

PLAN FIGHT ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLANK

BRYAN, WALSH AND REED SCHEME TO DEFEAT THE ADMINISTRATION FORCES

They Will Make Contest Before Committee Against Proposed Planks.

WILL MAKE MINORITY REPORT IF DEFEATED

Issues to Be Taken Before Convention if Opponents to Wilson's Ideas Beaten.

By the Associated Press.
(By The Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Plans for opposing the administration treaty and league of nations plank were formulated at an hour's conference tonight between William J. Bryan and Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, and Reed of Missouri. Their first effort, Senator Walsh said, is to be made in the resolutions committee by offering substitutes for the administration plank.

If defeated in the resolutions committee, Senator Walsh said, it was planned to present a minority report to the convention. The major concern of those in the movement, Senator Walsh added, is to prevent commitment of the party to unreserved ratification of the present league covenant.

"We discussed several platform planks, principally the treaty and the league," said Senator Walsh. "For the administration treaty plank it is pretty generally agreed that we shall offer several substitutes, possibly three or four, to the credentials committee. They have not been drafted but our general purpose is to oppose committing the party to unreserved ratification of the present covenant."

If the substitute planks should be rejected, Senator Walsh said, the next move would be for presentation of the league to the convention itself. Senator Reed declined to discuss the conference.

Three Bold Opponents.
The three leaders who met in Mr. Bryan's rooms have been regarded as the principle opponents of President Wilson's covenant in the senate and also as forecasters before the convention. Senator Reed in the senate joined the republican "irreconcilables" in opposing the treaty while Senator Walsh voted for ratification with the Lodge reservation. Both made several speeches vigorously criticizing the league plan, while Mr. Bryan has spoken for ratification with the majority reservations to avoid the treaty's becoming a campaign issue.

ADMINISTRATION WINS.
AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Administration leaders won a sweeping victory in the democratic national committee today when that body recognized the Palmer group of delegates in the Georgia contest and refused to give Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, bitter opponent of the league of nations, a seat in the convention. The vote to keep Reed out of the convention was 21 to 13 and came after a long public hearing and an hour and a half of discussion behind closed doors.

The vote to seat the Georgia Palmer delegates was unanimous, 49 votes being recorded in their favor with four committee members absent. The action of the national committee in the Georgia contest carries with it the rejection of Clark Howell as a member of the national committee, his delegates having named him at the time they were elected in Georgia. The vote by states on the rejection of Senator Reed's claim to a seat in the convention was as follows:

For Reed—California, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio—12.

Against—Alabama, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, Wyoming, Alaska, Hawaii, Philippines, Porto Rico—24.

Frank Quinn, who held the proxy of F. B. Lynch of Minnesota, refrained from voting because he expected to be a member of the credentials committee and would have to pass on the action of the national committee.

Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Wisconsin and District of Columbia were not recorded as voting.

Before the vote was taken Committee Chairman Moore, Ohio; Squalbury, Delaware; Mullon, Nebraska; Dockweiler, California, spoke in favor of seating Reed.

Glass Against Reed.
Senator Glass, Virginia, made the principal speech against Reed and was supported by Committee Chairman Quinn, Rhode Island; Jones, New Mexico, and Taylor, Washington.

Norman E. Mack, New York, in voting for Reed, gave his reasons and John W. Coughlin, Massachusetts, explained his vote against Reed.

The majority of the speakers on each side confined themselves to record in the Reed case and the league of nations did not enter much into the discussion, according to some of the committee members.

Senator Glass showed much feeling in his speech against Senator Reed, and because of his close connection with the president, was regarded by some committee members as reflecting the views of the White House.

There was no discussion of the Georgia contest prior to the taking of the vote.

Friends of Senator Reed announced that they will take his case to the credentials committee. In the meantime he will be held by James T. Bradshaw, his alternate.

BRADSHAW EXPLAINS ABOUT THAT PROXY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 26.—James T. Bradshaw, alternate to Senator James A. Reed, delegate from the Fifth Missouri district to the democratic national convention, announced here tonight that he had voluntarily turned over his proxy to Senator Reed and that the latter was empowered to act for him in all matters pertaining to the business of the convention.

Mr. Bradshaw said he gave the proxy to Senator Reed just before the senator left for San Francisco and that he had no intention of thought the highest interests of party harmony demanded it.

Mr. Bradshaw declared business matters prevented him from attending the convention in person.

OMAHA GROWS.
WASHINGTON, June 26.—The population of Omaha, Neb., is 191,401, an increase of 67,600 or 54.4 per cent, the census bureau announced tonight. In 1910 Omaha had 124,800 inhabitants. The relative gain in population during the past decade was more than twice that between 1900 and 1910, when the increase was 21,600 or 21 per cent.

CHINESE STATESMAN RETURNS.
WASHINGTON, June 26.—After an absence of nearly two years in Paris and England in connection with the peace conference and the international negotiations that followed relative to the far east, Dr. Wellington Ku is returning to Washington to resume his duties as Chinese minister resident. He is aboard the steamship La Fayette due to reach New York tomorrow.

WEATHER.
IDAHO 25. Increasing clouds; rain probably showers in morning; wind probably from north; temperature today 60 to 70; frost in the state penitentiary.

Writing Folk Get Low-Down on Convention

"Bones, chase the blues, get the news." Unable to pry loose any inside stuff on the democratic nominee, newspaper publicity folk have been forced to seek diversion in the ancient pastime of "African golf" and are shown here trying to get a few points.

HARDING LEAVES FOR PLACE NOT KNOWN

Goes to Spend Week-End Where Reporters Cannot Follow; Will Be Back Tuesday.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 26.—Accompanied by Mrs. Harding, Senator Harding, the republican presidential nominee, slipped quietly out of Washington today to spend the week-end at the country home of a friend in a near-state. The senator declined to make public his destination but announced he would be back at his office next Tuesday.

By surrounding his trip with secrecy the presidential nominee hoped to avoid crowds and obtain a rest. It will be the first vacation he has taken since his campaign for the presidential nomination began early in the year.

