GOMPERS CONSIDERS STRIKE OF THE POLICE

Refuses to Comment On Whether Delay In Steel Workers Strike Result of His Effort

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, returning to his office at the federation headquarters, went over the situation arising from the police strike in Boston and the proposed nation-wide steel workers' strike September 22, but refused absolutely to comment on either.

The work of Mr. Gompers was seen in the decision of the United Mine Workers convention at Cleveland to support a movement to delay the steel workers' walkout. In requesting that the mine workers make this decision, Mr. Gompers forwarded a letter from President Johnson of the International Machinists' association, favoring postponement of the strike.

At federation headquarters today it was said that the steel situation was particularly delicate from a labor standpoint, in that strikes can only be called or settled by the unions directly involved. Labor federation officials have no power to take any action or issue any orders, though they may give "advice and assistance" and this may be particularly influential.

Mr. Gompers activities are consequently only taken in his capacity of advisor, and the frequent representations that the strike is being called off by him, it was said, caused considerable embarrassment.

TWO ART KILLED IN WILSON PARTY ON COLUMBIA HIGHWAY

By the Associated Press. PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—An automobile containing members of the party accompanying President Wilson on a scenic trip over the Columbia highway near here shortly after noon today, overturned, killing two men and injuring three. It was the first accident of serious nature to occur during the president's tour of the country.

The president sent this telegram to Mrs. Allen, wife of one of the victims, in Washington: "Our hearts go out to you in deepest sympathy in the tragical death of your husband, whom we all esteemed and trusted. It will be missed as a true friend and a man who always intelligently sought to do his duty."

By the Associated Press. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 15.—New Haven's three afternoon newspapers went to press this afternoon without the assistance of the regular editorial staff. LEAGUE WAR TRUST IS JOHNSON CLAIM

Delegates Men in Power Who Violate Constitution Are Breeds of Bolshevism. By the Associated Press. DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 15.—In two addresses delivered here tonight, Senator Hiram J. Johnson of California described the league of nations covenant as "a gigantic war trust."

The principal meeting was held in the Coliseum, the largest hall in the city, where President Wilson spoke a week ago. The hall was crowded and Senator Wilson was given an enthusiastic reception.

Occupying seats on the stage were: Mayor Thomas Fairweather, W. C. Ramsey, secretary of state; E. B. Hoyt, state treasurer, and C. A. Hanson, republican state chairman.

"When men in power violate the Constitution they are breeders of Bolshevism," said Senator Johnson. "This menace is bred in the breast of nations whose sons were drilled to fight against Germany, but were shot down in Russia, a country with which the United States is not at war."

STEEL STRIKE DEPENDS ON DECISION OF UNION COMMITTEE

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—Whether the strike in the steel industry, called for Monday will be deferred until after the industrial conference announced by President Wilson to be held in Washington October 6th, will depend upon the action of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers meeting here Wednesday.

Because of the absence of Councilman Ostrander and Breckenridge the regular meeting of council could not be held last evening. A meeting will be held Monday evening.

MASON POLICE ARE TO DISSOLVE UNION

Members Also Affected—Orders Come From the Civil Service Commission. By the Associated Press. MACON, Sept. 15.—Acting on a demand by Mason citizens today at a mass meeting, the city civil service tonight called upon police and firemen here to dissolve their union membership.

Members of the firemen's union announced they would "only be put out with guns" while the commissioners were hooted by the police when the order was presented.

Mayor Avert Higer, Walkout. "BOSTON," Sept. 15.—"There were grounds for hope tonight that a general strike in sympathy with the police who quit their posts last Tuesday would be averted. There were found, largely in the sentiment which favored reciprocity to the courts in an effort to have the strikers reinstated."

The judge declared that he had received various letters of comment on the case, some of which praised his conduct and a few which criticized his decision. He declared that all of the hostile letters were anonymous, while the complimentary communications had signatures.

