

DEVIL CREEK LAD BITTEN BY COYOTE

Will Be Given Post-mortem Treatment—
Animal's Head Sent to State
Bacteriologist.

Post-mortem treatment will be given to the 14 year old son of A. S. Reynolds of Devil Creek, who was bitten by a pup coyote last Wednesday, said Dr. W. A. Sullivan yesterday evening. The coyote pup was loose about the ranch when it bit the boy. It was then confined by Mr. Reynolds and the day following it showed symptoms of convulsions and was decapitated, the head being sent to the office of the animal husbandry department. After receiving the head, Dr. Sullivan forwarded it to Dr. Paul Mader, state bacteriologist at Boise to ascertain if the brain contained germs. It is thought the animal had rabies, but until an examination of the brain is held the facts will be unknown. Several cattle throughout the district have died lately of some malady and it is said that possibly they had been attacked by a diseased coyote or dog. Dr. John P. Coughlin advised that the lad must be given the post-mortem treatment so as to obviate further worry on the part of the lad's parents. Rabies cases have been prevalent around the Rogerson district lately and it is held that possibly some animal had wandered to Devil Creek, which is but 15 miles south of there. Dr. Sullivan said that dogs after biting a person should not be immediately killed as that has tendency to destroy the material in the animal's brain, making it impossible for the one analyzing it to ascertain if rabies were noted. After an animal has bitten a person the animal should be placed in a safe place and watched to see if any symptoms develop and then the head should be removed and packed in powdered lye and shipped to the local office of the department of agriculture to prevent disease. It should be said, to allow the veterinarians to ascertain if germs bodies are in the brain.

DEAKE RESIDENCE IS ENTERED DOOR SMASHED BY HATCHET

The home of J. W. C. Deake was entered some time during the week while Mr. Deake was away on a fishing trip. A ceiling window was forced on the north side of the house and the door leading into the second basement room was broken open. In trying to open the door from the basement to the upstairs a hatchet was used, breaking open one panel. The hatchet was left by the door. Nothing was disturbed in the house.

FILER LEGION POST FLAG PRESENTATION

Will appear in full uniform; Flag
Silk, Mounted on Gold Staff—
Ceremony in Band Stand.

FILED, June 5.—Public presentation of the national and American Legion colors to the Filer post will take place tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in the band stand at the corner of Main street and Yakima avenue. Local members of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the American Legion will appear in full uniform. It was announced yesterday evening. Two committees from the Legion and Rhodan organizations have completed arrangements and at the last session of the Legion held last Wednesday in the city hall final instructions were given for the event. The flags which will be presented have been on display in the windows of the C. A. Lewis mercantile store. These are of silk, mounted on gold staffs and claimed to be the choicest that could be procured. On account of the delay in getting them here the public flag presentation to the American Legion post has been necessarily delayed. H. J. Weaver promoted the movement to make the gift of the flags to the Filer Legion post. It is said that possibly Hal G. Blue will be the principal speaker for the occasion.

Unfavorable weather conditions prevent the American Legion will have a color guard and color bearers. It is said, and the ceremony is expected to be one of great impressiveness.

ROBINSON'S

Regarding the Actual Value of a Dollar

WHAT IS A DOLLAR WORTH?—(Depends on the viewpoint.)

WHAT IS A DOLLAR'S WORTH?—(Depends on the point of view.)

If new goods to the value of one dollar are damaged to the extent of two-thirds of their value and they could be made use of only at considerable cost, how much are they worth? Surely not 33 cents on the dollar of their original value.

I am reminded of a lady who purchased an article at a sale for 49 cents, that if perfect would have been worth probably one dollar. In the crowd her silk dress skirt was torn from the waistband and her black feather boa was torn apart. She told me the loss was twenty-five dollars. Just to buy something at a sale. Do you think it was cheap?

