OPENING DAY OF ROUND-UP BIG SUCCESS

Nearly 8000 People Witness Splendid List of Rodeo Events.

WILD HORSE RACE IS DAY'S FEATURE

Stockade Draws Large Crowd at Night—Near Accident in Arena—Stunt Has Spectacular Goussing

Twin Falls' first roundup opened auspiciously. Cowboys and cowgirls who have made reputations for themselves in many of the rodeo fields of the west in years past... Wild horse race was pronounced successful.

Everywhere the first day's program was pronounced successful. Members of the committee in charge were congratulated on the promptness with which they met on most of the events after the first, two although handicapped by inexperience in handling such affairs.

There was something doing every minute. And like the three-inged circus—there were always present who maintained the mass while preparations were being made for the different events.

Singing on horseback of popular songs by H. G. Parks of Salt Lake also did much to keep the crowd interested while arrangements were being completed for the staging of the various events.

The crowd gathered slowly, the majority remaining up town until nearly 1:45 when the rush began. Then the nation in the grand stands were swamped for several minutes. Some endeavored to find their own seats and finally having to appeal to one of the uniformed to be seated.

The show started after 2 o'clock with the cowboy cow pony race. Chester Parsons got the inside rail in this race and held it to the finish. There in quick succession came the other events. Real interest in the affairs commenced when the cowboy relay race started.

Features of the roundup were the bull dogging contest, the men's fly-rope race, and above all else the wild horse race.

Stunt Is New to Crowd.

This stunt was new to practically 90 per cent of the people in the stands. For half an hour preceding the start of the race the multitude enjoyed the efforts of the punchers to bring the wild "uns" into the field.

Finally the man and horse were ready. The gun was fired. Howard Tuttle who had just returned from overseas with the 14th field-artillery was first to get started—but his nag decided to go in an opposite direction than that intended.

A winner finally crept the wire. He was Jack Burns. Tuttle finished second and John Mui, came in third.

Ochsner of Chicago, on his plantation in the state of Colima, Mexico, have been sent to the Italian ambassador of Mexico City and the state department at Washington.

FRENCHMEN FIGHT WITH ITALIANS

ROME, July 3.—The newspapers report new incidents have occurred at Fiume owing to the attitude of French soldiers. The Corriere Della Sera says a French soldier attacked an Italian girl, tearing from her a badge of the French colors, trampling upon it and uttering insulting epithets against Italy.

MEXICAN BANDIT'S MURDER ITALIAN

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 3.—Reports of the murder July 13th by Mexican bandits of John Mantelero, employed by Dr. Albert J. Ochsner of Chicago, on his plantation in the state of Colima, Mexico, have been sent to the Italian ambassador of Mexico City and the state department at Washington.

According to news reports Mantelero was carrying 1,500 pesos in Mexican gold to pay of plantation hands, when the train on which he was traveling was attacked. He was killed, his body burned when the train was set on fire and the gold taken, the report added.

Private advice to the association from Mexico City today stated the Mexican government has ordered all traffic suspended on the Tehuantepec railway and the inter-oceanic railway between Vera Cruz and Mexico City.

STAGE IS SET FOR BOXING BOUT FOR CHAMP'S CROWN

BOTH WILLARD AND DEMPSEY CONFIDENT OF WINNING FIGHT

TOLEDO, July 3.—In statements prepared for the Associated Press, Willard and Dempsey gave their best efforts to the public and the contest of tomorrow follows:

Champion Jess Willard said: "From the day I signed the contract to defend the championship it has been my one idea to beat the ring in condition to give my best efforts to the public and the titular honors which I am fortunate enough to hold.

"I have trained with this in mind for a period of more than three months to the best of my ability and intend to go to every ounce of strength and degree of skill that I possess to the defense of the championship. I know that some followers of boxing do not agree with my system of training, but I am convinced I know myself and my conditioning inside.

"I believe that I am in perfect shape and confident that I shall successfully defend the championship. If it should prove that I am wrong, I shall stand up like a man and admit the superior boxing ability of my opponent without quibble, excuse or alibi.

"Beyond that I feel that events ought speak for themselves."

Challenger Jack Dempsey forecast his victory in the following words: "Six weeks of consistent training has made me fit for the big event of my life. In all my career I never felt better than I do right now and I am as certain of victory as I have ever been in my life."

"I have not a shadow of doubt that I will beat Doc McGees, Carl Morris and Fred Fulton were not dwarfs and I put both of them away, doing the trick each time in less than one round. No man in the world can withstand the attack I will wage when I enter the ring with Willard. My youth, strength and natural fighting ability will prove more than an offset to the extra poundings of the champion."

"I have not a shadow of doubt that I will take the title away from Willard to be believed. I have never yet met a man I feared. They all look alike to me and unless Willard is the super man claimed by his supporters, I will knock him out in a hurry. I would not be surprised to list him along with Patton, Morris and the other one-rounders. He may get by the first, but if he does he is only framing a lot of trouble for himself. You may not see me go to sleep. I hope it is a good battle, no matter how short it is. Take it from me, though, you are talking to the winner."

Million Dollar House Is Predicted—Crowd May Reach 80,000 People.

BOTH CONTESTANTS ARE PRONOUNCED FIT

Willard, Heavier, Also Better Boxer—Dempsey Backers Put Faith on Aggressiveness of Challenger

By the Associated Press. TOLEDO, July 3.—With the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship at stake, Champion Jess Willard and Challenger Jack Dempsey will box twelve rounds at Bay View park on the banks of the Maumee river here tomorrow in what is expected to be the greatest event of its kind ever staged.

Telling of the previous records in this direction, promoter Richard has guaranteed $100,000 to Willard, win, lose or draw, and $17,500 to Dempsey under the same conditions, while the profits from the moving picture will be split 50-50.

At arena seats $5.00. An arena to seat 80,000 spectators has been erected at a cost of $150,000 and if the gate receipts are up to expectations more than $1,000,000 will be taken from the hands of the promoter. Seven per cent will go to local authorities, ten per cent to the government in the form of a war tax, while scores of other expenses detail will get heavily into the huge sum.

The fight boxes agreed to here under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, with the kidney punch and the side hand chop hold, or "rubbed punch" barred.

One Minute Between Rounds. There will be one minute rest periods between rounds and a referee and two judges to pass upon the pugilistic merits of the contenders in case both men are on their feet at the close of the twelfth round. In case of a tie, the referee will be the one counting out the fallen boxer will close the bout. If the judges disagreed after twelve rounds of boxing the referee will cast the deciding vote; he will also be required to secure confirmation of at least one judge before disqualifying a principal for fouling or other violation of the rules.

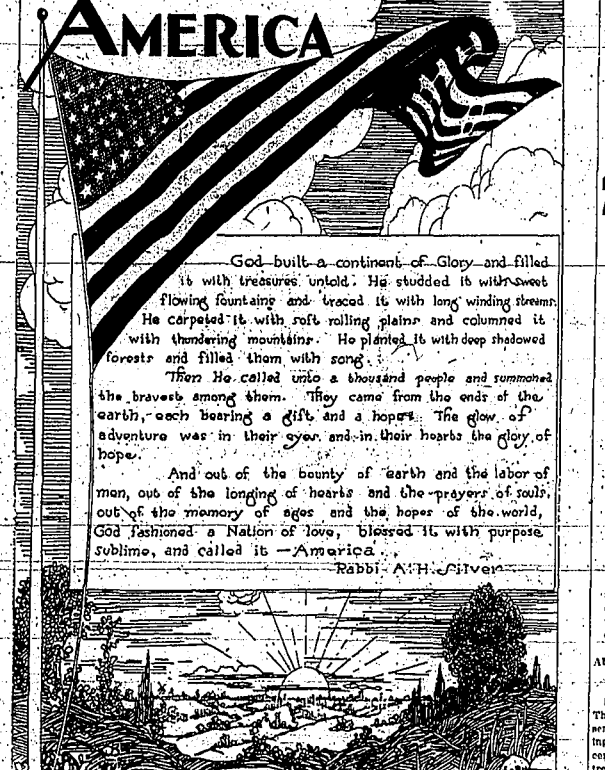

Willard's Gloves Largest. Although Dempsey will wear especially constructed five ounce gloves, Willard will be allowed six ounce gloves due to the size of his hands. There will be no padding in his gloves, however, than those of the challenger. The contest will be fought in a 26 foot square ring and each boxer will be allowed six seconds in his corner. Soft sandbags and a reasonable amount of tape will be permitted in bandaging the hands of the contestants and they will wear the customary one-piece boxing trunks.

