MEXICAN HEAD PLEADS CASE FOR HIS LAND

Carranza Discusses Foreigners and Their Property in Message.

DECLARES ALIENS ARE THEMSELVES TO BLAME

Mex. President States the Nation Has Not and Will Not Recognize the Monroe Doctrine.

By the Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1.—A defense of Mexico against foreign objections, particularly from the United States, regarding the lives of foreigners and their property, was contained in a message of President Carranza read at the opening session of congress tonight. Carranza's reference was made in the message to alleged injustices practiced against Mexicans in the United States.

A long list of the alleged offenses was given under the section of the address devoted to foreign relations. The message also defended Mexico's neutrality during the war and protested against charges that the Mexican government was incapable and unwilling to protect foreign lives and property.

League Not Equal to All. In the message President Carranza stated that Mexico did not make admission to the league of nations because, he said, the league did not establish equality for all nations and races. He reiterated that Mexico had not and would not recognize the Monroe doctrine.

Regarding oil legislation, the message said the government was willing to conciliate, but would not sacrifice its national sovereignty. Declaring that in international matters "the honor of Mexico had been guarded with energy and prudence," the president gave four main causes of international friction: American frontier conditions; damages to foreign property in Mexico; damage resulting from injury and deaths of foreigners; and the results of application of law developed from legislation carrying out revolutionary treaties.

Wants Superiority. Regarding the first, which has been marked by punitive expeditions, President Carranza asserted the belief that when an arrangement had been concluded for the reciprocal policing of the frontier, the causes for unpleasantness would disappear. In connection with the second and third he stated that new laws providing for the payment of damages up to the present time, including not only damages suffered during the two revolutions but also those from isolated cases of revolt now existing in various parts of Mexico, both to lives and property and to the honor of Mexico, had been the fault of foreigners nor the negligence of the government would remove cause for complaint.

Should Be More Vigilant. Regarding claims filed because of loss of life or damage to property, the president asserted that the treaty which the government had punished offenders was insignificant. He declared it would be well if diplomats should cause their expressions to exercise more care and be prepared to meet with an improvement of protective measures, causes for complaint would decrease since foreigners would become more of the alertness and ability of the Mexican government to full guarantee.

Opposes the "Oil Interests." Discussing the fourth cause of friction, the president said that this was most serious since it involved a limit of national sovereignty. He took up Americans' declarations expressing the refusal of Mexico to accept the liberty to govern according to her own necessities and not "simply to satisfy the demands of oil interests."

Statements from various government departments which were included in the message were cited by the president to show the country was in a prosperous condition. The deficit of $5,000,000 pesos in 1917, he asserted, had been wiped out until the government is now absolutely solvent with a

ACTORS LEASE MORE HOUSES IN NEW YORK

Have 'Openings' on Labor Day in Place of the Managers, as in the Past.

EQUITY HINTS AT AN EXTENDED CAMPAIGN

May Go Into Production Business on Large Scale; Then 'Won't Recognize the Managers.'

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—New York theatrical producers who for years have made labor day the occasion for the opening of numerous new productions were forced to sit back today and see all the "opening" done by the Actor's Equity association, which, through the aid of the stage bands, electricians and musicians, union, closed nearly all the Broadway houses. The Equity celebrated Labor day by opening three new productions, bringing that number of "cooperative" shows to four.

An "Open an Equity Review," an "Equity Review" was opened at the Regard Avenue theater, designed, it was announced, to replace "the late lamented follies or matinee." Several signs of the managers' opposition to this production, while 50 of the closest of all the striking choristers cavorted in the chorus. The vaudeville bill which has been running at the Lexington opera house has shifted to the Brooklyn Academy of Music and a new bill staged at the Lexington. A "variety" bill was opened at the Thomanesky theater on the East Side.

Lease Lenox Theater. While the question was still unsettled tonight as to whether managers contemplated recognizing the Equity, a rumor was circulating about Equity headquarters that the organization might at an early date refuse to recognize the managers. This it was explaining, moreover, that the Equity was preparing to go into the production business on a large scale.

Opera Is Affected. Portland Galla's English Opera company, which was scheduled to sing "The Mikado" at the Shubert theater tonight, was forced to call off its performance when stage hands and electricians refused to work in the Shubert house.

The first case of the strike affecting a motion picture production was reported tonight when the Bronx Opera House was forced into darkness by the stage hands and motion picture operators' union.

STRIKE ON IN BOSTON. BOSTON, Sept. 1.—All six theaters in this city at which traveling companies have been presenting attractions were closed today by a strike of actors, stage hands, and musicians. The managers of these theaters and one other which has not yet opened its regular season, in a joint statement tonight said that "the theaters of Boston playing legitimate attractions will be closed indefinitely."

THREE ARE AFFECTED. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 1.—Three legitimate theaters, due to operators' strike, were unable to so because of the actors' strike. The Shubert-Mikado, the Mayflower, Klav and Branting's new theater here and the Providence opera house are thus affected.

CHICAGO SHOPMEN REJECT PROPOSAL

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—National shopmen of the Chicago district, voted against acceptance of the four cent increase in wages announced last week by the American Federation of Labor.

Director General Wilson according to announcement tonight by J. B. Saunders, district secretary. Mrs. Saunders said that the result of the vote showed that 96 per cent of the men had voted against acceptance.

Results have been forwarded to the international officers at Washington, he announced.

WAR MOTHERS WILL MEET THIS MONTH

Mrs. T. Hedraun Tells of Plans to Be Followed by Local Organization.

"We have been having an horticulture recently," said Mrs. T. H. Irwin, county War Mother of the War Mothers of America, "and now we are ready to call our meetings again. The first will be held the third Monday in September."

When asked about the plans of the national organization extending to wives and sisters, an invitation to become members of the organization, Mrs. Irwin said:

"At our state meeting at Pocatello last June our vote showed that the state was not favorable to the organization to accept its members and other than war mothers. However, invitations have been issued for the national convention to all like organizations to be present and discuss the advisability of making just an organization cover all. Nothing left over can be stated until the convention."

