ENGINE BALKS; NC-4 IS LOST OFF CAPE COD

Signaled of Her Troubles Soon After Passing the McDermut.

OIL PUMP CAUSES TROUBLE TO PLANE

Fast Ships Patrol Waters in Hope of Picking Up the Seaplanes With Its Crew.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 8.—With two of the three navy seaplanes which started from Rockaway, Long Island, this morning, on the first leg of the trans-Atlantic flight arrived safely at Halifax, naval officials were bending every energy tonight to locate the third, missing since early in the afternoon. No report of the missing machine, the NC-4 commanded by Lieutenant-Commander A. M. Craven, had been received after the machine passed the destroyer McDermut, first station ship, located more than sixty miles north of Cape Cod and less than half way to Halifax.

Ship Search For Plane. Orders were issued at once sending the McDermut and the next ship beyond him, the Kimberly, in search of the missing seaplane. Commander Read had reported just before reaching the McDermut that the oil pump on one of his motors was giving trouble and he might have to come down.

Later the NC-4 reported to Commander Fowers in the NC-3 that the trouble had been repaired. Commander Towers with the NC-1 and NC-2 made the trip to Halifax in a fraction less than nine hours, the distance on the map over the course they took being 525 miles. These two planes went through the test in such fashion as to convince officers here that prospects for reaching Plymouth, England, the ultimate goal of the navy, were exceedingly bright.

Used Tribo Radio. Each of three planes had a tribo radio installation when it left Rockaway. It was not with the regular long distance radio installation and the third was the equipment for the radio compass.

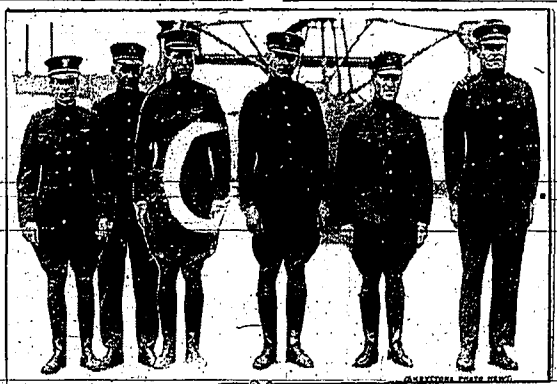

Communication Is Easy. As the planes approached one of the patrol vessels, long before it was sighted, the long distance radio, was bustling. Questions and answers flashed back and forth, dealing in directions for navigation. Important communications were relayed to and from the speeding seaplanes, some from Washington. One carried greetings to Commander Craven and his crews from Acting Secretary Roosevelt, who watched the trip with keen interest all day as the department's messages came in. Another relayed cable assurances from London that every facility of the British admiralty would be at the disposal of the American airmen when they reached British waters.

Keep In Close Touch. The communication arrangements of the navy department worked out perfectly. Repeatedly messages from Commander Towers, sent from his speeding flagship of the air squadron, the NC-3, reached the desks of officers here in a few minutes, or the time they were sent. Interrupted by any of the radio stations ashore or afloat on the chain reaching clear to Halifax, they were rushed to Washington on the navy's leased wire.

Operations Is Simple. The entire operation of the system was grouped under direction of Lieutenant Tunis A. M. Craven. Throughout the day Lieutenant Craven kept a communications log on the flight, made up from the messages that came. The log distance was usually the westward, northward of the big flying boats with their crews. Even the fifty minutes that elapsed after the NC-1 and NC-2 were safely moored for the night at Halifax and before the center of the British admiral's station there sent in the official report of the arrival is shown.

SENATORS SEE END OF POWER FOR GERMANY

Unable to Agree As to Commitment to Aid France.

TREATY PROVISIONS NOT OBJECTIONABLE

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 8.—As they completed their study of the official summary of the treaty of Versailles today, senators began to give expression to their views on the momentous document which is now in the hands of the German plenipotentiaries. A few senators, however, still withhold comment, preferring to examine the complete text before reaching a definite conclusion. These included Sen-

Summary of The International Situation

By the Associated Press. While the German peace plenipotentiaries are discussing the text of the lengthy peace treaty handed them Wednesday and communicating with the Weimar government as to the demands made upon Germany by the allied and associated powers, the council of four is engaging itself with the formulation of peace terms for Austria and Hungary. The German-Austrian delegation is expected shortly to have started for St. Germain. There, there to await the summons to Versailles to learn what is to befall the one-time dual monarchy in the way of the payment of indemnities, the making of reparations and the relinquishment of territory.

