CONDEMN ATTITUDE

BUREAU AGENCIES, Jan. 12.—The action of the New York assembly in unseating socialists from United States membership, is the subject of considerable editorial comment of a condemnatory nature today. La Nación says: "It will now nowhere, not even in Central Russia, has the circumstance of being a socialist prevented participation in a legislative assembly..."

The Herald, under the title of "Sitting on the Safety Valve," says: "Had such an action occurred in Spain or some other country where radical views are more or less of a crime, we could understand it. But in this democracy such an action of the United States is explicable only as something like a panic arising from Bolshevism..."

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The coal strike settlement commission was enabled to begin its actual work of considering and adjudicating claims of bituminous miners for advanced wages and shorter working hours today by agreement of operators in the central competitive field to participate and abide by the decision of the commission...

Set Forth Old Demands. Lewis and his associates set forth demands as presented before the strike last November after a 60 per cent increase in wages, 40 hour working week and six other concessions. Straightforwardly they told the commission they were not attempting merely to obtain for the miners the "creases" over their wartime wages but compensate them for increased cost of living, but to get them out of the permanently raised standards of living...

The miners' standards of living, social position and the environment in which they must raise their children, have never been "too low" and Lewis said the city and "did not get what Mexico really is" was made public tonight. The voyage, the ship officers said, was quiet but the sea rough. In the early days of the journey, the radials assembled on the deck during fair weather and sang the "Marseilles" and the "Internationale." When rough weather was encountered they remained below...

The officers admitted they found their passengers normal on all counts except Bolshevism. Emma Goldman, they said, was sullen and defiant, while Alexander Berkman was valuable. A sailor said that the radials had not gone on hunger strike, as reported, but were content to eat the food supplied by the American government...

"The spirit of revolution finds no place in the ranks of the American Legion," said the general, "and if this organization and the other patriots of America cannot stop the dangerous tendency toward anarchy by education and the right kind of propaganda, they can certainly stop it by deportation." General Pershing said he attributed the inclination to revolution in America to the ignorance of some of our institutions. He declared that the American people are entirely "too patriotic to do so."

General Pershing, touching upon the subject of preparedness, declared he had little patience with the folks who were frightened by the "bugaboo of militarism." Raising his voice and pounding the table before him, he declared that militarism is impossible in America because the people are in control. PLAN TO ENTERTAIN FAMOUS SOPRANO

Maturing Plans for Visit of Alice Neilson to Twin Falls.

Musical lovers of Twin Falls are considering some plan for entertaining Alice Neilson during her stay in the Peerless City. Miss Neilson is one of the noted singers of the world, and her coming will be a feature in the musical life of the community. For this reason musical lovers plan some sort of an entertainment for her. What nature this will take has not yet been determined, but a concert will be had with Manager Laverling, under whose auspices she comes to Twin Falls, with a view to conforming to the convenience of the distinguished guest. Miss Neilson this season was able to make a trip to the West coast, to the delight of the thousands of her admirers there. Everywhere she was greeted with approval, for no soprano today is more deservedly popular than she is. It is on her return east that she is making a few stops only by special arrangement, to visit the first of the great sopranos to visit this new empire of agriculture. While Madam Schuman Heineck has twice been the guest of Twin Falls, no great soprano has ever gladdened the hearts of our citizens. The only one received in due appreciation, there is no doubt, and the musical lovers seem determined that she shall have a touch of Twin Falls hospitality on the side.

A WOMAN FOR PRESIDENT?

Miss Lucy Page Gaston has announced that she would like to be a presidential candidate. Miss Gaston's ideas of the demands of the executive officer are rather interesting. She admits that she has no particular views upon international affairs, national reconstruction, finance or politics. She would leave all such troublesome questions to committees of men competent to deal with them.

Being founder of the Anti-Cigarette League she offers as the chief plank in her platform the prohibition of the manufacture, sale and use of the "soothing little pill." She has other antipathies, too. She would have a stricter censorship of dancing, women's dress and the movies.

In her desire for office, Miss Gaston is wholly within her rights as an American citizen. But it is not likely that much attention will be paid to her candidacy. A few newly enfranchised ones, as eager as herself to reform the world's personal morals over night may back her boom. But it is to be hoped, for the success of the women's political movement in this country, that the great majority of women voters are facing the big problems of the day with a saner vision.

Reform in the personal morals of Americans may be desirable—but it is not the president's job. That, in all times and among all nations, has been considered the work of the individual.

