Campaign Committee Says Denton Seeks to Control City's Affairs

As a committee charged with the management of the campaign of Mr. Eldridge for mayor, we desire to emphasize what in our opinion are the vital points at issue.

Certain interests in control of the Clear Lakes power site plan to sell this property through a mutual company. Their plan is to have the city purchase an interest in this mutual company...

It is for this purpose Dan Denton desires to secure control of the city administration, and this just what a municipal-controlled power plant would mean to them.

Mr. Denton's interest in the undertaking is disclosed by his recent appeal to the Canal Board. He sought to have the board transfer to him the city's shares and water rights in the Canal Company.

He also stated to the Canal Board that he proposed to use the city water if he could obtain it to water lands he owns in the east end of the county, by pumping with electricity.

Manifestly, then, it may be assumed that Mr. Denton is now endeavoring to obtain control of the city's administration in order that he may secure the approval he is so willing to promise to the Canal Board.

Here we see the personal interest of Mr. Denton and his willingness to remain in the background while Mr. Crom makes the campaign for him and his interest.

The campaign in which Mr. Eldridge is headed is opposed to any such use of the city's water rights. Public funds and water rights of the city must be maintained free from the control of those who would use them for their own selfish ends.

Here, then, is the issue. The duty of good citizens should be readily apparent.

THOUSANDS KNEEL IN WIDE OUTDOORS

LOS ANGELES.—As the rising sun's first shafts light up the mountain tops that rear their towering morning, tons of thousands of reverent worshippers of all creeds will kneel in prayer in the great outdoors in celebration of the festival of Easter. Hundreds of men, women and children not only from all sections of this state, but from distant parts of the country, have started today for the slopes of Mount Rubidoux, near Riverside, for Holywood and Eagle Rock in the San Fernando hills and other points where the simple but impressive manner open to all people will hold each Easter morning at sunrise.

Many of these worshippers have secured accommodations for the night in the various mountain inns and taverns, but hundreds will sleep out under the stars so as to be ready at the dawn to participate in the service of song and prayer. Ministers will lead the people in their devotional exercises, and will preach-eloquent sermons to the pilgrims as they listen among boulders strewn or grassy dells and tops of the mountains.

It was on Mount Rubidoux that the first of the outdoor services was held at sunrise more than a decade ago at the suggestion of Jacob Root.

On April 25, 1907, a great crowd was raised on the summit of Rubidoux and dedicated by the late Bishop Dooley to Father Junipero Serra, among the first of the builders of civilization in California.

A tablet commemorating Father Serra's work was unveiled by the then President of the United States, William Howard Taft in 1908 and there, in 1913, Henry Van Dyke, former United States Ambassador to the Netherlands, read his poem "God of the Open Air." One hundred thousand persons are estimated to have attended the services. The Easter morning traditions are that this number will be exceeded tomorrow.

EASTER IN JUAREZ

JUAREZ, Mex., April 19.—Easter in the first of this border town which celebrated the festival of Easter in Holyday of Guadalupe, when daily mass, religious processions and prayers were held during holy week, will end in an Easter festival of song, high mass and all-day services tomorrow.

During holy week the bronze bells in the tower were silent. The holy images within the old adobe church were draped in black and candles burned day and night while primitive people prayed, kneeling on the bare floor. The Rev. Luis Rojas, the "spado" of the mission here, has been officiating at the holy week and officiated at the ceremonies incident to the week of devotion including the feast of foot washing, Good Friday, Holy Thursday and the "Rabado Triente" on Saturday.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLAN PREVENTS WORLD SUICIDE

Taft in an address in Convention hall tonight. "If we do have another war," declared the speaker, "it will be as much worse than the war just closing as this war was worse than its predecessor. In ten years or twenty years, with the inevitable competition, armament which will follow in the absence of a league of nations, there will be a repetition of the conditions which led to this war, and the increased destructiveness of the next war, which is adopted, declared."

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath," you say? Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe them, and water is the best.

