OMAHA QUIET AFTER NIGHT OF RIOTING

American Legion Joins In Keeping Order in Nebraska City Following Race War

SHERIFF TELLS OF THE FIGHT FOR MAN'S LIFE

Flames In Burning Court House Nearly Fatal To Policemen, Deputies and Prisoners

By the Associated Press. OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 29.—(By wire)—Omaha was quiet tonight. With 800 troops from Fort Omaha and Camp Crook, Neb., and Camp Dodge, Iowa, on duty along with several hundred special officers organized by the American Legion to help preserve order, officials were confident there would be no further outbreak of the race rioting which yesterday and last night resulted in the death of two persons, injuries to several scores of others, an attempt to lynch Mayor Ed P. Smith and the partial wrecking by fire of the county court house. The riot started when a mob endeavored to obtain possession of the jail in the name of Brown, said for assault on a white woman.

In addition to these forces 11 officers and 250 men from Camp Funston, Kansas, and 20 officers and 600 troops from Camp Grant, Ill., are scheduled to arrive here tomorrow when General Leonard A. Wood, commander of the central department of the army is expected to reach the city to take charge of military operations. Plenty of ammunition.

There are plenty of arms and ammunition to supply the troops, some of whom have already gone to the front in the event necessary should arise. A heavy downpour of rain tonight had the effect of keeping people off the streets.

Tomorrow judges of the district court will decide whether a grand jury investigation of the race rioting shall be conducted. At the same time Governor Samuel H. McKelvie is to be in the city to give any advice he may deem necessary to the situation.

Mayor Improving. The condition of Mayor Smith, who attempted to lynch him, was gradually improving, according to an announcement by his physician, Dr. E. C. Henry. Dr. Henry said there was no doubt but what the mayor would recover. He was suffering from wounds received when rioters hung him to a traffic signal tower in the downtown section of the city.

Police officers prevented the mayor from being seriously injured or death by cutting him down shortly after the lynch attempt was made. Brown was taken by the mob from the county court house building where the county jail was located, shot, and then taken down the city streets.

ATTEMPTS ARE MADE TO DERAIL SOLE TRAIN

Special Constables Sworn In To Protect Property—Military On Guard at Many Points

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Sept. 29.—The railroad strike is still confined to the railway and tonight's indications point to a greatly increased railway service tomorrow in which the volunteers who have been constantly offering their services will play a prominent part. Schedule prepared by various railway companies tonight show only a respectable number of trains will be operating tomorrow, especially in London where the volunteers who have been constantly offering their services will play a prominent part.

The food controller has issued a number of regulations fixing prices and restricting consumption of staple foods. The government has invited citizens to enroll as special constables for any possible emergency and also has placed troops at various points in readiness to afford protection in event of disorders.

No Negotiations. There was no meeting of the cabinet today nor was there any sign of a resumption of negotiations with the National Union of Railway Men. The premier was badly engaged through the entire day in conference with the ministers and heads of departments arranging for a continuance of the public services.

For the first time during the strike there were some attempts today to derail trains and also some stoning of them. The most serious attack on a train occurred between Killybeg and Thornton where minutes were lost at the driver of a train. The fireman was hit with a stone. Another American train was attacked at Luton and its engine was damaged.

NEITHER SIDE MAKES A GAIN IN BIG FIGHT

Deadlock Developed During First Few Days of Steel Strike Still in Effect

UNION LEADERS CENTER FIGHT ON BETHLEHEM

President Grace Declares That Plants are Working At Their Full Capacity

By the Associated Press. Results of the great offensive and counter offensive conducted to usher in the second week of the steel strike, by means of which both sides hoped to break the deadlock developed after the first few days, last night remained in doubt. In the Pittsburgh and Chicago districts the strategic points on the industrial front—both sides made determined efforts to push forward war with the hope of resuming full operation, the other crippling iron plants. The chief struggle however, was waged for control of the mills of the Bethlehem Steel company, where 40,000 employees had been commanded by union leaders to join the ranks of the strikers.

