PRICE FIVE CENTS

SHANTUNG IS THEM FOR A BITTER FIGHT

Republican Leaders Declare U. S. Cannot Approve the Rape of China.

PRICE PAID BY WILSON FOR JAPAN'S SIGNATURE

Every Nation Around Peace Table Violated Its Duty to the Eastern Republic, Asserts Borah.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 15.—The treaty fight over the peace treaty, which was signed at the league of nations conference today and broke with the nation's long tradition of giving Shantung to the victors in the Russo-Japanese war.

In five hours of debate the treaty opponents charged in bitter terms that the Tokyo government had wheedled Shantung from China at the peace table without the approval of the cause of the nation of origin, and the supporters of the treaty defended the course of President Wilson in the negotiations by declaring the only alternative was failure of the whole peace conference.

Chairman Dodge of the foreign relations committee declared Shantung was "a price paid" for Japan's acceptance of the league of nations. Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, charged that Japan in 1917 secretly had promised to give Shantung to the United States in return for the Shantung claims. Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, asserted that if the United States must either "underwrite the Shantung agreement or accept the shifting of another power, the latter would choose the latter course."

Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, ranking member of the committee, replied that the German rights in Shantung were obtained legally by treaty in 1918 and were fairly won by the United States. He declared that the United States entered the war, Senator Williams, democrat, Mississippi, said the president had to accept the Shantung settlement or come home without a general treaty of peace and that Japan never would give up the peninsula unless forced to do so by war.

In the end the senate adopted without a record vote a resolution by Senator Lodge asking the president for any available information about a settlement of Shantung before the treaty is signed. The resolution was passed by a vote of 19 to 11.

At its meeting the committee began the reading of the treaty, covering in less than two hours about one-fifth of its contents, but passing over for future consideration the league covenant, the boundaries of Germany, and many minor provisions. The reading was interrupted by a message from the senate having adjourned tonight until Thursday so the committee would not be interrupted in its work.

There was no discussion of President Wilson's offer to consult with the committee on a treaty pointing up the treaty, nor was any attempt made to have the committee open its doors to the public. It was said these questions might not come to a head for several days after the reading of the document was finished.

Public Must Meet Situation in "Split of Partners" Says Reports.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 15.—Representatives of the American Electric Railway association told the federal electric railway commission today that reconstruction systems of the country were in serious conditions and that many of the companies must go out of existence because of increasing costs without offsetting revenues, unless the situation was met "in a spirit of fairness" by the public.

It was the first hearing held by the commission appointed by President Wilson to investigate and make impartial recommendations to meet the situation. The commission is empowered to enforce its findings, the commission nevertheless is expected to clarify the public mind as to the causes for the present conditions and in that way assist in reaching a solution. John H. Pardo, president of the American Electric Railway Association, Guy B. Tripp, James V. Walsh, the association's secretary and J. W. Clark, of New York, were the witnesses today.

Mr. Tripp declared that $2,000,000,000 invested in street railways was in danger of being lost unless a "solution" was found. The same thought also was expressed by Mr. Pardo, who said it was no longer a question of what return should be allowed the railway companies, but what service, "if any," should be afforded the public.

As disappearance of street car companies was "unthinkable," Mr. Tripp defined the real issue as whether there shall be municipal or private ownership, adding that he believed a majority of the people of the country opposed the former. Present methods of control and regulation, Mr. Tripp said, are "entirely inadequate to respond to the needs of changing conditions and have not permitted the adjustment of the price of the product to meet the cost of production."

Mr. Walsh presented a table of conditions showing that sixty-two companies operating 224 miles of track were in hands of receivers, six companies having 763 miles had been dismantled and junked, and thirty-eight companies with 257 miles had been abandoned. The total being almost 16 per cent of the total electric railway mileage of the country. Charts and tables based on statistics obtained from 345 companies showed a diminution in net income during 1918 compared with 1917, amounting to 74 per cent. Mr. Walsh said that the increase in taxes of over 8 per cent, while operating revenues increased only about 6 per cent.

The street car "riding bill" of the American public, he showed, has been decreasing with the years. The average "dependent" now, he said, was 75 cents.

SCHEME OPOSED BY AMERICAN SHIP MEN

Leader Declares He Has Hard Time Keeping British Men to Stay on Work While on This Side.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 15.—The attitude of American seamen assumed an international aspect tonight when Guis H. Brown, secretary of the eastern unit division of the International Seamen's association announced the crews of a dozen ships of foreign registry had quit their vessels in New York harbor. They declared, Mr. Brown said, that their strike was not only in sympathy with that of American seamen but for the purpose of equalizing all wages on the high seas.

