

JORDAN ACQUITTED OF LARCENY CHARGE

Jury Releases Man Accused of Participating in Affair With Arlio Patrick.

W. H. Jordan was last night acquitted by a jury in the district court on a charge of larceny. Jordan was accused of having participated in the stealing of a saddle from Markwood Lohr.

Hearing of evidence in the case started shortly after the noon recess. The state called Lohr, Elmer Atrop and Arlio Patrick to the stand. Patrick had previously served a sentence in the county jail after acknowledging a petty larceny charge.

Two witnesses were called by the defense after a motion for an instructed verdict had been overruled. The case was given to the jury at 2 o'clock while the verdict was announced in court at 7:30, the jury having reached its decision an hour previously. Those who composed the jury follow:

Fred R. Evans, C. H. Lauriz, O. C. Burkhalter, C. H. Burton, Vance P. Brown, John E. Munser, Frank McCormick, M. C. Ware, E. D. Thompson, Owen Dolan, F. C. Boone, P. D. Brown.

The defendant was represented in the case by William Guthrie.

FILER ORGANIZES COMMERCIAL CLUB

Promises to Be One of Thriving Institutions of Kind in South-Idaho.

FILER, Dec. 10.—At a well attended meeting at the city hall Monday evening, called by J. M. Markel, chairman of a committee appointed some time ago to lay plans for the organization here of a community association, the Filer Commercial Club was launched and promises to soon be one of the thriving institutions of its kind in southern Idaho.

A preliminary membership of 177 was secured upon and every person present was constituted a member of one to secure additional members. The minimum number of fifty members will be easily exceeded and to date the club has a membership of nearly fifty.

The permanent organization will be perfected at a monster meeting of farmers and business men at the city hall next Monday evening at 7:30, at which time permanent officers will be elected; the broad scope of the organization will be outlined; the community problems to be dealt with will be presented, and there will lay the foundation for caring for the needs of the town, the country, the present population and the thousands yet to come.

J. M. Markel, secretary of the Twin Falls county fair; president of the Intermountain Fair and Racing association; superintendent of schools of Horn, Filer, Light and St. Anthony; farmer; and prominent Filer resident will preside at the meeting on Monday evening. A. O. Madland, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank is the temporary secretary and heads the membership campaign.

It was made plain at Monday night's meeting that the Filer Commercial Club is to be an organization to help promote the interests of the whole Idaho country, and not the town alone. Consequently the membership is expected to include the names of every farmer and business man in the whole Filer territory.

The membership fee has been placed at the nominal figure of $5.00, and it is hoped to perfect the organization next Monday evening with an initial membership of at least 100 members.

Every man in the Filer country is urged to be present at the meeting Monday night and identify himself with the one big unselfish constructive organization that will represent the spirit of Filer, and has for its purpose the betterment of our town and country.

Some of the big problems to be dealt with by the organization were brought out in the Monday night meeting. Among them are good roads, school bonds, manufactures, such as beet sugar, potato flour and cannery factories, Snake river bridge, sewer system, fire apparatus building associations, civic improvement, and then there—the coal problem. Sunday amusements, the market situation, and kindred needs like a woman's rest room, a public library, tabulated information on our resources, and an endless array of new problems and situations that can only be met and acted upon by a commercial organization.

To make more stable our present resources; to provide security for our homes; to broaden the scope of the town's activity; and to build permanently for a Greater Filer is the aim of the Filer Commercial Club.

The Twin Falls Branch of the American Red Cross will hold their annual election of officers Saturday, December 13th, in their rooms, corner Shoshone and Third South, at 2 o'clock.—Adv. K-12-13

VORWAERTS Laments Decline of Mark

(Hints That All Decisions Are Keeping Foreign Money Out of Germany.)

BERLIN — "German capital has deserted the flag," says the Vorwaerts, in a bitter comment on the decline in value of the German mark.

Numberless cases are occurring in which the German sellers do not allow the payment of their wares in Germany but start accounts abroad which are exempt from taxation, declares the paper. To the damage of the German rate of exchange, continues Vorwaerts, the German beggar sells his rags in the world market at what prices he can get and ignores the opportunities to get foreign money into Germany and thereby raise the mark.

