FEAR REPETITION OF

Johnson, Borah, McCormick and Brandegee Defy All the Other Party Leaders

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 9.—While the republican national convention holds daily routine sessions and the managers of the candidates continue to hustle and hope and predict, the real fight for the nomination has switched back to the league of nations.

It centers on the question of whether the republican party is going to declare flatly against the league of nations or whether it is going to declare for a league with reservations.

Fight Is On.
While the delegates were assembling in the Coliseum today to make Senator Lodge and the remainder of the temporary organization the permanent one, and to hear nothing more exciting than a prayer, and a speech by Chauncey M. Depew, the league of nations fight was being carried on in the quiet of a committee room down town, where a dozen men representing the reservationists and the irreconcilables were gathered about a table.

Will Fight to End.
The irreconcilables swear they will fight to the last ditch to prevent the republican party from going before the country with any sort of an endorsement of the league idea, and thus become "the tail to President Wilson's kite," as Senator Johnson himself put it. The element opposed to them argues it will be a sorry thing for the party if their views prevail.

So involved has the fight become, and so intricate are the proposals to it, that the republican convention tomorrow is up and down, and thrown into confusion.

Nothing to Do.
It is about 11 o'clock and has nothing before it but to hear the report of the resolutions committee, adopt a platform and nominate candidates. One plan has been proposed to skip that platform until the committee is ready to report and go ahead with the nominating speeches. Those who propose to maintain it is possible to do so under the rules of today which provide for "unlimited business" at the bottom of the list of procedure. They contend the platform could be considered at the end of the business and the convention could not get the nominations out of the way without formalizing the league resolutions committee fight on the league issue.

Wood and Lowden Nay.
The Wood and Lowden people particularly express themselves as unalterably opposed to that plan of procedure. It could, of course, be done under an suspension of the rules which would require unanimous consent, but the Wood people say they would object to it. A recess while the resolutions committee works seems to be one solution.

Review Knox Boom.
While this is going on, the Knox boom has been revived, and during the day or all the day, the boom seemed to have some momentum, always taking into consideration the common idea that the convention will meet in business fields at Johnson, Lowden and Wood fall to show strength prominently, naturally, not after the first few ballots.

His attitude on the League of Nations plank in the platform caused grave apprehension in Chicago lest the republican convention be split wide open.

with it, was characterized by Senator Johnson, through one of his lieutenants as "absolutely ridiculous" but was much discussed. This story ran that if no nomination were reached up to the fifth ballot, Senator Johnson would lay his candidacy aside, if the convention would "grant" to him and Senator Borah an unlimited time to discuss the candidates and the convention theme. The other angle of the story was that Senator Johnson would be brought out as a candidate in this juncture, "equipped with the general knowledge of close friendship between Senator Johnson and Wood and Lowden and their irreconcilable position to either against a league in any form, this story furnished the most interesting piece of gossip of the day, although it was thrown down by Senator Johnson.

Johnson Managers Severe.
Wood talk, which began running in a stronger line last night, seemed not to disturb the Johnson managers. A conference of a dozen of them Johnson advisers late today, it was said, decided on a policy of attempting no trades or alliances until the start of a break from Wood to Lowden, for which they hope. Their strategy, it was explained, was to leave the Wood and Lowden forces to carry on their own content and leave the Johnson forces ready to take advantage of any weaknesses which might develop. The Johnson advisers also predict there will be no hurried break of Johnson. Instructed delegates away from the senator after they have performed their obligations by voting for him on the first ballot.

Reports that the Johnson instructed delegates from Michigan were ready to swing to another candidate if Johnson failed in the first few ballots, but the Johnson managers at work starting back fires at home and some of the Michigan delegates were said to be getting telegrams informing them they were expected to stick to the California. The senators advisers said they were confident he could hold his delegates until he released them.

Johnson managers were working to convince the large delegation of eastern business men who have gathered here favoring other candidates, that Senator Johnson is not the radical and dangerous man to business interests that he has been reported. They hope that if they can make headway with this program it will be easier to bring the old time people to Johnson in Lowden and Wood fall to poll a majority. The Johnson people, they express indignation at repeatedly published newspaper reports that Johnson will bolt and head a third party, if he fails of nomination. He is standing, they say, on his earlier declarations that he is engaged only in a family row which will be ended when the convention chooses a candidate and that he will stand by the convention's decision.