Crews today deserted Dutch, Danish, Norwegian and Swedish ships, Mr. Brown said, adding American union delegates had experienced considerable difficulty in persuading the crews of several British ships to remain at work.

"We don't want this," Mr. Brown said, "but you can see how the strike fever has spread. We must stop it, and I have ordered my delegates to instruct the crews of foreign ships to stay 'in their boats'."

Thomas Conway, business agent of the Marine Firemen's Local 17, said, reported by telegraph, the crews of several ships leaving the Great Lakes bound for Europe, were through the St. Lawrence have refused to sign on for farther than Montreal.

It was stated tonight several companies have met the union's demands. Mr. J. H. Stevens, chairman of the United States shipping board, tonight was in communication with members of the Engineers' union, discussing issues between the engineers and the shipping board.

Officers of the bureau of animal industry from Washington, western stock men and Minnesota and Wisconsin agricultural officials at a conference today decided the reduced freight rate was the most urgent problem in saving such livestock.

Nearly a million acres have been treated the Montana stock men through the Minnesota state department of agriculture, 400,000 of which will be provided without expense.

HAYS OUTLINES LEAGUE STAND

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 15.—VIII H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, issued the following statement on the league of nations convention tonight:

"The situation respecting the league is somewhat simple. There must be effective reservations. These reservations must safeguard the sovereignty of the United States in every particular, must guarantee the Monroe doctrine beyond the shadow of a doubt, and must either eliminate articles entirely or so modify it that our own citizens shall be morally as well as legally free after a specified period to decide when and where and to what extent our soldiers shall be employed; must retain full control of our immigration, tariff and all other purely domestic policies, and must provide full right to withdraw from the league at any time without hindrance or conditions."

BANISH BOOZE GOT PRIOR TO BROUGHT

Urs-Gilps' Hopedful of Putting Ban on Anti-Liquor Enforcement Measure.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 15.—A man's fight to keep liquor "in his own house," which stood the test before the house judiciary committee, must take its chances now in the house.

Notice was served today on the committee by one of its members that when the house returns consideration of the prohibition enforcement measure, an amendment would be offered to make it unlawful for a person to retain possession of liquor stored prior to July 1. The committee is forming the anti-liquor enforcement measure, eliminating the section which would have made home storage illegal, but the big majority pushed yesterday by prohibitionists was accepted in some quarters.

The prohibition measure was not taken up today, the sundry civil appropriation bill, voted by the president, having the right of way, and neither can it be called tomorrow. In forming the anti-liquor enforcement bill, also voted by the president will have privileged status and prohibition leaders do not expect to resume work on the measure before Thursday or Friday.

CRUELTY IS RAMPANT IN ARMY JAILS

Witness Tells of Rough Treatment by "Hard-Boiled" Officers.

LACK OF FOOD ANOTHER CHARGE BY SOLDIERS

Men Wallowed in Mud, Cursed and Knocked Down, Declare Witnesses in Investigation.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 15.—Six former soldiers testified today before a special house committee investigating alleged cruelty to military prisoners in France, declaring that meretricious results were committed without provocation on the prisoners by arrogant officers in charge of the prison camps. Only one of the witnesses, all of whom are charged with being absent without leave, was convicted, the others, having been acquitted of the charge dismissed.

"The 'battles,' the 'stockade,' 'Prison farm No. 2,' and St. Anne's Hotel," also known as "The Drive" were the places named by the witnesses as the scene of the alleged cruelties, which were said to have extended over several months in 1918. Some of officers in charge of the prison camps, it was said, had been convicted by court martial and others were awaiting trial.

Lieutenant "Hard Boiled" Smith, one of prison camp officers, was mentioned frequently while others named were Lieutenant Mason and Sullivan and Sergeants Bell, Wolfmeyer and Diah.

"Did they try the general in charge of the camp?" asked Chairman Royal Johnson, who left his seat in congress to serve with the army abroad.

"Not that any one heard," responded the witness.

"When Lieutenant 'Hard Boiled' Smith was tried at Tours early this year, a hundred witnesses appeared against him, and he was convicted, testified Sidney Kemp, New York City.

"Only witness who I can name will verify everything said here and tell me too," asserted Kemp.