The republican nominee went to his office early in the day to go over his correspondence but remained less than two hours. In anticipation of the departure from the capital no engagements had been scheduled but he conferred briefly with Senator and Mrs. Medill McCormick of Illinois, the latter discussing with him especially plans relating to the part of woman in his campaign.

Working on Speech.
While on his week-end trip it is understood Mr. Harding will devote some time to his speech of acceptance. The first of the 5,000,000 campaign posters bearing the picture of Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, the republican candidate for vice president, taken from the press, was received today at the printer and presented to the presidential nominee. The poster is printed in three colors and bears the caption "America always first." Owing to the print paper shortage, the posters will be only about 12x18 inches in size.

Get the Buttons.
Senator Harding's office also received the first batch of the 15,000,000 campaign buttons bearing the nominee's portrait. Friends of the senator remarked on the fact that following a national convention street salesmen usually appear immediately with buttons bearing the likeness of the nominee. This year, however, the street hawkers have been conspicuous by their absence. This was explained by the fact that the republican national committee several months ago bought up virtually the entire supply of celluloid, leaving none of the material available for the manufacture of buttons except those ordered by the committee.

SWINDLERS ARE SENTENCED.
KANSAS CITY, June 26.—A criminal court jury here tonight returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Samis, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with an alleged "get rich quick" scheme involving thousands of dollars. The defendants were sentenced to serve four years in the state penitentiary.

DEMOCRATS PONDER PLATFORM PROBLEM

Many Subjects for Consideration; Prohibition, League of Nations and Irish Lead.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Beneath the prohibition, profiteering, industrial relations, the League of Nations and the Irish question promise to be the headlines in the fight over planks in the democratic platform.

In this category the prohibition question was usually foremost in the minds of leaders and delegates as the bone dry and the anti-bone dry the actual counting of names showed where the issue by separate vote of the body of delegates lies.

Irish Will Not Down.
Coming rapidly into the limelight and also threatening a fight in the open convention was the Irish question on which a whole series of recommendations, running from Irish recognition to an expression of sympathy, will be laid before the resolutions committee.

The League of Nations row was more or less in the background, but opponents of President Wilson of various shades of irreconcilability were making an effort to get together to block his ratification plank.

As to the labor problem and profiteering, only the beginnings of a disagreement were in evidence. On the issue of women, however, both William Jennings Bryan and Attorney General Palmer will have ideas of their own which may bring out a stiff alignment more or less along administrative and anti-administrative lines.

It might be the stormy petrel of the platform fight. He took charge during the day of the prohibition forces, lined up support for his League of Nations fight and made himself quite generally the chief subject of speculation among the friends of President Wilson and the Virginia platform endorsed by him.

WILL NOT ENTER CLASH.
NEW YORK, June 26.—The Knights of Columbus announced today that their European committee, headed by Edward L. Hearn, has been advised to enter no claims against the German government for expenses with the American army of occupation.

As the money expended with the army was supplied by the American people, the committee said, it would be impossible to enter a "just claim."

SENATOR EXPLAINS POINTS AT ISSUE

Says He Was Elected Delegate to Convention by Democrats of Large District.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Senator James A. Reed, Missouri, whose claim to a seat in the convention from the Fifth Missouri district was rejected by the national committee, tonight gave out a statement asserting that the action of the committee can be taken as nothing more or less than an effort to "exclude from the councils of the party a man whose democracy is unchallenged and unquestioned, solely upon the ground that in the United States senate, acting upon his path of office, he opposed the league of nations."

The Missouri senator said he will carry the case before the credentials committee, hoping and expecting that a different spirit will prevail there.

He was elected.

Senator Reed said he did not seek the seat in the convention. "I was elected in the first instance, during my absence in Washington," he said, "and felt that I could do nothing less than respond to the request of the largest democratic district in the United States. The objection to my credentials was purely technical. No one was here claiming the seat, indeed, the alternate refused to take the seat to which I had been elected and sent me a proxy authorizing me to act in his stead."

Continuing, Senator Reed said: "The unfortunate part of it is that if the impression goes abroad that men ought to be excluded from participation in the democratic councils because they are not for the league of nations, Mr. Wilson delivered it then a large percentage of the democratic party throughout the nation may feel that they are in like manner to be excluded. If a similar policy is to be pursued of excluding those who do not agree with every twist of the machine of the party desire, it might result in the exclusion of a man because he was a wet, or because he was a dry, or because he was in favor of woman suffrage, or against it. The result would be a minority party."

Claims Are Abundant.
"Any claim that I was rejected because of any technicality arising over the character of my credentials strikes me as absurdity in view of the fact that the national committee seated two delegates from the Panama canal zone who had assembled on their own motion without any call or authority from the national committee."

Having done this act of justice to democrats who were in the canal zone and not represented, having disregarded all technicalities, the committee proceeded to deny me a seat although I came as the undisputed representative of a district containing 400,000 white inhabitants and which regularly gives a majority without which the democratic party cannot hope to carry the state of Missouri."

TO SEE PANCHO VILLA.
EL PASO, Texas, June 26.—Bearing credentials from General P. Elias Calle, war secretary of Mexico, Elias L. Torrey left here today for Francisco Villa, camp to make another effort in buying about an agreement between the rebel chief and the democratic government.

NO CANDIDATE HAS BIG LEAD AT THIS TIME

Bryan Says It Is Anybody's Fight; Numerous Tickets Will Be Killed.

CUMMINGS IS TO MAKE THE KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Chairman Expected to Show Up Sophistries of Republican Attitude in Plain Language.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—As the civil forces in the democratic national convention move into position for the opening Monday there is apparent no more definite alignment of strength for the candidates than there has been since the delegates began to assemble. William Jennings Bryan epitomized the situation today in language with which most observers seemed to agree.

"There will be a lot of tickets put up and put down before this convention nominates one," he said.

The closing hours of the pre-convention period are much the same as characterized the last minute proceedings of the republican convention at Chicago. There is a marked similarity in many respects.

