THE TWIN FALLS WEEKLY WIN FALLS TIMES

VOL. XIII, NO. 28.

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1918.

BAKER EXPLAINS DEPARTMENT CONDITIONS

"NO ARMY OF SIMILAR SIZE EVER RAISED SO QUICKLY"

Some Mistakes Naturally Made

Army Supplied With Guns as Rapidly as They Could be Transported to France—Troops Well Equipped and Ready

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—This is the status of the American army as described by Secretary of War Baker testifying before the senate committee on military affairs today.

The training of the army is proceeding rapidly, and its spirit is high. The subsistence of the army has been above criticism, although supply, temporarily inadequate, is now substantially complete and reserves will rapidly accumulate.

No army of a similar size in the history of the world has ever been equipped or trained so quickly.

The war department came strongly to the defense of the general staff department and the general staff department and the general staff department both of which had been severely criticized in the committee hearings.

It was natural that some mistakes and delays should arise in carrying out the gigantic task set for this department, the secretary insisted.

E. P. Hinton Killed in Auto Accident

Prominent Farmer Dies Yesterday as Result of Injury—Lived Years at Hansen.

E. P. Hinton, a prominent farmer of Twin Falls county, died yesterday in Los Angeles as a result of an auto accident which occurred last Saturday when the automobile, in which he was seated, was struck by a truck.

Mr. Hinton was 67 years of age and was married to Mrs. Hinton. He lived on a farm half a mile north of Hansen, for eight years.

BULGARIAN PEACE WITH RUSSIA LATEST REPORT FROM GENEVA

Qualified Between Moderates and Militarists Still Hold in Germany—Germans Make Big Concessions to Hold Austria in Line—Peace Talks Between Central Powers and Bolsheviks Reported to be Again Arranged—President's Talk Makes Teuton Press Froth—Endorsement of Wilson by British Labor Sore Disappointment to Hungarians.

A report that Bulgaria has entered into a separate peace with Russia and that the pact has been signed attracted wide attention today. The report, which was entirely unofficial, originated in Berno, Switzerland, where it was printed in Der Bund. The dispute between the Swedes and Militarists still continues in Germany.

The status of the negotiations between the Bolshevik envoys and the delegates of the central powers was not disclosed today but added received in Petrograd indicated that the Germans had consented at least provisionally, to the removal of the parity to neutral soil.

The German frontiers bordering on Holland and Switzerland have been sealed for a month, indicating that the movement of German and perhaps Austro-Hungarian troops to the western front is again under way. It is reported that Germany has made big concessions to Austria to keep her in line.

A captured German army officer was quoted in an interview printed in L'Excelsior of Paris, today, as saying that Germany would launch her long heralded offensive on the western front as soon as possible. The officer added that Germany is staking her last hope for a general victorious peace "with annexations and indemnities" upon this offensive, which will be her greatest effort in the war.

Incliment weather with cold and snow is hindering operations in France and Italy, but cannonading was reported from both fronts.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 10.—The crisis in Germany is not yet past. Further evidence of the seething political turmoil and the interference of the military heads in the affairs of the political government is revealed by the Frankfurter Zeitung.

This paper has revived the wrath of the "Potdam clique" by delivering a bitter attack upon the Pan-German and Junker "situation" brought about by the military heads in the political government is described by the Frankfurter Zeitung as rotten.

It is pointed out that politics is not the business of the army leaders and has no part in their affairs. Under present conditions, it continues, about by Berlin according to the military heads, the entire and neutral will respect.

GENEVA, Jan. 10.—The disclosure of a "territorial agreement" between Germany and Austria, by which the latter country is to make large and "unofficial" concessions to the former in return for the peace situation today.

According to information from a Czech source, Austria supports Germany's claims for the retention of Trentino and Trieste.

In addition Austria is to annex Serbia, Montenegro and Albania, although these concessions are to preserve territorial autonomy.

Germany also consents to an Austrian solution of the Polish question.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 10.—The question of moving the Russo-German peace conference from Great Litovsk to neutral soil, a public that near the Baltic, terminated the negotiations altogether—has been solved, according to indications today.

A dispatch from Great Litovsk indicates that the delegates representing the central empires had agreed to transfer the parity to a neutral capital, but there is no official confirmation of this.

The Bolshevik and Ukrainian envoys at Great Litovsk have reached co-operation.

When the German envoys arrived at Great Litovsk last Friday for a resumption of the conference they found no Bolshevik delegates present, but only a messenger with a dispatch from Petrograd demanding the removal of the conference to Stockholm.

The Germans at first gave a negative answer, but the text of the note was not made public. Later the Bolshevik envoys, accompanied by the Foreign Minister Trotsky arrived from Petrograd and on Tuesday a preliminary session was held at Great Litovsk to be followed by a formal session yesterday.

While the Russians insisted upon a removal of the parity to neutral soil, the Germans reported that Copenhagen might be chosen instead.

ATTENTION WOMEN OF TWIN FALLS

More women are wanted to attend the morning and evening classes of the rural dwelling department. Twin Falls will be unable to fill her quota unless every woman in her home in this town. For information call Mrs. Bisset, Phone 792-J, or go directly to the classes being held on the basement of the night school building every afternoon and evening.

SUFFRAGE WINS IN THE LOWER HOUSE TODAY

PRESIDENT TAKES STAND FOR AMENDMENT AND DEMOCRATS JOIN IN

Planning of the Republican Partisan Upset

Hoped to Throw Democrats into Confusion and Real Political Benefit but Found the Tables Turned on Them.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Susan B. Anthony amendment was passed by the house this afternoon—forty years to day from the date of its first introduction.

To President Wilson's action in endorsing the amendment must go a large part of the credit for the suffrage victory. His statement to a group of southern Democrats, who went to him "sorely tried" on the eve of the vote, lined up all members of his party who were in doubt, solidly behind the amendment.

Six-sevenths of the Republican caucus in the house had given their pledge before the president's new position was known, to vote "aye" this afternoon. Thus they hoped to reap the benefit of the amendment without the women in states where they now vote, if the amendment was passed.

Immorality Charge Vigorously Refuted

Protestant and Catholic Chaplains Deny Reports of Loose Living by Troops.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Jan. 10.—Reports of immorality among the American soldiers in France, which have been circulated in the United States were flatly denied in reports by both Roman Catholic and Protestant chaplains, which were made public today.

The military authorities are vigorously removing temptation and the men are honestly trying to do the result that thus far we have a clean army. We are honestly trying to do the result that thus far we have a clean army.

Entente Nations Endorse Message

Much Speculation Over Russian Situation—The Entente Nations will Take Mile of Trench.

(U. N. S. Summary Jan. 9) The predominant feature in the peace situation today were these: 1. The cordial endorsement given by the entente countries to the epoch making war aims speech by President Wilson.

2. Speculation over the trend which the renewed Russo-German negotiations at Great Litovsk may take. Widespread mutiny is reported from the German army on the eastern front and the opinion was expressed in Copenhagen that it is in close touch with Russo-German affairs that this might lead to a modification of the German terms.

Japan had become so anxious over the possibility of a Russo-German peace that preparations have been made to the occupied district of Vladivostok. If this step is deemed necessary, the Japanese government fears that the eighty thousand German troops in the district might be employed for the invasion of Manchuria, and China.

As a result of the allied "peace note" it is believed that Germany will issue another note, setting forth her terms in greater detail than any time yet. Zurich, Switzerland, reports that Germany will propose the return of her colonies, restoration of Belgium on the basis of constitutional autonomy, self determination of the people in the occupied district of northern France to settle the question of restoration, guarantees for the political integrity of Turkey and disarmament.

The British front remains quiet. A lull of many months on the Woivre plain (the district between the Meuse river and the German border)—the French delivered a powerful assault Tuesday evening penetrating the German front over a width of four miles. The war office reported today in the fighting around Seichep, 11 miles east of the St. Mihiel salient, the French captured over 175 prisoners.

BRIAN, Jan. 9.—Admission that the war has been prolonged—the German lines at the front in the West were made by the war office today. The official report added, however, that the French were driven back to their own trenches by German counter attack.

The assault was launched late Tuesday night in the form of a surprise attack. The French advancing over a front of more than two miles.

Brotherhoods Ask Lane and Brandeis

Would Have Them on Board of Four to Pass on Hours of Work During the War.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Louis D. Brandeis of Boston, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, and Franklin D. Lane, secretary of the interior, have been summoned by representatives of the four big labor brotherhoods as members of the new labor wage board.

It was reported at the office of Michael General Maloney that the labor leaders regard these two men as especially fitted for posts on the board.

The board is to be a permanent body, which is to be the tribunal to pass upon wage questions arising during the government operation of the war.

INTERLOCUTORY WATER DECREE IS DISSOLVED

JUDGE DIETRICH REVOKES ORDER IN SALMON SETTLEMENT CASE

Was Based on Reversed Decision

Settlers May Appeal for Similar Remedy Under the Ruling of Circuit Court Or Ask for Protection.

Refusing to dismiss the case of A. E. Caldwell et al, against the Twin Falls Salmon River Land & Water Company on the motion of The Commonwealth Trust company of Pittsburg, Kansas, and A. Robinson, Judge Dietrich of the United States district court, has nevertheless dissolved the interlocutory decree issued by it which had enjoined the trust company from collecting or enforcing payment on water right contracts held by them on the condition that the defendant company did not ask that the decree be dissolved as to any contracts that it might hold.

The interlocutory decree was entered in connection with the decision by Judge Dietrich, November 29, 1916, which held that the contracts should be construed so as to entitle the settlers to two and three-quarter acre feet of water per acre. The circuit court rejected this interpretation but held that water construction should be adopted by Judge Dietrich but not adopted by him was correct to wit: that the settlers were entitled to 70 cubic feet of water per acre per second during the irrigation season, to be delivered in such quantities and at such times as weather and crop conditions might determine. A system was to be adopted for the delivery of water by rotation. As the interlocutory decree was based on a theory that the water was to be delivered in such quantities and at such times as weather and crop conditions might determine, a system was to be adopted for the delivery of water by rotation.

It is reported that a number of suits to enforce contracts for water were filed and the settlers will take the matter of their course of action up at their meeting January 12.

RED CROSS DEPARTMENT

The quarterly meeting of the Twin Falls chapter with the branches and auxiliaries met at the Commercial club rooms last Saturday. The meeting was well attended, nearly every branch being represented. The program was opened by Rev. O. T. Anderson, on the Red Cross and its mission. Mrs. McRoberts, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. E. J. Ostrander gave short talks on the progress and future activities of the chapter. Superintendent Blue gave an interesting talk on the Junior Red Cross. Dr. Wilson gave an outline of a new and efficient county organization. Reports from the various branches were given, followed by a general discussion.

rooms are open each day from one to five o'clock. Mrs. C. J. Schroeder has been appointed official buyer for the Twin Falls chapter. A call comes from the surgical dressing department for old shirts and cotton material to be left in their rooms in the basement of the high school. An outpouring of appreciation from the boys in camp who received the boxes sent them at Christmas time are coming in every day, repaying fully to those who worked so hard and gave so generously. This division gave more than sixty thousand Christmas boxes, sending to Camp Lewis alone, four car loads. Twin Falls was among the first, if not the first, to organize the Junior Red Cross and the Home Service department.