Worry About Time.
The confusion over tomorrow's program and delay in the platform brings out an array of guesses on how long the convention will have to sit. Governor Allen of Kansas, who is to nominate General Wood, said today he did not expect the nominating speeches to be reached before Friday and that the balloting would not be started before Saturday. He looked for a protracted session of the resolutions committee.

From today's preliminary arrangements it appeared that the Wood nominating speech would seem first, Alabama, alphabetically first in the call for nominations. It was said, would yield either for a nomination of Wood or Lowden, preferring not to show any preference. The next plank in the list is Arizona, and, as the delegation is favorable to Wood, it is expected to yield to Kansas, so that Governor Allen may make his speech placing General Wood in nomination. Under such an arrangement the convention would get the first glimpse of the Wood strength by the demonstration which follows and would be enabled to determine whether the sentiment is among the delegates or in the galleries.

Today was full of conferences and talks and coming between the era, old and new, all looking for some signs of sentiment crystallizing.

Crisis a Storm Center.
Former Senator Crane, of Massachusetts, who arose today as one of the chief proponents of a platform declaration to affirm the principle of an association of nations with protecting reservations, saw Senator Johnson, and it was said, the Californian told him in substance:

"I'm in a pacified mood. I'm not looking for a fight on this treaty, but I'm ready to fight hard if necessary. You are the ones who would cause trouble. The treaty plank is mine to me than any personal consideration."

Governor Lowden followed his usual routine, conferring with supporters and receiving delegates and newspaper correspondents.

General Wood came in from Fort Sheridan early and spent the day at his headquarters, receiving managers and callers.

Senator Harding, Senator Polinder, Governor Sprague and the numerous other candidates spent the day in conferences and receiving visitors.

Lodge Made Chairman—Depew Attacks Wilson's Policy of Going to Europe.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 9.—Second day proceedings of the republican national convention lasting barely an hour and ending entirely with routine, moved as smoothly and swiftly today as a hoop rolling down a hill.

There was a shout of approval from the delegates as they adopted the report of the committee on permanent organization by which Senator Lodge of Massachusetts was made permanent chairman, which cut out a lot of speech making. The convention gave its presiding officer a big demonstration.

The report of the committee on credentials, over which some delegates had expected a fight, was adopted without a flutter, as was the resolutions plank which gives women representation on the national executive committee.

With no report from the platform makers, the crowd was ready to hear a few speeches and called first for Chauncey M. Depew of New York, veteran of many convention battles. He cheered lustily as Mr. Depew turned his oratorical weapons on President Wilson, and especially when he declared that in the old days when Washington found it necessary to be at close hand with foreign powers, he stayed on the job at home and sent the chief justice as his emissary.

There were scattering cries from the floor for other speakers, but Chairman Lodge, who gave the convention a sensation presented Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter of Kansas, the first woman ever accorded the privilege of addressing it.

She was thrilled by the warmth of the greeting and in a brief address, pledged the loyal support of millions of women voters to the republican cause.

Calls for other men high in the ranks of the party, including former Senator Cannon, who was not present, were ended quickly as the convention adopted Senator Vandeworth's motion to adjourn until tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

PARENTS OF KIDNAPED CHILD
ALICE PROSTRATED WITH GRIEF

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 9.—Geo. H. Coughlin, father of 13-month-old Blakey Coughlin, who was kidnapped last Wednesday, collapsed today and physicians said tonight his condition is serious. Mrs. Coughlin also is in a state of physical and mental collapse. More than 10 letters, demanding ransom for the return of the baby have been received by the Coughlins, but all but three of them, it was said, might have been eliminated as fake.

The father, who is a well-known family attorney, "that one of the letters was written by the kidnappers following the insertion in the newspapers that we were willing to pay $50,000 ransom and guarantee the absolute immunity if Blakey was returned unharmed. The kidnappers have not complied with our demand for proof."

Despite news as to whether the baby found in the home of a negro woman in Dallas, Texas, is Blakey Coughlin, it is expected tomorrow. The father of the stolen child was sent to Dallas Sunday.

