PACKERS ARE CHARGED WITH UNFAIR METHODS

WOULD INFLUENCE PRESS OF COUNTRY DECLARES HENRY

Alleges Lobbyists Were Hired

Labor Leader Avers That Associated Press Garbled News in the Interest of the Great Packing Concerns.

CHICAGO, March 4.—Attorney Francis J. Henry, conducting the federal trade commission investigation of the packing industry today declared the packers had a well organized and financed system of spreading propaganda to "educate the public and prevent prosecution through editorials in newspapers." Henry read more of his letters to prove this and also that packers got inside information from paid lobbyists in Washington.

He submitted letters from several editors who said they had received editorials in Chicago. Henry showed a letter he said was from Armour & company to John C. Shaffer in editorial on "Irony" in the Chicago Evening Post.

Henry also charged that a Mr. Livingston, vice president of a Washington bank and director of the Washington Post said that he, Livingston, could get anything in or keep anything out of that paper.

Henry further declared that when the packers were frightened at the Borah investigation they decided to triple the money for publicity. This campaign was to be in charge of one man though the packers were to prepare their "copy" individually.

Henry said that "educational" work had been started too late.

He mentioned several scribbles of the packers wage arbitration proceedings here is charged against the Associated Press.

Henry said that "educational" work had been started too late.

The telegram follows: "Chicago, Ill. February 25, 1918. Melville E. Stone, "Associated Press of America."

New York City. "The Associated Press in its report of the packers' strike in Chicago is running true to form. You are suppressing the avalanche of hideous facts which show the injustice practiced against the packers."

"You are printing and distorting your accounts of the packers' interests of packers and to help keep a hundred thousand struggling humans in a condition of abject slavery, while means are devised for the men, women and children."

"The local owners accounts are exposing your gross dishonesty in not knowing the people of Chicago appreciate what you are doing. Mr. Frank P. Walsh is counsel for the laborers and can verify my statements."

"President Chicago Federation of Labor."

HONORING MEN GOING TO DEFEND LIBERTY

The above is a picture taken at the corner of Shoshone street and Main avenue Friday evening when thousands of citizens gathered to follow the lead of the Twin Falls Cornet Band, the G. A. R., the B. P. O. E. and the high school students in escorting forty-two young men to the depot on their departure to serve their country. These immense popular demonstrations are now regular features of such occasions in Twin Falls.

RUMORS OF TREATY WITH JAPAN AND U. S. OVER SIBERIA DENIED

Senator Lewis Declares Our Hands Are Free From Any Alliance That Will Permit Violation in Our Names by Any Foreign Peoples of Democratic Principles—Japan Proceeds Under Treaty With Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, the Democratic whip, informed the senate this afternoon that no compact or understanding of any nature has been entered into by the United States with Japan regarding Siberia.

He denied with emphasis that reports that negotiations were pending to allow Japan a free hand in the Philippines and a naval base on the Mexican west coast in return for her services in Russia.

"Whatever Japan is doing in relation to the war is in pursuit of her compact with Great Britain," said Senator Lewis.

Senator Lewis said he had received numerous telegrams today largely from the Pacific coast regarding the far eastern situation.

"They disclose," he said, "a scare and fright influenced by statements coming from the east charging in effect that the United States has some alliance with Japan directing Japan to take Siberia without our hindrance in turn for Japan protecting us in the Philippines and opposing the German-Russian advance upon our trade and possessions in the orient. Also that in turn for such services the Japanese are to be allowed free hands in the Philippines, free citizenship in America and to take naval base and other landed possessions in Mexico."

"From my place I wish to reply to all of these fears that there is no alliance between United States and Japan of any kind whatever. There is no compact between the United States and Japan of any nature whatsoever contracting on our part as to Siberia or Russia, nor allowing privileges in Philippines or Mexico that are not enjoyed by any other friendly people."

"Whatever Japan is doing in relation to the war is in pursuit of her alliance or compact with Great Britain. Whatever Japan is doing in Siberia or as against Germany is in compliance with the terms of an arrangement, offensive and defensive, made with Britain to oppose any wrongful advance from any source in the east against the rights of either."

