TWIN FALLS BANK AIDS JERSEY CLUB

Bank & Trust Company to Loan Boys Money for Buying Cows.

Finances for the purchase of pure-bred Jersey cattle to be distributed to boys in the Dairy club of Twin Falls county is the county club leader has been furnished by the Twin Falls Bank & Trust company. The boys receiving the animals will give notes due in one year at a reasonable rate of interest. Owners of the Jersey will constitute the Twin Falls Bank & Trust company Jersey club.

This is the third year that it is organized in connection with the work of the county club leader. In each instance care has been taken to provide the boys with pure-bred animals so that they may enter them in the pure-bred class at the county or state fairs and also so that the boys who will be the future farmers of Twin Falls county, will develop an interest in the raising of pure-bred stock. Competition such as is offered to the boys of the various clubs serves also to keep them interested in farm work in a way that would not be possible otherwise.

A. J. O'Reilly, county club leader, left yesterday for Corvallis, Oregon, to supervise the shipment of 24 head of pure-bred Jersey cattle for distribution to the boys who will be members of the Jersey clubs here and at Buhl. This will be one of the largest importations of pure-bred dairy cattle that has ever been made on the Twin Falls tract. These cows are tuberculosis tested. Mr. O'Reilly and Mr. Coleman, county agent, made a trip to Oregon and made arrangements for the purchase of the cattle some time ago.

INDUSTRY IS MAIN PROBLEM-CUMMINS

Government's Attitude Towards Business Discussed by Iowa Senator

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 11.—The covenant of the league of nations and other international relationships should be nothingness, compared with the relation, present and prospective, of the government to labor industry, was the statement made tonight by Senator A. R. Cummins of Iowa before the National Petroleum congress at their annual banquet.

"The relation of the government toward industry involves the most serious questions which have ever engaged or will engage the thought of students in public affairs," said Senator Cummins. "Unless the people of the United States, who work for a living are well disposed towards American institutions, unless they are emboldened through the compensation for their labor to become good citizens, devoted to their country and willing to defend it, our foreign relations will speedily disappear. I venture the prediction that the issue of the incoming political campaign, the issue which will chiefly determine political affiliations will concern the relations of the government to labor. This is as it ought to be, for it is the attitude of voters upon this subject which alone can solve this supremely important problem.

"Events like the coal strike have borne in upon me an abiding conviction that the day of the strike in the agencies of transportation and in the basic industries of the country has passed and passed forever. This is not said with any want of sympathy in the great cause for which labor is fighting. In my opinion, labor has never received and is not now receiving its just share in the division between capital and labor, but there must be in the very nature of things some better way to determine the division than through the strike.

"Difficult, therefore, as the duty is, it seems to me that the government must undertake, with respect to transportation and certain basic industries the task of compelling justice to wage workers and of adjusting in a fair relation the disputes which arise from time to time between employers and employees. It must declare, when the occasion arises, what wages shall be paid and the working conditions which shall exist. But this is not all. In those cases in which the public interest, welfare and protection require governmental application, the government must not only adjudicate the controversy but it must enforce its decision. When the government speaks in behalf of the people, its voice must be heard and its commands respected. The employer must pay according to its judgment, and the employee must not enter into a conspiracy to nullify its decrees.

"You will understand, I am sure, that I am not advocating this rule, which would create a new relation between the government and industry, for all industries. It should be applied only to those activities which, by reason of our development and the distribution of our people must be regular, continuous and adequate.

"No one can be more conscious than I am of the bitter hostility with which organized labor views the suggestion I have just made and no one can regret that hostility more than I do. When, however, the truth becomes clear to me, I follow it without regard to former friendship or personal consequences."

STANDARD OIL COMPANY SEEKS TO LIST STOCK

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Standard Oil company of New Jersey today applied to the New York stock exchange for permission to list $28,538,500 of its common shares, as well as a like amount of 7 per cent cumulative non-voting preferred stock. This is accepted by Wall street as an indication that the company intends to seek a broader market for its securities, which are now limited to the curb market.

It also is believed that the application for permission to re-capitalise the shares of subsidiaries with subsequent distribution of surplus. Such action is regarded as a logical result of last Monday's supreme court decision exempting stock dividends from taxation as income.

Active subsidiaries of the Standard Oil company showed gains of $40 to $150 a share on the curb during the past week.

without foundation. The dispatch adds: "Prince Christopher has not renounced any of his rights, either royal or personal, Greek or Danish, directly or indirectly nor yet by inference. GET-TOGETHER.

