Corporal T. M. James Writes Home to Folks

Laude Y. M. C. A. Work, and Speaks Highly of Army Life. He Tells of Gas Drills and Other Experiences.

Corporal T. M. James, son of Rev. A. W. James of Kimberly, in a recent letter to his folks tells some very interesting facts about army life and the recent trips taken by his company. The letter follows:

Camp Greene, N. C., October 1, 1917.

Dear Mother and Father: We arrived here yesterday on Sunday. All the boys are well. We are no longer Second Idaho or no longer Company K. We were made into a machine gun company. Part of our regiment was made artillery and some of them hospital corps, but we are in the machine gun company. Half of Company J, that is Payette, is mixed in our company. Captain Biggs is senior officer so no changes are made in the machine gun company. Half of Company J, that is Payette, is mixed in our company. Captain Biggs is senior officer so no changes are made in the machine gun company.

October 15 - Received your letter last evening. It sure takes a long time for us to get your mail. It is not cold here. We are drilling five hours a day, but don't have to carry any guns.

October 22 - We are not drilling much as we have no guns and are waiting for new equipment. It is now raining here. Some of the artillery will leave here next week. We may go too. We graduated the other day and about 40,000 negroes were out to see us. There was sure some crowd in town. It was a Liberty Loan parade.

grade. The Oregon boys held a will west show. The people had never seen anything like that. I think we will leave here soon but don't know where we will go. We have a large Y. M. C. A. and we go there instead of to town. We hardly ever miss a night as there is something going on and every night it is a different program.

October 28 - We are on the train going some where. Going through Virginia now. Can't say where we are going. Seven train loads of soldiers. I guess we will land some where and will write then.

October 30 - Camp Mill, N. Y. - went here yesterday and have been very busy. It has rained about eight hours a day ever since we landed. Had a fine trip coming through. Seen some great places. We paraded in Washington D. C. and rested on the capital steps. All around the White House and state buildings we were, but could not go in as the train was waiting for us.

October 31 - Philadelphia, four hours and Baltimore and in New Jersey. We crossed the ferry and saw the Statue of Liberty and all the big ocean liners in port here. Some trip we are 14 miles from the ocean. It is damp and cold here. All the boys are in fine shape. Paul Harman and Mack Knicker are in the squad. Both are good soldiers. You know Mack was a good man to work and he is just as good a soldier.

November 2 - I have time to write as we do not drill now. We are allowed to go up town any time. I have only been to New York once as there are other places closer. We go to Coney Island and Brooklyn. We drew some clothes today and are well fixed for our nervous life here. Paul and Mack are on guard tonight.

There are twenty-seven churches at this place, and the preachers and women have been down to camp and invited us to church. I never seen such a bunch of preachers. The people are good to us and treat us fine. They were surprised and thought we would be a bunch of rough necks. They expected to find us a bunch of cowboys. Mack Knicker said that to some of the preachers.

November 6 - Received your letter today. I am on guard tonight so have not much time to write. We are getting along fine. We drill two hours every morning. Were given gas masks to drill with and it is sure interesting. We learn a little more everyday about war. There is a large airplane school here. Machines flying all the time. I would sure like a ride but they will not let us. They are not allowed to take any passengers.

FOR THE KIMBERLY BOYS

All the Local Boys Will Meet in Conference Thursday Night to Discuss Y. M. C. A. Work.

On Thursday night of this week, all the boys between the ages of 14 and 21, inclusive, will meet at the Christian church in conference concerning the army Y. M. C. A. This meeting is held in accordance with the desires and effort of the Boys' Division of the National War Work Council, Y. M. C. A., for the purpose of encouraging the boys to do their bit in providing the Y. M. C. A. comforts for the boys in the trenches and in the army camps.

Speakers will be present who understand the "boy" life and the work among the soldiers. It's place in army life, and what the boys can do to forward the movement will be presented.

The conference will be held in the high school building at 8 o'clock on Thursday night. It is expected that there will be a full house of boys, just boys, with messages and talks that appeal to the boys.

The boys are doing a great work throughout the country along the front of the Y. M. C. A. camp. In Twin Falls the boys of the high school raised over one hundred dollars. All over the United States the boys are responding heartily to this great call.

The prominent feature of the boys' work is that they are not encouraged to give nor to pledge money that is not theirs by the right of earning it. Thus it is that heretofore the boys have not been especially appealed to, but this is their job, and the exposure that every American boy (American blood and sympathies) in the Kimberly precinct will be present at the conference Thursday night, at eight o'clock at the Christian church, and that all will demonstrate their approval of the task that is put up to them.