"Japan is not in the war at the demand of the United States and Japan in no wise exacts anything now or does she expect anything in the future from the United States as a result of any alliance made or contemplated to be made between this country and Japan. The status as to Japanese and orientals entering into the United States is fixed by a treaty well understood between the United States and Japan called a gentleman's agreement and which neither nation has assumed to change upon any condition of the war."

"The United States under President Wilson will keep true to its policy of fighting for the principles of democracy. It will make no alliance or permit in its name any conduct from any foreign people anywhere that will violate the protection of the people of the United States or repeal the established policies of America necessary for the safeguarding of the American citizen and the due protection of the institutions of the American republic."

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, asked Senator Lewis upon what authority he spoke. Senator Lewis answered that he spoke upon his own authority and his personal knowledge of the situation. Senator Brandegee declared he did not want the impression to go forth to the world that Senator Lewis was voicing the sentiment of all senators.

Senator Hiram Johnson of California, took a hand in the discussion.

"The matter which has just been brought up is of the utmost importance to my state," he said. "I do not wish to discuss it at all but like the senator from Connecticut neither do I wish by mere silence to subscribe to what has been said nor to any matters now of public rumor concerning possible alliances or compacts with Japan."

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The state department was without any additional reports from Russia today and had been unable to secure any details of the reported destruction of bridges along the lines of the Siberian railway. A brief dispatch from Consul Summers at Moscow, reported the arrival there of a number of Y. M. C. A. workers from Kiev. Another cable from Tchernovitz said that the Russian cabinet had resigned, but officials said this was of no political significance.

NIGHTMARE OF BLOODSHED HOVERS OVER THE LAND OF THE MOSCOVITES

German Military Authorities Will Suppress Disorder in Seized Districts With Ruthless Hand—Romania Renews Armistice on Terms Dictated by Central Powers—Paris Dispatch Indicates That Hindenburg Army Is Smaller Than Anticipated and That Death, Wounds and Sickness Have Thinned German Ranks.

COPENHAGEN, March 5.—The German military authorities have decided upon drastic measures to put down disorder in the districts of Russia that they have seized, it was reported today. A nightmare of bloodshed is in prospect.

Advices from Petrograd said that the Jussso-German treaty had not been ratified, but that this formal action would be forthcoming either late this week or early next.

The Russian and anarchist prevailing at Petrograd and elsewhere have led to reports that a part of the army would refuse to recognize the treaty and would continue to fight the Germans. This would be a difficult undertaking, if the treaty is ratified by the soviets, because they represent practically all the units of the Russian army.

The congress of councils of workmen's and soldiers' delegates of all Russia is scheduled to convene next Tuesday at Moscow, when a stormy session is in prospect. The Moscow committee which previously opposed peace with the central powers and was in favor of a "Holy war" against the Germans, is now understood to have become willing to accept the German terms, as humiliating as they are.

The German troops were within eighty-five miles of Petrograd Sunday when the Bolshevik leaders became alarmed and signed the treaty yielding to all the German demands.

GENOVA, March 5.—The German war office announcement, that the armistice on the Roumanian front has been renewed "on terms dictated by the central powers," is expected to be followed by a resumption of peace negotiations according to information received from the Austrian frontier today there are high expectations in both Germany and Austria that the month will be forced to accept any terms.

London Uncertain as to How Far Japan Has Gone—Washington Expects a Movement Shortly.

LONDON, March 5.—Japanese troops already may be on their way to Siberia to protect the interests of the allies.

Tokio dispatch to the Daily Mail, said that it had been deemed by the ambassadors of England, France and Italy to ask the Japanese government not later than Tuesday to take the necessary steps to safeguard allied interests in the far east.

Just what part China will take, it is not clear. Chinese troops already hold strategic places in Manchuria, particularly at Harbin, where the inter-Siberian railway branches, one line going to Vladivostok and the other into China.

It has been reported in press dispatches that Chinese troops may be sent into Russia, although there has been no word of diplomatic action in Peking.

It is believed possible that Chinese troops may be concentrating on the Russian frontier as reports have been received of widespread lawlessness by Russian bandits along the border.

