WRECK LEAD CONQUEROR'S PARIS PARADE

Halt, Lame and Blind From All the Provinces of France.

PARADE PASSES UNDER THE ARC DE TRIOMPHE

Millions of People Watch the Victory Parade Sing Down Famed Champs Elysees.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, July 14.—The conqueror in great was made today in a victory parade under the Arc de Triomphe, through which only veterans may pass. Picketed units and individual heroes represented each of the allied armies.

Several millions grateful people, mostly French, but with many thousands of Allied allies, struggled forward along the line of march for an opportunity to wave and shout their gratitude to the men who saved them from German domination.

The great triumphal arch, conceived by Napoleon to commemorate his victory at the battle of Austerlitz, took on new historic importance when the allies marched through the massive pile of masonry, which dominated all Paris and served during the triumph Elysees toward the Place de la Concorde.

The place of honor in the procession was not accorded to the generally and manfully equipped troops. It was given to a thousand mutilated soldiers who passed under the arch and in front of the reviewing stand where stood President Poincaré, moving haltingly and out of step, as best they could.

Many were injured, some were blind, some were lame and some were maimed in crutches or limped along with the aid of canes. Few of them were uniformed. They represented all the provinces of France, as was indicated by the variety of their civilian attire. They marched in small military regiments but unceremoniously as they could to the sites played by the military band which led them.

Great crowds filled every inch of space in the many streets and sidewalks that contained a view of the line of march. Banners were packed and coats were black with people. Many hung in the trees which lined the boulevards.

SEVERAL EVENING DISINTEGRATE. (ROME, July 14.—) Considerable interest has been aroused here following the recent disintegration between the Italian and French troops at Fiume, over a speech delivered today by Camillo Barrere, the French ambassador, on receiving the French colony on the occasion of France's national holiday.

M. Barrere recalled this was the first time in five years the French had celebrated July 14 in peace but that now it was being celebrated with a peace restored by victory. The anti-Italians over the disappearance of that power, referring to Austria, in which the Italians "justly saw their hereditary enemy."

The ambassador declared that contrary to reports the French government had never dreamed of the revivification of that power in any form; that French diplomacy never had lent itself to a resurrection of which the Italians would have a right to feel offended. The population of the defunct Austro-Hungarian empire was going on, he added.

M. Barrere said the French sympathized with their Italian ally's legitimate intervention in the Balkans, but that it had obtained its national frontiers.

COAL PRICES IN BRITAIN SHOW INCREASES AT MINES

By the Associated Press. LONDON, July 14.—Coal averages per ton at the pit head, it was announced in the house of commons today will be 28 shillings eight pence per ton in Scotland and 29 shillings four pence in the remainder of the British Isles when the six shilling five pence announced last Wednesday becomes effective July 16. These prices compare with an average price of 19 shillings three and one-half pence in 1918.

LAST CONTINGENT TO EMBARK SOON

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 14.—The last contingent of American troops intended for early home embarkment, exclusive of the men in the army of occupation, and the service of supply, will be aboard ships between August 15 and 20, according to a statement today by Major General David C. Shanks, in charge of the part of embarkment at Hoboken.

General Shanks, in explaining recent complaints of some officers about the accommodations afforded them on their return from France, said the government had been forced to utilize "the larger vessels" as transports in order to expedite the movement of homeward bound troops.

P. O. SAFEBREAKER SUSPECT JUGGED

Suspected of being implicated in the robbery of the Pilot postoffice last week a man with 240 pounds of stamps in his possession was arrested at Harley street. The man is also said to have had W. S. S. from the Pilot postoffice in his possession. He will be taken before a United States commissioner for preliminary arraignment.

FRICK ASSERTS NO GRAFT DISCOVERED

Investigation Following Dowey's Death Reveals No Cause for Unpleasantness of Department.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 14.—In a formal statement issued here today H. E. Frick, district manager of the Emergency Fleet corporation, declared that up to the present nothing in the corporation's record here "had been discovered on which to base an accusation of fraud against any one connected with the shipbuilding interests in this district."

Mr. Frick's statement was prompted, he said, because of the investigation being made of the facts concerning the mysterious death of F. A. Dowey, government secret service agent, found dead here last May 2, and believed by some officials to have been murdered. The statement also added:

"This office will, however, continue to conduct investigations in all matters in which any fraud could have been perpetrated."

