State Poultry Association Represents
It Has No Connection With the Idaho Organization

Warnings issued by Miss Edna Ladwig, home demonstration agent, the canvassers throughout the county representing the State Poultry association are not connected with the state but are of considerable of a discussion among poultry raisers in this section. Some of these representatives of the State Poultry association have stated that the warnings were unauthorized. This has prompted from both state and county officials of farm extension work another statement reiterating the previous warning and explaining the poultry association, incorporated, of the association.

This statement says: "The State Poultry association is really the State Portland association, incorporated, of Portland, Ore., a corporation, and it has been ingeniously named. It is a business corporation and does not represent any poultry breeders' association in any way. It has no connection whatever with the Idaho State Poultry association. The Idaho association is an organization of poultry raisers and does not carry on any commercial business whatever.

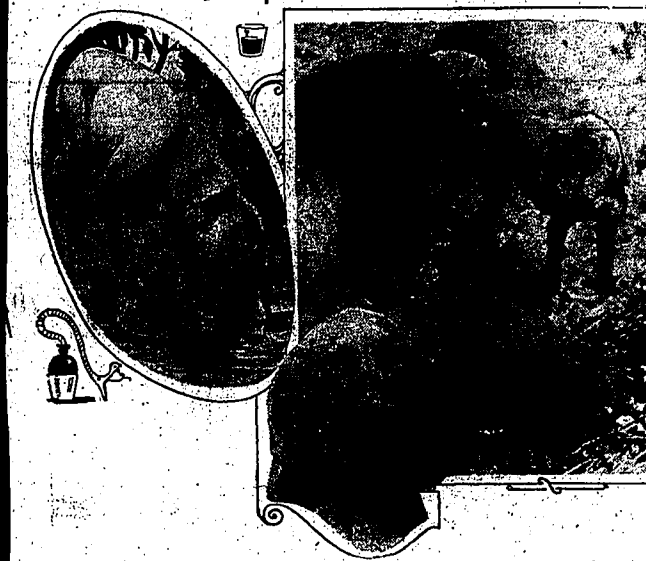

Members of the Portland association claim to be specialists and offer their services to farmers to aid in the culling process and for general poultry help, the primary object being a high priced dip as shown in the article written by Miss Ladwig.

It has been found that representatives

William Lloren, well known business man, was among the out of town visitors in Twin Falls yesterday afternoon.

SHOE STORY CAUSES TEMPEST IN SHOPS

Dealers' Association for Basis for Statement.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Recent action by the New York Retail Shoe Dealers' association for limitation of profit on "standard" footwear, that is, shoes selling for $10 or less a pair and which do not carry a luxury tax, has created what might be called a "tempest" in a shoe shop all over the United States.

The tempest was caused by a little item wired from New York on March 22, to the effect that the federal authorities had announced they had been informed by John Slater, president of the "standard" shoe dealers, that shoes would be reduced during the spring and summer. It was published in many newspapers and later and later families with lots of little feet to be shod, chuckled over the first good news at many a supper table. The item read:

"NEW YORK, March 22.—Prices of standard shoes will be reduced during the spring and summer. John Slater, president of the Retail Shoe Dealers' association, announced today, in a communication to Arthur Williams, federal food administrator. Retailers at a recent meeting decided to be content with a smaller margin of profit, Mr. Slater said. Reductions, however, will not apply to all kinds of fancy and ultra-fashionable footwear.

"The action of the retail shoe dealers, Mr. Williams said, probably presaged the beginning of a general lowering of profit margins in other wearing apparel."

One paper in Arkansas carried the item with the heading: "Here's Hope for the Worry: Says Prices May Come Down." By many it was regarded as the first real move toward a reduction in the high cost of living. The next day or so retail shoe store patrons from coast to coast came from Chicago to the Gulf shod their feet, dealers to buy the cheaper footwear. The dealers, many of whom had not had a "marked down" sale since before the war, said they had not heard anything about a decline in prices.

The news spread in the trade, however, and shoe dealers, jobbers and manufacturers began to bombard Mr. Slater with inquiries as to the basis for his assertion. Meanwhile, Mr. Slater had been interviewed here by the Associated Press. Regarding the correctness of the statement attributed to him and he declined to comment on it. Whereupon, Mr. Williams, formerly federal food administrator and fair price commissioner, was visited, and he confirmed the statement as sent out by the Associated Press.