There are vast numbers of men and women, too, who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limonene phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It purges the stomach, cleanses the kidneys and the thirty feet of intestine of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels; the result is—poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, cold stomach trouble, kidney misery, impaired blood and sleeplessness and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and feel the next, but who simply can't get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limonene phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and killing bacteria which infect the throat, kidneys and bowels, it is just as important to bathe on the inside (that is on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Most Modern Purification Plant in America Is Now Established in Twin Falls

"Within the next two or three weeks Twin Falls will have the most modern water purification plant in the United States," declared C. A. Falster who has had charge of the work of building Twin Falls' new filtration plant.

"In fact," continued Mr. Falster, "there is not a plant in the world that has more modern equipment than we have here. It is a 'rainbow' plant which will deliver water which will be free from turbidity, odor, color, and ninety-eight per cent of all bacteria will be removed.

"The sand is being placed in the filter beds and we hope to deliver purified water in the city within two or three weeks.

"The source of water at the present time is in the low line canal. The purification plant is situated two miles south of rock creek on the same site as the old reservoir.

"All water leaving the canal flows to the old reservoir and after passing through the canal through a new twenty-four inch line to the purification plant. Just as the water enters the plant it passes through a Venturi meter which records the amount of water entering the plant. After passing through the Venturi meter the water passes through a valve to which a float is attached. As this float rises and lowers due to the elevation of the water in the basin it opens or closes the float valve so that a constant head of water is maintained in the concrete settling basins. When the water has passed through this float valve which regulates the flow it empties into a concrete intake chamber.

"The sulphate of alumina which the water is settled is applied to the water in this intake chamber. The sulphate of alumina or any other chemical which they might decide to use in the future is fed through a dry feed machine. This is absolutely the latest article in a dry feed. The old method was to put the reagent into solution and then feed the solution at the proper strength. Sometimes the water would have an over dose of sulphate and at times it would not give sulphate enough to produce good results. The new dry machines are operated with a water motor and are supplied to the water motor in 25 lb. bags. The water motor is of the screw type and its flow is regulated in the flow of water in the plant. This assures us of the fact that the sulphate will be fed in exact proportion to the flow of water. All change of an overcharge of sulphate or lack of sufficient material to produce good results is eliminated.

"After the sulphate has been applied to the water in the intake chamber the water travels through a concrete mixing chamber which contains a series of baffles forcing the water up and down thoroughly mixing with the sulphate. After the water leaves the mixing chamber it goes into a concrete settling basin. The flow through this basin is very slow and the sulphate which has been placed in the water settles with the turbidity found in the raw water and forms a hydrate. This hydrate forms a gelatinous precipitate which being heavier than the water settles to the bottom and takes with it the sediment in the water. After this action has taken place the water passes through a concrete flume onto the sand filter. There is a small amount of sulphate carried over into the filters from the settling basin. This forms a thin gelatinous coating on top of the filter and becomes the agent for the removal of bacteria. Bacteria are unable to pass through this thin layer which rests on the top of the sand.

"There are six filters each with a capacity of six-million gallons per twenty-four hours. These filters contain thirty-inches of pure quartz sand shipped from Red Wing, Minnesota. Ordinary sand cannot be used in the filters as some types of sand will form a solution in the water and increase the chemical content while other sand will collect lime from the water and the size of the grains increase until it is possible for the water to go through. Below this sand is a layer of gravel which serves to distribute the water to the strainers. The water is collected by brass strainers placed every six inches each way on the filter floor. These strainers lead into a collecting system of pipes which takes the water into the clear well below.

"Each filter is provided with an operating table and each table has small levers on the top of the table which operate the large hydraulic valves below. Below the levers for operating the water table contains a simple pump so that sample can be taken from each filter.

and filter and the results from each filter can be checked. The effluent from each filter passes through a venturi-water meter and the recording instrument for this meter sets on one end of the operating table. This instrument records the amount of water which passes through each filter and the rate at which it flows.

