

SELECTION OF COLBY UPSETS EXPECTATIONS

Wilson's Naming of New Secretary of State Furnishes Washington Surprise

NEW YORK SENATOR MAY OPPOSE THE NOMINATION

Man Who Led Attack Against Him in 1917 Wants an Investigation of His Qualifications

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Wilson again upset the expectation of official and political Washington today by naming Baldrige Colby, a New York attorney, who left the republican party with Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, as secretary of state.

Colby's selection caused scarcely less of a sensation than the dismissal of Robert Lansing from the state portfolio two weeks ago, and was received with such undisguised surprise in the senate, where the president's choice must be approved before Mr. Colby can take up the duties of office, that some of the leaders endeavored to predict when confirmation might be voted.

Not even among those on the inside of administration circles had there been any expectation that the selection would fall on Mr. Colby, who told inquirers today that he himself had been given only a very brief notice of the president's intention. Summoned to the White House, he spent an hour with Mr. Wilson, announced that he would accept with deep appreciation of the responsibility imposed upon him and said he would have no further comment to make until the senate had acted.

Word of the nomination reached senators just as they were assembling for the day's session, and their private talks during the day they discussed little else. Virtually all of them, however, preferred to withhold public comment until the subject came up formally for action.

Once before the senate had been called upon to act on a nomination of Mr. Colby, and then confirmation was voted, although a strong fight against him was led by the two republican senators from his state. That was in 1917 when President Wilson named him to membership on the shipping board. It was asserted in some quarters that the reasons which led to objection at that time need not necessarily apply in the present case, but Senator Calder of New York, said he would insist that the nominee's qualifications for the secretaryship be looked into carefully before he would vote for confirmation to that position.

A native of St. Louis, 61 years old, Mr. Colby has been engaged in law practice in New York since 1883 except for the 19 months he was a shipping board member. During the latter service he was an American representative in the inter-allied shipping conference at Paris and was active in directing the board's policy. He resigned in March of last year, saying that the critical war period having passed, he preferred to return to private life.

Associated With Rights.
In his New York practice he has been counsel for several interests investigating life insurance companies and was associated with Charles Evans Hughes in the reform of the Equitable company. He served in 1901 and 1902 as a member of the New York assembly.

Actively supporting Theodore Roosevelt for the republican presidential nomination in 1912, Mr. Colby was placed in charge of the claims of the contesting Roosevelt delegates from various states who eventually were denied convention seats. He then became a delegate from New York to the first convention of the progressive party, and in 1914 and 1916 he was the progressive candidate for senator from New York. In the 1916 campaign, however, he supported

ALBANY WOMAN LEADS AS DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Elizabeth A. Colbert of Albany received the greatest number of votes for delegates at large to the democratic national convention in ballots cast today at the convention of the state democratic women's committee of one thousand. Miss Elizabeth Marbury of New York was second, and Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby of New York, third. Their names will be presented to the unofficial democratic state convention here tomorrow for consideration.

The convention also adopted a series of resolutions. These unanimously endorsed and approved the administration of President Wilson; protested against the "wild men now in the United States senate, who, for selfish and partisan and selfish reasons, are hampering the affairs of the nation," and pledged the delegates to work for their defeat and denounced the official conduct of United States Senator J. W. Wadsworth Jr.

GEN. WOOD COVETS HARDING'S STATE

With Aid of Garfield Will Attempt to Grab Buckeye Delegation From Native Son

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 25.—Ohio, a pivotal state in presidential elections, and which promises to be one of the chief battle grounds next November, is to be the scene of the chief storm center in the selection of delegates to the republican national convention.

This was made certain today when Major General Leonard Wood, formerly entered the state to contest with United States Senator Warren G. Harding, the preferential choice of Ohio voters for president and who for the state's 48 delegates to the Chicago convention. The Ohio primary will be held April 27.

Gen. Wood's declaration of candidacy was filed today with the secretary of state by John H. Price, his Ohio campaign manager.

Simultaneously with the filing of Wood's petition, James H. Garfield of Cleveland, secretary of the latter under Roosevelt, also filed as a candidate for president. His candidacy, however, it was explained at General Wood's headquarters, is solely for the purpose of giving Wood candidates for delegates a second choice preference, as required by the Ohio primary law. Inasmuch however, as his filing as a presidential candidate will place his name on the preferential primary ballot along with the names of Senator Harding and General Wood, the general's managers are trying to figure out some way in which his name may be kept off the preferential ballot.

It was held that her efforts had resulted in a permanent aid to humanity. Prof. Andrews gained recognition through her work on blood diseases of children, which was declared to be of "an epoch making character."

BONDS DROOP TO NEW LOW SALES PRICE

Crimp in Credits Carries Speculation to Paralyzing Weakness

STANDARD ISSUES HIT BY GENERAL MOVEMENT

Liberty Three-and-a-Half Drop to Point One-and-a-Half Lower Than Record For This U. S. Security

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Indications that contraction of credits is becoming world wide and that future estimates of values will have to attain themselves to this condition, caused further fluctuation of securities on the stock exchange today.

Stocks All Off.
Speculative shares received additional losses of two to 10 points or 25 to 125 points from their best quotations of the early weeks of the year. Seasoned or standard stocks were from 15 to 40 points lower for that period.

In bond market was affected in relative degree. Investment grade bonds tended their steady depreciation of the past few months, while liberty bonds and victory notes established lowest quotations in their history.