Seven hundred and fifty-six of the 1,032 delegates are uncommitted. Their personal preferences cannot be assembled in composite report. There are 18 candidates for president, 100 for vice president, and 100 for secretary. It seems certain that some balloting on the convention floor will be necessary to disclose the line of strength and weakness, clear the ground of favorite sons and complimentary votes, and narrow the situation down to the real contenders out in the open.

No democratic candidate comes to San Francisco with any such showing of pledged strength as was brought to Chicago by Wood, Lowden or Johnson. But as the platform and the situation about a rivalry on unreservedly than for the moment on candidates.

To Measure Bryan's Strength.
How much influence William J. Bryan will have on the making of the party's platform and the choice of the candidate will be shown soon after the opening session of the convention Monday.

The first evidence of how much of a force Mr. Bryan will be, will come in the action of the resolutions committee, which will draft the platform and in the choice of the permanent organization of the convention.

These issues bring about a direct contest between the administration forces and Mr. Bryan's forces. If Mr. Bryan finds upon the resolutions committee a majority of men sympathetic with his views on prohibition, the League of Nations and other questions, the chances of a victory for Bryan will be minimized. If the administration men control and insist on a declaration in support of the league covenant as brought from Versailles by President Wilson, Mr. Bryan may oppose bringing that declaration to a vote. Or, of course, if the "wets" attempt to put in a plank which runs counter to Mr. Bryan's declared views on prohibition, Mr. Bryan certainly will carry the fight to the floor of the convention. In such an event Mr. Bryan will not be unprepared and there are prospects of fireworks, which might, even, eclipse the display which accompanied Mr. Bryan's fight at Baltimore which culminated in the nomination of Woodrow Wilson.

Cummings' Keynote Speech.
Monday's session will be preliminary in which Chairman Cummings will deliver his keynote speech, the cause designated for victory, the candidates including resolutions and the platform will be ratified and the convention will then adjourn to the committee work.

Chairman Cummings will then lay the completion of their work.

CINCINNATI, June 26.—St. Louis went into second place in the National League race today by winning both games of a doubleheader from the champions, 5 to 0 and 4 to 3. Both teams played perfect ball in the field but the hitting of the visitors was much more effective than the Reds'. Ruchner was singled hard in the first game while Higgins pitched perfectly, allowing only three hits. In the second game long drives by the Cardinals gave them the victory.

In the eighth inning of the second game Pitcher Laque of the Reds attacked Unipiro Klem and dealt him several hard blows about the head. Laque claims it was due to vicious language used by the official. Laque and Catcher Allen of the Reds both made affidavits that Klem had used such language.

If the claims are proved the club will bring charges against Klem. Laque was put out of the game and Elter finished it. Previous to this incident a shower of pop bottles fell around Klem when he called Fournier safe at the plate in the sixth inning. Wingo was put out of the game at this time for abusive language. PHILADELPHIA BEATEN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—After losing the first game of today's doubleheader to New York, 9 to 6, in 11 innings, Philadelphia slaughtered Boston in the second game, 8 to 1. Houston allowed New York one hit up to the ninth, when he caved up.

The first contest was a bitter, fought struggle. Meadows was put off the field for protesting a decision. Gallia succeeded him. Hixey's wild pitch allowed the tying run in the ninth.

Pitcher Hixey's wild pitch scored a run for New York in the tenth, but doubles by Williams and Cravath did it up again. Lebourveau, running for Cravath, seemed to have scored also on Meadows's single, but Unipiro Harrison called him out, and a dozen pop bottles were thrown by fans, narrowly missing Harrison.

George Smith was ineffective in the eleventh and New York easily scored three runs.

First game:

New York	9 10 2
Philadelphia	6 11 1
Batteries:	Barnes, Nihil and E. Smith; G. Smith, Meadows, Gallia, Hixey and Truesdell.

BOSTON BEATS BROOKLYN.

BOSTON, June 26.—Boston defeated Brooklyn in both ends of a doubleheader today taking the first game 3 to 0 and the second 7 to 2. The opener was a pitcher's battle in which Oeschger had the edge on Smith. Bunched hits off Grimes in the third and fifth innings decided the second game in Boston's favor.

First game:

Brooklyn	0 3 1
Boston	3 10 0

FARM STATISTICS ARE INTERESTING

Data Compiled by C. C. Taylor Institute 80-Acres Irrigated Farms Most Profitable.

BOISE, June 26.—A study of data collected last winter from 200 irrigated farms in Twin Falls county show after the farmer had required interest on his investment, the average of labor earnings on these farms for the year was $488.

These interpretations of the figures are made by C. C. Taylor, farm management demonstrator of the University of Idaho extension division. The statistics were collected by Byron Hunter, farm management investigator of the university, in co-operation with the federal office of farm management.

Eighty-acre farms were the most profitable, Mr. Taylor's analysis showed. Wheat was most profitable on the largest farms, and unprofitable on the small ones. The cost of producing wheat averaged $1.92 a bushel. "Some very valuable information concerning farm profits has just been obtained by the farm management department of the University of Idaho through the tabulation of data collected last winter from 200 irrigated farms in Twin Falls county," says a statement by Mr. Taylor.

"The figures, which are scientifically accurate, as applied to irrigated farms near Twin Falls in 1919, show that the farms about 80 acres in size are the most profitable farms in the area. There were three groups smaller in size which made smaller profits and one group larger than 80 acres which made larger profits, on the average.

"Farm profits are measured by labor earnings, being the net amount remaining for the farmers labor after deducting all expenses and 7 per cent interest on his investment. It includes the products contributed by the farm toward the living of the farmer's family. On the average, the labor earnings of these 200 typical farms was $555. The farms about 80 acres in size made $1,350 while the farms about 40 acres in size averaged $505.

"A detailed study of these wheat cost figures showed a wide difference on individual farms, ranging from less than $1.20 to over $2.50 per bushel. Most of the wheat was produced at from $1.40 to $2.20 per bushel.

