

MAN'S DEATH STILL HIDDEN IN MYSTERY

Suicide Theory Collapsing,
While Belief of Murder Grows.

NOVICES BELIEVED TO BE THE PERPETRATORS

Sheriff's Office Lets the Case Drop—Prosecutor to Make a Thorough Investigation of Situation.

With the passing of another day, no new developments have been brought to the surface any clue as to the identity of those who caused the death of Fred Borgstrom and nothing leading to a solution of the mystery has been uncovered.

The sheriff's office, acting on the presumption that the death was from suicide, is paying no heed to the case. On the other hand, the county attorney will give the whole situation a thorough investigation. The opinion of the coroner's jury is not binding nor does the action of that body preclude activity looking to a solution of the mystery.

Suicide Theory Collapses.
As time passes it becomes more and more apparent that the suicide theory is fallacious. That a man would deliberately attempt self-destruction by attacking his foot in a fire is preposterous enough. But worse than that, Borgstrom suffered his burns without his overalls and coat. These were put on AFTER he received the burns from which death came. For the clothing was not burned. His feet were burned so that it would have been impossible for him to stand upon them. How, then, to reason that he stood upon these feet and drew on his clothes, and walked or crawled away from the fire is beyond the ken of those who have studied the case or read the story.

Not Work of Professionals.
That the murder was not the work of professional athletes, and is also apparent, from the fact that the victim was clothed after being burned. Professionals would not have turned after the man was dead. Hence the work second work seems that of novices, who when they found the man dead, thought to clothe him and let him lay in the hope that the body might not be found until decay had removed the traces of the fire. Then, if the clothing were upon the skeleton there would be no trace of the murder.

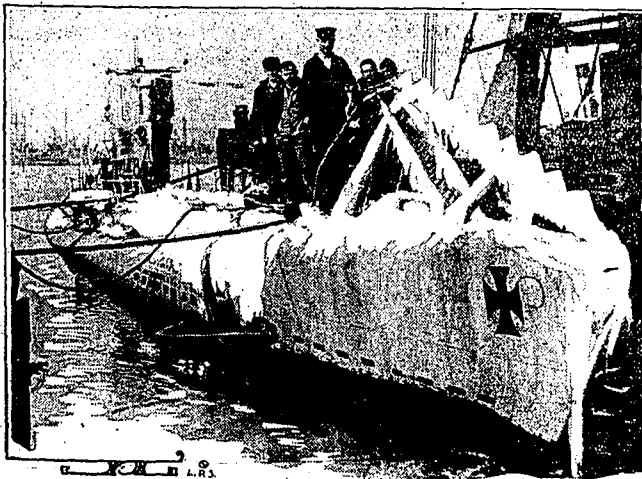

Another theory advanced by those who are giving attention to the case is that the man was thrown into the fire in an attempt to destroy the body after death, and that later plans were changed when it was found there was not sufficient fuel. Then the body was clothed by the murderers, in hopes of decay before being found.

Work of Novices.
This theory also comprehends work by novices, for the professionals would not have attempted to burn a human body with so small a brush fire. All theories, therefore, point to the work having been done by novices. This, too, coincides with the view that the old man was murdered for money, either after torture or in the belief that he carried money in the cash he had with him, and that he was on his way to a spot to hide it. And here, again, we encounter the story of hidden wealth. Local novices would more likely know of these stories of the old farmer's hidden wealth than would the professionals. The manner of world professionals in the manner of making the money in the wire with which the victim was bound also strengthens the novice theory, so that there seems no reason for groping vainly for clues for outside parties.

So far as is learned, there has been no official attempt to trace the case for identification. Nor has the contents of the oil can been traced, or other efforts made which precaution would seem to demand. It seems enough that a coroner's jury with fragmentary evidence and

VALUATION HEARING BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Majority of Witnesses Favor Investment Accounts of Systems for Basis.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Hearings before the interstate commerce commission to determine methods of railway valuation prior to adjusting rates to give the standard return under the transportation act were concluded today with the representatives of the carriers, security holders and the majority of the shippers, favoring the investment accounts of the roads as a "minimum basis" of value against determined opposition by the state railroad commissioners.

Final arguments, of the three-day session were made by S. T. Hedson, of Chicago, and E. H. Wood, of New York, for the Association of Railway Executives. Denying the contention of the state commissioners that the accounts are not evidence of value under the law, Mr. Hedson declared the "book accounts" more nearly approximate the value than any other evidence. The carriers were gratified, Wood said, that the shippers told the commission that they were more interested in the provision of service and extension of transportation facilities than in exact rates. With the granting of sufficient rates, he said, the roads could afford the adequate service desired.

