

SAYS LANING DECLARED THE PACT MISTAKE

Former Member of Conference Tells Committee Secretary Denounced Pact.

INFORMATION GIVEN ON SPUR OF MOMENT

Witness Wanted to Keep Conversation Private, But He Changed His Mind While Testifying.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The resolution that Secretary Lansing put off until the present treaty and league of nations covenant, although he was a member of the American peace commission that drafted it, was made today before the senate foreign relations committee by William G. Bullitt, ex-Philadelphia, formerly employed by the mission at Paris in a confidential capacity.

Pope Out Suddenly. The testifier, purporting to give Mr. Lansing's private opinion expressed in a conversation with the witness the day the latter resigned from the mission because he was not sympathetic with the treaty or the league, Pope said he had not intentionally. Bullitt had just expressed reluctance at the idea of revealing any part of a private conversation with the peace commissioners and members of the committee quite agreed to keep the matter quiet.

Opposed Shantung Award. From a memorandum of the conversation, dictated, he said, while it was fresh in his mind, Bullitt quoted the secretary on main points, saying that Mr. Lansing opposed the award of Shantung to Japan, that he considered the league thoroughly bad, that the large nations would pay little attention to the small nations, and that the world has been arranged according to the desire of the big nations at the peace conference.

No Democratic Present. There was no democratic senator in attendance when this testimony was given, nor at other times during the hearing, and nobody took up the case for the American commission. When news of Bullitt's testimony spread about the capital it was extensively discussed, and senators said they were anxious to hear from Mr. Lansing. When some of them endeavored to reach him at the state department they found he was out of town, and an Associated Press dispatch later from Watertown, N. Y., said he declined to make any statement, and had gone fishing.

Bullitt described himself as a clear-headed person for the declaration and worked especially under Colonel E. M. House. Shows Original Proposal. He showed the committee the president's original treaty proposal, written on the president's own typewriter and bearing an inscription on Colton House attesting the latter's sign regard for the witness.

Along with his report of conditions in Russia Bullitt gave the committee the original peace proposal, which he wrote to the president's conference, and which was dropped, he testified, because the people in Paris became lukewarm when they read that Admiral Kolchak was heading for Moscow, after a 100 mile advance, and was due there in two weeks.

Mr. Griffith declared that the Sinn Fein would carry on exactly as before.

DECLARES CARRANZA HAS NOT ATTACHED BANDITS

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—"Carranza seems never to have made any serious effort to drive Manuel Lindero and his little rebel army from the Mexican oil fields," Lord South, formerly general manager of the Penn Mexico Oil company today told the senate foreign relations sub-committee investigating the Mexican situation. The sub-committee also complimented the Mexican oil fields, formerly head of the Mexican Petroleum company, who informed the committee yesterday regarding the monthly tributes exacted from the oil companies by Pineda.

Y. LAUNCHES ATTACK ON "BIG FIVE" HACKERS

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Execution of the "big five" packers was the burden of a three hour argument made before the senate agricultural committee today by Edward L. Bako of Omaha, Neb., vice president of the American National Livestock association, who asked the immediate passage of the Kendrick and Kenyon bills for federal regulation of the packing industry.

PERSHING IS WELCOMED TO CAPITAL CITY

Hundreds of Women and Girls Line Pathway of Returning General.

WANTS TO BE JUST A BOY AT LACLEDE, MO.

Comments on the Contrast Between Today and a Year Ago When St. Mihiel Was Taken.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—With the plaudits of New York and Philadelphia still ringing in his ears, John J. Pershing arrived in Washington today and received a fete of the more formal greeting he will receive next week when he leads the First division up historic Pennsylvania avenue in the nation's victory parade.

As he stepped from his special train at the station, the man who led the American army to victory in France heard the shrill cry of greeting rise from the hundreds of women and girls who lined his pathway. As he stood later with bare head before Vice President Marshall in the president's waiting room, again it was women and girls, armed with flags and flowers who surrounded him. There was little of the pomp of war about this conqueror's return.

