

STATE'S ASSESSORS MEET AT CAPITAL

Inconsistencies in Valuation Discussed—Wilcox Acts As Secretary for Gathering.

Tax assessors in Idaho are in session at Boise in an effort to develop a common valuation system, whereby variations in county valuations of taxable property may be avoided. George M. Wilcox, assessor of Twin Falls county, is acting secretary of the meeting.

During inconsistencies in last year's assessments were pointed out by members of the state board of equalization and John L. Robertson, tax expert, and were brought before the assessors at the outset of the meeting.

It was stated that some Idaho banks in some counties were assessed at 100 per cent of their capital, surplus and undivided profits and in other counties assessed at 75 per cent or 40 per cent. Among other points brought were why dry land in some counties were assessed as much as fertile land in others.

The conference approved a number of valuations to be applied to livestock appraisals during preparation of the 1920 assessment rolls. Among them were common cattle, $30 per head; milch cows, $40 per head; graded and thoroughbred, $65 and up; calves, six months to one year, $15; registered bulls, $100; beef cattle, $50; horses, grade and work, $75; stallions at the assessor's discretion; hogs at the assessor's discretion.

No action was taken on sheep at the Monday session, and changes in land assessments were not reached.

THAM LANGEFORD MAY GET CHANCE TO MEET GEORGES

By the Associated Press.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 6.—There is a possibility that Jack Dempsey may lose out for the chance for the quarter of a million dollar purse, providing present plans of Monsieurs Visspe and Doglio, the French promoters, materialize, according to E. F. Steinel, Milwaukee, representative of the French promoters.

Howard Carr of Chicago, manager of Sam Langford, colored heavyweight, was in Milwaukee today conferring with Steinel and while here, he accepted the cabled offer of the French promoters to bring Langford to Paris for a series of bouts, which it is expected lead up to a battle with Georges Carpenter.

Manager Carr will leave late this addition to Langford; he will take George Wilson, also another heavyweight boxer, to France.

According to the present plans Langford is to engage in three bouts in Paris, the first one with Nitta, ex-heavyweight champion, the second with Paul Hans, present title-holder, and the final bout with Carpenter. The French promoters have named the terms under which Langford is to box and Carr has accepted all of them.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, in a letter received today by Steinel said that he had the numerous offers under consideration at present and that he did not intend to close with any one for some time to come.

MALAD RESIDENT IS KILLED BY BOOTLEG

Whiskey Concoction Fatal—Contains
Wood Alcohol—Pocastello Men
Go Invariant.

BOISE, Ida., Jan. 6.—The first death from alcoholic poisoning in Idaho as a result of New Year's day celebrations was recorded when Nye Davis, a rancher of Malad died from drinking a bootleg concoction on that day. The incident so aroused the citizens of Malad that they have declared war on all bootleggers and are preparing to stamp out the traffic in illegal liquor in the community.

Three men who drank a liquor in Pocastello were sent to the insane asylum and two are still there, according to Louis D. Williams, collector of internal revenue for Idaho. Mr. Williams stated that the booze drunk by the men was made by filtering denatured alcohol through a homemade filter, and giving it a brown color.

Fifteen illicit stills were smashed by revenue men during 1919 in the state and there is evidence that many others are in operation and will be raided soon, according to the collector.

A number of instances have been found where hair tonic was used as a means of intoxication and even venue extract is being purchased in large quantities for that purpose. The revenue collector has issued a warning that stores selling large quantities of flavoring extract, hair tonic or patented preparations to one person would find themselves liable.

PLAN EXTENSIVE CHURCH CAMPAIGN

Pastor of 200,000 Protestant Organizations to Further Evangelistic Work.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 6.—Plans for the greatest world evangelist campaign ever attempted were agreed upon at a preliminary meeting of the first post-bellum conference of the inter-church world movement today. Representatives of boards of home missions of nearly a score of Protestant denominations attended.

A great drive, war converts will be carried forward by 200,000 pastors in every state in the union. The campaign is to be terminated with a marshalling of the hosts of recruits for Christianity in all churches of the country on Easter Sunday.

The inter-church effort to arouse the nation and stimulate Christian forces will be carried forward coincidentally with the independent campaign of the Methodist Episcopal church which has for its slogan "one million new members by June 1."

Spectacular evangelistic methods are not to be encouraged in connection with the drive, home mission directors decided today.

"There is at this time an understanding that the funds raised, if to be raised shall be applied through this organization to raising the prohibition issue abroad," said a statement by Rev. S. Earl Taylor, general secretary. "It has no connection with prohibition."

The administrative committee of the general board of promotion of the Northern Baptist convention discussed final plans today for the consummation of the Baptists' five year program, which provides for the raising of $100,000,000 "for vigorous application of Christianity to the problems confronting the world."

