

CONFEREES IN AGREEMENT ON RAILROAD BILL

Anti-Strike Provision Stricken From Cummins-Esch Measure by Committee.

ARBITRATION BOARD IS SUBSTITUTED IN PLACE

But Few Minor Details to Be Adjusted Before a Proposed Law Is Returned to House and Senate.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Continued) The anti-strike provision of the Cummins bill, against which labor has leveled protests and threats, and modifying the rate-making clauses of the same measures, senate and house conferees today reached a complete agreement on legislation designed to meet conditions growing out of the return of the railroads on March 1 to private control. For the anti-strike provision, the committee agreed to substitute what in effect amounts to compulsory arbitration of wage disputes to a federal board appointed by the president.

A number of minor differences remain to be composed but, these will be worked out by Senator Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the senate committee, and Representative Esch of Indiana, chairman of the house conferees. A final report on the legislation is anticipated later this week and efforts will be made to expedite consideration of the report in order to insure the bill's passage before March 1.

Breaks a Long Deadlock.

Breaking an agreement on the Esch bill passed by the house, and the Cummins bill, enacted by the senate, broke a deadlock that has existed several weeks due principally to the house conferees refusal to accept the anti-strike provision of the latter measure. House members also have opposed the senate rate-making section.

In agreeing on labor provision, the conferees struck out the clause of the senate bill which would virtually make strikes illegal by penalizing railroad employees who are entering into conspiracies for the purpose of interfering with interstate commerce and provided in lieu thereof a settlement of labor disputes by boards composed equally of employees and employers. The findings of these boards must be approved by federal boards appointed by the president with the senate's approval to which appeals must be taken in cases in which agreements are not reached by the other boards. While the size of the latter board has not been definitely fixed, Senator Cummins said it would probably be five members.

Cannot Be Compulsory.

All classes of railroad, employees, Senator Cummins said, are to have representation upon the lower wage boards. Since the government will not be represented upon these boards, the conferees explained, settlement of labor disputes cannot be made compulsory by them, but it is compulsory that in event of disagreement the dispute be referred to the federal board for settlement.

Under the agreement of the rate-making section, a return of five and one-half per cent upon the net railway operating income is guaranteed for a period of 18 months to two years after the bill becomes a law. The exact period will be fixed later by the conferees. The senate bill provided a five per cent return.

Provision is also made in the compromise that with the interstate commerce commission's approval, one-half of one per cent of the earnings may be given to the railroad responsible for the earnings and used for the improvement of the roads as a reward for terminal or elimination of grade crossings.

Fifty per cent of the earnings in excess of the six per cent will go to the railroads producing the excess return, while the balance will go to the railroads producing the excess return, while the balance will go to the railroads producing the excess return.

JAPAN DOES NOT OBJECT TO SOLE AS MINISTER

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Feb. 4.—In reply to a direct inquiry in official quarters today it was said that there was no news of an indication that Japan had objected to Germany's selection, directly or indirectly, of Dr. Baumbach as ambassador to Japan. Dr. Baumbach is at present in Berlin.

Herman Mueller, minister of foreign affairs, was busy today disentangling the situation that has resulted from the premature announcement of his selection of German envoys. Here Shuler, who is in charge of the department which inspects candidates for foreign appointments, was expected today to submit new names for the Madrid and Rome portfolios.

BRYAN AND WILSON ARE FAVORED BY CONVENTION

By the Associated Press.
FAIRFAX, N. D., Feb. 4.—A resolution endorsing William J. Bryan for the presidential nomination on the democratic ticket, introduced at the democratic state convention here today, when returned to the convention from the resolutions committee to which it was referred, declared the pleasure of the democrats in "the leadership of Woodrow Wilson and William J. Bryan," and pledged the support of the democrats in the state to the candidate nominated at San Francisco, "whoever he may be."

YARMOUTH BE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE ITS TRIP

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The steamer Yarmouth, with its $4,800,000 cargo of whisky, which was seized yesterday by the U. S. Customs Service, will be released and allowed to return to Havana, it was announced tonight following a telephone conversation between Mr. Shevlin and the attorney general's office in Washington.

While this conversation was in progress the federal grand jury began investigating the seizure in the Yarmouth's cargo which does not leave her sailing from and returning to New York.

The Yarmouth sailed for Cuba with a heavy list to starboard, resulting from hurried efforts to load the ship before midnight, January 18, when constitutional prohibition went into effect. Off the New Jersey coast she ran into rough weather and was forced to return to New York for repairs. Her captain explained that 500 cases of liquor were thrown overboard before she turned back.

GREY'S LETTER SUBJECT OF COMMENT BY FRENCH

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Feb. 4.—Commenting upon the letter of Viscount Grey, British ambassador to the United States, to the London Times, with regard to the American position on the peace treaty, the Echo de Paris says: "The address are abandoning President Wilson."

The paper adds that Viscount Grey succeeded in persuading Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, and former Premier Clemenceau to adopt his view point when in Paris some weeks ago and the letter to the Times will, it asserts, probably be followed by an official note along the same lines from the French and British cabinets.

"Our friends beyond the Atlantic cannot fail to understand the significance of the language they have just heard," the Echo de Paris continues. "It simply means that the allies are abandoning President Wilson and are trying to come to terms with the majority in the American congress."

MOSES AND M'CORMICK QUIT THE COMMITTEE

Two Senators Do Not Believe in This Manner of Drafting Policies, They Tell Their Leader.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Plans for the work of the committee of 171 which is to formulate recommendations for this year's republican national platform, got actively underway today with the return to Washington of Will H. Hays, the party's national chairman, after two months' swing around the globe.

The committee's immediate task, as mapped out by the party chiefs, is the collection of opinions on more than 20 matters of domestic concern, with notable exception of the question of what part of the platform is to be devoted to that subject.

Put Into Concrete Form.

These plans, however, have been put into concrete form in a memorandum to committee members and were outlined at a conference between Chairman Hays and more than a score of senators and representatives.

At the same time, there was some discussion of the legislative situation, the party leaders in senate and house outlining what they hoped to accomplish by convention time.

The meeting, which took place in the office of Senator Lodge, majority leader of the senate, was accomplished by a request of the speaker of the committee plan which developed in some quarters when it was announced several weeks ago. Although it was said the practicability of the move was not criticized during the conference, there were some questions asked which led Senator Wilson of Indiana, who has been selected to head the resolutions committee, to make a spirited defense of the project.

A similar plan, he told the conference, had been used for a number of years in Indiana.

Meantime, it became known that two senators, Moses of New Hampshire, and McCormick of Illinois, had declined to serve on the committee, because they found themselves out of sympathy with that method of preparing platform recommendations.

