love and esteem. I cannot go everywhere I would like to in America and I am depending on you, my friends, of this press to convey the message for me.

"I have followed the magnificent record of your army in France and Belgium and the men of your army magnified the love I have for you and supported the magnificent record of the American who preceded them.

"I feel that my arrival here is a momentous moment in my life and I feel that I could in at least a part express the gratitude of Belgium for America and its people.

"I want to say however that my people want to begin to work for themselves again. They want to take up their lives and to start on their own feet. Many are still against them for the reason that our facilities for production were destroyed by the Germans in their fearful scientific manner.

"As the transport was warped to its place the cardinal left his post on the bridge and moved down to the lower deck where hundreds of returning soldiers were roaring their joy over their home coming.

"The cardinal stepped on to the dock, however, there was a pause and then the band swung into stirring strains of "La Marseillaise," the national anthem of Belgium.

"The transport had been welcomed by the band of the national army of Belgium.

MEXICAN REBELS WANT U. S. HELP

Declare That America Should Join Them in Overturning Current Enemy—Carranza.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—An appeal for formal recognition by the United States of the belligerency of the various anti-Carranza revolutionary factions in Mexico, and for financial aid in the proposed overthrow of Carranza and the setting up of a provisional coalition government, was presented at the White House late today.

Bears Villa's Signature. The appeal, which pledges "reconstruction and restoration to national health" of chaotic Mexico, bears the signature of the "revolutionary forces" of the "reorganizing army"; Guillermo Mejia, commander of the "defensive forces of the free and sovereign state of Oaxaca"; Felipe Angeles and Francisco Villa, commanders of the "revolutionary army"; and Manuel Pelaez, commander of the "constitution of 1857 revolutionary army."

Charging President Carranza, with having constituted himself "irresponsible dictator of Mexico," and having by his "illegit and despotic confiscation" of foreign owned properties and the murder of many hundreds of foreign citizens, brought about the impotence of American intervention; and having signed himself first with radicalism and later with the Carranza and his circle of officials, are ours; as threatening to draw upon us the natural result of his and their crimes.

"We are about to be made to suffer for the crimes of those who have murdered our fellow-citizens and who are being tried against the deeds of our oppressors; Mexico is about to be killed, and treated as the enemy of your great democracy, on account of the deeds we have now for five years resisted without blood, and which have been made possible by those few will men who, their entrenched position have been enabled to do all these things.

Truth Coming to Light. "Today the truth is coming to light," says the appeal, "and today Venustiano Carranza, your enemy and his circle of officials, are ours; as threatening to draw upon us the natural result of his and their crimes.

"We are about to be made to suffer for the crimes of those who have murdered our fellow-citizens and who are being tried against the deeds of our oppressors; Mexico is about to be killed, and treated as the enemy of your great democracy, on account of the deeds we have now for five years resisted without blood, and which have been made possible by those few will men who, their entrenched position have been enabled to do all these things.

AMERICA THE ARBITER FOR THE WORLD

President Declares It Must Lead While 14,000 Hearers at Minneapolis Cheer.

GERMAN NATION IS NOT YET CONQUERED

Hypnists in this Country Still Seeking Use Two Nations to Stifle Ambitions of Rest of Universe.

By the Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Sept. 9.—Resounding of the cost of living, President Wilson declared here today, must await the re-establishment of a complete peace basis which will put labor and capital on their feet.

In two addresses the president asserted that the connection between acceptance of the peace treaty and unalteration of living conditions was a direct one and that the world was looking to America to take the lead in restoring the world to a sound economic basis.

Mr. Wilson spoke in the morning at a special session of the Minnesota legislature and in the evening at a public meeting at the St. Paul auditorium. During the afternoon he also addressed a meeting in Minneapolis.

"For his night meeting here the president found the auditorium packed, city authorities estimating the crowd at more than 14,000.

Mayor L. C. Hodgson, a republican, introduced Mr. Wilson as "a great spiritual leader of American democracy," whose power was written "in the hearts of his people."

President Wilson dwelt at length tonight on the mixed origin of the American people.

"It is based upon long experience in every part of the world I can recognize an American the minute I see him," he said. "And get that in your mind: we are all of one stock. We have more people of various origin, of stock than any people in the world.

"A great many millions of our people, carry in their hearts the traditions of other people, the traditions of races never bred in America, and yet we are all unmistakably and even in appearance American and nothing else. And there is only one possible explanation for that: my fellow citizens, and that is that there is the practice still in the tradition of this country is a principle which, ever imperceptibly got into the conscience of every man who lives in this country.