Grouping of the railroads for the purpose of valuation and rate fixing played a large part in the hearings. Representatives of the shippers of the southwest asked for a division of the western freight classification group to form a southwestern group on the grounds that the needs of that section require rate adjustments apart from the whole of the west. Northwestern shippers also asked for subdivision, but representatives from the eastern and southern groups and the body of the west favored the retention of the established classifications for the present at least.

VILLA WIPES OUT AN ENTIRE MEXICAN VILLAGE

By the Associated Press.
EL PASO, TEXAS, March 24.—An entire Mexican farm settlement near Santa Barbara, Chihuahua, was wiped out Sunday, March 24, when Francisco Villa and his followers massacred more than 50 men, women and children and burned their homes and crops, according to a report brought to the border today.
Angered because a small party of his men had been fired upon near the settlement on the previous day, Villa with 150 men swooped down on the place. The farmers stoutly defended their homes and it was not until 25 of them had been killed and their ammunition exhausted that the survivors, 25 in number, surrendered, according to this report.
These survivors, there is reason to believe, would have escaped with their lives had not one young man, crazed with grief over the loss of his wife and family, attacked Villa and attempted to wrest the rebel leader's gun from his hand. Villa, being larger and heavier than his adversary, subdued the man after a struggle and shot him dead. In his fury Villa then ordered the men of the community put to death and the houses, grain and other possessions of the community burned. It is said.

REDS AND REGULARS WAR FOR CONTROL OF WESEL

By the Associated Press.
COLOGNE, March 24.—It is reported here that Wesel has been captured by the red army.
The Ruhr district is quiet today. The government troops have retired to the northeast, back of the Lippe river.
The government troops are being reinforced and their supplies, including ammunition, replenished. There are other indications of a heavier engagement shortly with the Reds.
The German official reports, however, show that the rumor of the capture of Wesel by the reds is unfounded. Negotiations opened today south of Wesel between the government troops and the attacking reds. The latter demanded the surrender of the town, but the troops opposed this as they expected reinforcements. There was some talk of the Lippe, south of Wesel in the afternoon.
The same source indicated that the government is starting to clean up the soviet district of Thuringia, after the capture of Halle yesterday. The concentration camp at Oranienburg, Saxony-Coburg-Gotha, has been cleared of the reds after heavy fighting. There have been raids in the direction of Gotha from Erfurt, and the troops expect to take Gotha tomorrow.

Other proposed resolutions favor human suffrage and prohibition and disapprove government ownership of railroads and steamships.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED FOR COX

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 24.—An active campaign in the interest of Governor James M. Cox of Ohio for the democratic nomination for president was launched here today.

No announcement was made whether or not there will be a campaign in other states for delegates pledged to Governor Cox. But active organization was started for the purpose of procuring the right for an active campaign by the state democratic leaders asserted. Governor Cox is assured the solid Ohio delegation of 45 votes at the San Francisco convention. All candidates for delegates to be chosen at the primary April 27, are pledged to the governor.

A letter addressed to the democrats of the nation makes its principal point of argument that with Cox as the democratic nominee, the electoral vote of Ohio is secured, based upon the fact that he has won the largest vote in the state in every election since 1900. The letter also points out the governor's record in Ohio, which, it is declared, made his political success possible.

LAD HELD FOR RANSOM OF $25,000, IS REPORT

By the Associated Press.
LEXINGTON, Ky., March 24.—While relatives of 12-year-old Paul Little, son of E. T. Little, Lexington capitalist, were searching for him tonight, following his disappearance late today, a note was received at the Little home saying the boy was being held for a ransom, supposed to be $25,000.

The boy disappeared with an unidentified white man shortly after 5 p. m. "The boy's mother had told old Paul under the man had promised him a dollar if he would deliver a box of candy. The man and the boy were seen on the street here shortly before they disappeared.

The note demanding the ransom was delivered by a messenger boy who said it "had been placed in his hands by a man on Main street."
The father of the kidnapped boy refused tonight to divulge the contents of the note, but is said to have told the police: "I don't care about the $25,000. If I can get my son back safely, I will give him anything I want."

PEACE RESOLUTION PLANS QUIESCENT

Constitutional Obstacles Inferred With Efforts of Members in Both Houses.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—With plans for a peace declaration at a standstill in the senate, republicans leaders of the house conferred today on means of hastening action on the declaration, resulting at their end of the throat.
There was no final decision on the form of the resolution or the time of its presentation, but it was said an agreement probably would be reached within a few days. Several suggested drafts are under consideration, all of them following in some respects the Knox resolution which has been approved by the senate foreign relations committee.
Various constitutional points have been raised, all of which the leaders want to meet in the draft, which they finally will lay before the house.

NEW FIGURE ENTERS INTO NAVY BATTLE

Head of Bureau of Operations
Supports Testimony
Given by Sims.

