RAGING STORM HALTS EFFORT TO RESCUE 104

Passengers and Crew of Princess Anne Forced to Stay on Stranded Vessel.

DISTRIBUTION OF FOOD IS PROBLEM FOR N. Y.

Dozens of Persons Inured by Falling Cornices, Awnings, Cornices and Marquises Great Damage Done.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Battered by a blinding snow storm and the towering waves of a furious sea, all attempts of rescuing vessels to reach the Old Dominion line steamship Princess Anne, aground off Rockaway point with 104 persons aboard, had failed tonight. More than a dozen seagoing tugs, a coast guard cutter and a police boat, which put out to the aid of the stranded vessel, were able to get within hailing distance, and shortly after midnight temporarily abandoned their plans to take off the 32 passengers.

Heading on Sand Bar.

The distressed vessel, which is about a half mile off shore, could not be discerned through the darkness tonight because of the thick weather. She is apparently resting easily on a sand reef.

Officials of the Old Dominion line announced tonight that attempts to rescue the passengers on the Princess Anne would be abandoned until daylight.

If the weather continues rough tomorrow and the stranded steamer is endangered by the heavy seas, it is planned to attempt the rescue of the passengers by breeches buoy. If it is impossible to shoot lines aboard, it is stated, the naval dirigible B-10 which is at Rockaway at station may be used to carry a line to the vessel.

STILL STORM BOUND.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—New York still was storm bound late tonight and there was small prospect of relief.

Demoralization of transit lines of all kinds was almost unprecedented. Only the subway was maintaining regular schedules. Surface cars had almost ceased to operate.

So serious was the situation that Mayor Hylan issued a proclamation late today calling upon all persons engaged in the transportation business, except in the delivery of hour stuffs, coal and milk, to turn their trucks and laboring forces over to the city to meet the storm emergency.

The street cleaning department admitted that it was virtually helpless because of the weather. It hired men from 75 cents to one dollar an hour was offered for snow shovellers, but only 3,000 of the 14,000 men needed could be recruited.

The problem of distributing the city's food supply also had become serious. Milk trains were running irregularly today and trucks loaded with all kinds of groceries and produce made their rounds with the utmost difficulty.

Dozens are Injured.

Dozens of persons were injured today, many of them by falling cornices, awnings, cornices and marquises carried down by weight of snow. Lieutenant Col. Fred C. Davis, on stationed at Governor's Island died today from a fracture of the skull suffered when he was struck by a glass canopy.

Conditions on the harbor were little improved although it has been hoped a shift of the wind might release some of the boats held fast in fields of ice.

Eight steamers were fast in Long Island sound and six more in the harbor were blinking vainly against the ice. Trans-Atlantic ships were held in port and wireless reports from vessels at sea told of high winds and raging waves.

RELIEF IN SIGHT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Looking out into the middle west weather bureau officials tonight saw fall for the eastern seaboard from the snow storms and the "high" winds which have held that portion of the country in their grip since Wednesday.

MONDELL DEMANDS REDUCTION BY CONGRESS

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Sharp reduction in governmental expenditures was urged in the house today by Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the republican leader.

"The shadow of the deplorable financial condition of Europe is hovering across our country with ever increasing and ominous portent of danger," Mr. Mondell declared. "Ours is the only great commercial nation that remains on a specie basis and the constantly decreasing values of European currencies, reflected in the rate of exchange, curtailing exports and rendering daily more doubtful the value of enormous volumes of European securities and credits held by our people warn us to trim sails, to economize, to save and it is essential that the federal government set a good example in this regard."

There are certain constructive measures which this congress should and will pass, said Mr. Mondell, adding that "equally important as these is the practice of the most rigid economy."

DETZER ACQUITTED OF CHARGES OF CRUELTY

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Simultaneously with the announcement of Governor's Island today that Captain Karl W. Detzer had been acquitted by a court martial of charges of cruelty to American soldiers at Le Mans, it became known that the exonerated officers had received several threatening letters warning him, not to show himself in certain middle western cities.

Captain Detzer was handed a letter from Lieutenant General Robert Lee Bullard, commander of the department of the east, informing him that the general court martial which since December 10, 1919, has been hearing evidence of his alleged brutality to overseas men, had found him "not guilty on all charges and all specifications."

The court of officers several days ago reached the verdict in less than ten minutes. The finding, however, was withheld until today.

Captain Detzer declared the threats he received would not deter him from going west to find the writers of the letters. The letters were mailed in Indianapolis, Chicago and St. Louis.

Following is General Howze's statement:

"Off and on during the last four years I have had peculiar advantages of being able to see and to know the things so far as concerns American and foreign-owned property, which have happened on this side of the Rio Grande and in Mexico."

"I will not undertake to describe them—they are too numerous and already well known. My conclusions ought to be sufficient. The intolerable conditions which have covered a period of nearly ten years have continually grown worse and I am convinced the apex of shamefulness and horror as viewed from the American conception of justice and decency, was reached last fall, a condition which should not exist."

"The Mexican government during this ten years of critical time has never, as far as I can determine, done one genuinely friendly thing toward our government. On this other hand, the Mexican government, or its people, has done no end of discourteous, contemptuous and offensive things of large importance toward our government and our people."

