MORE LAND OFFERED FOR PROPOSED PARK

Conference on Matter Had Between Mayor Eldridge and Bureau From Chamber.

At a meeting between the members of the bureau of parks and playgrounds of the chamber of commerce and Mayor Eldridge last evening discussion was had on the proposed purchase of a parking site. Members of the bureau had recommended to city council last week that the St. John Skinner acreage on Blue Lake boulevard be purchased but since the recommendation other land has been offered and before further action an investigation will be made of these offers.

A trip will be made to the latest offered land before next Monday night. Final recommendation will be made at that time of a site and council urged to call a bond election to provide funds for the purchase of the land.

At the meeting last evening those present decided to make plans for a temporary camping place for tourists next summer, but will concentrate its main efforts on securing a park where camping-ground could be provided as well as an aviation field, swimming pool, skating pond and other park features.

The large increase in applications for membership is due in a great part to the constant and untiring activities of the membership teams, who have been working in two divisions, it having been agreed that the team securing the greater number of applicants should be treated to a supper at the Perrine hotel, at the expense of the opposite team. CALF CLUB BOYS 12 SHORTHORNS

Animals Secured For Year's Project
Go Out After Northwest
Horns

Twelve head of Shorthorn cattle, two of them Scotch-bred, and the others of splendid lineage, which have been purchased by the farm-bureau juniors at the south Idaho breeders' association will be distributed among the calf club members immediately, according to an announcement of A. L. O'Reilly.

Mr. O'Reilly declares that he hopes to be able to have some member of this county's calf club take first place in all-northwestern competition this coming fall. As much as $500 was paid by the farm bureau juniors for an animal while another cost $500. Under the plan through which the animals will be distributed each boy secures one of the Shorthorns will give his note due in the fall. He will be required to make every possible effort to pay off the note when due, but if circumstances preclude this the kid will be permitted to renew his note on payment of the interest that may then be due. No other security will be required other than the boy's own signature.

"We are trying to make our club work as practical as possible," declared Mr. O'Reilly, "and the best way we can do it is to give the club members as much responsibility as possible. With his own name as the only security the boy will strive to do his best in order to meet his financial obligation."

In addition to making purchases for the Shorthorn calf club, Mr. O'Reilly yesterday bought four Dorset-Jersey girls from the famous Otto herd of Elletts. These were purchased at an average cost of $50. They will be distributed among calf club members.

Of the 44 articles of food for which prices were obtained during the month, November 16 to December 15, 22 increased in price, 12 decreased and 10 remained stationary. 13 increases were as follows:

LIBERTY GLO TORN IN TWIN BY EXPLOSION

NES, Ameland Island, Holland.—The American steamer Liberty Glo, which was blown up by a mine in Ameland Island channel while enroute to Germany, December 6, was torn almost in two parts by the explosion. Eventually her after part broke away and went to the beach, while the forward part was held at anchor.

Captain J. Stomeland and two of the crew were left on the forward half and were saved. The other members of the crew left the wreck in small boats and all but four of them reached land. The four perished at sea.

The Liberty Glo was the third American steamer sunk by mines in these waters within a few weeks, the others being the West Aranda and Hereward.

"The mine cut the Liberty Glo completely in two up to the water line," said Captain Stomeland, telling of the disaster. "She was held together by the deck and upper plates. After I had anchored, the after half twisted itself free, the iron-deck plates, beams and girders breaking like sticks of wood. I and two others were left on the forward half. A few minutes later we were taken off by a Dutch motor boat."

COLOR BLINDNESS.

A word about color-blindness. The person so afflicted does not, as is supposed, mistake green for red, or red for green. He simply cannot distinguish any difference between the two. There are varying degrees of color-blindness, the most dangerous being that which permits a person to see only two distinct colors. The majority of people can recognize six or seven colors in a rainbow, others can see only five or less.

TAKE STEPS TO PREVENT EPIDEMIC

Red Cross Plans to Keep Influenza From Invading Twin Falls

Twin Falls chapter of the Red Cross will take every possible precaution to prevent the appearance and spread of influenza here, according to an announcement made by the publicity committee of the Red Cross yesterday.

Epidemics have been reported from various parts of Idaho. While there have been cases under suspicion here as being the dreaded disease, it is declared there are no virulent cases here this time.

"Prevention is better than cure," is the declaration of the publicity committee, and to further than prevention the following rules of health are urged upon the public for observance:

"Do not cough or spit in public places, and if you must cough use your handkerchief."