It became known, however, that much of the confusion had been caused by the form of the announcement, from the office of the fair price commissioner, for instead of a general movement such as was indicated by the announcement the only plan in contemplation was limitation of profits in New York city; and even that has failed to be put into effect. Mr. Williams, however, stood by the statement as carried by the Associated Press. He said it was correct and he would assume full responsibility for it.

Mr. Williams explained that early this spring the federal authorities made an effort to reach an understanding with New York retailers concerning the profits on footwear. In his official capacity as fair price commissioner, he said, he received on March 22 last, a communication from Mr. Slater as president of the New York retail shoe dealers' association, containing a proposal for limitation to a maximum of 21 to 35 per cent of retail profits on shoes selling at $10 or less per pair. Mr. Williams said he referred the proposal to United States Attorney Coffey. No action on it has been taken by the department of justice. Mr. Williams has since resigned and no successor has been appointed. Meanwhile the retail price of standard shoes in New York remains as high as ever.

While declining to make any statement for publication in regard to the diverging views of Mr. Williams and himself, Mr. Slater sent an "explanation" in letters and telegrams to newspapers and members of the shoe trade over the country, saying that Mr. Williams had told the reporters that he thought shoes would be cheaper. He denied he had told this to Mr. Williams, and said that although it was true negotiations were under way for limitation of profits he saw no basis for the assertion that prices would come down.

A Fort Smith, Ark., merchant who wrote to Mr. Slater received a reply which apparently gave the death blow to the expiring hopes, built upon the announcement from the fair price commissioner's office, that shoes would be cheaper in New York or anywhere else. Mr. Slater said: "In making my recommendation to Mr. Williams about the maximum profit, I told him that the price of shoes would not come down." Explaining his stand in regard to "higher priced shoes," he added:

"In my arguments with the government I take the stand that the excess or luxury tax placed on shoes of $10 or over takes them out of the necessary (necessity) class under which the Lever act operates. The Lever act specifically states that there must be no excessive profits on the necessities of life such as food, food, shoes and clothing, and gives them the right to regulate the profit."

A Springfield, Ohio, firm which wanted to know who was responsible, Mr. Slater or Mr. Williams, for the demands for cheaper shoes with which dealers were being bombarded, wrote a letter to the Associated Press in that all merchants are profiteers. Disbeliever ideas and discontent are growing everywhere and will cost America dearly some day unless the facts are given to the public.

"The fact regarding this statement is that there is no reputable manufacturer who will accept duplicate orders today at prices as low as those prevailing when spring orders were being looked. Orders placed now for fall deliveries are at the highest prices ever known in the industry. If immediate orders and orders for fall delivery cost more than spring goods and merchants are doing business on a small margin of profit, how can shoes possibly be cheaper?"

May Time

in nature is like May-time in life. Youth is glorious, vibrant, sparkling—the future is apt to be unconsidered. No one would want to dampen the ardor of youth or strike a more somber note. But if there can be introduced in it just the necessary touch of responsibility, we have the combination that compels success. So our officers urge the young folks to work and save in the brightness of the present so as to carry that brightness through life.

RELATIVE SIZES.

How big is the universe?

Scientists can't agree. Whether there is one great universe, perhaps 10 times as large as is commonly believed, or whether there are a million "universes," of which that to which the earth belongs is only one; was discussed by the savants at the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Heber D. Curtis defended the idea that the Milky Way contains practically all the stars. He said such a universe is relatively small. His idea of smallness is 30,000 light years in diameter, and not more than 3,000 light years in thickness. A light year, he it remembered, is the distance light travels in a year. And light travels 186,000 miles a second!

If this is "smallness," what is vastness?

Dr. Harlow Shapley believe in the theory of a galaxy of stars 10 or more times larger than the Milky Way. Beyond this, he thinks, there are undoubtedly innumerable other universes, the only traces of which appear as dim star clusters through the telescope.

Which is right? It does not matter.

In either case, the earth is but a tiny speck—an infinitesimal pinpoint of matter whirling through space—whatever "space" is.

