FOCH LIKELY TO ORDER ADVANCE AT NEW POINT

REPORTED PROBABLE GENERAL COUNTER OFFENSIVE DISCOUNTED

Experts Believe He Has Other Plans

Great Attack Toward Venice Anticipated Shortly by Immense Austrian Army Now Collected on Italian Front.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—While the Anglo-French forces are holding the Germans in Picardy, General Foch is reported in dispatches received here today to be preparing to strike, probably at another point of the front along the western front the big guns of the contending forces are reported in use.

It is believed here that inasmuch as General Foch has not instituted a sustained counter offensive along the Picardy front, he will not do so Army command pointed out today that such a counter offensive to be most effective, must in its very nature be delivered while the opposing forces were completely exhausted by the violence of their own offensive and before they have had opportunity to dig-in.

What the western front army officers today were also deeply interested in—the developments in Italy. It is believed here that the Austrians will initiate a counter-offensive directed against Venice within the next ten days.

Watchman at Capital Shot This Morning

Believed at First It Was Done in Effort to Get Papers but Later Negro Is Accused.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—James King, night watchman at the Press committee on public information, was shot to death shortly before 6 o'clock this morning in the lobby of the building occupied by the committee at 10 Jackson Place, this city.

Because of the fact that stored in the name of the press committee, it is supposed to be a mass of information which would be very valuable to the enemy the initial theory of the police and special agents was that the killing was the work of a German spy.

LOAN DRIVE TO CLOSE ON THE FOURTH OF MAY

BANKS MUST CLOSE BOOKS FIVE DAYS AFTER CAMPAIGN ENDS

Five Per Cent on Initial Payment

Balanced of Payments Twenty Per Cent May 23, Thirty-five Per Cent July 18, Forty Per Cent August 15—Banks Here Carry.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The third liberty loan campaign will close here at a drive of four weeks beginning Saturday, April 6. It was announced at the treasury department today. Confidential instructions have been issued to banks to have their books closed five days after the close of the campaign.

Initial deposits on bonds for the third loan will be five per cent, instead of two per cent, as formerly, and subsequent payments will be as follows: 20 per cent on May 23; 35 per cent on July 17, and 40 per cent on August 15. The installments were arranged so that none will fall due in the month of the great drive.

Although the installment system has been arranged, treasury officials made it clear that they expected a large percentage of subscribers would pay for the bonds outright. It was estimated that the early payments would be sufficient to raise $20,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness due April 22 and May 9.

Secretary McAdoo returned this afternoon from White Sulphur Springs where he spent several days for the benefit of his health. He appeared to be in excellent health.

Berger Vote Chagrins Patriotic Wisconsinans

Lenroot Had 11,000 More Than Darles, and the Latter $3,000 More Than Pro-German

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 4.—Victor L. Berger, Socialist and anti-war candidate for United States senator, the defeat of the late yesterday in Wisconsin politics, where the latest returns recorded today show that the Socialist and pro-German element in the state and the nation's total vote, by approximately 3,000.

With many scattered precincts still missing the latest unofficial returns show that Berger's vote is now 103,431; Irvine L. Lenroot, Republican, 148,244; Joseph E. Davies, Democrat, 138,676.

Some citizens in the state are chagrined at Berger's showing and they point out that the fair name of Wisconsin is being stained in the eyes of the nation. The large vote recording anti-war sentiment in the state. The tremendous large pro-berger element here is jubilant over "Cockey" Berger's apparent strength in the state.

In the meantime the "Next of Kin" of the Legion of Loyalty here is grimly awaiting the outcome. Whether F. Bloodgood following a secret meeting of the members of the "Next of Kin" yesterday for Washington for what is believed to be the first move to oust the Socialist mayor, Daniel W. Hoan, from office. Bloodgood also made the same statement after he returned. He intimated that the first step to put Hoan out would be legal.

The Red Cross sale at Filer drew a large and enthusiastic crowd of people from the town and surrounding country. The first gun was fired by H. G. Munyon, who delivered an inspiring patriotic address. The sales started with the auctioning of an American flag, which brought $700. One imported horse sold for $1750. Two Red Cross pillows sold for $700. The egg which the State brought $5 was sold for $230. Newspapers donated by the Modern Drug company sold for from $5 to $10. TERRIFIC ARTILLERY BATTLE FEATURE OF FIGHTING TODAY

Germans Mass Immense Force Near Road Leading to Amiens, Paris and Calais—New Attack Momentarily Expected—Foch Confident of Victory—German Papers Make Elaborate Explanations of Losses—Lull Believed to be Prelude of Another Storm.

PARIS, April 4.—Increasing violence marks the artillery duel on the Picardy battle front north of Montdidier, according to the official communique issued by the French war office today.

On the Aisne river front northwest of Rheims, in the Champagne and on the left bank of the Meuse river (Verdun front) the French entered German trenches capturing 30 prisoners and two rapid fire guns.

The Germans tried to raid French trenches in Avocourt wood and north of St. Die, but were repulsed. (Avocourt wood is on the Verdun front and St. Die is in the Vosges mountains.)

(By Frank Charlton, I. N. S. Cable Editor)

The battle of Picardy entered its third week today with the situation unchanged along the fighting front.

A violent artillery duel has developed along that section of the battle zone held by the French north of Montdidier and the indications are that when the Germans renew their infantry drive, the next blow will fall in that sector.

The German lines at that point lie nearest to the Paris-Amiens-Calais railroad which the Germans evidently hope to cut.

Allied airmen report the massing of large German forces in that district which strengthens the belief that the battle storm will break out in that region.

German guns have revived their activity along parts of the British front but the fire is less violent than on the French sector.

The British war office in its official report today told of heavy bombardments in the sectors of Passchendaele and the Menin-Ypres road. Both of these places are on the west Flanders front and were the scenes of British advances at earlier stages of the war.

Anglo-French forces began an offensive against the Germans in Belgium last fall which swept their lines to the crest of Passchendaele ridge, ground of highly strategic value, but from that point the allies were unable to extend their lines. It might be assumed that the Germans contemplate a stroke in that district in hope of winning back the high ground.

European military experts have long predicted that the Germans probably would strike at more than one point on the western front and it is logical to assume that, if the channel coast is the ultimate objective of the Germans, that a blow would be delivered in Belgium.

The British and French war offices both reported raids and the capture of prisoners, but there have been no infantry operations of any importance.

The allied reserve forces have now been massed at strategic points on the line and are ready for any German assault, no matter where it may fall.

One of the big features of the whole situation is the supreme confidence of the French and British people.

In both military and civilian circles the belief is overpowering that the Germans will fail.

The German morale is said to have been badly shaken by the hold up of the German drive and by the heavy German losses. An Amsterdam dispatch said that the Kaiser is apprehensive over the outlook.

Bad weather has continued along the battle front and semi-official German newspapers have begun to blame the rain, fog and mud for the slackening of the drive.

German newspapers have begun to make excuses to the German people for the slowing up of the German offensive on the western front. Semi-official papers in Berlin and elsewhere report that storms have compelled the Germans to stop their operations because the big guns could not be brought up through the mud.