If I could trade the stock of goods in this store, figured at one hundred cents on the dollar, for four times the quantity in goods that had been damaged by smoke and water, do you think I would trade—do you? And yet this would be figuring the damaged goods at 25 cents on the dollar.

If you come here and buy a dollar's worth of new, fresh goods that are desirable in every way—the kind you want in the quantity you want, and do it comfortably and satisfactorily, and then to make it all the better, buy them at the liberal reductions we are making at this big closing out sale, then it is really worth while.

In the Realm of Sport

LONDON, June 5.—In the windows of the European office of the Canadian Pacific railway, Charles Cross, in displayed a handsome mounted silver shield to be presented to the army and navy of United States of America by the Imperial Service Boxing association.

Emblazoned around the shield is the American eagle, the Stars and Stripes, the arms of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and the overseas dominions.

Designed by Harold Stabler, the trophy, which will be despatched to the United States in the course of a few days is inscribed:

"To the army and navy of the United States of America from the forces of the British Empire 1919 this trophy is given in admiration of the sporting spirit in which the Americans entered and fought in the boxing tour, nament, London, December, 1918."

NEW YORK, June 5.—The number of runs and hits in the major leagues has been affected little by the new pitching rule adopted this year, hindering the "spit ball" and other "tricks" deliveries, according to a comparison of figures for the first month of this season with the same period last year. Higher scores were expected by some followers of the game but the increase in the American league was slightly more than one run a game (or half a run for each team) while in the National a gain of one-tenth of a run was made. An increase of about nine-tenths of a hit a game was made in each league.

The National league game average was 7.7 runs and 17.68 hits 1919, and 7.6 runs and 16.75 hits in 1919. The respective totals in the younger league were 8.64 runs and 17.73 hits to 7.6 runs and 16.88 hits.

Errors, which often were attributed to the "spit ball" interfering with fielding, were slightly more numerous this year despite the abolition of its use.

Totals for the two periods compare as follows:

	1920	1919
National	89	88
Games	85	60
Runs	1,665	1,470
Hits	297	294
Errors	1920	1919
Games	90	87
Runs	778	662
Hits	1,467	1,467
Errors	281	269

Those Good Brakes

are aided by special steels

Brakes seem to be one of the overlooked features of a motor car. In a Maxwell they have had the extreme of attention.

For instance, a road engineer, in about 500,000 miles of experimental driving, has constantly tested and studied them.

That is why you can check the speed of a Maxwell in an instant and bring it to a standstill either by foot brake or hand brake.

Special steels in a Maxwell are largely responsible. They give it extra strength in wear and endurance, but they make the car light in weight.

Thus when you call on it to halt, the brakes are not required to "wrestle" with superfluous weight, and the momentum of the car is easily stopped.

These are steels made to Maxwell's own formulae. They equal, pound for pound, the steels in any car built. But no car has steels just like them.

In a large measure they contribute to Maxwell's growing prestige, as expressed in figures like these: nearly 400,000 now in use; and 100,000 more for the year 1920.

CO-OPERATING READERS.

Books cost money, even those which are placed on the shelves of public libraries for the free use of the community. That is why small libraries, while carrying on a good work and supplying the general demands of the average reader, so often fail to have what the specializing reader wants. There is an opportunity here for public spirited citizens to help out.

About 50 attorneys in Long Beach, Cal., have joined forces to establish at the local public library a co-operative law library. They have contributed law books from their private libraries. Some of these attorneys have sent in as many as 200 volumes. Those contributing to this co-operative library are allowed to take books home for five-day periods. The general public is free to consult any of the books any time at the library.

By thus pooling their individual resources they greatly increase them. By making use of the library facilities already available they save expense and trouble. The books are cared for and checked up by library experts just as are the other volumes in the library. By extending the advantages of their co-operative scheme to the general public they are performing a valuable service. If at any time one of these lawyers move to another city he is still the owner of his volumes and can take them with him. Their places on the shelves would probably be filled soon by other lawyers.