"I personally would like to have the War Mother of America remain as it is, although I can see the feasibility of the combining of the many into the one main strong organization."

QUIET LABOR DAY IN TWIN FALLS

Labor day passed by quietly in Twin Falls.

In the morning a parade by labor organizations was followed by clearing up in the park where labor questions were discussed.

In the afternoon the ball game drew a few, many remained, on the streets while out shows in different parts of the city attracted others.

Police officers, as well as Sheriff Sprague, reported a quiet day, without any large accidents. The hospital reported that there were no emergency cases during the day.

One automobile accident was reported, a little girl having been knocked down by a car.

FIVE WOMEN ARE UP ON THE THEATRON CHARGES. PARKS, Sept. 1.—The Little Court martial, which recently sentenced the former Richard to death, now has before it five women, four of whom are from 20 to 32, while the fifth is 62. The confession of one of them shows that they denounced soldiers and civilians wholesale, besides giving information as to hidden stores of wheat, oats and wine.

STARTS TODAY

URGES LABOR TO REMAIN CALM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—In a message to be read at Labor day meetings throughout the country today and in which he announced he soon would call a conference of representatives of labor and industry, President Wilson appealed to every citizen to promote production and to refrain from anything that would tend to increase the cost of living, expressed gratification with the manner in which leaders of organized labor had received his plan to meet the wage situation and hoped the workers would move with the government instead of against it, in the solution of the domestic problem.

In discussing the proposed conference which likely will be called within a few days, Mr. Wilson said the fundamental means of bettering the whole relationship of capital and labor "and putting the whole question of wages upon another footing" will be discussed. Plans for such a conference have been urged by both members of congress and cabinet members.

"The recommendations urge American organized labor to cease wage and hour controversies in order to increase production and restore normal conditions. They express the hope that no new strikes will be ordered except to relieve workers from intolerable oppression."

Business men, it explained, were in a state of apprehension due to rapidly changing conditions since the signing of the armistice and "industry had been disturbed and dislocated to a degree never before experienced."

DISPUTE AIDISES AN FO DEAD MAN'S CITIZENSHIP. EL PASO, Sept. 1.—Efforts to clear up the dispute concerning citizenship of Adam Schaefer, a mining man who was killed by Emilio Pinos, Zacatecas, Mexico, August 28, tonight had failed to determine whether the man was American, English or Mexican citizenship. Schaefer is said to have been in Mexico twenty-two years and have been considered exempt from bandit raids because of kindness to the natives.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO MEN WHO TRAINED AT FUNSTON. CAMP FUNSTON, Kan., Sept. 1.—Paying a tribute to the men who trained at Camp Funston and laying emphasis upon the need for adequate military preparation for the future, Major General Leonard Wood today unveiled the Camp Funston memorial, a huge stone shaft dedicated to the soldiers who received their training for the world war here. The 28th and 30th divisions and a part of the 4th division, in addition to thousands of replacement troops were trained here.

TO ASSESS PAVING ON FRONT FOOTAGE

Call for Bids on September 22—Several Other Bids to Be Opened During Month.

City council last evening decided to assess property owners in the new paving districts according to front footage instead of on a pro rata basis on lateral paving. This decision settles a question on which council had been divided for the past two weeks. The members of the council stood for a proportional assessment, while the other two members held out for the plan that has been in vogue in past paving in Twin Falls.

Another matter of much interest to citizens settled by council last evening was the decision to call for bids for having an authorized by the recent bond issue, on September 22, paving in three districts to be laid upon.

Council decided last night to call for bids for sidewalk construction on September 22, while bids for the construction of a home for an employee of the filter house will be opened the coming Monday and will likely for preparing of the paving.

ARREST TWO IN COOPER MURDER

By the Associated Press. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Working on the theory that Robin J. Cooper, prominent attorney, whose body was found in a creek near his home Saturday morning, was murdered by an illicit liquor dealer, police early tonight arrested J. F. Penston and George Jordan, a woman, who are being questioned in regard to the murder.

Both are being held without bail and are charged with violating the Reed amendment. Penston is also accused of carrying a pistol.

According to the police Penston is a dealer in liquor of a high grade, and in thought to have made dealings with members of exclusive clubs. When arrested Penston and the woman were in an automobile containing the police say, 150 quarts of whiskey.

REFUSES TO GIVE SENATE OTHER PACTS

Wilson Declares to Do So Would Encroach on His Rights.

RHINE OCCUPATION PLAN IS DISCUSSED

President Says Inadvertent to Give to Public Now—Lodge Says Published in Britain on July 4.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The request of the foreign relations committee for latest drafts of the proposed treaties with Germany's allies has been refused by President Wilson on the ground that compliance would set a precedent concerning material not in the public domain. Although the conclusion on the presidential power of treaty negotiation.

In the exchange of letters made public today, Mr. Wilson wrote that it was "out of the question" to accede to the committee's suggestion, and that Chairman Lodge replied that although the treaties were closely connected with the treaty with Germany, the president undoubtedly had authority to keep information about them from the senate if he chose.

The correspondence, apparently brought another impasse between the president and the committee on the best debated subject of what information the senators should have in their consideration of the treaty with Germany. Mr. Lodge and others have declared that compliance would not intelligently until all of the Versailles treaties were before it, but at the White House conference Mr. Wilson told the committee that the form to be taken by the treaty under negotiation, forming largely on the senate's action regarding the instrument now before it.

A copy of the agreement of June 16 relative to the Rhine district also was denied the committee, the president writing that it would only become practical after the treaty was ratified and that its publication now might be embarrassing to other governments. Mr. Speaker Lodge replied that it already had been published in a British white book and from that source had been circulating in the country through the Congressional Record.