New Law Level.
The feature of that branch of the bond market was the liberty 3 1/2's the first of the government's war underventions. That issue was freely sold throughout the active season down to 94.30, which exceeds its previous low record by exactly 1 1/2 per cent.

Local signs of lighter money were provided by an advance in call loans from six per cent to six and one-half per cent. The federal reserve bank also deemed it expedient to advance rates of interest and discount as secured by treasury certificates.

Leaders of today's reaction in stock market were Crutcher, Bethlehem, Republic, Lackawanna and United States Steel, at extreme values of 9 points, oils and shipings at 2 to 4 points and affiliated specialties at 3 to 6 points.

REDUCE DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Quarterly dividends of the so-called porphyry copper companies were materially reduced at the meeting of the board of directors today.

It was stated that general financial conditions, low production and problems of taxation make such action conservative.

MEREDITH DELEGATE TO 'FRISCO CONVENTION

By the Associated Press.
DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 25.—Iowa's delegation to the democratic national convention, will go uninstructed, and bound by the unit rule. That was decided here today at the state convention. E. T. Meredith, United States secretary of agriculture, was named a delegate at large. While the state has 26 votes in the national convention, four being by delegates at large, eight men were chosen, eight with one-half vote, to represent the state generally.

A resolution adopted at the state convention ordered the present administration, the league of nations and measures whereby women will have equal suffrage. Ratification of the peace treaty was urged.

Selection of the delegates at large was marked by a verbal fight between women delegates to the state convention. Some of the women, led by Mrs. George Harwood of Des Moines, opposed naming eight men. Miss Anna H. Lawther of Dubuque, however, took the opposite position.

As the entire state delegation to the national convention stood at the office of the state meeting four women were named there, and 26 men.

NEW TREATY BATTLE TO BE LAUNCHED TODAY

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The peace treaty will be called before the senate again tomorrow under an agreement to keep it continually under consideration until a vote is reached on ratification.

"No one knows what will happen," said republican and democratic leaders alike tonight as they surveyed the perplexing possibilities with which the treaty is now confronted. Some of the rank and file were more confident in their predictions, however, various friends of the treaty on both sides of the chamber declaring that ratification was certain and all of its irreconcilable enemies agreeing that ratification was impossible.

Only on one point, the length of time likely to be consumed in bringing the re-opened treaty fight to a termination, did there seem to be anything of unanimity of opinion. Generally, it was conceded that the decision would not be permitted to drag out indefinitely this time, and that unless two or three weeks brought action both sides would be willing to face a final test of strength and then let the issue, if undecided, go into the campaign.

UNIVERSAL TRAINING IS LAID ASIDE

Military Committee Agrees to the Wishes of Republican Leaders

REORGANIZATION BILL TO BE REPORTED OUT

National Guard Changes the Features of the Measure To Be Given to the House

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Meeting the demand of republicans, the house military committee, by a bi-partisan vote today refused to include universal military training in the army reorganization bill, which will be formally reported tomorrow by Chairman Kahn. Sharp opposition to the reorganization program is assured when the bill reaches the house floor, and it may be attacked earlier by a minority report.

To Be Friendly Legislation

In rejecting immediate consideration of the training plan the committee voted that it should become the subject of separate legislation to be framed by a "friendly" sub-committee of seven named by Mr. Kahn, with an agreement of the leaders that its consideration would not be blocked after a thorough inquiry had been made of the cost and economic effects. This investigation is expected to delay action on the question until the next session.

Report Reorganization Bill

With this temporary disposal of universal training, the committee voted 10 to 6 to report the reorganization bill, providing for a maximum peace time army of 17,700 officers and 390,000 men, including the Philippine scouts and unassigned recruits. Unlike the national defense act of 1916, which the new bill would amend no definite tactical formation of the army is prescribed, this being left discretionary with the president.

Supporters of the universal training plan to offer amendments to force house action on the question, but opponents of the scheme hope to frustrate those attempts through parliamentary tactics.

To Await Convention

Republican leaders opposing the plan's appearance in the army bill included the members of the legislative steering committee who based their objections principally on the ground that action should be deferred until the party's stand was outlined by the national convention in June. They also agreed that house adoption of the plan was impossible at present.

Favors National Guard.
Liberal provisions for building up the national guard are carried in the bill, including many of the recommendations advocated by guard officers. The reserve officers' training camp in schools and colleges reserve training camps and the citizens' reserve are contained.

Strength Unchanged.
The strength of the national guard—500 to each congressional district—is unchanged by the bill, but to encourage formation of state troops, recognition will be given companies of 50 until July 1, 1921, after which the minimum requirements will be 75 men.

It also is prescribed by the bill that the guard of any state "may include such detachments of units as may be necessary in order to form tactical units when combined with troops of other states."

Original estimates in the plan would be for three years, with re-enlistment period being for one year, except that men who served in the army within the last two years may enlist for the one-year period. Enlistment in the "guard" would be for either one or two years, with re-enlistment period being for one year. All units, including national guard units, would be subject to federal government control for serving during the war. The plan would be subject to the will of the state. The plan would be subject to the will of the state. The plan would be subject to the will of the state.

URGENT OBSERVANCE OF TRAFFIC LAWS

Sheriff Announces That All Violators Will Be Arrested After March 1.

Commencing March 1, members of the sheriff's force will arrest violators of the traffic laws of the state no matter what the occasion, according to an announcement made yesterday by Sheriff A. N. Sprague.

Sheriff Sprague announced that recently there had been repeated violations of the law which requires that automobiles have two front lights burning after sundown. Use of the lights alone is a violation of the law, according to Mr. Sprague. Sheriff Sprague also announced that all owners of cars not having 1920 license plates by March 1 will be arrested.

