SENATE AGAIN DIFFERS WITH WILSON VIEWS

Reservation to Article X Is Adopted, This Time by Two-Thirds Vote.

PRESAGES DEFEAT OF ENTIRE PEACE PACT

Administration Forces, With Irreconcilables, Have Sufficient Votes to Assure Unfavorable Action.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Reaffirming its disagreement with President Wilson on the dominating issue of the peace treaty controversy, the senate adopted today by a vote of more than two to one the new Article X reservation framed by republican leaders.

Its action ended at least for the present, the effort for a compromise that would insure ratification, and the senate's decision was the treaty toward another deadlock from which it could be released only by a veto at the polls next November.

Fourteen Democrats Rebel.
Fourteen democrats voted with the united republican membership for the reservation, but this defection from administration ranks fell far short of the number required to ratify. It was conceded that others probably would swing over on the ratification roll call, but administration leaders, backed by a definite assurance that the new reservation was unacceptable to the president, evidenced no apprehension that their forces would dwindle beyond the danger point.

Vote, 56 to 26.
The vote of 56 to 26, showed on its face a two-thirds majority for the reservation, but it by no means indicated two-thirds would vote for ratification on that basis. Included in the majority were irreconcilables, holding about a score of votes which on the ratification roll call are expected to be cast against the treaty.

The reservation, adopted after many efforts to modify it had been defeated by the united republican majority, follows in general form the one adopted last November. It says: "The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country by the employment of its military or naval forces, its resources, or any form of economic discrimination, or to interfere in any way in controversies between nations including, all controversies relating to territorial integrity or political independence, whether members of the league or not, under the provisions of Article X, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States, under any article of the treaty for any purpose, unless in any particular case Congress, which, under the constitution, has the sole power to de-

Red Cross Ready For Wounded in Berlin

VIRTUAL EMBARGO PUT ON PASSPORTS

Administration Holds No One Can Hold Office of Temporary Secretary Now.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—A virtual embargo on foreign travel by American citizens was in effect today with the end of the 30 day period during which Under-Secretary Polk acted as secretary of state, ad interim. No passports were issued today and while no official announcement was made, it was indicated that none would be issued until the senate had acted on the nomination of Dula-bridge Colby as secretary of state.

Administration officials held that the department technically was without a head and that as passports must be signed by the secretary or acting secretary, none could be issued.

From 600 to 800 passports have been issued daily the past few weeks, officials said, about 60 per cent for Europe and 20 per cent for Cuba.

Administration officials did not agree with members of the senate foreign relations committee that under the Overman act President Wilson should have authority to designate some government official as acting head of the state department.

The senate committee had expected to continue its hearings on Mr. Colby's nomination but inability of witnesses to come caused postponement.

Dates Are Fixed For The Chronicle Automobile Show in Twin Falls

Yesterday the dates were set for the Twin Falls Chronicle Automobile Show. The big event will be held the week May 10-15. Opening Monday the 10th, the show will entertain the throngs of visitors afternoons and evenings up until midnight, Saturday the 15th.

Twin Falls will have the greatest auto show ever staged in Idaho. Twice the floor space ever before utilized for an exhibition in the state will be used. The giant garage nearing completion for Magel Brothers will be turned over to the Chronicle for the week named, and two solid floors, each 125x125 feet, will be devoted wholly to the show.

The great presses in the Chronicle job printing department are running full tilt, to supply advertising matter which will cover all south Idaho, western Wyoming and northwestern Utah. Advertisements are being prepared for a publicity campaign in newspapers in all the territory from which an automobile show in Twin Falls can draw.

Within a short time men in autos will leave Twin Falls to visit all towns of importance, posting bills, placing advertising matter and arranging for the crowds which will come to Twin Falls. The surrounding territory will first be visited and posted following which an enlarged area will be covered. East and west, the Chronicle's Auto Show will be given a campaign of publicity which will insure throngs of people, and advertise the community as it has not been advertised for years.

Thursday is allotment day for space in the show. On that day at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, in the new building to be used for the show, a drawing will determine the choice of locations for those who have applied for space prior to that time. After that date, allotment of space will be by the show management, in the order of application.

Those who have not yet made their applications should do so at once. Blanks may be had at The Chronicle office, or from Mr. Frank Kleffner, advertising manager of The Chronicle.

If you have not already made your reservation, YOU SHOULD ACT TODAY. There is already more demand from outside Twin Falls than there is space in the two great floors. Local people, however, are to be given first opportunity. Take advantage of this fact. ACT QUICKLY.