The correspondence was made public by Mr. Lodge, who indicated that no further effort would be made by the committee in the matter.

The President's letter to Senator Lodge:

"Allow me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of August 23 and to say that I shall into pleasure in laying before the senate the treaty with Poland, signed at Versailles on the 25th of June; and the agreement between the United States, Belgium, the British empire and France of the one part, and Germany of the other part with regard to the military occupation of the territories of the Rhine, also signed at Versailles on the 25th of June.

"The declaration of the 16th of June to which you refer was a mere declaration of policy and does not become in any way pertinent until the treaty is ratified. My impression is that it is of a high degree of embarrassment would be caused, not to the United States, but to the countries with which we must necessarily co-operate in many particulars in the execution of the treaty, if it were communicated now. It will, of course, be made public in due time.

In Reply of Negotiation. "With regard to the treaties with Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey it would be part of the question for me to submit them in any form, even to the committee on foreign relations. They are in process of negotiation, are subject to change and reconsideration until completed and signed.

"I am sure that the committee on foreign relations will appreciate the undesirability of creating the precedent which would be created by submitting treaties in their draft form. It would tend to take the function of

PERSHING LEAVES FRANCE FOR HOME

Hidden Farewell by Marshal Foch, Who Fights With Pride to American Accomplishments.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 1.—General John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary force, sailed from here today on the transport Leviathan for the United States. The steamer left port at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Marshal Foch came aboard the transport shortly before she sailed and made a feeling address to the departing American commander.

"In leaving France," said the marshal, "you leave your dead in our hands. Oh our soil we will care for them religiously and zealously as bearing witness of the powerful aid you brought us. These dead will bring from America many thoughts of remembrance and pious visits, and will stand more strongly our already close union."

"It," concluded the marshal, "the clouds of war should gather again in the future, would not these dead arise from their tombs and make their voices heard, since more by a world which already knows that the same cause, the cause of liberty, has united us since the time of Washington and La Fayette?"

"You have done no the signal honor," he said, "of paying me a final visit. It is fitting that you should be the last to whom I say farewell, because of our intimate services together in the days of anxiety and victory.

"The American army, in fulfillment of the wish of the people, came to France because we stood for the same principles of right and because the common ideals of the two countries called for mutual action upon this foundation. Close comradeship and co-operation rapidly moulded our fresh and aggressive young manhood into an army which, under you as its allied leader, was to turn the tide of war.

"To have fought beside the glorious army of France, and been of your people here during more than two years has given our relations an affectional touch and makes our parting one of sadness. But in these days when there is an abiding confidence between our peoples which insures to you our constant friendship and our common purpose in behalf of humanity.

"In leaving with France our dead, we are conscious to feel that their graves will be a sacred shrine that will still more firmly bind us together."

General Pershing replied by bidding farewell to France in the person of the marshal, "to her gallant soldiers, to her patriotic men and to her noble women."

"Recalling with emotion the hours we have lived together—some of them full of anguish, some glorious—I am struck hard in the heart in passing with you the last moments of your stay among us. On your arrival, you said: 'La Fayette! We are here!' Allow a French soldier of today to return thanks to you, and in a few words recall the work you have done for the rights and liberty of the world."

Marshal Foch then reviewed the American effort, and continued: "This army, raised in all haste, with still only elementary instruction, recently organized and commanded by young officers, without military tradition, passed rapidly into your hands. You have shown yourself to be in the highest sense an organizer, soldier, chief and great servant of your country, crowning the generous efforts and noble spirit of America with victory by your armistice."

"Then the U. S. general and Marshal Foch walked arm in arm to the camp plank, exchanging final salutes as the marshal stepped ashore.

PAUL MAKES FUN OF TWIN FALLS

Who Burt Squire, in Which Hart Features Himself and Four Others' By Tune of 20 to 8.

There upon a time in the years dead and 'gone there was a baseball team in Twin Falls. And that baseball team grew in efficiency day by day until finally it became the greatest and best baseball team in all southern Idaho.

"That that was once upon a time. Now—
There is a baseball team (2) in Twin Falls that in the parent aggregation of ball tossers that ever represented a town, even a town one sixty-ninth as small as the home of the said baseball team.

All of which is just a short cut way of saying that the Twin Falls Team took its usual kicking labor day.

Of course the crowd was nothing to boast of by any one. Actual count may have shown 21 people and a boy present in addition to the fellows that were in suits on the diamond.

The score was 20 to 8.

Yes—let us finish—in favor of Paul.

The game was featured by one thing—the number of pitchers that were put into the game—twelve. First (Oliver) went in and lasted two innings. Hart yanked him because the fielders couldn't stop a thing. Christian went in and lasted until he threw one to wide and Hart yanked him out. Then Miller came to pitch. He twirled one funny and the crowd yelled for Fix to fix it. Fix didn't do so bad for a moment or two but when the moment passed he too blew and Hart yanked him. Hart evidently was tired of yanking and so he went into the box himself.

Now George is a good fellow and we like him and he deserved more credit than any other man that has won a Twin Falls uniform this year, for he has saved the team for us in the future—but by George he can't pitch. And he didn't pitch.

So Paul won the game.

Slim Stanley, sugarbush sage, declares he got a box score of the affair but if he did he should be ashamed to acknowledge it. Anyone that could count the errors in the fracas would have an eye on him like a porcupine. Eleven was as far as we could count. This shows every man but Lachance and Christian that played made at least one error, while Fix made two and Oliver two. Eighteen singles were made against the five men who served time in the box for Twin Falls while Twin Falls made 11 hits off the two heat pitchers. The game lasted as follows: Horset to goodness (they did), Twin Falls, Neuman 1; just as the last ship passed the Oregon Lachance, c; B. Watson, 2b; Christian, 1b, p; G. Watson, 2b; Fix, rfp-2b; Babaska, 3b; Oliver, p, Linville, cf.