BAPTISTS MAY WITHDRAW FROM INTERCHURCH MOVE

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Possibility of a withdrawal of the Southern Baptist church from the interchurch world movement was contained in a statement made today by the general board of promotions of the church. The statement said that orange union of Protestant churches toward which the interchurch world movement seems to be tending, was opposed by the Baptist church.

If any orange union of the evangelical denominations should be formed, the statement said, "it is reasonably certain that the Baptist church will be found outside of it."

Irreconcilables Standing Out Against the Reservation Group—Threaten to Bolt.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The special sub-committee of the resolutions committee of the republican national convention adjourned soon after 1 o'clock this morning without having reached any agreement on a platform plank to deal with the league of nations issue. Sessions will be resumed later today.

Compromise Is Refused.
A compromise proposal offered by Senator Smoot of Utah, the nature of which was not disclosed, was under discussion at the end of the session. After adjournment, Senator Smoot hastened to confer with Senator Lodge, chairman of the convention and republican leader during the treaty fight in the senate.

Senators Borah and McCormick, representing on the sub-committee "irreconcilable" views in the senate indicated that the smoot plan was not acceptable to them. They had left the conference before adjournment, expecting to return.

Decidedly, Says Borah.
"We are deadlocked as badly as ever," Senator Borah said after he and Senator McCormick had conferred with various leaders including Senator Lodge. "The whole difficulty over the treaty is being raised by former Senator Murray Crane and a group of international bankers who are here."

Senator Borah would not discuss the possibility of a bolt by the irreconcilables.

The general feeling of the sub-committee group opposing the league government in any form was that the smoot platform as drawn thus far was not specific enough in its declarations. One of the conferees referred to the work accomplished as an "essay, wholly lacking a kick."

The sub-committee will submit its report to the full resolutions committee at 9 a.m., reporting its failure to agree on the treaty plank or on other points mentioned. The congress is the first of all other resolutions determined and there was nothing to indicate when it would be able to report to the convention.

BOIT IS THREATENED!

CHICAGO, June 9.—Republican differences over the league of nations culminated today in an open threat from irreconcilable senators to leave the party unless it declared flatly against the league of nations. The ultimatum was delivered in dramatic fashion at a conference of leaders. It put the league issue suddenly to the test of all other resolutions before the national convention, accepting even the nomination of a presidential candidate.

Governor Edwards Declines Dry Law May Be Altered by People's Representatives.

By the Associated Press.
SEAGIRT, N. J., June 9.—Governor J. Edwards, declining for the democratic presidential nomination, issued a statement here tonight demanding liberalization of the Volstead act and calling upon "the people of the United States, lawfully and by the constitutional method prescribed, to pass judgment upon the act."

The supreme court has declared the 18th amendment to be a part of the constitution and the Volstead act to be its statutory interpretation, read the statement. "This act is upon the such amendment as the duly elected representatives of the people may enact."

"No power exists which is paramount to the power of the people expressed at the polls. There alone is sovereignty. Every candidate for congress, every state and legislative official and the candidates for the presidency itself, will be called upon this coming November to declare their positions unambiguously on the same and reasonable interpretation of the constitutional amendment, in favor of the permissive use of light wines and in each state to determine its regulations under the liberal limitations of a general federal statute."

"I appeal to the great and final referendum of the American people."

AUSTRALIAN WOOL CLIP IS MUCH LESS THAN LAST YEAR

SALT LAKE CITY.—Australia's wool clip this year will total about 1,025,000,000 pounds, valued at $375,000,000 or 25 per cent less than last year, according to Louis F. Green of Melbourne, with sheep interests in Queensland, who is in Utah to study American sheep methods. He plans to visit the entire intermountain sheep country before returning home.

Unusual drought conditions caused heavy losses to Australian sheepmen and cattlemen, Mr. Green declared. He said on one ranch upwards of 15,000 cattle died because of water conditions and that sheepmen suffered accordingly.

The Australian clip last year totaled approximately 1,340,000,000 pounds, according to Mr. Green.

GOING AHEAD WITH THE LEAGUE

Miss Root, recently, by many of the foremost American Jurists, has just sailed for Europe to help organize the permanent court of the league of nations.

One is likely to read this statement with surprise and a certain amount of indignation. The common impression is that the league of nations is non-existent yet here is what seems to be circumstantial evidence that it not only exists but is getting under way.

