Kimberly Students Celebrate April 1

"All Fools Day" Occasion for Banquet
on Shute Shoals of Rock Creek.

On April 1 it became a surprising idea that the school people of Kimberly should have a vacation from their studies. But the board somehow did not see fit to grant such a whimsy.

However, seniors are not to be de-nieed anything on which they have set their hearts. So, one of the young men was appointed to explain the idea to the session room teacher—
which he did.

About nine o'clock a. m. one could see crowds of young people gathering near the Gill garage. One of the number, a young fellow more courageous than the rest, stepped up to the senior session room. There, in great bold letters he wrote the motto
"April Fool."

Then, with the aid of one junior,
who happened to be driving a Ford,
they made their way to Rock creek,
where they enjoyed the day.

But, one must always pay the fiddler, and the seniors are no exception. The twelve young people who have their way, are staying in at retreat, to make up for the "April Fool."
They say they don't mind, since the day was fine, and they had enough fun to make up for any grief now.

But the most peculiar incident of it is that the "idea" seemed to be catching. The correspondent has it that the grades even took as far as the seventh and eighth or Junior high school also took it upon themselves to have a holiday, with practically the same results.

and N. J. Hickerson went to the

THE SIXPORTY ACRE HOMESTEAD TRACT

That article, "How Shall We Have Meat," by George Frederic Stratton,
in "The Country Gentleman" of March is simply brim full of facts. Facts that need to be known too. Facts that are vital to industry, vital to the comfort and happiness of millions, vital to warfare and to government.

It starts something as follows:
"It is fairly well known that the second crop of alfalfa is under normal conditions, of considerably more value than the first. And that peculiarity is also seen in many conventional—political—economic conventions."

Well the scene of Mr. Stratton's story was laid at a cow convention,
that is, the recent great live stock convention in Salt Lake City and in it was with such interesting and intensely patriotic subjects as cows, calves, pork, mutton, beef, wool, and other subjects, that the speaker, a homestead law, throwing open more than 200,000 acres of land to entry and providing $150,000 appropriation for the purchase of the land, and 400
applications are in for such homestead outlets.

This matter, particularly interests us for it means many things and its effects are numerous. There is a lot of land in the western states being idle and most of the particular kind of land open for entry under the 640-acre law is practically useless for any other purpose than grazing.

The government, hoping to facilitate the production of meat, decided that if this land was taken in large enough quantities to be serviceable for grazing, many men, including toward the cattle business, but obliged to work on a small scale, would be led into the game.

As matters stand today, many men of laudable means, would enjoy raising cattle, if they had the range to raise a sufficient quantity to justify them in going into the business. They can hardly see where it pays, when they must pay heavy rent for pasture and high prices for hay.

Therefore, the government would open a way to accommodate their ambitions. They throw open large tracts of grazing land to be divided off in convenient quantities for the little cattlemen.

But what do they do to the big cattlemen, who have been depending upon this waste land for grazing his large herds?

Only two things are left for him to choose from. He must take one or the other. Either he must go out of the cattle business on a large scale, and follow the big man, laid down by a cattleman of Portland, Oregon.
Here are his statements made at the live-stock convention at Salt Lake City, which follow:

"I'll tell you how it is hitting me right now! I've got 14,000 acres, full title or lease, running cows, horses, and sheep. Last year's stock states that stock homestead law passed, a follow came to me and told me he was going to enter a section just north of my line. I know the section and he can't raise a ton of hay to the acre on it and I told him I was sorry for him, but he only grinned and said,
'I'd like to get a job from you, herding.'"

"What's the game?" I asked.
—"I'll herd 'for you—regular pay," he came back and said, "I can clean up on that section and raise what grass I can for you. Then when I prove up I'll sell you the section."

"Well I made the deal, with him, fixing a price right then, and I've done the same thing with three other fellows alongside of him. I want all of the land I can get and I can't buy a tenth of an acre from the government, or lease it, so I took those fellows up and told them that what the 640-acre law is going to do, and about all it will do."

