentage of would-be over-subscribed fifty per cent in which case, no further money would be needed before next October. President John E. White, of the farm bureau, said that he had not heard from the county yet, but added that work was going on in the several districts of the county.

robbed. It must be somewhere in Gwyn's cabin now. Get it! But don't let yourself be seen as I may need you where you are later. Get the details about the car now. You know what failure means!

"Of course, I can go," Nan answered. "I'll start now and get back as soon as I can."

Gwyn pulled one of the men who was nearly and ordered him pull up one of the automobiles.

The four men who were seated about the table leaned closer to each other and spoke in low tones.

In a sudden spasm of duty, which struck him but infused him with hatred threatened Von Bleck and his band.

"Everything is just ripe for our next move," said Von Bleck. "We have to act quickly and sensibly. The main thing is to get the deeds done."

Just as the auto filled with men shot away from the curb to go down the road, another car swung around the corner ahead of it.

It was very evident that the unexpected presence of Rawls and the others of Von Bleck's gang in Lost Mine alarmed Nan. She speeded up her motor, swung in by the bank, and came out again almost immediately with the motor for the moment.

Some distance from the terminus of the railroad was a bridge, a wooden structure which ran several hundred feet above the canyon.

As Nan in her motor approached the chasm bridge, she noticed an automobile that was standing on a road near the trestle.

"He and his gang are on the tracks. They tried to get me. There's something mighty troublesome in the wind and we'd better do something quick."

"There's nothing to do, Nan," Gwyn shouted above the din of the grinding wheels on the track.

See this story in Kale Play form today—Tuesday and Wednesday matinee and night, at the Orpheum Theatre. Every chapter a complete story in itself. A jump can be made from one to the other without losing the thread of the story.

advance in excess of two-thirds of the cost of the completion of said work, when state funds are available for the purpose.

A ROERBAK COMPLETELY ANSWERED

The following (Sec. 1) from S. B. 134, passed into law at the last (1917) session of the legislature of Idaho, effectually settles and silences the claim that the improvement of roadways within the Buhl highway district, or elsewhere, as described in proceedings of county commissioners and shown on map herewith can be neglected or prevented.

Sec. 1. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as a limitation of the power of the Board of County Commissioners to issue bonds of the county for the construction or the repairs of roads and bridges, and whenever the Board of County Commissioners shall issue bonds of the county for the construction or repair of roads and bridges under the provisions of Article 6, Chapter 2, of Title 11 of the Political Code of Idaho, and Acts supplementary and amendatory thereto upon the authorization of two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting therefor at an election held for that purpose pursuant to a resolution of such board entered upon the Journal of the board, specifying, describing and defining the road or roads and bridge or bridges to be constructed or repaired and giving the termini and the general course of each road and the approximate location of each bridge, it is proposed to construct, and appropriating a specific amount for any road or bridge wholly or partially within any organized Highway district; then the Board of County Commissioners shall have full jurisdiction and power to locate and construct or repair such road or bridge within such Highway district, and to apply such specific appropriation so derived from the issue of such bonds or so much thereof as may be necessary therefor.

Twin Falls County Good Roads Election Saturday, November 17, 1917.

ALL THE VOTERS OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY ARE NOW CALLED UPON TO DECIDE WHETHER THEY WILL CONTINUE TO THROW AWAY $50,000 ANNUALLY FOR TIMED AND TEMPORARY ROAD REPAIRS, OR BY A LESS ANNUAL EXPENDITURE WILL BUILD 300 MILES OF PERMANENT, ALL-TIME-YEAR-ROUND GOOD ROADS—THE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF A COMPLETE COUNTY SYSTEM THAT WILL BRING EVERY FARMER 25 PER CENT NEARER HIS MARKET, ENABLE HIM TO HAUL 25 PER CENT LARGER LOADS AND TO UTILIZE 50 PER CENT MORE FALL AND WINTER DAYS. A VOTE AGAINST THE COUNTY ROAD BOND ISSUE SAYS "YES" TO WASTE AND "NO" TO ECONOMY. IT WILL REQUIRE TWO VOTES "YES" TO EVERY ONE "NO" TO CARRY THE BOND PROPOSITION.