"Stay at home with colds."

"Do not fail to have a severe cold treated by a physician."

"Do not fail to report all cases of severe illness coming to your notice and have same diagnosed by a physician."

Do not needlessly expose yourself by visiting pneumonia and other contagious disease patients among your friends.

"Keep dry. Keep clean. Keep warm and do not get out late at night."

"Stay out of all placarded houses."

"We have no flu epidemic and we do not want any."

MAY CHANGE PLAN OF WALVERS ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Proposals for the recall of walvers when they are not acted upon promptly, if adopted by the major leagues, will be applicable to the Pacific coast league, according to W. H. McCarthy, president of the league.

The plan would give major league managers the right to recall walvers when they find other clubs in the league fail to pass on their players. The present plan, it is contended, delays the exchanging and trading of players and makes it possible for a manager to lose a player without getting a fair exchange.

CLAIMS TWO AVIATORS WERE VICTIMS OF THIRST AND HUNGE

MEXICO CITY.—The American aviators, Conely and Waterhouse, who met death at Las Animas, Lower California, were not killed by Mexicans, according to the report of the primary court of claims at Ensenada, B. J., just received in the capital. The judge asserts that they died from thirst and hunger, that no wounds were found on their bodies and that messages scrawled on the "wings" of their plane told of their slow death from exposure.

STRAY TOM CAT GETS AWAY WITH TWO VALUED PIGEONS

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—A stray Tom cat had projected himself into the annual poultry show in progress today in Madison Square Garden and had a $100 breakfast on two carrier pigeons on exhibition by a Baltimore fancier. The homeless feline squeezed into the garden in some unknown way and fastened his eye on the $1,000 birds, finally tearing the muslin slips of the craft housing the pigeons. Only a few feathers were left to tell the tale. The cat escaped.

AIR MAIL SERVICE GROWS.

In spite of frequent mishaps and weather handicaps, the air mail routes first established continue to struggle toward greater regularity and more efficient service. Four new aerial routes are now sought which will link together all the important cities of the country. Congress is considering an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the establishment of these new routes.

One of the proposed extensions is from Chicago to San Francisco. This would complete the air line from New York to the Pacific coast. Another will connect Pittsburgh and Kansas City, going through Cincinnati, Indianapolis and St. Louis. The third will go from New York to Atlanta by extension from Washington. The fourth will link Minneapolis and St. Louis, through Chicago.

A fifth, somewhat different, also discussed. That is a hydroplane line down the Mississippi from St. Louis to New Orleans. There would be stations at Cairo, Memphis and Vicksburg.

It is urged that the new routes would save one-half the mail time between cities and would speed up the delivery of 382,000,000 letters. The coast-to-coast service would be particularly worth while.

Most people feel a keener interest in seeing some improvement in local mail deliveries along the usual, old-fashioned routes. There is nevertheless a real satisfaction to be derived from the evidence that the air mail-service has come to stay and is steadily gaining in practicability and usefulness.

ALL ABOARD FOR BABYLON.

A magazine writer finds material for an interesting story in the approaching completion of the railway line to the Persian gulf. "All aboard for Babylon" he signs as a headline, and recites the glories of ancient lands now laid under the thrall of the modern juggernaut.

Of course, it was inevitable that the railroad should penetrate Arabia and the Holy land. It was but natural that the car of progress, in its constant peregrinations about the globe, should again visit the far eastern lands where civilization had some of its earlier triumphs. The railway from Berlin to Bagdad was long a German project, but the line is really being completed by British authority. It was one of the imperial dreams of the Hohenzollerns, now realized under the rule of their conquerors.

It means real progress, it must be admitted. The ancient region, long backward, may be made to grow and blossom, to become in reality what it has been painted in imagination and legend, a land flowing with milk and honey.

But—one thinks regretfully of the slow and sleepy old villages, so soon to pass away before the onrushing passenger train, metamorphosed by the arrival of the ponderous freight train. One shrinks in thought from the shriek of a locomotive in the hills of Lebanon, of express trains whizzing through the bazaar-lined streets of the city of the ancient caliphs. Even the site of the Garden of Eden will be invaded, and the fallen palaces of the kings of Babylon may furnish the stone for stations to be built upon the very cradle of civilization.

THE OREGON WAY.

Farmers and fruit growers who feel that they are not getting just returns for their labor and product would do well to consider the history of the Oregon Fruit Growers' Co-Operative Association—and then follow its example.