As outlined, the work of the committee does not contemplate that the full membership shall be assembled at any stage of the pre-convention work. Most of its deliberations will be carried on by correspondence between executive committees and through the heads of separate groups if it is decided to create them to deal with special subjects. It is emphasized that the most of the committee or its groups will do is to recommend, and that the recommendations will not be binding on the committee.

Among the subjects selected as platform material, and on which opinions will be collected and tabulated, are business rehabilitation, tariff changes, readjustment of foreign and domestic commerce, postal reform, education, conditions of the laborer, and the democratic administration.

MARTENS SAYS REDS ATTITUDE CHANGED

Heterodox Claim That Soviets No Longer Plan World-wide Revolution.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Renowned as a student of soviet Russia, had undergone a complete change of heart since the days when it was urging world-wide and universal revolution against constituted governments, marked today's examination of Ludwig Martens, soviet representative in the United States by the senate committee, investigating Russian propaganda.

Martens commenced the reading of a series of prepared statements on the subject, but was interrupted by Senator Moses (Republican, New Hampshire), chairman of the committee, who ruled against "cumbering up the record with propaganda."

But the portion of Martens' testimony that stirred committee members most as evidenced by their questioning, was his assertion, made identically that in 1918 the "agents" of the committee on public information, the war time government publicity agency and other "officials of the United States," worked with soviet officials to bring about a revolution in Germany and at the same time got out documents here designed to prove that soviet officials were paid agents of Germany.

Questioned as to the nature of these documents, Martens said they were known as the "Hison papers." This testimony led Chairman Moses to suggest that George Greer, chairman of the committee on public information, apparently "was working with the soviet on one hand and against with the other," to which the witness agreed. Asked regarding the "officials" mentioned, Martens named Raymond Robins, formerly of the Red Cross mission to Russia as one of those through whom the soviet co-operated in their propaganda against Germany.

The soviet Russian government has frequently offered to agree with other countries of the world in a mutual plan to leave each other's "internal affairs" alone, Martens told the committee, adding that his government could be depended upon to keep its promise in this matter, "because its economic interests lay that way."

And Lentie and others only advocated the general revolution during the period when other nations were actively attacking the soviet.

PALMER APPEALS FOR MODIFIED BILL

Attorney General Decries Proposed Anti-Sedition Laws Are Too Drastic.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Continued) Additional legislation, simple in character and guarding the guarantee of the bill of rights but covering "harmful" in present statutory laws, was urged by Attorney General Palmer today before the house judiciary committee.

Upholding the right of free speech and constructive criticism, the attorney general protested against pending measures which he said were "too drastic and far reaching and so searching that they overreach their purposes."

More harm than good would come from repressive legislation, he added.

Reviewing the activity of the department of justice in suppressing sedition, Mr. Palmer told the committee that vigor with which his department had acted together with its allies to law breakers of the strong and positive intention of the government to punish crimes had had the effect of maintaining such order as would have been otherwise impossible.

"But there is no existing statute adequate to meet the present situation," Mr. Palmer told the committee. "There is a condition of revolutionary intent in the country on the part of both aliens and citizens which is sufficiently widespread to merit serious consideration of congress. This revolutionary intent is manifested chiefly by threats both written and spoken by persons who would injure, destroy or overthrow the government by physical force or violence."

Citizens rights should always be guarded, Mr. Palmer said, adding that he agreed with those who criticized the Graham-Sterling bill on this ground.

"But I do not agree with those who object to the bill because they believe that acts of violence should be met with argument only and not by the firm hand of federal statute," he said.

The Davy bill, drawn originally by Mr. Palmer and introduced in the house last November, the attorney general said, was adequate for the present emergency. No postmaster general should be given authority to decide whether alleged sedition matter was non-mailable as provided in the Sterling bill passed by the senate, he said.

NITTI SAYS EUROPE MUST 'HELP ITSELF'

Agrees With Glass' Communication on Many Points, He Declares.

AVERS ITALY ALREADY USING HEAVY TAXATION

International Solution of Financial Problems Must Come, or Whole World Will Suffer.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Feb. 4.—Premier Nitti, in a lengthy statement to the Associated Press today on the economic situation, said:

"I agree with many points in the letter of Secretary of the Treasury Glass addressed to the American Chamber of Commerce. Europe must be animated by the spirit of peace. The present state of mind cannot continue long. But above all, it is impossible to prolong much further the present economic situation. Italy has set an example, understanding this necessity."

Have Adopted Taxation.

"We, first among all the nations of Europe, have adopted the heaviest taxation. We are raising taxes sufficient to pay the interest on our debts and also our expenses. For each new duty we have advanced taxation. We are approaching the limit of the national budget, and we could not go further. Therefore, we should be the first nation on the European continent to reduce our income and expenditure."

"We agree only on our strength, not on indifference from the acquired sources. If these duties eventually are paid, we must be just compensation for all our sacrifices. But we must depend entirely on our own resources."

"We have just launched a loan in order to withdraw from circulation and reduce the paper currency. Subscriptions to the loan already amount to fourteen billion lire, enable us to withdraw from circulation and reduce the paper currency. Subscriptions to the loan already amount to fourteen billion lire, enable us to withdraw from circulation and reduce the paper currency. Subscriptions to the loan already amount to fourteen billion lire, enable us to withdraw from circulation and reduce the paper currency."

"It would not be unreasonable, unjust, but for all that we do forget our duty. We are descendants of those ancient Romans, who, to that owe money was to be a slave. We want to slaves even to our friends. We desire to return as soon as possible what we borrow."

"America Must Understand. America, however, must understand the situation clearly. An historical spirit now animates the world, the war and having been a tactical victory which should have resulted from trials endured together."

"The rise in exchange represents a grave danger, giving to all a feeling that it is a threat to economic and social peace. The rise in exchange brings about a rapid and dangerous augmentation of the causes of unrest and strikes, and their turn, diminishing production, the relations between the increasingly difficult and the character of the situation."

"The character of the situation to the whole world, to the country, to the nation, to the home, to the individual, to the family, to the child, to the woman, to the man, to the old, to the young, to the sick, to the healthy, to the poor, to the rich, to the noble, to the humble, to the great, to the small, to the many, to the few, to the whole, to the part, to the end, to the beginning, to the T. M. ATKIN IS INJURED BY FALL

Rooming House Proprietor Drops 10 Feet Down Elevator Shaft

T. M. Atkin, proprietor of the Corcoran rooming house, received serious injury to his back yesterday when he fell 10 feet down an elevator shaft in his home.