Both Sides Claim Victory. Here are the reports issued from rival headquarters dealing with the Bethlehem objective: Employees reported to the union that the company was making every effort to prevent the practically a full operation of all plants. E. G. Gravo, president of the Bethlehem company said:

"We, M. S. Scobee's big plant at Bethlehem, company, are not putting a full operation of all plants, but we are making every effort to prevent the practically a full operation of all plants. E. G. Gravo, president of the Bethlehem company said:

From Chicago came reports that the strike for control in the center was being equally stubbornly entangled, without apparent material gain for either side. The Weirton Steel company suspended operations at its plant in Charleston, W. Va., today, claiming that the mills would be closed indefinitely for repairs. This shutdown was characterized by labor leaders as a lockout.

This threatened "invasion" of West Virginia by Ohio strikers to enforce a walkout in the Weirton mills did not develop. Ohio guardsmen had mobilized in Steubenville armories for possible disturbances were not called into action.

No Defections Evident. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—A break in the ranks of the steel strikers, predicted by some of the corporations, was not in evidence today, according to reports from different sources. No claims were made by steel companies of large defections among the strikers, but a number of them, including the Carnegie Steel company and the American Steel and Wire company, did insist that men continue to return to work. No figures were given.

GLEASON CREW GOES INTO RHINELAND

Expect to Return to Chicago Friday With Two Game Leads.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Manager of the Chicago White Sox, American league pennant winners, left here tonight for Cincinnati where they will meet the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday and Thursday in the first two games of the world series.

Every man on the team was dejected to be in for his championship games and each expressed himself as confident that the Sox would come back to Chicago Friday with a two-game lead on their National league rivals. Manager Gleason has given his team a complete rest since they clinched the pennant several days ago. In the final three games of the season, each of which resulted in a defeat for the Chicagoans the lineup was made up mostly of substitutes and the regular players such as Hal Greif, who was named and honored by many fans at yesterday's game.

A stiff practice had been planned for today, but the heavy rain of last night put the Coniskey park in such shape that it was thought best to call off the hounds and let the grounds crew work on the park getting it ready for the first game here Friday. Gleason and his players held a conference this afternoon however, making their final plans for their invasion of National league territory.

Tomorrow the team expects to take a stiff workout in Cincinnati.

Tells Children It is One of Most Useful Methods of Aid to Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The Junior Red Cross, the organization which is the children's and teachers' department of the American Red Cross, received approval today from President Wilson, who has accepted the following proposition in relation to the enrollment campaign now being carried on:

Two years ago as president of the American Red Cross, I addressed to you a letter in which I advised you to enroll in the newly organized Junior Red Cross, and I explained to you some of the ways in which the Junior Red Cross would help you to be useful to your country and to the children of those countries which were associated with us in a great war against a powerful enemy. Millions of you did join the Junior Red Cross and worked hard and what you did is greatly appreciated by the whole country.

Now, by the blessings of God and through the faithful performance of duty by our soldiers and sailors and the soldiers and sailors of the countries by whose side we fought, a great victory has been won and the war is over, but I am sure that you wish to continue to be useful to your country and to children less fortunate than yourselves. Therefore, I am writing to you at the opening of the new school year to advise you again to join the Junior Red Cross, which has planned a work for many times even larger and more systematic than the work done during the war.

The Junior Red Cross will instruct you in ideals and habits of service, will show you how to be useful to your country and to the children in your community in their efforts to promote the health and comfort of the people among whom you live, and how to help children who are still suffering from the effects of the great war in foreign lands invaded by the enemy.

The recent war was the greatest of all wars, not only because more men and nations were engaged in it than in any other war of history, but also because, as a result of it, people have seen a vision of a different kind of world from the world of the past, a world in which nations shall unite for purposes of peace and good will for they are united only for war against an armed foe. In working for the children of other nations you will begin to understand that the world will understand and appreciate you more.