Capitalists who find tax evasion profitable refer to the German economic crisis with a shrug of the shoulders and lay the blame to the government and financial politics.

The Vorwaerts states that German leather especially has been sold in the foreign markets at prices less than in Germany and with no other object than to transfer the producer's fortune to a place where it will not be taxed.

"For their own sakes several thousand illegal traders and capitalists are robbing their country and committing a theft of food by driving prices upward," the paper charges.

Through pressure on the rate of exchange German war bonds can be bought in Switzerland for ten marks and the loan is bought up in quantities by those who realize that Germany must ultimately be given help and that the mark will rise.

"The purchaser of war loan will then make fifty per cent instead of five per cent on the investment."

The newspaper declares that some means must be found for preventing the exportation of goods to foreign countries. It concludes with the statement that while the government is painstakingly spending 40,000,000 or 50,000,000 marks for oil and fats, 40,000,000 marks worth of French perfumes, soaps and modes have arrived. The Entente, says the paper, must realize that it is encouraging German international illicit trade at a cost of German economic life.

LEPROSY CURE FOUND; OIL CHECKS DISEASE

HONOLULU — For the first time in history, the complete cure of leprosy is announced. Twenty patients have been dismissed from the Kahili hospital and, after several months of observation, no recurrence of symptoms is noted.
Dr. A. J. Doan, president of the University of Hawaii and a disting-lished chemist, has succeeded in isolating the active principle in chaulmoogra oil, which for some time has been recognized as beneficial in the treatment of leprosy. The medicine is enclosed in capsules and injected into the muscles. Scars of the disease remain, but its ravages are at once checked. Treatment is carried on exclusively by the United States public health service. All rights advertising in Alooea, is taboo.

EUROPEAN FINANCIAL SLUMP.

The newspapers lately have had a good deal to say about the depreciation of foreign currency. Many a reader doubtless ignores this subject, insisting that the rate of foreign exchange is nothing to him.

As a matter of fact, it is something to him, and may have more to do with him than he likes before the present movement stops.

Why is European currency depreciating in comparison with American currency? Because Europe owes America a tremendous lot of money which at present she is unable to pay, and the amount is not decreasing, but rather increasing.

The United States lent the allies about $10,000,000,000 for war purposes. This amount is being added to, now, by the natural purchase of commodities from this country. It grows because Europe cannot pay even its current bills in money, and is not paying in goods fast enough to offset what it is buying from us. That is to say, we are still exporting more than we are importing, and so becoming more of a creditor than ever.

"Well, asks the indifferent reader, isn't Europe good for it?"

Perhaps. It depends on circumstances. The European nations are so deeply in debt that their net resources are greatly reduced. The depreciation of their money represents, in a general way, their prospect of being able to pay.

Even if we count that money as gone, the matter does not end there. Depreciated currency, or an unfavorable rate of exchange, means that England, France, Italy Germany and other countries cannot buy from us except at ruinous prices. That prevents their economic recovery. If they cannot buy, neither can they sell. If continued, it means bad times for Europe indefinitely. And bad times for Europe, mean, sooner or later, bad times for America. Nations prosper by trading with each other, and anything which prevents our selling to Europe—and buying from Europe is bad for us. Thus it is easy to see that Europe's financial condition is everybody's concern.

Philadelphia claims to be the second busiest port in the United States, putting New Orleans, third.

AN INSIDE BATH
MAKES YOU LOOK AND FEEL FRESH

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, declaring this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the alimentary canal before eating more food.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach, or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to show the value of inside bathing.—Adv.

CARLISLE TELLS HOW HE WAS CAPTURED

Makes Lengthy Statement Which is Recounted by Stenographer—Says Bandit Will Not Be Striped.

CHEYENNE—At the Douglas hospital last Tuesday night Carlisle made a rather lengthy statement to Charles D. Irwin and other Union Pacific officials regarding his escape and experience since that time. The statement was taken down by Miss Vera Seal in short hand in order that an accurate account be had by the railroad of what he had said.

Carlisle said that his parents were dead, that he had two brothers who did not amount to much and two sisters who were married and highly respected. He admitted that this was his fourth prison term, he having served two terms in New York state.