"Mental Hygiene"

The United States census bureau shows that in 1910 there were 187,791 persons in hospitals, 10,000 in insane and 20,731 persons in institutions for the feeble minded, and that the aggregate cost to the country of the insane is more than $160,000,000.

On the basis of the lowest estimate there are two insane and four feeble minded persons in every 1000 of the general population of the United States.

Field investigations by officers of the United States public health service indicate that in school children the ratio of feeble minded will average eight per cent per thousand. Medical examinations of registrants in the first selective draft showed that out of each 1000 men examined 24 were rejected on account of nervous or mental disorders, and still others developed such disorders under the stress of military training and war fare.

Many of the dependent and criminal population suffer from some type of mental disorder, either acquired or hereditary.

Of 84,198 persons confined in almshouses in 1910, at least 42,000 had some form of mental alienation; of the 136,482 persons in prisons, jails, work houses and institutions for juvenile delinquents at least 30,000 were mentally diseased.

An Important New Test

The new immunization methods advocated by the United States Public Health Service are generally adopted, the prospect is bright that diptheria at present responsible for one-seventh of the child deaths in America, may become extremely rare.

The new procedure consists in the application of a test by which it is possible to determine whether a child is susceptible to the disease, and if it is, the use of a suitable mixture of diphtheria toxin and anti-toxin by which immunity is secured for years. This is a vast improvement on the protective use of diphtheria antitoxin which gives immunity for only about one month.

The recently perfected test used to determine susceptibility is called the "Schick test." In making this test a small quantity of diphtheria toxin is injected into the skin of the arm. If a characteristic red spot appears within a few days the person belongs to the group of those who are liable to contract diphtheria upon exposure. Such a person should, therefore, be immediately immunized by use of the new toxin and antitoxin. If the red spot does not appear it is not necessary to immunize, for such a person is naturally unable to contract diphtheria.

The test serves the double purpose of establishing beyond doubt whether a child is likely to contract the disease and should be immunized, or of making immunization unnecessary in case he is not susceptible.

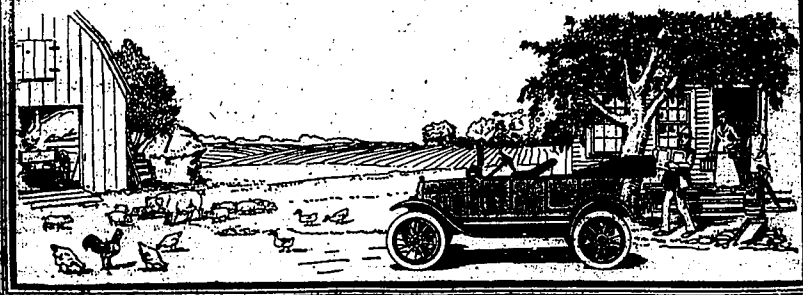

The new process, already tested extensively in various schools and children's homes, is described in a new "Keep Well Series" leaflet, issued by the public health service, entitled "Diphtheria." Copies of this leaflet may be obtained by writing the Uni-

NOW FOR RATIFICATION

The Allies are expecting to make their final peace exchanges on the 10th, after many delays. They have held off so long mainly in the hope that the United States would finish up its victorious war efforts by joining them in that formal act, and then proceed at once to help "liquidate the war" and reconstruct a shattered world with the League of Nations machinery.

They cannot wait longer. Conditions are too bad, and the drift toward chaos too perilous. Germany, encouraged by American opposition to the treaty, has been flouting the Allies, yielding point after point slowly and grudgingly and showing a purpose to evade as much as possible of the responsibilities incurred by her criminal war.

The power of the Bolsheviks in Russia has been greatly strengthened by this delay and uncertainty. Lenine is now boldly threatening Poland, in whose independence America is so much interested, and which, if it can stand, will be a powerful bulwark protecting western Europe from the Russian madness. If Poland falls, some of the other buffer democracies built out of the collapsed Russian and Austrian empires are sure to fall. Meanwhile, the economic and financial situation in Europe is drifting from bad to worse. There is imminent danger of the most disastrous business collapse known for a century. And if Europe succumbs to business panic, America will share in that, as well as in the political disturbances that are sure to follow it.

It is certainly time for action; and happily, the United States senate at last shows signs of action. There is no more need of argument. It is only a question of senators who have orated 20,000,000 words at empty benches getting together now as sensible men, suppressing their personal prejudices and emphasizing their agreements rather than their differences, and the President showing a similar spirit.

There is no question that they can preserve American rights without killing the peace treaty, that they can set up a League of Nations having authority to go ahead and do something without impairing American sovereignty.

The nation expects this of them, without delay. If they can do it in time to join our European friends at once, and get in on the ground floor, thus giving the new international system at the outset an American impulse rather than an anti-American one, all the better.