And the human animal is but a minute speck of earth dust, animated for a tiny fraction of time by that marvelous thing called "life."

Compared to that vastness called the universe, man, who thinks himself and his individual affairs so important, is as a fleeting fraction of a second in millions of years of time.

It might be well for humanity, engaged in its puny strivings, fighting, struggling, tearing down, building up, pulling loose, and binding down—with the idea that its efforts constitutes the whole of life—if it would look up sometimes to the stars and remember how vast are the vastnesses of the universe, and how small and insignificant are the victories and defeats encompassed in the span of a human life.

CANADA'S NEW AMBITION.

Canada wants to send a minister plenipotentiary to the United States, with independent rank. Canada desires to deal directly with this government, and not through the intermediary of the British embassy. It is a novel proposal. Great Britain is said to have consented to the innovation, and only the consent of the state department is necessary for the plan to become effective.

The great self-governing dependencies of the British empire are no longer colonies in the ordinary meaning of the word. To Britons, the British empire is an assembly of nations. For all practical purposes, Canada is a sovereign state. The links binding Canada to the mother country are common ideas, the spirit of Anglo-Saxon democracy and recognition of King George as the constitutional head of the empire. In every matter of domestic and foreign policy, Canada does as she sees fit.

The peace conference recognized this new status in international relations when it admitted Canada and her sister dominions into the League of Nations on an independent footing. Canada has now taken the next step in the establishment of her sovereignty by asking the United States to receive a Canadian diplomatic representative.

Great Britain's success as a colonizing power has never been more brilliantly shown than in her consent to the Canadian plan. The British government is willing to trust Canada completely in the delicate field of foreign relations. No empire ever before has shown such confidence in the common idealism of its component parts. If the United States grants Canada's request, Washington will be the scene of a new experiment in colonial government, illustrating afresh the love of freedom and liberty within the British empire.

THE "WELL-FROG."

Don't buy stock even from your dearest friend without first submitting it to a banker to see if it is good. If you do, you are in danger of becoming a "well-frog," humorist.

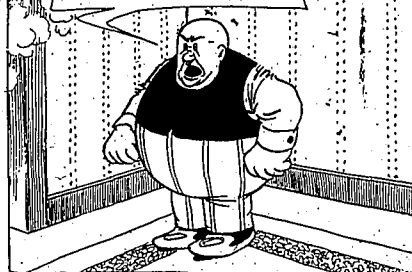

Recent literature of all kinds has abounded in warnings against investment in "wild cat" securities offered by strangers, but Mr. Butler passes by these as beneath contempt. His warning has to do with those investments to which the innocent possessor of a few dollars is led by his well-meaning but ill-advised friends. He offers his advice as sound, being based on his own sad experience as a member of the "Great American Association of Well-Frogs." His simile he draws from that famous old problem of the frog which was at the bottom of a well, but must jump itself out. The discouraging feature was that every time it jumped it slipped back almost all the way, the net gain being about a quarter of an inch. Hence, "If you have worked hard and saved $29.75, and then put $29.50 into a fool investment, you are a well-frog."

Mr. Butler likes to think of money as wheat, something that will sustain life. No man desirous of growing wheat will sow it on a friend's tin roof merely because the friend thinks wheat on a tin roof will produce diamonds. So now, when Mr. Butler's friends approach him with investments of great promise, he says he reaches for his check book and pay the grocery bill. He suggests to the person trembling on the brink of well-froggery:

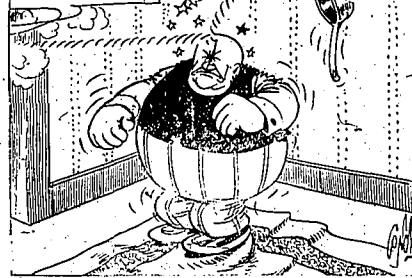

"Before you invest, go to your banker, or any banker, and ask him what his bank will lend on the stock you propose to buy. If he answers, 'My dear man, this bank will not lend you one red cent on these securities,' you will know what to think of the proposed investment."

GREAT EVENTS ARE SCHEDULED TODAY

Wild Animal Circus to Perform at Grounds; Parade Planned for This Morning.

Children will cavort in fantastic glee-making today as a "circus is coming to town." The trains bearing the wild animals will arrive before the dawn has broken.