Your education will not be complete unless you learn how to be good citizens and that the Junior Red Cross plans to teach you simple lessons of citizenship through its organization and its activities. It is your generation which must carry on the work of our generations at home and abroad and you cannot begin too soon to train your minds and habits for this responsibility. By doing what you can to make justice to the people of your neighborhood, your state, your country and to the people of other lands you will make yourselves happier.

SHIP WORKERS AWAIT CONFERENCE

Will Take No Dramatic Action to Force Demands At the Present Time.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Although no definite statement was forthcoming following an all-day conference here today of the executives of fifteen international unions having members in the shipbuilding industry, the consensus of expressed opinion was that the workers would take no dramatic action to enforce their demands for repeal of the prohibitory wage increase order until after the industrial conference called by President Wilson for October 6th.

The meeting today was preliminary to a conference tomorrow between representatives of the shipyard employees and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and Director General Anderson of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. The workers discussed the demands which will be made and appointed a committee of seven to confer with the government officials. James O'Connell, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, who presided, said that all plans discussed were contingent on the outcome of tomorrow's conference.

The wage increase order to which the workers object was promulgated recently by the navy department and the shipping board and provides specifically that no wage increases after October 1, the date of the expiration of the existing Macey award shall be permitted in navy yards or in yards constructing tonnage for the government. The navy department and shipping board holds that wage increases would advance living costs of workers in the long run. Shipyard workers on the Pacific Coast are threatening to strike on October 1 unless the order is cancelled so that an agreement with the building for an advance of sixty four cents per day can be put into effect. Strikes on the Pacific coast would eventually affect building on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Labor representatives on the shipping adjustment board for the Great Lakes region also participated in today's discussion. Negotiations with Great Lakes ship owners for wages and hours such as those embodied in the Pacific coast agreement were suspended Friday awaiting the outcome of tomorrow's conference.

WORLD'S RECORD MADE BY TWO YEAR OLD PROTECTOR

By the Associated Press. LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 29.—The opening day of the meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association furnished as the feature the two year old division of the facility, in which, Natalie the Great was the favorite. In the first heat the favorite went away by the head and won with Mr. Dudley forcing her to the limit. In the second heat the black gelding forced the issue and when the fifty went to a break he came on to win by a length. In the third heat the gelding was well matched with Natalie the Great leading on the far turn, where Mr. Dudley choked down and falling into the fence was killed by a sharp point of a plank, the next going to Toy Star who also won the fourth heat somewhat easily with the original favorite second. The time for the four heats constitutes a world record for trotters of that age. Best time 2:09 3-4.

The first division of the Walnut Hill cup went to the regular favorite, a local race, in which Direct Flyer won the first heat in a drive, Marauder the second, somewhat easily, and Baron Cogan the next two in the current fashion. Best time 2:06 1-2. The second division of the cup was unfinished, the race being called off until tomorrow after Gentry C had won the first and Selka the second heat.

MIKE O'DOWD WHIPS FORMER AMATEUR MIDDLEWEIGHT

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 29.—Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul, world's middleweight boxing champion, out-fought Angelo Hunter of New York, former national A. A. I. middleweight title holder, in an eight-round bout tonight. The ringside weights were announced as 160 and 161 pounds and Hunter 154. O'Dowd took the honors in four rounds, fighter two, with one save.

With a snappy left hander without the champion's ruses in the first and second rounds, making him miss frequently, Hunter had the better of these rounds. O'Dowd studied the third with a straight left that sent his opponent's head back and then forced Hunter to break ground. The fourth was even.

In the fifth, after O'Dowd scored two hard rights to the head, Hunter bailed his best blow of the contest, a hard right across to the point of the jaw. O'Dowd, however, kept boring in and with a right uppercut, opened a gash over Hunter's right eye. The next three rounds also went to O'Dowd who forced his man all around the ring. Hunter's eyes showed the effect of the blow at the final bell.

Dr. Evans, the O'Dowd, is at his office where he will remain this week except October 1st and 2nd when he will be at the Filer Hotel during the Fair. Don't neglect your eyes.

