INTERVENTION IN MEXICO SOON UNLESS PRESIDENT CARRANZA BACKS DOWN

America Has Right to Protect Interests of Its Investors, Who Went Into Mexico by Invitation and Who Have Lost Money Thereby, Says Noted Financial Writer.

BY RICHARD SPILLANE
(America's foremost writer on finance, commerce and economics, who is a special contributor to the Daily Chronicle.)

Either President Carranza must back down or there will be intervention in Mexico by this country. That practically is certain. In some respects the situation is similar to that which confronted us in Haiti. The government here was established by the aid of foreign money and the rights of foreigners were not safeguarded, and now European nations advised the United States that if we did not act they would be compelled to do so. We acted. We practically police Santo Domingo and Haiti today. For the first time in decades there is peace.

Europe Is Interested.
Holland, France and Great Britain have very large holdings in Mexico principally in the Tampico oil regions, although France has considerable interests in the wonderful hydro-electric plant at Nexera which supplies light and power to Mexico City.

The bonds of the Mexican national railway are held principally in this country but to some extent abroad. The Mexican government owns the steamship stock. The value of this stock would be negligible and it probably will be a generation before it is worth anything. Mexico's railroads aggregate 4,000 miles.

Practically every development of consequence in the republic has been the work of outside engineers, capitalists and promoters, Mexico not having brought forth any man of distinction in these departments for 50 or 100 years.

William Jennings Bryan, while secretary of state, once asked some Americans who had properties in Mexico and who suffered from raids by revolutionists:

"Why don't you get out of Mexico? You have no business there. You only went there to make money and now you expect the government to collect your bills. It will do not such thing." Good day."

Mr. Bryan was wrong. A nation is like a family. The government stands as the head of the household. The protection of the family at home and abroad is its duty.
American investments by invitation American and foreign enterprise and money were invited into Mexico. The concessions granted in the administration of Porfirio Diaz were for the national health. They added greatly to the national wealth. They opened up the nation up, through mines, railroads, hydro-electric plants, harbor developments, great plantations and oil fields. Today Carranza would write a new constitution which would make foreign ownership of any of the resources of Mexico safe without the small private army and even then it has to contribute to land grants periodically.

Next in richness to Tampico's oil territory is the steel industry of Yucatan. Out of steel we make lumber, tin cans and many other things. It would have difficulty in gathering various of our crops, including wheat.
Yucatan practically a republic in itself. It bows ostensibly to the Carranza government but only about as you do to a person in the next block in whom you have little but not none.

Yucatan attends to its own affairs and tells Carranza to do the same in regard to his business.

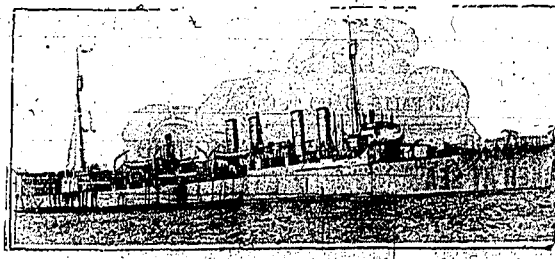

There was a time when Yucatan sold its henequen crop at a fair price when Herrán, the capital city, was a market of government and other officials. Some American bankers saw a fine opportunity to fatten their purses and sting their fellow citizens. They did about as rapidly as a ship's grain when under the many spoils of a grain elevator.

It can be accepted as a fact that there would be little or no oil development in Mexico today, but for E. I. Doheny of the Mexican Petroleum company, who was the argonaut in that field.

Taxes Changed

Mexico expects an export tax on all oil the Dutch, British, French and American companies ship away. The oil people have no objection to taxes, but they insist that they be established for a term of years and not changed

"HOUSE OF TILES" MADE DRUG STORE

Famous Mexican City Structure Well Known to Americans as "Jockey Club."

