Candidates and Managers Reach Chicago in Pre-Convention Clamor

CHICAGO, May 31.—In open session today, the republican national committee began deciding contests of state delegations to the convention but made slow progress.

In what Chairman Hays characterized as "judicial rather than political decisions" the committee then reported delegates from Arizona, Kansas and Alabama.

At today's rate of progress Chairman Hays estimated that the contest would not be closed before Friday.

Today's sessions will not be fast as the strength of any candidate ranged principally about the questions of regularity, although the race issues of the day.

In all decisions, the committee was guided on questions of law and precedent by Charles B. Warren of Detroit, national committeeman from Michigan.

At the Florida contest, the regularly reported delegates from Arizona, Kansas and Alabama were given priority.

Armed Intervention Possible in Mexico

Inability or Unwillingness to Set Up Stable Government Would Be Basis of Action, Decides Committee

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 31.—Armed intervention in Mexico, should the new forces in control show an inability or unwillingness to set up a stable government more friendly towards Americans, was recommended to the senate today by the foreign relations sub-committee, investigating Mexican affairs.

Should a stable government be established, the committee recommended that full recognition be accorded it and that financial assistance be offered by the United States.

The committee said, however, full recognition should not be given, until a treaty had been entered into guaranteeing the committee's recommendations.

The report of the sub-committee, prepared by Chairman Taft, republished, of New Mexico, was considered by the other committee members.

It probably will be called up later by senate action in approving the committee's recommendations, it was said.

SEES MENACE IN AMBITION OF LEADERS

Pershing's Memorial Day Address Warns of Duty to Warn

TASK SANCTIFIED, MUST BE FINISHED

Nation Celebrates Day in All Parts of Country; Roosevelt Grave Is Banked.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—A plea that American people be not swayed by personal ambition or political expediency, from fulfilling obligations to "less fortunate people who confidently look to us for help" marked the Memorial day address of Gen. John J. Pershing, delivered today in the amphitheater at Arlington national cemetery, where the formal exercises in honor of the day's center.

Must Complete Work. "To the memory of our beloved dead," he said, "we owe a duty to complete the task they assigned. The white crosses in France, standing as symbols of brotherhood in common purpose against militarism and oppression, eloquently cry out to us.

"The appeal that rings in our hearts must not be in vain. Rather let us go forward in the will-being of our fellows, as the vital aim are awaken the life spirit which made possible our nation's existence. We are full duty as patriotic citizens, may we meet our obligations and give encouragement and comfort to less fortunate people who confidently look to us for help.

Urges Preparedness. The general also pleaded for adequate preparedness.

"In this solemn presence," he said, "and you to this day, my countrymen, I pray you to take the burden of our thoughtfulness and be ready to battle without adequate preparation.

A tribute to the allied dead also was paid by the American committee for the Memorial day exercises, during the years of bitter struggle gloriously led in defense of their homes and firesides and who lie yonder across the seas asleep in quiet places beside our own—a mighty host united in death as they were in life.

A few British dead, some of whom died while serving here during the war, asleep at Arlington, were not forgotten. Lady Geddes, wife of Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador placed wreaths on the graves.

Heroes of earlier wars shared the nation's Memorial day tributes with those who fell in the world war. In doing their honor, grizzled civil war veterans mingled with khaki clad foreign veterans to the Arlington national cemetery, where for the first time the graves of those who fell in France were decorated.

The memorial amphitheater, there, was fully utilized, was used for the first time.

Throughout the city other exercises included services at the main mass of the battleship Maine in honor of the Maine dead, unveiling of a monument to Rear Admiral Charles Wilkes, discoverer of the antarctic continent, and the placing of a wreath on the grave of Rear Admiral Peary, discoverer of the North Pole by the Explorer club.

CHEVROLET WINS 500 MILE RACE

Spectacular Race On Indianapolis Speedway Proves Thriller in Abundance.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—In the most spectacular finish witnessed on the Indianapolis speedway, Gaston Chevrolet, driving an American designed car, rode to victory in the eighth renewal of the 500 mile auto mobile race today before a record breaking crowd of 125,000.

In addition to winning $20,000 first prize, Chevrolet also won approximately $5,600 more in lap prize competition and cash prizes offered by accessory firms.

All thrills came in the last 30 miles when Ralph de Palma, the favorite, with a lead of 10 miles, seemed certain of winning. But with victory within grasp, his car burst into flames on the north turn of the two and a half mile course and shortly after the car driven by Boyer, who led the first 250 miles, skidded, overturned and crashed into a brick retaining wall a few feet away.