"The result has been an increased estrangement and an increased hatred against the people of the United States. There are no end of reports showing that Americans are being murdered or captured and released on payment of ransoms. Foreign-owned properties are being confiscated or practically destroyed. Mexican bands are committing horrible crimes and in isolated places continue to make raids upon the persons and property of American citizens located on the surface of the border."

"Lack of Progress."

"Everywhere in Mexico, as far as can be observed, there is lack of progress. Murder, rapine and destruction prevail. From our point of view there is no evidence of constructive statesmanship. We, who have observed, believe the future of Mexico, so far as it affects us, is utterly hopeless if left solely in the control of Mexicans."

Colonel Francis Glover, General Howze's chief of staff, also was a witness. He was asked regarding the fighting at Cuernavaca on June 19, 1919, when Villa's men captured the city and the situation that resulted in American troops crossing the international boundary. Colonel Glover

Army Officers Declare Mexican Future Under Greaser Control Is Hopeless.

MURDER, RAPINE AND DESTRUCTION PREVAIL

Colonel Glover Describes Capture of Juarez by Villa in June, 1919—Other Testimony Given.

By the Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 6.—Conditions in Mexico were described as "intolerable" by General Robert Lee Howze, commander of the El Paso district, when he testified today before the senate sub-committee investigating the Mexican situation.

Briefly and without palliation he expressed the opinion that affairs in that country had grown steadily worse in the past ten years and that "left solely in the control of the Mexicans," the future of that country was "hopeless."

War Department Approves.

The appearance of General Howze was with the approval of the war department.

His publicly made statement was supplemented by one made in executive session, which was not made public.

The conclusions of General Howze were contained in a short statement he read to the committee, but the presentation was preceded by a summary of the reports he had gathered of American casualties on the American side attributable to Mexicans since 1917. It accounted for eleven killed and seventeen wounded.

Howze's Statement.

STORMS INTERFERE WITH R. R. TRAFFIC

Hines Reports Snow Drifts Coupled With Ravages of Influenza Hampering Operations.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Severe storms, raging over practically the entire eastern half of the United States have cut seriously into operation of the railroads. Director-General Hines reported tonight. Trains were running late on nearly every division east of the Mississippi river. Coastwise shipping, a necessary link in the railroad transportation chain, was demoralized, traffic being completely tied up in some instances.

These conditions, Mr. Hines said, have been further complicated by the spread of influenza among railroad employees. The New York Central line alone, reported today more than 2,000 employees ill with the disease.

Maintenance of passenger train schedules has been increasingly difficult, trains being forced, to reduce speed to avoid accidents and slow through snow drifts. Trucks have been washed away in many places.

Reports from the middle west indicate improvement in traffic movement, although it is still admittedly low. Recent storms which covered the territory from the Canadian border as far south as Kansas and Colorado wrought havoc with the whole transportation system, but abatement of the storm has permitted maintenance and repair work to be resumed. Delayed trains, however, tied up the extra burden of moving them and, it was explained, has delayed shipments generally to some extent.

The railroad movement, Attorney General Newton asserted, is far from normal and mismanagement. For that reason, he recommended that teachers of Americanization work simultaneously with department of justice agents, the former to educate in patriotism those liable to fall under the teachings of the radicals and the latter to arrest and hand over for deportation the graduated pupils in the radicalism schools.

Former District Attorney Kane told the committee he saw no menace to the country whatever, in the way of radicalism, much of that which is said and written on the subject being "mere bunk."

From the New York attorney general, however, the committee got a different view. Five hundred thousand radicals had organized in New York with the plan of overthrowing the government, he said, adding that unless congress and the American people soon awaken to the danger it will be too late to stop their activities.

UNIONS WILL MAKE FIGHT IN CAMPAIGN

Efforts to Be Launched by American Federation to Control Congress.

HOPE FOR CO-OPERATION OF THE NON-PARTISANS

Railroad Chiefs Refuse to Divulge Whether Their Organizations Will Assist in Program.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Dramatic plans for the first nationwide, aggressive political campaign by organized labor to control congress and elect friendly national and state officials have been made by a committee of the American Federation of labor and will be announced soon. The fight, labor officials declared today will be bipartisan and will be launched in the coming presidential primaries.

Organization details, have been formulated by a committee composed of the executive council and department presidents of the federation, which has been in session for the past two days. Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, said tonight that an explanation of the movement would be made public tomorrow. The committee formulating plans was appointed by Mr. Gompers in accordance to instruction to the general labor conference held here last December 13, to put into effect the "declaration of principles adopted at that time."

Representatives in congress whose record shows them to be unfriendly to organized labor, it was said by members of the committee, will be opposed vigorously for re-election. It was also stated that labor's interests will meet the same opposition. Every craft affiliated with the federation will be called upon to join in the fight, it was added, and congressional districts will be actively canvassed, and an army of organizers to obtain governors, judges and legislatures well disposed toward labor now claims a membership of more than 4,000,000.

To Go Into Primaries.

