

WILL DIVERT MISSOURI TO SNAKE RIVER

Idaho Desert Land to Be Reclaimed by Waters From Afar.

TO TUNNEL THROUGH CONTINENTAL DIVIDE

Giant Plan Makes Water Available for Unclaimed Desert Lands of the Snake Valley.

DOISE, Id., Aug. 29.—Idaho's desert lands in the broad Snake river valley will be reclaimed through water from east of the continental divide.

Will Know Sage No More. The dream of a through irrigation of the Snake valley will be cut an altitude much higher than Jackson lake.

By tunneling through mountains of the continental divide in Yellowstone park the Missouri river will be cut an altitude much higher than Jackson lake.

Engineers Make Investigation. For months engineers have been investigating the feasibility of the plan, and somewhat recently, under instructions from Governor Davis, W. G. Swenden, Idaho commissioner of irrigation, made a thorough investigation of the whole plan.

In his report to the governor, Mr. Swenden said in part: The general plan, as now contemplated, will involve the construction of a set of dykes east of the natural outlet of the Yellowstone lake at what is known as Fishing bridge, located on the Yellowstone Park-Cody road.

This bridge, in its present condition, is a crude, unsafe structure, in need of repair. The plan of the development contemplates the replacement of this bridge by a new concrete structure, designed with due regard to artistic effect, under which will be located the control gates.

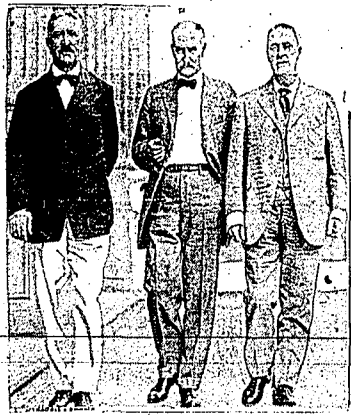

My investigation disclosed the fact that it is possible to obtain the use of a considerable quantity of the waters of this lake without raising the water surface in the lake above the present high water level, and also without drawing the surface of the lake down to a point lower than the present low water level. The lake, in its present natural state, fluctuates between five and six feet.

Not to Harm Park. The plan to utilize this water supply would only change the time when this fluctuation occurs, therefore, it is clearly seen that the standpoint of fluctuating the lake surface, no interference whatever will result to the park and the scenic beauties of the lake will be preserved.

During the winter months the discharge from the lake, according to the hydrographic records, is considerable and it is the plan to divert this winter flow through the proposed outlet tunnel and store the same at various points in the Snake river drainage and to again flow the lake to its natural high water level.

GENERAL DISQUE DEMANDS RIGHT TO GIVE TESTIMONY

By the Associated Press. PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—In a letter which he transmitted tonight to the committee, General Disque requested a hearing and named a list of witnesses, army officers and twenty civilians, adding that they all be summoned to testify. In his letter, addressed to Chairman Pezer General Disque said in part: I understand that you have stated that the committee would call me upon its return to Washington, but by the time you get back to Washington, at the rate things have been going, the people of the northwest will have been fed upon so much false evidence and distasteful insinuations that a shadow will have been cast over the spruce production division and the character of myself and those associated with me will have suffered.

It is here in the northwest that we worked and it is here I believe I have, that we won and earned the confidence of decent men, and it is properly and necessarily here that we must see that no misrepresentations of the motives and accomplishments of the spruce production division and the United States Spruce Production Corporation are permitted to go unchallenged and unanswered. I therefore request that I receive an opportunity to present the facts regarding spruce production to your committee before it leaves Portland.

RENTERIA NOT DEAD, BUT IN U. S., CLAIM

Missive Sent to Douglas Paper Gives Another Story on Bandit's Episode.

AVERS AVIATORS WERE BADLY FRIGHTENED

Intelligence Officers Believe Document Spurious, but will Make Thorough Investigation.

By the Associated Press. DOUGLAS, Ariz., Aug. 29.—A letter purporting to have been written by Jesus Renteria, bandit captor of Lieutenants Harold G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis of the United States Army, who held them for ransom, has been received by the Douglas Daily Dispatch, claiming to have evaded the expeditious forces sent to effect their capture. The letter was turned over to civil air military authorities who are investigating, though they said they believed it a fake.