"We are the pre-destined mediators of mankind. (Indesist applause.)

"Heavily, then when I hear gentlemen saying we must get out of this thing and take care of ourselves, I ask where did we come from? Is there nobody in the world that we care for?"

"That which America is with her history of blood? Why, my fellow citizens, that is a fundamental misconception of what it is to be an American. These gentlemen are doing a harm which they do not realize. I want to testify to you here tonight, my fellow citizens, because I have this means of information, that since it has seemed to be uncertain whether we are going to play this part of leadership in the world, the old intrigues have started up in this country again.

"That hypnists which to us like a snake, the hypnists between the east and west, have started up in this country again. You hear the hisses of its purpose, and what is that purpose? It is to keep America out of the concept of nations in order that America and Germany, being out of the concept, may set their hands to the task of dream only to dominate the world, or any rate the one to assist the other in holding the nations of the world while its ambitions are realized.

COAL MINERS STAND FIRM FOR PROGRAM

To Insist that Settlement of Wage and Hour Questions Be Made Immediately.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Demand for wage increases and shorter hours, strong insistence that these claims no longer be delayed, but must be forced through to a successful issue, dominated the deliberations of the opening session of the convention of the United Mine Workers of America today.

More than two thousand delegates applauded the declarations of Acting president during the session, demanding that no interference be tolerated from any agency seeking to prevent the accomplishment of the miners' program, was received with the same enthusiasm, as was his expression of fullest confidence that the miners' effort would be successful. His hearty enthusiasm was evoked by uncompromising denunciations by various speakers of the principles of compulsory arbitration and embodied in the Cummings bill.

The question of nationalization of coal mines on the other hand was evidently a question of less burning interest to the delegates, who listened without demonstration to references to this doctrine, to which it was declared the present congress would be unable to give serious consideration in the presence of more urgent problems. No dissent was heard when President Lewis denounced the I. W. W. the one "big union" and similar movements as based upon "fantastical ideas of misguided enthusiasts and mercenary enemies of the trade union movement. The delegates have adopted a resolution which will bring deliberations to an end in about a fortnight. Important issues will be reached comparatively late in the convention. Important report of the scale committee, which will formulate the amount of the wage increases to be demanded, is next to the last event upon the scheduled program.

TRUCE FOLLOWS THE DEATH OF STRIKERS

Losses in Morning Battle Calm continues in Hammond, Indiana, Hit.

By the Associated Press.
 HAMMOND, Ind., Sept. 9.—An armed truce prevailed tonight at the plant of the Standard Steel Car company where four strikers were killed and about fifty others were wounded in a fight between strike sympathizers and forty policemen and special guards.

The fighting was the result of efforts of strikers to prevent more than 200 men who had returned to work from entering the plant. The police and guards asserted they were fired upon and incited by strikers when an attempt was made to arrest leaders of the strikers' force, seven of whom were afterwards placed in jail.

Similar trouble was feared when the returned workers should leave the plant tonight, but the losses in the morning apparently cooled the combats temporarily. Only a few small groups were in evidence and no violence was attempted.

Although there was said to be no intention of recalling state troops who for several weeks until recently policed the car plant, Mayor Daniel Brown held a long distance telephone conversation with Governor Goodrich at Indianapolis. The mayor said the governor commended the police for their prompt action this morning.

All of the dead and many of the wounded were of foreign birth or descent and the seven men arrested are Hungarians.

Augmented forces of police, guards and deputy sheriffs will guard the car plant to prevent recurrence of the rioting.

declined to discuss whether a strike would be called, or whether the matter would need to be a truck until after the conference called by President Wilson for October 5, to consider industrial conditions.

Union leaders also declined to say whether President Wilson's message to Samuel Gompers on the steel situation had been under consideration.

SCHOOL CHILDREN HONOR PERISHING

Thirty Thousand Gather at Central Park to Meet Returning Hero.

By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Standing before a veritable forest of American flags held in the hands of more than 30,000 school children packed into the steps of Central park this afternoon, General Pershing personally thanked them for their patriotism during the war.

"The patriotism of the children of America," he said, "has been an inspiration not only to the grown ups here to the boys who carried the rifle at the front."

The children, representing the public schools of the city, had waited in the park for nearly three hours to get a glimpse of the commander in chief. When his car came into view the chorus of cheers were so high that it seemed to sweep through the park and be echoed back by the tall buildings.