"Besides the operating table each filter has a control stand. This stand is connected to the venturi meter in the effluent line as the filter gets dirty and it is more difficult for the water to pass through the sand the flow of water through the meter decreases. This makes a change in the difference in head between the inlet and throat of the meter. This change of head is transmitted to the control stand which in turn opens the valve and increases the flow of water over the filter in proportion to the change of rate due to dirt in the filter. In this way the flow of water through each filter is constant until the valve which lets the water on to the filters is wide open. The fact that this valve is open its full area is indicated on the control stand. When this fact is indicated we know it is time to wash the filter.

"To wash the filter the valves are closed that ordinarily are open while the filter is operating and the wash water valve is opened and the wash water pump is started. This pump forces the water through the collecting system and up through the strainers. When the wash water takes up through the gravel and sand and takes the dirt up with it and flows into the sewer through the concrete wash water troughs on top of the filter. By washing the sand in this way we clean it thoroughly and the sand does not have to be taken out of the filter bed or renewed.

"As stated before there is a control stand for each filter making six in all. Each of these stands is connected to the master controller. The master controller or master controller is connected with the clear well below from which the city draws water and the elevation of the water lowers a float connected to the master controller which opens one side of a beam which opens the master controller. The master controller in turn opens all the other controllers thereby increasing the rate of filtration in proportion to the demands of the city. This master controller which controls the plant to operate in proportion to the demands of the city is one of the latest improvements in purification equipment.

FIRST DETACHMENT RAINBOWS ARRIVE

Practically Every Man Had Been Either Wounded or Gassed, Say Officers.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The first detachment of the Rainbow division from France, the 17th trench mortar battery—arrived today on the transport Walter A. Luckenbach from St. Nazaire. The battery, which was recruited in Baltimore, was the first unit of the division to land in France and the first to get into action. It went overseas in October, 1917. "Virtually every member of the battery which fought at Chateau-Thierry, and in the St. Mihiel and Argonne sectors had been either gassed or wounded," their officers said. "After three weeks of fighting the men were taken unwounded by a heavy gas attack during a lull in the fighting on November 1.

Captain J. Woodlaw Greene of Denton, Md., who commanded the men, spent two and a half months in the hospital after being gassed in April, 1918.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

There is but one returned soldier seeking election in Twin Falls Tuesday. Sergeant W. B. McCracken seeks election as city clerk. What are the people of Twin Falls going to do about it?

STRAIGHTENING THE TWIG.

"As for the Germans being through with the military case," writes an American soldier from Coblenz, "that is all nonsense. Any day you can see little fellows of seven and eight being drilled on the school playground. The military spirit is ingrained in them, and the Allies have got to do something which will turn the nation's thoughts in another direction."

There is the reason that is at the bottom of the Peace Conference plan to get rid of the German general staff and limit the German army to a standing force of only 100,000 men, serving for long periods.

It is not meant, as so many Germans profess to think, as a measure of punishment, to "crush Germany" and leave her helpless against foreign attack. It is meant to rid Germany, against her will, of the nightmare of militarism. It is meant as a wise plan whereby the boys of Germany will have a chance to grow up without the military training and military atmosphere to which they have been subjected from their childhood. It is educative.

"As a twig is bent, the tree's inclined." Germany's twins must have a chance to grow straight.

WILHELM'S TRIAL

Many people have been surprised at the decision of the Peace Conference regarding the former Kaiser. There is considerable satisfaction felt that the conference has not determined to bring Wilhelm to trial for his crimes, but the public cannot exactly understand why it should be concluded, and announced beforehand, that the international court will not put it to a final and irrevocable verdict.

The difficulty seems to be one of technical authority. It appears, according to the experts, that there is no international law or precedent that will empower the Allies to execute Wilhelm. There would be legal ground for doubt for the Germans themselves to do so. The British and French could furnish precedents for that from their own history. But the Germans do not seem to care about getting anything of the sort.

