OVER A MILLION WORKERS REPORTED IDLE IN GERMANY

Walkout Spreads to War Work Factories and Aeroplane Plants—Socialists Are Denied Right to Hold Meetings—Germans Play Fast and Loose Game With Russians and Rebels in Russian Territory—Hamburg and Berlin Storm Centers—Troops Refuse to Fire on Strikers in German Capital.

CHIEF FEATURES OF THE UNREST IN GERMANY

(International News Service Summary)

Estimated that nearly 1,000,000 men and women mostly war workers are on strike in Germany today and the movement is spreading.

Berlin and the chief German naval ports are the storm centers of unrest.

Socialists and labor are making common cause with the anti-junkers and are trying to unite with the Austrian masses against the imperial government.

Mobs in German cities dispersed at the point of the bayonet. Peace on democratic lines, food and government reforms are the demands of the German people.

AND IN THE MEANWHILE:

The world wonders if Germany will be the next scene of a "Bolshéviki" movement.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 31.—Hamburg and Berlin became the storm centers of Germany's "industrial revolt" today.

A dispatch quoted the Hamburg Echo as saying that Hamburg has become so turbulent that a state of siege has been proclaimed there and in the suburbs of Altona and Wandsbeck.

Fighting between troops and the strikers is reported from Berlin, resulting in casualties.

In some of the Berlin suburbs, however, troops are said to have refused to fire upon the strikers.

ZURICH, Jan. 31.—Strong forces of Hungarian troops have been sent to Prague as further disorders are threatened there, said a dispatch from the Austrian frontier today.

It added that many soldiers took part in the recent strike movement in Vienna.

"RAINBOW" BOYS GET GLORY IN TRENCH FIGHT

ACQUITTED THEMSELVES IN FIERCE FIGHT WITH THE HUN ENEMY Driven Back to Lines

Two Soldiers Killed, Four Wounded and One Captured by the Boches—Several Germans Are Out of Commission.

Washington, Jan. 31.—War department officials were emphatic in their praise today over the manner in which the latest American troops to come under German fire acquitted themselves. They read with the utmost interest the following account of the fighting sent to the International News Service by its staff correspondent at General Pershing's headquarters in France.

"The national guard units had shown themselves well worthy of all of the traditions of the service."

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Jan. 31.—Talking advanced on the front, a strong force of German troops—many American—their tening post trench on Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock, killing two American soldiers, wounding four and capturing another.

"The raid followed a heavy barrage fire which lasted 15 minutes, completely isolating the trench area from the first line trenches.

The fighting lasted 20 minutes and two German soldiers are believed to have been wounded.

The Americans fought gallantly all branches of the service participating in the fighting. The rear guard was followed by drafted men from California, who bombed them copiously, Tennessee and North Dakota troops were particularly mentioned as participating in the fight.

The attack took place at the point where the American and German lines were in contact. The Germans were driven back to their original position and that point is only 35 yards wide.

A long period of infantry inactivity was broken by the raid, although there had been cannonading which had claimed some American victims.

The fighting was fiercest when it lasted and it is believed that at least fifty Germans were in the attacking group. The spilling which had preceded the raid is believed to have been heard plainly at brigade headquarters.

The aid of an advance tank is reported, where the raid was made; war with the Germans. The valley was overlooked by the German positions and the high hills the rear guard of the enemy a good opportunity for observation upon our trenches, which are shallow at this point.

WAR RESULT DECIDED WITHIN YEAR SAYS WILSON IN APPEAL TO FARMERS

President Writes Stirring Message to Urbana Meeting Calling for Last Great Effort—Profiteers Will be Prevented From Robbing People—Labor Problem Is Discussed—Farmers Will Show Same Patriotism That They Did at Lexington, Said Nation's Chief.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—President Wilson today struck another blow for the triumph of democracy in the world war. In an open letter to the farmers of the nation, sent to the farmers' conference now in progress at Urbana, Ill., the chief executive called for united effort from the nation's agriculturists to aid in winning the war.

"The culminating crisis of the struggle has come," the president declared. "The achievements of this year on the one side or the other must determine the issue."

"We must win, therefore, and we will win," he wrote in telling what forces menace, not only this nation but the world.

The president took occasion to recite in concrete terms the enormous resources of the United States in the present world conflict. In clear terse sentences he set forth the agencies and instrumentalities of the country which will make futile all Germany's schemes to compel her enemies to starve with her. The story of the department of agriculture, of the land grant colleges with their experiment stations and countless agents everywhere was recited by the president to show what agriculture can do and is doing, to win the war.

