

BOTH FORCES PREPARE FOR STEEL STRIKE

Labor and Capital Ready for Test of Strength—Each Side Confident.

UNIONS WILL NOT LET MEN PROTECT PROPERTY

Everybody to Be Called Out, Letting Furnace Fires Die, Declare the Leaders.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—Preparations for a test of strength between organized labor and capital in the steel industry throughout the United States to begin Monday, went forward today with both sides apparently confident of the outcome.

Representatives of steel companies in the Pittsburgh district let it be known that they intend to operate their plants Monday and also let the impression go out that they do not look for a large walkout as the union leaders assert will take place.

Monday only can tell, they said.

Steel companies in many cases are understood to have canvassed their men to get an idea of the number of men who will strike.

All the national leaders of unions involved in the strike had left the city tonight for their respective headquarters to make final plans for the strike and much activity about the strike of the steel workers national committee had to do with the preparations in the Pittsburgh district.

While national headquarters are in this city, in charge of William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee, it was learned that much of the work will be conducted by district, these districts and the men in charge, Mr. Foster said, are as follows:

Chicago, E. J. Evans; Cleveland, H. W. Hulse; Huntington, J. E. McCadden; Iron, Pittsburgh, J. E. Eastman; Outer Pittsburgh, J. McCale; Bethlehem, David Williams; Buffalo, H. C. Thompson; Birmingham, A. E. S. Ingram; Pueblo, Colo., W. H. Young.

Reports of strike developments were made to the district and if important enough, will be forwarded to national headquarters.

Mr. Foster in answer to queries said that all men in non-union mills have been asked to strike. None will be left to produce property, such as keeping up furnace fires and prevent ore from cooling, he said.

WILSON IS NOT TO RUN AGAIN NEXT YEAR

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 19.—When the presidential special stopped for a few minutes at Oceanic, Cal., an old man told Mr. Wilson that he was for the league of nations, and added: "I am a Republican, but I voted for you last time and I will vote for you again."

"No, I am not hankering for trouble," replied the president with a laugh. "Well, it looks like you are the only one who will stand for American principles, and you have already borne more trouble than any other man," the old man persisted.

ESCAPES DURING HIS PRELIMINARY

Garling "Puts One Over" on Court and Police Officials of Hull.

G. Garling, charged with the illegal possession of liquor and residing in the Pittsburgh district, let it be known that he had been over the police and court officials of Hull. He was being tried Thursday afternoon in the justice court at Hull, Judge Gates officiating, and while court was in session the defendant excused himself for a moment, and returned with the intention of adjusting several matters he had on his head.

It is surmised that Garling had planned with friends upon this manner of escaping punishment and they had helped him make good his escape.

SAYS AMERICA IS TO UNDERWRITE WORLD

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 19.—America's entry into the league of nations will mark the formation of a partnership between the great, solvent country in the world with certain European bankrupts, who after our first experience in meddling and muddling in foreign politics have come to naturally despise and detest us, declared Senator Hiram W. Johnson.

"The league of nations," he declared, "comes to us after its principal members have been gogged with territory, with their boundaries and their limits increased beyond the wildest dreams and with other immense tracts of the world's surface to be distributed among them."

After the extraordinary success of territory, the only solvent national concern on earth undertakes by article 10 to guarantee for these, extraordinary territorial limits.

JOHNSON TO ABANDON HIS TREATY TRIP

To Start Home in Sp'te of Word From Lodge He Need Not Come.

KNUTE NELSON ATACKS PARTY RESERVATIONS

The Minnesota Republican Defends the Keeping of American Troops in Sbera.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 19.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson, announced tonight that he had abandoned his proposed trip to the Pacific coast to answer President Wilson's speeches on the league of nations. He will speak at St. Paul and Minneapolis tomorrow and leave for Washington, D. C., Sunday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—After the covenant of the league of nations, a part of the German peace treaty, had been read late today in the senate, republican leaders claimed victory enough to pass, probably next week, an amendment which would give the United States equal voting power with Great Britain in the league assembly.

While confident the amendment will be adopted, the republicans held that it would not reopen the whole question of peace and force the return of the pact to the peace conference in Paris as President Wilson has recently announced. Leaders have predicted.