It is an excellent idea, and one which any group of professional persons or other who own books on special subjects might well take up. It would greatly augment the usefulness of the public library with no additional expense to anybody.

THE STANDARD OF PROFITS.

Profiteering comes back, after all, to the changed standards of business profits. It is the fault not of a few men or groups of men, but of the majority. The trouble is that nearly all business men have come to expect a far higher percentage of profit on their investment or their turn-over than they used to be satisfied with before the war.

Reports of sources of corporations for the last three years show that, instead of the 10 per cent or so of net profit they formerly made, they have recently been averaging 30 or 35 per cent. It seems fair to say that, in general, profits have been multiplied by three during the war and since.

And let it be repeated that the gain has not been due, generally to increased volume of business, which would be legitimate, but due to arbitrary fixing of higher selling prices in order to create and maintain this increased per centage of profit.

It is not only big business that has been doing this. Little business has been following the pernicious example, so far as it dared. And labor likewise has been following it, so far as it could, demanding pay that would allow, over and above living expenses, two or three times the net profit, or savings, that were possible before the war.

Thus few standard of profits will have to be revised sharply downwards before we can get back to anywhere near old-time prices.

A French statesman says the French war debt can be paid in 40 years. Any nation that can be cheerful about that has courage.

According to an Italian scientist more suicides occur between the ages of 15 and 25 than at any other period of life.

Black, green, brown and white angora, as well as the yellow variety, is sometimes found.

ROYAL RUSSIANS
COME WITH CREW

Thirteen Reach America As Officers and Workmen on Steamer John Land—Identity Unknown.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 5.—Thirteen Russians, signed on as officers and members of the crew of the American steamship John Land which arrived here today from Copenhagen and reported to be either escaped members of the official family of the former emperor of Russia, Nicholas Romanoff, or former high officials of the Russian navy. The appearance of the men indicated that they were above the positions they were filling, one being first officer of the ship, one a boatswain and the other members of the crew and deck crew.

Efforts to interview them were prevented by ship line officers. Only a few questions were exchanged, but their bearing and answers, delivered in good English, indicated they were not average Russian sailors. Local custom and immigration officials professed to know nothing about them, but it was reported they had signed on the John Land at Copenhagen with the knowledge and consent of the United States government. It was also said that the entire party will soon go to Washington.

One of the party was declared by sailors of the John Land to be a member of the Romanoff family, which the Russians did not deny when questioned by them.

Others are believed to be high officers who had escaped from Russia following the revolution and had made their way to Denmark where they have been in hiding.

Their ages ranged from 18 to 45 years.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 6.—It cost $1.70 per ballot cast to hold the primary election here, April 23 last, at which the people expressed their preference for president and chose delegates to the national convention and also named presidential electors. Such are the figures prepared by a local county official. About 50,000 votes were cast in the state and it is thought the election cost at least $100,000.

PLANTHEDGE GARDEN YEARS

GROWTH OF BITTER ROOT

MISSOULA, Mont.—The trees of the Plathedge (Selling) on the annual pilgrimage from the recreation in search of the roots of the bitter root plant, which the month of the valley south of Missoula recently while the field presented a colorful display of pinked squaw and poppies satisfied the harvest of herbs. The root is highly prized by the Plathedge tribe. It is gathered by the squaws in large quantities, dried, crushed and pulverized and stored away for the rest of the year.

JACKSON LAKE STORAGE

AND PRECIPITATION SHOWN

According to the United States reclamation service at Burley, the report from Moran, Wyo., at the outlet of Jackson lake reservoir shows the following conditions of the Jackson lake storage: On May 25, 1920, there was 331,890 acre feet, while on the same date a year ago it showed 592,430. For the week ending May 29, 1920, results were 56,920 acre feet, and for the same weeks a year ago it showed 88,430. The precipitation for the week ending May 29, 1920, 0.00 were noted and for the same week a year ago it showed 0.02. From September 1, 1920, to May 29, 1920, it showed 18.67, while for the same period a year ago 11.06 inches were recorded.