Dowey at the time of his death had been making an investigation of matters here which were said to involve a possible gigantic fraud against the government. No official statement had been made that the investigation concerned shipbuilding matters.

SAYS HE WAS MURDERED. GREAT NECK, N. Y., July 14.—Frederick A. Dowey, special agent in charge of the Federal Protective Bureau of the United States shipping board, whose death in Seattle, Wash., May 2, is the subject of investigation, is believed by his relatives here to have been murdered.

Dowey was officially reported to have died from apoplexy. An autopsy performed on the body here after it was brought from the Pacific coast showed nothing to indicate that Dowey was not in good health up to the last moments of his life and there were found no symptoms of apoplexy. He was stated by his brothers.

Frederick A. Dowey was at one time acting deputy collector of customs at this port. He was credited with exceptional merit in connection with federal investigations. In the summer of 1918 he was appointed special agent of the shipping board and detailed to investigate some matters in the western district.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The board of boxing control in an official statement tonight announced that the fight between the "Pilot" and the "Dempsy-Willard" bout when Willard's seconds tossed a towel into the ring as a token of defeat. The board also decided the bout ended in the third round. Those decisions were made as a result of numerous inquiries received from all parts of the country.

TWO ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF STEALING SADDLE. One Patrick and H. H. Jordan were arrested last evening near Castleton. The men are alleged to have stolen a saddle and some chaps near Pilot. The men are in the county jail.

FLEET TESTS WAR VALUE OF PANAMA CANAL

Will Sail from Hampton Roads July 19th Instead of the 22nd.

PASS THROUGH CANAL ON A WAR FOOTING

Fifty Destroyers Will Steam in Form of Triangle With Rest of the Fleet Behind.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 14.—The newly organized fleet will sail from Hampton Roads July 19 instead of July 22 as previously arranged. It was decided late today at a conference between Secretary Daniels and Admiral Duffa Rodman, commander of the fleet. The date of the fleet's arrival at San Diego, Cal., was fixed at August 7 or 8.

Will Get Canal. Passage of the fleet through the Panama canal will furnish the first test of that waterway as a strategic asset in connection with the operation of the nation's naval forces. It was announced that every effort would be made to put the fleet through the locks on exactly the same basis that would be used in time of war. A stop of a day or two in Guantanamo will be made, however, to give the crews of the ships an opportunity to see the canal.

Destroyers Will Lead. The squadrons of fifty-four vessels will lead the fleet out of Hampton Roads. They will steam in the form of a triangle with the main body of the fleet inside the triangle. The run to the Atlantic entrance of the Panama canal is expected to take six days.

About 100 ships will make the cruise. The slower vessels of the armada, including colliers, supply ships, repair ships, submarines and hospital ships, have been expected to precede to the west coast independently and some of the vessels are already en route. Several of the older battleships also have been ordered to proceed the main squadron so as to give its navy yards for repairs. Most of these ships have been engaged in convoy work.

Will Get Shore Leave. Admiral Rodman announced tonight that throughout the cruise every effort would be made to give the officers and men all the shore leave possible.

The fleet will remain at San Diego about three days and then proceed to San Pedro for a stay of four or five days before going to San Francisco August 16. Tentative plans call for the review of the fleet by President Wilson who is to be aboard the flagship New Mexico with Secretary Daniels outside the Golden Gate and engaged in the harbor with the armada. From San Francisco the fleet will proceed to Puget Sound and anchor at Bremerton navy yard. The New Mexico with Secretary Daniels and the official party aboard, and one other destroyer, escorted by the divisions of destroyers, will then go to the Hawaiian Islands where Mr. Daniels will inspect the naval shore establishments and officials at the opening of the immense new naval dry dock at Pearl Harbor.

We wish to impress upon the people of the Pacific coast," said Admiral Rodman tonight, "the fact that this is a Pacific fleet first, last and all the time and that it is their fleet in every sense of the word. The men will be given every chance to go ashore at every port we stop at and get acquainted with the people of the west coast. We know we are going to like them and they are going to like us."

Coincided with the arrival of the fleet the navy department will launch a recruiting drive on the Pacific coast. Recruits will be allowed to enlist on any ship they choose.

SERVICE FLAG AT CHURCH HONORED

The Harvey, Reformed Service Men, Makes Principal Address—Without Gold Star.

