

THIRD PARTY ADVOCATES WORK FOR UNITY

COMMITTEE OF FORTY-EIGHT AND SINGLE TAXERS AGREE

Will Draft Platform on Which Liberal Organizations Can Stand, They Assert.

LA FOLLETTE IS NOT ACCEPTABLE TO ALL

Single Taxers Declare They Will Not Support Wisconsin Senator If He Is Nominated, Walsin a Candidate.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 10.—Foundations were laid today for a new party on which to unite all third party movements...

The first day's session, devoted to keynote speeches and organization work developed as many different views as there were delegates represented.

Division between the liberal and radical elements was brought out in the rules debate when Spurnhove Hale of New York, said the state delegations were divided 51 per cent liberal and 49 per cent radical.

Participation of the single taxers in today's convention followed an earlier session, at which they decided to present their platform demands and views on candidates.

They are opposed, their leaders say, to accepting Robert M. La Follette, the favorite presidential candidate of the party-leaders and may bolt the convention and select their own ticket if La Follette is nominated.

Determination of the single taxers' course was declared to be contingent upon three things: First, the platform, which they said must include a single tax plank; second, the candidate, and third, the name of the party.

The party name promises to develop a fight. Members of the single tax group want "single taxers" as their name incorporated in the party name.

While delegates debated rules and resolutions today, their committee on resolutions met to consider the platform...

STEAM COAL CRISIS THREATENS THE EAST

Governors of New England States Uple in Appeal for Relief to Avert Loss.

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, July 10.—The "most serious steam coal crisis in its history confronts New England unless there is a quick and effective relief, according to a report to the governors of the New England states today by their representatives at a recent conference with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

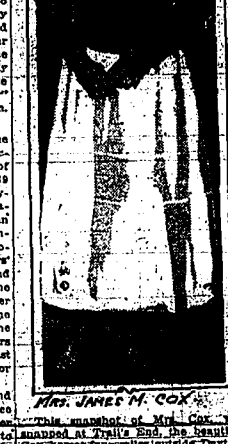

Continuing, it said that although the operators have been sending the larger part of their coal to the northwestern states is quite as bad, and perhaps today even worse than New England, the report was asserted.

Report charged that "the National Coal association has been endeavoring to aid its members to hide from Uncle Sam the tremendous profits which they have been making in the sale of coal for both domestic and foreign purposes."

A cargo of coal afloat in Boston harbor sold last week for $21 a ton. It was stated, whereas before the war a fair price for such a cargo was $4.50 a ton.

The report declared that "the word has been passed around among the coal operators that if the attorney general should show an interest in their abnormal profits they will be in a stronger or safer legal position if they let American citizens go without their coal and profit on the foreigner."

CAR SHORTAGE MAY CAUSE SHUT DOWN OF GREAT STEEL MILLS OF COUNTRY

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 10.—A shut down of steel mills is threatened because of car shortage, representatives of more than a score of steel manufacturing plants today informed the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Daniel Willard, chairman of the advisory committee of the Association of Railway Executives, who also appeared before the commission, was equally insistent, however, that any general suspension of industry would be averted and that improvement was possible in the steel trade.

"I believe there will not be any general shut down of industry," declared Mr. Willard. "The situation I believe will not get any worse and I believe we can make it better."

Addressing the shippers, Chairman Clark, declared the commission regarded the "utter impossibility" of pleasing all of them, but he agreed that they follow the suggestion of Mr. Willard to attempt solution of car shortage through co-operation between them and the railroad officials.

SENATOR HARDING CONFERS WITH WOOD

Military Man, Comes From Dinner With Senator, Retires He Will Succeed Candidate.

By the Associated Press. MARION, Ohio, July 10.—Interest in the activities of Senator Harding, Republican presidential nominee, was centered in his conference tonight with Major General Leonard Wood, who called to assure the senator regarding his support for an army officer.

General Wood did not reach Marion until nearly 3 p. m. and went directly to the Harding home, where he had dinner with the senator and Mrs. Harding.