There will be no session of the senate tomorrow, but the fight will open Monday in earnest, with prospect of a vote on the first American amendment, proposed by Senator Johnson, republican of California, by the end of the week. Telegrams were sent Thursday to Senator Johnson by Senator Jorah, of Idaho, after a conference with prominent citizens of the foreign relations committee, in charge of the treaty on the floor, and Senator Knox, republican of Pennsylvania, telegraphed him that he might proceed with his western trip and keep on making the league fight and off, as he has been doing for the last 10 days.

It was assumed by republicans tonight that Senator Johnson would continue his trip. As he is paired with Senator Martin, democrat of Virginia, all treaty bills must have his assent, he would not be able to vote for his amendment, although his friends said he would be prepared to make a hard fight for its adoption.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, leader of the administration fight for ratification was steadfast as heretofore, however, in the belief that all amendments would be rejected. Democrats made no attempt to disguise the feeling of elation that their cause was in good shape, citing the hurry call sent to Senator Johnson, a evidence of doubt in the opposition camp. It was while they were still discussing this phase of the situation that word reached them of the Lodge-Knox message to Johnson to stop on the trail of the president in the west.

Divers Report Discovery of Hull of Ship Submerged in the Quicksand.

By the Associated Press. KEY WEST, Fla., Sept. 19.—Immersed in quicksand under 40 feet of water off Rebecca shoals light-house, divers today found the hull of a vessel believed to be the Spanish passenger liner Vallheran, which has been missing since the eastern portion of the Gulf of Mexico was swept by a hurricane ten days ago.

The divers, employed by the Cuban consul here, after the sunken wreck was discovered by a United States coast guard vessel, reported that the name "Vallheran" could be made out clearly but no trace was found of the 300 passengers and 150 members of the crew reported aboard the Spanish liner when she left Spain for Havana.

50,000 HEAR WILSON TALK ON COVENANT

Late Former President Roosevelt Quoted as One Who Favored Plan.

FOLLOWED REPUBLICAN ADVISE AT VERSAILLES

Declares Canada Can Not Be Deprived of a Vote in International Questions.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 19.—An extract from a magazine article written in 1914 by Theodore Roosevelt was read by President Wilson in an address here today as an argument in favor of the league of nations.

Speaking to a cheering crowd which filled the great San Diego stadium, the president also quoted from Senator Lodge and one of the bitter opponents of the treaty in its present form, and declared that in framing the league covenant, the Versailles conference had followed the advice of these and other republican statesmen. "It was a mistake to allow myself with such utterances," said Mr. Wilson, while the crowd cheered. "Here in concrete form is the fulfillment of the plan they advocated."

Fifty thousand present. The address was interrupted many times by applause from the crowd, which local officials estimated at more than 50,000. The great auditorium, with its seating capacity of 40,000 was packed, thousands standing in the aisles and on the terrace above.

Speaking from a glass enclosure platform, the president's words were carried out to the distant rim of the stadium by means of an electrical device. Only part of those present could hear him, however, and before he finished there were many empty seats.

The president also discussed at length the objection that the British empire might have a preponderance in voting power in the league assembly. It was a "distinction" to be fought out at such prospect, he said, because there could be no important action by the assembly without the concurrence of the American representative.

KILLED WOMAN FOR INSURANCE MONEY

Toole Sheriff and Three Mystified by the Man's Story of the Crime.

John Borich held in Toole county, Utah, jail awaiting trial on the charge of having murdered Mrs. Velma Atkins, he said to have made the statement that Mrs. Atkins was killed for a half interest in her insurance of 1492. Reports reaching here from Salt Lake state that Borich has confessed to the killing, his explanation being made after it had been proven that he was with the woman late on the night of the murder. Borich first posed as John Green, a close friend of the woman, and later posed as the woman's husband. Borich is said to have confessed to Sheriff D. M. Atkinson that he lured the woman to a lonely spot with the intention of killing her. He is said to have admitted that upon reaching Toole Wednesday night that he and Mrs. Atkins walked through the main street of the city to a deserted section and that he checked his companion into Innes' saloon and then with a heavy blunt instrument mutilated the body so that it would appear like the woman had been in an automobile accident. Borich is said to have made the statement that he first met Mrs. Atkins through a friend named John Green, and that he intercepted letters intended for Green while Green was away and answered them. A letter was found in his possession when he was arrested from Mrs. Atkins written at Twin Falls, telling Borich she was dissatisfied and intended to leave him there. It is said she asked Borich to get a room for her. Borich has confessed that at the last moment Green backed out but gave him a drink from a bottle and that, after the drink he (Borich) did not know what he did. The authorities at Toole are puzzled to know whether there is really another man named Green or whether Borich is simply telling the story to shift the responsibility.