MEXICAN JOAN OF ARC IS PRISONER

Woman Who Ruled Supreme at Juárez Sold to Have Been in Muting.

JUARIZ, Mex., Sept. 1.—General Carmen Alvarado arrested in Chihuahua City with her husband and charged with having been implicated in the mutiny there, became famous here in the winter of 1912 when she galloped into the plaza one night after Orozco had abandoned the town, took possession of the military headquarters and reigned supreme until next day when she rode away to join her husband after several persons had been shot and killed. She was known locally as the Mexican "Joan of Arc."

Details of the attempted coup d'état by which Villa was to obtain control of the Chihuahua garrión and city, continue to be revealed. The plot as originally formed was to have the federal artillery officers and enlisted men revolt, man the guns on Alvarado's plaza, then take possession of the military headquarters and be joined by the infantry and cavalry included in the mutiny. All the plans had been carefully made for this to take place at dawn on August 7.

All of the gates of the city were closed and a hunt was started through the city under pretense of looking for Villa spies. The leaders were soon arrested and many valuable papers captured. Additional arrests followed, but were cancelled and the mutiny held up.

The mutiny plot was said to have had ramifications in the states of Coahuila, Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon and Durango, as shown by the capture of the city of the conspirators. No other revolt plots were detected in the garrións of the states, it was announced.

"Business is being retarded because we are hoping for, or fearing, lower prices, but above the maze of these conflicting arguments one fact stands out prominently: We can return to neither pre-war conditions nor to pre-war prices.

Every thoughtful employer of labor realizes that the wage earner is entitled to proportionately more of the comforts and conveniences of life than fell to his share before the war. Every thoughtful buyer should realize that the price he pays for goods must be in proportion to the increased cost of labor.

Four Miles North of Peavy BRING BOXES

TO OPEN VALLEY OF 10,000 SMOKES

Motion Picture Producers Find Shorter Route to Katmai Phenomenon.

CORDOVA, Alaska, Sept. 1.—Completion of a protected automobile road of 48 miles up the base of the isolated mountain is expected to open to tourists from all parts of the world the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, in the Mount Katmai region of Alaska, about 80 miles north of Kodiak Island.

Enterprising motion picture producers, following scientific expeditions into the strange valley, have returned here with films of the myriad "smokes" and with reports of a shorter and easier route into the district.

When the Katmai volcano erupted in 1912 and covered thousands of square miles with ash and pumice, killing all vegetation and game and wiping out more than one settlement, it was regarded as a great calamity. But the eruption uncovered a strange formation which is declared to be one of the wonders of the world.

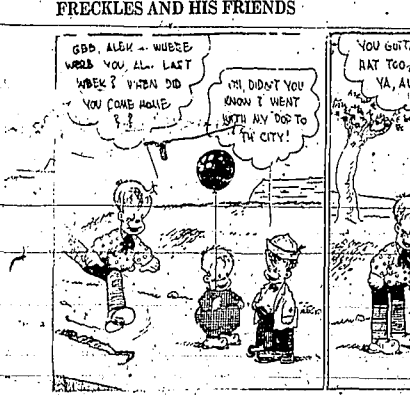

The "smokes" literally thousands of them, are clouds or jets of steam with various pressures, emitted from holes and remarkably colored caverns in the solidified volcanic clay. The entire valley, which is shaped somewhat like a clover leaf, seems to be gradually solidifying. The Indians who recently made a motion picture party, said many square miles covered with semi-liquid hot mud a year ago, are now crossed without difficulty.

In one of the three arms of the valley is a "river" glacier, at the foot of which is a beautiful cobalt blue lake of hot water. In another arm is the falling mountain, down whose face roll continually huge boulders broken off near the snowcapped peaks by vibrations of temperature.

Besides the scenic possibilities the valley is said to possess vast deposit of virtually pure sulphur, arsenic and other chemicals. Black sand was found in many streams indicating possibilities of gold.

The atmosphere, resulting from the unique association of steam, hot mud and the eternal snow, which ring the valley, is reported remarkably bracing. There is no wood in the valley

A RAILROAD STRIKE?

The first thought of most people, perhaps, on finding that the government had refused the demands of the railroad shop workers, was that there would now be a big, disastrous strike.

It is quite likely that the first impulse of the men concerned was to strike. But already it seems very doubtful that any such action will be taken. The strike referendum has been ordered, and the various local unions will proceed to ballot; but while no certain information is obtainable, it grows more probable every day that the very men who were recently so eager to strike will end by voting to remain at work.

They have been moved to sober second thought by the statement issued by their national representatives along with the ballot-order, particularly by the words:

"Practically every class of railroad employes has now submitted requests for very substantial increases over existing rates of pay. It is well that our members give very serious consideration to this fact. If there is to be any additional general increase in the wages of railroad employes, the federated shop trades will receive the same consideration. Don't fail to give this statement full thought, and don't forget that if the federated shop trades become involved in a strike now, you are striking alone to force an increase for the 2,000,000 railroad employes."

The powerful railroad brotherhoods, while declaring that they must have more pay if the cost of living does not drop, are carefully refraining from strike threats. Moreover, they are indirectly counseling moderation on the part of the shop-workers. Particularly sound advice has been given by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers who said in a recent statement:

"The solution of the wage problem, not only on the railroads, but in all other lines of business, lies in a reduction of the living cost—not in increased wages. For the past year or so we have seen wages advanced and have watched living costs mount to the new level. Then we have enjoyed another raise and then again costs approach and soon exceed the new level.

"This race has got to stop. The remedy lies in checking the high cost of living. No matter how high you make wages, living costs have demonstrated that they can climb as fast—in fact, they take delight in so doing."

This is the same convincing argument set forth by the president in his statement to the shop trades. It is a powerful re-enforcement of the plea to co-operate with the government by waiting patiently and giving it a fair chance to do what it can to lower prices by eliminating profiteering and other causes of high costs.