It is said that Mr. Atkin had operated the elevator a short time previous to his accident and had left it on the lower floor. A short time later he returned to the second floor by the stairs and wishing to visit the bathroom, he approached the shaft, apparently forgetting that he had left the lift on the lower floor. The lights were off at the time and Mr. Atkin must have stumbled into the open shaft falling to the elevator below where he was later found unconscious.

Upon his removal to the county hospital it was found that two small bones of the vertebrae had been broken.

Although Mr. Atkin's injury is serious it is not thought he is in a dangerous condition.

The injured man is over 60 years of age.

BOOZE STEAMSHIP IS SEIZED BY GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The Black Star steamship Yarmouth which sailed for Havana last month with a $4,800,000 cargo of whisky only to put back for repairs, was seized by the government today. Federal prohibition inspectors Shevin formally notified the captain that tomorrow he would begin unloading the liquor for storage in bonded warehouses.

Counsel for the owners, a corporation composed of negroes, announced they would apply to the federal court for an injunction restraining Shevin from interfering with the ship or her cargo. MONDELL SAYS ARMY MUST BE KEPT AT 225,000

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican leader, discussing the universal training controversy in the house again today, declared operation of the system would not justify a reduction of the regular military establishment below the 225,000 personnel, which is the size of the re-organized army virtually agreed upon.

Estimated annual costs for maintenance of an army together with a civilian-trained force, would be approximately $1,500,000,000, Mondell said. Of this amount $100,000,000 would be needed for the regular forces and $750,000,000 for the civilian army, he added.

HERE TO AID IN ARMENIAN RELIEF

Rev. Paronagian, Director, Near East.

Rev. M. B. Paronagian, superintendent of Sunday schools in the Oregon conference for the Methodist Episcopal church, is visiting Twin Falls for the purpose of aiding in organizing a committee to raise $10,000 for this country's share in the nation's $50,000,000 fund for Armenian and Syrian relief work in the Near East.

According to statements made by Rev. Paronagian the conditions in these two countries are bordering on the terrible, particularly among the younger children. Starvation is only averted by a system of rationing, he says, and if no relief is given this practice will not suffice to save the thousands that suffer.

There are 400 relief workers now in these countries working under direction of Colonel Lester, American high commissioner of the Near East conference, but these are unable to take care of the situation without further assistance from the states, according to the visitor.

H. J. Fleischer, who is field director in the Postville district, is also in Twin Falls working with Rev. Paronagian in the Near East relief drive.

AUSTRIANS COMMENT ON U. S. FINANCIAL ATTITUDE

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, Sunday, Feb. 3.—The refusal of the United States to participate in a European finance conference is given great prominence in the newspapers here. Dr. Morgen says: "The European currency crisis leaves America cool up to her purse pocket. She is trying to liquidate her war affairs in Europe as rapidly as possible."

Alluding to American relief work, the paper continues: "America differentiates beautifully between the dictates of sympathy and humanity and unscrupulous business spirit."

The Arbeiter Zeitung says it is evident that the United States is not prepared to allow herself to become entangled in Europe's misery.

POLISH GIVE TERMS ON WHICH THEY WILL SIGN PACT

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The Polish diet will sign the peace treaty proffered by the Russian soviet government if guarantees are given that propaganda will not be carried on in Poland and other European countries. It was said today by Prince Casmir Lubomirski, Polish minister to the United States.

The soviet peace proposals, the minister said, is proof that the Polish policy of maintaining a strategic military frontier against the Bolsheviks has been given the right one. The Poles have at all times been on the defense and have no imperialistic intentions, he added.

SWITZERLAND WILL NOT PARTICIPATE IN ANY WAR

By the Associated Press.
BERNE, Feb. 3.—Dr. Motta, president of Switzerland, outlining Switzerland's past and future policy with respect to the league of nations, informed the federal council today that the traditional policy of neutrality would mean that Switzerland would not participate in a military way in any war even those contemplated by article 16. He added that Switzerland was ready to make all sacrifices to defend the inviolability of its territory and that Switzerland would not permit either the passage or preparation of military enterprises on her soil.

VORWAERTS OPPOSED TO PROPERTY DIVISION BILL

BERLIN, Feb. 3.—Vorwaerts, the socialist organ, today devoted two columns to the Prussian bill, which would give the bulk of crown property in Germany to the guilty Kaiser. It declares that the provisions of the bill are impossible.

CHINA IS GREAT TRADE POSSIBILITY FOR AMERICA

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—China offers to the United States greater possibilities in trade than does any other section of the world. Julian Arnold, commercial attaché to the American legation at Peking declared before the institute of arts and science at Columbia University tonight. Mr. Arnold advocated the establishment of a school at Peking for the instruction of Americans in Oriental trade conditions.

"The eyes of the world are on China," he continued. "But, while Great Britain and France plan air routes from London to Shanghai and Paris to Peking the United States contents itself with slow and inadequate trans-Pacific steamship facilities and cable connections scarcely better than mail routes."

Over 200,000,000 of Americans today study Spanish to qualify for Latin-American trade, but few study Chinese to prepare for what will be the greatest market the world has to offer. Mr. Arnold added, "American school children are taught ancient history, but they know nothing of one of the greatest events of modern history, the Chinese revolution in 1911, when nearly one-fourth of the human race declared a republic."

He declared that "direful consequences must come sooner or later from an unintelligent handling of problems arising out of our relations with nations of the Far East."

PAN-AMERICAN LOANS.

Europe has plenty of uses for money. As a nation the United States has already extended to Europe about as much credit and as many actual loans as seem advisable, although private enterprise is still willing and able to give further financial aid.

Another suggestion for accomplishing this end was presented by South American delegates at the recent Pan-American Financial Conference at Washington. According to the Bolivian delegation, South American countries borrowed a lot of money from Europe before the war. They feel it a moral obligation now to pay back that money as rapidly as possible because of Europe's need. But they have not the ready money to do this.

They suggest, therefore, that the United States lend money to the South and Central American countries. This money would serve the two-fold purpose of helping to speed up South American industries and of supplying immediate funds to repay Europe. Of course, South America would only be cancelling one set of debts by incurring another. But there is this advantage, that the countries of our southern continent are not already up to their ears in debt to us as are the European countries. Also, the South American countries, by paying up honest debts in Europe, would help to stabilize exchange.

The conference recommended that United States banking interests consider this plan. If it is found to be wise and sound, the Pan-American conference, and particularly the South American delegates to it, will have helped greatly to straighten out the very tangled threads of international finance.

THINGS TO TEACH GIRLS.

Regardless of whatever other things she learns, there are four things which he intends to teach his daughter himself, asserts one father.