This was the first time Senator Harding and General Wood had met since the former's nomination, but the general in a telegram congratulating the senator on his nomination and in a recent letter had expressed his support for the Ohio senator.

Senator Curdman, republican of Iowa, who has arrived at the same time, it was announced, that he had postponed his arrival until tomorrow night. Mr. Hayes is also expected early tomorrow to spend the day with the senator.

WHITE MAN'S JUDGE TO BE SENT TO THE ESKIMOS

OTTAWA, July 10.—A white man's judge is to be sent 2,000 miles into Hudson bay territory to impress on the Eskimo the realities of justice of the white man's law.

This was the decision reached today by the department of justice in the case of Oungwak, an Eskimo, charged with having slaughtered a fellow man to gain his wife. This crime was alleged to have been committed near Chesterfield Inlet, Keewatin, deep in the land of endless ice and snow.

Oungwak is now in Ottawa on his way to Montreal whence next week he will sail for the scene of the murder to be staged for the benefit of the natives. With him will sail Sergeant Douglas of the Royal Canadian mounted police, the man who hunted him down, arrested him and is taking him "home" as evidence that the "northwestern mounted" policemen never lose their man.

KANSAS CROP ESTIMATE.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 10.—Estimated crop production in Kansas for 1920 as based on the condition on July 1, according to the report issued today by the Kansas office of the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture, shows winter wheat 110,515,000 bushels; spring wheat 121,000,000 bushels; oats 52,518,000 bushels; barley 15,800 bushels; grain sorghum 22,000,000 bushels.

Party Leaders to Confer With Governor Cox Relative to Great Political Battle.

COX IS TO RECEIVE FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

Candidates Will Meet Monday to Discuss Situation and the Policy to Be Pursued in Combatting G. O. P.

By the Associated Press. DAYTON, Ohio, July 10.—The first round of political conferences between party leaders and Governor Cox looking toward perfection of campaign plans, will begin tomorrow with the arrival from San Francisco of Judge T. T. Anderson of Washington, D. C. Judge Anderson will bring to the presidential nominee first hand information of the convention and probably will discuss with him matters relating to campaign management.

It is generally expected here that Judge Anderson will play an important role in the campaign management as he is a close personal friend of Governor Cox, being a former resident of Ohio, and one of the chief lieutenants of E. H. Moore, the governor's prevention manager.

To See Hoover. Monday the governor will have his first meeting with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice-presidential nominee, at the executive offices in Columbus. While the meeting primarily will be for the exchange of felicitations, an exchange of views on campaign plans are expected to be made.

Governor Cox has issued no statement of his position on the League of Nations, which would imply its essential integrity, but do not oppose the acceptance of any reservations making clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the League of Nations.

A Promissory Note. The governor stated today that he considered the democratic platform a promissory note to the people and that it was up to him to redeem it. He said that the conference between the president and the presidential candidate at Washington, it is expected the League of Nations will be one of the subjects discussed.

The governor played golf this afternoon at the Dayton Country club. Paired with Ellsworth H. Augustus of Cleveland, a slipping laid with a mighty stroke, the presidential nominee's record was saved. He often took a five or six for him to make a hole.

Apparently a little chagrined at his showing, he commented to his friends that "between national conventions and town meetings" his four-some seems apt to play.

Other than conferring with Judge Anderson, the governor has no conference scheduled for tomorrow and expects to spend the day at his home at Trail's End.

INVEST NEBRASKA CAPITAL. PORTLAND, Ore., July 10.—Purchase by Nebraska capitalists of the holdings of the American Redwood company in Mendocino and Siskiyou counties, California, was announced today by the state board of investment. The property comprises 75,000 acres, partly cut over, but mostly timber. Approximately 500,000 feet of redwood are contained in the tract. It was said that the company had been in operation in excess of 100,000,000 feet of lumber. The company has been in operation since 1900.