The lowering of the service flag at the Christian church Sunday morning was attended by a large audience. The flag has hung in the church for the past year and a half and stands as a reminder of the men who have given their lives for their country.

The address of the morning was delivered by Joe Harvey, a returned veteran, who spoke at some length. "It is true there is an unpaid debt due to the soldiers. It is also true that the soldiers owe a debt to the people who remain at home. Neither can repay the other. Let us forget these debts and get busy letting the wrong things right."

While the made quartet sang "Banner of Beauty" Mr. Harvey lowered the flag from the wall. C. P. Bowler led in a prayer of thanksgiving. Music was furnished by the quartet and Miss Watson.

ADD ATTRACTIONS TO "THAT POLICY"

Important Change Proposed to Government Insurance for Soldiers Designed to Help Men.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 14.—Important changes in government insurance policies, to make them so attractive that every service man will receive his insurance after returning to civil life, have been recommended to congress by Director Chalmers Jones of the war risk bureau.

The most important change suggested, it was said, would give the insured the privilege of having his policy sold to the beneficiary in a lump sum or over a period of years or his choice.

The list of possible beneficiaries would be enlarged to include uncles, aunts, nephews, nieces and persons who have been named in the policy of his private.

Defeated men who became disabled before acceptance by a military authority would be deemed to have been granted insurance policy $25 a month, under the things suggested by Mr. Chalmers Jones.

WIDOW IS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 14.—Mrs. Vera Treggler, 60 years old, a widow of New Orleans, on trial in the criminal court charged with the murder of Paul Frederick Volhard, a publisher, tonight was found guilty of manslaughter. Mrs. Treggler charged Volhard had refused to sell her for publication for a likeness of George Washington and during an altercation over the miniature original, she shot him at his office. The state did not ask the death penalty.

HANSEN SPAN TO BE OPENED ON THURSDAY

Judge Hansen and Party to Be First to Cross Gigantic Suspension Bridge.

SPEAKING AND MUSICAL PROGRAM ALSO PLANNED

Delegation From North Side to Participate in Festivities—History of Inauguration Plans for Structure.

With ceremonies fitting the occasion, Judge Hansen will be formally opened Thursday. The first vehicle to cross the great span will be an automobile in which will sit those who are chiefly responsible for the construction of the bridge.

This car will contain Judge Lawrence Hansen, who as a member of the House of Representatives introduced the bill which provided the early plans of the funds for the bridge; former Senator R. H. Stevenson, who as chairman of the finance committee of the senate, handled the bill successfully in the upper house of the legislature; and Dr. Allen W. Hansen, who headed the band of county commissioners.

The car will leave the court house in Twin Falls sharply at 9 a. m., and will go direct to the bridge. Until its arrival to complete the character will have crossed the span. When the car arrives, the barriers will be removed and the party will pass to the north side of the river, there to meet the delegation from the North side. Through the Hansen car will lead the procession back across the bridge and on to Hansen, where lunch will be served and the speaking and musical program ended.

The event will mark the first opening of a suspension bridge from rim to rim across Snake River canyon. Indeed, this is the first bridge of the type to be swung in the great west, where deep canyons have defied the efforts of builders and travel has been hampered by the great caverns in the vast formation.

The bridge was originally planned wholly as a community proposition. Minidoka county and Twin Falls county agreed to provide the funds for the bridge through taxing lands. Then came the war. Bonds had been sold and the funds were on hand for the bridge at the original estimate. But with the eruption in Europe, sales on a general scale were "rounded up" in Idaho on the morning of July 1, 1917. In reply to a question as to whether he had been asked to assist in the matter, Judge Hansen stepped in. He was elected to the lower house of the legislature and at once introduced a bill for the appropriation of the money needed.

By this time debt had still climbed higher, and the amount needed from the state was growing. If the legislature did not act during the session, there was every indication that the bridge would never be built. And the money raised for its construction in Twin Falls and Minidoka counties was lying idle in banks.

Hansen was the man who stepped himself energetically to the measure he had introduced in the house, and secured its passage in that body. Then it went to the senate, where it languished in first one committee and then another.

Finally Mr. Hansen sought R. H. Stevenson, chairman of the finance committee of the senate. On that same day Arthur M. Dowey, who was an intimate friend of Mr. Stevenson called on the senator from his district. Mr. Stevenson promised Mr. Dowey and Judge Hansen to take charge of the bill in the senate. In his effort, he was successful, as just the reason was placing the measure in the hands of the legislature.