The object of today's letter by the president was two-fold, officials declared. There was the stimulating effect that it is certain to have here at home on the farmers of the country. And there was the correspondingly depressing effect that it will have on the men of the central powers whose nation wide strikes now are in progress as a protest against the hunger which has followed the war. This latter result, officials declared, must be most effective.

How gravely important the president considered his announcement today was shown by the admission that he had planned to deliver it in person and had held a special train in waiting for two days to make a dash to Urbana. The letter of today was prepared by the president while secluded in his study nursing the cold which finally compelled him to call off the trip.

Speaking of the manner in which President Wilson is forced upon us, President Wilson said:

"The rulers of Germany had sought to exploit their power in such a manner as to bring control and rule within the western hemisphere, while they accomplished purposes which would have permanently impaired the economic well-being of our national life and have put the fortunes of America at the mercy of the imperial government of Germany."

MODERN WATER PLANT FOR THE CITY ASSURED

OVERWHELMING MAJORITY GIVEN BONDS FOR NEW SYSTEM

Nearly Thirteen to One Affirmative

Confidence in Administration and Satisfaction With Plan Offered Cause of Great Victory for the Issue.

Quietly, the silent vote of Twin Falls reflects an enormous majority of twelve and thirty-five-fifths to one yesterday for the waterworks bonds. The vote stood 551 for the issue and 43 against. Of the affirmative votes 233 were cast in the First ward and 289 in the Second; of the negative 20 in the First ward and 23 in the Second. Bids will be opened February 8 at 8 o'clock p. m. Following the official canvass, the following election was significantly cited: The previous campaign more so the treatment of the people as revealed by the vote in the TIMES, was overwhelmingly for the bonds and the only danger lay in an apparent state of over-confidence in the result. That the campaign was by the friends of the bonds and the newspapers overcome this apathetic confidence is indicated by the vote in the opinion of all.

Voters generally based their support on two grounds; satisfaction with the plan presented and confidence in all the members of the city administration. They declared with practical unanimity that the voting of the bonds would bring about the construction of an ideal system.

Dry Petition Is Filed in Chicago

More Signatures Received Than Is Needed—Election In April Probable—Brewers Fight

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Bearing 145,000 signatures, the petition to have the "wet or dry" question placed on the ballot for the next municipal election in Chicago is April, will be filed today. Only 109,521 signatures are needed.

Brewers are fighting a hard fight to prevent the passage of the petition. Unless this attack is successful a prohibition vote is certain in April.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 30.—Seething industrial and political unrest throughout Germany, which is now marked by rapid growth of the Bolsheviki movement, is causing the imperial government genuine alarm.

Advisers received today from the German frontier estimated that nearly 2,000,000 workers were idle in Germany.

The walkout spread to factories on-going on war work and the supply of munitions and aeroplanes is seriously hampered in some districts.

Many women went out with the munitions strike last night. In Berlin, police issued a warning against street agitators and secret assemblies.

Another strike from a German source reported the arrest of some of the leaders of the socialist party while walking out last night.

Leaders of the German elements are demanding the most drastic measures of suppressing the labor agitation.

The Pan-Germans want the government to give von Hindenburg and von Ludendorff free hands in dealing with the strikers and to dismiss Dr. Philip Scheidemann, leader of the socialist party.

Nearly all the strikers are threatening to strike against the public meetings throughout the country under conditions become quieter.

GAIRO, Ill., Jan. 31.—Flood conditions along the Ohio river and its tributaries in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia and part of Illinois, continue today to menace lives and property over the vast area of the flood district. Ice groups in the Ohio, Monongahela, Green, Guyon, Big Sandy, and other rivers still hold back devastating torrents of water, pouring into the rivers by melting snow. Physical Standard Let Down Knock

These Rejected For This Reason Will Be Given Another Chance to Qualify.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Selected men heretofore rejected by local registration boards for service in the national army, because of physical defects, are being given another chance. If their physical defects are of a character which the medical advisory board believe can be remedied or not seriously interfere with their performance of certain duties, they will be allowed to serve active military service only when they come before the medical advisory board in acceptance with or without defects and the local board can reject only when the ground for such rejection comes within the authorized standards. All other cases must be referred to the medical advisory board for further examination and classification.

"Big Five" Packers Methods Exposed

Swift-Smith System of Disposing of Retail by Means of Unfair Coercion Employed by members of the "Big Five" packers to stifle competition by underselling independent competitors.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Methods employed by members of the "Big Five" packers to stifle competition by underselling independent competitors, by means of a system of unfair coercion, when the federal trade commission announced its investigation of the beef industry, Special Counsel F. J. Taft, in a report of original investigation from the U. S. Attorney General, exposed the methods of the "Big Five" packers to stifle competition by underselling independent competitors.

