Bernstorff Told Government That Only Another Lusitania Could Bring War.

WAS ORDERED TO WATCH PRES. WILSON CLOSELY

Von Jagow Says American Executive Too Much Pro-British-Also Too Naive.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Thursday, Jan. 22.—The telegrams of Count von Bernstorff, the former German ambassador at Washington, to his government from April, 1916, to February, 1917, are published in Berlin, according to the Daily Mail's correspondent, who sends a summary. It begins with von Bernstorff's description of the situation caused in America by the torpedoing of the Sussex, the ambassador saying that the White house regarded the situation as hopeless and adding:

"A repetition of such a blunder would force America into the war against us, which President Wilson would greatly regret because in a few months he would like to bring about peace."

"Says Wilson Too Naive."

On June 7, 1916, von Jagow, then foreign minister, telegraphed to the ambassador regarding American peace efforts, saying:

"We are skeptical of the mediation of a statesman whose whole conception so inclines to the British standpoint and who is as naive as Wilson."

Von Bernstorff was therefore instructed to watch President Wilson's intention regarding mediation, adding that if they coincided with the British inclination, "it will take your excellency to prevent President Wilson from approaching us with a positive suggestion of mediation."

Wilson Wanted Re-election.

The ambassador on July 13, concerned as to how the mediation would affect relations, declared that President Wilson's only thought "is his re-election," and says: "Another Lusitania would be necessary to bring America into the war."

In September of the same year, ruthless submarine warfare was under discussion and von Bernstorff urged postponement. The German emperor at this stage sent the ambassador a private confidential memorandum. This is not published but the chancellor, instructed von Bernstorff to hand it to the American ambassador, to Germany, Mr. Gerard, confidentially on the latter's arrival, saying that it did not imply a menace about war. He was also instructed to draw American attention to "the increasingly cruel methods of our enemies."

Huns Hated for Peace.

Later the chancellor urged von Bernstorff to encourage the president to issue a spontaneous appeal for peace, which he said, would be gladly accepted by Germany, adding:

"If the president cannot come to this decision alone he must consult with the pope, the king of Spain and European neutrals in common action which will not be rejected by the entente and would secure President Wilson's re-election and his historical fame."

Regarding President Wilson's misfortune of December 21, Herr Zimmermann, (the former secretary), informed von Bernstorff that although Germany would reply to the president's invitation by suggesting an immediate conference of the belligerents, they would not consent that it be held in America.

House Able to Keep Secret.

Subsequent to that time, telegrams from von Bernstorff to the United States House of Representatives, which he said, would be gladly accepted by Germany, adding:

"If the president cannot come to this decision alone he must consult with the pope, the king of Spain and European neutrals in common action which will not be rejected by the entente and would secure President Wilson's re-election and his historical fame."

BRYAN DENOUNCES JERSEY GOVERNOR

Declares That He Will Fight Edwards Candidacy for the Office of President.

By the Associated Press.
NOFOLK, Va., Jan. 21.—William Jennings Bryan, speaking here today under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America, declared that he would oppose any movement to bring about the selection of Gov. Edward J. Edwards, of New Jersey, as the democratic nominee for president in 1920.

The former secretary of state also asserted that if the address made by Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee, at the dinner held last night in Newark, in Jersey, executive correctly expressed the chairman's attitude, he would oppose him for chairman of the national committee.

Referring to the address made by Chairman Cummings, Mr. Bryan said:

"If that is Cummings' attitude, he'll never be chairman of the democratic committee again if I can help it."

Referring to Governor Edwards, whom he said conducted his campaign in New Jersey on a "wet" ticket, Mr. Bryan said:

"If Nebraska instructs for Edwards, and I am a delegate, I'll resign. I'll never vote to nominate a man like that."

MILLIONAIRE RED ONE OF 37 COMMUNISTS INDICTED

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—William Bruce Lloyd, millionaire, and 37 other alleged members of the communist labor party of America, were indicted today by a special grand jury investigating "red" activities in Illinois, on charges of conspiracy to overthrow the government by force in violation of the state syndicalism act.

IRELAND SCENE OF MORE DISORDERS

ANOTHER CONSTABLE SHOT.
DUBLIN, Ireland, Jan. 21.—Another constable was shot and badly wounded last night while returning to his home here. Armed squads later searched the district and entered several houses, looking for the assailants and also questioned pedestrians. No arrests were made.

IN RETALIATION.
LONDON, Jan. 21.—A dispatch received by the Daily Mail from Thurles says the disturbances there arose out of retaliation for the unprovoked shooting of a constable. In some cases hand grenades were thrown into houses and shots were fired through doors and windows.

The residence of Charles Cahane, president of Sinn Fein club, says the dispatch, "was roughly treated. Every pane of glass in the lower part of the house was smashed including mirrors and furniture. Policemen burst into the hall door and searched the house for Cahane, but he had fled, declaring that he would 'be a dead man if he were found.'"

The Daily Mail's correspondent, who is accompanying the English parliamentary delegation which included Thurles during the excitement, sends a dispatch to his paper as follows:

"As he walked through the streets, Arthur Henderson, chairman of the delegation, said he scene recalled the ravaged villages of France, during the war. The populace commented volubly their excitement upon 'the great business we got from England's government.'"

Constables when asked their version of the affair spoke with equal excitement and anger and said they had been without sleep since Friday owing to an attack on a police station three miles away.

"The district has been seething with hostilities against the constabulary since the Sinn Fein started their limit of what flesh and blood can stand," said one constable. "No wonder some of our chaps were angry last night."

McCary of Birmingham, formerly an investigator for the department of justice, today presented to the house war expenditures committee the first charges at the inquiry here as to alleged graft in the well guarded plant and shipped to Sheffield, nearby and there used in construction of a building on the principal street of the town.

