

COAL INDUSTRY COMMISSION IS NOW AT WORK

Headquarters, Established in Building of Department of Labor, at Washington.

HINES LIFTS THE LAST RESTRICTION ON FUEL

Bituminous Coal Can Now Be Exported—Output Is Rapidly Increasing, Says Fuel Director.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Preliminary arrangements for the investigation of wages and prices in the bituminous coal industry, as provided in the coal strike settlement, were made at the initial meetings today of the commission of three appointed by President Wilson.

The members of the commission—Henry M. Robinson of Pasadena, Calif., representing the public; Rembrandt Peale for the operators, and John P. White for the miners—established semi-permanent headquarters in the department of labor building and were understood to have discussed the matter of organizing the commission and the plan of procedure in the task assigned by President Wilson, but had not been fully worked out. They refused to discuss the questions of whether they would hold hearings or whether they would visit the coal fields in connection with their inquiry.

Modification Last Restriction. While the commission was preparing to take up the dominant question of the strike, Director General Hines, who has had charge of coal rationing, modified the last of the restrictions put into effect during the strike—that prohibiting exportation of bituminous coal. The director general issued an order under which the overseas movement of coal, up to an amount equal to 60 per cent of the quantity exported in October may be shipped from the ports of Baltimore and Newport News. Similar arrangements are to be placed in effect at other ports as soon as the necessary details can be worked out. Dumping of coal at ports will be regulated, however, through railroad embargoes on tidewater consigned coal.

The relation of restrictions against exportation of coal, which Hines said, through increased production resulting from the return of the miners to their jobs. The situation in the eastern fields was described as especially good.

Hearings Contemplated. The first meeting of the president's commission was held in the cabinet room of the executive offices and was attended by Secretary of Labor Wilson and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president. The question assigned to the commission in the department of labor building, included a hearing room of considerable size, indicating that hearings of some sort are contemplated by the commission.

Under the strike settlement plan agreed to by the miners, and in which it is expected that the operators will participate in spite of objections made to it by the operators' association, the commission has power to fix wages and working conditions in the mines, and prices of coal to the public, if its decision is unanimous. The return of the miners to work has been with the understanding that the commission is to have full powers to fix wages and working conditions if it finds further increase justified.

Production Increased. Relaxation of export restrictions was announced by Director General Hines in the following statement: "In the two weeks which have passed since the bituminous coal industry returned to work generally, production has increased regularly. This has afforded a great measure of relief in those consuming sections customarily supplied by miners in the central competitive fields and in the southwest and in which sections competition among producers has been completed. In addition, the better condition of such stocks in the fact that many of these consumers who were

FIVE BATTLE FOR LIVES IN ICY SEA

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 29.—Five survivors of the crew of the Belgian steamer "Antiope" were being hunted desperately for life tonight on the wreck of their ship, which was fast being pounded on pieces on the frozen blocks which guard the entrance to St. Mary's Bay, Newfoundland. Their only hope was that the wreck, swept incessantly by gigantic ice combers would hold together until a rescuing steamer from St. John was able to reach them. It was a slender hope for the ill-fated ship had been driven on the rocks at a spot where no vessel could approach in safety except in the calmest weather. All day the fisher folk from the nearby village of St. Shotts had watched the unequal struggle for life from the tops of the rugged cliffs which frowned down upon the wreck. They were absolutely powerless to aid. The steamer, laden with a cargo of

INSINUATE WILSON PAID JENKINS BAIL

Senato Mexican Relations Committee to Investigate Alleged Charges by Mexican Consul.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Reports alleged to have been circulated early this month in New York by the Mexican consulate, there that "President Wilson or Secretary Lansing paid the necessary bail money to have the American consul agent, W. O. Jenkins, released from the 'Puerto Rican' jail" will be investigated by a Senate Mexican relations sub-committee. Inquiring into Mexican affairs, it was announced tonight by Francis X. Keatly, counsel for the sub-committee.

In connection with the alleged reports which Mr. Keatly said had been circulated to the attention of Chairman Fall of the sub-committee by a correspondent in New York it was announced that Rafael Nieto, sub-secretary of Finance and President Garza, and Silvano Lopez Pizarro, and Rafael Martinez Carvill, Mexican attorneys in New York, will be subpoenaed by the sub-committee. Nieto, and Pizarro, the "correspondent" charged, concocted a story circulated about New York and connecting Secretary Lansing with the release of the bail for Jenkins' release from jail. Secretary Lansing when his attention was called tonight to alleged reports declared the "whole story was absolutely ridiculous." The secretary, commenting on another alleged Mexican consular report that he had conferred with Hanson before the latter left for Mexico said he did not know Hanson and had not heard of him, until reports to the state department carried the information that it was he who had furnished Jenkins bail.

DENY ANY PROTEST OVER SETTLEMENT

Cath. Rabbers Have Approved Federal-Anti-Trust Decision Asserts Palmer's Department.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—White House officials denied today that any communication protesting against the manner of settlement of the most bitterly fought anti-trust proceedings had been presented there as announced here last night by John Miller, a cattle raiser of Port Stockton, Texas. The statement of Miller that the compromise effected by Attorney General Palmer in prosecution of the matter was not satisfactory to the cattle growers met with rebuttal from department of justice officials. Officials cited a telegram from W. W. Turney, president of the Cattle Raisers' association of Texas, received by Attorney General Palmer following settlement of the proceedings in support of their contention that the cattle growers were satisfied with the way the packer cases were handled.

"The whole country," said Turney, "congratulates you upon the splendid victory in the packer anti-trust cases. Cattle producers especially are most grateful for the results obtained. The department of justice officials have telegraphed for information as to the number of cattle producers represented by Miller. The Panhandle cattle association which, Miller claims to represent, officials said, had not been active in the recent attacks of cattle organizations on the five large packing corporations.

