

TWO MORE U.S. AIRMEN HELD BY MEXICANS

Lost in Fog, Army Aviators Are Forced to Land in Wild Country.

ARE PROMISED FREEDOM TODAY SAYS TELEGRAM

Believed To Be Near Herrera, Small Mining Town - Compatriots Make Futile Search.

By the Associated Press. MCGALLAN, Tex., Jan. 28.—Two army aviators, Lieutenants E. F. Davis and G. E. Griggs, carrying a message from Fort Brown, Texas, to Nogales, Ariz., were forced to make a landing in Mexico, 30 miles south of Zapata, Texas, and tonight are being held by Mexicans.

According to a message received here tonight from the aviators they have been promised their freedom tomorrow morning. The air line distance between Brownsville and Nogales is approximately 1,200 miles.

Aviators Lost in Fog. Lieutenants Davis and Griggs, who are attached to the air station here, were carrying a message duplicate of that which was sent from Fort Brown to Nogales in another plane today. Lieutenant Davis was the pilot. They became confused in the fog and followed the Salado river to Zapata, into Mexico instead of proceeding on to Nogales, Grande. They also had complete trouble.

The country is wild and rugged and the only means of reaching the section quickly is by plane. All day long aviators from the Eighth aero squadron here have combed the country on both sides of the Rio Grande and still have not discovered the missing aviators.

BLAMES FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD FOR THE R. C. I.

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 28.—The high cost of living owes its existence in part to the federal reserve board, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, national pure food expert, declared today in an address before the thirteenth annual convention of the National Cannors' association.

The remedy, Dr. Wiley said, lies in the gradual withdrawal of inflated currency and the establishment of food as the standard of value instead of gold. The pre-war standard will never return, he said.

DANIELS SAYS HE KNOWS THE NEXT PRESIDENT

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—Secretary of the Navy, Daniels started considerable speculation here tonight as to whom he meant when he said in a speech that he could tell who would be the next president of the United States but that he did not know to which party the man belonged.

When reporters asked Secretary Daniels who he meant he only smiled. Asked if the name of the man he had in mind had been included among those named in the presidential candidates, Mr. Daniels replied: "I don't know."

Newberry, and his 123 co-defendants charged with conspiracy to violate federal statutes in connection with the 1918 senatorial campaign.

Each side offered a challenge for cause and two others had been excused by the court. Peremptory challenges will not be exercised until 13 men have been passed but it was predicted tonight that this stage might be reached tomorrow.

SAM GOMPERS FLAYS RED'S ACTIVITIES

American Federation Head Condemns Bolshevism as Disastrous to Unions.

RECITES DESTRUCTION OF SOVIET LEADERS

Legitimate Movements Are Stifled "By Force of Arms and Pientiful Executions."

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Writing in the current number of the Federationist, official organ of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers, condemns Bolshevism "completely, finally and for all time." The American labor leader declares he doubts whether the propaganda which emanates from the Bolshevik organization itself is more of a threat than that "conducted by those who claim to be entirely detached from Russian influence and Russian parables."

"We do not have to wait for information about the form of government existing in what is called soviet Russia," he said, "all the information necessary to the passing of judgment on Bolshevism and the system of government and the state of society is at hand from sources that are authentic. The plea of those misguided persons in America who say 'wait for facts before passing judgment' is nothing more than an excuse which it is hoped will gain time for the Russian experiment and enable it to spread to other countries."

Quoting from the new Bolshevik constitution, Mr. Gompers points out that while the Fifth International congress declares a distinction of the proletariat and the poorest peasantry, a great portion of the peasantry is disfranchised and the largest Bolshevik estimate of the proletariat calculates them as only one-fifth of the number of peasants. Even a fairly prosperous workingman, by this calculation, Mr. Gompers says, is not a proletarian. Bolshevik statistics, he says, show that the Bolshevik minority does not even represent the masses of factory workers in Moscow, the Bolshevik stronghold.

He quotes a dispatch from Russian trade unionists to W. A. Appleton, president of the International Federation of Trade Unions, which declares that Bolsheviks have split up the reserve funds of trade unions; throttled the labor press; killed labor organizations; split up trades unions as a class, and put down strikes by "force of arms and plentiful executions."

"All concepts of freedom within the American nation," says Mr. Gompers, "one fundamental principle is that any involuntary servitude, that is, compulsory labor, shall not be enforced upon the working people." He quotes the amendment to the federal constitution and adds: "The amendment was put in the spirit of that amendment has been entirely rejected by the constitution of Bolshevism; Russia which provides for and enforces compulsory labor for all. This is a deliberate attempt to win favor from the American people, for a system of government which is the confession of its own advocates and defenders is foreign to every concept of the American republic. We know about Russia. We know about Bolshevism. We know the pitiful story of cruelty and intolerance and we know the autocratic concept that stifles the minority dictatorship which is hailed by the world by its dupes and advocates as the most perfect state of society yet devised. We know about it and we condemn it completely, finally and for all time."

Bryan Continues Drive on Edwards

By the Associated Press. BRISTOL, W. Va., Jan. 28.—William J. Bryan declared in an address here tonight that although he did not want the liquor question brought into the presidential race the people should demand that the republican party announce its stand on the prohibition question.

HALT OPPOSITION TO BIG 5 PACKERS

By the Associated Press. SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 28.—The threatened debate over adoption of its proposed committee report was averted today's session of the American National Livestock Association conference. Steps were taken in several quarters looking to compromise of the differences in opinion arising from the committee's recommendation that federal legislation for regulation of the packing industry be enacted.

Among those opposing a declaration from H. A. Jantzen, chairman of the committee and for six terms president of the association, that the time had come for active opposition to the packers on the part of the stockmen to cease. Without setting in any detail the views of the packers, Jantzen said there was a danger that other organizations, however moral in their views, might work irreparable injury to the livestock industry unless their agitation against the packers was halted.