Several of the soldiers testified that in addition to being beaten, food in some instances and in some quality was supplied and that the bedding was poor, something the mattress being in mud under a small tent.

"A prisoner was smiling and an officer says, 'take that smile off or I will see you in the hospital.' He was then served with beer hospital 42, notified. 'The officer did by rolling the man in the mud,' Mendelberg added. 'Did you see that officer's name?' asked Representative Flood, democrat, Virginia.

"I do not know if I did take his name," answered Mendelberg.

FORD NOW READY TO DECLARE WAR AGAIN

Former Pacifist Declares His Idea is Changed Since Trip on 'Good Ship Ocean' in 1916.

By the Associated Press. MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 15.—Great change has come over Henry Ford's view of international relations since he blossomed out as a pacifist propagandist in 1915, for now, according to his testimony in his $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune, he favors another great war without delay if the present plan for a league of nations fails.

The Henry Ford, who, in 1916, was opposing the sending of the national guard to the Mexican border and urging the United States to take the lead in disarmament, asserted today that he is now for "preparedness" to the hilt. "It is apparent that this new war is necessary. He took the position, as a witness, that now is the time to establish universal peace, and that if the great war which ensued in the field last November does not result in a league which will assure that peace, there can be no better time than the present to renew the strife.

According to Mr. Ford most of the pacifist propaganda distributed broadly in his name was written by Theodore Dreiser, a publicity agent employed by him to educate the public, as he put it, to the waste and horror of war, and to its needlessness. More often than not, Mr. Ford said, these arguments were sent out without his having read them at all. His expert witness stated, however, that he assumed full responsibility for the propaganda, and in his answer to questions propounded by Attorney Elliott C. Stevenson, representing the Tribune, he reaffirmed all of the essential points made out in print by Mr. Dreiser.

He interposed one important qualification regarding the use of the word "preparedness," what he meant, he said, was "over-preparedness." In 1916, he said he considered the United States was sufficiently prepared for defense, and hence he proposed additions to the army and navy. Mr. Stevenson pointed out that in not one of the propaganda articles was the term "over-preparedness" employed, but that instead Mr. Ford urged that the United States should assume leadership in complete disarmament in the belief that the rest of the world would follow this example.

"I still think it is a good plan," said the witness.

Outstanding features of the day were:

Production of the "Flag of Humanity" or world brotherhood that constructed by Ford employees without authorization by Mr. Ford, but inspired apparently by one of his utterances.

Mr. Ford's admission that he still considers war of aggression as murder, and professional soldier, not even excepting General Grant and General Pershing, as murderers.

His retort that to him history was as much "junk" and an admission that on many subjects he was ignorant, although he did not consider himself an "ignorant idealist," as charged by the Tribune in the alleged libelous editorial of June 22, 1916, headed "Ford Is An Amarehite."

Statement that when a war is unavoidable that conscription is the fairest method of obtaining an army. The witness said he did not know the cause of the war of 1812 between Great Britain and the United States, but said that slavery caused the civil war, and that the war with Spain was to free Cuba. He did not recall that the sinking of the Maine precipitated matters.

"I have read quite a little history," said the witness.

"And you consider it bunk?" asked Mr. Stevenson.

"It is bunk to me."

While the testimony was proceeding the "flag of humanity" was kicked under a table, where it remained in a dusty and neglected heap. Counsel for the Tribune, inspired by Mr. Ford's statement that "flags were something to rally round" and that there should be a flag under which the whole world might live in peace, have been trying to get this flag over since the trial started two months ago. Mr. Ford said that he had never seen it before.

Mr. Ford characterized a war of aggression as where one country wanted to burglarize another.

"Perhaps the banker wanted to do that," illustrated the witness. "An army might be used to burglarize Mexico—take their natural resources, I mean. Anything above a defensive army could be used only for that."

"Isn't it true that you opposed even this army that we had?" asked Mr. Stevenson.

"No, it isn't."

HIBERNIANS PLEAD FOR IRISH FREEDOM

Urged to Work for Restoration of God-Given Right to Ireland.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The Irish-American community in San Francisco were the dominant force in a convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in America and Canada.

Greetings to the delegates came in messages from the United States Senator James H. Duff, Bishop of San Francisco and Archbishop O'Connell in Boston.

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, in his sermon at a solemn high mass in St. Mary's cathedral, reviewed the progress of Ireland's efforts for freedom from English rule and said: "You are Americans banded together to aid Ireland's cause, to promote Ireland's highest interests, to restore unto Erin her God-given freedom, to rescue her from the galling yoke of slavery, political and economic that has fastened seven long centuries."