The "Big Five" packers are Swift, Smith, Armour, Wilson and Morris. They have been accused of using unfair methods to drive their competitors out of business.

The report states that the packers use a system of "buying up" the best beef, and then underselling their competitors by selling it at a lower price.

This practice is said to be in violation of the federal trade commission's regulations against unfair competition.

AUSTRO-GERMAN ASIAGO LOSS OVER 20,000

THREE THOUSAND PRISONERS CAPTURED IN GREAT DRIVE

Sweden Worried Over the Finnish Situation and Masses Large Army for a Possible Intervention.

ROME, Jan. 31.—Enormous losses were inflicted upon the Austro-German troops between the Asiago plain and the Brenta valley by the Italian offensive on Monday and Tuesday, said a dispatch from the front today. In addition to capturing nearly 3,000 prisoners the Italians inflicted casualties estimated at from 20,000 to 25,000.

The defenses on Monte Di Val Bellina and in the sectors of Col de Boque and Col de Chiale have been organized and held against determined counter attacks, delivered by the invaders in force.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The revolutionary situation in Finland, involving the lives of Swedish subjects and the safety of Swedish interests, has become so serious that King Gustaf has ordered Stockholm to deal with it personally, according to reports received here today. Sweden has already massed an army on the Finnish border, and it is believed necessary for intervention to protect Swedish subjects.

There are about 400,000 Swedish subjects in Finland and the reports of fighting between the Russian troops of Finland and the Finnish forces, which have been connected with the latter controlling the part of southern Finland.

Oregon Leads All While Idaho Is Tied With Ohio For The Seventh Place On List.

Major General Enoch H. Crowder, Provost Marshal General of the United States, has filed with Secretary of War Baker a list of "banner counties and communities" throughout the United States who filled their quotas for the army by "volunteer" enlistment and therefore did not have to supply a single man under the draft system for the first national army. Oregon leads the Union with fourteen counties and one city on the roll of honor. South Dakota has seven counties with twelve counties which did not have to supply a single selective draft soldier. Kansas is third on the honor list with six counties and one city. Texas has one county, which is Schenck county where there are so many Socialists, while Pennsylvania is represented by the city of Harrisburg and Lancaster. Maine makes the best showing of the eastern states, with three counties and one city, the latter Portland. Kentucky has two counties, Breathitt and Lee.

The county with the largest population is Multnomah, Ore., which is the city of Portland. This banner county out of a population of more than 400,000 did not have to worry about the national army, every Multnomah boy now in the service is a volunteer. There are four Jackson counties in the list.

War Ends by Fall Says Meyer London

Socialist Congressman Says After It Is Over People Will Rule The Rulers Then.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The latest public man to declare that the end of the war is in sight is Representative Meyer of London of New York, the lone Socialist in the present House. London, who has closely studied conditions from the Socialist standpoint, made this statement today. He declared that the Socialist party will not need a war program for next fall's campaign and elections. "The war will be over before the elections," confidently declared London today. And as a result, he declared, the dominant parties will have to amend their programs. London said he is in the opinion that the Socialist representation in the next congress will be materially increased. "The Socialist party has an excellent opportunity," he said. "The things the Socialists of other nations will do between now and the elections will make the party more respected here. Wherever there is a chance to win we shall make a vigorous campaign. We expect great things from the west."

London's prediction as to the ending of the war will be fulfilled, he believed, largely by the efforts of the Socialists of Austria and Germany. He gives credit for the awakening of the people of the central powers in large part to the Bolsheviks.

"When peace comes, it may be a peace consummated by the rulers, but they will be rulers speaking for their people," London said. "And when they demand what their people do not want, they will be rulers no longer. A changed world is coming out of this war. It will be a world in which the people actually rule, and where the people rule the Socialists will be strong."

"THE DEVIL STONE" NEXT

The release by Arcraft of "The Devil Stone," coming to Idaho for the first time commencing Thursday, marks the sixth Geraldine Farrar production filmed at the studios of the Lasky company since the famous picture "The Sign of the Cross" in the field of the photoplay two years ago.

It is interesting to note that all of the Farrar productions have been created by practices of the same working organization, including the director Cecil B. DeMille, who has been responsible for the staging of the entire series of remarkable features, and Jeanie MacPherson, who wrote the scenarios for the six photoplays.

The selection of appropriate vehicles for the noted star has been a serious problem, but the great success of the Farrar films bespeaks well of the judgment of the producers, who have had the stories on the themes, the more recent of which, "The Woman God Forgot" and "Joan the Woman," created the new epoch in cinema art.

