NOT SO MUCH TO DO THIS SPRING

The spring work is opening up in the shape with plenty of good weather, which most of us wished we had had last year. There is not so much to do this spring, however, as the winter has been an open season in many respects and much of the plowing was done last fall, while all the fences and detail improvement work is up and done. It is rather surprising that this is the case, for with a scarcity of labor, the farmers find it right necessary to do most everything themselves. The early spring and fine weather we have had last winter will enable them to do this.

YEARS OF PREPARATION

(V. G. Backman)
In reading James W. Gerard's book, My Four Years in Germany, many noticeable facts are brought to light and among them, a few facts which show how deeply laid were the war schemes of Germany. We will examine some of these revelations.
"All during this winter Germans from the highest down tried to impress me with the great danger which they said threatened America from Japan. The military and naval attaches and I were told that the German information system sent news to Mexico was full of Japanese plots. It was said that the Japanese were plotting to invade the Philippines. Possibly much of the prejudice in America against the Japanese was cooked up by the German propaganda. When we later learned to know so well."

That there was a purpose in Germany's attempt to get the eyes of America on Japan, there is no room for doubt. A nation can hardly look at two objects of such import at once, as Germany and Japan. Germany hopes to withdraw her notice from herself, "that she might continue to push her propaganda of insurrection, doubt and immorality among American citizens without hindrance, as well as pursue her war preparations at home unnoticed. She nearly succeeded."

The social caste idea, with the ambition for social recognition and distinction which has become such an exacting ambition of the people of Germany, has done much to cause the people to show respect for the royal and the higher up, for if by chance no distinction is given a man of influence and wealth, that is so the distinction of titled or social attainment. Gerard says, "There must be something in his life which prevents his thinking of the social conditions. If there is anything in a man's past, if he has shown at any time any spirit of opposition to the government, as disclosed by newspapers which are kept written up to date, about every German citizen, then he has no chance of obtaining any of these distinctions which make up so much of the social life of Germany."

One can readily see the effect of this system and this attitude in regard to the education of the government (and it must be remembered that we are here speaking of a government whose power is vested in the military) which makes the education given full control and away over the ambitions or thoughts of its subjects.

But this deep laid system of militarism and autocracy goes even further back than the social and governmental systems; it is embodied in the education of the German youth. From the time when the four-year old German is disciplined and taught that his government is the only good and effective form. Their training is supervised by their teachers who are always inculcating in them reverence of the past and heroism of the past and the present. Every night the German boy is turned over by the state paid school teacher to reveal the principles of reverence for the German system. These words of Gerard speak sufficient to reveal the significance of the situation. Listen to the following quotation: "We make no comment upon them: 'It is my conviction that the fear of war induced a healthy instinct, became the mass of the Germans to become tools and dupes of those who played upon this very fear in order to create a military autocracy.'"

"Above all let bold tutors exert themselves to the utmost to inspire them with a love of soldierly and carefully impress upon his mind that as nothing can confer honor and fame upon a prince except a sword, the monarch who seeks not his sole satisfaction in it must ever appear a contemptible character in the eyes of the world."

(Frederick the Great.)
"All his life the glittering sword and his generals had planned and thought of war; and the Crown Prince surrounded by his remarkable collection of relics and reminders of Napoleon, dreamed only of taking the lead in a successful war of conquest."

(James W. Gerard.)
"He (the Crown Prince) said that whether war was profitable or not, when he came to the throne there would be war, if not before; just for the fun of it."

(An American Woman.)
"And antecedent to this, if it was to keep it hold upon Germany it must lead the nation into a short and successful war."

(James W. Gerard.)

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Edited Weekly (V. G. Backman)

$400 TEAM

W. H. Cawood of the Kimberly vicinity recently purchased a span of horses from the Johnson Sales Barns at Twin Falls for the unusual price of $400. The team weighed 3300 pounds, one of the animals weighing 1700 and the other 1600. They were not quite three years old. It isn't so much speed that counts, or beauty in those days. We want speed for efficiency. It is true, but speed will not always do the work that is necessary.

Many of the farmers in this tract have resorted to gasoline as a means of propulsion. It is unnecessary amount of work required in these strenuous and arduous times, but gasoline will find another call when Uncle Sam's several thousand airplanes begin to spin. In consideration of present needs, it is rather patriotic and somewhat economical to use horses in place of gas for farming, providing one can secure horse power that will turn out the work at a least cost. It does not take more now to feed a 1700 pound horse than it does an 1100 pound animal, and if we must use horse power for our farm work and heavy drayage work, it is worth while to make the larger investment and buy a team that can drag a plow, by sheer weight, and not exert too much strength and energy. They will last longer and can do more in a day. Besides it won't cost as much to keep one large team as it will two small teams of ponies, and one large team can do just as much work. We are living in an age when strength, efficiency, speed and economy are the watchwords.