Estimates have been made in Paris that 5,000,000,000 crowns will be demanded as indemnity from Austria-Hungary in accordance with the delimitation of frontiers. The pre-war debt of the former empire and kingdom, it is said, is to be divided among the newly formed states which have arisen or are to arise in their old territories.

It is reported that when the terms of peace with Turkey are concluded the United States is to be requested to become the guarantor of Armenia, and that President Wilson will place the matter before congress in order that a decision may be arrived at.

The communist government in Hungary is declared to have declined to accept the terms laid down by Rumania for an armistice and has decided to continue fighting. The terms of the Rumanians include disarmament and the surrender of war materials and also the return of war prisoners.

Trouble seems to be brewing for the Afghan tribesmen, who, aided by Afghan regular troops have violated the British-Indian border by crossing it and occupying certain positions on the Indian side. The British are taking military precautions and also have addressed a strong note of protest to the Amir of Afghanistan.

ALLIANCE IS VITAL POINT WITH FRENCH

Paris Most Interested in Compact of Big Three.

QUESTION TO GO BEFORE SENATE

Early Action Is Sought That the Question May Be Definitely Settled.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, May 8.—The engagement for joint action by the United States and Great Britain to assist in France in case of an unprovoked attack excited great interest and satisfaction in French official and military quarters under the treaty. It is understood to have been the culmination of conferences held by French Ministers and Marshal Foch. The latter took the advanced military view for complete defensive protection and the premier sought to reconcile this with the more moderate view held in the conference by M. Clemenceau and Marshal Foch on the adequacy of French security against Germany.

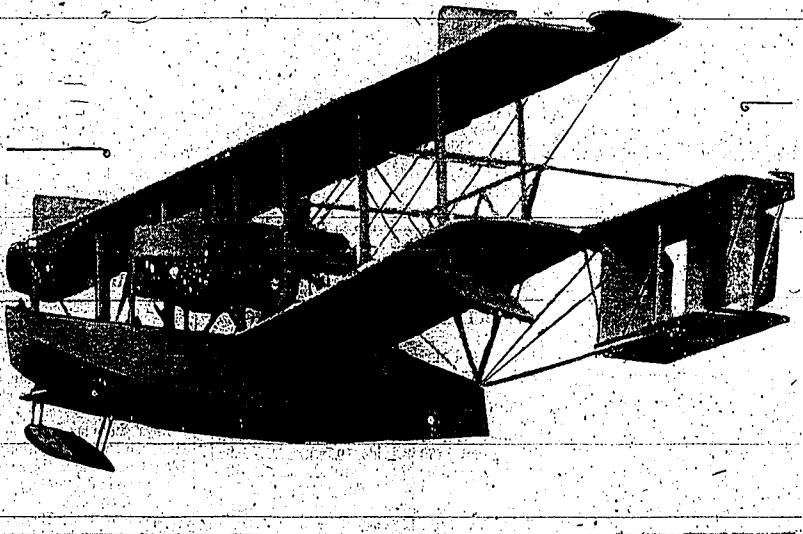

Several plans for joint military action by the United States, Great Britain and France were considered before the present proposal was adopted. The first plan was to secure joint action under the covenant of the league of nations "which provides that the league's council will determine what military and naval action should be taken against states breaking the covenant. It was believed that the council under this authority could take joint action by the United States, Great Britain and France as an appropriate form of defense against any resumption of warfare on the part of Germany.

This plan was abandoned for the present engagement which is in the form of a letter to be substituted to the United States senate and the British parliament.

Senate Must Approve. It is understood that the letter requires approval by the United States senate in order to make the pledge effective and if this approval is given in resolution or otherwise, the engagement would then be submitted for approval to the league of nations council.

Those close to President Wilson maintain the engagement is not an alliance and therefore not consistent with the principles of the league of nations council. Those close to president Wilson maintain the engagement is not an alliance and therefore not consistent with the principles of the league of nations. They say it is a temporary means of assuring French security until the league of nations is fully established and able to make France secure. It is expected the provision that the United States will come to the assistance of France in case of unprovoked aggression will involve consideration by the United States congress of a plan for a sufficient army to permit "immediate" action without awaiting the creation of an army and the forwarding of large forces as an expedition to France after such aggression occurs.