WILL ADVANCE CHEVROLET 450 ON MARCH FIRST F. G. W. Sudrow, general western sales manager of the Chevrolet motor company, who recently visited southern Idaho, since his return to Kansas City, has written Motor A. J. Schubert, of the Gooding Motor company, that the price of all models of the Chevrolet will be advanced $50 at least on March 1.

In his letter he states: "It looks very much like a great shortage of touring car will develop during the year. The man who wants a small car should order it now while the price is low. Small cars will be more in demand than ever before, because the war is teaching all people economy as it has never taught us with the automobile because in business and for speeding up all community life it is indispensable, but the certainty will turn the price of the same car like the 480 Chevrolet.

The 498, with a standard equipment for starting and lighting, the same as a car costing up to the thousands, is the one that will have to be increased in price soon and also the one for which there is an amazing local demand." Mr. Schubert in discussing the matter expressed the opinion that once the impending change in prices is understood, intending purchasers would prefer to buy cars during the present month, rather than wait until two or three months later, and pay a higher price for the same car. Knowing in advance that a price increase was practically inevitable, the Gooding Motor company has secured a large supply of 480 Chevrolets.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY VAUDEVILLE

"THE DEVIL STONE" is a story of weird fascination which presents Miss Farrar in a modern role, based upon the big theme of Superstition, brought down from ancient folk lore and influencing the events in the life of a modern woman.

In this picture Miss Farrar presents a characterization different from anything in which she has ever appeared before the screen. As Marcia Manot, she portrays a simple Breton fisherwoman...

Charles Ray's next Paramount picture will be "His Mother's Boy" from a story by Rupert Hughes.

W. Smonser Maughan has been engaged by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation to write especially for the photoplay productions of Paramount.

Three Republicans On Committee Will Vote To Reconsider Early Action Limiting to Year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 - The administration will not accept the action of the senate interstate commerce committee in limiting federal control of the railroads to one year after the end of the war. This was made very plain today by administration senate leaders.

The committee met again today but spent its time in the discussion of the provisions in the bill for compensation of the railroads.

It is understood that when the final vote is taken on the bill, the republican members of the committee will vote for the administration measure which does not limit the time of government control to one year.

Farmers Meeting Held at Lewiston

Idaho State Federation of Agriculture Has Interesting Program - Adopts Platform.

The TIMES in receipt of an extended report of the meeting of the Idaho State Federation of Agriculture, which convened in three day session at Lewiston, January 22, and which besides being mailed two days after the event, was sent to a gentleman who has not been connected with this paper for several years, and by him turned, back of course to us. The TIMES has on several occasions called attention of government officials and others to the necessity of getting data to us promptly when it is news, but nevertheless gives as much space as possible to the story, which follows:

The annual convention of the Idaho State Federation of Agriculture held at Lewiston, January 22, 23 and 24, was the largest in point of attendance and enthusiasm of any in the history of the organization, some 1500 delegates being present.

On Tuesday afternoon the convention was addressed by A. C. Townley of St. Paul, president of the National Non-Partisan League, and upon the dire need of organization of the farmers for the betterment of marketing conditions, for the elimination of waste and for economic efficiency in the handling of farm products. Mr. Townley quoted President Wilson's book, "The New Freedom," taking as his text, "The Beasts that Pray," following the line of thought presented by the president. He declared that the farmers of the nation were solidly behind the administration in its purpose to win the war for freedom and democracy.

At the close of this address the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the assembly:

Whereas, the "kept press" and other agents of Big Business have attacked the farmers, the Non-Partisan League and the president, Mr. A. C. Townley, of disloyalty, and

Whereas, we believe the Non-Partisan League is the hope of the producer and the consumer and that the president of the league today in a masterful paper, has answered how we can really help establish better living and working conditions, and

Whereas, we believe that the only way of disloyalty is a clear Big Business to conceal the excess war profits, therefore

Be It Resolved, that we thank Mr. Townley for his able and patriotic address, and ask him to come to Idaho again soon to help Idaho farmers take the "kiss" out of patriotism, the hypocrisy and craft out of politics, and shorten the road between the producer and consumer.

Resolutions on numerous topics, which in full would occupy two columns of the TIMES, were then passed. A synopsis of them appeared in a daily paper and one at least published in full at the time. They back the demands of the state federation on Governor Alexander; oppose the calling of a session of the legislature, alleging that the present state administration proposed calling one; censure the discharge of W. G. Schatz, first secretary of the government Prussian military system and pledge support to Woodrow Wilson; attack the alleged attitude of the state utilities commission toward the Electric company; demand that the federal and state government retain possession of power not already owned by the trust; demand the government to parole enough farm boys to keep up supply of farm labor; urge fraternal co-operation of all farm organizations.

