NEW'S SANITY MUCH DEBATED QUESTION

Prosecution's Allegations Not Certain as to His Condition Under Certain Circumstances.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 7.—Lengthy cross-examination of witnesses called by the prosecution, who had testified Harry New was sane at the time he is alleged to have killed his fiancée, Freda Lesser, here last July, today prevented the prosecution from closing its case against New.

Dr. D. H. Calder, the second of three alienists, the last witness the state expected to call, was on the stand when adjournment was taken until tomorrow. It was predicted by attorneys for both sides the testimony of the last alienist for the state would not be before the jury until tomorrow afternoon. It is doubtful if arguments will be begun before Friday, attorneys said, and the case will not go to the jury before Saturday noon or Monday morning.

Dr. Calder testified on direct examination he believed New was sane when he was alleged to have shot Miss Lesser, based partly on examinations he had made of New in the county jail.

Under cross-examination by LeCompte Davis, of counsel for New, the doctor said he considered New "an undeveloped man mentally." He admitted also he had gained the impression from his examination that New was not insane. Further, he said, if the hypothetical question asked by the defense of its experts, several days ago, was based on truthful testimony, he thought the defendant was a dangerous man and ought to be confined.

Dr. Charles Allen testified that he believed New was sane when he shot Miss Lesser but defense counsel protested to be gratified by this witness' statement under cross-examination. He testified he considered several alleged acts of the accused the acts of a sane man and added that they furnished ground for suspicion that New was insane.

Dr. Allen said he had special reference to the alleged act of New while living with the Indians, national guards on the Mexican border in 1916 when New is said to have refused to obey orders and to have gulked in his tent without eating for forty-eight hours, thus making himself liable to court-martial. The witness expressed the opinion that if New had been tried by court-martial he would have been acquitted on the ground of insubordination.

WOULD MAKE PEACE TREATY PARTY ISSUE

Some Democratic Leaders Plan to Back Wilson's Attitude of Ratification.

COMMITTEE GATHER FOR JACKSON DAY BANQUET

Bryan's Position Enigma—Kansas City and San Francisco Lead in Convention Fight.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The peace treaty, as a campaign issue, loomed conspicuously on the political horizon today as democratic leaders gathered for the quadrennial meeting of the democratic national committee, laid preliminary plans for the presidential contest.

Would Back Wilson

Already overshadowing the fight for the national convention, which apparently has narrowed to Kansas City and San Francisco, discussion of the treaty got an additional impetus when it became known that tomorrow the committee would be asked by its officers to formally put itself squarely behind President Wilson in his stand in the treaty controversy.

A resolution making such a declaration was prepared for presentation and Chairman Cummins predicted that it would be adopted. It is understood to be an endorsement of the president's course, without declaring specifically for unreserved ratification, but Mr. Cummings said the intention was to make its language so plain that there would be no doubt that the party stood "behind the president."

Bryan an Enigma

The announcement stirred up endless speculation when it was coupled with unverified reports that William J. Bryan would advocate a different course in his speech at the Jackson day banquet tomorrow night. No one professed to know Mr. Bryan's intentions, but many committeemen were turning over in their minds various stories quoting him as advocating ratification with any compromise that could be secured.

Involved in the possibilities of this situation was another unknown quantity—the message which President Wilson is to send to the banquet. It generally has been assumed that he will touch on the treaty, but there has been no information as to how far he will urge that ratification be made an active issue in the campaign.

Candidates To Speak

Occupied with these reflections, the committee members apparently have given little attention to the subject of possible candidates, several of whom will pronounce their views on public questions at tomorrow night's banquet. On this subject also, there has been hesitancy because of uncertainty over the intentions of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan. Some committee members believe that a more positive declaration from one or both may come to light tomorrow night.

Although San Francisco and Kansas City apparently were well in the front tonight in the race for the convention, it was declared by leaders that the matter was by no means settled and that there still was a chance for Chicago or St. Louis.

HIGH WIND CAUSES DAMAGE TO UTAH TOWNS AND TRAFFIC

By the Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 7.—Complete tie-up of railroad traffic between Salt Lake and Ogden, together with heavy damage to property in Ogden, Kayville and Farmington, has resulted from a high east wind that began Tuesday night and has since continued. The Salt Lake weather bureau predicts that it will subside but little before Thursday noon.

WRECK VICTIM PASSES AWAY

By the Associated Press.

MR. JOSEPH, MO. Jan. 7.—A man, Joseph, a negro, died tonight of injuries received Saturday when a Chicago and Great Western train wrecked near Wyeth, Mo.

UNAWAY LAD IS TAKEN TO B'ISE

Year Old Boy Periods in Hunting for Tracks of Friend of a Deer.