RECEPTION IS INFORMAL

The reception was informal. Secretary Baker and General March, chief of staff, greeted Gen. Pershing as the train and escorted him to the room where the vice president awaited him. The arched roof of the big building resonated with the shouting of the crowd jammed close about the path. A military band played its formal greeting of "hail to the chief" at most unobtrusively. The crash of saluting artillery posted for a while in the quiet Potomac went unnoticed.

In greeting General Pershing, Vice President Marshall said: "You are not only welcome to the capital city of your own republic, but you are welcome back to the land of your nativity. Your coming here is a tribute to his belief and in behalf of the American people to greet you. To you it has been vouchsafed to lead the greatest expeditionary force at all-time since the world's peril. Of the land and people of this, the ultimate accomplishment of your country's purpose and your hearty desire."

"In the name of my countrymen and my president, I salute you. If all the nation, far and near, the conqueror, and yet again, 'hail'."

Re-establish Headquarters

Tomorrow, General Pershing will re-establish in the war department headquarters of the American expeditionary force, of which he still is the commander. There he will close up the affairs of the A. E. F. One future event on which General Pershing's mind is fixed is a visit to his old home in LaCledde, Mo. He has been swamped with invitations from all over the country, but has not yet formulated his plans. The trip to LaCledde is the one fixed event.

Wants to Be a Boy Again. "I would like," he said, "to have everybody forget that I was ever anything but a Missouri boy. I would like to be as free as I was then."

The general was reminded that today was the anniversary of the smothering of the St. Mihiel salient. His eyes lighted up and an odd smile touched his lips.

"It is a great contrast today and a year ago," he admitted.

"Did you know then that the war would end as soon as it did?" some one asked.

"I hoped it would," General Pershing replied, smiling.

BORAH CALLS WILSON BOSTON POLICE ARE CHEATER AND A TOOL TO QUIT STRIKE

Idaho Senator Declares President Are Ready to Follow the Suggestion Made by Samuel Gompers.

By the Associated Press. OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 12.—Senator William E. Borah, frankly declaring he will not merely to amend, but to wreck the league, or nation covenant, addressed a three audience here tonight. He described President Wilson as a dodger and a cheater, a subversive tool to whom England need only make suggestions to secure compliance with her wishes.

The senator described the transfer of Germany's rights in Shantung to Japan "the turning over of 40,000,000 friendly people to our enemy" and as an act of treachery to an ally unscrupulous in history. The sending of American soldiers to Siberia was declared to be in violation of the Constitution of the United States. First mention of the word "Biberia" brought a roar of scorn from the crowd and when Borah asked "How came ten thousand American boys to be killed in Russia?" A man near the front row gained great applause by shouting "English interests." Borah laid the blame to Japan, declaring the American force to Russia to be victims of the insatiable greed of Japan, reinforced by England.

When he touched the case of Ireland he roused the case of Ireland he roused the small nationalities, subject of the various allies. Not only, he said, had he relieved his president at the hands of the peace conference. Delegates of Egypt were impudently by the British, he declared, when they sought to go to Ireland. Both they and delegates of Poland were refused even an opportunity to appear before the peace council.

"A conference that refuses to hear the delegations of subject people of the allies," he said, "is not fit to settle the affairs of any people."

Senator Borah read a part of a resolution which pledges the membership of the league to protect the territorial integrity and preserve the political independence of other members as against external aggression.

"There are 300,000,000 people in the nations which will comprise this league," he declared, "and there are 600,000,000 subject people which would be under its control. We are asked to join in this infamous bargain to keep these 800,000,000 in subjection."

"The president talked of the freedom of the seas," he continued a moment later. "But we didn't hear anything of the freedom of the seas after he got to Paris because Lloyd-George announced that the peace council would not assume jurisdiction of that question. The president says that his Scotch fighting blood is getting warm. It is a pity it wasn't aroused then."

Referring to President Wilson's declaration that the league of nations

ENGLISH VOTE NOT VITAL TO LEAGUE RULE

President Declares Unanimity of Decision Needed on All Questions.

AMERICA CAN VETO UNWARRANTED MOVE

Tells Rathdrum Crowd People Will Not Be Quitters—Small Number at Coeur d'Alene.