Among the people of France and Belgium who have been made destitute by the war are many babies in dire need of warm clothing and our government is hoping that the women of this country will take upon themselves to supply these babies with clothing who, without this help, will suffer from exposure and cold. Volunteers are wanted who will be responsible for the making of complete outfits, one or more, or to make the separate pieces as they see fit. Only white, blue and pink materials are to be used. Too much emphasis cannot be placed on using materials that are durable and warm since the garments are to receive hard usage. The patterns and materials may be found at the Refugee Headquarters, formerly the woman's rest room. All instructions necessary can be obtained from the committee in charge. The

This small Red Cross boxes which were placed in the stores have been republished to generosity. When opened last Saturday they were found to contain $12.55. Donations of the proceeds of the New Year's dancing party given at the Masonic temple amounted to $16.00. The St. Ignace club donated $10 and the Red Cross chapter wishes to extend to Mrs. Magnus Larsen and family of Hock Creek its sympathy in their sudden bereavement. A resolution was passed to this effect. Mrs. C. H. Robbins and Mrs. Ed. Larsen have been added to the board of directors. Miss Margaret Wilson is assisting the secretary at headquarters. Mrs. Muevater, secretary of the chapter, at headquarters every afternoon to welcome anyone who is interested in the Red Cross work. Commencing this week Mrs. E. J. Ostrander, first vice chairman, will be at headquarters Monday and Saturday afternoons and Mrs. Melchior at formerly the woman's rest room. All questions or to give information to be directed from the committee in charge. The work, especially to the members of the branches. There are few homes in Twin Falls who have the Red Cross as a sign in their windows as an indication of loyalty and patriotism within. Those who have not yet secured one of these flags may do so here at headquarters by taking out a dollar membership. Those having the small cake this belonging to the Red Cross will return same to headquarters as soon as possible.

Public Forum

AUSTRIA AND THE AUSTRIANS

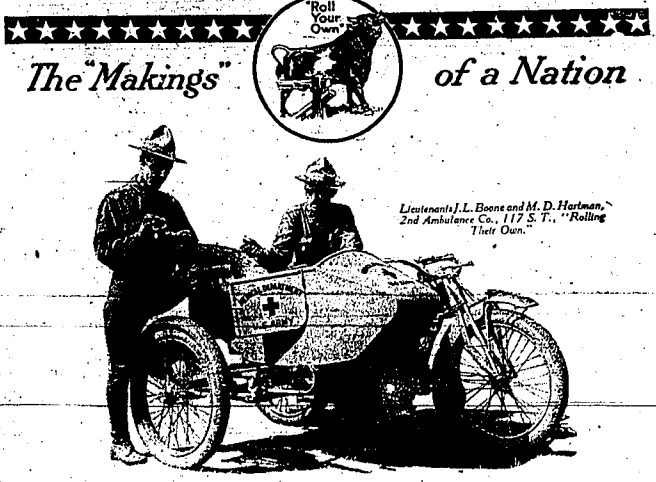

(Written for the Times)
 By an Austrian
 In these articles—the writer desires to convey to the average American a better understanding of the Austrian people which will help explain President Wilson's proclamation regarding Austrian aliens—E. When on March 4, 1848, Franz Joseph, the great Hungarian revolutionist, in a speech before the Diet, said: "From the Chancellery of the Vienna cabinet a penitential air breathes upon us, which dulls our nerves, paralyzes the flight of our spirit; he no doubt included the elements that dominated the Vienna cabinet at that time. The two apparently opposing elements but united for one common cause, as illustrated. In my last article on this subject. Many times high-minded men in Russia and the eastern provinces Austria have had these very sentiments in mind, only that the patience would now be traced Berlin, "the cleanest" city on as the last of the Hohenzollern loves to call it. Ofttimes the question has been asked: "What holds Austria together?" and "why do Hungarians in Bohemia fight?" To answer the first question would entangle the reader in a history that would be confusing but I shall endeavor to explain a few words.

The Austrian "system," that beautiful combination of a glorious house of regents, backed by a medieval church, has deeded the spirits of the "Czechs" in Bohemia, to any independent action, requiring courage, brains, and the wild desire for freedom of a "Washington," the fiery Hungarian has lost his impetus under that overpowering influence. Austria had a perfect horror of the Slavonic fight. The Slavonic population of Slavia, while he feared the Klute of the "little father," the Czars, he had a perfect horror of the Slavonic fight. The Slavonic population of Slavia, while he feared the Klute of the "little father," the Czars, he had a perfect horror of the Slavonic fight. The Slavonic population of Slavia, while he feared the Klute of the "little father," the Czars, he had a perfect horror of the Slavonic fight.

And so, the Slavonic smiled at his ignorant subjects who, like a dissected snake, still shows life, but not unified action. We all know the fate of Poland, the great history-making race, who, under the brilliant leadership of Sobieski, once saved the empire. But what was his reward? What has become of the nation that produced a Leszczynski, a Skloniewicki? Answer: it has faded—the cup held out by the Hohenzollerns, the cup of Kultur. It is an inevitable trend, it has its effect not only on the ignorant, but also on the educated. In short, Austria and her sponsors are fastening themselves on the fruits of their own defeat. Let a spark of democracy light in those nations, let one man awaken from this lethargy, and the flames of liberty will light a torch that leads to a greater and nobler existence. The second question answers itself from the foregoing: It is our duty to incite those people to war. Fighting is the second nature and especially the eastern races. Why should it be, life to them was a monotonous chain of twelve hour labor days. Soldier life to them was like a continuous holiday. They glory in it. No doubt they were better conditioned, furthermore, modern warfare is not a matter of individuals, but just so much physical man-power, and material. Let us hope then that the spirit of Independence will be able to overcome brute force and ignorance, and lead us to a stage of a clique of self centered, urgency.

Encore Cookies!

We agree with a friend of ours, "A part of every child's education should be cookies—crisp, wholesome cookies."

Of course, if you have been using butter for cookies you may think that cookies, are somewhat of a luxury now-a-days.

But you can now make deliciously crisp cookies by using economical Cottolene instead of using expensive butter. And notice this, too—one third less of wholesome Cottolene than you would use of butter.

Many careful housekeepers have found that Cottolene, because of its superior richness, goes much farther than other shortenings which they had been using.

Below is a recipe that shows how to make cookies that are even expensive butter might be proud of. Try it and see if your children aren't tickled with these delicious Cottolene cookies. See if you aren't delighted with the money-saving.

1/2 cup Cottolene
 2 cups sugar
 2 eggs
 1 level teaspoon soda
 1 cup butter-milk
 1 level teaspoon salt
 Flour
 1 1/2 tablespoons Caraway Seeds
 Raisins

Picture No. 1 shows how to start.

1. Cream Cottolene, add sugar gradually.
2. Beat eggs, will.
3. Add to first mixture eggs, soda dissolved in milk, salt, seeds and flour to make a soft dough.
4. Place dough in ice box to chill.
5. Shape cookies, place raisin in center of each and bake.
6. The result! Crisp, wholesome cookies made without a speck of butter.

Eden News

Mr. Finch from the J. J. Gray farm went to Jerome last Sunday and returned Thursday with his wife and daughter, who have been spending the holidays there with Mrs. Finch's daughter and with old friends. James Davis who has been in the northern part of the state and in Washington for some time, returned home last Tuesday. Floyd Brown and wife left Eden this week en route for Portland, and expect to make a trip through California during their six week's absence. The Avert family from Gooding motored to Eden last Sunday and visited their daughter, Mrs. Wm. Thompson, and returned to Gooding Monday. The Boise-Payette lumber company has changed managers and the new man is here. The former manager, Mr. Maloney, has built himself a shoe and harness shop and his many good friends will be glad to know that he is going to stay among us. Mr. Maloney is building a house for Clifton Merley. Mr. Swanson is building a fine new barn on his place one quarter mile east of Eden. His new house is about completed and he is leveling the yard and will have one of the finest residences in or around Eden when completed. Mr. Hildorbrandt is clearing the sage-brush from his land he recently purchased in Hazelton. Fred Barber is busy these days building the tank for the Eden water works and it will be erected soon. The city officials are having some trouble getting their pump. Earl Young made a business trip to Pocatello recently on business for the bank. There will be a literary at Ruesell Lane school house next Friday evening. There will be a patriotic program. All welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Herb Painter are the proud parents of a beautiful baby girl that arrived last Thursday. Mother and child are doing nicely. They are at a Twin Falls hospital. Mrs. O. P. Smith's mother, who has been visiting her here for several weeks left Eden last Sunday. She will go to the coast to spend the rest of the winter with another daughter. Early 25 will be the last day for the women in and around Eden. There will be a cooking contest conducted by the Eden Civic club, and Mr. Thompson of the Eden elevator will give the prizes. For the first prize, one hundred pounds of flour for the best loaf of bread; for the second prize fifty pounds of flour for the next best loaf of bread. There will be two like prizes for the best white cake, and two like prizes for the two best dark cakes. The Grango will be asked for each to furnish a judge and the domestic science teacher from Rupert will be asked to make a third. After the prizes are awarded the cakes and bread will be sold, the proceeds to go to the Red Cross. Come one and all and help make this success for the Red Cross needs your aid. Mr. Jensen and Cal Quick are having their new houses made up with a coat of paint. The Red Cross met, with Mrs. Scroggs last Wednesday. The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Scroggs last Thursday and officers were elected for the year. The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. James Davis, January 16.

PEACE DOVE FAR FROM A BATTLE SCARRED WORLD

GERMANY EXTENDS "BARRED ZONE" OF U-BOAT RUTHLESSNESS

Germans Unready to Concede Defeat

Even Pacifists in Empire Unwilling to Grant Demands of President, Wilson and Must be Whipped First.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 9.—That Germany does not expect an early peace is indicated by a dispatch from Berlin today stating that the submarine "barred zone" has been extended to include the Cape Verde islands and French Senegal in Africa. The decree goes into effect on Friday.

John Edwin Nevin, (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Wilson's refusal of war objectives and aims was intended for the consumption of an impending German military ultimatum. All official word reaching Washington today fully bears out the International News Service dispatches on the seriousness of the German internal political crisis. German militarists although it overreached itself in the Russian negotiations is still firmly fixed in the saddle. The chasm between the military party and the liberals hourly is increasing. The bitterness is growing to such an extent that already the latter has been asked to take a definite stand between the parties. That he will bow to the will of the Pan-Germans is as almost as has been in the past, is considered certain. This action must be followed by a supreme military dictatorship, officials here say, which will renew its efforts to force peace with the sword. Then will follow attempted severe suppressive measures against all liberals and especially against the Socialists. This will have the effect of dividing the German people and of nullifying the present reluctant consent. The inevitable result will be the overthrow of the militarists if they cannot make good on their promises and officials here say that they cannot and eventually the restoration of a liberal German government which will sincerely represent the German people. With such a government peace could and will easily be made. But it is coming will follow long continued and bloody fighting on all of the battle fronts.