LENOIR ESCAPES FROM EXECUTION

Request to Be Allowed to Face Calling Results in Being Granted a Reprieve.

By the Associated Press. ALBANY, Sept. 19.—The dramatic escape early this morning of Piero Lenoir from death in the hands of a firing squad in the Vincennes woods was the subject of lively conversation in political circles today. Lenoir had been tried with Senator Humbert and other defendants on a charge of having communicated military intelligence to the enemy and was sentenced to death. The firing squad already had taken its place and preparations were being made to escort Lenoir out to meet death when the condemned man begged to be confronted with former Premier Caillaux, who is under charges similar to those on which Lenoir was convicted. The execution was suspended and the condemned man remained in his cell.

Nothing has been officially given out concerning the persons who may be affected by Lenoir's feat. The door accusations, by members of the chamber of deputies, in discussing the matter today, suggest that the Caillaux case was mentioned and also the name of Ernest Saut, former owner of the Paris newspaper L'Echo, who is under indictment here on a charge of having had dealings with the enemy in the purchase or founding of French newspapers with German capital. One of the deputies, for a long time, has been in Switzerland. The arrest of another member of the chamber of deputies and also of a prominent newspaper owner is said to be expected shortly in connection with Lenoir's statement, and it was even asserted that his reprieve might cause a reopening of the Humbert case.

Lenoir's escape from the gallows executioners was nothing short of miraculous. Captain Julia declining to inspect the execution, signing the proclamation of the state prison, accounting for Lenoir and ordering a lawyer to proceed to enter the waiting automobile which was to convey him to the Vincennes wood and death. M. Demolines, Lenoir's lawyer, nearly had an altercation with Captain Julia while endeavoring to secure a few minutes respite for the prisoner in order that he might telephone to M. Jannace, under secretary of state for military justice. Having secured the permission to telephone, M. Demolines then entered an automobile and raced to the home of M. Jannace, who received him in his night clothes at 5 o'clock in the morning and made the stay of execution of the sentence indefinite.

Meanwhile Lenoir will remain in his cell and await developments. In connection with the reprieve it may be remembered that Holo Jannace succeeded in postponing his execution ten days while making revelations.

GITES SEIZURE OF OIL LANDS BY MEX

Greener Concessions in Wells on Lands That Are Owned by Americans.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Specific instances of the forfeiture of oil lands in Mexico were presented today to the senate foreign relations subcommittee, investigating Mexican concessions by C. L. Hathorn, New York director of the Tulare Oil Company, engaged more directly in transportation than in oil producing but subsidiary to the South-Mexican Oil company, an oil producing concern. On the property of the South-Mexican company, Mr. Hathorn told the committee, a Mexican organization, the Mexican National Oil company had brought in one well producing about 20,000 barrels a day, and was sinking another. The Mexican concern denounced the property under the terms of the different presidential decrees with provisions which in Mexico at the advice of the state department have not caused the company to be a British organization but because a majority of the stock is held by Americans. Hathorn said the case had been reported to the state department as well as the British embassy. The state department, he added, had made a representation to the Mexican government to the effect that the American government did not expect the Mexican government to pursue any course resulting in injuries to American citizens.

Hathorn's testimony was preceded by that of Judge Amos L. Beatty, New York, an attorney for the Texas company, who gave notice to the committee that his company had refused to acquiesce in the cancellation of the lands and as a penalty had been refused the right to sink wells and in some cases the lands had been denounced by others. In one case, he said, a well was being put down by a Mexican company.