The letter mailed in Douglas, August 23, said in part: "I am very glad to read your paper of Tuesday, 26th instant, saying that I had been killed and that the notice had been confirmed, and seeing that such a notice is absurd, I wish, therefore, to inform you of some facts about me to convince you that I am still alive. I crossed to Mexico a few days ago in company of four friends of mine, hoping to find an opportunity of making some money, as I had been out of work for some months, and fortunately the opportunity we met were splendid. "One day we were wandering in the Ojima district when we discovered three men without a mile ahead of us. At first we thought they were Mexican government patrol, but when we approached I realized that they were travelers. Then I decided to make them give us what they had, but unfortunately they didn't have much, so we took them to a little house in the hills, and I made one of them to write to his government telling them to get $15,000 for their release, then I tried to converse and told them that I had worked in Kansas and that I had lived in the United States for six years, but they were so frightened that they didn't even speak the English."

"I told them not to be afraid anything would happen to them, because I was sure the United States government wouldn't refuse to give the money, but they kept on trembling and saying the United States and Mexico were good friends, and I told them that we Mexicans were friends of the American people, but that we hated the people of the United States. "When we got the money we knew perfectly well somebody would try to capture us and I told my friends to come to the United States again and we returned to the United States. "The Editor of your paper has printed that I will eat the liver of four or five of them and capture one of us. Perhaps he thinks this is only a bluff but that he must be patient. As I hope to God I will get a chance to show him that I am not a bluff. "The Editor has accused me as I cannot write English pretty well because I am not accustomed to it, but I guess you will understand it all right. Thanking you in advance, I remain your friend. "Jesus Renteria. "Pablo Sanchez.

AVIATORS STILL AMONG MISSING

By the Associated Press. SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 29.—Lieutenant Frederick Waterhouse and Cecil Connelly, army aviators from Maxwell field, missing since August 29, have just been found. Previous reports were that troops of Governor Teodoro Cantu of Lower California, Mexico, had located them.

Denial of the earlier report was made here tonight by Major F. Hartwell, commander of American border patrol, who have been searching for the missing men.

Major Hartwell said he got his information direct from American Captain Smith, Bismarck, Lower California, who telegraphed him. Captain Trullio, who was reported to have informed Colonel Barranca that the men were safe, knew nothing of the affair. Smith told Major Hartwell the aviators were still in the American papers.

YARDMEN AND TRAINMEN TO RESUME WORK

Los Angeles Strikers Vote to Listen to the Warning of Hines.

SOME DECLARE THEY WILL NOT RETURN

Resumption of Service Is Also Decided Upon by the Men at San Bernardino.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—By a slight majority 200 switchmen and yardmen who have been on strike here voted to resume work tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock.

The vote was taken at a mass meeting tonight, which was addressed by A. F. Whitney, international vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

TO STAY ON STRIKE. Following the vote, those who balked at the return to work declared that, despite the result, they would not return to work. A meeting of those, opposed to returning, was called.

Earlier engineers, firemen and conductors signified their intention of returning, if the switchmen voted to do so. Shortly after the yardmen and brakemen here voted to return, members of the "big four" in San Bernardino announced their decision to get back to their jobs tomorrow morning. The four local brotherhoods, including trainmen, conductors, engineers, and firemen, following a meeting here tonight, voted by a two-thirds majority to return to work at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The vote, which was 263 to 142 in favor of returning to work, also means the return of brakemen to work. The members of the four railway brotherhoods had been on strike here for more than a week, following a walk-out of trainmen in sympathy with a strike of trainmen of the Pacific Electric Interurban railway system.

While the yardmen here, who were the first of the railroad crafts to go out, were not included in the announcement, according to first reports, it was anticipated they would follow the lead of the "big four" members. The same anticipation applies to trainmen at Barnton, who also were on strike.

Follows International Orders. The action was predicated directly on the orders of the international officers of the railway brotherhoods to the union members to return to work, and followed a warning by Director General Hines of the railroad administration that unless the men were at work by 7 o'clock tomorrow morning the government would operate the trains.