Towns have been looted by the Russians and there have been indications that the Japanese have already invaded Chinese territory in their predatory raids.

The extent of Japanese penetration has not been stated. It is supposed that the trans-Siberian railway district will be policed far into the interior and that warships will be held in the Vladivostok harbor.

According to late reports pillaging is on the increase in Siberia.

John Edwin Negus, (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Japan probably will limit her intentions regarding Siberia to become known during the next 24 hours. It is supposed that the Japanese ambassadors here have asked the Russian government to protect allied interests in all Siberia. That the Russian government will agree to be dictated by the Japanese is not clear. It is understood here that when Japan acts she will go so far as to take the Vladivostok harbor.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The statement that the British frigates toward the Russian frontier in Siberia was still undetermined at the close of this afternoon's cabinet meeting. Cabinet members were very anxious to see the Russian government's approval of Japanese penetration into Siberia to check the Russian government's intentions. It was reported that the Russian government had agreed to the Japanese proposal.

Baker Says Hard Fighting Coming Soon

Secretary of War Looks for Big Contest on the Western Front Before Much Time Has Elapsed — Is Also Confident.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—"We are in this thing and we are going to win. In saying that, I do not underestimate the strength of the German military machine. It is powerful, very powerful. Notwithstanding that, we are going to win."

These were the big, outstanding, confident declarations made Monday by Major General Peyton C. March, the new chief of the U. S. staff. He formally assumed command of the office as successor to General Tasker H. Bliss, now on duty with the supreme command at Versailles, and took a few minutes from his series of conferences to pay tribute to the American soldier and his allied comrades.

"Conditions abroad are great," he continued. "Just before I came back to this country I had a talk with the British chief of staff, Lord Curzon, at the base. Their morale is splendid. Their spirit is wonderful. They are magnificent soldiers and they are fighting for the right cause."

"That is the spirit of our army," he said. "The momentum of battle is increasing in the western theater of war. Secretary of War Baker declared in his weekly review of the war made public yesterday.

He warns in plain language that the quiet conditions of the past three months have come to their end. Here are some of his salient utterances: "During three months both belligerent groups have been massing their forces."

"The allied war council is now in continuous session, assuring complete unity of flexibility of control. Here are some of his salient utterances: "During three months both belligerent groups have been massing their forces."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CONVENTION SUCCESS

All Congregations Represented—Patriotism Manifested at Every Meeting of Delegates

The time for the East district convention of the Churches of Christ is past. The convention was held and was voted by the present, which included nearly fifty delegates, as a huge success. Every member and number on the program was in place and in time.

The following is a report by the secretary and the local committees.

The members of the church furnished beds and breakfast to every delegate and the ladies of the church furnished basket dinners on Tuesday and Wednesday, so that none were permitted to go home hungry.

There were several able speakers, among whom were Cliff K. Titus of Rupert, Howard C. Wilson of Pocatello; A. M. Walker of Hansen, W. E. Harman of Twin Falls, A. J. Adams of Burley, K. H. Jones of Pocatello, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Evans of Idaho Falls. The local minister also gave a fine talk on Christian Endeavor work.

Every one of the forty-five out-of-town delegates expressed themselves as being well pleased with the hospitality of the Kimberly homes.

The committees should also like to take this opportunity to express its appreciation to the people who so generously opened their homes and their hearts and thus made this convention distinctly worth while.

Even the C. E. sessions, which were chaired and Cliff K. Titus was secretary.

There were representatives from every church in the district, which includes Burley, Twin Falls, Jerome, Burley, Rupert, Pocatello, and Idaho Falls.

A stirring note of patriotism was sounded in every session and all in attendance were reminded of the sacredness of the church in this critical time.

V. G. Backman of Kimberly led one of the devotional meetings and decorated the Christian Endeavor altar, which was a challenge to the young people of today to meet the problems arising out of the war.

The officers of the 1918 convention, which will be held in Pocatello, are: Chairman, Cliff K. Titus of Burley; Vice-Chairman, Howard C. Wilson of Pocatello; Secretary, A. J. In his message in the interest is centered on the state convention to be held in Rupert next June.