The attitude of the companies in refusing to agree to the confiscation of their properties, Judge Beatty said, was in harmony with the state department's protests. He added the oil companies in Mexico were determined to take no action which could be construed as a acquiescence in the oil decrees.

MEAT IS THE CURSE OF AMERICAN NATION, CLAIM

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The eating of meat was the target of attacks in addresses delivered today before the International Congress of Women Physicists. Dr. Graham Lusk, professor of physiology at Columbia university, declared that "meat was the curse of the American nation and the foundation for the high cost of living" while Dr. C. V. McCullion, of Baltimore, asserted that "the consumption of meat is reduced and fresh green vegetables substituted, the nation would be visited with some sort of plague like beri beri or pellagra." Dr. Lusk recited the case of one man of five weeks ago who died of meat weekly in addition to eggs, cheese, grain, vegetables, fruit and other food products. If meat was eliminated from the family menu and more green vegetables substituted the man recovered and the weekly food bill returned with the cash and took his wife home.

Dr. McCullion said that the poor had a mistaken idea that meat was an essential food with the result that they suffered from underweight.

RIISING BUSINESS BAROMETER.

The "barometer of business" is going up again. On June 30 the unfilled orders on the books of the United States Steel corporation amounted to 4,892,000 tons. That was in itself a very considerable tonnage. Still, it represented a low water mark for recent years and so was discouraging. Orders had been falling off since the signing of the armistice. It was feared that they might go much lower.

But the tide turned. On July 31 the unfilled tonnage had risen to 5,578,000, and on August 31 it had jumped to 530,000 tons more, making the respectable total of 6,108,000 tons. It is said to be rising still more rapidly now, and nobody will be surprised if by midwinter it reached the big wartime record.

In one respect this is unfortunate. It means delay in getting orders filled, and so means that many branches of industry and trade that are dependent on the steel industry will be retarded in getting their full stride. But there will be little lamentation over that, in view of the solid grounds for optimism found in this report.

Bigger steel orders mean more buying all along the line; more construction, more extensions of manufacture and trade, more work, more busy-ness for the nation, and in a word, more prosperity.

The "economic reconstruction" of which so much has been said has really begun. There are evidences of it on all sides. While legislators and theorizers have been talking, industry has been reconstructing itself. It will continue, at an increasing pace, if labor and capital deal fairly with each other.

MONEY IN THESE ORPHANS.

There is a deal of quiet work being done among one class of orphans in this country which is too little known or appreciated. It is the work the boys and girls are doing in raising orphaned lambs for market.

One lad in Utah bought 44 of these orphans from a sheepherder, at an average cost of $1 apiece. He herded them himself, and fed them milk and alfalfa which cost him about $44 more. At the end of the season he sold them for $440, a net gain of $352.

A little girl who also kept a lamb orphanage took on sixty motherless lambs. She had a bit of bad luck with some of them, but at that she cleared $60 on her investment.

Caring for orphans is always a good and kindly deed, but here it is a case of bread cast upon the waters and coming back buttered.

THE DANCE AND THE CHURCH.

The American National Association of Dancing Masters has asked the Methodist Episcopal church to remove its ban on dancing. This may seem to many church people a presumption and even impious request. The dancing masters, however, appear perfectly honest and respectful about the matter.

"We stand unitedly," they say, in a formal resolution, "for dancing that is decent and beyond any possible censure of church and municipal authorities. We pledge ourselves to improve, where possible the standard of our profession. We deery all efforts made to introduce music that tends to degrade or sensualize dancing. We promise to try to have dancing on a plane so high that neither church nor state can object to its legitimate exercise. It must be said, to the credit of the dancing masters, that their profession in general has steadfastly opposed the barbarous and sensual types of dancing that have come into vogue in the last few years. Unfortunately the very fact that their efforts have failed to stem the tide tends to weaken their appeal in this case. The church people who object to dancing on general principles naturally fear that if they let down the bars the sensual dancing will invade their precincts in spite of the teachers.

Dancing is admitted to have had a religious origin, and to have been associated intimately with religion in many countries and ages. It is recorded in the Bible that David danced before the Lord. It does not seem to be written, however that any of the holy men or holy women danced any of the modern "wiggles" or "squirms" to an accompaniment of jazz music.