Today Oregon products, chiefly apples, cherries, loganberry products and walnuts are known all over the country, in the east as well as in the south and west. This was not always so. As recently as 1912, Oregon apple growers were in a bad fix. They found that 10,000 cars of apples swamped the markets. The wrong kind of competition not only ruined orchard owners in the northwest, but at the same time put all northwestern products in bad repute in the eastern markets.

In 1915 the Oregon growers organized for their mutual benefit. They set up a bureau of markets as a sort of clearing house for apples. They got together on their advertising methods and eliminated unfair competition. The result is that today 20,000 to 30,000 Oregon apples are successfully marketed at high prices in the very markets that formerly considered 10,000 cars too many.

Naturally, the Oregon growers intend to extend this system to other fruits. During 1920 the association will handle apples, cherries, pears, prunes, walnuts, berries, and dried and canned fruits. It is estimated that its total volume of business will be between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000.

The Oregon method is simple. In the first place, the producers have made their products good. They have advertised them well, choosing a few good-trade names and sticking to them. Then they introduced efficiency in handling and distribution, and have eliminated bitter local competition. It is a formula any group of enterprising growers could adopt.

2,000,000 MORE TO DODGE.

Authoritative estimates of the number of motor cars, for pleasure riding along, which will probably sold in the United States this year agree upon 2,000,000 as approximately correct. Adding that many cars to the number already in use will make a tremendous total—a car for every twenty persons in the country, perhaps. Counting five persons to a family—it will give an average of a car for every four families.

You might consider this in the light of the money it will represent. You might add the length of the bars together and tell an expectantly eager world how far around the equator the line would stretch, or you might give an estimate of the flood of gasoline it would take to run them for a year, and show, in stupendous totals, how many ocean ships could be launched in the flood. You might point out to a blase people how far this estimated purchase of cars goes to prove the greatest prosperity in the history of the world. You might do any of these things—and who would care?

But the question that bothers most of us, is where they're going to run so many cars. We know of some streets that cannot possibly hold any more, and we are painfully and profanely aware of certain corners that have reached and exceeded the limit of permissible capacity, if the usual rule of allotting a certain number of cubic feet of space to each person is followed. The cars have all the allotted cubes, and the pedestrian is no longer provided for in the scheme of things.

Therefore, we ask, where will those extra 2,000,000 cars be driven? That's the place we shall avoid.

All the allies have pulled out of Russia, and now the United States is going to pull out of Siberia, leaving Japan alone to face the Bolsheviks. Let this fact be remembered when Japan in self-protection has driven out the reds—as she will—and has taken a slice of Siberia for her fee.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

"If you have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally. Says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back of neck headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. Two urine gets dirty, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night."

"To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jax Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the seed of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness."

Jax Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

ATEST METHOD FOR SECURING BUYERS AT BIG PUBLIC SALES

If you have attended many public sales in the Twin Falls tract, you have noticed there is a great deal of difference in the spirit of the crowd. Sometimes the bidding will be eager and snappy; other times it will drag and the sale will sort of peter out. Have you thought of this? You have it you expect to put on a sale. Results depend upon the sort of crowd out. It is not the curious who make good bidders.

How was the crowd brought out? You don't leave your rig in the middle of the road and go to a fence right to read a sale bill, do you? This doesn't expect the other fellow to do it. Put an advertisement in the newspaper, then regardless of the weather, the fellow you want to reach reads your announcement while seated at his fireside.

If he is a prospective buyer you'll have him at your sale. One extra buyer often pays the entire expense of the sale, and it's a poor advertisement that won't pull that buyer.

An advertisement in The Chronicle reaches the people who are after. This may be a necessity, but the advertisement is the thing that does the business. Don't think of having a sale without using advertising space in The Chronicle.

OUTLINES JAPAN'S EXTERNAL POLICIES

Premier Declares His Country Will Do Everything Possible to Keep Terms of Treaty.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Japan's policies as to Russia and China were outlined to the Japanese Diet yesterday by Premier Hara, in an address declaring that the world "those pertaining to China and Russia occupy the foremost place." The premier, in his address, the text of which was made public here today by the Japanese embassy, took occasion to assert that since the success or failure of the peace treaty depended "altogether on the spirit and manner of its operation" Japan could be regarded from the outset as "one of those states which will strictly carry out every term of the treaty."