NEGRO KILLED IN RIOT IN NEW YORK BY POLICEMAN

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—One negro was killed, two injured and a patrolman wounded tonight in a riot between negroes and whites which broke out early this morning at 137th street and Lenox avenue, in the heart of the Negro section. TOWNLEY IS GIVEN 90 DAYS IN JAIL

Gilbert Receives Additional Sentence—Judge Denounces Non-Partisan League. By the Associated Press. JACKSON, Minn., Sept. 15.—Ninety days in the Jackson county jail—the limit under the statute—was the sentence imposed by District Judge T. S. Dean tonight on A. C. Townley, president of the National Non-Partisan League, and Joseph Gilbert, former organization manager, who were convicted July 12 of having conspired to teach a strike.

Judge Dean granted a stay of sentence of 60 days when the defense moved for a "new trial" on the ground of error in the record. If the motion is denied, an appeal will be taken to the state supreme court.

Prosecutor Nichols and Judge Dean both went on record as declaring the charges that they had been politically active against the league, or prohibited on other grounds, were "contemptuous lies" and were circulated "for the purpose of distracting attention from the conviction by a jury of farmers."

"Any organization that is built upon falsehood will not long survive," said Judge Dean, referring to the Non-Partisan League.

QUOTES LODGE AS FAVORING LEAGUE IN '16

Wilson, Asserts Chief Opponent's Suggestion Carried Out in Present Covenant.

FOLLOWED SUGGESTIONS OF THE REPUBLICANS

United States Does Not Want Favored Position Is Executive's Contention in Portland Address.

By the Associated Press. PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—Quoting from an address made in 1915 by Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, suggesting that nations must unite as men unite to preserve peace, President Wilson told a Portland audience tonight that the league of nations covenant carried out what Mr. Lodge had suggested. It was the first time since his speaking tour that Mr. Wilson had mentioned by name any of the senators opposing the league.

At the subject of the United States, he added, a reservation also had been put in giving the members the right to withdraw.

Most of these suggestions said the president had come from republican sources.

No Respect Withdrawal. Saying he meant no disrespect to the league opponents, Mr. Wilson stated another subject of "cheering" when he added that the "had no respect whatever" for some of the "very few men" were proposing that the covenant be changed to give the United States "a position of special privilege."

"That," he asserted, was directly contrary to American principles, because the nation had entered the war largely to fight for the principles of the equality of nations.

Germany, said the president, was taking heart at the possibility that the United States might be induced to refuse to guarantee the peace settlement. To that end, he asserted, "pro-German propaganda" again was becoming active in the league.

War Mothers Want Country. Mr. Wilson said the sometimes wondered what there he who applies the man who set with him at the table, mentioning Mrs. Robert Coe, General Squires and others, and declaring there was unanimous and sincere agreement that the league was necessary to guarantee the peace settlement.

Through misrepresentation and every other vile thing," he declared, "I shall fight my way to that goal." Mr. Wilson paid a tribute to the man who set with him at the table, mentioning Mrs. Robert Coe, General Squires and others, and declaring there was unanimous and sincere agreement that the league was necessary to guarantee the peace settlement.

SETTLERS WIN A VICTORY IN SALMON CASE

Decision Just Received Here Ends Long Drawn Out Litigation.

DOUBTS AUTHORITY TO CUT DOWN PROJECT

Intervenor, Represented By Attorney Hackman, Receive Little Mention in Award By Judge.

Copies of the decision rendered Saturday in the case of A. E. Caldwell and others against the Twin Falls Salmon River Land and Water Company.

Several studies, Dietrich has just received in Twin Falls.

The decision is a complete victory for the plaintiffs, settlers on the Salmon tract.

It terminates a long drawn out legal controversy in favor of the settlers in 1916 by the late C. G. Longley of Twin Falls. After the decision was modified by the circuit court of appeals at San Francisco, the settlers employed Judge James R. Howell, who, at that time, had recently resigned as judge of this district.