The day may come when the country needs, and will elect, a woman president. But the day is not yet. And when it does come, that woman will be elected because she is of such breadth, dignity, power and insight as to take the office with the seriousness which it calls for.

TOO MANY PEOPLE.

For generations scientific men have been "viewing with alarm" the growing population of the world. Every little while along comes some learned statistician like Malthus, and figures that the earth cannot sustain more people, and if they continue reproducing as usual their numbers must inevitably be kept down by wars, disease—or starvation. The latest alarmist is the statistician for the commonwealth of Australia. He says there were on the earth in 1914 about 1,649,000,000 people the big war killed off a very few of them and the population is increasing right along now at the rate of 1.1-6 per cent a year and at this rate there will soon be "a severe strain on the resources of nature."

Well, modern man is always pushing beyond the economist's "edge of cultivation" and making a living out of land that nobody before ever thought worth cultivating. And there are the vast tropics, as yet hardly touched agriculturally. Land chemistry is working wonders. We are getting fertilizer out of the air. From air and water along we may yet produce food. The interior heat of the earth will be tapped for fuel. Sir Oliver Lodge expects that man sooner or later will get his energy direct from the ether of space, or from atoms of matter—and there are thousands of horsepower bottled up in a cubic inch of anything.

Who can set a limit to the "resources of nature," or to a man's ability to turn them to his purpose. From all we can learn these 1,649,000,000 people have more food and comforts of life than any generation of their ancestors had since Adam left paradise.

It is the most sparsely settled countries that are poorest. The more people multiply, the more they multiply the necessities of life and the more goods they have apiece. Too many people gather in cities sometimes and so have difficulty in getting a living; but that is merely a fault of local distribution:

In this census year we need not add to our present troubles and worry about the future of the human race. When there are 1,000,000,000 people in North America they will probably all be better off than they are now.

WATCH THE COLD.

When the child come home from school with what is apparently "just a cold" these days, keep that child at home and keep him warm. The cold is likely to be the precursor of measles. Measles starts with the sniffles and what sounds like a trifling cough. In a few days the eyes get red and the temperature goes up. Finally out comes the rash, and then it's all over—but the watchful after-care which measles needs.

It is a tricky disease. After the child seems perfectly well, an ear infection may develop. Unless the eyes are carefully guarded for weeks, there may walk in unexpectedly some day the effects of the previous eyestrain.

It is that foolish little cough, seeming at first like nothing at all, which is the contagion-carrying element in measles. From the first bark to the last another child may catch the disease. No child should go back to school until the cough has entirely disappeared, and has been totally absent for several days.

There is also danger of pneumonia; for measles, like flu, is a respiratory disease and makes all the respiratory organs more likely than usual to pick up other troubles.

This language may not be scientific, but any physician will attest that the principle is sound. Every physician in the country whose hours are full of calls to sick children sends out the same warning: Watch the cold!

FIVE SIMPLE DON'T'S.

The Chicago School of Sanitary instruction issues bulletins as part of its health educational work. In a recent bulletin five "health don'ts" were given. They are interesting not only because they will really help to maintain health if carefully followed, but because they seem to have so little to do with the ordinary person's conception of health rules. They say nothing about medicines or diets or exercises. They seem very simple, yet they require sincere attention and persistent effort in carrying out. They are:

- Don't hurry and don't worry.
- Don't get mad.
- Don't talk politics unless you can keep cool about it.
- Don't run for cars; there will be another along after awhile.
- Don't eat too much meat, and don't overeat at all.

The end of winter is frequently a trying disagreeable time. Human beings grow impatient for spring. The careful observance of these don'ts and the positive "do's" which they imply will help greatly not only to lessen the colds and headaches of the indoor days, but also to lighten the gloom of the period.

If it were the reds gathered on Ellis island, we don't mind telling them that there is something to drink where they are going.

If you really wish to know when the treaty will be ratified, consider the length of time the treaty with Colombia has been pending.

CONVICTED VILLASTAS ARE GIVEN FREEDOM

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Major Nestor Enciso Ure and Antonio Trillo, Mexican rebels, who were captured, tried by court martial and sentenced to death with General Felipe Angeles, but who unlike Angeles obtained a commutation, have been released by order of the Mexican federal district court at Juarez, according to advices received today in Washington. The court held that the military tribunal was without authority under the constitution to try the rebels and that the sentence imposed was not in keeping with the laws of the country. Major de Arce and Trillo, who is a youth not yet 20, appealed to the Mexican courts for writ of amparo, as did Angeles, when they were captured through betrayal of the rebel group. In Angeles' case the military court at Chihuahua ordered the execution without waiting for the operation of the court.

