FREEDOM IS GIVEN TO 64- NO CONDITIONS

Trade Unionists Call off General Strike When Demands Are Met.

THREATENED WALKOUT IN ENGLAND FEARED

Expression by British Workers' Leader Believed to Have Made Government Change Attitude.

By The Associated Press. DUBLIN, April 14.—Sixty-four hunger striking prisoners have been released, apparently unconditionally, and as a result the strike is considered off.

The prisoners who refused to accept the stipulation on the ground that it was a violation of the "cat and mouse" policy.

The release of the prisoners, announced at 5 p. m., is regarded as a complete triumph for the hunger strike and its ally, the general strike.

It is not definitely known what the terms are, and for some days there may be conflicting reports regarding them. The trade unionists however, had no doubt which side had won, and immediately called off the strike, to the great relief of the citizens.

The release of the prisoners resulted in order that, Lincoln under the defense of the realm act, prisoners should receive ameliorative treatment from the date of their arrest until their trial for a specific offense.

The absence of military from the streets today was conspicuous. There were no tanks or armored cars posted in the fall, and the harbor wire barricades had been removed.

The released prisoners in the Mater Viatorum hospital, say that the prison staffs and ordinary officers at Mountjoy prison were kind in their treatment to them; their worst hardship was uncomfortable beds.

There is much speculation regarding the political bias, as shown by an appeal from Chief Rabbi Herzog to the vicar for clemency for "the unfortunate men at grips with death in Mountjoy."

TWO MEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION NEAR BUHL

BUHL, April 13.—Carole Ulrich, a member of old Company K, and White Flynn, farmer, were killed today on the Ross Elison farm on the Idaho Farm Development project, when an acetylene tank exploded.

Flynn rented the Elison farm this spring. Ulrich was employed by him during the day. An acetylene plant stopped operation and the two men went into the cellar, where it was located, to repair it.

CHARGE OFFICIALS WITH VIOLATING LIQUOR LAW

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 14.—Sheriff Oscar Mattson and Deputy Sheriff Hugh Richard of Hennepin county, and eight Minneapolis business men, for whom federal warrants had been issued in the liquor conspiracy smuggling case, were indicted by a federal grand jury here today.

WOMAN JURY FINDS WOMAN GUILTY

Held That P. H. Shriver and Miss Edie Hildner Are Guilty of Statutory Crime.

"If the gentlemen—beg your pardon—if the ladies of the jury—" Prosecuting Attorney Frank Stephenson said to the twelve women yesterday had their hands full—they had to try to the best of their ability, to overcome their long legal training and habits and talk to a woman jury.

The woman heard the case and returned a verdict of guilty but not until after a thorough discussion, for it was more than an hour after the case had been given to them that they returned their award.

When Mrs. Weston took the stand she testified that Shriver had engaged a room at her establishment two weeks ago and the register showed on the name of W. C. Ware, "Wade, W. C." She said that it was unknown to her whether Shriver brought his wife with him or not, but remembered giving him a certain room. At his request the room was later changed for one near the front of the house, she claimed.

While Shriver was stopping at the house Mrs. Weston averred that a niece informed her Shriver and his wife had quarreled but had made up again. Officers Ham and Austin were then called in. Their testimony was practically the same. Before they left the stand it was learned that when Miss Hildner was arrested she told the officers she was at the Corcoran house for a week with Shriver.

The woman jury consisted of Mesdames Burton E. Morse, E. E. Daley, Alice Able, W. F. Pike, H. W. Clouchock, W. C. Ware, Emma Wade, Fisher, L. P. Morse, John Pinks, Hattie Kough and T. A. Irwin.

FOSTER PLOTS REBEL CARRIER STRIKE CLAIM

Leader of Steel Workers' Walkout Said to Be Instigator of Rail Strike.

PALMER MAKES PUBLIC EVIDENCE OF ACTIVITY

Conditions Improving, Assertion of Railroad Executives and Heads of Brotherhoods.

By The Associated Press. William Z. Foster, radical leader of the unsuccessful steel strike last fall, is the driving genius behind the nation-wide strike of rebellious railroad workers, the department of justice announced in Washington last night.

In support of this assertion, Attorney General Palmer made public evidence of plans prepared by Foster and his adherents to disrupt the four big railroad brotherhoods and to organize all rail workers into "One Big Union."

Reports from all sections of the country indicated that the peak of the strike had been reached and that the return movement of the strikers had begun. This was especially true in the middle west, the opening scene of the strike movement.

In the east the strikers and railway management were engaged in a series of negotiations, but the railroad brotherhood chiefs continued to fight for the upper hand. Although strikers succeeded in adding a few recruits to their ranks, the railways, assisted by hundreds of volunteers, made substantial progress toward restoration of normal passenger service.

From the month which has been but little affected by the strike, came reports of better passenger service and a resumption of normal conditions. Coincident with their prediction that the "strike fever" was dying out, railway brotherhood chiefs took a firm stand against allowing their representatives to participate in any conferences with governmental or railway officials at which representatives of the newly formed yardmen's association were present.