The witness declared that it had been proved in a number of instances where the money was not paid for government trucks and hauled to East Florence and there set up as homes for people living in them today.

SOCIALISTS GOVERNED BY REDS, CHARGE

Hillquit's Plea Is Answered by Littleton Before Assembly's Committee.

CROWD CHEERS TALK IN SPITE OF RULES

Aliens Paying Party Dues Could Rule Suspended Assemblymen, is Contention of Attorney.

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Invective against the loyalty of the five suspended socialist assemblymen was asserted at their trial today before the assembly judiciary committee, to involve the question as to whether socialists can hypocritically masquerade as a political party, strike hands with every agency of force and revolution, and still make simple American people understand they are not the sworn enemies of their country and ready to overthrow it.

Backed by Lenine.

This assertion was made by Morris W. Littleton. He charged that Trotsky and Lenine are attempting installation in America of the soviet form of government and that before 42 waves of public opinion stirred by the case have published "this country will understand that this so-called political party is the agent and co-ordinator with the dark forces of the invisible empire whose object is to bring about the destruction of constitutional government in America."

Hillquit of Albany.

Mr. Littleton declared that social legislators could be ruled by alien paying party dues, and that "they at the hired agents of a group of aliens come to carry out the plans of higher agents as far as they can, the councils of a free government."

There was a burst of applause when Mr. Littleton, after denouncing the attitude of the socialist party toward the war, referred to a remark by Morris Hillquit, chief counsel of the defense, saying:

"Mr. Hillquit said yesterday 'what may be treason today, may be the law of the land tomorrow; will be the law tomorrow if you traitors write the law.'"

This later brought sharp objection from Mr. Hillquit, who declared Littleton's "reactionary un-American statement invoked applause in court to the everlasting shame of those who participated."

TREATY FIXERS ARE NEAR COMPROMISE

Indications Point to Possibility of Agreeing on Article 10 and Voting Power.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Marked improvement in possibility of composing the senate deadlock over the peace treaty, was reported tonight by leaders participating in the bi-partisan compromise negotiations.

Although the leaders yesterday came to a close schism, today's meeting, it was stated upon most authoritative information, resulted in material progress toward a compromise. At no time since the bi-partisan conference began a week ago, one of the active leaders declared, have the prospects been so bright for an agreement between the four republican and four democratic members of the committee.

It was added however, that tomorrow might bring another change in the situation.

Possibility of harmonizing differences over the fundamental controversy—article ten of the league of nations covenant, and the question of equal voting in the league—were the basis of feeling among the conferees tonight that a compromise may yet be reached. The conferees also feel sure that, possibly with some difficulties, any compromise which the bi-partisan conferees could agree on would be accepted by the senate.

AMERICAN FALLS RESERVOIR

Contract Between the United States of America and Twin Falls Canal Company.

1. THIS AGREEMENT, made this _____ day of _____ 19____ between the United States of America, and its assigns, pursuant to the provisions of the act of congress of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388) and acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, and particularly section two (2) of the act of congress of February 21, 1911 (36 Stat. 925), acting for this purpose through _____ of the U. S. Reclamation Service, subject to the approval of the proper supervisory officer of the United States Reclamation Service, the party of the first part, hereinafter referred to as the United States, and _____ hereinafter referred to as the Contractor, the party of the second part.

2. Whereas, the United States contemplates the construction of the Snake River valley, in the state of Idaho, known as the North Side pumping unit of the Minidoka project, the irrigable lands of the same being located on the north side of Snake river and to the north and west of the constructed units of the Minidoka project, and whereas, the United States desires to secure at some convenient location on Snake river above the said Minidoka project, a suitable storage reservoir, or storage capacity sufficient to furnish the stored water needed in connection with the reclamation of the lands of the said project, and any other project, or projects, in Snake River valley which may be undertaken by the United States.

3. And Whereas, there are a number of proposed projects and subdivisions of projects both above and below American Falls, including a very large acreage of arid lands which may be reclaimed by storing and saving the flood water and letting flow now going to waste in Snake river.

4. And Whereas, the land owners under many of the existing canals in the Snake river valley have suffered a heavy loss of crops on account of a shortage of water during certain portions of the irrigation season of 1919, and other years, and in order to supplement the water right of the existing canals in the valley and guard against a repetition of the losses which have occurred in the past, it is desired to provide for the construction of an additional reservoir or reservoirs on Snake river, and whereas, the various individuals, canal companies, and irrigation districts diverting water from Snake river and from the south fork of Snake river have indicated that they desire to secure, and are willing to pay for additional storage to an aggregate amount of about seven hundred forty thousand (740,000) acre-feet to supplement the rights of the existing canals diverting from the Snake river, and the south fork of Snake river.

5. And Whereas, the applicants for over ninety (90) per cent of the proposed supplemental storage have expressed a preference for having the work handled by the U. S. Reclamation Service.

6. And Whereas, the best site on Snake river for the construction of a large reservoir is at American Falls, being especially desirable for reservoir purposes on account of possessing the necessary topographical and geological features and being so located as to collect all the return flow the purpose of furnishing water to the lands lying thereunder.

12. And Whereas, the Contractor desires to secure the use of _____ acre-foot additional storage capacity to supplement the rights of the said American Falls reservoir.

14. And Whereas, the Contractor's canal located below American Falls, and the Contractor is willing to receive in lieu of the water, which it is entitled to receive from Jackson Lake reservoir, an equal amount of water from the said American Falls reservoir, when the said American Falls reservoir shall have been constructed and water stored therein for the purpose of such exchange.