CONTRADICTS HIS OWN LETTER TO ADMIRAL

Told Overseas Commander
That He was Making Unjust Criticism during Hostilities.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—After Captain Horace Lanning, former assistant chief of navigation, had told the senate committee investigating the Sims-Hall incident today that the navy had been away from a comprehensive plan for war and that those virtually existed, Senator Trammell, democrat of Florida, confronted the captain with a letter he had written to Admiral Sims on August 18, 1918, saying he was "not convinced" that the bureau of operations "had erred in its general plans" and saying also that had some of Sims' recommendations been adopted they would have been "disastrous."

Trammell produced the letter. Senator Trammell contended that Lanning's letter was a complete contradiction of some of the Sims' charges and also some of the charges in Lanning's statement of today, but the captain, who testified, referred to a period in the war later than that involved in the charges by Admiral Sims.
Not only was the navy department without the comprehensive plan for naval participation in war when the United States entered relations with Germany, but Secretary Daniels disapproved the general plan drawn up by the bureau of operations and submitted in March, 1917, Captain Lanning told the committee.

As the result of this alleged lack of preparation, the witness said, the United States entered the war in a state of chaos the day the United States entered the war.
"Personal characteristics" of Secretary Daniels often made it impossible to obtain approval of important plans and policies, Captain Lanning asserted, as his personal interest taken by him in minor details "prevented so much time that he never had much left to give us for really important problems."
Insufficient Reserve.
Captain Lanning testified that at the time war was declared, there was not a sufficient reserve of 14-inch shells to refill the magazines of the dreadnoughts and that the bureau of operations had failed to advise the bureau of operations to bring the matter to the secretary's attention. Impressively enough to get authority to let contracts.

In a memorandum Admiral Benson gave Secretary Daniels the admonition that "without shells for the guns but shells are worthless," and that "they not only cannot defend themselves but cannot fight to save the country." After several weeks' delay, Captain Lanning said, the shells were ordered. Other charges made by the witness were that the department in the years immediately preceding the war did not advance legislation and policies that would prepare the navy for hostilities, that when it was apparent war could not be avoided, the department still refused to prepare; that lack of co-ordination in the department during the early months of the war reduced the effectiveness of American participation and added to the cost and that when war was declared the department told the country that the navy was ready, when in reality it was known that it would take at least 100 days to prepare even the latest ship for active service.

The Lanning letter opened with the statement that the writer was "not convinced" that the bureau of operations had "erred in its general plans" and declared that a suggestion made by Admiral Sims earlier that the best ships be placed out of commission.

FIGHT I.W.W. WITH BONUS TO SOLDIERS

Western Witnesses Testify That Reds Propaganda Must be Combated. Acted. By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Representatives of the American legion presenting today to the house ways and means committee a revised optional plan for soldier relief, charged that agitators were trying to recruit into the I. W. W. former service men who were discontented because of the failure of congress to provide aid.

J. B. Holden, adjutant of the Utah legion, testified that organized propaganda to discredit government aid and undermine the American legion was being disseminated by the I. W. W. throughout the country. While some soldiers had been misled into joining that organization, the rank and file, he said, stood firm against such influences.

Urging immediate relief, J. G. Shugrump, of Nevada, a member of the executive committee of the legion, declared there was "nothing unrecruited among former service men and women who felt they had not received a square deal."

"They are chafing with unrest and believing congress should take some action for their relief," he said.

Holden told the committee that while partially disabled and in hospital, attractive young women gave him I. W. W. literature, which said the government had protected munition workers, war contractors and others from great losses, but had done nothing for former soldiers. These pamphlets urged ex-servicemen to join the I. W. W.

"In the Utah legion, except the I. W. W. organizer, the former service men six to one, and are making vigorous efforts to wipe out legion organizations," Holden said.

Any beneficial legislation for former service men should include help of those who died or were killed, declared Mrs. Herman H. Berry, of Philadelphia, representing the War Mothers of America.

"Our first duty should be to the relatives of those who did not return and to the wounded," she added.

Representative Gallivan, democrat, also testified, supporting the proposed relief plan, declared soldiers had returned from France to find an orgy of reckless spending, and as a result felt they had received a "raw deal."

"No adequate compensation has been made to them," he said, "and the only example of the government's gratitude was the $50 tip they received when discharged."

WEEKLESS WEEK.

We have driven the "drive" almost to death. The very thought of special days or special weeks set aside for some campaign or other is becoming abhorrent to the citizen who would like to compose his soul in quiet after a protracted era of slogans and campaigns.