Articles and talks were given on the necessity of every worker taking the national paper of the organization, "The Union Signal," which is filled with the best moral reformation literature and one page alone, "The Washington Letter," being doubly worth the subscription price of one dollar a year. Mrs. V. Berg will attend promptly to all new or renewal subscriptions and all Christian women are urged to read this paper and get into line in reformation work. The Heavenly-birthday of Francis E. Willard was commemorated in giving to the "Memorial Fund," a fund for the extension of W. C. T. U. work and all works of mercy in this and other lands. Those not taking active part in the program knitted and sewed for the Red Cross. Three ladies paid dues for the coming year and Mrs. Richard Begas was elected as a member of the Union. The March meeting will be held on Friday, the 22nd at the home of Mrs. C. A. Jones, 222 5th Ave. E. A. House of Prayer will have charge of the program. It is hoped a larger attendance will prove the interest being taken in this work and the anti-drug work now being carried on in the local union. One of the most remarkable petitions that has ever reached the White House has just been presented to President Wilson. It was signed by six million representative women of the U. S. and reads as follows: "The President: "Believing that the women of the United States are loyally doing their utmost in our national crisis to carry out all the government plans for the conservation of food and... "Realizing that there is still an alarming waste of food-stuffs in the production of meat and... "We appeal to you, our Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, to prohibit the further waste of these food-stuffs in the production of meat and... "This petition was accompanied by the following brief note from Miss Anna A. Gordon, national president of the W. C. T. U. "Mr. President: "We deeply appreciate the privilege of presenting to you a memorial representing six million women patriots of the U. S. "We believe this is the first petition in the history of our country in which all leading organizations of women—religious, fraternal, social, patriotic and political—as well as hundreds of notable women in the educational and official life of the Republic, have united. It comes to you, Mr. President, as the voice of the women of America. It comes to you, our Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, at the time of an appalling crisis in which the lives of our mothers of the nation... "Educated by the government to believe that food will win the war, these women who have sacrificed war service and sacrifice everywhere are at tested, plead for the maximum conservation of food materials now used in the production of meat liquor and diverted to food supplies desperately needed by our army and the armies of the allies. "On behalf of these six million patriots, Mr. President, we thank you for the steps in this direction already taken and we beg your early and favorable consideration of the prayer of the memorial we have the honor to place in your hands. ANNA A. GORDON, President National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Hotel Driscoll, Washington, D. C. "According to the "Drawers Journal" the work of production of beer by the year 1916-1917 was 133,787,403 barrels, with the United States in the lead, contributing 50,817,379 barrels. Who does not realize the actual shame for this to continue when the hunger that fills the land means death and the crushing out of Christianity? It MUST be stopped not only here but over in France. One mother of a soldier said: "A clean bullet shot through the heart—the worst thing that can happen to a soldier. I don't want my boy to be given grog in order to go over the top. At such a time I want him to be clear-brained and clear-eyed. "Not only as a war measure do we wish for these things but when the soldier is clear-brained and clear-eyed shall have ratified the national prohibition amendment a protecting mantle of peace and sobriety shall forever cover us so let us forcefully sing with A. C. Bane: "Congress has sent the amendment down. "Ratify, now ratify. "And prohibition's victory crown, "Ratify, now ratify. "Let every state unite and choose a legislature free from grog. "Till thirty-six their power shall use, "Ratify, now ratify. "Remember Mother Stewart's prayer, "Ratify, now ratify. "And Francis Willard's girls so rare, "Ratify, now ratify. "Remember George, St. John and Dow. "And all our living leaders now. "And in their honor pay your vow, "Ratify, now ratify. "Twill answer prayers sent to the skies, "Ratify, now ratify. "And will the tears from suffering eyes, "Ratify, now ratify. "Will open many a prison door. "Give grog a corner to the poor. "When liquor's sold and drunk no more, "Ratify, now ratify."

Delegation Visits the City Council

Representatives of Churches and Members of W. C. T. U. Will Help Enforce Laws. Last Tuesday night a large delegation of Kimberly people gathered at the meeting place of the council of the Village of Kimberly. There were representatives of two churches, and from the W. C. T. U. besides business men who gathered for personal reasons. O. G. Zuck was the spokesman for the church delegation and assured the council, upon behalf of the delegation that the people of the churches were in sympathy with the council, and would be only too glad to assist them in any way possible in the enforcement of the village ordinance. A like address was made by Mrs. Montooth in behalf of the W. C. T. U.—She continued, however, to impress the importance of enforcing the ordinance in regard to selling tobacco to minors, and other subjects along welfare lines. There was some heated discussion over questions of sanitation.

SELLS PLACE

Upton and Ridgeway recently sold an eighty of their north side ranch to W. E. Lewis, formerly of Kimberly. They rented the remainder of the ranch to Mr. Lewis. W. E. Lewis has taken possession of his new place, having sold his forty-acre tract to a mile west of Kimberly to John Hansen. C. E. Eubanks has sold out and will move to Gooding soon to join his brother, W. R. Eubanks, formerly of Hansen.

Utah Is Stated for the Next Big Oil Excitement

DEVELOPMENTS are indicating that some portions of this state are underlaid with pools of "liquid wealth" and that Utah may soon take her place alongside Wyoming, Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas as an oil producer.

The great fortunes in oil have been made by those who were in on the discovery and development of properties. Once the production is proven, holdings usually take on such values that profits are necessarily smaller.

The DIXIE OIL COMPANY has holdings in southern Utah, on which OIL HAS BEEN DISCOVERED IN SUBSTANTIAL QUANTITIES, and it is a HIGH GRADE OIL.

We announced to some of our Twin Falls friends last week that we were developing this property and that we wanted them to come in with us and share in the anticipated profits. We have had so many requests for further information that we have decided to send our representatives into that territory for a few days to answer these inquiries direct.

Mr. McKenzie and Mr. Andrews are at the Perrine Hotel.