OWEN SEEMS WILLING TO RUN FOR PRESIDENT

By the Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 29.—United States Senator Robert L. Owen, addressing a meeting of the Oklahoma Press club at the hotel today, made what party leaders construed, as an announcement of his candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination. Senator Owen said: "The effort to place my name before the democratic convention for the presidential nomination was not made by any representative of the club today because my fellow citizens believed in the principles I have represented in all these years. When I think of the responsibility of the office of president it seems enough to appall me. Yet some one must discharge those duties. And he should be one who can hear the voice of the people and put into concrete form laws to meet the needs they express. The candidate in the next election who is to appeal to the votes of the people must be a believer in popular government and I believe in popular government. He must not be offended to welcome suggestions not in probability because of opposition to those movements. I have favored both, so it seems that I am free from offensive to those respects."

A fund of $50,000 was pledged at the meeting to advertise the name and face of William C. Clegg, the national before the democratic convention next summer, and a finance committee will canvas the state to increase the amount to $100,000.

SAYS AUSTRALIA IS BEHIND UNITED STATES

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Prof. T. T. He advocated the appointment of a secretary of education for the United States.

He said that much of the poor speech spoken in Australia could be attributed to the character of the early settlers that emigrated to that country from England. Most of the early settlers' horrid "were men who came from the prisons and the poorest class of people in England."

Prof. D. C. Miller of the Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland by means of an instrument known as the harmonica analyzer projected the vibrations of the human voice on a screen. BOISE FINDS SUNDAY SHOWS ARE BIG HELP Much Good Comes After Three Years of Opening, Declare Citizens.

DISTRICT JUDGE GIVES A FAVORABLE VIEW

Less Drunkenness on Sundays; Union Leaders Cite Its Aid to the Workingman in Capital City.

BOISE, Dec. 29.—Three years ago Boise, a city of 30,000 people, was wrapped up in the second bitter fight in its history, a fight to determine whether or not the motion picture houses should open their places on Sunday. The other fight was on the wet and dry question. In the first fight, Boise was made a dry city, in the second its motion picture shows were made available to those who desired quiet high class recreation on the day of rest.

Boise has now had three years of Sunday picture shows. The criticism has melted away, even some of those who most bitterly opposed the opening of shows on Sunday, now declare that if the managers continue to show the same high class pictures as in the past, there will be no opposition.

Criticisms Smothered Following the opening of the picture shows in March, 1916, a great amount of criticism was directed in opposition to that form of amusement and sermons were preached against it. Today not a voice of criticism or con-sure is heard. The shows operate from 2 p. m. until 11 p. m., every Sunday. The consensus of opinion of the officers of the law is that the shows have brought about a more orderly Sabbath. The police records show fewer arrests on Sunday since the shows opened and the hundreds of thousands of folks who on Saturday night do their trading, are now able to enjoy the movies on Sunday, thus doing away with being up late Saturday night, and therefore able to return to work on Monday fresh and in good condition.

Provided by Legislature The opening of the picture shows Sunday was secured through the passage of a law by the eleventh session of the state legislature, providing that in any city or village, where the qualified electors equal in number to a majority of the votes cast at the last general election shall petition the council or board of trustees to permit the theaters or moving picture show houses to keep open on Sunday, the council or board of trustees may pass an ordinance permitting Sunday opening during such hours and subject to such regulations as may be prescribed.

It was five years after the passage of this law before any attempt was made in Boise to open the picture houses on Sunday.

Charles F. Redbach, the attorney who handled the case for the motion picture people in the courts, has been elevated to the judgeship of the district court and was elected by a large majority. Concerning Sunday picture shows, he says:

"I favor motion picture shows on Sunday because they furnish an enlightening, educational and harmless form of amusement which supplants evil. As a city attorney of Boise I was surprised at the number of cases of drunkenness and other misdemeanor cases which came up on Monday morning. They were persistent in spite of the territory being dry. Following the opening of picture shows, the men who furnished a place to go and be entertained, and gradually, I know from investigation, that fewer cases came into the police court. I feel certain that such shows tend for a more orderly Sabbath and detract but little from the church services."

"It was because I firmly believed it was for the betterment of the city that I put my heart in the strenuous fight to secure the opening of the theaters for Sunday shows and after several years of their operation I have no cause to regret it."

Union Leader Approves

H. H. Park, president of the state federation of labor, and prominent in labor circles throughout Idaho, says: "I favor Sunday picture shows as it affords an opportunity for the laboring man to find relaxation and entertainment. Six days of the week he is on the job. In these times of a scarcity of labor he is called upon to exert himself to the utmost, therefore it is necessary for him to retire early to be in shape for the next day. Sunday is the one day on which he can enjoy the motion picture show with his family without the sacrifice of being out late, and it is a form of amusement which he can afford. I find where picture shows operate on Sunday, a more contented class of laborers, I would urge the theater managers to put on a high class of shows, those which are educational and elevating as well as entertaining as I find the laboring men who patronize the picture shows wish to be enlightened as well as entertained."

Of Educational Value

"I favor the Sunday motion picture show for its educational advantages, also, if I could give no other reason, except that J. C. Clinton, former president of the state industrial accident commission, and a prominent labor union man, "I can see no more harm in attending a motion picture show than going to a base ball game, fishing or automobile riding. The picture show is within the means of those who are not able to afford automobiles, making long trips to go fishing and care not for the noise and excitement of baseball. I find that the current events given at most shows educational, the picture high class and the entertainment of a form to which I can see no valid objection."

These men but a few expressions of prominent men. The Sunday picture show has proven a success and a community benefit in Boise.

NEW YORK IS SAVED ASSAULTED TURTLE SOUP

By the Associated Press NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Electric baths and steam-heated rooms as first aid to twelve frozen, 300-pound turtles, which arrived today on the steamship, Tivivas, from Port Limon, probably averted a shortage of turtle soup at New York hotels during the New Year holidays. One turtle, said to be only 49 years old, was saved with great difficulty.

Accustomed to the warm waters of the Caribbean, the turtles, which were in tanks on the top deck, were stiff as stone soon after the vessel reached northern temperatures. The ship's physician reported an abundance of piled heat but prescribed heat in large quantities. A deck shelter aft was fitted with electric lights and steam pipes and the turtles moved into it by means of a derrick.

