WOOD FORCES SEE VICTORY IN SKIRMISH

Clean Advantage in Selection of Important Committee Chairmen.

LOWDEN GAINS WITH DRIFT OF CONVERSE

Big Element Playing the Three Leaders Against Each Other for Dark Horse.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 8.—The Wood forces, although the general trend of talk among old-line politicians in toward Lowden, are elated tonight. They won a victory in the principal business transacted.

Instructed Wood delegates won the two most important committee chairmanships—Senator Watson of Indiana for resolutions and Edward D. Duffield of New Jersey, for credentials.

Frank H. Hitchcock was designated by the Wood delegates as their supreme strategist.

"Thinking of the psychological effect of this victory," he said, "when asked where and how he expected Wood to benefit from these steps in organization.

"We controlled the committee against powerful opposition, almost solid until Wood forced it," Mr. Hitchcock added. "So far as increasing our total number of delegates is concerned the selection of Mr. Duffield over Charles H. Innes of Massachusetts, is of small moment. We will make no effort to overturn the work of the national committee on credentials. To do so would prejudice the Wood cause and I have given our forces instructions not to do so. No rough stuff will come from us, but we are glad to be able to show that the majority of the committee on credentials is not against Wood."

"While these developments were taking place the drift of the talk, and it may be nothing more, was toward Lowden."

It was kept going by the old-line party leaders, but whether it is sufficiently potent to affect the delegates who are opposed to Wood or Johnson they do not profess to know themselves. The program, if it can be called, is first to establish to the satisfaction of uninstructed delegates and those only instructed, a commitment to men who have failed to make further headway, that neither Wood nor Johnson can get enough votes. Some of these leaders are said to be willing to put Lowden in the same list.

With less than half of the delegations equipped with instructions which many say do not in any way represent the desire of the men bound by them, the slogan for the Lowden side advocates rapid succession of ballots to produce as quickly as can be done a crackling "drift" of instructed support. Those who are now talking like "an' say" they believe the disintegration will begin with Johnson and Wood forces. It is not clear why they profess not to fear that Lowden will be affected in the same way.

One reason behind the willingness of these Lowden advocates to take all the risks that necessarily accompany efforts to upset instructions is said to be that the supporters of Lowden would be satisfied with any conservative who can be nominated and have harmonious party behind him, whether it be Harding, Sprout, Knox, Coolidge, Hughes or someone who has not yet disposed completely.

"Let's have the test," they say. "No one has any particular advantage to us. If we can't win with Lowden we will try another."

In contrast to Mr. Hitchcock's statement Governor Lowden and Senator Johnson expressed their views of the situation in the following statements:

"The report coming to us today makes us very optimistic and I am entirely satisfied with the situation," said Governor Lowden.

Senator Johnson said:

"I have an abiding confidence in the ultimate result. I feel very certain that this convention, in view of its large majority favorable to Lowden, will be placed on the permanent. The Wood forces gained one rank and file of the republican party."

Georgia vote, however, when the com-

Men would be unwise, even recreant, to the party in their positions as true agents. The committee's action left the Georgia delegation standing unpreserved, but claimed for Lowden off the nomination of General Wood."

Those who are talking for Lowden acknowledge that they want to keep off the nomination of General Wood. The Johnson people, in turn, demand that both the Wood and Lowden delegations are doing everything they can to aid Johnson delegates.

The fight tonight is concentrate in between both the Wood and Johnson forces and turn the gains to Lowden. Whether it will succeed remains for the convention itself to decide.

This, in brief, sums up the situation as it refers to the big three.

"Mr. Hitchcock said he had heard of the claim that Wood delegates would not stick, but he was not alarmed. "They will stick," he said tonight. "Their number will grow until we have enough."

The brief, and outwardly harmonious session of the convention today convinced almost everybody that the big scene is not yet ready. A good deal of preliminary stage managing and rehearsing is going on "in back" and it is obvious that the majority of delegates do not know their lines.

In such a time opening as is expected only when the nomination is cut and dried, there was today not a single demonstration for any candidate—not an evidence of compelling sentiment for any one of them. Obviously everybody was waiting to see what the other fellow could show, waiting for a "hit."

The Arkansas delegation at large, headed by National Committeeman Remmel, were seated by the committee, suspending the action of the national committee. Contests in three Arkansas districts were withdrawn.

The entire Florida delegation on the temporary roll was seated without a hearing, no contestants appearing. Of the eight Floridian delegates six are pledged to Wood and two unpledged, but reported to favor Senator Johnson.

The committee opposed a proposal by Charles D. Warren, counsel for the national committee, to invite its members to the national convention.

The Arkansas contests, brought by negroes charging race discrimination, the committee seated the "regulars."

Late tonight the credentials committee was still at work, hearing appeals from last week's decisions of the national committee.

Practically the same ground was being gone over and the protests were the same. Committee might sit until morning, as no bill committee and committee to nominate to go ahead tomorrow with a permanent roll of delegates.

Action of the national committee is again suspended, but regular for Wood, from the District of Columbia was sustained.