Judge Howell immediately took up the fight on behalf of his clients and carried the contest to the state board of land commissioners at Boise, the local land office at Halley, to the commissioner of the general land office at Washington, and through the United States district court of the northern division for Idaho, with the result as above stated.

The questions determined at this time are:

- 1. Duty of water.
 - 2. Average yearly water supply.
 - 3. Interest of respective settlers in the available water supply.
 - 4. Amount who shall be charged.
- Approximately $20,000.00 expended during the current year in altering the check basin.

Present Status of Case.

In referring to the present status of the case the court says:

"The cause has been once before partially tried and upon appeal the interlocutory decree then entered was modified with directions for further proceedings. Unfortunately the hope expressed by the appellate court has not been realized, and that has brought little solace either to the farmers or the bondholders, and apparently little light to the courts and other tribunals to which the parties have resorted for relief. The facts set forth in the reported opinions need not be repeated, and a brief review of subsequent proceedings will disclose the present status of the controversy. Apparently the reasons easily understood by anyone appreciating the difficulties attending the solution of the problem involved, both sides have been comparatively inactive. The mandate from the circuit court of appeals, given October 25, 1917, and on January 3, 1918, the defendant suggests its motion for a modification of the decree in accordance with the direction thereof. This motion was granted, and an order vacating the injunctive provision of the original decree was entered February 4, 1918. Presumably recognizing the waste of time and without objection submitted to the entry of an order on April 22, 1918, restraining it from commencing additional suits. It has also invoked the pendency of this action as a protection against damage suits brought or threatened by the farmers. Efforts to work out a settlement out of court having been unsuccessful, the parties brought the cause on for hearing in June, 1919, at which time, during the progress of the trial, it became necessary to have further postponement in order to enable the defendants to adduce certain additional evidence. A few of the settlers, appearing by separate counsel, were permitted to intervene (Feb. 10, 1919), but the intervention brings no new issue into the case. Of more importance are the matters exhibited by the defendant's supplemental answer, filed June 30, 1919.

It will be recalled that a few settlers intervened in this action, following by their counsel, F. E. Holsman, of Twin Falls, and contending that the trustees should foreclose its deed of trust against the land and water company, before attempting to foreclose upon the assigned contracts, and that in any event the trustees could not foreclose against the entryman until patent was issued from the United States government to the state of Idaho. In disposing of the contention of the intervenors the court said:

"The intervenors bring no new issue into the case. Of more importance are the matters exhibited by the defendant's supplemental answer, filed June 30, 1919.

HOOVER REACHES NEW YORK; COMPLETES HIS WORK ABROAD

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Herbert Hoover, former director general of the allied relief, came home today after five years' service abroad, during the five years away from my family which he distributed more than 600 steamship cargoes, or 3,215,965 tons of foodstuffs valued at $70,750,000 to starving Europe.

"I hope never to go back to Europe again," he declared in a statement soon after he landed from the Aquitania. "Since August, 1914, I have devoted my entire time and energy to war work and with the exception for pleasure driving.

Check Basin Construction. As to the manner in which the check basin controversy came before the court, the decision contains the following:

"During the hearing here upon the merits, both parties applied for restraining orders, the plaintiffs to prevent the collection of the charges and the defendants to prevent the plaintiffs from presenting an application pending in the state court to require defendants to furnish water to those who refused to pay and upon consideration an order was made in effect substantially as that of the state board and the question now submitted is whether or not the expense in question can properly be recovered from the settlers as a maintenance in charges."

After an extended reference to the contract between the state of Idaho and the Land and Water company and the Federal Act, concludes by saying that accordingly "it must be held that the expense of the present work is chargeable to construction rather than to maintenance."