Well, there are two sides to this question. There is an advantage for the little man and a disadvantage for the big man, which he can, evidently, get around if he is willing to, pay the price.

Editor, published July 7, 1916.
He says he enjoys the marine life fine. He has made several fine trips.
Among these are, through the Panama canal, Cuba, Haiti, and to Virginia. He is now located at Galveston, Texas. He says that in going from San Francisco to Quantico, Virginia, through the Panama canal took about 22 days.

He also says to the home folks that all the boys, and most of the "boys"
of that regiment are from Montana, Idaho and California. He tries to thank them for their undivided loyalty and support. "I'll tell you it is fine," he said. "Their quarters are comfortable and their meals are first rate. His only regret is that though the marines are first in war to fight, he may not get a chance at those casualties."

CHANGING POSITIONS
Carl Ridgeway, who has been acting as cashier for the Bank of Kimberly for a long time, resigned his position the first of the week. Mr.
Ridgeway immediately accepted a position as the assistant cashier for the First National Bank.

Mr. Denman, who was called to fill the vacancy thus made, Mr.
Denham was formerly of Kimberly,
having owned jointly the Turner Audition with Mr. Turner. He will make his home apartment in the apartment
over the drug store.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Precisely one year ago the SUNDAY TWIN FALLS TIMES made its appearance and constituted the third weekly issue of that newspaper.

Hence, as stated in the brief salutory reprinted below from "Number One, Volume One," THE DAILY TWIN FALLS TIMES.

It was looking to prepare for this exigency that THE TIMES, a little over a year ago moved into a new, roomy and specially designed building, with all conveniences, including a large basement, that a little later it added to its equipment, among other essentials, the very latest and most costly typesetting machine and secured the services of an expert operator;

THE DAILY TIMES, therefore, has also come to stay! We shall expect it to reach all present readers of the TIMES and to stay with them. Pending determination of postal arrangements and of existing contracts the "Twice-A-Week" and "Sunday" editions will appear as heretofore—Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, being filled in by the Daily.

Beginning next Monday, April 15, Sample Copies of the daily will be sent to all TIMES subscribers, either for the Twice-A-week or Sunday editions. In the meantime, and all the time, subscriptions to the daily are solicited and will be greatly appreciated; and any balances due on either editions can be applied thereon if desired.

The price of the daily to mail subscribers will be $5.00 per year; six months, $2.50; three months, $1.25; one month, 50 cents. For city delivery the same ratio will obtain on a basis of $6.00 per annum.

realizing the community of interests that exist here as everywhere, we can identify bespeak from the people of Twin Falls city and county a continuation of the favor and encouragement hitherto shown.

TURNING OVER OUR TROOPS TO NEW HEAD OF THE ARMIES

A good deal of misunderstanding has resulted, regarding the turning over of the American troops to General Eichel for use, where he might desire, and some people have the idea, encouraged, it must be admitted with regret, by the insinuations of certain writers, that our soldiers were not in a position to fight until this formal turning over took place.

A moment's thought must enable any one to understand that for weeks prior to the formal action, Americans held several sectors of trenches, participated in raids, took prisoners and were ready to stand the brunt of German assault had it been made on their sectors instead of along the line at Amiens.

The turning over to one supreme commander the management of all the armies on the western front is the culmination of the urgent recommendations made to the allied war council by the American military representative appointed by President Wilson, who insisted that authority be definitely concentrated. Up to that time, while the French commander was nominally the head of the armies on the west front, he was not so by reason of any definitely delegated authority, but rather by courtesy and informal understanding.

