PRICE FIVE CENTS

RAILWAY WAGE DEMAND MUST BE DEFERRED

President Wilson Announces That Freight Rates Can Not Advance.

CERTAIN CALCULATION IS NOT POSSIBLE NOW

Appeals to Employes to Forego Wage Increases Until the Return to Normal.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Postponement of the settlement of wage demands until normal economic conditions are restored was announced today by President Wilson as the policy which the administration will pursue in dealing with such situations, particularly those affecting railroad workers.

The president announced also that it was neither wise nor feasible at this time, when the most important question before the country is a return to a normal price level, to attempt to increase freight rates to provide funds for higher wages.

Time is important. "We ought to postpone questions of this sort until we have the opportunity for certain calculations as to the relation between wages and the cost of living," the president declared in a statement to the public explaining his decisions as to wages. "It is the duty of every citizen to insist that a treaty in such contexts until intelligent settlements can be made, and made by peace and effective common counsel. I appeal to my fellow citizens of every employment to cooperate in insisting upon and maintaining such a course."

Outlines General Policy. Mr. Wilson's statement was issued in connection with the decision of himself and Director General Hines, on demands by railroad employes for a 25 per cent advance in wages, but the general policy pronounced covers also the wage demands of other hundreds of thousands of railroad workers, which are pending before the director general or about to be presented. It is to be expected that other unions trying to obtain more pay will be asked, as the shophmen, to play their part with other citizens in reducing the cost of living by foregoing a temporary advantage which would add to transportation costs.

Adjustment Is Proposed. The decision of the president and the director general was announced to a committee of 100, representing the shophmen. In reply to their demands for a 25 per cent advance, the shophmen were asked to accept an adjustment of their pay to the basis of 10 hours pay for 8 hours work, which, it was contended was given other employes and denied them when the Adamson law became effective. This means an advance of the basic pay from 88 cents to 72 cents an hour, whereas an increase of 77 cents to 88 cents an hour was demanded.

Membership Must Decline. Acting President Jewett of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, and his advisers, said they would communicate the decision to the union locals for acceptance or rejection. A strike vote completed yesterday, but not yet tabulated, was on the question whether the men should quit work to enforce consideration of their demands by the railroad administration instead of by a congressional commission as first suggested. As this plan was abandoned, the vote, whatever the result, is non-effective and the shophmen now have an entirely new question before them.

Asked to Consider. The shophmen were asked by President Wilson, through the committee to consider "a new light." "We are fact to face with a situation," the president said, "which is more likely to affect the happiness and prosperity and the life of our people than the war itself."

He therefore outlined the government's efforts to reduce the prices and the cost for assisting these efforts by stimulating production and maintaining transportation.

Big Local Events

A bold hold-up of a Kimberly man occurred in broad day. The victim was driven into Twin Falls and in a crowded bank cashed his check. It was a great news story and stirred the Twin Falls country.

Rural route readers of The Chronicle had it a full day ahead of readers of any other newspaper. A man was killed in a sensational drunken auto accident near Hansen Saturday morning. Three arrests followed, ere the mystery was solved. Chronicle readers read the full details of the story—full 24 hours ahead of the readers of any other newspaper.

Sunday Highway Director Johnson and a friend found the gaping skeleton of a man on the desert near the state line. Buttons and the remnants of khaki trousers indicate they were worn by a soldier. The skeleton was beneath rocks, showing that the body had been hastily covered by someone. It's a mystery, the solution of which will determine where went some mother's boy.

Chronicle readers read the story today, a full 24 hours ahead of any information in any other newspaper.

AVOID CLASH WITH CARRANZA FORCES

American Troops Turn About Hither Than Thither, Body of Mexican Federalists

CANDELARIA, Tex., Aug. 25.—(By Army Telegraph to President, Rome.)—The American punitive expedition into Mexico was deterred from continuing the pursuit of Mexican bandits who held the American aviators for ransom, by the presence of Carranza troops six miles north of Coyame, Chihuahua, Saturday, according to a report made by Captain Leonard Matlack of the Eighth cavalry tonight to Colonel George Langhorne, commander of the Big Bend district. American scouting parties described the proximity of a patrol of ten Mexican federalists and later learned there were 150 more Carranza soldiers further on along the trail that the Americans could follow. To avoid a clash the American forces then began to "patrol" the United States, according to Captain Matlack's report which was submitted to Colonel Langhorne during an inspection trip along the river.

RESCUE TEN MEN WITH PACK TRAIN

Men Under Command of Forest Ranger Are Cut Off by Fire, for Eighteen Hours

By the Associated Press. SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 25.—A packtrain of 10 men and 19 mules, under command of Forest Ranger Sullivan, escaped today a forest fire on Cedar Creek, 35 miles south of Avery, Idaho, after having been cut off for 18 hours, according to word received here today from Supervisor Hoover at St. Maries, Idaho.

FIRE'S ESCAPE CONTROL

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 25.—Despite numerous fires in northern Idaho burning fiercely and spreading rapidly in some places, the crew now in the field are holding their own in a manner satisfactory to district forest service officials, while awaiting a change in the weather. This was the statement of District Forester H. H. Stutledge today on his return from Idaho. Conditions today were reported worse in the Selway forest, while in the Clearwater and Nez Perce forests hot blazes were reported which, however, were not spreading as rapidly as early last week. Rutledge received a message saying no troops were available to fight forest fires.

1500 SHEEP BURN

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 25.—One thousand five hundred head of sheep were burned to death in a forest fire in the Clearwater forest in Idaho last Thursday according to word received tonight at the forest headquarters here. The owner and his son with 2000 sheep they had succeeded in saving were found by a searching party Saturday.

NEW ZEPPELIN IS PALACE AIRSHIP

Hot and Cold Water Provided for 35 Passengers Craft Carries in January

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Aug. 25.—A new Zeppelin airship, on its maiden trip from Friedrichshafen to Berlin, covered the 435 miles in a little more than six hours. The aircraft attained a maximum speed of 120 kilometers (75 miles) an hour and 75 and a half miles an hour.

