

WILL HOLD A CONFERENCE ABOUT THE FUEL SITUATION

Government Representatives and Committee From Coal Industry Go Over Situation

QUESTION OF EMBARGO WILL BE CONSIDERED

Exports of Coal, However, Are Light and Scarcity Is Generally Attributed to Defective Distribution.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 29.—Means of averting winter coal shortage and of defeating profiteering in the coal trade will be discussed at a conference in New York Monday by representatives of four government departments and a committee from the coal industry.

Mr. Ames, who with Attorney General Palmer, will direct the formation of the plan, declared there was no reason for a scarcity of fuel now and that if a shortage existed, it was through faulty distribution. He added that there were "no economic reasons" for the high coal prices which obtain throughout the country.

Although the question of an embargo on export coal will be discussed, Mr. Ames said it appeared that the embargo could be discarded as an effective means of increasing the supply available for domestic use. Less than ten million tons of coal have been exported during the first six months of this year, including shipments to Canada, he pointed out, and the amount had not materially reduced the stocks here with a production for a period estimated at 25,000,000 tons.

Decline to Participate. CHICAGO, July 29.—Coal operators of Indiana today declined to participate in a joint conference with the miners, as suggested by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of Indiana, with a view to changing or amending the interstate agreement and the commerce commission's award.

The executive committee of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' association, said it was influenced "by the fact that all contracts, state and interstate, were but a re-affirmation and in acceptance by the operators and miners of an award made in its stipulations."

Know Situation Is Serious. "We are not forgetful," the committee stated, "of the seriousness of the present situation and it affects the country and we regret that our hands are tied. We suggest that you start the mines-in operation, guarantee to the public its fuel supply and secure from the government the right to meet to consider any alleged grievances and to adjust any wrongs." Replies to Mr. Lewis' request for the joint conference have not been sufficient to indicate whether the majority of the owners favor such a meeting, Thomas T. Brewer, chairman of the operator's state committee, said today.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING. CALDWELL Idaho, July 29.—Erwin Wyatt, a ranch hand employed on a ranch three miles from here, was struck and killed by a bolt of lightning this evening, as he was returning from work in a wheat field. He was 24 years old and unmarried.

MANY SUBJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

Harding Talks About Numerous Things With Callers—Working Hard on Another Address.

By the Associated Press. MARION, Ind., July 29.—Subjects ranging from the political outlook in Ohio to the internal troubles of China, were canvassed by Warren G. Harding today in a long work-day cramped with conferences. The callers prevented completion of the speech the nominee will deliver here Saturday at the opening of the first party campaign here and he probably would not finish his address tomorrow night. The address, which will be delivered to a delegation from Mansfield, Ohio, is expected to include general discussion of the issues.

Business Men Call. The first conference today was with Chicago men, connected with the financial and the republican national committee. They were accompanied by Fred W. Upham of Chicago, national committee treasurer, and later talked over campaign finances with the nominee and outlined the plan for the Chicago republican campaign fund by popular subscription.

Seek to Ascertain Policy of British. American Government Sends Out Inquiry Designed to Ascertain England's Intentions.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 29.—An official statement by the state department today disclosed that representatives have been made to the British government regarding the policy of fueling the exploitation of oil fields and the distribution of oil from mandate countries. The subject had been discussed informally between the department and Sir Auckland Geddes, British minister here, and the American embassy in London also is believed to have been gathering information on the subject. The exchanges on the oil question here understood to have begun to take on a more formal character, more than a month ago, and a note was addressed to the British government which was not in any sense a protest, but was rather intended to develop the intentions of the British government toward the oil fields of Mesopotamia and perhaps some of the Balkan countries.

Confusion Exists. A good deal of confusion exists in official circles here as to the nature of agreements reported to have been made between Great Britain and France and perhaps other entente countries regarding the distribution of oil. Information is being sought particularly by this government as to pre-war agreements and the extent of government control over the oil fields as distinguished from undertakings arranged by private oil interests which occupy a different status from an international standpoint.