The political struggle now in progress behind the heavy curtain of German censorship is the most bitter in the history of the nation.

It is not believed that there is any chance that amicable relations between the factions can be restored. The Socialists and the liberals who were responsible for the slogan of a "peace without annexations or indemnities" and who were praised by President Wilson in his address of yesterday now realize how cruelly they have been deceived by the German control. They are bitterly denouncing this action and expect to place their protest on record when the Reichstag meets. In doing so they will force the issue which all officials here believe will end in the establishment of a dictatorship.

There is no belief here, however, that even the Pacifist element in Germany would accept acceptance of President Wilson's terms at the present time. They in no way give with claims of German victory and even the German liberals believe not only that Germany cannot be defeated but she can successfully defend the conquered territory against any force that may try to retake. Because of this officials say that further fighting must follow before any real sentiment for peace is apparent in Germany.

So while awaiting word from Germany as to how President Wilson's peace terms are received war preparations continued actively today. There is to be no let up in getting the army fully prepared.

Meanwhile an offensive and defensive trade alliance after the war is believed by officials here to be forecast by President Wilson's statement that the "establishment of an equality of trade conditions among all the nations constituting the final treaty of peace and associating themselves for its maintenance" is the doctrine laid down by the president in his statement. This is interpreted here to mean that the American government is of the opinion that the allies must hand themselves together into a league to force Germany and her allies to keep the peace should it come before Tonic autocracy is entirely crushed.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Count von Hertling, the German chancellor, has announced the following German peace terms, according to a Zurich dispatch printed in the Matrix today, quoting the Berlin Zeitung as its authority.

- 1.—Establishment of an international tribunal for future arbitration between nations and to provide for disarmament.
- 2. Return of Germany's colonies.
- 3. The political integrity of Turkey to be respected.
- 4. Belgium to be restored on the basis of constitutional autonomy.
- 5. The occupied departments of northern France to be given the right of self determination on the question of restoration.

A New Year's Letter From Camp Merritt

Frank Youngs, Detached From "D" And SUI at Camp Merritt, Writes Of Christmas Doings.

Camp Merritt, N. J. New Year's Eve. Dear Folks: I got the night letter the day after Christmas. I had gotten three of your letters and so my anxiety had been eased.

I spent a very quiet Christmas day in Camp. Was "busted." We had a big turkey dinner with all the trimmings. I thought we were pretty lucky. The Red Cross gave each man a Christmas package. The bundle was tied up in a nice O. D. handkerchief and the contents consisted of a box of candy, writing paper and envelopes, and lots of tobacco, pipe, cigarette papers and deck of playing cards. Also there was a surprise, but the "smokes" were not much appreciated by me since I don't use 'em.

I am glad you are having such fine, warm weather. It is very wintry here. The thermometer registered about 56 degrees below zero yesterday morning and about 10 degrees below zero this morning. We aren't suffering any in our barracks buildings but we surely make the most of all our knitted stuff when we are outdoors.

You may want to know more about the little headquarters detachment, which took me away from the company. I thought I had told you something about it. Besides a number of officers there are just forty-nine enlisted men consisting of sergeants, corporals, orderlies, cooks, mechanics, horseboy, wagoner, telephone operator, signaller and scouts. Most of us are mounted. I am a telephone operator, and have charge of a combined field telephone and buzzer. The buzzer works much like the same as does the telegraph instrument. I have learned the theory of construction and operation of the instrument and the code for practicing sending and receiving now, but it will take some time to gain proficiency. Each man in the detachment is supposed to have enough training in map reading, signaling, dispatch bearing, scouting, and the figuring of fire data, so that he can fill any place that may be left vacant.

The regiment has been gone for over a week so I don't see Talbot and the other fellows any more.

We have a "pretty good bunch" of fellows in the detachment, but they were all strangers. I was the only Idaho man there with me. There is a bunch selected from all over the brigade, though more of them are from Portland, Oregon, than from any other place. I'm getting pretty well acquainted now.

Well I guess I've given you about all the possible information at hand. Bushels and bushels of love.

Twin Falls Wins First Basket Ball

Hard Contest Results In Clean Victory Over Excellent Shoshone Team Last Friday.

The first game of the Twin Falls basketball season was won by the quietest team on the Shoshone high school team on last Friday. The game was called at 8:30 in the afternoon, thereby making it possible for the northbound to make home after the game. The boys game was preceded by a fast and interesting game between two of the high school girls teams. Miss Johnson's team developed some very good material, and if they are given a chance to defend the best titles of the Twin Falls basketball team, a team will be sent out that will be a credit to the high school.

The Twin Falls boys came onto the floor for the first game of the season with much enthusiasm, and they were greeted with continuous cheers from the student body. The game opened with very loose playing and continuous fouling by both sides. The first scores were made on free throws by Newman. After a short time the Twin Falls boys found their rhythm and began to show excellent team work and during the remainder of the first half the ball was kept mostly near the basket.

The Twin Falls girls team in the lead by a score of 19 to 5, Shoshone having made one basket and three free throws.

Shoshone came back strong in the second half and made an attempt to hold the Twin Falls boys, but it was of no use. Twin goal continued to score and when the final whistle blew they had succeeded in running the score to 41 against Shoshone's 16.

Coach McFarlane kept his team throughout the season at the pace they have started. Twin Falls may be able to boast of a championship basketball team, the first in the first game of the season, while the Shoshone boys had played five games with other schools before meeting the Twin Falls boys.

The following is the lineup of the two teams:

Twin Falls	Forwards	Shoshone
O. Newman		Newman
M. Strong	Guards	Christman
C. Lavender		Helm
D. Strong	Center	Chapman
R. Glasgow	Substitutes	Varnadore

A "HOSS" ON ARKANSAS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 7.—A large smiling negro shuffled into the headquarters of the local draft board here. He wished to claim exemption, he said. "Upon what grounds do you base your claim for exemption?" he was asked. The negro rolled his eyes and after ponderously weighing the question, answered: "I ain't no citizen." "Not a citizen where were you born?" "I was born in Arkansas."

Red Crosses Grow In Patriotic 'Old Kaintuck!'

KENTUCKY "RED CROSS" CORN

The ear of corn faithfully and exactly shown in the above cut, was husked from an ordinary field of "Dent" near Somerset in Pulaski county, Kentucky, just a week before the beginning of the last great national Red Cross drive, and is now on exhibition in the office of the "News" in the city named. It is possible that it might have passed unnoticed in ordinary times; but under the circumstances it at once attracted interest and attention. The "News" had a photograph thereof being sent to President Wilson and eliciting a prompt and cordial letter of acknowledgment.

Somerset, Kentucky, is the starting post for Mr. S. M. Boone, of the TIMES—indeed there have been Boone's three times rather than once since the original "Daniel broke into the region so long made a "dark and bloody ground" by the effort to turn it from an Indian occupancy to one so known as the "center of the earth" having been thus christened during the civil war—by our Mr. Boone's father, then a member of the nation's army. So it was that Mr. S. M. Boone went back there this fall after nine years absence with mingled pleasure, pride and satisfaction. He however surprised any one else may have been to see the soil put forth patriotic emblems, we think "Sam" and "Dent" and which the TIMES is glad to reproduce herewith.

Farm Prospects For Idaho Good

Wheat Outlook as a Whole Fine—Says If Labor Draft Is Resorted To Idle Rich Must Help Work.

The farmers of Idaho as a whole face a satisfactory condition next year in the opinion of Harvey Alfred, head of the state farm bureau, who went through the city yesterday on his way to the Salmon tract where he is holding a wheat institute. In many places the wheat prospects are better than ever before, though some of the farmers are prevented from plowing in the dry farming districts, by reason of lack of enough rain.

Mr. Alfred strongly favors the imposition of a cereal labor law, he says that a great labor shortage is threatened. He says that he is pretty much alone in this respect, in his opinion the nation would be much improved if all idle men could be drafted. He provided that they could be made to do sufficient work in the right way, he doubts. This, however, he questions. He emphatically declares that he believes that all idlers should be compelled to produce something, if such system would operate, and that this applies no less to the idle millionaire than to the wandering tramp. The problem of food need is one which will require careful study, in the opinion of the market bureau head, and the securing of first class quality is greatly to be desired.

Raise Hogs—Salt Lake Expert

Lures Farmers To Enter Swine Business—Prices Bound To Be High—Quotes The Food Administrator.

The desirability of raising more hogs, often emphasized in the TIMES and strongly urged through its columns on several occasions, by Dr. W. A. Sullivan, of the United States bureau of animal industry, is a point brought home with great directness and force by C. E. Graville, special representative of the Salt Lake union stock yards, who was in this city yesterday and who gave advice to get the farmers interested in this subject.

Last October Herbert C. Hoover, federal food administrator, appointed Joseph P. Cotton as chief of the new division of the United States food administration, with headquarters at Chicago. His confidence in the situation from all angles, Mr. Cotton issued a statement, the following of which is pointed to as being of special interest and importance to hog raisers.

"We have had, and shall have, the advice of a board composed of practical hog-growers and experts. That board advises that the best practice to measure the cost of production of the hog in the count of corn. That board further advises that the ratio of corn price to hog price, on the average over a series of years, has been about twelve to one (the little lean). In the past, when the ratio has gone lower than twelve to one, the stock of hogs in the country has decreased. When it was higher than twelve, the stock of hogs has increased. That board has given its judgment that, to bring the stock of hogs back to normal, under present conditions, the ratio should be about thirteen. Therefore, as to the hogs farrowed next spring, we will try to stabilize the price, so that the farmer get the count on getting for each 100 pounds of hog ready for market thirteen times the average cost per hundred of the corn fed into the hogs. Let there be no misunderstanding of this statement. It is not a guarantee backed by money. It is not a promise by the pickers. It is a statement of the intent and policy of the Food Administration, which means to do justice to the farmer."

Mr. Graville points out that unfortunately many people have sold breeding stock and that this practice should stop and as many as possible should enter the business of raising pork, so as to secure to the feeding of the nation and so vital to the increased prosperity of the people of the country, of Idaho and of the Twin Falls tract.

Income Tax Man Now in County

Went To Rogerson Yesterday and Comes Here January 21—It Is Up To You To See Him.

"The income tax man 'll git ye," so you better watch out and see him. If you have a net income of more than $200 you must see him. W. C. Whaley, the collector, arrived yesterday and went to Rogerson where he will remain the rest of the week, going thence to Plover and being here on January 24. The following is his own story of what he wants and when he wants it:

"The new war revenue act extends the income tax to include all married persons having a net income of $200 or more and all unmarried persons having a net income of $1000 or more for the year 1917.