"The cry which goes up from you for justice will be heard in the valleys and on the mountain sides of Ireland and will give life to those who fight so valiantly at home."

tribute to the men executed for participation in the demonstration during "Easter week" 1916, in Ireland, was paid by Rev. Father Augustine, a Franciscan monk, who administered the last rites to Paul Connolly, McMorris and McElride, four of those who died.

"They men did not put a new soul into Ireland, because you never can put a new soul into a nation, but they breathed life into the old soul and the old soul shook in its sleep, its body outstretched and the body rose up and Ireland is standing today," Rev. Augustine said.

WE'LL SOON BE SWAPPING DIPLOMATS WITH GERMANY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—WANTED—A husky American citizen with a fat bankroll, who can stand anything, who isn't afraid of the devil himself, who doesn't care what becomes of him or what the American people think of him, to be ambassador to Germany. Must know the peace treaty by heart and have had experience in collecting big bills. The hours will be long and the work unpleasant. Salary, $17,500 a year. Apply Wesley Wilson, Washington.

Everybody in Washington admits that President Wilson is going to have a big job finding a man to "take charge of the American embassy in Berlin."

As soon as the peace treaty is ratified by both Germany and the United States, diplomatic relations will be resumed and ambassadors and consuls will be exchanged.

But former incumbents of the respective embassies, James W. Gerard and Count Johann von Bernstorff, are out of the running. Nobody cares much who Germany sends over here, but it is taken for granted he will be one of the common people, without any "count" or other handle in front of his name.

If there's any rich man in the United States who thinks he'd like the job of representing the United States in Berlin, he has a free field for his application.

He must be rich, because an ambassador's salary doesn't cover a third of his expenses. Uncle Sam pays only a part of the rental of the expensive embassy building in foreign capitals; the ambassador pays the rest. That's just one item.

He'll have to know the peace treaty by heart, because if he doesn't those tricky Huns will put something over on him.

The American embassy in Berlin, according to state department officials, is ready for the new ambassador to step into it. It has been occupied since the armistice by the Red Cross and various American commissions. Its archives are intact, surprising as that may seem.

The German embassy in Washington also is ready for its new occupant. It is German government property, and practically the only German-owned property in this country that wasn't taken over by the alien property custodian since the war began. The German embassy has been occupied by attaches of the Swiss legation, which represented German interests here during the war.

It was in this building that most of the German plots against the United States and its citizens were hatched before we entered the war.

There is a possibility that the rank of air envoy to Berlin may be reduced from that of ambassador to that of minister.

Germany has been reduced to a second-rate power, and it is diplomatically custom to send diplomats of the highest rank only to first-rate powers. Mexico is practically the only exception to this rule.

In addition to the main diplomatic job at Berlin to be filled by President Wilson soon, the state department will have a score of consuls to appoint for service in various German cities. We had 23 consuls-general in Germany and her colonies before the war started, besides numbers of vice consuls and consular agents.

POLICE, UP.

It has been decided definitely that only a small force of American soldiers shall be kept abroad, and that the rest shall be made up of men recruited for this service, no soldier now in the army of occupation to be kept there if he desires to come home.

This news will be a great comfort to many anxious hearts, for there has been a good deal of fear expressed that the soldiers now in Europe might be kept there many months.

The new ruling means that for the next few weeks there will be a steady and probably increased flow of men back to the United States, and the question of jobs looms large again.

One practical suggestion for putting these men to work during the remainder of the re-adjustment period is that property owners everywhere start a spruce-up campaign, since it still will be some time before new construction opens on a large scale.

Much property has been allowed to run down during the war. Painting and repairs have been neglected. Machinery has been used without much overhauling, and so on. Where it is impractical to replace or unnecessary to build up anew, there is still plenty of sprucing up that needs doing, putting property in good condition; in like good personal grooming; the effect goes deeper than mere appearance. Nobody could be better fitted to help in this work than the soldier who has lived in an atmosphere of neatness and particularity of detail.

ROAD BUILDING EXHIBITS.

Government authorities have prepared exhibits to show different types of road construction in the United States. In connection with the display there are photographs illustrating the results of the various methods used. Arrangements already have been made to present these exhibits at 57 fairs. If the roads continue to hold sway, it will not be for lack of public instruction on good road-building and its advantages.