THE FRANKLIN CAR And What it Means to the Present-Day Standard of Efficient Motor Car Service

THAT 1917 has been the best year in Franklin history is due primarily to the efficiency of the Franklin car. The stress of war laid new requirements upon the country and upon individuals. Everywhere has been heard the call for efficiency. Waste is under suspicion. New energy is called for each day.

LOOKING ahead to the coming year it is plain that the standard for thrift will rise higher and higher. The motor car that meets this higher standard will fill a war need quite as much as the plow or grain drill. The general business of the country cannot go back to old methods any more than can the business of farming.

Motor cars must be used, but they must be efficient motor cars.

It is now not only a question of what this or that automobile will do, but also how much it will cost to do it.

It is plain that the car which does the most for the least is the car in tune with the times—the car that has its place in the line of service.

Franklin Efficiency the Outcome of Franklin Principles

It is nothing new for the Franklin to be efficient. Thrift does not just happen.

From the very beginning car designers were building for today—when motor car service at the least expense is the aim.

The Franklin Car is efficient and economical because the fundamentals of design make it so.

It is a matter of record in the automobile industry how Franklin design has stood against excessive weight and complication—what these things mean in waste of power, of gasoline, of oil, abnormal tire expense, high repair cost and heavy annual depreciation.

At one stroke, the direct air-cooled Franklin eliminates the usual 177 heavy and complicated water-cooling parts—at least 50 pounds of water, 75 pounds of radiator, to say nothing of pipes, pumps, plumbing and water jackets.

An extensive use of aluminum takes an important part in this weight reduction.

The Franklin engine had valves in the head thirteen years before automobile designers in general took them up. Another way in which every ounce of "actual going" is obtained from the gasoline.

The Franklin is the easiest rolling car in America, and where there is the least friction resistance, less power, less fuel, is required to propel the car.

Take Tires. Franklin scientific light weight, with minimum unsprung weight, gives tires the chance to live their natural life, not to be pounded out before their time.

And this combination of strength, lightness and flexibility makes Franklin used-car value especially high.

Every Motorist Should Expect Proof of Motor Car Thrift

Thrift cannot be established by a volume of claims. The public is entitled to know what constitutes bed rock economy for every car.

The Franklin standard of thrift is a matter of common knowledge and every-day record.

Franklin cars have won every prominent official economy test ever conducted.

Franklin cars in technical tests in American universities have consistently shown the highest efficiency.

Nation-wide tests by Franklin dealers have year after year publicly demonstrated Franklin efficiency and economy.

The experience of Franklin owners daily confirms what these tests establish—how the Franklin goes a given distance on one-half the gasoline consumed by the average fine car, and for the same yearly mileage costs about one-third as much for tires.

When you look for twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline, ten thousand miles to the set of tires, and depreciation loss cut in half, look to the construction of the car.

HERE ARE THE ACTUAL SCALE WEIGHTS OF FRANKLIN MODELS:

Hollister News

As a result of the war savings stamp campaign that Principal Droudbent has been conducting, a considerable number of saving stamps and thrift cards have been purchased by the students. The largest denominations being those of George Levey $82.40 and Marie Levey $41.20. A room is being fitted up for use as a general science laboratory during the coming semester. Ellison White winter chalet was held at Hollister March 19, 20 and 21. Their program will be made public soon. Hand ball is becoming a popular game with all grades at the Hollister school. Because of numerous interruptions in the last period Latin has been changed from 3:20 to 2:05 and will meet in the Red Cross room. Some members of the high school planned a skating party for Wednesday night. A good time was reported even if the ice was in poor condition for skating. The announcement was made in the school by some members of the Red Cross that small clean rag cut into pieces about one inch by two inches, would be very much appreciated; also sugar and flour sacks to be made into comfort pillows. There was a large collection handed in at the last Thursday meeting as the pupils in the lower grades were especially enthusiastic over the work. Elizabeth and Marie Chamberlain came down from Twin Falls to spend a few days visiting friends here. Twelve new pupils have taken up the school work for the next half year. The subject of Saturday school was taken up at the school board meeting last Monday evening. After some discussion, the final settlement was left to Professor Droudbent and Dr. Luce who decided it was a patriotic duty to hold Saturday sessions and thereby dismiss pupils so they can assist with the spring work. Hollister is the third school in the county to adopt the new idea that is being tried in so many schools all over the United States. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Furnace the 15th of the month. The past week has been very busy for both teachers and pupils as it is the week of semester examinations. It is the opinion of the teachers that the majority of the pupils would have been excused if they had not been late or absent. THRIFT DAY WILL BE UNIVERSALLY OBSERVED (International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29 — Thrift Day will be celebrated throughout the country one week from today. A few have elected to observe the day on Saturday, February 2. A few have elected to observe the day on Tuesday, February 5. These days are to be observed only by those who wish to start new bank accounts. February 3, through the activity of Philadelphia man and a number of eastern bankers, has been set aside as the national thrift day. There is now in force a nation-wide campaign to impress upon the people the benefits to be derived from a careful and studious practice of thrift. The movement was started primarily with the idea of inculcating saving instincts in the matter of money, but it proved so successful in that direction that the bankers, its sponsors, have decided to preach its possibilities when applied to an infinity of things—such as conservation in handling of fuel, care for health, elimination of extravagances. Its innovation at this time is considered opportune because bankers believe it may in some measure prepare the people for and tide them through the reaction and readjustment that they say, must follow when the war-time prosperity wanes.