ROBINSONS

THEY'RE OFF!

Not exactly in a bunch, but all more or less in the running. "Before Inventory," "After Inventory," "Unloading," "Clearance," "Sacrifice," "Always Less," "Always Cheaper," "Never More," and "Forever More."

It's a great race and as usual (?) the dear public is in on the ground-floor and gets all the benefit.

A customer looking at our Outing Flannel (Flannélette) inquired the price and when told 28 1-2 cents, asked how long they had been on sale, and when informed that the price was regular she said you do not mean to tell me that you are selling this quality and width in all those light and dark patterns at that price and when she was answered in the affirmative she said why that is just as good as if not better than is being sold in town at special sale for more.

Another customer inquired the price of a well-known brand of Bleached Muslin and when told 28 1-2c, asked how long we had been selling at that price, and was told it had been no different for three months at least. She said, "Why! it is being advertised at 29 cents special.

Blankets that are identical in make, pattern and size with those that you will find here are marked just 48 cents more in a store that is a great bargain here.

A recent advertisement in a local paper offering "Full Fashioned Seamless Hose," reminds me of two men at a menagerie looking at a giraffe. After gazing for some time one said to the other. Well! What do you think of him. Why, "They ain't no sich animal."

Great game, this game of merchandising. Great thing, these Special Sales, where most items are offered at no lower prices than they could be sold regular all the time and still show a reasonable profit.

After a year's business that was greater in volume than those who are friendly to the store said could be done in this location, and a December business that was beyond my expectation or seemed possible the New Year starts off with an increase over the same time last year.

RICH NEW VEIN ON COLVIN CLAIMS NEAR FRANKLIN

At Pine, Elmore County, South of Rocky Bar, Where Local Capital Is Largely Interested.

Work Being Prosecuted on Tunnel Driven Directly in on the Vein Just Discovered to the North of Intrusive Porphyry Fault Dyke.

Pine Grove Mining district is today a country village sleeping overtime. Both to the north of it in the Sawtooth range, and to the south at Dixie millions in gold and silver bullion and placer have been extracted. Here Twin Falls, Spokane, Chicago, Kansas City, Pittsburgh, Boston capitalists are spending hundreds of thousands in developing and operating the "Ella and Eagle," "Lison," "Cat Creek," "Dixie," "Boise-Rochester," "Boston Big Lead," and others the names of which we are unable to recall.

Ten years ago Pine paid R. P. "Chatin of Mountain Home a fortune from the "Franklin" mine but today the south fork of the Boise river runs through the camp and sings its songs to the sportsman, and nature lover and local stockman, but without awakening in either the thrill that met Elmer Towne when he opened up the "Franklin" and that sends the prospector searching for "Something lost behind the ranges."

Did we say "today" correctly we should have said until Aug. 11, 1919. On that date a lonely prospector met with that thrill reserved for but few on that date the mother lode was accidentally discovered on the "East Slide" claim, in position beyond a 30-foot dyke fault, where it was never known to exist before.

How once more mother earth opened her bosom and yield treasures that have lain hidden for centuries, although sought for by many and how it remained for one to uncover these hidden treasures, is an interesting story.

Charles Elmer Towne, the author of mines in this region, and a chief engineer of note as well, about 1903 closed the "East Slide" mine to H. F. Skelton, who under this lease drilled north on a two-foot vein which netted him $40 to $45 free gold. He encountered an intrusive porphyry dyke and was "lost" with no more ore ahead.

Towne sold the mine to Harry Edwards the camp for his inspection. After interviewing Hall Colvin decided to re-open this Hall tunnel and climbed the hill on the 11th of August, 1919, for that purpose and alone without more interest in the results of his trip than to refresh his memory of the conditions inside of the Hall workings on the south vein, and to examine the showing as made by Hall, which made the 500-foot ascent, looked to the east for the Hall portal and there was no Hall portal. It, as later proved, had been shifted by the slip of the catch caused by the melting of the unusual late heavy snowfall in the spring of 1919.

Colvin was for some time unable to locate the old portal, but commenced digging and in a few minutes had uncovered a new ledge that outcropped above the old tunnel, to the north of it thirty feet.