COLLEGE POULTRYMEN

The college student who works his way through school is a familiar and admired figure in many American colleges and universities. He, or she, has been known to do everything from tending furnaces and raking lawns to selling typewriters and clerking in a local store, from waiting table and washing dishes at boarding houses to running a laundry or mending and pressing the clothes of more moneyed classmates. And they are usually the most fun-loving friends and wide-awake students in the school.

Three young men who are entering a state agricultural college in the east have introduced a new method of earning their way through school. They are taking to the college town, as part of their equipment, flocks of fine poultry as their financial backers. They expect to find a ready market for eggs and chickens and to meet most of their college expenses with the money so earned.

This project of theirs is not a wild, new scheme, either, for every one of the three young men has already made good in the poultry business at home. With the price of eggs and poultry where it is now, these boys may even make a fortune while they acquire an education.

DIAMONDS

The value of diamonds imported in the year 1919 is estimated at $100,000,000. That is about twice as much as for any previous year. Part of this valuation comes from higher prices, but there has been a big increase in volume. Diamonds are pouring into the country in a vast, steadily swelling stream.

In a way, this seems rather harmless. When Europe owes us something like $25,000,000,000 it is no great matter if she pays us $100,000,000 of it in diamonds. Better diamonds than nothing, anyway. It helps to reduce that "favorable" balance of trade that has become such a Jonah to international trade and finance. And it is not greatly alarming that the nation adds to its possessions diamonds amounting to $1 per capita. A dollar's worth of diamonds is not much. Still, it has a bearing on current economic problems. It would certainly be sounder business to encourage Europe in paying its debts in necessary commodities that we lack, rather than in luxuries.

COLDS

If you are sneezing, keep away from everybody else. Like the lepers of old, you should cry, "unclean," when anyone approaches you. How do you know what you have got?

The child with the cold in school probably has not got "a common cold." The chances are he has the measles. A child may have one of these contagious diseases for nearly a week with no suspicion that he has anything but an ordinary cold. When the rash appears, quarantine is days too late. It is by means of the cough and the sneeze that the infection is carried. Whooping cough is another that begins this way.

The danger with measles is not measles, though that is bad enough, and likely to cause serious eye trouble if the utmost care is not taken.

The great danger is pneumonia. Remember the ravages of that disease, and treat the common cold with respectful attention.

The Dutch women, having obtained equal franchise, are now demanding equal economic and social equality with their husbands. And they'll get it, never fear. The Dutch always were wonders at conquering Holland.

"Only God Almighty knows what's the matter with the United States senate," says Senator John Sharp Williams. It seems in line, therefore, for some pious publicist to pray for a divine revelation. The public would like to know.

"A great tide of immigration" is reported to be sweeping into Palestine. The immigrants are mostly Jews, who enter their Promised Land now without any Philistines to overcome.

"What becomes of the old automobiles?" somebody inquires. That's easy. They furnish a new medium of exchange, and everybody is busy selling and trading them to everybody else.

Maybe, after its two-weeks' vacation, congress will be so rested up that it can jump in and finish some of last session's work.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

JIM COFFROTH TO STAGE BIG BATTLE

French Champion Agrees to Meet Dempsey At Tia Juana for $400,000 Purse.

By the Associated Press.

PAIDIS, Wed. Jan. 4.—Dempsey, manager for Georges Carpentier, wired James Coffroth, manager of the Tia Juana race track last evening accepting the latter's terms for a championship bout between Carpentier and Dempsey in America. The only exception taken was relative to the length of the battle. Carpentier being unwilling to fight over 15 rounds and favoring 10 rounds.

His decision to accept Mr. Coffroth's offer of a $400,000 purse, came after a long consultation with French promoters in which the latter expressed their inability to meet the offer of the American.

"This talk of a 45 round fight is duped," said Dempsey last night. "If the championship cannot be settled with 15, then neither Dempsey nor my boy is worthy to be champion of the world."

Dempsey offers to split the purse fifty-fifty, claiming Carpentier is a big a, drawing card as Dempsey. Whether the battle is staged in America, England or France, French promoters were disheartened by the slight bidding of Americans and have given up the idea of holding the fight in this country, one saying: "The Americans knocked us out before we entered the ring."

COFFROTH IS PLEASED

SAN DIEGO, Cal. Jan. 4.—"That's fine," said James W. Coffroth, president of the Lower California Jockey Club last night when he heard of The Associated Press bulletin from Paris announcing that Georges Carpentier's manager had accepted Coffroth's offer to fight Dempsey at Tia Juana, Lower California.

Told of Carpentier's desire to fight not more than 15 rounds, Coffroth said that suited him.

"As a matter of fact," he added, "a fight of that length ought to be decided especially with heavyweights."

Coffroth said he had called Charles Harvey, well known boxing manager, and former secretary of the New York boxing commission at London several days ago, to get into communication with Carpentier at once regarding the $400,000 offer made by Coffroth for the fight. Coffroth had not heard from Harvey or Dempsey, Carpentier's manager, at a late hour tonight. It is Coffroth's plan to build an arena seating 50,000, he said.