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11.—The conversion of the "House of Tiles" into a typical American drug store marks the passing of one of the most picturesque and unique structures ever erected in this city of interesting buildings. Many persons in the United States remember the house as the Jockey club, the most exclusive and aristocratic place of its kind in the republic, but for the past few years it has stood on a prominent downtown corner, a bleak, decrepit structure, whose shiny and sandy exterior of tile gave evidence of its former glory. Some time in August it will open for business as a drug store.

The date when the building's foundations were laid is lost in obscurity, but it is thought that it was started about 1592. Later it came into the possession of Don Lulio Rivero, a man of varied career, who was responsible for the exterior coat of tiles. These latter are of blue, yellow and white, Moorish in design, and were made by artisans brought from Valencia, Spain, by the Dominican friars in the sixteenth century. They were modeled in a special ceramic factory at Puebla, about seventy-five miles distant, and the completion of the decoration was the occasion for a public celebration.

The family of Don Lulio de Rivero, who later became the Count of Urbina, remained in possession of the house until the time of the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian. In last occupation was a sister of the then Count of Orizaba, upon whom the emperor conferred the title of Marquessa de Ciria. Later the structure was taken over by the Jockey club and converted into a sumptuous club house. Stories of fabulous sums won and lost at the gaming tables persist to this day. Flaring revolutionary lines caused its abandonment and for several years the building was vacant until the present tenement occurred at for a period of twenty years.

Indolence, perhaps, of an intention by the government to restore it later in the fact that, before renovation started, photographs were taken of all interesting portions of the building, including the huge carved door.

WESTERNERS WIN TENNIS MATCHES

NEWTON, Mass., Aug. 11.—Two hard-fought four-set matches comprised the play in the opening round of the national tennis doubles championships tournament on the Chestnut Hill courts of the Longwood Cricket club today. The winners were R. Norris Williams, 2nd, of Boston and Watson M. Washburn of New York, holders of the New England title and Maurice E. McLaughlin and T. C. Bundy, both of Los Angeles, Pacific coast champions.

McLaughlin and Bundy defeated another California pair, Willie Dwyer and H. Vandye Johns, who hold the western sectional title. The score was 6-4; 9-7; 4-6; 6-4.

In the second set which Davis and Johns lost, 7-9, they had 64 points in their opponents' 48. Twelve of the 46 games went to Davis.

Williams and Washburn won from Ichihya Kumagata of Japan and Harold Brockmorton of Elizabeth, N. J., who hold the middle states sectional championship, 6-4; 3-6; 9-7; 8-6.

LITTLE HOPE HELD FOR KILLER COCCHI

Effort of Murderer of New York Girl to Delay Trial of No Avail, say Jurymen.

BOLOGNA, Italy, Aug. 11.—Jurymen who sat in the last session of the court which has been trying Alfredo Cocchi for the murder of Ruth Greuter in New York City have told the Associated Press correspondent that they saw little hope for Cocchi in his dramatic plea in which he accused his own wife of killing the New York girl and submitted the mutilated Mrs. Greuter's body to protect his wife.

The juror said Cocchi's story had robbed him of any hope that he might otherwise have.

"He gained nothing by his dramatic presentation in the court of the mutilated body," said one juror. "The very description of the sindepts were enough to accuse him disregarding any of the motives that he might have had. His tale was certainly well prepared for him. Of course, it is certainly his intention to have his trial postponed again and again so that he will be entitled to receive his friends and his meals in prison instead of suffering solitary confinement."

Cocchi's counsel has obtained another delay in the trial. According to Italian criminal procedure, any convicted man would have deducted from his sentence all the time he served in prison prior to a trial so that all the time Cocchi delays the sentence will be much time saved from his total and solitary confinement, if he is convicted.

"Cocchi knows that he is a doomed man. That is why he is playing for delay," said one juror to the Associated Press correspondent.

President Luigi Bagnoli, who presides in Italian practice, conducts the cross-examination, there being no private prosecutor present, stated he would use all his powers to bring all the evidence before the jury, requesting, if necessary, witnesses from the United States.