A story is told of one public school building which is probably typical. This school has been passing through the same orgy of posters, slogans and propaganda as the rest of the community. There had been Hallowe'en, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas to celebrate. Then came Red Cross, Old Boys', Army Homecoming, Election, Salvation Army, Food Conservation, Book, Missionary, Teeth, Clean-Up, Parents', Safety First, Tree Planting, Boy Scout, Community Pageant, Health and Music Weeks, Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays had been duly honored. Thrift Week and Near East Week had made their special appeals. Then came a lull.

The janitor grinned cheerfully as he cleaned the last remnant of poster from the walls. The teachers sighed with relief as they took down the last bit of literature and drawings made by the children for these special occasions. As pupils or teachers entered the building they were surprised into looking about them and scanning the walls closely. The total absence of any sort of propaganda decorations was more striking than the new set of posters and literature would have been. The janitor could not refrain from a word of explanation, but even his explaining showed the effect of long habit. "This," he said, "is weekless week."

It is just possible that weekless week accomplished more good in that school than any new drive, however important, could have done. A few quite normal, dignified and quiet weeks at this time would undoubtedly do everybody a lot of good.

AN ARAB RENAISSANCE.

Now the Arabs are insisting on self-determination. Students of history have noted with deep interest the Pan-Arabic council recently called at Beirut to reassert the dignity and power of this ancient race.

The Arabs are not satisfied with one notable concession granted them so far, independent sovereignty in Hedjaz. They point that their race constitutes a majority of the population also in Mesopotamia, which is now held by the British, in Syria, which is promised to the French, and in Palestine, which the Allies have planned to make a Jewish state under British protection. Prince Feisal, a son of King Hussein of Hedjaz, and the man who as leader of auxiliary Arab troops rendered invaluable aid to General Allenby in his conquest of the Holy Land, would like to rule over Palestine and Syria as an independent kingdom. The Mesopotamian Arabs have lately asserted their independence and chosen as king another Hedjaz prince.

If these concessions were granted, there would be a virtual creation of a new Arab empire. There is nothing very alarming in the prospect. The Arabs are a keen, strong race, with enough historic achievement to their credit to deserve well from the modern world. It was they who kept alive science and art in the dark centuries following the downfall of Greece and Rome, and then passed the torch of learning to re-awakening Europe. They are incomparably nobler, and finer breed than the Turks.

There would be obvious advantages, if it could be managed, in helping them to regain the status of world-power, for which they might contribute to modern civilization, and particularly for the repressive influence they would exert on Turkey. As the legitimate custodians of Mohammedanism, they would relegate the upstart Turks to second place, and keep them there, and Islam would be no longer a menace. The Arabs are tolerant, and promise not to oppress or interfere with minority populations.

A HALL OF FAME FOR TREES.

A Hall of Fame for trees is being compiled by the Forestry Association. In it are to be enrolled all the great trees from east to west, from north to south, around which and in whose shade American history has been centered.

The famous elms of New England are probably the most widely known trees to be named in the list, but there are others probably associated with the history of almost every portion of the country, and the hope is to have all of them included.

The Great Tree on Boston Common was a familiar name to all travelers and students of history. But how many people know of the great elm at Le Claire, Ia., beneath which many a famous boy has played, one of the best known being Buffalo Bill. This tree is widely known along the Mississippi and in the middle west as the Green Tree Inn, so favorite a gathering place was its shade. Then there is the De Soto Oak, in Tampa, Fla., from which DeSoto set forth on the journey which resulted in the discovery of the Mississippi river, and so, through all the breadth of the land.

The people of this country, sprung so lately from pioneers, should delight in the Blue Book Trees. It should prove not only valuable and interesting from an historical point of view, but should stimulate the hearts of its readers, a greater love and reverence for trees themselves.

A STAMP TAX.

Many people are advocating a general "stamp tax" to replace the present federal war-tax system. It might be substituted for the universally condemned excess profits tax. In that case, it is argued, the consumer would have to pay any given amount of money wanted by the government only once, directly, instead of paying it indirectly several times over as he does at present. It might also be substituted for the income tax. There is something to be said, too, for this plan. Everybody would pay the tax not on what he earns, as at present, but on what he spends. That would be an obvious incentive to thrift, and would put it in the power of every citizen very largely to determine the amount of his own taxes. The extravagant family would be taxed highest; the frugal family lowest.