14a. And Whereas, the Contractor has in the past diverted a portion of the winter flow of the Snake river into the Contractor's canal, but finds that this practice has resulted in serious damage to the canal system and has greatly increased the expense of operation and upkeep.

14b. And Whereas, the storage of the winter flow of the Snake river in the said American Falls reservoir will materially increase the safe annual yield of the reservoir and thereby give greater assurance of a full supply of irrigation water to the Contractor.

15. Now, therefore, it is hereby agreed that _____ The United States will construct on Snake river at or near American Falls, Idaho, a dam of sufficient size to create a storage reservoir of from six hundred thousand (600,000) acre-foot to three million (3,000,000) or more acre-foot capacity, as the secretary of the interior shall find to be needed to meet the requirements of the parties desiring to share in the benefits of such reservoir and able and willing to advance their respective pro-rata shares of the funds necessary for such construction.

16. That the secretary of the interior, after the contracts of the various parties desiring to participate in the construction of said reservoir, and the use and benefit thereof shall have been received, and the first and second payments made thereon, as hereinafter provided, and after determining the amount of storage desired for proposed government reclamation projects, shall determine the size of the reservoir to be constructed, and will send the Contractor a statement of the approximate height of the dam, not decided upon, and his estimate of the storage capacity which will be made available thereby, provided that if after the said statement has been issued, other parties shall desire to participate in the construction of the said reservoir, the secretary of the interior, if he deem it advisable may admit them to such participation on terms not more favorable to such parties than the terms provided in this contract, and, in that event, he shall re-determine the size of the reservoir to be constructed, and will send the Contractor a revised statement of the approximate height of the dam, and a revised estimate of the storage capacity which will be made available thereby, and this statement and estimate shall supersede any statements and estimates previously issued.

17. The Contractor will pay to the United States in installments, as hereinafter provided, his share of the total cost of said reservoir which _____ acre-foot of the total storage capacity of the said proposed reservoir as estimated in the said statement of the secretary of the interior, shall be added to the use and benefit of the same proportionate share of the storage capacity made available by the construction of said reservoir, the said total cost of said American Falls reservoir to include all cost and expense of whatever nature or kind in connection with, growing out of, or resulting from the construction of said reservoir, including the cost and expense of labor, material, and equipment, engineering, superintendence, administration and overhead expense, and the cost of the right of way, property, rights of way and damages of whatever kind.

17a. That the first installment shall be ten cents ($10) per acre-foot which shall be paid by the Contractor to the United States at the time this contract is signed by the Contractor, and the balance shall be paid in installments for acceptance and approval. Should this contract not be accepted or approved, then this first installment shall be returned in full to the Contractor.

18. That within ninety (90) days after the Contractor shall have been notified of the approval of the contract by the secretary of the interior, the Contractor will pay to the United States the sum of _____ dollars, being at the rate of two ($2.00) dollars per acre-foot of the storage capacity applied for by the Contractor, as the second installment, toward the cost of said reservoir and thereafter the contractor of the U. S. Reclamation Service, the chief of construction, or the engineer of the U. S. Reclamation Service, at immediate charge of the contractor of the said reservoir, will make quarterly estimates of the amount of money needed for each three months period, and at least sixty (60) days prior to the beginning of the quarterly or three month period for which such estimate is made, will notify the Contractor of the amount of money needed for use during such quarter, and at least thirty (30) days prior to the beginning of such quarter, the Contractor will pay to the United States his proportionate share of the total amount so estimated to be needed during such three months period, the Contractor to pay the same proportionate part of each quarterly estimate, which it has agreed to pay to the total cost of the reservoir, i. e. the proportionate part of the total capacity of the proposed reservoir as estimated by the secretary of the interior in the said statement provided for in paragraph 16 thereof, provided that if the said second installment shall not be received on a sufficient number of contracts to make it possible to build _____ or at least five hundred thousand (500,000) acre-foot at American Falls, then at any time after the expiration of nine (9) months after the Contractor shall have been notified of the approval of this contract by the secretary of the interior the said second payment of two ($2.00) dollars per acre-foot will be refunded to the Contractor upon its demand and the contract thereby cancelled; but it is understood and agreed that the said first payment of ten cents ($0.10) per acre-foot will probably, by that time, have been spent and will not be returned, but will be forfeited by the Contractor. Upon the completion of the said American Falls reservoir, the director of the U. S. reclamation service shall make a statement of the total cost and expense of said reservoir, including all the items heretofore mentioned as chargeable to the cost and expense of said reservoir, and the Contractor's pro-rata share thereof in the proportion above specified, and if the amount chargeable to the Contractor under said contract, as ascertained by such statement in accordance with the provisions made by the Contractor, and the Contractor shall pay to the United States the amount of such excess, but if the amount so chargeable to the Contractor be less than the advanced payments made by the Contractor, the United States shall return the difference to the Contractor, so that when the final settlement has been made the Contractor will have paid its pro-rata share of the cost of the reservoir as finally determined in said statement.