On last night's train for Boise, Judge O. P. Laval left with Harold Meyer, 7 years of age, for the state home for juveniles. The boy is said to be incorrigible, almost a confirmed truant and absolutely refuses to stay at home. His parents and juvenile officers say that every possible means have been taken to check the "apparition" of the boy, but with no avail.

Two years ago when Harold was 6, he wandered in a local butcher's shop and enticed a cigar store. He seized himself, beside a man, a stranger to him, and before long was changing in conversation with him. The man told Harold he was a sheepman, had a large ranch in this section and that if he had the finest little pony, the boy ever laid eyes on, and if he continued the sheepman, he had a boy about your age he certainly would have the finest time of his life living on this ranch of mine, away of his own and sheep of his own to herd. And when he got grown up I would make him one of the big sheep men in this country. What do you think of that, old timer? The boy was immensely pleased over the idea, certainly he would go, and arrangements were almost completed when something slipped and the boy and this new found friend separated. Since that time, Harold has been on a long fruitless search for his sheepman and the pony. Every few days he has taken matters into his hands and sets out to find the sheep ranch. He has been to Minidoka, but failed to find his friend; to Duhl to no avail, but he has never given up hopes of finding the place. "It's straight on a track, out of town," he said to his parents and the juvenile officers. The sheepman, Luther Weir, well known in this country, has been in and out a number of times during the past two years and never fails to speak of "this boy" and how he would love to have him and take care of him. But the two have been unable to meet and last night Harold Meyer left for the Boise children's home. Friends of Weir and the boy are endeavoring to locate the sheepman, who is now somewhere in the east. He will be told of the boy and of his long search for him and it is expected that eventually the two will be united.

BIRTS FOR 1919 TOTAL 398; DEATHS ARE 201

There were 398 children born in Twin Falls county during 1919, according to figures compiled from recorded birth certificates. It is expected that this number will be added to as physicians have until January 10 to file certificates. Recorded deaths for last year total 201. Officials of the state and county have repeatedly stated that births have not been recorded with the proper authorities as required by law and parents have repeatedly been called on to insist that attending physicians have the births recorded. A number of cases have come to light where parents and physicians have failed to report a birth and in after years much trouble and annoyance has been caused by this omission.

At the recent convention of the Idaho State Teachers' association in Boise in which Miss Brittonnart was superintendent of schools for Twin Falls county, was elected first vice president, plans were made for a more complete certification of Idaho teachers in an effort to raise the standards of the state schools.

Miss Wolfe in speaking of the program yesterday stated that the plan was already in effect and that teachers who could not qualify under the most rigid tests would be dropped from the faculties of the various county schools. "It is an effort," said Miss Wolfe, "to raise the standard of our teachers, to provide more competent instructors for the education of children of the county and to pave the way for a really adequate compensation for teachers. An instructor should be the best the county can obtain and everything will be done to provide our schools with the best."

CHURCH EVANGELISTS NEED $500,000.000

World-Wide Campaign to Secure Big Sum to Be Successfully Carried Out.

By the Associated Press. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 7.—A budget of more than $500,000,000 will be necessary to evangelize the world, according to leaders of the survey conference of the Inter-Church World Movement of North America, launched today. More than 3,000 delegates, representing 28 denominations, responded to the roll call. Dr. Fred R. Haggard, head of the survey department of the movement, outlined the great task confronting the Protestant church and, picturing the extent of the job of building up the material involved in the world survey. Samuel Gray Inman, in charge of the Latin American survey, declared that American mission boards are the only organizations which have developed a practical, comprehensive and inclusive program for solving the Mexican problem. Mr. Inman said the Mexican problem was not a question of a "revolution to be squelched, but an evolution to be guided." "When boards," he added, "are planning to help Mexico solve her land problems by establishing eight agricultural schools, her social problems by setting up social centers in every town of more than 15,000 people; her educational problems by establishing a university in the city of Mexico, and enlarging and multiplying high schools, normal and day schools."

Preliminary to the formal opening of the conference a committee was appointed to go over the schedule of dates and subjects for state conferences of pastors with a view to assuring denominational opportunity to present denominational programs.

The tentative schedule for the state conferences allows a half day for denominational meetings. A resolution was adopted recommending that the traveling expenses of pastors attending the conference be paid. The total expenditure estimated and this expense will total close to $400,000. A committee of the general board of promotion of the Northern Baptist convention accepted a quota of $1,000,000 as its share in the inter-church movement. This committee also outlined the most extensive, public campaign ever undertaken in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

An activities division and a health division, the former to have charge of recreational, educational and welfare agencies and the latter to look after the health of employees of the inter-church movement was proposed by the personnel department. At the night session Dr. R. E. Diefenderfer, head of the home survey department, outlined results of the survey work in this country.