Skelton, Engineer Towne and A. Mayer Brockway, from the "Lison" mine, were hastily summoned by Colvin to the scene to witness his find and to seek their opinion and advice. Brockway sampled the ledge at the point discovered by Colvin and obtained 2.32 ounces gold and 7 ounces silver, total $72.16, and on September 12th, 1919, reported that dyke faulted both veins 20 feet, your receding find is on the main vein in position to the north of the dyke fault. Develop it and you will encounter commercial ore. In paying quantities. Later, run 150-foot crosscut from face of LeBar's 1400-foot tunnel and thus obtain 500-foot vertical depth on all veins and to his associate engineers Brockway to said to have remained "you mining men have been chiding up and down this river for years looking for mines and you let a greenhorn come in here and stumble on what you have mined."

It would seem that Pine with its recent production of $400,000 on the Franklin ledge, just one mile from the "Colvin discovery" on the same course is to be operating again and afford employment to many men. Mr. Colvin has leased the Franklin town-ship mill with a capacity of thirty tons per day, and a local company with Adin Hall of Mountain Home, president, has been incorporated to aid Mr. Colvin in securing local southern Idaho capital to aid financing his mine, this company being incorporated as "Golden Rose Mines Co."

Little money is apparently needed for $25 ore average, should not $20 per ton. The prospector "Colvin," with rich ore on the hanging wall but so mixed it with gangue in the rest of what, LeBar, the rich capitalist, missed takes no glory for the fact, but simply says "Eshaw, it was just two years ago when Edwards first Immediately after Edwards' departure, Ed. Hall, a brother of Adin Hall of Mountain Home passed through the camp. Ed had driven a short tunnel 30 feet immediately under the apex on the hill on the south vein some 15 years ago; took out some rich ore on the hanging wall but so mixed it with gangue in the rest of what, LeBar, the rich capitalist, missed takes no glory for the fact, but simply says "Eshaw, it was just two years ago when Edwards first

TO ACCEPT MAIL ORDERS FOR "TURN TO THE RIGHT"

So much interest has been manifested in the coming of the great comedy success, "Turn to the Right," to the Lavington theater, January 22, that the theatre management has arranged to accept mail orders at once. The turning away of hundreds of late comers wherever the company has appeared has established it in the class with "The Old Homestead," "The Music Master," and other plays of human appeal which attract all classes of theatergoers and which have invariably drawn capacity audiences in the smaller cities.

To give everybody an equal chance, in securing seats, mail orders will be numbered and filled in the order received previous to the opening of the box office sale. This applies to city patrons as well as those of other towns. Postoffice or express money orders or bank drafts should be enclosed, with ten per cent of the purchase amount added to cover the federal war tax. When self-addressed stamped envelopes are enclosed the tickets will be sent. Otherwise they will be held at the box office in the name of the purchaser.

John Golden is sending to the Laving the original production of "Turn to the Right," and the cast includes William Farnam, Charles W. Goodrich, Mike Donlin, the former baseball star, and others who have seen here exactly as it ran for a sold-out year in both New York and Chicago.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Back-ache.

The American man and woman must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is plain. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog; and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of redness or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Dr. Sells' make a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, for a few days and your kidneys will then get fine. This uric acid salt is made from the seed of grapes and lemon. Juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to thin and eliminate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

BRAZIL FOR SUFFRAGE.

Brazil is entering the suffrage race, according to reports reaching this country. A bill, the purpose of which is to grant the right of suffrage to the women of Brazil, has been introduced into the senate of that country. This bill provides that suffrage should be granted to women 21 years of age or over.