Hottest Day on Record.
I read years ago about a fellow who had been down to Xentian building a telegraph line. He said it was hot down there—quite hot. He said the way they ran their telegraph line after the poles and the insulators were up was to carry the wire up a pole, take it high around an insulator, put the end of the strand in the direction of the next pole, slip down and hasten—regularly hasten—to that next pole and climb it as quickly as possible. If they hurried they would get there just in time to grab the end of the wire as it arrived, having been extended to that point by expansion. The hottest day they had, he said, the works of his watch melted and ran down his leg—and felt cold because it was liquid.

Last Life to Save Jewels.
Whether we realize it or not, we are seizing or losing opportunities every day of our lives. Queen Mary was conversing with Mrs. Robinson, who was a stewardess on board the Titanic. The queen asked why so many of the women had been lost in that terrible disaster. Mrs. Robinson replied: "Many more women would have been saved, madam, if they had thought some of their lives and lots of their belongings. When the danger arrived, there were opportunities for getting into lifeboats, but in many cases the women rushed down to the cabins to save jewelry and other valuables. When they returned to the deck, it was too late.—Grit."

Artificial Scents.
The great bulk of perfumes for chemical productions. The Wall Street Journal says the commercial problem is whether the American perfumer of the future is to be an artisan or an artist. Will he deal with the fragrance of flowers or chemical odors and scents? The idea of the layman is that the cosmetic chemist seeks the odor of flowers; but as a matter of fact synthetic chemistry not only creates his work with the crushed oil of roses, violets and Jessamine, but seeks to rival the fragrance of flowers with superior scents originating wholly within the laboratory and trademarked as such.

MADE LAVISH USE OF PAINT

American Indians Employed It for Many Purposes Besides Their Usual Adornment.

The first users of radium were the Utah Indians. In pre-Columbian times they employed it (the material now known as "cermetite") to paint their bodies a bright canary yellow. No work on eminent painters ought to omit mention of the American aborigines. It is supposed the first coat by man was a coat of paint. But the American artists, when he had adorned himself like a rainbow, the blind touch perhaps being to make the lower half of his face red and the upper half green, did by no means stop at that.

He painted weird pictures on rocks and the faces of cliffs. He painted his wooden house, or his tepee, with symbolic and descriptive designs. He painted his shield and bow and arrows. He painted monstrous masks (worn in ceremonial), and also his pottery. The most precious of all things to the Indians—who even nowadays have not lost their talent in this direction—was paint. A deposit of mineral pigments of copper, yellow, blue and green paints, and from iron oxide was obtained a brilliant red.

Not long ago an important deposit of iron ore was opened at Leslie, Md., and mining operations disclosed that much digging had been done there by the Indians—not for iron, but for iron oxide in seams and pockets. A beautiful, white paint was obtained by the Indians of the Yellow-stone region from boiling springs. It was a white clay, very finely divided, so that when dried it took the form of a powder. Some of it had a pinkish tint.

The cosmetic paints were kept in tiny earthen pots for that use, and were applied with a chewed stick. But for the execution of pictures or decorative effects the instrument most commonly employed was a paddle-shaped stick, applied edge-wise for lines and flatwise to cover spaces.

Dream That Came True.
Recently O. Nakano of Kawara, Japan, dreamed that one of his forefathers appeared before him and told him that a large amount of treasure was hidden in the ground beneath the family's former warehouse. Half believing the vision, but chiefly out of curiosity, he set about digging in a direct when, behold, he succeeded in unearthing a stone jar, which the Japan Advertiser. The jar contained old gold and silver pieces worth $25,000 at their present market value. The find was especially welcome, as Nakano has been as near as a church-nose, although his forebears, were wealthy headmen of the district.

East Indian Superstition.
Many East Indian people will sit down in meditation before any grave, and, by holding their breath as long as possible, derive inspiration from a saint. Superstitious women select a particular grave to which to make their offerings, and every Thursday night they either take or send some offering with an earthenware lamp, with a cotton thread as a wick, which they burn at the head of the grave. Often sweets or flowers are taken as offerings, or butter or ghee (which is burnt in a lamp instead of a wick) while some show their respect by having the grave sprayed with water during the summer months.