OUR COUNTY TAXES

From all parts of the county come expressions of keen disappointment in the taxes collected for county purposes. Announcement had been made that the county levy had been reduced one point, but it was noticed by the taxpayers that the AMOUNT they paid was increased. Hence the deluge of complaint which has arisen on all sides.

When it was proposed to segregate the various highway districts, the argument was advanced that while these districts would spend money on roads, they would spend it in the zone from which it was collected, and that the county tax levy would be reduced in the full amount of the saving resulting from having no road work to do.

Now the highway districts have been established and have levied moneys for the road work. The county commissioners are relieved of this work, and the county itself is relieved of this expense.

Hence the county expenses should be LESS.

They were not, and that is why taxpayers are complaining.

The tax roll is the largest in the history of the county, and the levy made is to provide an amount of money vastly in excess of any budget in the history of the county, notwithstanding the fact that the highway districts take care of the road building.

The assessment roll for 1919 was $26,382,074.81. That for 1918 was $23,294,518.74. The rate for 1919 was .015; that for 1918 was .016.

The levy for 1919, viz .016, on the roll of $23,294,518.74 would yield $370,071.16 for county purposes. The 1919 rate of .015 on the roll of $26,382,074.81, will raise $398,839.55.

Never, even in the days when trails were being destroyed by the division of the tract, and new roads were laid out, new buildings built and new equipment bought for the new county, was such a sum of money raised as has been raised this past year. And that with the highway districts caring for the roads.

It is a colossal sum of money for the operation of our county, in view of the fact that the roads are provided for and paid for by the highway districts.

No wonder the complaints come in from the farmers of the county; from the merchants in the cities and from the homeowners of the towns and cities of the tract.

How much our county hospital is costing is hard to tell. A new home for nurses has been built, but the precise cost of this is not available.

But even with these costs, there is no reason for such a tax levy. No reason, at least, which is apparent to the men and women who foot the bills.

CLOTHES

"If you bought a spring coat last year for $40 you are lucky—take good care of it," said a saleswoman who was in that gratified state, just following a good sale when even saleswomen become almost human. "You ought to see the coats that are coming in here for spring at $265. They are just nothing."

The two women to whom she spoke gaped. By deliberately passing over the

"flossy stuff" because they knew it was not durable, they had finally come upon a winter coat of firm texture, good weave and all wool, warm and well worth buying. Because the luxury-mad women had scorned those fabrics this year, the coat was marked down to "a song."

They gasped just as all the other women had done when the sensible $25 suit first went to $50, then to $68 and finally disappeared from the market to give way to the perishable suit of luxury-weave at $115. Yet they knew the same women who had scorned the warm and well-woven cloths for coats in favor of the silky creations trimmed with poor furs, would buy the $19 worth of coat for $265 and go around telling about it with that air of apologetic deprecation which is the most maddening form of brag.

What has become of all the sensible, thrifty women this country contains? They certainly have not turned overnight into what one observer calls "this mob of value-ignorant, showy, unpleasantly dressed females, whose faces, as one sees them on the streets and in the shops, express greed and vulgarity, with seldom a line of human friendliness, of content, of repose."

If it is simply that a new class of woman have come forward, who never before had money to spend on luxuries, there is nothing to worry about. Their money-madness will pass as the novelty wears off.

The sensible women are right here all the time. They are merely lying low at present, buying little and that little with brains, organizing cooked-food services, working to improve the schools. All things pass. Sanity is already beginning to show through the midwinter madness. Order comes out of chaos.

And when everybody wants blue serge, there is green of excellent quality at half the price.

THE COMMUNITY'S HOUSE

What a community house may mean to a city is in a fair way to be demonstrated by the one at Palo Alto, Cal. The building is dedicated to soldiers, sailors and marines, who served in the war. At present it is small compared with the community house which that city hopes to have some day. But it is large enough to afford a meeting place for the Mothers' and Teachers' club, the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, the American Legion and the Woman's club.

It has one large living room, comfortably furnished. There is also a well equipped billiard room, a lunch room, a kitchen, store room and pantry. A waiting room, rest room, small gymnasium and nursery fill one wing. There is a small suite of rooms for the resident hostess and a balcony which is used for a writing room. At the rear of the building is a large porch looking across lawns and fields to the foothills of the mountains.

The only formal program established so far includes a public entertainment on every Tuesday evening, a public lecture on Thursdays, a community dance on one Saturday of every month and a regular Sunday musical program. The informal program is large. It includes first the friendly gathering of citizens in their community club house where they can have a social afternoon or evening and exchange views on civic affairs. It includes also the encouragement of all kinds of athletics and sports, swimming, tennis, class drills and exercises. It is to include as soon as financially possible, an auditorium and a stage, as well as motion picture facilities, in order to encourage dramatic and educational films.