RED CROSS AUXILIARY BEGINS IMPORTANT TASK

Perhaps it is the call of winter, or more likely the call that comes from the trenches where our American soldiers are already facing the hardships and horrors of warfare, that has led to the birth of the Red Cross Auxiliary of Kimberly to begin this work.

All the women of the city are urged to be present and to do their bit in the task of providing comforts and necessities to the soldiers, when the ladies meet next Thursday and Friday afternoon in the Blosser Club rooms to begin their season's work.

This is one way in which the women of Kimberly can do their part in the great world war.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Most of the high school boys and girls have returned to school, after helping to gather in the crops.

J. L. Dowling, superintendent of the Kimberly high school, has resumed his duties, once more, having spent several weeks in the Twin Falls hospital.

The "ups" and "downs" in life come to everybody. Right now, while you are making money you ought to be saving it, and when the downs come you will have something to fall back upon. Be independent. Start an account with the bank of Kimberly.

CHINA'S ARMIES TO BE TRAINED BY JAPANESE

(International News Service) TOKYO, Nov. 15 - Following closely the announcement that China will send troops to the western front in Europe the Japanese government announces that Japan will supply arms and ammunition to China along with officers to completely reorganize and reform the fighting forces of the Oriental republic.

In return China is to furnish the raw material which will be turned into ordnance arsenals. The negotiations are to be carried out in the form of a loan from Japan to China, and the Peking government has already placed an order with the Tather company of Japan for supplies for a model army division, the supplies to cost $15,000,000. The Chinese government has announced that it will send three divisions of troops to Europe under the initial order from Japan - considered only the first of many. The first supply will consist of 120 field guns, 60 mountain guns, 20,000 rifles and a number of machine guns.

The new alliance of the Asiatic powers, the object of which is to aid the Allies against the Kaiser in Europe, is a result of measures made to the Japanese government soon after the organization of the new cabinet ministry by Premier Tuan Chih-jun in July, according to the Tokyo government's announcement. The Japanese government accepted the proposal and submitted the question to the diplomatic council, where it was halted on the grounds that the supplying of arms and ordnance to the Kaiser's government would be tantamount to giving support to the northern Chinese political partisans. The Tokyo government assumes the attitude of legal belligerence and fairness to the factions clamoring for supremacy in the unsettled republic of the Far East.

Objections in Japan's diplomatic council were overcome, and the announcement of the sale of arms resulted, however, with the condition that the supplies furnished to the military campaign against the southern leaders. Their use is to be confined to the unification and reform of the military system of China.

An authority is quoted as stating that the object of the purchase of arms and ordnance by China from Japan is more significant than for the mere purpose of effecting the long talked of reform and unification of the Chinese army. The Japanese report is that China has recognized the imperative necessity of forming an ordnance alliance with Japan, resulting in the close geographical relations, as well as upon the Oriental powers' situation in present day world affairs with Japan, the military power, the raw materials and the willingness to learn, while Japan has the mastery of modern warfare, the methods for turning out war supplies, the skilled workmen and the trained officers. While none of the Japanese army has yet participated in the warfare of Europe, army officers from the empire have been scattered throughout the war theatres, and the lessons which they have learned are to be transmitted to the soldiers at home and then to the neighbor, China.

WATCH HOW THE INCOME TAX AFFECTS YOU

(Written for the I. N. S.) If your salary is $25 a week, you are exempt from taxation under the war revenue bill, if married. If single you will have to pay Uncle Sam a tax of 2 per cent on the amount of your earnings in excess of $1000. As $25 per week is $1300 a year, your tax will be 2 per cent of $300 or $6.

The war revenue tax is levied on "nerveless" not "men," and so before

PHRESIDIO, TEXAS, Nov. 14 - Having driven government officers in disorder toward the American line, killing to the number of 1500 are attacking Ojinaca today. The attack is said to be directed by Francisco Villa, although it is not known whether he is on the scene in person. His forces are well supplied with machine guns and are raking the town, sending a few bullets into American territory. American cavalry patrolled the border today in some of the preliminary skirmishes, but losses today have been light.

A detachment of government cavalry has been called and forced to cross the American side.