Appointment of a credentials committee, the parliamentary point which was proposed the issue of the adoption of this committee's report would be fought out, was averted through adoption of compromise steps offered by E. A. Ammons, former governor of Colorado. These, while accepting the committee's report, left the way open for a final vote on the association's stand regarding enactment of the regulatory legislation tomorrow, when the resolutions committee presents its report.

THINK TREATY ROW TO REACH CRISIS TODAY

Bi-Partisan Conference to Make Final Effort to Compose Differences.

COMMITTEE APPROVES MANY MODIFICATIONS

Article 10 and Monroe Doctrine Only Questions That Will Be Discussed at the Gathering.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Preponderance of senate opinion on the eve of another, and perhaps final, bi-partisan conference of republican and democratic leaders, was that a deadlock had been reached, making an agreement very unlikely at this time on compromising peace treaty reservations.

Observations to Article 10 and for preservation of the Monroe doctrine promulgated by the center of voting between the leaders of the two factions at tomorrow's meeting and it appeared that should a break come it would result from inability to agree on these two points. Should the bi-partisan conference, which have been in progress for more than two weeks, be abandoned in instances at work in both political parties. It was asserted today in some quarters, undoubtedly would have a strong effect ultimately in the direction of a compromise which would keep the treaty out of the political campaign.

AMERICA PROSPERS AS RESULT OF WAR

In Position Coveted by Germany, Declares Secretary of State Lansing. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The United States, Secretary Lansing declared today in a report to the senate, has come, as a result of the war and through no self-effort, "into a position of economic preponderance quite comparable to that which was coveted by Germany and which she sought to attain by means of aggression and force."

The report, which was in response to a senate resolution inquiring of the heads of the several departments the steps taken to promote the foreign trade of the United States, expressed the belief of Mr. Lansing that the state department, especially that portion devoted to trade problems, must be completely reorganized.

Among the changes approved by the committee, were the following: That instead of requiring specific affirmative acceptance of the reservations by three or four of the great powers, such acceptance would be taken for granted unless objection were made before dispatch of ratification to the United States. Qualification of the reservation to make it provide that notice of withdrawal from membership in the league shall be given by a joint resolution of congress instead of "may be given by a concurrent resolution of the senate, while the signature of the president, while a concurrent resolution ordinarily does not. Deletion of direct reference to Japan and China by name in the Shantung reservation so the United States promptly would withhold assent to the league regarding armaments would be valid until approved by congress. Numerous modifications of language in others of the 14 reservations. They providing that the United States should not be bound by any mandatory action was one of these however, remaining intact.

CANAL CO. VICTOR IN DAMAGE SUIT

Clint Lasses Action to Recover $1500 for Alleged Damages to Crop.

Jury in the district court yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for the defendant in the action brought by S. C. Cline against the Twin Falls Canal company. Cline sued for $1500 alleged damages resulting from a break in the high line canal in 1917.

The break in the canal, which was the cause of the suit, occurred on July 26, 1917. Twenty-four hours were consumed in repairing the break; it being necessary to build a coffer dam. During the time of the break the water ran through adjoining ranches, including that of Cline. It was the claim of the plaintiff that he had suffered a loss of a wheat crop and damage to his land from debris on a section of his farm.

It was the contention of the Canal company that the break was not due to any negligence in the construction of the canal or through any fault of the management or operation, but that proper care and caution had been exercised in the operation of the canal.

The contention of the defendants was upheld by the jury in returning a verdict in their favor.

PARLOR, BEDROOM AND BATH IN TWIN FALLS FEBRUARY 2

The authors of "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" coming to the Lavering theater February 2nd, describe their highly farce as a "new tale of a way-side inn." Its title refers to a certain week-end suite, whither comes the gullest hero by the name of Reginald, who has let himself become an unwilling party to a framed-up elopement. The equipment, with a professional elopee, is to prove once and for all time what a gay Lothario Reginald really is, for he is described in love with a girl who will only consider a man with a "past." The mix-ups that result are said to furnish one of the most hilarious evenings given to the theater in many seasons. Reginald elopes with the wrong woman to start, and at the inn gets involved with more, additional strange ladies in various startling degrees of negligence. The piece ran for an entire year at the Reginald theater in New York, and this is the original production with a cast of Broadway favorites on its way to the Pacific coast.

The Romance of Banking

It is always interesting to watch a small account grow gradually in volume, registering the progress of its owner.

And if it is inspiring to watch and encourage one individual to steadily mark milestones in his career, the banking business amounts almost to romance when it is remembered that it shares in the progress of hundreds of citizens.

With the increase in our depositors, though, there is no decrease in that personal touch we always maintain.

PREPARE TO LAUNCH LEAGUE TRIBUNAL

Elith Root To Be Given Position on Tribunal When America Ratifies Treaty

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The second meeting of the council of the league of nations, which in reality will be the first actual business meeting, will be held in London probably February 10, according to advice received here today. At this meeting the council plans to enter upon consideration of one of the most important subjects with which it has been charged under the treaty of peace, namely, the constitution of the permanent court of international justice. The first meeting of the council held in Paris, January 16, confined itself to matters of organization necessary to meet contingencies that had arisen under the treaty, such as the appointment of the Star valley boundary commission, which had to be named within 15 days after the ratification of the treaty.

It is learned that the launching of the permanent court of international justice has been decided upon after great hesitation because this was one of the features of the peace program in which the United States had taken the greatest interest, in fact having originated the project as one of the best means of preventing wars by resort to judicial processes. It was to have been considered at the first meeting of the council but was postponed in order to afford opportunity for the American senate to act upon the peace treaty and for this nation to be in position to participate in the organization of the court. The United States, it was pointed out in the council's meeting, had given the plan of settlement of international disputes its original impetus at the first and second Hague conferences and also at the London prize court conference.