COUNTER REVOLUTION IS LOSING GRIP; EBERT TO REGAIN HIS PRESIDENCY

NEWBERRY CASE WILL GO TO JURY SHORTLY

By the Associated Press.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 15.—A ruling on the status of Truman H. Newberry, in the election trial was interpreted into arguments to the jury today by Judge T. W. Sessions. An interpretation of the election statutes by George E. Nichols of defense counsel drew a whispered objection from Frank C. Dalley, assistant attorney general, and the court interrupted Mr. Nichols.
"I shall charge the jury," he said, "that if Senator Newberry participated actively in the things which caused the expenditure of money, then he caused it to be expended."
Both government and defense arguments were heard today, although the schedule called for only the forenoon. W. H. Eberhart for three hours urged the jury to convict, he was followed by Mr. Nichols, who spent his talk into an hour today and an equal interview tomorrow. Martin W. Littleton is to make up the closing speech for the defense Wednesday. With five hours left for government objections, including a majority of the Mr. Littleton Wednesday, and have all of Thursday to wind up the case. James W. Holme, democratic defendant is to address the jury tomorrow.

WOOD HAS BIG LEAD IN MINNESOTA PRIMARY

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, March 15.—When returns from last night's statewide republican presidential preference primary were halted early today by a blizzard which paralyzed wire communications, Major General Leonard Wood was maintaining a commanding lead over Senator Hiram Johnson of California. The vote from about 450 precincts, including a majority of the St. Paul and Minneapolis precincts was: Wood, 12,627; Johnson, 8,517; Hoover, 4,486 and Lowden, 3,510.
Returns from the rural districts came in slowly. Minnesota, today and tonight was swept by rain, snow, sleet, a blizzard and a gale. Advance returns indicated that the total vote would be extremely light. Several small precincts reported that not a vote was cast.
The Wood committee issued a statement declaring that Wood carried 22 out of 32 precincts in Ramsey county (St. Paul).
Johnson ran strongly in several Minneapolis wards and scantily received a strong labor vote. Johnson's supporters asserted the California senator would carry Minneapolis and Hennepin county.
Hoover's vote attracted some attention early in the evening. In a number of precincts, particularly in the Twin Cities, where stickers were used to put his name on the ballot, he received a substantial vote but in many cities in the state his vote was small.

PALMER OPENS CAMPAIGN

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., March 15.—Attorney General Palmer opened his campaign for support of the Michigan delegates at the San Francisco convention with a brief speech today. He defended his course in dealing with radicalism and approved the move in the New York legislature against the socialist assemblyman.

Paris Reports Old Regime Refuses to Negotiate With Kapp.

REACTIONARY FORCES FEAR GENERAL STRIKE

Threat to Use Force Against Workmen and Socialists Fails to Materialize, Stop Papers.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, March 16.—A dispatch to the Petit Parisien from Zurich, Switzerland, says the Ebert government in Germany, together with the president and vice president of the national assembly and the Wartburg ministers met at Stuttgart Monday and decided to reject any attempt at negotiations by the followers of Wolfgang Kapp. Premier Bauer is quoted as having said that the only condition the Ebert government would offer Kapp was that he resign.

The Ebert government further declares, says the dispatch, it has authorized publicly to negotiate with the Berlin government, being convinced it soon will be able to restore order.

The Berlin dispatch saying negotiations had been opened is falsified.

BERLIN, March 15.—The counter-revolution in Germany appears tonight to have reached the end of the road. There is a strong probability shortly one government will be in control and that President Ebert will come back to Berlin with his ministers. A basis of agreement between the government set up by Dr. Wolfgang Kapp as chancellor and that of President Ebert is enunciated in a declaration issued by the present Berlin government today. Announcement is made that negotiations toward a settlement have been opened between the two governments at the instance of President Ebert and his associates. There is, however, no direct confirmation of this from Ebert, who is understood to be at Stuttgart.

Will Stand for Ebert.
Chancellor Kapp is agreeable to continuation of the "present imperial presidency"—who is Friedrich Ebert; he renounces formation of a new ministry and places direction of affairs in the hands of the under-secretaries of state.
The agreement as set forth by Chancellor Kapp provides for a cabinet, which shall include professional ministers, or expert; elections within two months for members of the reichstag and the Prussian national assembly and subsequently an election for "imperial president" by the people until which time Ebert shall continue to officiate.
One significant clause in the pronouncement says "the new government will stand for Ebert."

GLAY BIRDS TO FLY OVER RIVER CANYON

Rod and Gun Club Leases New Site on Tim Rock North of the City.

Birds of a new kind will soon be flying over the Snake river canyon. But most of them will not fly far and none of them will reach the other side, because—well, they will be birds of clay and the trap shooters of the Twin Falls Rod and Gun club will be there to check their flight.

The club house and traps of the club are to be moved onto a ten-acre piece on the rim rock 2 1/2 miles straight north from the end of Main avenue during the fore part of the week. The new site will overlook the Snake river canyon and is said to be an ideal place for trap shooting.