The sheriff declares that need for better observation of traffic laws and rules had been discussed at the meeting of peace officers in Boise last month and that the next legislative session will be asked to strengthen the Idaho laws on this subject. While there is no law in the state governing the reflection of lights, according to Sheriff Sprague, he urged that automobile owners have their lights on their cars pointed at least 150 feet ahead of the automobile.

CIVIC BUREAU TO DISCUSS BASEBALL

To Seek Sentiment of Fans—Other Towns Plan for Season's League

At a meeting of the civic bureau of the chamber of commerce this afternoon the question of whether or not Twin Falls will be represented in the Southern Idaho Baseball League will be brought up for discussion.

Under the plans adopted at a director's meeting last week it was decided that the civic bureau, in cooperation with the secretary of the chamber of commerce would canvass the situation here and if sufficient sentiment is found to warrant the action of a mass meeting to be called to devise ways and means of financing a team.

That the officials and other teams of the Southern Idaho Baseball League are more than anxious to have Twin Falls in the league is evidenced by communications received by the secretary of the chamber of commerce.

J. H. Davis, president of the league, who is also president of the Paul Commercial Club, in a letter received by Secretary Wright, yesterday declared, "I wish that you would impress on your citizens the fact that they cannot judge the conduct of this season's league by what happened last year.

"You have heard sufficient to prove to yourself beyond a doubt that it is the intention of the league executives to see that the teams put up good clean baseball this year."

Plans are already being formulated for the organization of the teams in the rest of the league. Jerome, which has secured the place held last year by Piler, has secured the services of "Chick" Fraser, one of the big league pitchers, as manager. Fraser intends to get as fast material as any of the other teams in the league, according to the Jerome newspapers. He has a purse of $4000 in which to finance the team.

Other teams in the league are also going after good material. Realization that it will be impossible to import regular league players to win an important game has resulted in plans to build permanent organizations that will last through the season. In contrast to last year, the rules preclude the importation of Class A league men.

FOOTBALL RULES COMMITTEE WILL MAKE RADICAL CHANGES

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The first annual meeting of the inter-collegiate football committee to be held in several years has been called for this city Friday March 12. During the war there were no formal meetings of the committee, various interpretations of the rules being considered at informal conferences or by correspondence.

Important suggestions in reference to radical changes in the playing rules are to be discussed but the chances of a majority vote in favor of these proposed alterations cannot be forecast. The suggestions include a rule to have kick following a touchdown made from scrimmage formation, narrowing the width of the goal, numbering of players and several other revisions which would change the present form of play.

TELLS NECESSITY OF CHURCH UNITY

World Is Rocking Under Men's Feet—Need Stabilizer.

LONDON.—Bishop Welldon, dean of Durham, declares in an interview that "society is threatened by forces which repudiate Christian faith." The bishop has just returned from a conference on Christian reunion at Oxford which was attended by both conformist and non-conformist ministers. There was a general agreement, he stated, as to the necessity of drawing churches together.

"The world is rocking under men's feet," he said. "Society is threatened by forces which repudiate the Christian faith and the Christian moral code. The church runs a grave risk of losing her influence upon national life, the decadence of regular church-going has long been a cause of anxiety. The statistics of divorce are alarming and it may be necessary to rebuild human morals from the foundation."

"Meanwhile the church is disregarded because she is divided. It is too much to expect that the world will listen to her when she speaks with many discordant voices. Unity alone will be the secret of her power. The same need which has driven political parties to coalition, drives reformed churches to federation. The opportunity has come with the necessity. It is now or never. If ecclesiastical statesmanship does not avail itself of the spirit excited by war, the chance of Christian reunion, of Christian inter-communion will be lost and may not recur in the life of the living people."

L. C. Paulkner, M. J. Sweeley and others are the defendants in the first action. The complaint sets out that the defendants were the stockholders of the Twin Falls Townsite company at the time of its dissolution and that this concern and its former stockhold-

THE VARIETY STORE

The Open Shop will not lengthen hours of labor or reduce wages, but it will enable employers to hire the men necessary to do the work so that the public will not suffer.

BE NOT MISLED

The industrial situation has reached a stage where the masses of the people are determined that would-be strikers shall show some consideration for the public. The masses of the American people do not intend to stand for an autocracy of a class of workers any more than they intend to stand for an autocracy of capital. They intend to see that both Labor and Capital get a square deal, but that both shall keep in mind the interests of the general public.—Everett W. Hill.

The "Open Shop" Policy In the Building Trades Is Not Antagonistic to Organized Labor.

Advocates of the "Closed Shop" endeavor to draw a line of demarcation between the "Fair" and the "Unfair" where in reality none exists, at the same time branding as "Union haters," those who believe in the Open Shop.

A close study of the policy and platform outlined by this Association should banish the thought that there is even the slightest intent to hinder the organization of Unions, or to interfere with the activities of members of labor organizations or to curtail their activities, only insofar as to prevent the interference of one craft or individual with another. The Building Trades card system would prevent members of any craft from working on any job upon which non-union labor was employed to any extent whatsoever.

This card system has opened up avenues of industrial strife and dissension, which has resulted in the lessening of production and delaying of building activities, if not in actually bringing about strikes and boycotts. IT IS THIS CARD SYSTEM THAT THE "OPEN SHOP" ADVOCATES OPPOSE, BECAUSE IT IS DETRIMENTAL TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF OUR CITY.