Since the beginning of the A. G. Barnes show it has experienced a remarkable growth while touring the continent and remaining in winter quarters preparing for each year's new appearance. A new feature has been added yearly until now the latest feature in the show will consist of 20 hallet girls seated recklessly on many immaculate white horses, singing while the equine trip the light fantastic to the accompaniment of music played by the circus orchestra on instruments in the announcement.

To make the show one of the greatest and most efficient organizations on the road traveling for the purpose of pleasing both old and young, the manager and owner, A. G. Barnes, is supervising the arrangements for the entire journey. It is said, and he is not wrong, that all performances are made up with the chief principal of instructing and amusing the young as well as the "young-old."

Large crowds are expected to be in attendance at the initial performance, the parade, and when the circus starts in earnest at the field and the booths are open to receive the trade money for tickets, herds will be cheered when acts are staged in the arena, it is held.

Accompanying the circus is a vicious beast called the zebra. The zebra and horse are somewhat alike in contour but wholly unlike in their characteristics, said Austin King, the zebra expert with the show. For mannaes that animal is said to have no equal and the trainer claims that unless he is constantly on his guard they will bite or strangle him to death.

They are the first set of zebras to be trained to do an act in the open though the attendants are said to enter their midst without fear, knowing how to handle and subjugate them, it is asserted. Besides these the circus carries several other wild animals and numerous animal acts will be on exhibit for the show.

CLAIM WOOD THREATENED BY DU PONT

call to recruit the two attitudes of his important campaign managers—the one of the floor of the senate and the other on the public platform—sufficiently to have full faith in his cause.

Her Actions a Mystery.

Miss Dorothy L. Smith

Miss Smith, a prominent dancing instructor of Brooklyn, recently entered a plea of guilty to shoplifting. Friends claim she did so while suffering from loss of memory, declaring she is financially able to buy anything she consumed to stealing.

"I am outlining a publicity campaign to inform the public concerning the present status of the proposed dye legislation. May I ask you to set me straight as to the apparent contradiction in your attitude toward General Wood's candidacy and your attitude on the dye bill so that I may be perfectly accurate in what I write?"

"Very truly yours,
"CHARLES K. WESTON,
"Publicity Bureau."

Moses Presents Letter.
"The letter," resumed Senator Kenyon, "is used with the full knowledge and consent of the senator (Mr. Moses) who presents it, and I am sure that I ought to say that the candidate for president whom the senator is supporting, General Leonard Wood, also presents the letter. It shows the methods that are used to try to pass this bill. We have the remarkable spectacle of a United States senator who is engaged in managing a presidential campaign, practically threatened on the way what may happen to that campaign if he does not withdraw his opposition to the bill.

"I will say further that in line with the publicity campaign which the Du Pont people are carrying on for this bill there is an article in the Manufacturers' Record of April 22—and hear in mind the letter to the senator—is dated April 15—an article entitled "General Wood in for preparedness, but his chief backer is strangling the dye bill."

"And then follows an assault on the senator for his opposition to the bill. So there may be no misunderstanding and that the presentation of the letter may not be in any way considered as an attack on General Wood, let me say as the senator from New Hampshire remarks it and the senator, has given us the liberty to use this remarkable letter in this senate."

No Action Taken.
Senator Moses was out of the chamber and no reply was made to Senator Kenyon. When Senator Lodge asked for a vote, Senator King, democrat of Utah, objected because Senator Moses was not present and the senate adjourned without voting.

DU PONT MAKES DENIAL.
WILMINGTON, Del., May 7.—

"The I Du Pont de Nemours company is not interested in any political candidate," was the official answer of the company to charges of an attempt to coerce legislation by threatening to oppose the candidacy of Major General Leonard Wood, made by Senator Kenyon at Washington today.

The letter sent to Senator Moses in which Senator Kenyon based his charges was a personal letter sent by Charles K. Weston, head of the publicity department, officials claimed, which in no way could be construed as a threat.

Emphasis was placed on the fact that no attempt to sway legislation was being made, but that Mr. Weston was preparing some publicity matter on the question and desired information.

FAMOUS KENTUCKY DERBY RUN TODAY

To Be the Highest 1920 Turf Prize Run This Year in America.