The council, it is now learned, has finally decided to go ahead with the plans already made by the secretary of the league for launching the court. When these plans are not understood to be at all detailed, it is known that they contemplate the approval by the council of an organizing committee of seven or eight of the most eminent jurists in the world to amplify the whole structure of the court. The choices have been made with a view of finding a man not only familiar with the evolution of the league itself, but also representative of the different legal systems of the world in order to assure that the court may be acceptable and available to all nations.

Elith Root, former secretary of state of the United States, is known to have been selected as the American member of the commission but it is not yet certain that the council feel free to offer him the actual appointment in advance of America's ratification of the treaty. This subject now is under negotiation, with the viewpoint expressed by the other nations, that they very much desire to name Mr. Root if the choice would not appear unimply in view of the treaty situation in this country.

Mr. Root has been recognized in Europe as in the very fore-front of American international jurists. Quite apart from all else that he has done in stressing the need of an international court, his instruction to the American delegates to the second Hague conference in 1907, are accepted as a landmark in the history of the subject. After a detailed analysis of the possibilities of arbitration, he concluded:

"It should be your effort to bring about in the second conference a development of the Hague tribunal into a permanent tribunal composed of judges who are judicial officers and nothing else, who are paid adequate salaries, who have no other occupation, and who will devote their entire time to the trial and decision of international cases by judicial methods and under a sense of judicial responsibility."

He contended that an amendment to the constitution must "change some part of the constitution rather than add a new article to it." He further argued that the amendment would not go into effect, if it were valid, until January 23.

Judge Rudkin ruled against both of these contentions, holding that article 6 of the constitution gave congress and the states the necessary authority for adding the amendment. Ohio's referendum election to overturn the amendment in that state, which favored the anti-prohibitionists, has no effect on the amendment. Judge Rudkin held "The constitution is not subject to local referendum elections and an amendment can be overturned only by the employment of the same machinery that made it imperative," according to the decision.

CHITICAGO GOVERNMENT FOR UNLOADING SURPLUS

By the Associated Press.

FOR UNLOADING SURPLUS STOCKS, CHITICAGO GOVERNMENT was severely criticized for unloading it surplus stocks of canned goods on the market "at a critical period" by delegates of the tomato and baked bean industry attending the joint convention of third national canners' associations here today.

"The tomato product has been selling at figures far below the cost of production for the past six months," D. H. Stevenson, of Baltimore, declared, "and the one dominant factor has been the government's inexcusable method of disposing of its surplus stocks of canned tomatoes, although the canning industry came nobly to the front during the war in assisting the government to supply food to the army and navy. The government sold below cost, Mr. Stevenson said."

POLISH FOREIGN MINISTER VISITS LLOYD GEORGE

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Stanislas Patek, the Polish foreign minister, has gone to London, being called there for a conference with Premier Lloyd George. The conference is supposed to be in connection with Mr. Lloyd George's request that the Poles evacuate territory they have been occupying in Russia not allotted to them by the peace conference.

It is understood that thus far the Poles have refused to abandon these territories, giving as an explanation their ethnological claims and the necessity of holding strategic positions against eventual attacks by the Bolsheviks.

ATTACKS TREATMENT OF SERVICE MEN

Representative Johnson Declares Sick and Wounded Men Un-cared for by Government

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Sick and wounded soldiers are not receiving the treatment "guaranteed them by law," Representative Johnson, republican, South Dakota, who served in the A. E. F., declared today, in telling the house of his recent visits to government hospitals.

"Because of ignorance or negligence, or because of wilful disregard of the laws by Carter Glass, secretary of the treasury, or Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States," said Representative Johnson, "sick and wounded American soldiers are receiving treatment that cannot be justified by any one who has any regard for the well being of the men who fought to maintain the country."

Replying to Representative Garner, democrat, Texas, who inquired the basis of the charge against the officials, Representative Johnson asserted that funds to provide hospital facilities had not been used because of the opposition of officials to taking over the Chicago speedway hospital, and that because of this attitude funds for other hospitals were not being spent.

"In Chicago January 15th," Representative Johnson said "American soldiers who had been seriously wounded and who had been brought to be receiving treatment for their wounds, were requested to leave the hospital and discontinue treatment in order that other men, in more serious conditions, might take their beds in the hospital."

"In these same hospitals," the South Dakota representative added, "men who have been gassed and quarantined in dark hell-holes, where, night or sunlight has been, or ever will be, permitted to enter, and this, in spite of the fact that since March 3, 1918, $3,500,000 has been available and could, and should, have been used."

"If this condition is permitted to exist for a few months more, there will be thousands of wounded and sick American soldiers who are being treated and will be unable to incur it. In my opinion, thousands of them will die and the persons responsible for these deaths will be the ones I have mentioned, or some of them because congress has performed its duty in appropriating the necessary funds, while they have not performed their in expending them.

Johnson said that on last December 27, he saw 50 men at the Fort Sheridan army hospital, "who were not fed and many others who could not get even sufficient food." He added that his complaint of this to Secretary Baker resulted in an investigation which admitted "the truth" of the complaint and an attempt to remedy the situation.

Johnson exhibited a photograph of a bath room, 10 feet square in the Chicago marine hospital, which he said, was used for a vocational training work room.

"In that bathroom," he said, holding up the picture before the house, "100 men are supposed to work, and it would be crowded if three men were there at one time."

WINE GROWERS LOSE IN FIRST SKIRMISH

Federal Judge Holds 18th Amendment Constitutional and in Effect

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 27.—California wine interests late today lost the first skirmish in their legal fight against the eighteenth constitutional amendment when Judge Frank H. Taft of the United States district court denied petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of J. J. Dillon, a truck driver, arrested while transporting liquor here after January 16.

