American War Vessel Trails "Blimp," Keeping in Touch With Its Crew.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(Sunday)—At 1:29 Sunday the navy communications officer received the following communication direct from the dirigible.

HEADING FOR BOSTON. NEW YORK, July 5.—The British dirigible R-34, enroute from Scotland to the United States, was heading for Boston tonight, where she will replenish her fuel, diminishing supplies of hydrogen and gasoline before completing her scheduled trip to Lincoln, N. Y.

After a day of battling by high winds, lost for a part of the time in a dense fog and driven out of her course to avoid a severe electrical storm, the R-34 reported herself at 11:30 p. m. near Boston harbor and flying over the water.

Message Picked Up. At 11:30 o'clock the following message was picked up by the radio station at Malabar, N. S., and relayed to the United States:

The R-34 at 02:56 G. M. T. 07:30 west, 02:56 North Course southwest by south magnetic. Twenty knots. Flying at 1600 feet. This position is approximately 170 miles northeast of Boston and at her present rate of speed the dirigible should reach Boston about 6 a. m.

If no great delay is experienced in obtaining hydrogen and fuel and barring a mishap in landing, the R-34 should reach Lincoln tomorrow afternoon.

The navy radio broadcast a message in all cities and towns north of Boston requesting that they be on the alert to give aid to the R-34 in case of an enforced landing.

It was said that about 500 persons would be required to bring the big ship to rest.

CONTACT IS ESTABLISHED.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Contact with the British dirigible R-34, which calls for a continuous flow morning except all day as she nears the finish of her trans-Atlantic journey only, to find gasoline and sustaining hydrogen gas was exhausted, was established tonight at 11:34 by the destroyer Hancock of the United States navy.

DIVISION AMONG "ROUND ROBINS"

By the Associated Press. SPOKANE, Wash., July 5.—There seems to be a division in the ranks of the "round robin" smokers. Homer B. Clummins, chairman of the "dignitaries" national committee declared tonight in an address on the steps of the hotel at a local party. While some of them, like Senator Borah, indicated a disposition to remain neutral in their opposition to the league, he contended others "are now peering wistfully through the sugarbush and are working their way spontaneously back to the wig wag on the reservation."

HEATH-PENALTY FOR HOOPERS MAKE TROUBLE

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, Mex., July 5.—According to Deputy Jose Posquiter, who has Just returned from Mexico City, the new famous "recluse" order number 155, recently issued by Governor Calles of Sonora, decrees death to those persons caught in Sonora in the manufacture, transportation or wholesaling of medicinal, has caused a tremendous wave of indignation at the capital which may result in his removal from office before his term expires in September or at least in the abrogation of the order.

SON OFFERS SELF IN KAISER'S PLACE

Elit Frederick and Brothers Willing to Stand Trial for Father's Misdeeds.

BELLEVILLE, July 5.—Prince Elit Frederick of Prussia, second son of the former German emperor, has sent the following telegram to King George:

"To his majesty the king of Great Britain and Ireland:

"In fulfillment of natural duty of son and officer, I, with my four younger brothers, in place of my imperial father, in the event of his extradition, in order to spare him much degradation.

"In the name of Prince Adalbert, August Wilhelm, Oscar and Joachim. (Signed) "ELIT, FREDERICK."

TO RATIFY MONDAY

LONDON, July 5.—The German cabinet discussed this morning the question of ratification of the peace treaty and future diplomatic service, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch received by way of Copenhagen.

Germany, said Mr. Crosby, eventually would reach a stable form of government if the people were given the opportunity to solve their political troubles.

Opposes Intervention. In speaking of Russia Mr. Crosby said he opposed intervention.

"The Kolchak government," he continued, "is a government of private ownership without any relation to the people. The other of radical type is socialistic or an attempt to set up communism. I think it would be best if the world would let the Russians settle their own affairs without outside influence."

After a few days here Mr. Crosby will go to his home in Virginia for a long rest, he said.