PAWNSHOPS AND PROHIBITION.

Whether due to prohibition or prosperity pawnbrokers do not know but they declare their business is in a puzzling condition. There has been a pronounced decline in the number of pledges in the last few months and particularly since July 1. This is noticeably true of the shops in the poorer quarters of the large cities of the east, shops which have what is termed the tenement trade. The larger shops in the central parts of the cities report fewer borrowers but not to a degree to worry the proprietors.

Despite smaller business all the pawnbrokers say they have not reason to complain financially. The lesser custom of today may force some of them out of business later but at present their profits are exceptionally good. This is owing to the fact, they explain, of the extraordinary advance in the value of goods pledged and unredeemed. Clothing, jewelry, trinkets, anything and everything given as security, is worth 50 to 100 per cent more than estimated at the time the article was hypotheccated and there never was such a demand for goods at auctioneers' sales.

Saturday, and especially Saturday night, has been the most active part of the week with the pawnbrokers. The Saturday trade has slumped badly, the brokers admit. They do not know whether to ascribe it to the higher wages men receive, the practical absence of unemployment or to the closing of most of the saloons. They are not concerning themselves particularly although they acknowledge some of them will have to go out of business unless conditions change. For the time being, however, they are doing quite well owing to the extraordinary profits they receive from their sales.

They are inclined to look upon the future cheerfully. Improvidence and misfortune have been with men always and they do not think it is to lessen materially or disappear. The pawnbroker fattens on improvidence and misfortune.

It is said that when the European tourist traffic is resumed Americans may find it impossible to live in Paris, Rome and London for less than $100 a day. See America first. You can still do quite a little living here for $100.

JULY WOOL CONSUMPTION IS GREATEST OF THE YEAR

Reports have been received in Twin Falls that the July consumption of wool is the biggest of the year. The June figures had previously broken all records for 1919, but the month of July showed an increase of 8,000,000 pounds. According to the report issued by the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, the total amount of wool used during July, 63,000,000 pounds, great equivalent, is almost three times the amount used in February of this year. The July consumption is an increase of 15 per cent over the amount used in June and 21 per cent over the amount used in May. The monthly consumption has increased steadily since February and this indicates that manufacturers have wholly adjusted themselves to a peace basis. The total amount of wool used in July by condition in pounds were: Grease, 45,213,267; scoured, 7,485,232; pulled, 2,274,463.

LAND DE

8000 Acres Carey Act Land Adjoin TUESDAY, OCT

LEVEL AND FREE FROM ROCK

The land on this tract lies on the northeast slope. It is smooth, the contour is regular, it is free from rock, the soil is deep, there are no broken, irregular coulees cutting the surface, and but little leveling will be found necessary.

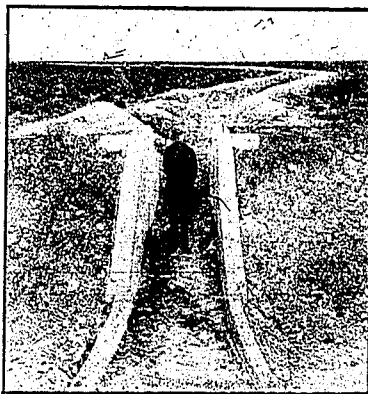

The slope is ideal for irrigation, barely enough to carry the water, thus avoiding the inclination to wash the soil. The soil is a deep lava ash, which has been deposited by the winds of the ages, the land sloping northeast. There are no lava crusts or hog-backs.

ROAD COND

The project lies seven miles west of Castleford. A rock-surfaced road connects Castleford and Buhl with the project.

Roads on the tract have been laid out, graded to the center, all canals and laterals bridged, so that the home builder will settle on a tract with all roads built. This road construction has been thoroughly and systematically done under direction of skilled engineers. Each section line has been taken for a road, the grading has been thorough, sage brush has been cleared, dirt dragged to the center and drainage provided at the sides. The approach to all bridges and culverts across canal and laterals has been made to prevent humping, and the roads are really in splendid condition.