Long Meteor Flight.
Numerous observations of the brilliant meteor seen in the early evening of October 21, 1919, show that it had the long horizontal flight of 335 miles from over a point 20 miles northeast of York, England, to 20 miles southwest of St. Valery, France. It traveled at a speed of about 33 miles a second and its average altitude was 74 miles. Its radiant point and speed agree nearly with those computed by Prof. A. S. Herschel for the meteor from the comet of 1739.—Scientific American.

RUNNING FIGHT IN OWYHEE HILLS

Altercation Over Right to Hang Results in One Dead and One Badly Injured.

BOHNE, July 10.—Weak with loss of blood and recovering from an operation which removed a bullet from his head, Mandy Morrow, a sheepherder, has given his first account of a running fight in the hills of Owyhee county in which Jim Sins, a Spaniard, was killed and Jim Stevenson, a camp tendor, wounded.

In an altercation over the right to range, Morrow says, the Spaniard drew a revolver and fired at Morrow, striking his arm. Morrow, armed with a rifle, tried to bring it into play but before he pulled the trigger, was shot again. He then fired at Sins, wounding him, and went down with a bullet in his head.

Stevenson, the camp tender, seized Morrow's gun and turned upon Sins, firing. He, too, was wounded by the shot but Sins was picked up dead and was said to have three bullets in his body.

GOOD NEWS FROM MEXICO.

No news from Mexico is always good news, and there has been a refreshing silence lately in that quarter. This last revolution has been put through with amazing speed and thoroughness and an equally amazing lack of bloodshed. The fact that quiet is already restored in almost every part of the country seems to corroborate General Obregon's boast that 95 per cent of the people are with him. And this, he it noted, is in the midst of a presidential campaign.

It is easy to make mistakes in judging Mexico. Still, this apparently widespread acquiescence does seem to mean nothing less than general agreement with the purposes professed by the new government. If this is true, and if Obregon as the spokesman of that government is to be trusted, the situation is certainly more hopeful for better relations with Mexico than Americans could have expected.

General Obregon in his latest interview is quoted as saying that "there is only one party in the country," that Carranza did great harm to Mexico with his anti-Americanism, and that the new regime seeks above everything else to "restore credit, end militarism, get all the children in school, and deserve, by all means in its power, the friendship and close cooperation of the United States and all other countries."

This sounds like statesmanship. Can it be that, after all, Mexico is going to prove able to solve its own problems, and save the United States from a big, costly and disagreeable job? Never, since the death of Diaz, has the outlook been so promising.

THE MEANEST SWINDLER.

Warping of a new swindling game of which sick people and their families are the victims, has been issued by the Illinois Bankers' association. It should be given wide publicity, for the swindlers will probably move on to new fields, now that they have been detected in their present location.

The scheme is for two men, posing as representatives of some famous scientists, to locate in a neighborhood. They find out who is ill in the community, gain any details they can concerning the cases, and then call at the patients' houses, professing to be able to effect a cure, and giving some well-known doctor or hospital as their reference. After procuring treatment they take either money or check in payment, cash the checks promptly and go their way. Of course, their treatments and prescriptions are worthless, and the family already burdened with the troubles and expense of illness finds itself robbed of need funds in addition.

It is a particularly despicable scheme because it preys upon the afflicted. Swindlers caught working it should be punished to the limit of the law. As for the public at large, it needs to consider once more the utter folly of entering into any kind of business negotiations, especially wild-goose medical treatment, with strangers or any persons whose probity and reputable connections are not definitely assured.

IMPRESSING MUSTAPHA KEMAL.