The possibilities of such a community center seems inexhaustible, and if carried out in the right spirit, its work holds promise of a richer and more satisfactory community life.

SUBMITS LISTS OF NAVAL DECORATIONS

Daniels Graphically Outlines Course Taken With Each Recommendation for Honor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Coinciding with the appointment today by Chairman Page of the senate naval committee of a sub-committee to investigate the naval decoration controversy, Secretary Daniels transmitted to Senator Page a complete list of all officers and enlisted men, considered by the navy's board of awards for service decorations as recommended by commanding officers.

The list transmitted by Secretary Daniels comprised more than 3,500 names and the charts accompanying it told a graphic story of the fate of each recommendation as it passed through the hands of the board and finally was acted upon by the secretary. The documents sent to the senate by Secretary Daniels showed that the list of 144 persons finally approved by Secretary Daniels to receive the distinction of service medals represented a reduction of nearly 200 from the total recommended by the board. Practically all recommendations for that honor disapproved by the secretary were for officers who performed ashore duty, the report showed. Persons designated by the secretary, but not by the board to receive the distinguished service medal totaled 17,000, including the commanding officers of naval craft that were attacked by submarines or came in contact with mines.

By substituting in many cases a yard of the navy cross for the distinguished service medal where the latter was recommended for shore service and adding extensively to the navy cross recommendations, chiefly from the enlisted personnel, Secretary Daniels brought the total number designated for honor up to 1,450 as against 1,100 recommended by the board. Several hundred persons recommended for decorations were designated by the board or the secretary to receive commendatory letters.

HINES URGES CO-OPERATIVE R. R. CONTROL

present moment make rates high enough to constitute adequate resistance to railroad credit without at the same time making them higher than would likely turn out to be necessary if the period of readjustment could be postponed until a time of more stable conditions? Undoubtedly if the policy be adopted of establishing independent railroad credit plantiffs all hazards, it would be only logical to make the rate increases large enough to do so.

On one point I believe there must be an agreement and that is that any rate increase that will, at all establish a precedent for the various railroad companies independently on their own responsibility, must be substantially greater than a rate increase which would protect the situation temporarily. If unified control were continued until more stable conditions appear.

Defending the results obtained under federal control, the director-general said the deficit incurred was not due to excessive costs but to the fact that the prices charged for railroad transportation have not been increased in keeping with the increases in prices of commodities.

AGREE ON REVOLVING FUND.—WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senate and house conferees working today on the Esch and Cummins' railroad bills, agreed upon $300,000,000 was the amount of a revolving fund from which carriers would be permitted to borrow to tide themselves over the period immediately following their return to private operation.

The Cummins bill, passed by the senate, fixed the amount at $500,000,000, and the Esch measure, passed by the house, made it $250,000,000.

At two sessions today the conferees covered much ground and are about ready now to take up the real big questions over which a sharp fight is expected. These are: The guarantee return to the roads, rate making, and the labor section, with its anti-strike provision.

"I think we will soon see daylight ahead," said Senator Cummins tonight.

OPPOSE CUMMINS BILL.—CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Guaranteed earnings for the railroads, appropriation of surplus railroad profits by the government, thereby "penalizing efficiency" and compulsory consolidation of the roads are all opposed in a memorial addressed to congress by the national shippers conference.

Representatives of shippers in 16 states met here December 30, and appointed representatives to draft the memorial, which attacks many provisions of the Cummins railroad bill. Copies were mailed today to every member of congress.

The shippers urge passage of legislation for early return of the roads to private control and favor retention of the state commissions to fix intrastate rates.

Creation of the proposed "transportation board" is opposed because it could invade the interstate commerce commission's field and make public recommendations in "rate advance cases" without the necessity of conducting any public hearing.

Board Not Necessary.

"The creation of an additional federal board of this character," the memorial declares, "is wholly unnecessary. The interstate commerce commission merits the continued confidence, support and respect of the people of the United States and its powers should remain unabated, and should be added to, so as to enable it to effectively deal with our national transportation problems."

"It has been stated that the interstate commerce commission is overburdened with work. Such statements are not true. Whenever the time does come that the commission is unable to properly function because of the volume of its work, subordinate commissions should be created, or additional facilities granted, which will properly care for the situation."

PLEISTINA WINS MATCH.—CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Max Pleistina of Chicago defeated Henry Ordman of Minneapolis in straight falls tonight. Pleistina took the first fall in 23:53 with a body clinch and wristlock and the second in 10:06 with a double wrist lock. The men are heavyweights.