Much interest has been manifested in trap shooting of late and it is expected that the present club will be reorganized at the next meeting and a canvass for members made which will bring the club membership up to 20 or 40. Some attention will be given to the grounds about the club house with a view to making the beauty of the place harmonize with the beauty and picturesqueness of the canyon and surroundings.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—The new cabinet of Finland, the personnel of which was announced at the Finnish legation today, is described as composed wholly of representatives of the Bourgeois parties, and with no representation of radical elements. The conservative complexion of the new cabinet is regarded here as representing a strong concentration of power and as significant of the determination of Finland to withstand radicals, and Bolshevism. It was also taken as an assertion by the government that it stands for firm measures.

Woman's Part In Man's Success

Often the strongest impulse to save comes from the woman of the household.

Every man should consider himself fortunate who has a wife or mother who helps him to save money.

The important part about saving is not the amount of money you set aside each week. The essential thing is the firm decision to save a definite, regular sum, no matter how small it may be.

Even $1, saved regularly each week, will make your savings grow amazingly.

And this bank helps by adding four per cent, compounded semi-annually.

HOW BIG A NAVY?

It is plain that the future American naval policy like the future American army policy, depends on the disposal of the treaty. Secretary Daniels has recognized this fact in submitting three tentative plans for naval construction, based respectively on the probable requirements of the United States according as this country is voted into the League of Nations immediately, or definite action on the league is postponed until the next session of congress, or the senate now rejects the treaty.

The smallest requirement, of course, would go with immediate membership in the league. The United States could then take up at once, with assurance of success, the old problem of mutual limitation of armament among the big powers. Germany, which formerly blocked all such efforts, is helpless now, and the allies would cheerily co-operate with us to that end.

These might be, on our part, what Secretary Daniels calls a "rounding out" of our navy, involving perhaps the building of enough first-class battleships to bring our own fighting efficiency up to that of Great Britain, while the latter presumably stopped building to let us catch up. Equal navies on the part of the two great English-speaking nations should not be objected to by Great Britain, and would probably be desirable for this country, as disarming suspicion and fear of England, and promoting American self-respect. Naval equality would make these two natural leaders of modern civilization real partners in assuring the world's peace.

If we do join the League of Nations, naturally we should have to arm, by sea and land, to provide for ourselves the protection which, if we were in the league, would be shared by other powers. In that case we shall presumably want a greater navy than Great Britain's, a navy that will be "incomparably the greatest in the world." It will take the greatest navy to protect the richest nation against such an envious and resentful world as the United States will have to deal with if we refuse international responsibilities and decide to play a lone hand.

FEDERAL SHIPPING PROFITS.

The public learns with pleased surprise that in one realm of transportation, government operation has really made money. Chairman Payne of the shipping board reports that up to June 30, 1919, the end of the last fiscal year, the government fleet showed a net profit of $166,000,000.

At the same time, Chairman Payne renews his suggestion that "the government should get out of the shipping business as soon as possible, and stay out."

How are these two statements to be reconciled? Easily enough. During the war the government could make money with its ships because it had practically no competition and could fix rates to suit itself. With the coming of peace this monopoly no longer exists. The sea is now filled with vessels of many flags. The other sea-powers are eager to regain their former place in the ocean-carrying trade. Even the shipping board's 1,400 bottoms, of 8,000,000 tons, are not sufficient to enable it to dominate the industry. However, the competition, foreign and domestic, is all private; and as Chairman Payne and Herbert Hoover both explained, ocean shipping is a branch of transportation in which private enterprise has immense advantages because it is so much more flexible and able to take quick advantage of an opportunity, whereas a great government-controlled fleet is necessarily slow, clumsy and bureaucratic.

There is a special aptness, therefore, in coupling the two facts given above. Though the federal fleet has made some money in the past, it stands to lose a great deal of money in the future.

The government went into the shipping business as a war-time emergency. That undertaking has justified itself. But the emergency is over, and continued federal operation is full of menace and embarrassment. The logical thing is to sell the ships gradually, getting the best possible price for them, and making sure that all of them remain under the American flag. If the matter is handled wisely, there need be no great loss in the process.

PUNISHING A PROFITEER.

The fair price commissioner of New York state apparently believes in repentance and reparation as curbs for profiteering. In a town in that state recently a woman grocery store keeper was convicted of overcharging for sugar at the rate of two cents a pound. She admitted her guilt. The commissioner ordered her to do two things.

First, she must return as far as possible all excess profits taken. Second, she was made to place in her store window a sign, reading as follows:

"I have been overcharging my customers for sugar. I have told the state price commissioners that I would use my best efforts to return the amount overcharged, and would sell sugar at a fair price in the future. Any customer who purchased sugar at this store at 21 cents per pound between February 21 and 28 will be refunded two cents per pound."