PROPOSED LAND LAW IS VITAL TO THE MEXICAN

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11.—A proposed land law carrying, it is said, provisions of vital importance to large land holders and those desiring to secure small parcels for individual cultivation, has been submitted by the department of development to President Carranza for consideration and submission to congress. The bill is said to comprise regulations for the acquisition not only of what are primarily national lands, but also of lands which have been confiscated or held temporarily by the government since the Madero revolution.

GERMANS BUYING SALVAGED GOODS

Effort to Purchase Anything Offered by Americans in Occupation Section.

"WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN GERMANY," Aug. 11.—Old materials used by the Third army on the Rhine is being disposed of in a busy German civilian alone recently have been buying from 15 to 40 carloads of salvaged material each day. Germans assemble in Coblenz, or the other towns where the auction sales are held, by the hundreds, some coming from Cologne, from Mayence, and others as far as Frankfurt-on-Main, Cassel and other parts of unoccupied Germany.

A recent sale in Coblenz with a consignment of clothing or furniture worth 125,000 marks were sold to the Germans for 2,000,000 marks. (The recent army exchange on Berlin is 2.50 marks for one franc.)

The same day 20,000 minutes, many of them having been used by American soldiers during the war, were sold for 250,000 marks.

The Germans eagerly buy anything offered by the Americans, particularly any articles containing leather or rubber. Ten thousand American-made men's shoes were sold a few days ago to civilians who planned to make use of the rubber for commercial purposes. More than one hundred tons of harness, made of American leather and hardware, after the Americans were disposed of at a recent auction sale near Coblenz.

Forty thousand pairs of American field shoes, many of which had been worn and torn in the march of the doughboys from France to the Rhine in December, were sold in July at a special sale.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yours in on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside.

This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness while the bowels purge do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts, which should seek only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in which is a harmless way to wash the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels thus cleansing, sweetening, and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food in the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at a drug store, but is sufficient to make any one an enthusiast on inside bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull aching head, those who have bilious attacks, have furrowed foreheads, bad indigestion, breath, allow complexions, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement both health and appearance shortly.

Houses and Homes

ANYONE CAN TAKE A FEW BOARDS, SOME TWO-BY-FOURS, A FEW NAILS, AND A DAB OF PAINT, AND MAKE A HOUSE.

Is it a house you want? We are inclined to think not. We believe that a great majority of people want a HOME.

With this idea in view we have organized one of the most complete architectural departments in the entire west. We have placed at the head of the department the very best talent in this particular line that money can secure. We have given these artists carte blanche in the exercise of their creative genius. A TREATY REFERENDUM

The Farmers' National Council, representing the leading farm organizations of the United States, has asked for a national referendum on the question of ratifying the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant. It recognizes that a referendum vote could have no official status or binding effect, but believes that it would serve a valuable purpose in registering the will of the nation and guiding the action of the senate.

There is unquestionable merit in the idea of a referendum. Many newspapers and public men have been advocating it for months. It would probably be the most satisfactory way to settle the controversy. It would amount to a national campaign on this vital issue, and the senate presumably would accept the popular verdict.

It will be questioned seriously, however, whether the country can afford to wait so long. If the referendum were not held until the middle of October final action would be deferred until November. Meanwhile American business would continue to mark time, politics would continue to interfere with the orderly reorganization of our national life, and Europe, awaiting the American verdict, might drift dangerously near to chaos.

Surely it is possible to find out the nation's views without such delay. Most of the large groups of citizens have already spoken. It is known pretty well how the majority of business men, working men, professional men and religious organizations feel about the matter. The farmers are the only big class who attitude is still undetermined.

Could not the farmers hold a referendum of their own? The debate aroused by the forthcoming tour of the president will surely provide enough information for the purpose. The farmers ought to be able to make up their minds in less than two months. Probably they have already done so.

HOW OLD IS JOHN?