Make Your Ford Steer Like a Packard EQUIP IT WITH A LITL SHO-FUR STEERING DEVICE The Litl Sho-Fur is a wonderful little device, the simplest thing imaginable, and IT DOES THE WORK! Always working, "right there" when it is needed, and forgotten, when it is not needed. It guards your safety in a more than human manner. The driver may forget, the Litl Sho-Fur never can. When the front wheels strike an obstruction, and are deflected, to get over or around it, the Litl Sho-Fur pulls them back in a straight line before the car has changed its course—before the driver knows of the danger. The Litl Sho-Fur acts like a thumb. It helps to steer all the time. In turning corners, it helps straighten the car up after the turn. It holds the car in a straight line on the road at higher speeds. It does away with the wobble of steering wheel, which causes the dangerous side-sway at moderate speeds. To a large degree it prevents skidding on muddy roads, because a car going forward in a straight line, is not likely to skid. It takes away rattle of steering connections, the ror, ball and socket joints, etc. It absorbs road shocks, otherwise carried to the driver's wrists, and prevents that tired feeling that comes after long drives. It is a delight on rough roads, when it does hold the steering at the same time it never obstructs the driver's wishes in the slightest degree. Should either ball and socket joint, or any part of the steering drag-link break, the Litl Sho-Fur alone will keep the car going in a straight line. This is most important! The Litl Sho-Fur differs from most other devices sold to do similar work. Should any part of it break (which is unlikely) it cannot cause harm. It cannot jam, and should anything happen to the flat spring, it merely causes to act, leaving the entire steering device as free and unencumbered as when the car was made. Its work is entirely for good, and when not doing good, it can do no harm. To the driver, a car equipped with the Litl Sho-Fur handles differently. It "feels" what is different and is a real delight. As one man aptly said, "It makes a Ford drive like a Packard." Any man who has tried the Litl Sho-Fur will never again drive a Ford without it. Let us put this Litl Sho-Fur on your Ford—try it two days and if you are not perfectly satisfied return it and get your money back.

The Guggenheim interests now have their new machinery on the ground and when the power line is completed, the near-by future dam will be in fine condition to begin its most prosperous year.

New Enlistments—The following have enlisted in the regular army here since November 1: Stanley L. Batis, Rupert; Thomas J. Powers, Halley; Glenn Koger, Jerome; Otto Barmelster, Buhl; Ernest Egan, Kimberly; John W. Williams, Buhl; William P. Adams, Kimberly; Alfred H. Koon, Grand View; Adolph E. Schroeder, of Larned, Kansas, and William H. Pratt, of Twin Falls, have made application to enter.

State Highway—The county commissioners wish the TIMES to make it understood that, individually and collectively, they stand pledged to carry the highway bonds are authorized, to let the contracts for the state highway first and to promote its speedy construction from one side of the county to the other, without favoritism. They speak of "contracts" because the hard surfaced part of this highway will require a separate contract from that for the portion to be improved with crushed stone or gravel.

LYON-GEORGE LEADS ALLIED WAR COUNCIL (Continued from page one) a personality, to dominate all the forces and form a single front of all the allied and United States battle lines. "There is no man more than any other in this" in London who would fill the bill, General Jan Christian Smuts, unquestionably the most popular of the British Empire today, with the widest following abroad among the soldiers whom he has fought with and against. He is the only man in sight whose name would have the confidence and support of a majority of the allies. He would be, without a doubt, acceptable. Whether the United States would accept the nomination offered by the allies is another question. The presence of General Smuts in London will have considerable effect on the situation. The one big lesson already drawn from the Italian debacle is that some sort of cohesion among the allies and the United States is an object of the first magnitude. The British press unanimously agrees on this. Liberal papers, such as the Manchester Guardian, The Nation and others, which first advocated such a policy, are being joined by the Conservative organs, notably the Northcliffe news. The Times and The Mail and The Express are daily delivering broadsides to the effect that an allied joint control and supreme council must go into effect at once if victory is to be won or, indeed, if defeat is to be averted. Tomorrow, therefore, will witness the most important conference between nations ever held in this world. The results, whether benign or malignant, will cast their effects to the ends of civilization, and the future of the nations will be molded to a great extent by the co-operative councils and conferences of the allied nations and the United States envoys.

Big German Counter Fails to Succeed LONDON, Nov. 14—The German counter thrust, "the first" they have been calling it, which, scale after scale, Passchendaele was entered by the Canadians was evidently undertaken with the aim of fighting their way back into the town. For some time the blow was expected as orders had been found upon German officers from Von Hindenburg ordering the receipt of Passchendaele. "Spare nothing in life but retain Passchendaele," was the order that went out from the German staff. Passchendaele which rests upon the famous ridge, lies just south of the Staden railway and is a position of great military value. A number of important roads converge there and the high ground dominates much of the surrounding country.