By the Associated Press. SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 12.—Replying here today to objections that Great Britain would have a preponderance of voting power in the league of nations assembly, President Wilson said any possible danger on that score was removed by the fact that decisions must be unanimous.

Every seat in Idaho. The speech here was the second the president made during the day. He spoke this morning at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, making an invasion of the state represented by United States Senator Borah in the senate. At Coeur d'Alene, the tent in which he spoke, was not entirely filled. Here in the army every seat was taken.

The league of nations assembly, the president declared, was "largely a debating body" and that question would not be of important question and when it did the United States with its one vote would have an "absolute veto" under the rule requiring a unanimous vote.

Has a Veto Vote

There was only one case in which the assembly could decide an important question, he said, and when such a question was unanimously referred to it by the council, the assembly also must act unanimously, he added, so that in either council or assembly the one vote of the United States would be sufficient to veto.

The unanimous rule, added the president, seemed to him the only weakness of the league, but it was a weakness in the direction of throwing a safeguard around national sovereignty.

Mr. Wilson also discussed at length proposed reservations to the treaty and asked for its unqualified acceptance.

He asked the republicans present not to "think of 1920 when thinking of the redemption of the world," adding that he himself did not for a moment believe that President Wilson departed for Tacoma where he will speak tomorrow morning.

The president, speaking of the difficulty in defining the Monroe doctrine said "The Monroe doctrine would not define the Monroe doctrine—at least I would not because I do not know how soon you may want to extend it—inasmuch as we do not want to define it, what more could you say than that nothing in that instrument shall impair the validity of the Monroe doctrine."

AMERICA HONOR BOUND

BATHING, 10a. Sept. 12.—America "is bound in honor" to see the peace treaty through, President Wilson said "because a man cannot return to his train from Coeur d'Alene. This was the third platform talk the president has made on his trip.

"There is one thing sure, the people of the United States will not be quitters," he said, and the crowd cheered.

"Nor will follow failure to ratify the peace treaty, the president declared, and America must again take up arms, adding: "America cannot now disintegrate herself."

He continued: "My visit to various parts of the country has told me that the people feel that the treaty should be ratified, where it will be most widely."

The president told the crowd that he had started on the trip to "sway ideas" with the people of the nation and said that some day when he had no strings to tie him he hoped to return to Idaho and spend some time fishing and enjoying himself.

KLONDIKE DAYS ARE NOW BEING REVIVED

Old Time Rush Is Retaining With Discovery of Dry Spout In Montana.

TWIN FALLS, Mont., Sept. 12.—Jake Cook knows gold. He is finding it with a dash of white dust in him, blood of adventures.

He was guiding J. P. Gordon, former assistant chief engineer of the Hudson Bay Railway, the two riding in a cabin on the shore of Copper Lake, about 100 miles straight north of the last jumping-off place—the end of the Canadian National Railway's steel.

One day Jake Cook stubbed his toe on a ridge in the canyon of multicolored swamps, sloughs and lakes, the auriferous of his meandering feet was interrupted. He glanced down, and the expression in his black eyes was the same as when he sees a half mousie on the ridge of his rifle.

He hurried to his cabin and brought back a pick. He swung that pick into the rusty spur of quartz and presently the dark shades of rock and earth was broken by a tawny gleam.

It was pay streak, virgin metal, four inches wide, seven feet and nobody knows how long!

Gordon, his employer, and Jake recalled that flinty ledge with all their strength. The samples they took were "fire test" and nuggets. They dug a test pit, three feet wide and three feet deep. The sides were lined with glowing patches; the bottom of it was the hue of the northern sunlight in September.

Gordon sucked as much as he could carry, after striking his outfit and gave Cook's and 12 others by the names of his friends, and loaded a canoe for the 150-mile traverse to The Pan. Mills arrived here on the "outside" started a rush that may revive the glories of Klondike days.

It was hard to get over "White Horse" pass, but it will be harder for tenderfoot prospectors to make their way into the new gold country.

An old wilderness wing the distance, it is 65 miles from The Pan to Jake Cook's cabin, but by winning waterways, with bank-breaking Tomatoes and blind channels to cheat the unwary, it is 150 miles by canoe.