WHAT WILL THEY DO!
(Editorial by V. G. Backman)

Our attention is called to the resolutions of the American Business Men, warning Germany of a trade war in case certain conditions of peace are not met by the German government after the war is over. Reasons for such a resolution as follows below are absolutely justifiable, as we can readily ascertain by the contents. And the fact that out of 1368 votes cast, 1294 were in favor of the program adopted, evidences considerable reason for such a measure. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the size of Germany's present armament and her militaristic attitude have been due to a fear of the United States in a military armament, not responsible to the German people; and

"Whereas, the size of the German armament and the war will be the measure of the greatness of the armament forced on all nations; and

"Whereas, careful analysis of economic conditions shows that the size of Germany's future armament will fundamentally depend on her after-war trade; and

"Whereas, in our opinion, the American people for the purpose of preventing an excessive armament, will naturally enter an economic combination against Germany, if Germany should be in a position to make it necessary for self-defense; and

"Whereas, we believe the American people will not join in discrimination against Germany in the event of the danger of excessive armament has been removed by the fact that the German government has in reality become a responsible instrument controlled by the German people; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America earnestly calls the attention of the business men of Germany to the conditions under which they are to study this situation and to co-operate to the end that a "peace" may be made more certain.

The effect of this message, when it shall have been ratified and delivered, will be to bring about a change in their attitude to the war at the present will be one of two alternatives:

First: It will either cause them to take action in favor of a more democratic system of government, and a smaller armament.

Second: It will persuade them to expend every energy, and amount of money possible to the end that Germany should be in a position to meet her own terms of peace, and thus provide a means for maintaining a large armament and for deterring the commercial enterprises and relations of the world.

If the former alternative is accepted by the German people, many things may be expected. But we are most assured that it will not be to the detriment of either Germany or the rest of the world. If the former alternative is accepted we may expect a gradual, growing sentiment for peace in Germany, and a turn in the tide of the business enterprises of Germany began to talk disarmament, amper standing armies, and a general change in the policy of the German people. We may justly suppose that the German people and the Kaiser will begin to up and notice. Without the support of capital and trade, warfare could not exist. Warfare in Germany cannot exist if her business men begin to refuse to agree to withhold their means to the end that their desires might be met with.

But, if on the other hand the second alternative is chosen, only genuine calamitous disaster awaits Germany. Should Germany's business men choose to expend every available energy and the resources to the end that Germany might win the war, and that her standards might be upheld, she must prepare to suffer both internally and externally.

First: With her present standards of morality and her present conceptions of the nature of the individual to the state, and of the exalted place of the superman (so-called) only calamity can come when those standards and conceptions are consummated in victory. When the world is conquered Germany's next step will be to enslave the world, and that it will remain conquered, and once having tasted of freedom, only death or absolute inability to defend oneself can bind him in slavery. If he enslaves his people and her business must suffer from the tyranny they now so bitterly oppose.

Second: Even if she does not win, and if course she will not, for she cannot, to have expended all her resources, and her life and the energy of her people will in the end be mightily disastrous. It can mean but one thing and that the utter ruin of her people and her institutions, and their final submergence into the life and generalty of the world at large, as was the case of the Jews in ages past.

Third: So much for internal calamity. Germany must also suffer internally if she chooses to ignore the demand of the rest of the world for democracy and peace. She will become the slave of the earth. Commercially an industrial nation that does not have the confidence and patronage of the world. Morally and diplomatically she will be the earth's outcast. Either she will be entirely forgotten, if she fails upon receiving an autocratic and irresponsible, militarist government, or she will forever be held in doubt as to whether she is to be dominated and free world, to rule or to be ruled in the dull light of her own egotism, while the world speeds on in triumph to greater heights of art, business, industry, government and religion. Our lamentations for Germany will be much like those of the Master Teacher for Jerusalem, when Germany shall have rejected every opportunity for life and peace, to her own death and destruction.

"If thou hadst, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which be lacking unto thee, how they are hid from thine eyes. For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee around, and keep thee in on every side, and shall lay siege to thee and they shall not leave thee one stone upon another, because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation."