Democratic Ticket Swept Into Office

KANSAS CITY WITH SMALL VOTE ELECTS ALL CITY OFFICERS AND MOST OF THE ALDERMEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 3.—James Cowgill was elected mayor of Kansas City yesterday and with him went the entire Democratic ticket as swept into office. Five Republican aldermen were elected in the lower house and one Republican was re-elected as a member of the school board.

The poor showing made by the Republican party is attributed to the lack of interest, many voting for the Citizens or Labor ticket and the fact that many Republicans failed to vote at all. The total vote cast will not reach 50,000.

THE GREAT WAR HAS MADE CIGARETTES A NECESSITY.

"Our boys must have their smokes. Send them cigarettes." This is a familiar appeal now to all of us. Among those most in demand is the now famous "toasted" cigarette—LUCKY STRIKE. Thousands of this favorite brand have been shipped to France. There is something homelike and friendly to the boys in the sight of the familiar green packages with the red circle. This homelike, appetizing quality of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is largely due to the fact that the Barbary tobacco used in making it has been toasted. "It's toasted" was the slogan that made a great success of LUCKY STRIKE in less than a year. Now the American Tobacco Co. is making 15 million LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes a day. A good part of this immense production is making its way across the water to cheer our boys.

Anti-War Men Are Beaten in Chicago

Every Socialist Defeated in Contest—Democrats Far Ahead in Popular Votes—Patriotism Everywhere

CHICAGO, April 3.—With final returns checked up today, the victory of loyalists over Socialists and anti-war parties in Chicago's aldermanic election grows in size. Thirty-three Socialists were up for places in the city council and not one was elected. One candidate for re-election, William Rodriguez, was also defeated. Rodriguez is to be a candidate for mayor next spring.

In spite of months of work since the United States entered the war and the support of hostile German voters, the total vote for the Socialists—44,216, was almost 8,000 less than the vote received by their leading candidate in the incidental election last fall. Taken as a whole, the vote in the city was light, falling below estimation of 475,000 made by the election board. The total city vote was 393,328 out of a registered vote of 781,360. The total Democratic vote was 168,996 and the Republican vote, 184,332.

The old bogey held up to Chicago since last November when the Socialists polled 72,778 men's votes alone, took to cover. With the women voting they totalled only 94,216 votes yesterday.

Of the total votes cast yesterday by all parties, 118,727 of them went to women.

In addition they dried 15,433 pounds of fruits and vegetables and stored 18,902 bushels.

Never Know Where They Are Going

Troops in France, However, Well Treated, Thanks to Forethought of War Department

The following letter from Lieutenant Stephen Townsend, brother of Mrs. Fred Witt of this city, tells of the trip over to France and of the work done there for the soldiers by the American war department: "Somewhere in France," Feb. 6. Editor Eagle-Star.—It may seem funny to you to see the heading: "Somewhere in France," but we never know where we are going or what we are to do from one day to another.

We left New York January 10 and on January 23 arrived at a port in England where we disembarked. The trip over was pleasant as far as quarters concerned. The food on board ship was excellent. During the first three days out we ran into some very severe, cold winds and the ship, although a large one, rolled considerably. I got all set for a nice slice of seasickness and on two occasions I ran to the rail to see if any fish were in sight, but not seeing any I decided to wait a little longer before feeding them. I got past these days very nicely, and after that I found my sea legs and the rest was comparatively easy. (Here something is deleted by censor with scissors.) Just as my greatest importance happened but at present it is a military secret so will have to pass it up.

Upon our arrival in England we were placed upon cars and shipped overland to a big "rest camp," staying several days while awaiting transportation to France.

While there we were quartered near a very old and ancient city of England, where today are left standing many old relics of the early Saxon days.

All the boys enjoyed the visiting about this city as it is considered by tourists as the western spot of England. We reached the camp on Wednesday evening (midnight) and Sunday we received orders to prepare to leave that day for France.

The United States war department is getting splendidly ready over here and when everything is set, there will be no stopping. They are building a complete organization and when they have that the storm will break out all right. It is taken time, but it will save many lives.

The order just came to prepare to leave this afternoon at 3:00 and when it comes that place, wherever it is, I will be close enough to hear the noise of the big guns. Then my work will begin in earnest and what it has in store for me "God only knows."

I have not had an attack of loneliness as yet because at any time when I go to feeling that way I always picture myself at home and all my friends go to the front. That does me up fine.

I was at an officers' club now and it is very nice. There are dining rooms, bath rooms, billiard and pool tables, piano and victrola and big lounging chairs. An English officer is playing American airs on the piano now and you can just bet that they sound mighty fine.

Added Incentive to Join Navy
Officers' Naval Training in Material School Part of Opportunities of the Reserves.

BREMERTON, Wash., April 2.—An added incentive was given the recruiting drive of the Naval Reserves today when announcement was made that the 12th Naval District has been called upon to furnish a quota of 40 men a month for the Officers' Material School. Opportunity to attend this school is to be given recruits who have the necessary requisites. The school is a branch of the Naval Auxiliary Reserve.

At the present time the school is graduating 100 officers on an average of age from 100 to 150 a month. The monthly draft of men from this district will be transferred to the U. S. S. Gopher at Chicago. The men will be kept aboard the Gopher for preliminary training in last a month, after which they will be moved to the Gopher for final selection. Subsequent short cruises will be taken by the prospective officers and they will be placed according to individual merit. Their standing, the chances for rapid promotion will be given whatever other rating they prove qualified to fill.

Qualifications necessary for entrance to the school require an educational training equivalent to at least a complete course in high school course, including a good knowledge of trigonometry and logarithms. The age limit is 21 to 30, inclusive.

The Naval Reserves are present are enlisting second class seamen and radio operators. Those desiring a chance to attend the officers' school would be required to enter the service as second class seaman, and as such, if their qualifications are deemed to fit them for training as line officers, they would be given an opportunity to go to the school. Even if a recruit was not accepted for the officers' school, there would still remain many other ways for advancement.

With the personnel of the navy on a constant increase, and the scope of the navy's program in the war likewise expanding, the chances for rapid promotion are plentiful.

The goal of the recruiting drive which has been undertaken is 10,000 additional naval reserves. This number is being sought within the limits of the 12th Naval district which embraces Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming.

Further information may be obtained by applying to the U. S. Naval Recruiting Center, Seattle, or to the Recruiting Officer, District Recruiting Officer, at the Navy Yard, Puget Sound, Washington.

Notwithstanding this, it is not assumed that continuous service is desired; still, subscribers are expected to notify us with reasonable promptness to stop if the paper is no longer desired.

The TIMES is an independent Democratic newspaper; but it knows no politics as opposed to the most united and vigorous prosecution of the war. It is AGAIN any man, Democrat or Republican, caught throwing hardware into the machinery either with his hands or with his mouth. If this be "partisan," make the most of it!

General Foch's quiet and positive statement that "Amiens will not fail—I am prepared to guarantee that," is perhaps the most encouraging note yet heard from the terrible fight.