"They are required to report their income on a form prescribed for that purpose, to me, or one of my officers, on or before March 1, 1918. 'Not' income is the amount left after subtracting expenses (but not family expenses) money used to pay off the principal of a mortgage, new machinery, buildings or improvements from the gross income. The remainder is $2000 or $1000 then the person has to make return of income and pay tax. If he doesn't report he becomes liable or goes to jail from $20 to $1000 fine or imprisonment. "It is the taxpayer's business to go to him. He is supposed to report his income on a form prescribed for that purpose. To make it easier for taxpayers to report their incomes and to assist them in making out their reports, the government will send a man into Twin Falls county. He will be at Twin Falls continually from January 24 to February 17, 1918; both dates inclusive. Rogerson from January 7 to 12. Plover from January 14 to 23. He will have his office at the courthouse while at Twin Falls and may be found there every day. He will have an ample supply of income tax forms, thus making it unnecessary for

WHY WE SHOULD SAVE MEAT

Our armies and our allies must have thousands of tons of meat. We could live on this piece of meat as a protein food and save money. Peanut butter is rich in protein and that wheat bread dried white bean, dried lima beans and dried peas are not perfect substitutes for meat. These should be used with milk, cheese, eggs or plenty of green-vegetables and leaves. If each of us will eat one ounce less of meat in a year we will save 4,400,000 meat animals.

Have You Recipes That Are "Tried and True"

During these times of Hooverizing every housewife who is seeking to meet the demands of the administration in the matter of conservation of the nation's food is constantly on the lookout for economical and saving recipes which aid in muzzling the H. C. L. bugaboo. If in your search for wholesome and economical dishes you have made up a recipe which would prove a benefit to your friends and neighbors do not hesitate to send it to the Pure Food Department of the TIMES in order that it may be printed.

MRS. G. J. CAILLIER HOOVERIZES
Writes Mrs. Caillier: These are some of my own recipes, and they are tried and true:

Oatmeal Bread
Sponge: 1 quart potato water, 1/2 cake yeast, 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Let rise over night. In the morning take 2 cups rolled oats and pour 3 cups boiling water on the oats, stir well and set back to cool. When cool add 1/2 cup molasses, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar. Now add sponge, mix all stiff with whole flour and let rise twice and bake same as white bread. Good for the kiddies' lunch pails.

Bran Gems
1 cup bran, 1 cup white flour, 1 teaspoonful salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon soda, dissolve in a little warm water, 1 teaspoon baking powder, enough buttermilk to make thick batter. Bake in gem pans. You can put in a couple of eggs and not so much buttermilk if you prefer.

Hash-Bread
1 pint water, 1 pint sweet milk, 2 ounces sugar, 1 ounce salt, 2-ounce lard, 1/2 ounce compressed yeast, 3 pounds seeded raisins, and 4 pounds whole wheat flour. Have milk and water warm, dissolve yeast in water. Mix dough thoroughly, let dough raise well, then punch down, let raise again. Mould in loaves, and when light, bake. When potato yeast is used use one pint good sponge and 1-pint of milk or water.

WHEAT FLOUR SUBSTITUTES

Experts from the Bureau of Chemistry have baked no less than forty different kinds of bread, using many substitutes for wheat flour, and these breads are nourishing and palatable, and some have been pronounced superior to white-bread. The wheat substitutes include corn meal, wheat, oat, rye, banana flour, rice, kafir corn, cotton seed meal, peanuts and chestnuts. The annual corn crop in the United States averages three times as many bushels as the wheat crop. A bumper crop is forecasted by the United States Department of Agriculture this year. Corn may eventually be exported in large amounts for the sustenance of our allies, but in the meantime we can set a good example for Europeans to follow and render a service to our country by demonstrating in our own homes the virtue of corn when properly prepared.

The bread situation is necessarily one of the most important of the nation's food problems, since bread is an article of food that is consumed at all three meals the year-round in the average American household. Then, too, the bread situation is the one of most concern in feeding our allies. It is the one over which the housewife has direct control, as the more families that cut down on the consumption of wheat bread, supplying in its place any of the substitutes that are fully nourishing, the better will this country be able to fulfill its obligation of exporting the maximum amount of wheat.

In the face of an insufficient wheat crop this year to meet all domestic and export demands, the need for substitution is all the more urgent. Our consumption of wheat flour has been estimated at a little over a barrel a year for each person. A substitute for wheat flour, used in the proportion of one to three-parts in the baking of bread, if generally practiced, would increase the available wheat supply 125,000,000 bushels.

Write to Washington today for information on how to use white flour substitutes.

To Thicken Milk for Custard
Custards need not always be made of eggs, as there are other ways of thickening them. To thicken a quart of milk for custard use either one junket tablet, one teaspoonful of rennet, six tablespoons of cornstarch or four eggs. Add the required amount of any of these to one quart of warm milk and sweeten it with one quarter of a cupful to one cupful of sugar.

For the junket custard, first brown the sugar in a few minutes, then add to caramel taste and color. When cornstarch is used stir tea-spoonfuls of cocoa or one square of melted chocolate will make a more colorful or pudding. Substituting half a cupful of any fruit juice for the same amount of milk, or adding fresh fruit when it is in season makes another pleasing variation.

ECONOMY BRINGS REVIVAL OF ANCIENT LACE
Hoyt Bendel, the Fifth Avenue couturier, writing in the December issue of Harper's Bazaar, makes the following forecast:

"This is a season when the mode acknowledges the supremacy of old lace. Of course, real lace is always more or less 'fashionable,' though for the last few years it has not been used so extensively. But now as a war time economy women have gone to their treasure chests and brought out their old laces from their wrappings of blue tissue paper. In fact, these exquisite laces are being used so recklessly that by the time Palm Beach days are here, we will find wide frocks made of real lace. And such a frock will be absolutely priceless—for it is doubtful if those wonderful pieces of the past can ever be reproduced again, as the devastation of Belgium has all but destroyed the art."

Japan Ready to Protect Allies

Will Prevent Germany From Injuring Interests of Allied Nations at Vladivostok.

Frank B. King
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
TOKIO, Jan. 7.—In view of the growing danger at Vladivostok, Russia, Japan is now prepared for appropriate measures to meet any emergency. It was stated semi-officially today.

At the same time assurances were given that the Japanese army will not be mobilized "rashly" however. Japan is ready to give full protection to allied subjects at Vladivostok and to escort them from Russia, if necessary. Japan could thus fulfill her obligations to the allies without making any hostile move toward Russia, it was pointed out.

Ever since the German allies entered into negotiations with Russia for a separate peace there has been an undercurrent of anxiety at Tokio over the possibility of Germany securing a foothold at Vladivostok where she could menace Japan.

NO PEACE YET: MEANING OF FLUSTRY IN GERMAN EMPIRE

While it is true that the situation developing in Germany, indicating that a powerful element in that country is swinging toward the modified position regarding peace already occupied by Austria, Turkey and to some degree by Bulgaria, it is evident from study of the letter of J. E. Nevin, the International News Staff correspondent at Washington, that even the German peace party is still far from prepared to meet the demands of President Wilson. With three of these demands, indeed the central powers are in accord in theory. They have recently adopted the demands for disarmament and have announced their conversion to the principle of compulsory arbitration, the universal adoption of which was defeated at The Hague conference by German representatives a few years ago. Germany has always insistently pretended to demand the freedom of the seas and bases her ruthless and inhuman submarine warfare on the theory that it is a necessary reprisal for the extension of the rights of search by her enemies. The claim is not well founded, for nothing could be more exact than the inhuman, indiscriminate murder of merchant children on peaceful neutral vessels without an opportunity being afforded them to save their lives. But the fallacious claim is mentioned in order to show how far the presidential statement accords with the theoretical German position.

The term "freedom-of-the-seas" is not always clear. At present any neutral vessel is liable to seizure and search on the high seas, with a "war" remedy. It is supposed that a "war" ship of either faction carrying contraband or contemplating running a blockade and should the captor decide, may be held for a prize court. It may be said that the term "freedom of the seas" would imply denial of the right-of-search-and-seizure outside the waters of the belligerents, regardless of the destination or cargo of the vessel.

"The high seas are not free in practice because of the right of search, which is at present recognized as belonging to nations at war," says Brewer in his work "Rights and Duties of Neutrals," and the application of the principle would undoubtedly make them free in practice so long as the vessels kept outside the three mile limits of the coasts of both belligerents. Brewer doubts whether all desired can be attained at once but suggests that "a concert of great powers" decide to limit the rights of sovereignty to the spheres in which the actions of peace or war measure, to maintain consistent and constant dominion."

Far more extensive was the idea as defined in the first treaty signed in 1786 between the United States and Prussia, which provided:

"If one of the contracting parties should be engaged in war with any other power, the intercourse and commerce of the subjects and citizens of the party remaining neutral with the belligerent powers shall not be interrupted. On the contrary, in that case, as in full peace, the vessels of the neutral party may navigate freely to all ports, and may trade on the coasts of the belligerent nations. FREE VESSELS MAKING FREE GOODS, inasmuch that all things that are attached to the vessel, and on board any vessel belonging to a neutral party, ALTHOUGH SUCH THINGS BELONG TO THE ENEMY OF THE OTHER."

retreating party and the military party in Germany today is in regard to annexation and indemnities. The so-called peace party would restore the status quo ante, evacuating all territory invaded, but paying no indemnities to any nation however great the injury done to it. The military party, like the carpet bagger of country, "grabs all it kin; keeps all it gets." It is not about clothing and food demands indemnities of its foes and would fight to the last man before yielding a single one of its demands. The middle party, (which includes a great part of the Center party) would grant qualified independence to Belgium and restore a measure of independence to lands now overrun. None would pay indemnities, none would restore Alsace Lorraine, none would grant the ambitions of Italy, none would grant freedom of the seas to the world. Austria stands with the moderate party, Turkey might be willing to grant all that President Wilson demands, Bulgaria would be willing to grant all demanded, the others—provided she could keep the territory she has captured here. Now, the people of Germany do not want to go further than the so-called peace party and will not until the German army is decisively defeated. The reason for this is plain. They will say, "We are victorious. It is not enough that we evacuate conquered territory? Why should we pay indemnities and release Alsace Lorraine when we have won the war?" Until the armies are defeated this idea will continue to prevail.

Nevertheless, the situation in Germany marks the beginning of the end. As soon as the German armies are beaten, as they will be this year, the moderate party will go much further than at present. It will eventually not only realize that Germany has, not won, but will join in "making the world safe for democracy." But first of all, we must defeat the armies of the Central Powers decisively.

BOUQUET FOR PRESS

The press accords to all the departments of the government engaged in the fighting of the war, the most public and editorial support.

Next to giving space to all the publicity the government needs to carry on the war, the press gives space to the home industries. The press realizes that preparation for home-maintaining the payroll for the workers and producers, is most important. The farmers and labor organizations have made suggestions looking to exempting the military duty but publishers ask no favors. They help out over the draft machinery, to secure volunteers for the army and navy, to secure the military loan and red cross funds.

This is all done without money and without price and no other line of business gives its help so completely, without hope of reward.