A native mountaineer of Leslie, Ky., is now the subject of an investigation by the National Geographic society. He claims to hold the modern record for longevity. John Shell—that is the old gentleman's name—says he is 130 years old. His oldest son is in his ninetieth year. Including great-grandchildren, John Shell is said to have 200 descendants living in his section of the country. He has always been an outdoors man of temperate habits. Today he is said to have excellent eyesight, steady nerve and general good health.

George Washington was in his first term of presidency when this ancient man was born. When the civil war broke out John Shell was already too old to fight in it. The changes that have occurred in the progress of civilization during the course of his life are too numerous to mention. History, invention and science have made such progress as it would take volumes to describe.

With all due deference to Mr. Shell's years and veracity, it is quite possible that he has made a mistake about his age. Even if he were a quarter of a century younger than he asserts, he would still have been born in a day when people were much less particular about recording births than they are today. Unless there is an authentic family record to be found somewhere it will be difficult to verify John's age. It is an interesting point, nevertheless, and the Geographic society is doing well to try to learn the facts.

RAILROADS IN POLITICS

The railroad-employees' government ownership plan would have met a pretty cool reception at best, in the present state of public opinion, which seems hostile on general principles to the federalization of industries. The coolness is accentuated by the fact that the proposal has been coupled with the threat of a strike tying up the American transportation system unless the men obtain their demands.

These demands are very likely justified, provided the government is unable to provide the alternate solution of materially lowering the cost of living. But the strike threat is ominous in itself and doubly ominous when associated with a demand for federal ownership. It unpleasantly suggests that with this fundamental industry federalized, it would be only too easy to swing the strike club, and that such club-swinging might come to be the regular thing.

There are said to be about 2,000,000 railroad employees involved. If they held together—and they do that now better than any other labor group in the country—they would constitute a powerful unit. If with them were associated the hundreds of thousands of employees of other governmental departments, they might conceivably dominate the government. It is a political danger that has to be considered along with the purely economic problems involved.

AN AIRPLANE GARAGE

A public aviation field and airplane service station is about to be opened in Detroit. It is Morrow field, used by the government during the war for testing airplane planes.

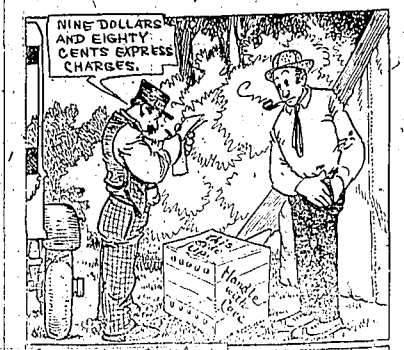

When the public is admitted there will be exhibition flights. Persons who want to ride in an airplane will have a chance to do so, as regular passenger-carrying flights are planned. Private owners may arrange to keep their planes in the Morrow field hangars and everybody who flies that way will appreciate the service station.

Visiting aviators are provided for, too. Altogether this looks like business. Here is a place where civilian aviation is taken seriously, where fliers may "park" their planes and have repairs attended to. It is easy to believe that Morrow field will be used extensively. It won't be long, either, before many such fields are necessary in other parts of the country.

PYRAMIDING SHOE PROFITS

Recent arguments of shoe-industry representatives to the effect that there is no profiteering in shoes in spite of high prices seem discredited by the report of the federal trade commission. The report covers the shoe business for the last four years. It charges that there has been extortion all along the line—that the packers and other slaughterers have charged too much for their hides, the tanners have charged too much for their leather, and the jobbers, wholesalers and retailers in return have all taken more toll than they deserved, all of which of course comes out of the final price paid by the shoe-wearing public. The commission suggests more rigid enforcement of the anti-monopoly laws against the manufacturers, with some new legislation on the subject.

Grain

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Perennial article which was associated with the possibility of a widespread railroad strike had a depressing effect today on the corn market. Prices declined sharply, three to four cents per bushel, with September $1.90 to $1.91, and December $1.85 to $1.86. Oats lost 1/16 to 1/8. In provisions the market was quiet. Pork and lard were steady. Weakness was evident from the outside in the corn market. Provisions that a complete stoppage of shipments might result, crowded other price factors heavily out of sight at the last. Oats merely followed the trend of corn.