WHAT HOOVER SAYS The subjoined telegram, received of date indicated, is a complete answer to a specific question, and must finally settle any doubts, or fears, or capricious cavils, as to whether the proposed road bond issue at the present time is unprofitable in any sense of degree:

WASHINGTON, D. C. 125 p. m., Nov. 5, 1917. O. M. Carlson, Chairman County Commissioners, Twin Falls, Idaho. Sincerely hope that you will be able to carry election for the bond issue intended for permanent roads, as all improvements of this class tend for general betterment, and particularly for efficient transportation, which is one of the problems we face in our endeavor to reduce the cost between the producer and consumer. HERBERT HOOVER.

THE COUNTY ROAD BOND ISSUE

FULL STATEMENT OF WHAT IS PROPOSED AND WHERE AND HOW

Do Not Vote For or Against the Bonds Without Considering All the Facts in the Case

ROAD WORK PROPOSED BY COUNTY Under sanction of the Citizen's Advisory Committee, the Board of County Commissioners propose, in case the bonds are voted, to use them—by sale only as the actual work progresses—in the construction of highways within this county as below specified, which can be fully located and understood by reference to the accompanying map: A total construction of one hundred and ninety-five and three-fourths miles of improved highway. Of the included State highway, twenty-four miles are to be paved, extending from Haines to the corporate limits of Buhl. County money, however, will not be used within the City of Twin Falls nor the Village of Kimberly or Piler. The remaining thirty-three and one-fourth miles of the State highway will be improved with gravel or crushed rock. Twenty and one-half miles of the State highway will be within the Buhl-Independent district—three and one-half miles of which will be paved and the remainder improved with crushed rock or gravel. In addition to the State highway, one hundred and thirty-eight and one-half miles of road will be improved with gravel or crushed rock, of which thirty-five and one-half miles will be within the Buhl Highway district. It should be remembered that one-third of the entire cost of the State highway will be paid for by the State—provided it is constructed by the county, and not otherwise.

Money Questions Involved Twin Falls county at the present time has an assessed valuation of twenty-one millions in round numbers. The road levy is 2 1/2 mills, or $52,500, and that for bridges 1 mill, or $12,000—a total of $64,500. Approximately three-fourths of this is devoted to the county roads outside the towns. In 1916 the amount so expended was $43,000, and in 1917, $44,000. It is safe to say that $50,000 as the present average, with a sure increase from year to year should existing conditions prevail. The mud-of-lake winter and the dust and devil conditions prevail. The mud-of-lake winter and the dust and devil conditions prevail. The mud-of-lake winter and the dust and devil conditions prevail.

In this county by the proposed bond issue would only be misleading, since the bonds will run twenty years with option of payment after ten. To pay the entire issue at once, however, would not tax each acre one-half of its increase in value upon completion of the proposed system of good roads. The payment of this principal will be the duty of the next generation, as it should be. But it is worth noting that the county is now practically out of debt, and that the assured increase from auto licenses will much more than pay the bond interest—the bonds being sold by installments and not all at once, and that the excess can be turned into a sinking fund for payment of the principal. Any national view of this matter must include the rapidly increasing property value of the county, to which nothing will contribute like good roads, and must make the creation of this indebtedness, for this purpose, appear but the feather's weight that it readily is.

Will the Money be Wisely Expended? So many problems enter into the planning and building a complete and satisfactory county road system that some voters will no doubt question the wise and economic use of the money, if voted. Realizing the gravity and importance of the duty imposed upon them, the county commissioners have invited the assistance and co-operation in planning and in executing this work of an Advisory Board consisting of seven well known citizens, representing all parts of the county. The declaration of this board, accepting the duty indicated and advising the public regarding the plan to be adopted and its purpose to see that the county get the hundred cents for each dollar expended" is appended hereto in full. The location of the proposed roads as shown by the map and described in detail in the board's proceedings, is in fact a part of the proposition submitted to the voters, and as such is absolutely binding not only on the present county commissioners but on their successors.