Overland, through the swamp and misty country, there is no trail, and to take an outfit for even the casual kind of mining would be impossible.

Yet, under an area about 500 square miles, extending northward from Copper Lake into the wilds, it is believed to be the incalculable riches, not only of gold, but of silver, nickel, platinum, copper and less valuable ores.

Other finds have been made at Phillips Lake, Twin Lakes, Atanapocoo, and Manly Pine Point, in recent years. But none as rich as the Jake Cook pay streak.

Canoe navigation will be closed in a few weeks, when freezing weather sets in. Meanwhile only the hardiest and most experienced outdoors will be prospecting in the new frontier.

In the spring the big rush will gather itself, and the tragedies, the melodrama, the amazing luck, good and bad, of gold hunting will unfold.

An Indian started the Yukon rush and came to no good from it. Jake Cook is a white woods Indian. This is the third find uncovered as the result of his wading in the wilderness. He piloted Frank Moore, of Winnipeg, to a hole of quartz near Cranberry Lake which is said to be one of the largest on the continent. This was in 1915. Near The Pan, Cook made the Gold vein strike which will presently be exploited. Experts report that it will yield a million.

Yes, Jake Cook knows gold.

THIRTIETH IN FIRST DIVISIONAL REUNION

GREENVILLE, S. C., Sept. 12.—The Thirtieth Division Veteran association will be forged at a reunion of members of the division to be held in Greenville, September 22, and 23, Greenville to the age of Camp Sevier, where the division trained.

This will be the first reunion of an entire division returned from France. The Thirtieth Division is made up of National Guard troops from Tennessee, North and South Carolina and reinforcement troops from nearly every state in the Union.

It'll be camp life de luxe when the boys come back to Camp Sevier. Hundreds of the veterans will live in tents furnished by the war department. But the tents will be pitched on city lawns, shaded by great oaks, and there'll be no soundings of reveille.

Instead of army chow there'll be home cooking of the best that Greenville can produce. Here are some of the items: 5000 chickens, 5000 turkeys for the free meals to soldiers during the two days of the reunion; 5000 hens, 5000 dozen eggs, 5000 pounds of ham, 5000 pounds of beef, 2000 pounds of butter.

There'll be free entertainment of many sorts, for which a fund has been raised.

Major General E. M. Lewis will head the divisional parade and Major General John P. Ryan will preside over the reunion. It is hoped President Wilson will be one of the speakers. Miss Schumann-Holck will sing.

USE HAND GRENADES IN ATTACK ON STORES

Mobs in Interior of Germany Hurl Places of Business in Zuppit.

COBLENZ, Sept. 11.—Hand grenades left over from the war were used effectively recently by enraged civilians in Zuppit in West Prussia who attacked food stores on the ground that the shopkeepers were profiteering. According to information reaching American army headquarters a mob, armed with grenades, revolvers and other weapons, attacked in numbers the stores which were known to have charged high prices.

In the interior of Germany marauding has been reported recently at 6 marks per pound whereas it formerly cost 4.50 marks per pound. This is attributed to the fact that large quantities have lately been bought abroad at higher prices than formerly owing to the low rate of German exchange. The official rate of exchange for August at army headquarters is too low, 25 marks for one franc, giving the mark a value in American money of a fraction more than six cents.

MERE MAN HAS BUT LITTLE CHANCE ON ESKIMO ISLAND

UNEAU, Alaska, Sept. 12.—Mere man has little voice in governing affairs on Eskimo-inhabited Little Diomede, one of the Diomedes Islands that are cut in two by the international boundary line across the Bering Sea between Alaska and Siberia. Women and children do most of the ruling, according to reports reaching the Alaska Territorial Bureau of Publicity here. Before a man can make a purchase he must get his wife's consent. If a mother is living with a married son or daughter her consent must be obtained. Wealth is estimated in skins and the rich provide for the poor.

Official suicide is provided for when one of the natives tires of hunting seals and fishing and trapping and desires to end his existence he makes formal application to his governing body for permission to take his life.

