

FARM LABOR TO BE CONSIDERED NEXT THURSDAY

FARM BUREAU PRESIDENTS TO TAKE UP SUBJECT AT GOODING

Allred Outlines Tentative Views

Would Make Those Who Refuse to Produce Go on Public Works for the Country or the City—Asks All for Suggestions.

A call has been issued for a meeting of the producing county farm bureaus to meet in Gooding, February 14 to consider the question of farm labor and wages during the coming year. The call is signed by Harvey Allred, director of farm markets, and President W. F. Alworth, state president of the farm bureau organizations.

At a dinner tendered to himself, to Dr. E. H. Lindley and to Deana E. J. Lindley of the state university, February 10 at the Perrine hotel, Mr. Allred outlined his views on the labor question, explaining, however, that they were purely tentative and subject to change and that they were put forth for the purpose of creating discussion and getting the views of others for comparison.

Briefly, these views were as follows: That a census of the state be taken in which every boy and girl between the ages of fifteen or younger and sixty be taken with his occupation, or whether occupied or not. That the state university be organized into several assessors the needs of the farmers of the state regarding hands be ascertained. That a general wage scale be set up for the state, which when unemployed be expected, when to the city where an employment agency has been established to report, being a card, showing the last employed. Should there be any vacancy in his line, he should be transferred. If none his account should be considered valid. Should any person without a license, or common law license, be employed, he should be considered a wage slave. He should be compelled to work for the county or the city on public work.

NORRIS CHARGE ON DENTON IS PROVEN ERROR

BOYS ADMIT OTHERS DISAGREE IN RECOLLECTION

File New Affidavits on Subject

All Others Present Concur in Extending Mr. Denton From Anything Whatever of a Nature Tending Toward Sedition.

State of Idaho, County of Twin Falls.

Lloyd Norris and Ralph North, being duly sworn on oath, say that in regard to the statement of Mr. Denton that farm labor will be scarce this year, as the government is taking the best of our manhood and sending them to France, but when the British capture them, they understand that they understood these remarks to refer to the American soldiers, but Mr. Denton and others present, including the writer, were present when the remark was made in regard to the I. W. W. and other floating labor element which had been spoken of before.

LLOYD E. NORRIS, Subscribing sworn before me this 9th day of February, 1918.

Justice of the Peace, Twin Falls Precinct, Twin Falls County, Idaho.

The above affidavit was sworn to as indicated by the two boys previous affidavits were made the basis of a charge contained in an alleged newspaper last week, and which were mentioned in the Sunday edition of THE TIMES along with a statement signed by C. F. Terhune, reading as follows:

WINDY GLEN RANCH C. F. Terhune, Owner.

To Whom It May Concern: I am referring to a conversation said to have taken place at my ranch, seemingly made the subject of an article printed in the "Times" of Feb. 10, the reporter seemingly has been misquoted so as to make it appear as a slur on our best manhood now going to Europe to support our struggle for world liberty. In the first place had a slur been offered I would have at once challenged the remark, as printed in the "Times" of Feb. 10, the reporter seemingly has been misquoted so as to make it appear as a slur on our best manhood now going to Europe to support our struggle for world liberty. ### FILE TO FILE PETITION FOR SEPARATE DIST.

MID COUNTY MEN WANT GOOD ROADS ON OWN BEHALF

Takes in Magnificent Country

Map Being Drawn by County Surveyor J. A. Bybee, for the New Thoroughfare Division—Names Are Secured.

File started the road advocates and surprised the natives of Twin Falls yesterday, when a delegation from that city announced that a petition had been drawn up by the county and enough names secured to petition to comply with the law, asking for the creation of a new separate district of which the "Fair" County City would be the center. The committee lost no time and at once made arrangements with County Surveyor James A. Bybee for the drawing of the map, after which it will be filed with the county auditor for consideration by the board of county commissioners.

The new district includes a magnificent block of territory extending from the half-section line this side of Curry to the Bull highway district, and from the Snake river to the section line a mile north of Berger. It takes in a great deal of the best land of the Salmon tract as well as some of the finest territory of the Twin Falls tract, and comes within three miles of the city limits of Twin Falls.