Rural districts especially are apt to submit to bad roads as a sort of necessary evil; but if this display can be given wide enough prominence, almost any rural district may be aroused to rise and claim its own. The exhibit should be of interest and value in any community, and might well be secured by fair associations generally. A letter of inquiry to the department of agriculture should bring all necessary information regarding it.

A DEATHLESS DAY.

Employees of the Department of public parks and cemeteries in one of the big cities want the mayor to declare a "deathless day." They would like to have a picnic and they say they cannot all attend unless the public will abstain from dining on that day. The cemetery employees have never known a day without a death. After "deathless" and "meatless" and all the other "less" days, they argue, why not a "deathless day?"

The public will agree cheerfully enough, if only the Grim Reaper will withhold his hand. It lies beyond the power of any human being, of course. And yet the idea is richly suggestive. Though no man or family or community can be a "certainly" made immune for a single day, nevertheless the hand of death can be averted to a greater degree than most mortals realize. A deathless day is a day when a generation, 10 years have been added to the life of man. This probably means that only about three-fourths as many people out of a given number die in a given time as would have died in the "good old days." The gain has been accomplished chiefly by more rational living. It represents partly better hygiene and sanitation. A great deal of the credit, possibly most of it, is due to the increased vogue of outdoor recreation. A day in the park, such as those city employees desire, or a day on the highway or in the woods or on the golf course or the bench or along the river, will do its part toward making that day and every succeeding one a "deathless day."

GERMAN SHAME.

All Germany is still aching about the "shame" of the peace treaty, and if it were a disgrace inflicted on Germany by outside powers.

It is an issue of words. The German dramatist Grillparzer, as Max Harden reminds his fellow-countrymen, wrote truly: "I know no one shame on earth, and that is to do wrong."

The shame lies in the crimes committed by the German government and the German army with the enthusiastic support of the German nation. What Germany is enduring now is merely the logical consequence of those crimes. And if the Germans showed any moral appreciation of the horrors and injustices they committed, if they were really and heartily weary ashamed of their deeds, that in itself would do much to wipe out the shame and win them some respect.

man. "We are asked to put our name at the bottom of that robbing of China, which is being carried out practically of that great province to Japan. I do not want to see my country's name at the bottom of such a thing."

Declaring the whole reason for the Shantung decision, was that Japan threatened to quit the conference unless her demands were satisfied. Senator Borah said Japanese possession of Shantung meant that Tokyo would control all of these gateways to China and that the result would be Chinese dismemberment.

Not Pledged to China.

"Every nation that sat around the council table," said the Idaho senator, "was under a solemn duty to protect the integrity of China. But no nation ever played her diplomatic game with greater foresight than did Japan. In the first place she put forward her racial equality clause, which she did not expect to be accepted. Then, when the question of the German possessions came up, she was in a position to say that she must not be refused twice on matters that she had to be." "The president could do nothing else than give Shantung to Japan, if he wanted the treaty signed. But the whole question with us is whether the United States will become now a party to that transaction."

"I do not anticipate that if we refuse to underwrite and guarantee the rape of China, we will have to go home. I do not think Japan expects us to underwrite this. She would have been perfectly satisfied with a treaty which transferred Shantung from us to her in their business."

Cringed Long Enough.

"But if the time indeed has come when the United States must engage in the subduing of peoples and must break her forty-eight treaties guaranteeing Chinese integrity, or else face the challenge of another nation, then she will face the challenge of another nation. We have cringed long enough."

Never Halted Votes in 1898.

Asserting that the senators opposing the Shantung settlement never had raised their voices against Germany's acquisition of the Shantung rights in 1898, Senator Hitchcock declared the only legal objection to Japan's title to those rights had been removed in the treaty of 1915 by which China expressly cancelled a stipulation that Shantung never should pass to a third power except by consent of the United States government. With this treaty and with Japan's seizure of the territory from Germany, Mr. Hitchcock said, China's claim is terminated.

Senator Norris put into the record what he said were copies of diplomatic correspondence in which Great Britain and France promised in 1917 to uphold the Japanese claim to Shantung. Announcing for the first time that he could not vote for the treaty he characterized the Shantung agreement as an outrageous proposition of justice and an attempt to purchase peace at the sacrifice of honor.

Senator Fall, republican, declared that by the long pending provision control of all the gateways to China, as well as of the Chinese capital, virtually would be in the hands of Japan. After years of experimenting a Muscovite claims to have perfected a process for extracting poisons from cottonseed hulls.