Work Through Negotiation. The court expresses a hope that the problems may be worked out through negotiation. This it thought to be very significant since it was suggested by the attorneys for the plaintiffs at the argument of the case, that a solution of all of the controversy between the settlers, the bondholders and the Land and Water company could be effected through an irrigation district, that is, that whatever work of production found to be legal and feasible by the court could be adopted on behalf of the settlers, providing an irrigation district was formed. The court used the following language:

"It is not unlikely that with a binding determination of the meaning of the contracts and the amount of water available and its reasonable duty, the several parties, following the leading of their own self-interest, will work the problems out through negotiation, in such a way that the water may be economically used by applying it to a compact body, rather than to scattered tracts of land. Clearly such a solution would be to the interest of the defendants and the settlers as a whole, and when it is once conclusively determined what rights the excluded settlers have and who must bear the burden of relinquishing such rights, if any, there are, the task will have been greatly simplified.

"I hope never to go back to Europe again," he declared in a statement soon after he landed from the Aquitania. "Since August, 1914, I have devoted my entire time and energy to war work and with the exception for pleasure driving.

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE.

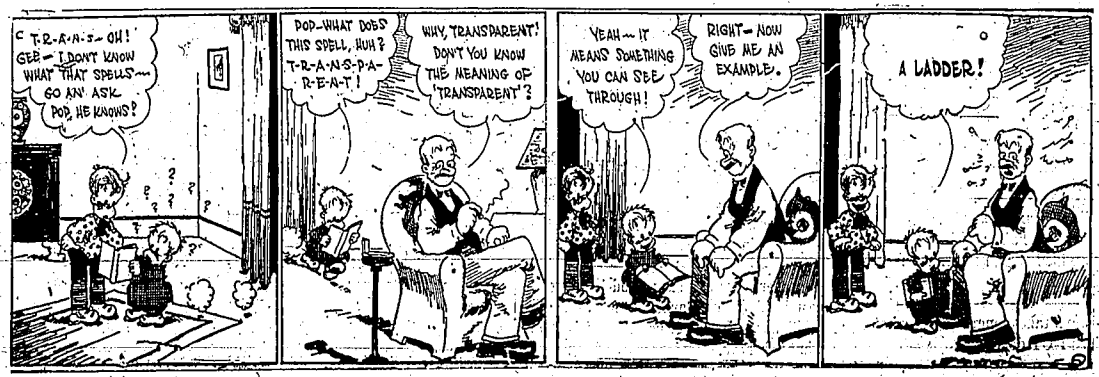

That's where the moral hazard comes in.

And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also, that this bank offers you a complete banking service.

HOMES BY EMINENT DOMAIN.

Part of the state socialist regime of North Dakota is a law which is said to operate as follows:

Any ten men desiring homes may go anywhere and take land, under the right of eminent domain, and have it financed with state funds up to a limit of $10,000. The homeseeker may thus settle down wherever it suits his fancy, provided he finds nine other men who approve his choice and are willing to co-operate with him. The owner, be he farmer or city dweller, is obliged to sell. His own private desire is of no avail.

There is a good deal of opposition to this law among North Dakota land-owners. It is now being fought in the courts on the ground that it is unconstitutional. It has stirred up a controversy in the Non-Partisan league, which is responsible for its adoption.

It certainly does look radical. A farmer does not want a choice piece of land cut right out of his farm merely because some other man wants it and because a paternal state is willing to help him pay for it. Private ownership is generally interpreted as safeguarding the owner against private invasion, on any pretext whatever.

This plan is, of course, based on the socialistic, anti-private-ownership principle of nationalization of land. It is a long step toward the Russian soviet plan. North Dakota has adopted it. Other states seem well content, for the present at least, to stick to more conservative policies and let venturesome North Dakota do the experimenting.

THE INCREASING G. A. R.

An incident at the same time amusing and pathetic occurred at the national G. A. R. encampment at Columbus, O., when the reports from the various departments showed the membership in all branches of the G. A. R. had increased during the past year.

The steady depletion in the ranks of these old men has brought tears to the eyes of every onlooker at their parades and gatherings in recent years. It seems odd now that additional membership should be reported. But is this not the explanation? Many veterans of the civil war never joined the Grand Army. But these last two or three years have stirred patriotism anew in every old as well as young breast. Undoubtedly many a man, for some personal reason, has never added his name to the roster, suddenly decided to make himself known as one who also served and loved his country, and so applied for membership at the nearest post. A sort of public confession of faith, one might say.