That was a jolly crowd that met with the Chamber of Commerce membership the other night when the potato breakfast was revived. And it enjoyed the quip and jest which enlivened the occasion.

A good sign. The saving sense of humor saves tension. It insures application of the sense of proportion. It gives promise of a healthy consideration of vexatious questions.

And then it is well to get together.

It is not in the nature of things that we are to always agree. But compromise can only come from negotiation. Unless we hear that which the other fellow says we cannot measure correctly our own theories.

Often, too, the other fellow is right. So, in building a community, it is well that we foregather for discussion of problems which confront us; that we clarify our vision by counsel; that we plan constructively through unity of purpose, and that we be joshed out of our imaginary grievances, even by such jollity as that administered by the American Legion lads at the potato breakfast.

Let us get together often. The Chamber of Commerce, if it provides for such meetings and does nothing else, will be well worth while. Frequent community meetings, gentlemen, please.

THE MORIBUND SHERMAN ACT.

However lawyers may argue, the Sherman act is virtually dead. It has not been repealed, but it has lost its force. Its vitality was sapped years ago, when the supreme court established the "rule of reason" in the Northern Securities case, and the finishing blow was dealt in the recent decision in the case of the United States Steel Corporation.

The practical purport of the Sherman act was that business growth was criminal, and the larger the growth, the greater the crime. At least, that is what it amounted to in early interpretation and practice. Many a proposed combination was forbidden merely because it was contrary to the letter of the law, despite obvious economic benefits that would have resulted. Some trusts were dissolved regardless of whether their operations were evil or not, because of the same adherence to the letter of the law. "Restraint of trade" was a term that went far and covered much ground.

But times have changed, and with them have changed economic conditions, business practices, public sentiment—and judicial opinion. The courts, even while protesting the eternal and immutable quality of their decisions, follow the public mood. Thus interpretation of the Sherman act has come to be of the spirit rather than the letter; and even the spirit is changed.

It is all natural enough. The Sherman act was designed to correct actual abuses of power on the part of big corporations. Perhaps at the time it could not help being merely restrictive and punitive, and thus merely negative. It served its purpose of lopping off business abuses, of punishing malefactor and subduing all-powerful big business to a point where it had to give the public a square deal.

Now that punitive era is nearly over. Business for the most part has learned its lesson. There is more conscience in business, and more public spirit. Nearly everybody realizes today that it is desirable to release all the nation's energies instead of repressing them, that there must be co-operation and centralization in business as everywhere else, and that expediency is the best test of the size permissible in a business institution.

Everything is getting bigger; and on the whole, with big business comes more power, efficiency, productiveness, prosperity. Let business grow all it will and can—so long as the United States government remains not its servant, but its master.

A DAY OF OPPORTUNITY.

Roger W. Babson, the noted business observer and expert, has just spent a month visiting factories—great and small—department stores, publishing plants and other great business establishments. In every case he talked to their owners or general managers. The most important question he put to these men was:

"What quality do you like best in the men who work for you? How do you pick men for promotion?"

Listen to the answers he gets: "We promote those who are most interested in their work."

"We pay for enthusiasm and not for time."

"We pay most for new ideas."

"Those who like their work are the ones who get ahead here."

"Enthusiasm, imagination and initiative are the qualities we want."

Do you get the eternal limit what this means? It means simply that—

"America is just as democratic as ever. Glory be."

Babson did not get such answers as the following:

"We like to promote gentlemen."

"We prefer to give the best places to the owners' and bosses' sons."

"High places in our business are reserved for men with money."

No such answers were given at all. Everywhere these big business men wanted qualities for promotion that ANY YOUNG MAN CAN HAVE if he only makes the effort.

If you like your work you are in line for promotion.

If you have enthusiasm, they'll pick you, my boy.

If you think—use your brains—they'll push you straight up the ladder.

It's all up to you. It does not matter whether you are of lowly birth or not. It doesn't matter whether you wear a swallow-tail or an overall. And you don't have to have a college education.

In a word, it's equal opportunity, equal rights, the golden age of equality. America, the paradise of the common man.

In giving publicity to the important information he picked up on his tour, Babson has done an immensely valuable service to the people of this country and his story should be blazoned across this land in box car letters.

Oh, yes; and don't fail to tell the Bolsheviks about it.

FARM TOUR FOR BOYS.

There is a scheme on foot in Louisiana to send a company of about 100 country boys on an agricultural tour of some of the middle western states.