20. The Contractor will give security for the faithful performance of the conditions of this contract and the payment of the sums herein agreed to be paid, either by the giving of a surety bond in the sum of ten ($10.00) dollars per acre-foot for the number of acre-foot named in paragraph 17 hereof, in such form and with such satisfactory to the director of the reclamation service, or other security satisfactory to the director of the reclamation service, such security to accompany this contract (if such bond or other security is given the remainder of this paragraph may be stricken out) or by the giving of a mortgage lien upon the above described ditch or canal property of the Contractor. scribed ditch or canal property of the Contractor for all the sums, installments and amounts herein agreed to be paid by the Contractor up to a maximum amount of ten ($10.00) dollars per acre-foot of the number of acre-foot named in paragraph 17 hereof. It is understood that the Contractor is to pay its pro-rata share of the cost of the reservoir as finally determined whether more or less than ten ($10.00) dollars per acre-foot, but that the said ten ($10.00) dollars per acre-foot is the maximum amount the Contractor is to be required to pay in any event until all payments provided for in paragraphs 17, 18 and 19 hereof have been made, or this contract has been terminated as provided, and such lien may be foreclosed in the manner provided by law for the foreclosure of a mortgage, provided, however, that the United States hereby consents and agrees that the lien or mortgage hereby given to the United States upon the Contractor's ditch or canal property, shall be subordinate and secondary to the lien of any mortgage or deed of trust which may be given by the Contractor to secure the payment of money borrowed by the Contractor and paid to the United States under the terms of this contract and the Contractor is authorized to execute any instrument superior to the lien of the United States to secure the payment of the money so borrowed by the Contractor and actually paid to the United States to fulfill the Contractor's obligations under this contract.

21. Should the Contractor fail to pay the second installment of $10.00 dollars within ninety (90) days after receiving notice of the approval of the contract by the secretary of the interior, the secretary of the interior shall have the right to cancel this contract and terminate the Contractor's rights thereunder, and after such termination, the Contractor shall have no right of any sort in said American Falls reservoir, nor any of the waters thereof.

22. Should the Contractor fail to pay any subsequent installment, or installments, as the same may be provided for in this agreement, the secretary of the interior may, at his option, cancel the contract and terminate all rights hereunder, and it is agreed that the amount of damages which would result from any such default of the Contractor, in making such payments, shall be the amount of delay in the completion and use of the reservoir, and the possible difficulties of securing funds for the completion thereof in case of such default or failure of the Contractor, and the loss and extra cost per acre-foot which might result should it be necessary to change the plan and size of the reservoir after the work is begun, being uncertain, the parties hereby estimate and agree that in case of such default or failure of the Contractor, and the cancellation or termination of this contract, that account the damage to the United States on account of such failure or default of the Contractor will be the sum of two and ten-hundredths ($2.10) dollars per acre-foot of the storage capacity proposed to be furnished for the Contractor, in said reservoir, i. e., a sum of $21.00 dollars, and the parties hereby agree that in case of the failure of the Contractor to pay any such subsequent installment as agreed, the liquidated damages shall be the said first and second installments of $10.00 dollars.

23. In case of such failure of the Contractor to pay any such installment, the secretary of the interior, instead of canceling or terminating this contract, may at his option continue the contract and enforce the suit herein agreed to be made by the Contractor, or its bondsmen, or both, or for foreclosure of the lien herein provided.

24. Should any of the parties who agree to cooperate in the construction and use of the said reservoir, voluntarily at American Falls, Ind. (hereinafter referred to as "the Contractor") fail to fulfill its contract and make the first and second payments thereon, to make the subsequent payments necessary to meet its share of the cost and expense of the said reservoir and its contract be cancelled, that account, and should such default result in insufficient funds being available for carrying on the said work, and should no new party or parties be found ready and willing to take over the interest of such defaulting party, and unless the party necessary to complete payment of such defaulting party's share of the reservoir, then it is agreed that the Contractor, together with all the other parties remaining in the said enterprise, will take over at the cost thereof, less the amount agreed by the defaulting party, and pro-rata among themselves in proportion to their respective interests in the said reservoir, the storage capacity intended for such defaulting party, and in the same ratio will complete the payments that should have been made by the defaulting party, but in such reservoir so secured by the Contractor on account of the failure or default of some other party may be sold by the Contractor whenever a purchaser can be found for the same.

25. Each year after the said American Falls reservoir has been completed, or is near enough to completion to allow of the storage of water therein, the United States will furnish the Contractor in said reservoir the Contractor's proportionate share of the water actually available from the said American Falls reservoir, but an amount of water equal to the proportionate part of the stored water actually available from American Falls reservoir, that acre-feet is of the total capacity thereof as estimated by the secretary of the interior in the agreement provided for in paragraph 16 hereof, together with an amount equal to the Contractor's proportionate share of the water available from any capacity (if any) taken over from a defaulting party as provided in paragraph 24 hereof, if paid for by the Contractor and not assigned, provided the Contractor order and pay for the same in the manner herein agreed, and subject to the provisions of paragraphs 31 and 35 hereof.

26. The water to be furnished to the Contractor under the provisions of this contract shall be turned out of the American Falls reservoir as ordered by the Contractor, but at a rate not in excess of the Contractor's pro-rata share of the outlet capacity of the reservoir, provided the United States be notified by the Contractor of the times and rates of delivery desired, in abundant time to enable it to transmit the proper instructions to its agent in charge of the dam and storage reservoir, and in any event, at least three (3) days prior to the time that delivery is to begin, or any change in the rate of delivery is to be made.

27. Instead of notifying the United States of the amount of water to be turned out each day for the Contractor, the Contractor may, if it so desires, notify the state officer, or other officer in charge of the distribution of stored water from the outlet of the amount of flow, or number of second-feet which it desires to maintain in its canal during the various periods of the irrigation season and authorize or allow such officer to order out the amount of stored water which in his judgment will be required to maintain the desired flow in the Contractor's canal and in that event the said officer will be regarded as the Contractor's agent for the purposes of ordering the stored water to be turned out of the said reservoir to the Snake river to which it is not entitled, and which rightfully belongs to another, when there is stored water flowing in the river then and by that event it authorizes the officer of the United States in charge of the reservoir and the said officer in charge of the distribution of the stored water, to deduct the amount of such wrongful diversion from the supply of stored water to which the Contractor would otherwise be entitled.