They have a quantity of our HIGH GRADE OIL DIRECT FROM OUR WELLS, and a miniature refining plant with which they will demonstrate for you how to EXTRACT GASOLINE, KEROSENE AND FUEL OIL FROM THE CRUDE PRODUCT.

You can see with your own eyes that we can save over 75 per cent by ordinary distillation.

Demonstrations each day at ISIS THEATRE at 11 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

The farmers and necessary farm workers of the country who are in the first classification are assured that they will not be taken until after the crops are harvested and secured.

Wheat and sugar are necessary for the conduct of the war. There is no doubt that the milling interests and the sugar factories have made enormous take-offs at times in the past.

to misrepresent him, sometimes unintentionally, to others. Certainly nobody who knows Governor Alexander would assume for a moment that he would seriously construe the statement of Professor Burrill in the manner stated.

COMMENDABLE ATTITUDE

The attitude of President W. F. Alworth of the state and county farm bureaus toward political nomination is a wholly commendable one and should recite forcibly to those who have not heretofore realized its seriousness, the necessity for good, hard work on the part of everybody to win out.

It is impossible to over-estimate the value of the right sort of agricultural production in this time. Wheat and sugar must be had in large quantities or we shall allow this war to be prolonged indefinitely, with greater loss of life and a greater amount of human suffering and a greater amount of poverty than would otherwise be the case.

LET ALL VOTE FOR BONDS

The TIMES wishes to direct attention to the call for election on road bonds published elsewhere in this issue, setting the date for April 6. The district should be created.

It was over-confidence in this city, which led a lot of friends of good roads to stay at home while the people of other districts, including Florio, got out and hustled. Their "Pier" took the initiative and while he did not win the election, he laid the basis for the bond issue last fall at least by one ghost.

NEWSPAPER CONSOLIDATION

It is announced that the management of the Pioneer and the Times-Journal will be consolidated this week under the management of John L. Manfre, editor of the Pioneer, which paper will be taken over by the company of Non-Partisan league members which recently purchased the Journal.

One of the chief arguments against the imminence of a German drive up on the western front is the fact that German newspapers are printing stories on the subject, but their arguments were pointed out today as possibly being groundless when it is realized that in the German operations since the beginning of the war have been widely heralded in advance.

before the United States puts an army in the field overhauling it, who and how long on the march, but our army by England and France. Furthermore, standardized tanks will ease the problem pressure considerably, the enemy which demand is evidently staying its hand because it is reluctant to play its last card.

The German army command, it is believed, fully realizes that another campaign is inevitable if it fails to win if resulting in the capture of a stronghold like that upon the Meuse, without seizing a huge bag of prisoners, would not compensate for the loss of men and materials nor appease the demand of the German populace for a decisive victory.

German troops have already occupied too many capitals and large cities for a further deluging of the people through storming operations by another means of victory and peace.

Great Number in the Lyceum Course

In the opinion of critics of the Lyceum platform no man of recent years has achieved more brilliant success or met with higher favor than has Fitcher in this city.

Mr. Fitcher's lectures deal with live topics and are filled with apt and pertinent illustrations which drive to the minds of his hearers great truths in a startling and effective manner. His five lecture subjects are "The Judge and the Unimpaired," "Community Deadheads," "The Modern Judas," "Who is Your Hero?" and "Fitcher will lecture at the Lyceum Theatre, Friday evening, March 25."

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY DISTRICT ELECTION

WITNESSES Petition having been filed with the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners asking that certain territory in Twin Falls County be organized as a Highway District, to be known as "TWIN FALLS HIGHWAY DISTRICT" and it further appearing that the said petition complies with all of the requirements of Chapter 55, of the Session Laws of 1911, and all amendments thereto relative to the organization of Highway Districts, the Board ordered that an election be held in the usual voting places in said District proposed to be organized as a highway district, on Saturday, April 6th, 1916.

That the territory proposed to be created into "TWIN FALLS HIGHWAY DISTRICT" is bounded and described as follows:

Commencing at a point on the North boundary line of Twin Falls County, Idaho, near the center of Section 23 in Township 9 South of Range 16 East Boise Meridian, where the North and South center lines of said Section 23 intersect the said North line of Twin Falls County;

LOCAL BREVITIES

Came from Oregon—Mrs. T. E. Ellis and family, who have been in the city for some time, are leaving for Eugene, Ore., some months ago, as called things so well that it remained.

Called Bond Election—A call was made yesterday, published elsewhere in this issue of THE TIMES, for a bond election to be held April 6. The hour on which the polls are to open, the precincts at which election will be held, the list of judges and clerks and the boundaries of the districts are given in the call.

Surgical Gause Here—The surgical gause for dressing, on which the Red Cross has been working for some time, arrived yesterday, so that a plentiful supply is now on hand and work on it will be resumed at once. All women who can possibly spare any time for this work are urged to do so, in order that the delay in sending supplies, owing to lack of material, may be obviated.

Held Box Social—The box social and supper at Community church on March 16th was a most successful affair, which netted $154. The proceeds more than paid for the new lighting system. Thanks were extended to the double quartette, who were accompanied by Mrs. Charles U. Butler and by Miss Singlas, as accompanists. Colonel Smith made an excellent address.

Changed to Parish Hall—The place for receiving clothing for the stricken districts of Belgium and France was changed yesterday from the Herrick building to the Parish hall. The announcement was made in all Twin Falls churches Sunday that the place of receipt would be in the Herrick building, and Sunday circles were distributed. This change was made owing to greater convenience in handling the change was made.