The Allies, dealing with the sovereign of a conquered country, seem to have a right to seize Wilhelm as a prisoner of war, and proceed to try him for military crimes committed by him or by his authority. But most of the experts agree that it would be difficult to fasten on him the personal guilt of a murderer and so justify his execution. Moreover, many of the allied statesmen feel that it would be a mistake to put him to death because that might make him appear a martyr, and have bad results in Central Europe.

The main precedent that is being followed, then, seems to be, that of imprisonment without execution. Without guilty of high crimes against the peace of the world and the lives of citizens of allied countries, and will in all probability sentence him to imprisonment for life in some modern B. H. H. prison. That would satisfy the propertied, though possibly not the thought of mankind, and would get the great trouble-maker away from Europe permanently.

GENEVA—THE WORLD CAPITAL

The Belgians are sorely disappointed that Brussels was not chosen as the seat of the League of Nations. The French seem disappointed nearly as much, for next to Paris they preferred a Belgian city. Nevertheless, most people outside of these two countries will agree, not as their representatives did in the committee, deploring the matter, that the selection of Brussels would have been a mistake. The Belgians and French are still so close to the great struggle, too much infected with the bitterness of it and too conscious of the peril they have just escaped, to look at many of the big issues in the calm and logical spirit necessary for wise decision. The chief majority of the majority of nations represented at Paris see clearly enough that neutral ground is best for the capital of the League of Peace. On France or Belgium soil, particularly the League would be continually under the influence of the majority, left by the war—passions justified unquestionably, but none the less standing in the way of wise determination of the League's problems and the ultimate reconciliation and co-operation of all peoples.

Germany, and reports from Vienna indicate that violent demonstrations have taken place there. The parliament building with the storm center, when crowds in sympathy with the Bolshevik movement tried to enter the building. Five policemen were killed, and scores of demonstrators and police were wounded. Troops finally dispersed the crowds.

Communism May Part

Communists are playing a large part in the troubles in Germany. They constructed treacher at Frelang, near Munich, and a battle with the government troops. Losses are reported on both sides. Three thousand Wurtemberg troops have arrived north of Munich. A decisive battle for possession of the Bavarian capital is expected when reinforcements arrive.

FIRST ATTEMPTED FLIGHT

LONDON, April 19.—The first attempt at a trans-Atlantic aerial flight westward came to grief last night in its first stage. Major J. G. W. Wood, and Captain C. G. Wylie, his navigator, had almost reached the Irish coast off Holyhead in a flight from East Church for Limerick, when engine trouble brought the "shamrock" force foremost into the sea, three miles from Holyhead. Both men were rescued, with assistance of a Parker, after an exciting machine, had a narrow escape on landing. His plane smashed against a shore wall.

VICTORY SPECIAL COMPLETES TRIP

Trophy Train Will Now Go to Northern Idaho for Exhibition.

BRENCHEE, Idaho, April 19.—Twenty-eight counties have pledged themselves to 100 per cent performance in the Victory loan drive during the tour of the trophy special through southern Idaho with its burden of battle-wounded relics.

Not less than 175,000 people have looked at these relics the government has brought from European battlefields and placed on the side of the train in the trophy special during the week it has been showing in the southern part of the state.

Saturday the special closed its itinerary in southern Idaho. As on every previous day there has been during the extended trip through the south half of the state there has been record crowds at every stop. They opened at Ashton where several hundred people gathered at seven o'clock this morning.

At Rupert, Ch. De. Jones joined the special at Idaho Falls today. He is a member of the local post of the American Legion, and was the speaker at the ceremony.

Reburg brought out a crowd estimated at between eight and ten thousand and it was not possible to put the whole mass of humanity through the baggage car-exhibiting during the two hours' stay in the Madison county capital. State Senator Lloyd Adams, who has been with the special since the tour through southeastern Idaho, speaking for the Victory loan, left the train at Reburg which is his home town.

Thousands of patriotic Clark county citizens greeted the train when it pulled into the Spencer station and stayed till the last moment of the time allotted in its last south Idaho stop.

Secretary of State Robert C. Jones joined the special at Idaho Falls today and will be with it during the remainder of its tour in Idaho and which will be through the northern part of the state.