DOUGLASS, ARIZ., Dec. 29.—Fire breaking out in the machine shop of Flight A, 98th Aero Squadron, this afternoon destroyed equipment estimated to be worth $100,000. All airplanes in proximity to the fire were saved. Firemen were prevented from fighting the flames by the explosion of 250 aerial bombs as well as gasoline oil containers.

Chauffeur Anthony Jaroski and Private Emil Martin were seriously burned by the explosion of gasoline in the machine shop which started the fire. The living quarters of the men were destroyed.

OSLER, WELL KNOWN PHYSICIAN, IS DEAD

Passed Away at Oxford, England—Follows Severe Attack of Pleurisy in November.

OXFORD, England, Dec. 29.—Sir William Osler, noted physician, who has been ill for several weeks, died last evening.

Although Sir William Osler was known to be seriously ill at his home in Oxford, where he has been regius professor of medicine since 1904, recent advices had given hope for his recovery. Sir William, who passed his seventieth birthday last July, was stricken with pneumonia in November, but about the middle of that month was reported convalescent. A fortnight ago, however, he became worse. Called advices shortly afterward announced him somewhat improved, while on Christmas day a message from him was received at the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore in which the famous physician extended Christmas greetings to all his old friends and announced that he was "making a good thing" after an empty year.

Dr. Osler was professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins university from 1880 to 1904. He was born in Canada in 1849.

Sir William Osler was one of the great men who sprang from Canadian soil. He was born in the province of Ontario and grew to be the most distinguished of the four distinguished sons of a famous mother the birth, death anniversary of whose birth was celebrated at Toronto on December 11, 1906.

His first preceptor was the parish priest to whom he acknowledged his moral and mental indebtedness and to whom he inherited one of his learned works—"the practice of medicine."

Receiving his medical degree from McGill university in 1872 Dr. Osler placed the imprint of his ability on medical learning to such a marked degree that within a few years he became an accepted authority in medical science. His great art lay in his skill in diagnosis and his profound knowledge of all parts and functions of the human body and the various tics of nature. If such a thiffe could be he was a specialist in all departments of medicine.

In 1895 at the commemoration day exercises of Johns Hopkins university of Baltimore in which he served as professor of medicine, Dr. Osler delivered the address in which he spoke of "the comparative uselessness of men above 40 years of age." His words then spoken without thought of how far reaching they would be passed round the world in garbled form of every variety. He was quoted as having said in effect that men past that age were of no value in the progress of humanity and that men who had reached the age of 60 should be chloroformed.

"I did not say men at 60 should be chloroformed. That was the point in the novel to which I referred and upon which the plot hinged."

The novel in question was "The Pink Period" written by Anthony Trollope in 1883.

Dr. Osler was criticized by the public and press generally.

MOUNTAIN VIEW CLUB TO MEET JANUARY 7

The Mountain View club met at the home of Mrs. E. M. Jones, Dec. 17. In spite of the rough roads there was a large attendance. After a social hour the business meeting was called to order by the president. The following officers were elected for the coming year. President, Mrs. Goodrich; vice-president, Mrs. Beach; secretary, Mrs. McDowell; assistant secretary, Mrs. Paulson; Mrs. Myra Gambol and children of Gen. Alberta, were visitors, she being a former member of the club.

It was decided to postpone the next meeting one week, as that it would conflict with the Community Ladies' Aid meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Giffel on January 7.

REFUSES TO GIVE BAIL CLAIMS IT IS EXCESSIVE

By the Associated Press. LOUISVILLE, KY., Dec. 29.—Dr. Christopher G. Schott, charged with killing Miss Elizabeth Ford Griffith, his office, assistant and central files in the most mysterious Louisville murder case in many years, refused to furnish $10,000 bail bond at the conclusion of arguments on motion for bail in police court today, and elected to stay in jail pending his examining trial later in the week.

Dr. Schott's attorneys asserted that amount was excessive in view of the showing that had been made for their client by Laurene Gardner, a girl of 13, who had asserted that she was the physician's company during the Christmas presents at the time Elizabeth Ford Griffith was shot and killed.

Miss Gardner after being confined in the detention home on the charge of delinquency, was released on nominal bond pending a trial in juvenile court.

A feature connected with the case which excited great interest, was a police announcement that Dr. Schott, in effect, had advocated a trial marriage of Miss Griffith, his one-time fiancee, and a soldier. "The theory of Dr. Schott, according to this version, was that such a marriage would further eventually to become his wife."

Grammer who were under sentence to be electrocuted here January 9 for the murder of Grammer's mother-in-law Mrs. Lulu G. Vogt of near Elba, Neb., who was shot to death in July, 1917. January 16 was set as the date for their execution. Both men, however, are to have a hearing January 31 before state officials to determine if executive clemency is to be given them.

HAPGOOD IS NO LONGER MINISTER TO DENMARK

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Norman Hapgood is no longer American minister to Denmark. It was said today at the state department. Officials explained that the senate had failed to confirm his nomination before the end of the special session on November 15 and that since he was not given a recess appointment by President Wilson his commission automatically expired on that date.

A JUVENILE LIBRARY

"A Junior Corner" in the home library is described in Good Housekeeping by a mother who has arranged one for her children. It is furnished with a table and a tier of sectional book cases. The children's books and magazines are there kept together. Each day as the parents read the paper they make clippings of articles which they think will appeal to the children and place them in a wire basket on the table. At the end of a month the children clear out the basket, throw away what they no longer want and file away in envelopes in the table drawer those they wish to keep.

This is undoubtedly a better way to provide news and literature for the children than to allow them to maul indiscriminately over the newspapers or the library shelves. This woman was led into starting her children's library by finding that they "were doing a great deal of promiscuous reading that did not fit into any of the pigeon holes of their minds, because as yet they did not have discrimination enough to classify their information."

But besides being an admirable way to handle the collection of children's books and magazines, and stimulate the interest in current history, this method has the added advantage of giving the children training in the orderly handling of things.

There are occasional people who are big enough to rise above the disorder in their surroundings or their habits. But they are few. As a rule the successful person in any line learns at some stage of the upward path that order is a necessity of his life. A wholly orderly child would be a horrible little prig, of course. But the power to see the desirability of order and system is not incompatible with happy-go-lucky childhood. It plants one of those seeds which seem to distracted parents to have fallen on stony ground, but which so often sprout in later life into standards and ideals.