Secretary Lane "said something" when he declared: "Russia was the victim of the ignorance of her people; and out of ignorance has grown ignominy."

One Chris Gwinner, at Jackson, Michigan, is the latest reported instance of carrying a suit of tar and feathers by disloyal talk. It is better to punish such disloyalty by law; but it is going to be punished, one way or another, so hurry up your law!

Incomplete returns show that Wisconsin cast about one vote out of each five for Berger, the Socialist anti-war candidate for senator. As both Leurot and Davies were avowed supporters of the administration, so far as the war issues are concerned, this is a marked repudiation of Kaiserism—but one vote out of each one hundred would have been plenty!

Washington dispatches dated April 2d say: "The reserve army (500,000 men) created by the supreme war council at Versailles has not been engaged anywhere, so far as can be learned here." Under this condition, speculation is rife as to whether it may not be used in the supreme counter-offensive drive elsewhere, instead of on the present fighting ground where all the reserve Han strength is massed. That it will be used somewhere, soon and effectively, no one seems to doubt.

Senator Overman's "gag" bill, submitted to the senate Tuesday, has provisions which make it punishable for anyone to utter any statement derogatory to the United States and its allies and practically prevents all manner of anti-war talk. It is aimed to encourage the enemy and disengage the forces in the United States. It makes a serious crime of any obstruction of war work or attempt to obstruct war work. It is high time for stern measures to repress enemy "gassing" in this country, where it has been more villainous, if less dangerous to the gasser, than along the battle line.

THE SEVENTY-MILE GUN

Expert examination has been made in Paris of fragments of missiles from the long-range gun with which the Germans have been bombarding their armies—not for the purpose of defeating armies or destroying military strength, but in pursuance of its policy of frightfulness. The conclusion is that the guns used—there are supposed to be four, two of which are fired each day—are more than sixty feet long; that they throw an 8 1/2 inch shell with double fuse; and that their installation and adjustment required at least three months. The bombardment on Easter Sunday resulted in killing one woman and injuring two children. Brave and grand work for a nation of supermen!

PASS MORE STRINGENT LAWS

President Bloodgood, of the Wisconsin, "Next-of-Kin" organization is reported to have said that in their efforts to prevent the seating of the newly elected Socialist mayor of Milwaukee, the society would "try legal means first." The statement would have been stronger if he had dropped the "and word" and in its place had added "and if present legal means are insufficient to keep him out we shall appeal to congress and the legislature for required laws." Seditious propaganda has taken new phases as laws already passed and further legislation is needed to prevent its subtle operations. Laws against treason should be so amended as to send some who are virtually guilty of treason, while legally guilty only of addition, to the firing squad. The penitentiary shouts yawn for they feel culpable of the guilty. But this should all be done "within the law." After one hundred and forty-two years of liberty and one hundred and twenty-nine years of constitutional government, we believe that the people of the United States have a government which can take care of all violations of human rights in a legal way. We trust that the organization will see the enactment of laws now pending in congress which will secure the results needed. Energy expended in this way will be wholly beneficial. Secret councils followed by mob manifestations cannot meet out exact justice, and give the unjustly suspected the benefit of a fair, unbiased and impartial trial, such as should be provided for all under our constitution. If there are 400,000 German spies in this country, as a Senator Overman says, there should be 400,000 legal executions in this country under and within the law this year. And where there are top-holes, they should be amended and mended.

THE TUESDAY ELECTIONS

The Tuesday elections have one gratifying feature in common, they constitute a repudiation of the anti-war element everywhere. In Wisconsin, the election of Leurot by a small plurality was discounted beforehand by the lineup. Leurot was less radically pro-war than Davies before the declaration, occupying in some respects the same position in the Republican party on that issue at that time that Bryan did in the Democratic party. Like Bryan he satistically supported the war measures after the United States entered the struggle. While his patriotism cannot be called into question, and was sufficient to hold pro-war Republicans, his previous record was such that no pacifist or lukewarm Republican could be expected to leave his own party to cast a ballot for a Democrat so radically in favor of war declaration and prosecution as Joseph E. Davies had proven himself to be at all times. Under the circumstances no Republican could vote for either Davies or Berger and still claim to be a Republican.

Wisconsin has been steadily Republican by large majorities for many years at presidential elections, except in 1912 when Wilson carried it owing to a division of his foes. In 1914, on account of a defection of La Follette men, Paul O. Hastings, Democratic candidate for United States senator, was elected. In the gubernatorial contest this year, the Republicans polled by 21,278 over his Democratic opponent. In 1916 Hughes carried the state by 28,281, and Phillips, Republican candidate for governor, by 65,334. That year progressive Democrats, dissatisfied with their candidate, voted for La Follette, who won by the overwhelming majority of 116,169. This could not be considered a partisan vote any more than could the vote for Harding two years before. Early in March the Republican state committee issued a statement, praised by THE TIMES at the time, in which they pledged unreserved support to the war policy of President Wilson. Later, before the primaries, various exceptions were made regarding this support, and a critical attitude assumed by both Republican aspirants, so that after the nominations it was not surprising that partisan issues became involved. On the face of it, a Republican state by a great margin, especially approximating one-third of the plurality given to the Republican presidential gubernatorial candidate, in 1916. The outstanding fact is that Berger, whom some thought a possibility, has been hopelessly beaten.

If neither Republicans nor anti-administration Democrats can claim any vindication from the Wisconsin results; neither can administration Democrats claim such, as included, from the Democratic plurality in Chicago, because of the overwhelming triumph of the city ticket in Kansas City. In Chicago the anti-war men lost, absolutely and relatively, compared with their vote of last year. Issues were complicated, and while the carrying of the city on a straight partisan issue would have been a great Democratic triumph, the fact that the Democratic vote aggregated 15,000 more than the Republican, under the circumstances was not a tremendous party triumph. The only cause for rejoicing exists there that exists in Wisconsin. The traitor ticket was defeated.

In Kansas City, the Democrats won from a disorganized foe, on global issues; so that the victory has no national significance of moment. It is to be hoped that Senator Leurot will hark back to the early March declaration of his party committee and consider himself bound to support the war measures of the administration at a time when it is essen-lial for all good citizens to stand behind the president on such matters.

House Agrees to Speed Military Laws

Legislation Will Be Pushed by the Congressmen at Once

WASHINGTON, April 3.—To speed consideration of legislation that must be enacted before the second draft can be made, Chairman Dunt of the house military affairs committee, asked a special rule for taking it up in the house from the rules committee today.

The legislation for which the rule is asked is that basing quotas for the various districts on the number of men in the first class under the classification system and empowering the president to take from any class men needed for special work in connection with the national defense. Present Marshal General Crowder declines to go ahead with preparations for the second draft until the legislation is enacted. It already has been passed by the senate.

Granting of the rule would make the legislation in order tomorrow and would pave the way for one of the biggest fights that has taken place on the floor of the house this session.

Directed by Representative Joseph Kahn of California, the house decided to push all military bills for immediate passage.