It was given up to do and I felt it my duty to remain in Italy to do my bit. But with the signing of the peace treaty I felt that I had done my war duty and could come home. But you know I haven't resigned yet."

Mr. Pago declined to discuss for publication Italy's stand on Fiume. SOCIALIST APPROVE 'THEATY'. By the Associated Press. PARIS, Sunday, July 14.—The national council of the socialist party decided today to oppose ratification of the peace treaty. "The vote was 1420 to 114," with 887 abstentions.

DRYS TAKE CHARGE OF HOUSE FOR DAY

Refuse to Permit Vote on Repeal of War Time Prohibition—Defeat All Amendments

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Prohibition forces took full control in the house today, refused to permit a vote on a stretched-out motion to repeal the war time act, defeated overwhelmingly by an amendment providing for the sale of two and three quarters per cent beer, and stood solidly against all attacks on the general enforcement measure.

Just as fast as one "liberal" amendment was offered by opponents of prohibition, it was voted down without ceremony, always by a large vote, for the minority, fighting every inch of ground, demanded a division after yeas and nays were called and then asked for tellers. Before the house got through with the first action of the first part of the thrashing bill there was more disorder on the floor than at any time this session.

The disturbance arose first during an attempt by Representative Hannon, democrat, Texas, to speak a second time against an amendment which would have given a jury the right to define intoxicants, and was increased during an address by Representative Gallivan, democrat, Massachusetts, who declared members voting dry should print in the Congressional Record exactly how much liquor they had stored in their homes and offices.

The real battle of the day, however, was over an amendment to define a non-intoxicant as a beverage containing two and three quarters per cent alcohol, instead of one half one per cent, as written in the bill. Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, author of the amendment, did not ask for this division in the constitutional prohibition amendment, but shortly in the war time law. In pleading for its adoption, Mr. Dyer declared it was what President Wilson had long advocated to congress, and would permit during the remaining period of war time prohibition, the sale of light wines and beer and might delay issuance of a proclamation by the president which would restore the sale of "hard" liquor.

There was a round of speech-making on this motion, an hour of it, with the dries assailing it as an entering wedge, and the "wets" asserting that it merely would permit the very thing the president an amendment in effect of the same kind could be put for the country for the next 25 months.

And two and three fourths per cent beer had been brewed over by a certain vote of 151 to 206 and that "wet" party carries provision on all amendments, the prohibitionists went off in another amendment by Representative Lane, democrat, of Missouri, which would have stricken out all definition of intoxications, killing the proposal 125 to 53.

There was the utmost confusion at times, despite vigorous shouts with a gavel, and some of the prohibitionists are applauded every now and then. The galleries, filled largely with women and officers of anti-liquor organizations, broke into applause when the house voted the disapproval of two and three quarters per cent beer.

THE PEACE TREATY

The peace treaty is now formally and officially before the country for approval or rejection. It is the biggest, most complex and comprehensive treaty ever negotiated in the history of the world. It deals with more nations, touches more different sets of interests and phases of life and attempts to solve more problems than any other half dozen treaties taken together.

Being so big and complicated a document, it is difficult for even the most expert lawyer or statesman to grasp in all its bearings and its endless detail. It may safely be said that no man living, not even any of the three men who had most to do with shaping it, know all about the treaty.

But the nation is not greatly concerned, and need not be, with details and ramifications. The nation is interested mainly in the few big principles involved, and in finding out whether the terms as worked out at Paris measure up to those principles and are likely to insure their applications to international affairs hereafter.

These, fortunately, are things few in number, capable of being stripped of detail and diplomatic terminology and made understandable by any man or woman who is gifted with ordinary intelligence and will take the trouble to use it.

Discussion up to this time, in the United States senate and elsewhere, but especially in the senate, has been in many respects confusing rather than illuminating. The document was not in final form. Some things bitterly criticized or warmly praised have been changed or eliminated. The treaty is virtually rewritten. Moreover, there has been entirely too much political partisanship displayed.

The presentation of the official text to the senate opens a new deal. Previous discussion may well be disregarded. The question is, what do the American people think, now, of the treaty which the representatives of the allied powers have drawn up, and which Germany has ratified.