The press is loyally promoting the cause for food conservation, for shipbuilding, sugar production, oil and power development. The great industries that are back of the military effort and the multitude of little local industries are given support. The press realizes that the people must have money to support families and that the rolls are the basis of prosperity. The Pacific Coast Manufacturer, in recognizing the efforts on the part of some of the trade journals of newspaperdom to make it appear that the papers were not getting a square deal, and to create dissatisfaction, the press of the country, with practical unanimity has stood by and have merited the praises bestowed upon them by the manufacturer's magazine quote: "Every line of business should do its bit. The press has given publicity to every good move, but has been modest in advertising its own patriotic efforts, and accomplishments, hence a bouquet like that passed out by the Manufacturer, is appreciated."

ALL ATTEND WATER MEET

There should not even be standing room to spare at the Lavering theatre Monday night when the engineers are here to explain to the people the plan for a new waterworks system to be voted on Wednesday, January 30. This is something that the voters should all understand. It is something that the mayor and council want them to understand. Slides will be used, explanations will be made, questions will be answered. Come one if you have any question, vote against the system after hearing it explained. Do not stay away from the meeting and then say "Well, I guess I'll vote against the bonds, as I do not want to vote money without knowing what it will be used for." Its your meeting, you are invited. Come out and find out what the money will be used for.

THE LOAN SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The loan scholarship fund as forcefully described by Mrs. Alice Jean Sweeley, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs in this issue of the TIMES, is one which deserves the support of all organizations and individuals with means available to devote to the purpose. The far-reaching effect of this movement cannot now be determined, but wherever it extends and as far as it can possibly go, it will be entirely for good. The distance that it will go, will depend on the support received, and that its turn will depend on the interest taken by the people in ascertaining its purposes.

Fleet Was Busy for Many Months
Ed. S. Cole Writes Interesting Story Regarding Dinger on Board Uncle Sam's Cruisers.

In a letter received by Mrs. M. Gault from her nephew, Edward S. Cole, a graduate of the Twin Falls school, some of the doings of part of the fleet were told. Mr. and Mrs. Gault recently returned from southern California, none the worse for the imaginary accident which was alleged to have killed both.

U. S. S. Frolic. Somewhere. Well at last the board of censorship has consented to let us tell about our wanderings up until October 14, 1917. But before I tell you that, I wish to thank you for the cigarettes I received, a few days since, also the Christmas box which I received two days ago. Of course I could not wait till Christmas to open it.

I received your letter saying you had sent me some magazines yesterday, but said magazines have not arrived yet. Reading matter and smoking tobacco are rather scarce. Of course at times we get into a port where they can be had but as a rule they are mostly in some tongue I can not understand. You have started the good work, please keep up a good work. You said if there was anything I wanted to say so. Well there is one thing I want alright, some good working clothes. Please send me a couple suits of coveralls, three one piece overalls, and a couple pair of working gloves. Get them about a size 34. Pay for them out of the allotment money. I also want you to buy Christmas presents for the family as I cannot get anything here. Well now for the story. The Pacific fleet left San Diego the evening of May 7. Where we were going we did not know. We headed south and all hands just about gave up the ghost for we were going toward Manila, that nice little island on the map where we roosted during the summer of 1916. Those who had been there certainly had no desire to go again; however, luck was with us and we sailed right on by. Or about the thirtieth we anchored off San Jose, Guatemala, where we staid a few days and then went on to Balboa, Panama, where we remained from the twentieth to the twenty-eighth. We passed through the canal and after coaling at Colon passed on through the Caribbean sea and following the coast line of South America, passed through the Guadalupe Islands and headed south for Brazil. Crossing the Equator June 10th all hands were inflated into the Domain of Neptune, Rex, ruler of the Bagging Main. We arrived in Bahia, Brazil the fourteenth staying overnight at Bahia we steamed on the following day for Rio De Janeiro where we arrived the eighteenth. We remained in Rio until July sixth taking part in a great Fourth of July celebration in honor of the United States. Leaving Rio the sixth we arrived at Montevideo, Uruguay, the tenth. We lay in the harbor at Montevideo about fifteen days, when we again got underway.

The evening of the twenty-fourth saw us entering the harbor of Buenos Aires, Argentina. Six days were spent in B. A., and then we started north again. So far we had only been visiting but now we came in for the work. Leaving Rio the sixth we arrived at Montevideo, Uruguay, the tenth. We lay in the harbor at Montevideo about fifteen days, when we again got underway.

Where we have been since I can't say. Leaving Rio the sixth we arrived at Montevideo, Uruguay, the tenth. We lay in the harbor at Montevideo about fifteen days, when we again got underway. The evening of the twenty-fourth saw us entering the harbor of Buenos Aires, Argentina. Six days were spent in B. A., and then we started north again. So far we had only been visiting but now we came in for the work. Leaving Rio the sixth we arrived at Montevideo, Uruguay, the tenth. We lay in the harbor at Montevideo about fifteen days, when we again got underway.

certainly appreciate the interest the newspaper men in the state are taking in all branches of their work and are very grateful for the extreme courtesy extended to us. The TIMES has always been among the first to make inquiry and to extend to us the use of its columns, and this paper has our thanks for asking us to say a word about our coming drive for the boys and girls of Idaho. Our plans are yet in the rough, as to the nature of making this drive. We will be able to give committees, etc., next week. This fund now owned and used by the Idaho State Federation of Women's clubs for this most worthy work has by persistent effort—extending over 12 years—reached the sum of $2500. During the past four years calls for this fund have been far beyond our ability to fill, and now the war makes the increasing of this sum imperative.

We know of the very many calls the war has brought—will bring—but the raising of this fund is also a war measure—and that in spite of all; will receive hearty and loving response from Idaho citizens, goes without saying. Already we are asked to assist them who are meeting with deepest interest for us. That they will not ask in vain is a foregone conclusion. We have only begun our work yet everywhere we become acquainted with our work and many inquiries. At no time during the past 5 years have we been able to loan to lower classes, but only to juniors and seniors, even then it takes four or five years for the amount loaned each individual to return to the treasury, and become again available. We loan $100 a year, have never had money enough to increase this amount no matter how great the need. The student pays no interest until out of college, and is given one year to get on his feet, during this year and until summer returned he pays 6 per cent. The amount of second year's from college by 1/2 is expected to return five or ten dollars per month according to amount earned, until all is returned. So you can see how much money is needed, if students are to be helped in all stages of college course as the government is urging us to do, and as we should do. We cannot supply all upper classmen now to say nothing of freshmen and sophomores. Even though the Federal and Women have raised and used this fund for the benefit of Idaho boys and girls—and we are the only federation in the union—except one, who loans to the lady, as well as to the lassies. We are seldom asked to help those connected in any way with the federation, I believe only two cases are on record where relatives of the woman working for this fund have asked for help for their own. In order to carry out the plans of our government for our actual needs. This sum should be $25,000 instead of $2500. May every man and woman help raise this. Will give further information next week. Very truly, ALICE JEAN SWELEY, President I. F. W. C.

Jerome Man Went to Bed in Alley

Disrobed and Retired But Found It Uncomfortable—Finally Got Eyes Duds Found Next Day. Drowned in a union suit and covered by his maternal modesty, a man, using his name as J. L. Showers of Jerome retired in the rear of the Hotel Purdie Monday night to enjoy "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley" in dreamland, after returning from Twin Springs. He undressed in the alley before retiring. Later the location of a cold room, where a "hands of time" seemed unaccountably when a cold misty rain began falling so he tried to get into the hotel, finally landing in the sample room, at least so the thing was Sherlock Holmesed, for nobody saw or heard him in the sample room, but foot prints on the sample table (they being no "hands of time" convenient) indicated that somebody was perambulating aimlessly in deep. If not puzzled immediately, evidently under the delusion that he was "colimating up the Golden State." Later, a chilled individual, largely undressed and quite sober, appeared at a local rooming house and obtained quarters for the night. Although the man had no idea of what had become of his raiment, it was finally located next day by the police in the alley mentioned above, and $2.00 in change in one of the pockets was unaccountably found and returned, and as nobody had seen him intoxicated, however strongly circumstances might have tended to raise such presumption in the mind of the suspicious, he was not arrested and took his clothes and departed. LOCAL BREVITIES

Last Questionnaire Sent—The last of the questionnaires have been sent out, 125, the final batch being dispatched yesterday morning.

Goat Springs Entertainment—A Christmas entertainment at Goat Springs is reported to have been very enjoyable affair. There was a Christmas tree and an excellent program.

Taylor With Assessor—S. Claude Taylor, who retired a year ago from the position of deputy county assessor under George W. Wilcox, is again on the job. He has retired from the Fidelity Abstract company with which he has been connected during the intervening time.

Another Try At Bridge—A representative of the Midland Bridge company appeared before the commissioners Tuesday afternoon and declared that conditions in the steel market had been adjusted so that it would again be possible to figure on plans for the Hansen bridge, which he will proceed to do. The bridge was advertised some time ago, but while representatives of several companies appeared, none of them would offer a bid, owing to uncertainty of conditions.

Porterfield On Salmon—Engineer J. C. Porterfield has been retained by the Salmon Canal company as superintendent and engineer, taking the place formerly occupied by E. B. Darlington, who last September accepted the position of engineer for the North Side Land & Water company, which still has much construction work to do. Manager G. M. Hall of the Salmon project said yesterday that unless considerable snow had fallen within the previous forty-eight hours, there was much less in the Shoshone Basin than formerly. Some snow fell in Rollister. Water in the Salmon dam is gradually rising.

Married—At the court house, Monday, January 7, Clinton Fair, of Buhl a farmer, and Miss Doris Davis, of Castleton, Walter E. Harman, officiating minister.

Attending Auto School—E. D. Hunt is in Kansas City taking a course in the Raho Auto and Tractor school, and expects to return to Buhl to enter business on its completion.

From Frozen Land—Miss Beryl Silver, a nurse from Reno, who spent the holidays with her parents. She says "Never Again" as far as the winter visits are concerned. Thirty degrees below in a bilizard is too chilly for comfort.

Letter From Relatives—A Gilbert is in receipt of a card from a relative whom he has never seen, Lieutenant Robert Guilbert of the French army who is now at Camp Lewis, helping train American soldiers. The name is French, but relatively rare in France so that it is comparatively easy to trace relationship.

Still Has Hopes—The sample of weather on tap so far this winter has been more like the California type than you never can tell. At least the Diamond Hardware company has hopes of some mild winter. In their show window filled with ice they quickly and easily removed is seen a sign: "Snow is predicted, January 18.—Be Prepared!"

Civil Service Exams—The United States civil service commission announces that a first grade clerical examination will be held in this city on February 2, for the purpose of establishing a register from which selections may be made to fill vacancies as they may occur in the customs, internal revenue, and other branches of the government service. Entrance salary $1200 to $1200 per annum. Age limits 18 years or over. Both men and women will be admitted to this examination. Applicants can apply at once to the local secretary at the postoffice.

The Council of Defense held a special meeting last night. Its next regular meeting will take place Tuesday evening, Jan. 15.

Governor Hawley, of Boise, will speak at the court house this evening especially to the sale of Thrift stamps and certificates.

Dedication of the new Proprietary church will take place on Sunday, January 27, having been postponed a week on account of the snow required for the completion of the new organ.