This was said to be the first test of the national prohibition amendment to the constitution.

"I am of the opinion," said Judge Rudkin, in ruling in the case, "that the amendment in form and substance was entirely within the competency of congress and the several states to propose and ratify; and that both the amendment and the national prohibition law were in full force and effect on the day in question."

NO TARIFF BILL NOW

The present congress has given up the task of framing a new tariff bill. A number of reasons are given for the refusal to act upon this all-important measure, but two of them stand out as of real importance.

The ways and means committee of the house declares that any tariff bill prepared by this congress would be vetoed by the president, the implication being that the committee contemplated a measure embodying characteristic republican tariff ideas, such as would naturally be objected to by a democratic executive.

The second reason is very likely to be the deciding one. Tariff bills are always unsatisfactory and unpopular. Nobody is pleased, because out of the welter of conflicting local, commercial and industrial interests compromises are imperative, compromises that give nobody what he demands and leave bitterness that are not safe to take into a campaign.

But aside from all explanations, the fact is apparent that the present congress is neither able nor ready to consider any question of the magnitude of the tariff has now assumed. Economically, the world is vastly disturbed, and the facts upon which a tariff bill must be based are not easily arrived at.

The tariff commission has sent representatives to Europe and to Asia to get the facts, and has also been making a study of domestic production costs. It will probably be some months before the commission is ready to report to congress. When the report is made, however, the house will have at its command a vast array of informative statistics and memoranda upon which to build a tariff measure of a new kind.

MEDIUMS.

"New York's latest shortage," says a dispatch, "is that psychic of mediums. There are not enough to go around since the present acceleration of interest in spiritual phenomena has set thousands to wondering if they can discover their spirit 'control' through mediums."

The dispatch also quotes an author who has written much on psychic matters, as saying that "adverse influences are apt to be attracted by persons who experiment carelessly with an unknown realm."

Such warnings ought to be spread broadcast. The present craze for occult experiments probably springs from a general desire to solve religious problems and establish a working faith. There are people, no doubt, who derive comfort from psychic revelations, whether they come from mediums, the oija board, slate writing or any other source. All this sort of thing, however, has always been recognized as beset with perils, and especially so since the advance of modern psychological knowledge. The psychologist cannot set bounds to religion, and cannot answer the problems of life and death and the hereafter, but they can and do set dependable limits to what is possible and safe for the ordinary human mind. There is no realm, they say, in which men and women are so prone to delusion as in the realm of occult phenomena; there is no other sphere in which the brain is so untrustworthy.

"Mediums" are notoriously deceptive. They may begin with real psychic gifts, but such talents, when they exist, are seldom subject to voluntary control, and the medium, from a desire to make good, is driven to "faking." There is no certainty, moreover, that there are any mediums actually capable of communicating with the dead, or what the dead themselves ever communicate with the living. The present presumption seems to be that they sometimes do; but if so, the laws of communication have not been mastered, and level headed people question the "proofs" adduced.

Mediums may be honest, yet mistaken, as may be their credulous followers. There is little in their revelations that is not capable of explanation as voluntary or involuntary character-reading and mind-reading, or telepathy. Thoughts of mood may be caught, somehow, by one mind from another, under favorable conditions. But the conditions are elusive, and efforts to master them are mostly futile, and the quest is dangerous. It means tampering with powers that too often unhinge the mind of the seeker.

NEW TASTES IN READING.

At a recent gathering of library workers from all parts of the county it was announced that Laura Jane Libbey and her school of writers had lost their hold. No longer do our young ladies sigh over the heroes and heroines of a previous generation of mush writers. They seek higher types of fiction, the librarians declare.

While it is undoubtedly true that people are reading better books than they used to read, it cannot be denied that Laura Jean Libbey and Elinor Glyn have their successors, more prolific and more successful than they ever dreamed of being. The girls today, too, are reading magazines more than in their mothers' day, for the very good reason that there are more magazines to read. And it is from these sources that we can best gauge the quality of their reading.

In that field the new generation of Libbys and Glyns is supreme. There's merely a new setting to their tables and a new verve in their telling. Our big towns are the stage and sex is the predominating tonic. And upon this new literature our coming women are feeding their minds.

A DUAL HOLIDAY.

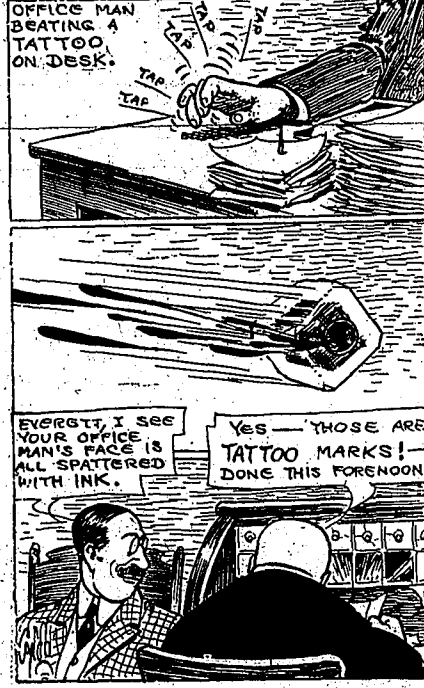

A bill has been introduced in the New York legislature to make Thanksgiving day fall hereafter on November 11, Armistice day, instead of later in the month.

This change, if it is decided upon, may be copied by some of the other states; but it is doubtful if it will meet with general approval.