ROME, Nov. 14—Barbarities rivaling those of Belgium were committed by the German troops that invaded Italy, according to refugees who arrived from the north today. Women were attacked and children killed before the onset of the terror stricken mothers, it was said. Houses were looted and many villages were set on fire. It is a favorite boast of German officers that they "would teach the Italians a lesson for turning on their former allies." There is increasing fighting activity south of the Italian frontier. The Italians have repulsed the Austro-Germans at some points and have retaken Ghibro from the Teutons.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 14—Death among the German civilian population are as numerous as among the soldiers at the front according to a letter from a Dutch camp, containing a startling statement. It quoted the Frankfurter Zeitung as saying that starvation will result in the murder of only the stronger members of the German population and that the effects of malnutrition are being felt throughout the entire empire. PARIS, Nov. 14—Italy is looking to the United States in her hour of deepest distress for her savior. Businessman E. L. Laguarda, of New York, who has just returned recently from Rome, said today that Signor Nitto, Italian minister of finance, sends this message to America: "The present German offensive has caused everyone in Italy to redouble his courage and we will fight to the end of our strength for the United States for moral and material help." LONDON, Nov. 14—The whole world today awaits authentic and official news from Petrograd as to the outcome of the struggle between the loyal forces of Premier Kerensky and the Bolsheviki forces of the Russian government. A news agency dispatch from the Russian frontier said that Kerensky had made a triumphant entry into Petrograd and that his troops had been victorious over the Bolsheviki hordes. Up to the time this message was received, however, no news had come direct from Petrograd either by wireless or cable although so far as is known both are in working order. During the past three fateful days, London, Stockholm and Copenhagen have been deluged with contradictory reports and rumors, but the last word direct from Kerensky was received on Sunday when the premier was reported to be leading a huge army against the Bolsheviki forces holding Petrograd. Hope ran high in London today that the Bolsheviki uprising has been definitely put down and it was strengthened by advices from Swedish sources which were of the most optimistic character. In official circles the opinion was heard that the lack of discipline among the untrained hordes under Lenine and Trotsky would help to defeat the trained Cossack and other loyal to the provisional government. A German report that the Bolsheviki are still in control of Petrograd was taken with utmost reserve.

PARIS, Nov. 14—German trenches were raided by French troops south of St. Quentin, near Espinard and at Chaume wood, the war office announced today. On the Verdun front there is heavy cannonading. BERLIN, Nov. 14—The Italian towns of Feltra and Trimalone have been captured by the invading Austrian army, the war office announced today. There is heavy cannonading along the Piave river, the official statement added. Both Feltra and Trimalone are in northern Italy and were in the path of the Italian army which is attacking northern Italy from Trentino. A dispatch to the International News Service on Tuesday, said that German troops had entered Feltra. LONDON, Nov. 14—Premier Kerensky has made a victorious entry into Petrograd and the Bolsheviki uprising in that city has been completely defeated, according to advices from Haparanda by way of Stockholm, today. (Haparanda is on the Swedish-Finnish frontier.) First Church of Christ Scientist Sunday services at 11 a. m. Subject of sermon, November 18, is "Morals and Immorality." Sunday school 10 a. m. Wednesday evening meetings at which testimonies of Christian Science healings are given begin at 8 o'clock. A free reading room where Christian Science literature may be read or purchased, is open between the hours of 2:30 and 4:30 p. m. every day, except Sundays and holidays. In the church located at 238 Third avenue east.

We did not buy this space to urge any one to have Christmas portraits made at our studio; hundreds will do that without further invitation. And to those hundreds, those who will want us to make their portraits before the new year, we can not emphasize too strongly the importance of coming early—come now—right now.

Last holiday time we were rather curious as to the number of our phone calls. So each time the phone in the finishing room was answered, a mark was placed on a pad beside it. And there were certain crowded afternoons in our studio, when, on an average, the phone rang every six minutes! Only one item, however, and a minor one at that, in the situation known as Christmas congestion.

Maybe it was because of this that a young man came in the twenty ninth of May this year and said: "I want to send my photographs as Christmas gifts and I know by experience how busy your studio seems in December. One day last December I came in and your reception-room was crowded with people; the next day I came again and looked in only. I said then: 'I'll wait till next year for my photographs and I'll be sure I am early enough to avoid the rush.'" He did around the first.