Of course, Germany must suffer the worst, for—we can expect her to choose the alternative to carry on this war to the bitter end, and the consequences which must come out of it.

Kimberly High Wins in Fast Ball Game

Jerome Boys Lose—Outclassed and Out-Weighted by Home Team—Girls Lose to Visitors

An unusually large crowd of rooters and basket ball enthusiasts gathered in the gymnasium of the local high school last Wednesday night and watched the battle between Jerome and Kimberly.

The evening opened with the girls' team in the floor. The local team fought hard but was in some measure outclassed and outweighted by the visitors, with the result that they closed the game with a score of eight to four in favor of Jerome. During the game, Miss Dunn was injured, having strained her wrist. She was obliged to retire. Following the girls' contest the boys game commenced. From the outset Kimberly set a pace her visitors could not follow. The game was unusually interesting because of the enthusiasm of the rooters, a goodly number of which had come over with the team from Jerome, and also because of many humorous incidents which were continually occurring. Many were the laughs afforded by the maneuvers of Jim Thompson, Kimberly's heavy weight and his little, dark haired guard. If over a man showed grit, Jim Thompson's guard spoke well for himself. Outclassed in weight, if not efficiency, and in strength, if not fearlessness, this Jerome lad battled heroically against his Gollath. Once he went "over the top." In this wise it occurred, Jim stooped over to pick up the ball and our David hit him so hard that he literally bounced over him. Jim did not flinch. One would have thought a fly kicked him. But regardless of the formidableness of his opposition, the Jerome lad, throughout the game continued to fight unrelentingly, much to the admiration of all. Kimberly's team this year has been fortunate in weight, and unusual ability. Its representatives were real basket ball players and men who know the game. Its record for this year specifies cleanliness, gameness and excellence, and we are proud of them. The Jerome game closed with a score of fifty-eight to eleven.

TWIN FALLS CORNET BAND INSTEAD OF SCHOOL BAND

Through mistake the words "High School band" appeared in the writing of the departure in the boys, instead of the words "Twin Falls Cornet band" in the Sunday Times. The band is donating its services to the promotion of citizenship and patriotism among the people, and to help "make the world safe for democracy." The band has used the proceeds of its recent patriotic dance for tobacco and cigarettes for the boys. Eight hundred and forty packs of tobacco and 4000 cigarettes have been forwarded to Captain E. W. McRoberts and is contemplated making the dance a regular affair on the second Monday of each month.

LARGE FOOD CROP SANTA FE N. M., March 6—With abundant moisture assured as a result of recent heavy snows throughout New Mexico, Governor W. E. Lindor has issued a "word" to the people of the State urging them to exert every effort to secure an unprecedented food crop for 1918.

The Governor urged co-operation on the part of County Defense Councils in giving every assistance possible to the farmers in so far that they may accomplish a great and everlasting service to the agricultural interests of New Mexico.

Certain-teed Roofing

From every standpoint of service and cost—Certain-teed has proved its claim—"The best type of roof for most buildings, and the best quality roofing of its type".

Certain-teed has made good all over the world under all conditions—as proved by its enormous sale. It has become the standard roof for buildings of all types and sizes—for factories, round houses, elevators, garages, warehouses, hotels, farm buildings, stores, out-buildings, etc. Its economy is three-fold—first cost moderate, laying cost low, up-keep practically nothing. Its efficiency embraces every important roofing quality—weather proof, spark proof, rust and rot proof, clean and sanitary, and very durable. Certain-teed is not affected by acids, fumes or smoke, and does not melt under the hottest sun.

It pays to get Certain-teed because it costs no more to lay than ordinary roll roofing, and lasts much longer. Certain-teed Products Corporation, manufacturers of Certain-teed Patent Varnishes-Roofing Oil-tins and Warehouses in Principal Cities of America.

The next regular meeting will be on Friday night of this week, 8th inst., and will be addressed by Messrs. E. P. Bracken and P. R. Mitchell, of this city. The program at each meeting includes music, luncheon and a general good time.