THE MISSING SEAPLANE NC-4

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The navy descended probably as a result of fuel only about 35 miles when the boat lined the route. As the hours passed and the wind came, rendering the missing plane, officers grew more confident that the NC-4 had been forced to land on the beach. As the NC-4 crew made its way to the safety of the seaplane's crew, it was found that the radio apparatus has a sending radius of only about 35 miles when the boat lined the route. ROBINSONS

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING

In previous advertisements I have called attention to the tendency toward correct statements in advertising and, while most advertisers are now careful to tell the truth in describing goods offered for sale, it is to be regretted that all advertisers have not been won over to this idea.

In an advertisement appearing in a local paper there was offered a ladies' lisle thread full fashioned hose at 35c the pair. This hose is neither a lisle nor full fashioned and not particularly good value at the price.

I have been selling for some time, and still have in stock, a much better hose than this one at the price.

This same advertisement offers a ladies' art silk hose, full fashioned, at 79c. This hose is not full fashioned in any part.

Whether this kind of advertising is due to a lack of knowledge of merchandise or is intentional, it is nevertheless misleading and unfair to the purchasing public.

A merchant to advertise that he is connected with a number of other stores and is buying goods in carload lots from the manufacturer and paying cash for his merchandise, when as a matter of fact he does neither, is apparently doing this with the thought of misleading the purchasing public.

A merchant who is in good standing with those from whom he buys goods and is financially sound does not find it necessary to buy for cash. Confidence between buyer and seller today is the most important feature in business.

To buy merchandise where it can be bought the cheapest is not proof of good merchandising. I believe in buying goods where they can be bought to the best advantage and the matter of quality is far more important than price alone.

I hear more complaints of goods sold in stores where price seems to be the main point than from all others.

What would you think of a storekeeper who advertised that he was the sole representative of a well-known brand of garments when as a matter of fact there were two or three other stores carrying the same line of goods in the same town and who had been carrying them for some time? This has occurred right here in Twin Falls.

How do you regard a man doing business supposedly in a regular way who would conduct a special or closing-out sale and who would send to a competitor and buy men's neckties, sold by this competitor in a regular way at 50c, and resell them under the guise of a big bargain at 65c? This has been done right here in this little city.

What would you think of the methods of a store advertising best quality of Rockford socks at a special price when as a matter of fact they were not best quality and hardly a good second quality? This has been done here.

The business of this store is founded on the following principles:

Reliable Merchandise
Careful Personal Attention
Low Expense Account

Truth in Selling It
Truth in Advertising It
Prices in Accordance

A store where a child can be sent with a feeling of perfect confidence.

BUY WHERE YOU CAN BUY THE BEST; NOT WHERE YOU CAN BUY CHEAP

PRICES THAT ARE INTERESTING

SHOES

The shoe business of this store has become a most important feature and its rapid growth is most surprising, due no doubt to the excellent value given in shoes for the entire family.

Boys' shoes seem to come first as they "go first," so I would mention: Black Gun Metal in the English toe styles, now so much in demand by the larger boys, sizes up to 7, at $3.75.

Chocolate or Dark Brown in the Pointed Toe Style, the boys will have them and they are here for $4.50.

I verily believe that you can save from 25c to 50c a pair by buying your boys' shoes here. As an evidence of the regard in which this store is held I would mention the fact that the sales for April, this year, show a gain of one-third, or say 33 per cent, over the same month last year, and last year goods were selling at the highest prices known for a long time.

COULD HEIRS ROW OVER BIG ESTATE

Frank Clunge's George With Funds Asigning Loss of $25,000,000—Sisters Join Complainant.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, May 8.—The heirs of Jay Gould, the railroad financier who accumulated one of America's greatest private fortunes, are in a quarrel over the administration of $85,000,000 estate he left them. His son, George J. Gould, chief executor of the estate, is required by a state supreme court order signed today to show cause why he should not be removed. "Gould is charged with frauds perpetrated by him upon his own brothers and sisters," and which "resulted in an aggregate loss to the estate of $25,000,000." In affidavits filed in the supreme court by his brother, Frank J. Gould, his sister, the Duchess de Tallaryand, formerly Anna Gould; Countess de Castellane, and the guardians of a number of the Gould children of the third generation.