This is the class of stock that will be offered you at your own estimation of value. An opportunity seldom offered. The entire lot of over 60 females of all ages including 13 head of registered Holsteins, many with high A. R. O. records, will be sold without reservation, together with the herd bulls. DAISY PONTIAC LAD No. 107268 now stands at the head of the herd. He is bred along the lines that have produced many past and present champions. The dam, an A. R. O. cow, is by King Pontiac, and from a daughter of Sir Korndyke Trimalone Du Roi, who is by a son of Sir Korndyke Manor Du Roi, one of the greatest transmitting sires that ever lived. Daisy Pontiac Lad is sired by a son of the greatest of all living Holstein bulls today, KING OF THE PONTIACS, who has more 40-lb. daughters, more 30-lb. daughters, more 20-lb. two-year-old daughters, more A. R. O. daughters, than any other bull in the world. Send for tabulated pedigrees. This herd carries more blood of this famous bull than any other herd in the Northwest. ## I am Making a Small Town Business Pay Because I Know

By G. A. Carver, of Carver Bros. Company, General Merchants, Strasburg, Ohio

I KNOW my sales slips are added correctly. There's only one way of being sure—and that's by adding them on a machine. Human addition means errors, no matter how careful the figuring.

And little errors have shipwrecked many a business.

Soon after it was bought I caught small errors enough to pay for my Burroughs.

I KNOW how much each clerk and each department sells each day. I have to know. Rule-of-thumb averages don't tell which department is paying, or which clerk is an asset—where I'm making my money.

I couldn't get this information every day if I didn't have my Burroughs to get it for me, speedily and accurately.

I KNOW the monthly total of sales and expenses. In other words I know every month exactly how I stand—how much I'm making and how I'm making it.

No man likes to do business blindfolded—but many do, because they hate to wade through a maze of figures to get to the light.

My Burroughs does this for me.

I KNOW how much money I have—how much in the bank, how much on bills receivable—all the time. Most retailers never check up their check-books—I do, and with my Burroughs it's easy.

Since I know my cash income and outgo every day, it's easy to keep track of my bank balance. But this represents only part of my money.

My accounts receivable are a real asset and it's as important to know their total daily as to know my bank balance.

My Burroughs gets me the information in a few minutes.

I KNOW what goods are on my shelves—and this means something in a general store like mine.

With this knowledge, I have very little slow-moving or dead goods piling up on me. Everything moves quickly—and quick turnovers mean big money. I couldn't keep track of my stock without my Burroughs.

I KNOW that my Burroughs Machine is one of the most profitable investments I have made. It's busy all day. It never tires; it's always accurate; it's always on the job.

I can't tell you all the things we use it for; but my adviser—the storekeeper who wants to make his business pay big profits—is get a Burroughs.

INTENSE HEAT MARKS LABRADOR SUMMERS

International News Service PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—Intense heat characterizes the brief summer in the untracked wilds of the interior of Labrador, according to W. H. Clyde Todd, curator of ornithology at the Carnegie Museum here. Mr. Todd headed the expedition sent out by the museum and which recently returned.

• The screams of the country are apparently a parallel for the trout fishery. Mr. Todd said that one of the party caught trout measuring from 23 to 25 inches in length and weighing five pounds. They were caught with a fly.

• The anglers brought back a complete collection of geese, swans, and other hawks, all of them rare specimens. The expedition crossed territory never before explored, and maps and charts of the country were made.

• With Mr. Todd were O. J. Murie, the managing curator of mammalogy and Alfred Marshall, of Chicago. The men left Pittsburgh on May 23 and started their long trail northward from the Gulf of St. Lawrence, to Chimo on Ungava bay as soon as the ice floes went away. They arrived at Fort Chimo, August 23, and returned by steamer to St. Johns, N. S., October 15.

• On the return trip on the steamer from Fort Chimo a cannon was on duty constantly watching for submarines. "While there have been no re-

ANNOUNCES REQUEST OF ONE WHO LOVED HIM

(International News Service)
DENVER, COLO., Nov. 13.—Because the man whom she blames for her ruin, she holds in her hands the substantial estate bequeathed him, there will be no contest over the will of Mrs. Janet Shaw, whose dead body was found in her home here with her wrists cut, of a morose, unhappy period of her life, centered about the room.

It and broken-hearted, Mrs. Shaw, former actress, well known in stage-land for her histrionic ability, ended her suffering with a dose of chloroform.

The unique will, discovered after her death, contained the request that her remains be held in an undertaking parlor for twenty-four hours, where a lone solist might render "I Hear You Calling, Me." She directed that the body be then turned over to the medical department of the University of Colorado.

The bulk of her estate was given to a well known Denver business man. He was also made executor of the will. Letters found in the dead woman's effects indicated that unrequited love resulted in Mrs. Shaw's taking her own life. One letter told of elaborate plans she had made for her marriage; another, written shortly after, related her keen disappointment by his proposal of a financial settlement with her before marrying another.