Have You This Home?—Officers have been warned that fifty-two cases of Horthage, Old Crow and Yellowstone whiskey have been stolen from the depot at Winnemucca and that it probably headed for dry territory.

John Delco Light—William G. Phillips, local representative of the International Correspondence Association resigned his position with the school and joined the sales force of D. C. Watson Company, district distributors of Delco Light.

Much War Excitement—County Attorney Frank L. Stephens is back from Anderson, Ind., where he was called by the death of his father. He says that there is much war excitement there and that bodies of soldiers are moving in all directions.

Check on Forger—Roy McIntyre, who forged a check on the Idaho Department store, January 2, was brought back this week from Idaho Falls by Deputy Sheriff G. F. Huffman. He entered a plea of guilty and was bound over under $1000 bonds by Probate Judge C. P. Duval.

Secretary's Father Dead—Word was received from W. P. Edwards at Seattle that his father had died. Mr. Edwards, who is secretary of the commercial committee of the farm bureau, was called there some time ago when his father became dangerously ill. He will be home in a day or two.

Missionary Meeting—The Anna Halo Evans missionary society of the First Christian church, will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. T. V. Smith, 456 Fourth avenue, on Monday afternoon at 8:30.—Mrs. D. Doulah Sawyer will have charge of the program. Visiting members welcome.

Wants Special Session—Senator S. A. Atterton, who returned this week from a visit to relatives and friends in northern Idaho, is more than ever anxious to have the legislature convene at an early date. He thinks that an appropriation should be made for the rebuilding of the state building destroyed by fire at Lewiston and the soldier's home at Dolan. He would also ratify prohibition and provide that the troops at the front have a choice to vote.

ELSIE FERGUSON IN "THE RISE OF JENNIE GUSHING"

BEAUTIFUL AND TALENTED STAGE STAR—NEW SCREEN FIND—AT THE IDAHO IN HER SECOND PRODUCTION.

"THE RISE OF JENNIE GUSHING," the Artcraft production starring Elsie Ferguson, and now being shown at the Idaho theater, is adapted from the book by Mary S. Watts, and is a big, gripping story, modern in its theme and fearfully its treatment, significantly commenting on the tendencies of society today.

LAUGHTER AND TEARS

Those who have read the book and have laughed and cried over the trials of Jennie will weep copiously and shriek with laughter at the touching scenes and the flashes of comedy in this photoplay, which marks the second appearance of the noted star in the films.

BEAUTIFUL AND TALENTED STAR

Notwithstanding the high position in stardom attained by Miss Ferguson, she is still young in years, and her beauty is famous on two continents. She makes an ideal picture subject, her youth and splendid natural acting making one forget it is a play, and rather forcibly impressing the audience with the idea that it is looking at actual happenings in life.

PRODUCED BY FAMOUS FRENCH DIRECTOR

There is nothing stager in the production, the scenery and backgrounds having been selected with a rare degree of discernment, and the master hand of Maurice Tourneur, the noted French director (known as the Belasco of motion pictures), being apparent throughout. "The Rise of Jennie Gushing" is one of the best subjects released by Artcraft.

WHAT THE CRITICS SAID

APPEARING to wonderful advantage in her second Artcraft picture, "The Rise of Jennie Gushing," which was presented at the Rialto theatre, New York, on Sunday, November 11, 1917, Elsie Ferguson achieved an artistic triumph. The press reviews of the picture were among the most favorable stage and picture of any in the history of the show business. A few excerpts from the reviews in New York newspapers follow:

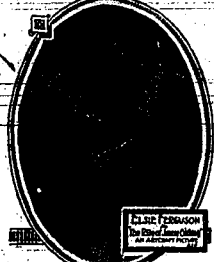

HERALD—Miss Elsie Ferguson makes a fascinating emotional creature out of the heroine of "The Rise of Jennie Gushing." The role is an unusual one and the complications of the story give to Miss Ferguson opportunities which she seizes with a sure and convincing emotional grasp.

TIMES—"The Rise of Jennie Gushing" gives Miss Elsie Ferguson a number of opportunities. As a girl of the stroma Miss Ferguson shows a very special individuality and complexity.

TRIBUNE—Jennie Gushing Elsie Ferguson does one of the best things she ever has done, either silent or spoken. She was fascinating, girlish, noble and tender and as beautiful as the Madonna. Evidently those who saw the picture in the afternoon said all of their friends to see it in the evening, for unless you had the password it was impossible to get within a block of the theater.

CHILDREN'S MATINEE WITH VAUDEVILLE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

made Paramount-Arbusck Comedy is expressed by everyone concerned, from Roscoe "Patsy" Arbusck himself down to property man. It is described as a great success in its nature, as a laughing affair, and sustained interest from beginning to end.

SCREEN CHATTER

Following the revival of "Cleopatra" and "Camille," Paramount is now putting out "La Tosca," with Pauline Frederick.

Roscoe Arbusck thinks he'll do a western comedy soon for Paramount—one with wild riding and roping. Imagine the unfortunate steed that is obliged to carry the heavyweight funmaker in pursuit of the untamed maverick!

"Mary Quata" is the title of the next picture starring "Vivian Martin" to be produced for Paramount. "Patsy" Arbusck, Theodore Roberts will be prominent in the cast. Harrison Ford, one of the most popular young leading men of the screen, will play opposite Miss Martin.

There is now a lingering doubt in the minds of those about the studios where Paramount-Mack Sennett comedies are created or as to Bill Campbell's title to the disputed "The Lion Tamer." The director has handled many films with animals, and his prowess in caring for them has long been undisputed. But the other day Glen Cavender was required to flirt with a bear in "The Kitchen Lady." The bear thought "Glen" was intended for his dinner and readily roared toward him. There is still a question as to whether Campbell or Cavender won the 100-yard dash that followed. Louie Fazenda was heroine of the occasion as well as the picture. She literally tempted Bruin from his delectable meal and saved the actor and director.

Supreme confidence in "A Country Hero," first of the California

Townley Here Thursday—A. C. Townley, president of the Non-Partisan league, will speak in the evening theatre, next Thursday, January 10, at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by F. J. Mallot, organizer for the society. Mr. Mallot says that he is having great success in getting members for the league.

Publication Deferred—Owing to the amount of work involved in properly launching the loan scholarship movement, Mrs. Alice Jean Sweoley, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs will be unable to furnish the article on mail order houses in time for the next Sunday issue of the TIMES. The article will appear on the following Sunday.

Two Jonsome Quarts—Search by Chief of Police W. J. Taylor and Deputy Sheriff George Huffman along the fence at Rock Creek yesterday revealed the presence of two quarts of whiskey, but no other contraband. A search by the officers revealed the presence of no booze. There were two empty casks near where the quarts were discovered.

Ad Attention—Reading of the great bargains offered by the Alco Clothing company in its closing out sale—A. Bog and K. Nine visited the store early yesterday morning. In search of collars, and not finding it, one broke into show case in front. The contents of the case had been removed the evening before as they were disappointed. It is supposed that they were in a hurry to get fitted out on account of the action of the council in voting that "dog dogs must wear the latest tag collar."

New Rules In Force—The American Express company since the beginning of the year has had new delivery rules in force. There is now a one-pick-up every morning and another every afternoon, at 11 o'clock and 4 o'clock respectively. No shipments will be left unless paid for at time of delivery, to save collecting bills and all outgoing shipments must be in the hands of the company for 15 days before the train leaves. The changes conform to the suggestions of the national defense board.

Loan Scholarship Luncheon—Mrs. Alice Jean Sweoley, who is leading in organizing the loan scholarship movement and whose lucid and scholarly presentation of the subjects appears in an article published elsewhere in this issue of the TIMES, will give a luncheon to all the club presidents of this tract at her home, at 2525 Eighth avenue north, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, in the interest of the movement. Superintendent Hal G. Blus of the Twin Falls high school will speak on the connection of the high school with the movement in relation to this fund. Professor Bliss is president of the high school organization for the promotion of the movement.

Monday Night—There will be a meeting of the citizens of Twin Falls Monday evening at the Lovelace theatre for the purpose of hearing E. E. McDonnell explain the proposed waterworks system for the city. The city council, which advertised the meeting in all the newspapers this week, urges everyone to come out. They say that they want everyone to understand just what is proposed and to vote according to knowledge and conviction and not according to guess work.

Life At American Lake—Harrison William Underwood appeared yesterday before the board of exemption in this city with an explanation of why he had been late in going to American Lake. He was drafted from White Pine county, Nevada, but did not find it out until last week. He had been herding sheep in the hills south of Buhl and got no mail. Learning that he had been called he hurried to this city, and gave so complete an explanation that he convinced the board of his honesty. He was sent out last evening.

Rev. Asher E. Brand, late of Valenciennes, Indiana, will begin his duties as the newly chosen pastor of the Twin Falls Presbyterian church by occupying next Sunday morning, 10th inst. The following is the musical programme, both morning and evening:—Morning service—Anthem, "The King of Love—My Shepherd Is," Shelly Solo, "Fear Not, Ye O Israel," Buck Miss Helene Almsendinger Evening Service—Anthem, "Praise Ye The Father," Solo, "MISERERE MIHI" Wilson Agricultural Federation—The third annual convention of the Idaho State Agricultural Federation will be held at Lewiston, Idaho, January 22, 23 and 24, 1918. Enthusiasm preceding the meeting, such as a never-before-manifested, coming from all sections of the state, gives promise of the largest meeting of farmers ever held in Idaho. An exceptionally strong program is being arranged, including a number of speakers of national prominence. Vital questions of deep concern to every farmer in the state will be considered at this meeting. Every organization of actual farmers in Idaho is used to send a large delegation to this convention by the federation.

The Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bemis was celebrated at the home in this city of their son-in-law, Mr. John R. Ault, on Tuesday evening of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Bemis were united in marriage at Beloit, Wisconsin, January 8, 1863. This was shortly after the bride's graduation from Beloit college and that of the groom from the Ohio army, in which he served for two years.

Dr. Egan, the optician, is at his office this week. He will glasses correctly. J. T. Evanson's over Booth's store, Main avenue south.

Mrs. John Spangler and Mrs. J. R. Ault, are living. To appreciate how the weeks scullion a family throughout the rapidly growing frost week, it may be noted that one son, Harry, is in Kansas; the other, Clarence, in Colorado; one daughter, Mrs. Thos. Williams, at Friday Harbor, Washington; another, Mrs. Harry Feabody, in Tacoma; and a third, Mrs. Jas. Clark, at Great Bend, Kansas. Glad, weddings are said to have become less usual owing to the advancing longevity of modernized humanity. But, however this may be, it is a consolation to the bride to find that out of all the married couples he has known but very few—not one in a hundred—have "clamb the hill together" for a round half-century. So here are the TIMES' most sincere congratulations to Father and Mother Bemis!