Such a self-condemning statement, good for the soul of the confessor, certainly should stimulate a wholesome contentment with normal profits in the souls of other dealers. It can't be much more fun for a dealer to place such a sign conspicuously in his window than it is for the naughty-school child to stand for an afternoon before the unsympathetic gaze of his fellows to atone for his crimes.

HIGH UP AND FAR BACK.

Americans have been urged to "buy the cheaper cuts" until they are tired of it, and they continue recklessly ignoring the thrifty advice. Now comes the American Institute of Meat Packers—an organization whose title surely commands respect—and says the same thing in a way to compel attention.

The trouble is, says the learned institute, that we are "eating too far back on the beef and too high up on the hog."

There is phraseology that strikes into the mind and sticks there. What consumer, after once hearing the magic words, can walk into a meat shop and face the butcher with his carving tools without being impelled to ask for something farther down on the hog or farther forward on the beef?

It is urgently to be hoped, at any rate, that these formulas will have their due effect. Granting that a section of hog or steer or lamb or calf may be more tender or easier to cook when it is high up or far back, it is nevertheless true that meat is meat and a given weight of it has just about the same food value no matter what part of the animal it comes from, and a cook, with a little care, can make the lower-quarter taste as good as the upper hind-quarter, incidentally cutting the family meat bill in half.

The violet may be shrinking, but it chooses the time of least flower competition to bluish not unseen.

On adoption of the original Article X reservation last November the vote was 46 to 33, with only four democrats, Senators Reed, Gore, Smith of Georgia and Walsh of Massachusetts voting in the affirmative. Today's vote completed the senate's reconsideration of the 14 reservations adopted in November, but several new proposals remain to be disposed of before a ratification vote. Most leaders thought tonight, however, that the end would come this week.

Senators agreed that virtually the only hope of ratification lay in the possibility of a serious break in the democratic support of the president. Instead of breaking, however, administration lines tightened today as Senator Hitchcock, democratic leader, passed the word that he had definitely concluded his belief that Mr. Wilson would not take the new reservation. Senator Hitchcock did not disclose details of his communications with the White House, but informed his colleagues he had been told the president found the Article X substitute as objectionable as the original reservation.

JOHNSON ALONE IN THE N. D. PRIMARY

Elector of League—Controlled State Have Little Choice of Presidential Candidates.

By the Associated Press.
BISMARCK, N. D., March 13.—North Dakota faces the unique situation of a presidential preference primary tomorrow with but one candidate entered. Senator William W. Johnson stands alone in the field. Intra-party delegations, contests, picketing about the Non-Partisan league, constitute the chief feature of the campaign on the voters' behalf.

Major General Leonard Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois refrained from filing nominations in this state after a second republican state convention had voted that delegates to the national convention should go unimpaired.

William Jennings Bryan withdrew his name as democratic candidate leaving the California senator a co-lonizer without opposition.

The primary is to elect for each party a national committee, five presidential electors and ten national convention delegates.

For national committees, the republicans have two candidates and the democrats two; for presidential electors, republicans, 14; democrats, 10; for national delegates, republicans, 22; democrats, 20. The primary ballot includes one complete set of delegates named by a group which endorsed Senator Johnson.

Political observers declare the ranks of both republicans and democrats within the state have been divided on the issue of the Non-Partisan league. Voters of each party have before them candidates declared to be informally supported by the farmers' organization as opposed to "all the nominees."

JOHNSON CONTINUES HIS ATTACKS UPON LEAGUE

By the Associated Press.
DURHAM March 15.—Senator Johnson attacked the League of nations in three campaign addresses today. The high cost of living he thought, might be remedied by proper measures at Washington and government expenditure were criticized as excessive. Most of the war legislation he declared should be repealed.

Senator Johnson said he had no prejudice against any of the nations allied against Germany but that he would not shed a drop of American blood in defense of these nations' territories.

"When representatives of these nations met at Paris," he said, "each was thinking in terms of national glory and happiness. I'm sorry there was no one at the peace table who thought in terms of America."

EXPECT $600,000,000.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Treasury officials estimated that the first installment of income and profits taxes, due today, one-fourth of the total, would amount to about $900,000,000. With the tax payment, treasury certificates aggregating about $775,000,000 matured, which must be retired with the money collected. When the tax books close tonight, those who failed to make payment become subject to penalty.

EXCITEMENT IS INCREASING.

VIENNA, March 14.—Dispatches from Klagenfurt, capital of Carinthia, say there is increasing excitement on the Plebiscite zone frontier because of the aggression of The Jung-Slavic Ernst Juilich, said to be an American, has been killed by a Jung-Slavic patrol near Ebnitz and Bietzdorf, 16, was shot near Hermansdorf.

Frederich Ebert and Family

Joint governments shall issue a joint declaration that under present conditions a general strike is a crime against the German people.