THE PRIVATE BANKER

A negro banker named Randall Washington Hunter, summoned before a federal court in Chicago to explain the failure of his three banks in Chicago, Gary and Pittsburgh, gave an entertaining and insturctive account of his financial adventures.

He had started up as a banker back in 1914, with ten cents capital. He did it because he "thought banking as a nice, clean business." His first bank, for some obscure reason, failed. Later he got two friends to contribute $200 each, and he himself "put in something," and "we put up a sign, 'Savings Bank,' and people came in and gave up their money."

He was president, and his two friends were vice president and cashier. "We just put the capital at $10,000," says Hunter, "and we had no charter."

They have left, as assets, one $50 Liberty loan bond. "The assets went out in bad loans," says President Hunter. "The thousands of dollars that have vanished came from trusting negroes. Hunter had planned to extend his system to other cities, but was prevented by unexpected troubles.

This almost incredible financial farce is merely a glaring example of the sort of "banking" that is being done in dozens of American cities under the cloak of lax state bank laws, or where proper laws exist, in spite of them. It is such fake bankers that prey on the credulous poor of many a foreign settlement. Millions of dollars are thus lost, right along, by those who can least afford it, and banks in general are discredited with millions of people who cannot distinguish the trustworthy from the untrustworthy. It is to the interest of honest bankers themselves, as well as of the public, to insist on laws and law enforcement that will make such swindling impossible anywhere.

WOMEN AND THE DEATH PENALTY

Women in California have been dismissed from juries in murder cases because they declare themselves opposed to the death penalty. Men are often left out of murder jury panels for the same reason, in California and elsewhere, though nothing much is said of it. The matter is emphasized now merely because women are new to the jury business. There is nothing new in their objections to inflicting death on human beings in punishment for crime. In several states of the Union, such objections are so common among citizens of both sexes that the death penalty has been abolished. Judging from present tendencies, it is only a question of time, and perhaps a short time at that, when there will be no more legal executions in this country.

It is hard to say whether this is wise or unwise. But the criminal is not the only party to be considered. Execution requires an executioner. Nobody wants to kill the criminal directly, and few sensitive and imaginative people want to do so indirectly, as citizens sanctioning the execution, when once they think about the matter. There are the questions, too, of whether the brutalizing effect of executions on society is not as bad as the brutality they are meant to correct, and whether any human being really has a right deliberately to cause the death of any person, for any reason, before his natural time.

Theories, however, have no great effect on public policies. It is the way people feel that determines them. The death sentence seems destined to abolition for the same simple cause that abolished the liquor traffic—people have outgrown it and do not like it. That is enough.

NO MORE PICTURE BRIDES

The Pacific coast states have good reason to rejoice over the announcement that Japan is to stop sending "picture brides" to America. This practice, which may or may not have been innocent in its inception, has grown to an evil which is one of the sorest spots in American-Japanese relations.

For a long time the growing Jap population of California and other far western states was almost wholly male. Then photographs of Japanese women began to come, and following them, the women themselves, armed with passports bearing duplicate pictures. They came ostensibly as "brides." In most cases the two parties to the match had never seen each other. The practice grew until it became a menace and a scandal. Some parts of California are thronged with little yellow children, the fruit of such unions. The Japanese population is thus multiplying and crowding the whites out of some of the richest sections. The "marriages" may possibly be according to Asiatic coolie standards, but most of the whites view them with small respect. That is another cause of antipathy between the two races.

The Japanese government is wise in deciding to stop issuing passports to such women. Its action seems indicative of a real desire to eliminate friction between the two countries. It will be welcomed by all Americans.

BLAME PEOPLE FOR COST OF CLOTHES

Demand on Retailers for Better Wool Goods Preceding Making of Wool, Gravelly, Unsettled State.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The American people themselves, are hindering the government in its endeavor to bring down the cost of clothing by demanding only merchandise made from the finest wools declared Edward Fleg, assistant to the attorney general, in charge of high cost of living campaign, today in endorsing the statement issued last night in Boston by William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company. Mr. Wood declared that if the American people would consent to wear good substantial clothing made of the coarser wools, clothing would be available at considerably lower prices. "We cannot expect the price of clothing to be materially reduced as long as the public demand is directed to the higher priced merchandise," said Mr. Fleg. "The retailers are a small part of the demand on the part of the public has judiciously fallen into the habit of displaying only merchandise of the higher price.

In turn his demands of the manufacturer have been for the higher price clothing, the result being that the manufacturer of materials entering into the completed suit has had to devote the majority of his operation to the manufacture of cloth in line with the demands of the retail distributor. As a consequence there has been very little cloth of a good quality at a reasonable price manufactured. It is pointed out by the manufacturer that he can today manufacture cloth of a good quality at a price far below the prevailing prices if the wholesaler and retailer would devote a certain percentage of their operations to the distribution of this cloth, which would have the effect of causing a reduction of from 25 to 50 per cent in the present prices on men's clothing."

enjoy during the strike to obtain coal from the fields which had continued to produce in the east, have refused now to take such action with the railroads moved west during the strike to protect such consumers, the additional freight rate from the east naturally ending into the price of coal.

"It is necessary under these circumstances, that production of the eastern fields be again turned into usual channels and usual markets, and that the export market be reopened as soon as possible. Otherwise, a serious congestion of coal leads will inevitably develop on the railroads.

"After careful consideration of the entire situation, it has been deemed advisable to permit restricted resumption of overseas export movement of bituminous coal. Instructions have already been issued for such movement through the ports of Hampton Roads and Baltimore. In an amount equal to about 50 per cent of the export tonnage handled through those ports in October. Similar arrangements will be made at other ports as soon as the necessary details now under way can be perfected. At each port, however, the export dumping will be only allowed upon a restricted basis.

Men whose government insurance lapsed more than eighteen months ago, have until December 31, to reinstate by paying only two-months premiums. No statement of health is required. Reinstatement blanks can be obtained from service office in Capitol Hill building.