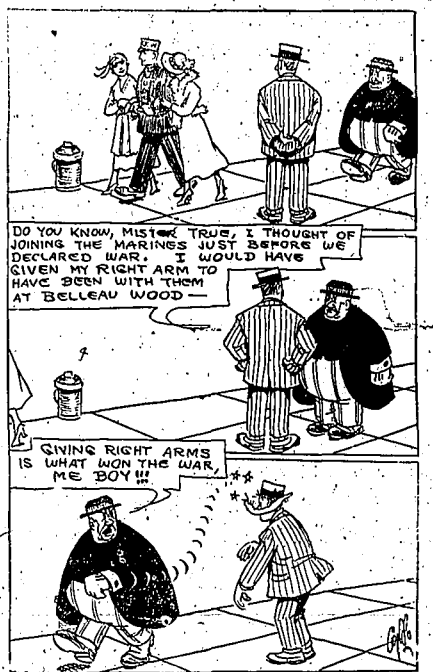

There should be no misunderstanding of the campaign the Greek army, with some aid from the British fleet, is now waging against the Turks. The situation is open to a certain misconception because the Turks the Greeks are fighting, the faction headed by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, call themselves "Nationalists," and talk in terms of "liberty."

Mustapha Kemal and his followers are not enlightened converts to the doctrines of the allies. They are not patriotic sincerely seeking the salvation of their country. They are robbers who took up arms to prevent the Turkish government from carrying out the terms of the treaty imposed by the allies—terms which only fulfil, from the American viewpoint, its obligations. The rebel Turks are keeping Turkey in turmoil and doing their best to prevent the civilized western powers from reaping the just and beneficent fruits of their victory.

If Mustapha Kemal should gain the supreme power in Turkey, it would mean no reform, but perpetuation of the old Turkish regime of craft, cruelty and reaction, which the civilized powers have determined to wipe out forever. It would mean continued oppression of all the small nationalities round about, and continued confusion throughout the Near East.

The allies are seeking to restore order and guarantee peace in that fermenting region from which have come so many wars. So Mustapha Kemal must be put down. Greece, the only nation willing to take the trouble, has agreed to do it, and so far is handling the job very acceptably.

THE BIRD BATH.

Any one who wants a true glimpse of right before his eyes all the time has only to fix up a bird bath of some sort on his lawn. No lawn is too small to afford space for one, and no city street so congested that sooner or later some feathered neighbor will not peck out the bird bath and make himself its immediate excuse for being.

It is not necessary to have anything elaborate. A fountain of stone or cement may be very tasteful, but little old robin will take the finest bath in the world in any shallow tin pan. A coat of moss-green paint will turn the home-contrived article into a thing of beauty, blending in with the green of the grass around it.

No old swimming hole ever saw more antics than are carried on by the splashing birds, nor any more untroubled delight in the water, nor any more democratic gatherings, nor heard more chattering. If an occasional fight is pulled off, why, that's just human and bird nature.

The possessor of a bird bath for his lawn has a summer-long option on the pure joy of life. He will find himself more than repaid for his trouble, and probably astonished at the number and variety of birds common to his neighborhood that he never saw before.

NEBRASKA FINANCIERS FACE MANY TROUBLES.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 10.—E. E. Pike, who, while receiver of the defunct Valparaiso, Neb., state bank, early this year organized and became cashier of the Nebraska State bank of Valparaiso, which took over part of the assets of the old institution, was arrested today on a charge of advancing the date of a $10,000 deposit in a report to the state banking board, according to J. E. Dart, secretary of the state department of trade and commerce. He was taken to Wahoo for preliminary hearing.

A warrant was also issued in Wagon for the arrest of W. C. Elmendorf, Omaha grain-in and former president of the defunct bank, charging him with borrowing $10,000 from the bank in 1918 and 1919 without giving security in violation of the state banking laws.

Ray A. Lower, cashier and majority stockholder of the defunct bank, is under arrest on a complaint of 21 credits charging embezzlement before the bank was closed last January.

FIVE THOUSAND DRAFT SWABBERS CONVICTED

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Five thousand draft swabbers have been convicted in federal courts and given terms of from 30 days to one year in prison, according to reports compiled today at the department of justice. Thirty thousand more remain to be investigated. The results of the investigation show about 10,000 cases of failure to register and an equal number of false questionnaires.

About 25 per cent of the men listed as delinquents were found to have enlisted in the American allied armies without the knowledge of their local boards. About 40 per cent are accounted for on the score of the floating population. Some 20 per cent are considered those who failed to perform their duty through ignorance. The balance is made up of cripples and wilful delinquents.