The renunciation of the bequest dismises a content of the will started by distant relatives of the dead woman, of whose existence nothing was known until after Mrs. Shaw's tragic death.

Child Murder Is Strongly Denounced

Head of Chicago Medical Association
Severely Criticizing of Medicine "To Kill Deformed Infant."

(U. N. S. League Wire)
CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Medical circles in Chicago are stirred again today as they were two years ago by the baby killing case, by the announcement that a child said to be hopelessly deformed is being slowly drugged to death by the advice and treatment of Dr. Harry J. Halseiden. The child is Paul Hodzima and is daily being given medicines by its parents that they know will cause its death within two months. The child has a microcephalus skull and also suffers from a stricture of the trachea that makes breathing an agony.

"The medical fraternity never will accept or approve such a practice," said Dr. C. E. Humiston, president of the Chicago Medical Association. Dr. A. A. Milne, a former president of the association and one of the leading members of the American Medical society, said:

"Dr. Halseiden's course is absolutely unjustifiable. There are ways by which pain can be alleviated without causing death of the sufferer. The physician has no right to cause the death of anyone."

Admits Murder Story Was a Fabrication

POTEAU, Okla., Nov. 12.—Confessing that the story of J. W. Terry's murder was a fabrication and manufactured for the purpose of collecting $5000 life insurance, Sam Swider, former convict was arrested today and lodged in jail here.

Louis McKibben, who confessed a few weeks ago when arrested that the story of Terry's murder was untrue, pleaded guilty in the district court today and was sentenced to serve 15 years in the penitentiary. Swider expects to plead guilty tomorrow.

A charge of murder against Terry, who was found last August in a hospital in Los Angeles, suffering from tuberculosis, was dropped today. Terry was returned to Poteau on this charge and was released without bond. Swider and McKibben avowed they saw Terry killed in a fight with W. L. Bates, Millard Vaughn and Will Stiles near Heaven in 1907. Terry was unable to agree at the first trial. At the second trial Stiles was tried separately and acquitted. The dismissal of Vaughn and Bates followed. Swider says he was promised his liberty from the Oklahoma penitentiary, where he was serving a term for horse stealing if he would swear to the murder story.

PRICES LOWER NOW THAN IN CIVIL WAR

(International News Service)
KEOKUK, IOWA, Nov. 13.—War-time prices of foodstuffs today are not as high as they were during the first years of the Civil war. Items taken from an invoice of goods sold by S. Hamill & Co., wholesale grocers here, when the fight for the emancipation of the negro was staged, to R. J. Jacobs, a retailer, June 22, 1862, show staple food products averaged about 125 per cent higher then.

A student of food prices discovered the old invoice in Chicago recently. When compared with present prices there considerable discussion arose among grocers and commission men.

Sugar in the Civil war days sold for 10 cents a pound. Today it is 12 cents. Lard, tobacco at more than double the present price and tea at $10.52 for a 25-pound chest. Twenty-five pounds of the same quality today may be bought for $2.50. Coffee also was nearly four times as high as at present.

The bill of groceries and sundries that then brought $644.14 can be purchased today for $291.61.

However, civilization reminds the public, transportation facilities for bringing tea and coffee to this country were not what they are today.

WATCH HOW THE INCOME TAX AFFECTS YOU

The $20-a-week man, if married, is exempt from taxation under the war revenue bill. If a bachelor, he must pay the government 2 per cent of the amount earned over $1000. An his yearly salary amounts to $1440, his tax will be 2 per cent of $440 or $8 cents.

Not every $20-a-week bachelor, however, will be required to contribute even this small sum to the conduct of the war for democracy. When he appears at the office of the collector of Internal revenue for his district he will be furnished with a blank card, which he may schedule his salary and also file exemptions. This must be done before the first day of March 1918.

If he happens to own an equity in a house which involves the payment of $40 or more in interest on a mortgage he will escape taxation. If he pays interest on a note of other form or indebtedness, or if he pays taxes on any kind of real estate, the amount is deducted from his taxable $40.

In case a part of Mr. Bachelor's income is derived from rents, he may claim exemptions for repairs, for water rent and even insurance.

In other words, the war revenue tax is levied on "net" incomes only and few "property" persons in the $20-a-week class will be required to contribute. It is only the property-less man with an unencumbered salary of $20 per week who must hand in his 20 cents over the counter.

Federation Defines Position on Peace

World Have Rights of Labor and of Smaller Peoples' Protected in Conference—Stand by Nation.

"FIGHT FOR PERMANENT PEACE," URGES A. F. OF L.