Ebert has the explanation of the proposed settlement, for the general strike has proved an effective weapon. Germany already has felt its spasm effect, for the strike in Berlin and many other principal cities cut off supplies, transportation, light and heat.

It was President Ebert and his ministers who called on the socialists, the workmen and all the people to declare a general strike, and there was an instant assumption of the reactionary government. Vast numbers of men left their work and serious disorders occurred.

Chancellor Kapp and his supporters announced they would deal harshly with strikes or passive resistance to the existing order in Berlin. One leader of the counter-revolution said: "We won't buckle down to the socialists and workmen, who think they can run the country."

Notwithstanding the government's threat, it has been evident that neither Dr. Kapp nor Major General von Luttwitz was willing to blood-shed would have been inevitable, plunging the country possibly into a state of anarchy and giving command of the opportunity they had awaited to bolshevik doctrines on Germany.

This state of affairs was recognized in all its serious aspects by the Ebert government. Therefore hope is entertained that agreement will be reached and that Berlin streets will soon be cleared of their armed troops.

Several People Wounded.

Although this counter-revolution has been orderly, it has not passed without the clashing of arms and bloodshed. In various cities fighting has occurred, participated in by mobs and troops, and today several persons were killed and others wounded in the suburbs of Berlin, when rifles and machine guns were turned on the crowds.

Food granaries also were exploded in some of the headquarters of General von Luttwitz, revolutionary minister of defense, but did no great damage.

Much interest should attach to the meeting of the national assembly which has been called for Tuesday at Stuttgart.

The underground railway service and rail traffic generally in Berlin was at a standstill today. The water supply had been restored, but gas and electric supplies were still cut off.

News Paper Opened.

No newspaper appeared except special sheets of the Lokal Anzeiger, which, in accordance with a government decree, contains only news pleasing to the government.

The paper is extremely skeptical of the reports thus published. One man remarked "they are throwing salt in us" as he read the promise of the government to obtain a food supply. Another remarked: "We are not so stupid as to believe that three-quarters of Germany supports the new government."

The Lokal Anzeiger and other military units are declaring for the new government and adds that resistance being offered only at a few places.

The German national party and the German people's party in Berlin have declared against the Ebert government and have demanded of the new government that all parties willing to cooperate in reconstruction of Germany shall be invited to collaborate.

A member of the committee of senior members of the Prussian national assembly, but refrains from declaring for or against the new administration.

MANY PERSONS KILLED.

BIEHLIN, March 15.—In fighting today at Dortmund, Westphalia, several persons were killed or wounded. The big smelting works there are idle.

It is stated that a soviet government has been proclaimed in Bochum and Essen. Frankfurt-on-Main is reported to be in the hands of the workers. Workmen have alarmed the railway station at Hanover.

The workers at Chemnitz, Saxony, have formed a provisional committee of action consisting of three socialists, three independents and three communists. The committee disbanded the volunteers' battalion and the home guard and removed the bourgeoisie from the security guard. Three thousand armed workmen occupied the railway station, assembly and town hall and have assumed power in surrounding towns. The publication of bourgeois newspapers has been forbidden.

The government of the principality of Reuss has been doped and the establishment of a soviet republic there is expected.

NO REPORT FROM ALLEN.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Jack reports tonight from Major General Henry T. Allen at Coblenz as to military aspects of the involved situation in Germany, government officials today threw little light on the political status there and none on possibly allied military measures. War department officials had hoped General Allen would report on the conference of allied commanders on the Rhine with Marshal Foch, but no message had come.

The state department had an official report of a general strike in Hamburg, with the military in control and no aybordered. Other advice were largely summaries of press accounts.

There was much speculative discussion again in war and state department circles as to the status of General Allen's troops on the Rhine, in view of the fact that the American forces there are under American command. Disagreement was expressed as to whether they would be under orders of Marshal Foch.

Some war department officials thought that technically the marshal's authority might still extend to General Allen's command. Other officials, however, held that the marshal had abdicated the French leader's authority at Coblenz so far as the Americans were concerned.

In any case, Secretary Baker's view appeared to render the question purely an academic one. He said General Allen had authority to preserve order in his area and that any other action contemplated involving his forces would have to await approval from Washington.

HEAR OF KAPP'S TERMS.

PARIS, March 15.—The reported agreement between the new and old German governments, ending the crisis resulting from the seizure of power from the Ebert government in Berlin by the faction headed by Dr. Kapp is declared to have been reached on the following terms:

Kapp abandons his intention of forming a cabinet.

A new cabinet is to be formed, composed of ex-ministers.

New elections to the reichstag are to be held within two months.

A new president will be elected, not by the reichstag, but by the people.

Pending the election Friedrich Ebert is to remain in power.

The economic council and the ex-propriation council are to be transformed into a second chamber, to be called the chamber of labor.