In addition, the campaign will be carried into state and local primaries and elections and an attempt made to put in the field. The federation now claims a membership of more than 4,000,000.

Labor leaders explained that while an effort would be made to enlist the support of the farmers, no third party movement is considered advisable.

No attempt to reach an agreement with national fur organizations will be made, but the appeal will be addressed directly to the workers themselves. It was said, The co-operation of friendly state and local farm organizations, however, is hoped for, particularly in North Dakota, Minnesota and adjoining states where the Non-Partisan league has gained a hold, and in New York, South Carolina and other states having strong farmers organizations.

Chiefs of the four big railroad brotherhoods now in Washington for wage conferences, with the direct appeal, also are expected to be addressed today if the railroad employees were aligned with the federation in the contemplated fight.

Warren R. Stone, chief of the locomotive engineers, said that he had no time to say with other matters, but he would not say anything that might reflect upon the union.

Wants Quota of Congressmen.

On the other hand, the union of "Labor" the political union of the Plumber, Pipefitters and Allied Trades International Union, which is a friendly to the labor movement, is expected to be aligned with the federation in the contemplated fight.

COMMISSIONERS BACK FROM BOISE

Local Men on Committee Discuss
Matters of Interest to Counties of the State.

County Commissioners Parish, Moore and Brecken returned to Twin Falls from Boise yesterday. While there the commissioners participated in the convention of the Idaho county commissioners' association. Mr. Brecken acted as a member of the resolutions committee while Mr. Parish will serve on the legislative committee which will present to the next legislature the measures the commissioners seek to have enacted. Other members of this committee are William Ashely of Bonner, Ed Miller of Shoshone, C. B. Ross of Canyon and A. F. McCloud of Gooding counties. Many matters were discussed at the meeting according to the commissioners which are of vital interest to all the counties in the state. The convention expressed itself as hoping that the legislative committee will be able to secure enactment of the proposed measures approved by the gathering.

Two legislative enactments attacked in particular were those relating to the personal tax law and the reclassification of counties. The commissioners say the repeal of the 1917 law last year has cost the counties and state heavy losses in personal taxes, and that continuance of the old scale means that the commissioners themselves continue to be underpaid.

"Do County Commissioners Earn Their Salaries?" was the topic of an address by N. A. Fugate, chairman of the Blingham county board. "I am president of a bank at Aberdeen," said he, "and regularly give more time to the county's business than that of the bank. You notice my

It. H. Musser of the state farm, bureau work asked the commissioners to boost this work in the counties, presenting a chart to show what big dividends it pays in real increased returns from the farms. Mr. Jacobson of the university extension department advocated the collection of crop reports from the counties by the county assessors.

PREPARE TO FIGHT PESTS IN ORCHARDS

State Dept. Announces That It Has $15,000 For Use in the Campaign.

Word has been received in Twin Falls that the state department of agriculture has set aside $15,000 for the eradication of orchard pests and that extensive fruit pest control plans have been made. An inspector will be assigned to these fruit districts which are most important producers and take proper interest in pruning and spraying. This inspector has already been named for this district. Each district under an inspector will be small enough that he may carefully go over all the work to be done and he is also to be fully responsible for the control of his separate district.

Fruit growers are warned by the state department that spraying machinery must be thoroughly gone over early this coming season and new outfits secured wherever necessary by private orchards, as there probably are not enough contracting or commercial sprayers to nearly handle all their work.

TO TRY AGAIN FOR DAVIS TENNIS CUP

Tennis Association Shows a Big Balance on Hand—Other Plans Are Made.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The reading of various reports occupied the afternoon session of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, which began its annual meeting today.

The treasurer's report for 1919 showed a balance on hand of $26,654.31 and that the expenses for the year exceeded the actual receipts by approximately $800. It recommended that the dues of the various clubs and associations for the big championship matches should be increased in 1920. This increase was advised on the ground that additional expense would be incurred this year in sending teams to compete in the Davis cup and the English tennis championship and possibly other foreign matches. The entire report was adopted.

The Davis cup committee in its report recommended that the United States this year challenge for the Davis cup now held by Australia, and also that the United States enter a team in the English championship. The challenge is to be sent before March 1, the date when entries close. In addition, it recommended the association enter a team in the Olympic tennis championships. This report was adopted. It was decided that the entries of the teams for the Davis cup, English championship and Olympic games tournament, should be left in the hands of the executive committee of the association.

The Olympic tennis matches have been set too late in the year and the executive committee will endeavor to secure earlier dates for these events in order that the American team which plays in the English tournament can also compete at Antwerp and return in time to take part in the United States national championships at Boston during the last week of August.

"He can stay there as long as he wishes the position," Mack said. "They will hurt none but the innocent clubs not taking part in the fight. President Johnson is the man who made the American league second to none."

"I am not certain if there will be an American league this year," he added. "But if there is, I expect to make a good showing with my team."

BOYS INTERESTED IN DAIRY CATTLE

Club Leader Expects To Be Able To Place Two Curious in the County.

That the junior division of the farm bureau is really enthusiastically interested in the thoroughbred registered Guernsey and Jersey project advocated by A. L. O'Reilly, local club leader, is shown by the overwhelming applications received by him for registered milk cows among the boys of the club.