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Twenty-two 3-year-old thoroughbreds, 20 colts and two fillies, considered the best on the American turf, today were declared fit for the Kentucky derby. The whose owners accept the issue will attempt to negotiate a mile and a quarter at Churchill Downs tomorrow afternoon for a stake carrying $50,000 in added money, the richest 1920 turf prize in the country.

Expected today were the record-breaking attendance, predictions reaching as high as 60,000 spectators. Already hotels were reported taxed to capacity, with inability to heed requests for even cots in the corridors. Additional throngs are reported on the way in special trains.

At the race track, the number of pari-mutuel betting machines under the greatly enlarged grandstand has been increased to 105 and will provide what is believed to be ample facilities for the spectators, public which, with approximately half that number, wagered $552,000, on the 1919 derby. The race itself, a large proportion of turfmen continue to assert, will be the most open in its history. Forecaddies for owners, trainers and the consequent uncertainty of track conditions added to their perplexity in selecting favorites.

Among the 22 entries, however, Wildair, Danmah and Tipper, the Harry Payne Whitney entry, had a very large following, favored by the race favorite of the day here the race, Danmah and On Watch, the George W. Lott pair, were considered next in popular esteem. Paul Jones, Peace-Panther and Sandy Todd also had a considerable following, while David Harum, Cleopatra, Pineshot, Sterling, Beguillere, Golden Broom, by Golly, Heron, Ethel Gray, Patches, Westwood, Shingleton and Kinross were not unaccounted for. Official odds ranged from 5 to 1 on the leaders to 50 to 1 on some of the outsiders.

Heron, according to the entries published today, is given the rail with Peace-Panther on the outside.

SKAGGS

Not all of the peoples of this world are honest, but the general average is sufficiently high to make it a pretty good world to live in.

The merchants of this country are drawn from a general average. No doubt there are merchants who would profiteer, if it were possible for them to do so. But just as the laws of our land are so formed as to convict and punish a thief—the inexorable and unalterable laws of commerce will find and punish the profiteer.

You don't go back to the man who has cheated you.

Competition is the governing factor in business as always, no matter what may be said to the contrary. Competition is keener today in retail merchandising than ever in history.

The dearest impersonal wish of the average merchant is for cheaper prices. The greatest concern of the successful merchant of today is not: How much will the people stand, but how cheap can I sell my goods and stay in business?

REBELS CUT RAILROAD TO CAPITAL CITY

Carranzan Regime Totters as 15,000 Sonorans Begin
March to Capital

CALLES TO TAKE CHARGE OF TROOPS-AT JUAREZ

Manzo to Succeed Him at Agua Prieta—Conflicting Reports Received at Washington.

LAREDO, Mex., May 7.—The National railway of Mexico, the most important line connecting Mexico City with the American border, will be cut by Mexican rebels today at Laredo, 40 miles south of the border. Telephone wires were also cut, and no news could be obtained from a military train carrying 400 reinforcements for the garrison at Nuevo Laredo, opposite Laredo. The troops were rushed from Monterrey to Nuevo Laredo, following the cutting of nearly the mounted customs guards last night.

The customs guards who declared allegiance to the Sonoran revolution, fled from the Mexican City after exchanging shots with Carranzan soldiers last night, and tonight were reported to be at Columbia, a border town 25 miles northwest of Laredo.

It was reported they were adding reinforcements and equipping themselves for an attack on Nuevo Laredo.

SAYS GOVERNMENT TOTTERS.
EL PASO, Tex., May 7.—The Carranzan government at Mexico City is tottering while 15,000 Sonoran revolutionaries have begun their march toward the nation's capital, according to a dispatch from the American press here for the revolutionists, announced today.

Even the loyalty of General Manuel M. Dueso to Carranza has been questioned by the federalists, the announcement said. General Beltrán declared in command of the federal forces of Mexico City and in the state of Puebla, was said to have announced manifestos at the capital accusing the federalists of friendship with the revolutionists while ostensibly making a campaign against them at Guadalupe in the state of Jalisco.

Sums Up Situation.
Senator Beltrán summed up the situation for the revolutionists thus: The garrison at Camargo in the border state of Tamaulipas is reported to have revolted.