In an answering affidavit George Gould denies the charges and is supported by a deposition made by Mrs. Helen Gould Shephard, his sister, formerly Miss Helen Miller Gould. Mrs. Shephard declares that the charges are "inaccurate and distinctly misleading." The affidavits were filed in conjunction with a petition by Frank Gould and his associates to have George Gould removed as executor of the estate. "He was appointed under the will of his father, who died in December, 1892, and who bequeathed him $500,000 in cash and $4,500,000 in securities as a reward for his services. This was in addition to a sixth share of the main estate which was vested in a trust fund for the benefit of his six children."

SAYS DUAL ATTACK MADE AGAINST U.S.

Radical Socialists On One Side and Wilson On Other Are Fighting American Independence.

By the Associated Press. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 8.—Senator Poindexter of Washington, speaking before the Republican club of Cambridge tonight declared a dual attack was being made against the independence of the United States and charged President Wilson with aiding the movement.

"The independence of the United States is being attacked from two directions," said the Washington senator. "On the one hand, the 'internationalists' represented by the I. W. W., the radical socialists, the Bolshevists and anarchists, and the other, a movement of certain elements of international business and international pacifists. Strangely, each of these movements receives support from the other."

"In every country in Europe President Wilson has appealed to the socialistic element and they, in return, have from every country in Europe supported his purpose. The socialist labor party of England, the 'peace' and 'unity' have supported every move he has made for an international government of which he is to be the head."

"Likewise the president and his administration," the senator continued, "have repeatedly aided and encouraged the communists. Like certain international business men the communists care nothing for the principle of nationality. Unlike them, however, they also care nothing for the principle of property. Such a doctrine is the worst foe of the working man and is destructive of American institutions. Encouragement, it has received from the administration intensifies its menace."

"The supreme issue and the supreme duty of Americans is to revive in its full vigor the spirit of American nationality as we receive it from the inspired fathers and leaders of the republic, and to defend against violence from below or the intrigue from above, individual security and national independence."

The Star of Tiredom

THE differences between Star Tires and average tires are vital differences—they far outweigh any dollars and cents consideration. The extra labor cost in the making of Star Tires is in far higher proportion than the little extra you pay for them. The extra cost of the materials used, and the extra that gives them greater strength is not to be measured by the little extra that Star Tires cost. They are built to insure you a saving. Put a Star opposite the make of tire that has served you best. The result will remove all doubt.

WHEN TO BUILD.

Every city in America needs homes—there is a deficit of nearly a million of them. Almost every city needs factories and stores and buildings. For three years there has been hardly any building. The whole nation is cramped for living quarters and working quarters. It is going to be far more cramped when all the soldiers come back and things settle down to a busy, peace-time basis. And yet most people hesitate to build. They are conspicuous exceptions. Some confident and far-sighted business men are not only realizing the situation but actually doing something about it. A firm of automobile manufacturers in St. Louis, Tenn., is planning to build 4,000 houses. A Baltimore man is building 2,400 houses. A business firm in New York, is spending $1,000,000 on homes for its employees. Many manufacturers around the country are putting up new factories and many merchants are enlarging their store space. There is some conspicuous public construction, too. In general, taking any particular community or the country as a whole, building lags.

Nearly everyone believes that boom times will soon be here. But nobody is waiting for building orders to come down. Disinterested experts all agree that this is a mistake. Prices may come down a little, they say, but prices cannot drop much, and when the boom does come it will send them up again. The general-price level is up for a long period, possibly forever. Thus there is nothing to be gained by waiting. The advance is even said to be with the man who builds now. He makes sure of getting his material at prices no higher than those now asked. He makes sure of getting his materials promptly, too. Moreover, he has no difficulty now in obtaining the labor he needs and he can take the pick of the skilled labor. If he waits, he will have to take what he can get, as builders did during the war.

WOMEN AS MOVIE PRODUCERS.