LESS MEAT IN BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Less meat in back and kidneys hurt. Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some people because the ureic acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of ailments, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region. The moment your back hurts or kidneys start acting queer, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jap-Balls from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days; your kidneys will thank you. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithic acid, has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity also to neutralize the acid in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jap-Balls cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

CONTESTANTS WIN PUBLIC APPLAUSE

Although energetic effort has been made to complete the checking up on the delinquency of subscriptions turned in in the closing hours of The Chronicle's circulation campaign, the reports were not completed this morning. However, the work will be completed today and the afternoon edition will be forwarded in payment of each price as well as for the 20 per cent commission and those who comply with the conditions of the contest.

Every day will be required before all the new subscriptions can be entered and The Chronicle forwarded in a daily visit to the new readers. This work will be pushed as rapidly as possible and by the list of names will be sent to the printer for receiving their morning paper regularly.

The total number of subscriptions is growing even more rapidly than in the morning, reaching close to the 5000 mark. As the definite figures are available they will be given to the public.

Everything not only has their congratulations for the contestants but for The Chronicle as well.

It was in fact undertaking, the prize being beyond any ever before offered in the Twin Falls county. Yet its very liberality, justified effort on the part of contestants, and these efforts being made, made before even appreciated any other in a city the size of Twin Falls.

The contestants applauded gleefully, fairly, truly. There was a frank and open spirit among them, and an appreciation of the time spent.

The Chronicle is proud of its contestants and anxious for them to know that as the days are cut away and sent, they may feel a sense of pride and confidence in their ability to win.

It is a pleasure to see the contestants and anxious for them to know that as the days are cut away and sent, they may feel a sense of pride and confidence in their ability to win.

every friend of a deep appreciation of their support. I think I have lived here but a short time and, as a consequence, my closer friends were limited in this respect. I have met with such cordiality and kindness in selection that I cannot help but feel that the campaign has been the means of making my many good friends throughout the community. I also want to thank the management for the fair and square methods employed in the conducting of the race.

MRS. HELEN KEENE.

MILWAUKEE, August 11.

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all my friends and all those who have helped me in any way whatsoever for the amount of big prizes in The Chronicle's campaign. Every vote and every kindness I sincerely appreciate and I am very proud of the loyalty and the enthusiasm of my friends and neighbors.

I also desire to thank the management of The Chronicle and the Editor-in-Chief for the honor and the fairness that was manifested throughout the race.

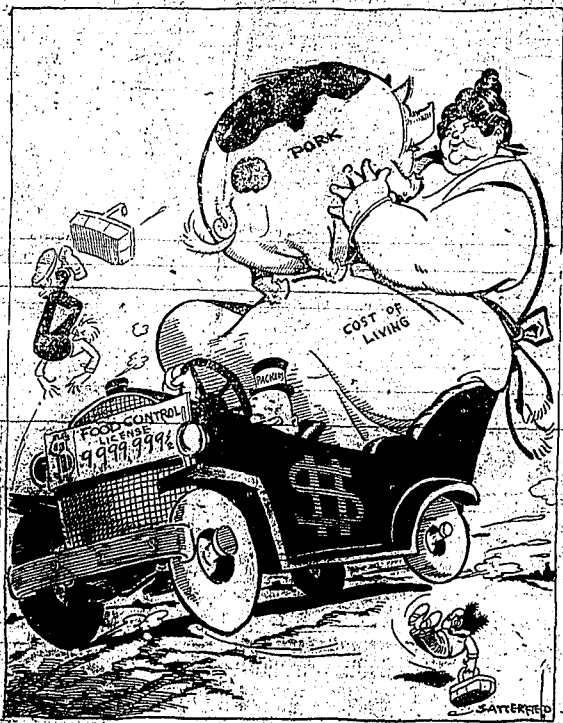

MRS. GEORGE PATTON.