General Pablo C. G. Calles, commander at Piedras Negras, Coahuila, has ordered his men to desert to prevent an uprising and has arrested Mr. Foran, brother of General Foran, formerly a leading federalist commander. The fall of Piedras Negras, which is opposite El Paso, Texas, was said to be imminent. Luis Calles, secretary of the treasury at Mexico City, is reported to have been arrested by General Calles at Piedras Negras.

Continuing the military movement of the revolutionists in Chihuahua, General José González Escobar, commander at Juarez, said:

"Fifteen hundred soldiers have left this morning within the past few days. Five hundred of them entered this afternoon. The movement will reach its full stride within a few days."

THREATEN TEXAS TOGO.
The general said he had received reports that Matamoros, Tamaulipas, opposite Brownsville, Tex., was being prepared by revolutionists who had given the military authorities three days notice that they would capture the town at noon today. No later advice has been received as to the fate of the town, he said.

CALLES TRANSFERRED.
AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, May 7.—When General E. Elias Calles, commander of troops in northern Sonora, leaves Agua Prieta Monday for Juarez, where he will take command of revolutionary troops for a concentrated drive into the Torreón region, General Francisco R. Manzo, now stationed at Hermosillo, will be ordered to Agua Prieta to take command of the garrison here, which will be used as a concentration and supply depot, it was announced at military headquarters today.

Five hundred additional troops are expected to arrive in Agua Prieta and inland points in Chihuahua by Monday or Tuesday, it was announced.

Entertain Americans.
General Calles and his military staff, which has been stationed here, will give an entertainment and dance in Agua Prieta Saturday night for Americans in Douglas, Arizona. General Calles said Sonora had nothing but friendship for Americans and said it would be the policy of the revolutionary forces in no way to be hostile to the American government or its people.

The 500 Sonora troops which left Agua Prieta today for Pánuco are expected to reach the Chihuahua state line by tomorrow night, where they will join 2,000 revolutionary troops which left here yesterday.

REPORTS CONFLICT.
WASHINGTON, May 7.—Reports, official and unofficial, today of the Mexican rebels with further bloodless successes. Information reaching the rebel agents here, they said, pointed to an early occupation of Piedras Negras, Laredo and Matamoros, the only important border ports of entry remaining in Carranzan control.

News of the revolt of the garrison at Vera Cruz, through the official channels, the town being immediately evacuated by the rebels, presumably because of the presence in the harbor of Mexican gunboats loyal to Carranza.

Official confirmation of the report received early in the day by rebel agents that Carranza already had left the capital was lacking tonight.

The state department today received several messages from the embassy in Mexico City, which were all dated Thursday. These dispatches made no mention of Carranza's intention of leaving the capital, it was said.

Dispatches from rebel sources reported Luis Calles, head of the Carranzan government, leaving today by train for Piedras Negras, and that Alfonso Calles, brother of the cabinet minister, has been arrested by General González at Piedras Negras. Carranza while governor of Puebla, was reported to have possession of American Consul Agent W. A. Jenkins.

AL NELSON VICTOR OVER FRANK REGAN

Given Decision—Small House Wins—Card—Young Rose Goes to Sleep.

Al Nelson of Idaho has won a decision over Frankie Regan of Butte and Idaho Falls at the end of 12 rounds of fighting. Nelson won the bout when Regan walked out of the ring in the sixth round after a series of blows which was trailing Regan otherwise, the best that Nelson deserved was a draw. Regan carried four rounds, Nelson three, while five were even.

The main bout was a series of tragedies and comedies. A comparatively small house, was on hand to see the series of scraps but they got a good run for their money, even though there were the usual mix-ups that go with boxing.

The first serious comedy stunt took place in the fourth round when Regan backed to the ropes and Nelson rushed in a clinch. One of the posts gave way and it was necessary to take out time. When the ropes had been fixed the boys displayed more jazz than in any other of the rounds with one exception. As the round ended Nelson sent in three rights to the face of Regan, who was knocked out. Nelson claimed foul. In the next round the stunt with some variations was repeated and Regan pulled off his glove and stepped out of the ring. At that moment boxing commissioner Richards called to him but he came back. The efficiency of the state law was proven then when Richards announced that unless Regan continued fighting he would be disqualified. Nelson rightly protested continuing the fight, as he deserved the decision under all rules, but agreed to go on.