CROWN PRINCE RESERVED.

WIERINGEN, Holland, March 15.—Frederick William, the former German crown prince, who is very reserved in expressing his ideas about the new government, seems to be fairly unimpressed. He may never, however, be like his father, the Kaiser.

KAISER IS CALMER.

AMSTERDAM, March 15.—The former Kaiser was in good spirits today. He seemed much calmer and saved words about the new government.

The former emperor is well and the guard about the castle is very strict.

A high government official assured the Associated Press today: "The attitude and the world may safely rely upon Holland to guard the ex-Kaiser, though no more measures will be taken than are necessary to prevent his escape."

CALIFORNIA MEETS TO FORM THEIR OWN POLITICAL PARTY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Plans for changing the California western Federation into a political party for the state, composed of candidates for the coming year, and a national prohibition legislation will be discussed at a meeting of federation representatives here Wednesday. P. G. Roney, secretary of the organization, announced here today.

GIDDIES ATTACKS PAPERS WHO ARE ANTI-AMERICAN

LONDON, March 15.—Sir Auckland Geddes, new ambassador to the United States, attacked newspapers which stir up Anglo-American friction at a dinner given in his honor tonight.

"It is an essential condition of the way to save civilization," he added, "that the two great English-speaking communities should still forward in mutual respect and understanding to the uncharted seas of the future."

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 15.—Arthur Simms, negro, today confessed to the murder of Special Officer J. Deers of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Swan Creek, Md., Dec. 31 last, according to the sheriff. Deers attempted to settle an altercation among track workmen and when Simms advanced as if to attack him, Deers shot Simms through the leg. Simms then drew a revolver and shot Deers through the heart.

FORMER KAISER.

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR ALL PHASES

New Jersey Granted Permission to File On Organized Proceedings in Liquor Issue.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—All phases of the prohibition question will be heard by the supreme court before deciding on the validity of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead enforcement act.

Having heard arguments in the Rhode Island, Kentucky and Massachusetts cases, the court today granted New Jersey permission to institute original proceedings to test the amendment. It also fixed March 22 to hear arguments in the New Jersey proceedings, on appeals by Christian Felgenbaum, a Newark, N. J. brewer, and on government appeals in injunction proceedings against the Manitowoc Products company, Wis.

The two appeals apply principally to the validity of the prohibition amendment as it relates to the manufacture of beer alleged to be non-intoxicating. The government won the former but lost the latter case in the lower courts.

The court also took under advisement motions asking that arguments be heard on appeals involving interpretations of the amendment and the Volstead act docketed today from New York and San Francisco. The

SIMS TELLS MORE OF HIS TROUBLES

Denies That His Position Was "Merely a Local One"—Attacks Daniels.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—An unimpaired story of wartime anxiety in London and Washington last German battle cruisers attempt a forlorn hope raid against American transports was disclosed today to the senate naval investigating committee by Rear Admiral Sims. Messages exchanged by Admiral Benson, chief of operations, and Admiral Sims on July 1918, were presented by the latter to correct "implications" which, he said, Secretary Daniels had made to the committee that "general plans and policies were none of my business."

Included in plans formed by the navy department to meet such raids and reported by Admiral Sims as "impractical" was a proposal to call on Japan for a battle cruiser division to serve with the American Atlantic fleet.

In his first statement to the committee, Admiral Sims said the complaints he had to make were confined largely to the first six or eight months of the war. When some months of discussion of events that occurred in the summer of 1918, he said he did so because Mr. Daniels in a statement, had implied Admiral Sims' post in London was "merely a local one."

"The statement was inaccurate," Admiral Sims said.

In the spring of 1918, he said, when the submarine menace had been overcome, naval officials in London became apprehensive that the Germans might, as a last resource, send out battle cruisers in the hope of destroying an American convoy. That this apprehension was felt also at the navy department, he said, was demonstrated by the cablegram from Admiral Benson.

"As last hope German battle cruisers may be sent out to completely destroy one of our large troop convoys. We depend upon you to gain and give information on this point and Grand Fleet to take necessary action until United States could act."

In reply, Admiral Sims said, he recalled that everything possible would be done to intercept raiding German cruisers but that there could not be any guarantee that they would not reach the open Atlantic. He advised regarding United States troop convoys with battleships.

Despite this, he said, the navy department on July 25, outlined a plan of its own to meet such raids, predicted, he added, on the "false premise" that advance warnings would be given. The plan contemplated placing one division of American battleships at Queenstown, Ireland, to cover the eastern Atlantic, another to be held at home ready to cover the western Atlantic and a division of Japanese battle cruisers to be stationed at the Atlantic fleet to pursue and sink raiders.

"The plan was impracticable, for a number of reasons," Admiral Sims declared. "It was eventually abandoned and for it was substituted a plan substantially the same as here solemnly recommended by me."