The ceremony itself was brief. It opened with a "salute to the flag" led by boy scouts and recited by the children. This was followed by the singing of the national anthem after which General Pershing was introduced. The commander was visibly affected by the greeting as were his two sisters, who occupied seats on the platform and whose eyes were wet with tears.

After gazing in silence over the crowd for nearly two minutes, the general said:

School children of the city of New York:

"I give me extreme pleasure to be here this afternoon for a few moments and to witness this patriotic ceremony.

"It is upon you we must depend in the future to defend the principles of our forefathers, to defend the principles we all love so well. I feel sure you understand the principles for which the war was fought and that you join with me in congratulating America on its victorious conclusion.

"I am sure the patriotism of the children of America has been an inspiration not only to the grown-ups but to the boys who carried the rifle at the front. I thank you for this great lesson in patriotism and wish that everyone who served in Europe could see it as I have seen it."

After the ceremony hundreds of children broke through the police lines in an effort to shake the general's hand. Several were successful. Police with outstretched hands and legs tried to stem the tide of crowding youngsters, but several out-temperance lads crawled through the policeman's legs and rushed for the general's automobile.

The warmth of the general's reception seemed to increase as his visit lengthened. The crowd in front of his hotel have become so numerous that a large detail of policemen is needed to keep traffic moving and to permit the official cars to pass to and fro. It became known today that General Pershing is being swamped with invitations to visit cities all over the country, but that for Philadelphia and Washington are the only places that has been definitely decided to visit in the east. The general leaves for Washington Friday morning, stopping in Philadelphia for a few hours as the guest of that city. He will parade with the First division in Washington.

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE.

That's where the moral hazard comes in.

And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also, that this bank offers you a complete banking service.

OLD CLOTHES.

A controversy has arisen over the suggestion by Mark Sullivan, former editor of Collier's Weekly, that the way to beat the cost of clothes is to turn a suit inside out when it gets shabby.

Many tailors have risen up as one man—which is as it should be, if it takes nine tailors to make a man—asserting that an old suit cannot be turned. They give all sorts of technical reasons to prove the impossibility of it.

It seems to be a case of finding the right tailor. And surely if the scheme works as well as Mr. Sullivan says it does, there ought to be more than one tailor in America able and willing to turn the trick and the suit.

In lieu of the miracle, however, there is the advice given by former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, to wear patched trousers—or skirts, as the case may be—when clothing grows over-expensive.

Now comes his successor, Secretary Carter Glass, with a similar message. Handling more money than anybody else in the United States, he boasts of his old clothes, and says that he expects to wear his customary office suit five years longer, if the suit will stand it.

Far be it from the writer to discourage the buying of a new suit when it is really needed. Even a knightly suit of boilerplate would wear out in time. But there is vast flexibility in the life of clothing.

THE POST-WAR FACE.

During the war peoples' faces were interesting and inspiring. They showed almost every one, the strain under which humanity was laboring, but they held also something of inward vision, of deep in-able hope.

But what of faces now that the war is over? They are drawn, scowling, anxious; not with the anxiety for others, which made war faces beautiful, but with a selfish anxiety about bills and business, national and personal affairs.

Yet all the things which were true in the war are true now. Men are brave, generous and honest. Women are faithful, self-sacrificing and loyal.

One of the principles of psychology is that the best way to arouse a feeling is to stimulate it. If, in the troublesome and confusing circumstances which now surround humanity, it is difficult to feel inwardly sure of the triumph of those forces for which the world is longing—order, good-will, and honesty—surely the next best thing is to bear the outward semblance, to look at least, as if we believed that everything is coming out all right.

In the typical post-war face, distressed and distressing, there is discouragement for everybody. Off with it!

TO KEEP WELL.

Here are some simple rules, clipped from an exchange, promulgated principally as safeguards against flu, but equally valuable as a preventative of all forms of ill health:

Sleep with the windows open. Drink a glass of water for every waking hour.

Eat less of concentrated foods and more of fruits and vegetables, and keep just a little on the hungry side of the appetite.

Keep clean—inside and out. Relief for constipation is in the drug store, but its prevention is in orchard and garden.

Walk at least a part of the way to and from work, and keep in the open on Sundays.

Practice deep breathing. Do not become frightened at first symptoms of flu (or any illness). The fear of disease weakens resistance.

Do not get angry or entertain resentment toward anyone. Anger and hate create poisonous toxins and lead to a lowering of general health.