Compared with 1919 there is now much more snow in the watershed tributary to Jackson lake reservoir and the outlook for storage is reported favorable. At the present time it is said the reservoir is filling at the rate of about 10,000 acre feet a day.

CANT EXJOIN & ROOSTER.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 5.—The rooster's early morning crow can not be restrained by court order.

Such was the decision of Judge W. W. Harwell, in district court here, after hearing a petition from Dr. C. F. Light, a former alderman of this city seeking an injunction to restrain a cock-polluting rooster which he said came from his neighbor's house and yard.

CONTESTS TO GO UP TO DELEGATES

Convention to Be Advised to Decide Validity of Action of Republican National Committee.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 5.—Delegates to the Republican national convention which have furnished spectacular features of the pre-convention party were finished tonight by the resolution of the national committee, which decided advantage to Governor Lowden.

Although on actual instructions of the 137 contested delegates, General Wood received 12 and Governor Lowden 7 with 116 uncommitted, the reported leanings of the uncommitted delegates favor the Illinois governor.

The committee in the two Missouri seats refused to seat any contestants. All of the 11 district delegates from Virginia aligned with the Simpson faction were seated. The committee rejected earnest pleas of negro delegates for seats and also decided separate organization contests in the third and eighth districts in favor of the Simpson faction.

According to the reports of the candidates favored by the delegates seated, the 135 delegates involved were distributed as follows: Wood, 18; Lowden, 65; Johnson, 4; Andrew Pritchard of North Carolina, 17; unattached and scattering, 21, with two Missouri contests resolved entirely.

All of the contests are expected to be appealed to the convention credentials committee and subject to revision by the convention itself. The final day's proceedings in disposition of the contests which have kept the committee on the job for a solid week were marked by an attack on Senator Moses of New Hampshire for his charges that "negro agitator" tactics had been employed against Wood delegates and by unanimous adoption of a resolution looking to re-organization of the republican party in the "solid south."

The committee's decisions, left the actual instructed lineup on the convention temporary roll, without regard to uncommitted delegates known leanings as follows:

Wood 124; Johnson 112; Lowden 72; Harding 39; McInerney 14; Spaulding 14; Sutherland 14; George Pritchard of North Carolina, 22.

The resolution for re-organization of party affairs in the south followed a bitter battle between white and negro delegates during disposal of 43 contests of which there were 23 from Texas, 16 from Virginia and five from Georgia. In nearly all, the negroes charged and the white delegates denied, radical discrimination.

Despite the arguments of the negro contestants, the committee seated all the successful results, on the delegates from both Texas and Virginia.

During the day all the Georgia cases were disposed of and Wood delegates were seated in four of the districts. They included State Chairman Pickett who was opposing the delegation counted in the Lowden column.

In the Texas contest the delegation headed by Colonel R. H. B. Green, son of the late Hettie Green, was thrown out and the delegation headed by National Committeeman McGregor were seated.

lobbies in and out of the inner circles of the campaign managers' offices, they can discern the course of the tide and predict with certainty to the folks back home what is going to happen. Any predictions being made at this time are the result of analysis, deductions and opinion rather than information. If there is a single man in Chicago who knows what the republican national convention is going to do, he hasn't appeared with any proof of his knowledge.

One straw which would show the way the wind blows would be a caucus of uncommitted delegates. About the only place in Chicago or large enough in which to hold it is the Coliseum itself and the indications are that the first caucus of uncommitted ones would be held there some day next week when preliminary business having been disposed of, the clerk begins to call the roll.

A week after information made it a point today to ask each of the personal managers what the week of preliminaries had brought forth. They all gave the same answer. It was "There were some things going on under the surface but they haven't been disclosed yet."