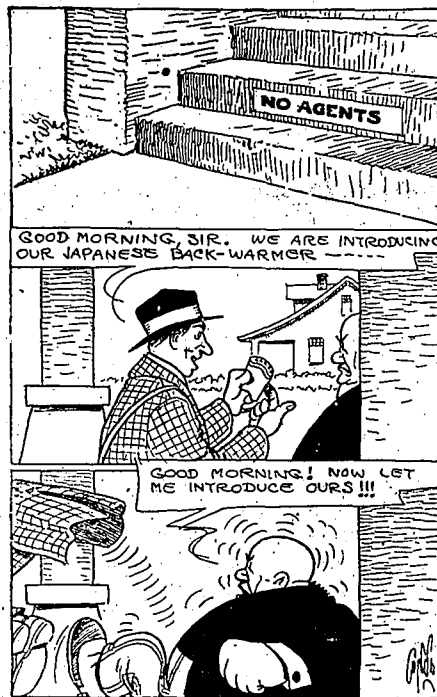

There are other features, though, not so agreeable. "Stamp taxes" have never been popular in this country. It was primarily a stamp tax on the American colonists that started the revolution. We have even now a stamp tax on certain articles of supposed luxury, and dealers and consumers alike are weary of them. It may be freely admitted that such a tax would be fairer than the present system; but it is doubtful whether the public would stand for it.

"We must reconstruct congress by diverting congressmen's attention from elections to legislation," says Lynn Haines. Why not suggest something easy, like separating a hungry bulldog from a bone?

They say Boston is planning to "alter some of its old Revolutionary spots to speed up traffic." It will be a very revolutionary thing if Boston speeds up its traffic.

My, my, those lyn' hearted Prussians.

and their crews sent overseas would, if adopted, have proved "absolutely" the letter continued:

"Give them you give us the hell because we don't do all that you want us to do. You feel we are falling out. Does it help the morale over there or ever here to do that? Criticism is easy and just criticism is beneficial, but there is nothing more harmful to the morale than unjust criticism and criticism made without full knowledge and thought is apt to be unjust."

After reading the letter, Senator Trammell asked Captain Lansing if he did not think the letter showed a lack of Admiral Sims' character and some of the criticism made by Captain Lansing himself in his direct statement. The officer replied that he did not believe so, that the letter referred to a period much later in the war than that covered by the Sims' findings, the first six months, and his own testimony.

WOOD'S LEAD IN S. D. IS INCREASED

Lowden Second—Polinderster Vote Negligible—Norbeck Is Nominated.

By the Associated Press.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 24.—Returns from 1,155 of 1,750 state precincts, on republican presidential endorsement give: Wood, 27,666; Lowden, 23,385; Johnson, 21,735.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 24.—Additional returns tonight from county precincts on yesterday's primary election increased the total precincts heard from to 1,123 to 1,155 and candidates for presidential endorsement by South Dakota republicans received the following totals:

Wood 27,094; Lowden, 22,598 and Johnson 21,271.

About 300 of the 670 precincts are in isolated sections of the state. The latest state manual shows the republican public vote for governor at the 1916 election in five missing counties—Harding, Bennett, Melette, Dewey, and Ziebach—was 2016.

Completed returns included the complete vote in 12 counties. Twenty counties were within three precincts each of being complete. These 32 counties with two exceptions are the important population centers of the state.

Many precincts did not report any vote cast for Senator Miles Polinderster, who was an independent candidate for presidential endorsement. Tabulation of the scattering returns gave Polinderster about $50 votes. He polled less than 50 votes in Sioux Falls and Minnehaha counties.

Governor Peter Norbeck and W. H. McMaster were nominated by the republicans for United States senator and governor, respectively. Norbeck and McMaster were defeated by the proposal convention held December 2 and were opposed by Judge Dick Haney, of Huron, and R. O. Richards, of Huron. McMaster had a larger plurality over Richards than Norbeck held over Haney on the face of incomplete returns. With very few exceptions, however, the counties gave substantial majorities to the convention candidates.

Richards is the author of the present primary election law. He participated in a number of debates with McMaster prior to the primary and he went on record as favoring "liberal enforcement of the federal prohibition law." The recommendation was to permit light wine and beer to be sold as merchandise to persons of "moral responsibility."

CANNED TOMATOES ARE GOOD FOR THE BABIES

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Canned tomatoes given in one-ounce quantities are ideal food for month-old babies, according to Dr. Arnold Hess of this city, who discussed the subject today at the second session of the 114th annual convention of the Medical Society of the State of New York.

He declared pasteurized milk, the infant's usual diet, is not nourishing enough, and to prevent scurvy they should be fed with something else, either orange juice or canned tomatoes.

Dr. George Draper of the Rockefeller institute stated that persons of dark complexion or with moles or freckles were most susceptible to influenza.

STEELE CORPORATION EARNINGS LESS IN 1919 THAN IN 1918.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Earnings of the United States Steel corporation for 1919 aggregated $152,292,635, a decrease of $59,390,465 from 1918, according to the detailed report issued today. This sum is reached after allowance is made for estimated amount of federal income and excess profits. Balance of earnings after interest payment on outstanding bonds and mortgages of subsidiaries amounted to $143,899,063, a decrease of $56,761,717 with a net income of $98,043,134 a decrease of $26,169,781 as compared with $125,935,256 in the previous year.