CHURCHES

PATRIOTISM AND NATIONAL LIFE

(Sermon by Rev. C. L. Bont, pastor of the First Methodist Church.)
"Where there is no vision, the people cast off restraint."
The slogan, "My Country, Right or Wrong" is as false as it is unpractical, even though "originated" by a brave American naval officer. Out of such a seed bed of principle have come the weeds of territorial aggression as the present world insanity, began in 1914.

War must continue until the day when the last and strongest man stands alone with some desert spot and looks upon a world depopulated in its pursuit of a false ideal. There is but one way to have before us the only true ideal. That is to have the guidance of our Father God, in every affair of conscience. The cornerstone of the American as well as of the Dutch republic was laid in the words of William the Silent, when writing to the magistrates of Middelburg said: "You have no right to interfere with the conscience of anyone, so long as he has done nothing that works injury to another person or a public scandal."

The fortune amassed now days at the expense of the poor people who do the work are not a part of the American ideal. Where fortunes are made in a short time by the exorbitant charges made by the manufacturer for his finished product, while the laborer is not properly fed and clothed because of insufficient pay for labor rendered, we can not hope to integrate the people and make them a real part of our nation. If they come here expecting to find conditions better in every way than they had in Europe or Asia, we find them much the same. It is more than likely that they will practice principles of their birth-land than to adopt better ways.

We can not console ourselves by adopting the ostrich as our symbol. There are grave matters to face. One of the gravest problems we have of today is a national character in the immorality in our public and private schools and colleges. One work on this problem reports but a very small per cent of pupils in a certain middle western city who are moral.

This does not seem to be confined to the older students merely but to boys and girls of only eleven and twelve years of age. A note or letter found in the possession of a twelve year old boy was written by a girl of eleven using terms and offering suggestions that were equal to those of a restricted district.

Use Up Stale Bread

Do Not Permit the Odds and Ends Frequently Found in The Bread Box to Be Wasted.

Bread is one of the items most commonly wasted in many American households, say the specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. This waste is probably due to the fact that many housekeepers do not think of bread as costing much and are careless about its uses or do not know what to do with the odds and ends frequently found in the bread box.

Good fresh bread has a spongy texture, which in time disappears, leaving the bread dry and crumbly, the moisture gradually passing out through the crust. Bread a little too stale to be appetizing, but not yet hard, may be freshened by putting it into the oven for a few minutes. The heat seems to drive the moisture from the crust back into the center of the loaf, making the crust more crisp and the crumb a little more spongy. Some housekeepers moisten the surface of the bread and sometimes cover it before putting it into the oven, but others think that moistening the texture of the crust without improving the crumb.

Rolls or biscuits which have a greater surface in proportion to their size dry out more rapidly than loaves of bread. It is good planning, therefore, not to provide more than will be used at a meal or at least a day after baking. For similar reasons, bread stays fresher longer in the loaf than after it is sliced. No more than will be needed should be cut for any one meal, and one loaf should be used up before the next is cut into. When the bread needs freshening it is a good plan to cut the required slices and put them into the oven for a few minutes just before serving.

Toast

Toast is another form in which partly stale bread can be made attractive. In many families it is served only for breakfast, luncheon, or supper, but the custom which many high grade restaurants have adopted of serving thin, crisp, hot toast with the more substantial meals might well be followed at home. Such dishes as chopped meat, milk gravy, creamed chicken, fish, poached eggs, melted cheese, cooked asparagus, Swiss chard, baked tomatoes, etc., are served very commonly on toast. Cream or milk toast, or toast with a cream sauce or milk gravy—perhaps flavored with a very little chopped leaf fish or other savory—may be used as the main dish at breakfast, luncheon, or supper. Slices of toast may also be dipped in water or milk and browned and slightly broiled on a hot griddle or pan. The recipe for this dish, which is called by various names, is given in the appended recipes under the heading "Egg Toast." It may be used at breakfast, and has the advantage of making the egg "go further" than if used in a separate dish, or it may be served with conchion and sugar syrup, or any sweet sauce for dessert.