He declared that he had no accomplice in effecting his escape from the penitentiary. He was shipping clerk there and on the day of his escape was billing out boxes of shirts. He had three boxes ready for the driver and when they were loaded he told them that there would be two more boxes to go; that if this (Carlisle) were not there when the driver returned the bill of lading would be on the boxes and he should take them anyway.

When the driver was gone he brought out the box he had previously prepared for his escape, and secured one of the full boxes of shirts. The special box he put on a platform the height of the wagon, fixing it so it would be only necessary to slide off without lifting it. He crawled in and managed to fasten the boards on the top of the box from the inside sufficiently to hold them in place. The driver put the box in the freight depot at the station and then went into the office, unfastened the loose boards on the top and got out, opened the freight door and was free.

He got out of Rawlins on a freight. He told of going down to Laramie and stopping at a hotel there, remaining until 11 o'clock the next morning. He planned to make his way to Old Mexico, where he believed he would be safe. But he had no money and then he made up his mind to rob.

No. 19.

He got but $75 as the result of the robbery. He is positive as to the amount and says that he robbed but five of the passengers, though he admits it might possibly have been six. He is positive it is not over six, but at least eight persons claim to have been robbed by him that night and to have lost nearly $300 in money.

Shot After Robbery

He left the train at Medicine Bow and as he was escaping was fired upon, the bullet striking him in his hand. That changed his plan for he knew that with his wounded hand he would find it impossible to escape detection.

He then headed to the northeast, toward the country he was familiar with. He traveled on the road during darkness taking to the high places during the day. He told of having frequently seen cars filled with men, whom he knew were searching for him. He went in various ranch houses and was always fed. He didn't tell them who he was, but they probably knew. He finally came to the conclusion that there was no chance to avoid capture and he was heading for a town, believing it offered a better chance to hide out. His hand was paining him considerably, too, and he wished to get it dressed.

"He said it wasn't necessary to shoot him as he was unarmed and wouldn't have shot, but he did not blame Sheriff Beach, for what he had done.

GERMANS FACING INDUSTRIAL BATTLE

Employers Resolved to Force Issue. Reds Can't Win—Middle Class Opposed to Program.

By Harold E. Bechtel.

BERLIN—A show-down fight between German capital and German labor is drawing near, said Arthur E. Dunning, secretary of the American Association of Commerce and Trade, in an interview for the N. E. A.

"Capital is preparing to force the issue."

"The new labor law has been settling down after concession with but little opposition. Capital has determinedly avoided a clash while conditions have been at their worst."

"But the show down is inevitable."

"When the factories get coal and materials and are ready to step out in earnest, the owners will force a test of strength. They make no secret of it. Labor knows it."

Dunning is an American who has been in Germany continuously for years; before the war, all through the war and since. Last November the American armistice commission called him to Spa for several weeks as special advisor on conditions in Germany.

He is in close touch with labor and business conditions and talks frequently with many of the biggest business men of the nation.

"The industrial capitalists know that the shorter day has come to stay," he said. "They know that the workers intend to keep a voice in the management of their working conditions, and so on."

"But they say that Germany's only hope lies in restoring as much as possible of the old German efficiency. Costs must be kept down as well as profits. There must be plain, hard work. They are preparing to fight."

"Politically, things are more set-

ted. Personalities may change, but as to the upgrade, at any rate. A few Germans admit the possibility of some successful uprising and change of the form of the government, either by Royalist or Reds.

"The winter will undoubtedly be a hard one. Coal, food and clothing will be very scarce. Sporadic rioting and violence are things to be guarded against and perhaps expected. The Communists may even achieve local, temporary successes. But the strong German middle class won't stand for communitism. Remember Munich. The Reds gained complete control there. They lasted a short time."

"I can see how American bankers, and business agents, coming in fresh, regard the situation as hopeless."

"No one can sit down and appraise Germany and find justification for a loan by pure business standards. As a business venture in that sense, a credit for Germany is out of the question. If a credit comes, it must come simply to prevent a crash—hopeless bankruptcy. It must come on a basis of awarding Germany the necessary materials to give her a start toward paying off her obligations."

Worked As Clerk

He said he was shipping clerk at the penitentiary, and as he did the typewriter work he said he "bet they missed him there."