More than 100,000 number of officials will be employed in passing upon the merits of the boxers for in addition to the referee there will be two judges similar to the system in vogue in England. One will stand by the referee, one will be seated by Tex Rickard and Max Baer, Anthony J. Dravo of Philadelphia, in the capacity of judges. They will sit on different sides of the ring and will reach any decisions by mutual agreement.

Jack Kilpatrick, former champion of Mount Vernon, N. Y., will be official referee, and W. Warren Barbour of New York will be official time keeper. Each boxer will also have a time-keeper.

Contestants Are Fit. Both principals appear to be in the perfect condition and each expects perfect satisfaction with his physical and mental condition; Willard probably will enter the stage weighing about 245 pounds, while Dempsey is expected to be near the 210 mark. He almost every physical measurement the champion will have the advantage of the challenger, being the largest man who ever held the title. In almost every physical measurement the champion will have the advantage of the challenger, being the largest man who ever held the title. Notwithstanding these physical handicaps Dempsey has the popular following and he selected to win.

God built a continent of glory and filled it with treasures untold. He studied it with sweet flowing fountains and tread it with long winding streams. He carpeted it with soft rolling plains and culminated it with thundering mountains. He planted it with deep shadowed forests and filled them with song.

Then He called unto a thousand people and summoned the bravest among them. They came from the ends of the earth, each bearing a gift and a hope. The glow of adventure was in their eyes and in their hearts the glow of hope. And out of the bounty of earth and the labor of men, out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls, out of the memory of ages and the hopes of the world, God fashioned a Nation of love, blessed it with purpose, sublime, and called it—America.

To the Candidates

The first count of votes in the big Chronicle grand prize distribution will be published Saturday and will include all votes cast up till Friday night of this week.

It should be the aim of every candidate to poll as many votes and subscriptions as is possible before Friday night and to stand well up in the list, for the public's eyes will be focused on the endeavors of the various competitors to see who the real contenders will be.

Did you ever notice how everyone cheers a winner and backs them with their support and influence, while the strugglers are scarcely noticed? Display a little enterprise and energy—show them a dash of speed and see how quickly friends, near relatives and more acquaintances will rally to your support. Get all subscriptions possible into the office by Friday night.

Those who have been "thinking about entering" the generous prize distribution but have not done so as yet, should lose no further time. As may be seen by the most casual perusal of the list of candidates, there are rich opportunities for more hustlers to enter the campaign and by little effort during spare moments make themselves big prize winners.

The Chronicle office is open each evening till 9 o'clock. Call in and get acquainted with the details of this OPPORTUNITY enterprise.

and Joseph Gilbert, an organizer of the national Nonpartisan League, will announce his decision Monday morning at the opening of court on a motion made by the defense today that the case be dismissed. Townley and Gilbert are being tried on a charge of conspiracy to teach disloyalty. George Hoek, attorney for the defense, moved the case be dismissed immediately after the state rested its case, basing his argument on a decision by Federal Judge Amidon of Fargo, N. Dak., who directed a verdict of not guilty in the case of Thomas Mills, Nonpartisan league leader in North Dakota, several weeks ago. Mills was charged with violation of the espionage act by anti war utterances.

STRIKE TIES UP TRACTION LINES

Spokane Officials Call for Troops as Precaution Due to Presence of Gang of Vandalists.

By the Associated Press. SPOKANE, July 3.—Electricians and shopmen employed by the Spokane & Inland Empire railway were on strike today. Shop foremen and foremen in charge of distribution remained at their posts in order. It was stated, to permit the cars on their runs to return to the barn. More than 150 miles of city and interurban lines of the company were tied up by the strike, which was called yesterday in support of demands of the electrical workers for back pay and a wage increase to the scale authorized by the federal railroad administration for federally controlled roads. E. F. Conners, receiver for the company, took the position that it is impossible to grant demands of the men on account of the status of the company's affairs without authorization from the federal court.

Commissioner John H. Tinsley of the department of public safety, in announcing this afternoon that requests for troops had been made by the city officials, declared the step was taken merely as a matter of precaution. Large numbers of members of the Industrial Workers of the World are known to be in the city, in response, city officials stated, to invitations to participate in a parade and picnic here tomorrow.

NO OPPOSITION TO PACT WITH FRANCE

17-18th and 19th Lay Agreement Before Senate as Same Thing Ho Submits German Treaty.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The agreement between the United States and France under which this country would go immediately to the aid of France in case of unprovoked attack on France by Germany will be laid before the senate by President Wilson at the same time he presents the German peace treaty, it is believed by officials here. It is considered likely also, that the president will give considerable attention to the Franco-American agreement in his address to congress. The text of the latest agreement had not been received today by the state department. Consequently the text was cabled to the United States by the Associated Press, gave officials the first exact knowledge of the treaty's terms although the principal provision had been outlined in previous dispatches. From addresses made in the senate on peace subjects, the impression has been gained that no considerable opposition toward the agreement will be manifested.

TWIN FALLS WINS RUBBER GAME, 8-3

Drivers Tullock Into Center Field With a Bunch of Blings in the Second.

With a scant number of fans of the dyed-in-the-wool sort who were willing to forego the usual evening mass as witnesses the Twin Falls baseball team humbled the Ellor team last evening in the rubber game. The score was 8 to 3.

The Ellor team won the morning game, 6 to 6. It wasn't much of a ball game that was staged last evening—the players hated like everything to go through all the necessary exercises for the slight remuneration in evidence in the grand stand and bleachers.

Tullock took the mound for Ellor, ignorance was in his eye, but he failed to inject any of the "sacred" stuff into his right wing and he failed to make his old team mates sweat out of his hands. He was driven from the box in the second frame, exchanging places with Post in center field.

Twin Falls men were heavy with the big stick yesterday and gathered 13 hits off the visiting pitchers. Twin Falls played a better game in the field than on the day before. The grounds were in bad shape because of the condition of the roundup events just previously.

TO TRY KAISER IN COURT IN LONDON

Lloyd George Told Commencement of Plans to Prevent Recurrence of Great Wars.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, July 4.—William Ho. renson, the former German emperor will be brought to England in a British ship and imprisoned in the tower of London, according to the Daily Mail.

The death penalty will not be sought, the newspaper points out, but if he is found guilty the allies ask his banishment for life to a remote island, following the precedent of Napoleon's exile on St. Helena.

The international legal court had intended to try the emperor alone, the Daily Mail says, but it is possible that the former Crown Prince Frederick William will also be arraigned before it.

LONDON, July 3.—Premier Lloyd George delivered in the house of commons this afternoon an explanation of the peace treaty, which he described as "the most momentous document to which the British empire ever affixed its seal."

Though showing the effects of his long labors at Paris and lacking his usual fire, the premier at times made impassioned utterances, and was loudly cheered.

Cheer Intercourse to Trial.