The Association is open to reason at all times, for it has only the good of the community at heart, and if anyone can show how the card system in the Building Trades will benefit the public at large, it will immediately advocate Closed Shop.

In taking this stand for the "Open Shop," Twin Falls is but taking the same initiative for industrial freedom that has been taken by almost 90 per cent of American communities.

Stand Firmly For Industrial Freedom and the "Open Shop"

The purpose of the Southern Idaho Employers' Association, Twin Falls Division, is to promote and safeguard the interests of our citizenship, including both employees and employers and their families—by insuring, through the principles of the open shop, and by other means, equal opportunity to all, and by preventing all unjust discriminations, whether against employees, employers or the general public. It is not the purpose of the committee to combat organized labor, as such, or to prevent the formation of labor unions; but rather to protect personal liberty and property rights by seeing that non-union workers have an equal chance in Twin Falls with workers who belong to the unions.

SOUTHERN IDAHO EMPLOYERS' ASSN.

NATIONAL LIQUOR BILLS.

It is always illuminating to get a foreign viewpoint on a diplomatic problem. There is nothing particularly new in Lord Leverhulme's view of American prohibition, but it attracts more attention because it is said by an Englishman.

After a visit to this country Lord Leverhulme reports that the enormous majority of Americans are in favor of it, that protests against it are exceptional, and the possibility of reversing the dry policy is very remote. More impressive still is his confession that he himself has been "converted to prohibition" by what he learned in this country.

The results that he is concerned with are mainly economical. He finds that the United States, by abolishing the liquor traffic, is "now saving $2,000,000,000 a year," and he is moved to the reflection that if Great Britain were saving similarly on its liquor bill it could pay us the enormous debt it owes us in five years.

"Now the lender of money is saving it," he tells his fellow-Englishmen, "and we borrowers are spending it. This policy is the reverse of what it should be."

It surely looks that way, at least so far as our poverty-stricken allies are concerned. Viewed in this light they are spending what little money they have to drown their troubles in drink instead of to pay their war debts. If this argument were preached widely in Europe there might be unexpected triumphs there for prohibition.

SNOWBOUND.

For days New York and other cities of the east have been snowbound. Not merely cut off from the rest of the country, which, in a spiritual sense is a chronic condition with much of the Atlantic seaboard, but actually snowbound within themselves. Their streets have been impassable, their traction systems useless, vehicular traffic at a standstill. The people-hungry because of the inability of merchants to deliver food. Business was paralyzed for days, and the city of New York found it an almost insurmountable task to clear the main arteries of the metropolis. The spectacle was the most convincing display of feebleness of men's efforts against the elements of nature that our day has seen.

We have boasted of our superiority over the ordinary conditions of life. We have bridged the seas and girdled the earth. We talk grandiloquently of the prospect of communication with the moon or Mars, with a view, no doubt, to telling them how to run their worlds, but we can not clear our own world's greatest city of snow. We stand appalled and paralyzed beneath a moderate blizzard.

WE RESENT CRITICISM.

Admiral Sims touched upon a weak spot in American national character when he said that we did not like to be criticized. Speaking before a Jersey City audience the controversial admiral defended his criticism of the United States navy, for which he is under fire in Washington, by asserting that such criticism was for the benefit of the navy.

"But," adds the admiral, "Americans do not ask for criticism. They argue, 'We're all right, and if we're not we do not want to hear it.'"

It is probably only too true that we as a people are too prone to crucify our critics.

We have a handy and all too inclusive word for them, a word that at once catalogues and condemns them without trial. "Knockers," we exclaim, and almost automatically they are placed in "outer darkness."

There is no trial for the critic, no benefit of counsel or clergy. "We're all right, and if we're not we do not want to hear it," is worth of a place among the famous saying of famous Americans. It fits in with Stephen Decatur's "My Country! In her intercourse with other nations may she always be right; but right or wrong, My Country!" That is the pure essence of junkerism. Admiral Sims' "We're all right, and if we're not we do not want to hear it," is the pure distillation of know-nothingism.

CHILDREN FOR DOGS

"Children, three—will sell or trade for a dog in order to rent a house or apartment in which to live."

This want ad, from a West Virginia paper, is said not to have been inserted as a joke, bitter as is the jest concealed in it. A family wanted a home, and the three children were in the way. Huntington landlords were those of many other cities. They thought of the wall paper and the floors, the stair treads and the mop boards, the noise and the plumbing.

News dispatches indicate that the advertisement brought surprisingly satisfactory results, and that many of those who answered with offers of lodgings admitted that they saw the father's plight in a new light.

A LINCOLN SPEECH.

It develops that Lincoln once refused to make a speech at Gettysburg, for the peculiar reason that he "had no speech to make." He explained:

"It is somewhat important in my position that one should not say fooling things if he can help it, and it very often happens that the only way to help it is to say nothing at all."

It is recorded that the audience cheered this statement enthusiastically. And with good reason, for it was a very wise and excellent speech, which might be studied to advantage by statesmen now functioning at Washington.

Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts says that government "ought to appeal to the reason, satisfy the heart, assist the good, deliver the weak and resist the strong." Sure it ought. But if you turn this old globe round and round, and up and down, and inspect every part thereof with a magnifying glass, will you find any spot where government is functioning that way? Even on Beacon Hill, Boston?

When Thales, the ancient Greek philosopher, said that "all comes from water and will return to water" surely he wasn't indulging in a prophetic view of American railroads.

Having been entrusted with the task of trying and punishing her own distinguished thugs, Germany will now proceed with the greatest whitewashing job in history.