A CITY FOR SALE

Surely no sale in recorded history is more remarkable than that announced by the United States government to take place at Nitro, W. Va., on September 30. The entire city of Nitro is to be sold to the highest bidder.

This is a real city, embracing a complete industrial community, covering 1800 acres, with 737 manufacturing buildings and housing accommodations for 20,000 people. There are 1500 portable houses, 75 permanent houses, a big hospital and school house, and many hotels, boarding houses, stores, restaurants, moving picture theaters, etc. There is even a municipal transportation system consisting of 37 miles of railroad track with rolling stock. The city was built by the government as a war plant and contains the second largest smokeless powder factory in the world.

Here is a domain worthy of an old-world lord! Anyone coming into possession of it might well be compared to the Duke of Westminster, who owns a considerable part of London, or any of the other great landlords of the British peerage.

All sorts of problems arise in connection with this unique proposal. We have had many kinds of monopoly in the United States, but have we ever had monopolistic ownership of a whole city? Is such monopoly to be tolerated, any more than an industrial or commercial monopoly? Is it permissible for any man or group of men to own all the real-estate and intangible assets of a community, with the industrial, commercial and political control that would Perhaps, though, it is unnecessary to worry about the matter. The purchaser of that city will really buy only the material property, the land and houses and factories and transportation system. He cannot buy the inhabitants. If they do not like the new owner, they can move away. Or they can stay, and in very large measure control the city through their votes.

After all, it is not land and buildings that constitute a city. It is citizens. Athens of ancient glory was the Athenians. Rome was the Romans. So it is with our own municipalities. The free city, the superior city, is the city of free and superior people.

DAYLIGHT

There is no reason for wringing the hands over the repeal of the daylight saving law. Anybody who likes to get up early in the morning can still do so without being arrested.

With a little planning the time can be used so that although the business day may end an hour later than under the daylight saving regime, still, much can be accomplished in the way of daylight enjoyment.

The odd tasks—the extra bit of work which would have been left until the end of the day, can be tackled before the regular day's work begins. The office books can be made up, the extra letter written, the repair job attended to, the machine washed, or an hour's work can be put in in shop or garden.

Then, when the end of the business day comes, there will be no odd job hanging like a sword of Damocles over the worker's head; he can go forth, free to enjoy what shreds of time and daylight are left to him.

However it be arranged, nobody has any more nor any less than all the time there is. What he does with it depends not upon the law but upon himself.

BRITISH FOOD CONTROL

Great Britain has a "food controller" with rather autocratic powers. He has accomplished a good deal, but he makes no pretense of really controlling the situation.

"Without increased production," he told the striking coal-miners recently, "we shall never get rid of the burden of high prices. Miners and other workers exercise a more potent influence on food prices than I do. We have to persuade the miners and workers generally in a recognition of their responsibilities, because when they slack in their work they do harm to every member of the population."

It is the same in the United States, and everywhere else.

Straight from Poplar Bluff, Mo., comes the story of a wild grape vine growing around a hickory tree and producing hickory nuts instead of grapes. This just goes to show that prohibition may drive even a wild grape vine to extremes.

MISS DETROIT 3D WINS GOLF CUP

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Sept. 1.—"Gin" Wood, driving the Miss Detroit II won the third and final heat for the gold cup on the Detroit river course this afternoon. Wood covered the 30 miles in 22:43, an average speed of 45 miles an hour. W. E. Babson, driving Miss Detroit II, was second. The Eleventh Hour, piloted by Paul R. Harburg, lost her propeller on the eighth lap and dropped out. The final score was Miss Detroit III, 17; Miss Detroit II, 11; Eleventh Hour, 4.

In winning the gold cup, the Miss Detroit III becomes the national and also the world's best hot champion of 1919, as Europe will not resume its championships until next summer.

In addition to winning the gold cup, Wood also won the Alladin trophy offered for the fastest 30-mile heat. He retained both cups for a period of one year. It was also the seventh victory in eight starts that Wood has made since he took up hydroplane racing two years ago.

Wood, driving the express cruiser Car Jr., also won the 45-mile express cruiser handicap for the Detroit News trophy.

Silver Heat II, owned by Commodore A. Schmitt of the Detroit Yacht club, won the Sullen trophy, handicap, first in the 30-mile handicap for cabin cruisers, that was run in three ten mile heats.

The trophies for all the events of the regatta were presented at a banquet at the Detroit Yacht club tonight.

BANTAMWEIGHT CHAMPION IS DEFEATED BY JOE LYNCH

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Conn., Sept. 1.—Peter Herman of New Orleans, bantamweight champion of the world, was defeated in a 16-round no-decision bout by Joe Lynch of New York, at the driving park here this afternoon. Newspaper critics gave Lynch eight of the ten rounds, the other two being even.

Lynch forced the fighting from the start to the finish, while the champion fought on the defensive most of the time, allowing only occasional flashes of the form expected of him. In the third round Herman landed two hard rights to Lynch's body, but the New Yorker came back strong and captured honors in all of the ensuing rounds. Herman was never in danger, however, as Lynch's blows seemed to lack power.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which was tedious and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't you know that you've no one so readily told that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray disappears and your hair becomes luxuriantly dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mild or severe, of dandruff, and after another tion of disease.

SOCIALISTS FIGHT AMIDNG SELVES

Communists Meet Left Wing—To Seek Agreement With the Non-Partisan League.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—[Special to the Chronicle.]—The socialist party here today when eight wing delegates to the national emergency convention of the party left over the proposal to exclude from the floor of the convention seceding left-wing delegates who previously had left the meeting and announced their intention of uniting with the communists. The motion was defeated by a majority of two votes.

Meet Left Wings.
Left wing delegates met during the day with leaders of the communists who opened a national meeting today. The opening of the communists' gathering was enlivened by an order from the police that red banners and festoons adorning the walls of the convention hall be pulled down and American flags substituted. The red banners were taken down, after one delegate had been arrested for disorderly protestation.