Producing moving pictures is the latest role in which women are distinguishing themselves. Two New York women have opened studios and are writing hard on the production of the film picture as an educational element. They believe that anything worth while seen upon the screen is of real and educational value, and they make pictures to convey everything from the workings of science in its mysterious ways to athletic feats, the proper method of carrying the body or the most charming decorations for the 20th bedroom. It is not an easy life nor an easy term of work which these women have chosen, but it is fascinating to a degree; and as in every other case, ability improves with practice. Perhaps the principal difficulty, since much of the mechanical work already has been figured out by the great movie producers, is in the choice of subjects which are at once educational, interesting and capable of translation to the film. These women are working, however, with a success which shows that there is another field open to the woman possessing originality and persistence. They say prohibition is going to double the price of coffee. They'll drive this nation to water yet. A tip to graduation orators: Why not give 'em something new this year? Making 'em alive and timely! 'De.

SENATORS SEE

ator Loder of Massachusetts, Smoot of Utah and other republican leaders. Sharp opposition to the proposal that the United States in concert with Great Britain, commit itself to go to France's aid in the event that country were attacked was voiced by Senators Borah of Idaho and Curtis of Kansas while Senator Sherman of Illinois, and Moses of New Hampshire, criticized the league of nations covenant in the Senate.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, referring chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, approved the treaty as a whole and said that in his judgment the "crowding story of this century is that the first that there is embodied in it the greatest continuation of the league of nations." The senator declared the treaty was a "monumental work" and measured up to the highest moral standards of the nation with justice as the basis of re-organization.

Approve Military Terms. General approval of the military and naval terms imposed on Germany was given not only by both republican and democratic senators, but by officials and diplomats generally. They considered it the first step that there is embodied in it the greatest continuation of the league of nations." The senator declared the treaty was a "monumental work" and measured up to the highest moral standards of the nation with justice as the basis of re-organization.

Senator Borah said he had no comment on the treaty itself—confining his statements solely to the proposal for a triple alliance between the three leading associated powers. He declared that whether the United States should take part in any future European war "was a matter which should be determined upon the facts when and as they arise and by the patriotic generation which must bear the brunt of the war, and by the intelligence and the conscience and judgment of the American people, as they see the situation when face to face with it."

Sherman Cries Gag Line. Senator Sherman said the "mauler" in which the treaty has been presented is a resort to gag rule. He declared it is a "confession of weakness" that the league of nations has to be passed through as an annex to the act of peace, and said he would vote to separate the league covenant from the treaty and take a separate vote on each.

PLANES MAKE

ing the NC-4, which developed trouble in the course of her flight not long after leaving Rockaway Point.

Start Again Today. Commander John J. Towers, who brought the two giant seaplanes safely to port after a flight of 540 miles (600 hours) in the air, today announced that he expected to go away tomorrow morning on the second leg of the journey which will take the aircraft to Trepanco, N. F., a distance of 460 miles. Commander Towers based his expectations on a report of Professor Alexander McAldie, the meteorological expert at Harvard university. Professor McAldie said tonight that the present favorable atmospheric conditions were likely to continue for another twenty-four hours at least.

Search For NC-4. Meanwhile destroyers and other craft are searching for the missing NC-4 commander by Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read, which fell behind the other craft because of engine trouble. When mid-way between the destroyer McDermitt stationed at Cape Cod and the Kimberley, which was number two in the chain of craft stationed along the coast to protect the straits in their flight, Read reported that he would be forced to descend because of a defective engine. The McDermitt was seen to steam off at full speed to the assistance of the NC-4 but late tonight, no word had been received aboard the U. S. S. Baltimore, the mother ship stationed nearby, indicate that she had been picked up. The straits reported, however, that at the point at which the NC-4 was compelled to come down the sea was reasonably calm and they expected no serious difficulty would be encountered in rescuing the men or saving the plane.

Rescue Test Made. All the aviators agree that the first leg of the trans-Atlantic journey called for the most severe test and all are delighted with the way in which the new hydro-airplanes performed. They say the new meteorological equipment stood up especially well. Strong head winds were encountered, throwing the planes thirty degrees off their course, according to Lieutenant-Commander H. B. Byrd, radio operator in the NC-4, the first to arrive in Halifax harbor and the apparatus recorded perfectly these divergences, enabling the aviators to hold to their course with the greatest ease. The two planes flew at various altitudes during the trip, the NC-4 ascending at one point to 3,500 feet, the highest altitude recorded during the journey. At times the two planes got out of

...to speed ahead to be relayed back by cable. The destroyers cannot communicate more than 250 miles by radio in any time and they will leave their points after the last of the flyers has passed.