At the best, these old men are passing fast. It is a pleasure to know that there are more of them still living than had been supposed.

The Pan-German league clamors for the return of the kaiser. The peace treaty have provided for an international sanitary commission.

It always takes longer to tell what congress has NOT done.

CURB THE SPENDERS.

According to the New York Times, there are "four major lines of business activity which report general prosperity—jewelry, musical instruments, automobiles and tobacco—all non-essentials."

When non-essentials are in greater demand than essentials, as they seem to be in many communities, it is hard to resist the conviction that popular extravagance has about as much to do with high cost of living as has a spirit of profiteering. In fact, extravagance plainly encourages that spirit. When dealers in necessities of life see people frittering away their money with such abandon on mere luxuries, they are more than ready to be blamed for piling on more profit than usual.

Says the Washington Herald:

"The cheaper cuts of meat do not move any faster than the better cuts double in price.

"Shop-girls are shod in latest style shoes, whether they cost $5 or $15 a pair.

"The traveling public demands the best and finest hotels have to offer, whether the price be $3 a day or $30.

"The cafes and cabarets and grills and similar resorts are as thronged as ever, and the cheaper restaurants, where the serving of food is the main business, do not gain in popularity.

"Nobody that is 'anybody' quits joy-riding when tires are boosted 50 per cent.

"The higher the tax is, the more dense the crowd becomes around the counter."

This may be overdrawn, but there is plenty of truth in it. Not everybody has been extravagant, but the nation as a whole has been indulging in an orgy of thriftless indulgence and careless buying for which poor people and people formerly in "comfortable circumstances" are now paying.

While curbing the profiteers, it is also to curb the spenders.

PERSHING PHILOSOPHY.

"I don't let anything worry me," says General Pershing. "I do a good day's work, and when it is finished I go to bed. And what is more, I go to sleep."

More words from the wise. General Pershing has plenty of things to worry him if he were of a mind to let them. While he was abroad he must have carried heavy mental-burdens. He might have worried himself into his grave. There must have been many a day when he could not accomplish the thing that seemed vital. It took courage to send his young men by the thousand into the apparently hopeless mazes of the Argonne forest, to know how they fell like grain before the reaper at Chateau Thierry. It is not easy to determine that brave men must die.

Waiting for supplies that never came must have tried his patience and his nerve more times than history will tell. Every decision he made was freighted with responsibility.

Besides all this tax upon him as a soldier he has personal sorrows of the kind which tend to pull the eyes wide into the dark. Yet here is his philosophy:

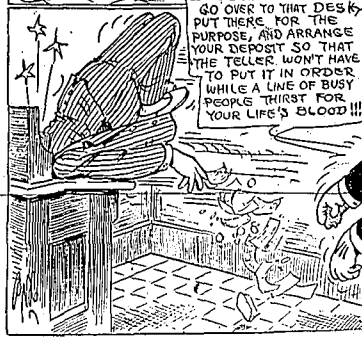

To refrain from worry, to do a good day's work, and at the end of it, go to bed and sleep.

It is a master recipe for insomnia. Some of the nervous people who complain of wakefulness should study it carefully. It is a creed of deliberate intention, and what is more, anybody who chooses to live by it can do so.

The Fat Lady and the Wild Man of Borneo in a Maine carnival struck for more pay to meet the H. C. L., but the Live Skeleton seems to have found competition too keen to join the strikers.

Practically every frame building on the beach front was destroyed together with most of the boats moored

North Beach section was in serious danger, scores of volunteers plunged through-the-mud, helping occupants of the beach cottages to safety.

Many left their homes early Sunday morning and came into the business district, but scores remained until there was great difficulty in getting women and children out.

Patients Are Rescued. Thirty-five patients were in the Spauldine sanitarium and all were rescued.