28. The stored water to which the Contractor is entitled under this contract will be delivered and measured to the Contractor at the outlets of the reservoir and the Contractor will stand its pro-rata share of any losses which may occur between the reservoir and the Mines dam.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS AND THEIR PROBLEMS.

A saving sense of humor will carry the American people through the months which must intervene between now and the time our national standard bearers shall be chosen.

With Leonard Wood and Pershing dividing the support of military enthusiasts; with Poindexter challenging Wood to joint debate, Borah interjecting himself to the discomfort of all candidates; with Lowden assuming dignity and Warren Harding wondering whether his Ohio friends will be as fickle as he was while charged with leadership of Foraker's fight; with Myron T. Herrick craving the limelight, and Zerfo Burton watching the fall of the thermometer; with Lodge aiming and Johnson spouting the field is filled with hopefuls amusing if nothing else, all of which indicates hilarity if not division when the republicans foregather in their people-saving conclave of virtue and wisdom.

Meanwhile, democrats are wondering whether Jim Cox will be able to Daytonize the Ohio delegation, to the detriment of Pomerene and the disgust of Jim Faulkner; Pennsylvanians are preparing platitudes in support of their man Palmer, who is likened to a republican candidate from Texas, and Virginians are saying that if a man from south of the Mason and Dixie line is to be chosen, it had better be Carter Glass than Underwood, indicating a division of the solid south between these two ambitious members of the upper house; McAdoo is missing no opportunity to meddle, Reed to create discord, and a bunch of less known if quite as able men to sit back and run salt into the party wounds. Can harmony come out of it all?

Wanted, a leader.

A man big enough to win the hearts of his countrymen, to merit their confidence and to inspire the belief that if elected president he will to the best of his ability do day by day the things which are to be done; one who offers no general panacea, and who guarantees no cure-all for the political diseases which infest; a man of clear vision, integrity, courage, who cannot be bluffed by labor agitators nor bribed by muddy wealth.

He is not in sight in either party.

Meanwhile the fledglings flutter and the fossils scold and chatter.

PROHIBITION AND REVOLUTION.

It is rather startling information that is brought to America by Rev. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, pastor of Westminster Chapel, London.

"Wherever a great country banishes strong drink," he says, "it must prepare for a revolution. When a man stops drinking, he begins to think. All that happened in Russia in the revolutionary line has since occurred vodka was abolished. Whenever London goes dry, her East End will rise."

After this warning, it requires courage, indeed, for the United States to inaugurate constitutional prohibition. It may be true, though, that the Rev. Dr. Morgan, with all his learning, knows some things that are not so.

Up to this time, there seem to have been only two great prohibition experiments conducted on a national scale. The Russian revolution certainly did follow the outlawing of vodka. Every logician, however, knows that the mere fact of one thing following in point of time does not necessarily mean that there is a casual connection. Turning to the other big experiment, we find that the Arabs and Turks accomplished their greatest conquests and their most constructive work under the dry regime instituted by Mohammed, and that their decadence in recent generations has been accompanied by growing laxity in the use of alcohol. Thus, whatever one of these cases may prove, the other may disprove.

The thing, however, that rivets attention by Dr. Morgan's statements is his remark that "when a man stops drinking, he begins to think." If alcohol has kept the brains of large classes of men and even whole nations so sodden that they could not function, and if deprivation of alcohol will release their thinking power, most of us will take a chance on prohibition, come what may.

But it is really to be expected that these newly sober-folk will think nothing but revolutionary thoughts? Plenty of Americans have been sober right along, without turning Bolshevik; and, in fact, it has been a matter of observation heretofore that red plots were generally hatched in bars.

DEMOCRATIZING GERMANY.

Most of the news coming from Germany nowadays, of whatever nature, seems to arouse little interest. The American public is rather "fed up" on Germany. Here, however, is a bit of news worth noticing. The Berlin board of education is said to have started a thorough cleaning up of the school libraries, removing whatever books are found "contradictory to the new spirit of the times"

What books, then, are being removed? "All books of a chauvinistic, imperialistic, militaristic, nationalistic, monarchistic and anti-Semitic nature"

Surely here is proof that Germany is getting somewhere. The foundation of the old German militarism was laid in the public schools. Every school boy had it drilled into his ears that Germany was "the fatherland, surrounded by foes." Intense, narrow nationalism, hatred of other races, love of military display, worship of armed strength, the divine origin of German autocracy, all these were taught as educational gospel. Now, if this news is true, they are all banned.

The springs of national thought and feeling are no longer to be poisoned. There is to be room and opportunity for the development of real democracy, a truer outlook on life and a more sane and generous appreciation of other races.

And strangely enough, while Prussia is thus opening her heart to the larger, freer, friendlier, modish spirit, there are, among her conquerors, nations that seem inclined to rear their own children in a spirit of more narrow, selfish, exclusive, antagonistic nationalism than ever.

When the food administration was created, everybody agreed that it would be the most unpopular job in the world. And now a lot of people who had their food cut down are hollering for Hoover for president. Hooverizing must have improved their digestion.

A prize hog sold recently in Noblesville, Ind., for $35,000. Everybody who buys a pound of bacon at the butcher shop will think he's getting a piece of that hog.