The allies have certainly done Germany a favor in granting her request to attend to her own criminals. They're leaving Germany now by every train.

The cost of the necessities of life is certainly prodigious. The American people will have to spend 1,000,000,000 for candy this year.

It's hard to keep track of Europe, the way it jumps from the role of critic to beggar, and back again, where the United States is concerned.

The long foretold business slump seems to have begun. Several booze cure sanitariums have gone into bankruptcy.

The Big Pen is back on the job.

The chief of the militia bureau, under the bill, would be a guard officer of at least 10 years service. His appointment would be for a period of four years, but his assistants would be regular officers, assigned to that duty by the president.

All colleges and universities, having a two year physical training course, would be entitled to reserve officers' training corps, but it would be required that the corps unit have at least 100 men. Regular officers, preferably those on the retired list, would be in charge of these units. Schools, public or private, not having the reserve officers' training corps, would be entitled under the bill to the services of an officer-instructor if the corps numbers 100 pupils over 14 years old. The secretary of war also would be authorized to maintain reserve officers' training corps camps for not longer than six weeks in a year, and the graduates of the corps would be eligible for appointment as reserve officers. Likewise the secretary would be authorized to operate camps for civilians, the graduates of these also to be eligible for reserve officer appointments.

Smart Frocks With Youthful Touches

There is much for which to thank Fashion this season—delightful touches that suggest youth and joyousness. Everywhere one finds the inevitable patent leather, smartly decorative in pipings, bandings, belts or as part of the motif in an embroidered design.

And speaking of embroidery, it vies with patent leather in popularity. Great vivid patches, gay with yarns and beads, form panels and bandings to embellish otherwise simple frocks. Blocks of stitching in contrasting silks decorate some of the smart sports apparel, while others are quilted or fashionably knife-plaited.

The diversity of charming modes enables everyone to find more than one reflecting individuality as well as originality. Crepes, taffetas, Shantung, tricolette and the multitudinous new and lovely silky satins predominate for sports, afternoon and evening wear.

In trotteurs the mode is for braid and patent leather trimmed severity, but on some ranks of shiny little buttons stand at attention. Slim shoestring belts and wide ribbon sashes, the extremes in girdles, are used equally often regardless of their disparity in size. The chic of these frocks lies in their smart simplicity. From $28.50 to $98.00.

EXPECT WILSON TO ACT ON BILL SOON

Messages Favoring or Opposing Measure Flood White House.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The railroad bill was sent to the White House today and the president is expected to act on it one way or another before the roads are returned to private control next Monday.

The measure is opposed by the railroad brotherhoods, and their representatives now in Washington considering the president's proposal for settlement of their wage demands were drafting today a memorial to the executive asking him to veto the bill.

A similar request was made yesterday by George P. Hampton, managing director of the Farmers National Council, who asked that the president hear a delegation from his organization tomorrow. Other big farmers' organizations, however, in a letter sent to the White House today urged approval of the legislation.

There has been no indication from the White House as to the president's views on the measure. He has had before him for several days a digest of the bill prepared by Director General Bacon after the senate and house conferees finally had agreed to the measure.

AMERICANS FORCED OUT OF COMPANIES

British Order in Council Affects Large Number of the Far East.

SHANGHAI.—An order in council issued by the British government in London, of which notice has been received here, requires that British subjects shall take the place of Americans as managing directors of "China Companies" operating in the Orient under British register.

This affects a large number of business concerns conducted in the Far East by Americans, especially in Shanghai which is a center of American commercial activity. To them the order comes with stunning effect. Its essential part reads:

"No person other than a British subject resident within the limits of this order, shall act as managing director or in any position similar to that of managing director, or shall otherwise exercise general or substantial control of China Company."

A fine of $50 a day is imposed upon the company and every director and manager who violates the order. Failure to comply with it will be considered as ground upon which an order for winding up the company may be made in court.

Meetings of the American Chamber of Commerce and the American Association of China were called to discuss the new order. At these letters were drafted and addressed to the British Chamber of Commerce and the British China association. The text of these letters were not disclosed but it was stated that British commercial interests were told that if an attitude is made to enforce the provisions of the order, the future relationship of Americans and British in the Orient will be imperilled.

It was planned also at the meetings of the American interests to send a telegram of protest to the American state department at Washington.

Some of the largest business concerns in the Orient are affected by the new order and several of the largest have been operating in the Orient since 1911, having widespread connections and vast obligations. It is held that when these enterprises were launched it was found that American incorporation laws had not been drawn in a manner to foster commercial operations abroad while existing British laws have been designed to encourage foreign trade. This is given ordinarily as the reason why many of these China companies owned and operated by Americans now fit to place themselves under British registration under the provisions of the Crown Colony at Hong Kong.

OKLAHOMA HOUSE IN FAVOR SUFF AMENDMENT

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 25.—Passage of the joint resolution ratifying the federal woman suffrage constitutional amendment with an emergency clause attached, came late today in the house of representatives, after nearly six hours of debate on the question. The vote on the emergency clause which would make ratification complete as soon as the senate passes the measure, and the governor signs it, was taken separately and passed by a vote of 74 to 14, with 12 not voting.

PLAN QUICK ANSWER TO WILSON'S ADHATIC NOTE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The supreme council tomorrow will take up President Wilson's reply to the allied note in the Adriatic question, which reached London this morning, and a rejoinder is necessary. The council will attempt to formulate it immediately because the members hope to end the London session Saturday, although possibly it will be extended for a day or two. The council did not consider the note today.