A RASH STRIKE.

It cannot be said that the steel strike is a "popular strike". Except in communities dominated by steel workers it does not seem to be meeting with any great amount of support. The general public which is not connected directly with the steel industry, but which is affected indirectly and powerfully by the economic disturbances resulting from the strike, remains cool toward the movement.

This is not saying that the public is actively hostile toward the striking workers. But it is evidently inclined to be calmly critical rather than warmly sympathetic.

There is widespread recognition of the oppressive conditions under which thousands of steel workers formerly suffered, or still suffer. There is widespread agreement that workmen in any industry have a right to organize and bargain collectively, and have a right to "recognition" as a preliminary step to such bargaining. There is criticism of Judge Gary and his fellow-officers of the Steel Trust for shutting the door in the face of the workmen, denying them even a conference. But there is also direct, unqualified criticism of the hot-headed, inconsiderate action of the steel workers in precipitating a strike at this time.

Having gone for years without recognition from their employers, they might have waited a month longer. There was no pressing emergency. It is felt that the steel men might at least have postponed action as the railroad men did, and as the President requested, until the representatives of all classes concerned in this and other industrial troubles had a chance to thresh them out in the big conference to be held in Washington early in October.

The labor leaders, like the Steel Trust leaders, ignored every consideration except their own desires. They ignored the great public which their action so profoundly affects. They seem likely, from present indications, to suffer the natural consequences of their rash haste. The unprejudiced public that constitutes the body of the nation may ignore the strikers and remain neutral, at best, instead of helping them.

THE ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL.

Moving with commendable slowness, the committee having in charge the memorial to former President Roosevelt has settled definitely upon the plans for only one of the three-fold forms the memorial is to take. The park at Oyster Bay bearing Roosevelt's name will be begun almost immediately. To the park there will be added later, in all probability, the house and grounds of Sagamore Hill, beloved by the president and the place where throngs of his friends and followers visited him and saw him at his best.

Least there be any of the regrettable blunders in choice and design, so frequent in objects of this kind, the committee is taking more time to determine just what the memorial at Washington shall be. This is to be distinctly a monument, but the committee hopes to have it of such appropriate, beautiful character that it shall fulfill its purpose satisfactorily for generations to come.

Each of the memorial designs in the establishment of an institution at some place not yet determined where American citizenship as Roosevelt saw it and lived it shall be taught. As to this no definite plan has even been outlined.

MENTAL TESTS.

One of the big universities is "applying practical psychological tests" to applicants for entrance, to determine their degree of intelligence. It is no doubt highly desirable that none but intelligent young men should be admitted to college. Some of the test questions, however, are proving rather puzzling to the candidates, and no less so to people outside who heretofore have never seriously doubted their own practical intelligence.

Suppose the reader were asked to make a cross before the best answer to the question, "Why should every man be educated", the answers to select from being as follows:

- "Because Roosevelt was educated."
"Because it makes a man more useful."
"Because it costs money."
"Because some educated people are wise."

Now, frankly, which answer would you choose? And have you any idea whether your most intelligent friend would choose the same answer?

Here is one that may make still more trouble. The subject is required to write the letter F before "each of these statements which could not possibly be true":

- 1. "The dog pursued the stag through flower gardens in full bloom."
2. "While sharpening his three-bladed knife, my cousin cut his middle finger."
3. "The red-haired girl, standing in the corner, is taller than any of her brothers."

Does the more or less intelligent reader know of any good reason why a dog could not pursue a stag through flower gardens in full bloom? Or why a cousin could not cut his middle finger while sharpening a three-bladed knife? Or why a red-headed girl could not be taller than any of her brothers, no matter what color their hair may be?

We give it up. These mental tests are too much for us. We could never break into college, on this basis.

LIVESTOCK IN THE WEST.

After years of effort the livestock interests of the Pacific Coast will see one of their dreams come true when the California International Livestock show opens at the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds in San Francisco, Nov. 1. This will be the first great interstate show on the coast devoted exclusively to the exhibition of livestock, though men engaged in the industry have felt for years that such an institution was needed.