On a recent visit to Dubuque, O'Reilly says that he was greeted with no end of inquiry pertaining to the milk stock which he has contemplated securing from the Maryland markets and that it will be possible to dispose of two cartons of good Jerseys among the boys of the near districts.

Mr. O'Reilly states at present prices paid for milk it should be an easy matter for the boys to more than pay for a good milk producer in single season and still have the cow and probably a fine calf.

Judging from the inclination of the junior members it may be necessary that Mr. O'Reilly procure a considerable number of Duroc and Poland China brood sows for the boys, in addition to the Jersey cows that are desired.

IDAHO HOPES TO RETRIEVE DEFEAT OF PAST WEEK

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow.—After having twice defeated the University of Montana in the past week just past and having lost a single bitterly contested game to Washington state college, the University of Idaho basketball team, northwestern collegiate title holders in 1919, this week will be put through a strenuous course of training by Coach R. E. Hutchinson in preparation for important affairs scheduled for the first week in February.

The illness of Elma Hunter, an all-northwest forward last season, had a disastrous effect on Idaho's scoring in the game of the past weekend. Hunter is expected to regain his former brilliancy before Coach Hutchinson's basketballers meet another collegiate rival.

Among the features of the season's opening contests was the capable guarding of Ernest Lindley, son of President E. H. Lindley, and captain of the Idaho team. Both in the W. R. C. game and against Montana, Lindley covered his entire end of the floor, smashing play after play that seemed certain in the registering of a field goal.

Idaho students confidently expect the local fix to require Washington state when the Cougars are met in their own gymnasium.

PHYSICIANS IN INDUSTRY

When production falls behind and the investment fails to pay dividends, the wise captain of industry now sends in a hurry-up call for the doctor, the new type of plant efficiency expert who has more than made good. The world war cleared the field for him. He stopped into the breach when ten per cent of efficiency was demanded and successfully tackled a task business experts were unable to handle.

able to cope with. He is going to be more in demand during reconstruction while America meets with nations in the contest for world trade.

Man-power was never before regarded as such an important factor in industry. Every diseased man on a company payroll is a liability rather than an asset. Business experts have been slow to take this into consideration. They have allowed for a maximum loss of time among employees attempting to lighten up on some other item and let it go at that. The new type of efficiency expert—the doctor—was, after man-power and he tackled the big problem first, venereal diseases.

Remarkable results have already been secured. A big manufacturing concern in West Virginia followed the advice of a health expert and installed a clinic for the free treatment of venereal diseases at a cost of between $5,000 and $6,000 for the first year. The plant had a payroll during this period of $25,000. The president of the company has informed the United States Public Health Service that as a result of the clinic treatment labor efficiency was improved 10 per cent, which he said was worth for the investment $40,000.

"PE-RU-NA is worth its weight in gold and then some. I used to think it only a woman's remedy but have changed my mind. I had a cough, especially in the morning. After using half a bottle of PE-RU-NA was much better. I would cough up chunks of phlegm and mucus, my eyes itched and bothered me. Judging from the symptoms given in your classes it was catarrh. My stomach is in much better condition since using your medicine."

WILLING TO BUY MANY U.S. VESSELS

Ship Owner Declares Price Asked by Government Is Not More Than Carriers Are Worth.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Government-owned ships built during the war should be and can be sold to private operators, for prices covering the cost, overhead and total investment, C. W. Morse, head of two steel shipyards, one in Connecticut and the other in Virginia, told the senate commerce committee today, citing the fact that he had bought 24 of them for $220 and $225 a ton, and offering to take 100 more at similar quotations.

The sharp contrast between his ideas and the proposals first formulated by the heads of other shipping concerns at the committee's hearings resulted in a lengthy examination, during which Mr. Morse presented figures showing remarkable profits his vessels are now making under present ocean freight rates.

"We estimate that we got back from 40 to 50 per cent of the total cost of the ship to us during the first year," he explained. He instance a contract which he took to carry 500,000 tons of coal to Paris, the earnings on which would amount to $90 per year per ship ton assigned to the work.

"And when it became difficult to get deliveries of the coal," he added, "we diverted three of the boats to the Buenos Aires trade and did a little better."

The ships he has purchased from the board, he explained, were those built in his yards for the government, the contract price being $155 a ton, while the selling price to him included some costs of fitting, interest and other charges. All are running as tramp cargo boats now.

Morse scoffed at suggestions that English yards were building vessels for $120 a ton and lower.

"I've had a proposal from an English source since January 20 to build ten vessels at $135 a ton," he declared.

The present high prices on ocean freight, he said, would continue for a year at least and thus would guarantee buyers a profitable initial return. REDUCTION MADE IN PRICE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Virtual reduction in the selling prices of government built steel ships was announced tonight by Chairman Payne of the shipping board.

Starting with a depreciation charge of 10 per cent the first year, the rate will decrease one per cent a year for five years and continue thereafter at a fixed rate of five per cent a year. Applied to the tonnage price of $220 now asked, this arrangement would in effect reduce the price in the sixth year to $163 a ton.