Action of the national committee in refusing to seat either "white" contestants for the two seats of the Fifth Missouri (Kansas City) district because of alleged election frauds was overruled. The credentials committee voted 27 to 20 to seat Roger J. Flick of Kansas City and Jessie L. Martin of Independence, delegates, and Mrs. Jennie M. Fisher and Mrs. Albert J. Reeves of Kansas City, alternates, all uninstructed.

Virtually all of the negroes denied seats by the national committee also were on hand.

Of the 137 credentials decided by the national committee, 101 were approved. Another nine came from Oregon involving the delegate who refuses to vote for Senator Johnson. Despite the senator's victory in the primary was uninterested.

In evidence as the committee hearings began, were Frank H. Hitchcock Wood manager, and other campaign managers.

Resolution Committee Selects Watson as Chairman and Begins Work on National Platform.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 8.—The final job of formulating the national platform was entrusted tonight to a resolution sub-committee of eleven, while the full committee of 53 appointed by the convention was conducting a public hearing for all of those who had something to offer.

Senator Wilson of Indiana, overwhelmingly elected chairman of the committee earlier in the day, followed the usual custom and assumed also the chairmanhip of the sub-committee.

Among the other members named by him were Senator Borah of Idaho, who wants a plank rejecting

Immediately after offering his resignation the committee threw open its doors, but before the hearing had gone far they were again closed, while by unanimous "unanimous" it was decided to put a time limit on all who desired to be heard. On questions where two sides were to be presented the allotment was 15 minutes in all, equally divided, and on all other subjects it was five minutes.

Among those who appeared today and tonight were Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, who advocated an investigation of currency inflation; former Representative Charles N. Fowler of New Jersey, advocating revision of the banking and currency laws; S. P. Glazebrook of Minnesota, who wants price fixing in war time declared in violation of the constitution.

ROBINSON'S

An Opinion Upon the Trend of Business Conditions in America

(By a Well Known Writer in a Trade Publication.)

It is high time that a certain type of American business men cease worrying and take comfort from some plain, easily-discoverable facts.

I am getting a growing conviction that in some commercial quarters pessimism is misguiding as marvelous shrewdness, far-sightedness, conservatism.

I sense a tendency on the part of a few business men here and there to construe present unusual commercial conditions as the inevitable forerunner of panic conditions.

Also, I can put my finger on what I consider a very stupid inclination among certain thoughtful persons to shrug their shoulders at any mild suggestion that the business of this country is not necessarily going to blow up with a loud and resonant crash within the next eighteen months!

If one has the interest to chase this pessimism to its source, then puts that source under the magnifying glass of intelligent, unflamed business analysis, of what does he find it to consist?

Just this: Commodity are very high; the consuming public is crying more nearly in unison every day for lower prices; labor is in an aggravated state of unrest; and commercial, social and political conditions in Europe are generally bad.

Granted—every bit of it!

But, even so, please permit some of us to retain our mental equilibrium; bear with us while we decline to become frenzied over those things, and allow us for a moment to put the facts through a laboratory test.

So far as I know, or can find out, no business depression in the United States ever occurred in or immediately followed a period in which money was anywhere nearly as plentiful as it is today and has been for two years—with a record-breaking gold balance to justify and even necessitate it.

So far as I know, or can find out, no commercial cataclysm in this country of ours has ever come at a time of conspicuous under-production of necessities. Over-production has been a contributing cause of business lethargy.

Truly, I think the well-known, volatile temper of the American business man has never been more strikingly demonstrated than in this silly inclination on the part of a few or him to mistake the probably approaching readjustment of commercial matters for a migration.

And here, I think, we get the real answer: We shall have a clarifying of industrial relations, a straightening-out of commodity values, and perhaps of trading prices and profits ratios—but a punie, a business depression, a period of radical commercial curtailment, NO!

I am quite satisfied to let the coming twenty-four months prove me a false or true prophet.

Two years ago everyone was proclaiming, truthfully, that "business in the United States is just entering an era of the greatest prosperity it has ever known."

The war set the international stage for this precious prosperity. By it we became, involuntarily, uncontrollably, the logical supply source for a good share of the rest of the world for the major part of ten years—probably longer.

If I should epitomize the worth-while statements made to me of late by the worth-while men of business, they would come down to about this:

"Let's not even dream of poor business while all about us we have and must for a long time have the elements that always make business secure."

"Any business man who thinks he can foresee commercial depression when his own country and half the rest of the world are clamoring for goods ought to be surveyed by an alienist!"

"We should at least scratch the surface of our tremendous trade advantage before we begin to wonder if we have exhausted it."

Our prices are going to be revised downward, some time; broadcast personal extravagance is going to run its course, and prosperous sanity return; labor is going to rub its eyes clear and jump enthusiastically into the pleasant and profitable work of making production more nearly match the demand for it.

Who are going to straighten out the situation, and bring America's business to its proper basis without interrupting it?

The American people themselves—of course!

They have always been able to get about anything on earth that they wanted. They are always the final controlling factor in our business life; if they wish to be.

They don't want business depression.