In some ways it may be highly desirable to turn two holidays into one, when they come only about two weeks apart. But there is danger of losing the significance of one or the other. Thanksgiving is the most venerable of our national festivals, and the most characteristically American. It demands its own unique celebration. Armistice day, which in the popular mind marks the end of the great war, also deserves commemoration in a special way, and its significance is likely to grow with the years.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

LINK SOCIALISTS WITH BOLSHEVSKI

Marxism Investigation. Evidence Is Introduced in Trial of Five Suspended Assemblymen.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 28.—In its effort to link the socialists of America with the Bolsheviks of Russia, in a conspiracy to overthrow organized government here, the prosecution at the trial of the five suspended socialist assemblymen, charged with disloyalty today succeeded in introducing in evidence the testimony obtained by the joint legislative committee investigating radicalism from Ludwig C. A. Martens, self-styled Russian soviet ambassador to the United States.

The assembly judiciary committee, which conducted the investigation, admitted the evidence after protest by the socialist counsel. Attorney Seymour Steadman then demanded that, if the testimony be read at all, it be read in its entirety. The reading began and continued to continue for two or three days when Mr. Steadman and committee counsel, after an agreement whereby the testimony is to be printed and presented to the defense. Then both sides will read into the record such portions as they desire.

The prosecution then put into the record more speeches made in New York at a meeting held to celebrate the second anniversary of the Russian revolution. James O'Neal, editorial writer for the New York Call, in defending socialist Russia, had compared the revolution there with the American revolution and the red guards with the Sons of Liberty.

The chief witness of the day was Mayor George L. Lunn, or Schenectady, former congressman, who testified he had been visited from the party after he had appointed a republican to office instead of a socialist and had refused to discharge from office a socialist who had voted other than a socialist candidate.

The prosecution, which claims that it is possible for alien members of the socialist party to control socialist, elected to public office through a clause in the party constitution requiring nominated candidates to give the executive committee signed resignations from office, brought out that Mayor Lunn had signed such a resignation in 1911, but had refused to do so after that.

Mr. Steadman held the corner stone of defense that several splits had occurred recently in the socialist party, when the "left wingers" and communists had broken away and that many of their acts were being wrongfully charged to the socialists. Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Baer, who would neither affirm nor deny tonight a report current here that at next Monday night's session of the assembly he would move discharge of the Judiciary committee and that his motion would be seconded by Assemblyman Simon J. Adler of Rochester, republican majority leader, who introduced the counter resolution.

"I have nothing to say as to that report," said Colonel Roosevelt. Mr. Adler asserted that he "knew nothing" of such a move.

DEMORQUE SUSPENSION. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The suspension of the five socialist assemblymen at Albany and the session bill now before congress were denounced as "un-American" and "undemocratic" in addresses and by resolution tonight at a mass meeting held in Madison Square Garden by socialist and labor organizations.

A large number of speakers of various political affiliations addressed the audience which about half filled the big auditorium. Senator J. I. Francis, of Maryland, who was on the program as one of the speakers, was unable to attend on account of illness. He sent a letter advising his protest against the assembly's action.

"At such a time as this," wrote Senator Francis, "any subversion or evasion of the constitution is most dangerous. Democracy is government by expression of public opinion. Autocracy is government by repression of public opinion."

Former Senator Thomas H. Hartwick, who was introduced as the "ex-governor of Georgia," said he took great pleasure in having the opportunity to "strike a blow for human liberty." The latter, under consideration, he added, had "implicated constitutional and representative government."

"If men may be expelled or suspended from our legislative bodies," continued Mr. Hartwick, "in Washington or in Albany or in any part of the republic for their political opinions, how long will it be before republicans will be expelling democrats or democrats turning out republicans according to who may be in power, saying to them 'your opinions are unsound and not safe.'"

Among the other speakers were Anna P. Fisher, Louis Waldman, one of the suspended assemblymen, and Meyer London, former socialist congressman.

ABOLISH TENTATIVE RETURNS ON INCOME TAXES

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Abolition of tentative returns on income taxes, in use for several years, was demanded tonight by Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in making a report on 1914 income taxpayers will not be permitted to estimate their incomes on their taxes. The correct amount of taxes, Mr. Hooper warned, must be in the hands of revenue collectors by March 15. Internal revenue officials have arranged, however, to take care of exceptional cases. If the taxpayer is unable to complete his tax return within the specified time limit, either because of illness or absence from the country, authority has been given for a 30-day extension of time.

UNIFORMS REMAIN THE SAME

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Secretary Baker ruled today that no change would be made in the present army uniforms, mainly because of the high cost of material. At a recent conference of senior officers and department commanders, suggestions were made for changes in uniform regulations which would include the adoption of the gaiter collar, the Sam Brown belt and limited use of the old blue uniforms.

ORGANIZE FOR THE COMING OF ARMY

Taylor Cummins, President, and H. R. Grant, Secretary of the Advisory Board.

Taylor Cummins was elected president and H. R. Grant, secretary of the advisory board of the "Soldiers' Army" last night at a meeting held in the chamber of commerce rooms. The board heard Colonel Scott in detail of plans for the work to be taken in this community, and plans were made for the early arrival of the corps of workers who will be located here.

Various sites were discussed for headquarters, but no definite conclusion was reached in this regard, the matter being left to a committee for investigation.

Definite date was not fixed for the arrival of the corps, but it will be within a very short time, as the officer in charge will desire to be on the ground to meet in the selection of quarters and the furnishing of the camp.

WILSON COMMUNES THE SENTENCE OF TWO OFFICERS

By the Associated Press. TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 27.—President Wilson has commuted the sentences imposed by court martial on Colonel Frank H. Wolven and Major David A. Frotter, both of the dental corps of the army, according to word reaching camp today.

Colonel Wolven was sentenced by court martial to dismissal from the army for making false statements to obtain commutation of quarters. The president ordered that Colonel Wolven be reprimanded and forfeit $100 a month from his pay for six months. His name is also placed at the bottom of the final list of colonels of his corps for one year.

Major Frotter, found guilty by court martial of similar charges, was also ordered reprimanded and $50 a month for three months was ordered taken from his pay.