Discussions. Discussions have been made and taken notice of by the state department that the arrangements now being made for the distribution of oil between the allied countries are in line with the plans formed by the economic conference, an outgrowth of the four big railway brotherhoods which the United States government withdrew when the senate withheld its approval of the peace treaty.

Darrow Gives Views OF THE DEFENDANTS. By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 29.—FBI arguments in behalf of William Brock Lloyd and 19 other members of the communist labor party, charged with violation of the state sedition laws, were begun today. C. E. Darrow, taking up the question of the defendant's views on the elections said: "Most of us feel like we have never had a part in the election. Take for instance the coming presidential election. We have the choice between Cox or Harding. If the proletariat rules for a while he might prove to be a bad ruler. A change might be advisable."

Oil Row Is Settled. SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—A dispute between the navy department and oil companies over the price of fuel oil for navy vessels on the Pacific was ended here today when it was announced the department had accepted proposals of the Standard Oil Company to furnish fuel oil at $2 a barrel. Early this week destroyers loaded oil from the Associated Oil company here when the company refused to accept the navy's price of $1.72.

DEPUTIES AND BANDITS HAVE FIERCE BATTLE

JACKSON, Mich., July 29.—Deputy sheriff Henry Worden was slightly wounded and another deputy sheriff was wounded and two alleged bandits were shot in a gun fight today, between sheriff's officers and a gang of robbers who held up and robbed the Farmers State bank at Grand Lake, 12 miles east of here. Six men, five of whom are alleged members of the bandit gang, were taken following a gun fight to a ranch near the scene of the robbery. Approximately $15,000 in currency and bonds was recovered.

SHACKLED PRISONERS HOBBLE OVER FIELDS. By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 29.—Seventeen prisoners on the municipal farm, all shackled, overpowered two guards, hobbled for hours across fields, taking the captive guards with them, and reached a little railway station. Fifteen of the 17 succeeded in prying the irons from their legs and the guards were shackled and left. Late today the two prisoners who had not succeeded in loosening their leg irons were recaptured.

PAUL, Minn., July 29.—Woman's place in the affairs of the world were discussed at the annual banquet tonight of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. Bay State Senator Pledges Vigorous Support to Cox in Race for Presidency.

WOULD DEVOTE TIME TO AMERICAN ISSUES.

Does Not Want Discussion of League of Nations to be Paramount; Favors Reservations That Are Specific.

By the Associated Press. CANTON, Ohio, July 29.—Governor Cox' democratic presidential candidacy today was pledged the vigorous and unqualified support of Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, leader among senate democrats who have given their full administration on the league of nations and who fought for reservations.

Walsh Arrives. Senator Walsh arrived unexpectedly today and was Governor Cox's guest at dinner before leaving for the coast.

He will not in every possible way to secure Governor Cox's election. Mr. Walsh said, "I voted for him from the first at San Francisco and shall continue my vigorous aid. Senator Walsh said he had not learned Governor Cox's attitude toward the league controversy. He called to talk over ordinary campaign affairs, he said, with D. J. Mahoney, Cox's son-in-law, and the governor had insisted upon tonight's visit to Transient. Even should he and the governor differ on the league, Senator Walsh said he still would support the governor enthusiastically. He was the most progressive and liberal senator in the field at San Francisco, Mr. Walsh added.

He was the only visitor at Transient today. Governor Cox finished the address and prepared to be the guest of honor tomorrow at the "home-coming" and non-political celebration planned by the governor's friends.

Except for Senator Walsh's statement, the governor reserved all day on his speech accepting on Aug. 7 the party nomination. He hoped that the league would not be the campaign's paramount issue because expressed by Senator Walsh, who left the secretary of the platform committee at San Francisco for the words in the league plank stating that the party does not oppose reservations making America's obligations clearer and more specific. "I hope we can devote more attention to American questions," said the senator, asserting that opposition to profiteering should be stressed.