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all my friends for their loyal support during the big Chronicle campaign. I want to assure every one that their support was appreciated and that I am grateful indeed of the prize that I have won. I also want to thank the management for the fairness in conducting the race.

RUTH HOWARD.

I am grateful indeed of the first grand prize in The Chronicle's big campaign and am not only proud of my prize, but the loyal support of the many real friends who have helped me win it. I sincerely appreciate every vote and every kindness I wish to thank every friend for his or her support.

ASKS HOUSEWIVES TO REDUCE H.C.L.

Increased Consumption of Bread Will Reduce Demand for Meat, Butter, Eggs.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(Special to the Chronicle.) Housewives war time consciences in administration of the family table and substitution of bread for higher priced foods such as meats, eggs and butter, may mean reducing the high cost of living, were advocated by the U. S. Food Administration today.

Commenting on the government crop report for July, which shows the unprecedented loss in crop prospects of 1930, the U. S. Food Administration declared that any further reduction in food prices "must be based frankly upon equality of food subsidy" and not "returned by Congress in the wheat act."

"For several weeks I have tried to get a more general appreciation of the public mind that our wheat program was no longer the substantially favorable one still accepted by certain sections of the press," he said. "But it is well to remember that, however disappointing the situation, from our standpoint, the U. S. Food Administration is a wheat act. It will fully supply us at home and probably sufficiently contribute to the food needs of Europe."

"There is a gross adjustment—too close to our necessities for the total world bread requirement and the total bread grain supply, but there is sufficient with care. There can be no longer any doubt that the supply and demand position in wheat does not constitute over-extended prices are not maintained above a world level."

"Any further movement for a reduced flour-price must be based frankly upon a policy of food subsidy. In effect that would force national charity on the table of every American citizen who may be unable to buy."

"The American housewife can work out substantial relief in a natural way. The flour consumption of America fell from its normal of 236 pounds per capita to 171 pounds during the last year. This has been accomplished, they said, which is cheap and wholesome, was displaced in the diet by higher priced goods. Two hundred and thirty-five pounds of flour per capita would furnish from 40 to 45 per cent of the necessary flour consumption with the consequent saving of higher priced foods would work out an actual national saving for the year of $1,000,000,000 in the national food bill."

"More than that, the reduction of wheat prices would mean a saving of $1,000,000,000 in the national food bill. More than that, the reduction of wheat prices would mean a saving of $1,000,000,000 in the national food bill."

May I not express sincere gratitude to all my friends who have so generously supported in the big Chronicle campaign. I appreciate the effort I have made, but more than that I appreciate the loyalty and the regard shown me by my real friends as evidenced in my total vote.

I want to thank The Chronicle, too, for its fairness in conducting the big event.

CORA M. BIGGS.

I wish to earnestly thank my many friends who supported me so faithfully in the big Chronicle campaign, and assure them that every vote was gratefully appreciated and added to the splendid prize which I have won. The campaign has been a source of real pleasure to me in that it has shown me conclusively the number of true friends that I have. I am indebted to each of their loyalty and their faithfulness. I further wish to thank The Chronicle for the big opportunity given us for the fairness of the whole campaign.

MRS. L. P. JONES.

I want to sincerely thank all my friends for the splendid support given me in the big Chronicle campaign and assure every one of them that their help was beyond expression.

I want to express my satisfaction, too, at the fairness and squareness of the management in conducting the big race.

J. A. GALLAGHER.

I want to thank sincerely all those who helped me in The Chronicle's big campaign. Their votes were greatly appreciated.

2 ARMY AVIATORS LOST IN MEXICO

Pass Over Line by Mistake—Patrol Search for Missing Men—Grassies Help.

MARFA, Tex., Aug. 11.—Two army aviators in a plane from El Paso are supposed to be lost in Mexico. While on patrol along the Rio Grande near Presidio, Tex., they are supposed to have mistaken the Rio Concho, which flows into the Rio Grande and passed into Mexico. Several planes from here were sent to search for the missing men, but have returned without finding any trace of them.