RED HEAD CLUB IS SPOKANE PET

Freaked Faces Enrolled in Organization With Unusual History—York Offered Membership

SPOKANE, Wash., July 25.—Memory of the lot of the red-headed boy when he himself was one—prompted by Howard S. Clemmer of this city nearly six years ago to organize the "Clemmer Red Head Club." Since that time it has acquired a membership of 215 boys—every one of them with red hair and freckles—and it has a "roll" of 45 members, each with red hair or the promise of it, and each with the prospect of freckles in due time.

Besides the active membership of his club, and the prospective membership in the infant roll, there is a small but distinguished honorary membership. One of these is Sergeant Alvin C. York who has been spoken of as "the most distinguished soldier of the world war." Sergeant York was tendered an honorary membership in the club upon his recent return to the United States, by United States Senator Miles Polkholder, at Dr. Clemmer's request.

"My Dear Senator," he telegraphed in reply, "please say to Dr. Howard S. Clemmer that I am very proud of my red head because I got it honestly. Therefore I accept the proffered membership. All my life I have admired Thomas Jefferson, and I feel honored to be admitted to his club."

"In the last seven years there never has been a conviction of a red-headed boy in the juvenile court of this city," said Dr. Clemmer.

The "big brother" idea is about to be developed to a much greater extent in the near future, for Dr. Clemmer announces that he has perfected plans for enrolling in his assistance all the red-headed business and professional men of this city and advising with the proper business qualifications to act as advisers and sponsors for the club members.

"Each of the grown-up red-heads will pledge himself to be responsible for the welfare of one of the members of the club members, to give such of their aid as they feel necessary and counsel that he requires," said Dr. Clemmer. "This responsibility will continue until the particular boy for which he is acting as 'big brother' has completed his education and has started out in business life."

"It is not intended that the boy will be furnished money for his education, but only that he shall be best possible chance."

Habits of thrift are taught the boys from the first. A price is given to the boy who earns and saves the largest amount each year. More than $1,000 was saved by the members of the club during one year, Dr. Clemmer said. Their savings are at all times under the control of their parents.

Formed from the club membership is the Clemmer Red-headed Boy Scout troop of the city with a splendid scout master in command. None but members of the Clemmer Red-Head club may become members of the troop, which is No. 13. It now has 28 members and so rapidly are the club members attaining the age of 12 years when they may enter the Boy Scouts, that formation of another red troop is contemplated in the near future.

The Red-Head club has formed a prominent and conspicuous part of many local parades and celebrations. The members are annually the guests of the Interstate fair here, where they "take in all the sights" and wind up with a big chicken dinner.

Dr. Clemmer's interest in the members of the club does not wane when they reach an age that causes their enthusiasm for the organization to slacken. Several served in the army or the navy in the world war, and the kept in touch with them. Others are in college or in business, but still maintain their connection with the club. "The red-headed boy has the biggest heart in the world," Dr. Clemmer declared. "And he will do anything in the world for you if he knows you are interested in his welfare. I am trying to help see that the red-headed boy gets the chance in life that's coming to him."

Edgar Rice Burroughs in the "Romance of Tarzan"

TWENTY MILLION PEOPLE HAVE READ TARZAN BOOKS NOW IN FILMS

Tremendous Audiences Proved that "The Romance of Tarzan" by Enthusiastic Admirers of Edgar Rice Burroughs' Writings.

According to the estimates of Edgar Rice Burroughs, publisher, more than 20,000,000 people in the English-speaking world, have read his famous "Tarzan" series of novels. The fact that this tremendous clientele already existed gave the screen version of "Tarzan of the Apes" such an immediate potential following that the producers and distributors of the film found it extremely easy to interest film fans as soon as the high quality of the film version was assured. People of all ages and walks of life gave to the film the same generous patronage that they had accorded the book, and when they found that the screen story was even, the more fascinating of the two, recommended it strongly to friends and neighbors that the big cinema production broke box office records in hundreds of theatres throughout the United States and foreign countries.

"The Romance of Tarzan," which is now showing at the Gem Theatre, presents the concluding chapters of "Tarzan of the Apes" in a manner that intensifies the strong impression made by the original drama.