The announcement that the former German emperor would soon be placed on trial before a tribunal sitting in London, was cheered most of all, while his presentation of the Anglo-French coalition, providing for British aid if Germany should attack France unprovoked—a convention analogous to one between the United States and France—was greeted with unmitigated approval.

Oratorical Are Present.

The speech which led to the great speeches of the war. All the seats were taken and every inch of standing room was American ambassador John W. Davis, and Thomas Nelson Page, the former secretary of state, and many other noted persons were in the distinguished visitors' gallery. The gallery behind them was unusually colorful, because under the recent rules women were admitted to this section, and nearly monopolized the space.

Premier Well Received.

The premier had a good reception from all sections of the house. His speech was largely impromptu and discursive. He told of the peace conference effort to restore the world, with one of his typical flashbacks—"don't demobilize the spirit of patriotism."

Discussing the determination of the allied and associated powers to place on trial William II, Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, as the man held chiefly responsible for the war, he declared that if such a course had been followed after the other wars, "there would have been fewer wars." It was the intention to make such an example of Germany as to discourage others from "ever again attempting to repeat this infamy."

Territories Are Restored.

There was a significant passage when the premier first named the league of nations. Many of the members cheered, but seemingly nearly an equal number burst into laughter.

"I beg of you to try it. I beg of you to take it seriously," the premier protested.

Proceeding, he declared.

"If it saved only one generation from the horrors of war it would be a great achievement."

One member shouted: "Nobody was."

The premier paid special tribute to the work of the British expert advisers, which, he said, had been the object of the admiration of the nations at the conference, and ended with an appeal for the victory league, with one of his typical flashbacks—"don't demobilize the spirit of patriotism."

Speaking of the territorial terms of the treaty, Mr. Lloyd George said the territory taken from Germany was a matter of justice. It was a restoration of Alsace-Lorraine, he said, taken forcibly from the land to which its population was deeply attached; it was a restoration of Schleswig-Holstein the taking of which, he described as "the crime of the Hohenzollerns, robbing a helpless country in the pretense they were not doing it and then retaining the land against the wishes of the population"; a restoration of a "Poland torn to bits by Russia, Austria and Prussian autocracy and now rebuilt under the flag of Poland." And he added, "they are all territories which ought not to belong to Germany."

Russ Is to Govern.

The British delegation, the premier said, has taken a stand resolutely opposing any attempt to put a predominantly German population under Polish rule as it would be foolish to have another Alsace-Lorraine in Europe.

What's Your Idea of Senators?

Silk-hatted, frock-coated, is the popular conception of a United States senator. Have a look at these three, more typical of the senator of the present day. Left to right they are: Senator James H. Watson of Indiana, Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, and Senator James D. Phelan, California.

on the side of Germany. Having regard to the uses Germany made of her army there is no injustice in venturing and asserting it. If the allies had restored the colonies to Germany after the evidence of ill-treatment of the natives; and the part the natives have taken in their own liberation, it would have been a base betrayal.

Hold Guilty Is Personal.

"Then take the trial of those responsible for the war. If wars of this kind are to be prevented those personally responsible for them, who have taken part in plotting and planning them, should be held personally responsible. Therefore, the responsibility should be placed on the shoulders of the primary responsibility, in the judgment, at any time of the allies, should be tried for the offense he committed in breaking treaties he was bound to honor and by that means bringing on the war. It was an exceptional course, and it is a pity it was, because if it had been done before there would have been fewer wars. The allied countries unanimously decided that a tribunal—an inter-allied one—should sit at London for the trial of the person chiefly responsible for the war."

Guilty Must Be Punished.

"Those guilty of submarine outrages ought to be punished for the offenses should have known that they would be held personally responsible for offenses against the laws of war."

Premier Lloyd George argued it was not vengeance "to take every possible precaution against a recurrence of the war and to make such an example of Germany as will discourage ambitious rulers and peoples from ever again attempting to repeat this infamy. The German people approved the war and therefore, it was essential in the terms to show, if nations enter into unprovoked wars of aggression against their neighbors, what lies in store for them."

Discusses Guarantees.

The premier's references to the United States and England agreeing to aid France if she should be attacked, and men to Russia. The war is over," was loudly cheered.

After referring to guarantees in the treaty, such a disclaimer which, he declared, should not be a "trap of war." Another woman took up the cry and per," the premier spoke on the bill while she was being dragged out, she dealing with the American and British men had a flat fight. The galleries guarantee in the event of an unprovoked attack on France, saying he did not suppose any section of the house would be so foolish.

It is entered into with the approval of the league of nations," the premier asserted. "Within living memory France twice has been invaded by Germany. With her population of forty million facing a hostile population of sixty or eighty million, France had legitimate reason for feelings of apprehension when the British and American armies left. I do not agree that the treaties showed lack of faith in the league of nations. After all, the league would have no value unless it had behind it strong nations prepared at a moment's notice to stop aggression."

Fixes Army Costs.

France was quite prepared, said the premier, to reconsider at the proper time the question of the occupation of the Rhine. There was an understanding with France that the moment Germany carried out her undertaking regarding disarmament, the cost of the army of occupation should not exceed 240,000,000 marks a year.

Lastly, there was the guarantee of the league of nations, a great and hopeful experiment. But the moment Germany carried out her undertaking without disarmament, the cost of the army of occupation should not exceed 240,000,000 marks a year.

"Let us earnestly try it," exclaimed the premier. "Had it been in existence in 1914 it would have been difficult for Germany and Austria to make war, and if they had, America would have been in the first day, instead of two years later."

Women Create Scene.

The premier argued that it would have been a mistake to let Germany into the league, while there were questions pending from the war that still remained to be settled. It was for Germany herself to accelerate the date of her entry, by showing that the sky of war had purified her soul. The sooner she entered, the better it would be for Germany and the world.

Auditing of the disposition of the colonies and to the labor convention, Mr. Lloyd George, reviewing Great Britain's part in the war, and the treaty, described it as a tremendous achievement.

There was a scene like those which frequently occurred in the "suffrage" days during the debate after the premier's speech. A woman in the gallery shouted: "There is no need to

THE FAMILY PAINT.

No satisfactory reason has ever been given for having family parties. Relatives are queer. They are hard to get along with. The sharp eyes and tongue of Cousin Lemuel's wife play havoc with the quivering sanctity of sweet Aunt Jane, of hesitant, seventeen-year-old Sally. Youth is so quickly bored with the tales of old.

It is work to prepare the table for so many people. There are innumerable dishes to be done next morning. Everyone has sacrificed something—of work or recreation, business trip, reading or rest—because, "Cousin Sarah is going to all that trouble. It seems a pity not to do all we can to make it a success."

The men gather in a corner and smoke and discuss. The iniquity and greatness of the president, the dullness of business, and overwork due to prosperity; the difficulty of meeting the payroll; makes of automobiles and the fires thereof. (No one has to own a car to get in on this—the last one has driven, the more he knows).

The women form a circle, after the workers have, stacked the dishes and joined the drinkers who have been talking croquet. They discuss: How to get rid of ants; the terrible expense they once had with bedbugs; the great and intimate of hamsters; the greed and destitution of the tent; the cost of food; the narrow skirts; the suspicions of Arabella that the laundress, is making off with her handkerchiefs.

"Nobody had a very good time." Nobody says anything interesting, helpful, worth saying or worth listening to. Everybody is relieved when the party breaks up. "Get, deep down, everyone has a vague warning, a little outflow of affection for the family as a whole and for its individuals. There is something about the homely-hospitality, something about the meeting of the clan that comforts that curious object, the human heart.

Cannot somebody "reconstruct" the family party? Cannot some genius assume that relatives are people, with real, honest, real interests, real things to talk about, real gifts to share? No soon will childhood be youth, youth maturity, old-age silent!

THE TAMPA INQUISTION.