The County Council of Defense held its regular meeting at Buhl last Tuesday evening—the entire Twin Falls membership driving/through over the muddy roads. In fact, almost if not quite every member of the council in the county, including two from Hansen, was in attendance—from which may be gathered the surprising fact that the entire county subjects which have called it into existence. It is understood that a drive for education in and sale of Thrift stamps will soon be organized under the auspices of the council. These stamps offer the very easiest way both to save money for the individual and to assist in the war effort that has yet been devised; but public attention has not been centered thereon to any extent.

Had High Old Time—Emulating the hard-acted Opa Reed's tradition, who shot-out the moon, Will Stanley thought that the proper way to celebrate the Yuletide season was to bring down the moon. He took the wire "Wild West," so he strapped his trusty "weapon" to his person and rode with a younger brother to the home of the moon. The moon was beyond the highline on Christmas day, and finding nobody home, turned loose his smoke wagon and made the moon look like a miniature representation of Rihema. He was arrested and convicted of malicious destruction of property, and fined $500. The moon was arrested by Justice Judge O. P. Duval. The evidence indicated that "he was not drunk, but just having a good time," although he did not testify himself in regard to either his act or purpose.

Dr. Egan, the optician, is at his office this week. He will glasses correctly. J. T. Evanson's over Booth's store, Main avenue south.

Keep Idaho Investments At Home

If the First Mortgages on Idaho's magnificent farms and thriving city property are good enough investments for the largest insurance companies in the world, and other wealthy Eastern investors, surely they are good enough for Idaho people.

MILLIONS of dollars' worth of these preferred mortgages are sold in the East every year. Statistics show that twelve life insurance companies alone have over $500,000,000 invested in farm mortgages. A good portion of this is in Idaho property. Eastern money comes to Idaho because there is no safer investment anywhere than Idaho's productive lands. NOW, after a bounteous harvest, is the time for Idaho people to grasp this opportunity.

IT IS THE BUSINESS of the Pocatello Security Trust Co., to bring together Idaho investors and Idaho borrowers—in other words, to keep Idaho investments at home. In doing this, we have combined the safety and other advantages of high-grade farm mortgages and city loans with the conveniences of the investment bond. When you buy a bond, you buy an income. A First Mortgage Bond is a promissory note, with the additional safety of a first mortgage.

First Mortgage Bonds

AN IDEAL INVESTMENT

The First Mortgage Bonds of the Pocatello Security Trust Co. guarantee the investor a 6 per cent income on his money—or 50 per cent more than 4 per cent interest.

These Bonds meet every requirement of the ideal investment. They are absolutely safe. They never decrease in value. They are always worth 100 cents on the dollar. Secured by productive Idaho farms and improved, income-earning city real estate, they are based on the safest of all security—the Earth itself.

The income—6 per cent on your money—is payable January 1 and July 1. It is sure, steady and liberal, and gives you the highest return on your money consistent with absolute safety.

When you invest in these Bonds you know positively that you will get your money back, at a definite time, plus your earnings. These Bonds are issued for definite periods—3, 5 or 10 years—and are convertible into cash at maturity.

For the convenience of both small and large investors, these Bonds are issued in denominations of $100, $500, and $1000, and are therefore easily within the reach of all.

By investing in these safe Bonds, you will not only be making a wise and profitable investment but you will be lending your money to develop the great state of Idaho. It is an opportunity for you to make your money work for you and your home state.

What Experts Say About Bonds

"A good bond is the safest form of investment and is absolutely non-speculative."—T. D. MacGregor, noted financial writer.

"At the basis of every large fortune are bonds. The investment of money in bonds is what gives stability, not only to private fortunes, but to banks, to trust companies and to insurance companies. And this is because bonds are the safest, simplest and most ensurable kind of investment the mind of man has ever invented."—Beyor & Company, New York bankers.

"Bonds are the most convenient form of investment ever devised."—S. W. Straus & Company, Chicago bankers.

"Surplus funds should be invested in good bonds—with a view of securing safety of the principal and certainty of regular interest return."—Maraden J. Perry, chairman of board of directors of Union Trust Co. and noted banker and financier.

"Generally speaking, a bond is safer than a share of stock, because it has prior claim to earnings and to assets."—The American Investor (a leading financial magazine).

"The safest thing into which an investor may put his money is a Mortgage or Bonds."—George M. Reynolds, president Continental & Commercial National Bank of Chicago, one of the largest in America.

DON'T ENVY A BONDHOLDER —BE ONE

Perhaps you have thought that to be a Bondholder or you must be very rich. It might have been so in this country once—but things are changing.

The First Mortgage Bonds of this company are now being issued in denominations as low as $100—and these may be secured on the monthly installment plan. This enables everybody—rich and poor alike—to be a "coupon-clipping" Bondholder.

If you are a Farmer, Stockman, Rancher, Business Man, School Teacher, Salaried Man or Wage Earner—the Pocatello Security Trust Company has a First Mortgage Bond exactly suited to your needs.

You can pay outright for cash and secure one of these investment Bonds for any sum you wish—from $100 to $10,000. And at your option, you can invest your money as long as you wish—3, 5 or 10 years.

Or, if you prefer, you may invest on the monthly savings plan—paying as low as $3.09 a month for 30 months to secure a $100 Bond.

Whether your investment is large or small, you will receive 6 per cent interest on your money from the day you invest your first dollar.

JS. REAL-AMERICAN WONDER

Newly Examined Glacier in an Unexplored Region May Be Biggest in the Rockies.

We had reached a point of vantage whence we could overlook the whole of the unexplored region of the Rockies from Laurier Pass on the south to the region on the north.

What did we see? A glance showed us that there was no heaven-kissing peak taller than Mount Robson.

But there were several magnificent mountains higher than any along the Finlay. Much the finest of all these lay far to the northward.

Far down the south slope of it, filling a great valley miles and miles wide, there flowed a perfectly immense, glistening glacier.

There could be no doubt about it. For a long time I had realized that it would require a good-sized rock mill to grind up enough silt to color such a big stream as the Quendach.

We were at least forty miles from it, for we were not fully twenty miles west of the works, and from the forks to the glacier must be at least twenty more.

BEAUTY IS NOT LEVELNESS

Women May Possess Best Qualifications, but Combination is Rarely to be Found.

"Beauty," at least as distinct from "loveliness," is a big word, writes Margaret Steele Anderson in Louisville Post.

But "loveliness" is a very different word—a smaller word and lighter, a word more delicate, more tender.

The familiar winter bird, the white-breasted nuthatch, is the champion "stoopieback" of the world, says an exchange.

The winter hawk occasionally try to catch asleep this weasel of a bird. The hawk catches, however, the squirrel around a tree trunk.

It does not know how, however, and so we must take it for its beauty and its society and let the rest go.

Any boy who has gone to a circus knows what remarkable "stunts" acrobats can perform.

It is proposed to start a new industry in British Honduras for the production of oil from the columna plant.

It does not know how, however, and so we must take it for its beauty and its society and let the rest go.

Whoever has seen the "stunts" acrobats can perform.

The more clever of them can walk up a ladder and down, with a balloon on their snout.

STATE ENGINEERS' REPORT

Boise, Ida., Dec. 7th, 1917. State Board of Land Commissioners, Capitol Building, Boise, Idaho. Gentlemen: As per your request of March 12th this year, relative to excessive losses in main canals of the Twin Falls Canal Company:

The results obtained are tabulated in the following pages. It will be noted that in the Main Canal there is a 97.6 per cent loss of 65 per cent. It is impossible to place men in the field for the purpose of localizing the excessive losses for the reason: competent hydrographers were not to be had, and, again, the department's funds are not sufficient to stand the strain.

compared with other projects of similar nature. It is to be hoped that no investigation of the distributing system was conducted, as no request for this was made. I am attaching herewith copy of Mr. McConnell's report to this department covering his observations and conduct of the work as carried on. Very truly yours, (Signed) J. H. SMITH, State Engineer.

Jerome, Sept. 22, 1917. RE: Seepage Investigation, Twin Falls South Side Canal.

Boise, Idaho. In reply to your request, I started a seepage investigation on the Twin Falls South Side Canal, August 15, at Milner, but as the water could not be held steady at Milner, owing to work being done on the dam, and could not be controlled at the spillway on the main canal, I had to defer the work till August 27, when we started again.

All stations are numbered according to the distance from the initial point—Milner, for instance Milner Station M. (Main), 7.7, or 7.7 miles, or Milner to H. (High Line) 29.5, or 29.5 miles from Milner.

Murtaugh Lake is between stations M. 7.7 and M. 11.15, a distance of 3.45 miles, which has an area of approximately 900 acres at this stage of the canal, hence the loss of 145.6 Sec. Ft. in this section.

We always went to the station measured last the next morning and if there had been any change in the loss we made another measurement, thereby holding as near as possible a constant head during the day.

The distance to the first station (H. 25.9) on the High Line and the first station (25.6) on the Low Line are included as part of the main canal. There should have been a station just above the Forks and had been (about half mile), but the crew Mr. Porterfield went out to repair the stations overlooked this one, and had no time to do it myself, hence the long distance—and in this section, too. It is impossible for a station immediately below the forks on the High Line, on account of the controlling gates, or on the Low Line, which has a fall of 30 degrees in about half a mile and has a mean velocity of 4.28 Sec. Ft. at the station (L. 25.6) 1.2 mile below the gates.

The gain between Station H. 30.3 and H. 33.5 I believe is due to the gain through there, too; so we wanted me to verify my measurement. (I think he wanted it for a board meeting), so before finishing the Low Line we measured the first three stations on the High Line.

smaller gain with a higher gage, the first gain being 0.8 Sec. Ft. and the last being 4.65 Sec. Ft. This I think was caused by the seepage from the land above gradually draining out, finally having ceased to return to Mr. Porterfield's same time. Return to our first measurement there.

The gain above between Stations H. 39.5 and H. 44.0 can not be according to Mr. Orville Forris, who measured the canal at this place, and larger internal (we measured), and measured all return flow. He claims there was no return flow in this section, so the only way I can account for it is that I made an error in my reading at this station, as there was considerable loss in the next section, although not excessive, and may have been at the station above, where a larger loss shows

Total loss in the Main Canal. 368.74 Sec. Ft. Loss in the Main Canal, per mile. 14.07 Sec. Ft. Per cent loss in the Main Canal. 12.35 Per cent loss in the Main Canal per mile. 47

Total loss in the High Line Canal. 136.25 Sec. Ft. Loss in the High Line Canal per mile. 3.32 Sec. Ft. Per cent loss in the High Line Canal. 13.21 Per cent loss in the High Line Canal per mile. 33

Total loss in the Low Line Canal. 192.12 Sec. Ft. Loss in the Low Line Canal, per mile. 5.60 Sec. Ft. Per cent loss in the Low Line Canal. 15.16 Per cent loss in the Low Line Canal per mile. 48

Total loss in the Main, High Line and Low Line canals is 697.12 Sec. Ft. Per cent loss in the three is 23.35

The Low Line station between L. 50.6 and L. 54.2 shows a little excessive, especially when a small gain shows up in the next section, but that might be due to seepage from land above, as Mr. Forris says, he was out there to get all the return flow in this section. I think he must have overlooked some return between stations L. 56.2 and L. 53.5, (the last station on the Low Line) as that section shows a gain of 10.0 Sec. Ft. This seems quite probable, as the spillway is quite heavy here, and it rained hard most of the afternoon while he was getting his measurements. The land above the Low Line is all under irrigation—it's entire length.