TED BOWEN HOME GLAD TO BE BACK

Ted Bowen is home. Lieutenant Theodore Bowen, one of the most popular of the members of old company "D" returned to Twin Falls yesterday afternoon. Dolchob from his "buddies" when he was promoted just about a month before the regiment left France last August Bowen was forced to remain in Europe a few days longer than the rest of the men. He arrived in the United States on June 27 and was quickly discharged.

"Will my old clothes fit me?" was the question that he asked when he arrived at his home. It didn't take long to prove that he had outgrown the old suit, but "Ted" was not to be denied the privilege of appearing in "civilian" as soon as possible and immediately visited a store, where the necessary garments were secured.

Lieutenant Bowen left Twin Falls as "top kicker" and held this place all the time he was in France until his promotion.

BELIEVE I LOST IN SOUTH DAKOTA LAKE

Bodies of Victims of Boat-Sinking Are Recovered—Many Heart-Rendering Scenes.

By the Associated Press. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 5.—After working frantically during the early morning and all day, more than 300 rescuers cut work tonight satisfied that the nine drowned bodies recovered from the water would be the final death toll exacted when the pleasure boat Reliance turned over at the lake's edge late last night, with about thirty persons aboard. The lake in the vicinity of the accident, which was caused when the boat struck a snag, was dragged dozens of times today.

The opinion was generally expressed tonight that no more bodies are in the lake.

The boat was not lighted and was overpowered, it was said.

There were many heart rending scenes. A mother who had stood on the shore gazing wailing word as to the fate of her young daughter and son held high hopes of their safety until late this afternoon, when their bodies were dragged from the watery grave.

How to Jump Into First Place.

On each 2-year subscription to The Chronicle or approximately its equivalent in shorter term orders, 40,000 votes are allowed—providing same is received at the campaign deadline before 9 o'clock Monday night, July 21.

Then, in addition to that, 50,000 SPECIAL EXTRA votes are allowed on every "club" of $24.00 turned in.

Therefore, two 2-year subscriptions (amounting to $24.00 in business) means 130,000 votes.

It can readily be seen by glancing at the vote totals above that just a few such subscriptions for any candidate would furnish a new leader in the race; in fact, an ENTIRELY NEW CANDIDATE what at this time has no votes at all, could, by a little enthusiastic action on the part of themselves and friends, climb to the top of the list and thereby acquire the leadership for the big prize automobile.

And, when one takes into consideration the value of the prizes to be awarded and the short time the competition is in force, they are well worth any effort they might take to secure.

BIG FIGHT BRINGS IN NEARLY $600,000

City of Toledo and Government to Get Slice of Match—Willard Fights Dempsey

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, July 5.—Although official accounting has not been completed, Tex Rickard, promoter of the heavy-weight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey, estimated tonight that the gate receipts would total between $500,000 and $600,000.

Revenue agents are busily engaged in checking up the receipts to determine the amount of war tax due the government. Basing the receipts on $600,000 the government will receive approximately $14,000, while approximately $450,000 will be turned over to Toledo.

The city, under the agreement with Promoter Rickard, is to receive 7 percent of the gross receipts. Rickard already has paid $10,000 to this fund.

Mayor Schreiner plans to use the money in sending orphans and children of Toledo's poor families on vacation trips to Michigan. He also plans to devote a part of the money to endow beds for the poor in hospitals.

Dempsey left tonight for Cincinnati to open a theatrical engagement there tomorrow. He is to receive $7000 a week.

Willard spent the day resting quietly at his temporary home in company with his wife and a few friends. Aside from the evening on the right side of his face, which was swelling under self application, he was none the worse, apparently, for his encounter with Dempsey. He accepted his defeat without any attempt to excuse or belittle the champion's fine prowess. On the contrary he made a number of complimentary remarks about Dempsey's ability.