Therefore, we are not going to have it.

SOIL EXPERTS ARE WORKING IN COUNTY

Expected Work Will Take All Summer. Some of the County Lands Found Dry.

Prof. Peter P. Peterson, of the University of Idaho, has been here Twin Falls for the past two days making preliminary reconnaissance on the soil in this country: "The government, University of Idaho and state department are working in conjunction with one another to get a complete survey made of the soil in this county to prepare maps for publication, it is said. No estimate can be given as to the exact date when the maps will be ready.

It is expected that the work will occupy the entire summer as the area is larger than anticipated, according to the professor. He was in company with a senior student of the university yesterday. Francis O. Young, who will work on the soil question for the state, Mark Baldwin, federal surveyor, from the Washington office, was there the latter part of this week.

A reconnaissance trip was made yesterday on the Jarbidge road and the experts brought back were to the effect that there is much less water in that section as well as in the Deep Creek section both of which were found to be dry. ## RAID MADE ON BIG STILL AT MURTAUGH

Sheriff and Police Succeed in Confiscating Copper Kettle, Cobs and 12 Barrels of Mashing.

Sheriff and police forces made a successful raid yesterday evening and confiscated a 30 gallon still. The raid occurred just north of the Murtaugh bridge. The owners had disappeared but are expected to be held custody to answer the officials. Besides the large kettle, two barrels of grain were secured and taken to the county courthouse. Officers have been working on this case for this past few days but until yesterday nothing had developed to warrant a raid, they claim.

The 30 gallon copper still kettle was taken with several copper coils and a good distillery was in operation, it is alleged. The barrels that were taken contained corn which had been converted into mash for brewing purposes and was in a state of incipient fermentation. Much corn was found when the raid took place but no attempt had been made to千里 it for brewing, it is said.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The corn market climbed today after a decline at the opening. Opening quotations, which ranged from 3¢ to 1½¢ lower with July $1.70 ½ @ 1.71 and September $1.65 ½ @ 1.58, were followed by a sharp rise to well above yesterday's finish.

Gates displayed strength from the outset. After opening ¾¢ off to 84 ½¢, it advanced, including July at 9¢ to 9½¢. The market scored a material upturn. Provisions were dull, and easier in sympathy with hogs.

Toward the last, prices underwent a setback owing largely to severe declines in the value of silver and to cutting of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway dividend. The close was unnoted, yet to be set lower, with July $1.70 ¼ @ 1.70 ½ and September 11.47 ½ @ 1.67 ½.

DEAF MUTE WILL HANG.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., June 8.—John Heyder, president of the National League, on the witness stand in the United States trial of the Boston baseball team, charged that Leo "Mugie" Veech, captain of the Chicago National League club, for $2,400 claimed to be due him for salary and possible bonuses under his contract of 1920, testified that Mugie Veech came to him and President Veech, of the Chicago club on February 10, 1920, and "confessed."

Heyder said Mugie told him and Veech that Hal Chase had tempted him to gamble on the game and that Chase had "fixed" money by him.

The testimony of President William Veech of the Chicago club was similar to that part of Heyder's relative to Mugie's confession.

UPHELD WILSON; CENSURE SHIELDS

Teamsters' Democratic Convention
Davis Vetoed, Statehood
Women Delegated.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 8.—The national convention of the democratic party, which opened here today adopted resolutions condemning the shield taken by President Wilson's administration to the right and left of moderation in its platform. The Wilson party, the most conservative group, supported the Wilson administration and the action of the majority of delegates in voting for upholding of the shield.

Women were seated in the convention for the first time in the history of the party in Tennessee and it was due to them that Davidson county, the second largest delegation, changed its vote before the roll call was announced and voted to censure Senator Shultz.

Delegates at large to the democratic national convention were elected as follows:

Senator McRae, T. R. Preston of Chattanooga, Tennessee; Harry S. Black of St. Louis, Kansas; and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot of New York.

The delegates at large as well as the district delegates will be authorized for the presidential nomination but directed to place the name of "Bradford" General J. D. Tyree of Knoxville, before the convention as a candidate for vice-president.

JOHNSON STANDS PAT

very certain that this convention, in view of all that has transpired, will recognize the expressed popular choice of the rank and file of the republican party. Men would be unable even to recruit in the party, in their positions as trustees for its members, if they did not recognize the choice.

"I have confidence that the members of the party here, notwithstanding all the political influence and popular pressure exerted to lead them otherwise, will follow the plain mandate of the rank and file of the party, who have registered their will. Because of that I have an abiding confidence concerning the will of the convention."

"I have, however, but I do not believe, that the republican platform will take a enabling position on the League of Nations. I am certain it will take it stand emphatically. Imagine us going to the country now with the pet idea of the democratic party and the democratic president."

Answering questions as to the demands of the party, Senator Johnson declared: "I have not communicated to me, however, Senator Johnson declared, I have no communication to make. I do not imagine this League. There are no reservations that can cover its evils, the work of education."

Senator Johnson said he would go on the floor of the convention, if necessary to oppose the League, but did not think it would be necessary.