Taken Under Adversity—The delegation of shepherds who went to Denver last week to protest against the methods of oil leasing to the government toward the Minutoka extension, returned hopeful of results. Evidence was taken to be forwarded to Washington. The protestants' statements in the Statesman account, the sheep men are not protesting against leasing the lands, but only against leasing to a few under the conditions imposed by the government.

Fake Report Circulated—A false report was in circulation that the Amalgamated Sugar company contemplated immediate announcement that it would not run its factory this year unless assured by next July it could be run for the season. This report was wholly without foundation. It was stated in a circular said that it contemplated cancelling all contracts. Many such reports are in circulation, and it is generally hard to trace them to their source.

Fined for Assault—Because he struck Police Officer John Redmon when the latter detained a disorderly rouser and painted the lamp of the cop with dark walnut effects, a man named R. Newman was fined $100 for resisting an officer by Police Judge J. Smith Saturday. In his capacity as magistrate, Smith then bound over Newman for alleged possession of a bottle of intoxicants. Newman is ordered to go when Redmon tried to arrest him, the policeman drawing a gun, but Newman struck him, whereat the officer is said, instead of arresting, to have used a persuader, which resulted in completing the rest.

Here on Business—W. D. Southworth, the well known Twin Falls county citizen and capitalist, is here from Seattle on business after spending the winter at the famous northern port on account of the health of his wife. Mr. Southworth says that Seattle is a good place to go to for 15,000 skilled laborers to work in the shipyards, and they are pouring in in response to it. Labor is in demand at Seattle. He says that a survey was taken a short time ago to find out what emergency laborers could be secured and men who had not worked in the years registered. Mr. Southworth is seventy-four years old, but looking better than the register would lead you to believe. He says he has five thousand shares about the city registered for emergency. M. Chapman, of Seattle, has been invited to his family to visit. James R. Mann, arrived the same day that Mr. Southworth did. He says that the women in England are learning to run tractors, in order that there shall be no labor shortage.

Two Children Pass—The infant of James H. Lowell died last Friday and was buried Saturday. Yesterday Hiltoe Pilo Westway, aged one year, eight months and twelve days, passed away.

Funeral Sunday—The funeral of William Miller, father of Mrs. J. E. Cross, was held Sunday afternoon at the Grossman & DeWitt chapel and conducted by Rev. O. T. Anderson of the Baptist church.

Boy Baby Born—Mrs. W. was recovered that Mr. and Mrs. Hansen, of Pocatello, are the proud parents of a son named Raymond Clarence Hansen. Mrs. Hansen was Mrs. Mary McGovern.

Church Notices Early—All church notices should be in the office not later than the evening preceding publication. These notices should be in the office of publication as early as possible, so that they may be set in type.

The Liberty Chorus, organized by Miss Shipman from the high school boys and girls glee clubs, is expected to accompany Mr. Blue out to the Pacific coast, to be held at Carlsbad this evening. The special purpose of this meeting is to stimulate best growing, but under existing conditions that is absolutely a patriotic effort.

Baptist Men Thursday Night—The men of the Baptist congregation will meet at 8 o'clock at the church on Thursday evening of this week. A brief program of practical interest to the men of the congregation will be given. The purpose of the meeting is to stimulate best growing, but under existing conditions that is absolutely a patriotic effort.

Oil Promoters Here—E. S. Andrews and A. W. McKee arrived in Twin Falls last week in the interests of the Dixie Oil company, which has been operating on the lands of southern Utah. These gentlemen were accompanied by J. J. Holahan, who has been here for some time in the interests of the same company. Mr. McKee is secretary and Mr. Holahan is vice president of the Dixie Oil company. They are here to discuss the work of oil companies on their holdings, the representatives of the Dixie Oil company have installed a miniature laboratory with their own instruments in the hotel where demonstrations are made daily with the crude oil obtained from the company's property.

Boiler's Basketball Claims—Sunday afternoon, after considerable resistance at the Watergate, the basketball team in the state tournament at Moscow, still claims for it. It is in the hands of the state team because, prior to the tournament, it defeated every team met from the southern section and made a better showing than that of the state team in the tournament. Of its record prior to the tournament there is nothing to be said, except that it failed to meet any of the competing teams from the eastern section. At the tournament, it will also be noted, it sought no test against the "Twins." And as to the better showing, it was the team that took the game from Twin by a single basket, made five seconds before the buzzer cracked, showed much better shooting than the state team, stronger compared with Boise. The proof of the pudding is in chewing the string. If Boise thinks she can beat Twin, let her seek to arrange a match. She will find no discouragement down this way.

Farwell to Rev. L. B. Franck—So soon as it became known that the clergyman named was about to leave for his "field of duty" at the camp of the "Twins," the citizens of this city, organized by the County Committee of Defense for the purpose of showing some public recognition to those leaving Twin Falls for war in the service of their country, arranged for a hall and a farewell meeting at the Parish hall tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock. To which all are cordially invited. There will be music by the Parrott orchestra and the church choir; and Rev. Franck will give a parting message. It is expected that in this connection, that Mr. Franck's special note in preparation for this work will be read. Mr. Franck is a well-known and enthusiastic man, and he has a real message for the hour. The committee in charge of this meeting, as above mentioned, consists of Messrs. W. P. Prieb, Stuart H. Taylor and Bergant Knapp. They are all people to come and sympathize.