EXPECT CANDIDATES TO DECLARE VIEWS

Leading Democrats Expected to Express Themselves on Potent National Questions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Prospective candidates for the democratic nomination for president will most meet each other and publicly declare Jackson day banquet, which is to contain their views on public questions at the close of the meeting of the democratic national committee here Thursday.

A dozen speakers are on the program, made public today, and they include most of those who have been prominently mentioned as presidential possibilities. Besides there will be read a message from President Wilson, possibly touching on a third term and on the peace treaty, and a letter from William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, discussing some of the issues likely to enter into the campaign.

Interest in the banquet, particularly with regard to the positions to be taken by President Wilson and Mr. Bryan, greatly overshadowed among the assembling committeemen tonight the real purpose of the meeting here, which is to select a time and place for the national convention. No further light was shed during the day on the probable contents of Mr. Wilson's letter to Mr. Bryan of Tuesday, and it was indicated that the intention of both would be kept under cover until Thursday night.

reserve the right to a referendum on the commission's findings.

Lewis ruled: Harlan's amendment out of order.

Both Lewis and Green stated that acceptance of the president's proposal meant that the miners agreed to abide by the decision of the president's commission. Lewis declared the public and the commission are entitled to know whether the operators and the miners will abide by its decision.

"If they do not agree to abide by the decision, then there can be no arbitration," said Lewis. The president's proposal, Lewis said, was predicated upon his belief that it would be accepted by both parties.

Lewis will address the convention tomorrow and then the convention will vote on the motion to affirm the action of the officers.

The debate over the Harlan amendment and the speech of Secretary Green clarified the convention which is to accept or reject the president's proposal to arbitrate.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation Or Back-Ache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much, and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog, and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous, apoplexy, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

TWO MORE OIL MEN VICTIMS OF MEXICANS

DEMAND THAT CARRANZA CAPTURE MURDERERS

Sailors Sentenced to Two Months' Imprisonment at Mazatlan To Be Released Next Month.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Receipt by the state department late today of advice that two more American oil men, P. J. Roney and Earl Bowles, had been murdered by Mexicans in the Tampico district of Mexico, was followed by instructions to the American embassy in Mexico City to urge the Mexican government to take every step possible to bring about the capture and punishment of the murderers.

Total Death Now 19.
First word of the killing of the two Americans, which brought the total of Americans murdered in the Tampico district since April, 1917, up to 19, reached Washington through private sources. Later the state department announced the receipt of similar advice and outlined the steps which had been taken by the department in the case. The department's information, which came from the American consul at Tampico, said the bodies of Roney and Bowles, who were employed by the International Petroleum company, were discovered yesterday.

Bluejackets Got Two Months.
The state department was also informed during the day in a report from the American consul at Mazatlan, Mexico, that Harry O. Leonard and Harry O. Martin, members of the crew of the U. S. submarine tender "Falcon," arrested in Mazatlan, November 12, after a street fight with a Mexican, had been sentenced to two months' imprisonment. The report said, however, that as the sentence dated back to November 12, when the two blue jackets were arrested, the release should be effected January 12.

The killing of Roney and Bowles was announced by the department in the following statement:
Department's Statement.
"A Tampico dispatch to the department of state announced today that P. J. WOMEN PLEDGE VOTE TO HAYS

Feminine Republicans Promise Loyalty and Ballots to Chairman of National Committee.

By the Associated Press.
DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 6.—Republican women of Iowa pledged their loyalty and votes to E. Will Hays, chairman for the national committee today in Des Moines. "What matter if Brown lives in the midst of his voters if the republican party loses in 1920," declared Mrs. Frank Dodson, chairman for the republican women's organization in Iowa. "I will do the women of Iowa in good numbers rally about the republican chief."

Mr. Hays arrived in Des Moines at 10 o'clock. At his hotel he was surrounded by hundreds of republican leaders who came from all sections of Iowa to see the party leader. Chamberlaine candidate and congressman for all states offices thronged the hotel where Mr. Hays made his headquarters. It was a continual pow-wow, looking forward to the return of a republican victory in Iowa in 1920.

Mr. Hays spoke at a luncheon. He urged women to align with the party which represented their principles of government. "John T. Adams of Iowa, a member of the national committee, and when Mr. Hays defeated for the championship in 1918 pledged a united support for the national ticket in 1920. Charles McNider, who introduced Mr. Hays at the evening meeting in the Coliseum, said Iowa would contribute her quota for the winning of the republican campaign."

At three o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Hays addressed women who gathered in the banquet room at the Hotel Fort Des Moines. He said that the republican party welcomed them not as auxiliary workers, but as an integral part of the party itself. Mr. Hays did not deviate from his Chicago address Monday night. There were approximately 300 republicans of Iowa in Des Moines for the reception and conference. The afternoon train brought others from all points in Iowa who came to attend the meeting at the coliseum.