Clothes wear longer
The Eden

Clothes, blankets and linens wear out long before their time if they are scrubbed and rubbed by hand or slaked around in poorly designed machinery.

Washed by an Eden, they are gently dipped up and down through hot suds in the same ideal way women use to wash a bit of lace or silk.

Falling through the bubbling hot water and soap countless times, they are perfectly cleaned without hard labor, without rubbing or wear and tear, and at surprisingly low cost.

CHARGE GIRL WITH MAN'S MURDER

Warrant Issued Against Beatrice Vester Following Information From Roommate.

By the Associated Press. MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., Dec. 29.—A warrant for the arrest of Beatrice Vester, on the charge of murdering J. Stanley Brown, son of a wealthy Detroit manufacturer, was issued by Macomb county authorities today as a result of information implicating the woman given them by Miss Gladys Summit of Battle Creek.

In requesting police of many cities to search for the Vester-woman, the officers also sent out a call for the arrest of a man they say may also have been connected with the killing of Brown.

Checking up on the story told them by Gladys Summit implicating the Vester woman officers declared it improbable that the woman alone could have committed the alleged crime. The man's name and information connecting him with the case were withheld here.

Beatrice Vester, also known as Beatrice Workman, and Beatrice Nelson, it is said, left Battle Creek Saturday after inviting her roommate, Miss Summit, to accompany her to Toledo. Letters found in the girl's room indicated she had formerly lived in Flint and other letters from her grandmother in Kalamazoo urged her to return to that city.

According to Miss Summit the girl for whom a warrant was issued today, was absent from Battle Creek Monday Tuesday until Wednesday afternoon and upon her return displayed much interest in the news of Brown's death, later coming hysterical and fearful that her name might be connected with the case.

Miss Summit and Herriek Kendall, a taxi driver, brought her yesterday for examination, were pleased tonight and returned to Battle Creek. Holly Bennett, detained in Sandusky, Ohio, Saturday, was also released without further questioning.

MEXICAN REGULARS WILL NOT ATTACK VILLA

By the Associated Press. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 29.—An unexplained refusal of Mexican government troops to attack those of Francisco Villa when the latter raided Muzquiz two weeks ago, although not more than 60 yards separated the two bodies, is pointed out in a supplemental report forwarded by border agents to the state department, it became known today.

The information was secured from Fred Hugo, the American who was kidnaped, and other residents of the town. According to them, Villa had approximately 1,000 men and remained in possession of the town for three days. A force of Carranza troops of unknown strength appeared southwest of the town, observed the rebels for some time, and then retreated in the direction from which they had come.

While Villa withdrew he took with him the greater part of the little arsenal he had defeated, sending them back the next day clothed in new uniforms and shoes. When he ordered them to remove their own uniforms, which were old and worn, and put on the new ones, he told them to report to their commander that it was in this way Villa cared for his own men.

The amount of the ransom paid by Hugo for his own release has not been announced, but it is known to be more than the $1,500, the amount originally asked.

OFFICIALS ARE FINED FOR REQUIRING SHAW AMITTANCE

By the Associated Press. BATTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 29.—Five officials of the Central Coal and Coke company, who last week refused to permit Thomas H. Shaw, state mine inspector recently removed by Governor Charles Grough for alleged dereliction of duty in connection with the coal strike, to inspect their mines, were fined $100 and costs each, at Huntington, Ark., today. The company officials gave notice of appeal. Their action is expected to precipitate a legal test as to whether the governor exceeded his authority in compelling to remove Shaw, his appointment, who contains the executive has not the power to remove him and who continues performing his duties as mine inspector.

Governor Drough announced tonight that he assumed full responsibility for the action of the company officials in barring Shaw from the mines.

ley hotel, was arrested today on three warrants sworn out by State Detective J. V. Daly of Northampton. The arrest resulted from the large number of deaths throughout the section from the drinking of "whiskey" alleged to have contained wood alcohol.

Lyon is charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Michael Schickel of Hadley, who died Sunday. It is alleged he drank some of the poisonous liquor, said to have been purchased in the Hadley hotel. Lyon was released under $5,000 bond. The other two charges refer to illegal liquor selling. He will be arraigned in district court in Northampton tomorrow.

According to District Attorney John H. Schenck of Ware, Lyons sent the liquor from Alexander Perry of Cheshire, who is also under arrest on the charge of manslaughter. Two of the five gallons which Lyons is claimed to have purchased were sold, the other three being destroyed.

No new deaths resulted today. Many of those ill here cannot recover. Fifty-seven persons have died in the Connecticut valley from drinking the poison.

WESTERN MAN VICTIM

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Dec. 29.—Walter S. Evans, who had been connected with a number of mining enterprises in southern Nevada and Colorado, died in a hospital here today from what physicians said was the result of drinking "whiskey" containing wood alcohol. BIG SUIT FOR DAMAGES

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 29.—The first move in a final action as a result of the 13 deaths here from drinking poisonous "whiskey" was taken today when a suit for damages of $25,000 was brought against Frank Rose, one of the saloonkeepers under arrest here charged with murder in connection with the sale of wood alcohol liquor. The suit was filed by Mrs. Kaenia Charkovitch, widow of Antony Charkovitch, who died last Friday from the effects of liquor alleged to have been purchased in Rose's saloon.

ATTEMPT TO PROVE YOUNG NEW INSANE

Sharp Clashes Between Attorney Feature Day's Testimony in Murder Trial.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 29.—Numerous alleged secular aids of Harry New, ranging from catching crabs to driving a team of horses into an apple tree, were presented today by the defense at the trial of New on a charge of having murdered Freda Lesser, his fiancée, in an effort to prove him mentally incompetent.

Seven witnesses were called during the day by the defense, and when adjournment was taken, attorneys for New announced further testimony along the same line might be expected tomorrow.

Sharp clashes between attorneys for the prosecution and the defense were frequent during one of which Leo Woolwine, district attorney, promised to "take care" of Leconte Davis of counsel for New "any time and place" Davis might so.

Guiney Leonard testified he found New confining crabs along the beach in Venice near here and when asked what he intended doing with them replied "Take them home and game them." Leonard also testified that New gathered a quantity of manure and said he proposed selling them for enough to buy a horse to go into the mountains.