It may not be pleasant to reflect that in Germany, at the present rate of exchange, $1 will buy 333 beers.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

LATEST METHODS FOR SECURING BUYERS AT BIG PUBLIC SALES

If you have attended many public sales on the Twin Falls tract, you have noticed there is a great deal of difference in the spirit of the crowd. Sometimes the bidding will be eager and snappy; other times it will drag and the sale will not get better. You have your own thought of this? You have if you expect to put on a sale. Results depend upon the sort of crowd out. It is not the curious who make good bidders. How was the crowd brought out? You don't leave your rig in the middle of the road and go to a fence post to read a sale bill, do you? They don't expect the other fellow to do it. Put an advertisement in the newspaper, then regardless of the weather the fellow you want to reach will see your announcement while seated at a fire-side. If he is a prospective buyer you'll have him at your sale. One extra buyer often pays the entire expense of the sale, and it's a poor advertisement that won't pull a buyer. Put an advertisement in The Chronicle and the people you are after. Bills may do a necessity, but the advertisement is the thing that does the business. Don't think of having a sale without using advertising space in The Chronicle.

COMMERCIAL AIR NAVIGATION COMING

American Just Back From Europe Tells of Daily Trips By German Air-Line Each Day.

WASHINGTON — Commercial air navigation is coming and the United States must prepare to meet the issue, declared Colonel William C. Hensley in a report to the air service, United States army, from Germany, where he is studying dirigibles. "Dirigibles are now possible in any kind or condition of weather," Colonel Hensley wrote. "No weather conditions except a strong east cross wind will prevent the Hindenburg, the commercial airplane built since the failure of the Zeppelin Airship Corporation at Friedrichshafen on Lake Constance, from making its daily flight (300 miles) to Staken, 13 miles from Berlin.

"Because she flies between Berlin and the natural outlet to Switzerland, the accommodations are at a premium. Bookings have been made four weeks in advance at 475 marks. "The design of the Hindenburg is the latest in airships, so far advanced over anything I have seen that one is led to express the opinion that, in airship construction (and operation, as well), all other countries are mere babes in the woods" compared to the Germans.

"Our airship construction and operation should be patterned after the most efficient system. There is no point in my mind that that system lies in Germany. "Commercial air navigation is coming and we must meet that issue very soon. Let us prepare to choose our course so that we shall make as few mistakes as possible. The building up of the present small commercial enterprises in Germany has meant numerous heartbreaking experiences. "Millions of marks have been lost in the beginning, and lives of members of crews have been lost, but let us make the eternal credit of the man with the fixed idea and his subordinate, that not a single passenger carried on a Zeppelin airship has been injured or killed, and to date total carried has reached the sum of 140,000.

"This statement does not mean that accidents will not occur. Intelligent boys can take airships into the air and bring them down in flames in the heart of a large city, or careless of flocks and men may explode a dirigible on the ground and burn a number of spectators; but we can at least control the external credit of the known principles, that can be obtained from an intimate study of the German methods, and thus minimize the number of disasters.

"America is by nature the chosen spot of all the world for commercial airship work; with her great expanse of territory within, with her front frontiers and insular possessions, with her commercial possibilities in Central and South America, with her centers of population disposed so as to require more rapid transport than yet in operation, with her push and energy that bids for supremacy in all things good with her supply of human gum unequalled in all the world, should bid strong for that which, unquestionably, her way in the path of progress."

KAISER UNPERTURBED BY DEMANDS OF THE ALLIES

By the Associated Press. AMSTERDAM, Holland, Jan. 21.—While the diplomats of the great powers are occupying themselves with a demand for a surrender for trial, Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, as for those outside, Hindenburg castle can learn remains unperturbed.

Today water from the swollen Rhine is overflowing a part of the Dutch estate but the castle itself is not flooded.

The floods came at an opportune time to relieve any mental strain the one time emperor may have had as a result of the extradition proceedings. He is working hard daily with the laborers strengthening the dikes and there is no sign apparent that he intends either to return to Germany or to surrender voluntarily to the Allies.

FINED $10 AND COSTS FOR FIGHTING WITH HINDS

Police Judge W. A. Minck yesterday fined Frank Gregory $10 and costs, the total amounting to $12.50, following a hearing on drunk and disorderly charges. The complaint was made by a Hindu who charged that Gregory tried to force him to purchase a round of hard cider at a local pool hall. J. Murphy, arrested at the same time as Gregory, was released.

TWO BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED; TOTAL $4100

Two building permits were granted by the city clerk's office yesterday. U. T. Tracy was granted permission to construct a 4000 home on Washington Hill, on the 1st-long addition, while L. Barber secured a permit to add a 1000 porch at his home on 15th avenue north.

ALLIANCE TO FIGHT REBS.

By the Associated Press. BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 21.—The net result of the conference of representatives of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Poland, which has been in progress here for a week and which closed tonight, is the appointment of a commission to work out a plan for a defensive alliance against secret Russia.

LARGE CROWD GREET PERSHING

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 21.—General John J. Pershing was greeted today by what he described "the largest crowd outside the army I ever talked to in my life," at the stadium here following his luncheon at Camp Lewis. It was estimated 20,000 persons cheered the general when he appeared in the stadium.

STEPS ON PROMISSORY NOTE.

Suit was filed in the district court yesterday by the Consolidated Wagon and Machine company against Mrs. A. H. Beebe to recover $115.50 alleged to be due on note. The plaintiff also seeks to recover $50 attorneys' fees. It is alleged the note was given at La Grange, Ind. in 1917.

WOUNDED PROFIT UNDER SWEET BILL

Measure Recently Made National Law Will Be Great Aid to Service Men

WASHINGTON—How money benefits paid under the War Risk Insurance Act have been increased and the class of beneficiaries enlarged by the recently enacted Sweet bill was explained by its author, Representative Sweet, of Iowa:

Converted insurance may now be paid in a lump sum, or in installments for 36 months or more at the option of the policyholder. Mr. Sweet said, while the policies may be made payable in any of the following:

Parent, grandparent, step-parent, parent through adoption, husband, wife, child, grandchild, stepchild, brother, sister, half-sister, half-brother, brother through adoption, stepmother, nephew, niece, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, any person who is in the relation of a parent to the insured for one year before the insured's enlistment, the children of such person; and parent through adoption of the insured's wife or husband.