Admiral Sims said the department sent many cables insisting that its plan be given a trial and that it was not abandoned until months after it was first suggested. A raid in the meantime, he asserted, would have found the United States without a practical working plan to meet it.

Only the fact that "God was with us," saved early troop ship convoys from German torpedoes, Admiral Sims declared.

Speaking as a publisher Mr. Mitre, said, "I consider this to be one of the great missions of journalism."

"After all," he asserted, the greatest service a newspaper or news agency can render to the country in which it is located, in particular, and the world in general, is to spread information items that will assist prospective investors, merchants, bankers or any other persons interested in obtaining a definite and true knowledge of conditions in a country where their future may lie."

Mr. Mitre said the ideals and duties of the newspapers in the upper hemisphere were the same. "The method of newspaper making are different," he added, "and even these differences are becoming smaller and smaller."

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES INCREASE IN RATES

Water Prices Pushed Up Last Month Are Made Legal—Other Business Transacted.

The ordinance which authorizes the increase in water rates which has already gone into effect was passed by city council in regular session last night. Under the new ordinance prices of water rents and installations have increased about 25 per cent.

In connection with the laying of a water pipe for which home builders outside city limits are paying, the question came up as to whether or not any new builder would be allowed to connect with the pipe without paying a proportionate share of the original cost.

An ordinance was passed permitting the O. S. to run a spur track across certain streets. A representation of local grocers was present at the council's eighteenth session in regard to the ordinance which requires a license for selling of meats which have to be inspected.

A Mr. Perrine entered a complaint against the manner in which the city pound is conducted. A horse of his had been picked up by officers and taken to the pound, but when Mr. Perrine called for the animal the halter which the animal had been wearing was gone and he asserted that his inquiries concerning the possible whereabouts of the halter brought forth insolent remarks from the person in charge.

A petition from the city grocers was presented requesting an increase in salary of $25 per month. The grounds for the request were stated as being the increased cost of living and the higher wages paid firemen in other cities.

The proposed amendments to the milk ordinance which have been under discussion for some weeks past, came up for renewed discussion last night. The problem of guaranteeing pure milk for the city has many angles, it was said. A ruling which would require all cows to be tuberculin tested would have jurisdiction only five miles from the city limits and would not prevent milk from untreated cows from more distant sources from coming into the city.

The discussion disclosed that pasteurization by creameries does not solve the problem in such instances as destroy other animals in the milk. The discussion closed with the belief that the standard set for milk should be met by all retailers regardless of circumstances. Drafters of the ordinance who were present were asked to take the discussion of the council into consideration.

Workmen of the water department were granted a raise in wages beginning the first of February. The workers of the street department were given their raise dating from February 17, the date on which the rate was authorized. To equalize the difference the council ordered that the street men be allowed their raise the first of the month.

ATTACKS DEFENSE IN DEPORTATION CASE

Prosecutor Declares Law of Necessity Can Not Prevail in Bishop Affair.

By the Associated Press. TOMLINSTONE Ark., March 15.—Because the P.M.G. striking copper miners and sympathizers were already at the mercy of the men who later shipped them out of the state the law of necessity cannot be invoked to justify the Bishop deportations of July 12, 1917, for his alleged participation in which Harry E. Wootton, Bishop hardware dealer, is on trial here, according to a statement made to the superior court by A. A. Worsley, special prosecutor. Mr. Worsley's speech was made in a claim made by the attorneys for the deportees for the deportations were justified on the ground of self-defense, since the men deported, according to Wootton's lawyers, were about to help overthrow the government and destroy the community of Bishop.

Mr. Worsley said in part: "As the case now stands, by the avowals of counsel for the defense, the defendant confessed that he committed the offense charged, and he seeks to avoid punishment on the grounds of necessity and under the law of self-defense. In their avowal, the defense attorneys admit that the courts of the land, both state and federal, were functioning and were not interrupted for any reason. They admit that the court must take judicial knowledge of the fact that the government of the United States is amply able to cope with and to confine those who offend against its laws and to further admit that the courts must take judicial knowledge of the fact that in the federal district court of Arizona there was a U. S. marshal and deputies; there was a governor and that the governor and the sheriff of the county might summon and arrest and hold any lawbreaker and preserve law and order. They further admit that the deportees had arrested more than eleven hundred men who they claimed were organized into a conspiracy to overthrow the government, blow up Bishop and create havoc and disaster. They admit that they had all of the deportees arrested and imprisoned in a park at Forest and surrounded by something like eighteen hundred men with guns and clubs; that they did not attempt to take them before any tribunal there to be dealt with according to the law, but they did file charges against them, although they accused them of the gravest offense known to our law, the offense of disloyalty and treason. When these men were helpless, surrounded by a superior armed force, the deportees then committed the act we complain of, and made them helplessly and shipped them away into another state and left them on the desert, not knowing what might be their fate. When asked why they did not take these men before a legal tribunal and have them punished according to law, their plea is it was more convenient to take them at the desert."