What Experience and Common Sense Teach California is today the greatest exponent of the value of good roads, which although built at great cost are now regarded as the state's best paying asset. In this connection it will be worth remembering that when the first issue of eighteen millions in bonds to inaugurate a state highway system was submitted to the voters in 1913, it only failed by a majority of 12,713 votes in counties giving adverse majorities, but that, upon the submission to the voters of a proposition to issue fifteen millions more bonds last November, after six years experience, the vote was 642,259 "for" to 137,197 "against"—an almost four to one majority.

The application of a trifle of common sense will dispose of the objection which some patriotic (or otherwise) people may base upon an alleged undesirable at the present time of counties of states bonding for public works. That the proposed road improvement is in the public interest and an absolute advance in the present national stress, will appear upon a moment's consideration. No present necessity is greater than that for more sugar, and good roads will double the area from which beans may be profitably hauled and thus double the output of our large sugar factory. They will also greatly conserve food products generally all over the tract by added facility of getting them to market or storage, away from the frost.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION Whereas, the Board of Commissioners of Twin Falls County, Idaho, have found that the interests of the county require it and the Board of Commissioners of the county do hereby give notice for the public good for the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000.00) for the purpose of acquiring funds, the proceeds thereof to be used in the construction, building and repair of roads within said county; and whereas: Now, therefore, Notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 17th day of November, 1917, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m., an election shall be held according to law for the purpose of determining whether or not the said Twin Falls county, State of Idaho, shall issue bonds in the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000.00), the proceeds thereof to be used in the construction, building and repair of roads within said Twin Falls county, State of Idaho. Said election shall be by ballot and shall contain the words "Bond, Yes" and "Bond, No" if the voter desires to vote for the issue of bonds, he shall strike out the word "no" if he desires to vote against the issue he shall strike out the word "yes."

DECLARATION PEOPLE'S ADVISORY BOARD The outline suggested by the County Commissioners for the proposed hard surfacing of roads indicates a fair and impartial program, well calculated to meet the needs of the various districts. The improvement of the State highways will not only reach all the principal communities of the county but will give us the benefit of a substantial state appropriation.

Resolution State Highway Commission Be it therefore resolved, that, in the event of the said bond issue being voted in Twin Falls county, this commission do separate with Twin Falls county in the work aforementioned and as the work progresses that the state pay its proportion of the cost of same so far as funds are available therefor, and, further, that the state will reimburse Twin Falls county for any sums which said county may

PURE FOOD AND MARKET PAGE

MRS. H. F. SCHALDACH
Pure Food Editor

The Pure Food Section will appear regularly each week hereafter. Attractive menus and recipes will be prepared by the culinary expert who will edit this feature. This feature will be invaluable to the housewife in pointing the way to greater economy and more healthful diet. Labor saving methods and devices will be discussed. Only such pure food products as conform to the pure food laws and city ordinances governing purity, sanitation and weights and measures may be advertised in this section. The housewife may depend upon such advertising as truthful and the foods as the purest that may be obtained.

Editorial Greeting

Our business is the Big Business of Life. It demands the careful attention to detail in the same kind of executive ability that is required of a manager of a bank or a railroad.

Women spend 90 per cent of the money earned, but all do not spend it judiciously. The object of this department is a get-together proposition: "You tell me and I'll tell you."

It is our desire that every woman and girl consider this page her own outlet. Who can prepare the best meal from "what is left in the cooler?" What has a new idea that will benefit others? What has a problem that needs adjustment?

Who has a suggestion as to little ways or big ways of earning money? Whose experience will help some other woman to hear her trials? Besides all this, remember, this is first of all a Pure Food Page. Patronize our advertisers and tell us if they serve you well. Address all communications to PURE FOOD EDITOR.

CUTTING DOWN DELIVERY SYSTEMS

We notice in the East and also the large Western cities there is a determined effort to conform to the expressed wish of the government to have but one delivery per day. The system of service which has grown up with many retail businesses of the present day has, of course, brought with it some of its attendant evils, of which the four or five deliveries per day is one.

Housewives who understand and appreciate the present situation are concentrating their purchasing and making same intelligently, so that one delivery will usually cover the whole day's purchases. The enormous amount of man power that is necessary now to deliver in some cases unnecessarily, can be used to very great advantage in more necessary work.