CLAIM SCHOOL UNDER A "STUDENT SOVIET"

"Profs" Object to Ducking at Hands of the Undergraduates.

By the Associated Press.
HAYS, Kan., March 24.—The Fort Hays normal school is in the grip of a "student soviet," whose principal occupation is hunting down professors and throwing them into the lake on the college campus, according to Professor P. Casper Harvey, who today telegraphed the state authorities at Topeka asking protection. Richard J. Henkle, attorney general directed the county attorney to prosecute persons responsible for the disorders.

The trouble started when President W. A. Lewis, left a few days ago on business. Departing, he suggested a half-holiday, on which men students should build a running track, while the students prepared a meal for the faculty. At one of the "soviet" meetings, it is reported, a woman suggested to fun that girls who did not aid should be ducked in the lake.

Monday morning an announcement was posted "that all persons, including the faculty, would be ducked if they failed to report for duty at 1 p. m. Tuesday, March 23." John Lindquist, editor of the college newspaper, was the first person ducked. Professor James Start, on his way to classes this morning was captured by the students and thrown into the lake. Unable to swim, he was saved from drowning by three students.

Professor Harvey also fell into the hands of the students, but he jumped into the water before they had an opportunity to throw him in.

In a telegram to the state board of administration, Harvey said all faculty members and students who failed to obey the "soviet" were being ducked.

MAN'S DEATH STILL HIDDEN IN MYSTERY

opinion has concluded that suicide was possible.

Frank Stephan, prosecuting attorney, stated yesterday, a "German representative that he will commence an immediate investigation on his return from Berlin during the latter part of this week. Mr. Stephan will leave for Berlin tonight to plead a case.

Will make investigation.

"I will make a thorough investigation of the affair," said Mr. Stephan, immediately upon my return. Unfortunately a previous engagement of great importance prevented me from being present at the inquest where I may have been able to develop other facts than those brought out by a thorough examination of witnesses."

J. W. Green, son-in-law of Mr. Eggers, called at the coroner's office again yesterday morning and evidenced dissatisfaction with the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest. Mr. Green when asked if he did not believe that his father-in-law committed suicide, said, "No, and I never will believe it." He said also that he had been to see the sheriff in regard to further action on the part of officials, but was told that so far as that office was concerned the matter had been dropped.

David Graybill, one of the party who made the trip to the scene of the affair in Rock Creek, stated yesterday that he is certain the man was murdered. He bases his belief on the position of the body and from the condition of the feet, which would preclude the possibility of the man standing on them to put on his clothes.

Tell of Time At Asylum.

J. K. Matthews, who was one of the night guards at the state asylum at Blackfoot during Eggers' incarceration at the institution, stated that the man had been registered as both suicidal and homicidal when sent to the institution but that within two weeks after being placed in the institution he was released from the strong room where insanity patients of his caliber were placed. He expressed his opinion that the man would not have killed himself in the manner described.

Former Sheriff Kendall, who had charge of Eggers' house when the latter was in the local county jail awaiting transportation to Blackfoot, said that the man was harmless and that the night before he was taken to the institution he was permitted to take a walk with his son who had just returned from the Mexican border. At that time he was said to be suffering from an idea that some one was trying to murder him.

Funeral services for Mr. Eggers will be held at the chapel at the J. G. Grossmann undertaking parlor this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Rev. Charles of the Lutheran church will officiate at the services of which Coroner Grossmann will be in charge.

NEARLY BILLION IN TAXES COLLECTED

Approximately $2,500,000 in Revenue Expected by Federal Government.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Income and excess profits taxes aggregating $208,828,172 were paid as the first installment of the nation's 1928 bill for 1929.

While these figures do not represent an exact one-fourth of the taxes for last year, they indicate collection for the entire year of approximately $3,500,000,000, treasury officials said tonight. The first installment more than offsets outstanding treasury certificates of indebtedness, issued in anticipation of the payment, and leaves the treasury in a position to continue its financial program, outlined several months ago.

Collections for the first period of 1928 were approximately $1,200,000,000, the reduction this year being due to the lowering of the normal income tax rate. The second quarter in New York, comprising the heart of the financial section, held its place in yielding the greatest amount of revenue of all collection districts, as it has for many years. Its total was $154,505,983.

Collections included:
Alabama, $1,280,725; Arkansas, $2,372,337; California, $27,266,976; Colorado, $1,121,725; Hawaii, $3,046,606; Idaho, $1,142,670; Illinois, $82,274,672; Iowa, $8,804,355; Kansas, $9,097,748; Minnesota, $13,532,047; Missouri, $26,395,016; Montana, $1,650,688; Nebraska, $6,150,462; New Mexico, $294,705; New York, $271,544,232; North and South Dakota, $23,484,875; Oklahoma, $6,951,586; Oregon, $7,450,685; Texas, $22,087,776; Utah, $1,632,850; Washington, $12,533,356; and Wyoming, $1,169,132.