CONCRETE OUTL

THE WATER SUPPLY

The water supply for this project is derived from four streams which meander down from the mountains which mark the rugged border between Idaho and Nevada. A great dam across Cedar creek canyon will store the flood waters of winter, which will be available in addition to the flow of the four streams and their thousands of springs for the irrigation seasons. This dam is an earthen structure, with a series of concrete cores running through it. It is massive, substantial and designed to prevent any leakage of water stored, the concrete cores running far out into the lava walls of the canyon. A further safeguard is obtained in the method of taking water from the dam. Water is let out of the dam into Cedar creek, and is diverted into the distribution canal at a point about 5 miles below the dam.

Thus if there should be any leakage, it will not be lost but will be caught up in the stream before reaching the point of diversion. Water is carried in steel conduit set in concrete along the rugged lands bordering the stream until level land for canal construction is reached.

The canals are in, the ditches dug, the dam will be completed very shortly, water will be available for the coming spring. Inspection of the entire project is invited, particularly regarding the construction of the system which will store and deliver the water. The streams which will be diverted into Cedar creek are House creek, Devil creek and Deadwood creek.

The headgates are of the Burnham type, are constructed of steel and concrete, with patented measuring device, so that for himself as often as he desires the flow of water, asking a water master.

about the Reds not being in even money bet with the White Sox?"

"Did he say that?" Pat asked.

"Well, you see in a world's series, the plan of attack is no different than in the regular season. The contending managers are most always playing for one run, instead of a bunch of them. There are so many different phases to a world's series battle than in the regular season. It is hard to figure out in advance just what we're going to do—that is, what our plan of attack will be."

"How are the fans around the American League?" Pat asked the interviewer instead of answering a direct question shot at him. "What are the papers saying around the country about the fight the Reds have made?"

Some of the things Pat did say:

"I don't know who will pitch the opening game."

"The Reds will be out there to deliver their best just as they have done all season."

"We have a dandy bull club and it has played a great game all season."

Pat is the only silent man in Cincinnati, however. Other members of the Reds, and all of Cincinnati will talk. They talk for Pat. They declare that Pat is the greatest manager in the game and that he'll beat the White Sox hands down. They declare every spot at the world's series games in Cincinnati will be filled and crowds will stand in the street. They say Pat will be manager at Cincinnati as long as he wants the job and that the Reds in 1920 will again win the championship. And they say a lot of other things. There's no limit to their exuberance.

National League Managers Do Not Concur With Chairman's Recommendations.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Club owners of the National league at a special meeting here today declined to authorize temporary abrogation of the National agreement. The meeting, held at President John A. Heyler's hotel, was attended by Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh; William M. Baker, Philadelphia; George W. Grant, Boston; H. W. Mason, treasurer, and Judge Williams, St. Louis; C. A. Stoneham, New York, and Charles H. Ebbetts, Brooklyn.

In answer to the recommendation of the National commission at its meeting held in Chicago September 2, 1919, the following resolution was adopted:

"First. That the National league does not concur in the recommendation made by the National commission that the present National agreement be temporarily abrogated."

"Second. That we concur in the recommendation of the National commission that the National league refrain from drafting minor league players during 1919."

"Third. That we do not concur in the recommendation of the National commission that the territorial rights of the clubs of the old International league be not respected in the future unless its independence to the national commission be paid on or before thirty days after September 2, 1919."

During the meeting there was discussion as to the appointment of a new chairman for the National commission, in place of August Hermann, president of the Cincinnati club, and President Heyler went on record as favoring the selection of some man who had no interest financially or otherwise in any club.

RAISING PRICE OF COPRA PLEASING TO ISLANDERS

PAPETE, Tahiti, Sept. 19.—The rising price of copra forecasts better times for the Society Islands after a period of depression due to the effects of the influenza epidemic, the low price of copra, exorbitant freight rates and the scarcity of labor.

One effect of the advancing price of copra is indicated by reports from the outer islands of the French group that the taking of pearl shell will be light this year. Owners of plantations are remaining home to make copra. Cold weather has prevented many divers from going after the shell this year.

Despite the more optimistic sentiment brought by higher copra prices, many residents here believe the economic condition of the islands will not be much better until France has adopted a different attitude toward Tahiti and French possessions in Oceania.