NEW DEVICE FOR WRAPPING BREAD ELECTRICALLY

The local bakery, whose wick-awake proprietor is always trying to give his patrons the very best, showed to a representative a unique machine that wraps each loaf in a thin layer of bread electrically without any additional help.

The wrapper is loosely rolled around the loaf when it is thrown on a very small and inconspicuous-looking affair. The bottom and both sides of this are electrically heated somewhat. The paraffin paper becomes just warm enough to start the wax to run slightly which automatically seals the loaf hermetically without the aid of human hands.

FOOD IS WANTED

(a) When we eat more food than our bodies need for growth and repair, and to supply energy for our work. Overeating leads to poor health and fat instead of brawn, makes us sluggish and indolent instead of energetic and resourceful. Eat enough and no more. Eat for physical and mental efficiency.

(b) When food is burned or spoiled in cooking. Improperly prepared or poorly seasoned food will be left on the table and probably wasted. Buy food wisely and then prepare it carefully.

(c) When too much food is prepared for a meal. Unserviced portions are apt to be thrown into the garbage pail or allowed to spoil. Many housekeepers do not know how to use left-over foods to make appetizing dishes.

(d) When too much food is served at a meal. Uneaten portions are left on the plate and later thrown into the garbage pail. Learn to know the needs of your family, and serve each no more than you think he will want.

(e) When anything edible is allowed to go to the garbage pail or allowed to spoil for lack of proper handling.

(f) When food is handled carelessly. Buy clean food, keep it clean until used, and be neat in all details of cooking and serving. This lessens the waste and is valuable health measure as well.

Today is the second of the meatless Tuesdays in Twin Falls, which same we are glad to note are being very patriotically carried out by the eating places in town, and are proving a big success. This voluntarily working together with the food administrator is much appreciated by the government.

Mr. Porter of the Palace Cafe says a great many people have the impression that the restaurants are making these more profitable business days than others.

The revenue is exactly the case. In addition to having to re-arrange their menu very much which is more or less inconvenient, they really allow a loss. However, let it be said that the business people are more than glad to do their bit along this line and without sniffling.

BISHOP OF MISSOURI APPROVES A JUST WAR

(International News Service) SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 12.—Conscientious objectors to the war by right of divinity received no support from the Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, aged eighty, bishop of Missouri, and presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal churches in America, in an address here before the Mid-Day Luncheon club.

He declared America has entered the war to show that "right makes might," and asserted the nation is more divine than the church.

"Three great divine institutions have been placed in this world-by-Allah," he said, "the family, the church, and the state, and Allah, the church, the state is an organization of families. Hence this view of divinity permits of Christians conscientiously going to war."

Bishop Tuttle is the oldest ranking bishop in the United States.

RED, WHITE AND BLUE

(International News Service) CHARLESBURG, W. VA., Nov. 13.—Lewis county has produced patriotic corn. An ear grown on the farm of Robert Ingram has red, white and blue grains. The grains are perfect and many of each color are distributed over the ear, while some of the grains have all three colors.

MURPHY AT THE "TIMES" WANTS RE-ENFORCEMENT FROM SPUDLAND

Other Vegetables Welcome to the Capital of Tuberville—Collection Made for Charity During the Winter—Investigation of the Pool Hall Bum Indigent, Who Is Strictly Ruled Out—Associated Charities and County to Handle Vegetables—Charities Need Some Funds From People of City.

The TIMES vegetable collection for the needs of the unfortunate of Twin Falls this winter is growing, the rural department is getting along very nicely. The amount collected at this time, however, is relatively small compared with what it might have been. The condition surrounding the gathering has been strenuous. Only sound vegetables that, on account of size are unobtainable—have been, and the TIMES guarantees that these will be distributed through the county commissioners and the Associated Charities, where they are needed and only where they are needed. In this connection it is deemed advisable to lay before TIMES readers certain facts with which some of them are perhaps not familiar.