A. Parsons will join the county treasurer's force Monday morning. Mr. Parsons will have charge of the delinquent tax work in the office.

PARIS, Apr. 18.—(Reuters' correspondent says he learns that the British claim to recover the rights of Germany will include those of the various British dominions and India. At first it was intended that they should be submitted separately. This decision of the correspondent declares was recently made by the delegation of the British empire to the peace conference.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your back hurts or Bladder bothers drink lots of water. When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's uric acids and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys clean.

WAR TAXES ARE DUE APRIL 30TH

The next big flow of taxes into the United States treasury will be met on April 30, when dealers are to make their returns to the Bureau of Internal Revenue on the goods subject to excise taxes which they sold between February 25, when the revenue act went into effect, and March 1.

Officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau are hopeful that this payment will be as prompt as the first payment of income and excess profits on March 15, which exceeded $1,000,000,000.

Among the goods for which taxes must be paid on April 30 are motor trucks, automobiles, musical instruments, candy and chewing gum, sporting goods, cameras, firearms and hunting weapons, electric fans, thermos bottles, smokers' articles, slot machines, livestock, hunting and fishing articles, articles made of fur, pleasure yachts and motor boats, toilet soap, sculpture, paintings and works of art.

Any sales of these goods made by retail dealers between February 25 and March 1 must be reported to the Internal Revenue collectors of their respective districts, and the taxes paid on them April 30. The returns are to be made monthly thereafter. That is, the tax for the goods sold during the month of March must be paid on March 31. Thus the dealers are given a month in which to tabulate their returns.

CROM CONFERS IN DENTON'S OFFICE

Further Efforts to Dislodge Denton Support Is Advanced—Serious Circular Issued.

Further effort at concealment of the membership of the Cron candidacy was abandoned yesterday when Mr. Cron boldly went to the real estate office of Dan Denton, the owner of the Times, for consultation in preparation for final campaign arrangements.

Shortly afterward three appeared from the Times press cylinders without signatures in which slurs were cast at Mr. Eldredge, the candidate for mayor on the Citizens ticket.

Up until yesterday Cron and Denton had agreed to have no quarrel, and Cron was campaigning among those who do not like Denton with asserion that Denton was not for him. Those who closely watch political events were confident this was but a subterfuge, and their belief seems to have been verified by the action yesterday.

Whether or not Denton or Cron or both are responsible for the scurrilous circular issued from the Times press yesterday of "not so definite" matters for it bore no evidence of its authorship. It was largely circulated in the residence of city of town. That it enraged good citizens generally is without doubt for from all parts of the city came complaints.

Whether or not the issuance of the Times circular had influence on City Clerk Minick is not known, but within a half hour after his appearance on the streets, Mr. Minick issued a statement in which he deserted the Cron cause, and stated that he was running as an independent candidate and is free from alliance with other candidates. The Minick statement follows:

"I am not to be confused in the minds of some people as to my candidacy for city clerk and who I am supporting for other city offices—I take this means of making my friends to vote for me for the office of city clerk and city clerk and to use their judgment as to those whom they should support for other positions. I am not 'boosting' for either Cron, Eldredge or others and am not put up with any faction. I filed an independent candidacy and am going it alone." Signed W. A. Minick.

Yesterday's developments in the contest disclose that Mr. Cron's chief supporters are: Dan Denton, J. W. Hays, King Fisher, T. E. Jackson and R. E. Hanson.

CROM ENTERS DENIAL.
Last night Mr. Cron visited the Chronicle office and asked that a statement be made for him denying responsibility for the circular attacking Mr. Eldredge. "I am not responsible for it. I did not know it," he said.

Harry Kingsbury, one of the managers of the Cron campaign, also denied knowledge of the circular, and over the telephone stated to the Chronicle editor "has no knowledge of it."