Commenting on the action of the board, Chairman Payne said that it was thought the plan would greatly stimulate purchases of the vessels. He did not think that prospective purchasers would delay in order to take advantage of the depreciation figure pointing out, ship owners expect to earn more than 10 per cent on a ship in a year.

United States Hasn't Money to Purchase Europe Declares Irving T. Bush in London.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 6.—The United States "is not interested in the extension of additional European credits now attracted by the foreign security market," simply because American funds are not available for that purpose," said Irving T. Bush of New York, in diagnosing the exchange situation and the world's financial life at a luncheon today at which Sir Auckland Geddes, minister of nation, at service and re-construction, presided.

"America," Mr. Bush said, "is regarded abroad as a land flowing with milk and honey and unlimited wealth, whereas actually the country's financial machinery is suffering from an attack of acute indigestion owing to the glut of liberty bonds. Millions of dollars are required to finance the nation's own enterprises. The balance of the trade should indicate that enormous quantities of money are there which will be wanted by other countries could be helped to their feet, but no one seems to know just where it is. The American bankers are unable to find it."

Mr. Bush declared that too much was being said about the exchange situation, and that the tendency was to give the impression that there was something inherently in American reluctance to make further investments abroad.

"The fact is," he continued, "America itself is going to suffer in the long run from the situation which is temporarily adverse to England. The United States is becoming reconciled to the necessity of dropping out of the export market, with the exception of trading in copper and some few raw materials which she alone can furnish the world. The result will be a gradual slowing up in American industries and the country's own shelves will begin to be replenished."

"I do not anticipate a panic, but American business men have been in drunken delirium for the last couple of years and a moderate dose of hard times will readily bring us to earth and do us good."

"When surplus labor results from this slowing down of industry, then labor capital will be on the way to restoration of normal relations and the whole economic system of the country will be on a healthier basis. The big trouble has been that the world has been trying to find a substitute for war."

GERMAN'S CASE TO BE DECIDED IN FEDERAL COURT

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Whether or not the United States navy has jurisdiction to try Hermann Goemey, alias Carl Rodiger, alleged German spy, and officer of the Goeman navy who was arrested last May in New York but through a legal technicality escaped trial, will be fought out in the federal court at New York tomorrow when Wessels is delivered to the naval authorities on a writ of habeas corpus.

Wessels, who was indicted for conspiracy to commit espionage during June, 1918, before the espionage act had been passed, never has been brought to trial because of a requirement of the statute that there must be two witnesses to an overt act required for conviction for espionage. If jurisdiction is granted by the federal court, the naval authorities, it was said, propose to try Wessels under certain articles of the navy providing the maximum penalty of death.

If the navy is denied jurisdiction it will be said by naval authorities today, there will remain no civil matter under which Wessels could be convicted and he probably will be freed.

North Dakota Voters Association Outlines Plans for 1920 War On League.

By the Associated Press.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Feb. 6.—The North Dakota Independent Voters' association late today closed its annual convention after perfecting plans to carry on its campaign against the Non-Partisan league.

An emergency committee to deal with campaign affairs was appointed and the following officers were elected:

President, E. W. Everson, Wallum; J. H. Nelson, Glenn Ellen, vice president; Theodore G. Nelson, Dunn Center, secretary; and Ole Ender, Fargo, treasurer.

Before adjourning an attempt was made to have an internal ballot taken to sound the sentiment of the association in regard to gubernatorial candidates, but this effort was promptly blocked. The association adopted a campaign platform which recommends:

Amending the workmen's compensation act so as to give employers a rational rate and the employees prompt and adequate compensation for injuries; creation of a bureau of statistics to co-operate with the federal bureau of markets; amendment of the soldiers bonus act so as to extend its benefits to every North Dakotan who is now in the service or who has been honorably discharged; the repeal of the present board of administration law; the repeal of the present absent voters' law as applying to women; limiting the amount of state money to be used in the terminal elevator and state owned mill experiment; the management of state industries vested in boards, directly responsible to the legislature. Resolutions adopted attacked Governor Frazier for permitting President Wilson to release Kate Richards O'Hare from the federal prison and condemned the efforts of non-partisan leaders to extend "socialist teachings" into the educational institutions of the state.

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR

out of the war. When the bold Pasha and Calliaux revelations awakened France to her peril, revelations largely brought about by Clemenceau, the "tiger", popularity became nationwide. President Poincaré called upon the veteran statesman in November, 1917, when all France was depressed by the defeatist propaganda and her troops were suffering sorely in the field to head a new war ministry.

Interpolated in the chamber of deputies as to what his "war aims" would be, the white-haired premier replied, "My aim is to be victor." He expressed at this time his opposition to receiving Germany into any society of nations which might be formed after the war, and declared: "Men of great minds believe that words have the power to liberate

The word 'right,' the word 'justice,' to go to work on the six plantations tied up on the island of Oahu by the soviet republic such as capitalists, those sons and officers the second who fight against the governments of the future against the abominations of the past."