Calling to the necessity of Premier Nitti's presence in Rome and the activities of other members, the council did not complete the Turkish treaty. All points have been settled in principle, but many details are being arranged. The documents probably will be left with the ambassadors' conference at Paris.

It has been decided not to make public the decisions pieced out to await completion of the treaty.

WOOL GROWERS URGE WILSON TO APPROVE RAILROAD BILL

By the Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 25.—A telegram urging the National Wool Growers' association is desirous of seeing the Esch-Cummins railroad bill, providing for government regulation of railroads after their relinquishment of government control

March 1, enacted, and urging the approval of the measure, was sent President Wilson today by Dr. J. McCune, association secretary. Dr. McCune stated the association believed the legislation would prove beneficial to the country and that the labor provisions of the bill were considered by the wool growers as "extremely fair."

BIG ORGANIZATION STEALS FROM VESSELS

Chamber of Commerce in Argentine Finds Evidence of Big Hauls.

Buenos Aires.—Belief that a widespread international organization is at work stealing merchandise from steamships is expressed in a report of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Argentina. The chamber investigated the loss of valuable merchandise by pilfering from ships plying to this port and found that the same characteristics are visible in reports of merchandise from Italy, Spain and England as from the United States.

The investigation was made at the request of the allied chamber of commerce which asked all the members to make similar investigations.

The increase in pilferage during the past few months had been alarming, says the report. "An effort was made to deduce from the evidence received the value of the goods stolen, but this was impossible although in general terms it would seem to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, gold.

"One curious feature developed, which was that pilferage occurs with frequency in articles sent by parcel post, for which there is no recourse if no value has been declared.

"The thefts have all the characteristics of systematized robbery by people who know the merchandise and also know the peculiarities of the shipping. It would seem, moreover, that a widespread international organization was at work for the same characteristics are visible in thefts of merchandise from Italy, France, Spain and England as from the United States.

"One house imported a lot of automobiles. It is the custom of this factory to pack the set of tools in one special corner of the case. A hole was cut into this particular corner of 28 cases and the tool sets were removed. Apparently the thieves knew exactly where to look for the articles they desired.

"Another house which imports dry goods found that nine lined cases had been opened, the silk contents removed and an equal weight of coal put into the cases which were nailed up. Another which also imports dry goods had several cases of silk velvet completely opened and in the cases were found cotton goods of an inferior quality. Each of these cases involved losses amounting to nearly $10,000 gold. One exporter of silk, from Europe, with the idea of deceiving the United States changed his form of packing and also his shipping marks but the thieves went direct to the packages and rifled them as though they knew beforehand what they contained. Two separate shipments each containing 150,000 sewing machine needles were stolen in the empty boxes arriving from Buenos Aires, although in this case the shippers have completed security that the merchandise was loaded on the steamer in proper condition in New York. A merchant makes his own house declaration in harmony with the shipping documents received from abroad and must pay duty on goods that were stolen.

"The British steamship companies at first and more recently the American steamship companies have insisted in the bills of lading a clause to the effect that the steamer will not be responsible for pilferage in all cases in which loss can be covered by insurance.

"Insurance companies are increasing their rates and threaten to make still more increases. The attitude of the steamship companies and the captain is a direct invitation to unrestricted theft on board ship. As theft increases and the eventual prejudice to legitimate commerce threatens to be very grave.

"The opinion of responsible maritime insurance agents and adjusters who are in close touch with the situation is that this only remedy is for the steamship companies to resume responsibility for pilferage and in case they are unwilling to do so government pressure should be brought to bear to compel them to eliminate this clause."

DOZEN PERSONS ARRESTED BY MILITARY IN DUBLIN

DUBLIN, Feb. 25.—A dozen persons were arrested after midnight for assault upon the streets of the capital. They included a Dublin newspaper man seeking for copy to show how the law could be evaded. He is now awaiting court martial.

Some tanks paraded through the streets today. The Dublin trades council adopted a resolution calling upon all workers to refuse to apply for permits. The Dublin police have removed their identification numbers from their shoulders. The electric light and power services continue.

MUST CARE FOR ANIMALS.

FOKANE, Wyo.—W. H. Peart, who recently sold his farm near Davenport, Wyo., to R. Shuck, a neighbor, stipulated, as a part of the sale price, that the purchaser must give free board and lodging to "Johnnie" and "Paul," his work horses, as long as they lived. Mr. Peart bought the farm when he began farming twelve years ago.

FIRE DESTROYS RACING YACHT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Fire which broke out shortly before last midnight in the Robert Jacobs shipyards at City Island destroyed three yachts, Trolita and Mystery and three buildings. Sir Thomas Lytton's challenger for the America's cup, Shamrock IV, and the America's trial yacht Vanitie, were endangered by the flames but were saved by a shift in the wind.

BRITISH PROFIT IN DISPOSAL OF WOOL

Government Officials Acknowledge That Price Is "Much Higher."

LONDON.—It is estimated by some woolen spinners that the British government made 40,000,000 pounds from the sales of Australian wool last year and thus far in 1920. Replying to charges that both the government and the Yorkshire spinners had made excessive profits, Sir Arthur Goldfinch, chairman of the Wool Council of the Ministry of Munitions, told a representative of the Evening Standard that it was true the government was reselling marine and cross-bred wool from Australia and New Zealand at a price "very much higher" than the basic price at which it was purchased.

"It was clearly understood," he said, "that when the wool was no longer needed for military purposes it should be sold at market rates and the dominions should receive one-half of the profit. Australia and New Zealand are clearly entitled to it."