New frequently played with Leonard's children, the witness said, and on one occasion took marble when he left.

ENDORSE OPPOSITION TO GERMAN MUSIC

National Executive Committee of Legion Informs Americanization Committee of Its Attitude.

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 29.—The stand of various posts of the American Legion in opposing performances of German opera and concert by German or Austrian artists, is endorsed by the executive committee of the organization in a telegram sent to the Americanism commission of the legion, in Washington today. The Americanism commission was established at the Minneapolis convention of the legion to combat all anti-American activities or tendencies, for the education of immigrants as prospective American citizens and to inculcate the ideals of Americanism in the citizen population.

The executive committee's telegram follows: "We do hereby endorse the stand of those American legion posts and individual members of the legion who have publicly protested against scheduled performances of German opera and public performances by German and Austrian artists and who have taken action against enemy sympathizers who were organizing ostensibly for the purpose of affording relief to the civilian population of enemy countries but in reality for the purpose of organizing and spreading anti-American propaganda. We do further commend the actions and attitude of said posts and individual members as being the exemplification of the pronounced policy of the American legion."

RACE TRACK MAN WANTS TO HELP STAGE BOAT

By the Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29.—G. D. Bryan said that he would leave here immediately after the close of Jefferson park within the next few days for California, where he will confer with Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager.

Tortorich a few weeks ago announced that Dempsey had signed with him while in Mobile for a bout with the winner of the Carpentier-Beckett bout if the foreign pugilist could be brought to this country. This offer to Dempsey was reported to be $150,000.

BUSY ON BIGGEST BIBLE

LONDON, Dec. 29.—What is said to be the world's largest bible now is being written by hand by leading men and women of the United Kingdom. Among those who are participating in the work are King, George, Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales and the cabinet ministers.

The book will contain the complete text of the authorized version from Geneva to Revelations and there is space in it for 12,000 hand written contributions. It will be a feet 2 inches high and 3 feet 6 inches wide. This book will be exhibited in various places, the idea being to attract support to the bible cause in 1921.

SUGGEST INDUSTRY COURT AS SOLUTION

Conference Called by Wilson, Makes Preliminary Report of Scheme to Halt Unrest.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Tentative recommendations for the establishment of machinery to prevent or retard labor conflicts in private industry were announced today by the President's industrial conference, with a view to obtaining constructive criticism before a final plan is adopted. The plan as outlined now contemplates the creation of a national industrial tribunal and regional boards of inquiry and adjustment, which would move to the settlement of disputes before there was an stoppage of production. Decisions would have the full force and effect of a trade agreement between the parties to the dispute.

Remarking that some public utilities, such as railroads, are essential to the very existence of the people, the conference's tentative statement expressed the opinion that the interruption in such essential public utilities is intolerable.

Government employees, the third class into which the wage earning public is divided should have the right to associate for mutual protection, the statement declared, but "no interference by any group with the continuous operation of government functions through concerted cessation of work or threats thereof can be permitted."

When the conference reconvenes on January 12, the public hearings will be held to obtain expert advice as to the drafting of the final recommendations in the light of such criticism of the tentative report as may be received.

While stating that at this time it was believed to be more essential to devise machinery for averting conflict than to undertake a discussion of the causes of unrest, the conference indicated clearly the general principles on which it has based its recommendations.

"Our modern industrial organization," the report said, "if it is not to become a failure, must yield to the individual's larger satisfaction with his material needs. The idea that labor is a commodity to be abandoned, but the concept of leadership must be substituted for that of mastership. Human fellowship in industry must either be empty phrase or a living fact."

"Fending the growth of better relationships between employers and employees, the practical approach to the problem is to devise a method of preventing or retarding conflicts by providing machinery for the adjustment of differences. To be successful such tribunals must be organized so to operate promptly as well as impartially. The plain fact is that the public has long been weary about the power of great employers, the increasing uneasiness about the power of great labor organizations. The community must be assured against domination by either."

The plan which follows does not propose to do away with the ultimate right to strike, to discharge, or to maintain the closed or open shop."

The national industrial tribunal, suggested by the conference, would consist of nine members appointed by the president, three each representing the employers, employees and the public. The tribunal would, in general, be a board of appeal, whose decisions would be unanimous, but provision was made for public majority and minority reports in cases where no agreement was possible.

Industrial regions, probably twelve in number, conforming to the federal reserve system, would be outlined and a regional chairman appointed or each by the president. Vice chairmen would be named by the tribunal, if the work in any region required it. Panels of employer and employees for each region would be prepared by the secretary of commerce and the secretary of labor, respectively, after conferences with the employers and workers of that region. Each panel, approved by the president, would be classified by industries among the employees. And lots would be cast to determine the order of the names in each panel.

When a dispute arose in any region the chairman would request each side to submit it to a regional board of adjustment, consisting of the chairman, one representative chosen by each side and two unchallenged members of each panel. Appointment of representatives of both sides to any dispute would constitute an agreement to continue the status that existed when the trouble arose. Decisions of such regional boards would have to be unanimous or the question would be referred by unanimous vote to an umpire, whose decision would be final, or to the national tribunal.

Refusal by any side to a controversy to submit to adjustment would result in the constitution of a regional board of inquiry, consisting of the chairman, two members of each panel and the representative of either side that agreed to adjustment. If the other side consented to an adjustment before the inquiry was completed, the board of inquiry would become a board of adjustment by appointment of the remaining members. Otherwise, the board of inquiry would investigate the dispute and make public its findings for the benefit of the public.

"In the presentation of evidence, the preliminary statement declared, each side shall have the right to present its position through representatives of its own choosing."

All the properly constituted boards would have the right to subpoena witnesses, examine them under oath, and to require the production of papers pertinent to the case. Existing means of adjustment and conciliation, whether federal or state, or established under mutual agreements of workers and employers in any industry, would not be affected by the creation of the system suggested by the conference.

With regard to public utilities, the conference made the following statement: "The plan here proposed presents greater difficulties in application to certain public duties than to competitive industry. The continuous operation of public utilities is vital to public service; and the withdrawal of either with the result of suspending service makes the people the real victim."