The rule to give military bills priority does not extend to bills reported by the naval affairs committee. The rules committee decided that giving naval bills preferred status would needlessly clog the house calendar. If a similar request comes from the naval affairs committee, however, it probably will be granted.

The preferential rule may be reported to the house tomorrow, but the rule on quota legislation allowing the provost marshal general to take the next draft from the first class under the new system, will not be submitted until Representative Shallenbarger, one of its opponents, returns to Washington. Four members of the military affairs committee are opposed to the quota bill. They promise a spectacular fight on the floor when the bill comes up for consideration.

If the writer will send in the required name, the matter will be read with greatest care and attention, though the name in the paper which the clipping was taken from should, if possible, also be sent.

TERRIFIC ARTILLERY BATTLE

(Continued From Page 1) Messages have sustained is revealed in a startling way by the news that one battalion near Yank-Vraumont used over a quarter million shells in the small ammunition in a single day. The targets all day long were solid masses of men.

As many as six separate attacks in force rolled up against British lines and were met with methodical and deadly fire. The German attacking force was annihilated and all other available branches were armed and stood shoulder to shoulder with the British. PARIS, April 4.—Germany is expected to renew her offensive today or tomorrow. Her general today saw to the heavy artillery firing reported all along the Picardy front the Kaiser's preliminary move in another effort to force a partial retreat. British and French headquarters officials are supremely confident. The full of the past few days has permitted them to advance to a position and place them where they desired without interference. The enemy will find his attempts to smash forward strongly opposed, and he has predicted today, and belief was confidently expressed that at no place would the Germans make any material gain.

General Foch's confident statement to Rene Ronault, president of the army committee, who accompanied Premier Clemenceau to the front, cheered the country today. "We can honorably regard the future with tranquility," Ronault quoted the French generalissimo as telling him. He also said that General Foch was stronger and pictured the situation as being better than it has been at any time since the Germans started their big drive.

It is agreed on every side that the Germans will launch another attack on a great scale. Critics assert that it cannot be as heavy as their original effort with troops, but it is not a small scale. They say it is this, coupled with the fact that the French and British have got their reserves into line, that makes it impossible for the Germans to make any further headway.

DIED

Charles Longley Warren, born at Council Bluffs, Iowa, February 17, 1882; died at Twin Falls, Idaho, 12:40 a. m., April 1, 1918, aged twenty-three years, one month and fourteen days.

The twenty-three years of the comparatively young man whose passing is here chronicled in this notice to the mortuary biographer. His was a hampered life, relieved by a sweet disposition whereby it was not known by those who loved him. Mrs. E. W. Warren of this city, one brother, T. P. Warren, also here, and another, E. F. Warren, of Waterloo, Iowa, remain of his immediate family.

The funeral was held at Ascension Episcopal church at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and was quite largely attended—the presence of the entire force at the TIMES office, who were led from time to time being employed, being a notable feature. The brief but beautiful burial service of the church was conducted by Rev. W. E. Harman, of St. Paul. Mr. Cressley came here for the services, but kindly remained to minister upon this occasion. The casket was covered and surrounded by exquisite floral offerings from sympathetic friends. The church choir, assisted by Messrs. D. C. Watson and J. A. Galt, who were married to the numbers; and Messrs. B. E. Morse, E. J. Ostrander, Stuart Taylor, C. C. Begins, Jos. J. Mullens and V. H. Hines acted as the bearers. Interment was made in the City cemetery.

WM. S. HART IN LATEST PICTURE AT THE IDAHO "WOLVES OF THE RAIL" A TREMENDOUS HIT—PROGRAM OF VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Thomas H. Ince presents Wm. S. Hart in this production, which provides a new character for the famous star, that of a railroad detective running down a gang of bandits during the early days of the West. The story provides Hart with sensational scenes and thrilling situations. He performs heroic feats, the climax of which is his daring ride alongside a runaway engine which has boards while his horse is going at a mad gallop and prevents a collision.

Wm. S. HART, "Wolves of the Rail."

Most of the scenes were photographed in the mountains of California where a complete railroad station, switch tower and division superintendent's office were erected.

From the beginning of the first scene to the last the picture is replete with rapid action.

Hart is introduced as a bad man, whose reformation is brought about by the prayer of his dying mother—a scene of infinite pathos. "Wolves of the Rail" in addition to being an extraordinary "thriller" will also rank as a superb dramatic offering.

While retaining all the atmosphere which has made Hart photoplays so popular with the public it provides the famous actor with a vehicle entirely different from anything he has heretofore appeared in.

CHILDREN'S MATINEE SATURDAY WITH VAUDEVILLE—STARTS 1:45 AND RUNS CONTINUOUSLY

Miss Vola Vaig, who appears as leading woman for Charles Ray in his first Paramount picture, "The Son of His Father," is well known to photoplay followers. She played opposite Sessue Hayakawa in "Each to His Kind" and with George Barbant in "The Bond Between" and with Hart in "Wolves of the Rail."

Conway Tearle, who appears in "The Madest House" and "The Wall and Stage Star," who will be seen on the stage this winter in New York with Ethel Barrymore.

Judge Willis Brown, of the Chicago Juvenile court is one of the newest comers to the field of photoplay writing. Being a keen student of human nature and particularly child nature, he is able to produce a Paramount photoplay for Jack Blackford which this far to be an overwhelming success and one of the stars' most popular pictures.

Violent Homing, who is the star in Sir Gilbert Parker's "The Judge and His House," which has been prepared for the screen by J. Stuart Blackton, is one of the most beautiful actresses of the screen. One often reads about "violent eyes," but in Miss Homing's case there can be absolutely no doubt that said orbs are a deep lavender.

Less Labor Needed for 1918 Than for 1917 in Twin Falls County

There will not be nearly as much labor needed to harvest the crops this year as last in this county, according to the survey of County Agent Donald McLean and the farm bureau, which has just been completed. The available supply exceeds the anticipated demand by thirty-five, according to estimates, when those over 14 years of age are counted. At the time the figures were being taken only 205 had been hired. The reason for the decreased demand, in the smaller acreage of sugar beets, potatoes and other crops requiring extra labor and the largely increased acreage of wheat, barley, oats, corn, peas and beans, which are harvested with little labor. While it took 4660 hired men to harvest the crops last year, it is estimated that 2123 will do the work this year.

Relative to the figures regarding alfalfa and red clover under the heading "Harvested 1917," attention is called to the fact that those crops are not annuals and consequently the acreage harvested is always greater than the amount planted.

The following is the summary:
Total acreage in 1917, 48,741.
Total number of persons over 14 years available for work—2164.

Labor hired for short periods, 1917, 4069; already hired for 2015; yet to be hired for 1918, 2129.

Flag Dedicated Sunday Evening

Patriotic Program Followed by Prayer and Benediction—Sermon by Rev. Joseph Sullivan of Salt Lake

There was a large congregation at St. Edward's Catholic church Sunday evening on the occasion of the dedication and blessing of the service flag of the parish, which contains twenty-eight stars representing the boys who have gone into the service to fight for their country.