C-5 STARTS ON TRIP. CAPT. MAY, N. J., May 8.—The crew of a new C-5, commanded by Lieutenant-Commander E. W. Cole, left the naval air base here at 2:25 o'clock today under sealed orders, bound for Montauk N. Y. by way of Rockaway. As the aircraft left under sealed orders, no word was given as to the destination, but it was expected to go to Halifax, and would leave Rockaway tomorrow for Cincham, Mass.

In addition to Commander Cole, the C-5 carries two officers, who arrived here today from Washington and four men.

LANDS AT ROCKAWAY.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The dirigible C-5 which left the naval base at Cape May, N. J., this afternoon for Montauk, N. Y., landed late in the afternoon at the naval air station at Rockaway point. It was announced tonight. It was understood that the flight to Montauk would be completed tomorrow.

WAITING FOR MOON.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 8.—With snow, rain and fog blown in by a southeast wind, hopes of a start in their trans-Atlantic flight were once more deferred by the British aviators, Harry Hawker and Captain Frederick F. Haytham, here today. No business was shown by either of the Britishers when word was received of the start of the American naval flyers on the first leg of the trip, and both tonight seemed to have settled down to wait for the full moon scheduled to make her appearance with favorable flying weather on May 14.

SOLDIERS ARE HONORED.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 8.—Award of the distinguished service cross to seven officers and twenty enlisted men of the American expeditionary force was announced tonight by the War Department. Among those receiving decorations were Captain Harry E. Withers, 626 Second aviation, San Francisco, and Corporal John C. Light, Hampshire, Wyo.

NOVEL BALL GAME FOR VICTORY LOAN

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, May 8.—A Cuba-Giant game not on the National league schedule is announced to be played by telegraph tomorrow night in the interests of the Victory Loan. The Cubs will be the guests at a gold war mother's banquet. The plan is for Max Fleck, first in the Cubs batting order, to lead off at the "plate" and it will be two minutes $5,000 is subscribed he will be credited with a hit, and he goes to "first base." A $10,000 subscription would be regarded as a "two-charger" and $15,000 would be counted as a "home run." While the clubs for the Victory Loan are being made in Chicago, the Giants are expected to do some heavy stick work in New York. The results to be sent by wire. Fans will be admitted and invited to "root" with cash.

Local Nine Goes to Capital City In Effort to Clinch Championship.

Twin Falls high school's baseball team will make a strenuous effort this afternoon to capture the state championship in baseball. A victory over the Boise high school team on the latter's grounds will do the business and Coach Nafziger and his charges left yesterday for the capital city determined to bring back the "Ring." Since its defeat at the hands of the local Twin Falls team has been picking up its old stride and with the first strong line-up on hand today, it is being in the box, the odds favor the locals. Another game will be played tomorrow.

VETS PUT SNAP IN V LOAN DRIVE

Organize Berkey, Rogerson and Amstern Section for 11th Hour Effort.

Uncle Sam's army's cry of "Do It Snappy" was adopted yesterday by the Twin Falls Service Men's association in its efforts to bring Twin Falls county into the final stretch of the loan drive a leader.

Yesterday three representatives of the association, Private John Hollar, Sergeant W. B. McCracken and Lieutenant Wayne Smith, accompanied by W. E. Sanger, visited the Berkey, Rogerson and Amstern sections. They discovered that all of the amounts so far subscribed to the Victory loan issue had been voluntary. As a result the service men immediately organized the three districts and secured pledges that the 11th hour drive there would bring the district up to the mark.

On their way home the men stopped at Hollister where they found much better organized. They arrived back in Twin Falls at 11 o'clock last night. In their efforts to secure the best possible results the trio ate only one meal, breakfast, before returning home. Today the party will go to Kimberley, Rock Creek and Hartsburg.

Outfielder Must Have Strong Whip

KEEP YOUR THROWING-ARM IN GOOD TRIM

KEEP IN GOOD PHYSICAL CONDITION

MAKE A FREE-ARM THROW

TRIS SPEAKER

YOUR BALANCE IS AS IMPORTANT AS YOUR AIM.