Taking up the question of China, the premier declared that Japan remained firm in her determination to restore the leased territory of Kwantung in the Shantung peninsula to China, and had in fact taken the initial step toward carrying out the spirit of the peace treaty in that respect. While loans to China must be made with care owing to the factional wars, Japan, Premier Hara said, stood ready to give financial assistance to the neighboring nation whenever the need seemed imperative. He added that although the good offices of the great powers, including Japan, for the restoration of peace between north and south China, as tendered more than a year ago, had failed to bring about peace, Japan was prepared to unite again with the other powers toward the desired end and whenever the moment seemed propitious.

As regards the problem of Russia, Mr. Hara said, as the present conditions in that nation were "a matter of grave concern not only to Russia herself, but also to all those interested in the general peace of the world, the Japanese government is extremely anxious to see a speedy establishment of a stable government in Russia and an achievement of her complete rearmament." The premier did not further outline Japan's course toward Russia and did not allude to the reported decision of the advisory diplomatic council to withdraw Japanese troops from Siberia following the evacuation of the American expeditionary force.

The premier discussed the exchanges between the United States and Japan relative to withdrawal of the American troops, in some detail, and revealed that "the American authorities had expressed their sincere regret" over the transmission to the Japanese commanding officer in Siberia by Major General Graves, the American commander, of a notice of the American withdrawal before the American government had communicated the fact to Tokyo.

He will devote his time between now and the election to organization work. Carroll will leave tonight for Salt Lake City for a conference with Victor Helm, of Chicago, regional director of western states for the republican national organization, who is on his way east from the Pacific coast.

DEMPESEY PLEADS FOR EXONERATION

Requests That A. N. G. B. B. Consider Investigation Into Charges of Draft Dodging.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, has asked that an official investigation be made of the informal charges that he was a draft dodger during the war. The request was made in a telegram received today by Major A. J. D. Biddle, president of the army, navy and civil service board, which it is understood will conduct the inquiry asked in the near future.

The A. N. G. B. B. has announced that Dempsey's request will be referred to the arbitration committee of that organization for decision as to whether such inquiry should be undertaken. It is stated informally that the investigation will be made by a special committee, including several prominent officers of the American legion, if they will consent to serve.

Dempsey's telegram follows:—"Last June you gave me a boxer's license, number two, which certified on the face of it that I had a clean and honorable record as a boxer."

"Since that time a few posts of the American legion, who are not in any way familiar with my record, adopted resolutions condemning me as a 'draft dodger' in the late war, an indictment wholly unsupported by facts."

"What I have done, has been to follow implicitly the instructions given to me by the representatives of the government. The slogan at that time was: 'Follow the government's instructions.' That applied to me as to every other citizen in the United States and I was carrying out their orders and abiding by their instructions, and I was not a 'draft dodger' as these few legion posts have declared and base their decision on false evidence through persons who are trying to put same over to further their own selfish interests. Am I to be crucified and condemned because I followed the orders as given to me by the government?"

"This is an appeal to you as a body of thorough and honorable sportsmen whose aim has always been justice and fairness and a square deal for all, to investigate this matter thoroughly and if I am innocent of the charges of 'draft dodger' clear me publicly before the world, and if I am guilty, condemn me."

"I will either present myself personally for examination by your board, or submit to you, upon telegraphic request, a complete statement of my activities during the war in affidavit form, and I agree to abide by your final decision in the matter, as to be misjudged without a chance to prove my innocence is cruel, and I feel that your honorable board will at least see that justice will be done to me."

BRONSON ANSWER KEARNS

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 22.—James Bronson, manager of Bob Martin, heavyweight boxing champion of the American expeditionary forces, said here tonight that he had information other than press reports of the telegram Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, in Salt Lake City, had attacking his alleged methods in "boasting" Bob Martin in opposition to Dempsey.

"Kearns is running in circles," Bronson said. The letter to which he refers was only a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Pueblo, Colo., press of the American Legion and an announcement of a boxing offer. "I have received from promoters there to stage a fight between Martin and Carpenter."

"Kearns' telegram as reported in press dispatches, evidently takes no exception to the resolutions then to any word or act of either mine or Martin's. The resolutions were passed without my knowledge or advice. The first word I received from there was the offer of $75,000 for Martin's services in a bout with Carpenter and a copy of the resolutions was attached."