A brief dramatic picture of the main incidents in the life of Tarzan previous to the beginning of his romance with Jane Porter, the beautiful American girl, who has accompanied her father, a wealthy scientist, into the heart of equatorial Africa, where she was lost and fallen in love with this strange white monarch of an ape tribe. Then the story at a once plunges, his followers into the center of a series of the most stirring events, in which battles with bloodthirsty cannibals and equally savage beasts of the jungle provide intense excitement.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe* to Keep Her Locks Black, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite as useful as being thick in an age when the beautiful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All darkeners sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wynett's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can disagree it has been applied, simply wash on your head, or soft brush water and draw through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and what delights the laundress with Wynn's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides darkening the hair, it also produces that soft and lustre appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DAYS REMAIN

Are You Trying

5 more days—marks the close of the Biggest Voting Schedule in The Chronicle's big Paige campaign, after which there remains but a little more than two weeks of the race.

Now Or Never

Applies to you and your chances to capture one of the big prizes. Not to do your best towards adding to your vote totals and piling up an insurmountable vote during the next five days means that you are deliberately throwing golden chances away—chances that may bring you that splendid Paige touring car or hundreds of dollars in cash.

How to Jump Into First Place.

On each 2-year subscription to The Chronicle or approximately its equivalent in shorter term orders, 40,000 votes are allowed—providing same is received at the campaign department before 10 o'clock next Monday night, July 21.

Then, in addition to that, 50,000 SPECIAL EXTRA votes are allowed on every "club" of $24.00 turned in.

Therefore, two 2-year subscriptions (amounting to $24.00 in business) means 130,000 votes.

It can readily be seen by glancing at the vote totals below that just a few such subscriptions for any candidate would furnish a new leader in the race; in fact, an ENTIRELY NEW CANDIDATE what at this time has no votes at all, could, by a little enthusiastic action on the part of themselves and friends, climb to the top of the list and thereby acquire the leadership for the big-prize automobile.

And, when one takes into consideration the value of the prizes to be awarded and the short time the competition is in force, they are well worth any effort they might take to secure.

depends to a very large extent on what you accomplish these "Big Vote Schedule" days. Hard work now will count for more than all the regrets in the world when the race is over.

Advisory Board

It is the sincere aim of this newspaper to conduct this contest, from start to finish, in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the interests of participants, and absolute honesty in all dealing is guaranteed.

However, not all wisdom lies with any one man or institution, and for that reason an Advisory Board has been decided upon, whose functions shall be to decide any question of sufficient moment that might happen to arise during the competition, and from which a committee shall be selected to act as judges and count the votes the last night of the contest. The personnel of this board is as follows:

W. H. ELDHIDGE, Mayor Twin Falls; LEO F. BROCKEN, Cashier Idaho State Bank, Twin Falls; A. R. COLWELL, Druggist, Twin Falls; E. J. OSTRANDER, City Councilman, Twin Falls; J. M. SHANE, ex-Probate Judge and Attorney, Buhl; W. P. SHINN, Postmaster, Filer; W. H. TURNER, Hollister, Kimberly; HON. J. H. BEAVER, State Senator, Castelfort; H. F. YODORHOUSE, Postmaster, Hollister.

All of these gentlemen are well known to everyone in Twin Falls and surrounding territory, and the final results, as given out by them, will be beyond dispute.

One Year	6.00	12,000
Two years	12.00	32,000

THIRD PERIOD

One Year	6.00	10,000
Two years	12.00	25,000

The above schedule of votes, which is on a declining scale basis, positively not to be changed during the competition. A special ballot, good for 50,000 votes, will be issued on every "club" of $24 turned in. This arrangement will be in effect throughout the entire campaign and is to be considered a part of the regular schedule. There will be no extra votes offered, extra prizes given, or any other inducements whatever inaugurated during this campaign. Remember this and lay your plans accordingly.

CHICAGO, July 15.—It was a steady market today in corn, with support concentrated on all the stocks, wheat offerings increased on all the bills. Prices closed unsettled, 1/2¢ net lower to a 1/4¢ advance, September $1.95 1/2; and December $1.92 1/2 to $1.83. Oats gained 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. In provisions the outcome varied from a decline to a rise of 1¢.

Traders in corn displayed much more caution on both sides of the market than has been the rule of late. Bulls were inclined to go slow in view of current agitation against inflated values and profiteering. On the other hand, bears suffering from recent heavy losses, appeared to lack force to attempt to press prices downward to any radical extent.

Report sales of 500,000 bushels put strength into oats.

Provisions were neglected. The scattered character of dealings took away from quotations changes all important significance.