"There can be no compromise with insurgents," declared W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, "and only one settlement can be hoped for and that in accordance with law and order methods through authorized committees for established organizations."

White many incidents were beginning to feel the effects of food and coal shortages, railroad officials have been able to date to prevent famine conditions.

Railroad delivery of mail, while greatly delayed in some districts, is moving with increased regularity. Freight embargoes have caused a few additional industries to close down, but there has been no appreciable change in this respect over the past few days.

CHICAGO, April 14.—The first important break in the ranks of insurgent railroad employees in the Chicago terminal district came today when railroad officers announced that groups of strikers on the Pennsylvania, the Soo line, and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific had decided to return to work.

Edward Corrigan, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, said engineers on a number of roads had voted to go back to work and would report to duty tomorrow or Friday.

CANAL COMPANY SIGNS AGREEMENT ON A. F. DAM

An agreement was entered into yesterday between the reclamation department of the federal government and the Twin Falls Canal company, providing for the retention of 100,000 acre-feet of water in the proposed American Falls dam for the use of Twin Falls Canal company users.

This is the first actual step that has been taken toward the construction of the big dam.

Canal companies throughout Idaho are now expected to take similar action. The Idaho Irrigation company, with headquarters at Gooding, the North Side Twin Falls company, and many others are said to be ready to sign the contract with the government.

When sufficient contracts have been signed it is expected that the government will announce its plans for the opening of the Minidoka extension project.

SIoux CITY DECLARES FOR OPEN SHOP PLAN

By The Associated Press. SIOUX CITY, Iowa, April 14.—Eleven business organizations, which are said to include in their membership practically every employer in the city have approved the open shop plan and will conduct a campaign against the closed shop, according to an announcement made today by officials of the employees' association.

The organizations which have endorsed the open shop are the Employees' association, Chamber of Commerce, Livestock Exchange, Sioux City Traffic bureau, Sioux City Builders' Exchange, Master Builders, Manufacturers' association, Motor Trades bureau, Sioux City Board of Trade, Sioux City Association of Credit Men and the Retail Merchants' association.

The open shop plan as defined by the Employees' association, follows: "That no person shall be refused employment or in any way discriminated against on account of membership or non-membership in any labor organization; and that there shall be no discrimination against, or interference with any employee, who is not a member of any labor organization by members of such organization."

HUN MUST LIVE UP TO ALL PEACE TERMS

By The Associated Press. BUELLIN, April 14.—The reparations commission has rejected the German request for a modification of Annex 3, Part 5, of the peace treaty, and has summoned the German shipping delegation to begin the transfer of ships to the allies in accordance with the treaty.

The Vossische Zeitung says the German government has addressed a new note to the supreme council, urging the destructive effect of the transfer on Germany's economic life and the necessity of fulfilling this clause of the peace treaty.

The annex of the peace treaty referred to above provides that Germany shall recognize the right of the allied and associated powers to the replacement, ton for ton and class for class, of all merchant ships and fishing boats lost or damaged owing to the war.

TWENTY-FOUR INDICTED ON PROFITTEERING CHARGE

By The Associated Press. CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 14.—Twenty-four, firms and individuals in North and South Carolina were indicted by a federal grand jury here today charged with having entered into a conspiracy to increase the price of bread, the alleged agreement having been made in a meeting held here last Jan. 8.

CIVIL WAR IS NOW CERTAIN BELOW BORDER

Calles Fortifies Passes to Prevent Invasion of Federal Forces.

REVOLUTIONISTS START RECRUITING CAMPAIGN

Loss of Revenue to Regular Government to Be Heavy, Seceding State Having Big Custom Houses

By The Associated Press. AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, April 14.—Troops of the new republic of Sonora have had their first battle with Carranza soldiers on the Sonora-Sinaloa boundary, according to a report received here late today apparently verifying an earlier report from Nogales. Military authorities said the battle was between the Carranza government and the seceding state.

Holder is Protected. Sonora army officers, acting on orders from Gen. H. Elias Calles, commander-in-chief, are fortifying the Sinaloa-Sonora frontier and also the mountain passes leading from Chihuahua. Carranza troops already are on route from Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, toward Agua Prieta, it was said.

Calles is said to have despatched a large force to Itzacapa pass, through which the Carranza soldiers must come in marching toward Agua Prieta. It was said it would be impossible for Carranza soldiers to break through Itzacapa pass. To reach Agua Prieta, the Carranza soldiers must march overland 200 miles through a mountainous land without water.

All railroads were ordered closed in the state today by General Calles. He ordered renewed efforts in recruiting soldiers. Four thousand recruits had joined the Sonora army in less than 48 hours. It was announced at military headquarters here.

Civil War Inevitable. All officials of the new republic here now believe a civil war must settle the doctrine of state's rights between Sonora and the central government of Mexico.

The question of state's rights caused Sonora to secede when state authorities declared President Carranza had no right to send troops into Sonora without the wishes of the state.

Sonora before seceding said sending of troops into the state would mean civil war. Immediately after the secession last Saturday steps were taken to repel any Carranza invasion.