RECEIVE COPIES OF NEWLY-WRITTEN SONG

Copies of "The Lads Who Will Never Return," a song written by Miss Martha E. Stevenson of Los Angeles, Calif., have been received in Twin Falls. The composition, which was published by the North American Music company of Chicago, has already become very popular wherever it has been rendered. The music for the words were written by Leo Friedman, who has composed the music for many popular hits of the past few years.

The words of the song bring to mind the feeling of the mother whose son went to France but who will never return. The story of thousands of unknown heroines of the great war who were willing to suffer the anguish of war in silence in order that the world might be made safe for democracy.

Miss Stevenson is a sister of Robert H. Stevenson, publisher of The Chronicle.

PLUMB HAS PLAN FOR ALL INDUSTRY

Propose Tri-Partite Control in All Lines As Originally Advocated for Railroads.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A Plumb plan for all American industry, modeled after the plan of the same name for the railroads, has been prepared and is expected to be publicly announced soon.

Copies of the plan, captioned "an industrial program by Glenn E. Plumb," are being circulated in Washington and some of them have been received in government circles.

Briefly the plan proposes for all American industry the system of tri-partite railroad control advanced some time ago with the backing of the great brotherhoods, and which it has been announced would be made an issue at the elections. It proposes practically the same division of representation for capital, labor and the public.

Industry is classed into four divisions in this way:

1. Three "individualistic in ownership and operation, including the farmers and the small artisan, contractor and manufacturer, who is both capitalist and consumer."
2. All industries "formerly capitalistic, but which through organization have so developed that ownership is separated from labor and concerns itself only in direction and supervision of production in which it engages the efforts of others who have no share in ownership."
3. Industries "based upon a grant from society in the shape of a franchise, grant of privilege or monopoly." In this division are included all public service corporations except those engaged in interstate commerce, "and all industries engaged in exploiting natural resources." These latter are described as including mines, gas and water power.
4. Railroads and commercial transportation facilities. The plan explains that these are considered separately from the public service facilities embraced in the third division because the former are "under local control, created by local authorities and subject to local regulation."

The "fundamental interests" in these industries, the Plumb plan declares, "is the need of society for the products of that industry or the service which it renders, that calls the industry into being. In the first two classes where society has made no grant the free working of the law of supply and demand protects the public interest."

"Public interest," is defined in the plan as follows:

"It is the right of the public to obtain better, cheaper or more products or service as the progress of the arts permits the making of more or better goods or service at a lower cost of production. The constitution defines the power of the public to exercise its power of regulation as to deprive the owner of the property of his investment, actually, indirectly and indirectly made, or of a fair return on such investment. If society pays more than this amount which the owner retains as a profit, society pays more than he lawfully is entitled to receive."

"This," says the Plumb plan, "introduces perpetual conflict between society in the exercise of this public regulation and the agent it has created for its service and results in supplying luxuries and procuring greater revenues for those who benefit in these exactions."

Under the heading "rights of labor" the plan declares that the measure of what a workman shall receive "depends entirely upon the amount in value of service which he renders. He is entitled to receive an equivalent in value of the services of others. The wage system disregards this human right."

In its conclusion the resume declares "the existing industrial system is crushing round our ears," that wage laws no relation to the value of services rendered and that "profits are wrongfully exacted."

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR

AGITATORS LOSING HOLD IN EUROPE

Spirit of Reaction Makes Menace Less Potent Daily in Report Received from Europe.

VIENNA — Bolshevism is on the down-grade in Europe.

It is hard pressed in Russia, but not only that. It is less of a terror to the rest of Europe than at any time since the armistice of a year ago.

That is the outstanding fact after a trip of many weeks through Europe from the Bolshevik front to the Atlantic.

The Red agitator is still a menace, but he is growing less potent daily; the worst and most dangerous year—the year immediately following the war—has passed.

Poland, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Austria, France and England are breathing more easily every day.

Strikes continue. So do demands for nationalization and a larger share for workers in the management and control of industry. But European workers generally are attacking more and more closely to the questions in Europe and giving less attention to the exhortations of the Red agents.

Governments of Europe, speaking largely and not of personalities, are more firmly seated than at any time since the fighting ceased.

Nationalistic feeling is at white heat in most of Europe.

Even in Germany there is a growing patriotic spirit reminiscent of the old "Deutschland über Alles" days. And back in France and England the inevitable drift apart has been recognized by the officials and the press for months. The Echo de Paris, for example, recently complained that France and Britain were increasingly nationalistic and farther apart than before the war. The new nations are furnaces of patriotism. And—

National patriotism and Bolshevism mix like oil and water.