The accident which snatched victory from De Palma was ironic. The leading Italian was racing at breakneck speed when a sheet of flames licked its way into his gasoline tank. While his mechanician heroically fought the flames, De Palma, broken hearted, ran to the pit a mile away for a fresh supply of gasoline.

Undaunted, De Palma resumed the grind, but after going another mile his car caught fire again. Aided by his mechanician, De Palma pluckily extinguished the flames and managed to finish the race in fifth. He was given a tremendous ovation.

Misfortune trailed De Palma from the start. He had favored position at the pole, but the bomb of the starter caught him unawares, and he was among the last to get away.

Joe Boyer, held the lead 250 miles, closely pursued by Jean Chassagne, Gaston Chevrolet, and Itone Thomas. With the race half over, Boyer finds his first stop at the pit and De Palma, who led the lead, which had maintained until the fire.

There were half a dozen accidents, but the drivers and their aids miraculously escaped death. While speeding around a hairpin at 100 miles an hour, Arthur Klein hit the sidewalk, smashing his car so badly it was withdrawn. Louis Chevrolet, designer of the car, which his brother pilot to victory, also was in the mishap. His car skidded across what is now the connection broke Chevrolet's back was injured and he withdrew.

Ronoco Scales smashed up two cars. He wrecked his own entry in skidding off the track and while driving as a relief for Bennett Hill, a steering knuckle broke and he crashed for the second time.

Chevrolet drove a consistent race and never was below fourth place. Most of the time he was either in second or third. He trailed De Palma from the 500 mile point and took the lead when De Palma had to stop.

Four winners of former races tried to repeat. Rene Thomas and De Palma, 1914 and 1915 winners respectively, came in within the range of De Palma. Guss, who won in 1912, was forced out after 545 miles, had engine trouble and quit after 165 miles.

Of the 23 cars starting only 11 finished. The others were forced out by engine trouble or accidents. Local men-hants donated $20,000 to be distributed as aided money, $100 to the winner of each of the 200 laps. Of this money Boyer won $3,500; De Palma, $2,500; Gaston Chevrolet, $1,700; Rene Thomas, $700 and Art Klein and Jeanne Chassagne, $100 each.

White's Third Dream of World Title

There is a lot of dream stuff tied up in that brief little announcement that eluded over the night the other day. It said Charlie White was going to get another crack at the lightweight title at Bonton Harbor, Mich., on July 10. The same title he claimed when Willie Pichie was champion and later when Freddie Welsh hid it.

White, who is hitherto out on his feet and the championship was within his grasp but he didn't follow his goal. The same thing happened at Colorado Springs in 1916 in his 29-round fight with Welsh. White didn't finish his job that would have brought him the title with its big purses and its moving picture contracts.

Since then the boxing colony has never taken White seriously as a contender. His opportunity to become a champion had passed him by. Before his last Welsh he had developed a wonderful left hook that was counted from as fast as they came to him. But if Charlie took his perch to Colorado with him, he left it there in the ring with Freddie.

Thus far the Argentine government, which was unable to get a renewal of the loan in the United States, has made public only the fact that Great Britain has agreed to take care of the obligation in behalf of Argentina and La Plata, the government organ, has praised the transaction as an evidence of Great Britain's friendship to Argentina and her good intentions toward future relations of the two countries.

SWELL OF STORMS SWEEPS SHORES

Sir Auckland Geddes, Marquis of Dufferin, Threatening Civilization Says Europe is Affair.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador, speaking tonight at the 99th annual commencement of George Washington university warned America against encroachment in the social "displacement" of Europe.

"So far the swell of the storm centered in Europe, laps your coast," he declared. "Yet your daily press is already filled with news of strikes, which is vaguely called industrial unrest. We all know it was your tradition to keep clear of European entanglements."

ROOSEVELT'S LOVE OF BOOKS SHOWN

Amusing and interesting, besides as well as some are discussed.

NEW YORK, May 29.—President Roosevelt's love for books, and his scholarly appreciation of the work of authors and painters, was shown by the 150,000 letters which he wrote during his public career, is shown in the ninth installment of his biography, Joseph Bucklin Bishop, in the June issue of Scribner's Magazine out here tomorrow.

Amusing and interesting, besides as well as those more serious and critical, the article says, were written by Colonel Roosevelt to Brandegee Matthews, Joel P. Spingarn, Booth Tarkenton, Owen Wister, J. Marcus Slingo, Frederick MacMonnies, Augustus Saint-Gaudens, James Paul Rhodes, Lord Morley, M. J. Cressard, Frederick Scott Oliver, Arthur J. Hall, four Henry Bordeaux, Charles Scribner and Robert Hildner.