"As a matter of fact, Martin was matched with Carpenter before Dempsey won the championship. Martin, the American representative at the mis-called "draft dodger" system of drawing used, was to have met the French soldier-champion, who was representing France at the soldier Olympiad. A few days before the bout was scheduled to take place it was announced that Carpenter had injured his hand, so Journal, a stable mate of Carpenter, was substituted with Dempsey in his corner. Martin knocked him out in three rounds.

"As for Kearns' charges that I have attempted to use my influence with the American legion, or have tried to trade on my own achievements in France, they are absolutely without foundation. I have never attempted to 'boost' Martin's stock with former soldiers in any way. They know him and his record and have followed his every fight and the actions taken by dozens of legion posts coming to us as big a surprise as it did to Kearns."

POWAHATAN'S PASSENGERS ARE RESCUED

Striking Sea Drama Brought to Close Without Loss of a Single Life.

GALE PRECLUDES AID THROUGHOUT FOUR DAYS

Tow-Lines Snapped Like a Thread While 271 Remained in Cold, Cheerless Prison.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—All the 271 passengers on board the disabled army transport Powhatan have been transferred to the transport Northern Pacific and are on their way to New York. This news was received here tonight in wireless messages, confirming previous reports from Halifax. The transfer of the passengers was affected late today under good weather conditions, and without any accident occurring.

Ends Sea Drama.
The safe transfer of the Powhatan's passengers brings to a close a striking sea drama, which opened last Sunday when the first message was received from the transport that the ship was lacking, the fire room flooded, a north-easterly gale blowing, and immediate assistance needed.

The wireless calls for help were quickly responded to by half a score vessels which, put out from Canadian and American ports or rushed to the scene from mid-ocean.

They found the disabled transport rattling heavily in a stormy sea, without lights or heat, but were helpless to render any aid in the face of the persistent gale.

Helpless for Four Days.
For four days more the Powhatan lay helpless in the face of the unrelenting storm while a growing fleet of would-be rescuers made vain efforts to take her in tow or affect a transfer of her passengers. On repeated occasions tow lines were snapped only to be threatened anew by the terrific strain of the disabled vessel's deadweight, the swirling seas, and the fierce wind.

The weather moderated yesterday but it was not until today, however, that it was possible to rescue the passengers from the cheerless prison on which they had been immured for five days without heat or light.

Among the passengers were Colonel J. M. Dunn and wife, Captain Charles B. Ralls Jr., Lieutenant Oscar McKinley, Captain S. A. Western, Captain G. A. Holden, Lieutenant Edward Goldberg, Lieutenant Commander Howard H. Crosby, Captain Thomas Dempsey, chaplain; Mrs. Maude I. Frenaster and two children of San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. H. E. Worden, wife of Lieut. Col. Worden, of McKinney, Texas, and three children, and Mrs. Dorothy Dunn and Miss Edith Gardner, army nurses.

OLD STARS MEET; HAVE FANNING BEE

Mike Donlin Meets Chick Fraser; Famous Old-Time Pitcher in Twin Falls.

Fanning over the days of old, Mike Donlin and Chick Fraser, both heroes of the old days of big league baseball, chatted most of yesterday afternoon in Twin Falls and ended the day with a bit of lunch after the show last night.

Donlin was in Twin Falls by R. H. Stevenson, publisher of The Chronicle, who knew them both in Cincinnati, when he was with The Enquirer at that place.

Donlin and Mr. Stevenson met on Main street yesterday the first time in 15 years. As they shook hands and stood chatting, Chick Fraser walked up and greeted Donlin by name. These two veterans of the diamond had not faced each other in years. Fraser has a 200-acre ranch near Jerome, in which thirty city life is a prominent citizen. The three adjourned to the Elks' club, where the remainder of the afternoon was spent in chatting over the old boys of the game.

Donlin, once the most brilliant outfielders of the game, is full of sparkling humor, and Fraser, with a wonderful knowledge of the game and the men who were stars a generation ago, recalled many incidents of play which rose in the days when he and Donlin were in the limelight.

Donlin, with Mrs. Donlin, are now on the stage, and were in Twin Falls with "Turn to the Right" company. Mike has won a place for himself on the stage, where his interpretations have been found delightful to his charming little lady, both on and off the stage. Last night she merited the splendid applause which greeted her appearance, her first in Twin Falls, and while Mike was greeted with the same spirit of pride shown wherever he steps onto the stage.