KING GEORGE MAKES HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW GENERAL

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The London Gazette announces that the Earl of Athlone, second in the line, and personal aide de camp to the king, has been made a brigadier general. The earl is the third son of the late Duke of Teck and brother of the queen.

The first holder of the title of the Duke of Athlone was a descendant of Count Gottard Bentinck, the present host of Count Hohenzollern, at Amerongen, Holland. He took a leading part under William of Orange in winning the battle of the Boyne, regarded by some as the beginning of the present troubles in Ireland.

ANCIENT "PIT-THROW" WOMAN IN COAL FIELDS DIES

WIGAN, Eng., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Bridget McHugh, the oldest "pit-brow" woman in the Pemberton coal fields, has just died here at the age of 80 years. For more than half a century she had worked at the mines. "Old Bridget," as Mrs. McHugh was familiarly called, was a hale and hearty strong built woman who could shove in filling tubs even as well as any man and was always looked upon as an expert pit-brow worker, few being her equal.

The storied working day was unknown to her and summer or winter rain or snow, she was accustomed to leave home at five o'clock every morning, and was in her place at the coal-bank before the whistles sounded at six. Her day continued until five or six at night. Mrs. McHugh was a grandmother and two of her sons employed in the colliery where she worked so long.

Property has been purchased in Twin Falls by the L. D. S. church on which to build a church. The site just was $11,000. The purchase includes nine lots which front on Third avenue east, directly back of the First Methodist church. George W. Hammond, bishop of the Twin Falls ward, announced the purchase. At their recent conference held here it was announced that they proposed building some costly and substantial structures. Twin Falls ward has some 300 members. Plans have been drawn for the erection of a tabernacle costing between $20,000 and $25,000. Work on this building will be started without delay, and it is expected to be ready for use by next spring. A Mormon school is planned later, according to Bishop Hammond.

WAR IS DECLARED ON SINN FEINERS

Rebels Pariaimed to Be Suppressed As Well as Other Organizations Throughout Ireland.

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—Following closely upon a speech delivered by Vicecum French, lord lieutenant and governor general of Ireland, at Belfast Thursday, in which it was declared that the British government would not hesitate to resort to drastic steps to maintain law and order in Ireland, the authorities today proclaimed the suppression of the Sinn Fein parliament known as the "dull freem." It refers to the proclamation of July 3rd suppressing the Sinn Fein organization as an unlawful association. It declares the "dull freem" as a dangerous and says that since July 1st it has been employed for all the purposes of the then suppressed organization. The proclamation applies to the 32 counties and six county boroughs of Ireland.

LEGION OPPOSES RELIEF FOR HUNS

Portland, Ore., Sept. 12.—That the American Legion is opposed to the relief of the German and Austrian relief committee of the Pacific northwest, with headquarters here, was evidenced today when the executive committee of the legion announced it would offer for vote next Tuesday at a meeting a series of resolutions dealing with the relief committee.

The relief committee is declared by legion members to have accumulated a fund of $15,000 by means of donations in the northwest and to be distributing a publication in the German language which the American Legion investigators report is a successor of the Deutsche Zeitung, the German daily published in Berlin which was suppressed during the war.

The report declared that the organization should receive no support from American citizens "because of the encouragement given and opportunity afforded to persons and to agents employed in the United States to use all such organizations as a subterfuge for dissemination of propaganda inimical to the United States."

'BIG TWO' SETTLING THINGS IN PARIS NOW

PARIS, Sept. 12.—It's the Big Two now in Paris, for Lloyd George and Clemenceau is left liquid of the financial decisions in the Balkan land before the peace congress.

Nothing of an incriminating nature was found in the suppressed organization. The Gazette tonight prints the proclamation, signed by the lord lieutenant of Ireland, prohibiting and suppressing the Sinn Fein parliament known as the "dull freem." It refers to the proclamation of July 3rd suppressing the Sinn Fein organization as an unlawful association. It declares the "dull freem" as a dangerous and says that since July 1st it has been employed for all the purposes of the then suppressed organization. The proclamation applies to the 32 counties and six county boroughs of Ireland.

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE.