Anything to be Done—The city of Twin Falls is in need of conserving water as well as electricity. It is suggested that the city should have a water meter on each house, and that the city should have a water meter on each house, and that the city should have a water meter on each house.

Wanted—The city of Twin Falls is in need of conserving water as well as electricity. It is suggested that the city should have a water meter on each house, and that the city should have a water meter on each house.

YANKEE BOYS AT FIVE POINTS ON THE WEST LINE

WAR DEPARTMENT SUMMARY IS OF GREATEST GENERAL INTEREST

American Artillery Is Very Active

Belief Voiced That Hun Will Assault Only If Compelled to Do So—Attack on Italian Front Is Thought Likely.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—American troops are in the front line trenches at five different points in France.

They are constantly in action and acquiring themselves. It can now be revealed for the first time that in their raid on March 11, not only did they act on their own initiative, but they penetrated to a depth of 300 yards. They had no French support in their movement.

The entente is losing hope of a sustained German offensive in the west. Only if compelled to by the exigencies of the strategic situation will Germany try to break through on the western front.

The general situation is improving along the western front. The allied viewpoint. British and French successes took place during the last week.

All this is distinctly emphasized in the weekly war review issued by the war department today. Throughout the review a pessimistic spirit. The review is as follows:

The period of inactivity in the west is being prolonged. Though the raids now taking place would in the past have been considered important engagements, nevertheless, owing to the fact that they are merely of tactical value, they cannot be held to be major operations.

While hostile preparations for an offensive are not altogether negligible, it is becoming more evident that the enemy will launch this offensive only if compelled to do so by the exigencies of a general strategic situation. While fresh German divisions are reported as moving in the west, it is impossible to note that the density of the enemy forces has increased to a point beyond which it will be impracticable to go, for should any additional body of men be massed, the chances are that a concentration of the lines of communication will become so great as to make it impossible to maintain the mobility of maneuver, which is so essential.

Our own forces in France have been constantly in action. At three places in the trenches at five different points. This week we took our first assault, against German positions unassisted, says allied communications. At dawn on March 11, after a preliminary bombardment lasting three quarters of an hour, we drove a highly successful raid against a German trench segment.

Two Members of the Battalion of Death

They were women, yet they charged the German trenches with bayonet and foglet, bled, died and conquered. No more striking page was ever written in the records of history than that contributed by the women and their comrades in the Famous Battalion of Death, created by the revolutionaries.

The British successfully raided German lines from south of St. Quentin to Houthouset wood.

The Germans sent out a number of air raids against London and Paris. Allied aviators raided German industrial centers of the Rhine region.

The statement of the council, like that of the exchange is headed, "So That the Public May Know." It reads as follows:

At a meeting last Friday (March 15) an organized body of contractors known as the Builders Exchange refused to recognize the right of labor to organize and affiliate.

They stated that because of the present conditions caused by the national war, the security of labor in all branches and the need of conserving it in every possible way, the granting of our demand with all that it means and leads to, would be disastrous.

The Building Trades Council of Twin Falls and vicinity, which organization the Builders Exchange refuses to recognize consists of all building trades chartered from the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor and is recognized and endorsed by the United States government.

In view of the fact that the Builders Exchange saw fit to try to limit the public that we are only representing the right to work where and with whom we please, a right that any free man ought to have.

Any working man in Twin Falls has the privilege of using our office to register when he is out of work and we will do our best to put him in touch with men needing man of his trade.

Deputy Sheriff Now Endorses It

J. D. Patton of Oklahoma Says Tanlac Ends His Troubles of Twenty Years Standing.

"I suffered for twenty years with rheumatism, indigestion and a chronic liver trouble, and spent hundreds of dollars for different kinds of medicine trying to get well, but it only took three bottles of Tanlac to straighten me out and make me feel like a different man," said J. D. Patton, of Keokuk, Okla., who is well known in that section and also in Haines county, Texas, where he served as deputy sheriff for several years. Mr. Patton is now deputy sheriff of Muskogee county, Oklahoma, and holds large farming interests here.

"It's an actual fact," he continued, "was hardly ever free from rheumatism and was so full of misery most of the time I couldn't rest or sleep at night to amount to anything. The main trouble seemed to be in my shoulders and the awful pains were due, I think, to the condition of my liver. I couldn't eat to do any good and had to be very careful about the little that I managed to force down or I would have hours of suffering afterwards. I fell ill, my weight went down and I was a burden to look after the work on the farm and attend to all of my other business and had just about given up hope of ever getting anything to relieve me.

"But three bottles of Tanlac have done me so much good I haven't had an ache or a pain since I finished taking them, and honestly I don't feel like the same man. I feel better, more alert and I can eat anything I want and it all agrees with me, too. I have gained back all of my lost weight, sleep like a log at night, and when I get up in the morning I am full of energy and attend to my business without a bit of trouble.

"My wife is so pleased with the results that I have gotten from Tanlac that she bought a bottle for herself today. We know just what it will do and feel satisfied that it is one of the best medicines in the world just as good."

Potsdam Gang Mad at United States

John Edwin Nevins (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, March 16.—That Germany deliberately is encouraging extreme hatred of the United States in Austria and home was shown in a number of official communications reaching here today. The German military class, again in complete agreement with the civilian authorities, is making a campaign to hold the United States responsible for continuation of the war.