The building was half destroyed. The soldiers undergoing treatment at the public health service hospital of the North Beach were not removed and the hospital tonight is caring for 250 refugees, women and children.

The damage in the business district was done by the high tide and the driving rain which came through north windows, blown in by the gale. Nearly all the windows on the north side of the Nuoves hotel were broken and the water at one time was four feet deep in the hotel lobby.

The DuVillion hotel was swept away, but Mrs. Baker is the only occupant known to have perished.

Train On Way North. Fear for towns on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad, the south of here were dispelled tonight by the railroad report that a train was on its way north. It is not believed the full violence of the storm extended more than a few miles inland from the coast near here.

There has been no communication with Port Aransas since Sunday morning, when a message to the weather bureau here said that the inhabitants of the town had gone to the mainland Saturday night, leaving only the coast guard on the island. There is an unconfirmed report that all docks and shipping at Port Aransas were destroyed.

THAT'S THE MEET HERE DURING INSTITUTE WEEK

Announcement was made yesterday by County Superintendent of Schools Harrison Wells that the county teachers organization will meet in Twin Falls on October 14 at a time of the convening here of the teachers institute. Plans for the meeting will be made shortly. It is hoped to invite this meeting a potent factor in the drive for letter schools in this county.

We have installed new machinery of the most modern type, and have filled the type cases with types of the latest style. We have our own stereotyping plant, and receive an illustrating service which enables us to make cuts for the illustration of the printing we do.

The character of these illustrations is shown in the news and advertising columns of The Chronicle.

Sharp, clean printing adds to the printed message. And that's the sort you get at the Chronicle job rooms.

Mr. Lumberjack Will Have to Hustle

Lumbermen Must Turn Out Ten Billion More Feet a Year to Meet Demand for Home Building

MR. LUMBERJACK will have to hustle! That is the publicly expressed opinion among the experts in every line of business connected with building. They say among other things:

That the demand for homes in the United States is nationwide.

That 800,000 homes should have been built in the normal rate in the last two years and that only 500,000 were actually built, leaving a shortage that is estimated at fully 750,000 homes.

That from 500,000 to 750,000 homes must be now built nearly to make up the shortage and to get back to the normal rate.

That 50,000,000 feet of lumber, board measure, will have to be cut yearly, instead of 40,000,000 feet, which is the normal rate.

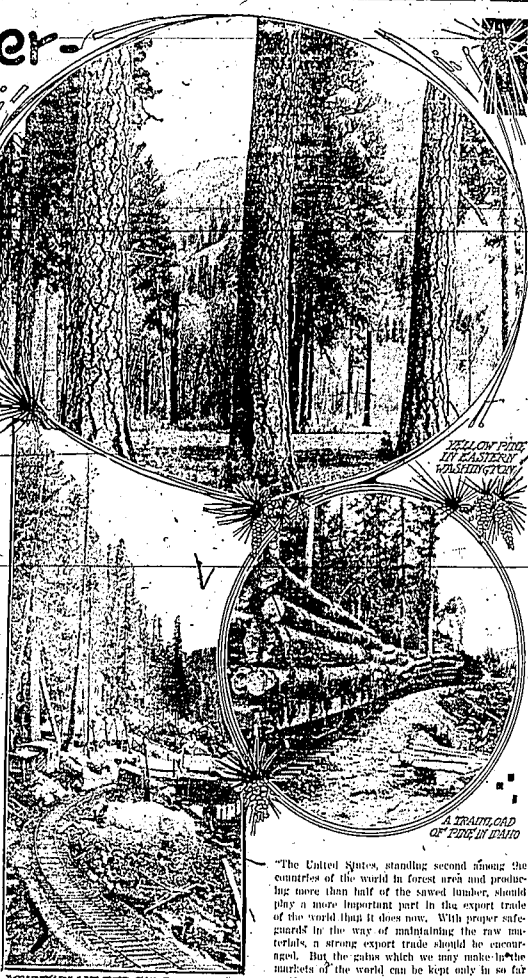

That an increase in the lumber output of 10,000,000 feet a year will certainly make the lumberjack hustle.