They are: "To put up a car window without covering herself with grime or without summoning the aid of half the car occupants and finally the conductor; to read a time-table intelligently and accurately; to get on and off street cars correctly; to buy a railway ticket and check her baggage without holding up a waiting line of people or making a baggage man wish he dealt exclusively with men."

In view of the well-known habits of car windows, railway ticket agents and time tables, there may some who will think that this parent is expecting superhuman perfection in his daughter. There might also be found close observers of the human race who have seen even men making an awful mess of ticket purchasing and baggage checking.

Granting, however, that these are human frailties which may be found in members of either sex, it must still be judged in all fairness that women are chiefly guilty. And the reason for this is that few fathers do as this one plans to do—teach their daughters how to do these things correctly. Sisters, wives and daughters who are considered wholly capable of doing difficult odd jobs about the house are supposed to be quite helpless in public. They are helped on and off cars until they become careless of the proper method of entering or leaving unaided. Their strictly business errands are done for them, lovingly but also with a thoroughness that leaves them unable to help themselves when need arises.

Suppose fathers begin now to supplement mothers' household teaching by training daughter in these outside-the-home activities. It has been generally conceded that women are indeed people in many regards, and as people, with human intelligence, they can undoubtedly learn to perform their own traveling operations gracefully and efficiently.

THE "BABY STRIKE."

French socialists are responding to Premier Millerand's "more children" proclamation by a propaganda urging a "baby strike." This, they say, is the surest preventive of future wars. They argue that the more babies, the more men there will be for armies; and the larger armies, the more probability of war, and so an endless round of sacrifice.

It is a doctrine that was heard a good deal during the war. And as an abstract proposition, those French Socialists are doubtless right about it. If women would stop bearing children, wars would certainly die out for lack of cannon-fodder.

There are just two flaws in the argument. One is that it will not work unless it is applied to all countries at once. If France alone stops producing children, that merely makes it easier for some prolific nation to make war on her. It was this very situation, in a moderate degree, that gave Germany the advantage over France in the present war—the chief superiority of Germany and the chief cause of German confidence lay in the fact that starting about equal, Germany had out-babied France by many millions.

The other flaw is that those socialists ignore human nature. Do not women, after all their centuries of suffering from warfare, still love babies more than they hate war?

THE PLATINUM BRICK NOW.

Even swindlers must keep up with the fashion of the times. Although many of the old games are still worked with the same unvarying success that marked their initial appearance a generation ago, the big fellows in the game seem to realize that to "put it over" nowadays they must keep up with the pace set by the honest section of the populace.

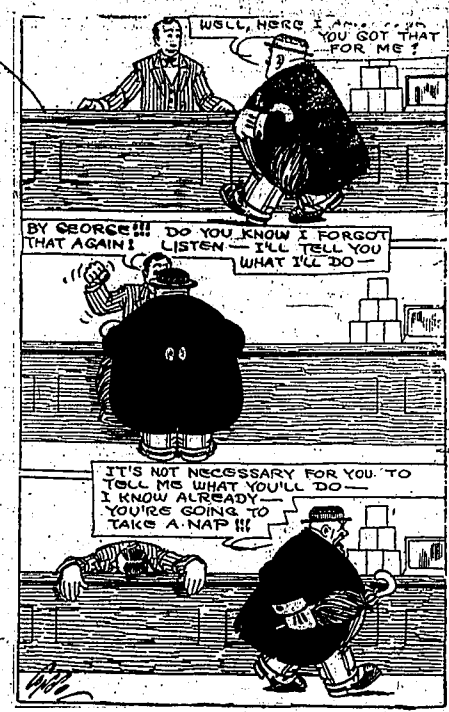

It is, therefore, not surprising that the platinum brick has supplanted the gold brick as an accepted article of commerce in the shady circles of criminal finance. The new, more fashionable and more expensive style of fraud has not yet reached America but, as the habitat of the gold brick and the home of the sucker, it will be surprising if the fertile fields of the United States lie long uncultivated. The platinum brick was first sold in German Austria, and the swindlers were captured. They had in their possession a number of the bricks, made of lead cleverly covered with a veneer of platinum.

Cemetery officials in Cleveland have forbidden people to sleep in the Erie cemetery. So Cleveland still runs true to form. We don't know of any other town where people would either want to sleep in a cemetery, or forbid other people to do it if they wanted to.

Any intelligent man can prove conclusively that Bolshevism won't work, in Russia or anywhere else, and that, left to itself, it will just naturally destroy itself. Everybody's been proving that right along for a couple of years. And every time, just as Bolshevism has been logically annihilated, it comes up stronger than ever.

Mexican people at least have the virtue of patience. Look how they put up with Carranza.

other equipment to be rented to the weaker roads to whom loans from this fund also may be made.

The bill as completed further authorizes the interstate commerce commission to prescribe rates which will yield revenue by which this fixed return may be guaranteed and after the termination of the period during which this return is effective, the commission is authorized to agree upon the percentage of return and fix rates accordingly in order to insure its continuation.

The Cummins bill provided that one half of the earnings in excess of six per cent and not exceeding seven per cent would have been placed in a reserve fund and the remaining one-half would have gone into a general railroad contingent fund.

Another important action agreed upon by the conferees and which is expected to prevent much state litigation provides that the interstate commerce commission may suspend or change rates during the six months period after the roads are released by the government.

The conferees also agreed with a slight modification on the Paine-Webster long and short haul amendment.

FAIL TO AGREE ON WAGES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Railroad administration officials and representatives of the railroad unions, in conference on wage demands of the more than 3,000,000 workers still were apart tonight on practically all angles of the wage questions. The union heads held only a brief session with Director General Lines after which they were in conference at one.

Neither Mr. Lines nor any of the workers' representatives would discuss the day's events. There were evidences, however, that the sessions would extend over several days.

In a statement tonight regarding his trip to the Pacific coast, Mr. Hays declared he found a general sentiment everywhere in favor of republican success in the campaign and enumerated the subjects, all of them of a domestic character, of which he found the people thinking. The statement follows:

"Everywhere I find the people, regardless of past party affiliations, seeking republican success, moved with the conviction that by such success they will make certain:
"First, an honest, efficient, economical business administration of the country's affairs.
"Second, that there will be developed and executed a plan for the reduction of taxes, with the repeal of taxes which kill initiative and the spreading of the war debt over a large number of years.
"Third, that there will be developed a better relation between labor and capital, with justice to both, and with justice to the public, the third side of the triangle, which must not be forgotten.

"Fourth, that there shall be an administration of law and order everywhere in the nation.
"Fifth, that the party will measure its steps forward by the new needs of the nation, with its eyes always ahead, but with its feet always on solid ground."