Yaqul Indians, who have been at war for months against the Mexican government, have made peace with the Carranza authorities and 4,000 or 5,000 red warriors will be mobilized against Sonora. It was said here today. The military authorities here claimed an army of more than 25,000 would be enrolled within a week.

Losses Revenue Profound. When Sonora seceded Carranza lost one of his greatest revenue producers, the rich agricultural and mining district of the state and adjacent territory paying a large part of the Mexican federal revenue. Through Sonora ports of entry more customs house fees were collected than on all the boundary points between the United States and Mexico.

Sonora, Sinaloa and other western Mexican states, it was pointed out, have not suffered proportionately to other parts of Mexico, from the long years of revolution and banditry in that country, and for that reason Sonora is declared in better shape to wage war against the Carranza government than any other section.

The day before the state seceded it closed and started the operation of the Southern Pacific de Mexico, an American owned railroad, to break strike of the employees of the line which had completely disrupted service. The railroad, which runs north-

W. Orr Chapman Outlines New Ideals of Party of Jefferson

OPPOSES EXTREMES IN PROFOUNDING BELIEF

Borah's Attitude Has Placed Republicans in Bad Light Within State, Is Belief of Speaker

Most favorable comment was heard among all of those who attended the meeting of the Jefferson club Tuesday evening at which W. Orr Chapman delivered the principal address. Following is Mr. Chapman's address:

We are assembled to commemorate the birth of that great American patriot, scholar and statesman—Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the democratic party, who, as its first leader, formulated and enunciated the theories and principles of government which ever since have been and now constitute the tenets, principles and aims of the democratic party.

The story of Jefferson. Thomas Jefferson was born in Virginia on April 13th, 1743. His father was a man of means, of education and an ardent whig. By him Jefferson was schooled in the principles of democracy. Jefferson was given the best educational advantages afforded by the colony of Virginia and after completing his course at William and Mary's college he read law and was admitted to the bar, where he won ready recognition. Yielding to the fascination of politics, he abandoned his professional career and entered public life as a member of the Virginia house of burgesses. The difficulties between the colonies and the crown found in Jefferson their shining apostle of American Revolution. Because of his trenchant and facile pen, his keen intellect and logical mind he soon became the most effectively pronounced of American liberty. In recognition of these splendid qualifications he was chosen by the con-tional congress to draft the Declaration of Independence. His work alone entitles him to a place in the front rank among the immortals. It is during the very essence of this democracy. During the war of the revolution Jefferson served in the continental congress, in the Virginia legislature and as governor of Virginia. After the war he again served in the congress and as minister to France, secretary of state under Washington, vice president under John Adams, and twice, as president of the United States—devoting forty years of his life to the public service.

He was the first American statesman to advocate and labor for the abolition of slavery, although he was an extensive slave owner. He introduced a resolution in the Virginia legislature prior to the resolution having this in view. His efforts finally resulted in limiting the importation of slaves.

He was the leader in the fight to establish religious freedom and the separation of state and church. Through his efforts the laws providing for the election run to succeed to the satisfaction of his father were repealed.

Father of School System. He is the father of the American public school system, being the first to suggest the country to recognize and point out the duty of the state to educate its citizens at public expense.

An president he amplified his theories and principles in this government. In his view the necessities and necessities were done away with to be replaced by simplicity and efficiency. The public debt, public expense and public taxation were reduced. The outstanding achievement of his administration was the negotiation and conclusion of the Louisiana Purchase and the sending of Lewis and Clark to the far west. Tonight we owe a debt of gratitude to the foresight and vision of Jefferson's statesmanship for the privilege of living here, under the stars and stripes, in this healthy, non-polluted and cultured city on the banks of the turbulent Snake.

Best Which Governs Least. Jefferson taught that that government is best which governs least. That "government is best which governs least." He had an abiding faith in the honesty and sound judgment of the people. A faith vindicated by the history and progress of the American nation. Aristocracy was particularly obnoxious to him. He believed that instead of an aristocracy of wealth, of money, of power and of honor, to benefit, to society, to make an opening for aristocracy of virtue and talent, which has been so wisely provided for the direction of society, and scattered with an equal hand through all its conditions. He believed that the blessing, the protection, and the functions of the government were properly destined for all of the people and that it was not the purpose of the government to favor or protect any particular class or section in preference to any other.

Opposed Third Term. He firmly opposed a third term for presidents. At the conclusion of his second term the legislatures of the states petitioned him to be a candidate for a third term. He favored an amendment to the constitution disqualifying a president from holding more than two terms, but failing in this he thought the salutary example set by Washington would be a safe guide to the future, expressing the hope "that should a president ever be a candidate for a third election, I trust he will be decidedly rebuffed by the demonstration of ambitious views."

On the 14th of July, 1826, Jefferson passed to his eternal reward. The epitaph which he selected was "Here was buried Thomas Jefferson, the author of the Declaration of Independence for religious freedom, and father of the University of Virginia."

Opposed to Jefferson and his theories and principles of popular government was Alexander Hamilton—ambitious, unscrupulous and ever desirous of popular judgment, regarding having a permanent head and believing that the functions of government should be exercised for the advancement of privilege. Each of these men formulated a political creed. Each of them organized a political party. Jefferson and Hamilton have gone to their reward these many years. History has appraised the relative merit and value of their public services; thus the former continues to be the relative simplicity of their respective theories. But the political parties founded by them still live and their opposing the principles of political action are still contending.