(International News Service)
"It is an imperative duty from which there is no escape that wage earners as well as other citizens of this republic support our government in its righteous effort to defend principles of humanity to establish democracy and international relations. Because we desire permanent peace, it is our duty to fight and sacrifice until these purposes can be achieved."
—Declaration of American Federation of Labor.

BUFFALO, Nov. 12.—Organized labor, as represented by the American Federation of Labor, whose annual convention began here today, has taken the lead in enunciating the workers' views of how the war should end. The Executive Council of the Federation, through President Samuel Compers, today presented to the convention as a whole a series of resolutions along which the convention is asked to promulgate officially, that would satisfy labor if incorporated, in any peace treaty to be negotiated. It was emphatically reiterated that these declarations will be adopted substantially as offered. The "Labor Peace Program" was as follows:
"The combination of the free peoples of the world in a common covenant for genuine and practical cooperation in securing justice, and therefore peace, in relations between nations."
"Governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed."
"No political or economic restrictions meant to benefit some nations and to cripple or embarrass others."
"No impositions or reprisals based upon vindictive purposes or deliberate desire to injure, but to right manifest wrongs."
"Recognition of the rights of small nations and of the principle 'No people must be forced under sovereignty under which it does not wish to live.'"
"No territorial changes or adjustment of power except in furtherance of the welfare of the peoples affected and in furtherance of world peace."
"No article or commodity shall be shipped or delivered in international commerce in the production of which children under the age of sixteen have been employed or permitted to work."
"It shall be declared that the basic workday in industry and commerce shall not exceed eight hours."
"Involuntary servitude shall not exist except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted."
"Establishment of trial by jury."
"The basis of reconstruction should be the trade union movement of the various countries," said President Compers, in reading the report. "We recommend that an international labor conference of representatives of the trade union movements of all countries be held at the same time and place as the world peace congress, that labor may be brought with plans under consideration and may have the benefit of information and counsel of those participating in the congress."
"Labor is not for a premature peace, however. Labor is for war until the purposes of permanent peace are achieved. The executive council's report says:
"It is an imperative duty from which there is no escape that wage earners as well as all other citizens of this republic support our government in its righteous effort to defend principles of humanity and to establish democracy in international relations. Because we desire permanent peace, it is our duty to fight and sacrifice until these purposes can be achieved."
"When nations can send representatives to negotiate peace terms in accord with this concept, it is our belief that the basic provisions of the peace treaty should be formulated with regard to the rights and welfare of the men, women and children constituting the nations rather than the governments of the nations. The government should be only an instrumental-ity of the people instead of dominating and outwitting their lives. This terrific war must wipe out all vestiges of the old concept that the nation belongs to the ruler or government. The future must be constructed upon broader lines than the past. We insist, therefore, that the government of the United States provide adequate and direct representatives of wage earners among the plenipotentiaries sent to the peace congress, and urge upon the labor movement of other countries to take like action."
"It is of paramount importance that labor shall be free and uncontrolled in helping to shape the principles and agencies for the future."
"A people unwilling to make the supreme sacrifice in number or of the government which undertakes to protect its people are undeserving to live and enjoy the privilege of free, democratic government."

"WHISKEY AND SODA" SAVED YANKEE FLYERS

By H. G. Wales, (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 15.—"Whiskey and Soda," the two tin cans which are mascots of the Lafayette Escadrille, probably saved the lives of some of the volunteer American aviators flying with the French army, for it was because "Whiskey and Soda" were fighting furiously in a wood near the aerodrome of the Lafayette Escadrille, on the Meuse, near Verdun, that all of the pilots, their mechanics and even their cook rushed from camp and so escaped the bombs and aerial torpedoes dropped a few seconds later by a squadron of German bombardment machines which flew overhead. Incidentally this marked also the first time that the United States flag has been directly under fire on the western front, as the Stars and Stripes were floating from the flagpole at the edge of the aviation field when the German raiders appeared. The flagpole was struck by a shell fragment, and, although it swayed and toppled furiously, it did not fall and "Old Glory" waved triumphantly throughout the bombardment. It was the presence of the American flag that denoted to the Germans that that particular aerodrome was the home of the Lafayette Escadrille.
More than a score of aeroplanes—S. P. A. D's—of the latest type—were destroyed by the great high explosive bombs which the German Gothas sprinkled round the camp. The commitments in which the pilots were involved were blown to pieces and the wreckage and mess tent were also hit. The American aviators were lodged with a French escadrille stationed nearby.
It was late in the evening, after dinner—when the aviators heard the whirring and roaring of the lions. The noise proceeded from a patch of wood close by the aviation field. The aviators ran to the scene immediately, fearing that their mascots were chewing up some dogs—mascots, perhaps, of other units.
Instead, the found "Whiskey" and "Soda" locked in their first real battle since they have been "attached" to the Lafayette Escadrille. Soon the whole escadrille was gathered round the two biting, unaring, spitting lion robes and their "thrust" was the sound of a splash and a boom, and the first German bomb exploded.
The pilots looked up and derided half a dozen great Gothas circling overhead at an altitude of nearly 20,000 feet. They were raining down bombs, and the huge projectiles were hitting the camp—The camp—The first bomb dropped struck a haystack and made much wood and scrap iron out of half a dozen of the fighting single-seat aeroplanes it housed. The next bomb struck the barrack where the aviators slept. The frail, temporary building collapsed like a house of cards. A splinter of wood hurled a splinter into the flagpole and set it swaying like a reed. Two more bombs then struck other han-