The builders have duplicated the familiar cigar shape of the old Zeppelins and have adopted a conical outlined exterior. The airship is 120 meters long and accommodates 35 passengers. It is equipped with wireless telegraphy and has a large passenger-cabin. The passengers can obtain running hot and cold water. The aircraft is to go into daily service.

Twenty-one passengers among them three women, made the initial trip in the airship, which was built since the armistice was signed.

Article 265 of the peace treaty with Germany provides that on the coming into force of the treaty delivery shall be made by Germany to the principal allied and associated powers of all "dirigible balloons, repaired or assembled." SKELETON IS FOUND NEAR DESERT ROCKS

Remains Evidently Those of Soldier, Name Unknown.

FIND IS MADE NEAR NEVADA STATE LINE

Foul Play Evidenced by Fact That the Body Had Been Hidden Beneath Rocks.

Covered with a pile of rocks the body of an unknown man that had apparently been hurriedly buried was discovered early Sunday morning by W. L. Johnson, highway director of the Twin Falls district, on Wilton creek near the Nevada state line.

The discovery was made by Mr. Johnson while he, with C. E. McBride and Highway Commissioner Larson were hunting in the section of the find.

Body Badly Decomposed. Badly decomposed, the flesh having been eaten off by rats and mice which infest the section where the body was found, identification of the body will be hard but Mr. Johnson found an army button and remnants of khaki pants that indicate the man was once a soldier.

Mr. Johnson brought back the story of the gruesome find yesterday. He told several friends of it and the story soon spread about town.

To a representative of The Chronicle Mr. Johnson told his story of the discovery.

"We were hunting in the Dravis and Wilson creek section when I discovered the skeleton. I was by myself at the time. I noticed a mound of rocks and on making an investigation I discovered the body."

That of a Grown Man. "The skeleton was that of a grown white man. It may have been three years—and might possibly have been there as long as ten years.

"Rats and mice had caused much havoc with the body. The flesh had been eaten off and at first we could find no vestige of clothing. Later I poked up in the mound a button with an eagle on it. The button was apparently that furnished to soldiers by the government. A further investigation disclosed several patches of cloth of the khaki kind which verified my belief that the man once wore Uncle Sam's uniform."

Rather to Bury Remains. "Calling to my companions I told them of my discovery and we took the skeleton to the McMillan ranch. The owner of the ranch then promised to give the remains a decent burial and to notify the officials.

Points to Foul Play. "Indications around the hurriedly constructed grave pointed to foul play, although there were no signs on the skeleton. The grave, if one could call it that, was merely a bunch of piled up rocks. A flat rock lay on the chest of the man.

TEN MILLION DOLLAR GARBO

OF SILK COMES FROM JAPAN

By the Associated Press. VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 25.—Ten thousand bales of raw silk, valued at $5,000,000, were brought here from the Orient today by the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan. In addition, the Asia carried 2,685 cases of silk goods, bringing the total value of the silk consignment aboard to about $10,000,000. The silk carried will go aboard by special train.

FALL OF STERLING DISMAYS BRITISH

London Newspapers Say Situation Is as Serious as Bankrupt as to England.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 25.—The gravity of the situation resulting from the fall of sterling in the United States was emphasized in the press again today, yesterday's slight improvement being regarded as only temporary.

The Daily Mail, which has constantly urged increased production here as a remedy, gives prominence today to the contention that the position is equally as serious for the United States as for Great Britain, as it is imperiling American export trade. The same point is made elsewhere and opinions of American bankers are cited in support of it. It is remarked by the newspapers that American exporters have plenty to sell and that there are plenty to buy, but they point out that unfortunately those willing to buy have not the necessary money.

In this connection, the Mail regards as "a novel feature in the annals of trade propaganda" a statement cabled to America Friday by the American chamber of commerce in London, warning American producers and exporters against trying to rush the British market simply because of the removal of import restrictions.

The newspaper calls attention to the fact that withdrawal of the restrictions allows importations of automobiles after September 1st and says that the agent here of one American firm, notwithstanding the shortage of cars in the United States, cabled Friday an order for 4000 automobiles to be delivered in England as speedily as possible. This agent declared there would be "no lumping" about this, because the cost here would be double the price in America.

in excess of the total increase in the cost of living from July 1, 1918, and August 1, 1919, due to the fact that standardization adopted at the request of the employees had given thousands a higher classification and higher pay than they previously enjoyed.

Wages paid for similar work in Mississippi, which workers the shopmen have cited as higher pay, Mr. Hines said, were higher because the work was temporary and carried on under greater pressure, and also the workmen were forced to live in congested districts where living was extremely high, while railroad shopmen generally have the advantage of small- or semi-rural communities. Private industries, the director general found, were paying about three cents an hour more than the railroad administration, which difference will be equitized under the four cent advance.

Car Repairs Men Advanced.
In addition to the four cents an hour increase for most of the shopmen, the director general ordered that all freight car repairmen receive 67 cents an hour, instead of 53 cents for steel car repairers, and 58 cents for wood car repairers and that car inspectors should receive 67 cents instead of 58 cents, with the exception in both classes that the increase for men employed at outside points, where the work is not continuous, should be four cents an hour.

Tid President's Statement.
The president in his statement to the representatives of the shopmen, said: "Gentlemen: "I request that you buy this criticism tender before the men in a new light. The vote they have taken was upon the question whether they should insist upon the wage increase they were asking or consent to the submission of their claims to a new tribunal, to be constituted by new legislation. That question no longer has any life in it. Such legislation is not now in contemplation. I request that you ask the men to reconsider the whole matter in view of the following considerations to which I ask their thoughtful attention as Americans, and which I hope that you will lay before them as I here state them.