Call to Democrats. It is indeed proper and fitting that democracy of this day and age should assemble on this occasion and refresh their memories and gain renewed inspiration for the life, the works and the teachings of Thomas Jefferson. In an era when the conflicting forces of reactionary politics on the one hand and of red radicalism on the other are threatening the institutions, menacing the prosperity and endangering the future of the nation, it is high time for the democrats to get back to the fundamental principles of democracy, to gather their inspirations from the teachings of Thomas Jefferson. A strict adherence to these principles and to this policy, without deviation, without yielding to the seductive voice of political expediency, without entering in class or section, by nominating democrats upon a democratic platform, pledges to carry out the answer of the democratic party by serving the best interests of the whole nation, will assure our success at the polls in the coming election, will render certain that we will again be entrusted with the affairs of state and with the duty of shaping the course of the ship of state free from the shoals of predatory privilege and clear from the rocks of red radicalism. Between these two dangers there is no chance. They are alike, un-American. They are alike, filled with the dissatisfaction and discontent begotten of great selfishness; they are un-democratic and have no place in the democratic party. The democratic party is as old as the nation. It contributed in a large measure to the establishing of straight to the line. Not to deviate from the fundamental principles of democracy taught by Thomas Jefferson. The democratic party is as old as the nation. To the establishing of American institutions and the shaping of American history it has largely contributed. To preserve and perpetuate these institutions, traditions and ideals is its purpose. The principle of "equal rights to all, special privileges to none" has the same force today as when enunciated by Jefferson. The democratic party cannot, with propriety or consistency, be made the vehicle of class or privilege. Let the democrats nominate democrats on a democratic ticket to make the fight on a democratic platform. Let the republicans continue to cringe and fawn for the favor and support of predatory interests. Let those whose sym-

There are not with this country or those who find the American government and its institutions repugnant to them, divided into alienated bodies, as in Germany, or between Ithram Johnson, LaFollette and Borah.

I realize that the organization cannot concern itself with contests for nominations between individual democrats. But I do not feel that I am intruding upon propriety when I inform you that Twin Falls has a candidate for nomination on the democratic state ticket. I have the privilege and honor of announcing to you that Hon. Taylor C. Dennis of the county has consented to be a candidate for the democratic nomination for congressman from the Second district. He is young, clean, deserving and able. If nominated he will make a campaign that will be a credit to the democratic party and if elected he will render such service as will be a credit to the state of Idaho.

JUNKERS' MEETING IS EXPLODED BY SOCIALISTS

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, April 13.—The Munich Daily a socialist organ, has created a sensation in Europe by publishing the report of a secret meeting of the Bavarian Junker party, which was attended by most of the military officers. The meeting was presided over by Herr von Scheuch, president of the patriotic league. The principal question discussed related to the division of Germany into two parts and the proposed overture to be made to France to join in an attack on Prussia.

Captain Berthold, says the Munich Post, objected to the proposals, saying that the Bavarian generals would suffer the fate of Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin, Russian anti-Bolshevik leaders. He added that another war with France was inevitable in the near future and that therefore Germany should remain united. Several other speakers pointedly supported this view.

AN HONEST DAY'S WORK.

"An honest day's work for an honest day's pay," is Charles M. Schwab's prescription to cure many of the ills from which we suffer as a people. He said in an address to the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers: "When we teach, through our engineering ability and our methods, that the prosperity of the whole country, whether for capitalist or laborer, depends on doing an honest day's work for an honest day's pay all these theoretical questions of the high cost of living will naturally disappear."

Isn't he the old-fashioned man. These ideas are archaic. Nobody even thinks them out loud in the society of workers today. But he goes further. Mr. Schwab finds that Germany's position in the steel industry was due to some homely old virtue. He points out that Germany was second only to the United States in steel production when the war interrupted things. And yet, with all of its production and ability and development there has not been a single great invention or process in the development of iron and steel that has come out of Germany. What is the reason for this so-called efficiency? I think the basis of this is the giving of an honest day's work for an honest day's pay."

There you have it. Efficiency then, isn't the machine-like industry to the last belt and newest contraption. It isn't the only perfect co-ordination of parts to the whole, nor the unceasing driving of people from the cradle to the grave. No, there's the everlasting human equation, never better exemplified than in this phrase, "An honest day's work for an honest day's pay."

A lever with which any nation might move the earth.

UGLY CHILDREN.

Persons who contemplate adopting children need not hesitate to adopt the ugly ducklings, for true to the fable, these plainer little ones often develop into beautiful young men and women.