Today's dispatches show that all responsibility for the joint agreement between Germany and the United States for the shipping situation in Holland is being laid at the door of President Wilson by the junkers in Berlin and Vienna. In addition the president is held responsible for the failure of the entente to bite at a new peace bait launched under cover. Ludendorff and Hindenburg, with their minor satellites, are bringing a new "Hymn of Hate" against the United States and loudly shouting threats of a "new peace by the sword." Their attitude is repeated from the entire German press and the junkers have taken drastic steps to overcome chaos and for all the moderates and socialists.

Official Washington has been expecting this. It has been known for weeks that the German military leaders have believed that President Wilson was bluffing in his peace demands and that, if Russia, was forced to terms, he would be willing to listen to peace suggestions which would seemingly give him all that he has demanded for Belgium and northern France, while leaving Germany free to exact her will on Russia.

It was not until the president directly addressed the soviet that Germany realized that America was in earnest and that she intended that peace, when it comes, shall be agreed to by races and nationalities who shall have the only say as to the government under which they must live. And even though the soviet failed to accept the position of the United States and reject the German peace terms, officials here who are familiar with what is going on behind the curtain of German censorship declare that official Germany, for the first time in its history, has been forced to realize that peace by negotiation will never be arranged. This realization has had the effect of lashing the German militarists into a white rage with the soviet government and a plan being planned with America decided on to bear the brunt.

This decision, already reported to and considered by the army and navy, is pleasing to Washington. It is possible that as a result both the army and navy will have opportunities to show their strength and manliness have hoped for but which have so far been denied them. The plans taken to meet the new developments are far complete. They were adopted long ago and now are in effect. What they are the results will demonstrate. Meanwhile there was much discussion here of reports today that new peace terms have been directly offered to Great Britain through Spain and rejected without consideration. This report grew out of the statement by Lord Robert Cecil, British minister of blockade, yesterday when he spoke of the peace proposals. The expense of Russia and Germany has made that "no such proposals are being considered or would be considered if they were made." It is not made that feelings along this line had been put out had been considered here as somewhat significant. Diplomatic circles here are of the opinion that such reports actually were put forth and very likely through Spanish sources.

What knowledge of any such proposition President Wilson has been known only to the president and Secretary Lansing. There has been no statement on the subject so far. But it is pointed out as significant that the president, in addressing the Russian soviet, made it extremely plain that the United States formally is responsible for the safeguarding of Russian territory.

As for the Dutch situation, Germany has already been known at The Hague that she bitterly resents the action of the United States and Great Britain. It is now expected that Holland will refuse, if indeed she has not already done so, formal protest against action by the United States against Dutch shipping. This protest will be disregarded as the administration is convinced of the necessity of taking over the 600,000 tons of shipping now flying the Dutch flag which available to Holland. This is expected to force new action by Germany against Holland.

WHEN IN DOUBT

Come and Talk It Over With Us

THE WAR, THE FARM AND FARMER ARE DISCUSSED BY HERBERT QUICK

Famous Writer in Eloquent Words Tells Accomplishments of Men of Country—Makes Appeal for the Next Liberty Loan Campaign Which Begins April 6 on Anniversary of Declaration of War on Germany.

The following brilliant essay by Herbert Quick, the noted writer, is being presented by the committee urging the people in general and the farmers in particular to subscribe for the next liberty loan: The farmer everywhere loves peace. The American farmer especially loves peace. Since the dawn of history, the farmer has been the man who suffered most from war. All that he possesses lies out of doors in plain sight and is spoil of war—his house, his grain, his live stock. He knows that he pays the price of war in steer and goat and sheep, and that the flames that light the skies in the rear of every invading army are consuming the things that yesterday represented his life work, and the labors of past generations of farmers—the little coral islands of comfort and wealth that decades of toil on the farms build up.

But the farmer everywhere is a warrior when war is the only thing which will make him keep his field—either a warrior or a serf. He can fight rally to the colors as quickly as can the dwellers in the cities, because it takes longer to send to the farms than to the cities the fiery cross of the call to arms. It takes longer to call the farmers from the fields than the city dwellers from the shops, for many do not hear the first blast of the trumpet, and others do not at first understand its meaning, because they have not had time to talk the matter over with their acquaintances on the street corners, in the stores, on the cars, in the clubs and at other gatherings and instead of reading half a dozen extras a day, the farmer may read weekly papers only instead of dailies, and must have more time in a sudden emergency to make up his mind.

The work in the fields, the care of the live stock, and the tending and slush-of-the-long-road to town are all obstacles to that sudden rush of news which sometimes carries the cities away in mad outbreaks of excitement.

It is impossible to set the farmers of the United States on fire by means of any sudden spark of rumor or to blow a chance catch of flame among them into a conflagration with any hand hollow of artificial agitation, but when the farmers do ignite they burn with a slow, hot fire, which nothing can put out. They are sometimes the last to heat up, but they stay hot, and in a long fight they are always found sturdily carrying the battle across No Man's Land to the foe in the last grim struggle. They fight the slow rear-guard action that covers retreat in disaster, and their stubborn valor always helps to turn the tide toward victory in the final triumph. The American farmer will give all that he has and all that he is to win this great war against war, this enormous struggle to win again the victory which we fondly believed we had twice won in the past.

This war was at first hard to understand. No armed foe invaded the United States. The night skies were not reddened by the burning byres and farmsteads of America. No rattling parties harried us of our cattle or horses. No saber rattlers insulted our women. It seemed to many of us that we were not at war, the thing was so far off, and it came to us in so unfamiliar a guise. We did not then realize what a giant war has become. We did not then know that a monster has arisen with a thousand arms, who could reach across the seas and could take from us thousands of everything we grow, without our being aware of it and could follow up his robbery with invasion, subjugation, and national death. We did not at first realize this, but finally we saw that it was so.