Blunders Mean Suffering.
"We are faced to face with a situation which is more likely to affect the happiness and prosperity and even the life of our people than the war itself. We have now to do nothing less than bring our industries and our labor of every kind back to a normal basis after the greatest upheaval known in history, and the winter just ahead of us may bring suffering far more greater than the war brought upon us if we blunder or fall in the process. An admirable spirit of self-sacrifice, of patriotic devotion, and of community action guided and inspired us while the fighting was on. We shall need all of these now, and need them in a heightened degree, if we are to accomplish the first task of peace. They are more difficult than the tasks of war—more complex, less easily understood—and require more intelligence, patience, and sobriety. We mobilized our man power for the fighting; let us now mobilize our brain and our consciences for the reconstruction. If we fail, it will mean national disaster.

First Step in Production.
"The primary first step now is to increase production and facilitate transportation, so as to make up for the destruction wrought by the war, the terrible scarcities it created, and as far as possible relieve our people of the cruel burden of high prices. The railways are the center of this whole process.

"The government has taken up with all its energy the task of bringing the profiteer to book, making the stocks of necessaries in the country available to ignored prices, stimulating production and facilitating distribution, and very favorable results are already beginning to appear. There is reason to entertain the confident hope that substantial relief will result, in increasing measure.

Would Check Tendencies.
"A general increase in the levels of wages would check and might defeat all this at its very beginning. Such increases would inevitably raise, not lower, the cost of living. Manufacturers and producers of every sort would have innumerable additional pretexts for increasing profits and all efforts to discover and defeat profiteering would be hopelessly confused. To reduce the cost of living will be successful, if no new elements of difficulty are thrown in the way; and I confidently count upon the men engaged in the service of the railways to assist, not obstruct. They are good Americans, along with the rest of us, and may, I am sure, be counted on to see the point.

Would Be Inconsistent.

thing enough to establish, either success or failure, it will of course be necessary to accept the higher costs of living as a permanent basis of adjustment, and railway wages should be readjusted along with the rest. All that I am now arguing is, that we should not be guilty of the inexcusable inconsistency of making general increases in wages on the assumption that the present cost of living will be permanent at the very time that we are trying with great conscience to reduce the cost of living and are able to say that it actually is beginning to fall.

Feel Sense of Insecurity.
"I am aware that railroad employees have a sense of insecurity as to the future of the roads and have many misgivings as to whether their interests will be properly safeguarded when the present form of federal control has come to an end. No doubt it is in part this sense of uncertainty that prompts them to insist that their wages interests be adjusted now rather than under conditions which they cannot certainly foresee. But I do not think that their uneasiness is well founded. I anticipate that legislation dealing with the future of the railroads will in explicit terms afford adequate protection for the interests of the employees of the railroads, but quite apart from that, it is clear that no legislation can make the railroads other than what they are, a great public interest, and it is not likely that the president of the United States, whether in possession and control of the railroads or not, will lack opportunity or persuasive force to influence the decision of questions arising between the managers of the railroads and the railway employees.

Looks to the Future.
"I believe, therefore, that they may be justified in the confidence they heartily cooperation with the government now in its efforts to reduce the cost of living will by no means be prejudicial to their own interests, but well on the contrary, prepare the way for more favorable and satisfactory relations in the future.

"I confidently count on their cooperation in this time of national test and crisis.

"We are not studying the balance sheet of corporations merely, we are in effect determining the burden of taxation which must fall upon the people of the country in general. We are acting, not for the private corporations, but in the name of the government and the public, and must assume responsibility accordingly. For it is neither wise nor feasible to take care of increases in wages of railroad employees at this time by increases in freight rates. It is impossible at this time, until peace has come and normal conditions are restored, to estimate what the carrying capacity of the railroads will be when ordinary conditions return. There is no certain basis, therefore, for calculating what the increase of freight rates citizens of every employment to contribute, in the interest of cooperation, into in sustaining the government in what I conceive to be the only course which conscientious public servants can pursue. Demands unwisely made and passionately insisted upon at this time are in the interest and prosperity of the country as nothing else could, and thus contribute to bring about the very results which such demands are intended to remedy.

One Claim Is Just

"There is, however, one claim made by the railway shopmen which ought to be met. They claim that they are not enjoying the same advantages that other railway employees are enjoying because their wages are calculated upon different basis. The work of other railway employees are based upon the rule that they are to receive for eight hours work the same pay they received for the longer workday that was the usual standard of the pre-war period. This claim is, in my view, well founded; and I believe in the conclusion of the director general that the shopmen ought to be given the additional four cents an hour which the readjustment asked for will justify. There are certain other adjustments, also, pointed out in the report of the director general, which ought in fairness to be made, and which will be made.

"Let me add, also, that the position which the government must in consequence take against general increases in wages levels while the present exceptional and temporary circumstances exist will of course not preclude the railroad administration from giving prompt and careful consideration to any claims that may be made by other classes of employes for readjustments believed to be proper to secure impartial treatment for all who work in the railway service."

COMMITTEE HEARS STORY OF PACKERS

Profits Have Increased as Price of Meats Has Advanced—No Doubt as to Reason in Buying.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Federal Trade commission charges against the five leading packers, on which the Kenyon and Kendrick bill proposing license regulation of the industry arose, were denied today before the senate agriculture committee, in behalf of Swift & Co., L. D. H. Wood, manager of the Department of Business research for the Swift company, was the only witness actually on the stand, but his statements were supplemented occasionally by Henry Voeder, as general counsel for the company and by John Chaplin, its general auditor.

Statistical analysis of Swift & Co. beef operations presented by Mr. Wood fixed the cost price of fresh beef to the company in 1914 at $7.66 hundredweight, and the selling price at $12.09. In 1918 the cost price had jumped 53.1 per cent, or to $11.61, and the selling price had increased 47 per cent, or to $11.77. During the four weeks ending August 15 live stock, Mr. Wood's charts showed, cost Swift & Co. $102.86 a head and were slaughtered and shipped at an expense of $12.82 a head. The beef in each animal brought an average of $85.11, and hides and by-products $11.95. The profit deduced from this was 28 cents a hundredweight.

Mr. Wood denied that any profits shown were concealed in the by-products distribution, and when committee members pressed the point, Mr. Voeder declared that the books of the company and all its subsidiaries were open to its examination for verification.