Most orphanage institutions are discouragingly familiar with the request for a "pretty, little girl, with golden hair and blue eyes," or a "handsome, brown-eyed boy." More than one matron has hopefully presented awkward, thin little Annie, knowing her to be of unusual mentality and a sweet and generous nature, only to be met with a cold refusal on the ground that a more attractive child is sought. As a matter of fact, there is little ground for rejecting the homely baby. Childish features, half formed, are little indicative of future looks and little to be trusted. One orphanage keeps the record of a baby girl so homely she was called the "yellow kid," because of her resemblance to the famous cartoon character. She was placed in a private home, but the authorities had little hope of her being kept because of her forbidding looks. The foster mother, however, had faith and patience. The "yellow kid" of the orphanage is today a beautiful young woman, charming in personality.

Often back of the homely little face is the divine spark, while the regular features may be an index of of an ordinary, unlimited, small-caliber soul.

The Germans think it's very inhuman of the French to make them live up about half-way to their peace pledges.

SHORT CUTS.

This is an era of short cuts. "Efficiency" is on every tongue. How to eliminate drudgery is the song of dozens of magazines. Some of them get at their ease by machinery, some by a kind of spurious magic which amounts to autohypnosis, called "glad stuff." Some of them get it by an economy of motion, or by fancy business forms which save time and effort.

The elimination of drudgery may be a useful thing—or it may be extremely weakening. It all depends upon what is going to be done with the energy thus saved.

If by saving drudgery we make time for wholesome recreation for good reading, for advancement of mind and spirit, then let us eliminate drudgery by all means. If it means getting time for more useful work, making two blades of grass grow where there was one before, applied in any walk of life, then again it is worth while.

But there is no danger that we shall become a nation of short-cutters—the kind who are always seeking the short cut rather than the perfecting of the job in hand? A nation too lazy-minded to face facts and grapple with them?

Does it pay to have so much drudgery eliminated that we are too weak for anything but munching chocolates and going to the movies?

The world needs more production, more work done. If labor-saving devices will help to that end, on with the labor-savers and on with the extra job. A little good hard work never hurt anybody. A little storm purification discipline would do the whole country good.

THE HISTORIC BUTTONHOOK.

"Keep a buttonhook in the tool kit," urges the manager of a large automobile concern. Little does he know the part he is playing in industry.

Women, long considered by men to have no ability in mechanics, and therefore denied the use of tools or any education in their handling, rose to the emergency, as woman always does, by utilizing the implements ready to her hand. With the buttonhook and hairpin she has always been accustomed to accomplish marvels in the way of small jobs of plumbing, locksmithing, etc.

Usually these matters have been taken as a matter of course, bits of the daily routine. When, however, both buttonhook and hairpin failed, the last resort was to ask that a regular mechanic be called. The custom then was for the man of the house to snort with contempt at a woman's idea of mechanics, to accumulate all his masculine tools, work for three hours, lose his temper, set the nerves of the family on edge, render the kitchen floor in need of immediate scrubbing—and then send for the mechanic after all.

But now, With the coming of the automobile comes a new demand for small appliances. Who has not heard the motorist tinkering with the inwards of his engine, inquire briskly, "Maria, got a hairpin handy? I think I can fix the blamed thing if I had one."

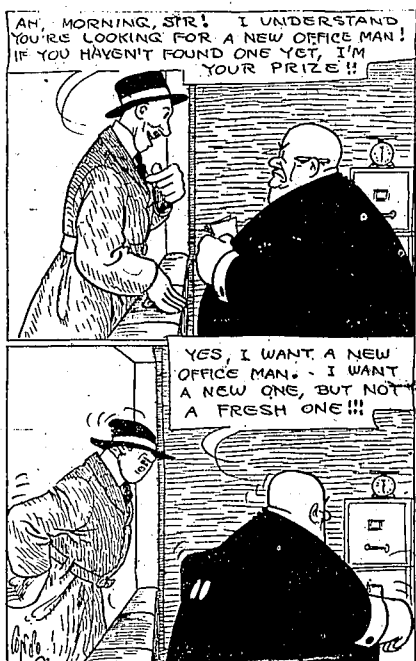

Keep buttonhook and hairpin in the kit. A new era has begun.

The Russian Bolsheviks are crazy about a lot of things, but they are levelheaded enough when they keep talking about that $300,000,000 in gold they say they've got in a strong box to buy foreign goods with. Every allied country wants a piece of that money, and the allied attitude toward the Reds is modified accordingly.

Prof. Goddard has turned down nine men who offered to fly to the moon in one of his skyrockets. They shouldn't repine, though. Anybody who's lunny enough to make an offer like that ought to be able to fly to the moon without any help.

There's another disturbance in Guatemala and the United States will probably proceed to issue itself another mandate under the auspices of the Monroe league.

from Nogales, now is completely at the service of the Sonora military authorities, and is being used to ship troops to the Sinaloa frontier.

DEQUEZ GOES NORTH.

MEXICO CITY, April 14. General Manuel D. Dequez, commander in chief of the government troops in Chihuahua, who was summoned from Guadalupe to confer with President Carranza on the situation in Sonora, where a republic has been declared, left last night for the north where he will immediately start an energetic campaign against the revolutionists.

In his last official "war bulletin" General Juan Balmori, chief of the revolutionary staff, says that a wireless message has been received from Capt. Brian Hernandez, commander of the central division, stating that the rebels had lost San Guaymas and arrived in Puerto Santa Rosalia. Captain Hernandez has been ordered to sail for Mazatlan, where he will remain at the disposition of General Dequez, the fourth aide.