COMPERS DISCUSSES UNREST IN NATION

Confers With President Who Is Asked to Intervene in Steel Workers' Dispute.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—After two days of conferences with other officials of the American Federation of Labor, President Hummel Gompers, who returned from Europe this week rather unexpectedly, discussed the disturbed labor situation over the country with President Wilson today at the White House.

No announcement was made on behalf of the president and Mr. Gompers, and the union officials who accompanied him, including representatives of the steel workers, accordingly refused to discuss what had transpired. It is known, however, that the president was asked to intervene in the dispute between the steel workers and the United States Steel corporation over wages, hours, working conditions and the right of collective bargaining. Before going to the White House the committee of steel workers made public a telegram to the council at Gary, Ind., in which they charged that the corporation was discharging union men at a number of its plants in an effort to force the strike issue before the president could act. The men were urged not to strike until all efforts at a peaceful settlement had been made.

The federation's executive committee held two sessions during the day. The utmost secrecy was maintained, and it was understood that a number of labor disturbances over the country were discussed, with particular attention given to the situation as it affected railway and steel workers.

Some officials say in the message sent to the railroad shippers yesterday and to the steel workers today a disposition on the part of the labor leaders to follow the suggestion of President Wilson that the matter of wages and working conditions be held by arbitration until government agencies had had time to carry out their program looking to a reduction of living costs and a general restoration of conditions to something approaching normal. While the steel workers who were meeting with the president, the labor situation was discussed at the capitol. Senator Poindexter, republican, Washington, urged speedy action on his resolution asking the president to call a conference between representatives of capital and labor. Chairman Keenan of the senate labor committee, said the house and senate committees planned joint action.

GARRANZA DOES NOT KNOW POLE

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 29.—Ygnacio Bonilla, Mexican ambassador to the United States, has been directed by President Carranza to deny statements accredited to Dr. Paul Bernabe Alondro, a Pole, who served in the United States military intelligence department during the war, to the effect that Dr. Alondro acted as intermediary between Heinrich von Eckhardt, German minister to Mexico, and President Carranza. Dr. Alondro's statements were published by the newspapers here having been received from special correspondents in the United States. Senator Bonilla is also instructed to deny all other assertions of Dr. Alondro concerning the chief executive. "The individual is unknown to me," the president said today in a statement, "and probably is of unbalanced mind."

DOUBLE USES OF REHABILITATION ACT

More Injured Servicemen to Be Allowed to Enter Schools and Colleges

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Plans to more than double the number of disabled soldiers, sailors and marines receiving rehabilitation training were announced today by the federal board of vocational education. The increase will be made at the fall opening of schools and colleges. More than seven thousand men are now receiving training.

"There have been delays in carrying out the work of vocational rehabilitation," said the board's statement, "but most of them have been due to causes which were beyond the control of the board and which it has made unusual efforts to remove."

"Nearly six months elapsed after the passage of the Rehabilitation act before the agents of the federal board were admitted to the military and naval hospitals. This exclusion was a necessary war measure; but during the period as well as during the fourteen months which elapsed between our entering the war and June 27, 1918, when the act became law, thousands of disabled men were discharged and were scattered all over the United States without any knowledge of their rights under the law. Altogether, more than a year and a half of precious time was lost."

"Under the terms of the Rehabilitation act the federal board could put no disabled man in training until after he was declared commensurable by the War Risk Insurance bureau. The amendment curing this difficulty and allowing prompt action by the federal board did not become a law till July 11, 1919."

"The board has made excellent progress, for on August 1, it had established contact with 130,000 of the 150,000 men registered, and advised nearly 105,000 and had approved over 12,000 cases for training and had put 7,152 men in training."

"Those men, as of July 24, were in 449 public and private secondary schools, in 169 institutions of college grade and in 343 industries and hospitals. They are being trained for 1,363 different lines of activity and by utilizing existing means of training rather than creating new schools for rehabilitation, the men are being better trained and millions of dollars have been saved to the United States. Since legislation giving the board a free hand did not pass until July, when most schools and colleges are closed, the full measure of training activity cannot be reached until the latter part of September. At that time the number in training will be much more than doubled."