He talked freely, answering most of the questions that were put to him. When asked "something" he did not wish to answer he shook his head and turned his face away.

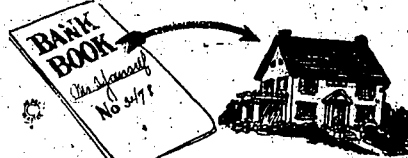

He told Agent Irwin of the Union Pacific that he had no animosity against the road. That the reason he robbed the road's trains was because they were the only trains there were to rob in this section.

NO STRIPES THREATENED

RAWLINS, Wyo., Dec. 6.—Acting Warden Brime of the state penitentiary today denied reports published in Denver, and crediting him as authority for the statement that William L. Carlisle, the wounded train bandit, was to be compelled to wear stripes on his return to the state prison. Warden Brime stated that details of the discipline to which Carlisle will be subjected in punishment for having broken prison have not been considered.

"The report that he was to be put in stripes was unauthorized," said the warden.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11. - Pronounced weakness developed in the corn market today chiefly as a result of big breaks in foreign exchange. The close was heavy, 1 7/8c net lower, with January 135 1/4 to 135 3/4 and May 132 to 132 1/4. Oats lost 1c to 1 1/8c and provisions 20c to 1/2c. It took but little time for attention in the corn pit to focus on the extreme depression of sterling and francs. Besides, the actual settlement of the coal strike brought with it a desire on the part of many holders to realize on their anticipations, especially as larger receipts and moderating temperatures promised to act as a weight on values. Under the circumstances, an opening show of strength associated more or less with higher quotations on hogs disappeared quickly, and with indications of free selling by the country the market kept on the down grade until the finish, with no evidence at any time of much power to rally. Oats paralleled the action of corn. Most of the pressure came from liquidating sales. Talk of a poor outlook for exports more than counterbalanced in the provision market the fact that hog prices were higher. Discouragement about exports was ascribed to the collapse of exchange rates.

BERKMAN TO BE DEPORTED, DECISION

Supreme Court Refuses to Interfere—Emma Goldman Gets Stay of One Week.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The supreme court having refused to interfere with the government's plan to deport Alexander Berkman because of his anarchistic activities, immigration authorities tonight prepared to send the radical leader to Soviet Russia. This is to be done, Commissioner General of Immigration Campbell announced, "in the very near future."

Simultaneously with this order in the Berkman case, the court granted a stay of one week in the carrying into execution of the planned deportation of Emma Goldman, Berkman's assistant in radicalism, so as to enable it to examine the records and determine whether she is permitted to appeal from New York federal court decrees dismissing habeas corpus proceedings instituted to prevent her being sent out of the United States.

Both Berkman and Miss Goldman are being held at Ellis Island and under the court's order, the latter will not be permitted to obtain bail pending determination of the question as to whether she can appeal.

Announcement was made by Harry Weinberger, attorney for Miss Goldman, after Chief Justice White had announced the order orally, that because of the court's refusal to grant bail, he would consult his client tomorrow as to whether she wished to push the proceedings further or submit to deportation.

Weinberger earlier in the day had requested and received from the department of labor the $20,000 in liberty-bonds deposited as bail for the two radicals when they were arrested.

It was understood the court's action in granting Miss Goldman a temporary writ resulted from her contention that although born in Russia she is an American citizen through marriage.

Application for permission to appeal in both cases was made yesterday to Justice Brandeis, who referred the matter to the entire court. The stay in the deportation order which enabled habeas corpus proceedings being filed in the federal courts in New York, expired automatically at 4 p. m. today, although the effect of the supreme court's order is to extend it for one week insofar as it affects Miss Goldman.

COAL MINERS PREPARE TO RE-ENTER PITS

Work under the 14 per cent wage advance pending final settlement by a commission.

Ask for Patience.
The miners are asked to trust their chosen representatives, and "to wait patiently the indication of their judgment and action" which it is presumed will ultimately come.

The statement points out that all the circumstances of the officials' action and the reason for it cannot be explained in a circular and that the organization will be called shortly after full resumption of work.

The officials express confidence that when the course adopted is explained at the convention, universal approval will be given by the representatives of the 4,000 locals.