The motive of the government's sudden change of policy was hours after Mr. Donaghy's uncompromising speech in the house of commons. Public opinion attributes the decision to the influence of General Macleady, who has just taken up his duties as commander in chief of the forces in Ireland. He is said to have great hopes of making military rule in Ireland both more effective and more tolerable than heretofore, and he did not want to start with deaths and injuries in Mourning.

TROUBLE IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, April 14. Soldiers fired brass cartridges over the heads of crowds gathered at the Londonderry station today and two civilians were wounded by ricocheting bullets.

The crowds at the station assembled with the expectation of greeting the arrival of Sinn Fein prisoners. Armed police were summoned to the scene, but the arriving levies in an endeavor to warn the people. The blanks, proving ineffective, several rounds of ball cartridges were discharged over the heads of the people and the two civilians received injuries from glancing bullets.

Later in the day the Sinn Fein prisoners arrived and were taken in motor cars to Londonderry Jail.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A resolution providing the secretary of state, with the approval of the president, to cause representations to be made to the British government for the immediate trial of citizens of Ireland arrested and locked up because of their fight in "behalf of freedom and independence" was introduced today by Representative Tague, democrat, Massachusetts.

The resolution set forth that a several number of Irishmen had been arrested as political offenders, that they were entitled to arraignment and trial and "pending arraignment to be principals of the law of nations" and could in those arrested for political crimes as distinguished from felonies.

MACLEADY'S ORDER.

LONDON, April 15.—The release of the Irish prisoners was by direct order of Gen. Sir Neville Macleady, and marks the beginning of an entire change in the Irish policy, according to a prominently displayed statement by the Daily Mail.

When it became clear some time ago, says this paper, that the policy of repression was leading to disastrous consequences, the premier decided to change the policy, and, if necessary, get rid of the men associated with the old regime. The outburst and without warning told J. J. Macleahon, chief secretary for Ireland, that he was to be transferred to the position of military and appointed General Macleahon in command of the troops, without consulting the Irish office. Macleahon, adds the Mail, was instructed to inaugurate a new policy of conciliation, and was given a free hand. In other words, he was to supersede the existing heads of the government in Ireland.

General Macleahon arrived in Dublin Wednesday morning and ordered the release of the prisoners after an exchange of what are messages with Premier Lloyd George, who is on his way to San Remo, according to the Daily Mail.

Inasmuch as General Macleahon received the policy for which Winston Churchill was responsible, the vicerey, the paper believes, with a clear definition as to whether he or General Macleahon is the chief power in Ireland, and may come to London to inquire "the answers," continues the Mail, "may lead to his resignation—a contingency for which the premier possibly planned. Names of his possible successor are being discussed in the hobbles of parliament, the favorite being, Earl of Granard, although, as he is a Catholic, a special act of parliament would be necessary to enable him to act as vicerey."

The Mail assumes from Donaghy's speeches that he was not informed of the decision for the release of the prisoners, and says that the peculiar qualities of his position are being discussed in political circles.

FEAR ALIENS' ATTACK

TO RELEASE HOWAT

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 14.—Alexander M. Howat, president of district No. 11, United Mine Workers of America, and three other officials who have been incarcerated in the Crawford county jail at Girard for refusing to testify before the Kansas court of industrial relations tonight were removed from jail and taken to other cities.

Howat and Robert Byster, auditor, were taken to Tulsa and placed in the Franklin county jail, while August Durely, vice president and Thomas Harvey, secretary-treasurer, were taken to Iola, and placed in the Allen county jail. The order for their removal, issued by the district court judge in Topeka before the Kansas court of industrial relations tonight, was deemed unfit for the safe keeping of the incarcerated officials. They will be kept in the Allen and Franklin jails until they further order of the court. In his petition, the sheriff states events of the last few days in Crawford county have shown that attempts to obtain the release of the officials might be made by crowds of aliens who are not understood the American system of government and who might link the prisoners were being wrongfully prosecuted.

A demonstration expected to wrap up in extent all previous mass meetings in Topeka in the officials is planned to be held in Girard tomorrow.

TO HANDLE DETAILS OF BIG AUTO SHOW

W. H. Brooks Arrives From Seattle to Make Arrangements for Chronicle Exhibition.

For the purpose of handling detail work in connection with the Chronicle Auto Show, Mr. W. H. Brooks arrived in Twin Falls yesterday from Seattle, to remain until after the big affair is terminated.

Mr. Brooks is one of the best men obtainable for this work and comes to Twin Falls full of that confidence which will insure the best show that has been pulled off in these parts.

The entire matter of decorations and detail arrangements will be in the hands of Mr. Brooks, and he gives promise of interior beauty which will make glad the hearts of the throngs which promise to attend the great show.

It has been heard of Twin Falls and the "Fort Hill tract for years," said Mr. Brooks on his arrival, "and it is a pleasure for me to be here for a near acquaintance with these thrifty people. I have driven over the city, and so many interesting things have been obtained and in such a building, and I must say that I had no idea of such a site for a show. It is a dream of a show-house for an auto exhibit. And we will fill it with the jumble of magnificent displays."