Captain Tonnesson said he did not know the exact location of the explorer at present but was satisfied he was safe.

"Lodestone"

One of the most fantastic stories of the "Arabian Nights" is of a mountain of magnetite which draws the nails out of any ship that may approach it (together with any other iron mongery that may be on board), causing the damaged craft to fall to pieces. It is so presumed that this remarkable tale finds its germ in the accidental observation of the attraction of iron by pieces of magnetite ore. Why is magnetite ore magnetic? Nobody knows. Only now and then is iron ore found that possesses this strange property. It is so exceptional that collectors of minerals are always hunting for fragments of the material known in earlier days as "lodestone."

A Warth Payering Premiums For. A $5000 life insurance policy was taken out on a hen exhibited in Portland, Ore., recently. This hen is a White Leghorn, owned by Doctor Tatrof of Kent, Wash. Her owner consented to allow her to be placed on exhibition by one of the poultry, food, commodities, but insisted that she must be insured for $5000.

Fifty-Fifty. The following couple in the mill: A 2nd who had just been outfitted by the merry jesters over in the clothes-selling room was walking down the road in critical contemplation of his flapping trousers. An officer passed, and the girl failed to salute. "Look here, young man," said the officer, "didn't you notice my uniform?" "That are you talking about," answered the girl, "look at the way mine fits."—Great Lakes Bulletin.

GREAT HOMAGE PAID TO GORGAS

Impressive Funeral Services Held at St. Paul's, London, in Honor of American.

LONDON, July 10.—Homage notable in the history of the ancient cathedral was paid to the memory of Major General William C. Gorgas in St. Paul's at noon yesterday when the funeral services for the former surgeon-general of the American army were held.

With the American and British flags atop Alexandra hospital floating at half mast and a battery of distant guns booming the 13 gun salute of a major general, the long cortege began its slow march from the hospital to the cathedral at 11 o'clock. The military escort was composed of the Second Grenadiers and its staff, mounted on black horses; three squadrons of the life guards; a battalion of the Coldstream guards and a battalion of the Irish guards. The flag-draped coffin was borne on a gun carriage with a wreath of lilacs the only floral decoration.

Immediately at the head of the cortege was a military foot soldier, who led the rifeless charger of General Gorgas. The crowds which lined the two-mile route of the funeral procession to the cathedral stood with bare heads as the casket passed.

At the cathedral steps the casket was met by a distinguished party of pallbearers, including the military and naval attaches of the American embassy, the president of the Royal College of Surgeons, Viscount Astor, Maj. Gen. Sir Richard H. Charles, sergeant-surgeon to the king, Brig. Gen. John H. Finney; Lieut. Col. Sir James Fowler of the colonial office; Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, Minn., and other prominent physicians and surgeons.

The casket was borne by eight stalwart guards through the central aisle of the cathedral, where it was met by the clergy and choir, which led the way to the chancel. Mrs. Gorgas, leaning on the arm of Brigadier General Noble, long one of General Gorgas' associates, followed the casket, which reposed on a stand beneath the dome of the cathedral during the simple and brief ceremonies.

Funeral services for Gen. Gorgas will be held at 11 o'clock at the Parish hall, Sunday school will be called at 10 o'clock. "Sacrament" will be the topic for the morning session. Weekly testimonial meetings are held at 8 p. m.

HALL IS CHARGED WITH CUTTING BELL

Two Men Have Quarrel and Knife is Alleged to Have Been Used With Serious Effect.

BATH, July 10.—Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff E. R. Sherman was called out to a ranch 1 1/2 miles northwest of Bath to make the arrest Sheriff Hall, whom, it is alleged, drew a knife and badly cut Russell Bell during an argument between the men. It seems that Russell Bell made a statement that offended Hall who then drew a knife on Bell. Russell Bell was rushed to Dr. Jennings, who treated his wounds which are numerous, he having slashes on his face, neck and chest.