To these might be added one more—avoid fatigue. Make up for every overstrain by an extras amount of rest at the first opportunity. Fatigue is in itself a poisonous condition.

The laws of health are simple. It is the complicated lives of people which make them prey to sickness.

NIGHTS OUT AND IN.

A man in Atlantic City, N. J., who sued for divorce on the ground of non-support, complained that he could not support his wife because she forged his name to checks and drew all the money out of the bank. The wife thereupon explained.

Her husband was accustomed, she said, to "going out" about three nights every week, and on such occasions he generally spent about $25. She felt that she had as good a right to salt down the money as he had to blow it in, and so every night he went out she drew $25 from his account.

It can hardly be argued that forgery was justifiable, even in such a case; but it does seem a reasonable conclusion that a wife who has to stay at home has a right to as much of the family income as the husband squanders in dissipation.

Traveling salesmen are now beginning to carry photographs of their goods, instead of samples. The next step may be for the salesman to stay in the home office and mail his customers phonographic records of his customary line of talk.

After all this controversy over the peace treaty, reconstruction and other matters of cosmic import, along comes a practical philosopher and maintains that the remedy for all political ills is—to go fishing.

A new comet has been discovered in Bootes constellation. If it had only been a falling star we might have more faith in these predictions of lower shoe prices.

Maybe the treaty battlers in the Senate might arrange an armistice long enough to do something with the high cost of living legislation it was going to handle.

The Bolsheviks have captured Pskoff. Pooh, pshaw and pui!—What do we care about Pskoff?

"THE THIRD DEGREE"

TO OPPOSE LABOR PART OF TREATY

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Declaring their disapproval of the establishment of any department under the league of nations in the interest of any special class of citizens, delegates to the "our country first" conference composed of business and farming interests from all sections of the country, went on record today against section 20 of the treaty of peace, enunciating some of the purposes thereof.

The disapproval of the two sections were contained in resolutions adopted by the conference in its final session. The chairman of the conference was authorized to appoint a committee to go to Washington to present the idea embodied in the resolutions to congress.

Opposition to government ownership, price fixing, the present system of taxation, and advocacy of laws to prevent strikes and lockouts in government and public utility services; exemption of farmers' cooperative enterprises from the technical interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law; and the repeal of the so-called Tavenner amendment were some of the subjects covered in the program which the conference adopted as its recommendations for relief from present industrial troubles.

A Feast to the Eye is the Post-War Maxwell

A NOTED artist, whose income is sufficient to provide him with a Rolls-Royce, took one look at the Post-War Maxwell and remarked: "It's a sun-down!" Which is art slang for saying, "It's a beauty."

This artist then went to the telephone and placed his order for one.

But the real great beauty of the Post-War Maxwell was hidden from the eye of this noted artist.

He did not know about the vast improvements made in the chassis, how the electric system has been perfected, how a heavier and masterly rear axle has been used, how 'Hot Spot' and Ram's-horn have given the engine a new efficiency, how the emergency-brake has been set up on the transmission shaft, nor a score of others that would make a "mechanical mind" forget his dinner.

It's a greater Maxwell than any of the 300,000 of the same type that grace the highways of the world.

Though a respectable sum has been added in value, the price is only $985 f. o. b. Detroit.

MARGUERITE CLARK

IN

"LET'S ELOPE"

This is a new play for the popular screen star, and the role is so suited to her that critics say she makes her best appearance in it.

The new play is a farce and abounds with amusing situations. One of the funniest of these takes place on the night of the elopement of the young wife with a chap who is younger, and, temporarily at least, more attractive than her hard working husband. The latter, hearing of the adventure, insists upon helping the young pair to make a success of it, by offering them his own bungalow in the woods for a romantic settings, and his own presence as a chap-eron.

We have not this season offered our patrons a bill more delightfully fascinating, fuller of fun, and, at periods, more intensely interestingly dramatic.

TREATY CONTEST IS SHIFTED TO FLOOR

Borah and Johnson Leave, Washington for Chicago—To Trail the President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The German peace treaty, six months in the making, will be returned to the senate tomorrow by the foreign relations committee along with a minority report containing amendments to the treaty and reservations to its league of nations covenant.

The treaty will go back to the senate exactly six months in the day from the date it was laid before the body by President Wilson. Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking democrat member of the committee, will present a minority report within the next two days and general debate will begin Monday to continue almost without interruption until final action is taken.