"The farmers on the largest farms grow wheat at the lowest cost, averaging $1.44 per bushel, while it cost the farmers on the smallest farms an average of $2.23 per bushel. Figured on the acre basis, the average costs were $67 and $92, respectively. As would be expected, this was reflected in the farm profits of the whole 200 farms. The farmers on small farms of about 40 acres who had as much as 40 per cent of their crop land in wheat made 67 cents per acre, while those with less wheat averaged $1.40 on the farms over 80 acres in size. Those specializing in wheat made $1.62 while those with less wheat averaged only $480.

"A rule, the farmer who went to the greatest expense in order to receive the highest yields produced wheat at the lowest cost per bushel. The wheat farms with the lowest yields per acre only expended $62 per acre but the cost per bushel was $2.16. On the other hand, the wheat farms with the highest yields spent $83 per acre and produced their crop for $1.76 per bushel.

"The potato growers, although they sold at a comparatively low price last year, were by far the most profitable group in the area surveyed. The farmers who planted potatoes, even though only to a limited extent, averaged $1,357 labor earnings, while those without a potato patch averaged only $428.

"The average yield of potatoes was 337 hundredweight per acre, wheat 28 bushels; barley 40 bushels; alfalfa 3.3 tons; clover, hay 1.1 tons; red clover seed, 284 pounds; white clover seed, 318 pounds; beans, 1,122 pounds, and sugar beets 9.3 tons per acre.

FIRST UNITED STATES COINS

Fanciful Designs and Motives Marked the Earliest Issue of the Nation's Currency.

The Fugio were the earliest coins issued by the authority of the United States, and were of copper. It was in April, 1787, that the congress of the United States authorized the board of treasury to contract for 500 tons of copper coin of the federal standard "agreeably to the proposition of Mr. James Jarvis, provided that the pre-statement to be allowed to the United States on the account of the copper coin contracted for be not less than 15 per cent," and that "it be coined at the expense of the contractor, but under the inspection of an officer appointed and paid by the United States."

It is presumed that this copper coin contract was made as directed, for on Friday, July 6, 1787, the congress adopted this resolution: "That the board of treasury direct the contractor for the copper coinage to stamp on one side of each piece the following device, viz.: Thirteen circles linked together and a small circle in the middle with the words 'United States around it; and in the center the words 'We are one.' On the other side of the same piece the following device, viz.: A dial with the hours expressed on the face of it; a meridian sun above, on one side of which is to be inscribed the word 'Fugio' and on the other side the date '1787,' below the dial the words 'Mind your own business.'"

A large number of these coins were made, although the date of the date 1787 it is very probable that they were issued up to 1793, when the government established a mint.

Besides the general term Fugio these coins were also known by various names as the Franklin cent, Sun Dial, Ring and Mind-your-own-business. It was known as the Franklin cent because of one of his mottoes expressed thereon.

Emerald Harvest Gens.

Owing to world shortage, emeralds have become the rarest and most expensive of precious stones, says the Straits Times, Singapore. Prices during the past four years have been holding up until the emerald is now four times its pre-war price. The reason for the scarcity of the stones is the poor output from the Colombian mines, which are government owned and produce 65 per cent of the world's supply. These have not been working for seven or eight years.

A five-carat stone, sold at London recently, fetched $3,500 a carat.

Uncle, Queensland, Australia, some very beautiful variety green and pictures of great brilliance are mined, and the miners are trying to persuade jewelers to accept them as substitutes for emeralds.

Dove Hatches Chickens.

A novel experiment of Mrs. Ernest Hirsch of Pittsburgh has proved a success. Two doves owned by Mrs. Hirsch, after three weeks of waiting, hatched a pair of chickens. Mrs. Hirsch, as an experiment, placed a full sized hen's egg under the mother dove. At the time she did not believe the dove would hatch the egg and lay it, but she was not wrong, expecting the dove to leave the nest. However, the bird attempted sitting upon the egg and finally their patience was rewarded. A "chick" pecked its way out of the shell and immediately tried to get out of the nest.

A Weekly Affair.

Two years ago I was assigned, during the busy season, to help out in a rural bank in the wheat belt. I secured board at the only boarding house in the small village. I was in the habit of bathing daily; but the third day of my stay my landlady compelled me to change my habits. She announced to me: "You can't take a bath more than once a week here. It floods the cellar, too much." In order to make certain the enforcement of her ukase she kept the stopper for the bath tub in her possession, refusing to have it just once each week.—Exchange.

Bird Neglect Is Short-Sighted.

The destruction of the quail is costing the wheat growers of the entire United States $100,000,000 a year—chick bugs. Potato growers of the United States are paying out $15,000,000 a year for Paris green to protect their potatoes from the potato bug. The quail, natural enemy of the bug, has been almost exterminated.

Can't Be Spired.

"They can't live together and they can't live apart." "Dumph! What's the solution of a problem like that?" "Chloroform, but, confound the luck, it's against the law."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Mighty Few Do.

"Why don't you join a golf club?" "Xian, I don't know how to play golf."

"That's no reason. Ninety per cent of the golf club members don't know how to play the game either."

Misty Wind.

Schreecham—He was a wise poet who remarked that, in this world a man must be either angry or happy. Pesham—Oh, I don't know. It seems that most of them are merely bellows.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Indefinite.

"Approve, the best tomorrow, I will give you a good point-to-point." "Hold on a minute, do you mean a bit of a dog?"

CITY AND COUNTRY RE-UNITED

The automobile brings new and difficult problems in the laying out and paving of streets and the handling of street traffic, but it brings its great compensations. Chief among them, perhaps, is its decentralizing of cities.

At a time when urban populations are increasing so tremendously, when cities already far too large are growing larger at a bewildering rate, the automobile takes the vast mass of humanity and scatters it through the outlying parts of the city and far into the suburbs.