"The monthly compensation paid under the law," said Mr. Sweet, "is more than double—almost treble—that paid in the past. This increase, which is permanent, will add $80,000,000 a year to the amounts paid by the government to the disabled ex-service men and their families.

"By the retroactive provisions of the law, all payments of compensation will be increased to the new basis. Payments now are being made by the war risk bureau to make up the difference between the old rate of compensation and the new one. This is an immediate and direct benefit to 241,822 veterans, among $14,600,000 is being distributed. For instance, an unmarried soldier who has been drawing $30 a month for the last year will receive $60 at once, the monthly compensation by new law being increased by 60 in the case."

Mr. Sweet also explained the permanent monthly increases provided for all disabled ex-service men. For total disability; the new compensation will be paid as follows: To the unmarried veteran, $80 a month, an increase from $30.

To the veteran with a wife, $90 a month, an increase from $45.

To the veteran with a wife and two or more children, $100 a month, an increase from $65.

To the veteran with no wife, but one child, $90 a month, with $5 for each additional child, an increase from $45.

To the veteran with dependent parents, an extra allowance of $10 a month, for each is also granted.

"Of course, all disabilities will not come within the rating of total temporary," Mr. Sweet said, "and so the new law provides that all disabilities shall be rated by the war risk bureau. These other ratings are: Partial and temporary, total and permanent, and partial and permanent, and for each the monthly compensation shall be a percentage of the degree of reduction in earning capacity resulting from the disability. The reduction in earning capacity must be at least ten percent before one can receive any compensation.

"For total permanent disability, the compensation is fixed at $100 a month. The law specifically provides that the loss of both feet or both hands, or the sight of both eyes, or the loss of one foot and one hand, or one foot and one eye, or one hand and one eye, or becoming permanently bedridden shall be deemed to be total permanent disability. Then, too, double total permanent disability entitles one to $200 a month as long as he lives. For instance, this double payment is for the few men who lost both eyes, one hand and one foot, or both eyes and both hands, or both eyes and both feet.

"The helplessly disabled are further cared for under the new law by the provisions directing the war risk bureau to allow an additional $20 a month to those veterans in need of an attendant.

"No penalty is imposed by the law on those disabled men for their initial success in overcoming the handicap of a permanent injury. The law directs that disability ratings shall be based as far as practicable upon the average impairments of earning capacity resulting from injuries in civil occupations and not upon the impairment of earning capacity in each individual case. From time to time the bureau is directed to readjust the schedule of ratings in accordance with actual experience."

"Besides the money paid by the government as compensation to the war-disabled men, the law also provides that all injured veterans shall be furnished with reasonable government medical aid and hospital care, and such supplies, including artificial limbs, trusses and similar appliances as the war risk bureau may determine.

"This medical and hospital treatment will be given to Americans, who may be living in foreign countries as well as in the United States, and Americans who fought in the armies of the allies can receive the treatment in the hospitals of this country.

"About a third thousand Americans were part of the Canadian army and of necessity the Canadian government must look after these men who are maimed and crippled, no matter where they live. Many have returned to the United States and can be treated in our own government hospitals by the new law authorizing the bureau to establish reciprocal arrangements for the treatment of veterans. In turn, the Americans who go to Canada can be treated in the Canadian hospitals or supplied with artificial limbs and appliances. In other cases, one government will call upon the other to be reimbursed for services rendered and for appliances furnished."

Provisions of the new law liberalizing the insurance provisions of the original war risk act also were explained by Mr. Sweet, who enumerated numerous benefits to the veteran that will result from this bill.

"The original law confined and restricted the beneficiaries to a very limited class," said Mr. Sweet, "but the new law increases this class and also extends the definition of the forms 'father' and 'mother' to include persons who have stood in loco parentis (places of parents) to a member of the military service for at least one year.

"There are many cases where the soldier or sailor has designated an aunt or uncle or some one who has been in the position of parent to him, prior to entering the war. These persons under the original law were not within the permitted class of beneficiaries and the intention of the soldier was thus defeated, and the insurance would go to the father, if living, who has perhaps never paid any attention to the boy. With the new provisions of the law, if the soldier has designated his aunt who in reality has been a mother to him, she will in fact, become his beneficiary and receive insurance money. These changes are made retroactive to the date of the passage of the original war risk insurance act.

"Then, too, the new law permits converted insurance to be made assignable; that is, a beneficiary can make assignment of his interest to another person, provided that the latter is within the permitted class of beneficiaries.

"Another change in the insurance provisions provides that automatic insurance is provided for the first 120 days after a person's admission to the military service. This automatic insurance, amounting to $75 a month for twenty years, was under the original law granted only for the first six months of the life of the original act. The extension under the new law, will cost the government about $6,000,000. Incidentally, the extension grants the insurance to all of the officers and crew of the Naval cutter Cyclops, which disappeared at sea in 1916 when bringing a cargo of war ore from South America.

"For the unfortunate ex-service confined in asylums, the new law gives the immediate benefits of the insurance without waiting the appointment of guardians. Money payable to such persons will be placed in the treasury to their credit, and may be disbursed to the chief executive office of the system for the maintenance and comfort of the inmate.

"Another change in the insurance provisions is that authorizing the insurance to be paid to the ex-serviceman's estate where no one of the permitted class survives the insured.

"To dispose of the so-called 'inducted man' problem, provision is made that if, after induction by the local draft board, but before accepted and enrolled at camp for active service, the person dies or has become disabled by injury—such as a train wreck enroute to camp, or disease not due to willful misconduct, that he shall receive compensation, as increased by the new law, and further, if application was made for insurance that it shall be deemed valid."