"The price for each class of wool is now considerably cheaper than they were during the war, and almost the same as they were six years ago."

"There has been a great run on the finer classes of wool, which are now being consumed more rapidly than they are grown, and a great rise in price was natural and almost inevitable."

Yorkshire spinners say that they simply could not help making profits. "A spinner has nothing to do in these days but sit still," said one, "and money rains in his lap."

A trade correspondent of the Times asserts that prices have been rushed up by the demand from the continent. The bulk of the wool on cloth and a large proportion of the worsted, it is stated, is going to Germany through the three Scandinavian countries.

PROPOSAL FOR CAUCUS OF DEMOCRATS KILLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Plans to hasten a final decision on the peace treaty were made by senate republicans today when the administration leaders were taking counsel among their divided colleagues as to what should be the final democratic stand on ratification.

The republican determination to bring the question to a conclusion was abandoned on the senate floor by the party leader, Senator Lodge, who said that while today and tomorrow had been allotted to consideration of pressing legislation he would call up the treaty again Thursday and would ask that it remain the business of the senate until disposed of.

Meanwhile the democratic leader, Senator Hitchcock, vetoed for the present the proposal for a party caucus, sponsored by democratic senators who want to end the long controversy by taking the republican reservations as the stand. Senator Hitchcock said he had talked to those who differed with him as to the course to be adopted and had about decided that to call a caucus would be inadvisable.

In some quarters it was predicted that under the program outlined by Senator Lodge the "truce" could be brought to a ratification vote within a week or 10 days. The irreconcilable opponents of ratification are expected, however, to insist that there be no hasty action and no one could predict with certainty how much time they might consume in debate.

CHURCH PEOPLE GET PERMIT

POINDEXTER DENOUNCES THE PRESIDENT AS FREE TRADER

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—President Wilson was termed a "free trader" and the league of nations "a constitution for a world republic" by the United States Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington in an address tonight before the Republican club of the Bronx.
Senator Poindexter declared that the struggle the republican party has been compelled to make in the senate to protect the constitution and the independence of the country against attacks by those sworn to preserve and defend them, is more like a struggle by a defeated nation to obtain as favorable terms as possible from any uncompromising conqueror, rather than a treaty of peace dictated by a victorious nation.

Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Corn trading broadened out in volume today owing to withdrawal of a rule which during the last ten months has required that any individual interested in deliveries further off than the current month should not exceed 200,000 bushels. Business consisted largely of spreads, the simultaneous buying of May and selling of July. Closing prices were firm, at the same as yesterday's finish to 2c higher, with May 135 7-8 to 136 and July 130 7-8 to 131. Oats finished 1-8 off to 1-4c advance. Provisions scored net gains of 12 to 17c. Lossening of restrictions on the corn trade was taken upon in some quarters as likely to have a bearish influence. The fact, however, that receipts continued light and that no big accumulation at terminal points was now expected, put all other considerations nearly out of sight. Although price changes were more lively than has of late been the rule, the tendency of the market, most of the time was upward, especially for the nearby months. Closing prices were at the top level of the session.

Profit taking sales on all bulks prevented the oats market from showing much sympathy with corn strength.

Higher quotations on hogs gave a lift to provisions.

DINING ABOARD ALARK SHIP BIG, PASTIME

GALVESTON, Tex.—Anchored for invitations to dine aboard foreign owned and manned vessels entering port here is once more the popular pastime of certain Galvestonians, following a decision received by Collector of the Port Fred C. Babst from the treasury department in Washington.

SQUIRREL FOOD

to the effect that enough "wet" goods, be left unsealed for use of officers and crews of foreign ships while inside the three-mile limit. The ruling, it is taken, also supplies the guests aboard ships in the harbor.
Ships under foreign charter, nearly all carry their crew of Spain and Italy for, raiding out to officers and men. Under a previous ruling of the treasury department this stock of ship's wine was placed under lock and key, while the vessel remained inside the three-mile limit. Representations by foreign governments, however, caused a reversal of the decision. It was pointed out that shipping agents would be unable to get cargo for vessels coming to the United States of such a course was pursued. The wine, it was said, was considered a part of the food allowance.

STATES CO-OPERATING IN SEEKING AIRPLANE PATROL

MISOUA, Mont, Feb. 25.—States and private owners of timber in western Montana, northern Idaho and eastern Washington, comprising district No. 1 of the United States forest service, are lending enthusiastic cooperation to the plans of the forest service and the war department for an airplane patrol during the coming forest fire season, a statement just issued by the forest service declared.

State and privately owned timber, as well as the holdings of the government, are to be included in the patrol, to be conducted by the army aviation service through the use of airplanes, supplemented by carrier pigeons and wireless telephones.

Pigeon lofts, the statement said, are to be established at the headquarters here and at two sub-bases for the patrol work elsewhere in the district. The birds are to be carried by the planes on every flight, and in case of accident are to be liberated with a message.

Reports of fires will be made by the aviators through the wireless telephone to the nearest station, whence it will be relayed by land phones to the proper field office. Emergency landing fields, where supplies of fuel and oil may be replenished, are to be established over the district.

At present, the statement says, the airplane patrol will supplement the existing fire detection system maintained by the forest service.

WOOL SPINNERS MAKE COLossal PROFITS, CHARGE

LONDON.—Accusations that both the government and Yorkshire spinners were making colossal profits in wool were made by Mr. MacIndoe, a wool warehouse man, at a recent meeting of the Central Profitlessing committee. He said a committee which investigated the prices of wool found that the Yorkshire spinners were making from 400 to 3200 per cent over the margin of profit allowed by the government.