WATER DELUGE CAUSES FIGHT

A deluge of water from a sprinkling cart, high temper and an accommodating young man, amused a throng on Shoshone street yesterday afternoon.

Incidentally Ernest White, well known contractor, accumulated a battered face.

White walked into the spray of a sprinkling cart. He tried to swim easily, but he was in another direction; he walked into the spouting gush of water.

In high temper, he denounced the boy-driving the wagon, and demanded that the lad come down from his perch and wash a beating. The lad was both modest and accommodating. He politely asked the contractor if he would wait till he could take his wagon out of the line of traffic. He then drove to a curb near the Murray drug store, climbed from his seat and administered to the back of the contractor. When the affair had been completed, the boy resumed his work of watering the streets.

RED BOSS IS NOT TALKING OUT LOUD

Says Reds Will Do the Best They Can But Makes No Rash Promises.

BY FRED HUBBYVILLE.

Pat Moran, manager of the Reds, is easy to interview, but when you get through with him you haven't got much.

Pat likes to talk. That isn't the trouble. He is just plain non-committal when it comes to discussing the world's series chances of the Reds.

After a whole day spent with the intricate man of Cincinnati—forenoon at the hotel, most of the afternoon on the bench with him, and evening at the hotel—there wasn't a whole lot of information for the fans.

Pat talked about everything else—about himself and the interviewer, about baseball generally, about the way Cincinnati felt about it, etc.

He's one of the most hearty fellows in baseball—always cordial and friendly but exasperatingly alert when it comes to discussing the strength and weakness of his own team.

He evaded direct questions and leads the questioner off with an entertaining discourse on some other angle of the situation.

For instance:

"Kid Gleason says there's nothing in it but the White Sox; nothing to worry about but finish the American League season and stop the world's title. What do you think of what he said

WILSON TO TAKE A REST IN SAN DIEGO

Parties After 10 Days of Speech Making and Traveling—Crosses Guard Him on Way South.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 19.—To allow for more time for a rest during the remainder of his stay in California, President Wilson decided today to curtail his program in San Diego and spend all of tomorrow quietly at a hotel in Los Angeles. Arriving at San Diego late this afternoon he will speak at the stadium on Monday at 6 o'clock and later attend a dinner given by the mayor. He will go aboard his train immediately afterward, however, instead of spending the night at a San Diego hotel. During most of the night the train will be alternated at some quiet place between San Diego and Los Angeles when the latter place is reached in the morning he will go quietly to a hotel for the day. Under the original plan the start for

Los Angeles was to have been made tomorrow morning, and Mr. Wilson's arrival there after noon was to have been followed by an automobile parade through the principal streets. The change will leave the parade for free, but he will attend a public dinner at 7 o'clock and will speak afterwards at the Shriners' auditorium. Although the president's health is said to be excellent, 16 days of travel and speech-making have been very fatiguing, and Dr. Graydon is thinking that there may be opportunity for rest whenever possible. Mr. Wilson also has a slight cold and during his address last night in Oakland his color broke somewhat. On the doctor's advice he adhered strictly to the rule against rear platform speeches today at several California cities where he is to make brief stops.

Crowds had gathered at nearly every station along the way, however, and wherever the train came to a stop the president went out and shook hands. One of the largest throngs was at Santa Barbara where the crowd lined in vain to get him to talk.

RUPERT BEATS PAUL BY A SCORE OF 7 TO 5

Rupert will meet Paul for the championship of the state tomorrow. The three-cornered tie was broken yesterday at Butley when the Rupert team won a 7 to 5 victory over the Paul team before a crowd of more than 1000 people. Strained, Salt Lake pitcher, won on the mound for the winners. Rupert did the twirling for the Paul team, but was knocked out of the box and Willetto went in.

The post-season games for the league, regionally, which will carry with it the state honors, will start Monday.