Just for this easy, comfortable, elastic means of transportation, the big cities would be congested incomparably worse than they are. With them, a population that might otherwise be crowded into 10 square miles might be spread through a hundred. Instead of one compact city, there is the parent city, or metropolis, and a group of dependent cities, growing continually in number and extending farther from the center. Boston, perhaps, is the best example in America. Every city, though, from New York down to the modest community of a few thousand souls, shows the same tendency.

Thus the flow of population to the cities is checked and counteracted. City folk come from the country; now they are going back just as far into the country as they can get. And though they may seem to remain city folk, it is not altogether so. By establishing contact with the country, they not only relieve the city of congestion and benefit themselves in health. They are drawn again, little by little, into the rural life, and the rural life itself is modified and improved by their presence. Old habits and prejudices of city and country disappear. And the all-conquering motor car, more than any thing else, has done it.

NO CANDIDATE HAS BIG LEAD AT THIS TIME

and Tuesday upon the session that day may be rather routine affairs. It is anticipated whether the nominating speeches for the day or ten men who will be presented at the convention will be delivered before the platform is brought in. At the national convention of 1912 the nomination was made before the platform was adopted but the usual custom is just the reverse.

Nobody professes to know what candidate Mr. Bryan favors. No one professes to know with any degree of certainty what candidate President Wilson and the administration forces may favor.

But at every turn of the road, as it were, after nomination secured through the delegations in an attempt to assess their preferences and leanings, the elusive McAdoo movement looks up.

Play of Politics

The play of politics is expected to show many shifting alignments as the convention proceeds in the discussion of party issues. There are, many "wets" who, opposing Mr. Bryan or the prohibition question, will be found to be with him in battling the administration's desire on the League of Nations. For once there are men who will leave the Bryan camp as soon as that issue is closed, and join with the administration in what it seeks to do in the making of a party platform.

The Palmer people are working hard to get for the attorney general the heaviest possible showing on the first ballot. They have an eye to the tradition of the party—unbroken until 1912—that the man who gets a majority gets the necessary two-thirds as the logical consequence. The Cox people profess to be satisfied with this prospect on the probability of halting and eluding accusations from the eliminations which are sure to come after certain pledged and complimentary votes have been delivered. There are out and out McAdoo supporters who disregard wholly the former secretary's declaration that he does not wish his name to be presented and claim that the convention will only need to take a few ballots to topple its majority into their column. The claims of adherents of other candidates are full of confidence and hope.

Talk of Compromise

There is the rambling of deadlock and compromise candidates that was heard at the republican convention. In the compromise talk among the gathering delegates McAdoo generally is brought out in the end. His supporters, seeing a majority for neither Palmer nor Cox, feel that in such an emergency the former secretary would be "drifted" and could not decline to make the race.

The 24 hours preceding the assembling of the convention, however, attention is centered largely on Mr. Bryan and his delegates are wondering how much of an old time rumper he may kick up. Mr. Bryan himself is not oblivious to this speculation and is saying nothing.

Trunk Lines in the Air

Long distance air transportation will soon be a commonplace. The successful trip from London to Australia, recently completed, has encouraged Great Britain to lay out a number of great air routes, connecting England by great trunk lines with its possessions. The service will be maintained at first by airmail and later facilitated by airplanes. The first of these trunk lines will connect London with Canada by way of Newfoundland. Another line will operate between London and Egypt and will be extended to South Africa. The air line will be backed by large government subsidies. Time, Life.

Trained Nurses Popular

That trained nurses are being employed in increasing numbers shows that employers generally are recognizing their services. Previous to 1910, only 67 industrial firms employed trained nurses. Today more than 371 industries have nursing service. The industrial nurse has proved to be a good investment. She is a teacher of hygiene and health education means prevention of accidents, which in years gone by have cost industry many thousands of dollars.

Once Thought to Be Worthless

The shark is found to furnish about 21.9 per cent of hide, 31.5 of collagen, and 44.7 of fertilizer material, and a ten pound liver yielded three quarts of oil. The oil, fairly free from fatty acid, is well adapted for tanning and paints. The dried fertilizer material equals about 20 per cent of the total weight of the shark, and contains 18.3 per cent of nitrogen. The stomach may be utilized for leather.

CONSUMERS GIVE RATE TESTIMONY

A Time Is Short Before Customers Expire Commission Will Expedite Decision.

Testimony from consumers objecting to the advance of electric lighting rates was taken in the county court room yesterday before Commissioner E. M. Sweetley, and by agreement of counsel the matter went to the commissioner for decision without argument.

Because of the limited time prior to the date for renewing these contracts, the commission will endeavor to render its decision at as early a date as possible. Mr. Sweetley and Twin Falls consumers were heard in defense of their position that the rate charged is but fulfillment of an obligation assumed by the company; that houses were built without other means of heating them on solicitation of the company or its predecessors; that it would be an injury to consumers to compel them to remove their homes in order that other heating plants might be installed, and that the rate proposed is prohibitory.

The testimony introduced was for the purpose of showing conditions as above set forth, and without material variation did so show.

ROBINSON'S

May We Safely Discuss
Blankets

Some of you may call to mind that play of years ago of which Sol Smith Russell was the star and in which the Maiden Fair was made to say, "Percy, do you really love me," and he answered by saying: "As pants the hart for the running brook, so pants my soul for thee." And she then said, "Why speak of pants now?"

Perhaps summer time is not the time to talk blankets, but with these cold night, the sale here of blankets is good and with the remarkably low prices (less than wholesale) it will pay to supply not only your present but your future wants.

FILE CERTIFICATES FOR NOMINATIONS

Several Aspirants for Office Signify Their Intention of Making Race at the Primaries.

Several aspirants for office filed their nomination certificates with the county clerk yesterday announcing intention to seek nomination by their respective parties.

Thomas Harrington, well known ex-service man and present commander of the local American Legion post, filed announcement of his intention to seek the democratic nomination for sheriff. Mr. Harrington is widely known throughout the county. For some time his friends have been endeavoring to secure his permission to make the race, but not till within the past few days would he consent. He will resign his position as commander of the American Legion post, as officers of the legion can not be candidates for public office while serving the Legion.