"The conference believes that a plan of tribunals or boards of adjustment and inquiry should be appointed to public utilities, but in the application of the plan two problems present themselves. First, governmental regulation of public utilities is now usually confined to rates and service. The conference considers that there must be some merging of responsibility for regulation of rates and services and the settlement of wages and conditions of labor. Such coordination would give greater security to the public, to employees, and to the employer. Second, is the problem whether some method can be arrived at that will avert all danger of interruption to service? These matters require further consideration before any concrete proposals are put forward."

After declaring that the government could not permit its functions, conducted in the interests of all the people, to be interrupted by concerted cessation of work, the conference further affirmed that government employees concerned with the administration of justice, or the maintenance of public safety, or public order should not be permitted to affiliate with any organization which authorizes the use of the strike. An essential part of the application of these principles, it was added, was the establishment of tribunals to remedy promptly any grievances submitted by government workers.

"Legislation of the nation, of the state, or of municipalities," the conference said, "should be improved to prevent delay in hearings and to enable speedy action when there are grievances."

When President Wilson summoned the conference, of which Secretary Wilson is chairman, and Herbert Hoover vice chairman, it was expressly denied the right to consider any existing industrial disputes, which was the question which wrecked the first industrial conference. While no specific reference to recent industrial troubles was made, several recommendations and statements of the conference reflected the "experience of the steel strike and the Boston police strike."

Other members of the conference are Martin Glynn, Thomas W. Gregory, Richard Hooker, Stanley King, Samuel McCall, Henry M. Robinson, Julius Rosenwald, Oscar S. Straus, Henry C. Stewart, F. W. Taussig, W. O. Thompson, Henry J. Walters, Geo. W. Wickersham and Owen D. Young, with Dr. Henry B. Sanger as executive secretary.

MADDEN TESTIFIES IN DETZER'S FAVOR

Declares Sergeant Hoyt Wanted Him To Help "Evano" Accused Officer.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The alleged plot "to get" Karl W. Detzer, on trial charged with cruelty to American soldiers was told to Sergt. Stephen Madden, former first sergeant in the D. C. I. company, he testified today, through a hole dug under a two-foot wall separating his cell from that of Sergt. Frank Hoyt, his informant.

According to Madden, Hoyt told him through the underground passage that "the only way for him to get out of trouble was to put the blame on Captain Detzer." Hoyt also informed them, Madden testified that he had Schmitt, Laeri, Yates and other prisoners to make statements incriminating Detzer to the inspector general. The witness denied ever having seen in France Murray Phillips of Brooklyn, who testified at the trial that Madden had stolen 5,100 francs from him on July 16, 1919, in the D. C. I. prison at Lemona, and had divided it with Captain Detzer. On that date, he said, he was a prisoner in solitary confinement.

Madden admitted under cross-examination that he "smacked" several prisoners in the mouth for insubordination to examining officers. He accused Sergeant Hoyt of brutality.

EMPLOYEES TRADE PLACES WITH EMPLOYER FOR NIGHT

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Employees of the Chicago Automobile club traded places with the members tonight and were the guests of honor at a party and dinner given as recognition of their faithful service during the year. Waiters, porters, bus boys, bell boys and other employees found on their arrival at the club that a prominent contractor was the doorman, while they rode up in an elevator operated by the "transportation manager" of the "first convention," and their milk and coals were checked at a booth by the vice-presidents of the club. The employees also played some pranks, such as giving five cent tips to their employers and making the bell boys carry suitcases filled with bricks to the top floor.

Grain

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Corn prices went up with a rush today, stimulated by notice that quotations on wheat in Canada had been suddenly elevated 50 cents a bushel. The close here in the corn market was firm 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 cts net higher with January 139 1/2 to 141 1/4 to 25¢. In provisions the outcome varied from 2¢ decline to 4¢ advance.

For a brief time before it was generally known that the Canadian government had given a big lift to wheat values the corn market here was inclined to sag. During the rest of the day however, except shortly after midday, the bulls were in control. The late show of weakness like the earlier one, proved to be only transient and was ascribed to a sharp advance in oil money. Support developed on the break, and left the market in the end at virtually the topmost point of the day. Some talk of export demand for corn was heard.

Oats displayed an independent strength as a result of heavy buying on the part of houses with seaboard connections.

Provisions as well as grain were bullishly affected by the hoisting of Canadian prices on wheat. Thelard market, though, failed to hold.

SET NEW WORLD'S ENDURANCE RECORD

Essex Runs for Fifty Hours on Unlimited Speedway on Third Attempt

An Essex stock chassis under American Automobile association observation set a new world's work for long distance endurance on the Columbus Speedway, December 12th. It was the first time a car had been driven under official observation at top speed for fifty hours.

Put on the speedway to prove its reliability for a fifty-hour test, the Essex did the entire 27 hours and 58 minutes and in the 17,000 miles because of rain and sleet was forced to stop. A second start was made three days later but snow again ended the trial. This time the run lasted 16 hours 25 minutes and covered 1042 miles. The third run starting the following day was successful, the fifty-hour period being completed.

Thus the proof of Essex endurance is even greater than that expressed in the 50-hour run. The average car drives little more than 5,000 miles in the life of a season. But this stock Essex chassis went 10,422 miles, a record as astounding as its endurance was its experience. For two wheel tires went through all three trials without change. Two rear tires were replaced because of damage done by splinters from the hoard surfaced track. The tires were Goodyear cords.

The American Automobile association representatives at the trials were Fred J. Wagner, the widely known official starter of practically all American Speedway events, assisted by E. E. Edwards, technical representative of the American Automobile association contest board, J. E. Schipper of Detroit, assistant technical representative and R. A. Leavelle, in charge of the electrical timing apparatus.

Mother and child were thrown into the water, the woman clinging to the babe.

Her screams were heard by Edward Blincoer and George Mohler, watchmen, both deeply overboard, but before they were able to reach Mrs. Selfridge she had to release her hold on the baby, which was drowned. She was exhausted when dragged to the pier and sent to a hospital.