Of course it is not perfect. Of course it has many defects. Of course it leaves some things unsettled. Quite possibly it continues many injustices. Possibly it creates some new ones. No wise man expects perfection, where so much is attempted. The question up for decision is whether this treaty, including its ambitious project for a league of nations, is as good a treaty as it was possible to make under existing conditions, and whether it seems to offer a fair prospect of accomplishing the purposes desired by the people of the United States?

Every citizen owes it to himself and his country to study the treaty, through all the means accessible, open-mindedly, without partisan or racial or sectional bias, until he arrives at a conclusion which satisfies him, and which he is prepared to explain and defend. If this is done, there need be no doubt about the nation deciding rightly, and the senate registering that decision.

FARM WORK GOOD FOR NERVES

The overseas nurses who are returning fatigued from their service abroad are making application in considerable numbers for places to work on farms.

One of them has taken up a tract of land in Wyoming, but wishes to work with some farm unit this summer, so that she may learn something of practical farming before she undertakes the operation of her own property.

Many teachers and librarians also are taking up summer farm work as the best form of vacation.

It is a wise decision which takes any brain worker, or nervously exhausted person, man or woman, out into the country to help with the seasonal tasks of the farmer—if he cannot afford a vacation wholly devoted to play. The back may ache with muscular fatigue and the brow be wet with honest sweat, but it is a health-bringing process for all that. Plain physical weariness means sleep—sound, restful sleep that will patch up ragged nerves faster than all the tonics or sedatives which ever came out of a bottle.

SHEEP-RAISING

An association for promoting an increased interest in sheep-raising has been organized. Its name and slogan are "More Sheep, More Wool."

But the chief of the bureau of animal industry does not approve wholly of a movement to induce farmers to rush into sheep-raising unless they will make some study of the business first.

The quality of the wool depends upon the condition of the sheep largely, and the condition of the sheep depends upon the care they have. Good care, good sheep; and good care means proper methods of feeding and tending.

The chief maintains also that in dairy herding the best methods are seldom found where few animals are kept, and that similarly the general farmer who merely adds a few sheep to his live stock without special study of the business will not contribute much of value to the sheep and wool industry.

Hence he urges not an increased number of flocks as the best solution of the wool shortage, but an increase in the number of sheep kept by men who have studied sheep-raising, and where land and other conditions are favorable.

Probably he is right. The sheep business, like any other business, must be properly conducted if it is to pay, and that means a knowledge of it as the fundamental principle. But there is no reason why many more men and women should not learn the sheep business from the ground up. The field is large, and so are the possible profits.

DAILY VICTORIES IN EUROPE

The other day the Americans carried off most of the honors at the Pershing stadium in France. Perhaps they were inspired by the presence of General Pershing himself, accompanied by Marshal Foch.

At any rate they won over Belgium and Italy in two tug-of-war contests. And they took several firsts in hop, step and jump events.

American athletes, however, do not win all the events that are run off at that great international field meet. France won an 800-metre relay race on this particular day. In another event the Belgians won first place and the United States beat the Serbians for fourth place.

Various records are being broken over there these days. It's all mighty interesting, and makes the lover of good sport and competitive games wish he knew more about it. Perhaps now that the victory of all has been concluded by the German ratification of the peace treaty, there will be more chance to hear about these lesser victories. In their own way they are very nearly as important as the big one.

The Prussian national assembly recently passed a resolution declaring its trust in the Prussian cabinet. Here is another trust that ought to be dissolved.

FARMER FOUGHT LAND LEASE BILL

Arizona Man Loses Bitter Fight Against What He Terms Unjust Act

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 25.—O'Brien Mann, farmer, of Cochise county, Arizona, has just lost one of the bitterest legislative battles ever waged in the state. At the final moment of his debate he almost forfeited his life as well.

The land leasing bill, passed by the last legislature, permitting the leasing of land from the state without limit and raising the term from five to ten years, was the subject of Mann's antagonism. He said the enacting of such a law meant wiping out of small cattlemen, and single-handed, without funds, he launched his lobby against the measure when it was called up in the state legislature.

The little farmer from Cochise, fairly well along in years, slightly stooped, but keen-eyed and alert, succeeded in raising much a mirage of opposition to the bill that it barely escaped defeat, but finally it passed.

Then it went to Governor Campbell for signature or veto. Mann marshaled his forces and the governor's office was deluged with telegrams urging him to kill the measure, but a flood of signatures of equal size poured in from the bill's friends. The governor sent the bill to the secretary of state without executive action. The people took this to mean that it would become law automatically, until the attorney general stepped in with an opinion that since the measure carried an emergency clause, it was not law at that time unless the governor's signature.