If the Imperial German Government had made and entered an order that no American farmer should leave his own land, that he could not haul a load of grain or drive a head of stock to town—in fact, that he should have laid an interdict on all intercourse between farm and farm and between farm and town, he would have done only a little more than he accomplished by his interdict against American farmers' use of the sea. What was the order against which he rebelled when we went into this war? Look at the condition of the American farmer in the latter part of 1914 and the first half of 1916 and see. When the war broke out, through terror and surprise and panic we gave up for awhile the use of the sea as a highway. To a great extent we gave up. And so long as we gave it up we, the farmers of America, were ruined. I know of an Iowa farmer who lost his entire crop of 25,000 bushels of wheat for 70 cents a bushel. Farmers in the South sold their cotton for half the cost of producing it. All this time those portions of the world whose ports were open were ready to pay almost any price for our products; and when we finally rallied and set once more in motion the ships of the world property returned to the farms of America. But prosperity never returned to the farmers of those nations which remained cut off from the sea. Take the case of Australia, for instance. Three crops have remained unsold on the farms. There were no ships which could be spared to make the long voyage to Australia; and so, in spite of the efforts of the Government to save the farmers from ruin, grain has rotted in the open because there was no place in which to store it, and millions of tons have been spoiled by mice and other rodents. Such conditions spell irremediable disaster, in spite of all any Government can do. Such conditions would have prevailed in this country, from the outbreak of the war until now, gradually growing worse and worse and deepening in disaster from hard times to universal stagnation and a widespread famine if our Government had not first related with every diplomatic weapon the encroachments of the German Government, and finally when that cruel, piratical and ruthless policy moved on from ruthless restrictions to open and flagrant murder, of our Government had not drawn the sword. Why did we draw the sword? Was it to keep up the price of wheat and cotton, and to protect trade only? If someone should suggest you to remain on your farm, and not to use the public highway, would your resistance be based only on the fear of loss in property, the profits from failure to market your crops, the inconvenience in not being able to buy your supplies in town? By no means. You would fight to the last gasp, not to make money, but to be free. When a man is enslaved, all he loses in money is his wages; but the white man has never been able to accept slavery for that reason. The white man has never yet been successfully enslaved. There rises in him against servitude a resentment so terrible at the loss of his ownership of himself that death has always been preferable to slavery. What the Imperial German Government offered the farmers of America in its ruthless submarine warfare was not the loss of profits, but slavery to the saber rattler of Potsdam. He supposed to make us slaves by murdering the people who take our products to market. By all the laws of civilized warfare commerce under a neutral flag was free from any means, he declared that he would do it by the foulest methods ever resorted to in war. He declared the sea closed; and that he would keep it closed not by war, but by murder.

THE WAR, THE FARM, ETC.

To have submitted would have cost us dear in prosperity; but that would have been the least of our loss.

We should have had to grovel before the German Government.

We should have had to accept murder as a thing against which we could not defend ourselves.

We should have allowed this new horror to become a part of all future wars, and have been responsible for its incorporation into international law.

We should have proved that because the fire which burns up our farms' usefulness is beyond the horizon, we will submit to the kindling of it.

If the people of the United States should ever go insane enough to think such things of itself, it would be the duty of the rest of the world to crush the United States the moment it drew its sword and started out to establish itself on that superman basis. It would be its duty to crush us, not only for the sake of the world, but for our own sakes. Until this thing is crushed out of Germany all other nations will be looked upon by Junkerdom as they now look upon us, as "servile elements" in the development of German Kultur's "super-races," while they are the active ones, as "mentally inferior," as people in dealing with them Germany will never be so foolish as to be guided by those notions of right and wrong which are needed in civil life only.

Never since the Turks threatened to overwhelm Europe, perhaps not even then, was the world in such danger as now. Germany is not yet defeated. We must defeat her this year. Unless we win, our place in the world is lost and our history as one of the "servile nations" written. We must withhold nothing from the support of the war. We must give our sons. We must bring forth food in abundance, multiplying our labor to that end. We must give into the Treasury of the United States every cent we can spare.

This summer the support of the war is up to the farmers; and Uncle Sam has never called upon the farmers in vain!

Bybee Tells of Trip Across Sea

Somewhere in France, Feb. 16, 1918.

Dear Folks: I suppose you are almost worried to death about me, because I haven't written any sooner than I did, aren't you? Well things also somewhat different over here than they were in the states. This is the only chance that I could get to write to you since I wrote the card.

Well I never told you much about the trip we had on the boat, so I guess I will do it now. In the first place that card I sent you about our trip was sent from the U. S. A. before we started. If you remember I said that we had a good trip with the exception of a little sea sickness. Well I was not even sick. Oh! I was sick, but it was sick of the sea and not the other.

We were just 12 days on the ship. The first few days the weather was fair but when we got to the high seas we met several storms and our ship being a small one it was hard to hold our own. One night especially. The mast was at an angle of 42 degrees half the time. We had to our sunglasses for three or four days. The first from that we had a fine trip. We were not even molested at all. When we landed we stayed in port four days and we had a good trip with the exception of a French train of a few days and came to camp. I am in a contact camp and not with my company yet.