Chairman Louis Fraina of New York made in his opening statement at the communists' meeting that the convention was called to discuss the "new era" in the history of the nation. The times, he asserted, called for revolutionary action.

Leaders of the right wing socialists, compelling the conservative majority, declared today that the split in the party would be patched up by tomorrow night.

Seymour Steidman, chairman of the convention, said perhaps fifty delegates had left the meeting.

"I don't believe there is the slightest possibility that the seceding party will divide into two factions," he said.

To Har John Reed.
He named John Reed, self-styled "unrecognized Bolshevik ambassador to the United States," as one delegate who would not be taken back into the convention. Reed has been a leader of the left wing socialists.

It is said that the convention will take up before adjournment proposed amendments to the constitution which would permit negotiations between the party and the Non-Partisan League and other farmers' organizations.

REPERT, Sept. 1.—The championship honors of the Southern Idaho League were settled here Sunday when the Burley team won from the locals by the tune of 7 to 5.

There were 1500 people, the largest crowd of the Southern Idaho baseball league season, present. Rupert made five errors and Burley's players took advantage of them.

In the third inning Burley made three runs on one hit, two sacrifices and three errors.

Burley made four runs in the sixth on one base on balls, one sacrifice hit, two errors, Adolph's single and Crane's home run.

Rupert's runs came in the fourth on a walk, one error and singles by Marshall and Ditchford for two runs, and the locals counted runs in the seventh for three runs on singles by Johnson, Anell and Shandling, a sacrifice hit and one error.

Zwoifel, pitching for Rupert, allowed but two hits in seven innings. Evans went in for the rest of the game, allowed but one hit, and shot a Burley man reached second base.

Melvor, former Pacific Coast League player, pitched a good game for Burley and struck out three Rupert batters in a row in the last half of the ninth inning.

negotiating treaties out of the hands of the executive, where it is expressly vetoed by the constitution."

Lojze Makes Reply.

Senator Lojze replied:

"I am indebted to you for your letter of August 28, which reached me last week. I also have to thank you for sending to the senate the treaty with Poland, signed at Versailles on the 28th of June, and the agreement between the United States, Belgium and the British empire, of one part, and Germany of the other, signed at Versailles on the 28th of June. The declaration of the 16th of June was printed some time ago in the Record, from the English speaking book; the declaration having been submitted to the house of commons on the 4th of July, I believe. The committee asked for it merely because they thought it would be better that it should be officially before them.

"As to the request of the committee for drafts or information regarding the treaties with Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey, the committee of course, were aware that negotiations are wholly in the hands of the executive and there was no thought of inquiring upon your jurisdiction. You noticed, of course, that the request asked merely for such information as you could give them if it was not incompatible with the public interest. The four treaties still to be made are so closely connected with the German treaty that many senators have thought that all the peace treaties should be considered together, and the request was made merely for such information as you felt could be properly given in regard to those treaties yet submitted in the hope that it might hasten action upon the treaty with Germany. If it is not compatible with the public interest to give information in regard to them, that is a matter upon which, of course, your decision is final."

The committee did not meet today.

but tomorrow it will resume its hearings and probably will have another executive session to work on proposed amendments and reservations to the treaty with Germany.

The only amendment pending before the committee now is a proposal by Senator Fall, republican New York, to strike out the provision for an international labor organization. When the question of amendment has been disposed of, drafting of the ratification resolution will be taken up. It is expected that the committee draft will include several reservations to the league of nations covenant.

At its opening hearing tomorrow, the committee will question Eugene Pivny of the Hungarian-American federation, who asked to be heard regarding the claims of Hungary at the Versailles conference.

Hitchcock to Make Speech.
Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the democratic leader, had given notice of his intention to speak on the treaty at tomorrow's session of the senate, but it was said at his office tonight that he might postpone his address until Wednesday.

THE NERVE FORCES ARE VITAL

The nerve forces are vital to human health. Science has long known this fact. Radiating from the spine, the great nerve-system reticulates the body, and impels functions. Life itself is dependent upon nerve-action. But, although these facts have been known for generations, skill had not until recently developed to the point of determining how to safeguard the nerves and preserve their forces for the direction of organic functions.

Then came Chiropractic, a science which has revolutionized treatments and proven the salvation of suffering humanity. Twisting, constant pressure from sitting or unusual position—these or other causes have forced the spinal vertebra from their proper positions, and have caused pressure upon the radiating nerves. Chiropractic restores the vertebra to its proper position, thus relieving the hampered nerve of the distressing pressure. Nature does the rest. THE RESULTS ARE POSITIVE. HEALTH COMES.

Bodies twisting by contorting pain are made well and strong.

Schupp became unsteady in the fourth inning, and was succeeded by Dank, who kept his team in the lead. Cooper won the afternoon game for Pittsburg when he tripled with a man on first in the fifth inning and scored himself on a balk. Score:

During all the years the Ford Model T One Ton Truck has been on the market, we have never had one complaint of rear axle trouble. We have had no complaints of motor trouble. There is no other evidence so convincing as that which comes from long practical experience. Ford One Ton Trucks are serving along all industrial and commercial lines. You will find them everywhere. If these statements were not facts, the demand for the Ford One Ton Truck would not be as large as it is, because people are not buying trucks which do not give service. TILDEN WINS FROM WILLIAMS OF BOSTON court campaign. Certain it is that he showed his ability as a tennis strategist by quickly demonstrating winning form against Johnson in the second which was the turning point of the match.

Philadelphia Racquet Star to Meet Johnson of San Francisco in Finals. By the Associated Press. FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 1.—East and west will be opposed tomorrow in the final round of the 29th national turf court singles tennis championship...

In place of his forecast play Johnson leathened the death of his drives and keeping the Philadelphia player close to his own base line worked his way up to and near the net where he could control the play. From this point of vantage he took most of Johnson's shots at full volleys and fenced the ball back and forth until he forced an opening for the winning stroke.