Dental was also made by Wood that combined profits of the packers during 1918, under food administration control, were $178,000,000 as stated by Federal Trade Commissioner Coover.

"The facts," said Mr. Wood, "are that in 1918 the five companies earned $48,510,000, and that after federal taxes were deducted they earned $51,500,000 net. Under the food administration regulation the profits were much lower than they were in 1917. In 1918 the packers' profits were equivalent to 15.27 per cent on capital and surplus; in 1917 they were 18.28 per cent and in 1918, 10.41 per cent."

Beef sales during 1918 had been largely at a loss, he said, because of the price fixed by the food administrator on army and navy purchases.

"You were permitted to make more under the regulations of the food administration than you did," Chairman Gronna said. "Why didn't you do so?"

"Other conditions did not allow it," Mr. Wood responded.

Attacking Commissioner Coover's assertion that the percentage of live stock purchases on the principal markets, remaining fairly constant in its proportion among the five, indicated a monopoly control, Mr. Wood flatly asserted that it was instead an index to brisk competition.

The Institute of American Meat Packers, Mr. Wood said, had been organized "to defend the industry" and was supported by an assessment of half a cent a head on cattle killed by members. At one point he said that Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, and Senator Kendrick, democrat, Wyoming, had induced the agricultural department to change publicly statements concerning live stock prices in such a way as to be unfair to the packers.

When the two committee members entered denial, he explained his statement had been based on a speech made in the house and added that he accepted the denial as a "concealment interpretation of the facts."

AUTOPSY MADE ON TOLLIVER'S BODY

Discloses that How From Bridge Timber Killed Him—Evis Pays Heavy Fine.

An autopsy over the remains of James Tolliver Sunday afternoon disclosed that the man had come to his death from injuries received when he was struck in the chest by a timber from a bridge east of Kimberly. Several ribs were found to have been broken and the man's lungs to have been pierced by one of the broken ribs. A coroner's jury impaled to investigate the man's death returned a verdict that the accident was unavoidable.

Yesterday Andy Kingswood, ferryman at Shoshone Falls, Irma Bowen, who is also known here as Irma Hughes, and May Marshall, were tried before Judge O. P. Duvall on a charge of being drunk on a public highway. All three entered pleas of guilty. Kingswood and the Bowen woman were each fined $100, while a $25 fine was assessed against May Marshall. A sentence of 30 days in jail was also given to the Bowen woman, this being suspended on her promise to leave Twin Falls. All paid their fines.

The investigation by the coroner's jury brought out substantially the same facts as published exclusively in The Chronicle Sunday morning. It developed that Tolliver, the dead man, had been a participant in a poker game early in the evening and that he had lost heavily. It is believed that this explains the disappearance of $450 which the divorced wife of the man stated that he had in his possession Thursday.

Funeral services over the remains of the man will be held this morning from the De Witt chapel, interment being in the Twin Falls cemetery. Members of the local teamsters' union will have charge of the service, while W. A. Moore of the Christian church will officiate.

NAVY HEAD SEES KILAUEA ACTIVE

Molten Mass Tears At Confining Walls—A. G. Higgins, Hiloway Head.

HIO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., Aug. 24.—Kilauea, the world's most active and most accessible volcano, was today viewed by Secretary of the Navy Joseph Daniels, and officers of the USS Albatross, the Pacific fleet which brought the cabinet member to Hawaii. The warships came here from Honolulu where Secretary Daniels dedicated the Pearl Harbor naval yard.

Not the least interesting part of the trip was the view of the volcano from the ship.

Lucinda J. Pritchard, Plaintiff, vs. George Pritchard, Defendant.

The State of Idaho Sends Greetings to George Pritchard, the above named defendant.

You are hereby notified that a complaint has been filed against you in the District Court of the Fourth Judicial District of the State of Idaho, in and for the County of Twin Falls, by the above named plaintiff, and you are hereby directed to appear and answer the said complaint within twenty days of the service of this summons if served within said judicial district, and within forty days if served elsewhere; and you are further notified that unless you so appear and answer said complaint within the time herein specified, the plaintiff will take judgment against you as provided in said complaint.

day's excursion was the 30-mile drive from Hilo to the volcano. Shell took the secretary and naval officer through sugar plantations, quiet native villages, with all the atmosphere of ancient Hawaii, and miles of elegant trees, ferns and foliage of other tropical plants and trees.

...well, geographically, is the youngest of the group of islands which, in the name, and is the only island which still has active volcanoes.

Kilauea, the volcano, is on the slope of Mount Loa, its mountain peak towering 13,673 feet, at an elevation of nearly 4,000 feet above sea level. The main crater is nearly eight miles in circumference and 600 feet deep, including an area of 2,650 acres, a solidified sea of lava which takes most fantastic shapes. In the center of this vast sink in the mountain slope is Halemauana, or "the house of evaporating fire," a great pit over 1,000 feet in diameter where churning and boils a sea of liquid rock, with waves and billows of white-hot lava steadily tearing at the confining walls.

The molten lava of the central fire pit rises and falls at certain periods of the year, sometimes falling 500 feet or more below the rim and at other times rising until the fluid rock reaches its great terraces over the floor of the main crater. In recent weeks the volcano has been particularly active and Secretary Daniels and his companions found much to interest them.

Near the crater of Kilauea is a sandy plain, covered with huge boulders vomited up in the eruption of 1790. It was here that the army of King Kamehameha was destroyed by the eruption when on his way to attack the forces of Kamehameha the Great, who made himself the first king of all the islands. This historic plain was traveled by Mr. Daniels and his party on the way to the fire pit of the volcano. In modern times no one has lost his life at Kilauea.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, stop up and cause all sorts of diseases, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

This moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Kid Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acid in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Kid Salts cannot injure anyone; make a delightful after-dinner beverage drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.

THE SCHOOL BELL

Will the opening of the school year find your child ready for the winter's work? The long play time should have strengthened his lungs, hardened his muscles, rested his eyes and mind.

But how about the teeth, the eyes, the throats?