FLAMES SURROUND FORESTER'S CREW

Men Compelled to Submerge in Stream to Save Themselves From Lavinging Fire.

By the Associated Press.

He said Girard and his crew were caught between two large fires and forced to submerge themselves in a creek, from which it seemed doubtful they could escape alive. "Since no casualties were reported, however," Mr. McLaren said, "it is thought that none of the men of Girard's crew had any other fire fighters who had close companions from the flames at that time lost their lives."

DECREASING EXPORTS

American exports during July fell off, from the previous month, to the extent of $350,000,000. At the same time imports rose to $345,000,000, said to be the highest figure on record.

Ordinarily it would be natural to lament this showing. We usually rejoice over every increase in our export trade and get nervous when imports mount up. But just now there is a disposition to view the situation with a certain satisfaction.

There has been a growing realization lately that the American export trade was getting dangerously large, for two reasons.

It was taking out of the country a tremendous volume of commodities, largely foodstuffs, leather, wool, cotton and clothing, and was raising American prices in proportion as it was depleting the domestic supply. This has been one of the main causes of high prices in this country.

At the same time the big excess of exports over imports was piling up a "favorable balance of trade" so huge that international exchange was becoming unsettled, and financiers began to feel nervous. It goods abroad on credit, and whether the United States could afford to sell any more goods abroad on credit, and whether the debts already owed us for exports were safe. The "favorable balance" seemed to be becoming "unfavorable" from its very excess.

The present increase of imports and decrease of exports helps to remedy these two evils. As goods stop moving to Europe in great volume, prices here at home stop rising. There is also a certain easement of prices due to the growth of imports. They provide a more plentiful supply of things needed in the United States, and by helping to pay for the exports they help to steady foreign credit—which in turn steadies credit in this country and helps to keep down prices.

If this tendency went too far, it would naturally be a misfortune. But there is still plenty of leeway. We still sold Europe, last month, $225,000,000 more than we bought from her. It is well for a while to have some of Europe's indebtedness to us settled with real merchandise instead of mere additional promises to pay. It will be time enough, later on, to rejoice again over the mounting trade balances.

SOLDIERS AND PROHIBITION

Opponents of prohibition were saying last winter and spring: "Wait until you hear from the army. The men who went abroad to fight the battles of freedom will have something to say when they come back and find what a blow is being dealt to personal liberty in the United States."

Those men have nearly all come back now, and they seem to have very little to say regarding prohibition—or any other public issue, for that matter. There has been no organized protest against the wartime dry law, nor against the federal dry amendment. In fact, where there was opportunity for organized protest, the soldiers have expressly refused to take advantage of it.

Henry D. Lindsley, chairman of the executive committee of the American Legion, the soldiers' organization corresponding to the G. A. R. and Spanish War Veterans, when asked recently what the attitude of the army was toward prohibition, replied: "Neither the Paris convention nor the St. Louis convention of the American Legion took any action relative to prohibition, nor has the national executive committee taken any such action. Furthermore, the question of committing the legion either against prohibition or for prohibition has never been discussed either at the conventions stated, nor by the national executive committee of the legion.

"I believe that I correctly represent the views of the members of the American Legion in stating that as an organization it will take no part in any movement either for prohibition or against prohibition."

It seems to follow that the majority of soldiers acquiesce in the prohibition regime, just as do the majority of other citizens, and are willing to have it thoroughly tried out, in the hope that it will accomplish the benefits claimed for it.

THE PEAK OF PRICES

It seems probable, as the president said in his statement to the railroad shop workers, that the peak of high prices has been reached. There have been few increases noted during the present month, and some slight decreases. There is some reason, indeed, for declaring that a definite downward movement has already started.

It might be said that this tendency is artificial, a merely temporary reaction due to the sudden activity of the government against profiteers. But it cannot be altogether due to governmental action. Even if it were, these public activities are likely to have some lasting effects. Added to them, however, are general economic conditions which are probably more powerful than legislative bodies and law courts.