Alphonse Triquival, of Palo Alto, Cal., has built himself an ark like Noah's, believing another flood will occur, when he will be ready for it.

SAM GOMPERS AGAINST PLAN OF CONFEREES

Declares Industrial Conferees Scheme Lacks Essential Feature of Bargaining.

MAKES STAND FOR THE RECOGNITION OF UNIONS

Morrison Avers That Government Employees Should Be Allowed to Join Federation—Sees no Hope.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Suggestions of the president's industrial conferees for the settlement of labor unrest drew fire today from organized labor in the first of the public discussions invited by the commission in its report published today.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said the failure of the conference to recognize definitely the organizations of workers—trade unions—as a basis for representation was a fatal omission while Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation, noting the absence of reference by the conference to collective bargaining or the necessity for organizations of workers said any one who would avert or postpone industrial conflicts could not ignore these principles.

Mr. Gompers declared the commission should reconsider the question of definite recognition of trade unions. "In order to make possible the confidence and cooperation of wage earners, which can be expressed only through organization of their own making."

"Any plan to establish or maintain anything like fair relations between workers and employers must avoid compulsory features," he declared. "Any proposal for compulsory labor is repugnant to American sovereignty and citizenship."

Morrison's statement. Mr. Morrison said the declaration against government employees joining the American Federation of Labor "would indicate that the commission has been affected by the temporary wave of anti-unionism."

no hope for lovers of industrial peace, who see the necessity of absolute autonomy in industry and giving employees a direct voice in their working conditions.

"It is no solution to empower the president and to adjust official to select workers to admit disputes. The workers must have this power themselves."

Mr. Gompers said that except for his opening declaration, he had found "nothing new and little of interest" in the conference report.

"In the opening statement," Mr. Gompers continued, "the report sets forth the right relationship between employer and employee in large industries can be promoted by the deliberate organization of that relationship. But the report fails to give definite recognition to the application of this truth. Both employers and employees must be organized in order to become responsible parties to any system of mediation or arbitration—otherwise the arbitration tribunal must deal with individuals instead of organized groups. The principle of representation depends upon organization."

"The failure of the conference to recognize definitely the organizations of workers as a basis for representation is a fatal omission. Certainly the conference and cooperation of wage earners, which can be expressed only through organization of their own making."

Most Avoid Compulsion. "Any plan to establish or maintain anything like fair relations between workers and employers must avoid compulsory features. The mass of America's workers are American citizens and in that sovereign citizenship they are free men. Any proposal for compulsory labor is repugnant to American sovereignty and citizenship."

"In order to promote constructive and permanent changes that will eliminate causes of much industrial unrest the conference should consider governmental agencies to provide the necessary information and assistance in securing continuous betterment of working conditions. That problem must ultimately be worked out by employers and employees but the government should advise and assist. On Voluntary Institutions. "It should always be borne in mind that our social fabric is based on mutually beneficial institutions. "It is something that we fully understand how perfectly safe freedom is."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Improvement in the governmental financial situation, such an extent that "an important part of the March tax payment" will be available for current use was forecast by Secretary Glass in announcing tonight the features of a new series of tax certificates, dated January 2 and maturing December 15, 1920. Outstanding treasury certificates of indebtedness, including tax certificates, were reduced by $235,793,500 during the month ended December 24, Mr. Glass said.

The treasury's hopeful view was based on figures showing that provision had been made for more than half of the $1,379,965,000 of treasury certificates outstanding. With the funds obtained through the issue announced tonight, Secretary Glass said the retirement of the remainder of the loan certificate would be possible, with an issue of certificates unnecessary during January.

FOREIGN INVESTMENTS ARE SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Foreign investments in the light of post-war conditions were discussed today at the meeting of the American Economic association. Prof. E. W. Taussig, of Harvard university, discussed the war debt of Germany and enlarged upon her resources. Regarding financial reparations he said that Germany could only remit by sending out merchandise.

England, he said, was after trade and would go into many foreign fields, and likely to Germany itself if the prospects were good for England's health. He also said the United States might raise her tariff laws in order to enter the German and other foreign fields.

The only direct outlook for German imports and exports, he said, would be eastern Europe, mainly Russia, where Germany might be able to expand to her advantage and where she might obtain the funds necessary to make good if not complete repatriation.

A paper by Prof. Henry C. Adams of the University of Michigan, former financial adviser to the Chinese government, was read. Professor Adams held that relations with China must be handled by diplomacy instead of mere dollars and cents.

DAILY DENOUNCES RED ACTIVITIES IN AMERICA

By the Associated Press. BALTIMORE, Dec. 29.—Daily denouncing the "vicious reds" and declaring "that we should clean up the United States of such aliens" Congressman Albert Johnson, of Seattle, Wash., tonight at the session of the Jewish Chatauque stirred a large audience with the recital of some of his experience as chairman of the committee on immigration and naturalization of the house of representatives. He recalled the recent murder of four soldiers in his state by the "reds" and declared the time had arrived for the government to deport as rapidly as possible every alien who showed evidence of unfaithfulness or antagonism to the government. He stated further that from official information with which he was in touch constantly, there would soon be 6,000 or more of these undesirable citizens corralled and deported.

Congressman Johnson took occasion to criticize some of the immigration laws, many of which he said needed remodeling and reviving, because of the fact that they kept out many good citizens and let in a like number of bad ones. He urged the members of the Jewish chatauque to assist in teaching aliens and particularly emphasized the importance of teaching them before they were influenced by vicious aliens.

RESOLUTIONS FOR 1920

THIS IS THE SEASON OF GOOD RESOLUTIONS THIS IS THE FIRST WEEK IN THE NEW YEAR, and in retrospection we weigh our shortcomings of the one just past. We cannot recall the mistakes of 1919; those mistakes are gone forever. But we can profit by those mistakes and RESOLVE that we will not duplicate them during 1920.

FOR ONE THING: we find that we have pursued a hap-hazard policy in the purchase of building material. This was all wrong; we realize it now, THEREFORE— WE RESOLVE THAT WE WILL BE MORE DISCRIMINATING IN 1920 AND PURCHASE OUR BUILDING MATERIAL FROM THAT GREAT HOUSE OF