Professor Gordon True of the University of California, head of the animal industry bureau of that school, and an authority on pure-bred stock, will have much to do with plans for the show.

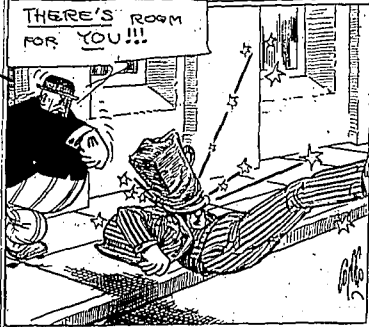

It appears that more attention has been paid to the breeding of pure-blooded stock in the East and Middle West than in the Far West. This great exposition will show how far the movement has been carried on the western coast, and will encourage further progress.

It is impossible that there could be too many pure-bred cattle, or too many owners who understand the economic value of the better breeds.

"Better Sires, Better Stock" is to be the slogan of the National Bureau of Animal Industry for the coming year. California and other coast states will doubtless show themselves well-qualified to lead in the movement.

It is said that the Italian government has asked the American government to take care of the rebellious D'Annunzio. Now President Wilson might retaliate by asking the Italian government to take care of Senator Johnson.

SOUTHPAWS HAVE CHANCE THIS TIME

Right-handers May Be Given a Run for Money by Williams, Heuser and Sallee.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Southpaw pitchers, who for years have given way in the baseball world series ball of fame to right-handers, this year bid fair to prove the status of the championship contests.

With the exception of one or two years—notably 1915—right handers have been the mainstay of the best clubs for thirty seasons and seldom has southpaw pitching brought the world's champion title to any club. This year, however, the Cincinnati Reds virtually have southpawed their way to victory and two left handers have shared with the veteran Eddie Cicotte, the burden of bringing another American league pennant to the Chicago White Sox.

Two southpaws—Dutch Reuther, last year's considerable run out enough for the big league, and Silla Sallee, twice discarded—are the twisters chiefly responsible for the Red's victory in the National league and it is on these men that Cincinnati will depend largely in the future. After and King, the two star right handers, have long done their share, but Cincinnati fans are betting on Reuther and Sallee.

For the White Sox, Eddie Cicotte, of course, a pitching staff by himself, but Claude Williams has won many games with his southpaw slants and Dick Kerr has more than held his own.

So it seems probable that the series this year may find Reuther and Sallee battling with Kerr and Williams for premier honors.

Left handers have held little prominence in world series pitching, with the one exception of 1918 when the southpaws had more than their share of glory.

Hube Ruth won two games from the Chicago Cubs, while Taylor and Vaughn did most of the hurdling for the National leaguers.

Deiving back into the early records of baseball, it is found that heretofore the pennant winners generally have depended on right hand pitchers.

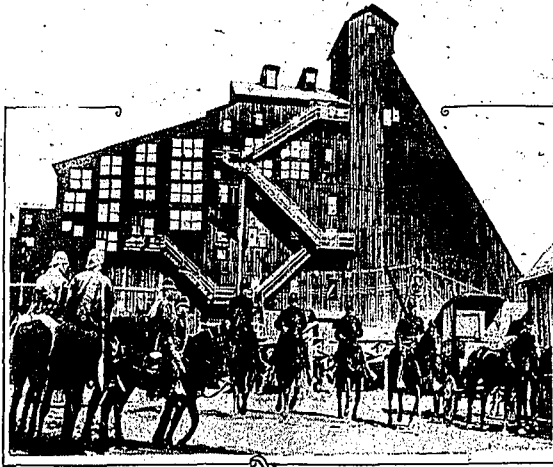

From 1853 to 1854 there were no prominent left handed pitchers on the winning teams. Baltimore, the champion in 1854-55 and 56, had only one first class southpaw—Eggar. From then until 1901 the right handers carried the burden of pitching. In 1901-02 and '03 Tammehill and Dohney helped Pittsburgh. Mathewson of Brooklyn, right hander, was the champion for the Giants in 1904 and '05 while in 1906, '07, '08 and '09 Foster was the only left hander with the champion Chicago Cubs. Left handed pitchers in 1909, but the right handers did most of the work. The same goes for 1911, '12 and '13 when Mathewson was the mainstay of the Giants, although Marquard and Wiltz gave material assistance.