And, according to the best indications, what has been going on has been an attempt to get all elements to agree on a "solid south" plan and at the same time estimate the real strength and staying qualities of the various forces so that plans might be made accordingly.

Wednesday will be exhibition days at the convention. Organization will have to be perfected as a matter of course and while the delegates are being entertained by the big brass band up in the lobby, and by keynote speeches, and the best orators and entertainers, the party line, the resolution committee, working night and day at one of the hotels, will be striving to bring out the best of an acceptable agreement and the various whips will have their souls out recording the preferences and leanings of the uncommitted delegates. They will also be keeping a close eye on the instructed delegates to make sure that they do not break away. In some cases already the Johnson, Wood and Lowden forces among themselves are claiming the same delegates.

The adjustment that follows the second or third ballot probably will find the convention ready to go over the top and man of the next day will be the zero hour. That will be the time to be prepared for surprises. By then it is expected that the large delegations from the most populous states will have assessed the strength of the candidates, the sticking qualities of their delegations and be ready to come in with an agreement among themselves on some one of the candidates or possibly a dark horse, who can be put over.

Tonight while the boards of strategy are turning over their plans and the fighting forces are undergoing a last minute inspection, the convention will surround the hotels and on the streets is gathering momentum. The delegates and visitors are pouring in on every train. Equipped with cheer leaders, song leaders and almost every other contrivance human and otherwise, they are likely to appeal to the emotions of an assembly of 10,000 people, they all hope that at the psychological moment they will be the center of a winning wave.

Old-time convention habits were their heads at the modern ideas that go nowadays, with boosting a presidential boom. There used to be spellbinders, flag wavers and torchlight parades. Now there are brigades of ballad singers, piano players, dancers, glad handlers, social service workers and any number of persons who might be found desirable under Webster's definition of factious extraordinary.

SAYS THEY'RE PUSSYFOOTING.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Reporting on his inquiry among republican presidential candidates, Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition party, said tonight that most of them were "pussyfooting" on the prohibition issue.

Governor Frank O. Lowden has come the nearest to making a statement of real meaning of any of the candidates, he said. Mr. Hinshaw's visit to presidential row.

The prohibition chairman reported that General Leonard Wood told him he was waiting for the platform committee to act. Mr. Hinshaw made several calls at the Johnson headquarters without result, he said.

"There seems to be few outstanding leaders with reference to the prohibition issue," said Mr. Hinshaw's statement. "We are hoping that before the republican convention proceeds far it will forget the indefinite ones and seize upon some one who is hopeful for the success of the national prohibition amendment."

WILL VOTE, NOT TALK.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Hoover headquarters tonight authorized the announcement that according to present plans a nominating speech for Herbert Hoover would be dispensed with but if it were decided to have one made it would be delivered by Nathan L. Miller of Syracuse, one of the New York delegates.

The strategy of the Hoover managers, it was said, was to depend on the caucus falling to elect a majority for any candidate and to place Mr. Hoover in nomination, probably without a formal speech, at which they consider to be the proper moment.

The name of Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts will be placed before the convention by Speaker F.

H. Gillette of the house of representatives.

JOHNSON BOOSTERS ARRIVE

CHICAGO, June 5.—The Golden Poppies special, with its carload of California's favorite flower on ice, rolled in from the west tonight, bringing 150 Illinois Johnson boosters from the Pacific coast.

Senator Johnson greeted the Californians at the close of the parade through the loop district and assured them of his confidence in victory in the convention next week.

"It's just the same old fight you have known year after year in California," said Senator Johnson. "There is all the power, all the influence, and all the wealth on the other side, but just as we have always had in California so we have here, the people on our side. We are going to demonstrate it next week."

UNCLE SAM SAYS TOTS MUST BE FED

"Holy Ghost and Us" Society Is Ordered to Cease Starving Children in Maine.