"There is little to add what is already known," the defeated champion said. "After that first hard going to the law in the first round Dempsey came in and that was the end. I had a chance to clear my head and square away for a better offense or defense. I was fighting in a daze. This is no attempt to alibi my defeat or take credit from Dempsey, who is a fast, clever, hard-hitting opponent, ranking with the best of the heavyweights. Now I am through, with boxing and expect to be just plain Jess Willard. I hope, however, that the public will remember me as a boxer who always tried to give his best in the ring and did his share to keep the boxing game above suspicion."

Efforts were being made to obtain permission from proper authorities for the exhibition of the moving picture of the fight in the auditoriums and hospitals where wounded overseas soldiers are recuperating. It is hoped that eventually the pictures may be shown in public generally without violating the law. Rickard and Willard still retain their two-thirds interest in the film, but Dempsey sold his third before the fight.

Because of the controversy over the number of knockdowns Dempsey scored in the first round, the first exhibition of the pictures scheduled here tomorrow is being awaited to settle the dispute. Referee Percot said there were six knockdowns. Dempsey believes he felled the champion seven times. Boxing experts at the ringside vary from five to seven knockdowns.

WILL TRY TO HALT THE PICTURES OF THE FIGHT

By the Associated Press. READING, Pa., July 5.—A message calling the attention of the department of justice to the Rosenberg act, which relates to the interstate movement of motion picture films of nude actors, was sent to Attorney General Palmer today by the Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the National Reform bureau, who is in Reading.

The Rosenberg act, enacted after the Willard-Johnson fight at Havana, would bar the Willard-Dempsey films from leaving Ohio, according to Mr. Crafts.

CLEVELAND CAR MEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

Company Refuses to Accede to Plan of City Council for Settlement.

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, July 5.—Unless something unforeseen develops before 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, 7,000 union motor men and conductors of the Cleveland Railway company will strike because of the deadlock between the employees, the company and city officials over the men's demand for an increase in wages of twelve cents an hour.

The city council, sitting as a committee of the whole, made a final effort this afternoon, to avert a strike by granting the railway company a sufficient extra allowance under the Taylor plan, whereby the city controls the car lines, to pay the increase wage they demand, but it was rejected by President Stanley of the street car company.

Mr. Stanley has issued instructions to operate all cars possible tomorrow. If necessary, he will import men to give the public street railway service," he said. Mr. Stanley asked Superintendent of Police Smith for police protection tomorrow in operating the cars.

effect. Many passengers voluntarily continued paying six cents, however. The tramway company claims that there is a dispute between the state and the city as to which has the authority to regulate rates and that until this question is decided, the six-cent fare is still in effect. While not attempting to collect the latter fare, the company has left the matter to the decision of its individual patrons.

THE MILK-DINKING HABIT

The milk dinkers are proving a pest to the health of the United States department of agriculture. The government is doing its educational work by means of lectures, moving pictures, charts and demonstrations. It is carrying the instruction to factory groups, to crowded sections in big cities, to the rural school, in fact, to people of all ages and classes and nationalities in all parts of the country.

An Illinois factory has recently opened its doors to milk vendors, who go through twice a day at 10 and 2 o'clock, with sweet milk and butter-milk. A considerable number of the men have developed the habit of buying a pint each day and drinking it as a between-meal lunch. The foreman states that the men have gained in efficiency, that they are in better health and more contented and untended since this custom was introduced.

A department store in Connecticut distributes half-pint bottles of milk among its employees twice each day. Straws are furnished with bottles so that the milk will not be taken too rapidly. The employees pay for the milk, but the price is moderate, no effort being made by the company to make profit on the milk.

Michigan is making an effort to bring made to insure every growing child having all the milk it needs. Recently parents of under-nourished children were asked to send three cents a day to the school for a 10 o'clock lunch of milk and a slice of bread and butter. The parents responded well, only five out of a large number of under-nourished youngsters were fed at public expense. All soon showed a marked improvement in health.

It is a fine habit to cultivate, especially in children who need this vitalizing food for their proper nourishment and growth. There will be less tuberculosis abroad in the land when there is more milk-drinking.