In 1914 two right handers, James and Rudolph and one left hander, Tyler, won for the Boston Braves. In 1915 Alexander and Meyer were responsible for the Philadelphia victory in the National league with Dwyer the southpaw, losing a majority of his games. Merritt and South helped Brooklyn in 1916, but two thirds of the pitching was done by right handers.

In 1917, Ebbets' right hander turned the trick against the Giants by winning three games in the titular series.

The southpaws will not carry any honors in the world series this year, however, with a battle, Cicotte and

CINCY IS CROWDED WITH BALL FANS

Ohio City Threw An Fever Before Famous One On Hand.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 29.—With every available seat and every available space for standing room in the enclosure of Redland field, supposed to accommodate 25,000 baseball enthusiasts, assigned or sold, everything appears to be in readiness tonight for the opening game of the world's championship baseball series of 1919 Wednesday.

Never before in the history of this city have such scenes been enacted as were visible today in the hotels. The decks of the hoteliers were packed three deep with visitors trying to obtain sleeping accommodations, and these were being added to an ever increasing train arrival. Never before has Cincinnati been called upon to handle such an enormous crowd and it is safe to say that never before has it been the host to so many non-residents nationally in their various ways of life.

One of the first special trains to arrive came from New York and brought 75 of the newspaper correspondents. Among the actor folk to be on the scene early are George M. Cohan, the playwright; Hecce Arlucke, and Charles Ray, of moving picture fame.

Another special train brought 150 Pittsburgh business men.

Among the baseball men who were early arrivals was Colonel T.H. Huston, of the New York Americans; President William Veckel, of the Chicago Nationals; and Les Consalus, of Pittsburgh, business manager of the world's series for the National league. The railroad announced that a special containing 100 men from Texas would arrive here early tomorrow morning.

But even though we find ourselves losers at the end of the series it will be some consolation to know that we didn't follow the mob.

No offense Sim.

Chicago papers reaching here yesterday give lurid details of the game which gave the Sox the championship.

These stories also show that Cicotte is not always right. Sanborn of the Tribune in describing the game declares, "The Browns hopped Cicotte for three earned runs in the first inning and increased it to four in the third. He stopped the Browns until the seventh when a pair of unmitigable triples scored a run and drove him to the shower."

Not that we figure Cicotte will break but just to show that he isn't always right—that's our reason for quoting the above.

BUSINESS IS KEPT FROM PRESIDENT

Wilson Passes Restless Night but Sleeps During Morning—Will Not Receive Royalty.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—After a day of rest President Wilson was described as "slightly better" in an official bulletin issued tonight by Dr. Cary Grayson.

The bulletin, which recorded the first change to be officially noted in Mr. Wilson's condition since he was taken ill last Friday, did not give details. It was issued at 4:00 o'clock tonight and was as follows: "The president is slightly better. (Signed) "Grayson."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Under an absolute prohibition against work or worry, President Wilson began today the vacation which has been prescribed as the cure for his attack of nervous exhaustion.

After another troubled night he awoke at 10 o'clock for a 16-hour noon and in the afternoon was taken for an hour's automobile ride. The remainder of the day he spent quietly secluded in his room or talking with members of his family, his attention being kept scrupulously away from the executive business of any form.

"So thorough will be the effort to prevent him from doing any work that will not be permitted, for the present, to see any of the senate leaders in charge of the fight for ratification of the peace treaty. White House officials believe it essential that this subject, which has occupied such a large place in the president's mind, be put entirely aside.