METHODISTS MET WITH NEWLY APPOINTED PASTOR

The members of the Methodist church gave a reception last evening in the church parlors for the Rev. and Mrs. Bennett, who arrived in Twin Falls recently to take the place vacated by the Rev. Elmer Grant Keith. The reception rooms were decorated with large masses of tinted fall asters and ferns. The orchestra played behind a bank of orange-colored blossoms which were hidden among the ferns. A program was given during the evening. BOTH FORCES

Mr. T. H. Tighe, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, said today that his organization which is the largest numerically in the steel industry, has made arrangements with employers and that none of these will be affected by the walkout. Manufacturers identified with the Western Iron association and employers in the Western Sheet and Tin Plate Manufacturers' association, scattered around the country, will not be affected because they have working agreements with the Amalgamated association.

Not Fighting for Closed Shop. Mr. Tighe, speaking of the issue involved in the strike, said the twelve demands voted upon by the steel workers are not the stumbling block to a settlement. He said that the United States Steel corporation is clouding the issue when it asserts that the union are fighting for a "closed shop." He said the Amalgamated association is working under union agreements with plants that are not closed shops.

Some of the communities in the Pittsburgh district are quietly preparing to assist in the strike. In McKeesport the mayor in connection with business men has a volunteer force to assist the police. Plans that are not laid down will be picketed by strikers, it was said, and local police will endeavor to prevent blood between men going to work and those who pick. Patrols of the Pennsylvania state police, it was said here tonight, have been selected and will be on duty in the Allegheny valley near Brackenridge, at Homestead, between McKeesport and Duquesne, at Chelton and about Hazleton and Braddock.

SAYS WILSON INTERFERES. NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Reports were current in the financial district today that President Wilson had seen Bernard M. Baruch, senior head of the war industry board, to see Clarence Elbert H. Gary, of the United States Steel corporation, and request him to meet a committee of steel employers in an effort to prevent the merger of the two companies.

Which asked to comment on the report Judge Gary said: "Please do not ask me that question. I would rather not make any comment whatever."

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward hope to induce him to take up farming here and make his section his home. He was living in London when the war broke out and upon discharge had to wait almost four months before being able to get a boat for the United States, but finally succeeded in obtaining passage upon a French liner sailing from Harve.

SAYS BURLERSON DEBAUCHES SERVICE

Former Commissioners Debat That Postmaster Examinations Are a Farce.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(Special) Charles M. Galloway, former member of the civil service commission, said today that Postmaster General Burler's "debauching" the civil service system by undue interference in the selection of postmaster general, was due to the fact that he would not apply to postmaster examinations for offices paying less than $2400 annually, and add: "I don't say it does apply to all cases above that amount, but examinations can be made a fake when over the postmaster general wants them to be."

Mr. Craven, when pressed for the reason for his recent resignation and it was due to the president's request, and tested postmaster examinations. The charges of both former commissioners brought forth spirited replies from J. C. Koons, first assistant postmaster general, and Martin A. Morrison, president of the civil service commission, who asserted that neither Mr. Burler nor any other postoffice department official had attempted to exert any influence over the commission's action in the certification of postmasters or that position in any way qualified the commission. Mr. Craven, who appeared before

The committee in connection with a contest over the postmaster-general at Moorhead City, N. C., declared that the commission's examination in general was a "sham." In making the statement he said he intended it for the members of the committee and asked that it not be placed on the record.

"I object to that statement, and it won't be born out by facts," declared Mr. Koons, jumping to his feet. A similar denial was made by President Morrison to which Craven answered that what he said did not apply to postmaster examinations for offices paying less than $2400 annually, and add: "I don't say it does apply to all cases above that amount, but examinations can be made a fake when over the postmaster general wants them to be."

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE.

That's where the moral hazard comes in. And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also; that this bank offers you a complete banking service.

ROBINSONS

Things for the Baby We have so many kinds of baby things and sell such a lot of them that I think perhaps they have been overlooked in the advertisements of the store, and it is to those who do not know about the many good and useful articles that are carried here that I want to tell you of some of them now.

Welfare Mills Children's Knit Garments are one of the very best makes, and combine so many desirable features that appeal to those wanting the best in infants' and small children's wearables.

They are perfectly sanitary through a double process of clearing, both before and after making. This same process keeps them from shrinking and at the same time leaves them soft and free from irritating substance of any kind, so that they may be worn with comfort by the most delicate of children.

With the many good features of make and quality the prices are still most reasonable. It will afford us pleasure to have you call and see the different kinds of garments besides those shown here.