A BRITISH BLUNDER

War-work blunders have not been confined to America. A masterpiece along that line has been revealed in a report just made public by the British air council.

owing to the decreased demand for airplane factories, the government decided that it was a public duty and so "machines were taken from contractors which were not wanted."

That was not so bad. Though a poor industrial policy, it was a natural, human solution of the problem, but that was not all. The factories involved were private concerns. There were also national factories which the government felt obliged to keep going. And it met that situation as follows: "Machines taken from contractors to keep the people there employed were sent to the national factories to be destroyed to keep the people there employed."

It was exactly as if, in order to provide employment, in hard times, the government were to hire two sets of workmen, one to build houses and the other to tear them down after they were built.

FOOD AT FAIR PRICES

The government turned down all the bids submitted for the army food supplies recently offered, because they were too low. The highest of them were only about half as much as the war department bid paid for the goods. There is certainly no reason why millions of pounds of smoked bacon, canned beef, corned beef hash, etc., should be sold at such a sacrifice; for the prices paid by the department, high as they may have been if judged by wholesale standards, were low compared with current retail prices. The department accordingly has decided upon a way by which it can get its money out of that surplus stock and at the same time confer a benefit on the public. The goods are now offered directly in the open market, without bidding. The only condition, it seems, is that they will not be sold at less than cost. This condition, it seems, is being met by many offers.

KILLS FIANCEE IN LONLEY CANYON SPOT

Young Man—Chasing to His Son— Senator Now Gives Himself Up to Authorities.

By the Associated Press. LATE ANGLETS, Cal., July 5.—"I killed her because I loved her and she wouldn't marry me as she promised. I love her still and I'm ready to die for my girl because I want to go to her."

Lying on a log in the city jail tonight, Harry S. New of Glendale, who said he was the son of United States Senator Harry R. New of Indiana, thus concluded an account of the killing of Miss Frieda Lester, his fiancée, at a lonely spot in Tonopah canyon, about 25 miles northwest of Reno, N. Y., on Monday.

Calmly and without apparent remorse, New reviewed in detail to newspaper men and police officers his actions which included his driving to the central police station with his fiancée's body in the rear seat and surrendering it today.

"We had planned to be married today," he said. "At the last moment Frieda interposed objections and I proposed that we take an automobile ride to some quiet spot where we could get things over. Teaching a lonely spot, I started pleading with her to marry me at once.

"She remained obstinate and told me that she was expecting to become a mother and that she had decided to undergo a surgical operation rather than marry me. I was nearly two hours driving Frieda being beside me. Then I dived on me what a horrible deed I had done. I decided the best thing to do was to bring the body to the police station and surrender."

SAYS HE IS SENATOR'S SON INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—Mrs. Lulu Burger, widow of Harry S. New, who today surrendered to the Los Angeles police, as the murderer of Miss Frieda Lester, left Indianapolis late today for her home in California. Mrs. Burger stated that New is the son of Senator Harry R. New of Indiana, and that she was divorced from Senator New about 18 years ago. Mrs. Burger also said she expected to give Senator New and solicit his aid in behalf of her son.

NEW DENIES RELATIONSHIP WASHINGTON, July 6.—Senator New, issued a statement tonight denying that he was Mr. Burger's ever or divorced.

When a dispatch from Indianapolis quoting Mrs. Burger's denial was received, it was stated that the statement from any source that Mrs. Burger and I were ever either married or divorced at any time or under any name is absolutely untrue."

"A CLOSE CALL"

Painting from Life by William R. Leigh

By JOHN D. SHERMAN. But when the grizzly is hunted he is a tremendous antagonist. Wounded, he is a terror. A grizzly hunter with a cub is as dangerous as a lion and as wiles the earth.

The grizzly can be killed with a single bullet—if that bullet is placed right. Otherwise the contents of a muslin bag-power magazine rifle will not check a charging grizzly. The brain, the spine and the upper part of the heart are the vital spots. A western man—his name is purposely omitted—killed three full-grown grizzlies in about 20 seconds with three shots; he doesn't dare print the story.