"And, strange as it may seem, they did this because of their loyalty to the patriot and because of their patriotic duty in time of war. We contend this is a most extravagant piece of loyalty on the part of the deportees, for having arrested more than eleven hundred traitors, as they would have us believe, who were bent on the destruction of the government, they did not hold them and turn them over to the federal authorities for punishment, but shipped them about 200 miles away into another state and then made them helplessly arrested and sentenced by the cruel treatment, to carry out their intention in some other part of the community, where their intention might be more disastrous than at Bishop.

"It seems to us the duty of the officers, if their action was in good faith, would be to confine them and implicate them on the grounds of necessity and to let the law see to it that they would not be turned loose to commit the deportations which they were accused of in Bishop. When officers do such things as this, we think they are not acting in good faith, and if their statement be true, they are in the eyes of the law more criminal and deeper in crime than the men they kidnapped and deported.

"It is charged here that they did it under the law of necessity, and self-defense. The law of self-defense knows no such rule. It is too well settled to question any relation or sympathy between the deportees and you at any time; the law of self-defense says that you may go no further. If he is gassed and bound at your mercy, and then you go on and kill him, you are guilty of murder in the first degree. Out of the mouths of their counsel, by their confession of the law, they are convicted and held into a park, harmless and helpless, they then committed the act the state now complains of, loaded them into cars and shipped them off into another state.

TEXAS OFFICIALS REFUSE TO TALK ON RED RIVER

By the Associated Press. AUSTIN, Tex., March 15.—Officials here would not comment on Governor W. P. Hobby's statement today that a "force deemed sufficient" to hold disputed red river oil lands had been ordered to the territory involved in the boundary controversy between Texas and Oklahoma and that Texas would surrender the land only on decree of the United States supreme court. He declared the federal district court at Tulsa, Okla., which recently granted a restraining order against Texas claimants, acted without justification in "Texas ranchers have been guarding the property several weeks. Gov. Hobby declared Texas has had unquestioned possession of the land, which he said, was valued at $10,000,000, eighty-four years. The land, he said, would be surrendered by Texas only on decree of the supreme court."

MILLERAND PLEADS CAUSE OF FRANCE

Declares His Country and United States Must Maintain Friendly Relations.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, March 15.—Premier Millerand today said the German crisis loomed large enough to discuss relations between France and the United States and conditions of international credit. He said to a representative of the Associated Press: "France and the United States must continue the close friendship which always has been maintained. No feeling misunderstandings must be allowed to trouble their relations. The former misapprehensions are dissipated the better."

"It appears to me an opportune time to recall to our friend, the United States, that France is not asking for clarity. The desire for peace and justice has never abandoned France in the common interest of all civilized countries—a fact which might form the basis of a claim for special consideration, but such is not our intention. We don't request cancellation of our debts. We only ask time to breathe and to recover our strength after four years of a hard year of an exhausting war. Our propositions are those which any debtor would feel right in making in the interest of both himself and his creditor."

The premier referred to the rumors circulating in exchange, which he held would be aggravated rather than palliated through measures proposed to France by those not taking sufficient account of interior conditions. "If France is obliged to meet her obligations abroad at the present rate of exchange she would be forced to pay two and a half times what she owes," he continued. "Thus, after spending for the common good thirty billion francs borrowed from her friends, she would have to pay forty-five billion francs as France's premium to these same friends. 'We have given our blood, we have given our money. To ask us now to give more than double our debt is the most ungrateful thing that has struck the most impartial judges.'"

After mentioning the suggestion made by the United States that France could raise the value of the franc by increasing exportations, the premier said that the question appeared to be imperfectly understood by the American people. "I ask nothing better than, increased exports. We must first, however, manufacture and we can't make the things for foreign trade until we have factories in which to manufacture them. Do our American friends lose sight of the extent of the devastation of the richest part of our territory; do they forget that we are still partly paralyzed and that it will require years to regenerate our wasted man power and restore the former flourishing manufacturing centers?"

"The war cost us 600,000 industrial workers, 500,000 of our buildings were destroyed, regions were ruined which are now a waste. For every cent of our war debt, 90 per cent of linen thread, 90 per cent of our minerals, 53 per cent of our pig iron, 70 per cent of our sugar and 53 per cent of our coal. 'The war wasted our railroads to an unimaginerable extent. Thirty per cent of our merchant fleet was sunk and 20 per cent of our merchant navy was destroyed. Two-thirds involving a deficit of 2,000,000,000 francs. These catastrophic changes were a blow to the very base of the economic and financial situation of France.'"