The experts do not agree as to figures in all cases. That it is evident that the shortage in lumber is very large. At the recent real estate convention in Atlantic City, important housing facilities were reported from all parts of the country and the shortage in homes was put at 1,000,000.

Again, it should be remembered that the ordinary demands of manufacturers for lumber are not to be met.

That the demand of devastated Europe for lumber will undoubtedly stimulate export from this country.

While all the lumberjacks of the country will have to hustle, it looks as if the biggest activity will be demanded from the lumberjacks of the Pacific coast, where most of the lumber comes from nowadays.

MOUNTAIN LUMBER CAMP IN IDAHO

The United States, standing second among the nations in the world in forest area and producing more than half of the saved lumber, should play a more important part in the export trade of the world than it is doing now.

Europe's emergency need for lumber, above its consumption in normal times, is put at about 7,000,000,000 feet of lumber a year for the near future, a conservative estimate; and her own forests have been depleted by the war.

Europe, however, needs cheap lumber above all, and our product will not be attractive for the principal needs of reconstruction, according to Colonel Graves. Nevertheless, the world situation in lumber, he says, offers an undoubted opportunity for a permanent export trade from this country of proportions that would seem to be limited only by our own powers to sustain the production of raw material.

Senator Sherman presented to the senate the other day a memorial from the Illinois legislature, which was in part as follows:

"Whereas the wood-using industries not depending upon uncertain local forest supplies have become centered to a very large extent in the thickly populated districts east of the Mississippi river and are drawing their supplies from the remaining forests in the eastern states, the cultivation and the states adjacent to the Great Lakes.

"A large number of such industries are located in the state of Illinois, with the city of Chicago the center of a very large and important group. Chicago has for many years been the chief lumber distribution point of the United States and the greatest point of lumber distribution in the world.

"These important industries, including the manufacture of railway cars, boxes, crates and doors, farm machinery, furniture, pianos, vehicles, and many other articles, are now threatened by the exhaustion of the forests from which their supplies have been drawn. They now face the necessity of having timber from the Pacific coast with heavy freight charges added to the cost.

"To the same, Pacific coast supply the country must look for lumber for general construction purposes. The transportation system of the country must add to its present burden the transportation of very large quantities of lumber, a bulky product upon which a high freight rate greatly increases the cost to the consumer.

"Resolved, That the Fifty-first general assembly of the state of Illinois urges the attention of the senate and the congress of the United States to the present timber situation and recommends that, without delay, there be formulated such a national program of forestry as will insure the future timber supplies required by the industries of the country. As an example of what should be done, this general assembly points to the wise course of the Republic of France in its managing its forests for more than a century that they contributed substantially to the winning of the great war.

"It is further urged that the federal government, acting independently or in cooperation with the states, inaugurate action looking toward such measure of public control of the remaining bodies of original timber as will make sure that their supplies will be available as needed by the industries.

"It is furthermore urged that comprehensive plans be put into effect for restoring the forest on cut-over lands which are nonagricultural in character in the eastern states, in the states bordering the Great Lakes and the South, in order that timber supplies from these regions may be available to the established industries of the central and eastern states."

"The situation, Colonel Graves holds, is one of ominous possibilities. 'Most of the leading industrial nations of the world,' he says, 'whether lightly wooded and dependent upon imports or heavily wooded and exporters, are taking steps to safeguard and develop their timber resources. The United States alone appears to be content to build up a great export trade without considering the ultimate effect upon domestic timber resources and their capacity in the future to supply the home market.'

Sound public policy does not, however, necessarily demand the discouragement of exports.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Alleviate Itches.

Almost everyone knows that Sage and Sulphur, properly compounded, bring back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Yours is the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by using an anti-dandruff store for "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darken your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray application is over. Your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Girls' Canning Club Shows the Practical Side of Club Work

I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living for my club, by community and my country."