A double life in Tampa, Fla., is going to be perilous for the man leading it, if the purpose of the Women's Protective League of that city are realized.

Five hundred Tampa women are said to have formed an organization to clean up the morals of the community, particularly the morals of their husbands, by direct action. They are establishing a sort of "moral credit bureau," which proposes to rathel all the acquittals cards regarding a husband's conduct, keep it on file at headquarters and submit a confidential report to any woman who suspects her mate and asks for his rating.

Seventy of the number are pledged for "open investigation work" whatever that may mean. The other 430 will work in secret. "So many of the women have such old reproaches for husbands," explains one of the leaders, "that they can't go to work openly, because their husbands won't let them. Therefore they will work secretly."

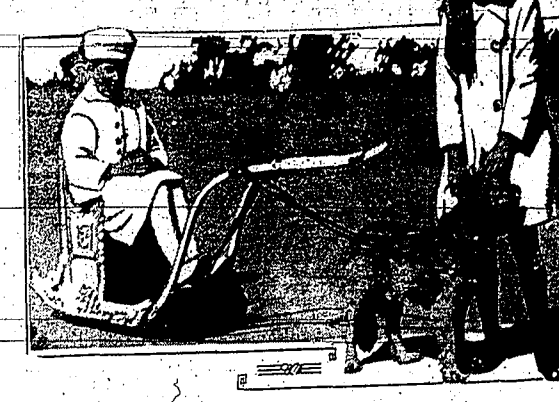

There is certainly going to be something doing in Tampa, when those 600 zealous women get on the job of ferreting out masculine iniquity.

An outsider would take a chance on the suggestion that there is bound to be trouble, sooner or later, among those women themselves. Women are commonly reputed to have great deal of personal curiosity. The possession of such a fund of information as will soon be collected will surely furnish fruitful provocation, for scandal-mongering. There may be an unseemly scramble to get on the committee that sifts the catalogues of the deplorable facts turned up. But if that inquisitorial league has the courage of its suspicion, it will certainly make itself a terror to wrong-doing husbands—and then what?

FIRE DAMAGE, $250,000. SHERIDAN, Wyo., July 2.—Fire of an unknown origin early today destroyed the elevator and flour mills of the Denis, Milling company. The loss is estimated at $250,000. The mills and elevators were the largest in northern Wyoming.

CANADA ARRIVES BY DOG SLEDGE

Young Canada arrived by dog sledge, symbol of pioneer days of the Great Northwest dominion, at a great school pageant in London. The sledge may not have been just like the sledges that travel the Yukon snows, but the husky young Canadian upon it received tremendous cheers.

COLORED TROOPS! BATTLE POLICE

By the Associated Press. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 2.—One colored soldier was severely wounded and two others slightly hurt in a clash between Alabama police and the men of the 10th century colored, tonight in the streets of Mobile.

—Deputy Sheriff Joseph Hardwick also was wounded.

The trouble is said to have started with a taunting remark to George Sullivan, military policeman for the 19th United States cavalry as he was patting a negro club. Sullivan was attacked, his pistol taken from him by negro troops and police and civilians joined in the melee.

More than 100 shots were fired and 41 negroes arrested and turned over to the military authorities by the police after the trouble had ended just before midnight.

The negro soldiers were here from Fort Huachuca under command of Colonel George B. White for a parade tomorrow. The officers of the regiment were attending a dance at Warren.

DEFENDERS ARE ARRESTED

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—United States Attorney Annetto A. Adams, acting, also said, on instructions from the department of Justice at Washington, caused warrants to be issued to Louis Henrich, president of the city and their attorney pro-guard of police and detectives was thrown about the federal building tonight, following receipt by authorities over the telephone of a "tip" from an unidentified man that the structure had been marked by anarchists for destruction tomorrow.

The offense alleged was the manufacture and sale of beer containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. The Healed Brewing company in advertisements had announced that it was manufacturing and had for sale beer containing 2 1/2 per cent of alcohol.

Henrich and Samet both were out of the city and their attorney promised they would appear Monday in the district federal court before Judge William Sawtelle, by whom the warrants were issued.

Application by the brewing company for an injunction to restrain United States Attorney Adams from seeking to interfere with manufacture by the Healed Brewing company of beer containing not more than 2 1/2 per cent of alcohol was dismissed Tuesday by Judge Sawtelle. He ruled a court of equity had no power to restrain a prosecuting officer.

HANDLE MANY REMITTANCES.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 2.—Since April 22 the American relief administration has handled 19,245 money remittances to the liberated countries in Europe, amounting to about $7,500,000, according to announcement today by Theodore Wilmersh, joint director.

PARADE FEATURES TODAY'S PROGRAM

To Commence Promptly at 10 o'clock Many Organizations to Participate in the Pageant.

Twin Falls' Fourth of July program today will begin with a band concert at 8 o'clock at the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street, which will continue until the time for the bands to take their places in the parade at 10 o'clock.

The parade will form at 10 o'clock on Main avenue north and west between Second and Eighth streets.

The following statement was issued last night by Chairman MacCallister: Machinery entering the parade will be on Fourth street north, facing Main avenue.

Rural floats will form on Fourth street west, facing Main avenue.

Juvenile section will form on Fifth street north, facing Main avenue.

Artistic floats will form on Fifth street west, facing Main avenue.

Industrial floats will form on Fifth street west, facing Main avenue.

The band, G. A. B., color bearers will form on Main avenue between Second street west and Third street west.

The roundup section forms on Third street west.

Line of March. The parade will proceed from the point of formation to the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street; thence north to Shoshone street to the city park; then counter march to Main avenue and proceed on Main avenue to Fourth street east, where it will disband.

The parade will start promptly at 10 o'clock.

Chairman MacCallister is highly pleased with assurances which he has received, which have convinced him that the parade will be a success and will be participated in by a great many organizations.

GUARD FEDERAL BUILDING.

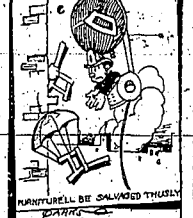

PITTSBURGH, July 2.—By order of Mayor E. V. Babcock, a special guard of police and detectives was thrown about the federal building tonight, following receipt by authorities over the telephone of a "tip" from an unidentified man that the structure had been marked by anarchists for destruction tomorrow.

NEWSPAPER WRITERS' UNION STRIKES FOR HIGHER WAGES

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, July 3.—The Newspaper Writers' union of this city voted unanimously today to go on strike unless its demands for wage increases and recognition of the union are granted.

The demands are for a minimum wage of $18 a week for reporters and $16 a week for copy readers. The union claims a membership from seven newspapers of 180 men and women out of a total of 210 in the city.

CHICAGO 17; CLEVELAND 1 CLEVELAND, July 3.—Chicago left five Cleveland pitchers at will today and won, 17 to 1. Cleveland's errors were costly, the ten runs in the fourth inning being scored after chances, rather than the side.

BOSTON 8; PHILADELPHIA 1 PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—Walker's home run in the first inning with Witt on base gave Philadelphia a flying start today, but Naylor, after holding Boston hitless for four innings, went to pieces and the champions made it two out of three by winning, 8 to 2.

Batteries: Jones and Schang; Naylor, Seibold, Rogers and Perkins.

WASHINGTON 1; NEW YORK 0 WASHINGTON, July 3.—Although Shore pitched good ball for New York today Johnson was more effective, especially as regards men on base, and Washington won, 1 to 0. New York failed to get a man on base in third base.

DETROIT 3; ST. LOUIS 1 ST. LOUIS, July 3.—Ehmske held St. Louis to three hits, while his team mates lunched two hits, two walks and a sacrifice fly in the first inning, obtaining a lead which the locals could not overcome, Detroit evening up the series by winning 3 to 1.