As a breakfast food. Another good way of using stale bread, or of treating bread so that it shall not become stale, is to put the pieces in the warming oven or on the back of the stove and leave them until they are crisp and a delicate brown throughout. This is often called "toasted bread" and is very popular with children and also with the grown-ups, who like its "crunchiness" and the flavor which comes with the slight brown. Crumbs may also be used to be commonly served like breakfast cereals in some parts of the country, were made by crushing such toasted bread with a rolling pin.

Crumbs Valuable in Cookery. There is nothing new in the idea of using bread crumbs in cookery, and most housekeepers are in the habit of having some on hand for use in scalloped dishes, stuffing for meat, puddings, etc. Few realize, however, how much more generally they might be utilized. Many commercial bakers use bread crumbs to some extent as a substitute for flour in many sorts of cakes, cookies, puddings, etc. Crumbs may also be used instead of flour and starch for thickening soups and sauces.

Any bit of bread which can not be eaten on the table should be saved and crumbled for use in cooking. Some housekeepers keep two kinds on hand—one, stale crumbs made chiefly from the inside of the loaf and suitable for use in the place of flour; and dried crumbs made from any part of the bread browned a little in a very slow oven and crushed fine to be used in scalloped dishes, for the coating of croquettes or other fried foods or whatever a crumbly texture is needed. To prevent their growing musty, crumbs should be kept in dry airtight containers.

Let Nothing Spoil

Keep Perishable Food Cold

Keep perishables cool, clean, and covered. The moment meat, fish, milk, and eggs are allowed to get warm they begin to spoil. Bacteria and germs multiply rapidly in slightly warm food and very quickly make it dangerous or unfit to eat. Keep perishable foods in the coolest, cleanest place you can provide, preferably in a good refrigerator or ice house, but, at any rate, in covered vessels suspended in the well, or in the coolest clean place in your house or cellar. Do not keep perishable foods in a hot kitchen or pantry or in a sunny place a moment longer than is necessary. Dry cold is better preservative than damp cold.

MRS. H. F. SCHALDACH
Pure Food Editor

Keep Food Covered and Clean

The dust particles in the air carry molds and germs. Meat, fish, and milk are ideal breeding grounds for such germs. Keep your food covered so that these bacteria and germs will have as little chance as possible to get on your food.

House flies—better called "typhoid flies"—are among the dirtiest things that enter our homes. They fly from sewers, privies, and manure heaps carrying filth on their feet, which they deposit on any food on which they alight. Frequently germs of typhoid fever are carried by flies in the filth on their bodies, and in their excrement (flyspecks).

Ordinary cleanliness demands that flies be kept out of our homes and away from our food.

Health protection makes it essential to banish flies. Keep all food covered, or at least screened from these carriers of deadly disease and filth. Destroy flies by every possible means.

Wash Vegetables and Fruits Properly

Don't let fresh vegetables or fruit rot because they are handled carelessly. Keep perishable vegetables in cool, dry, well-aired, and for most vegetables, dark rather than light places.

Learn how to store potatoes, cabbage, root crops, fruits, and other foods so that they will keep properly for later use.

Don't think that any place in the cellar or pantry is good enough to store food. Heat, dampness, poor ventilation, brushing or breaking will rapidly make many vegetables rot, ferment, or spoil. Warmth and light make vegetables sprout, and this lowers their quality.

ed to return Dobruja to Bulgaria if allowed to annex Besarabia in compensation. (Dobruja is the strip of territory lying between the Danube river and the Black sea. It formerly belonged to Bulgaria but was annexed by Roumania after Bulgaria was defeated in the second Balkan war. Besarabia is a province now included in Rumania.) The foregoing information was followed by two highly interesting and significant reports: 1. That the Roumanian cabinet has resigned; 2. That serious dissensions have broken out in the Bolshevik regime at Petrograd over the question of a separate peace between Russia and central powers. It has become apparent that Germany is playing a cunning diplomatic game in the east. First the German envoys concentrated their attention upon the Bolsheviks. When this party struck the Bolsheviks, the Bolsheviks (to the Ukrainians, and the conferences between the Ukrainians and Teubne delegates had proceeded to the point where the Bolsheviks felt that everything was settled, except the formal signing of the treaty. Another deadlock developed and now the Germans are again giving their chief attention to the Roumanians. In the meantime Germany has recognized the independence of Finland and it is believed that a tacit agreement was reached by which Germany promised to guard the interests of the new Finnish republic. The Bolsheviks, German and Austro-Hungarian envoys are back at Brest Litovsk and, according to late advices from the place, the Russian-German negotiations are again under way. Before he left Petrograd Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, made a speech to delegates of the All-Russian congress which contained contradictory declarations. One part of the speech was to the effect that he would consent to the German terms while another depicted Trotsky as supporting the fact that wants a shot was against the central powers unless the Germans renounce their militaristic demands.