The league is unquestionably weak and rather futile at this moment, but the infant has possibilities in it for all that. It is not still born. It may conceivably be nursed into sturdy youth and maturity.

All of the important power a boy whose side we fought have joined the league automatically in their acceptance of the Versailles treaty. Scarcely all the other nations of the civilized world have joined it, or applied for membership. The only nation of any importance remaining outside is the United States. The league has been discouragingly slow in organizing and getting into operation simply because the other big powers have been hoping and waiting for American participation and direction. The idea and inspiration of it are regarded as American and Europe wants American advice in starting and running it, and the support of America's moral force to back its actions.

Without America the league may never amount to a great deal. There is a noticeable tendency now, even while the members are proceeding to set up the formal machinery of it, to resort to old-fashioned alliances and increased armaments for self-protection. Still they are going about with the league. With America, it might soon be strong enough to be effective and command respect. With America it may become respectable and ineffective in time, say, after the next big war—but the prospects will take a great deal longer.

THINGS TO LENGTHEN LIFE OF YOUR CAR

William H. Stewart Jr. of the Stewart Automobile school in New York, has these five tips to give the new driver, by which he could lengthen the life of his automobile beyond what of the average machine:

1. Do not allow the engine to race or to run when the car is standing. Self-starters are made to be used and is good for the battery to be operated intelligently.

2. Keep the tires fully inflated—soft tires consume power as well as destroy themselves.

3. Keep the carburetor adjusted at the least possible mixture—a lean mixture requires carbon deposits.

4. Don't try to economize by purchasing the "just as good" oil—Buy the right, best grade and change the supply about every 500 miles. You will find this the most economical thing in the long run.

5. If you follow the car driven by an expert you will notice that he maintains a constant speed, that he does not loaf along and then suddenly jumps to 40 miles an hour. You use more gasoline when you accelerate suddenly, making charging more difficult and in time entirely destroying the elements.

Watch the Storage Battery.

As soon as the battery becomes discharged, it should be immediately recharged. Otherwise it will rapidly multiply making charging more difficult and in time entirely destroying the elements.

Loose Fan Belts.

Did you ever look at your fan belt, when you found your engine overheating? A slipping belt means the fan is going at a slower speed and does little cooling for the engine. Tighten the belt every once in a while, or ask a harness man to do it for you.

Get about four ounces of Jod Salls from your pharmacist and take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the

Tonight the leaders were only halfheartedly attempting to force their apprehension over the situation. Most of them grimly predicted an agreement, but none appeared too sure of his ground. In a session which promised to last through the night a resolutions sub-committee, headed by Senator Watson, sought to find a middle course which would hold the party together.

Delivered Ultimatum.
Senator Crane, coming unexpectedly into the swim of convention affairs, after several days of quiet conferences, prefaced the irreconcilable ultimatum by laying on the council table a proposal that the party declare affirmatively for ratification of a league of nations covenant with safeguarding reservations. Backed, he said, by the support of mild reservation senators, he indicated that unless such a plank were adopted, all the dynamite of the league of nations question would be loaded on the convention floor.

Reply In Terms.
The reply of the irreconcilables came at once, phrased in terms which no one misinterpreted. With considerable heat Senator Borah told the conference that he and his colleagues never could support any plank declaring affirmatively for any ratification of the league of nations or any reservations. "Should the party adopt such a plank," they declared, "they would immediately and finally part company with it."

In a desperate effort to bring harmony, Senator Watson pleaded that the rising animosities of the conference be forgotten and that both sides approach the subject with a determination to avoid repetition of the disastrous break of 1912. But neither side receded and the meeting ended in an atmosphere of solemn defiance. So it stood tonight as the resolutions sub-committee of 13 sought to swing out a solution. In the committee room besides Senator Watson were Senators Borah and McCormick, for the irreconcilables, Senator Smoot of Utah and nine men of varying shades of opinion.

Outside the committee room, too, there were a series of feverish consultations. Throughout the senate night how much of the attitude of the adversary was bluff and how much was genuine.

After several hours' work tonight, Senator Watson announced that he did not believe the platform could be finished in time for presentation to the convention before 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Upon convening at 11, Senator Watson said the convention probably would have to defer until after tomorrow afternoon for other business.