The musical program was beautiful and appropriate. The dedicatory service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. N. P. Hahn and the address delivered by Rev. Joseph Sullivan of Salt Lake City.

The following was the program:
Solo—Yont Grentor.
M. Tensdale.
Address—Father Sullivan.
Dedication and blessing the flag—Father Hahn.
Solo—"Spungled Banner"—Mrs. C. O. Longley.
Recitation of the Rosary.
Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.
In his address Father Sullivan said in part:

"We are gathered, this evening, to honor our service boys. You look upon this banner, I beg you not to see a mere unit among the countless units that make up the armed forces of our country. I ask you to count these stars slowly and distinctly. Each one represents a boy you know, a cherished mother's son, every one; an outcome of the love of Twin Falls county; a beloved child of St. Edward's parish.

"I believe there is something in this act, and as we are assembled here to do these boys reverence, I am sure their thoughts reach out to us, Oceania roll between our hearts' beat—as one, and whose aims, and aspirations are cemented.

"As I look upon these stars, true reminders of our boys, I think of that other array of stars that find a haven on our national standard, and I wonder what leads us to select the same emblem to represent our states and our boys. We know how our colonies once set themselves in unbroken ranks to breathe the wave of oppression and tyranny that would overwhelm them. They faltered not till they had achieved liberty and independence. But they still were but an infant nation and reached out for support and assistance. Now states were added; new provinces had to be carved out. But they still were but a weak nation. And one by one those other stars came out in the blue of our firmament. These now states have become our support, our power, our strong arm, our pride and our joy. So it is with our boys. They are the strength and the glory of that galaxy of great men who are the chosen pilots of the destinies of our land.

"Again, I believe in the guidance of the fixed and constant Polar star. The blackest night, the brightest it shines, and it never winks. Let us, the tonight, the more does the sailor look for the star. So should we ever trust in the faithfulness and the constancy of our boys."

Sacred history saved for us the story of that mystic star, that led the wise men to the manger where lay the Son of David. May these stars, that direct the thinking men in whose breasts are lit the fires of patriotism and humanity to those other messengers of the north, whose dwell these now saviors of their people.

"May God keep them, and return them to us in all their purity and hardness and manhood. If the extreme moment arrives for them, may He send his angels to comfort them for forty-three centuries, then to the realms of immortality. There, they shall add new lustre to the stars that guide us."

"gassed" while leading his men in an attack but that he "has entirely recovered and resumed his duties." It is believed here that Colonel MacArthur is slated for an early promotion by General Pershing.

Council Does Much Business Monday Night

The city council Monday night determined to raze off a block each way from the center of Main street Saturday afternoon for the celebration and accepted the resignation of J. A. Bybee as engineer, and appointed E. V. Berg in his place; received and referred a petition from residents in the Eastern addition and Block No. 1 in the Jones addition for the creation of a sewer district; raised salary of F. E. Wheeler from $25 dollars a month on account of extra work on water works, and received his report on two-years of municipal ownership; passed on the request of the Building Trades council a resolution asking contractors for the water works to employ home labor, where possible; referred to the committee on water drains and sewers the matter of making additions to the reservoir; called for a report on the water works for April 18 on bonds of payment by day of eight hours; passed the sprinkling ordinance, there being no protests; referred to the water works a proposition to buy a new sprinkler and referred to the street committee the securing of a new garbage man to take the place of James Urice, who resigned; got a report from City Engineer Bybee resigned as a result of dissatisfaction in regard to salary; the question of salary has been up before the council for some time and in adjustment friction proceeded here, as the following communication submitted as a resignation indicated:

To the Mayor and City Council:
Gentlemen:
I herewith tender my resignation as city engineer of the City of Twin Falls and ask that it be accepted immediately.
In closing my resignation I wish to state that I don't think you have treated me either fairly or honestly. Last year being on the per diem basis in order to make a living I had a job and other work than the city offered, which I did, and then while I was away for a few days the work became so urgent that you called another engineer and immediately put him on a salary sufficient to pay him for all his time, and then when the city wanted all his time, still leaving me on a per diem basis.

Then at a council meeting in January you promised to put me on a salary. Instead of doing so you put it off until the last meeting in March when you decided to still leave me on the per diem basis, with what at this time, is a very paltry amount. At the same meeting you accepted an offer from Burns & McDonald to furnish engineers to do the work for the city and gave them a salary.

The business men of Twin Falls are always advertising to patriotic home towners and keep your money at home, yet you men have absolutely turned down the engineers at home and given the contract to the outsiders to bring other engineers with them. If this is fair or honest to myself and other engineers of Twin Falls, then I am not a man to judge of fairness and honesty.

Yours truly,
JAS. A. BYBEE.

Utah Is Slated for the Next Big Oil Excitement

DEVELOPMENTS are indicating that some portions of this state are underlain with pools of "liquid wealth," and that Utah may soon take her place alongside Wyoming, Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas as an oil producer.

The great fortunes in oil have been made by those who were in on the discovery and development of properties. Once the production is proven, holdings usually take on such values that profits are necessarily smaller.

The DIXIE OIL COMPANY has holdings in southern Utah, on which OIL HAS BEEN DISCOVERED IN SUBSTANTIAL QUANTITIES, and it is a HIGH-GRADE OIL.

We announced to some of our Twin Falls Friends that we were developing this property and that we wanted them to come in with us and share in the anticipated profits.

We have had so many requests for further information that we have decided to send our representatives into that territory for a few days to answer these inquiries direct.

Our salesmen, Mr. McKenzia and Mr. Andrews are here now, and have a quantity of our HIGH GRADE OIL DIRECT FROM OUR WELLS, and a miniature refining plant with which will demonstrate for you how to EXTRACT GASOLINE, KEROSENE AND FUEL OIL FROM THE CRUDE PRODUCT.

You can see with your own eyes that we can save over 75 per cent by ordinary distillation.

Demonstrations evenings—7:30 to 10 or any time by request.

Picturesque Leader Head Yankee Aviator

Henry O. Wales (N. S. Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 2.—American aviators in France are fighting on the Somme front under the son of a former governor of Minnesota. He is a major and commands the first American squadron, except the Lafayette escadrille, to take active action in the big fight. "The men of my command are making a magnificent showing," he declared today. "Americans should be proud of them."

The major referred to in Wales' dispatch is undoubtedly Major Cushman A. Rice, one of the most picturesque characters in the American army. He is reported to be a former aviator in his career reads like a page from fiction. He has fought in South American revolutions, is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, was chief of scouts for General Lawton in the Philippines, and also took part in putting down the Boxer rebellion in China. It is reported that he has been wounded in the famous game in which the world was an amateur auto race driver and when in New York, where he lived most of the time, he was one of the figures along the Great White Way.

When America entered the war, Rice was commander for a commission. He retired from the army after the Spanish-American war as a captain. Running into some delay in getting his commission, Rice wanted to get "over there," enlisted as a private in the aviation corps. In a month he was a "top" sergeant, and in a few more months he was made a major and given charge of a squadron.