Hon. M. J. Sweetley, former member of the state senate and pioneer of Twin Falls, filed notice of intention to seek the republican nomination for state senator. He is well known throughout the county, has been identified with the public life of the community since the early days of Twin Falls, and says his candidacy is wholly a plan of his own in desire to bring about legislation providing for state reclamation undertakings.

Miss Britton Wolfe filed notice of her intention to be candidate for county superintendent to succeed her mother.

Mrs. E. L. Warren filed similar notice of intention to seek the nomination for county treasurer to succeed herself. Both ladies are republicans and will make their campaign subject to the will of the voters of that party.

SUCCESS IN MARRIED LIFE

To Inture It, Says Court Official, Each Should Be 2 Partner, In Business Enterprise.

A wife experienced with husband and wife have created Mrs. J. L. Mc Guire of the Chicago court of domestic relations to formulate these principles which she gives in People's Magazine.

"I can all be summed up in about the same way: textbooks on business tell one to sum up the proposition of going into business partnership:

"1. Know your partner. Study him over her—under trying circumstances as well as when things are going well.

"2. Be sure that you and your partner agree in your purposes and ambitions. Compare notes with each other and find out whether you have the same tastes and hopes for the future. Find out your prospective partner's idea of what to do in prosperity or adversity.

"3. Settle upon your working program for the future. Decide how you will apportion your working funds; face frankly the possibilities for trouble, and arrange in advance to meet them. Determine in advance the director in which you will expend your establishment when you have savings to disburse.

"4. Institute an adequate system of accounting to see to it that your funds go for the purposes you have agreed upon. Get into the habit of being frank with each other, of clearing up misunderstandings instead of letting them rankle.

"5. Go to it and stick to it—along these lines.

"6. Unless one of you has hidden faults, you will not fail.

"That is what I have learned from my contact with forty-four thousand unhappy marriages, which I have been

LONG A FAMOUS PLAYHOUSE

Walnut Street Theater, in Philadelphia, to be torn down. Dates from the year 1809.

The oldest playhouse in America, which is to be replaced in part at least by a modern structure, is the Walnut Street theater in Philadelphia, opened in 1809. It has never closed a season in these 111 years.

Edwin Forrest made his first regular appearance here at the age of fourteen, getting his first start through the influential backing of Col. John Swift, at one time mayor of Philadelphia. The play in which Forrest appeared was "Douglas," and in the cast were Wheatley, Mrs. Williams, Joe Jefferson's grandmother, and Warren and Wood, managers of the theater and of the stock company. Warren and Wood considered "themselves very unfortunate in the cast of novices they had to deal with and were greatly surprised when Forrest acquitted himself so well that the public expressed a desire for the play's repetition.

The English tragedian, Edmund Kean, appeared at the Walnut in 1821, during the "18 nights of his engagement" the receipts ran $24,000 in $8,000, only once falling below $500. In 1900, when it was considered a prodigious sum in theatrical circles.

Many people possess "old-time" that come from without. In a measure these are common property. The really great features that make outstanding men are those born within a man and there, from peculiarly his property. When provoked and acted upon they give him the inside chance that others will cover when they see him beginning to climb. So instead of sitting around moping "up to you" to start something. Let your thinker sink deep down into your anatomy and mine the unmet possibilities that are lying out for want of use. And rest assured unexpected possibilities will open up just as soon as you start something.—Exchange

The frequent rains recently have made us appreciate what an old lady from Arkansas said about us once after a visit up here. When she made up her mind to go home she remarked, "Well, you see, honey, it's this here-away: In Missouri when it starts to rain it never quits, and when it clouds up the sun never shines, and when it does get clear you never see a cloud again, and when it gets hot it never turns cool, and when it once gets cold it never warms up no more."—Clifton (Mo) Democrat.

NORMA TALMADGE'S NEW COMEDY DRAMA UNUSUAL PLAY

Norma Talmadge productions are always unusual. They must be, for Norma, herself, is unusual. Her quiet and widely varied characterizations are at once the surprise and the delight of her thousands of admirers.

Many have asked why she never was given the opportunity of demonstrating her very evident ability as a comedienne. The answer is simple. Until of late a suitable vehicle of that type has never been found.

At last, however, she is to be presented in a comedy photoplay as witty and pliant as her own sweet self. An enchanting love story, a delicate as governor, has been carefully woven into the plot. Here and there those dramatic touches have been added. The occasional suggestion of tears only serve the more to heighten appreciation of the joyous chuckles and hearty laughs which follow in rapid succession.

"She Loves and Lies," a new Biograph special, is the play and it will be presented at the Gem theater Monday and Tuesday.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for the nomination of state senator from Twin Falls county, subject to the will of the republican primaries. J. H. RICHARDSON. Adv.

PLENTY OF ROOM ON EARTH

Present Trouble is That the Population of the World is So Unevenly Distributed.

The present population of the world does not exceed 1,600,000,000. With an even distribution of people, relatively to area and soil productiveness, the planet on which we dwell might support 6,000,000,000.

But the distribution is exceedingly uneven. In India and China there are so many human beings that the falling of crops even slightly below the normal for a single season means famine, branding death to multitudes. A prime cause of the age-long turmoil in Europe is overcrowding, which makes frequent wars inevitable.

There is plenty of room in Africa and South America, when the conquest of the tropics (mainly a matter of disease elimination) shall have been accomplished. The latter continents—today relatively vacant territory for the most part—especially invites population, because, save in the far south, it is so bountifully watered.

The United States might maintain 2,000,000,000 inhabitants if it had an adequate rainfall, but a deficiency in that respect makes it impossible for this country to support more than 1,000,000,000. Water is the prime human requisite, all else production depending upon it, and for this reason the steady and fairly rapid spread of deserts, on every continent gives pause for anxiety.

Country's Vital Statistics.