Some of the names in the list are distorted and the military or civil rank of the person, desired is not indicated. The list contains among others the name of "Felfritz," which possibly is a telegraphic error for Dr.

Karl Helfferich, former minister of finance, this evening the covering note to the extradition list had not been received. Both documents are believed to have been transmitted unofficially through the correspondent of the Wolff bureau at Versailles.

Up to six o'clock this evening the covering note to the extradition list had not been received. Both documents are believed to have been transmitted unofficially through the correspondent of the Wolff bureau at Versailles.

The cabinet went into session at six o'clock tonight, the ministers being in a visibly nervous state.

The von Lersner episode created surprise here as he said he had been instructed to forward the list directly to Berlin and not permit personal scruples to influence him in the discharge of his duty.

"Today," says the Tagliche Rundschau, "marks the beginning of the extradition crisis and the very existence of the German empire depends upon the outcome of the entire demand."

The Varnhagen prints an editorial under the caption "Germany cannot deliver," and expresses the hope that "war councils will prevail in entire quaternum."

SAYS SURRENDER IMPOSSIBLE. LONDON, Thurs., Feb. 5.—"The surrender of these men is virtually impossible, turn it how you will," said Minister Defense Noske in an interview with the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent in discussing the demands for the extradition by the allies of Germans charged with war crimes.

The correspondent points out that the task of arresting and delivering the men for extradition would fall on Noske. He adds that passive resistance apparently will be the attitude of Germany toward the allied demand.

NEW CLOTURE RULE DOOMED TO FAIL

Many Senators Oppose Limit on Debate on the Peace Treaty Before the Senate.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Failure generally was predicted by senate leaders tonight for the effort to write a new cloture provision into the senate rules to curb debate on the peace treaty when it is renewed next week.

Although the rules committee will meet tomorrow to take up the subject, it generally was conceded that the time was too short to make any change in the rules before the treaty is called up Monday.

Senators who have opposed any limitation on debate, were prepared, it was said, to fight a cloture proposal at such length that no roll call would be reached on it before that time.

Under the present plan of the leaders to dispense with the old cloture restrictions now clinging to the treaty, the development was regarded as insuring that when the treaty comes up unlimited debate will be in order.

It is hoped on both sides, however, to hasten consideration as much as possible to come to a final ratification roll call promptly. Some senators think it can be reached within ten days.

Negotiations for agreement on some of the reservations to be considered continued during the day and in some quarters it was predicted that the points of disagreement quickly would be sifted down to a few propositions, once the treaty comes into the open senate.

From other sources it was predicted, however, that the republican leaders would insist on their original reservations without the modifications agreed on by the unofficial bi-partisan committee and that a long controversy would ensue.

EXCHANGE CRASHES TO NEW LOW MARK

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The most serious collapse in the history of the foreign exchange market in New York, a 25 per cent rate for demand loans, time funds reduced to the vanishing point and further withdrawal of government deposits, summarized today's disturbances on the stock exchange and the leading commodity markets.

Demand sterling fell to $2.10, a decline of 14 cents from yesterday's low and 31 cents under last week's final quotation. Translated into the American dollar, the pound sterling showed a loss of considerably more than 33 per cent from its normal or pre-war price of $4.86 5-8.

French, Belgian and Italian remittances at new low quotations of 15.12, 14.82 and 19.10, respectively, were at discounts extending from 47 to 77 per cent of their normal quotations of 5.16 1-8 to the dollar.

Counter movements which reflected these local conditions included new high premiums for bar gold and silver in the London market and a higher quotation for New York exchange on Canadian points.

Bankers' and international financial interests as a whole declined to discuss the more ominous aspects of the international credit situation, but seemed hopeful that the several governmental investigations now under way abroad might be productive of early results.

In the stock market the movement was one of almost continuous decline, leaders sustaining extreme losses of 2 to 17 points with a few unimportant rallies in the later dealings. Special features of weakness included General Motors, Stutz, Studebaker and Pierce-Arrows, Chandler, Mexican and Pan-American Petroleum, Texas company, Middle States Oil, Crucible, Bethlehem and Gulf States steel, Buick, Leominster, Worthington, Pump, American Woolen, American Tobacco, Sunatra Tobacco, Lorillard, Tobacco, Associated Dry Goods and the various shipping and food stores.

Transactions of about 1,750,000 shares represented the largest total since the crash of last November and the 25 per cent rate for call money represented the maximum quotation for that form of accommodation since November 12 when as much as 28 per cent was paid.

Bonds of all descriptions paid off to the day's reversal, several of the liberty issues, both Victory notes and a few of the international war flotations, establishing new low records on a turnover par value of $22,750,000.

PROPOSES INVESTIGATION. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Following the collapse in international exchange had become serious, Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, announced in the senate today he would seek action next week on his resolution to appoint an international monetary commission with the purpose of establishing a parity between gold and silver.

The present situation, Senator Thomas asserted, was such as to "threaten the supremacy or possibly the existence of our export trade."

MAY HIT H. C. L. NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The demonization of foreign exchange may deal a blow to the high cost of living in America in the opinion of Percy T. Johnson, president of the Chemical National bank.

"It will cut down our exports," said Mr. Johnson today, "thus throwing large quantities of American goods on the local markets, and will, in all probability, result in a decrease of prices."

GETS "HALF A LIFETIME." LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—Half a life time" in San Quentin penitentiary was the sentence imposed upon Don, old C. Groney, 21, by Superior Judge Willis here today. Groney had been convicted of attempting to rob a bank at Hyman, near here. What happened to the bank prior to the robbery is determining the years he must serve was not known here.

Professional football is going to feel the effects of non-support unless the managers of semi-pro teams make it a set rule to lay off the college under graduates. Murphy and Cogswell, Dartmouth player of 1919, both played with the Cleveland Indians. The matter wasn't generally known until after the season closed, but has resulted in stirring up quite a row at Dartmouth. Jimmy O'Donnell, manager of the Cleveland team, says he was unaware the men were collegians. But nevertheless they were. Pro football is all right in a way and the old collegians and the nine-rush alumni are ready to help it be a success, but they will withdraw their support if the pro managers do not exercise more care in the hiring of men. It shouldn't be a hard matter to investigate a player's claim before signing him.

The story that the Cincinnati Reds were organized holdups probably is the old bunk. The Reds were well organized on the field of play last summer, but their drive for higher pay is individual effort. I have the word of one of the star players of Monon's team that there is nothing to the report, though he admits he's a holdout and will not play unless he gets quite a substantial raise.