In the first place it is not true, as never has been true, to say that the extent that the present board of county commissioners are "easy," and are habitually worked by a class of loafers that sit around pool halls all summer and then sponge on the community during the winter months. Anyone who gets any money from the county board really needs it. Similarly, the one who gets assistance from the Associated Charities needs it and gets it only after a careful investigation of the case. Loafers are frowned upon and upon systematically. The work of the board and the Associated Charities are complementary; the latter taking care of cases which the board cannot handle by the board. In some instances this work consists of extending aid to children of unfortunate families who through misfortune are in real need and are unable to secure enough proper food and clothing to enable them to go to school. In other cases, while fact that come into town from dry claims, or from other towns looking for work and get stranded, and some of them fall sick. The TIMES reporter appealed to City Clerk W. A. Minnick, head of the municipal department, to get a list of the names and estimate of the number of men who pretended to want work, but who would refuse steady employment when tendered it, and he said for every fifty. Sometimes, during the busy season as many as twenty would come in and would refuse them, when tendered on the ground that the wages were insufficient. They were always looking for fancy work, and he said he had decided that he had had too much of that during the previous week and had few applications for men so he turned the labor street over to the men he said that the great majority of working men here, labored steadily. Some days, as many as half of the floating men are not in condition to attend school unless helped some. Workers sometimes get the idea that they can get employment here in the winter and come here "broke." These conditions are ordinary ones, and the Associated Charities and Brunk continue to promise to be better this year. "There will be more work." As also suggested, sickness in some cases is inevitable, and misfortunes will come. As far as helping the food situation, the TIMES will look after the storage and help in distribution through the proper channels. It only asks that all who contribute to work and an unusual amount of other work, the usual things, sickness and special conditions will make it necessary, no doubt, to extend charity in a number of cases.

B. W. Brunk, who formerly ran an employment agency here, and who conducted one free this summer before going into the real estate business, agreed with Mr. Edwards that there were some men in town who should work more than they did. He further agreed that work would be annually plentiful this year and that there would be fewer cases deserving aid. He thought that some of the men who worked very little were also smooth enough to "work" the county and the Associated Charities. There were not many of them, however, in his opinion, and there would always be some cases deserving aid. He favored co-operation between the county and the association in segregating the sheep from the goats. He believed that both the county and the city should put on work during the winter, and that those who were unable to get work should be properly cared for. He thought a majority of those refusing to work were fit and would be good before winter.

It has been pointed out that men with big families who work during the summer months, even when they save all that they can, are liable to run short toward the end of the winter in ordinary years. Then a protracted spell of sickness leaves the family on the verge of destitution. Their clothing is insufficient. Clothes wearing out the children of these unfortunate parents are not in condition to attend school unless helped some. Workers sometimes get the idea that they can get employment here in the winter and come here "broke." These conditions are ordinary ones, and the Associated Charities and Brunk continue to promise to be better this year. "There will be more work." As also suggested, sickness in some cases is inevitable, and misfortunes will come. As far as helping the food situation, the TIMES will look after the storage and help in distribution through the proper channels. It only asks that all who contribute to work and an unusual amount of other work, the usual things, sickness and special conditions will make it necessary, no doubt, to extend charity in a number of cases.

TWIN FALLS—HIGH GAINS

has an anxious eye on the "madding crowd"; the "principal" chance of feet pretty often when it seems to be going against us; and the tall, handsome and very dignified young member who shows great reserve in response to anything like familiar address, greets back especially good play of the home team by getting like a Commanche and waving both arms while dancing on the adjacent cornfield. Oh, it was all good; no person without sentiment and enthusiasm is worth having—or knowing! But all this tells nothing about the game of foot ball, which was one of the cleanest and best ever seen here. Contrary to rule in the past, the Bull team was clearly outclassed; but the boys stood by their colors and put up a clean, consistent and game fight to the last moment of play. Without knowing, we should say that the Twin Falls team had a little advantage in weight. But their training and team work was certainly an improvement on the form of two or three previous years. They caught the ball, whether passed or booted, which was a new departure.

The game opened with Neuman of Twin Falls kicking the ball. Bull did not carry the ball out of their territory. Twin Falls got possession of the ball in the first quarter. Neuman made the touchdown and also kicking goal. During the rest of the first quarter the game was played in Bull territory, but Twin Falls was unable to score again. In the second quarter the game was played steadily toward Bull's goal and Neuman made another touchdown, but failed to kick goal.