TRADING WITH RUSSIA PROBLEM FOR EACH NATION

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The question of trading with Russia in the view of officials of the state department will have to be taken through three negotiations by the various nations interested. It was learned today that there now is a central body in Paris empowered to take up such questions of international moment to which the United States will be a party. The council of ambassadors, it was said, has become simply a clearing house for information to be reported to the various nations represented and all questions will be considered by interchange of notes through diplomatic channels.

CAN NOT SUPPRESS RESTLESS HUMANITY

By the Associated Press. COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Speaking here tonight before the Associated Ohio ladies, Senator Warren G. Harding, newspaper publisher of Marion, Ohio, declared, "It is nothing less than folly to attempt suppression of the aspirations and convictions of restless humanity."

"If it is right, it is a supreme duty, to still every proposal to destroy orderly government or to apply the might of mere physical force, but the orderly exercise of the will of the majority is democracy's commitment to civilization," Senator Harding said.

The speaker added that the American press had its greatest duty to perform in future by teaching and preaching the ideals of Americanism.

EAST IS LOSING HOLD ON FINANCE

Tremendous Increase in Resources of Western Banks, Is Shown by Comptroller's Report.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Decentralization of the country's banking resources and widespread distribution of wealth, indicated by an increase in banking resources of 1,000 per cent or more in western states since 1899, was shown by a comparison of present bank resources with conditions twenty years ago, issued today by John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency.

The banking power of the country 20 years ago was concentrated mainly in the east, the report said, and national banks in New England and eastern states, comprising but 5 per cent of the territory of the United States, held almost 80 per cent of the total resources of all the national banks in the country. The proportion of the resources of banks in those states to all others now has fallen to 16 7/8 per cent, although the resources of the national banks in those states have increased 277 per cent or $7,718,937,000.

Every section of the country has shared in the tremendous increase in wealth since 1899, but the report shows that the Pacific coast has experienced the largest percentage of increase in national bank resources, amounting to 1,840 per cent. National banks in eight western states—the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico—have shown an increase of 500 per cent the resources of the middle west banks increased 353 per cent.

BLAMES BARUCH FOR WRECKING CONFERENCE

By the Associated Press. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 28.—Magnus W. Alexander of Boston, who was secretary of the employers' group of President Wilson's first industrial conference, at Washington in October, addressing the 7th annual convention of the National Association of Merchant

Tallors here today, charged that Bernard Baruch wrecked the conference. "Baruch had the public group in his pocket," the speaker declared. "If you are convinced that Baruch moved to defer action upon labor's proposition that the conference should arbitrate the steel situation, at the point where it probably would have been flatly rejected, Baruch killed the conference."

"Why did he do it? I don't know. There were all kinds of things in circulation to the effect that the labor vote must not be estranged." The convention approved plans for a campaign of education in stylized drawing for American men, which provides for a traveling style show to visit virtually every large city in the country.

ASK CO-OPERATION IN ARMY RECRUITING DRIVE

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Secretary Baker has addressed a letter to the governor of each state requesting his official co-operation in the nationwide recruiting drive to be inaugurated by the war department and to be intensified during the week of February 22 to 28, which is to be made national enlistment week. The governors were asked to issue proclamations calling the attention of their citizens to the importance of the advantages offered in the new "citizen army" and otherwise to assist in the effort to bring the army up to the full authorized strength.

The national campaign, it was said, has been organized on a scale even more ambitious than the war-time Liberty loan drive. Not only the loan organization of the treasury, the postmasters and patriotic civilian societies will be used but also the clergy.

MCCLEAN IN BERGEN FOR CHAMPIONSHIP RACE

By the Associated Press. CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Jan. 28.—"Bobby" McLean, the American skater, arrived at Bergen today on board the steamer "Bismarck" from New York. McLean was in fine condition, and the press welcomed him, praising his modesty.

There is great interest in the coming race between McLean and Oscar Mathisen, for the world's professional skating championship. Many applications for tickets for the race have been received from all over the country, and the indications are that the accommodations of the rink, 18,000 spectators, will be overtaxed. McLean's present weight is 145 pounds, which is 17 pounds less than that of Mathisen.

URGES CLOSER CO-OPERATION BETWEEN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

By the Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28.—Closer cooperation between the Sunday school council of evangelical denominations and the International Sunday School association was advocated at the annual convention of the former organization which opened here today. The council's constitution was amended so that the international body may be represented at the council's meetings. Representation of the council at the International's sessions has been permitted for some time.

The report of the secretary, the Rev. G. T. West of New York, showed that Sunday school attendance in the United States in the last two years fell off more than 680,000. The total attendance in 1918 was 15,761,787, a decrease of 272,712 over the preceding year and in 1919 15,842,022, a decrease of 409,765 over 1918.

HOOVER GIVES VIEWS ON PRESIDENCY

Any Party, Old or New, Can Have Him On Live Human Platform, Says Interviewer.

By HARRY E. HUNT.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—How does Herbert Hoover stand on the campaign being waged by his friends to make him a candidate for president? Does he wish to run? Is he a candidate? If so, does he wish to run as a democrat, as a republican or as an independent?

As a candidate, will Hoover subscribe to and run on whatever platform the organization leaders of the party dominating him may bring out of convention? These are questions upon which not only in the minds of party leaders here, whose campaign plans have been knocked galleyside by the impetus of the Hoover boom, but also in the mind of every individual who is following political developments even casually.

I can answer some of them—not to guess you or doze nor even on the views of closely associated and intimate friends—but out of Hoover's own mouth: To get the answers directly, I will summarize them first, before proceeding to quote Hoover, as follows:

Hoover is not actively a candidate, but will stand for election on a progressive human platform if such is brought forward by any party and Hoover's leadership demanded.

He does not wish to run as a republican under the present machine organization of that party or on any platform that may reasonably be expected from that party under its present control.