This is one of the steps to be taken by a state peculiarly adapted to agriculture to interest its youth in the development of the natural resources of their native region. It is believed that these boys will come back with great enthusiasm for farming as a business, and with many good ideas gathered on the tour. It is a far cry from the days when the farmer and his wife were cited as never having left the farm in 50 years, and also from the days when the farmer for that very reason went wearily on losing money and hope, being too ignorant to know he was doing the wrong thing.

TWIN FALLS MAT MEN BEAT BOISE

Local Wrestlers' Win or Draw in Every Match of the Program.

Twin Falls wrestlers won over the Boise representatives in the wrestling meet held at the high school gymnasium last night.

A large and interested crowd in which there were not a few women and high school girls, witnessed the matches. Cliff Lewis, who was to take part in an exhibition wrestling match, was prevented from doing so by the development of blood poisoning in his hand from a cut received in a workout a few days ago.

The Boise contestants were coached by Nick Collins of the Boise Athletic club, and those of the Twin Falls squad by Holby and Cliff Lewis. Lewis and Collins refereed the matches.

Robert and William George staged a three round boxing bout.

Following are the results of the contestants in each event:

Frank Matt of Boise, 172 pounds, and Nicholson of Twin Falls, 151, wrestled to a draw.

Reynolds of Twin Falls, 125, won over Harry of Boise, 125.

Lewis, 150, of Twin Falls, won over Lashon, 145, of Boise, in two minutes.

Schwartz, 100, of Twin Falls, won over Hughes, 80, of Boise, in 8 1/2 minutes in an exhibition match.

Holby and McAttee, and Hoag and Hays of Twin Falls, put on exhibition matches which resulted in draws.

Day, 150, of Twin Falls, won over McLeod, 145, of Boise in three minutes.

Quinter, 125 1-2, of Boise, after wrestling two ten-minute periods to a draw, forfeited the match to Stacey, 129 3-4, of Twin Falls.

Swimming pool available to Twin Falls bathers.

An excavation on the A. M. Sande farm, one-half mile northwest of Twin Falls, is to be made into a swimming pool, the dimensions of which will be 240 feet in width by 270 feet in length.

For the six feet there will be water of seven feet in depth in one end and for less than water of shallower depth at the opposite end.

A nearby canal and a deep well will furnish water for the pool. The canal water will be thoroughly filtered and purified before it reaches the great tank.

A number of bath houses suitably equipped for patrons will be built near by and trees will be planted to provide shelter in the years to come.

A concrete plunge will be erected during the coming season if there is a sufficient number of bathers to warrant it.

TWIN FALLS GIRLS WIN FROM WENDELL

Opposing Visiting Team Falls to Make a Single Field Goal.

Team work on the part of the Twin Falls high school girls—basketball team, and an apparent lack of it, on the part of the Wendell girls' team were responsible for a 14 to 2 victory by the local team at the high school gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

Seven field goals were made by the Twin Falls girls to none by Wendell. Wendell's two points were made by the free throws given as penalties for fouls.

The local center more than held her own against her taller opponent and the score gives indication of the work of the Twin Falls guards.

An age long question, both speculative and practical and the central question of humanity. Strange but true, men are most interested in speculative questions. # JIMMIE WILDE IS MASTER OF MASON

American Flyweight Outpunched and Outboxed by the Visitor From Great Britain.

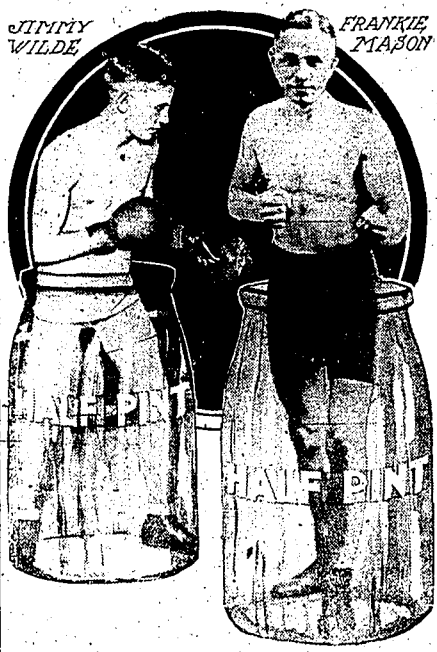

By the Associated Press. RINGSIDE, Calhoun, Toledo, Ohio, March 12.—Jimmy Wilde of England, recognized flyweight boxing champion of England, tonight decisively outpunched Frankie Mason of Fort Wayne, Ind., the American claimant of the title.

Throughout the battle the plucky Briton was the aggressor. He carried the fight in all but one round, the fifth, when Mason braced himself and put the Englishman on the defensive. Two of the rounds were even, the fourth and tenth.