GERMAN BLOW AGAINST ALLIED LINES ON WEDNESDAY ALL FAIL

British Hurl Back Foes in the Fampoux Sector and Suffer Heavy Loss in Killed, Wounded and Captured—Deadlock Thought Prelude of Further Teuton Offensive—Powerful Forces of Reserves Massed by Allies—Bombing of Paris Resumed.

(By Frank Charlton, International News Service)

More blows have been struck by the Germans against the British and French lines without any decisive result.

East of Arras, the Kaiser flung his legions against the British defensive works in the Fampoux sector, but they were hurled back after spirited fighting, leaving many dead behind. The British captured some prisoners.

The assault against the French was made in the district south of Moreuil, which has been the scene of some bloody fighting since the German drive opened 14 days ago. The attacking forces were rolled back but succeeded in gaining a precarious footing in an advanced trench line.

Just west of Noyon, the French struck northward against the southern flank of the German salient, gaining some ground at Picomont. To the east of Mont Didier the Germans lunged against the French in the Rollot sector, but the French positions all held firm.

(Fampoux lies about 4 1/2 miles east of Arras, on the Scarpe river. It was in that sector that the Germans made a determined effort last week to break through the British front with a huge force of troops and to throw a wedge between Arras and Vimy ridge for a double-ensnaring movement. Moreuil is about 11 miles southeast of the British base of Amiens and has changed hands several times in the past few days. Rollot is a hamlet, about five miles southeast of Mont Didier, while Picomont lies about seven miles east of Rollot.)

While the latest flare up of fighting east of Arras evidently was of violent character, the balance of the British line stretching from the Arras sector to a point south of the Somme river, has continued to be the scene of a lull, except for local activity.

This deadlock is generally regarded as the prelude to further powerful German thrusts when the German armies are brought into strategic positions.

The British war office reports Arette in possession of the British as the result of a local operation.

(Arette lies about seven miles south of Arras and the official statement put out in London today was the first intimation that the Germans had succeeded in penetrating the village.)

The hesitancy of von Hindenburg in renewing the drive against Amiens indicates that the Germans are apprehensive and have undertaken preparations on a big scale before attempting further to force a wedge between the British and French armies. Powerful forces of French and British reserves are being held behind the front at every point where the Germans could possibly strike.

British-raiding activity is increasing. The war office today reported the capture of German prisoners from five different points on the western front.

The German bombardment of Paris was resumed today.

LONDON, April 3.—The Germans have renewed their pressure against the British this east of Arras; delivering a determined attack in the sector of Fampoux, on the Scarpe river, the war office reported today.

The assault, which was made on Tuesday morning, was completely repulsed.

The Germans suffered heavily, leaving many dead behind. In addition, the British captured some prisoners.

The British carried out a successful operation during the night at Arette, which is now in British possession.

More than 100 German prisoners and three machine guns were captured there. Other prisoners were taken by the British at Sorre.

Lincolnshire troops delivered a raid near Lens (north of Lens) capturing 31 prisoners.

The lull along the Picardy battle front from Arras to the French line continues.

"British troops repulsed a determined German attack in the sector of Fampoux yesterday morning," the official statement said.

"The enemy left a number of dead on the field. Some prisoners were taken. A successful local operation was carried out by the British last night near Arette, which is now in British possession. Upwards of 100 prisoners and three machine guns were captured. In Tuesday's operation at Sorre the British took a few prisoners. Lincolnshire troops made a successful raid near Lens, capturing 31 prisoners and a machine gun."

"A raid by the British near Poolesville (on the west Flanders front) resulted in the capture of some German prisoners.

Numberless deeds of heroism marked the conduct of the British soldiers in the stupendous Picardy battle. In the fierce German attack east of Arras, certain Essex troops were cut off. Everything about the battle was obliterated by the German gunfire, but instead of trying to seek safety, the men simply sent back the message "we shall fight to the last man. So far as we could be learned today, all died facing the enemy."

TO ARMS
(Tune: "Marching Through Georgia")
Our gallant sons in khaki now have come from near and far;
Their stances here the best time as one in strength for righteous war;
One symbol o'er their campfire gleams bright as their guiding star.
Behold "the great Red Triangle!"

CHORUS:
To France! to France! now raise the joyful strain;
To France! to France! to free the world
again;
We'll teach the Kaiser's minions all the wisdom born of pain.
Oh, Lord God of hosts give us victory!
Where'er they march, where'er they sail,
The Red Cross band is there to soothe the soldier's pillow, facing grim death in his lair.
God bless the women of our land,
the brave, the true, the fair!
The Red Cross, the Red Cross forever!
How well our men have labored both in city and on plain,
Our nation's wealth, through years of toll and sacrifice, to gain.
Yet when for Liberty the Loan arose
but one refrain:
"We'll bridge the seas o'er with our dollars.

And when the shout of victory resounded from zone to zone
And Standard-bearers from foreign lands,
has come unto his own,
The ranks that knew his smiling face,
a world's weal 'till have done,
Columbia will welcome her heroes.

City, Kansas, Daily Union.

At the regular monthly board meeting Monday Mrs. Brackton was appointed chairman of the Twin Falls City Auxiliary by the board. This branch has been organized for the purpose of more efficient Red Cross work in this city. The registration cards have been carefully seen over by a committee with Mrs. Simpson, chairman, and all women who signed these cards, offering their services for Red Cross work in the city, will be called upon by a committee and an attempt made to interest the women not now working.

Flour sacks wanted that are clean, pressed and homed at the refugee headquarters at once.

The quarterly meeting of Auxiliaries has been postponed until April 11, and will be held at 2:30, at Mason hall. All chairmen are urged to be present.

Any one having used garments not contributed to the Belgian relief fund are urged to leave them at the Red Cross rooms, where proper disposal will be made of them.

A meritorious plan was carried out by the children of the Lincoln school during the Thrift Stamp drive when a portion of the sum collected, was invested in a baby bond and donated to the Red Cross.

About 400 women and men registered for surgical dressing work last week. It will take fully that many every week to fill the quota. There will be no classes any week on Thursday, either afternoon or evening and on Saturday of this week, there will be no work because of the Loyalty day celebration.

The Junior Red Cross fund was enriched by quite a nice sum last Saturday when the Boy Scouts collected of the sum from the fund. The sum was sold them for a good price. Any sacks not collected for may call phone 376 and arrangements will be made to get them.

Unsolicited donations to the Red Cross have been made this last week as follows: The assails, which was made Tuesday morning, was completely repulsed.

FRANKLIN

Safety First--

The car user of today unlike he of former years has adopted the motto of Safety First, not alone in regard to the method he pursues in operating his car, but also in regard to the selection of the car itself.

Last year and former years the uppermost thought in the minds of most people who rode or drove a motor car was, "How fast can I make the car travel?"

Now the thought that is uppermost in the same man's mind is, "How safely can I use my car?"

Strange as it may seem, with the Franklin owner, the same answer in miles a day or hour is returned to these two widely varying questions.

This can be said with truth of no other car than the Franklin.

You will understand the reason once you drive a Franklin, even though the experience may not last more than a few minutes or a few miles.