EXECUTIVES DIFFER OVER COMBINS BILL

Plan For Providing Fixed Percentage Rate Return and Profit Reduction Causes Split.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Provision of the Cummins railroad reorganization bill, now together with the Esch bill before a congressional conference committee, providing for a fixed percentage rate return, and reduction of excess profits, have brought about a split in the railroad executives of the country, as represented in the Association of Railway Executives.
First indications of the divergence of opinion appeared at yesterday's meeting of the executive's association and the difference were accentuated today at a meeting of the general council of the railroads represented in the executive's association, which resulted in the appointment at separate conferences of two committees, one to support the rate return and another to oppose it. Although the supporters of the Cummins bill provision for a fixed rate return, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, finally won at yesterday's meeting. It was learned today that the opposition led by Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific, developed considerable unexpected strength.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Before leaving Washington today for Key West, Admiral Jellicoe issued a statement in which he expressed his gratitude for the cordial reception given him by the American people.
"Of all the matters for which we have reason to be grateful," he said, "is the continuance of camaraderie which was the one great feature of the war that has impressed me the most."

"From the first moment of our arrival we have experienced this. Indeed, it was extended to us in New York prior to our visit to Washington. It was my privilege to have been in close association with the United States navy for many years before the late war. That association dates back to the days before the boxer trouble in China, and from my experience then I felt that if the two navies ever came together again they would work in close camaraderie. That belief, as all the world now knows, was fulfilled to the uttermost.
"I would next like to express my extreme admiration for all that I have seen. The navy yard at Annapolis and the naval academy at Washington were a revelation to me, and more than all else was the sight of the midshipmen themselves at the academy. The United States navy will be proud of this great naval institution. I cannot leave Washington without expressing my warmest thanks to Mr. Daniels, the secretary of the navy, and to the whole naval administration for the kindness which has made our visit one which will live long in our memories."

HOOVER OPPOSES EXTENSIVE LOANS

Declares Americans Should Not Be Called Upon to Give More Than Its Share.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Herbert Hoover, on his way east in connection with relief work in Europe, today telegraphed to his headquarters here, a statement in which he took emphatic exception to opinions of "European propagandists," both concerning the volume of Europe's financial needs from the United States and the contention that the great bulk of these needs cannot be met by ordinary commercial credits.

Asserting that, "with our taxes 600 per cent over previous rates," there is no need for drawing on the United States treasury for further loans, Mr. Hoover states that "aid from some secondary measures by our government, the problem is one of sufficient aid of peace and ordinary business processes." He adds that "by secondary measures, I mean that some dozen cities in central and southern Europe need breadstuffs on credit from the Grain corporation to prevent actual starvation and that the allies are asking for temporary delay in paying interest on our government loans to them."

Outside of temporarily deferring deferring interest, Mr. Hoover continues, America's task is reduced to helping out the bread supply of less than 5 per cent of the population of Europe; that no such situation exists as that which confronted America last year at this time and that there is no ground for hysteria on either side of the Atlantic.

Speaking of Europe as a whole and asserting that "the seventy million people of prosperous nations, who have not suffered in the war should also aid in European relief work," Mr. Hoover adds that "if we contribute bread supply on government credit to those starving cities, plus business credits, we will be doing our share of world responsibility." "If we do undertake the solution of the bread question by our government, our action would benefit and protect the other nations of Europe from infection of anarchy and chaos," he continued. "Poland is the sole shield of Europe from Bolshevik invasion. If we extend this help, it should be upon consideration that the stronger nations of Europe will do their full part in many directions."

Taking up the countries of Europe individually, Mr. Hoover says that "the neutral countries have made money from the war and have asked no favors and have given none." Outside of interest to the allies, Great Britain admits she needs nothing but commercial credits, adds Mr. Hoover, who asserts that she has ample unpledged foreign assets to cover her needs, as has France.

Mr. Hoover admits that the position of Italy is difficult and that some of her larger cities may need breadstuffs assistance beyond the ability of commercial credits. Germany, he says, could obtain commercial credits if the reparation commission would allow her to use her domestic resources and unpledged foreign assets until she gets further on her feet.

After asserting that the East Baltic states have enough food except milk for their children, Mr. Hoover says Bulgaria, Greater Serbia, Rumania, south Russia and Turkey, except Armenia, have a surplus of food this year, while Hungary could feed herself if Rumania would return cattle and grain abstracted last summer.

"We are therefore, left with Finland, Belgium, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria to consider," says Mr. Hoover. "Austria is the poorest point in Europe."

"In the food matter, the five last countries mentioned will take care of their agricultural and small town populations, out of their crops of last year, leaving the crowded centers to be provided for. These do not or so large cities, including Italy's deficiency, affect populations aggregating, say, fifteen or twenty million people."