"We waited forty-two years for this moment," he was quoted as saying on June 25, 1919, when the German note accepting the treaty of peace was received, at Versailles, which is life's biggest moment for me."

When the turn of the tide came in the west, when the last German "drive" had spent itself and the allies were breaking the Hindenburg line he said: "The day of glory has come. Our sons are completing the formidable task of their fathers and brotherly nations are securing a supreme victory."

Shot by the 19-year-old anarchist, Emile Cottin, on February 2, 1919, Clemenceau joked with the doctor who attended him. Cottin was sentenced to death, but Clemenceau urged commutation and the youth received 10 years' imprisonment. When President Wilson called to express his sympathy the aged statesman told him his "blow" was "too thick for a bullet to pierce."

Upon the completion of the draft of the peace treaty by the supreme inter-allied conference, Clemenceau had presided at the historic gathering, made his colleagues adhere with the observation: "I have done my best. I think it is a good peace."

Although radiant in French politics, Clemenceau has no use for Bolshevism. Questioned about the Russian situation last December, he said: "We not only will make peace, but we will not compromise with the government of the soviets. We have decided that we will be the allies of all the peoples attacked by Bolshevism." He at the same time expressed his confidence in the Anglo-Franco-American agreements and predicted a solution of the Plume problem.

"The Plume question has been agonizing," he declared. "Italy promised Plume to the Jugo-Slavs, but went back on her promise. France, England and the United States have sought a solution and the latest indication is that it will be reached. Only when this is accomplished can we begin to breathe freely."

Clemenceau's address at Strasbourg last November 4, referred to at the time as "his valedictory to France," was a remarkable plea for universal tolerance and racial justice. Among his most striking passages were:

"The world's only salvation from the social and economic chaos from which it is now emerging is war."

"Government must be placed upon public order and the respect of individual rights and the promotion of the welfare of France. Let us all stand firm and united for the welfare of mankind."

MIND TO GROW OLD—TIGER

Clemenceau, Deceased, He Was Ten Years Ago.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—Georges Eugene Clemenceau, the "grand old man of France," was recently retired at the age of 86 years of control of the republic. He has served more than two generations. He is credited with contributing as much, perhaps, more than any other statesman to bringing about the downfall of Germany by filling France—discouraged and war torn—with the invincible spirit of the conqueror.

After a lifetime of riches, he recently declared: "I am younger than I was ten years ago." He said this even while carrying in his body the bullet of an assassin and while suffering from a broken hip recently sustained while crossing the English channel.

Explaining his remark, he declared: "Tidiness and old age are twin sisters. I avoid them. The way to keep young is vigorous in power to let your mind grow inactive and to work—work, preserve strength of mind and you vanquish age; that is the secret of perpetual youth."

"I believe it is weak minded to grow old," he told certain members of the suite after his famous Bolshevik speech in Strasbourg last November. The promise of day had been a hard one, with many receptions, journeys and discussions of serious diplomatic questions, but he appeared at dinner that night fresher than many of his young colleagues.

It was some time before this, while he was on one of his customary jaunts into the country, when he walked ten or twelve miles without showing any great fatigue, that he discovered his own famous retreat, a two-roomed fishermen's hut close to the seashore, near Lucen, in Vendee. Here is where he expected to pass a fortnight or more before entering upon his duties as president. Bare of comfort and conveniences it is just the kind of a shelter the once-known "tiger" of France would seek for a well earned rest. It was only a short distance from the former premier's birthplace and stands almost alone on the barren sands. Often he walks to the village where he converses with the old town folk, a few of after it appears. In Bordeaux under whom knew him as a boy.

Clemenceau's rigorous life was monotonous refused to be silenced, continued even after he accepted

President Poincaré invitation to form a war ministry in 1917 when, for the second time he became premier of France. In civil life he arose with the birds and retired often at sunset. A glass of milk and a few crackers was his usual repast at 3 a. m., in summer and 5:30 o'clock in winter. About 12:30 p. m. he indulged in a hearty breakfast, the main dish of which was generally a dish of macaroni and cheese with melted butter. Dinner at 7 p. m. was practically meatless, consisting largely of vegetables and fruits. He eats very slowly.

During the war, the pressure of the affairs of state often forced him to alter his sleeping habit and there were occasions when, for two or three days at a time, the aged premier and minister of war never removed his clothing, but caught mere snatches of rest of a few minutes' duration in a lounge in his office. In peacetime, however, Clemenceau has a less strenuous program. In summer, as soon as he rises he takes to his garden in the rear of his town apartment, inspecting the flower beds and the shrubbery and trees, pruning off dead branches and pulling weeds. He thus finds rest from the turmoil of politics and the cares of office.

Clemenceau, it is not generally known, was formerly a physician. He went to New York in 1865, but abandoned the practice of medicine to teach school at Stamford, Conn. He married an American girl in 1868, Miss Mary Plummer of New York, and their only child had been and returned to France a few years later.