There was not a single casualty, however, owing to the fact that everybody had left the camp and had rushed to the wood to watch the lions fight. But nearly every aeroplane was a total wreck.

The next day, however, the escadrille shifted its position to another sector of the front, near Soissons. The unit was inactive for more than a week through lack of machines, however.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS IN "THE MAN FROM PAINTED POST"

LATEST ARTCRAFT PRODUCTION AT THE IDAHO THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

SEE "DOUG" DISGUISED AS A TENDERFOOT ROUND UP THE CATTLE RUSTLERS—THRILLS, DRAMATIC ACTION, TENSE MOMENTS AND UNSURPASSABLE ATHLETIC STUNTS.

THIS STORY of the Wyoming cattle rustling days presents the versatile Douglas in one thrilling situation after another, offering typical Fairbanks surprises. It's a real, old fashioned "mello" chuck full of "pep," with the sars on the arm, the old feud between the detective and the villain, the kidnapped heroine, the fight against odds in the cabin, and all the other trimmings that belong to that variety.

Right at the start we see our heroic "Doug" jump a fence and tackle the side of a barn, going up it with some speed and in a way that no ordinary human being would ever think of, landing on top in about three shakes and commencing some of his fancy shooting.

The plot concerns a detective who impersonates an immaculate tenderfoot in order to clean up a bunch of cattle thieves. Fairbanks leaps from crag to crag, firing six-shooters, foils the villain and rescues the girl—who is, of course, none other than his beautiful co-star, Percy Ellen.

THE SATURDAY CHILDREN'S MATINEE

The boys and girls are all going to want to see Douglas Fairbanks, and there is no better time to send them than Saturday afternoon, when the vaudeville is included in the matinee program. The Idaho is a safe place for them, and if you come yourself you will get added amusement from the laughter and delight of the children.

NO RAISE IN PRICES—LOOK OUT FOR THE CROWDS
Again a word of caution. Don't be deprived of seeing this picture because of Saturday's crowds. Come early.

With the Film Folk

Sessue Hayakawa, the well-known Japanese screen actor, recently spent several weeks in Chinatown, San Francisco, where they made the exterior scenes for his newest Paramount picture, "The Call of the East." Tsuru Aoki, Mr. Hayakawa's winsome little Japanese wife is one of the leading women in the production, while the other is Margaret Loomis, who made such a sensation as the Hawaiian girl in "The Bottle Imp."

"The Narrow Trail" has many points of interest. Its star is William S. Hart. It is the first photograph ever written by that star. It is produced by Thomas H. Ince, and is the first of Ince's productions for Paramount-Artcraft. It introduces Sylvia Bremer, the beautiful Australian actress, one of Ince's recent "finds."

Forty-five centimeter guns may sound like deadly weapons to anyone who has never been nearer the front than the trenches of Verdun. But to "Fatty" Arbuckle they appear to be comparatively harmless. This is due to the fact that for five days "Fatty" has been facing a steady cannonade of "hot dogs" and flying molasses tatty incident to his production of the Paramount-Arbuckle comedy, "Fatty in Cowboy Land." Edwin Surliga has a role representing "Treachery, or some such thing," in Pauline Frederick's forthcoming Paramount starring vehicle. He wanted to wear a Mopisto costume but someone told him that Treachery is only a servant of the devil and not the old gentleman himself. "You can't wear a uniform above your rank," said his advisor.

Frank Campano, who plays the part of "30-30" Madden, in "The Man From Painted Post," has been re-engaged by Douglas Fairbanks to appear in the next production under the direction of John Sars-