The circular is signed by Acting President Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer William Green, and the district president of the organization who participated in the sessions Tuesday and yesterday.

WORK TO START ON NEW ELKS HOME

Ground to Be Broken This Coming Week—To Be at Least Four Stories High.

Ground will be broken for the new Elks home on the block at Shoshone and Second within the coming week.

Determination was reached at the lodge meeting last night, when several hundred members of the local anteroom here applauded the announcement of the vote to this effect.

Funds were made available for the committee to begin the work of excavation, to buy the steel and terra cotta and to plan for the construction of the new quarter of a million dollar Elks home.

The building will be not less than four stories high, determination being made to add as many stories above the fourth as funds can be made available for. The ground floor will be for business rooms, there being a long list of applicants for other all of the space or portions of it. The basement is also in strong demand, and will be readily leased.

The Elks will have a spacious dining and banquet hall, in addition to lodge room and ball room. There will be club rooms, reading and lounging rooms and rooms for living quarters for brother Elks. The building will be the finest Elks home in the state.

Following the meeting last night a smoker was enjoyed, with a strong program of entertainment concluding with a number of songs and dance team showing at the Orpheum. There were three sparring contests, all among local lads. The hosts were clean and class.

ger has "betrayed the farmers of this state," and "unlawfully attempted to wreck" the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo and "all other banks friendly to the farmers of this state."

It is also charged that Langer "published an interview in the public press charging the governor and the judges of the supreme court with being crooks and conspirators."

DETWEILER WILL CONTEST ELECTION

Apparent Discrepancy Results in Decision by Defeated Candidate of Board.

D. P. Detweiler, who was defeated Tuesday for re-election as a member of the canal board, yesterday indicated that he will contest the election in the courts.

Mr. Detweiler's decision to take such action followed a discovery of an apparent discrepancy of 3,000 votes between the votes certified by the voters and the vote cast. During the annual board meeting, during which the new board members were elected, Detweiler asked W. O. Taylor, the secretary, if a check could be made between the two items mentioned above. Mr. Taylor made a hasty investigation informing Mr. Detweiler that there was an apparent difference of 600 shares or 3,000 votes.

Detweiler and Frating, the other members of the board, were present at yesterday's meeting, accompanied by Attorney E. M. Wolfe.

It is said that the discrepancy could easily have occurred by the tellers failing to certify the names of all to whom they issued ballots.

The new board organized by re-electing J. H. Barker, president; Ken Lincoln, vice president; W. O. Taylor, secretary, and J. C. Whelton, general manager. Mr. Taylor was elected unanimously, while Charles W. Colner, one of the new members voted against Mr. Whelton. The selection of an attorney was deferred until next meeting.

He claimed the bomb was made of powder and red pepper and was sent to a mail freighter her because of a quarrel.

Making the Washing Simple and Easy

This is a Monday morning scene in the house where they do the washing in the old-fashioned way.

A hot, steaming room. A woman bending over the tubs. She rubs, rubs, rubs. Oh, how she does rub, with those red hands of hers. The strong suds have no mercy. Arms red to the elbows. But it's wash day. Hour after hour she rubs and rubs and rubs. How such rubbing wears those delicate fabrics!

How do you expect clothes to last when they are rubbed that way?

Her poor back feels as if it would break. Oh, those backaches—but it's wash day. Her feet are soggy wet—they chug in her shoes as she walks about the tubs—but wet feet must come on wash day, just as long as women persist in washing in the old way, with the washboard.

You know that drudgery—you women who keep house. Even if you employ a laundress, you know what wash day means.

"This is the Secret of an Easy Wash Day."

The New Way

Now here is the new way—the way that turns wash day into play day.

An Electric Washing Machine does it. Instead of the clumsy tubs and the washboard—a neat cabinet stands in a corner. A great fluffy mass of fine, white soap foam rises and falls and swishes from one side to the other. Your clothes are being washed thoroughly, silently, quickly. No red hands, no red arms, no backache, no wet feet—no wear on the clothes. Done in an hour or two at the most. Wonderful! Yes, and it's true.

Will you continue the old, wasteful drudgery of wash day, or will you get an Electric Washing Machine?