One most interesting feature about the grizzly is his individuality. Grizzlies seem to be even more individual than men. For example, there is a grizzly named "Old Moose" which is a Colorado classic.

Old Moose first appeared in the literature about 1880. His territory was the region around Black Mountain, 17½ miles from the Continental Divide and was about 60 miles in diameter. Two tons missing "in his left hind paw made it easy to keep track of him. Old Moose quickly became an expert killer of cattle, sheep, horses and man. One day he had been hunting a buck, and he had "overrun" the just of buck, mutton and pork, he lost all desire for mice, grasshoppers and flower roots. Toward the close of his career he was followed at a respectable distance by a large cinnamon bear which fed on the remnants of his carcasses.

A heavy price was put on the head of Old Moose. Trappers and hunters in a known territory a venture to get in to win the reward. All attempts to trap him failed. Poison was tried in vain. Three hunters got close enough to him to meet death. Old Moose seemed to have a keen sense of danger. After he had been hunted for many years he developed a habit of sneaking up on the camp of campers and prospectors. Then he would rush the camp, pouring and attacking hunt on killing everything in sight. There is no record that he ever attacked anyone at such times. But the stampedes he caused were many and hideous. Undoubtedly he enjoyed them.

This sort of thing went on for 25 years. Old Moose during that time killed more than 500 cattle, to say nothing of goats and other live stock. He killed at least five men. Though he was a more, some of his fur was glossy; his teeth were sound, his bodily powers were undiminished and he was more cunning than ever.

Finally, in April, 1904, a hunter with a pack of fresh-cut bear dog muzzles in get him cornered. Old Moose turned at bay for the last time. It took eight shots to kill this tremendous old grizzly.

"A Close Call" And now for "A Close Call" with the foregoing to give you a hint why this portrait is so remarkable.

The fact from which the painting was made took place in the spring of 1912, near Cody, Wyo. I said Director "Figs" met Mr. Leigh at Cody, and he was here to paint a bear in action. I invited him to go with me on my trip for a bear group for the purpose of painting. He accepted and took along his equipment and guide. I had secured the services of the famous Wyoming guides, Ned Frost and Fred Hecker. We set out in May for the heart of the arena.

We had two guides established and we rounded the mountains and found him day after day, spending the night at intervals but never of the third passes into the air. This amount reaches four inches per month during the eight months of the wet season, and seven inches per month in the dry season. The air is very humid from the frequent rains, which come nearly every day even to the so-called "dry" season, but the surprisingly high evaporation is explained by the strong winds continually blowing. It is noted that even the Salt Lake sea with arid desert surroundings has only about the same evaporation.

MOONEY WALKOUT IN BUTTE FAILS

By the Associated Press. BUTTE, Mont., July 5.—Telephone and street car service continued interrupted today despite a strike by members of the Electrical Workers union in protest against refusal of a new trial to Thomas J. Mooney. Several of the building trades also were affected, but it was stated the strike had not attained large proportions. Mining operations here and work in the smelters at Anaconda and Great Falls continued today as usual. Delegates were arriving for the "one big union" convention to meet here tomorrow and continue Monday.

TO REOPEN MONDAY LOS ANGELES, July 5.—The Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock company, which closed its plant at San Pedro six weeks ago when its employees struck, announced today it would reopen Monday "for the benefit of former employes whom we may be able to employ and who may desire work." The strike has remained unbroken.

No wage dispute was involved. The company announced it was willing to concede the right of collective bargaining but the point of discussion was whether the employees should have strictly union representatives on their shop committee.

ELIAS' ROUND-UP PASSES WITHOUT SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Late last night reports from the regular and emergency hospitals and from the owners of ambulances showed that nobody had sustained serious injuries during the whole roundup, a remarkable record which is commented on favorably by many visitors in the city, who also praise the lack of all signs of drunkenness in the crowd.

Miss Joy Iramit motored from Jerome to attend the Elias' roundup. Miss Iramit returned to Jerome yesterday evening.