Declined to Answer. To a query as to whether he approved the statements of President Wilson and Governor Cox after their White House conference, Senator Walsh declined to answer. The senator declared he still favored league coverage reserved at any point would never vote for the league without reservations to Article X. The Republicans, he predicted, would seek to make reservation to Article X their principle fight and he said Governor Cox should be "very careful" what position he took.

That Irish questions would not be campaign issues also was predicted by Mr. Walsh. "Don't think they will figure at all," he said.

Governor Cox today directed that invitations be sent to all candidates at San Francisco for the ceremony Aug. 7. Word was received that Secretary of Agriculture Meredith and Senator Reed of Missouri were planning to attend.

TO CONSIDER SOURCES. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 29.—Funds for financing the democratic national campaign will be received in any amount and party leaders will be concerned only with the sources from which the money comes. George White, the new national chairman, announced today in paying his first visit to the party's national headquarters. He characterized as "democratic" the suggestion that campaign contributions be limited to $1,000 per each contributor. Party heads will scrutinize sources. Continued On Page Five.

Its sides are nearly vertical, and the tower rises itself skyward to an altitude of 517 feet, of 600 feet above the sandstone platform which constitutes its base. It height above the river, a short ledge east of its base is a little less than 1250 feet.

BUHL IS DEFEATED IN PRACTICE GAME

Contest in Jerome Wednesday Results in Victory for Jewett by a Score of 8 to 0.

RUHL, July 29.—The Buhl baseball aggregation invaded the Jerome territory Wednesday afternoon for a little practice game and returned defeated, 8 to 0.

According to spectators who attended from here the feature of the game was the sensational fielding of the Buhl outer garden. It is said that the boys even climbed on the fence to grab the ball. The Jerome shortstop bled out one for a circuit drive that sailed over the fence and kept progressing for about nine miles out of town. The Jerome team fielded perfectly with only two Buhl men catching third base. Buhl got quite a number of hits, too. Oliver of Twin Falls pitched for Buhl.

The game does not count in the Idaho baseball league, as the battle was just a practice game. Buhl in their game Sunday will have a few things up their sleeve to show the Jeromeites. It is possible that Buhl will have some new faces in their lineup.

The Buhl fans are anxiously awaiting the game Sunday. It is due to be the greatest ball game ever witnessed on the Buhl ball grounds this season. The game stands who will lead the league. Manager Buhl states that all rosters should be out to help put the old ball club at the top of the list. Joe adds that the Buhl team will appreciate a strong moral support.

KANSAS AT AUSTON, WASHINGTON, July 29.—From 200 to 300 carloads of radium will be sold at auction Monday by New York's Wall Street Associates, BNYC company, the Department of justice was advised today. The company also will sell a pile for the balance of the radium crop Aug. 3.

Decision of the company in these steps, the department of justice stated, resulted from contentions by the federal trade commission that the company had been "charging more than a fair and reasonable price for its radium."

PLANTATION STRIKE OVER. HONOLULU, T. H.—The strike of sugar plantation laborers, principally Japanese and Filipinos, which began January 15 last, was declared over July 1, following a conference between a committee of laborers and John Waterhouse, president of the Hawaii Sugar Planters' association. Immediately the striking laborers began pouring back to the plantations and it was expected that early this month all the approximately 5,000 men still out would have returned to the fields and mills.

Twenty-four 3,000 workers originally joined the strike, but of these about 2,000 Filipinos returned to work before the walkout was declared over, while several hundred Japanese also came back.

Officials of the Hawaiian Laborers' association, successor of the Federation of Japanese Labor which called the strike, in telling the members of the organization to return to work, are reported as having claimed victory for the workers. This view was also taken in reports of the strike and printed in Japanese papers of Honolulu, which intimated that certain concessions, presumably as to

RAMSEYER IS OUT; REAVY BOND FILED

Man Who Was Granted New Trial Released From Custody—Sufficient Bond Is Given

Moner E. Ramseyer, the farmer who was convicted in district court of second degree murder and who was recently granted a new trial, was yesterday released from custody by the sheriff, the necessary bond having been filed and approved.