Now is the time to have the dentist get his work done. After school begins it will be harder to fit in the appointments, and the nerve strain which is trifling for a child whose teeth are looked after regularly, and who goes from the dentist to a day of rest and play, may prove much more serious added to a day of school work.

If the child shows the slightest tendency to lead a book too close, or to squint when he reads, or to be irritable after any close eye work, he needs to have an oculist examine him. He may not need glasses, but simple exercises, or a better balance of near and far use of his vision.

The use of glasses for a few years in childhood sometimes obviates the necessity of wearing them later. Also, the "looks" of a well-fitting pair of glasses are far less objectionable than the looks of the wrinkles and worn lines which eyestrain inevitably prints on the face, not to mention the looks—and feel—of headaches and indigestion.

The oculist is usually a nose and throat specialist as well. Let him give a look with his funny little mirrors and things into those passages. If there are adenoids or bad tonsils he will know what to do. The flu gerin would have done far less damage last year if it had had only clean, wholesome noses and throats to get into.

Investments in health always pay large returns. Try a little flier in Children's Body Building, Unlimited, and see how much better off the whole family will be.

THE POT THAT MELTS

As a part of its machinery for recruiting the new volunteer army that is replacing the "national army," the war department is sending on tour a detachment of soldiers made up of men who have themselves experienced the educational benefits of the present army system. They are sent out for these purposes:

"To stimulate the recruiting of illiterate and non-English speaking men by actually showing prospective applicants what has been and what is being accomplished in a given time.

"To refute assertions that the army is not finding practical solutions to pressing problems with which it is confronted.

"To show people that, while others have been talking naturalization, Americanization, the 'melting pot,' etc., the army has in fact established a melting pot that actually 'melts.'"

It would be easy to find men in almost any army unit who could give eloquent testimony to this "melting pot" character of the United States army today. There are acts, too, that speak as loudly as any words they can utter. Of over 100,000 men already enlisted for the new army, more than two-thirds are men only recently discharged from the army. That is fine evidence in itself of what the army has done for young men, both native and foreign-born, and the high regard they have for it.

WHEN ROYALTY STROLLS

"The Prince of Wales, unannounced and attended only by a handful of equerries, slipped ashore today in civilian garb for a Sunday afternoon stroll through the lanes of Point Pleasant park. For half an hour he walked at leisure, recognized now and again by the few persons in the park, sat down occasionally to view the harbor, and then returned to his vessel, the cruiser Dragon."

This, and much more to the same effect, from a Halifax dispatch. It is the same day after day. The Canadian papers are full of it. Apparently there is nothing worth recording in the Dominion, or anywhere else in the world, so far as Canada is concerned, except the doings of the Prince of Wales.

It is all rather amusing. To think that His Royal Highness should condescend to slip ashore unobtrusively, "attended only by a handful of equerries," and do all the other benign and gracious things recorded of him!

Canada, which so loves to boast of its democracy and its independence of Great Britain, is honored indeed in all the prince's goings and comings. It hangs with bated breath on his lightest word, and eagerly grasps at every conventional phrase of politeness uttered by this unassuming young English chap who does his duty as he sees it, who is doubtless very much bored by it all, and would gladly give his prospective kingdom for a chance to get out of the public eye and live a normal human life.

Yes, the prince is probably all right. So are the Canadians, for that matter. And it is safe enough for Americans to laugh at their "toadying" to that polite young Englishman, because the American people will act just about as absurdly when their turn comes.

What is there in the word and person of "royalty" anyhow, to make sensible people act so silly?

JEWELS FOR FOOD

American food is moving to Europe in a great stream, at the rate of more than $300,000,000 a month. And what is coming back in place of it?

Jewels and works of art, according to a New York paper. In one day recently the duty on imports at the port of New York was $1,235,000, nearly all on such luxury articles.

It may be all right as far as Europe is concerned. Those Europeans are hungry; their money is gone; they are forced to trade their jewels and other heirlooms for food to eat. But there must be a limit.

"After a man has worn an American shirt, he will never go back to the English-made article," say Yankee drummers introducing their haberdashery in Europe. Maybe they don't stick so many pins in the exported shirts as they do in those made up for the home trade.

New York has been tied up again by a traction strike, and New Yorkers, forced to use their legs, find their health improving accordingly. The metropolis could well afford, from a hygienic standpoint, to have a strike three or four times a year.

There's one kind of food control that everybody can inaugurate for himself: Cut out the frills; eat only nourishing food, and no more of it than you need.

America is doing more right now to help Ireland than Ireland did to help America in its struggle against Germany for the very rights the Irish are claiming.

ELKS LEND AID TO SALVATION ARMY

"The Brotherhood" Club Yards... Organizations During Relief Work Following War.

YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 25.—Ten thousand Elks, attending the 15th annual convention of the Washington State Association of Elks, gave the Salvation Army a great ovation Friday. Chaplain Harry W. Jones, chaplain of the New York State 23rd Salvation Army, spoke to the great throngs of Elks at the Washington State Fair Grounds, where they were gathered for their big sports and band contest program. Earlier in the day he addressed the convention proper, and there was hardly a dry eye in the convention room when he got through with his stirring story of the Salvation Army overseas. He also spoke to large crowds in the "camping" from the Elks' club room at the Elks' home on Yakima avenue. At each meeting the Salvation Army was given a great ovation.

The Elks were in session three days and in addition to having the greatest play time in the history of the state Association, took up anti-epidemic and other matters of public and brotherhood movements. They planned to back the Red Cross after the war, care of service men, and planned to help with "the Brotherly Camp," the boys in the Elks Training school for boys at Chula Vista, Cal. He will in the school and after they leave. They also considered plans for Junior Elks, or other boys clubs that would benefit in the growing youth the principals of Americanism and fidelity of Elksdom.

night rested on their home stations along the border between Paredito and Hester's ranch after six days' absence. The number of parties of the bandits who kidnaped and held for ransom two American aviators.