Henry Hall of Jerome motored to Twin Falls to attend the roundup. He will return to Jerome today.

SWIFT FILLS BIG ORDER FOR MEATS

Many Thousands of Cattle Dressing In One Day By Big Packing Concern

Some of the great accomplishments of American business during the war are just beginning to creep to the surface now that the ban of censorship has been removed. Every industry devoted a great part of its time and energy to the manufacture of supplies needed not only by the United States but by the allies, and few persons not actively engaged in the work realize the extent.

The preparation and handling of meat, food products was, of course, one of the great necessary industries, and it was fortunate for the country that the packing industry was already established for service long before the Jan. 1918 was made.

The problem of securing an adequate supply of meat for the army and navy caused the government less worry than any other major problem. All that was necessary for the government was to determine the requirements and need of the army and navy, and notify the packers, and they delivered the goods.

The manner in which the packers met the emergencies which arose during the war is well illustrated in the case of Swift & Company who in one week filled a government order for 35,000,000 pounds of meat and fat. This necessitated the dressing of 13,000 cattle and 200,000 hogs, and required 1,000 freight cars to transport.

Another instance is found in an order which was received one Saturday afternoon at five o'clock for 5,000,000 pounds of a special cut of dry salt mutton. The war department wanted this shipment of 43 cars and on the way by the following Thursday, not less than 70 hours' distant, Swift & Company had the last car loaded and rolling an hour before noon on Tuesday.

In still another case the government could not go to one to put up fresh butter in this for export shipment. Swift & Company accepted an order for 500,000 pounds on May 4th, 1918. It was necessary to equip three creameries with machinery and supplies, and to organize the help to do work entirely new to them. The first car was rolling eastward in 23 days and a month later the entire order was completed.

The tremendous total of $50,000,000 worth of supplies was furnished by Swift & Company alone to the American and allied governments during the war. The peak was reached in December 1918, when the goods furnished totaled $35,000,000 in this one month.

Meats naturally formed the bulk of sales, but considerable quantities of wool were furnished the United States government, while the allies purchased large amounts of lamb and hard products.

Even if there had been any inclination on the part of the packers to "peddle" this would have been out of the question under the rigid regulations enforced by the food administration. With meat prices officially determined by the government and with profits limited to a definite percentage, possibility of unfair dealing, was removed.

The packing industry required no Federal financial aid, and additional facilities did not have to be constructed by the government—such as shipyards for the ship-builders, and additional factory units for munition manufacturers.

Over 8,500 employees of Swift & Company are now working in the plant at Nampa, Idaho.

Company answered the call to the colors and served in practically every branch of the army and navy. They are returning rapidly to civilian life and the company has adopted the following broad policy with respect to the re-employment of these men.

Every returned soldier of either war will be given his old position, or one equally as good, at a salary or wage equal to the amount he was receiving when he left, or if the rate of pay for his position has been increased in the meantime, at the increased rate.

Swift & Company and its employees numbered almost 17,000,000 to the war and the company do not intend over 11,400,000 to the war service organizations. The record for the largest number of subscribers was reached in the fourth week when 53,472 employees bought bonds.

WAR SCHOLARSHIP TO SERVICE MEN

GOODING, July 4—In a recent letter to Gooding college, Dr. David D. Forth, corresponding secretary of the board of home education and church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church says, "Provision is now being made to grant war scholarships to service men and women for the school year beginning in the fall of 1919. These scholarships will be given to persons whose education was interrupted by their entrance into the service. It is our thought that such scholarships should be given to persons who are eminently worthy and who have the promise of furnishing the community with strong leadership and who could not do so without such aid."

The amount which may be granted as a war scholarship will be the regular tuition charge which in Gooding college is fifty dollars per year and in addition to the tuition allowed a maximum of one hundred and fifty dollars, if needed.

These war scholarships provided by the board of home education and church extension are intended to meet an emergency and will be available for at most a very limited number of years.