The action taken by the file has led to considerable speculation here. Some favor the creation of a new district including all the salt and, including the rest of the Salmon tract, of the well as the property of the district. Others favor, taking in the balance of the county in a separate district. Still others say they will wait the production of evidence as to what should be done. The map will probably be filed with the county auditor, which case it will be filed with the petition.

PAN-GERMANS ON WILSON AGAIN AGGRESSIVE IN LAND OF KAISER

SAY THEY ARE FIGHTING FOR MASTERY OF THE UNIVERSE

Emperor's Belligerent Message Stirs

Washington Expects the Wilson Speech to Have Effect in Austria When It Finally Gets to the People There.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Russia's armies will not be completely demoralized but some of the year's first articles in the "Kaiser" under arms to guard the frontiers, said a wireless dispatch from Petrograd today.

The dispatch gave official confirmation to the news from Brest Litovsk that a decree of demobilization had been issued by the Bolshevik government. It added that the Bolsheviks have formally declared the peace negotiations with the central powers ended.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Since the militarists have secured control of the German government's peace policy, pan-Germans have become bolder than ever before in their declarations that Germany is waging a war of aggression. All this is in line with the belligerent message of the Kaiser to Hamburg last night.

Dr. Julius Vogel, of the Kaiser's court, in an article in the "Kaiser" of Berlin, admits with the utmost frankness that Germany has been fighting for "the mastery of the universe."

A copy of the paper containing the article, which has just been received here, says:

"I am sure all are aware that the object for which the great war is waged is not Alsace-Lorraine nor Belgium, nor even the freedom of the seas. What is being fought for is the mastery of the world."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—America's interest was centered on Vienna today. Upon the reception of the Austrian people of President Wilson's note, the Austrian people's peace attitude, much depends.

There is no question that Austria-Hungary is war-weary. She has fought since November, and December 1st, a careful examination of the lands of this tract. This segregation has a length north and south of twenty-one miles and a maximum width of the north or lower side of about the same distance and contains lands of eleven different townships with all-

Packers Appeal to the Circuit Court

Get Stay Until the Constitutionality Of Judge Landis' Ruling Is Tested—Given Feb. 23.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—The federal trade commission's investigation into the activities of Chicago packers received a sudden check today, a United States circuit court of appeals, Judge Francis E. Baker of the half-section line of the court must sit in the case and gave Veeber and his counsel until February 23 to file their briefs.

Religious Scruple Plea Is Overruled

United States Judge Refused to Express His Objections to Oppose War.

DEVER, Colo., Feb. 12.—Religious scruples cannot be an excuse for draft evasion in the United States courts of Colorado. So held Judge R. T. Levin in the case of Ben Salmon, Denver attorney arrested as a slacker. Judge Levin overruled the Salmon religious scruple plea, which was a Catholic, who was expelled from the Knights of Columbus because of his attitude on the draft law. The United States law makes provision for conscientious objectors who belonged before the war to a religious organization, teaching that warfare participation is wrong, but as the Catholic church teaches it to be a religious duty to claim for country, no Catholic can claim exemption on that ground.

WILSON AGAIN DEFINES THE U. S. ATTITUDE

ADDRESSES CONGRESS IN REPLY TO PREMIERS OF CENTRAL POWERS

Austria's Position Is Treated Kindly

Hertling Told Plainly That America Will See to It That Sound International Principles Are Prominently Won.

HIGH SPOTS IN THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

She (The United States) cannot see her way to peace until the causes of the war are removed, its removal rendered as nearly as possible.

We entered the war upon no special occasion and we can never turn back from a course chosen upon principle.

Our resources are in part mobilized now and we shall not pause until they are realized in their entirety.

Our armies are rapidly going to the fighting front, and will go more and more.

Our whole strength will be put into this war of emancipation from the threat and the misery of selfish groups of autocratic rulers.

The power of the United States is a menace to no nation or people. It springs out of freedom and it is for the service of freedom.

John Edwin Nevins (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Holding in his hand an olive branch for Austria-Hungary, but emphatically reiterating that the United States will turn back but will put its whole strength into the war of emancipation from the threat and the misery of selfish groups of autocratic rulers.

President Wilson today answered in plain terse words, to the latest peace proposals, and Germany as ordered by Count Czernin and Count Hertling.