With the reported killing of Jesus Renteria, leader of the bandits, and four other bandits, capture of nine others, and the arrest of six more by the Americans Major J. P. Yancy said today the fourth punitive expedition into Mexico had accomplished its object of clearing away the bandits from the section of Mexico to follow the border from the Big Bend, Texas, district.

Tomorrow the troops will resume their patrol duty, protecting the American border, communities from raiding bands from south of the Rio Grande. It will be an open border guard on a day to day, especially in view of reports today that the Mexican incursion had aroused the natives of northern Mexico who have been more or less friendly with the outlaws.

The official reports of the expedition show the remarkable accomplishment of the cavalry, some of whom captured 75 miles yesterday on their return from below the border. "I am feeling a just pride in the men and officers of my command," he said the commander, Colonel Langhorne said tonight.

Major Lucien Nicholson, unable to leave for the border with his troops a week ago yesterday, had his mount and the mount of his orderly transported by motor truck so he could catch up with his men. His "purple mount" was painted with the emblem of potassium to give it a deep purple color and lower visibility.

An important part was played by the division which kept up liaison with the troops, searched the mountain sides, and locating at least one band of hideouts. The activities are also credit for the killing of Jesus Renteria with machine gun bullets. The aviators also acted as couriers for the Mexican federals under General Franches and General Huesca.

PHRASES AMERICANS

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 25.—Traffic for the conduct of the American punitive expedition into Mexico and confidence that the remaining scattered bands in the Mexican districts will be wiped out shortly, was expressed here today in a statement authorized by General Antonio Franches, commander of Mexican federal forces in the Ojima district.

"The troops of the United States handled themselves admirably and gave no cause whatever for friction," said General Franches. "After the manifesto issued by General Manuel M. Dieguez, commander of the northern zone, urging cooperation with the Americans, whatever uneasiness your people may have felt was allayed and the whole affair handled without any unpleasantness.

"There are not more than 10 bands left in Mexico. In a few days I expect a force of about 300 men from Chihuahua City and with these I shall go into the field personally and clean up the bandits who are still active. Three airplanes also are coming from Chihuahua to aid in the work."

CONFIRMS EARLY REPORTS.

CANDELAHIA, Tex., Aug. 25.—The death of Jesus Renteria is believed to be confirmed in the report made to Colonel Langhorne tonight by Captain Leonard Matlack. Captain Matlack says he got the story from a woman in whose house Renteria and his fellow bandits counted the ransom money obtained from the Americans. Renteria is said to have quarreled with the bandits about the division of the money in the house of a woman at San Antonio Viejo, opposite here. The bandits are said to have drawn guns and rode off fighting.

Meunier W. J. Coeger and Frank Smith are given credit for the death of Renteria with machine gun bullets from an airplane.

GERMANS TO AID WAR AGAINST REDS

Volunteer Organization to be Turned Over to Russian Noblemen of Tsarist Blood.

By the Associated Press. COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 23.—Details of the organization of a large German volunteer corps in the Baltic province to support the Russian reactionary movement against the Bolsheviks are in the hands of the American military authorities.

It appears that General von Keller, who is believed to be a Russian nobleman of German descent, is at the head of the movement, and it is charged that the German occupation troops under General von der Goltz, who recently was recalled from the Baltic on the demand of the allies, are working with von Keller.

The Frélich asserts that virtually all von der Goltz's German sixth reserve corps and staff have been transferred to the Prekrops of Graf von Keller and that the Iron Division in Courland, which has been ordered withdrawn into Germany, is threatening to go over to von Keller's corps in a body. These charges are declared by other newspapers to be exaggerated.

SAGE AND SULPHUR

DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. You get the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by using any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stop or grow! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray has disappeared, and your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of hair-bleaches, and after another course of disease.

TINY KANSAS TOWN SCENE OF MURDERS

Maple Hill Slept in Peace Until Bones Are Uncovered.

"OLD DAYS" WERE "WILD AND WOOLY"

Battleground for Indians, in Townsite Fight, Village Was Born With Killing.

MAPLE HILL, Kan., Aug. 25.—Conceded in a narrow fight, born with murder, Maple Hill has had many striking days, but the excitement since the settlement by the whites never equalled the present succession of thrills and horrors. Thousands of flat arrow heads picked up by early settlers marked the battleground of the Indian tribes. A settler was killed in the early sixties in a quarrel over the purchase of a mill and is buried a short distance from the town.

Thomas Cased Night. After that came the days of the ranches. Several ranchmen fought over the location of the townsite when the Rock Island railroad was built through Wabunee-co in the eighties. George Fowler, a member of the packing firm, was and the town was located upon his property known as the "Middle Ranch." The day the Indians were sent several special trains were run from Kansas City to Maple Hill. A few minutes after the first train arrived the excitement was going on. Some one shipped in a carload of liquor. There were fights without number and in one of them a young man was stabbed to death.

The life of the town the next week or so was turbulent. In the meantime the settlers had become so numerous the ranches were much smaller and of the original only one, the old Fowler ranch, now known as the Tod ranch, remains today.

The last time finished by the ranches, was in 1898 when John Thomas, a cowboy, was discharged.

Two Are Killed. Returning from Kansas City a few days after losing his job, Thomas rode to what was called then the "White Ranch" and opening a door to a room in which several men were sitting, fired a dozen shells with a revolver, wounding five persons, two of whom died.

Thomas fled and never was captured. There are hardly a dozen living in Maple Hill who were here in the earlier and more stirring days. The motor car's honk has displaced the wild shout of the cowboy. Pretty girls and their beaux, and farmers, their wives and old women, one a widow, and the once cow-punchers, gulped their whiskey straight.

It was the trip of a woman of two old women, one a widow and the other on her deathbed, that led to the discovery of the "murder" farm two weeks ago. Mrs. Louisa A. Sams wife of Wm. A. Sams was sick. The house shrouded prevailed even in this little town of 250 persons. Mr. Sams could not find a suitable home for her in which his sick wife could be cared for.