Erred in Defining the Word "Drive"

Mr. Edlitzer—While I am ready and willing to do all I am able to help, yet I am free to confess that I do not like that word "drive". It smacks of force and is used to describe military operations in Europe. Most men can be either coerced or reasoned with but very few can be driven. I know of more than one instance where help has been withheld because people thought that they were being dictated to or driven.

has never brought me over two dollars and fifty cents an acre a year; and on account of drought has not brought that this last year, bringing me nothing at all. I want to sell it, and cannot get any market for it. I did own a farm in Oklahoma besides this twenty acres, which I sold for ten thousand dollars, and three thousand dollars in oil stock. The oil stock has paid me no dividends. I put out of this ten thousand dollars three thousand two hundred and fifty dollars in payment of the house I live in. The two acres above, the oil stock and the house I live in in Twin Falls is all the property I own. There was a thirty-nine acre, three miles west of town, which was owned by my wife, and which I sold for her recently and never got a dollar down, but took in payment a house valued at two thousand dollars, and took a contract for the payment of the balance being five thousand dollars which has five or six years to run. I owe borrowed money amounting to one thousand dollars on which I am paying interest.

The above is a true and honest statement of my entire financial condition. Further I solemnly swear that I am absolutely true with my country in this war. I have had no use for the German Emperor, nor for the way the Germans are carrying on this war, and I desire a fair examination of my loyalty by the Council of Defense. I am perfectly willing to stand by the result, because I believe that my fellow citizens of the United States will give me a square deal, which is all I want. I further solemnly swear that the farm which has just been sold or traded, that is in my wife's name in Twin Falls county, was listed with real estate agents with instructions to rent it, and that I did not get here until I let my son have one thousand dollars with which to help him buy a farm which he has bought on time.

One Hundred Per Cent

The expression "One Hundred Per Cent" has been in common use lately. In Red Cross activities, Y. M. C. A. School and College circles, in large business offices, in manufacturing plants, in fact wherever there is any competition, an effort has been made to obtain a "Hundred Per Cent" rating.

Health Is Normal in other words One Hundred Per Cent.
Disease Is Subnormal or Below One Hundred Per Cent.

Disease is caused by nerve pressure, by interference with those channels which transmit mental impulses from the brain to every tissue cell in the body. If One Hundred Per Cent of mental impulse is fully expressed in function then we have Normal Health. A boon to which every human being is entitled.

If the Chiropractor is summoned he goes, at once to the seat of the trouble, adjusting the subluxated vertebra to their normal positions by the use of his bare hands only.

Chairman Thomas States That No Further Reports Had Been Received Since Saturday Night When About $200,000 Was Reported With Several Captains Yet to Report—Confidence Voiced in Results.

Everywhere throughout Twin Falls county teams of active workers are today soliciting subscriptions for Liberty Bonds—and getting them. The people are as earnest here as anywhere on earth in the work of winning the war for humanity and civilization and are going to do their part. Chairman C. D. Thomas stated this afternoon that no figures were available since Saturday night when approximately $200,000 had been reported, adding, however, that several captains who had been active throughout the day, had not reported. The reports from surrounding towns indicate great activity everywhere.

The hasty parades of the Liberty Day events alone possible in the SUN-DAY TIMES, which went to press Saturday afternoon, did not do full justice to numerous notable features, as well as to the splendid showing made by our little city taken as a whole. In the first place, the general and generous display of national colors, both in the business and residential parts of the city, showed how the necessity of our great struggle are being appreciated and personal interest therein awakened.

The parade, another exemplification of the same temper of mind and heart, had, striking features—none more so than the line of quiet middle-aged citizens, not often seen in showy performance, but proudly bearing aloft a service flag showing one, two and sometimes three stars. Then there were the great flags of this character, from the high schools, the churches and other societies, including the local lodge of Odd Fellows, the only one in order, aside from the G. A. R., that turned out in a body. Some of the floats were both beautiful and significant—especially, perhaps, "Liberty Enlightening the World" (posed by Miss Verma Schutt), Miss Columbia, France, Italy, Uncle Sam and Johnny Bull, posed respectively by Marlon Farrar, Albert Bennett, Mildred Ambury, Ward Carter and Andrew Pereloom—three boys (Chas. Hart, Gilbert Shado and Harold Steinhour), in Continental costume also posing as "The Spirit of '76." The Liberty Chorus, from the high school girls' clubs, were conspicuous in a motor; there was also a Red Cross ambulance, and, biggest of all, best of all, prettiest of all, there was a battalion of high school girls, all in white with Red Cross trimmings.