HIGH SILVER PRICE HAMPERING MEXICO

Lack of Small Change Cause of Decrease in Business During the Holidays

MEXICO CITY—Mexico is passing through a bitter commercial crisis as a result of the shortage of change. Leading commercial houses in the capital, instead of experiencing the usual 33 per cent holiday increase in business during December, report sales 15 per cent less than November.

Without paper currency, the country depends on gold and silver coin and the high price of silver has caused an acute shortage of small change, due to illicit exportation and operations of speculators. Money changers are now charging as high as seven per cent to change gold coin into silver, and it is reported that gold is in growing scarcity. Some business houses who tried to use postal and documentary stamps found themselves breaking the law.

Thus far no method of facilitating small purchases has been discovered, and, according to some official statements, the country will be forced to wait for the price of silver to decline to secure relief. The silver content of the lower coinage has been cut off during the last six months, but ing.

even the new coins are being hoarded for speculation or exported. While the mint has been working overtime for months, it has been found impossible to keep up with the demands.

31. Should there ever, in any year, be such a shortage in the flow of Snake river available for storage in said American Falls reservoir, that such flow available for storage, together with any surplus held over in said reservoir from previous years is insufficient to fill the said reservoir to full capacity, then in such year any party entitled to water from said reservoir, who shall have conserved and held over in said reservoir from the previous year any part of the water which he was entitled to have received during such previous year shall be entitled to the use and benefit of the water so held over by him to the extent that such held-over water may be necessary to complete the filling of his pro-rata share of the reservoir capacity.

Provided further that after American Falls reservoir has been completed, it shall be used for three years, if the same shall then be found, by the secretary of the interior, to be an efficient and successful reservoir, and no reliable a storage right as the Minidoka project title in Jackson Lake reservoir, a permanent exchange may then be made of storage capacity in American Falls reservoir belonging to parties diverting above American Falls for an equal number of acre-foot of storage capacity in Jackson Lake reservoir. The exchange provided for in this contract, and other similar contracts, are to be made out of the Minidoka project's portion of Jackson Lake reservoir so far as the Minidoka project right is sufficient to furnish the water required for exchange, but should a larger amount be required, for exchange, then is available from the Minidoka right, the excess of exchange required over the amount available from the Minidoka right, will be exchanged out of the other rights in the Jackson Lake reservoir project.

32. Should the said American Falls reservoir be constructed of insufficient capacity to store and control the full water supply available for storage at said American Falls site, the United States reserves the right at some future time at its own cost and expense, or with funds advanced by other parties who may desire to cooperate in such enlargement, to enlarge the said reservoir and to use or dispose of the additional capacity and additional water supply made available by such enlargement, and in that event the Contractor will have no right or interest in the additional water or other surplus who may desire to cooperate in such enlargement, to enlarge the said reservoir and to use or dispose of the additional capacity and additional water supply made available by such enlargement, and in that event the Contractor will have no right or interest in the additional water or other surplus who may desire to cooperate in such enlargement.

33. The Contractor agrees that when water available for exchange purposes is stored in the said American Falls reservoir, the United States may deliver to the Contractor at the outlets of American Falls reservoir, in lieu of water which the Contractor is entitled to receive from Jackson Lake reservoir, an equal amount of water from the American Falls reservoir so that the Jackson Lake water will be available for use on lands above American Falls.

CARPENTER FALLS; PAINFULLY INJURED

Ralph Bristol, Employed at Crusher Plant, Is Victim of Accident

Mark Bristol, a carpenter employed at the highway crusher plant by the Lynch-Cannon company, narrowly escaped death yesterday morning when he fell from a timber on which he was walking to a pile of rocks 20 feet below.

Bristol's fall was partially broken by a number of small timbers which he struck while going downward.

Immediately following the accident, Bristol was removed to the local hospital where he was treated. It was ascertained that his injuries consisted mostly of abrasions and lacerations around the face. Attending physicians state that he will probably be able to resume work within a few days unless he has suffered internal injuries which have not yet been discovered.

Bristol is the son of George Bristol, a well known farmer of both the north and south sides.

theatrical generation. As a happy blending of tears and laughter, it will occupy a niche in American theatrical history with "The Old Homestead" and "Way Down East," while among those who praised the religious appeal of "Ten Hur," it will be cited as an example of a comedy without blunders. The story deals with a type of youth common to every small town in America—the youth who leaves home to seek his fortune in the city. How Joe Tuscon succumbs to the influence of fast company and the fascination of gambling, to be restored to the right track by mother-love, is told in a story of a simple directness in a prologue and through a series of scenes written by Winchell Smith play was written by Hazard and it comes here with the backing of runs of a solid year each in New York and Chicago. The complete production from the Gaiety theatre, New York, will be seen here.

"TURN TO THE RIGHT" WILL LONG BE REMEMBERED

The coming of "Turn to the Right" the Laverling theatre January 22 will introduce to local playgoers a play that will be held in fond remembrance by members of the present theatrical generation. As a happy blending of tears and laughter, it will occupy a niche in American theatrical history with "The Old Homestead" and "Way Down East," while among those who praised the religious appeal of "Ten Hur," it will be cited as an example of a comedy without blunders. The story deals with a type of youth common to every small town in America—the youth who leaves home to seek his fortune in the city. How Joe Tuscon succumbs to the influence of fast company and the fascination of gambling, to be restored to the right track by mother-love, is told in a story of a simple directness in a prologue and through a series of scenes written by Winchell Smith play was written by Hazard and it comes here with the backing of runs of a solid year each in New York and Chicago. The complete production from the Gaiety theatre, New York, will be seen here.