A critic of Roosevelt had written to Mr. Wister protesting against the colonel's characterization of "Thomas Paine as a dirty little atheist," declaring it was an unpardonable violation of "one of the greatest men of his time." Mr. Wister forwarded the letter to Mr. Roosevelt, to which the latter responded:

(Personal.)
Sept. 25, 1901.

"Dear Bill:
"This is delightful. I ought not to have used the exact word, atheist. He admitted the existence of an unknown god, but denied there was a god of the Christians. As to whether he was dirty or not, it is a mere matter of private judgment. I was recording in the sentence the fact that he had stayed several weeks in bed without getting out for any purpose, and that as a consequence a syphilis in 1872 was physically clear by comparison."

"Faithfully yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
17 President Street,
Washington, D. C."

The enclosed in another letter, scoring a rather sensational novel dealing with the West and published in 1901, said he had grown to have "a horror of the reformer who in half education and half fanaticism, and who in his own cause is over-enthusiastic." Explaining his opposition to the entrance into the United States in 1908 of the Prince and Princess of Serbia, he said: "People who call themselves anarchists, no matter how they qualify the word by calling themselves 'reformers,' by just so much add to the strength of the worst and most vicious elements of our civilization."
"I have always been grateful to you and have not forgotten you," he wrote to Frederick MacMonnies in 1904, "for it is a big asset on the nation's credit side that it should have produced you both." To James Ford Rhodes' statement that "in no quarter in the world all are one side, and the wrong all on the other" he took exception in these words: "I fully believe in and appreciate not only the valor of the South, but its devotion to the right as it sees the right; and yet I think that on every ground—that is, on the question of the Union, on the question of slavery, on the question of state rights—it was wrong with a fully justified and universal right."

ATTEMPT TO CHECK LAZINESS AMONG WORKERS

HORTON—Standardization of quality and quantity of work in the clothing industry with a view to checking laziness as well as undue speed of production is one of the aims of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and the cooperation of the manufacturers is hoped for by the union, according to the general secretary of the clothing workers, Joseph Schlossberg. The plan which is in the hands of the general executive board of the organization is regarded as a new departure in the management of labor.

The general executive board will make a study of the market conditions in each large city and then invite the conference of the manufacturers for the purpose of agreeing upon a scale of work. It is planned to establish a standard of quantity and quality that must be performed for the maximum pay, and there is to be a lower standard of quantity and quality with a corresponding rate of pay for the worker who cannot reach the first standard.

In the past the workers have claimed that they have been speeded up too much by the manufacturers and have met that issue by fixing an arbitrary limit upon production in certain fashions, while some manufacturers have been contending that the women in the trade have not been doing a honest amount of work for the pay. These work tend to drive the workers too fast, according to their own view of it and, everywhere discouraged by the unions, say by the week, regardless of the amount of work performed, has not been satisfactory to the manufacturers.

FARM POOLS ARE TO BE LEGITIMATE

House Passes Bill Legalizing Combinations for Sale of the Products of the Soil.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 31.—By a vote of 233 to 23 the house today passed and sent to the senate the bill permitting farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen or fruit growers to combine for the collective marketing and sale of their own products notwithstanding anti-trust laws.

The measure was drafted by Chairman Volstead of the house judiciary committee as a substitute for the Capper-Herberman bill and similar measures to legalize collective bargaining by agricultural producers.

Debate developed sharp division of opinion, supporters of the bill declaring it would give farmers and other producers an opportunity to negotiate a fair price for their products. Opponents asserted it would increase the cost of living and that it was unjust legislation.

Limitations included in the bill, said by its supporters, to be designed to exclude from its benefits all but actual farmers, provide that the combination that may be organized must not pay more than 5 per cent dividend annually on capital stock, and that every member must have one vote, irrespective of his invested capital.

Control of the combination under the bill would be placed in the sec-

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandma's Old Favorite, Rejoice of Sale Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sgao Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. HAVE NARROW ESCAPES.

SAN FRANCISCO.—After having been attacked by Malay bandits, pursued by Buddhist fanatics and robbed of their last penny, Henry G. Roth, a cartoonist, and George Wortz, magazine writer, arrived here from the Far East recently.

At Hangon the Americans attempted to enter a Buddhist temple without removing their shoes. They said they were thrown out and a Briton in the same party had his nose slashed off.

Malay bandits at Singapore held them up, and Roth was slugged with a Malay kris, his chin being cut to the bone. At Saigon on a French steamer their stateroom was robbed and money and supplies valued at $19,000 taken, leaving them "broke."

There are 70 such homes in the Poudre-Loch national forest, near here, at present and it is expected several more will be erected this year.