MEXICAN BANDITS DRIVE 40 STEERS FROM U. S. RANCH

EL PASO, July 3.—Mexican bandits raided the ranch of the Palomas Land and Cattle company, a Los Angeles corporation, June 27, driving off forty head of steers, H. S. Stephenson, general manager, announced here today. A letter signed "Maximo Cervantes" was left at the ranch, saying the bandits would kill any of the ranch managers and employes who attempted to follow them.

TO WHICH CLASS DO YOU BELONG?

Do you realize that the reason that some people seem to have all the better things in life is that they were awake to opportunities that were offered them—that they did not sit back and say "I can't," but grasped every opportunity for advancement and gain? The biggest and best opportunity for making big money in five weeks of spare time that was ever offered in Southern Idaho is offered you now and that without one cent of investment.

Does The Chronicle's Big Automobile and Grand Prize Distribution appeal to you as being a meritorious business proposition and worthy of time. Does a $1725.00 Paige Car—or the hundreds of dollars in cold cash—appeal to you? If so, are you a participant or are you still debating? "Putting it off" is very poor poor policy in affairs of this kind. Act now before it is too late! The nomination coupon starts you on the road to victory.

The first publication of candidates showing the number of votes received for each in The Chronicle's big prize automobile and Grand Prize Distribution will appear in an early issue and will include all votes cast for the candidates who have entered.

When this first vote exhibit appears it will show that the majority of candidates have not yet started an active campaign. This is a strange condition indeed, when it is considered that the campaign is so extremely short in duration, that the race will be over and the prizes distributed just five weeks from Saturday night.

As in all things "this start is the thing" so those who would be the winners of the grand prizes should lose no time in launching a systematic and vigorous campaign. The race is so short that there is really no time to lose.

The competition, which is just starting, is still an open one and right now is the time to enter. If you are a hustler with ambition, enter your name at once and share in the good things that are offered. If there is anything at all about the whole proposition that is not perfectly clear to you, call on, telephone or write The Chronicle, phone 246 and you will be shown just how to go about winning the prize you have chosen from the wonderful list for your own.

Send your name into The Chronicle office and send or bring the votes with it that you can get as they will appear in the first list of votes published.

Kitty Canutt and Bertha Blainchett were entrants in the cowgirls' Roman race.

Crowds Throng Stadium.

Crowds thronged the stadium last evening where the night show in conjunction with the Rink's rink is held. The carnival spirit prevailed throughout the evening, making a fitting ending to the first day of the celebration.

Features of various sorts are provided at the night show. Among those which aroused the most interest were the Indians in their topees, emulating as nearly as possible the early days. Their war, ankle and other tribal dances drew much comment.

Cowboys and cowgirls on horseback danced the old-fashioned square dance. Fortune tellers gave fleeting glimpses into the future to those who so desired. The old stage coach was the center of attraction for a time, especially when it was caught in the too narrow gateway on making its exit.

Two Dances To Give.

Following the novelty program a free was given on the pavement.

The nearest thing to an accident during the day occurred at the stadium when Mrs. Dan Smith, wife of the winning bulldogger, was thrown against the fence when the out-of-control horse she was riding fell with her. Mrs. Smith suffered a sprained ankle and severe bruises.

Another incident created still more excitement. The presence of Pafco's many interesting stunts in the novelty program, and it was said that his legs had both been broken and that an operation would be necessary at once. Several physicians and veterinarians gathered to the scene, a table was procured and both legs cut off. It proved, however, that they were wooden ones. Thorpe lost his foot a good many years ago, and has gone through the same stunts on numerous occasions in Pafco.

♦♦♦♦♦ OUT OF THE CHUCK BOX. ♦♦♦♦♦

The mule riding contest scheduled for the fourth place on the program was a continuous performance and was the source of much amusement.

The crowd stood at attention when little 15-year-old Daisy Parsons, who is a genius on horseback rode down the track standing—up—on—her—steed and waving "Old Glory" with the hand played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The kiddies were out en masse yesterday and they were interested spectators, too. Little Edith Reynolds, four years old, who was seated with her parents on the top row of the grand stand, was particularly interested in the bull-galloping contest. As one steered westward to the ground she cried out excitedly, "There he stowed it." One young lad about four years old, brought his kick along with him, and between every jump he entertained the grand stand spectators with bucking of the "finest" kind.

"Some comments heard yesterday at the attitude of the spectators. A few follow:

"That mule, sure pulls off some stunts."

"See that pony drag that steer, that's 'Rin' them horses smart."

"Och, I see, the horse's name is 'Underwater'."

"Well, how do they ride who wins in these things, anyway?"

"Pretty nice crowd today, don't know what they'll have tomorrow."

"It's some fine mule, all right."

"Did you ever see such 'change' as those?"

"Well, I wouldn't want to risk my life that way."

"Say, that little 'Parsons' girl is grand."

"Why, do they win prizes, too?"

"It was some show."

"Hey, you kid with the soda, I want two strawberries."

"Some riding, I call that."

"Well, that's a real horse, and no joking."

"Back to it, cowboy."

"Come on with another song there."

Murmurs of regret were heard generally when it was announced that Bob Chadwick of Kimberly had suffered injuries and would be unable to ride in the contest as he had planned.

Long pauses in the start were not at all popular with the crowds, but as events came more quickly this complaint was stifled.

Judging from the way in which the Indians were received it was not hard to tell that these of all contestants were the most popular.

WARM WEATHER FOR BOB.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Weather bureau reports tonight showed a heat wave spreading throughout the northern eastern quarter of the United States and indicated that most of the country would have a "hot Fourth." Temperature of 94 degrees was registered at Boston, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, W. Va., and Atlantic City.

For Toledo and the night—like the rest of the eastern section of the country—forecasters promised a warm day. Predictions were made that no rain or wet streets to spoil the evening night.

R-34 WILL REACH MINEOLA, N.Y. TODAY

Big Blimp Saves Much Gasoline in Long Flight Over the Atlantic Ocean.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The British dirigible R-34, en route to the United States on an attempted round trip trans-Atlantic flight, is expected to reach Mineola, Long Island, some time tomorrow, a British military wireless picked up by the Office of Civil Defense, radio station last today and relayed to the navy department said.

LATEST REPORT OF R-34.

LONDON, July 3.—The first message received by the air ministry gave the position of the R-34 at 15:58 Greenwich mean time (about noon New York time) as latitude 52.10 north, longitude 45.30 west.

SAVES MUCH GASOLINE.

LONDON, July 3.—The dirigible R-34, communicating with the air ministry via St. Johns and Clifton, gave its position as latitude 52.30 north, longitude 37.03 west at noon, Greenwich mean time.

The dirigible had expended 1545 gallons of fuel leaving Brest. It had thus used a little more than one gallon to the mile.

A wireless set had been slightly out of order, but was adjusted and is now working satisfactorily. The dirigible had been deprived of communication, as she has two other sets of shorter wave length.

HEADS NORTHEAST ST. JOHNS.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 3.—At 2:10 Greenwich time, or 10:30 p. m. New York time, officers at the wireless station said they were without knowledge as to the exact position of the R-34 since receipt of the message saying she was about 400 miles northeast of St. Johns. They said, however, they had been in further communication with her and that she was still headed for the northern end of Newfoundland.

In the opinion of these officers there is a chance the craft may later swing south in order to drop a bag of mail which it is understood she has been commissioned to bring here.

PERISHING PRAISES AMERICAN LEGION

NEW YORK, July 3.—A cable message from General Pershing declaring the American Legion, the organization of the American Veterans of the World War, "is destined to be of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which we fought and in spreading among our people the lessons learned in the war period" was made public here today.

The message came for us tomorrow in the first issue of the American Legion Weekly.