The boxing judge, who was a four-round bout between Kid, Stancher and Jack Noffs, Noffs weighed 125 pounds and Stancher 118. The first round was even with the other three being given a well-earned decision. Regan boys all some clever boxing that pleased the fans.

The second fight was advanced in place of the scheduled preliminary between Ray Cunningham and Wallowing Walkback of Butte. Cunningham having failed to show.

Kid Rose, a brother of Al Nelson's, and Billy Woodhead, a brother of Regan's, had a scrap last week. Woodhead was in the first stanza. Last night he was treated to the same medicine himself. The fight was for blood with Rose leading up to the time it was ended. Woodhead was cautious from the start and Regan was not slow to take the end of the round. Rose rushed Woody to the ropes. A right, saying landed flush on Rose's jaw and he went down like a felled tree. He was practically out but reached for the ropes and got to his feet. Woody was a bit of a fighter and knocked him down again, clinched, dropped his hands and reached for the ropes. Woodhead set himself and sent a crashing right, flush to the chin. It was certain for Rose.

The usual order of things was changed when Kid Koppenberger of Butte agreed to meet Walkback and the fight, four rounds, was staged after the main bout. Koppenberger was given a well-earned decision although the bout was more or less pantomime. Walkback tried to stage a knockout, flopping in the seventh without letting his, but the stunt was too plain and he got up on being ordered to do so by the crowd.

Following is the story of the main bout by round:

Third.—Nelson forces the fighting. Lands several on the back of head without damage. Both take it easy. Nelson misses two. Regan makes monkey of Nelson by sidestepping from the ropes. Nelson forces things, getting better of exchange. Regan fails to get away from ropes and is heated in exchange. Nelson forced into neutral corner. Even.

Sixth.—Both take it easy. Nelson sends left to body and right lands on back of head. Round moves slowly. Regan gets best of exchange in which neither are damaged. Regan sends left and right to the face as round ends. Nelson's right lands after bell is sounded. Even.

Seventh.—Nelson forces fighting. Nelson gets best of an exchange in mid-ring and repeats as Regan seeks the ropes for a side-step. Regan sends two lefts to the body and one to the face. Nelson best of exchange to the ropes. Nelson straightens Regan with rights to the face. Even.

Eighth.—Nelson starts headlike. Sends left to face twice then right. At best of close quarters exchange. Regan sends in several to the body. Regan sends right to the face. Al gets best of exchange of lefts. Regan seeks cover in a clinch. Al's round.

Tenth.—This was the hardest and best round of the fight. Nelson started activities by a left to the stomach and a right to the head. As they came into a clinch a lung left to the nose starts Al's nose running claret. Nelson looks serious as Regan repeated hits him on the nose and jaw. Nelson's mouth started bleeding with two glancing upper cuts in a clinch. Regan sends his left to the face twice as the round ends, followed by right to the body. Regan's round by a wide margin.

Eleventh.—Nelson comes back strong, forcing Regan to the ropes but is baffled again as Regan nukes him

teases. Regan's round by a slight margin.

COUNTRY PRESS IS FIGHTING FOR LIFE

Courland Smith Tells Congress of the Troubles of Small Town Editor and Publisher.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The picture of the country press, which includes the little four-page paper from back home, fighting with its back to the wall and almost ready to go under because of the print paper shortage, was presented to a senate investigating committee by Courland Smith of New York, president of the American Press association.

Together with his picture of the troubles of the country editor, Mr. Smith made the direct charge that of late yesterday, Mr. King is not in the print paper market had been cornered and that the print paper interests had conspired to regulate, protect and so that prices might continue to mount. In the face of this situation, show a success. Mr. King is now head of the Idaho Power company in Idaho, and with his headquarters in Boise.

half of them would be wiped out of existence.

While other witnesses had charged that the market had been cornered, Mr. Smith, whose association largely supplies the country press, was the first to allege a conspiracy to regulate output and prices.

The federal trade commission's findings in its investigation of the newspaper situation were sent today to the department of justice.

Chairman Mordock would not discuss the report further than to say he believed it embraced the details of a "close examination by the commission's representatives."