By LOUISE A. JACOBI.
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.
SHILOH, Me.—The "Holy Ghost and Us" society, an strange cult as over-weathered the ridicule and antagonism of an unfriendly world, is facing complete disintegration by reason of the stern order issued by federal authorities.

"Devotees of the faith" have been commanded to eat. That is, they have been ordered to feed their children, which means, that they must till the soil and no longer can subsist on the meager rations specified by the rules of their religion. Deported by their founder and religiously complained against by the neighboring farmers, who charge that children undergo slow starvation as part of their religious training, the colony is a wan and spiritless shadow of what it was when the first of fanaticism burned high among its members.

It is predicted that no more graves will be dug in the cult's burying place next winter, when the silted edge of Maine "mortifies the flesh" of the fasting faithful. They will have scattered, poor of body and of purse, back to earthly ways and works. Shiloh is a scant, hundred miles from Portland, with its half dozen buildings and thirty some little farms that comprise the "University of Truth," home of "The Holy Ghost and Us" society.

Frank Weston Sanford, blue robed prophet, has held a strange emporium over his band for 20 years. A year ago 500 people were, according to federal authorities, all more or less starved and frozen.

The building of "Truth" is the main meeting place. Scattered nearby are the buildings of "Bethesda," "Hosanna," "Mercy" and "Children." In a prominent position is the beautiful home in which Sanford once lived. Twenty years ago Sanford, a Free Baptist minister of Topsham, Me., announced he had been "appointed to do a great thing for the Lord." And the community was started.

"Followers gave up their wealth to eat," he claimed. They lived according to Sanford's teachings, denying themselves most of the comforts of life and refusing medical aid, believing doctors emissaries of the devil. Sanford embarked on a "God sent mission" around the world on the "Coronet," a vessel bought by the colony. He returned to Portland and purchased another boat "The Kingdom," and the two vessels set sail on another trip. "The Kingdom" was wrecked off the coast of Africa and the "Coronet" picked up her passengers.

Strange tales came of other ships being signaled and asked for food. Sanford's only son died of privation, and the "Coronet" returned to Portland.

Eight of the crew had died of scurvy and Sanford was sent to federal prison for seven years. He took up his activities again, but now resides in Boston, working on a "new great thing," he announces, leaving his old flock to shift for itself.

Only a few pale faced children were on the grounds when I went to Shiloh. A knock at the door of the "Truth" building brought a poorly clad, and eyed woman.

"Who is in charge here?" she asked. She shook her head.

"Who is in authority to talk for the community?" Another shake of the head—but no sound.

"Who can tell me about the rules for joining the community?"

Her face brightened and she motioned me to enter. The long living room was cheerless, unheated and uncomfortable looking.

Five minutes of conversation only resulted in "yes," or "no" from her. Finally she went to the window and beckoned a man.

He entered intelligent-looking and rather shabby. He said his name was John Gilmore.

He claimed there had been a change in policy at the community and that there were no longer any regulations in regard to food. He declared that reports that members existed on pea soup were exaggerated, but finally admitted that no old persons, unless extremely healthy, were admitted to the colony because of hardships.

Then there began a chanting sound upstairs. "A class came down. All kept their eyes downcast, mumbling prayers as they passed out of the building."

"We live absolutely according to the Bible," Gilmore told me.

"While our community is persecuted by outsiders, victory will be ours in the end."

Then he became silent, ignoring further questioning, and mumbling prayers.

Other members said the actual head of the community now was A. J. Hood.

CARDINAL GIBBONS URGES

NATIONAL NEIGHBORS' DAY

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Cardinal Gibbons, through the national committee on community organization of which Franklin K. Lane is president, has issued a proclamation, suggesting Saturday, June 12, as Neighbor day to develop a spirit of neighborliness and friendliness.