MANY ARE KILLED IN SOPHIA MANIFESTATION

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Jan. 6.—More than a hundred persons have been killed or wounded in an anti-fascist manifestation at Sofia, according to Bulgarian advisers published here. Large crowds of men gathered in the halling before noon, and before the police, shouting: "Down with the king!" "Down with the king!" They attempted to enter the palace, but the troops opened fire, and the demonstrators replied with revolvers and stones. It was in this fighting that most of the casualties occurred.

The serious situation is due to increasing unrest in the capital and throughout Bulgaria because of dissatisfaction over the terms of the treaty, especially the loss of lands in Thrace.

Put yourself in their place!

YOU may think you read about other people when you read fiction—but really important, really great writers simply hold the mirror up to nature. They show you the man or woman you are—that you think you are—that you'd like to be—or that you're glad you are not. Look through these little glimpses of Cosmopolitan stories; then get the December number and—put yourself in the place of these people.

Do you love power more than honor?

Of course you don't. But put yourself in the place of the man who could by forfeiting honor, have founded a kingdom, gained the love of the most beautiful woman in Kashmir and lived happily thereafter "forgetful of the world and by the world forgot." This is the theme of the vibrant, colorful story by William Ashley Anderson in December Cosmopolitan.

If your son wanted to marry Nan?

The father was called The Laird of Tyee. He loved his son more than he loved anyone else in the world. Donald loved his father and he loved Nan of The Sawdust Pile, too. An interesting triangle. Put yourself in the place of Hector McKaye, Donald or Nan. You can learn much about yourself and them in Peter B. Kyne's great novel appearing in Cosmopolitan.

After the ceremony

Alone at last in a rural retreat he left his young bride for a moment. Then the other woman appeared on the scene with a diabolical scheme worthy of a woman scorned. She met the bride, told her everything and then—the scene between husband and wife and—the other woman. Bride—husband—other woman; if you were either of the three, how would you have handled the situation? The story is by Albert Payson Terhune and it's in December Cosmopolitan.

Suppose you were this doctor?

You are an aristocratic doctor. Your daughter is a sweet, charming girl for whom you have great hopes. Jim is your chauffeur. The only things in Jim's favor are good character, industry, talent, personality and presence. But he's poor. Sort of a modern setting, for an old-fashioned situation. What would YOU have done about it if you'd been the doctor? Probably the same as Dr. Berrian did in Josephine Daskam Bacon's story in December Cosmopolitan.

Anetta the Third was not a queen

Queens don't work in shoe shops and yearn to be cabaret dancers. In fact, Anetta was of extremely lowly parentage, but she was pretty and wilful, as girls sometimes are, so she became a dancer. Then, later, she had to make a decision of some moment—she made it—but what would YOU have done in her place? Interesting speculation will follow a reading of Ida M. Evans' story in December Cosmopolitan.

Would you have been afraid?

Where? Oh, anywhere there's anything to be afraid of. Probably you would, and you wouldn't know why. That's for science to find out and explain to you. Science has found it and in "Fear Devils" Harvey O'Higgins tells you all about it. He also tells how anger causes hay fever and a lot of other interesting and important things that may cause you to change your ways of thinking. Read his remarkable article in December Cosmopolitan.

RADICALS ON ELLIS ISLAND START FIGHT

Women Drive Movie Men Off Premises and Man Battles the Inspectors.

RAIDS ARE CONTINUED BY PALMER'S AGENTS

Government Needs Money to Prosecute Cases—Defendants Have Million Dollar Slush Fund.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Another raid was made late today by department of justice agents on the offices of the Russian soviet newspaper Novy Mir. Fourteen men and one woman were arrested.

While this raid was in progress 57 more "alien" plotters, including Alexander Dornan, said to be leader of New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania communists, were brought to Ellis Island.

Prisoners Fight.
At the island the first outbreaks since the beginning of the department of justice raids were reported. Gregory Weinstein, hailed as Trotsky's closest friend in the United States and chief of staff of Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, "ambassador" of soviet Russia, refused to be photographed and fought desperately when half a dozen inspectors forced him to "pose" for the official camera.

In the women's department 32 female radicals rose in a body from dinner and rushed "movie" men off the premises. On the return of the camera men with seven curly inspectors, the women charged again and swept the place clear after a spirited fight. The casualties were on men badly scratched and another decorated with a black eye, the result of a "left swing" by a girl who said she had fought in the Russian women's battalion of death.

Tomorrow Supreme Court Justice Davis is to sign an order committing to jail Dr. Michael Miesler, treasurer of the Novy Mir, for contempt of the joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities in New York. Miesler will be kept in duress until he answers the questions of the committee.

To Jail Martens.
Deputy Attorney General Berger announced today that Martens and Suteri Norveto, secretary of Martens "embassy" will be dealt with similarly. Martens and Norveto, refused to answer questions and to produce books and papers of the "embassy." He claimed diplomatic immunity as representative of a foreign government.