FLEET MAKES ITS BOW TO GOLDEN GATE

Reviewed by Daniels and Other Notables on the Old Battleship Oregon.

MYRIAD OF CRAFT IN HARBOR ON ARRIVAL

Various Kinds of Vessels Are Shown to Many Who See Fleet for the First Time.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—San Francisco is under naval law tonight and will remain so for a week. The new Pacific fleet entered San Francisco bay today, passed in review before Secretary of the Navy Daniels and took possession of the city. San Francisco isolated every available flag and sail. "The city is young." That made the capture unanimous.

The arrival of the fleet was greeted by hundreds of thousands of San Franciscans and visitors. Early in the day they sought the vantage points of beach and hill and waited with patience for the armada.

When the New Mexico, flagship of Admiral Hugh Rodman, passed through the Golden Gate at the head of forty-two fighting ships of various types, it found a bay dotted with small craft, a short line black with spectators and the sky blurred with airplanes.

Oregon Has Place of Honor.

The old battleship Oregon, small in comparison to Admiral Rodman's dreadnaughts but once probably the most famous battleship in the world, had the place of honor in the naval pageant. From the Oregon, Secretary Daniels reviewed the fleet as it passed on the port beam of the old battleship.

As each of the 42 ships reviewed passed, the "bulldog" Oregon and anchored the secretary with 19 guests, the Oregon's band played a bar of the national anthem.

After the review, Admiral Rodman and other officers of the fleet, boarded the Oregon to pay their respects to Secretary Daniels.

While only 42 ships were reviewed, ten more took part in the day's events. A few hours, but they burnt through about one hour and a half passed from the time the New Mexico moved along Bonita channel through the Golden Gate to the passage of the last destroyer by the Oregon, which was anchored for the review between the Mariposa and Alcatraz.

Nothing marred the occasion except accidents in which three aviators were slightly injured.

Over the Harbor.

A fog hung over the harbor for a few hours, but then burnt through. About one hour and a half passed from the time the New Mexico moved along Bonita channel through the Golden Gate to the passage of the last destroyer by the Oregon, which was anchored for the review between the Mariposa and Alcatraz.

Nothing marred the occasion except accidents in which three aviators were slightly injured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—A furthering covenant of protection, forty-two gray giants of the American navy, steamed from their overnight anchorage off Bolinas bay, north of San Francisco and, piloted personally by Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander in chief, swept through the Golden Gate today and passed the famous old battleship Oregon, the reviewing ship, in a marine pageant which thrilled a multitude of spectators.

It was the review of the new Pacific fleet before Secretary of the Navy Daniels and other navy, state and municipal officials. In addition to those in the review, a train of ships to supply and fuel ships later entered the harbor and cast anchor.

In Myriad of Small Craft.

San Franciscans who, no doubt, lined the Marina off which the Oregon was anchored, and San Franciscans who, in a myriad of small craft lined the waterway of the naval procession, sought through cheers to express the patriotism they felt as they saw and heard the ceremonial.

From every hill and structure overlooking the broad sweep of the harbor, countless thousands had gathered since early morning to view the pageant. Not since May, 1908, when the Atlantic fleet visited this port on its tour of the world, had San Francisco been spectator to a naval review.

Not a few thrilled at the thought that this fleet had come to make its home in Pacific waters.

Majestically the long line war craft crept carefully through the centered Golden Gate, past the Presidio military reservation and the once impregnable old Fort Point, whose thick brick walls the engineers of civil war days built to withstand the pallid shot of enemy frigates; past the modern Forts Miley and Winfield Scott, on the San Francisco side of the harbor, and under the long range guns of Fort Baker and Battery Hill in the Golden Gate.

At the Golden Gate, however, the guns of Marin county on the opposite shore, where Mount Tamalpais stands sentinel to the Golden Gate.

Vast Armadas Battleships.

At the battleship Oregon was passed by the leading dreadnaughts, the USS Iowa, a battleship famous for its association with San Francisco's early history, came into view its rocky slopes thickly crowded with spectators. Thence, the fleet swung into the upper bay past Fort Island and cast anchor while the harbor was surrounded with a thrilling of whistles from scores of welcoming craft.

The formalities began with the anchoring of the Oregon, commanded by Captain Tom G. Wettinghoff, off the Alcatraz Exposition grounds—the Mariposa—at 10 o'clock. About 11 o'clock Mr. Daniels and the secretarial reviewing party boarded the historical vessel.

As the secretary reached the quarter deck and in full form for his present was fulfilled, the big guns of the Fort Scott honored a salute of nineteen guns.

Into the Bay.

By this time a long line of the fleet—coming single file—was approaching the Gate, led by the dreadnaughts New Mexico and with the dreadnaughts Mississippi and Idaho, following at intervals of 700 yards.

The next group, commanded by Rear Admiral H. J. Coontz, was composed of his flagship, the dreadnaught Wyoming and the dreadnaughts New York and Texas, following, preserving the distance of 500 yards between ships.

Vice Admiral Clarence S. Williams, on his flagship, the Pre-dreadnaught Vermont, led the next group which also included, in this order, the pre-dreadnaughts Connecticut and Idaho, the cruiser North Carolina, the pre-dreadnaught Georgia and the cruiser Seattle.

Rear Admiral Henry Wiley commanded the next group in his flagship, the cruiser Birmingham, and the destroyers Lawton, Crane, Zuydewyde, Williams, Chandler, Sparrow, Lamberton, Hresce, Ramsey, Radford, Gamble, Montgomery, Kuthburne, Buchanan, Elliott, Waters, Dent, Phillips, Yarnell, Tarbell, Welles, Woolsey, Len, Ward, Ingers, Walker, Fletcher, Crosby and Bulmer. They proceeded at intervals of 250 yards.