This problem went to the court for decision, where it still hangs, but Mann began to prepare for the eventuality of a judgment supporting the bill. His only remaining weapon was a referendum petition. He had nobody to help him circulate the petition and he was without funds.

The Cochise farmer looked about for a job and found one, washing dishes and waiting on table in a Phoenix restaurant, and in his spare hours, night and day, he circulated his petition, praying that the land leasing bill be submitted to the people.

Saturday midnight marked the close of the period in which referendum petitions could be filed, and 11:30 p. m. found O'Brien Mann on his way in the secretary of state's office, at the capitol with his petition and his thousands of signatures, under his arm.

As he stepped off a curb at a downtown corner a black-powered automobile struck him. When he regained consciousness, he says, there was nobody in sight and the automobile had gone, despite the fact that it is a felony in Arizona to hit a pedestrian with an auto and leave him in the road.

Worst of all his referendum petition with its signatures, was scattered all over the pavement for half a block. Both Mann's feet were injured and his shoulder badly bruised, but he pulled himself together, gathered up as much of his petition as he could find and made for the nearest taxicab stand. He crawled into the machine, told the driver to make top speed to the capitol, and added the injunction that if his passenger fainted, the handle under his arm was to be pushed into the secretary of state's office.

A few moments before midnight the foe of the land-leasing bill staggered into the capitol, filed his petition and then went to a doctor, under whose care he has been ever since.

The Cochise farmer's disappointment came next morning when he was informed that his petition, with short 480 names of being sufficient.

"What's the use," he remarked philosophically as he nursed his two crushed feet and bruised shoulder, "I'm beaten and, anyway, it would be my word against four."

On each 2-year subscription to The Chronicle or approximately its equivalent in shorter term orders, 40,000 votes are allowed—providing same is received at the campaign department before 9 o'clock Monday night, July 21.

Then, in addition to that, 50,000 SPECIAL EXTRA votes are allowed on every "club" of $24.00 turned in.

Therefore, two 2-year subscriptions (amounting to $24.00 in business) means 130,000 votes.

It can readily be seen by glancing at the vote totals above that just a few such subscriptions for any candidate would furnish a new leader in the race; in fact, an ENTIRELY NEW CANDIDATE what at this time has no votes at all; could, by a little enthusiastic action on the part of themselves and friends, climb to the top of the list and thereby acquire the leadership for the big prize automobile.

And, when one takes into consideration the value of the prizes to be awarded and the short time the competition is in force, they are well worth any effort they might take to secure.

BASEBALL SPORTS BOXING

EAST END WALLOPS WEST-END TEAMS

Twin Falls Throws Contest to Burley by Ernie Pitting-Close at Ninth.

Sunday was the east end's day in the South Idaho league. Burley beat Twin Falls, Rupert won from Burley and Paul defeated Miller.

Twin Falls deserved to win from Burley, for Alexander put up some close pitching, but better in the first in which Dennman was the chief offender, but in which several others participated, cost the locals the game.

If there were any heroes in the game the honors go to Charlie Hart, not pitcher. He hammered out two three-base hits after taking Dennman's place at the short field and crossed the bag for two scores. Oloso Neuman kept up his good work with the willow by getting two singles himself.

The scores in the other games were: Paul 5, Piler 1; Denver 4, Burley 2.

Following is the Burley-Twin Falls box score:

Table with columns: TWIN FALLS, AB, R, H, B, O, A, E. Rows for Whitler, Demann, Hart, Ringstone, Neumann, Jacobs, Jacobshagen, Thompson, Bell, Patton, Alexander.

HOUSE DECIDES TO SUSTAIN WILSON

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 14.—The daylight saving plan, under which the clocks of the country are turned forward an hour in March and moved back in October, will be continued indefinitely.

This was assured today when following President Wilson's veto of the $23,000,000 agricultural appropriation bill because of the repeal of the daylight saving act, the house refused by a vote of 247 to 176 to pass the measure over the president's veto.

Strength mustered by the repeal advocate was eight votes less than the necessary two-thirds of the members present. Party lines were disregarded in the voting, members from agricultural districts—the source of most of the opposition—favoring passage of the bill as originally enacted with representatives from the urban districts opposed.