On arrival at the grand stand, on Shoshone west, facing the intersection with Main, where an immense crowd was already assembled, order was called by Sergeant McCracken and wire read from Rev. L. B. Franck, at Atlanta, Ga., ordering a hundred dollars bond and speeding the work. Judge J. E. Davies was then introduced and gave an eloquent address of a half hour's duration. Some of his speech was to "the second-line trenches here at home and stand by the boys 'over there.'" were both touching and effective.

Here's to the Red of it—
There's not a thread of it,
No, nor a shred of it,
In its wide spread of it
From foot to head,
But heroes have bled for it,
Faced steel and lead for it,
Precious blood shed for it,
Bathing it Red.

Here's to the White of it—
Thrilled by the sight of it,
Who knows the right of it,
But feels the might of it
Through day and night,
Womanhood's care for it,
Makes Manhood dare for it,
Purity's prayer for it,
Keeps it so White.

Here's to the Blue of it—
Heavenly hue of it,
Star spangled dew of it,
Constant and true,
States stand supreme for it,
Diadems gleam for it,
Liberty's beam for it,
Brightens the Blue.

Here's to the whole of it—
Stars, stripes and pole of it,
Body and soul of it,
On to the goal of it
Carry it through—
Home or abroad for it,
Uphearth the sword for it
Fight in every clime of it,
RED, WHITE AND BLUE.

Rev. A. H. Brand offered prayer, as patriotic as it was fervent, and Rev. O. T. Anderson spoke with great force and effectiveness on the duty owed his country by every American. Announcements were made from time to time of the progress of the Loan drive; but although the sum was raised to $100,000, so many subscriptions were unreported that it was nowhere near the true total, as will appear by figures given herewith.

No account could do full justice to the high spirit and enthusiasm so generally shown during this day; nor should we fail to notice and applaud the grand work of the Twin Falls band, under the leadership of J. T. Bainbridge. The high school Liberty chorus, occupying a float drawn close to the platform, also rendered several selections with pleasure to the audience as well as credit to themselves and their director, Miss Simpson.

Patriotic Parrot Is Stolen by Seditious

CHICAGO, APRIL 6.—Police today are searching for a patriotic parrot that was stolen from Alexander McKenna. In addition to its patriotism, the bird is described by Police Captain Westbrook as being a "stiff talker." McKenna has had Polly nine years and taught it to say "Kill the Kaiser," "Hurrah for Uncle Sam," and "Buy a Liberty Bond." Neighbors of McKenna last night heard Polly shrieking "Kill the Kaiser; kill him. Sammy kill him." Then Polly suddenly disappeared. "There is no doubt that the parrot was stolen by a German spy," said Captain Westbrook today. "I have notified everyone on the city to be on the lookout for a brown parrot screaming 'Kill the Kaiser.'"

New Treaties With Great Britain and Canada Aid Materially to Forces Available for Military Service Here.

Robert B. Smith (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, April 8.—Congress entered upon the second year of the war today determined to back President Wilson in his acceptance of Germany's challenge with drastic action. The house cleared the right of way for prompt consideration of new army legislation, including the new draft law expected to add 700,000 men to America's fighting forces by requiring the registration of young men who have reached the age of 21 years since June 5.

The senate expected to receive this week the revised draft of the treaties with Great Britain and Canada making several hundred thousand more men available for military service in the United States. The speeding up schedule also called for final action this week on the new espionage legislation, including several bills of far-reaching importance in making America wholly American and driving out disloyalty. Besides the pending measure in the senate the bills aimed to catch women on spies and prevent tampering with munitions contracts were up for consideration. The last two bills have been passed by both houses. They require only formal action before they are laid before the president. McKenna, the senate commerce committee was awaiting a favorable opportunity to bring up measures which it has recommended to aid in speeding up the work of providing ships to send American troops and supplies to France.