The irreconcilable group solemnly assured their party leaders there was not a single element of bluff in their program, and one of them is understood to have declared that should the party stand for any sort of ratification, he would resign from the senate in order to be free to carry on the fight.

What connection Senator Johnson might have with the move was not revealed. Throughout the senate night he stood shoulder to shoulder with Senator Borah, but talk of a possible Johnson bolt has been discounted by the men who are closest to him in California.

Although the resolutions sub-committee had been in session all day, it scarcely touched, until tonight, on the league of nations or any other subject of serious controversy. Although a completely overshadowed by the treaty situation, the plank on industrial relations was understood to have caused some difference of opinion.

Dorothea had everything her way in the fight for the rich young nobleman. The other girl, a celebrated dancer now, but originally sprung from the Limehouse district of London, had only herself, her personality and an inborn perception of right from wrong. Yet Lady Dorothea Lytham found herself obliged to cheat at the game of winning a man's heart. But Sally Snape played fair. Who won this battle of women's wits with the prize the love of a man they both sought, constitutes one of the most compelling human and absorbing photo-plays ever screened. It is NAZIMOVA's greatest triumph. See it today. The last chance.

Will Missouri Parties Starting Foul Fines

POCAHELLO.—Orders for all deputies to co-operate with forestry officials in every way for the protection of timber have been issued by Gov. M. Jones, Idaho state game warden. The state deputies are authorized to arrest and turn over to federal authorities any campers starting dangerous fires, or leaving camp, fires burning and to prosecute any individual violating any of the forestry regulations, this being part of their duty as deputy game wardens. Through active co-operation of this sort it is hoped to keep forest fires in Idaho at a minimum during the coming summer and fall.

Russian Sunflower Growers For Cattle Feed in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, June 9.—Stockmen of Summit county, Utah, are experimenting with the Russian sunflower as cattle feed and have planted many acres of ground with it. The cattle, it is said, like the sunflower, it is a milk producer and grows and ripens very quickly. Summit county has a very high altitude and when the spring is late corn, now the grain cattle feed, does not fare very well.

LOS ANGELES IS MARVEL CITY

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Announcement tonight of the population of San Francisco and Los Angeles, the two largest cities of the western half of the country, left only five of the 20 largest cities of the United States to be heard from in the 1920 census. These five are Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit and Kansas City, Mo., and until their populations are made public the ranking of the country's 20 largest cities will remain somewhat doubtful.

San Francisco ranked as eleventh most populous in 1910, with 416,512 inhabitants, having shown an increase of 74,130, or 17.8 per cent during the decade. Los Angeles ranked as 17th city in 1910 with a population of 119,194, an increase of 215,719 or 211.5 per cent during the 10 years. San Francisco up to 1910 made its most rapid growth during the decades from 1880 to 1890 while Los Angeles made its most rapid strides during the more recent decade. Of the 22 cities of more than 25,000 population which in 1910 had more than doubled their population in the 10 years Los Angeles had the largest growth numerically and stood fifth in the percentage of increase. Pasadena was fourth in its percentage of increase in 1910, its rate being 232.2 per cent.

San Francisco ranked just under Buffalo, N. Y., in 1910, with 42,000 less people. Buffalo's 1920 population is 546,875. Milwaukee ranked just below San Francisco with 28,000 people less, and now has a population of 457,147.

Los Angeles ranked next below Washington, D. C., in 1910 with about 126,000 people less, and just above Minneapolis with about 18,000 more people. Washington's 1920 population is 437,571 and Minneapolis has 280,483.

were adopted by the St. Louis board of education tonight.

The action of the board, it is claimed, makes virtually the entire teaching personnel of the six local high schools, numbering about 250, ineligible for reemployment, unless they leave the federation. Many of the grade school teachers also are affected by the ruling, it is said.

Members of the association announced after the board had acted, that a meeting of the teachers will be held tomorrow to decide on their future course.

WRIGHTS FIRE SALE STARTS FRIDAY IN TEMPORARY ROOM

Mr. Wright said: "We'll use the best nerve plan where possible and it will be well for the shoppers to fetch their booklets along during the progress of the sale so they will be enabled to circle the store selecting articles needed."