Neither will he accept the democratic nomination unless influence now dominant within that party are subordinated and a forward looking liberal human platform is evolved which he believes can win the approval of the rank and file of voters irrespective of former political affiliations.

While not seeking the formation of any third party or now furthering any division in the ranks of the two dominant old parties, Hoover would accept the leadership of such a third party on a program of his own choosing if, as now seems probable, the platform and policies of the republicans and democrats deal in the same old issues with the same old platitudes that have marked them in the past. "There is no doubt," Hoover told me, "but that there is tremendous dissatisfaction with both old parties, both in their present leadership and in their policies. "There is a new spirit stirring in the average man, new hopes, new desires and new ambitions, both for himself and for his country. It is the present control of the republican and democratic parties that we hope for advancement. Both are talking the same old policies, the same old platforms of capital and labor, high and low tariff, patriotism and Americanism—all in broad generalities. Neither party is advancing any definite, concrete program that promises to meet the hopes and desires of the average man. "The old machines, the old organizations, are still in control. The old narrow political ideas still dominate. "The result is that the people, the rank and file of voters in both parties, are casting about for some man outside the circle of organization leaders, on whom they can unite and in whom they see hope for a more modern, progressive, human leadership. "What now I am catching the result of that search, I believe, however, is only a passing phase. "The storm itself, though, is not a passing one. The area of disturbance is too great, the elements involved too powerful. The result, I believe will be that unless the two old parties get out of the rut in which they are now moving, it is inevitable that the progressive element in both of them will unite behind some new leader. "And I believe it to be wholly within the possibilities that, if the old parties pursue their present course, with their present narrow outlook, a new party might emerge which on a platform of some twenty-five or thirty planks, covering the fundamental needs and aspirations of the American people today, could sweep the country. "The trouble with both the republican and democratic with both Roosevelt and Wilson—is that they have tried to impose policies and programs from the top. They have tried to superimpose their own views and theories on the country. "What America must have is a program springing from the ground, from human fundamentals. Nothing also will meet the nation's needs or satisfy her people's desires. "From which it may be deduced that Hoover is not seriously fishing in either the democratic or the republican pond. He will not bait his hook to entice the appetites of those in either pond. "If they want him to pull them out, they will have to swallow what he himself chooses to put on the hook. Either party can have Hoover as its candidate, if it will nominate him on a platform that he believes is based on fundamental, down-to-the-wool needs and desires of the people. "Neither can get him on any other terms.

Murphy of New York, the mile event, in the national skating championships, which began here today. The ice was in excellent condition. The races were marred by spills, which resulted in the death of two of the fastest contenders. In the first round of the 220-yard race, the two leaders, Joe Moore of Lakewood, and Roy McWhorter of Chicago, in the semi-final of "Bonesetter" races here today, were the 220-yard race for cutting a corner. Summary: 220 Yard—John Hoernig, Cleveland, first; William Stolnmetz, Chicago, second; B. Horns, New York, third. Time—31 1-5 seconds. Mile—W. Murphy, New York, won; Russell Dornore, Saranac Lake, second; Russell Whelger, Montreal, third. Time—3 minutes, 11 2-5 seconds.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Corn prices tended downward today owing largely to indications that railroad traffic difficulties east of Chicago had grown worse. The close was steady at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2c lower with wheat, $1.35 to $1.35 1/2, and July, $1.32 to $1.32 1/2. Oats finished unchanged to 1/2c down and provisions off 25c to 50c. Knowledge that no new permits for grain shipments to the east were being issued had a depressing effect on the corn market throughout the session, and did a good deal to reduce trade to small proportions. Lower quotations on hogs were likewise discouraging to buyers, and so too were continued down towns in foreign exchange. Leading bears put much stress on the European financial situation as likely to be of permanent importance in determining future values, and in this connection were disposed to urge greater notice of the abundance of corn in the country. On the other hand, commission houses readily picked up all the offerings today on any decided dip in prices. Oats as well as corn were weakened by the inability of shippers to get out grain already stored. Provisions were under selling pressure from packers. Cash demand was slow and the market responsive to declines in the values of hogs.

FINN FORCES ADVANCE RAYS RUSS COMMUNICATION

By the Associated Press. ARCHANGEL, Jan. 27.—A north Russian communication issued today says: "A force of 2,000 Finns with machine guns and a long train of horse and reindeer transport have concentrated on the Russian frontier near Petschenga, the main body of which, ordered to advance in the direction of Petschenga, already has crossed the frontier. The inhabitants of the border villages are fleeing, panic-stricken, for a refuge in Norway. It is feared that it is the intention of the Finns to loot the treasures of the Petschenga monastery." The Petschenga region is in northern Finland, where the river of the Suomen joki empties into the Arctic ocean, a short distance east of the Tornen district of Norway.

REPUBLICANS NAME POLICY COMMITTEE

171 Party Leaders, Including 70 Women, Will Study Issues for Party Platform.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 28.—

Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, tonight made public his appointments to the advisory committee on policies and platform, consisting of 171 members, 19 of whom are women.

"The purpose of this committee," Mr. Hays said, "is to invite the advice and cooperation of the ablest men and women from all groups, sections, industry, business, professions and interest in the nation, to gather pertinent facts and data, to study intelligently the larger problems confronting us and to offer the result of their efforts as suggestions to the resolutions committee."

"This committee will itself be a working body," he added, "and will suggest the line of thought and investigation for a greater study of the entire line of the party. Those giving a substantial amount of time will constitute an executive committee of which Ogden L. Mills Jr., of New York City, will be chairman, and John Callan of Washington, D. C., secretary."

"Party programs," Mr. Hays asserted, "must always be subject to amendment and change by the national assembly. Living thought expressed within the party by men and women alike. The republican party's half century of achievement is the best guarantee to the country of future fulfillment, but it is only on future development that the party must continue to be the instrument to apply to new and changing conditions, the wisdom of experience and the efficacy of honest, zealous service. It is the party of the future or there is no party for the future."