Grain

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Wheat weak, as developed by the open market today as a result of anticipated receipt and also of renewed attention to National Wheat Director Barnes' warning against price hazards. The close was nervous, 1 7/8 to 2 3/8 net lower with May 132 1/2 to 132 5/8 and July 150 3/8 to 150 7/8. Oats low 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 to 2c. In provisions the outcome varied from 3c decline to 25c advance. Announcement that arrivals of corn in Chicago today totalled 300 carloads swung the balance of power to the bear side shortly after the opening. Subsequently, sharp setbacks in quotations on cash wheat became the dominating factor in the corn market. Far more notice was taken today of Mr. Barnes' admonition than was yesterday the case. Oats like corn were weakened by liquidation. Business with the bearward was restricted owing to car scarcity. Provisions for the most part reflected the weakness of grain, despite withstanding huge shipments of pack, higher quotations on hogs and notwithstanding huge shipments of packing house products in the last two days. Cash Grain. Chicago—Cash No. 2 mixed $1.52 @1.53; No. 2 yellow $1.53. Oats—No. 2 white $5 1/4 @ 5 1/4; No. 2 white $4 @ 5 1/4. Rye—No. 2, $1.82. Barley—$1.49 @ 1.57. Timothy seed—$9 @ $11. PHOTIC DINING TABLE. The danger of marring the finish of a dining table with a white spot caused by water which may soak through a centerpiece from a fern or other decorative plant often offsets enjoyment of the plant's beauty. An easy way to overcome this trouble is to cut a piece of cellophane the proper size and place it beneath the centerpiece. This will prevent moisture from penetrating the linen and marring the table.

INCREASE IS SHOWN IN EXPORTATIONS OF WHEAT

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The United States Grain Corporation announced today exports of wheat from July 1, 1919, to January 2, amounted to 117,482,000 bushels as compared with 106,817,000 bushels for the same six months in the preceding year. Total stocks of wheat at mills and elevators on January 2 were 243,467,000 bushels and the wheat receipts from farmers for the week were 3,354,000 bushels. Flour produced amounted to 2,031,890 barrels.

PAINT THE TOP STEP.

Collar steps seem always to be in the dark, unexpected places, inviting accidents. A little forethought might take away the danger. Why not paint the top of the first step with some light colored paint? This will catch the eye and clearly define the stairway opening.

POTATO BREAKFAST WILL BE REVIVED

Chamber of Commerce Inaugurates Plans for Revival of Old-Time Custom

The old potato breakfast which made Twin Falls famous, is to be revived this year by the chamber of commerce.

This action was taken by the board of directors at the meeting held last night, the first in the new quarters of the chamber. Monday evening, February 16, was fixed as the date for the function. E. Booth, R. H. Stevenson and Zenas Smith were named as the committee on arrangements to perfect plans for the affair and arrange the program. Mr. Booth leaves this afternoon for California for a fortnight, after which plans for the breakfast will be perfected.

The list of members of the various bureaus was completed, and these will begin their functions at once, handling the various matters which will arise.

Discussion of the needs of the schools for additional room was considered. The cramped condition of the schools, due to unprecedented and wholly unexpected growth has resulted in such a jam of the buildings as to seriously threaten the work next year. Indeed, the rooms are all cramped now, and there is woeful lack of room for the departments. Alarmed at this condition and the necessity for additional buildings, the board adopted for a bond issue as submitted by the board of education, and will take its active part in the campaign to get out the vote, as well as to educate the public in the premises.

Arrangements were made for signs for the offices of the chamber, tennis enthusiasts were given permission to use the chamber Friday night for a meeting, decision was reached to leave the matter of a baseball team to the ball fans and the secretary was instructed to arrange to have the large pictures of Twin Falls and Shoshone hung in some regular depot in either Chicago or Omaha, where they may be seen by tourists headed this way.

WATERPOWER BILL DEBATE NEAR END

Anticipate Final Vote On Measure Sometime Today—Lenroot Predicts Its Veto

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—By a vote of 40 to 16, the senate, hearing final action on the waterpower development bill, rejected today an amendment by Senator Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, which would have exempted the waters of the St. Lawrence and Niagara rivers from the provisions of the bill.

All of the principle amendments to the bill, which the house passed last June, were acted on during the five hours the measure was before the senate and indications tonight was that a final vote would be taken tomorrow. In case of another tie, the waterpower bill has been before congress for ten years.

Senator Nelson, republican, Minnesota, in charge of the bill, sharply resented during debate today, arguments by opponents of the measure to the effect that congress in passing the bill would be giving away waterpower and he would not suggest that the people holding big power development plants were trying to defeat it.

Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, predicted that in the end the measure would be vetoed by President Wilson because of amendments limiting franchises.

Adoption early in the day of an amendment by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, providing for development of Great Falls, in the Potomac river, near Washington, at a cost not to exceed $25,000,000, was attacked by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, who declared he would demand a separate vote on it later.

the commission's proposed work was afforded them and until representatives of the operators could consult their associates, Henry N. Robinson, representative of the public and president of the commission, after conferring with his associates, John P. White, representing the miners, and Humboldt, agreed to take the inquiries under advisement and reply later.