Pending this move which will hasten final consideration by the senate of the whole question of peace with Germany, advocates and opponents of the league generally reined today in anticipation of the big battle to begin next week. There were several informal conferences at which senators endeavored to reach a compromise over the form of reservations and Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri speaking against the league declared he would be forced to vote to reject the treaty as it now stands.

Senators Johnson, California, Borah, Idaho, and McCormick, Illinois, all regular opponents of the league, left here today for Chicago on the trail of the president to speak against it.

TO SPEAK AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Arrangements were completed today for a mass meeting tomorrow night when Senator Hiram Johnson of California, and William E. Borah, of Idaho, will start speaking tours through the west in advocacy of reservations to the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant.

Senator Johnson will go to Indianapolis from Chicago, then to St. Louis and is expected to follow virtually the route covered by President Wilson. Senator Borah is expected to take another route.

There were in the U. S. service during the war 53,000 Johnsons, 51,000 Smiths, 15,500 Walkers, and 47,600 Williamses.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, get rid of the natural color and luster to the hair when used streaked or gray. You say: "Oh, only to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Now I don't want to write any drug store for "Watts's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get it here, but it is a valuable old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost.

Don't say gray! Try!!! No one can give you a hair that you darkened and it will stay dark. You can get it safe through with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Farmer Prosperity Is Due To Packers

Low Stockmen Declare Industry In Middle West Prosperous Because of Market Opened to Them.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A group of stockmen from the middle west, principally Iowa and several wholesale meat and produce dealers from various cities joined in denials of the "meat packers' lobby" before the senate agriculture committee. The Kenyon and Kendrick bills, proposing federal and other restrictions, found no support during the session.

"It is a pity that sort of a bill had to come from a progressive state like Iowa," said J. B. Blackwell of Muscatine, referring to the fact that Senator Kenyon of Iowa is sponsor for the chief restrictive measure. "Iowa cattle feeders are prosperous and land values have gone up in the past few years from $10 to $50 an acre due to the fact that the packers have made a market for their produce."

"Do you think the packers are entirely responsible for this high price?" Don't you think world shortage had something to do with it?" queried Senator McNary of Oregon.

C. H. Will and J. L. Johnson, of Des Moines, and J. E. Nichols of Nichols, Iowa, supported Blackwell's statement with variations setting forth the "undevelopability" of government restriction of business enterprises.

"Iowa farmers are reasonably prosperous," said Charles R. Brenton of Dallas Center, Iowa, in presenting a petition from a number of cattle growers opposing the bill. "Markets are satisfactory. War restrictions on business enterprises were almost entirely not in favor of our way of life."

"Your people are not all alarmed by the spread of the big packers and their intervention into other business"

BLAMES LABOR FOR HIGH LIVING COST

New York Governor Declares An Economic Adjustment Must Be Made Immediately.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Officials of the New York State Grange, representing 125,000 farmers, in a statement issued today, absolve the responsibility for the high cost of living upon labor, declared that "An economic adjustment must be made if the world is to be fed and agriculture preserved."

The indictment of all workers except those engaged in agricultural pursuits is made by Sherman J. Cowell and W. N. Ogle, manager and secretary, respectively, of the Grange, who alleged that strikes have been an important factor in raising the price of food, clothing and shelter.

"The first factor in a happy life is three meals every day," says the statement. "The next is adequate clothing and housing the keep the body warm. The war has only hastened what every thinking agriculturist has known for years was already coming. It has been the lack of respect for the support and encouragement which the urban workers so easily obtained in the form of better schools, roads, churches, houses, shorter hours and higher wages for work which were fought for so long."

The last result of the war is the result of steadily drawing from the country its population to an alarming degree. Now, instead of going into a study of our situation and devising a remedy, one laboring breathless of the city, proceeds to remedy our trouble by arbitrary measures without any real knowledge of the cost of producing the necessities of life.

"No class of Americans with red blood in their veins will stand being told they must labor long hours at inadequate pay in order that another class may have shorter hours and higher wages. Even the faithful farmer, who has always produced sufficient food for all, feels he has about reached the limit, and that no laboring man of the city should find fault with his position and the way that his city better has taught him.

"Why is it that over half our farms have mortgages on them, and that two-thirds are worked by renters? When a class of men demand a higher wage although their work does not earn it, some one else must pay, and they become dishonest profiteers.

"We here challenge the city laborer to a cost accounting that all the world may see who earns his wage. Let there be an authoritative cost accounting of farm products and a measure for labor the base of which shall be earning power.