The weekly, its first issue containing 32 pages, carries messages of greeting from Rear Admiral W. S. Sink, Lord Northcliffe, General Percy C. March, Chief of staff of the army, William Howard Taft, Secretary of War Baker, and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

SAN DIEGO, July 3.—Diplomats internationally known, engineers who have been studying transportation conditions in Russia, and several American, Canadian and French Army officers were passengers on the steamer Nanking, which today brought 3100 wounded Czechoslovak soldiers here from Vladivostok to recuperate at Camp Kearney.

The liner also brought a $2,000,000 cargo of Russian sable fur, coffee and wool.

Among the passengers who disembarked from the Nanking were:

Joseph G. Loris-Melikoff, newly appointed minister to France. He is on route from Genoa to Paris.

Victorine Robert de Domperre, secretary of the French embassy at Tokyo, on route to Paris to report Dolzhev disturbances to his government.

Jose de Castellanos, secretary of the Spanish legation at Tokyo, en route to Madrid.

Nikita C. Stephanoff, special confidential agent of the Russian soviet government, en route to Washington.

Officers of the Nanking sail travel over the trans-Siberian railroad still in precarious owing to the activities of the Russian red army.

POLICE READY TO THWART A TERROR REIGN

Every Law Enforcing Agency in Country Mobilized to Combat the Reds

SPECIAL GUARDS ARE PLACED IN NEW YORK

Oakland Officials Hope to Break Up Dangerous Nest of Radicals Alleged to Be Operating there

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Every law enforcing agency in the country will cooperate tomorrow in preserving order against reported plans of anarchy, and other radicals to create a reign of terror by bomb explosion.

No Concerted Plot.

Officials of the department of justice have said they know of no concerted plot for independence day, but no chances are being taken. The bureau of investigation has enlisted the police of all large cities in their purpose to put an end to criminal agitation. The plans have not been divulged but it is known that many suspected persons have been under surveillance and that they will be arrested on the least suspicious move.

Adequate precautions have been taken for the protection of public officials but the nature of the safeguards necessarily have been kept secret.

NEW YORK PROTECTED.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Every man of New York's police force and detective force more than 11,000 in number were mobilized tonight to remain on continuous duty until Saturday morning as a precaution against another possible attempt by radicals to inaugurate a reign of terror independence day. Special guards were thrown about the city's public buildings and the homes of prominent citizens.

As an added precaution plans were perfected for the rapid mobilization of the city regiments of the state guard in the event of any widespread disturbance.

OPENING DAY OF ROUND-UP BIG SUCCESS

Nearly 8000 People Witness Splendid List of Rodeo Events.

WILD HORSE RACE IS DAY'S FEATURE

Stockade Draws Large Crowd at Night—Near Accident in Arena—Swim Has Spectators Guessing.

Twin Falls' first roundup, opened successfully.

Cowboys and cowgirls who have made reputations for themselves in many of the rodeo fields of the west in years past vied with one another in showing in nearly 8000 people gathered at the Roundup park the sports of the "puncher" who ruled supreme in the west before the advent of irrigation and intensified farming of today.

Pronounced Successful.

Everywhere the first day's program was pronounced successful. Members of the committee in charge were congratulated on the promptness with which they put on most of the events after the first two although handicapped by inexperience in handling such affairs.

There was something doing every minute. And—like the three-staged circus—there were clowns present who entertained the mass while preparations were being made for the different events.

Singing on horseback of popular songs by H. G. Parke of Salt Lake also did much to keep the crowd from tiring while arrangements were being completed for the staging of the various events.

The crowd gathered slowly, the majority remaining up town until nearly 1:45 when the rush began. Then the pushers in the grand stands were swamped for several minutes. Some endeavored to find their own seats and finally having to appeal to one of the ushers to be seated.

The show started after 3 o'clock with the cowboys' cow pony race. Chester Parsons got the inside rail in this race and held it to the finish.

Then in quick succession came the other events. Real interest in the affairs commenced when the cowboy relay race started.

Features of the roundup were the bull dogging contests, the men's Roman race, and above all, the men's horse race.

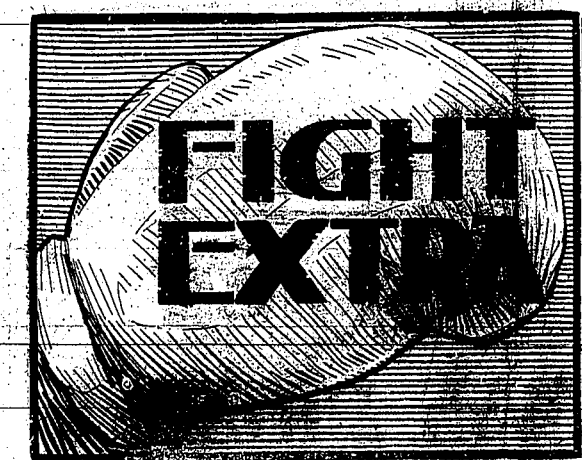

Stunt in New to Crowd. This stunt was new to the spectators, 80 per cent of the people in the stands.

For half an hour, proceeding the start of the race the multitude, many of the efforts of the puncher to bring the wild ones into the ring. Every one of the animals selected for this event were wild ones who had never been ridden before. Every one was wild for a fight and it was hard work for each rider to get the animal to put the blind on each mount.

Finally the men and horses were ready. The gun was fired.

Howard Tuttle who had just returned from overseas with the United States army was first to get started but his start decided to go in the opposite direction than that required.

A winner finally crossed the line. He was Jack Burns. Tuttle's second and John Mul, came in third.

WILLARD QUILTS IN THE THIRD

WILLARD THROWS UP SPONGE AT THE END OF THE THIRD ROUND.

RINGSIDE, Toledo, O., July 4.—Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey met here this afternoon in a scheduled 15-round boxing match for the heavyweight championship of the world. The $50,000 staked in the arena were little more than half filled. The first actual sign that the big event of the day impended came when workmen tossed a new mat into the ring to replace the one somewhat damaged by the preliminaries and by an exhibition of bayonet, pistol and knife practice by spider-experts, with Major Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, who was also one of the judges of the championship.

The thermometer stood at 115 degrees, but a puff of breeze gave occasional slight relief.

James L. McLaughlin of San Francisco, who constructed the arena, superintended workmen who went about the ring testing and tightening the ropes, smoothing the mat and sprinkling resin over its surface. The crowd practically to a man moved into the nearer seats, where vacant, leaving practically two tiers of bleachers around the entire amphitheatre vacant.

Dempsey was the first to enter the ring. It was just three minutes to four. He chose the corner with the sun at his back. Big Bill Tate, the sparring partner, kept the sun of the challenger with an umbrella. Willard came into the ring a minute later. The champion was also protected from the blazing sun by a big umbrella. Willard was seconded by Walter Mohahan, Ike O'Neill, Jack Hempel and Ray O. Ar-chule, his regular manager. Manager Jack Kearns was in charge in Dempsey's corner. He was assisted by Jock Malone, James Kid, "Denver" Jack Dyer, Bill Tate and Trainer Jimmy de Forest.

Archer examined the bandages on Dempsey's hands and watched Manager Kearns tie on the gloves. De Forest went to Willard's corner to inspect the bandages and tape, and watched the gloves being tied on his hands.

The officials were announced at 4 o'clock. Olio Percord of Toledo, the referee, was attired in a sleeveless shirt, blue trousers and a cap. He prettiouly chewed gum while waiting for the boxers to get ready. They were called into the center of the ring at 4:07 to face a battery of photographers.

After the glasses were made Percord disclosed the rules with them and they shook hands and returned to their corners.

Time was called 4:09:30. Willard landed the first blow, a right left to the head. The champion landed a right and left to the head.

Dempsey hooked a left to Willard's stomach. Dempsey missed a left and right to the head. Willard snapped a left to the jaw.