WHOLE COMMUNITIES GAINING
Canning, demonstrations in the Ozarks closely resemble community clinics, with plenty of fun as well as instruction. In many neighborhoods the announcement of a lecture by the home demonstration agent will bring out every man, woman, and child for miles around.

A club in Seneca county, 20 miles from the county seat and a railroad is named the Snowball. This club, like many others in Arkansas—purchased a steam pressure canner last year. The husbands of the members became so interested in canning that a month after the club was organized the men built a house for the canner, work tables, and other equipment. One man donated the trees and others cut them into logs and hauled them to a sawmill. The whole community is proud of the kitchen.

At the September meeting of the Horton Dend club, in the same county, in spite of a heavy storm. The men were so enthusiastic as the women and old as much work. They packed cans of string beans, carrots, and other vegetables. The women said they couldn't can without

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Fitless Must If You Feel Back-ache or Have Bladder Trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must have them like you relieve your bowels, removing all the toxins and poisons, and you get a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue to coat, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy; full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's uric waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder begins to discharge. The famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder trouble. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes the light and pleasant little water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

ROUND-UP IS HISTORY; LAST DAY IS BEST

Hugh Strickland Wins Big Prize for Best Broncho Busting—Smith Second

KITTY CANNUTT WINS IN WOMEN'S CONTEST

Indian Makes a Good Record in Bulldogging, but Fails to Throw His Second Steer.

Falls first roundup is history. Staged under the auspices of the Twin Falls lodge of Elks, the affair proved a success in every way.

Yesterday was the last day of three good days of rodeo events.

Practically half of the large stadium prepared for the event was filled when the first event was called yesterday.

Everything was kept on the move, the judges and management have profited greatly by their experience of the first two days.

Without a doubt the big feature of the day was the bull-dogging by Landon who threw his steer in 25 1/2 seconds. As this was his first, either he had to throw another steer which he failed to do, though making a splendid effort.

Hugh Strickland was yesterday awarded first prize in the grand finale in the bucking contest. He was graded 92 per cent by the judges. Tex Smith was second, with 82 per cent; Earl Johnson, third, 80 per cent; Hubert Hogg, 76 per cent. The horses ridden in the grand finale were "Big Timby," "Who Thought Of It," "Oregon Steamboat" and "Tango." The majority of those present thought that Johnson had made the best ride.

Kitty Cannutt was given first in the ladies' contest, 21 per cent; Louise Thompson, second, 14 per cent; Bonnie McCarroll, third, 10 per cent. No grand finale were held in this contest, the decision being made up of standing only.

vote totals are obtainable, and that no one so far has "walk-away" to the big prize automobile.

Time Is Limited, Get Busy.

Now is the time for those who are competing in this race to "make dust fly." Only two weeks remain during which to secure the maximum number of votes on subscriptions—two weeks in which to WIN or LOSE—for that is exactly what it means.

Our best advice to those who wish to win is to hurry every available subscription to the campaign department NOW while the BIG VOTES are in effect. Not to do so simply means that you are throwing golden chances away—chances that may bring you the big prize automobile, hundreds of dollars in cash, or something else equally attractive.

No Quitters Here.
You are "off at the post" now and the race is growing hot. Your ability and popularity have been demonstrated. Can you finish strong, as you have started, with the best talent and keenest wit of southern Idaho pitted against you? You most certainly can unless your courage fails you now. You can finish victorious in the face of keen competition? If we know character at all we judge that no such misery as a quitter will appear among those who are entered in "The Chronicle" campaign. Certainly the winner will be entitled to admiration for defeating such a field, and as certainly will commendations be the due of those who "do game."

Get in the race with a shout for your own in a bunch and may the best candidate win.

and the shortage of ships in handling the migration are delaying the actual departure.
A prominent steamship agent said "fully two-thirds of the 50,000 people in Milwaukee and other parts of Wisconsin will leave the next year."

Editor Zantz of Piler was among the out of town visitors in Twin Falls attending the roundup.