A little wind in a southern train this morn'g brings an awful holler from a ball player, but here we see half a dozen major league stars playing baseball on the ice.

Ray Chapman is vice president of a Cleveland brace works. But Ray probably won't get brassy because of that.

Missouri valley conference teams will hold boxing bouts between halves which will make it one continuous fight.

The old football yell (or groan)—"Hold 'em 'em and so" won't be adaptable for the boxing team. They don't allow holding.

But they can't yell: "Knock out Harvard."

Bill Byron, the singing umpire is going to make his side line the main line. Bill is a steamfitter and has been collecting quite a liberal number of snickers in the winter time. In fact Bill makes so much money plumbing that he can't afford to play baseball.

Funny, they called Bill a robber, thief and highwayman, yegg and everything else, but no one ever thought to call him a lead pipe worker.

Johnny Sheppard, English lightweight champion, has had 34 fights and won 'em all—54 of them by the old kayo route. Maybe the victims were punks, but who has a record of knocking out that many punks, even?

If Georges Carpentier fights in America, and the fight is in the spring, fall or winter, we can't think of no better place to hold it than in New Orleans, where a big portion of the population is of French descent. They would make up quite a crowd for the Carpentier sections of the arena.

There should be a lot of punch in the Dodgers and Giants this season. Brooklyn has Fitzsimmons and New York has a couple of Kelleys. With a couple of Kelleys in the crowd the Giants are likely to start something any time.

TO WITHHOLD LOANS PENDING DECISION

Farm Loan Association to Await Award by Supreme Court On Measure.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Pending a decision by the supreme court of the United States on the constitutionality of the farm loan act, all future applications for loans from federal farm loan banks will be held in abeyance, Farm Loan Commissioner Norris announced tonight. The policy of the board to suspend temporarily the making of loans does not affect loans for which applications already are in the hands of farm loan representatives, however. Mr. Norris said, adding that such transactions would be completed under the regulations in effect since the system was created.

Officials explained the adoption of the new policy as having been due to a desire on the part of the farm loan board not to defeat the plan of individual borrowers if, in any event, loans cannot be made. Should the act be held unconstitutional, applications for loans necessarily could no longer be considered. In issuing the general instructions to both joint stock and farm loan banks to hold up actual closing of further loans, the board advised them that prospective borrowers must be informed of the possibility which entered in the legal decision as a measure of protection to them.

Mr. Norris announced the plans of the board's decision in the following statement:

"In view of the recess of the supreme court of the United States, which precludes any announcement before March first of a decision in the suit involving the constitutionality of the farm loan act with the possibility that the decision may not be announced until a later date, the farm loan board has instructed the federal land banks to accept future applications for loans subject to delay in closing. These banks secure funds for loaning purposes by the sale of farm loan bonds, and the board deems it unwise to offer these bonds at a time when investors may hesitate to purchase them because of the pendency of legal proceedings. The decision of the United States district court sustained the constitutionality of the act. An appeal was taken to the supreme court when the case was argued January 6."

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16 1/2 cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.
The freight on it has increased only 51 cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mill and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5 3/4 cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

START MOVEMENT TO MAKE DENMARK PROHIBITION

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, Feb. 3.—William B. ("Pussyfoot") Johnson of the American Anti-Saloon league and the Rev. David Oestlund today inaugurated a prohibition campaign at a public meeting. They met with a mixed reception, but the hostile element predominated and the heckling received by the speakers was of a severe nature.

In an editorial today dealing with the campaign, the National Tidende says that the meeting was by no means "a success" and that the "American agitation." The Copenhagen declares the agitation has been started "for American money" and asks "for what purpose."

ROME, Mon., Feb. 2.—The Giornale d'Italia in an editorial today expresses the belief that now is the time for Premier Nitto to put an end to the Adriatic controversy, with the assistance of Great Britain and France, while it is in evidence that the United States will stand aside. Having the right, no more to intervene in the settlement of European questions.

NEW FASHION IS SET IN JEWELS

Ancient Bubbles Are Now Being Utilized by the Museum of Art, Fifth Avenue.

NEW YORK.—Crown jewels of the Princess Sat-Hathor-Inuut, the daughter of Senusert, who ruled Egypt 4,000 years before Christ, and which are on exhibit at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, apparently have set a new fashion in necklaces, brooches and rings for those who patronize Fifth Avenue shops.

The collection now on display was found in the tomb of the ancient royal ally which was unearthed by Professor W. M. Flinders Petrie in 1914. Although only one blue bead remained in the sarcophagus as a reminder of the Egyptian king's daughter, yet the jewel casket and contents inside were found intact. It was recently purchased by the museum for a large sum.

Among the costly bubbles of the princess are shining pectonals of the deepest lapis lazuli and dainty amulets of dark carnelian, popular in the years now being lived in. Her favorite amulet, a necklace, as well as smaller jewel cases and urns, were as marvelous of artistry and skilled workmanship.

One cartouche containing the name of Sat-Hathor-Inuut's father and, apparently a gift from the king to his daughter, might have been worn as a brooch. It consists of a symbolical figure of two birds standing on a hieroglyphic base. Over the birds' heads are cobra de capello, or hooded serpents, whose coils form a frame for a scum or sacred beetle. New York jewelry shop windows at present display ornaments of platinum and diamonds patterned after the designs of some of the Princess Sat-Hathor-Inuut's trinkets. The craftsmen of the jewelry industry, under the thorough supervision, however, have not been outdone in skilled workmanship by the jewelry makers of today, say connoisseurs.

UNION LEADER, PROMINENT IN FEUDS; SHOT AND KILLED

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Maurice Enright, who has figured in many struggles between squabbling labor unions, including two slayings, was shot and killed tonight. Enright was cranking his automobile in front of his home, when he was shot by a man kneeling as if in worship.

PREDICTS GREAT RUSH OF IMMIGRATION TO AMERICA

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The United States is on the eve of a "very great rush of immigration, such as we have never seen before," in the opinion of Alfred Hampton, assistant commissioner general of immigration, who conferred with Ellis Island officials today.

today in plans to expand facilities at the immigration station. Figures for January showed a marked increase in arrivals from abroad, as compared with the same month in 1919, whereas in November about 45,000 left the country and about 30,000 were admitted.

"Many of those who went over are coming back," Mr. Hampton said, "and they are bringing with them their brothers, sisters, or other relatives." The annual spring influx of immigrants is soon to set in and there is every reason to believe that it will exceed many of the seasons which brought heavy loads of foreigners to this country.

OHIO REPUBLICANS PAY HOMAGE TO AKINLEY MEMORY

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O. Jan. 29.—Hundreds of republicans gathered here at Niles tonight to hear prominent republicans speak at McKinley day banquet.