The visit of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium to the White House, also will be postponed. It was announced definitely today, because of Mr. Wilson's condition. Instead of being received by the president at the end of the present week, the king and queen first will make their tour of the country.

It was said at the White House that these precautions only were a part of Dr. Grayson's original program of quiet for the president, and were not to be interpreted as indicating any change in his condition. The president's physician has made no qualification of his original bulletin of Friday in which he said the illness was not alarming but that a considerable period of rest would be necessary for recovery.

The feeling of the White House officials is that the nervous reaction which has interfered with the president's sleep and with his digestion constitutes a condition which may require some days to reveal the exact extent of its grip upon his system. Mr. Wilson is nearly 63 years of age, and his advisers wish to take no chances of permitting his ailment to run into complications.

A brief bulletin of Dr. Grayson, given out at 10 o'clock this morning, constituted the only official news during the day regarding the president's condition. It was as follows:

"The president passed a restless night, but is sleeping this morning."

out a statement that men were coming back to work "in such goodly numbers that most of the plants are running very near the top". This applied to its plants at Homestead, Braddock, Duquesne and Clairton and to its mills in this city.

Reports from the Carnegie officials at Newcastle and Farrell were also to the effect that the company's works in those places showed considerable improvement.

The entire strike district was quiet during the day. Arrests continue to be made, however, of strikers and others for violating the regulations of the sheriff's proclamation. Starvation Only Par.

Expressing confidence in the ultimate outcome of the strike and declaring he was highly pleased with the situation in the Pittsburgh district, Secretary Foster by a talk with newspaper men today said that the strikers would not return to work unless "they are starved back."

"The situation in the Pittsburgh district looks better than ever and the ranks of the union are unbroken," said Mr. Foster. "The corporations have failed in their efforts to stampede our men back to work."

"The men know they have read full page newspaper advertisements grievances and it will take more than to get them back on the job."

"Newspaper propaganda and all sorts of methods have been resorted to in an effort to deceive our men and weaken their morale. Mechanics at Braddock are being offered $25 a day to return to work and laborers are being given $1 per hour. But still our men hold aloof. With a few 'smoke makers' the corporations are making a pretense of operating."

"The men are determined to stand together until they have spent their last dollar and used up all of their liberty bonds. They will never return to work under the old system unless their demands are met or they are starved back."

Says Shut Down Complete. Mr. Foster asserted that he had received reports from Monaghan, Donora, Braddock, Sharon and Farrell stating that the shut down was complete.

"From Homestead has come one of the most encouraging reports," Mr. Foster said. "The men there are solid and many additions have been made to their ranks."

"We are in the dark as to the Duquesne situation. I have had no reports from there."

"All plants with the exception of the Jones and Laughlin and Shoenberger are completely down in the city of Pittsburgh. Both of these are badly crippled."

OPEN BIDS ON ROAD TO SHOSHONE FALLS

Highway Along Rim-Rock To Be First Part of Work On Memorial.

Bids were received last night in the office of Senator M. J. Sweeney for the improvement by grading and graveling of the road along the rim-rock to Shoshone Falls. The work is to be done by the Shoshone Falls Park Memorial association, preliminary to improvement of the park, under the general plans of the association.

Plans do not comprehend an elaborate roadway with the first year, but instead such a year-by-year improvement of the park as may be done with state aid and community help. It is felt by the officers of the organization that within a few years there will be attractions added to make the place one of the scenic wonders of the west, approached by a boulevard which will attract sightseers and tourists, from all over the country.

Bids will be carefully examined for the road work, and an announcement made within a few days as to whether or not one of them will be accepted.

crippled. Union leaders claim that Bethlehem Steel is 75 percent organized.

Fight Independent Plant. The fight of the union to close down the big independent plant of the Jones and Laughlin company in this city is being waged vigorously. This concern withstood the assaults of the union last week with better success, according to reports, than did the Carnegie company, but the striking workers said they are making inroads now. Secretary Foster of the national committee today said the plant was fifty percent out of action. This is vigorously combated by representatives of the company who maintain that the works are not seriously affected.