Austria is composed largely of farmers who are anything but Bolshevik. The present government is too "advanced" to suit them. They would like to see ex-emperor Carl come back.

Racialist ministry composed partly of the impractical "parlor" variety of Socialists. Even those men oppose Bolshevism, as of course do the Holshovichs, Masaryks and the rest of the government. To a man, from Masaryk down, they scoff at the prospect of Bolshevik rule in Czechoslovakia. The manufacturers, any production is slowly going up. They are no longer scared.

Poland is actively fighting the Bolsheviks. General Pilsudski, chief of state, does not personally believe that Bolshevism would ever be tolerated anywhere in the world except in that section of Russia where the Bolsheviks rule. But at any rate, he says, Poland will be able to deal with any trouble that may arise in the coming hard winter.

Germany, preparing to take a big hand in reconstruction with Russia, foresees an early opening. Agents are slipping across. The Germans in the Baltic have been hanging on in spite of all efforts to dislodge them. The Baltic becomes Germany's best route into northern Russia since sprung up across the Scandinavian Poland and Czechoslovakia have sprung up across the direct path. Many businesses are organizing for Russian trade. Krupp, for example, are starting to manufacture the kind of agricultural machinery Russia will need.

When an American raises the question of Bolshevism in Europe today, he will get about the same answer from official, business man or anti-Red workman, to-wit:

"Seems to me, from the American news, that the Red agitator is more dangerous in America than he is over here."

ASKS MEXICANS TO TAKE NO ACTION AGAINST CHINESE

By the Associated Press.

DOUGLAS, Jan. 6.—Adolfo de la Huerta has addressed the municipal government of Sonora and other places in Sonora where the anti-Chinese agitation has been most rapid, asking that no action against Chinese be taken, pending action by the national congress. There is now before the senate in Mexico City a proposal to abrogate the treaty with China. In meantime, the governor assures the municipalities, federal troops will afford the Chinese protection.

BASEBALL HEADS TO CONFER TODAY

August Herrmann Must Resign or Commission Will Be Without a Chairman.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—August Herrmann, chairman of the national baseball commission, would not say tonight whether he would resign at tomorrow's meeting of the commission.

Herrmann has repeatedly announced that he was willing to vacate the chairmanship in view of the opposition to the National league, or having a man interested in the clubs in the circuit, further serve in the capacity of chairman. He maintained, however, that he could not quit until a suitable successor had been appointed.

Unless Herrmann does voluntarily resign, it is believed that a deadlock will ensue at tomorrow's session.

John Heydler, National league president, before leaving New York Tuesday night, stated that he is pledged not to vote for any man as chairman who has financial interests in any club.

There is no doubt but that B. B. Johnson, president of the American league, will vote for Herrmann. Such a situation would mean the resignation of Herrmann.

Heydler and Johnson are expected to arrive tomorrow morning. Outside of the chairmanship, it is understood that the chief business will relate to the major league playing schedules for 1920. Heydler and Johnson are expected to prepare rough drafts and these will be submitted to the league's schedule committee meeting next month.

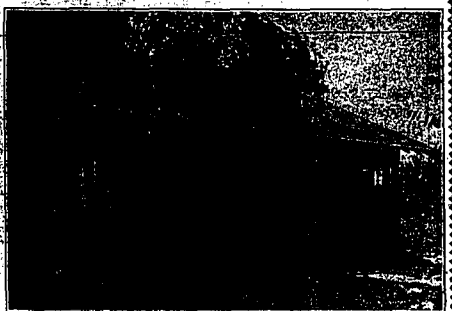

PLAN ESTABLISHMENT OF "ROOSEVELT ARCHIVES"

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Plans for the establishment of "Roosevelt archives" probably in Washington, where biographical matter relating to Theodore Roosevelt will be collected and preserved for historical purposes, were today at a meeting of the Roosevelt Memorial association committee on a living memorial for the advancement of Roosevelt's ideals. The committee also plans a collection of the best motion picture films of Roosevelt to be deposited in the congressional library at Washington for use in schools and colleges.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Corn averages lower in price today largely as a result of statements by Herbert Hoover about financial aid to Europe. The market closed unsettled, at 1.35 to 1.36 net decline, with May 135 5-8 to 135 3-4 and July 133 3-4 to 133 1-8. Oats 10 1-2 to 11 1-2. In provisions, the outcome ranged from a setback of five cents to forty cents advance. Mr. Hoover's opinion that the great bulk of financial needs could be met by ordinary commercial credits was given a bearish construction by many corn traders. The inference was drawn that trans-Atlantic food requirements were not so alarming as had been pictured by some. Breaks in the value of hogs added to the selling pressure on corn, and so likewise the gossip that export demand for rye had been satisfied for perhaps the remainder of the season. Scarcities of receipts, together with complaints of car scarcity, led afterwards to rallies but the market sagged again at the last because of renewed unloading by holders.