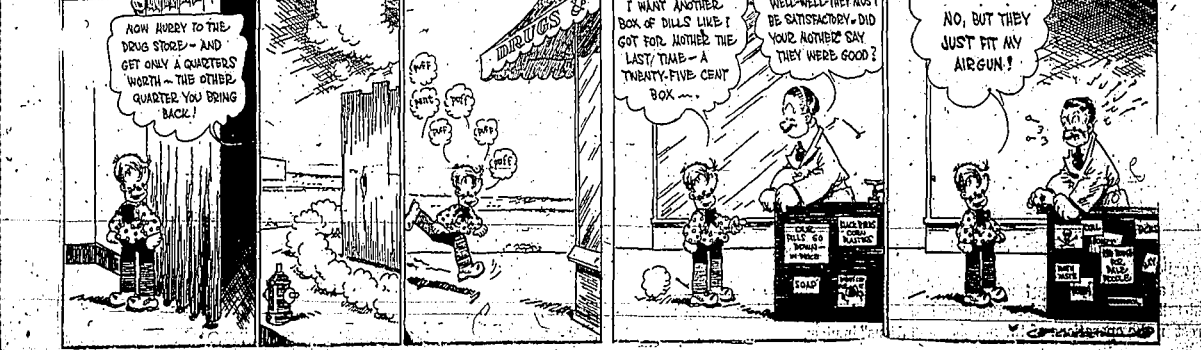

That's where the moral hazard comes in. And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also, that this bank offers you a complete banking service.

A NEW FANGLED FAMINE.

We've had famines of various kinds and character ever since those of which the bible tells us, but never one comparable perhaps to that now prevailing in nearly every city in the United States. It is a famine of moving vans.

In New York, it is said, a thousand or more families are ready to move, but cannot because of scarcity of vans. It is the same in degree in Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and elsewhere.

There were comparatively few vans built in the war period, it is said. Also, it is explained, the old horse-drawn vehicle has been supplanted by the motor van so there are few of the old vehicles left. There was less moving in the years from 1914 to 1917 inclusive than usual. Not until rents began to go sky high and overcrowding got to be a nationwide complaint did there unexpectedly come a great demand for vans. Persons who objected to advances in rents wanted to move. So did persons who had prospered. House owners who insisted on higher rents and whose tenants objected tried eviction as never before.

Real estate men say there has been more changing of quarters, or more attempt of it in the last 12 months, than the previous five years. Van men have had a harvest.

There is an axiom that three moves are as bad as a fire. City people move much more than people of towns or villages. The 1st of May used to be the great moving day of America. Then it got to be the 1st of September. At present every day is moving day in the cities of the east, and the whims of moving is restricted only by the shortage of vans.

LOST CHILD.

Nature works in mysterious ways. We worry about nature more than she worries about us.

Nature, for instance, give a baby a shrill, rasping cry so that the attending ones will have no peace until its wants are ministered unto.

A baby's cry in the night will bring more and quicker action than the voice of official command on the fields of war.

To augment the mother instinct nature endows children with lovable qualities and attractions to older ones, that they will make way for them and protect them while growing up.

The other day, down here on the street, about a three and a half year old child suddenly appeared on the corner and in the thick of the traffic.

He manifested great interest in the merchandising operations of the newsboys and stuck his nose into the hands of one boy who was counting pennies.

His beautiful yellow hair, well kept appearance and dress brought the attention of one grownup to the fact that he was unattended—lost!

The attention of one grownup brought the attention of other grownups and soon there was a whole stooping circle around the child.

And all the while he hummed and smiled and talked and continued to manifest interest in the operations of the newsboys—more than the inquiries to his name, where he lived and age.

At last someone got from him the fact that his name was Goodie—at least that's what his parents called him—and all surmised from the child's pointing and a word or two that he crawled out of an automobile down the way while his mother was in a store shopping—the child wanted a better view of that part of the world in which he found himself.

And so far as he was concerned, Goodie didn't find it bad world—it was filled with consideration for him.

Hardly one who formed the stooping circle around him but would have been willing to have taken him permanently, arid out of the number, there were doubtless those who could have given him a good home and bringing as that of his parents.

All were more concerned for the child than was nature—nature had really made the concern on the part of those grownups.