Cardinal Gibbons' proclamation, similar to others by the governors of Ohio, Wyoming, West Virginia and Arkansas, is as follows:

"The celebration of a national neighbors day on June 12 would be a splendid means of promoting local community organization. I regard this kind of organization as an excellent means of breaking down racial and other prejudices, and of teaching men and women in a practical way their duties of Christian charity and helpfulness toward their fellows. It should prove effective in promoting genuine and sympathetic Americanization."

JAMES CARDINAL GIBBONS.

The committee on community organization is responsible for the birth of the idea of neighbor day. It grew out of the national conference on community organization which was held in Washington, March 19 and 20. It is planned to have neighbor day become a nationally recognized day for the purpose of bringing the people, foreign born and native, into closer relationship in order to give them an intimate knowledge of the needs of the community. The sponsors believe that if a real spirit of community interest prevails under the stimulus of a yearly neighbor day on June 12, that no radical propaganda can withstand the welding together of local community organizations.

WOULD SHIELD WORKERS.

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 3.—The Washington state senate, in the address of President William Bouck, was urged today as its convention to embark on a program of banking and manufacturing. THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Out of the more than 3,000,000 Ford cars now in use, about 60% have been sold to farmers. Probably no other one thing has brought to the farm so much of comfort and profit as has the Ford car. It has enlarged the social life, doubled the facilities for marketing, brought the town next door to the farm, multiplied for the farmer the pleasures of living, and by the same token the Ford Touring Car has brought just as much pleasure to the residents of the towns and cities, because it is an every day in the year utility, answering the demand of quick transportation at low expense. A family car without an equal in low cost of operation and maintenance. We solicit your order for one. We have the full line of Ford cars. We carry the genuine Ford Parts, and assure you the best in mechanical service and the most reasonable prices.

INJECTS DUBIOUS QUESTION.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Emanuel De Valera, "president of the Irish republic" on arrival in Chicago from New York immediately announced he would attempt to obtain a plank in the republican platform in favor of the recognition by the United States of the "Irish republic."

"I hope to see this plank adopted in the platform of both parties," Mr. De Valera said. "After this convention is over I shall go to San Francisco to try to get the democrats to adopt it."

NIXON ENDORSED BY GOTHAM WOMEN

Gerny Arrives, Meeting Following Which Another Was Promptly Pledged Support.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon was endorsed for the democratic nomination for president of the United States by a Dolly Madison "breakfast" of the New York Women's democratic tent here today after James W. Gerny, himself a candidate for the nomination, had walked out of the meeting following an admission against going on record for individual candidates.

Subsequent to Mr. Gerny's arrival at the "breakfast" he learned of an eleven hour proposal to endorse Mr. Nixon. He at once arranged to be introduced as the first speaker, and left at noon as he had delivered his address.

Mr. Gerny said:

"I want to congratulate you for the sagacity you have shown in not having endorsed any particular candidate thus far; so that when you vote for the democratic national convention you will be able to do so in accordance with your own judgment and not as a hypocrite for any individual."

He made a plea for support of the Armenian people, by urging that the president be requested to see that they are supplied with necessary arms and ammunition to defend themselves.

Then he closed his address and left the room.

Commenting on the endorsement Mr. Nixon said: "Who wouldn't run if nominated?"

WILL TRY IRRIGATION ON IDAHO LOGGED OFF LANDS

MORCOW, Idaho, June 5.—In order to determine the merits of irrigation in the out-over region of North Idaho, experiments will be carried on at the Sandpoint station in which irrigation to supplement rainfall will be compared with natural rainfall in selected fields. It is believed that this out the northern section of the state there are many small tracts that could be irrigated to advantage although the effect of water upon the sandy loam soils of the region is not well known. The tract selected consists of five acres on the northwest corner of the station. This area has been divided into 20 plots of one-half acre each. Five plots are to be dry-land farmed and five plots are to be irrigated. A crop rotation consisting of clover, oats, potatoes and sunflowers is to be used. In this rotation the clover is to be grown for feed for stock and for its fertilizing benefit and the sunflowers are to be used for silage.