REFUSES THE AIR

American Entries for Overseas Flight Getting Ready.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The naval airplane NC-3, which refused to take off at yesterday's trials of experimental conditions, received today a routine test in flight, according to a formal announcement tonight by naval officers in charge of the department's plans for a trans-Atlantic flight next month. Failure of the plane to rise yesterday was said to have "proved nothing against the machine. The NC-3, a former trans-Atlantic competitor, probably will take a trial flight Monday, the officer said. The NC-3 is in the state of being assembled and is being tested as to just when she will be in condition for a trial flight." The NC-1 damaged recently in a gale, was said to be "in the same state of preparedness as the NC-3."

A safety zone was established today around the naval air station at Rockaway, where the tests are being conducted. This was done, officers explained, "to protect the activities from interference and to maintain adequate control of operations."

The first official announcement issued here of the progress made at the station added: "It is not the intention of the authorities to convey the impression that any secret is being withheld. At the proper time the full details of the plans will be made public."

The 24-hour notice of the start from Rockaway is guaranteed.

COAST DEFENSE IS PLANNED FOR U.S.

Scheme Embraces Railway Systems and Truck Roads—Schools Are to Help.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 19.—Approval of the proposal of military experts that the coast defense policy of the United States be radically changed to include as its basic element utilization of railway and tractor ordinance of heavy calibre was met yesterday in the announcement by the war department of the appointment of coast artillery officers' reserve corps with an annual increment of at least 1,500 students.

Through the cooperation of universities and colleges over the country, the department plans to train this number of officers each year in the use of large guns of the type which could be made available at any coast point threatened by the enemy. The complete plan for mobile coast defense ordinance involving the linking of strategic points on the coast with existing railway systems and the constructing along the seaboard of military roads enable of supporting heavy motor tractors.

Five institutions already have accepted the department's offer to establish under their supervision coast artillery training units to be tutored by officers detailed from the regular establishment and trained by actual operation of the artillery they will be called upon to man. These schools are: Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Vanderbilt university, Miami, Florida; A. and M. college, University of Washington and University of Virginia.

Fourteen other universities and colleges have approved the plan, but their proposals have not yet been acted on by the department. They are: Utah Agricultural college; University of Cincinnati; Northwestern University, University of Kansas; Kansas State Agricultural college; Case Western Reserve University, University of Pittsburgh, Washington University, Columbia university, Rhode Island State college, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Louisiana State university, Michigan Agricultural college and University of Alabama.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

LUGGS MORE BEET GROWING

Oswald Wilson to visit farmers for Federal Government. Twin Falls county can produce 250,000.00 more worth of sugar beets and not interfere with other crops, according to Oswald Wilson, representing the department of agriculture, who is in Twin Falls in the interests of the industry.

"This section produces better beets than any other part of the country, with the possible exception of California," according to Mr. Wilson. "The American nation produces about one sixth of the sugar it consumes. This is wrong. For that reason I am in Twin Falls section now to endeavor to work out ways of increasing production. Climate and soil favor Idaho and this section. The sugar beet crop can be used in dairying, meaning that the farmers can do more intensified farming. In contrast to wheat and other crops raised in this section the sugar beet does not injure the vitality of the soil."

"American farms raise from 1000 to 1500 pounds of sugar per acre, less than those of Germany or fact any other European country with the exception of Russia. If the American farmer could be able to increase his production to that of European farms

NO NEWS OF FIXER.

Artillerymen Just on Way to Limerick Island.

LONDON, Saturday, April 19.—2:55 a. m.—There is still no news from either Major Wood or Pilot Parker who left East Church yesterday afternoon for Limerick Island on the first leg of the former's proposed trip by airplane across the Atlantic. There is an unconfirmed report that a wireless dispatch was received from Wood's airplane when it was over Liverpool. This would indicate that he was somewhere off his route as he had intended to fly over Wales and Holyhead.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

The "Grandmother's Recipe" to Keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is "Grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color. It is quite desirable, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage, and the messy mixing which is a drawback to the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can die, cover it has been applied. Simply moisten the ends of the hair with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifying darkening the hair, after a few applications, it also produces that soft and lustrous appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a desirable "more youthful appearance." It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