Ease of Driving and Comfort--

Second only to safety in the operation of a motor car, comes ease in driving, comfort in occupancy while on the road, the economy of operation.

It is probable that you can drive any car with safety, provided you are careful enough.

But you can not make a car easy to drive and comfortably to ride in unless the car is properly constructed.

AUSTRIAN PEACE MOVE IGNORED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

ALLEGED DECLARATION OF "COMPLETE ACCORD" UNRECOGNIZED

German Peace Proposition Is Expected

So Long as Kaiser and Military Party Dominate in Germany United States Will Insist in Continuing the Conflict.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Count Czernin's latest announcement, made according to cables reaching this city, before the Vienna municipal council on Tuesday, that the peace views of President Wilson were identical with those entertained by the Austrian emperor, found absolutely no response in Washington official circles today.

It was accepted by officialdom—that the declaration of the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister was in the nature of a new peace offer. His indication that Emperor Charles, of Austria, was in sympathy with any peace move that he would be willing to undertake the pressing of no negotiations with the German control, was in itself sufficient, officials pointed out, to show that his position is entirely dominated by Berlin.

And his declaration that Vienna and Berlin are one—and that a separate peace is out of the question, simply confirmed the view in diplomatic and official circles here "that another 'made in Germany' peace drive is to be initiated and exploited, the Kaiser's attitude having failed to effect either through to the sea or Paris.

It was not expected that there would be any great additions made to any peace movement at the present time, no matter by whom it was initiated. The entire confidence that it was a peace with the sword and that view is now the all-compelling one held in the American circles.

The president has been willing to hold out the olive branch to the German people as long as there seemed the slightest opportunity that German democracy had a chance of dominating the German government. With the deliberate violation of the pledges made to Russia in the early peace negotiations which was followed up by the rape of that nation, the German liberals were swallowed up by the war party.

The extravagant promises made in connection with the battle of Verdun transformed all Germany into a nation believing that as the Kaiser himself expressed it, "A German peace will be compelled by the German sword." And as a result there is not a single official here today who is not completely convinced there must be a complete abandonment by the United States of any and all peace discussions until the German army is beaten.

Holland Roused by Work of the Germans

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Holland is thoroughly aroused by the misrepresentation of events leading up to the seizure of her ships by the United States. This was the message brought to Washington today by Robert G. Hayward, representative of the war trade board, who has spent practically all of his time in Europe since the United States entered the war, talking over the Dutch ships here. "Do not," said he "under-rate the strong feeling aroused by our actions among the Dutch common people. Public opinion in Holland is being fed by German propaganda and every effort is being made by the enemy to inflame the Dutch people against America."

MEXICANS ARRESTED AT BROWNVILLE FOR SMUGGLING

BROWNVILLE, Texas, April 3.—Two Mexicans attempting to smuggle beef and money into Mexico were arrested at Brownville ranch by Texas rangers today. When the rangers captured the Mexicans, who were in an automobile, they found besides the beef, $11,000 in gold and much currency in the car. The rangers crossed the border line and recovered the beef and money, but three other Mexicans who were in the car escaped. The two who were captured were brought to Brownville and interned at Fort Brown.

PURE FOOD AND MARKET

A Whole Meal in One Dish

We are all learning, to accommodate our daily menu to the times. The food administrators is finding a real response to their request for conservation. And housewives are saving—and thus serving the cause of democracy—every day.

For a "one-dish meal" which both serves and conserves meat, there is no better than the old-fashioned pot-pie with dumplings. No bread need be served. You can use mutton or veal with carrots, onions, parsnip and plenty of potatoes.

It's just the dish for your family these cool spring days. And these dumplings made of cornmeal and flour are delicious

- Cornmeal Dumplings
 - 2 level tablespoons Cottoleone.
 - 1/2 cup white or yellow cornmeal
 - 1 cup flour
 - 1/2 level teaspoon salt.
 - 1/2 level teaspoons baking powder.
 - Milk
- Sift together the flour, cornmeal, salt and baking powder. Rub or chop in the Cottoleone, mix the meat and other ingredients. Add dumplings when the pot-pie is nearly done. You may then finish by baking with the dumplings in the oven. Or cover the vessel over tightly and cook the dumplings on top of the stove.

In Tune With The Times

It's a patriotic tune—sounded by marching feet.

Uncle Sam says: "Housekeepers, everybody, keep in line."

And housewives all over the country are cheerfully bending all their energies to contribute the desired saving and service. They are falling valiantly into line—saving wheat, animal fats, beef, pork, sugar.

They are discovering new uses for certain like cornmeal, barley, oatmeal, bread and cake making, muffins, biscuits.

Here is an old-fashioned gingerbread recipe, which is quite in tune with the times:

- Gingerbread
 - 1 cup New Orleans molasses.
 - 2 scant tablespoons Cottoleone, melted.
 - 1 cup boiling water.
 - 1 level teaspoon soda.
 - 1/2 cup flour
 - 1 1/2 cups barley meal.
 - 1 tablespoon ginger.
- Blend soda in tablespoon boiling water and add it to the molasses. Sift together the barley meal, flour and ginger. Add the melted Cottoleone and boiling water to first mixture. Beat well, then add the flour sifted with ginger. Beat until smooth. Bake in moderate oven about 30 minutes.
- It is well to remember that mixtures made with molasses are likely to scorch and burn quickly.

WHALE MEAT TASTES GOOD AS BEEF

Several kinds of new sea food are being put on the market. A writer of an article on sea food says:

"Whaling is not what it used to be, but there are still some one thousand five hundred of them killed each year on the Pacific coast. In the body of each of these whales there are ten thousand pounds of first class meat. The Japanese whalers relieve this meat and find ready market for it at home. The American whaler throws it away."

"It is a fact not commonly appreciated that the whale is not a fish. The whale has no fishy taste whatever. The whale is a warm-blooded animal. It is a mammal which suckles its young. Its flesh is therefore comparable with that of other mammals such as cow, pig, lamb, etc.

"An enterprising whaler last season brought some whale meat into Seattle and placed it in the butcher shops and had it served at the hotels. It sold for ten cents a pound, and the hotels served steaks for forty cents that would have cost a dollar-fifty had they been beef. Guests ate of the whale meat and pronounced it as good as beef. Last year, also, the same experiment was tried at Long Beach, California, and the whale meat sold readily in the butcher shops and was liked by consumers. So it is earnestly urged, in these trying times, that the housekeepers and hotels use the whale meat as a substitute for beef. It is equal to nutritive value to the meat of 100,000 prime porkers."

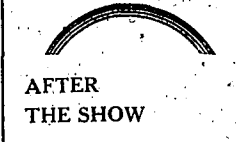

Cottage Cheese

A very economical substitute for meat is supplied by cottage cheese. It contains a larger percentage of protein than most meats and furnishes this material at a much lower cost. In each pound of cottage cheese there is about one-fifth of a pound of protein, nearly all of which is digestible. It generally contains less protein and besides have a certain amount of waste, such as bone and other inedible material.