The ring, which was 21 feet square, gave the little American plenty of room to jump away from the pressing Britisher.

After the fight Referee Ed Smith declared never in his life had he seen a young fellow or any fighter who was so willing to carry or mix matters as Wilde. Smith was of the opinion that it was a very even match, but declined under the rules of the commission he was not at liberty to announce the winner.

Often the strongest impulse to save comes from the woman of the household.

Every man should consider himself fortunate who has a wife or mother who helps him to save money.

The important part about saving is not the amount of money you set aside each week. The essential thing is the firm decision to save a definite, regular sum, no matter how small it may be.

Even $1, saved regularly each week, will make your savings grow amazingly.

And this bank helps by adding four per cent, compounded semi-annually.

Pro-Section Takes Steps to Prevent Release in Case of Acquittal in Grimie Action.

By the Associated Press.
MONTESANO, Wash., March 12.—The case of the 10 Industrial Workers of the World charged with the murder of Warren O. Grimie, one of four former soldiers shot during an armistice day parade at Centuria, Wash., last November, went to the jury at 10:20 tonight.

George P. Vandever opened the argument for the defense. He closed with a plea in behalf of "those who love liberty, for those who have just died, free speech and free assembly."

The I. W. W. had a right to defend their bill, Vandever declared, and he asserted, "they did all in their power to protect their bill."

"They had a right to agree among themselves to protect their bill," he declared, "and I do not agree with the court's instruction relative to self-defense." He denied that there was any agreement among the men to go to the Avalon and Araval hotels or Stentury hill from which shots were fired.

Court proceedings were continued until tonight, the jurors having expressed a wish to complete their sitting as soon as possible. The new charges were placed by the court before the jury late today, if the court's instructions had not been read. Counsel for both sides indicated the argument could be concluded and the case placed in the jury's hands before 10:30 p. m.

C. D. Cunningham, special prosecutor, opened the state's argument. He held a pedicle against the accused men, he declared, he mentioned that fact because he was sure the defense would mention it in any event, but he asked, "a legitimate question from any possible mind."

"I believe we have proved them (the defendants) guilty of one of the most heinous murders ever committed in this state or any other state," he said. Cunningham then took up the cases of two accused men one by one, outlining the evidence produced by the state, but, he said, basing his argument that the men were guilty "upon their own statements and admissions" than upon the state's representations.

LODGE GIVES SENATE NEW RESERVATION

Introduces Modification Own Article X-Qualification Starts Rumpus

IRRECONCILABLES SAY IT IS A SURRENDER

Effort Made to Hold 30 Democrats in Line While Trying to Secure 34 Republican Votes.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 12.—A substitute for the Lodge reservation to Article X, which has stood unaltered for many weeks, as the storm center of the peace treaty controversy, was proposed in the senate today by its author, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader.

The move, described by the republican managers as a step toward harmony and compromise, at first led the debate in exactly the opposite direction by starting a discussion whether the new draft was weaker in its form than the old. The mild reservationists, backed by most of the republican membership, said it was not. The republican irreconcilables said it was, and served notice they would not help adopt it as they did the original. The democrats keeping silent, studied the proposal with apparent suspicion.

Conditions De-fused.
As a result, possibilities of final agreement remained befuddled and party leaders revised their predictions of an early vote on Article X. Tonight, no one was predicting action before Monday or Tuesday.

Characterizing the proposed change as "the terms of a republican capitulation" to the White House, Senator McCormack of Illinois, led in the attack of the republican irreconcilables. "A set of wavel words" was the way Senator Brandegee, republican, Connecticut, described the compromise.

proposal. While Senator Knox, republican, Pennsylvania, asserted that it would leave upon the United States the moral obligations for which President Wilson has contended.

In general form the new reservation follows the language worked out by Senator Warren of Indiana for the irreconcilables and Senator Simmons of North Carolina for the democrats in their compromise negotiations. For this language 30 democratic votes are understood to have been promised but several last minute changes in wording, made by Senators Lodge and Watson before the reservation was presented, were held to have frustrated the democratic pledge and a new caucus had not been completed tonight.

Other Defections.
On the republican side the defection was not confined to the irreconcilables alone. Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, who had voted for ratification with the original reservation, declaring on the floor that he never would take the substitute and Senator Wadsworth of New York said he could not see wherein they had improved on their original measure. The republican leaders insisted, however, they could hold at least 30 votes in line and the democrats who favored the substitute hoped to deliver more than 30 from their side. It takes 64 to ratify.