Donlin wears a bum little finger which yesterday he showed Fraser, and here lies a story of the game. Fraser was pitching for the Pittsburghs in Cincinnati. Donlin was at bat for Cincinnati. That was in '94, Fraser was at his best. He had speed and a nasty inshoot as deceptive as it was wicked, working that day. Donlin misjudged one of those inshoots, and caught on the finger, which was crushed against the bat.

CUMMINGS ANSWERS BRYAN'S COMPLAINT

Declares He is in No Way Connected With Edwards Boom for President.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee, in a formal statement tonight declared that it complaints of William J. Bryan, as made in his address yesterday in Norfolk and Richmond, Va., were based on the chairman's attendance at the inaugural dinner given Governor Edwards of New Jersey Tuesday night at Newark, the former secretary of state's comments "are without merit."

Chairman Cummings further asserted that had Mr. Bryan read the speech given by the chairman at the dinner, "he would not have made the comments attributed to him." His attendance at the Edwards dinner, the chairman said, connected him in no way with any movement having as its aim the selection of Governor Edwards as the democratic nominee for president, as his position as regards candidates "was one of impartial neutrality."

Former Secretary Bryan referring to Mr. Cummings' attendance at the Edwards dinner declared in his address at Norfolk and later at Richmond, that the chairman must either separate himself from the New Jersey governor or resign from the committee.

The statement issued by Chairman Cummings said:

"If Mr. Bryan had read my speech on the occasion referred to, he would not have made the comments attributed to him. If he complains because I attended the inaugural dinner to a democratic governor of a great state, participated in by both democrats and republicans, his comments are without merit, whether that governor favored, or opposed the adoption of the eighteenth amendment. If I am criticized for participating in a so-called 'Edwards for president' movement that statement also is without foundation. My position in regard to presidential candidates is one of impartial neutrality. I do not forget that position by participating in functions of honor or demerit which have been mentioned for the presidency."

Continues His Attack.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Jan. 22.—William J. Bryan, when shown the statement of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee here tonight, declared Mr. Cummings' position of impartiality as regards candidates for the democratic nomination for president was not sufficient to justify his presence at the inaugural dinner given Governor Edwards of New Jersey. He charged Cummings' presence at the dinner as "inexcusable" and said Cummings "thinks it his duty to lend his official presence to the starting of such a boom, he had better retire from the management of the party long enough to get acquainted with the sentiment of the party and the country."

Edwards, answers Bryan.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 22.—Gov. Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey issued a statement tonight in reply to references made to him by William J. Bryan in respect to the launching of the governor's presidential boom at his inaugural dinner.

He termed Mr. Bryan's attack "vicious," declaring that those familiar with the Nebraska's history "know that Mr. Bryan has always been for Mr. Bryan."

"He has never refused to adopt any policy," the statement said "that looks as if it could garner votes. He adopted the first money heresy and was decidedly repudiated by the common sense of the country. He says that no reform ever came out of the east which defeated him and reformed the democratic party."

Governor Edwards added that late in those who have followed Mr. Bryan "know that he adopted a pacifist heresy which would have handed the government and children of the country over to the barbarism of a Teutonic military autocracy until the manhood of the country, by its menacing attitude, drove him into an unaccustomed silence."

POLES MAY ATTACK RIDS.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 22.—Dispatches from Warsaw appeared in the English newspapers today declaring that Marshall Poch was proceeding to Warsaw within two weeks and suggesting the likelihood of a Polish attack on Bolshevik Russia. These reports are denied by the French foreign office and Marshall Poch says he knows nothing about them.

TRACT HAS MUCH LAND IN BEETS

Acres Larger Than That of State of Utah, Says Oswald

The Twin Falls tract now has more land under beet cultivation than the entire state of Utah, according to a statement made by Oswald Wilson, president of the Idaho Co-operative Beet Sugar company, which is contemplating the building of three new factories in this section.

On a recent visit in the east, Mr. Wilson found sugar quoted at 22 cents, and in discussing the present high price of sugar Mr. Wilson placed the principal cause in the recent destruction of sugar factories and lands during the world war, as well as an inclination of the nations at war to provide their armies with a bountiful sugar ration, which has virtually resulted in a greater taste for that commodity and increased consumption of it.

Idaho and surrounding western states are found to be in the best possible region for beet cultivation in the world due to the irrigation systems which make it possible to control the growth and maturity of beets, according to Mr. Wilson.

At present seaboard prices, sugar beets will bring approximately $40.00 per ton. This will mean about $2,000,000 in profit to be divided among sugar beet raisers of the Twin Falls tract, Mr. Wilson said.