The harvests are coming in. That generally begins to lower prices somewhat about this time of year. And on the whole, they are big crops, a fact promising continued relief through the winter if those harvests are not mishandled. Moreover, the huge movement of commodities to Europe, which has done so much to force up prices in America, and which threatened a continued scarcity, is shrinking considerably.

These are hopeful factors, which will surely operate beneficially if no mischievous action is taken to counteract them.

Let the public authorities continue their efforts to stop exorbitant profits. Let congress enact whatever legislation is needed to protect the public. Let producers and dealers get commodities to market as promptly and economically as possible. Let the public practice greater thrift. Let labor organizations refrain for the present, at least, from making extravagant demands for higher pay or shorter hours, just as they expect manufacturers and merchants to refrain from charging extravagant prices. Let the public get over the notion that it is always advantageous to ship stuff abroad, even though we may need it here at home, and even though foreign nations already owe us far more for goods than they are able to pay.

Take advantage of the situation. Conditions seem to be shaping favorably. Help, don't hinder. Let everybody concerned take a chance on optimism and co-operation.

May Speak From Platform.
Whether the president will make speeches from the rear platform of his train has not yet been decided. It has not for himself the task of making 30 addresses in 29 days and to carry out this program it will be necessary for him to deliver two speeches a day for eight days of the trip as his itinerary does not call for any addresses on Sunday.

The president will leave Washington before General Pershing returns from overseas. He had planned to meet the general in Missouri, probably at St. Louis, but under the revised itinerary he will be well across the continent when General Pershing lands in New York.

INTERVENTION IS URGED.
EL PASO, TEX., Aug. 29.—Intervention in Mexico and the adoption of the league of nations "to make the world safe for American citizens," were urged by Governor W. P. Hobby of Texas in a speech made tonight at a dinner given in his honor by friends here.

The statement was made in the presence of Consul General Andres G. Garcia, and other Mexican officials who were guests at the dinner.
"Our glorious victory in the great war made the world safe for democracy," Governor Hobby said.
"Now we must have intervention in Mexico and a league of nations to ensure that safety to every place in the world. The lives and property of American citizens should be protected in Mexico and all over the world."

Glories in Victory.
"I glory that our nation had its big share in bringing victory for the allied cause and that the men who wear its uniform did so much to increase the respect for our flag in foreign lands. Now is the time for us to demand respect for us and for the world war citizens all over the world," Governor Hobby declared.

Major General Robert L. Howze, newly appointed commander of the El Paso military district, and Brigadier General James M. Erwin, retired commander of the district, were both given ovations when they started speaking.

SHOULD COMMAND RESPECT.
EL PASO, TEX., Aug. 29.—"It seems reasonable to expect that our neighbors, the Mexicans, should respect us and, as the world war is over and practically all our recent distinctions are at home again, those in authority, if they see fit, are well able to adopt and carry out a policy that should bring about favorable and lasting relations between the United States and Mexico," said General Howze in a written statement made public tonight.

"This policy should bring about favorable results so far as concerning first our own interests and those of our friends, subjects of Great Britain and France who have vast property holdings in Mexico; and, second, as far as concerning Mexico in establishing in establishing a livable form of government for the Mexican people who may choose to live."
"Fortunately, American business matters on the border are in the very best hands, those of Major General Joseph T. Dickman, at San Antonio and those of Major General Joseph T. Dickman, at San Antonio who is in the best hands, those of our strong chief of staff, General March."

General Howze came subject from New York arriving there Sunday from the occupied area of Germany where he commanded the Third division of the First Army. He was formerly's command of this district before his overseas service. He relieved Brigadier General James M. Erwin, who returns to his former rank of colonel September 1.

WARRANTS INVESTIGATION.
SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29.—Declaring circumstances attending the recent payments of ransom demanded by Jesus Renteria, Mexican bandit, to his American associate Davis and Ferguson, American aviators, was the subject of further investigation, J. J. Kilpatrick, commander of the southern department, said today. He said a report he had asked General Dickman to investigate a troop A of the 18th Cavalry from Candelaria.