CHINESE TURNING TO SPORTS

Necessity for Physical Culture is Beginning to Be Recognized in the New Republic.

Physical culture and all types of athletics were, until very recently, held in contempt by the Chinese, and consequently the Shanghai boys did not know what the joy of indulging in baseball and other sports meant, says Boys' Life. Ages ago chariot driving, archery and the other classic sports played an important part in Chinese education. With the dawn of China's literary golden age, however, the scholars could not see how mental perfection could be attained if there was any thought of athletic prowess. Muscles and brawn, they said, belonged to the peasant, and the gentleman of culture should show his good breeding by a scholarly pallor, stooped shoulders and a general unhealthy appearance.

This attitude toward physical development persisted for centuries, and it has been only within the last few decades that interest has been awakened in sports. With the introduction of new educational methods and the entrance of occidental theories into the orient, athletes are more eager into their own and the Chinese student tucked up his cue and his dignity and went in for pole vaulting and hurdling.

China has now the idea that a nation's economic progress depends largely on the healthy bodies and minds of its citizens, and missionaries find little difficulty in winning subscriptions for athletic fields for the schools.

NON-PARTISANS PUT UP COUNTY TICKET

Can Youse from Old Parties and Name Candidates, Includes Zuck for Governor.

Choosing a county ticket which will count for the success of the voters of Twin Falls county the Non-Partisan League convention yesterday cut loose from the two old parties and offered its aspirants with the indorsement of the league and representatives of organized labor.

Not only did the league cut loose from the old parties but it named a county ticket, but action was taken looking to the nomination of a full state ticket, headed by O. G. Zuck of Kimberly for governor.

Application to the state convention called by the league for the nomination of a state ticket were selected, and these were instructed to support Mr. Zuck for governor and to favor the nomination of a full state ticket.

The candidates for county officers are:

For senator, Elmer Amann, Pifer. For representative, J. M. Jayne of Kimberly, E. A. Dickey of Buhl and George A. Childs of Buhl.

For sheriff, Sam Puteala, Twin Falls.

Treasurer, John Erbach, Pifer. Probate judge, H. Sommer, Buhl. County superintendent of public instruction, Mrs. Charles Kitching, Hain.

County assessor, J. F. Scherub, Hain.

County commissioners: First district, Ed Litter, Buhl; Second district, James Munn, Twin Falls; Third district, A. D. E. E. E. E.

Delegates to state convention: Elmer Amann and A. E. Dickey.

The ticket above named is the selection made by a convention which was attended by representatives of the leading trade councils of Buhl and Twin Falls and the Non-Partisan League. The convention convened in the morning, when conclusion was reached to name a full county ticket and to participate in a state convention to name a full state ticket.

Committees were then named representing the two bodies of organized labor and the membership of the Non-Partisan League for the purpose of formulating a "ticket." In the afternoon a convention was had again, various candidates, with the results above indicated.

The action of the committees in planning a state delegation, and in providing for a county ticket was enthusiastically indorsed by the convention.

While the attendance at the convention was not at all large, and far smaller than that of previous Non-Partisan League conventions in the county, there was manifest a determination to fight and to fight to the end for the ticket named.

There was general discussion among those who attended as to the name for the ticket, which must be on a ballot by petition. This matter was held in abeyance, for the local movement is designed to tie into the national third party movement and to be spread through a full state ticket.

AMERICAN SOCIALISTS ARE GOING TO RUSSIA

TRENTON, Mich., July 10.—A committee of American socialists will go to Russia to study social and economic conditions as well as to report on conditions obtained. It was decided here today at a meeting of the socialist national committee, here to map plans for the coming political campaign.

The committee will be similar to the high rates, which some time ago visited Russia.

The American committee, composed of four members, will make a report on the conditions to the socialist party of America, it was announced.

Members of the commission are: Agorinos Lee, New York city attorney; J. C. Cohn, a printer of Philadelphia; James Ouellet, New York newspaperman and Alexander Trago, author of a book on "Russia and its University," who was exiled from Russia following the revolution that preceded overthrow of the czar.