OMAHA—Hogs, receipts 15,500; market steady to 10c higher; top $14.50; bulk $14.20 to $14.40; heavy weight $14.50 to $14.55; medium weight $14.30 to $14.50; light weight $14.10 to $14.20; heavy packing sows smooth $14.20 to $14.30; packing sows rough $14.10 to $14.20; pigs $11 to $12.50.

The pledge has been widely circulated in New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Massachusetts. The backers, members of a popular club on Madison square, say they intend to form a national organization opposed to enforcement of the prohibition amendment.

MINERS FAVOR AGREEMENT BY LARGE VOTE

Radicals Badly Defeated at Convention of Mine Workers on Strike Settlement.

WILL NOW PRESENT CASE TO COMMISSION

Attempt to Drive Lewis and Green From Office Meets With Disaster When Presented to Miners.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, Jan. 7.—International officers of the United Mine Workers will go before the commission appointed by President Wilson to arbitrate final settlement of the controversy between miners and operators, with the backing of the rank and file of the miners' organization, as a result of action today of the reconvened convention of the miners.

By a vote of 1,639 to 221, the convention adopted the motion of Philip Murray, president of the Pennsylvania miners, to endorse the action of the international officers in cutting off the strike and agreeing to accept the president's proposal, which provides for a 14 per cent advance in wages and agreement to submit all questions in dispute to the president's commission.

Officers To Washington.
The convention adjourned sine die and Acting President Lewis and Secretary Green will meet with the international executive board of the miners tomorrow before going to Washington, where they are to appear Monday before the president's commission. The hearing in Washington is called to allow the miners of the central competitive field to present their case to the commission.

Charge Convivance.
Opponents of the proposed settlement, failing to block acceptance of the settlement made by the officers, filed charges against Acting President Lewis and Secretary Green, demanding their removal from office and suspension as members of the union for ten years for alleged violation of the constitution of the Cleveland convention and "convivance."

The charges were signed by Joe Lynol and Thomas F. O'Connor, Peoria, Ill., delegates. President Lewis vacated the chair and turned the gavel over to J. C. Lewis, president of the Iowa miners, when the charges were brought.

Secretary Green hesitated about ruling them because he was invited. The convention then voted to require Lynol, the author of the charges, to read them. Lynol refused, saying he was not responsible for the charges, but was instructed by his local union to present them. Green then read the charges and the convention later, by an unanimous vote, repudiated the charges by striking them from the record of the proceedings.

Opponents of the settled called for speeches from Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, and Alex Howat, of the Kansas miners. Farrington arose and tried to obtain recognition from Secretary Green, who occupied the chair, after the convention had voted to close debate. Green ruled him out of order. Howat did not attempt to speak.

Not Against Government.
In explaining why he had decided to accept the president's proposal of settlement, Lewis said he "had no desire to defeat the United States government in a contest."

"I shall never lead any organization but an American organization," Lewis declared, "and if the day ever comes when this organization is dominated by people who are false to American traditions, that day I will cease to be an officer of it."

Lewis pointed out that throughout the forty days' strike, not a single life was lost and said he was grateful the cause, no widow's lamentations, or walls of orphans assailed our ears. He said the organization had "emerged unscathed," whereas continuation of the strike and revolt against the government would have meant "disaster and defeat."

Lewis promised delegates to continue the fight for their demands for high pay and shorter hours and adjustment of local working conditions before the president's commission.

COORDINATE FORCES TO FIGHT RADICALS

Stalls Continue and New Activity Shown in All Government Departments.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Complete co-ordination of all governmental agencies, together with an awakened congress tonight had given the campaign to rid the nation of radicals a broader aspect. While Assistant Attorney General Garvan's force continued its raids, including a search for C. A. K. Martens, self-styled son of the Russian soviet government, there were evidences of new activity in all other departments of the government.

Congress received a bill introduced by Representative Johnson, republican (Washington), which would make every government employee an agent for detecting out undesirable. Each clerk would be given the duty of reporting any information concerning alien activities to the department of justice and the immigration authorities.

The treasury secret service, with its wide ramifications, was enlisted in running down persons for whom the immigration authorities have issued warrants. Custom officials also have been ordered to report any information they may gather in the work of inspecting imports, while the army and navy intelligence service will co-operate both in the gathering of evidence and searching out of radicals.

Secretary Baker ordered the vacation of all buildings and other facilities used by the army at Ellis island in order to make room for the hundreds of aliens who are held there pending deportation proceedings.