Girls of Twin Falls county, especially those living in the smaller towns and in the rural communities, who are interested in canning clubs, have demonstrated that a pledge such as the above can be strictly adhered to by the members.

There are a number of girls' canning clubs in this county. The work is part of the big program that is being carried out by the boys and girls clubs of the United States to make their effort practical and fruitful of results.

Three of these clubs stand out above the others, the Filer Canning club under the leadership of Miss May Graybill, the Springs Canning club of the Springs district, and Mrs. Bryant's club of Twin Falls.

to carry off first honors at Boise, but I have just recently attended many contests in which teams with which you will compete intelligently, and I wish to assure you that the team that wins at Boise will have to defeat the Filer organization."

The Filer girls have been working overtime perfecting their demonstrations.

honors of developing this practical work, according to A. O'Reilly, county club leader. He declares, "I am glad to supervise the work, but the local club leaders are the ones who have devoted time without pay to make better canners—better cooks, so that these girls will make better home-canned. The same conditions obtain with regards to the other clubs, the success is due to the leaders."

be demonstrated at the forthcoming county fair at Filer. It will mean a contest in the 7th citizens who participated in the last excursion on August 27, and it is anticipated that several hundred more will witness the work at the county exhibition.

The girls work with a precision that is enlightening to those witnessing the demonstration. Each step of the process is done quickly and but little hustle or hurry. The girls know why they do each thing—and they give their reasons for each step.

The Filer club won first place at the contest last month, the Springs girls were next, and those of Mrs. Bryant's finished last. An account of the last named club out of a higher place, but they have made a record in another line that far exceeds that of their competitors in the contest—the three girls have put up 324 jars of fruit this year. winning the honors at the county fair. One of the features of these girls' work was the condition of a song composed by the members themselves. Singing is becoming a prominent part of the work of the various clubs, leaders asserting that it creates an interest in the activity that it creates an interest and maintains an enthusiasm that otherwise is obtained.

One of the "crucial" points by the Springs girls that makes a bit follows: "We'll bring our fruit to the county fair,

And we hope the prize to win
Shook white beans and corn we want
To demonstrate our work in
Then comes the chorus:
We thank Mr. O'Reilly for the Pledge he's shown
Teaching us this new science
And when we are settled in homes of
Our own
Our canning we will not shirk."

And when we are settled in homes of our own
Our canning we will not shirk."

TREATY FIGHT TO START ON FRIDAY

Johnson Amendment—Expected to Precipitate Debate—On "Open-Door-Every-Day."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The German peace treaty, with its league of nations covenant, was called up today in the senate, but plans of the senate and individual senators were considered as precluding any actual work on the pact until next week.

While the treaty was put before the senate to be considered in open session continuously until ratified or rejected, there apparently was no disposition to speed it along until after the interruption of business by the funeral ceremonies Wednesday and Thursday. Senator Sherman, republican, Illinois, will take up most of the time of the session tomorrow with an attack on the league covenant and Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, who has been speaking in the west against it, will speak Friday.

The reading of the treaty, section by section, hardly is expected, therefore, to begin until Monday. The league covenant comes first, and right at the "beginning" almost is the amendment by Senator Johnson, republican, Illinois, which would give the United States the same voting power as Great Britain.

How much time the senate would take in considering this amendment, members today declined to say, although the general view was that nearly every one on the republican side might want to express opinions regarding it. It was suggested that Senator Johnson, who is on a speaking tour, might return in time to take personal charge of the fight to equate the voting clause.

When the senate begins real work on the treaty it will be taken up every day at two o'clock. Its consideration cannot be set aside to take up other legislation except by majority vote; senators however were urged today that no attempt would be made to delay it, because of the general desire to dispose of it finally without any word of time. How soon this may be was a question of wide divergence of opinion, some members expressing belief that the treaty would be a daily topic of discussion until some time in November.