And inwardly they had more sympathy for the child's parents in the loss of their child.

Then Goodie's terror-stricken mother came up. And she cuddled Goodie and carried him away.

CRICKET VS. BASEBALL.

In a mid-western city, 26,000 fans paid to see a ball game, played by professional experts.

The next day two cricket matches were held, athletic citizens upholding the honor of the city against visiting teams. Less than 100 spectators watched the contests.

Attempts to introduce baseball in England have been unsuccessful, and Americans only smile indulgently at cricket.

Discussion of which game demands the most skill or agility would be idle; the two are "different," that's all. In England are many adult amateurs famed in the cricket field. A distinguished physician died recently. And British periodicals devoted much space to his career as a cricketer.

In America practically every normal boy is a baseball player, but only a few grow up to make it a profession or a life sport.

Cricket is leisurely; not so crowded with exciting situations. It is a conservative game, and it takes more time.

Baseball gives the American, of any station or degree, the big dose of thrills he craves. It affords harmless play for the mob spirit. It is dramatic; it has its heroes, its tragedies; its amazing turns of fortune; its fascinating "dope."

Nothing could supplant baseball in the American heart, and we are just as well satisfied that other people refuse to adopt our pastime.

Ludendorff will speak of the "success" of German submarine operations. If that be success give us a dose of failure every time!

Women are organizing to fight profiteers. Among furies, the housewife stung is not to be lightly regarded.

The Blue and the Gray have been woven into khaki without destroying a single memory of either.

Winning a baseball pennant in the fall is a more difficult undertaking than doing it in the spring.

It isn't as much fun waiting for the first frost as it was looking for the first robin last spring.

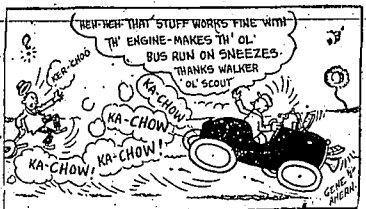

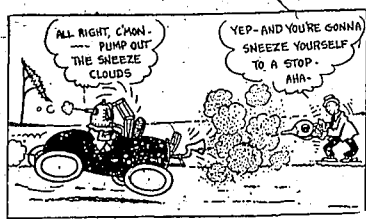

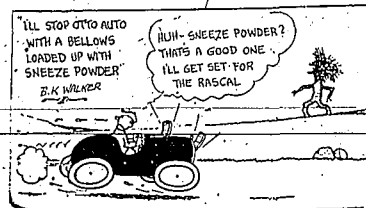

Maybe Jack Pershing timed his arrival with the idea of the world's series in mind.

Remedy for the high cost of living: Stop talking. Act square. And work like hell.

Congress is too busy doing nothing to do much of anything else.

A job on hand is better than two "positions" in view.

HUNS GIVE CHILD TO LORD NORTHCLIFFE

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Germans credit Lord Northcliffe, British publisher, with a big part in the winning of the war. Says Tiedtke Rundschau: "His conduct of English propaganda during the war will some day find its place in history as a performance hardly to be surpassed. The Northcliffe propaganda during the war not only correctly estimated the mentality of the English people but quite as correctly the character and intellectual peculiarities of the Germans."

Borah Calls Wilson

tant disarrangement of nations, Borah ridiculed the idea.

"Why today?" he said. "England is building two warships where she built one before. England is raising a million men for her army who she had 100,000, and by conception."

—In time of peace. The secretary of war opposed universal military training until this league of peace came in sight. Now he favors it. Now he favors a standing army of 500,000 men and a reserve of 400,000 more.

armies? I can tell you. England has already sent to the secretary of state a request for 125,000 American babies to go to Constantinople. American boys are now in Russia. All England has to do is to suggest."

Borah repeatedly declared that the real issue between friends and opponents of the league of nations is a difference between those who would betray the American republic and those who would defend it.

Senator Borah spoke in the municipal auditorium where President Wilson delivered his speech for the league Monday. Nearly 2,000 persons heard the president and 1,500 less listened to the senator. Borah's audience was composed about equally of those favoring and those against the league.