David cup committee, at its meeting here last Monday night, decided to recommend to the United States Lawn Tennis association that this country send no tennis team to the Olympic games. It was announced tonight.

This recommendation will be made at the association's meeting here Friday night, when the committee also will recommend of suggested dates of July 8 to 16 and July 15 to 17 for the Davis cup matches.

The committee decided it was impracticable for the United States to send a team to Belgium because the schedule of tennis events overlapped those of championships in the United States. As the Belgian authorities are unable to shift the dates, it will be impossible for this country to be adequately represented.

"COME ON MAGEE" CHALLENGES HEYDLER, HEAD OF NATIONALS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 24.—John A. Heydler, president of the National league, tonight challenged Lee Magee, former Cincinnati and Chicago National league ball player, to exploit his "biggest home" in baseball history.

Magee, announced in Cincinnati yesterday he would give out the charges on which the National league bases its action in barring him from the circuit. He added he would "show up some people for 1-bats turned over since 1906, and there will be merry music in the baseball world."

In a letter to Robert S. Alcorn, of Cincinnati, Magee's attorney, Mr. Heydler said no further attention would be paid the subject unless Magee "produces evidence implicating others with him, or showing them to be guilty of wrongdoing in which he took no part." On presentation of such evidence, he asserted, action of the National league would be "prompt and effective."

President Heydler also issued a statement declaring that "more than 20 per cent of the baseball players in this league are honest and are a credit to their profession."

COMIC OPERA WAR IN FIUME SECTOR

Regulars and Rebels Have "Family Quarrels" on Bridge Over Narrow Canal Near Suseak.

FIUME—Verbal combats resembling those which take place over backyard fences in family feuds occasionally occur between the Italian regular troops and d'Annunzio's arditi on the bridge over a narrow canal which separates Suseak from Fiume. The regulars occupy Suseak while d'Annunzio's men hold Fiume. The bridge is about fifty feet long with a sidewalk on each side and a space of about 20 feet wide for vehicular traffic in the middle. On one side stands a detail of d'Annunzio's guards, while on the other stand the sentinels of the regulars "loyal to the king."

The bridge is barricaded on each side with several strands of barbed wire placed in such a way that vehicles can pass across only by making a serpentine detour.

An attack from the regulars' side was rumored throughout the post, namely the other day. The post, himself, with a detail of arditi and several armored motor cars hastened to the scene.

D'Annunzio's arditi stand while his arditi went forth to battle. They went on the bridge and called the regular soldiers all sorts of names. The regulars, in turn, returned the volleys of colored verbiage. A few generals appeared on the regulars' side. These were made the subject of increased and heavy verbal fire from the arditi. The latter pressed nearer the generals, rubbed their shoulders against them and otherwise insulted them.

In the thick of the fight, one of the regulars discovered a choked bit of ammunition and shouted, "Long live the king."

All his comrades joined in the cheering. The arditi had nothing to reply to that and retreated while d'Annunzio's returned to his palace. The day's "battle" was over.

ALWORTH RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP

Meets Secretary of Agriculture—Latter Knows Irrigation Problem.

"E. T. Merrell is the first secretary of agriculture United States has ever had with practical knowledge of irrigation farming and irrigation problems," said W. P. Alworth on his return yesterday from the east, where he visited with Mr. Merrell in Washington.

"For the first time, we from here, learned of the importance of irrigation to the member of the cabinet and know that he understands our language. More than that, Mr. Merrell has peculiar interest in Idaho, and Twin Falls county in particular."

Mr. Alworth was a month in the east. He stated Chicago, during the meeting of the national organization of Farm Bureau, and following the adjournment of that body, the executive board went to Washington for conference with the secretary of agriculture, with which close cooperation is maintained. Mr. Alworth made this trip with the party, and was a party to the plan-making for the co-operative work for the coming twelve-month. Mr. Alworth had met Mr. Merrell in light, and the visit took on peculiarly pleasant personal relations.

From Washington, Mr. Alworth went to Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Toledo, and Baltimore, Ohio, his old home, and Oklahoma, in all of which centers his various relatives. He was just a visitor.

On the return, why I did not find such weather. I found on my return to Twin Falls, the east is not even in Oklahoma. The weather is scarce about of (12) days.

SHOOTING IS BECAUSE OF TREATMENT TO NIECES

By The Associated Press.
LYONS, Kan., March 24. At a coroner's inquest over the body of Mrs. George Uenau, shot to death at the breakfast table in her home here today, W. B. East, her brother, contradicted his original statement that the shooting was accidental and confessed that he shot her "to rid her of her influence."