To a hastily summoned joint session of the House and Senate, he more specifically repudiated all suggestions.

Noted Leader Goes to Rest

James W. Tanner, Famous Editor and Democratic Chieftain Dies After — Funeral Thursday Afternoon.

James W. Tanner, editor of the Pioneer Journal, a pioneer booster for the Twin Falls tract and one of the best known Democrats in the state, died yesterday morning after a long illness due to Bright's disease and hardening of the arteries. He was 72 years of age. The funeral will be held at Pioneer Thursday at 2:30 p. m. and conducted by the First National Bank.

First National Bank Bldg. Nearly Finished

Modernizing of The Structure Will Be Completed Early Next Month by Contractors.

The work of modernizing and enlarging the banking room of the First National bank on the corner of Johnson and Main streets is rapidly approaching completion. To the casual observer the work seems to be practically finished, but a closer inspection reveals the fact that the interior is still an active center of industry. There are carpenters, plasterers, plumbers, painters, marble setters, tile layers, machinists—men of many trades necessary for the completion of the bank building. The work is being done by the First National bank soon will have splendid, new, modern banking quarters.

The activities on the inside of the building go on with little interruption, with the exception of inclement weather.

Twin Falls is due to wake up one of these days in the near future to the fact that it has a bank building in a commodious banking room which will accommodate the increasing business which made these changes necessary.

R. M. Barnett, superintendent of construction for Hoggson's brothers, the builders, says that the building is a commodious banking room which will accommodate the increasing business which made these changes necessary.

AFFINITY BETWEEN MOODS

Author John Synge's Declarations Regarding Temperament of Peasants of the West of Ireland.

There is a significant phrase in one of John Synge's books, says the Medical Times. Speaking of the spirituality and wildness of the peasants of the west of Ireland, he remarks:

"There is an affinity between the moods of those people and the moods of varying rapture and dismay that are frequent in artists and in certain forms of alienation." These peasants, descendants of an ancient bard that were chased to the West, are said to be born poets. Synge noted in them the quick changes from gloominess to gaiety, and saw the relation of those changes and the Celtic dreaminess to the genius that has shown itself among these people.

Especially acute was his realization that such traits bear some relation to the manic-depressive insanity, though he did not understand that the genius is not insane but specially predisposed to insanity because of his delicately organized nervous system. When the genius becomes clinically insane the cause, therefore, to be a creative artist. All the confusion about genius and insanity is unnecessary if these simple facts be kept in mind.

Hon. James H. Hawley, former governor of Idaho, whose sound legal knowledge, business ability and acknowledged integrity are well known to all the people of the intermountain states, was one of the early subscribers to the capital stock of the BEET GROWERS SUGAR COMPANY. A short time after the incorporation of the company, Mr. Hawley was made both president and director. In accepting the presidency of the company, Mr. Hawley said: "When the gentlemen who organized the BEET GROWERS SUGAR COMPANY first approached me in regard to becoming associated with them, I asked for a little time to consider the matter and make some investigations which I thought proper. After considering the matter carefully, I found that the enterprise was founded on a sound financial footing and that its affairs will be fairly and honestly conducted; and that the success of the corporation is assured. I was aware of the fact that in the Rigby district all the necessary attributes existed for the raising of beets such as climate, soil and water, and that the farmers are beet growers of long experience. I also knew there was a world shortage of sugar, and on account of the European war having caused so much ruin and desolation in the sugar beet growing lands of France, Belgium and Russia, the United States would be called upon to supply the world with sugar for many years to come. I regarded it as my patriotic duty to my country to accept the presidency of this company and use my best endeavors to make this company a success and increase the food supply in whatever way I can. I am proud to say and consider it a great honor to be the president of such a corporation as the BEET GROWERS SUGAR COMPANY."

At the same time Senator George E. Hill, a successful business man of Rigby, Idaho, was elected treasurer. Senator Hill has lived at Rigby ever since the district was a wilderness of sagebrush and has been a leader in the development of Rigby district into what is now the largest body of well irrigated farms under cultivation in America.

With ex-Governor Hawley and Senator Hill as members of the Board of Directors of this corporation, together with the active assistance and united efforts of those who have the enterprise in charge, its success is a certainty.