ITALIANS WOULD BUY COAL FROM SOUTHERN RUSSIA

ROME, Sept. 12 - The Italian government is trying to obtain coal from Southern Russia so as to alleviate the shortage of a winter without a source of heat. Two commercial embassies have been sent to the vast lands of the Donetz in Southern Russia where Italian experts estimated there were untouched coal lands that would yield 27,000,000,000 tons. The experts also say there are 174,000,000,000 tons of coal in Siberia or in parts of Urals outside of the Donetz basin. It is calculated that if the coal supply of Southern Russia were properly exploited the territory would furnish all the coal necessary for the Mediterranean countries. Coal for Italy is now quoted at $5.50 at Norfolk, Va., but it costs $30 a ton to bring it to Genoa.

JOHNSON ASKS REJECTION OF PEACE TREATY

Tells Large Crowd at St. Louis It Would Give America to Britain and Japan.

ALLIES SEEK TO HOLD SPOILS GAINED BY WAR

Wonders Why President Has Not Explained English Six Votes to One for America.

By the Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 12.—When Senator William W. Johnson of California stepped on the stage of the coliseum to plead for the defeat of the league of nations covenant in its present form, he was given a reception that lasted 15 minutes. The coliseum was packed to the doors and hundreds were turned away.

As soon as Senator Johnson made his appearance the crowd rose to its feet, waved flags and cheered. Finally the band struck the unusual demonstration by playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Democrat Introduced Him.

The crowd introduced "what's the matter with Johnson, he's all right!" for several minutes. Then Dr. John A. Simond, a prominent Quaker, rose to introduce Senator Johnson. President Wilson spoke from the same platform a week ago.

"The United States senate today stands between you and your liberties," said Senator Johnson in beginning his address. "In my brief career I have never failed to accept a challenge from an opponent whether he be a president or a humble private citizen."

American Never Quit.

"I want to deny Mr. Wilson's charge that the American people are quitters if they refuse to approve the league of nations. The American people never quit. When Mr. Wilson went to Paris to demand his fourteen points and demands without them the American people did not quit, somebody else quit."

Crowd Brought to Feet.

Senator Johnson brought the crowd to its feet cheering when he declared: "The real question in this controversy is whether we are to do our duty as we see it in the future or whether we are to be subject to the will of Great Britain and Japan."

The crowd hissed several times when Great Britain was mentioned by the speaker.

"The real purpose of the league of nations is to guarantee the things that the peace treaty provides," Senator Johnson said. "Our allies want us to protect the spoils given them by the peace treaty. That was what the president insisted on combining into one document the peace treaty and the league of nations."

Cries of "No."

"Did the president, when he was here, explain why Great Britain was given six votes in the league of nations and the United States only one? There were shouts of "no."

"Of course he didn't, and he never will because he can't," said the senator.

There were hisses when the speaker said the president had declared that article 10 of the league of nations was only a moral obligation.

"The Monroe doctrine is handed over to the unstable foreign powers by Mr. Wilson and his league of nations," said Senator Johnson. "We don't have to become the partners of barbarians simply because we can't prevent burglary."

PE-RU-NA

Worth Its Weight In Gold

You cannot mistake the words of Mr. W. W. Northrup, of 989 Fourth Street, Sioux City, Iowa. He is a creditable and intelligent man, and the merits of PE-RU-NA and wants everyone to know it. Here is a recent letter from him:—

"PE-RU-NA is worth its weight in gold and more so. I used to think it only a woman's remedy but have changed my mind. I had a cough, especially in the morning. After using half a bottle of PE-RU-NA you much better. I would cough up chunks of albumen mucus, my eyes felt sore and burning. Judging from the symptoms given in your pamphlet it was catarrh. My stomach is in much better condition since using your medicine."

"Use this testimonial, if you will. Don't hesitate to advertise the merits of PE-RU-NA."
(Signed) W. W. NORTHROP.

There are thousands just like Mr. Northrup, skeptical at first but convinced by a trial of PE-RU-NA. DON'T BE AN UNBELIEVER. If you find it of a catarrhal nature, try PE-RU-NA, then tell your friends. It is safe after an attack of grip or Spanish Flu.