The aviators are Lieutenants Peterson and Davis. The search will be continued. The Mexican garrison at Ojibaga is assisting.

PLAN TO START TO BEGIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Procedure of the senate investigation into Mexican affairs was discussed today by the foreign relations sub-committee headed by Senator Fall, committee on New Mexico. No date for beginning the hearing was set.

Replying to a criticism from El Universal, a Mexico City newspaper, the sub-committee members requested the sub-committee members to discharge their duties "without fear, favor or prejudice" and would not give any view in advance of the investigation. Citing the international obligations of nations Sen. Fall's message said the sub-committee members "had hoped that the people of Mexico would themselves be able to create and maintain a government which would perform such duties without interference of this or any other nation and the committee set hopes that the great Mexican people will be able to work out their destinies and earn and retain the respect of all nations."

CHARLES DYER IS HELD FOR ALLEGED THEFT OF CAR

Charles Dyer, bookkeeper, was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of stealing an automobile from L. C. Knight Saturday night. He is now waiting in the county jail pending arraignment. The young man is said to have taken the car from in front of the Balthazary Plumbing company, with whom he was employed, and driven to Cheshford with it.

HEAVY TRAFFIC ON NEW HANSEN BRIDGE

1035 Automobiles Go Over in Week—332 Car Pass Guards on Sunday Alone.

During the past week 1035 automobiles passed over the new Hansen bridge. Of this number 332 of the cars crossed on Sunday. This is a record for the bridge. The bridge was stationed at the bridge by the bridge commissioners and at their request.

That the majority of the cars are those that ordinarily travel to and from the hospital section is the opinion of W. A. Moore. Moore has noted that he believed heavy use of the bridge will maintain throughout the years to come with an increase in number each year.

Members of the bridge commission recently had a field trip on the bridge, cautioning against fast driving over the structure. In the driving those caught doing so will be arrested and prosecuted.

MAYOR ELDRIDGE BUYS BUILDING FOR $30,000

Announcement was made yesterday by Mayor W. H. Eldridge that he has purchased the building in which he is now located from Tom Kato for a consideration of $30,000. Mr. Eldridge stated that this purchase would not hinder his plans to eventually construct a modern four or five story office building in Twin Falls.

INDIANS SING TRIBAL SONG AT SNOQUAMME LAUNCHING

BEATTIE, Wash., Aug. 11.—Amid the psalms of 150, members of the Snoqualmie Indian tribe and sponsored by one of their blood, Mrs. Kate Bost, of the 500-ton wood steamer Snoqualmie was launched at a local shipyard today. As the vessel struck the water the Indians took to a tribal song. Lauded by guests of the great man, the ceremony was a success. The launching platform was Sages Koepf, 85.

The daughter of an aged Snoqualmie chief, the Snoqualmie is the world's largest wooden hull.

The acreage devoted to sugar beets is said in the report to be probably the largest ever recorded, although condition of the crop is but 72 per cent of normal. Indications are production will be far short of expectations, the report adds.

COLORADO CROPS TO BREAK RECORDS

Average Largest in State's History and Yield Indicated to Be the Greatest.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 11.—The largest acreage devoted to crops in Colorado and the largest total production in the state's history is forecast for 1930 by the Colorado Co-Operative Crop Reporting service, a branch of the United States department of agriculture, in a report made public today.

The most notable increase is in wheat. Winter wheat production is estimated at 12,515,000 bushels, and spring wheat at 6,661,000 bushels. All year production is forecast at 19,176,000 bushels, compared with the July forecast of 18,821,000, and the largest, previously reported, 1917, of 18,245,000.

The corn forecast is 18,000,000 bushels, compared to 17,007,000, the 1918 production.

The acreage devoted to sugar beets is said in the report to be probably the largest ever recorded, although condition of the crop is but 72 per cent of normal. Indications are production will be far short of expectations, the report adds.