The 1918 statistics for the registration area of the United States, embracing 77.8 per cent of the estimated population, show a total of 1,471,367 deaths. The mortality rate was 18 per 1,000 population, but the increase from 14.2 in 1917 is accounted for by the influenza pandemic. The deaths were most numerous among children under five, the total being 806,143. The five-year period of the next greatest mortality was that of twenty-five to twenty-nine years, inclusive; and the third most fatal period was thirty to thirty-four years, inclusive. The average age at death was thirty-four to thirty-five years. About 57 per cent of the deaths, however, occurred at the age of seventy-five or over; and there were 733 deaths at one hundred years or over. The total of deaths from influenza was 234,250; the various forms of pneumonia, 222,400; organic diseases of the heart, 124,514; tuberculosis, 107,002; acute nephritis and Bright's disease, 70,192; cancer, 65,282.

FUR FARMING ON DRY LAND

Winters and frosts may destroy crops but these will not affect the fur-bearing animals which can be properly raised on dry farms.

Properly cared for they will become the dependable source of income on any and especially our dry farms where an assured income is most needed. The jack rabbits of our prairies will become an asset as soon as men learn to use them as food for fur-bearing animals.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Prospective better transportation eased the corn market today but the effect was more than counterbalanced later by week-end coming up and by fear of hot wave damage to oats. Corn closed firm, 1c to 2-4c not higher, with July $1.76 3/4 to $1.78 1/2 and September $1.89 3/4 to $1.91 7/8. Oats mined 1c to 2 1/2 c and provisions the outcome ranged from 7c decline to 20c advance.

At first, bulls in corn were at a disadvantage owing to announcement by the railway labor board that a retro-active wage award would be given out on or before July 25. This announcement was generally taken to mean improved efficiency in traffic operations. Meanwhile, forecast of a hot wave led to bulges in the oats market.

Unfavorable crop reports from Illinois and Iowa, made the oats market especially sensitive to possible injury that might be occasioned by excessive high temperatures.

TO CHANGE TIME AT BUIL.

The situation is such that in the Twin Falls Buhl, the time of their clocks back one hour. Buhl has been in correspondence with Kimberly, Piler and Twin Falls and finds that the change would be agreeable to all, there were a few protests but none of any great importance, one objection seemed to be the confusion to the train schedule, that would lead to some confusion but the objections were over come.

The reasons for the change of time is, to benefit the farmer and business man it will give a longer time for the farmers in the field. It will also give the business man some time to enjoy the nice day light after the day's work is over. The citizens are contemplating a mass meeting to decide upon a definite time on which to turn back the clocks.

SITES OF HISTORIC INTEREST

Many Places Around Dutch City of Doorn Should Be of Interest to the Kaiser.

Doorn, the little Dutch town now the home of the former emperor of Germany, is surrounded by sites that may stir the former Kaiser's sense of reflection, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society. At Rheneen he might find a historical companion in misery. Friedrich of Prussia, the exiled King of Bohemia, took refuge there. Perhaps the most noteworthy aspect of the town is its tower, which bears the name of Kunera, after the daughter of the ruler of the Orkney Isles, who accompanied Ureia and her 11,000 vassals on a pilgrimage to Rome. Upon their return, according to the legend, now known to have been based on a misreading of a Latin text, the maidens were coming ashore to Cologne when Huno killed them all except Kunera. Later she leaped to her death from a castle parapet.

From the Moravian settlement of Zolst the former Kaiser might learn of humility, virtue and genuine piety. Considerable property is held in common by the people. There widows, married women and girls are classified by their attire. At Marzberg the Pyramid of Austerlitz was erected by Napoleon's soldiers to commemorate the crowning of Napoleon. At Utrecht the treaty was signed which opened the way for Britain's present great commercial power, as it gave her Gibraltar and several colonies.

PURPLE DYE FROM SHELLFISH

Possibility That New Industry May Be Developed, Since the Supply Is Inexhaustible.

On the Pacific coast of Costa Rica, especially in the region about Ocoy, there abounds a kind of shellfish called the "mussel" from which a fine purple color is obtained. So far this dye has been found for preserving this dye, and the industry has remained in the hands of the few old people who take the trouble to dye a few pieces of thread every summer. The process is very simple. On picking up the shell from the beach or detaching it from a boulder, the gatherer blows her breath into it, whereupon a few drops of a greenish liquor ooze out. This liquor is collected in a glass dish and after a sufficient quantity has been collected the thread is passed through it, soon after assuming, on exposure to the sunlight, a beautiful purple color, which is absolutely fast. It is thought possible that this dye, if kept only on exposure to the air and that the liquor could be preserved by keeping the air from it. There is little doubt that this industry, if developed, would be an extensive one and at good prices could be found for the dye.

TO DEMONSTRATE GOOD QUALITIES OF THE ESSEX

To demonstrate the economy and reliability of its products, the Essex Motor Car company has planned a most novel method of advertising which begins today and will continue during the entire week and which will be known nationally as Essex week.

During that time the Essex dealers throughout the nation will establish records, and do every possible stunt to get forth to the public the reliability and dependability of the Essex. That will undoubtedly be some spectacular stunt's performed and speed records established during the week, which will be of much interest to the automobile public. "Watch the Essex this week," is the slogan to be used.

The Johnson Auto Sales company, representing the Essex here, expects to do its part in establishing the superior qualities of the car, and the public can look forward to an announcement of an unusual local performance of the Essex car, early during Essex week.

WELL-KNOWN IOWA DIES.

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 26.—Fred L. Barnett, 52, well known in national and Iowa politics, died early today at a hospital at Clarinda, Iowa, according to reports received here.

For many years Barnett was in the government service, having acted as Chinese immigration inspector at El Paso and San Francisco and was connected with the building of the postoffice at Havana, Cuba.

GRAIN DISEASES MAKE APPEARANCE

Two New Forms of Disease Have Come to Bother the Farmers of United States

Take-all and flag smut have appeared in this country. They are serious diseases, and measures must be taken to stamp them out. The annual loss due to long-established cereal diseases already amounts to many million bushels in wheat alone. In exceptional years, such as 1916, the loss may have exceeded 200,000,000 bushels. And now we are facing the possibility of even greater tolls being taken.