House advocates of the repeal said tonight after the agricultural bill had passed back to the committee, the elimination of the repeal provision that no further effort would be made at this session, perhaps not in this congress, which continued in existence until March 1921, to wipe out the daylight saving act. There was no indication, they said, that they would be able to strengthen their forces.

Senate leaders also indicated that no action would be originated in that body to repeal the act, and failure of the house today to pass the appropriation measure over the presidential veto will prevent any action by the senate on the repeal bill.

INTEREST IN BIG CAMPAIGN GROWS AS END DRAWS NEAR

Interest in the great Citizenship Election is assuming widespread proportions. Every day brings new inquiries though the greater portion of them are accompanied by votes from persons who, having been nominated, have thought it over carefully and decided that the opportunity of securing a few new Idaho motor cars or several hundreds of dollars in gold absolutely free, in exchange for a little effort, was too good to pass up. They are starting themselves on the road in success, these men and women.

Time is passing rapidly and the advantages of starting now cannot be too vividly impressed. The opportunity is bright now, and those who are entering, and those who are actively gathering votes, will receive minimum results for their efforts. The coming days are filled with advantage for those who heed the call of opportunity, for during these days the largest number of votes is cast.

Under the provisions, every fifth of subscriptions or envelopes amounting to the total of twenty-four dollars is worth about 150,000 VOTES.

This splendid vote schedule presents to each contributor the opportunity to amass a tremendous vote total in just a few days. Its possibilities are unlimited for any number of clubs may be turned in by any contributor, and extra votes will be issued for each one. The regular votes and the extra votes on one club alone make a staggering total, and on two or three clubs—well, the total is enough to make one's head swim. Those who start now have every advantage and every assurance of success in the end.

This present schedule is probably the largest and best inducement that will be made. Never again will subscriptions count for so many votes as they do now, and never again will effort count for more. Between now and next Monday, all clubs may obtain the votes that will win for you at the close of the race next month. The possibilities are tremendous.

It is estimated that a brand new 1919 Model automobile is to be given away as a gift; also two bags of gold containing one hundred dollars each; also two bags of gold containing fifty dollars each; also bags of silver containing one-fifth of all the money every contestant turns in for subscriptions. If he or she does not win one of the largest prizes, he or she will win no more.

DON'T FORGET THAT NOMINATION IS ANK. You can start today with a little extra effort between now and Monday night, secure enough votes to "clinch" the prize you wish.

WAY IS PAVED FOR FIGHT ON PEACE TREATY

Lodge, Borah and La Follette Angle for Hostile Leads.

SENATE DOES NOT ASK PRESIDENT TO APPEAR

Bitterness Is Shown by Those Opposed to Ratification of the Peace Treaty.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Paving the way for detailed consideration of the peace treaty, the senate foreign relations committee today approved three resolutions asking President Wilson for information bearing on the Versailles negotiations.

The resolutions concern the Shanghai settlement, an alleged secret understanding between Japan and Germany, and the failure to recognize Costa Rica as a belligerent. That relating to the "so-called Japanese" effort to gain agreement in the senate chamber, which during today's session, debate on the actual ratification of the treaty began with a display of bitter determination on both sides.

The committee took no action on President Wilson's suggestion that he explain directly disputed points of the peace settlement, though the president returned to his supporters at the capital his readiness to consult with the committee. With several senators not on the committee he also discussed at the White House certain features of the treaty.

In the resolution to be pressed for action tomorrow, the president is asked for a copy of a treaty said in press dispatches to have been negotiated in Paris, for which Japan was to safeguard indirectly Germany's interests at the peace conference. Before voting its favorable report, the committee added a request for "any further information concerning any negotiations between Japan and Germany during the progress of the war."

The resolution was introduced by Senator Lodge, republican, Massachusetts, chairman of the committee.

The Shanghai resolution, introduced by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, would request a copy of letters said to have been written to General Hays, Secretary of State, and Henry White, protesting against the treaty provisions affecting Shanghai. Information also would be asked with reference to the attempt of Japan or her peace delegates to intimidate the Chinese peace delegates.

The third resolution would inquire why Costa Rica "was not permitted to sign the peace treaty and whether Nicaragua forces are now permitted to invade or threaten Costa Rican territory. The measure was presented by Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin. Both the Lodge and La Follette resolutions were reported without a record vote, but on the Borah measure all the democratic members present voted in the negative.