Potato Flour, ground from the dehydrated product of the process now being shown at the Harrett bakery, was taken to one of the local bakeries by Mr. Read, and the TIMES had the privilege of sampling some of the bread made with a twenty per cent admixture thereof. It was sure enough good bread and there is no doubt but potato flour will be a welcome addition to our markets. And by the same token, the first shipment of the product of the new potato flouring mill, which is being operated by Messrs. Munson & Harder at the Idaho Wholesale Grocery.

Lieutenant Homer Young, of the 10th U. S. And they think they are patriotic, too! God save the mark!

Col. H. B. Lue will conduct the sale.

Dr. Pike Will Return—A personal letter from Dr. W. F. Pike affords the information that he has resigned his position as superintendent of the Idaho Insane Asylum at Blackfoot and will turn his face in the direction of Twin Falls. "I expect to be back at Twin Falls and living in my Twin house within a month," is the concluding sentence of the doctor's letter. This will not only be good news to those who may need a skilled physician, but also to a large circle of warm friends of the doctor and his family. The people who have once lived in Twin Falls are able to stay away very long if it is possible to get back again.

Damnm Absque Injuris—Sunday's Boles "Stateman" features a local incident wherein a criminal charged the business man that kicked out of his store a customer who had made use of outrageously disloyal remarks, was dismissed without trial by the county attorney. That's all right for Boles, but all readers of the TIMES know that Twin Falls made a more pronounced record in the case when Dr. Erskin was sued for damages by one to whom a regular first class locking had been administered for the same offense. The Twin Falls case went to the jury, and the attorney for the defendant, admitting the punishment, argued that it was of the same character as the application of the maternal slipper or the paternal tractor strap—a needed and deserved remedial prescription. The jury promptly agreed and assessed the damages at minus nothing.

Plans Presented at Presbyterian Church—The morning service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday was made special by the presentation of two flags. One of them, a handsome regulation United States flag, was given by Mr. George D. Alken and the presentation by Mr. L. Brockenridge. The other, a fine large service banner carrying over thirty stars, more prominently by Mrs. R. J. Johnson's Sunday school class and presented with fitting words by Mr. Jas. McMillan, who read the names represented by the stars as follows: "The Captain—McRoberts, Vernot—Ayars, Kenneth Brown, Chester Boone, Theo. Holderman, Theo. Rowell, Lieut. C. Krenzel, Fred Johnson, Fred Johnson, Budrow, Hollo Crater, Thomas Irwin, Frances Young, John Simms, Raymond Brown, David Bisset, Ed. Homer Young, Lew Lee, Brockenridge, Ray MacGillivray, T. O. Boyd, Jr., Eldred Graves, William Epler, John Kenney, James W. Hall, James Harvey, Ralph Bristol, Lloyd Wrigman, Robert Budrow, Bruce McMillan, Theo. Bowen, A. D. Hughes, William Chisholm, Sidney Epler, Fred Johnson, George Skinner. The sermon by the pastor was in complete and patriotic accord with the features noted, and was definitely pointed out. This called a lot of "It is all false and untrue from there down! Why didn't you stop there?" It appeared to make no impression to some of the boys that it was purpose was to arrive anywhere, it seemed futile to stop half way, nor yet to pretend to see the end of the war, mild and simple statements of admitted facts. Upon the contrary it was vehemently asserted that the state's flag, erected in honor of the fallen, was a symbol of insinuation; and a volley of not altogether pleasant or complimentary verbal barrage, fire and sword, was directed at the speaker. "He and if the editor was a gentleman he would retract it"—this in singular fashion was repeated by one of the boys, Harry Kingsbury sticking out of every line! "Nothing mattered after that? Yet editor couldn't stop giving pictures and news stories for Harry Kingsbury seemed the only recourse. Bring either the bitter hemlock cup! Life is no longer worth living!"