Outfielders are generally called on to do more running than other players. Good physical condition is necessary and practice in sprinting will help you more than anything else. With speed, a keen eye for distance, a knack of catching any ball you lay hands on a good strong whip, the average youth can be made into a good outfielder.

Catching long, high flies may seem hard at first but with practice you will soon become proficient. While it is best to keep your eye on the ball every second, it is sometimes necessary to turn and run back without looking at the ball at all. To do this requires accuracy and swiftness in gauging the ball's flight. Get someone to hit fly balls over your head, and practice running back and catching these wall-pops. In throwing to bases and the home plate, keep the ball low and let it reach its destination on one bound.

Use your own judgment in throwing to bases. Drop out the possibilities of a play before-hand, as a throw to the wrong base may lose the game.

Don't take foolish chances in catching low line drives, but play the ball safe, unless the game is close.

Study the hitters, as most of them have a fondness for hitting the ball to some particular spot. Knowing what your pitcher is going to throw will help you in this. Back up your infielders and the other outfielders on every occasion. Most boys have no glasses for playing sun fields, so it is necessary to learn to shade the eyes by holding the glove up to the rays of the sun. A little dust between the temple and eye on both sides of the head will make a contrast and dull the sun's rays.

Note to the captain—Get two or more copies and give them to your outfielders.

TEXAS MAJOR ELECTED HEAD OF WAR VETS

Defeats "Buck" Privates Candidate After Position Refused by Roosevelt.

WESTERN DELEGATES MAKE WAR ON I. W. W.

Deportation of Radicals of All Stripes to Be Urged Upon Coming Congress.

ST. LOUIS, Missouri, May 8.—Determined efforts by the delegates to the national caucus of the American Legion, which opened here today to force the chairmanship of the organization on Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt failed and Major Henry D. Lindsay of Dallas, Texas, was elected chairman.

For nearly three hours the delegates urged the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt, who steadfastly declined saying he "had no desire to hold office in the organization, but wanted to be simply a booster." After several speeches in which he urged the caucus to "take him at his word" and nominate some one else, he shouted: "I'll tell you just why I can't accept this nomination. They say I am a politician and that I forced this organization to make a grandstand play at the end."

Shouts of "no, no" drowned him out and after trying for thirty minutes to establish order, Colonel Roosevelt finally went exhausted into his chair. The pandemonium continued for nearly an hour, shouts of "We want Teddy" and "make him take it" predominating. The session took on the appearance of a wild college class meeting, various college yells filling the air and always "we want Teddy" at the end.

Running against Major Lindsay who was supported by Sergeant Roosevelt, was Sergeant Jack Sullivan of Seattle, Washington, the candidate of the "Buck Privates." Sullivan's name was withdrawn when the state of Washington was reached in the voting and at his request Major Lindsay's election was unanimous. The vote at the time was Lindsay 639; Sullivan 308.

Major Lindsay, who was decorated with the distinguished service medal, was formerly mayor of Dallas, Texas. He will hold office only until the next convention which probably will be in November.

First Vice President was unanimously elected first vice chairman and Benjamin Ford B. Humphreys of Rowlett, N. M., was chosen second vice chairman over Chief Petty Officer, J. F. Goffke of New York. A third vice chairman, James H. Smith of the marines, will be elected tomorrow.

Lieutenant Colonel Eric Wood of Washington was elected secretary. Formal announcement was made today by delegates from the far west that they will endeavor to have the convention take some definite action concerning the I. W. W. and Bolshevism.

Sergeant Sullivan presented a resolution which will be acted upon tomorrow requesting that a petition be sent to congress urging drastic laws to curb I. W. W. activities.

The resolution says in part: "Whereas, there is an element living among us who mistake liberty for license, free speech for anarchy and who by their actions and speeches and radical papers would revolutionize the government and take this land of freedom a land of love, it is resolved; "That this convention petition congress that sufficient of national organizations such as the I. W. W., Bolshevism and kindred organizations be deported. . . . that a stop be put to the printing of their literature and that any one found guilty of distributing this literature be deemed guilty of a criminal offense. . . ."