Praeger Inquest at Collinsville Begins

Held Behind Closed Doors—Special Deputies Sworn Mayor Will Be Called to Testify.

ST. LOUIS, MO., April 8.—Coroner Roy A. Lowe, of Madison county, Ill., today opened the inquest into the death of Robert P. Praeger, who was lynched near Collinsville, early today, by a mob, which suspected him of being a German spy. Praeger, the son of a deputy from the sheriff's office at Edwardsville, and from the Collinsville police force had been assigned to duty at the inquest in the Collinsville city hall, to prevent demonstrations. It is expected many will be questioned regarding their knowledge of the lynching. It is also expected that Mayor Stiegel, of Collinsville, will be asked to testify at the inquest. The inquest was presided over by representatives of Attorney General Brandegee and State's Attorney Huber. Praeger's body has been shipped to this city. A brother of the Old Fells requested the body and will conduct the funeral early this week.

One Hundred Per Cent

The expression "One Hundred Per Cent" has been in common use lately. In Red Cross activities, Y. M. C. A. School and College circles, in large business offices, in manufacturing plants, in fact wherever there is any competition, an effort has been made to obtain a "Hundred Per Cent" rating.

Health is Normal in other words One Hundred Per Cent.
Disease is Subnormal or Below One Hundred Per Cent.

Disease is caused by nerve pressure, by interference with those channels which transmit mental impulses from the brain to every tissue well in the body. If One Hundred Per Cent of mental impulse is fully expressed in function then we have Normal Health. A boon to which every human being is entitled.

that haven of rest and peace which is above mortal ken. The beneficent influence of Christian Science is far-reaching.

It is no respecter of persons or ailments. It appeals to all classes of people, bidding them awaken from their dream of materialism.

Christian Science deals directly with the moral fault in the treatment of disease. It is not a matter of the true idea of God ready and willing to be shown how to change his habits of thought.

The greatest reform movement on earth today is Christian Science healing; because it means the coming of Christ to individuals in human consciousness.

When brought face to face with the goodness and grandeur of infinite Mind, though through the veil of sense pales into insignificance.

It is the intention of Christian Science to overcome faith in so-called material remedies, and to point humanity to the one perfect, ever present attitude of Love.

Even in this enlightened Twentieth Century the world is burdened with false teaching. The mind conceives health and disease which is misleading in the extreme.

Who could accuse Jesus of ever establishing a clinic? He paid little attention to disease or its symptoms.

to do likewise. His ideal of the soul excluded all recognition of disease as an entity or reality. His mission was to prove all knowledge of such things to be a false knowledge.

What would be thought of a watchman who would not be satisfied to know for the purpose of teaching and studying the subject of broken watches?

Would the musician who advocated a systematic study of discords ever succeed in bringing out a true sense of harmony to his pupils?

What housewife would add to her skill in bread making who devoted her time and attention to analyzing and theorizing about the best kinds of up-stable bread?

One of the first lessons of Christian Science teaches us to reverse this barbarous habit of thinking, talking, and heralding the symptoms of disease.

There is a lesson for us all in the experience of the Specialist, who often comes to the very disease which he has made specialty.

Protection of the Divine human. The law of right is the only law of protection. Only an ignorance of God could tempt one who is doing wrong to ask for protection in that wrong-doing.

Christian Science practice, being the operation of God's law in human consciousness, is entitled to and will receive the protection which is being so generously accorded it throughout the civilized world.

Students of Christian Science, who have experienced healing and moral regeneration, who have made a thorough study of our Leader's works, and are loyal to her teachings, are in a position to prove to others the healing of the Christian Science.

healing, but to bring humanity a scientific understanding of God and his "saving health." This right idea of health acts as a spiritual leaven, purging out of human consciousness every atrocious or unworthy thought.