Kilpatrick is the father of Dawkins Kilpatrick, who was specified by Renteria in the intermediary through whom the ransom should be paid.
Troop A, Kilpatrick said, is commanded by Captain Matlock, who negotiated the return of the American aviators.

DIVAN GIVES HIS PLAN FOR RAILROAD CONTROL

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—William Jennings Bryan today laid before the house interstate commerce committee his dual plan of state and federal ownership of railroad lines as a solution of the railroad reorganization problems. In doing so, the former secretary of state denounced private ownership of the railroads as indefensible and intolerable and championed national ownership as political corruption.

"We have never tried government ownership," declared Mr. Bryan, referring to the railroad administration. "An authorized newspaper never would tell that the government took over the railroads when the private owners could not run them. The government has been only in temporary control, and the roads in the hands of those who wanted to see government ownership failed so they could not get the roads back."

Mr. Bryan advocated that the federal government own a skeleton trunk line system, reaching into every state, which in turn would own the other carriers within the state boundaries. He estimated that such a system would cost the government four or five billion dollars, while state ownership would be decided by the people, who might desire for temporary private ownership.

CATHOLIC PARTY DOES NOT FAVOR AIMED INTERVENTION

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 29.—Monsignor Jose Moray Del Rio, archbishop of Mexico and the highest prelate of the Catholic church in the republic, says in an interview published by El Democracia today that the Catholic party of Mexico strongly oppose armed intervention and are seeking in no way to ally themselves with parties favoring intervention.

Excelsior, in an editorial today, sharply criticizes the United States for its "vandalic policy" toward Mexico, which thus far, it says, has only given stimulus to attacks upon the government.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair, when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is busy and troublesome. "Sage Tea," his selling at any drug store for "Wetly's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Wetly's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and youthful appearance! It is not intended for the cure of dandruff, or prevent hair disappearing, and after another trial of disease.

FRENCHMAN MAKES STIRRING ADDRESS

Brings General Discussion on Treaty to End—Expect Ratification Next Week.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Aug. 29.—The general discussion of the ratification of the peace treaty came to a dramatic conclusion this afternoon in the chamber of deputies when after a stirring speech by Albert Thomas, former member of the war council, more than 20 deputies announced their decision to refrain from speaking.

The government was plainly embarrassed, all the ministers gathered around Premier Clemenceau. They conferred for several minutes and finally, Andre Tardieu arose and said the government had anticipated a discussion leading well into next week, but was ready to proceed and would require an hour and a half.

The body was found about 200 feet further down stream and taken from the water by I. H. Perline. Conditions led to the belief that the child had died about 30 minutes earlier. TREATY FOES AGAIN ASSAIL PEACE TERMS Committee Adopts Two More Textual Amendments to Its Provisions.

TOO HARD ON GERMANS ASSERTS SENATOR KNOX

Polish Treaty, With the Rhine Agreements, Is Given to Senate by the President.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The treaty of peace was aggressively assailed by its senate foes again today, the foreign relations committee approving three more textual amendments to its provisions and Senator Knox of Philadelphia, a republican member of the committee and former secretary of state, advising the senate that the only safe way to deal with it was to reject it altogether.

Lines Are Divided. Acting by a vote of 9 to 8 in each case, the committee adopted without extended debate amendments designed to equalize British and American representation in the league of nations, to prevent the British dominions from participating in a league decision affecting any one of them, and to curtail the power of the American representative on the reparations commission which is to collect Germany's reparation bill.

McCumber Stands Firm. Democratic committee members presented a solid front against all of the proposals and were joined by Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, who also had voted against the two amendments adopted prior to today's session. Only one proposed amendment now remains on the committee's calendar, though others may be presented when consideration of the subject is resumed early next week.

Would Reject Treaty. In his closing address, Senator Knox declared that the full purpose of American participation in the war had been accomplished with the armistice, and that there had been no reason for participating in the rest of the European settlement. He said a complete peace treaty could be established by action of congress as soon as three of the other principal powers ratified the treaty, and that the course was to give the enemy terms as many dangerous possibilities of foreign entanglement.