It is especially pleasing at the number of establishments handling automobiles, delighted with the large number of cars in daily use as evidenced by the licenses issued and the general prospects for the show. On the coast auto men have been wondering how much more they can have, and I must say that I had no idea of such a site for a show. It is a dream of a show-house for an auto exhibit. And we will fill it with the jumble of magnificent displays."

Grain

CHICAGO, April 14.—Fresh strength developed in the corn market today largely as a result of the high prices prevailing for wheat. The close was nervous, at 5-8 to 1 1/2-5c net advances, with May 167 5/8 to 167 3/4 and July 167 3/4 to 167. Oats gained 1/4c to 1-2c. In cereals the outcome varied from the decline to a rise of 2c.

From the outset in the corn market much notice was taken of the fact that exporters were paying 60 cents or more above the established minimum for wheat. Besides, the government's weekly crop report was considered as bullish, for it said the condition of winter wheat was in general unsatisfactory, and that seedling, germination and growth of other grain had been retarded by unfavorable weather. In addition the opinion was widely accepted that receipts of corn were likely to be small for a considerable time even after the wheat strike came to an end. During the last part of the week, however, weakness was shown by reports of seaboard exporting, cancelling of transaction in east, presumably Canadian. The cancelling, however, was to provide increased vessel room for wheat and rye.

Crowdmen averaged higher, reflecting optimism in the value of hogs and grain.

By The Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 13.—The heavy cost will be reduced millions of dollars by chemical inventions and discoveries, today, said delegates to the convention of the American Chemical Society, in session here.

Recent discovery by Fred G. Cottrell, chief metallurgist of the United States bureau of mines, of a lead substitute in the manufacture of insecticides, is expected to save millions of dollars of farm products and avoid lowering the cost of these products.

Experiments in tanning hides of sharks, chemists agreed, will assist in cutting the cost of leather goods.

"About 1,000,000,000 in farm products have been lost last year because of insecticides, made chiefly of lead compounds were beyond the reach of the poorer farmers," Charles L. Parsons, of Washington, secretary of the society, explained.

"By Mr. Cottrell's discovery, arsenic is recovered from smoke issuing from copper smelters and this has made it possible for chemists to substitute calcium magnesium for lead, greatly reducing the cost of insecticides."

"Prohibition in destroying the wine industry, also removed the supply of cream of tartar extracted from deposits in wine casks. However, chemists have discovered a method by which malic acid is drawn from benzoin and used as a substitute for cream of tartar."

"Then, again, the chemist has kept down the price of paint. Paint would be $15 to $16 a gallon instead of $3 to $4, if the chemist had not made diphenyl and although possible as a substitute for lead and zinc in paint making."

Delegates say they look to this convention as a celebration of the chemical intelligence of the United States from the pre-war dependence upon other countries.

ROGER SULLIVAN CALLED BY DEATH

Famous Illinois Democratic Leader Is a Victim of Bronchial Pneumonia.

By the Associated Press.
TWIN FALLS, April 14.—Roger C. Sullivan, 65 years old, Illinois democratic leader and prominent in state and national politics for 20 years, died at his home in Chicago today of bronchial pneumonia. He had been seriously ill for a month.

Mr. Sullivan returned to Chicago recently from Hot Springs, Ark., where he had gone for his health after spending a part of the winter at Palm Beach, Fla., and at Washington, where he conferred with political leaders.

Mr. Sullivan planned to enter the democratic national convention at San Francisco as the leader of the Illinois delegation of 55, with the assured election of Sullivan that his last appearance as a political leader.

Roger Sullivan, condemned in his own state by his appointment as "boss" more than once "red out" of the party by William J. Bryan, led the movement that finally resulted in making Woodrow Wilson president of the United States.

It was Sullivan who headed the democratic delegation from Illinois at the Baltimore convention in 1898, a delegation pledged to Champ Clark and who after sufficient ballots had been cast to discharge his obligation to Illinois, switched the vote of the state to Wilson, and made his nomination possible.

Roger Sullivan had been a participant in every democratic convention since 1892, and in at least three of the seven he attended, he had been a commanding figure.

His clashes with Bryan and with the Carter Harrison and William H. Taft factions of the party in his home state, which brought him the title of "boss" from his political enemies, made Sullivan a national figure throughout the country. Despite the frequent attacks on his power and the fact that many of the influential party organs of Illinois were against him, Sullivan was the leader in Illinois for several years.

Roger Sullivan as a business man had been no less successful than as a politician. Coming to Chicago in 1872 to work in the railroad shops and an apprentice machinist at $1.25 a day, he was reputed to have accumulated more than $1,000,000.