Members of the profiteering committee complained that the government was willfully withholding publication of the reports of the investigating committee. Publication of these reports was demanded in a resolution. They predicted a "howl of excitation" when the public learned the facts.

"Yarn is happening in worsted yards is happening in cotton and mohair," said Sidney Webb. "The safeguard of competition has been swept away and business is honeycombed by combinations and agreements to keep up prices."

London tailors have announced that men's suits may soon cost as much as 25 pounds.

SAY AUSTRALIA SHOULD HAVE ANOTHER CABLE

SYDNEY, Australia.—Another Pacific cable to Australia is long overdue, recently asserted Sir Joseph Cook, minister for the navy.

"It is now well over 20 years since the present cable was laid. It has succeeded financially and today is always overworked."

Matters of empire communication are becoming day more imperative and it is high time a forward movement was begun.

The Pacific cable referred to runs from Australia and New Zealand to Canada. It is owned by Great Britain and the three dominions.

YOUTH STAGES HOLD-UP, USES AN EMPTY GUN

Thirteen-Year-Old Lad Successfully Waylays His Employers; Gets $56.60

CAUGHT AT PARENTS' HOME WITH HIS LOOT

Tells Officers Ham and Austin
That He is Glad He Was Caught; Will Watch
Step in Future

With his face masked with a white handkerchief, a slouch hat pulled down over his forehead and an empty .32-caliber in his hand, Herman Carter, 13 years of age, last night successfully held up his employers, two Greeks by the name of Karons, the owners of the Perrino shoe shining parlor on Main street, in a darkened spot on Second avenue north. He secured $56.60.

The robbery took place at 11 o'clock. At 1 o'clock young Carter was arrested by Officers Ham and Austin and lodged in the county jail.

Know of Their Roll.
Carter had worked during the day at the shoe shining parlor and knew that his employers had a heavy trade during the day. He also knew their habits. After he had finished his work he had repaired to the Perrino hotel lobby, where he waited until the two men passed. Carter then hurried by a round-about way to the scene of the robbery. He first ordered the Greeks to put up their hands. Then he ordered them to give him their pocket-books and when they refused he took the purses from the pockets himself.

The fact that he made no effort other than the wearing of a mask to disguise himself led to the lad's undoing. He was wearing a hat with a white band that was easily recognized by his two victims.

Arrested At His Home.
The arrest was made at the boy's home on Elm street, south of Main. He was hurriedly dressed and gone to bed. He made an attempt to discard the money when Officer Ham knocked at the front door, but as he started to throw it out of the back door he was met by Officer Austin.

Carter, who is exceptionally large for his age, acknowledged that he had been implicated in other robberies here. Asked why he had held up the Karons he replied, "Well, I don't know—I just wanted the money—had to have it."

He said he was caught.

"I am glad you caught me," the lad told the officers. "If I get out of this I'll watch my step in the future."

Young Carter's family have been making preparations to remove shortly to California. The boy's parents were greatly surprised at his occupation. The family is said to bear a good reputation throughout the district in which they have been living.

THREE DEAD IN GUN BATTLE.

men are dead and three may die as the result of a gun battle between lor owned by Pete Pelkonak, 1044 Fifteenth avenue, Council Bluffs, this evening.

The dead:

enue, Union Pacific section hand.

Those who may die:

DALRYMPLE'S ARMY IS SHORN OF POWER

Dry Invasion of Michigan Ends in Flazzling Force for Publicity Seeking Officials.

By the Associated Press.

HON. RICH. MITCHELL, Feb. 25.—
Thirty-five federal agents and members of the Michigan state constabulary, who arrived here last night under Major A. Dalrymple, prohibition commissioner, for the central states, to "clean up" Iron county tonight
were enroute back to their stations, while Major Dalrymple was bound for Washington to confer with Prohibition Commissioner John Kramer.

Major Dalrymple, who led the armed expedition to Iron River, in the heart of the upper peninsula Iron belt with the avowed purpose of arresting county and village officers on charges of cognate law to obstruct the enforcement of the prohibition law, was called off by Mr. Kramer and ordered to meet the opposing sides and seek a compromise without legal action.

The worsening of federal agents in the first clash with the officers in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution has given a serious blow to the enforcement of the dry law, Major Dalrym-
ington.

Martin S. McDonough, prosecuting attorney of Iron county and leader of the county authorities, who, Major Dalrymple declared, were in "open revolt" against the United States, received a telegram today from District Attorney M. H. Walker at Grand Rapids advising him to take no action until the district attorney could come here to investigate the case.

Mr. McDonough had obtained a warrant for the arrest of Major Dalrymple charging him with malicious libel, and had planned to have it served when the train bringing the federal men arrived last night.

A telephone message from Crystal Palms, 15 miles away, however, notified McDonough that Major Dalrymple, in anticipation of trouble, had issued 50 rounds of ammunition to each man in his party. The prosecutor then advised Iron River citizens to go home and avoid any demonstration that might provoke hostilities.

Today Mr. McDonough waited upon Major Dalrymple at the hotel where the latter was staying and warned him that if he carried out his announced plan and arrested anyone in Iron county without a warrant, or searched any private home for liquor, the county officers would "arrest every man in the party and put them in jail."

The prohibition director already had received orders from Mr. Kramer at Washington, calling off the "armed invasion" and as a result no arrests were made.