Symptoms of Take-All
The symptoms of this disease are found in the Illinois and Indiana fields are strikingly like those of Australian take-all. In fields but slightly infected distinct patches of badly dwarfed plants show up here and there, without regard to soil type or condition.

The plants in these patches, if not killed outright by the disease, take on a characteristic bluish green color, or, in striking contrast, to the normal green of healthy wheat plants. Such patches vary in diameter from 3 or 4 feet or less to 72 feet or more and are of irregular shape. Later, these dwarfed diseased plants dry up and die.

In the most seriously diseased fields scarcely any patches are seen. Because the infestation is so general as to include almost the entire area, in such fields many of the plants are killed by the take-all early in their development, the loss seriously affected remain dormant in appearance, being just low clumps of leaves. In their struggle against the disease they send up weak, more or less spreading sprouts or suckers with sickly, slender leaves. Diseased plants are but weakly rooted. The roots become badly rotted and the stems at the surface of the ground turn brown. In advanced stages of take-all the plants become rotten at the base—able on the uppermost or flag leaf.

Symptoms of Flag Smut
Flag smut is easily recognized by the long, narrow stripes on the leaves. At first these stripes are bluish green or lead color, and later they become black. This disease is called flag smut because it is especially noticeable on the uppermost or flag leaf.

It differs distinctly from rust of wheat, on the one hand, and loose smut, on the other, because it attacks the leaves, while they attack the heads and kernels.

In the later stages of the development of flag smut the flag leaf and its sheath, or hood, become twisted spirally, so that the heads cannot come out. The infected plants dry up naturally without producing heads.

Ask every peddler, collector or beggar if he has a license or "Blue Card," permit from your Chamber of Commerce. This will save you time and money.

condition which has suggested the name of foot-rot, by which the disease is sometimes known. Affected plants may survive the early or seedling attack and produce heads. These heads, however, may never fill but become white in color, thus suggesting the name "white-heads" sometimes given to this disease.

FOR THE INTERESTS OF MOUNTAIN STATES

Western Democrats Unite in Making Recommendations to Committee on Resolutions.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Gov. Arthur Stewart of Montana was chosen tonight by delegations from extreme western states to head a committee that will present to the resolutions committee of the democratic convention recommendations affecting problems peculiar to the Pacific slope and Rocky mountain region.

Judge E. Elmo Bullinger of Arizona was selected secretary of the committee. The members named to-night were: Arizona, W. W. Pace, C. A. Harlow; Colorado, W. D. Riley; Idaho, J. A. Rothwell; Montana, George L. Harnsey; New Mexico, Arthur Seligman; Wyoming, L. B. Laird; Washington, N. W. Washington; Oregon, Will H. King; Hawaii, L. L. McCondiess; Alaska, G. B. Grigsby.

Difference in Situations.
Away out in a remote and snow drifted draw separated from the world an old cow stands between a fir tree and a boulder, her calf behind her desperately defending it against a ring of wolves capable of playing a waiting game through the long night. This is a scene common enough in the West, about which artists painted vivid pictures and authors wrote stirring stories, mighty good propaganda material for the department of agriculture's predatory animal campaign. But who would write a thrilling story or paint a picture about a predator dog running out of its hole and lifting its stomach with grama grass?—Exchange.

A Speedy Mate.
"Hallo" came the female voice over the telephone. "Is that the gas company?"
"Yes, madam" replied the clerk.
"I want to know when the entries for the autumn handicaps close."
"The autumn handicaps?" said the clerk.
"This is the gas company's office," he replied clearly.
"That's right," said the clerk, "I want to know when the entries for the autumn races close, as I'd like to enter my gas meter."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WET AND DRY BATTLE REMAINS IN DOUBT

Each Side Spurs for Advantage; Wet Still Hope for Modification Plan.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—"Wets" and "drys" today continued their pre-convention battle, but left the outcome still in doubt.

William J. Bryan, formally opened his fight for a prohibition platform plank. After his election by the Nebraska delegation to the resolutions committee, he made a long and vigorous address at a luncheon of the Commonwealth club on prohibition and other platform questions.

He declared the democratic party must be "saved from the liquor interests" and predicted utter rout for the "wets."

Democratic leaders favoring modification of the Volstead law confined their efforts to quiet work among state delegations. Several claimed large accessions to a wet or at least damp declaration. Other leaders, however, declared the platform would be silent on the prohibition question and were working toward that end.

Mr. Bryan asserts that there would be no compromise on the prohibition question. He said that while an open fight might be avoided he would force a record vote, both of states and individual delegates. If the liquor question were brought up in the convention. It is the paramount issue before the democrats. Mr. Bryan said, declaring his special purpose here was to have "dry" plank incorporated in the platform—an essential to party victory in November, he declared.

Hope From the South.
The "wets" were encouraged by reports from southern delegations that hopes of the prohibitionists for a "solid south" for a prohibition declaration were unfounded. They declared that the unit role could not be invoked on all southern delegations and that many of the southern members were ready to vote against the prohibitionists.

Mr. Bryan told his audience today that he sought his place on the resolutions committee especially to fight for a "dry" plank.

"I'm not sure that we're going to have any fight," Mr. Bryan continued, "but on the wet question which probably will come before the convention every man will have the chance to go on record. We're going to have a roll call and I want every delegation polled, so if any democrat wants to turn the party over to the liquor interests his folks at home will know it."

Mr. Bryan said he would welcome a minority report from the resolutions committee. If necessary, to bring the issue squarely before the convention.

When wet's through," he continued, "the country will know whether the democratic party will be the chattel property of the brewers or whether they'll be out of business before they can raise their black flag again. There will be no dodging the issue, no skulking around as there was at Chicago. If the democratic party isn't willing to speak out after the supreme court has withered every argument of the wets, it ought to dissolve."