WAR RESULT DECIDED WITHIN THE YEAR

plexing matters. The supply of labor in all industries is a matter we must look to and are looking to with diligent care. Relative to price fixing he said: "The impression which prevails in some quarters is that the government has sought to fix the prices of foodstuffs, it has not sought to fix prices which determine the expenses of the farmer as a whole one. As a matter of fact, the government has actively and successfully regulated the prices of many of the fundamental materials underlying all the industries of the country, and has regulated them not only for the purchase of the general public, and I have every reason to believe that the congress will extend the power of the government in this important and even essential, matter so that the tendency to profiteering which is showing itself in too many quarters may be effectively checked. In fixing the prices of foodstuffs the government has sincerely tried to keep the interests of the farmer as much in mind as the interests of the communities which are to be served, but it is serving mankind as well as the farmer and the consumer in these times of war taken in the rigid aspect of duty. "I will not appeal to you to continue and resist the government's efforts. I do not believe that it is necessary to do so. I believe that you will do it without any word of appeal from me, because you understand as well as I do the needs and opportunities of this great hour when the fortunes of mankind everywhere seem to be determined and when America has the greatest opportunity she has ever had to make good her own freedom and in making it good, to lend a helping hand to men struggling for their freedom everywhere. You remember that it was farmers from whom came the first shock at Lexington, that set aflame the Revolution that made America free. I hope and believe that the farmers of America will willingly and conscientiously stand by to win this war also. The toil, the intelligence, the energy, the faith, the self sacrifice and devotion of the farmers of America, will, I believe, bring to a triumphant conclusion this great last war for the emancipation of man from the control of arbitrary government and the selfishness of class legislation and control, and then, when the end has come, we may look each other in the face and be glad that we Americans and have had the privilege to play such a part."

"BIG FIVE" PACKERS METHODS EXPOSED

did business mainly in Wisconsin, now in the hands of a credit committee. These invoices showed that in 1916 and 1917 the Swift company entered the Wisconsin field and sold at prices ranging from 11 @ 12 1/2 cents dressed beef which cost the company 13.21 cents per pound. Mr. Honey told members of the commission that the big packers were willing to sell at a loss for ten years, if necessary to drive an independent firm out of business.

THE HANSEN BRIDGE CONTRACT IN SIGHT

In this respect, the two bodies of commissioners will meet tomorrow afternoon at a new design for the bridge to be submitted, with plans and specifications, by Mr. D. C. Cavanaugh representing the Midland Bridge company. Should the design be approved, they will doubtless form the basis for a new call for proposals to build, which it is hoped may get the project under way without further delay. Only about $80,000 is available, as a maximum for the construction of this bridge; and with existing rate of prices on material, it has doubtless been a trifle difficult to "make ends meet," so to speak.

Bolsheviki Exit Expected Soon

New Form of Government For Russia Thought Likely Very Shortly To Come.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—A new form of government is imminent in Russia. State department and diplomatic representatives here have received cables indicating that the supreme Bolshevik control is about to pass. It is likely that the new government, when formed, will be in the with the so-called "Moderate Socialists" in the majority. The situation, however, is so chaotic that no development, no matter how startling, would surprise officials here. Meanwhile it is not believed here that any of the embassies or legations in Petrograd are in danger despite the admitted growth of lawlessness throughout Russia. The allied

Submarine Killer Has Been Produced

Contracts Let for Large Number of New Ships by the Navy Department of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—A new "submarine killer" has been developed by the navy department. Secretary of the Navy Daniels told the house naval affairs committee this afternoon. Contracts for a great number of the new style of ship have been given to Henry Ford. The vessel is a fabricated ship 200 feet long, equipped with all the latest appliances for submarine warfare. Work has already begun at the Ford plant on the parts of the new vessel, naval constructors have just returned to Washington from Detroit. Secretary Daniels told the committee and are "greatly pleased" with the progress that has already been made.

The parts for the new vessels will be made in Detroit but the vessels themselves will be put together at the sea shore. "The new boat will be not unlike our old destroyers," Secretary Daniels said, "but it will have many features that will make it by far the most efficient vessel of any navy now in existence in the world of submarines. The admirals of other nations have looked over plans and approved them. Some of them probably will let contracts for similar vessels. The new vessel can be turned out very rapidly, Secretary Daniels said and in great numbers. Some vessels of this type being the American type will be in the European war zone "within a very few months."