He entered the French national assembly in 1871, became president of the municipal council of Paris in 1875 and was elected to the chamber of deputies in 1876. In 1887 he declined an invitation of the president of France to form a ministry. In the general wreck of French politicians caused by the Panama scandal of 1892 he failed of reelection to the chamber, in 1902 was sent to the senate. Meanwhile, he fought six or seven duels and had won fame as a vitrolite writer. From 1906 to 1909 he was premier. He was an anticlerical and fought for the separation of church and state. He led several political fights which resulted in the downfall of as many ministries.

In 1914, at the beginning of the war, he established in Paris, L'Homme Libre, a paper so bitterly anti-administration that it was suspended. Soon with the old town folk, a few of after it appears. In Bordeaux under whom knew him as a boy.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Talk of importation of oats from Canada had a beneficial effect today on the grain markets here. Corn closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-8 lower, with May 120 3-4 to 120 7-8 and July 127 3-8 to 127 1-2. Oats lost 1 3-8 to 1 3-4 up, and provisions 7 cents to 50 cents.

Depreciation of Canadian exchange made circumstances such as to bring about attractive offerings from Winnipeg of 500,000 bushels of oats, delivered at Chicago or Buffalo, duty paid. Besides, houses with Winnipeg and seaboard connections were heavy sellers of oats here. Until these facts had become generally known, the corn market showed comparative decline today, but afterward prices declined. Pressure of liquidation and short selling. A further bearish influence was talk that Minnesota mills would shut down because of inability to obtain cars in which to ship flour. The early strength of the market, was ascribed to a rally in European exchange and to rumors to the value of hogs.

REPUBLICANS DRAFT PEACE BATTLE PLAN

Will Be the First to Offer Bi-partisan Compromised Reservations.

EXPECT TO OUT-JOCKEY
DEMOCRATS BY MOVEMENT

Irreconcilables Hold Meetings to Prevent Any Movement Leading to Treaty Ratification.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The modified Lodge reservations agreed tentatively by the recently abandoned bi-partisan committee, most likely will be the basis on which consideration of the peace treaty will be resumed next week in the senate.

Republican leaders after a series of conferences with their party colleagues today decided to take the initiative on the senate floor in suggesting adoption of the bi-partisan committee's modifications of the Lodge reservations. Although it is expected under the decision that the original republican reservations will be attached to the treaty when it is referred to the foreign relations committee, it is understood, Senator Lodge will present the modified draft as a substitute after the committee has reported.

Avail Conference.
Definite decision as to whether the democrats would accept the reservations with these modifications will not be reached, it was said today, until tomorrow's conference of democratic friends of the treaty and perhaps not then. The general opinion prevailed however, that the change worked out in the unofficial committee tee negotiations would prove satisfactory to a majority of democratic senators.

Acceptance of the bi-partisan modifications by both republicans and democrats was considered as likely to narrow differences to a few of the prominent issues. In some quarters, it was predicted that agreements would be reached without much delay on all but two of the 14 reservations proposed for incorporation in the ratification. These two relate to article ten and the Monroe doctrine on which republican leaders assert their determination to accept no modification, while the democrats are equally committed in their declaration that modifications will be necessary if the treaty is to be ratified.

Despite this situation, however, there are many senators who predict that some agreement eventually will be reached. This view is not shared by the group of irreconcilables opposing the treaty who hold numerous conferences during the day, and will meet again tomorrow in their campaign to secure the defeat of ratification.

No session of the senate will be held tomorrow and most of the day is expected to be given over to the conferences among the various senate elements over their plans of procedure.

"In pursuance of his plan of putting all presidential candidates on record in regard to the treaty, Senator Borah republican of Idaho, one of the irreconcilables, today sent a questionnaire on the subject to Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, a democrat.

"I observe in the press reports this morning," Senator Borah wrote, "your attack upon the republican senators for delaying the ratification of the peace treaty. I am not clear from the report, however, as to your exact position."

"I infer from your statement that you are in favor of ratifying the treaty of peace with the league of nations incorporated just as it came from Versailles and as it was submitted to the senate."

"Any you, in favor of entering the league with article 10 in it without any change or modification thereof or without any reservation as to the obligation of the United States in reference thereto."

"I understand from your speech that you are thoroughly in favor of the provision of the league which gives the British empire six votes to the United States one. Am I correct in so construing your position?"

"Are you opposed to permitting the question of whether or not we shall become a member of the league to be submitted to the people in any way? If you are not opposed to submitting it to the people may I ask in what way you would suggest that it be submitted?"

MILLERAND GIVEN CONFIDENCE VOTE

Declares That Government Is Determined That Huns Will Fulfill Terms of Treaty.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Feb. 6.—The chamber of deputies voted confidence in the cabinet today upon an interpellation with regard to its foreign policy. The vote was 518 to 68. Premier Millerand asserted that the government was determined to execute vigorously and fully the peace treaty and would notice upon Germany that "all that she owes us we will exact."

The premier said he considered that the Germans had flagrantly failed to execute the delivery of coal, which was most important to France, while burning more coal than the French to warm themselves.

M. Millerand declared he regretted that the United States had not yet ratified the treaty, but remarked that the reparations committee was functioning and "we have no difficulty concerning the final decision of the United States."