The following shows the final results of the investigation:

There is, of course, considerable loss in the company laterals and conduits used as the distributing system that we did not get, hence the losses shown in this report are not by any means the losses in the system.

Mr. Porterfield would have liked very much to have had the losses in the distributing system, also, to arrive at a conclusion of the entire loss, but I did not have the time to spare from the North Side work, unless I had orders from you, and as I understood you my investigations were to be done in the main canal, I felt it was through with the field work there. All notes were carefully checked.

Respectfully submitted, W. N. MCCONNELL.

Amethyst's Color. A man recently brought back to a jewelry store a ring set with two diamonds which had faded to a pale yellow within a few months after he had bought them. He then discovered that instead of amethysts the gems were topazes. The latter vary in color from pale yellow to deep violet and purple.

Love has been called the greatest thing in the world, but the greatest thing in the world is not a person. Personality is the greatest thing in the world. The greatest thing in personality is not strength of body, but strength of heart.

Optimism. To face the changing fortunes of life with equanimity, to brace oneself against the shocks of fortune, to learn to smile at pretentiousness, to cultivate poise in the face of losses, to find no scarcity in the non-essentials, to touch our inner response, to adjust ourselves to the inevitable, to have a strength of mind that we do not need—these may be the fortunate by-products of our first lessons in the art of doing without—Exchange.

The Sandwich Man. The name "sandwich man," as applied to the men who parade the streets between two boards, on which are advertisements, was first given to them by Dickens. Although it would appear that the custom originated in the sixteenth century, the profession was "without a name" until the conservative Dickens first called it, which he first employed in his "Sketches by Boz."

The Leap of the Black Bass. The leap of the black bass is always directly upward when hooked, and he generally falls tail first into the water. At times, however, this fish, like the trout, will rise vigorously to the fly, and missing it, will make a graceful curve in the air, he goes quietly head down back to his element. But as a rule the bass rises directly to the fly with an accurate aim, and goes instantly to his lair—All Outdoors.

That's About All. Flanders was an extraordinary creature. Every young woman is like her. She will still, however, a young woman, that is to say, a mixture of timidity and boldness, of prudery and shamelessness, of divine kindness and cold cruelty of youthfulness, and especially of profound knowledge and abysmal ignorance—Exchange.

From Gossipdown. There's a lullus tongue wagging; nothing you can say hold on, you know; but that's no help. I'd rather somebody say I'd a wooden leg straight out than go hinting there was something funny about me figure—J. H. Buckrose.

Plenty of Company. It is usually taken 30 years to reap what it took 30 minutes to sow in the wild oat crop, and a hundred men often take part in the reaping of what one little fellow sowed. No man sows, or moweth wild oats to himself—Exchange.

Fight it Out Now. You cannot run away from a weak-knee, for you must not kick it out or perish, and if that be so, why not now and where you stand—B. L. Stevenson.

Serviceable Infant. "Mama," cried Susan, "Bess and I are playing house and want Bess to be a baby, but the boys have got him for a bulldog?"

Plenty to Do. Medical Friend—"Do that you have a son you must not neglect it, exercise." "Oh, we won't, doctor. This is a second-hand car"—J.M.F.

Take Warning. Don't brag. In a few years from now somebody else will be filling your place and maybe filling it just a little better—Exchange.

New Box Carrier. A new book carrier made of flexible material has pockets in its inner rim into which the covers of a book may be inserted and extension handles.

Sharpening Shavers. When a shaver get "blun" sharpen them by opening and moving backward and forward on a piece of glass.

Respectability. The more things a man is ashamed of, says George Bernard Shaw, the more respectable he is.

Just One. After all there is but one race—humanity, wrote George Moore.

LET US ALL HELP MAKE TWIN FALLS GROW.

VOL. XIII, NO. 28.

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1918.

Semester Statement by Superintendent

Conditions Present Organization of Beginning Classes For First Primary Pupils.

Superintendent Hal G. Blum of the Twin Falls schools today issued the following announcement: It will be impossible to organize beginning classes for first primary pupils at the opening of the second semester, Monday, January 14. There are several reasons why it is necessary to make this announcement. In the Lincoln school, there is not a single available room for the organization of a new beginning class. Every room in this building is occupied by the sixth and seventh grades. In the Bickel school, there is one room that could be used for a beginning class. It is a vacant room in the frame annex. If a beginning class were organized in this room, it would be to "make a disadvantage" to those pupils living in the Washington and the Lincoln districts that it would be impossible for them to enter. Of the four school buildings in this district, the high school is the most centrally located. A beginning class organized in the high school building would be equally advantageous and disadvantageous to all first primary pupils in the district. This plan was followed last year when a beginning class was organized in the high school at the opening of the second semester. A severe hardship was worked upon by the pupils enrolling in this class because they lived near the other schools. It is always educationally essential to place in beginning first primary classes those pupils who fall in first primary work and who should repeat the work. If a beginning class were organized in the high school building, the repeating pupils from the other schools would be at the serious disadvantage of being compelled to go outside their own districts to attend school. This was one of the objectionable features of the beginning class organized in the high school building last January. It is felt that it would be more advantageous to these repeating pupils to leave them with the teacher to whom they have been going for half of the year and who, perhaps, can do more for them than any other teacher in the system. By remaining with their present teachers during the remainder of the school year, it is possible for them to be brought up to grade when the school closes next May. Anticipating the possibility of not being able to organize a beginning primary class in January, it was announced when school began last September that beginning pupils who would be six years old on or before December 15 might enroll. The enrollment "hereafter" has been November 1. The extending of the age limit to December 15, practically seven weeks, results in a smaller number of children ready to enter a beginning class in January than heretofore. In fact, there are not enough children coming into school age at this time to make absolutely necessary the organization of a beginning class in the next semester. It would be impossible to organize a class and employ a teacher for the six years pupils. On the side of educational progress and development, nothing will be lost to those pupils who will not wait until the September opening of the school year. They will enter school next September with the advantage of having had several months of growth and play. They will also have the advantage of starting their school careers on the even years. The matter of four or five months immediately before the beginning of schooling on the part of a child just six years old is not important when consideration is given to the ultimate results of the elementary education. These last months spent under the influence of home and parents will contribute equally as much to the child's educational growth and progress.

This announcement relative to the fact that it will be impossible to organize a beginning class for first primary pupils for the second semester will not be taken in any way except only in extreme cases of retardation. Cases of extreme retardation will be considered by the superintendent of schools and the supervisor of elementary grades with the purpose in view to doing everything possible for such pupils. If any modification of this announcement is made, it will be for the sole purpose of meeting the urgent and immediate needs of a child who represents a case of extreme retardation. HAL G. BLUM, Superintendent of Schools.

BOND REPRESENTATIVE HERE El Myward Norlan, general manager bond department of the Portaville Security Trust company, Pacific National, and O. H. Cope, Twin Falls representative of the bond department arrived in the city yesterday via automobile. These gentlemen will inaugurate and manage the bond selling campaign for their company in the Twin Falls territory. Their temporary headquarters will be the Perrine hotel, where those interested in the proposition may obtain information. The bulk of the money secured through the sale of these first mortgage bonds will be turned immediately to the improvement of the farms and business property in southern Idaho. Mr. Norlan says the security back of these bonds and the interest which they pay, six per cent, should appeal to the people of this section. The company's press announcement appearing in this issue of the TIMES will enable the reader to more fully understand the basis upon which this bond issue is founded.

Max Patriotic Luncheon-The Hagar school served a "war" luncheon. Invitations were sent to parents and friends the week before. All of the work was done at school, including painted menu cards. The program consisted of records played on the new Pathophone. The children each took one or two records and found out all they could about it, as the life of the composer, and one who made the record. Instruments used included. The luncheon was wholesome and meatless. This was the menu: Tomato soup, cranberry sauce, cornmeal, creamed potatoes, cornmeal, muffins, oatmeal cookies, coffee. About seventeen were present including all of the parents. Twenty cents was charged and the money applied for expenses and a few additional kitchen supplies.

BAKER EXPLAINS DEPARTMENT

grit to have the benefit resulting from the depression of the market by their enemies which must come when the Germans realize that the American democracy has neither blundered nor hesitated. "I make this statement," continued the secretary, "fully aware that there have been produced before the members of this committee some expressions of 'doubt,' difference of opinion and disapproval. The war department has spent eight months here in similar expressions, analyzing them, correcting the conditions out of which they grow, perfecting its organization to prevent their recurrence; and all the while driving on to the accomplishment of the main task. "My military associates and I appreciate the work which this committee has done, and will value suggestions from the committee as a whole from its individual members, and from every other patriotic citizen which will enable us to carry on this work more effectively and more rapidly.

When Secretary Baker concluded his statement he immediately drew out a large black cigar and asked "Is the ladies object?" and he leaned back ready for questions. Senator Chamberlain opened with: "What have you to say of the methods of the ordnance department?" "First, the matter of rifles is now practically settled. When we went into the war everybody agreed that the Springfield rifles were the best in the world," said Secretary Baker. "I don't want to break in but that statement is very far from the facts, according to my testimony," broke in Senator Weeks of Massachusetts. "All of the information I have ever received is that it is best," answered Secretary Baker. "One of the acts of the ordnance department has been the abandonment of the 'ladies object' rifle," said Senator Chamberlain. "Perfectly true," answered the secretary of war. "All men now are equipped with rifles. I am not quite sure of that, but it is what I understand."

Senators Chamberlain and McKelvin questioned the statement. "I have no desire to press the point, it is relatively unimportant," answered Baker. "The delay was occasioned by the ordnance department and I approved it. We saved a great deal of time by remodeling the Enfield rifle." "In view of the fact that the supply is entirely adequate I believe delay was justified. It isn't inefficient to change one's mind and get something better than you have first determined. That I should call efficiency." "With the war on us, wasn't it essential to get guns in the hands of the men?" asked Senator Chamberlain. "The war wasn't on us, it was in Europe. We had our rifles ready for all of the men we could get to France within a year," answered Baker. "It is a fact that the war was on us sufficiently for us to have sent to France," said Senator Wedsworth. "I meant the enemy was 8,000 miles away and an adequate supply of modern arms for all of the men we could send to France," answered the secretary.

BEAUTIFUL SPAGE STAR IN SECOND FILM PRODUCTION "The Rise of Jennie Cushing" (the Arctard production now being shown at the Idaho theater), is a big, human subject. Blase Ferguson, the noted stage star and beauty, who recently supplanted to making pictures, plays the title role. The struggles of this girl, born in the slums of unknown province, present an arraignment of modern society. In the book by Mary S. Watts, Jennie Cushing commanded admiration, appealing to the sympathies of her pitiful and determined through her grit and determination not to rise from her lowly surroundings. As played by Miss Ferguson, the role receives added virility, and the play will long be remembered by those who see it.