Terms Are Impossible. The peace terms imposed upon Germany, said the Pennsylvania senator, went beyond the pale of international law and would be impossible of enforcement. He characterized them as constituting "not the treaty but the truce of Versailles" and as laying the foundation "for centuries of blood-letting."

Push Treaty Approves. During the day another of the treaties negotiated at Versailles was sent to the senate by President Wilson. It was the treaty made with Poland by the principal powers and signed on June 28. With it the president sent an agreement for occupation of the Rhine signed by the United States and other powers on the same day.

Requested by Lodge. Subsequent to the Rhine treaty, the Rhine agreement, and other data was requested in a letter sent to the White House several days ago by the foreign relations committee, but to this request the president made no reference in his letter of transmittal. Attention was called to the subject, however, in a brief statement by Chairman Lodge in the senate and later Mr. Lodge made public the letter of request saying that the data asked for was a part of the treaty with Germany and of that treaty.

Want Clemenceau Letter. The data called for and not received by the committee included another and previous Rhine agreement and any available drafts of the treaties now under negotiation with Austria, Bulgaria, Turkey and Hungary. Committee members pointed out also that a long statement by Mr. Clemenceau, as president of the peace conference, attached to British and French official copies of the Paris treaty, was not included in the copy sent today by the president.

Henry Presents Plans. A British print of still another Versailles treaty, an air convention between the United States and various other nations, was put into the senator record by Senator Knox. An explanatory note heading the convention said it had not been signed but was being given to the public for their information. Mr. Knox said the plan, apparently, had been followed out in every country except the United States.

ONLY FOUR THOUSAND LEFT IN CITY OF VERDUN PARIS, Aug. 29.—The mayor of Verdun informed M. Clemenceau that only 4,000 people were left out of a population before the war of 140,000 and many of these would have to leave if their homes were not quickly repaired.

ADVISE CITY MEN ON MEAT PRICES

Western Stock Man Declares People Fall to Meat Whole Beef Carcases.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Interjecting some sharp advice and warning the city dwellers as to meat prices, western stockmen today laid before the senate agriculture committee various proposals against the Kenney-Kendrick bills to regulate the packing industry.

"I'm going home and tell my neighbors that we'll have to curtail production to the point where consumers will eat the whole beef carcass," said George T. Donahoe, president of the Kansas State Live Stock association. With J. H. Mercer, cattle commissioner of that state, and others, he said he had been investigating the distribution of meats in all the "big" cities.

"Right in your city of Washington," he told the committee, "I have found the frequencies of beef selling in the retailer for eight cents a pound, and selling to the consumer at 32 cents. We learn there are 709 places here where meat is sold, and we think that 100 would be ample and reduce the cost to consumers too."

Mr. Donahoe opposed the regulatory measures of the Senator Kenney, republican, of Iowa, asked him if he had read the federal trade commission report on the subject.

"I have," replied Donahoe, "and I regret to say I haven't as high a regard for the federal trade commission as an American citizen of my age ought to have."

Mr. Mercer, though opposing the bills, said packers could not relinquish ownership of stockyards in favor of producers.

W. H. Tapp, of Omaha, Neb., livestock broker, gave the committee various suggestions alternative to provisions of the bill. He said that a commission to regulate the industry and administer licenses would be preferable to a single official. J. H. Bacheler, another Nebraska stockman, attacked the entire proposal, as did most of the witnesses heard, and said that the high price agitation was due largely to "people who want six hours work and sixteen hours pay."

"Most of the testimony taken during the last week from producers has been highly favorable to packers," Senator Gronna, republican of North Dakota, pointed out to E. P. Meyers of Hyanis, Neb., "and we are hearing a good deal about the possibility that the packers might have induced you all to come. Did anybody pay your excess on the thing else to get you to come down here for them?"

"I am not in favor of the packers," Mr. Meyers retorted. "I'm speaking in my own interest. Cripple the packing business, license it, and add to the cost of operation and you hit me, because the excess cost will have to come out of the producer."

A. E. Stryker, secretary of the Omaha livestock exchange, said that he met "hundreds of shippers every week and never heard one word in favor of any scheme of headquarter government control over industry. He estimated that independent packers bought 750,000 hogs out of three million shipped to the yards last year."