Harry Whinnery, secretary of the communist party, taken in the federal raid Friday night was released today upon his production of evidence of citizenship. He is awaiting trial in the state courts charged with criminal anarchy.

REQUEST NEW APPROPRIATION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A determination of the government to carry on to the finish its fight to rid the nation of communist and communist labor party members, more than 2,500 of whom now await deportation proceedings as a result of the recent nationwide raids, was seen in the request transmitted today by the department of justice to congress for new appropriations aggregating $1,125,000, to be used in the enforcement of laws against radicals and for their deportation.

Accuses Department Agents.

While members of congress were giving the request preliminary consideration from the temporary headquarters here of the Russian soviet labor party, located less than three blocks from the department of justice building, there was issued a written statement by S. Norveto, who said he was secretary to L. C. A. K. Martens, self-styled Russian ambassador, setting forth general charges against department of justice agents. These charges were that department agents had "actively participated" in the formation of some of the planks in the communist and communist labor party platforms, which, the statement said, "now form the basis of the persecution of thousands of people." Another charge was that "the chief figure in such celebrated bomb plots were agents of a similar nature."

Situation Unsettled.
Department of justice officials, admitting that a search was being made for Martens, carefully read the Nor-eva statement and although refusing to discuss it officially, said privately that the situation to them was "humorous."

The department of labor's request for additional funds was based on a recommendation by Anthony Cannino, commissioner general of immigration, who declared the department of justice had amassed such quantities of evidence against the radicals taken in the raids as mean at least two months' work. Prediction was made at the department of justice that the hearings on deportation cases, which are scheduled to begin tomorrow in several cities, will require that much time in themselves. Additional time then will be required for final review of the cases in Washington.

Anticipate Struggle Fight.
The attorney general's staff, detailed to prepare the cases against the radicals also is anticipating a strenuous fight before there to be reported are aboard an outgoing steamer.

Million Dollar 'Slush Fund.'
In addition to the "slush fund" of the two parties estimated at more than $1,000,000, officials said today that undoubtedly "more would be obtained where it came from." While these sources of the financial support were not fully disclosed, it was said that department agents had seized several thousand books of "social war bonds" each of which bonds was sold for one dollar. Interest on bonds, which on their faces specify their purpose "to help crush the capitalist system" is made payable "on the day after the social revolution."

RELEASE MALLEN.

CICAGO, Jan. 6.—While plans were made to begin hearings in deportation proceedings against 224 radicals before an immigration inspector tomorrow, the department of justice released Rafael Mallen, formerly a leader for the federal trade commission. Mallen was virtually given a clean bill of health and it was denied that the government had sought his arrest.

John T. Creighton, special assistant attorney general, said that the government had no evidence that Mallen belonged to any radical organization and that "it appeared to be questionable whether he is not an American citizen as he appears to have been born in New York."

Mallen was arrested last night by the police who said the government suspected him as a radical.

Mallen denied any connection with radical movements.

FORMER FEDERAL EMPLOYEE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The federal trade commission through its secretary, J. P. Yoder, tonight issued the following statement:
"Rafael Mallen, mentioned in press dispatches from Chicago, is not now an employee of the federal trade commission. He has not been in the employ of the federal trade commission for about a year. He was not employed as a statistician but as a minor clerk whose services were obtained by the commission in strict accordance with the rules for employing clerks in the government service."

ARREST TWENTY-ONE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 6.—Twenty-one alleged radicals arrested last night and today to department of justice agents, working out of the local office, are being held for investigation. Nineteen were apprehended in the home of Olive Hill, ex-mayor, in north of here and two in St. Louis.

STATE NEARS CLOSE OF CASE IN NEW MURDER TRIAL.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 6.—Except for expert testimony, the state case in the recent trial today in the trial here of Harry New, alleged murderer of his fiancée, Freda Lesser. Among the witnesses called by the prosecution were Mrs. Alice Lesser, mother of the dead girl, who expressed the opinion New was sane. Le Compte Davis, leading defense counsel, began with prosecution attorney in predicting that arguments would be begun Thursday morning at the latest. The jury probably will render the case late Friday, attorneys declared.

SUFFRAGISTS NEED 13 MORE STATES

Effort to Be Made to Secure Needed Number Before Presidential Primaries.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Rhode Island's ratification of the federal women suffrage amendment today brings the number of states which have accepted it to 23. Ratification by 13 more states is necessary before the amendment becomes effective and officers of the national American Woman's Suffrage association today declared they would conduct an active campaign to obtain the necessary 30 ratifications before the presidential primaries in April.

Women of 21 states, including Idaho, will enjoy presidential suffrage this year regardless of whether the amendment becomes effective before the presidential primaries, according to suffrage association officials. These are Rhode Island, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois, North Dakota, Nebraska, Vermont, Tennessee, Michigan, Kansas, New York, Montana, Utah, California, South Dakota and Colorado. Of these, Indiana, Vermont and Tennessee have not yet ratified the federal amendment.