There are under operation in the United States 98 beet-sugar factories which, it is hoped, will produce during the 1917-18 manufacturing campaign about 1,000,000 tons of refined sugar, which would be about 25 per cent more than any previous campaign. The normal consumption of sugar in the United States is now 4 1/2 million tons annually. We need 400 more beet-sugar factories today to supply home consumption. This is evidence that there is room and need for more sugar factories.

Rigby, Idaho, is the center of probably the largest body of well irrigated lands under cultivation in America, and a splendid proven beet growing district. The Company has beet contracts for over 6000 acres at and contiguous to Rigby for the years 1918 to 1924, inclusive. Seven years.

Mr. A. P. Coöper, Consulting Engineer, who has built and operated successful sugar factories all over the United States the past twenty years for the leading sugar companies, will build and operate the Rigby factory.

Income Tax Man Gets Fine Results People Show a Willing Spirit and A Large Number Of Returns Made.

After working in this city since January 24, R. H. Argubright, deputy collector of the federal income tax, is entering upon his last week in Twin Falls, after which he will locate at Buhl from February 19 to March 1. He reports an excellent response by the income taxpayers residing in Twin Falls and vicinity but estimates that scores of persons liable for a return of their annual income before March 1, 1918, have not yet given attention to the matter.

The federal government has estimated that 1,650 persons living in Twin Falls county are subject to payment of tax on their income for 1917. More than 800 residents of Twin Falls and territory immediately tributary to this city have reported on their 1917 income, paying the tax on their income for 1917.

"Few localities and perhaps no other county of the state will contribute a greater net amount of 1917 income tax than Twin Falls and the tributary territory," said Deputy Collector Argubright today. "A vast majority of the taxpayers who have been before me up to this time have paid their 1917 income tax with a spirit which indicates that they are heartily in favor of the federal income tax program against inflation."

New Order on Flour Buying in Effect

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 11. Lawrence Hanson, County Chairman U. S. Food Com. In compliance with President's proclamation of July 27, the Idaho Food administration rules... No retailer shall sell flour to exceed one quarter barrel sack to any one customer in city, nor to exceed one half barrel to country customers.

will find his answer, strange as it may seem, together with his explanation and details of the products of the process, entirely convincing. "Dehydrating" is what the process is called—which is simply a somewhat scientific way of saying that it is a process of extracting from the fruit or the vegetable treated all the water with which nature supplied it—very little, bit of it. The process is said to be as simple as it is wonderful; and the possibilities for saving waste crops or cutting transportation cost and for very largely benefiting any community that can and does have abundant yield from the garden, the field and the orchard, can be seen and realized at a glance. The prospectus says: "Our Dehydrators are in every day commercial use and are a demonstrated success and we guarantee them to be all we claim for them. Their use gives the grower extra money for their by-products which had been lost to them previously. It enhances the value of their land by reason of the increased revenue derived from it. It gives employment to the local people, particularly women. It reduces the cost of living. It is truly a perfect food product and has never been equaled by any product called 'dried' for its natural taste, flavor or color, and it has a very clean and bright appearance.

"It is an entirely new system of drying green fruits and vegetables and other products by simple methods heretofore unused and has advantages that absolutely revolutionize the economy of the farm and orchard." A number of our business men have become greatly interested in the new method as one especially needed on this tract, and Mr. Denton offered to bring a suit of the dehydrating machine and set it up right here in order that assurance as to its practicability may be made doubly sure. That this would be done seemed quite probable. The plant at Walla Walla is the only one at present in the west, and it only began operation in October last—a statement certified by a public accountant showing a net profit of $2,107.74 in October and November, 1917, but $3,225.49 expended for labor and material.

NOIRIS CHANGE ON IS PROVEN ERROR

(Continued from page one) boys say that their recollection was that Mr. Denton made these remarks, but as the others recall it differently, they may have been mistaken. Mr. Denton says that he believes the first affidavits have resulted from a confused and faulty recollection of the boys and not to any deliberate and malicious intent on their part to injure him.