What Should the Poor Man Do when a nice and well meaning little lady sues into the editorial sanctum and commands the reporter to know "what is responsible for this article in your paper?" She chanced to address the writer, who undoubtedly should have recognized the fact that the lady was not his wife, but his sister. He pleaded guilty and in the gentlest tones at command expressed gratitude at the lady's decision to sue. This was the exact cause of the too-evident displeasure and proffered willing amends in case any mis-statement of fact could be definitely pointed out. This called a lot of "It is all false and untrue from there down! Why didn't you stop there?" It appeared to make no impression to some of the boys that it was purpose was to arrive anywhere, it seemed futile to stop half way, nor yet to pretend to see the end of the war, mild and simple statements of admitted facts. Upon the contrary it was vehemently asserted that the state's flag, erected in honor of the fallen, was a symbol of insinuation; and a volley of not altogether pleasant or complimentary verbal barrage, fire and sword, was directed at the speaker. Yet editor couldn't stop giving pictures and news stories for Harry Kingsbury seemed the only recourse. Bring either the bitter hemlock cup! Life is no longer worth living!"

'A Man, whose name can be given if necessary, was overheard to say: "It sure pays to advertise in the TIMES. A small 'want ad.' sold my house for $1,500.00."

"Two Want Ads. in the TIMES sold me out," said a Twin Falls man Saturday. "I used to doubt whether advertising paid; but I now know that it does—if you advertise in the TIMES."

The Number of People who come to the TIMES window bulletin on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, when the news-dispatches are posted, testify to the importance of the news wire, which brings us the news of the world up to the minute each day in the week except Sunday.

How Vitally Important are the requirements of the Food Administration at Washington is a subject that will be brought before the eyes of Twin Falls and vicinity at the Lavering next week Thursday evening, by Col. Culbertson, a special representative of the conservation committee comes here for that purpose. Mr. Culbertson is a sponsor of unusual ability; he came on a mission of the greatest importance; and he will be able to satisfy doubters if any there be, both as to the propriety and the necessity of doing all in the way of food economy that has been proposed and doing it willingly and even gladly. Music will be provided and injected in the program in such that it will be necessary to come early to secure a seat.

Y. M. C. A. Benefit Presbyterian Church

An Unusually Excellent Musical Entertainment With Specially Attractive Features

The Organ Recital given at the Presbyterian Church last evening by Mr. Thomas, the organist-director, assisted by local soloists and a large chorus, and for the benefit of the Army Y. M. C. A. was greeted by a fine audience, although not fully commensurate with the excellence of the program.

As the entire program has already appeared in these columns, it will not be repeated here; and while every number could be truthfully commended, space will only permit mention of some of the most notable ones. Among these, beyond a doubt, comes the organist's rendering of the grand fantasia entitled "The Storm." The theme of this wonderful "picture" has already been published, and was given on the program. But even without this each auditor would have followed the gathering of the storm through the wonderful wind and rain effects on to the climax of wrecks and accidents; and would also have been delighted with the sweet "Seraphic Song" at its conclusion.

The work of the chorus was also very fine. "Hallelujah Chorus" given as an encore, perhaps being even more enjoyed than that from the oratorio "St. Paul" which preceded it. The Ladies Glee also came in for genuine and deserved applause. This was composed of Messdames McCord, Duval and Misses Wilson, Pitcairn, and Altmendinger; and each number offered was enjoyed to the full. Mr. Milton Beck's singing of "The Song of Solitude" also elicited an encore; and, taken altogether, the concert was voted most enjoyable by all present.

A Pathetic Picture of a Typical French Mother

A brief local in the TIMES last week referred to a letter written from a French village to the following: "I read and read-by him in a four-minute talk at one of the theatres. The following is the letter in full.

"You remember, I doubt Madam Chamet, the jolly Innkeeper in St. Jean de Mon. She often speaks of you. The bakery and shop is all closed; it is nothing to buy or sell. The vineyard once so beautiful is a tangled mass of weeds; the stables are empty, even old Dick is gone. But the saddest of all, she is all alone in the world.

"She has since framed that little family photograph which wars as so proud of it, and its wide, gilded frame forms a contrast to the black veil that almost hides it. You know Jean, the grand round and died in the field hospital. He was the youngest and the last of three fine boys. You surely remember the picture of her husband in the uniform of a sergeant of hussars; and he too is on the honor roll.

"It's loneliness in the village now—life, but never let it be said the people are more determined than ever, the father embittered through hardship, but not broken; but just silent and grim resolve to hold out until the Americans came.