Each ship was "dressed" for the event. The derricks and booms were lowered into their places and secured. The admiral flew his flag—a field of eight four white stars—from the foremast and the largest and newest American flag from main mast and stern. The flagship of the vice admiral bore a blue flag and three white stars and the those of the two rear admirals blue banners with two white stars from the corresponding masts. The other vessels flew the national ensign at foremast and main mast and stern.

COX'S GREAT TROTTER IS WINNER OF FEATURE

By the Associated Press.

HARVARD, Conn., Sept. 1.—McCreech, the Great, Walter Cox's trotter, defeated a field of seven horses in the feature event, the Chamblee, for $10 trotters, in the opening card of the grand circuit racing at Charter Oak park today. The best time was 2:07.4. Echo Hired, piloted by Hyde, took second place in each heat.

The 2:07 trot furnished the most thrilling finish of the day, when in the first heat Labe Hiddell, Tara's Hall and Gentry C, lay down the stretch neck to neck, less than a head apart, with the three trotters at the finish. The best time was 2:10, made by Tara's Hall in the second heat. Labe Hiddell won the other two and the race.

Auto Gigs was "out in condition" for the scheduled match race with La Princeton and Kibel Trank was substituted; La Princeton defeated the champion mare in both heats. Best time 2:16 1-2.

REARNS TO ACCEPT $175,000 OFFER FOR JACK DEMPSEY

MILLION DOLLAR JOB COSTS MUCH MORE

Committee Claims That Work in Delaware Dropped In Price Constantly.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The house sub-committee investigating business expenditures during the war, tonight made public testimony taken in its hearing showing that the government shell loading plant at a factory in Delaware, uncompleted when the armistice was signed, cost the government in date $14,000,000, although the estimated cost when the contract was let, on the cost-plus basis was placed at from $1,250,000 to $1,500,000.

The difference between the estimated cost and the total thus far paid on by the government, is shown in testimony given by Lieutenant Colonel R. H. Hawkins of the ordnance department, and a report made last October by Major Clair Foster of the constructive division of the army, and inserted by the committee in the record.

The contract for the plant was let to the Martin Hookwell corporation, which organized a subsidiary concern known as the Martin Hookwell Loading company which in turn contracted with the Fred T. Lyle company for construction of the big plant and adjoining town to house 70,000 persons.

Major Foster's report cited some of the salaries paid by the loading company and the Lyle company which advances in pay made after a few months service. The manager of the former company, the report asserts, had his salary raised from $16,000 to $27,000; the assistant manager, "a lawyer and former bond salesman" from $12,000 to $15,000; the chief engineer from $7,500 a year with $150 a month for living expenses to $10,000 a year; and the treasurer from $4,800 to $5,000—"of the treasurer," the report said.

"Government officers questioned as to the treasurer's duties said they never had been able to see that he had anything except endorse the government's checks and sign those of the loading company."

"Please bear in mind," said Major Foster's report, "that all these salaries do not come out of the loading company's fee. The government pays them and then pays ten per cent on top of them.

The testimony made reference to a recent report of the war department for an appropriation of $185,000 to purchase additional land at the site although Major Foster asserted that "most of it is swamp."

DRAMATIC CHANGES TO BE MADE IN CIVIL SERVICE

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Dramatic changes in the civil service system to benefit federal civilian employees are under consideration by the federal salary classification commission, Edward Keating, secretary of the commission and former representative from Colorado, today told the convention of the national federation of postal employees assembled here.

"Women who do the same work as men should receive the same pay as men," Mr. Keating said. "We believe in a system of promotion which will lead from the lowest end of the ladder to the highest."

"We also are convinced that civil service employees should not be placed at the mercy of any bureaucratic tyrant, no matter what his position might be. The civilian employes are entitled to a fair hearing before an impartial court if he has grievances."

ALLEGED GUNMAN VICTIM OF A MYSTERIOUS KILLING

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Peter Gentileman, described by the police as a gunman and identified with numerous labor fights, was shot to death today in a mysterious fight on the South Side. He was found by the police in an alley suffering from four bullet wounds and removed to a hospital, where he died several hours later.

When questioned at the hospital his only reply was: "Get away and leave me alone. I'll get the fellows that shot me."

KNOXVILLE HAS QUIET HOLIDAY

KNOXVILLE, Sept. 1.—Under heavy patrol by national guardsmen and special officers following the rice riots of Saturday night and Sunday morning in which two men were killed and sixteen sent to hospital with wounds, the city passed a quiet holiday. Two of the wounded are not expected to live.

Sheriff Cato tonight caused the arrest of ten white men on charges of assisting prisoners to escape when the jail was attacked Saturday night.

The situation has improved so much, Sheriff Cato said, that he expects to release all outside national guard companies tomorrow, leaving here the machine gun company and one rifle company which have headquarters at Knoxville.

Subsequent demonstrations were held separately today by the whites and negroes. No disorder of any kind, was reported today.

Two hundred and fifty citizens sworn in as special deputies or policemen are assisting the military authorities.

A special session of the grand jury has been called for Wednesday to investigate the riots and to consider the case of Maurice F. Mayo, the negro accused of murdering Mrs. Bertie Lindzey early Saturday, which crime opened the morning of the county jail and the subsequent riots. Mayo is in jail at Chattanooga.

The rioting, it was estimated today, caused property damage of more than $50,000 to the jail and store buildings.

REWARD FOR MURDERERS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Governor Roberts of Tennessee tonight offered rewards of $250 for each of the two prisoners sentenced to electrocution and $200 for each of the two life term prisoners, who escaped from the county jail at Knoxville Saturday night when the jail was stormed and the cells of the white prisoners opened.

The governor decided to offer no reward for the apprehension of the mob leaders. The sheriff at Knoxville informed the governor that the ringleaders of the mob could be rounded up more easily without offering reward.

Dr. R. A. Parrott, and W. D. M. Ambury returned yesterday from a hunting and fishing trip. The hunt was secured by both.