GRAIN PRICE WILL REMAIN THE SAME

NEW YORK, July 15.—The United States grain corporation announced tonight that there would be no advancing premium over the guaranteed price of wheat imposed by Julius Barnes, United States wheat director, before August 1st. The movement from the farms does not warrant the increase and the grain corporation has been unable to make only small purchases. On that date Mr. Barnes will make another review of the situation and make an announcement concerning the placing of a premium.

solid and indigestible material left

People who do good one day and

WILSON MEETS WITH CABINET AFTER LAPSE

Many Problems Discussed in Two-Hour Session of Administrative Heads.

ADOPTS NEW POLICY TOWARDS CONGRESS

Will Meet With Members at Any Time Available Without a Previous Engagement.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—President Wilson and his cabinet met today for the first time in nearly seven months. The meeting lasted more than two hours and at its conclusion it was understood that a vast number of domestic problems had been under discussion and that the president had acquiesced in the cabinet's proposals with respect to details of the peace negotiations in Paris.

All of the nine members were present with the exception of Secretary of State Lansing, who is en route home from Paris. His place was taken by Under Secretary Polk. There were indications that among the subjects discussed were demobilization, resumption of commercial relations with Germany, the Russian situation, Mexico, and governmental financial matters.

Confers With Individuals.

Before and after the meeting the president conferred with individual members of the cabinet. Attorney General Palmer arrived fifteen minutes before the meeting and discussed among other things "appointees" for federal judgeships in Missouri, Ohio and Georgia. Apparently names were decided upon, but it was indicated they would not be announced until they had been sent to the senate for confirmation.

Postmaster General Burleson remained closeted with the president for an hour after the meeting had broken up. He went directly from the White House to his office and soon it was announced that postal relations would be established with Germany at once. Responding to inquiries, the postmaster general said he has left the White House that there was "absolutely no truth" in recent rumors that he was about to leave the cabinet.

Inauguration of a new policy in regard to congressional relations also was announced at the conclusion of the meeting. Secretary Tumulty said that hereafter the president would endeavor to leave open certain hours on many days of the week as open, able for the purpose of conferring freely with senators and representatives.

New Policy Adopted.

The usual formality of making an appointment in advance will not have to be gone through with. Senators and representatives who desire to talk with the president on an urgent matter will have to present themselves at the White House and they will be received. The new policy will

JAPS PRUSSIAN IN ATTITUDE IN KOREA

Declined Nipponese Race Committee Many Accusations.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The following statement concerning the revolution in Korea was given out today by the commission on relations with the Orient of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which Commission William I. Haven is chairman and Sidney L. Guilek is secretary.

"The reports of atrocities against the Korean population and especially the native Christians that have been coming from Korea for several months are confirmed in abundant detail by a special report about to be issued by the commission on relations with the Orient of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

"The commission wishes to make it clear that while it has no jurisdiction to speak on the political issues at stake in Korea, yet, as representing the Christian sentiment of the majority of the American churches, it cannot remain silent when a defenseless people are made the victims of massacre and widespread brutality.

"After nearly three months' study of the Korean situation, the commission is issuing a statement based on the examination of about 1,000 pages of manuscript reports of committee letters, and the personal accounts of responsible eye witnesses to the events attending the Koffin demonstration in favor of national independence and their ruthless suppression by the Japanese military government.

"This report substantiates the charge that the Japanese colonial system which has been forced upon the Koreans is thoroughly Prussian in its military severity and its treatment of the native population. Everywhere in Korea, it is stated, there is the emblem of authority and its evenness."

"The reports of atrocities against the Korean population and especially the native Christians that have been coming from Korea for several months are confirmed in abundant detail by a special report about to be issued by the commission on relations with the Orient of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

"The commission wishes to make it clear that while it has no jurisdiction to speak on the political issues at stake in Korea, yet, as representing the Christian sentiment of the majority of the American churches, it cannot remain silent when a defenseless people are made the victims of massacre and widespread brutality.

"After nearly three months' study of the Korean situation, the commission is issuing a statement based on the examination of about 1,000 pages of manuscript reports of committee letters, and the personal accounts of responsible eye witnesses to the events attending the Koffin demonstration in favor of national independence and their ruthless suppression by the Japanese military government.

"This report substantiates the charge that the Japanese colonial system which has been forced upon the Koreans is thoroughly Prussian in its military severity and its treatment of the native population. Everywhere in Korea, it is stated, there is the emblem of authority and its evenness."