He was born on a farm near Belvidere, Ill., Feb. 2, 1854. His education was obtained in the public schools and he was first employed as a farm boy at 5 years of age.
Four years after coming to Chicago Mr. Sullivan attended his first political meeting, a ward caucus, and from that day dated his interest in politics. In 1890 he was elected to the first political office, a clerk of the probate court. During the Cleveland administration he was appointed government auditor. These were the only public offices he ever held. In 1914 he was democratic nominee for United States senator, but was defeated by Senator L. Y. Sherman. President Wilson opposed Sullivan's election. Two years later his friends proposed his name for vice president, but he refused to enter the race and instead of the nomination of Thomas R. Marshall, four years later Sullivan was elected to the free silver campaign of 1896. He had been a delegate to the democratic national conventions of 1892 and 1896, but he gave the chief of the latter campaign the "gold" at Chicago. Two years after the election of President McKinley, Sullivan was elected to the state committee.

In 1900 he helped nominate Bryan as Kansas governor. Four years later Sullivan was elected to the democratic national committee, thereby laying the foundations for one of the bitterest political fights in Illinois democratic history.

Bryan opened the battle in 1908, when he secured notice on the democratic state convention that he would not accept the support of the Illinois delegation unless the convention adopted a resolution demanding Sullivan's retirement from the national committee.

Sullivan defeated the resolution and then introduced a resolution endorsing Bryan, which was passed. Sullivan remained a member of the national committee until 1916. He always repeated every year that he would not be nominated.

Mr. Sullivan made his fortune by "bringing gas" companies and in the coal business. Mr. Sullivan and his wife Helen M. Quinn were married in Chicago in 1885 and to them were born one son and four daughters.

SCHEDULED GAME BETWEEN T. F. HIGH—REPEATEDLY CANCELLED

Local high school teachers of the sphere were forced to cancel the scheduled baseball game with the T. F. High school yesterday afternoon owing to the inclement weather. The baseball game was to have been played on Lincoln field and it is said that if the sun had let up during the latter part of the day the unforgotten men would have taken chances on the slippery grounds. A date will be decided if plans call for a game with the T. F. High school sometime.

CALLAHAN CASE NEAR END

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 14.—The case of Joseph Callahan, former member of France, who pled for alleged treason, entered the summit up stage for the presentation today, with the resumption of the high courts sessions after the Easter holidays. It is expected that a verdict will be rendered within the night, probably by April 24 or 25. Theodore Desouze, the prosecutor, in closing his plea, asked the court to find M. Callahan guilty as charged, but he refrained from asking the death penalty for the accused.

MEMORIAL PLANS TO BE DECIDED

Meeting Called for Tuesday Night; American Legion Building Favored; Controversy to Cease.

Calling a meeting for Tuesday, April 20, for the purpose of determining the action of the building of a memorial, C. D. Thomas, chairman of the memorial board announced that all who had donated are expected to be present at the session which is to be held in the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock on the stated night.

It was originally decided to build a park at Shoshone Falls. The state contributed the amount of $10,000 toward the plan but to date nothing of a lasting nature has been accepted. It is said.

For the past seven months, the matter has been held in abeyance, but now results are being demanded by the contributors. Success plans were decided to continue with the park project or build an addition to the county general hospital or construct a library building or erect a house for use of the American Legion members.

The latter is said to be favored and it is expected that eventually the plan will be carried with the view of making Twin Falls the permanent state headquarters. The object of many of the delegates who attended the state convention expressed the hope that if an American Legion building should be erected here during the ensuing year Twin Falls will be the beneficiary.

One of the points considered in that connection, a local man, was elected an state commander.

At Tuesday's meeting the matter will receive full consideration, it is said.

SHOSHONE VICTORS IN PYTHIAN CONTEST

Defeated Gooding and Twin Falls Teams by a Narrow Margin.

Shoshone retained its position in this kingdom of Pythian district at the district convention team contest in Gooding, which ended in the early morning hours yesterday, defeating the Gooding and Twin Falls teams by narrow margins. Gooding was a slight margin ahead of Twin Falls in the final score. Never in the history of these district contests have the teams competing been so closely bunched.

The convention was one of the most important in the history of the district, and the attendance was unusually large. Twenty-five lights made the trip from Twin Falls, and the report of these is of a remarkably good time and intense Pythian enthusiasm. During the evening and prior to the final contest, the visiting Pythians were entertained at the new Schubert theater, the entire party being guests of former Governor Gooding. Governor Gooding was knighted as a member of the first lodge in Idaho, and in the 21 years which have elapsed has maintained an intense interest in the order and its advancement.

The Twin Falls delegation as good sports take their defeat in good grace. They were unfortunate in being unable to take their full team with them, and had to fill in at the last moment in two important places, with the result that there was a falling off in the score which resulted in putting them behind the point of their ambition. But the boys are loyal Pythians and take off their hats to the winners of the contest.

REPEL

HILL, April 14.—Mrs. Joseph Abbott and her brother, Bert Swartz, entertained with a party and dance at the Abbott home yesterday, in honor of their birthdays. About 35 guests were present and spent an enjoyable evening. The house was beautifully decorated. The surprise of the evening was a huge cake with 32 candles as the centerpiece of the dinner table.

Mrs. Andrew Madison entertained Wednesday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Stella Jones, who is visiting with her from Butte, Mont. The final meeting of the North View literary society will be held at the school house Friday night. There is to be a home talent play in the Castlerford school house Friday night.