The real work of the practitioner is to purify his own consciousness, so that it may become a transparency for Truth to shine through.

Along with all great subjects, Christian Science and its text-book, Science and Health with Keys to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy.

Despite all opposition to what mortals imagine Christian Science to be the demand for Mrs. Eddy's book is constantly increasing; and its inspiring, healing message continues to bring joy and happiness into the lives of suffering humanity.

Science and Health is making its appeal to all humble minded persons. Through a grateful study of the book, thousands are daily experiencing moral and physical healing and freedom from all material understanding of Truth.

Broad-minded ministers, physicians, lawyers and editors, and many more of the world best people are not only reading they are studying the Christian Science text-book so openly, others in the quiet of their homes.

Christian Scientists are earnestly striving to be loyal, patriotic citizens. They are in full sympathy with those high ideals which make for a true civilization.

HIGH COST OF LIVING SHOWN BY REPORT

FOOD COSTS AS MUCH AS ALL EXPENSES DID IN 1900

Food, Fuel, and Lighting Have Doubled

Minimum Standard of Comfort for Average Family Today Is $1500 in the Opinion of Experts of the Labor Bureau.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The average American family spends as much today for food alone as it did in 1900 to maintain the entire household. The cost of living has grown double since the beginning of the century, according to a report issued today by the bureau of labor statistics. The average cost of household maintenance in 1900 was $769. During 1917 the cost for the same commodities was $1,401. Food alone in 1917 cost only $33 less than all items combined in 1900 when $327 represented the expenditure for food in the average wage-earning family. By 1914 it had swollen to $430 and in 1917 increased to $716.

The landlords toll has gone up 65 per cent and clothing has doubled, rising from $108 to $210. Fuel and lighting have increased from $40 to $82. The largest advance in these items occurred between 1914 and 1917. The 1917 figures, the report says, are already incorrect because of the continuous advances. The minimum standard of comfort today the bureau shows, requires a wage approximately of $1,500 a year.

LONDON, April 9.—The Germans continue to shell the British lines on the Pheary battle front and the positions to the north of the battle zone with great violence.

Beginning early this morning the Germans laid down a heavy bombardment all the way from La Bassée Canal to a point just south of Arrantieres, the British war office reported at London.

German artillery was active also in the region of Villers-Bretonneux and Maricourt l'Abbe. Arrantieres is on the Franco-Belgian border.

CENSORSHIP BY BURLESON TO BE CURTAILED PLAN

BORAH WOULD PLACE RESPONSIBILITY ON THE FEDERAL COURTS

Repeal Part of Espionage Act

Declares Against Arbitrary Power Being Placed in the Hands of Any One Man—Would Handle Matter by Legal Process.

Robert S. Smith (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, April 9.—A formal movement to abolish Postmaster General Burleson's censorship of the nation's press was launched in congress today.

Senator Borah of Idaho proposed an amendment to the pending session bill repealing the sections of the espionage act empowering the postmaster general to deny use of the mails to newspapers and magazines. These sections have been in force since last June and have resulted in practical suppression of numerous publications charged with giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

If adopted it would take the problem of muzzling the distoyal press out of the hands of the postmaster general and throw it into the federal courts to be dealt with under the law against seditious utterances and publication.

Senator Borah last spring, vigorously fought the sections which he now seeks to repeal as dangerous to the fundamental liberties of the country. He has long taken the position that no one should be vested with arbitrary powers over the press. The question, he has contended, is one to be met by legal processes under the laws against treason and disloyalty. While he has been unerring in his condemnation of pro-German utterance and publication, Senator Borah today declared that the courts alone should have the authority to deal with the question. Newspaper owners and publishers should be subject to punishment by law, not by decree of the postoffice department, he held.

The Idaho senator strongly favors the general purpose of the pending session bill as a means of providing drastic authority for the department of justice to round up seditious persons and pro-Germans. If enacted into law, he declared, it would furnish