Dempsey knocked Willard down with a right to the jaw twice.

The champion took a count of six each time and when he got up Dempsey knocked him down with lefts and rights to the jaw.

The challenger tore into him and knocked him down again for the third time.

RINGSIDE, Toledo, O., July 4.—Jack Dempsey in three bloody rounds during which the issue was never in doubt attained the world's premier title honors by defeating Jess Willard.

Round two: Dempsey rushed Willard in his corner, pounding his jaw with rights and lefts. The champion's right eye was bleeding from the blow Dempsey landed. Dempsey walked around Willard carefully measuring him with rights and lefts to the jaw. Willard seemed dazed. Dempsey put three lefts to the head of Willard.

Willard landed a feeble uppercut. Willard's eye was rapidly closing.

Dempsey had to be called back into the ring for the second round because he thought he had won the fight. Willard staggered to his corner at the end of the second round.

At 3:20 p.m. the crowd had stopped coming and the arena was apparently a little more than half full. The last preliminary was still running.

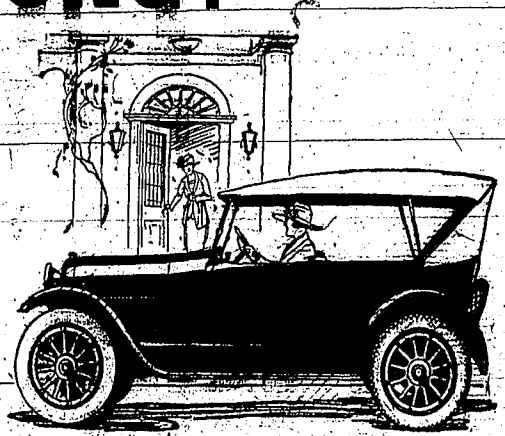

The preliminary bout was a close one and there were many cries of "no" when the decision was given to the main. Many thought Mason deserved a draw.

TO WHICH CLASS DO YOU BELONG?

Do you realize that the reason that some people seem to have all the better things in life is that they were awake to opportunities that were offered them—that they did not sit back and say "I can't," but grasped every opportunity for advancement and gain? The biggest and best opportunity for making big money in five weeks of spare time that was ever offered in Southern Idaho is offered you now and that without one cent of investment.

Does The Chronicle's Big Automobile and Grand Prize Distribution appeal to you as being a meritorious business proposition and worthy of time. Does a $1725.00 Paige Car—or the hundreds of dollars in cold cash—appear to you? If so, are you a participant or are you still debating? "Putting it off" is very poor poor policy in affairs of this kind. Act now before it is too late! The nomination coupon starts you on the road to victory.

TO TRY LLOYD GEORGE IN COURT IN LONDON

Lloyd George, 'Old Comrade' of Plans to 'Prohibit Reparation' of Great War.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, July 3.—William Hollenzeller, the former German emperor will be brought to England in a British ship and imprisoned in the Tower of London, according to the Daily Mail.

The death penalty will not be sought, the newspaper points out, but if he is found guilty the allies ask his banishment to life to a remote island. Following the precedent of Napoleon's exile on St. Helena.

The international trial court had intended to try the former emperor along the Daily Mail says, but it is possible that the former Crown Prince Frederick William will also be arrested before it.

LONDON, July 3.—Premier Lloyd George delivered in the house of commons this afternoon an explanation of the peace treaty, which he described as "the most momentous document to which the British empire ever affixed its seal."

Though showing the effects of his long labors at Paris and backing his usual firm, the premier at times uttered impassioned utterances, and was loudly cheered.

Cheer Reference to Trial. His announcement that the former German emperor would soon be placed on trial before a tribunal sitting in London, was cheered most of all, while his presentation of the Anglo-French convention, providing for British aid if Germany should attempt to restore the empire.

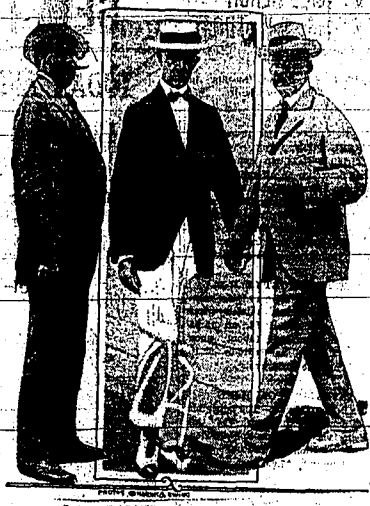

France unopposed—a convention analogous to one between the United States and France—was greeted with unrestrained approval.

Dignitaries Are Present. The scene recalled some of the great speeches of the war. All the seats were taken and the speaker's voice was promptly raised.

The speaker had good occupation from all sections of the house. His speech was largely impromptu and descriptive. He told of the peace conference effort to prevent war in the future, and reviewed some of the restrictive restrictions put upon Germany in the treaty signed at Versailles.

Discharging the determination of the allied and associated powers to place on trial "William Hollenzeller, the former German emperor, as the man held chiefly responsible for the war, he declared that if such a course had been followed after the other wars, "there would have been fewer wars."

What's Your Idea of Senators?

Silk-hatted, frock-coated, is the popular conception of a United States senator. Have a look at these three, more typical of the senator of the present day. Left to right they are: Senator James R. Watson of Indiana, Senator Ollbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska and Senator James D. Phelan, California.

on the side of Germany. Having regard to the uses Germany made of her army, there is no injustice in scattering and dispersing it. If the allies had restored the colonies to Germany after the outbreak of the treatment of the natives, and the part the natives have taken in, their own liberation, it would have been a base betrayal.

Hold Guilt Is Personal. "Then take the trials of those responsible for the war. If wars of this kind are to be prevented those personally responsible for them, who have taken part in plotting and planning them, should be held personally responsible. Therefore, the courts should be the man who unhesitatingly had the primary responsibility via the judgment at his side of the allies, should be tried for the offense he committed in breaking treaties he was bound to honor and by that he was bringing on the war."

It was an exceptional course, and as a rule it was because "if it had been done before, there would have been fewer wars. The allied countries unanimously decided that a tribunal—an inter-allied one—should sit at London for the trial of the person held responsible for the war."

Guilt Must Be Punished. "Those guilty of barbarous outrages ought to be punished for the officers should have known that they would be held personally responsible for offenses against the laws of war."

Premier Lloyd George argued it was not vengeance to take every possible precaution against a recurrence of the war and to make such an example of Germany as will discourage ambitious rulers and peoples from ever attempting to repeat this history.

Discussions Guaranteed. The premier's authority to the United States and England agreeing to send men to Russia. The war is over. The peace is made. The world is at peace. The world is at peace. The world is at peace.

Fixes Army Costs. France was quite prepared, said the premier, to reconsider at the proper time the question of the cost of the Rhine. There was an understanding with France. But the moment Germany carried out her undertaking regarding disarmament, the cost of the army of occupation should not exceed 240,000,000 marks a year.

Let us earnestly try it," exclaimed the premier. "Had it been in existence in 1914 it would have been difficult for Germany and Austria to make war, and if they had, America would have been in the first day, instead of two years later."

Woman Credits Scene. The premier argued that it would have been a mistake to let Germany into the league, while there were questions resulting from the war that still remained to be settled.

There was a scene like those which frequently occurred in the "outcast" days during the debate after the president's speech. "A woman in the gallery shouted: 'There is no need to Another woman took up the cry and who she was being dragged out, two men had a flat chest. The gonging were then cleared.

Wake Up Candidates! Quick Action Necessary

Campaign Which Is Just Starting Is an Extremely Short One and Workers Should Hustle Now.

OPPORTUNITIES PRESENTED FOR HUSTLERS

There is Plenty of Room for More "Live Wires" in This Big Prize Distribution—Enter Now Before It Is Too Late.