United States Senator Warren G. Harding delivered his campaign address at Niles since announcing his candidacy for the presidency.

Early in his address Senator Harding mentioned his recent statement that "there must be popular government in America through the agency of political parties."

"McKinley was notably partisan," he said. "He believed in his party as the agency of the greatest good to the American people."

Former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, another speaker at Niles, recited reminiscences of the McKinley administration.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the Columbia university, New York, eulogized McKinley at the local banquet.

ROYALIST PARTY BUSY TRYING TO FIND A KING

By the Associated Press.
BUDAPEST, Sat. Jan. 31.—The royalist party in Hungary is divided into two groups. One demands a national king, the other a Hungarian king. This group is willing to accept Archduke Joseph as king owing to the fact that his Hungarian stock appears stronger.

The other group is working to invite a member of some powerful foreign dynasty to the position, so that he might bring with him the economic and political aid of his country. There is a great deal of talk about Prince Arthur of Connaught. There is also a small group which advocates legal principles, according to which the emperor Charles, if it is ascertained, is legally king of Hungary. This group is seeking to persuade Charles to abdicate in favor of his son, Otto, during whose infancy Hungary should be governed by a regent—possibly Apponyi.

WOULD BE ACTED ON IN ACCORDANCE WITH TREATY

By the Associated Press.
THE HAGUE, Feb. 3.—The Associated Press was informed today that any demand on Holland for the surrender of former Crown Prince Paul of Romania, who was a criminal, would be treated by the Dutch government probably according to the Dutch extradition treaty with Germany and it would be a question for the courts to decide rather than the government, as in the case of the former German emperor.

"If the crown prince is demanded of Germany by the provisions of the Versailles treaty," it was stated, "it is then up to Germany to ask Holland for him."

During the hour after the arrival they were guests of local fruit dealers at a luncheon and were taken on automobile trips to points of interest in this vicinity.

PROSECUTION SCORES IN NEWBERRY CASE

Attorneys Believe Two Bits of Testimony Are of Vital Importance.

By the Associated Press.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 4.—Two bits of testimony, given today in the trial of Senator Truman H. Newberry and six scores Michigan politicians, were considered by government attorneys as important to the charge of conspiracy which they are seeking to establish.

James Swelhart, head of the New York bureau of a Detroit newspaper, related that Frederick Cady, a defendant, told him in New York "the bit is off in Michigan and the sky is the limit."

Walter Chapple, editor of a country weekly at Haysville, Mich., testified that Benjamin F. Reed, another defendant, had solicited him to become a county chairman in the Newberry organization, and told him: "The freight will be paid."

The 15 witnesses on the stand today, practically all testified in the face of a general objection by the defense. This objection entered as witness after witness took the stand, and overruled by the court, was to the effect that the government had failed to prove that a conspiracy existed to violate the federal election and postal laws, and that therefore the individual acts of defendants could not be offered in evidence at this stage of the proceedings.

Federal Judge Sessions held that government counsel had a right to marshal their testimony as they saw fit.

The government forces were in turn frequently overruled when they tried to confine cross-examination of their witnesses strictly to the material developed by the direct questioning. Defense attempts to search the motives of witnesses in certain campaign acts, were, however, halted by the court.

In the cross examination of Lyle Shannahan, an attorney from Charlevoix, and one of the organizers of the Newberry campaign committed in his county, Shannahan testified that he had received $40 from John B. Harris, chairman of the committee and one of the defendants. W. H. Elchen, questioning for the government, asked Shannahan that he "had used five dollars of that amount to pay a challenger at the primary polls, but had not accounted for the remainder."

Among the witnesses were a number of stenographers and typists employed at Newberry campaign headquarters in Detroit. They named numerous defendants they had seen about the offices, told of being paid to cash and some of them related that there was a cash chest in the vault at headquarters. The successive entries of the smartly dressed young women caused a succession of sobs in the court room that grew until the United States marshal, was forced to restore decorum to the proceedings.

LONSDALE FAVORS U. S. BOXING UNION PLAN

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Receipt of a cable message from Lord Londsdale, president of the British board of boxing control, in which he declared the English board favors American views advocating proportionate voting power in the international boxing union, was announced tonight by Major Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, chairman of the army, navy and civilian board of boxing control. The American board recently cabled its refusal to send representatives to the meeting of the international union in Paris (February 14), because the country represented was to have equal voting power, regardless of its boxing prominence.

The French board of boxing control has suggested, Lord Londsdale's message stated, that France, England and the United States be given 10 votes each, and one vote each for remaining members of the union, according to their relative importance.

national agreement. We must all act together for the safety of all, and in my opinion the program must be adopted immediately and unconditionally.

"It might at first sight appear that the United States has no immediate interest, but this question of exchange will end by being most injurious to the United States. If steps are not taken in time there will be one of the most colossal crises the world has ever known, and America will be drawn into it. It is imperative that a condition of equilibrium be re-established immediately."

"I can quite well understand that in the United States a feeling of distrust prevails and that there is a disinclination to give credit at a time when it might appear that Europe will meditate war, and that it is this which helps to maintain the present disorganized financial conditions. But nothing could do a greater harm to countries honestly striving toward peace, both internal and external, than the present uncertainty."

"I am sure we can be able to buy on the American market what is indispensable to the life of our country under conditions of comparative stability and for this reason it is necessary for us that the governments of the principal countries should put their heads together and at once take steps to end the present terrific position."

To Be World Crisis.

"If the present disorder is not substituted by some form of enlightened and honest cooperation, it is not an European crisis only which will follow, but a crisis all over the world. And that is a prospect too awful to behold."

"The United States government can render services of the highest value to humanity and to America itself, which would suffer from a world wide crisis."

"Italy needs above all things raw materials and foodstuffs. Italy has an immense reserve of man power. In a few years three or four times as many people as Italy has now will be one of the richest countries in the world, because she will be to the fullest extent the immense water power she possesses, besides her great man power."

"But we must overcome the present difficulties and take the first step, and in doing this we count upon the friendly and loyal help of the American people."

"With regard to the Adriatic question, as in all other political questions, Italy has always wanted, and still wants, to be reckoned as an equal in the future of peace and democracy. America, or at least a considerable portion of American public opinion, has no conception of the efforts and sacrifices made by Italy during the war. Italy is a country which entered the war animated by patriotic and noble motives. She suffered the most severe losses. She joined the war spontaneously and received the least compensation for the havoc she wrought."

On Adriatic Question.