The socialist party will make an immediate appeal to President Wilson to grant the party's petition for release from Atlanta federal prison of Eugene V. Debs, socialist presidential candidate.

There are several weddings to be solemnized in this city in the near future. One of the contracting parties is not a thousand miles away from where we promised her to marry.

APART FROM BEATEN TRACK

People of Small Island, Southwest of Java, Not Much Bothered With World Problems.

Christmas Island is located in mid-Pacific, close to the equator and due south of the Hawaiian archipelago. This region is there located. Very picturesque, there is a recent news dispatch which said that people living there had only just learned from a British warship that the war was an end—their ignorance in this regard causing them to threaten with firearms a landing party of men whom they imagined to be Germans.

Explanation lies in the fact that the Christmas Island referred to in the dispatch is another island of the same name, 100 miles south of the western end of Java. It is a rather remarkable bit of terra firma, and was usually uninhabited until 1807, when the first visiting sealers found it covered with dense forest. At the time the population consisted of about 250 Europeans, Malays, Sikhs and Chinese.

The island, twelve miles long by nine miles wide, is the flat summit of a volcanic mountain, an extent of volcanic over 15,000 feet high. Rising precipitously from the sea-floor, the mountain emerges above water to a height of 1,000 feet, and all around it the ocean in its neighborhood is more than two and a half miles deep.

Anciently this tropical isle was of no great height above water, and ring-shaped, encircling a lagoon—in other words, corresponding to the description of what we call an atoll. The island appears today as a flat central plateau with a raised edge. Much of the plateau is covered by a deposit of phosphate of lime many feet thick. The mountain top, before it was uplifted above the water, acquired a covering of shaly ooze that later became limestone rock. After its emergence it became a resort of multitudes of seabirds, whose droppings, converted by the action of time into phosphate of lime, most valuable for fertilizing purposes. It was the discovery of this precious resource that caused the British government to annex the island.

Overseas Feeling Concerning Dogs.

As one proceeds into Asia he finds conflicting views about dogs. The Tanals of Southern India, whose shins are an easy mark for sharp teeth, say they are finding a stone we see the dog and call it a dog we find a stone; as though a dog existed only to be stoned. A little further east, in China, we find that dogs have more good in them than men. They have a saying that could not have become embedded in the proverbial wisdom of any but a kindly race with a friendly feeling for all created things. And the Chinese also say that the dog has no aversion to a poor family, as well as "a dog understands his master's nod."

Everybody Was Glad.

The day was hot and after my serious illness the sermon seemed to me

As is the custom in the rural districts, the congregation paused at the door of the church for a little gossip and as I came along the minister kindly extended his hand and said, "Well, I am glad to see you out." To which I quickly replied: "Believe me, I am glad to be out."

Needless to say, I made a hasty exit when I saw the smile on the face of my little daughter and heard her shrill voice ring out: "And so an L"—the change.

Stalines.

"John, did you bring home that floor stain today?" "I forgot it."

This was on Thursday. On Friday and Saturday the same dialogue occurred. She asked him again on Monday.

"Did you bring that floor stain?" "I overlooked it. I hope you won't be angry."

"Of course not. My Galahad, my staliness knight!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

On the Right Side.

"I don't want to do anything wrong," said an elderly Shropshire woman who called upon an official of the ministry of food, "but when I die I should like my funeral to be properly carried out." She then confided that she had, in stock, two casks and three bottles of whisky and three tins of salmon.

This cheerful soul was quite pleased when told that she was "on the right side" so long as she did not add to her stock.—London Chronicle.

A Cultured Quarter.

"We are now passing through a neighborhood which has more culture to the square foot than any other part of town."

"Well! Well!—Everybody about here, I suppose is a high-brow."

"Yes, why, the people here, this neighborhood talk about Shakespeare as if he hadn't been dead some 100 years."

"His class."

"Oh, so much! Well—You complain that I am at ways asking you for money. Why don't you give me so much a year and I shall be glad to let you know that's just what I complain of."