Discussing the Franco-American military pact, the premier said it was reassuring because both countries want it, except that one wants it to be perpetual while the other wants it to be limited if the league of nations is later deemed to afford adequate protection. The premier pointed out that the anti-Bolshevik armies had been checked, but declared that nothing justified the belief that their reverses were final.

COMPLETE RECORD OF A.E.F. CASUALTIES

Only Three Names Left on "Missing in Action" List—Other Figures.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Completion of the record of casualties of the American expeditionary forces in the world war was announced today by Adjutant General Harris with the issuance of a final revised list of the "dead casualties." Since the record of the American expeditionary forces records practically has been completed, it was said, no further additions or corrections were anticipated.

The last names added to the list of killed in action were: Privates Neles Peterson, Howard, S. D., and Paul Schmidt, Kalamazoo, Mich., bringing the total casualties to date as follows:

Killed in action, including 382 at sea, 34,844.
Died of wounds, 13,950.
Died of disease, 23,738.
Died from accident and other causes, 5,102.
Wounded in action (over 85 per cent returning to duty), 216,423.

Missing in action (not including prisoners released and returned), 13,000.

Total of 232,676.
War department officials said, it was remarkable that the final compilation showed only three men listed as "missing in action."

BARNES SAYS GRONNA BILL HURTS FARMERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Julius A. Barnes, United States wheat auditor, tonight made public a letter to Senator Gronna in which he terms the latter's bill for the repeal of the wheat guarantee act and the abolition of the grain corporation as a direct repudiation of the pledge made by congress to the wheat producers for the crop of 1919.

Senator Gronna's bill, which has been favorably reported by the senate agricultural committee, repeals all government control over the price of wheat and requires the grain corporation to wind up its affairs without delay.

Mr. Barnes asserts that, at a time when no one can accurately predict the trend of prices, Senator Gronna apparently feels such confidence in his own judgment that the farmer will benefit by the withdrawal of government stabilization that he would immediately take from the wheat producer the protection of the billion dollar guarantee, which congress has pledged itself to give until June 1, 1921.

The wheat director gives warning that by abolishing government support congress may precipitate still further decline in the price of wheat, even below the guarantee price. He adds that "only the most colossal egoism would presume to forecast the course of prices in the face of world wide unsettlement, which within the past few days has wrecked the United States' export trade by total collapse of overseas finance."

If congress should repudiate its own pledge to the farmer, Mr. Barnes adds, the possibilities of depreciation in value after the withdrawal of the government guarantee are such that six million farmers will ask congress by what right it repudiated the pledged national guarantee on the underlying foundation of which the influence of supply and demand has built an average premium of 30 cents per bushel.

NATION FINANCED BY CERTIFICATES

Last of Immediate Post-War Demands on Government Can Now Be Paid.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Closing of subscriptions to the last series of certificates of indebtedness tonight concluded the treasury's program of financing immediate post-war demands of the nation. This operation was initiated last September and primarily was designed to avoid the flotation of another popular loan.

Theoretically, the government now stands with accounts balanced, with the exception of course, the bonded indebtedness. The approximately twenty-five billion dollars in Liberty bonds and Victory notes now outstanding will be retired under the sinking fund provisions of the war loan act, operations of which already have been started.

While there are outstanding certificates of indebtedness aggregating $2,953,704,600, they were issued in direct anticipation of the payment of income and excess profit tax installments. Estimates of the tax payments show every indication of being lower than the amount of revenue which will be received, thus assuring prompt retirement of all certificates of indebtedness as they mature and without further issues of short term paper.

The certificate issue on which subscriptions closed tonight hours date of February 2 and will mature March 14, coincident with the first tax installment payment. While reports to the sales were not fully complete tonight, Secretary Houston said they exceeded $300,000,000.

"This brings to a successful conclusion," said Secretary Houston, "the very interesting and important operation initiated last September looking to financing the balance of the war debt in such a way as to avoid the necessity of extraordinary operations by spreading maturities and meeting them so far as may be, out of tax receipts and salvage. Excluding Pittman act and special certificates held by federal reserve banks and the war finance corporation, and about $105,000,000 certificates maturing this month, the majority of which has already been repaid for the unfunded debt of the government now consists wholly of tax certificates. The amount of these tax certificates maturing on any one date does not in any case exceed the estimated amount of the income and profits tax installment payable on such date.

Such income and profit taxes are based upon last year's business. The aggregate amount of tax certificates now outstanding is approximately $2,930,704,600, of which over $842,000,000 mature and will be paid on March 15, 1920, out of the income and profits tax installment payable to the government on that date.

"The current deficit (excess of disbursements over receipts) exclusive of principal of public debt, for the month of January, 1920, amounted to only $2,955,669.77, the lowest figure since March, 1917 (excluding months in which income and profits tax installments were paid), while the current surplus (excess of receipts over disbursements) exclusive of principal of public debt, for the preceding month of December amounted to $600,280,932.61, which is the highest figure in the history of the government, with the exception of June, 1918, in which month a whole year's income and profits taxes were payable; and there is every reason to expect that the current surplus of March, June, September and December, 1920, will largely exceed the current deficit of the other eight months if congress adheres to a rigid policy of economy in governmental expenditures."