States which have ratified the amendment and in which presidential woman suffrage this year is contingent upon the amendment becoming effective are Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Arkansas and Texas.

The suffrage of women in Arkansas and Texas is limited to state primaries. Special legislative sessions to take action on the amendment already have been called for the next few weeks by Oregon and Idaho, Arizona, Nevada, Oklahoma, Washington and Wyoming, whose legislatures do not meet this year, also are expected to call special sessions to take action on the amendment. The murder occurred at the front entrance of a prominent hotel in which Loving was employed as a bell boy. Officials of the hotel informed police that Price and Loving had argued in the lobby shortly before the killing. Price left the hotel followed by Loving who according to witnesses struck the former. Price, it is said, then drew a revolver and shot the negro.

Price was arrested and he told the police that he had been discharged from the army on account of disability, for four months. While in service Price said he was stationed at a camp for prisoners at Salt Lake City. He has been attending the Division of Prisons in the University of Pittsburgh here for several months. Price refused to discuss the killing.

SEEK TO PLACE STARVING ELK IN FOREST RESERVES

By the Associated Press.
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 6.—Application for authority to bring 103 head of elk, now reported starving in the region adjoining Yellowstone National park, to the various national forest reserves was made to the interior department at Washington, D. C., today by R. H. Slidway, state game and fish commissioner. Mr. Slidway states that if his request for the elk is granted they will be given state protection. He hopes in this way to build up the now depopulated Utah elk herds and likewise aid the starving animals.

Conditions in Utah are excellent for the propagation of large elk herds, Mr. Slidway asserts.

MUST PAY SETTLERS FOR CATCH BASIN

Federal Court Paves Way to Refund of 50 Cents Per Share to Salmon River Owners.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 6.—In federal court here yesterday Judge F. S. Derrier issued an order paving the way for payment to the settlers on the Salmon tract of the money paid in for the work on the Catch basin.

It will be recalled that the company or the management for the bondholders constructed the catch basin, and charged the cost of the work to maintenance. To this the settlers through their attorneys, Bobbitt & Chapman, objected, holding that the work was part of the construction of the system, and that the cost should fall upon the company.

Order was issued by the court permitting the company to collect the assessment from the settlers, at the rate of 50 cents per share or acre, the company or bondholders giving bond for the return of the money if the court should finally hold that the cost should be considered part of the construction. This was done, and a couple of months ago Judge Dietrich held that the catch basin work was part of the construction work, and that the cost could not be properly charged to maintenance.

In the order issued yesterday the company is given ten days within which to file with the court a complete and verified list of those who paid the assessment of 50 cents per share or acre. The total amount involved is approximately $20,000. Judge Bottwell, here from Twin Falls representing the settlers, left with the order of the court, service having been accepted by attorneys for the company.

FAIL TO AGREE ON RATES OF INTEREST

Another Conference to Be Held Between Clearing House Men and Federal Reserve Officers.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Bankers representing clearing house associations in all parts of the country, meeting here today at the call of the federal reserve board, failed to take final action on the question of interest rates on bank balances, but decided to hold another conference at which it is expected an agreement may be reached to put a stop to competitive bidding between New York and inland cities for out-of-town deposits.

At the request of the bankers, the federal reserve board tonight issued a call for a second conference at Chicago, January 23, to be attended by three representatives from each federal reserve district.

The purpose of the Chicago meeting as stated in a resolution will be "to consider the whole question of interest on balances in order that some basis may be agreed upon that will be mutually satisfactory, conducive to consecutive banking, and benefit the entire business and banking community."

Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, several notes that the board did not consider itself bound by any agreement of clearing house associations whereby the interest rate on deposits would be advanced or reduced automatically in line with increases or reductions in re-discount rates of federal reserve banks, but would act "freely and independently."

In taking any necessary action to correct the financial situation in various parts of the country, Governor Harding predicted that a raise in the re-discount rate would be necessary, and appealed to the bankers not to "make a scramble for deposits" by advancing interest rates on balances. He protested against a tendency to turn deposits into investment funds.

After hearing Governor Harding, the bankers went into executive session. William Woodward of New York was chosen chairman, F. J. Wade of St. Louis, vice chairman, and John R. Washburn of Chicago, secretary.

A resolution adopted gave the following propositions as the "opinions" of the meeting:

"That the present sliding scale for advancing or reducing interest rates is not satisfactory.

"That existing regulations should not be abrogated until more satisfactory regulations are adopted governing rates of interest paid on deposits.

"That the federal reserve board shall always be free to establish the rate discount without reference to any clearing house regulations as to the payment of interest.

"That payment of high rates of interest on bank or commercial balances is unsound and is bad banking, and that every effort should be made to avoid such practice.