We are having lots of drilling and some work but that just helps matters. The newspapers probably tell you what we Americans are doing and even more about the war than we can find out. I haven't seen a paper since I don't know when.

where the gardens are in full swing. We have had fine weather up until yesterday, which was just a little too cool to suit us. Just to show you what one Frenchman thinks will happen shortly I will tell you what I overheard. He told an officer of ours that the war would be over in two weeks. And he is a soldier, too. We have lots of fun trying to make the Frenchman understand us. When we go after wine we have to make signs the best we can and say vin. We hardly ever get any water here. They condemned it all and we use coffee and wine. Don't think that when we say drinking wine that we are getting drunk. Of course a fellow can, but if he is fool enough to do it, let him do it, and getting drunk over here is worse than it is in the U. S. A. And all the towns are full of military police and believe me they get every one too. This wine is just like our hard cider and you don't have to drink a whole lot to get your throat. So don't think I'm a real drunkard, for you see we either have to drink that or live on coffee and coffee alone don't go good. Well, I had better stop to keep up my record. THE CURTAIN OF MYSTERY WHICH HAS ENVELOPED RUSSIA IS AT LAST TORN AWAY AND YOU MAY SEE HOW MYRIADS OF BRAVE MEN HOPELESSLY FOUGHT AND TERRIBLY DIED, BETRAYED AND DESTROYED BY GERMAN INFAMY AND INTRIGUE!

The most sensational and unbelievably realistic motion pictures that have ever been screened, taken by the man whom the war correspondents have called the "bravest and nerviest man" they have ever met, Donald Thompson, war photographer for "Leslie's Weekly."

"The German Curse in Russia"

within these absorbing and breathless reels you will see deeds of heroism that deserve immortality, heart breaks, anguish, self-sacrifice, spectacular charges on shell-swept battlefields, the great Russian retreat, the formation of the celebrated Women's Battalion of Death, the outbreak of the history-making Revolution, the rioting in the streets of Petrograd, and over all and through all the unbelievable and detestable German infamy and intrigue. And when you have seen it all you will say with Donald Thompson intern every Alien enemy that America may not suffer as Russia has suffered!

Without danger to yourself you may see the things that Capt. Thompson risked his life many times to see, caused him to be wounded four times, that put him many times in Russian prisons, and you will see why the bravery he showed brought him, four decorations such as only the bravest may get!

ENDORSED BY THE GOVERNMENTS FIGHTING FOR DEMOCRACY

Nervous women or children should not come to see this, as the scenes are very gruesome in places. This is not a romance, fiction or story, but stern history.

A stupendous, epochally sensational and astonishing presentation of events which have shaken the world, now for the first time revealed to Americans through the medium of motion pictures such as have never been shown before on any screen!

MORE BEET SUGAR ACRES

year shut down after a very brief run, and the one here earlier than usual, it is apparent how far short of the maximum is the present prospect.

Last year there were about twelve thousand acres contracted for beets in the three districts, over half of which was at Twin Falls, where out of almost seven thousand acres under contract, five thousand eight hundred and sixty acres were actually harvested.

At the present time but two thousand and sixty acres have been ploughed here and not to exceed four thousand acres in all three districts. This when the government has allotted to the three mills and districts in question the sugar production of twenty-five thousand acres!

It would, of course, be an economic waste and a financial loss to the Sugar company to have only one of these large and costly mills put into use the coming season and the other two lie idle, as indications now are. But no one at this meeting had any concern for the Sugar company. It was the patriotic impulse to help the government in an obvious emergency that brought these men together—the same impulse that has moved a number of farmers, who had previously refused to mine any beets, after hearing Dr. Culbertson's appeal, to phone in and say: "You may put me down for ten, fifteen or twenty acres."

It was concluded that a general understanding of the gravity of the situation would remedy the trouble, from patriotic motives alone; and to this end educational meetings were arranged for the present week as follows, with speakers as indicated:

Tuesday (to-night), at Currie, Hal G. Blue.

Wednesday night—Buhl, C. D.

Thomas; Deep Creek, C. G. Manning.

Thursday night—Murlauch, E. L. Macvicar; Bickel, H. G. Blue.

Friday night—Pflor, C. H. McQueen; Washington, Rev. C. O. Heath.

Saturday night—Hansen, C. D. Thomas.

In addition to this, a number of our business men volunteered to make personal visits and appeals to farmers of their acquaintance.

In order that the speakers at these meetings, and those who might make personal appeals, should work effectively, it was plain that they must be able to give satisfactory answers to the questions that are being asked at the time. The county agricultural agent, Mr. McLean, has been making investigation to this end, and concludes that the situation is really very favorable on the Twin Falls tract, the plowing is practically all done and even some seeding is done. There are very few potatoes to be cut and planted this spring, consequently there will be few harvested. The hay lands have been largely ploughed up and need to be sown. They usually require three crops for harvesting the three crops. The Twin Falls tract has never needed so few laborers as they will this year.

Mr. McLean also called attention to the fact that we have a state man who will devote all his time to distributing extra labor within the state from points where it is plentiful to places where it is needed. In addition to this, we have three Federal men representing the U. S. Department of Labor, one at Lewiston, one at Boise, and one at Pocatello to bring in men from outside, in addition to those we have on hand. By these men he is advised that the Commissioner of Labor for Washington reports thousands of unskilled laborers about the government ship yards who are not needed there and will be available for farm labor; and that a similar statement comes from the governor of California.