"Grandma," Sarah Clements, widow, owned a five-room home. For weeks she talked over her troubles with Mr. and Mrs. Sams. She and Mrs. Sams had been friends for years. She Home to Father. At last the suggestion was made by Mrs. Clements that she would sell her home in order that her sick friend might have a suitable place to live. Mrs. Clements said she would rent rooms nearby where she could help care for the sick woman. The property was transferred. Mrs. Clements moved her belongings into one room nearby and Mr. and Mrs. Sams moved into the Clements' home. Mrs. Clements kept her promise to help care for her sick friend, but when with Mrs. Sams almost day and night until the end, late in May.

After the funeral Mrs. Clements began looking for a new home. A three-room cottage two blocks away had been vacant more than a year since Duke King, teamster and former loggerman, had gone to Colorado. Mrs. Clements sought the owner who lived in a nearby town, made an offer, and after a delay of several weeks it was accepted. She says a single room of King, who had paid the rent on the house while it was vacant, tried to prevent the purchase. In cleaning up the house baskets of cheap jewelry were found in it. When some trash was being removed from a shed a human skeleton was found in a gummy sack. The skeleton was identified by relatives as that of Heuben Gutshall. The finding of the jewelry had resulted to Maple Hill folk the fact King also had sold the land purchased a team and dog from an old livestock peddler who frequently had stopped at the King livery stable. Digging in the lot near the livery stable what is believed to be the skeleton of the peddler was found. Later a skeleton identified as that of John Wooley, formerly employed by King was found in the same lot. Authorities are digging now in the hope of finding skeletons of other missing men. King, in the county jail at Popoca, denies the charge. It makes no effort to explain the finding of the skeletons.

BICKERING HALTS LABOR IN PARIS

Americans Are Called Upon to Help Settle Score of Trivial Troubles.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—The endless bickering in the supreme council is having a serious effect. The revival of many questions in which the United States is not directly interested is making the American delegation extremely impatient. The Americans constantly called upon to act as arbiters in Balkan and other questions with the result that sections of the European press, especially the French press, are attacking the American position on questions in which the Americans act wholly without self-consideration. Herbert Hoover's denunciation of the council's hesitancy in straightening out the Hungarian tangle and protecting the rights of all the entente nations in the matter of Hungarian reparations is reflected in the attitude of the entire American delegation. White some members of the supreme council appear to take the same position, the feeling is growing in American circles that several representatives of the great powers are not inclined at the present time to bring Hungary to account on the armistice terms.

The American delegates feel at a great disadvantage in the present arrangement; the representatives of the other powers being more numerous are able to confer directly with their governments, thus making the council in general a clearing house for European disputes not directly related to peace.

It is the belief that after the signature of the Armistice treaty, the conference will have a long vacation, thus forcing the various foreign offices to handle matters heretofore loaded upon the conference.

The supreme council this afternoon discussed Hungary's attitude in the Hungarian situation and sent Rumania another note saying that the council awaited reply to the note sent Saturday concerning reparations.

Street Railway's Strike May Be Ended Within Forty-eight Hours is Prediction.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Orders received today from the chiefs of the "big four" railroad companies to their striking members here to return to work had not affected tonight the striking switchmen, yardmen, shopmen and trainmen which has practically isolated southern California for four days.

Strike leaders declined to comment officially on the orders, which Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said he had issued, but individuals declared they would not return to work "until every Pacific Electric trainman had been taken back." The men began leaving their posts last week in sympathy with the strike of trainmen of the Pacific Electric company, an important system for higher wages.

Paul Loses to Rupert—Both Games Are Featured by "Hard-Bolled" Starts.

Hard-bolled stuff, like the bull players and fans of New York like to dish up when these two teams meet, featured the two contests in the S. I. L. Sunday. Twin Falls lost to Duhi in 11 innings by a score of 2 to 1, while Rupert beat Paul 10 to 2, in the other game.

Both contests were enlivened by snafu-like battles. At Duhi the fans cheered Whitel into calling some decisions against Twin Falls that should have been otherwise, while at Rupert two umpires quit when a Paul batter and a Rupert catcher refused to leave the field after threatening to fight in the second inning. Thompson of Twin Falls finished the job of umpiring the contest.

As the result of the contests Twin Falls is certain to finish in 14th place and Paul is practically eliminated from the league race.

SPORT JAZZ BY RAZZ BERRY

Sam Smiley, ageless philosopher, opines that the Chicago White Sox are due to be the next world champion baseball team. Sport Cowley is another local fan who opines the same way. Both have a little "jazz" that says their opinion is right.

Sam's klutz down on the Cincy Reds anyway and doesn't believe they have the little old rag clobbered in the National, even though they are eight games in the lead. Says Sam, the higher they are the easier they'll fall.

But right games in a row ain't falling very fast.

Sam remember in his own bread and "basses days Cincy" has had forty-five years of trying to land a rag in the National league.

But Jay pines for the bloom, no matter how thick the gray. The morale of the community is once more around a hundred per cent. The Reds did it.

Cincinnati's silent motto has been: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." They did it 44 times and it looks as if the 44th A. D. would produce a hit.

While the rest of the country talk about the H. C. L., the residents of Cincinnati talk about the high cat of the Giants and the contracting low percentages of victories. It hurts Cincy's feelings just like a shot of * * * offends one who has been called to the Great Sahara. They don't think any more of a pennant than they do their arms; legs and eyesight.

Their trusty hammers have been junked. Horns or blown freely.

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE.

That's where the moral hazard comes in. And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also, that this bank offers you a complete banking service.

COUNCILMAN URGES WORK ON STREETS

Breckenridge Tells City Engineer People Have Kick Coming on Paving Program.

CALL FOR BIDS TO START REPAIRING

C. H. Mull Is Given Sewer Contract at a Cost of $38,429.05 After Reducing Original Bid.

Citizens are complaining at the slowness with which the paving program is going forward and I believe they have a kick," declared Councilman Breckenridge last evening at the regular meeting of council.

"I have told several citizens who have asked me," continued Mr. Breckenridge, "that the contract would soon be let for the resurfacing of the streets. Having my statement on the decision we reached two weeks ago to have the specifications drawn for this work. And tonight we find that nothing has been done towards the preparation of the specifications."