A pound of cottage cheese daily will supply all the protein required by the average adult engaged in a sedentary occupation.

The following table prepared by cottage cheese is much cheaper than meat as a source of protein:

- One pound of cottage cheese equals:
 - 1.27 lbs. prime steak
 - 1.09 lbs. round steak.
 - 1.37 lbs. chuck steak.
 - 1.52 lbs. veal.
 - 1.46 lbs. fresh ham.
 - 1.44 lbs. smoked ham.
 - 1.58 lbs. loin pork chops.
 - 1.51 lbs. hind leg of lamb.
 - 1.37 lbs. breast of veal.
- Cottage cheese can be made of skim milk that would otherwise go to waste. After removing the cream for the coffee, the skim-milk that is not used for puddings, gravies, etc., can easily be made into cottage cheese.

Federal Prohibition Amendment Enemies in Session Today Plan "States Rights" Move

MONTGOMERY, ALA., April 4.—For the purpose of organizing a campaign to defeat the adoption of the Federal prohibition amendment representative politicians from practically every county in the state are holding a convention here today. Most of the men opposed to prohibition. A few in favor of prohibition for the state but oppose the Federal amendment.

Proceedings today indicated the anti-amendmentists would go before the people with the old problem of "States Rights." Anti-prohibitionists contend that the question of prohibition should be decided by every state. Many of the same States Rights arguments of the Civil War period are being employed.

I. W. W. Prisoners Get Leave to "Chew"

Judge Landis Has Culpiters Distributed So Defendants Can Get Solace in Wood.

CHICAGO, April 3.—The great American practice of chewing tobacco and spitting the juice will not be denied the 114 I. W. W.'s on trial in Judge Landis' court for violation of the espionage laws and charged with obstructing America's war work.

When Judge Landis ordered the clerk to requisition the "spittoons" the defendants beamed and smiled on each other. Following this preparation, Judge Landis ordered the case to proceed and the first batch of spittoons were called. The I. W. W.'s listened with much interest while the taleman went quizzed or talked in whispers among themselves.

District Attorney Charles F. Clyne opened the battle with his first question put to Thomas W. Allison, father of Brock Dov Allison, who will be classed as a deserter if he is not at Camp Grant by tonight. Allison said he had read books and articles on sabotage, knew all about it, but nothing to prevent him serving as a juror. He was rejected. He was the first juror excused.

Postmaster Stronk's Parcel Announcement

Sets Forth Rules Governing Sending of Packages to the Boys Beyond the Seas

Postmaster Stronk Monday issued the following statement regarding packages to boys beyond the seas, setting forth rules applicable to the production of ships under the American expeditionary forces in Europe unless they contain such articles only as are being sent to the boys in the form of the address, approved by his regimental or higher commander or an executive officer of the organization with which he is connected.

Postmaster must secure the signature of the sender in each case that all the articles contained in the parcel sent to the address of the approved written request, and that such request is enclosed in the parcel, by requiring the sender to place on the wrapper of the parcel under his name and address the following indorsement:

URGENT THE SECURING OF STEEL PLATES PROMPTLY

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Learning that the shortage of steel plates is mainly responsible for holding up the production of ships needed to rush troops to France the senate commerce committee voted this afternoon to appeal directly to President Wilson to take a hand in the situation. The committee, on motion of Senator Harding, of Ohio, decided to send a committee, headed by Senator Fisher, of Florida, and Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, to the president to secure the action needed to get steel plates.

Every Effort to Send Men Over

War Council in Washington is Optimistic Over Prospects—America Will Be Dominant Factor

WASHINGTON, April 3.—America will strain every nerve to send men and munitions to aid in the halting of German drive in Russia. This was the official word coming from the White House today.

President Wilson has been working habitually to several days in plans with the cabinet officers for the rushing of men and supplies to Europe. Last night he had the preliminary work completed.

Today President Wilson called in the members of the "war court" to get a formal plan for the speeding up of the world's greatest battle. "We must strain every nerve," the president is understood to have told them.

Lafe Young Would Expel La Follette

Scathing Denunciation of Pro-Germans Evokes Wild Applause at Governor's Council of Defense.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—"If the United States council would expel La Follette it would be like driving a whole German division behind their lines." This statement by former United States Senator Lafe Young, of Iowa this afternoon before the governor's council, evoked a national defense, brought down a storm of applause and interrupted the meeting for several moments. Governors of several states and representatives of government forgot their dignity to burst into wild applause.

Former Senator Young spoke strenuously and delivered a forceful denunciation of the pro-Germans in the United States. He charged that the pro-Germans would declare war on the United States, and that the pro-Germans among their constituents.

Much Interest is Shown in Meeting

Many Expected to be in Jerome Saturday on Account of Hearing on Mindoka Reserve.

Much interest was aroused here by the announcement in THE TIMES Tuesday of the Wyoming exhibit of construction of the U. S. reclamation service, with headquarters at Bend, Ore., would hold a hearing in Jerome at 8 o'clock Saturday in connection with the leases of grazing lands which have recently been opened to public bidding.

ST. LOUIS COPS MUST BE BIGGEST AND HANDSOMEST

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 4.—Traffic police in this city by the way, waitlines, undressed, or over thirty-five years old will be replaced by the "biggest and handsomest" of the force.

INVESTIGATION OF THE MUNITIONS WORKERS STRIKE

CHICAGO, April 3.—The striking war munitions workers of the American Car & Foundry company today rejected an offer of 20 per cent increase in wages and a 5 per cent overtime over eight hours with the proviso that they must work 10 hours, according to John Welsh, a spokesman for them. Acting on the information that the I. W. W. is behind the strike the department of justice ordered an investigation into the circumstances surrounding it.

Medical Corps Today Begins Nation-wide Campaign Against Respiratory Diseases

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Respiratory diseases having caused practically all the sick and death rate in the nation's war armies, the Medical Corps today began a nation-wide campaign of prevention against pneumonia, measles, diphtheria, influenza and tuberculosis.

All of the diseases mentioned are spread or communicated in the same way—through the transfer of nasal and mouth secretions. The sickness may be caught by the country could be cut to a minimum if the soldiers and the general public as well stopped promiscuous coughing, sneezing and spitting.

The difficulty of controlling these diseases, it was pointed out at the Surgeon-General's office today, lies in the fundamental fact that human beings scatter their nose and mouth secretions without any consideration of the rights and regulations to the contrary.

One sneeze in a crowded car could infect many persons in the car with pneumonia, or measles, or mumps, or meningitis, or infantile paralysis, or tuberculosis. One hearty cough could do the same. In either case, spread of any of these diseases could be prevented if a sneezer or a cougher used his handkerchief as a "catcher" to sneeze or cough into.

Unlike some disease germs, the germs which cause the diseases mentioned do not die by exposure to sunlight upon drying. So that when they are dried and blown about with the dust they are still capable of setting up disease in many other people. The problem of the respiratory diseases which confronts Surgeon-General Gorman and the army medical corps is not a new one. All methods of the public are totally ignorant of the immeasurable harm that is done by unguarded and promiscuous coughing, sneezing and spitting.