PHILADELPHIA DRAFT DODGER CAPTURED

Arrest American Who Offered Services to Hunt But Would Not Fight for U. S.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Grover Cleveland Bergdell, wealthy son of a former brewer, and charged with being a draft dodger and deserter from the army, was captured today while hiding in the residence of his mother. Tonight he is a prisoner on Governor's island, in New York harbor, awaiting trial by court-martial.

The capture of Bergdell, whose brother, Edwin, well known automobile racer, is still missing, also charged with dodging the draft, was sensational as his career has lasted five years. Over a dozen federal and city officers participated in the raid. Resistance was offered by the mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdell, who threatened to shoot the officers and was disarmed only after a struggle.

She was held in $10,000 bail on charges of assault and battery with intent to kill and conspiracy to prevent the execution of search and arrest warrants. Bail was furnished by her son-in-law.

Grover Bergdell disappeared in August, 1917, and search for him, as an alleged draft dodger was made all over the United States and Mexico.

Mrs. Bergdell threatened death to any officer who entered her home when they appeared today, federal agents said. Strategy was used and the front and rear entrances were forced at the same time. A search revealed Grover hiding in a window box set on the second floor.

After a preliminary hearing here Bergdell was taken to New York before leaving he said he had caused all over the country and had returned home only a few days ago. He said he saw his brother Edwin in Cincinnati six months ago.

Grover Bergdell's father is dead. The young man was much in the public eye because he was accused of draft dodging. The owner of fast automobiles, he was several times placed under arrest and heavily fined for speeding and reckless driving. He was in numerous collisions, in one of which six persons were injured, after he took to aviation and was charged by the police with flying too low over the city.

When he was drafted, Grover is alleged by the federal agents to have declared he would never fight against Germany, though he was born in this country. In 1914 he offered his services to Germany as an aviator through the local German consul.

SAYS DENIKINE ARMY IS BLOOD-THIRSTY RABBLE

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The army of General Denikin, is characterized as a "blood-thirsty rabble, guilty of brutal outrages" and a "mob which revels in the most abominable crimes and shrink back from no infamy," in a communication written by Dr. Max Nordeau, Jewish publicist and leader, made public tonight by Bernard O. Richards of the American Jewish congress.

N. Y. ASSEMBLY WILL NOT SEAT SOCIALISTS

Legislators Decline Five Men Came to Good America While in Radical Party.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Five socialist members of the assembly of the New York state legislature, were denied their seats at the lower branch's opening meeting of the 1920 session today. A resolution questioning whether they could be loyal to their oaths of office when bound to not subject to instructions of the socialist party, was quickly passed, 140 to 8, after Speaker Sweet, with dramatic suddenness, ordered the sergeant-at-arms to bring the socialist members to the bar of the house. The socialist must now prove their fitness to their seats, before a tribunal selected by the assembly.

The session was dragging as the clerk was calling for routine resolutions when Speaker Sweet interrupted him. The socialist, August Ciessems and Louis Waldman of New York, one of Bronx county, and Charles S. Simon of Kings county were ushered before the speaker's desk in the pit of the house.

"You are seeking seats in this body—those who have been elected on a platform that is absolutely inimical to the best interests of the state of New York, and of the United States," the speaker said.

The platform is the doctrine of the socialist party, but is a membership organization admitting within its ranks aliens, enemy aliens and minors.

Quoting from the section of the constitution of the socialist party that requires all members to be guided in their political actions by the constitution and platform of the party, the speaker continued:

"It is interesting to note that Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled soviet ambassador, became a member of the socialist party upon his entry into this country and took part in its deliberations. It is, therefore, quite evident that that you, in spite of your oath of office, are bound to act subject to instructions received from an executive committee which may be made up in whole or in part of aliens or alien enemies, holding allegiance to governments or organizations whose interests may be diametrically opposed to the best interests of the United States."

As soon as the speaker had finished, Majority leader Simon I. Adler offered the resolution to disavow the seats of the socialist members.

Two Bronx democrats, William B. Evans and J. Fairfax McLaughlin, voted in the negative as did four of the socialists.

The preamble of the resolution denying the socialists admission to the floor now forth that the August convention of the socialist party in Chicago declared adherence and solidarity with the revolutionary party of soviet Russia, and pledged its members to the furtherance of the international socialist revolution; that by such adherence and declaration the socialist party has endorsed the principles of the communist international at Moscow, which is pledged to the forcible and violent overthrow of all existing organized governments, and that under the constitution of the socialist party of America a member may be expelled or suspended from his party "for failing or refusing, when elected to public office . . . to carry out such instructions as he may have received from the party organization."