RAILROAD BILL ATTACKED IN THE SENATE

CUMMINGS BACKED BY PROGRESSIVES ASSAIL THE MEASURE Amendment Placates Some Republicans

Congress Quite Cussing Administration Work and Decides to Do a Little Work Itself—McAdoo Bill Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Senate progressives of both parties rallied today to the support of the administration bill, against the Cummins-Cummings railroad bill. Almost to a man, they endorsed Senator Cummins' amendment which he declared will have the American people from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 a year in guarantees to the railroads.

The supporters of the Cummins program were able to clear that they are heartily in accord with the main purpose of the bill. They believe the measure will be entirely justified in taking over the railroads. Senator Cummings contends that it is grossly unfair to the public to compensate the railroads upon the basis of their average earnings for 1915, 1916, and 1917. On this basis the government will guarantee an annual return of approximately $90,000,000 to the railroads. He would give them a return based upon their earnings for last year.

Republican opposition to the railroad bill has been to a large extent pacified by the amendment, voted to the bill against the administration's wish, fixing a definite limit on the government operation of the roads. Secretary McAdoo's war finance program, called "The Government's Unsound" before the senate commerce committee.

Under his present form this corporation would have no real object. Under the proposed amendment, Senator Lodge declared.

"That depends upon the common sense of those who are running the railroad," answered Senator Williams of Mississippi. Long debate then followed. The senate fight over America's share of the world's water power is earnest again this week. Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, an administration leader, gave notice today that he will introduce the resolution on Thursday on "America and her national defense."

The "A" canal waters and upper portion of the tract, land owned by the Rogerson and Amsterdam, while the main canal takes a northerly course from the reservoir and near Hollister divided into two branches. One No. 1 canal and the west branch being No. 2 canal, and it is the latter to which Commissioner Tallman refers as the west canal. The commission's investigation will quickly convince one that here on the west side under the No. 2 canal would be the first lands to be cut out. The character of the land, lack of settlement, long distance, seepage and evaporation makes the operation of this canal uneconomical to the land owners.

square deal and certainly that much is their due. Guided by recommendations of the state engineer and those of your board, I selected a temporary list of lands and finished my first examination on December 23. On the 16th of January 1918, Mr. C. W. Wells, Carey land agent of the interior department, joined me and we went again over the entire tract. Mr. Wells having had long and varied experience in land matters, and the fact that I had preceded him for several weeks on this tract, made the last examination quite thorough indeed, and I therefore, do not hesitate to recommend the list attached to this report as Carey land to which patent should issue. In the economy of things, I found at times that it was necessary to exclude good land with fair improvements and lands perhaps poorer lands with less improvements were included—but in making such selections, I had in mind the elimination of lands, but the proximity of main canals, railroad, towns, schools, etc., also the solidarity of land to be retained, soil condition, rock, and both water and air drainage. You will note on the accompanying map that the upper Snake river lands for countless years, the up river winds have carried across the soil from west slopes, south slopes and southwest slopes to the east side slopes leaving soil and exposed rocks on the former and deep soil on the latter. This is one reason, and the fact that considerable land of the segregation lies above gravity waters is another, why the tract appears so spotted. Since the actual irrigable acres are to be counted as part of the 35,000, the much herein adopted brings a much larger acreage to extent and at the same time the best land only is watered. Mr. Wells was in full accord and in my judgment this will be better for the parties concerned. It is not alone the elimination of a few thousand acres that counts but the fact that we retain a system eight miles of ditch besides other laterals with 48.45 miles of laterals or in all 77.3 miles of ditch besides other laterals have been shortened. If this tract can be fixed on lines herein indicated, there is no reason why it should be sold. It is expected here to be a good place to live and to prosper. Respectfully submitted, C. W. WHIPPEN. PAN-GERMANS ON AGGRESSIVE IN-THE-LAND OF KATBER (Continued from page one) It Austria so desired. The next move, therefore, must be made by the dual empire. Austria must decide whether the demands and desire for peace at home is great enough to defy the German military control. It is expected here that there can be no compromise, at least under present conditions, between the United States and the present German imperial government. The Kaiser's belated message to the burgomaster of Hamburg, cabled last night in which he said: "He who will not accept peace... must be forced to accept peace," is accepted as a proper definition of the present German position. And everyone who has analyzed the president's address of yesterday, taken in connection with his war aims speech of a month ago, realizes that the United States will never be a party to any conference which have for their object a made-in-Germany peace.