BERLIN SNARLS OVER TREATY'S PROVISIONS

By the Associated Press. Newspapers Assert Its Demands Are Inhuman and Brutal.

NOTHING TO SAVE GERMANY'S POWER

Sarre Region and Danzig Clauses Are Pronounced As Imperialistic Annexation.

BERLIN, Wednesday, May 7.—Official circles in Berlin learned the probable terms of peace this morning and a lengthy session of the cabinet followed at which the action Germany is to take was discussed. It was considered in some quarters that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau would resign to sign the peace treaty "at least," but the opinion is general that Germany must accept since she is helpless.

The resignation of the foreign minister would only delay a settlement of the question for if the cabinet left office the minister, independently, it is believed, would surely take up the points and their first act would be to accept the terms.

A translation of the text of the treaty is expected to reach Weimar Friday morning. Only brief extracts of the document can be read by the correspondents, owing to lack of telegraphic facilities. . . . Meanwhile the press and public are discussing the forecast of the terms received from London by way of Amsterdam.

The first newspaper in Berlin to publish the forecast was "Der Arbeiter," and says the size of the German army can only be decided by the league of nations and that it will be impossible to pay 1,000,000,000 pounds sterling as indemnity. The newspaper calls the demand, with regard to the Sarre region "harshly dispensed annexation," and says that it cannot be accepted. The Danzig solution also is declared to be unacceptable. The decision as to Germany's former colonies is arousing protests.

The Berlin Thursday morning papers publish a summary of the peace terms which are condemned by all from the extreme left to the ultra-conservative right.

Dr. Theodor Wolff, in the Tagblatt says: "Although we were prepared for a good deal, even for everything we can only say that the treaty surpasses our worst expectations. It does not show a trace of statesmanship or of President Wilson's principles but it is a brutal, thoughtless product of thoughtless intoxicated brutality."

Dr. Wolff says that the occupation of the left bank of the Rhine for fifteen years "will within a few years create imperialism and a call for revenge in Germany."

He also condemns the eastern settlement and says there can be only one answer—"No."

The Home Courier says the "territory concessions are more extensive and unbearable than we expected."

The Lokal Anzeiger publishes a summary of the treaty under the heading "treating conditions."

LANE IS TO ASK FOR $400,000,000

Will Seek to Reclaim Slacker Lands For Returned Soldiers and Sailors of America.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 8.—With applications already received from more than 40,000 soldiers and sailors who desire to take up homesteads when discharged from military service, Secretary Lane and his advisers are revising the program originally presented to congress to take care of the increased demands.

It was noted that the first estimate of $100,000,000 for establishing discharged service men on "slacker" lands probably would have to be made several times that amount, perhaps $400,000,000. Secretary Lane's plan would not merely start a man as a farmer or cattle producer, but would "see him through" to success by assistance until he could begin repayment. The large total required to finance the projects eventually would return to the government with interest at four per cent, having established thousands of men in community centers on lands now unused.

Director-General Hines Outlines Plan For Weak and Strong Roads.

HOPES TO GET RID OF BOLD SUSPICION

Competitive Organizations, Equally Blamed and Financed, Would Be Government-Controlled

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, May 8.—Compulsory consolidation of all the railroads of the country, weak and strong, into twelve to twenty large competitive systems, privately owned but operated under government regulation was urged here tonight by Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads as a solution of the railroad problem.

Speaking before the Economic club, Mr. Hines declared that unless some cure "as radical as the one proposed" were adopted, post-war regulation would prove even more disappointing than the thoroughly unsatisfactory pre-war regulation.

He made it plain, however, that he was speaking for himself alone and did not reflect the sentiments either of President Wilson, who still was maintaining an "open mind" or of the railroad administration, which has no official function to perform in the regard.

Coupled with his proposal for compulsory consolidation of the strong and the weak roads into great systems of relatively equal earning power, Mr. Hines urged that the new systems be officially approved and capitalized and that rates sufficient to guarantee earnings be fixed, thus attracting new capital needed for development of the roads.

Makes Government Partner. "Assuring that in the past there had been no effective point of contact between the government and the regulating bodies," Mr. Hines proposed frank recognition of the fact that the government "is in effect a partner" of the railroads by placing government representatives on the boards of directors of the various lines and making them of those same representatives members of the government regulating body.