East stated that he bought the revolver with which the shooting was done, several days ago for the purpose of taking his sister's life. His four nieces were being abused by their mother, he said, and were not being properly reared.

East was arrested at the home of a neighbor, where he was found concealed up in bed with his clothing and shoes on and the revolver in his pocket. He made no resistance. The neighbor said he had come there and asked permission to go down.

Accomplices of East said his regard for his nieces was pronounced. East is being held without bail. He is being charged with first degree murder, the county attorney said tonight.

ANOTHER QUIZ BE GIVEN CANDIDATES

Railroad Unions Publication Wants to Know About Campaign Funds.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 24. Another questionnaire for presidential aspirants, this time relating to campaign expenditures, was made public today by Labor, a weekly paper published by the 14 recognized railroad labor organizations.

Reports that some candidates were spending large sums were given as the reason for submission of the questionnaire, which was in the form of a letter to a dozen democratic and republican members of the nomination. Pointing out that the president is entrusted by the constitution with the appointment of the federal judiciary and that he is "becoming" more and more influential in shaping legislation, the letter declared that the gravity of charges concerning improper expenditures could not be exaggerated.

"Apparently there is no adequate provision in the law, the letter continued, 'to safeguard the selection of delegates to national party conventions; the letter declared that the federal statutes are concerned, expend as much money as they see fit to affect the result."

"In view of these self-evident facts, Labor respectfully asks you to answer the following questions: 'First: How much have you expended to date, and how much do you expect to expend before the national convention of your party meets? Will you be good enough to furnish the names of contributors to your campaign fund or to any fund which is to be used in your behalf and the amounts of contributions? Will you before your national convention make a further sworn statement of expenditures, together with lists of contributors, and furnish same to the press?'

"Second: Are you willing to join in an appeal to Congress to immediately enact legislation which will exempt all candidates for the presidency from the national government, showing all moneys expended by the candidates or by any one acting in their behalf together with the names of all contributors to the candidate's campaign fund, or to any fund which may be raised in their behalf?'

"We want to assure you that this letter is not to be construed as an indictment of the methods of any candidate."

CLERKS DEMAND DISCHARGE OF FELLOW WORKERS

By The Associated Press.
BLOOMING, Va., March 24. Two hundred clerks employed in local offices of the Norfolk and Western Railway voted tonight to withdraw from members as a protest against alleged insult offered a woman clerk in the office of the superintendent of terminals last week.

A. B. Lane, chairman of the Brotherhood of Clerks, said tonight that unless two men were discharged by noon tomorrow the 5,000 clerks employed on the system would be called out.

W. J. Jenkins, general manager of the Norfolk and Western said the charges preferred by the clerks had been thoroughly investigated by officials of the company and there was nothing to justify removal of the two men.

GOMPERS TAKES HAND IN BALTIMORE UNION'S FIGHT

BALTIMORE, Md., March 24.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has taken a hand in labor trouble in Baltimore. He has put his foot down upon the threatened secession against John H. Ferguson, president of the Baltimore Federation of Labor and has sent a representative to Baltimore to attempt an adjustment of the trouble at the drydock.

A regular social dance was given by the Elks at their hall last night. A large crowd was present and enjoyed the informal program of the evening.

L. D. S. TRI-STAKE MEET HERE TODAY

Oakley, Hart River and Twin Falls to Compete for Honors in Three Events.

Chorus, drama and basket ball contests will make up the program of the tri-state meet between Oakley, Hart River and Twin Falls L. D. S. churches to be held here this afternoon and evening.

Beginning at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the choruses of 16 voices representing the three stakes will compete for honors. The singers have been well trained and some good music is promised.

After the musical contests each of the three churches will put on a one act drama. Considerable talent has been displayed in readings and competition in this field will probably be close.

Junior and senior basket ball teams of each stake will compete for honors in cotton hall in the evening.

It is reported that a large number of out of town people are planning to attend the meet for which elaborate preparations have been made.

A dance to which all who attend are invited will follow the basket ball games.

Right-Posture Boys' Clothes

SOME BOYS' CLOTHING HAS STYLE—BUT "RIGHT-POSTURE" IS STYLE!

Father likes to talk of his boy as "my little man." Mother loves to think of her boy as one who towers above his fellows by his masterful bearing.

Boys of to-day are men in miniature, not just "kids" in short pants. Boys of to-day know Style as well as Father does.

Right-Posture Boys' Clothes

promote the parents' pride in their boy, and the boy's pride in himself, because "Right-Posture" is Style. Long-lasting fabrics and stitched-to-stay needlework—style with sturdiness.

Every "Right-Posture" Suit has the "Right-Posture" Label sewn under the collar.