"When wheat was $3 a bushel one bushel paid for a day's work. Wheat by government fiat, is now $2.25 a bushel, and it now requires the labor of three bushels to pay labor for one day's work. Again wheat wool was 20 cents a pound, allowing four pounds for a suit of clothes, the farmer received for the product $1.20. Pleasure suits cost a suit of clothes at $25. 'Hundred-day' suits at $15 per suit paid for a suit. Today wool is 65 cents a pound, four pounds bringing $2.60, the amount received by the farmer. The same suit of clothing is now $40 and the laborer can obtain it for eight days labor at $5 per day. These comparisons will hold good with every farm product."

What made you willing that they should go? Did you think they were seeking to aggrandize America some way? Did you think they were going to take something for America that had belonged to somebody else? Did you think that they were going into a quarrel which they had provoked and must maintain? The question answers itself.

On Errand of Sacrifice.
 "You were proud that they should go because they were going on an errand of self-sacrifice in the interests of mankind. Ah, when those young men were sent you have come back from the fields of France what a halo there will be around their brows. They saved the world. They are of the same stuff as those old veterans of the Civil war. Now, mind you, I was born and bred in the south, but I can pay that tribute will all my heart to the men who saved the union. It ought to have been saved. It was the greatest thing that men had conceived up to that time.

"I saw many fine sights in Paris, many gallant sights that quickened the pulse, but my heart never beat so fast as when I saw our boys swinging along the street. They looked so as if they owned something, and they did. They owned the finest thing in the world. The thing that we are going to bring to the others. They owned the ideals and conceptions that will govern the world.

"I hear opponents of the league of nations say that this does not guarantee peace. No, nothing guarantees us against human passions and error. But I like to see this business proposition to you—if it increases the probability of peace by, let us say, ten per cent, don't you think it is worth while? (Yes, from the audience, cheers.) And in my judgment it increases it about 50 per cent.

"I suppose there is intellectual excellence in debate, but I do not experience any when great issues like this are pending and I would be very glad indeed if I did not have absolutely unclouded confidence of the result."

GENERAL PERISHING TO REMAIN A. F. E. COMMANDER

 WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—General Perishing is to retain the title and duties of commander in chief, American expeditionary forces, for the time being. It was learned officially today. "Headquarters" will be established here in the old land office building. All the multitudinous records of the overseas forces will be concentrated here and Colonel Perishing with a small staff of officers who were associated with him in France will be ready to answer any call of congress for information.

It had been expected that General Perishing would take a long vacation before again assuming military duty, and the new arrangement, according to war department officials, has been made at his own suggestion.

BOLSHEVIST CRIMINALS SAYS TO ROOSEVELT

By the Associated Press.
 DENVER, Colo., Sept. 9.—Declaring himself heartily in sympathy with the perils of organized labor, but a bitter foe of Bolshevism, anarchy, the I. W. W. and all other red flag organizations, Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late president, today launched his colorful campaign for the American Legion. He spoke tonight to a crowded house at the municipal auditorium after delivering an address this afternoon at the government hospital in Aurora.

"Bolsheviks are criminals," the colonel said, "and so are other red flag propagandists who parade under different names that mean the same thing."

AMERICA ARBITER FOR WORLD, WILSON

my fellow citizens. We know the former purposes of German intrigue in this country and they are being revived. Why? We haven't reduced very materially the number of the German people. Germany retains the great power of central Europe. She has nearly twenty millions before France, and other provinces were taken away. She has now more than sixty million people. You cannot change the temper and expectations of a people by five years of war, particularly five years of war in which they are not conscious of the wrong they did, or the wrong way in which they did it, and they are expecting the time of the revival of their power, and with the revival of their power, rises their extraordinary ambition, their unbridled education, their great capacity in commerce, finance and industry.

"There can be only one intelligible reason for America moving out of this road that is that she does not want peace. That is the way that we want and the advantage of which we will bring to her and I want to say now and here that the men who think that by that thought they are interpreting America and making the sort of mistake which has been the usual for them to reflect in obscurity for the rest of their lives.

"I don't our intellectual capacity, my fellow citizen that has given us our place in the world, though I rate that as high, the intellectual capacity of any other people that ever lived, but it is the heart that lies back of the mind that makes America (Applause). I have no doubt this room is full of mothers and fathers and wives and sweethearts who sent their loved young men to France. What did you send them for? What made you proud that they were going