Mr. Breckenridge's statements followed a discussion between members of council and City Engineer Berg concerning the contracts for public improvement to be let. Mr. Breckenridge had asked Mr. Berg when the bids would be opened for the repaving of the old paving.

"Why, we haven't made any plans to call for those bids," stated Mr. Berg. "What?" asked Councilman Breckenridge. "Why, yes; we have. We decided two weeks ago to get the plans ready."

"I don't remember it," said Mr. Berg. Councilman Breckenridge then called for a reading of the minutes of August 11. The minutes stated that the city engineer was to be instructed to prepare plans so that the work of repaving could be done this year, if possible.

Calls for bids September 8 Council then passed a motion that the engineer prepare specifications immediately and call for bids on September 8. In the bond issue voted several months ago $7000 is provided for this repair work. Several concerns handling bituminous paving are in this section, there being an outfit at Jerome, one at Rupert and another at Ellettsville. It is believed that bids can be secured for this work from these.

Mr. Mull made this decision after the first contract awarded by council to start improvement work provided under the bond issue was let last night. This is for the trunk line sewer. C. H. Mull secured the contract, his bid being the lowest of four submitted. Mr. Mull originally bid $38,429.39 for the work under the conditions but after conference with New York, council he lowered his bid to $38,429.05.

Council declared that it was possible there was more kick excavation to do than the specifications as prepared for by Engineer Berg called for. Mr. Mull's bid on the various units called for in the specifications follow: 6-in. pipe, 1500 ft., estimated, $60 a foot; 10-in. pipe, 1485 ft., estimated, $60; 12-in. pipe, 5400 ft., estimated, $1.20; 15-in. pipe, 5942 ft., estimated, $1.20; excavation and back-filling, 4 feet and wider, 1160 ft., estimated, $1.00; concrete over 5 ft. to 7 ft., 5059 ft., estimated; 7 1/2 ft. to 8 ft., 12 ft., 2850 ft., estimated, $1.30 a foot; same; 12 to 16 ft. 1160 ft., estimated $2.70 a foot; rock trenching, 760 cubic yards, estimated, $8.75 per cubic yard; same; also concrete, any depth to 8 ft., 21 manholes, $57 each; manholes below 8 feet, $50 each. Work will start in 10 days and must be finished in 180 days.

Totals in the other bids were: Lindstrom & Orin, Idaho Falls, $45,791.25; Charles W. Heinicke, Portland, $45,162.77; H. M. Harbeck & Co., Newport, $45,483.

To Include Two Blocks. An intentional ordinance creating improvement district 27 for paving of certain streets was laid over until next week to permit the inclusion of two blocks on Second street north, which are already paved, but which council wishes to widen.

An extended debate as to the method to be used in making assessments against property for the paving program was held in the council chamber last night. Two members of council believing that the assessment should be made according to the front footage and the other two members desiring that a proportionate key should be made, bids in the center of a block in which there is no paving, but which would be benefited by paving of streets abutting on a corner lot in that block, being assessed in proportion to the benefits derived.

COMMBS LEADS FIRST LEG OF AERIAL DERBY

Covers 500 Miles, Toronto to Mineola, in 3 Hours 35 Minutes. DH-9 PLANE DRIVEN BY LIBERTY MOTOR

Rohlfis and Schroeder are the Second to Cover the Distance to Roosevelt Field.

By the Associated Press. MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Three fast airplanes averaged down the Roosevelt field here tonight, completing the first leg of their round trip flight between Toronto and Mineola in the first international aerial derby. Captain C. H. Commbs, an American aviator, flying a DH-9, with 400-horsepower Liberty motor, was the first arrival, landing at 7:11 o'clock—just six hours and 11 minutes from the time he started on the 500-mile course at Toronto. His actual flying time, however, was only 2 hours 35 minutes, speed having been made at Buffalo, Syracuse and Albany.

Rohlfis, in Second. Roland Rohlfis, famous American test pilot, who was the first flier to "step out" at Toronto despite the fact that he had previously suffered a skull when his plane turned turtle, landed at 7:18 o'clock, and Major R. M. Schroeder, another American flier, who had elected to start the race at the Toronto end, arrived four minutes later. Rohlfis gave his time from start to finish as 6 hours 25 minutes, and Major Schroeder gave his as 6 hours and 22 minutes, but neither announced their time in actual flight.

Plan Early Return. The three fliers hope to start the return trip to Toronto between noon and one o'clock tomorrow, provided their machines can be given a thorough overhauling by that time. A large crowd which had turned out to watch the race, remained for several hours after the arrival, hoping to witness other arrivals or to get word of the landing at Toronto of some of the 23 planes which left here during the afternoon on the Mineola-Toronto leg of the race. Up to a late hour, however, no more fliers had put in appearance nor was any report received of landings at Toronto. The start from the Roosevelt field end of the route was scheduled for 6 o'clock this morning, but was 1:55 o'clock before Major General Charles T. Mencher, chief of the United States army air service, gave the signal that

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Extending the scope of its public inquiry regarding the peace treaty, the senate foreign relations committee announced tonight a schedule of hearings that promise to occupy most of its time for the next two weeks, and to lend into the intricacies of political and territorial problems in several parts of the world. Lodge Announces Decision. Chairman Lodge, announcing the decision after consultation with other committee members, said the hearings general essential to an intelligent judgment on the manifold provisions of the treaty.

Democratic members, however, who said there had been an understanding that the committee would complete 100 report to the senate next week, charged again that the treaty was needlessly held up by the committee majority. It was generally agreed that if the plan were carried out the treaty probably would not come out of committee before the end of the week.

President sees Swanson. Late today President Wilson drove to the capitol and conferred about a half an hour with Senator Swanson of Virginia, a democratic member of the committee, and it was assumed they discussed the committee situation and the new turn of events. Senator Swanson declined to talk about the conference. It was reported that the president desired to see also Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the democratic leader, but found he was not in town.