To men and women alike is offered the right of political self-determination. The duty of the party membership is to say what the party's purpose shall be, what its policies shall become. The fundamentally essential right within a political party is the opportunity of the membership to express itself. It is the problem of the party membership to determine what the party stands for. Through it all, however, should run a supreme motif, and in the republican party that supreme motif is the honest and unselfish, patriotic and intelligent effort to promote and safeguard the best interests of the republic and its citizens."

In his statement announcing the committee's appointment, Mr. Hays says further:

"The potentiality for usefulness to the country and the party of such a committee is very great. The problems which are ahead of us are immeasurable in magnitude and complexity. The majority of the citizenry of the country believe that the republican party may best be treated with the solution. The country wants and is entitled not only to this fix in the history of its institutions, and fundamental ability of the republican party, but to a well defined statement of purpose and party program. It is obvious that the convention can do fuller justice to a platform commensurate with the needs if they have for their consideration the reliable material thus furnished by some of the best brains in the country."

The party working for five months in the solution of the nation's problems. "Underlying the whole plan is the great fact, which the national committee recognizes, that there rests on the republican party the tremendous responsibility of ascertaining fully the needs of the nation, and frankly and honestly and definitely stating the fundamentals of the party's plan for the solution of the problems in a comprehensible program of constructive measures. Then, recognizing that the nation's problems are a contractual matter, it shall be the supreme duty and purpose of the party when entrusted with power to square its performance with its promises."

ACTION IS DEFERRED ON SALE OF EX-HUN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Action on bills for sale of former German liners acted in the United States was deferred today by the shipping board as a result of a protest from Secretary Baker against the sale of such of these vessels as have been included by the war department's army transport bill.

Mr. Baker not only has protested to Chairman Payne with the request that the matter be presented to President Wilson, but has taken the question up with the senate commerce committee, which now is undertaking to formulate a permanent policy to govern the American merchant marine.

Chairman Payne on receiving Mr. Baker's protest, promised that no action would be taken until he could confer with war department officials. Mr. Baker is confident that his demand will be met and the date of the conference has not been fixed. It is an understood, however, that the question of the disposition of the vessels already has been placed before President Wilson for final decision.

TELLS POSSIBILITIES AMERICAN FALLS DAM

Reservoir Can Be Largest in the World, is Declaration of Harry Dibble.

"That the American Falls reservoir may be built to contain 3,000,000 more feet of water, which would make it the largest irrigation reservoir in the world, is the information brought to Twin Falls by those who attended the lunch-reception meeting at Darley Tuesday."

Harry Dibble, manager of the United States reclamation service in the authority for the statement. According to Mr. Dibble the normal flow of the Snake river in an ordinary year ranges from two and one-half to five million acre feet.

"If the reservoir sites of the Snake river are fully developed," said Mr. Dibble, the question of preferential water rights will take care of itself.

Many interesting facts were brought out at the Darley meeting, according to those who attended. O. J. Barber, Idaho state immigration commissioner, gave figures showing that the increase in school census has been 4.6 per cent for the entire state during the last year while in the southern irrigated counties the increase was 7.8 per cent.

Much interest was displayed at the meeting in the statement of M. J. Sweeley of Twin Falls that the tract would produce each year that is valued at four times the cost of the total construction of the irrigation project.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS ARE FILED BY JES-MATED

Two divorce suits were filed in the district court yesterday. Josephine Buckingham seeks to be divorced from Wilbur Buckingham. The cause was married on November 22, 1922. Cruelty is alleged. The plaintiff seeks $25 a month alimony, title to her portion of community property as well as the custody of three minor children.

CLAIMS $1,500 IS DUE AS REALTY COMMISSION

J. A. Galliter yesterday filed suit in the district court against the Twin Falls Realty company seeking to recover $1,500 which he alleges is due as commission for the sale of lands in the Marshall project, Utah. According to the complaint, Galliter disposed of land valued at $31,200 while acting as sub-agent for the property. The Twin Falls Realty company being the agent. Galliter claims he was to have received 5 per cent commission on all sales consummated through his efforts.

Wadsworth Says Mondell's Attack on Measure is Unwarranted by Facts of Situation.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Chairman Wadsworth of the senate military committee, which agreed Monday to report favorably on a compulsory universal military training plan, declared tonight that Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican leader of the house, was incorrect in his statements yesterday that one billion dollars would be required to administer the army reorganization bill with its universal training provision.

Senator Wadsworth estimated in 1921 the average cost of a trained soldier produced under the universal training system would be $309, which he said it would cost only $119, while today $1,500 is required annually to support a soldier in the regular army.

DISCLOSED TO PUBLIC TWIN FALLS COUNTY

Home Service Section Taking Steps to Prevent Spread of the Disease.

By the Associated Press.

THIRTY-EIGHT cases of influenza have been reported to County Physician C. O. McGinnis within the past few days, according to an announcement made by the physician last evening. Twenty of the cases are in Twin Falls and the remainder in the other parts of the county.

"There may be other cases prevalent in the county," said Dr. McGinnis, "but the symptoms are not sufficient to warrant a diagnosis. Every effort is being made, and will be made to prevent the spread of the disease."

Yesterday Mrs. Burton E. Morse, of the home service section of the Red Cross inaugurated a campaign to place the city in a favorable position to prevent the spread of the disease if its ramifications become more extended. Conditions at the county hospital preclude the utilization of that place at this time, according to the county officials. The only place available for isolated cases is now occupied with three smallpox patients. It would be impossible to put the flu patients in such a place, according to the hospital officials.

Two buildings, including the Addison T. Smith building (1) Main street, are being considered for isolation of cases, if the disease should be more rampant.