"The discussion over the Adriatic problem has in the latter part been largely a matter of sentiment. In fact, the territorial dispute has no economic reason. In the agreements made in Paris and London Italy showed the most forbearing and friendly spirit. We looked upon the Jugoslavs as friends. We were disposed to collaborate with them in the future. They are our neighbors; we desire that our relations with them may grow ever closer."

"We have had occasion to declare before, what we have accepted as the basis of discussion in London and Paris represents the irreconcilable minimum of compromise with them in the future. They are our neighbors; we desire that our relations with them may grow ever closer."

"We entered the war depending on the guarantee of the pact of London, but we are a just solution, and for this reason we are in favor of the compromise. To obtain this we have made all concessions in our power."

WILL SEND REPRESENTATIVE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—While acknowledging its acceptance of the limitations suggested recently by Secretary Glase on the proposed international financial conference, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States announced tonight it was prepared under certain conditions to designate representatives to attend such a gathering.

These conditions, as set forth by a special committee of the chamber to which the question of the conference was referred, were announced tonight as follows:

"That there be brought to the notice of the European governments, and of the signatories of the European memorial, the letter of the secretary of the treasury, dated January 28, 1920.

"That if, thereafter, the European governments should still decide it to be wise that such a conference be held, the activities and discussions at such conference be kept within the limitations mentioned in the letter to the secretary of the treasury.

"That the American representatives, if any appointed, be informed that they are to act in an entirely informal capacity and that their continued presence at the proposed conference be to depend upon such activities and discussions being kept within the limitations heretofore mentioned."

In making public the report of this committee, the chamber expressed the belief that "if the foreign governments still desire the presence of American representatives at such a conference, in spite of the limitations under which these delegates would act, it should not refuse to participate in the conference."

In House of Committee.

The question of further action by the chamber with reference to the proposed conference, it was announced, had been placed in the hands of a committee consisting of Hon. L. F. Ferguson, president; A. C. Whelan, of Chicago, and John H. Fahney, of Boston.

The special committee which set forth the conditions under which the chamber would appoint representatives was headed by James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce, of New York. In its study of the question, it found that the form of the memorial suggesting the conference as presented abroad differed from the American form in two respects, which were enumerated as follows:

"In that the foreign memorial looks for action to the governments of all the countries concerned, 'which should include the United States,' whereas the American memorial requests that the government but that the chamber of commerce of the United States should initiate any action required; and

"In that the foreign memorial contains the following paragraph not set forth in the American memorial: 'the world's balance of indebtedness has been upset and has become top-heavy and one-sided. It is not necessary to free the world's balance sheet from some of the fictitious items which now inflate it and lead to fear or despair on the part of some, and to recklessness on the part of others? Would not a deflation of the world's balance sheet be the first step toward a cure?'

"The European memorial," the committee added, "apparently contemplates possible action by the United States government of a character that the secretary of the treasury distinctly declares to be disadvantageous to the interests of the United States as well as of foreign countries. The committee of the chamber of commerce of the United States agrees with this view as expressed by the secretary of the treasury. Unhappily, therefore, such divergence of view (between the European and the American memorials) has made perfectly clear, any conference such as that proposed might lead to misunderstandings resulting ultimately in disappointments and recriminations. This, in the opinion of your committee, it is important to avoid."

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS BIG GAIN IN 10 YEARS

Twin Falls county school population increased 276 per cent between 1909 and 1919, according to figures just made public. This is the best record of any county in the state, although the increase in school population in Lincoln, Gooding, Jerome and Minidoka counties combined is 316.8 per cent. These four counties formerly comprised Lincoln county.

The schools census of 1909 shows Twin Falls population at 2226, while in 1919 it was 5374.

South central Idaho, tremendous increase in population is further shown by the increase in Cassia county. This county's school population is 158.9 per cent more than 10 years ago.

Ada county shows a percentage increase of 37.64. Blaine and Caribou, until last year, one county 65.3 per cent; Bingham and Bonneville counties, 94.86 per cent.

Nearly all south Idaho counties show a heavy increase, but those of northern Idaho, Latah county shows the only decrease 8.5 per cent.

RELATES STORY OF BIG-BEND CRIMES

Sanchez Tells of Defending His Property Against Attacks of Mexicans.

By the Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 4.—E. W. Neville's story of his attempt to defend his ranch against the Rio Grande against marauding Mexicans was told today to the senate sub-committee investigating the Mexican situation.

It was the beginning of a record of outlawry in what is known as the Big Bend that has been prepared for presentation to the committee, which expects to develop the causes of conditions requiring the maintenance of a strong force of American troops along that part of the Mexican border.

Mrs. James Neville, once a wealthy resident of Mexico City, now carrying messages here by a telegraph company, related a chapter of her misfortunes in Mexico to the committee. Her husband, she has been assured, she testified, has been killed by bandits. Financed financially, he had gone to Durango early in 1915, and it was from there he started with a few other Americans on a tramp across country towards the west coast. She had been ordered out of Durango by the Mexican officials. One of the party succeeded in reaching Mazatlan and was named as the authority for the statement the others had been killed.

SOCIALIST ASSEMBLYMAN PREDICTED REVOLUTION

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Testimony that Charles Solomon, one of the five suspended socialist assemblymen, who is being tried by the assembly judiciary committee on charges of dilatory, had predicted that the 4,000,000 ex-servicemen in the United States would be unable to check the socialist "revolution" was given today by William R. Hart, a Brooklyn attorney, who was defeated for the assembly by Solomon last fall.

Hart declared Solomon had made his prediction after he himself had stated, if the socialists were ready to start their revolution, "let them go ahead," that he belonged to the American legion which "soon will have a seat in its membership, and that nothing would please us more than to sit on the seat of a machine gun and give them a reception."

In reply, Hart testified, Solomon said: "Mr. Hart doesn't seem to realize the enormous proportions that this revolution is going to take. There will be nothing which will be able to hold the wrath of the working class in check. They will be able to sweep aside like chaff in the wind the opposition of four million men. What right have ex-service men to hold in check the destiny of 100,000,000 people in this country?"

The judiciary committee today denied a motion by a member, Assemblyman Maurice Bloch, to strike out as "obviously impossible" the testimony yesterday of Miss Ellen B. Chivers that Solomon spat on the American flag "in war time in the presence of police officers."

LACK OF FUNDS CAUSES SUSPENSION OF TESTING

In a number of telegrams received in Twin Falls last week from Addison T. Smith, the information was conveyed that a lack of appropriation had necessitated the discontinuance of tubercular testing in many sections of the country. Mr. Smith stated in his telegrams that he will endeavor to secure instant local authority of congress to transfer money from other funds already appropriated in order that the work may be resumed here.