The first publication of candidates showing the number of votes received for each in The Chronicle's big Fair automobile and Grand Prize Distribution will appear in an early issue and will include all votes cast for the candidates who have entered.

When this first vote exhibit appears it will show that the majority of candidates have not yet started an active campaign. This is a strange condition indeed, when it is considered that the campaign is so extremely short in duration, that the race will be over and the prizes distributed just five weeks from Saturday night.

As in all things "the start is the thing," so those who would be the winners of the grand prizes should lose no time in launching a systematic and vigorous campaign. The race is so short that there is really no time to lose. The competition, which is just starting, is still an open one and right now is the time to enter. If you are a hustler with ambition, enter your name at once and share in the good things that are offered. If there is anything at all about the whole proposition that is not perfectly clear to you, call on, telephone or write The Chronicle, Phone 245 and you will be shown just how to go about winning the prizes you have chosen from the wonderful list, for your own.

Hand your name into The Chronicle office and send or bring the votes with it that you can get as they will appear in the first list of votes published.

THE STANDINGS

THE LIST OF NAMES

POLICE-READY

The city hall, the anti-treasury, the criminal courts building, St. Patrick's cathedral and several other important public buildings and churches were placed under guard.

Guards also were sent to the homes of former Senator Clark of Montana, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Henry C. Frick, Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard and others.

TO MAKE DISCLOSURES

OAKLAND, July 3.—Plans for an outbreak of radicalism on July 4 are expected to have been carefully laid and the officials say they have proof of a plot of the discovery of which may result in breaking up a dangerous nest of radicals.

The officials said that they would have startling disclosures to make as regards to the remaining warrants are served.

MOONEY MEETINGS QUIET

CHICAGO, July 3.—Four Mooney meetings were held tonight at the homes of the speakers glorified the Russian soviet, but the utterances generally lacked the revolutionary fervor some spectators had anticipated. About 300 or 350 persons attended the largest of the meetings.

WOULD BURN LOGGING CAMPS

ORLANDO, Ore., July 3.—Officials connected with the United States department of justice here received orders by telegram from Washington, D. C., today to guard against a plot to burn logging camps and mills of the northwest where members of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen are employed.

MOONEY STRIKE IS SETTLED

ASTORIA, Ore., July 3.—The Mooney protest strike was launched here tonight when the dockhands and firemen of the bar for Willits refused to go outside. All union longshoremen were scheduled to strike tomorrow and the loading of vessels will be practically suspended for several days. Several other unions have voted to strike.

DETROIT, July 3.—Union labor leaders announced tonight there would be no strike here tomorrow, with the consent of the Detroit Federation of Labor in behalf of Thomas J. Mooney. A resolution adopted at an executive meeting of the board of directors, it was announced, recommended that no strike be called inasmuch as Secretary of Labor Wilson has pledged himself to further investigation of the Mooney case.

PITTSBURGH BUILDING

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—By order of Mayor E. W. Bebeck, a special guard of police and detectives was thrown about the federal building tonight, following receipt by authorities over the telephone of a telegram from an unidentified man that the structure had been marked by anarchists for destruction tomorrow.

OUTPOINTS SULLIVAN

By the Associated Press
CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., July 3.—Johnny Nepp of St. Paul outpointed and won a decision over Frank Sullivan, Pacific coast fighter, tonight in a 10-round encounter. The fight was allowed.

LIGHTNING KILLS THREE

DELESPORTS, S. D., July 3.—Lightning struck a dance hall this afternoon at Whitehead, 25 miles south of here, killing George Hughes, orchestra leader and two others, and wounded several dancers.

OUT OF THE CHUCK BOX.

The mule riding contest scheduled for the fourth place on the program was a continuous performance and was the source of much amusement.

The crowd stood at attention when little 10-year-old Daisy Parsons, who is a genius on horseback rode the track standing up on her steed and waving "Old Glory" while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Kiddies were out en masse yesterday and they were interested spectators, too. Little Edith Reynolds, four years old, who was seated with her parents on the top row of the grand stand, was particularly interested in the high dogging contest. As one steer went crashing to the ground she cried out excitedly, "There he throws it. One steam had about four years old, brought his stick horse along with him, and between events he entertained the grand stand spectators with bucking of the "finest" kind.

Some comments heard yesterday show the attitude of the spectators. A few follow:

"That mule sure pulls off some stunts."
"See that pony drag that steer."
"Ain't them horses smart, are they?"
"Don't they, the horse's name's 'The detaker'."

"Well, how do they tell who wins in these things, anyway?"
"Pretty nice crowd today, don't know what they'll have tomorrow."
"Do you mean with all this right?"
"Did you ever see such 'chups' as these?"
"Well, I wouldn't want to risk my life that way."
"Say, that little Parsons girl is great."
"Why, do they win prizes, too?"
"It was some show."
"Hey, you kid with the soda, I want two strawberry."
"Some riding, I call that."
"Wow, that's a real horse, ain't no joking."
"Stick to it, cowboy."
"Come on with another, song there."

Murmurs of regret were heard generally when it was announced that Bob Chadwick of Kimberly had suffered injuries and would be unable to ride in the contest as he had planned.

Long pauses at the start were not at all popular with the crowd, but an event came more quickly this complaint was settled.

Judging from the way in which the Indian were received it was not hard to tell that they of all contestants were the most popular.

WARM WEATHER FOR BOBT
WASHINGTON, July 3.—Weather bureau reports tonight showed a hot wave spreading throughout the north-eastern quarter of the United States and indicated that most of the country would have a "hot Fourth." Temperature of 98 degrees was registered at Boston, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Parkersburg, W. Va., and Atlantic City.

For Toledo and the light-like the rest of the eastern section of the country—forecasters predicted a warm day. Predictions were made that no rain can intervene to spoil the event before night.

R-34 WILL REACH MINICOLA, N.Y. TODAY

Big Illinois Steam Tug Caroline in Long Flight Over the Atlantic Ocean.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 3.—The British dirigible R-34, en route to the United States on an attempted round trip trans-Atlantic flight, is expected to reach Minicola, Long Island, some time tomorrow, a British admiralty wireless picked up by the Otter Cliffs, Me., radio station late today and relayed to the navy department said.

LATEST REPORT OF R-34

LONDON, July 3.—The latest message received by the air ministry gives the position of the R-34 at 16:55 Greenwich mean time (about noon New York time) as latitude 52.10 north, longitude 46.33 west.

SAVES MUCH GASOLINE

LONDON, July 3.—The dirigible R-24, communicating with the air ministry via St. Johns and Chicago, gave its position as latitude 52.80 north, longitude 47.02 west at noon Greenwich mean time.

The dirigible had expended 1545 gallons of fuel, leaving 3324. It had thus used a little more than one gallon to the mile.

HEADS NORTHEAST ST. JOHNS

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 3.—At 7:30 Greenwich time, or 10:45 p. m., Newfoundland officers at the wireless station said they were without knowledge as to the exact position of the R-34 since receipt of the message saying she was about 400 miles northeast of St. Johns. They said, however, they had been in further communication with her and that she was still headed for the northern end of Newfoundland.

In the opinion of these officers there is a chance the craft may be flying south in order to drop a large mail which it is supposed to have had committed to bring here.

PEASHING PRAISES AMERICAN LEGION

NEW YORK, July 3.—A cable message from General Peashing declaring the American Legion, the organization of the American Veterans of the World War, "is destined to be of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which we fought and in spreading among our people the lessons learned in the war period" was made public here today.

The message came up tomorrow in the first issue of the American Legion Weekly.

This weekly, its first issue containing 32 pages, carries messages of greeting from Rear Admiral W. S. Sims, Lord Northcliffe, General Peyton C. March, chief of staff of the army, William Howard Taft, Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.