Both teams came back strong in the second half. Twin Falls introduced some new plays, which made for them good gains. Bull was unable to penetrate the Twin Falls line but several good gains were made on forward passes. In the third quarter Neuman made two more touchdowns and the kicked goal. Bull fought hard throughout the entire game, but the Blue and White boys showed superior training by their good formation and team work. In the last five minutes of play the ball was being carried toward Bull's goal by Twin Falls. The ball was carried by Glasgow (goal line plunge, he fumbled the ball and Baily recovered it and fell over the line for the "last" touchdown. The Twin Falls team played together so that little credit can be given any individual, but Captain Fix played an excellent game at left end. Several times he broke through the line and received long forward passes. He also made good gains by carrying the ball on end runs. Lavender, Davis and Glasgow played a good game in the back field. Lavender and Davis making good gains around the ends, and Glasgow on line plunges. Neuman also played a good game. He made many good gains on line plunges. He has the speed, is a good dodger and hard to tackle. The line men played a good game and Bull was unable to force their way through them for any gain. Final score: Twin Falls, 33; Bull, 0.

Friday was the finest day the Twin Falls team has so far had for a game. The new field was in excellent condition. Friday's crowd of spectators was the largest ever attending a Twin Falls football game. The full line-up is omitted because we are not able to get the team in the best of shape for the game. Twin Falls was substantially as here-tofore. Messrs. Barker and Downman acted most satisfactorily as referee and umpire, respectively. In the second half Van Tassel substituted for Carter and Hassenbaum for Stronk.

The next game will be this coming Friday, with the Blackfoot high school team. This will be the biggest and most decisive game of the season. Blackfoot claims the championship of eastern Idaho. They defeated the Catholic Technical Institute, while the Institute defeated Gooding with whom Twin Falls played a tie game. The three coaches are working hard to get the team in the best of shape for the game and E. M. Sweely is also giving the boys some pointers on the game.

ROBINSONS

There are a lot of people in this city and county who do not do all their trading at this store, and a lot more who do not trade here regularly, but there surely are a lot who do trade here regularly and a lot more who come here often for we are 'doing' some business these days."

There is one feature of this store's business that stands out as an important one and that is the uniformly good quality of the merchandise carried. I give special care to quality and aim to handle only goods that are dependable. This counts for much in the end. There are some who care only for price, but I believe that the majority of people prefer good goods at RIGHT PRICES to poor goods at any price.

I would like very much to have every one who has any goods to buy in the lines I carry, come in and see us. Come often if you can, but if you can't, come as regularly and as often as you can, for it will pay you to see what we have to offer. We are glad to see you if you only come and look and do not buy.

Prices Here Are Always Right

Prices Here Are Usually Lower

Perhaps I should say SHOES oftener than I do, but our shoe trade is growing so fast that it would seem that the word that I am giving unusually good values in shoes is being passed from those who have bought, to others, and my best advertisement seems to be those who have become regular customers for shoes here.

It is perhaps not so hard to understand why we do such a good business in shoes when you stop to think of the following:

Men's heavy work shoes with leather soles $3.50
(This is a good strong well-made shoe, black or tan)

Men's good style dress shoes at $3.50

Secretary W. A. Edwards, head of the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau employment department, was inclined to agree with the city office, with this qualification: "There are practically no men around this city who do not work sometimes. I have gone down to the street corner at times and found that the labor street was not so bad as it would seem to be. I would rather find it so than to find it as it is. A few days later they would be out working, earning a few dollars, which they would save and spend after they had earned it. The trouble was not that they would not work at all; but that they would not work on anything but the street corner, and that they could. Counting all the men who declined or failed to work as much as they should have done, I know the estimate of fifty is not far from wrong. A large number of this class is itinerant. Some follow the potato digging. They do not want to do anything but the street corner for big wages. Others follow other kinds of special work and drift around from place to place. All these will soon leave this tract. They will not remain for the winter. There are men around this town who do not work as much as they should. At the same time, people are sometimes mistaken in regard to the number of those, who without means of support at round pool halls and other comfortable leading places in this city. There are a number of men around this city who are pretty well to do, who spend part of their time