The court raised the amount of the bond from $10,000 to $15,000, $7500 to be made in cash and $7500 by the following men acting as the bond: Fred Munger, $5,000; Frank Richman, $5,000; S. D. Hill, $5,000; D. K. Betweiler, $5,000; Peter Beckson, $5,000; J. G. Wimple, $1,000; H. L. Waters, $2,500; E. A. Waters, $5,000; H. S. Frame, $5,000.

INTERESTING CONFESSION.

POCATELLO.—Peace officers here and at Brice, Utah, are investigating with interest an alleged confession made by a man giving the name of Al Klingling. They see in his reported statement considerable light on the circumstances surrounding the death of John Bartholomew, a sheepherder, at Brice in 1913. Klingling, who asserts he is a son of one of the electric operators of that name, is held here charged with attempting to pass a fraudulent check.

According to the alleged confession, Klingling and another man whom the statement does not name, but whom officers at Brice say they know, engaged in a drunken brawl with Bartholomew. In this, the alleged confession says Klingling struck Bartholomew over the head with a milk can, and his companion then shot him. The two, the putative statement goes on, placed the body on a handcar and conveyed it some distance from Brice, abandoning it several hundred yards from the railway track. Bartholomew's body was found in the fall of that year, about six months after he last was seen alive.

Bartholomew is said by officers to have been in the habit of carrying considerable sums about with him and officers here scout the theory that he met death as a result of a "brawl."

MAN'S CLUB DISAPPEARING.

BERLIN—A venerable Teutonic institution the Stammleib, is disappearing. The Stammleib was the middle-class man's club, but since the price of beer has gone up from 35 Pfennigs a pint to 2 marks for less than a pint, the inducement to gather round the oaken board in some vaulted "cellar"—to discuss politics, art or philosophy has faded away and the great decorative steeple with the embossed panels has become mere shabby ornaments.

Heinrich Stammleibeck were many and various. Each had its own customs and ceremonial ritual. Some, where palatines, cantonniers, return and literary men gathered, were famous throughout the German speaking world and had been in continuous existence for over a century.

The latest one to go is the artist Stammleib at Siechen, in the Bohemian contrast, with which many famous names are associated.

To the traditional German, the end of the Stammleib, means the end of Gemuthlichkeit, that particularly attractive state of mind induced by good cheer and high thinking.

LEAVE SOME POLICE HOWEVER.

PHILADELPHIA.—The American Friends Society Committee of Philadelphia does not intend to take over all of the child feeding operations in central Europe, now conducted by Herbert Hoover through the American Relief Administration, according to an announcement made at the office here.

"The economic situation in these countries is far too serious for one organization to do the work alone," officials say. "We are doing our utmost to alleviate the sufferings of the poor."

The latest cable from the Berlin office states that 675,000 children are now being fed daily in 88 cities in Germany. "This probably will be decreased during the harvest period when fresh vegetables and fruit will be most plentiful," the message says.

"Brightening with September the number of children fed will increase again to at least 500,000 and will continue without a break until the summer of 1921. This will be increased to 1,000,000 if funds from America can be secured to make this possible. The German government has just agreed to give us all the flour and sugar needed in the feeding."

MAY IMPROVE PARK.

TACOMA.—Further development of Mount Rainier National park, near here, is favored by John Barton Payne, secretary of the Interior. Secretary Payne recently visited the park and spent a night near snow-capped Mount Rainier.

"Construction of a road completely around the base of the mountain is particularly favored," he said. He declared he would like to see a larger government appropriation for the park.

AGREE ON OIL SUPPLIES TO SECURE CO-OPERATION

WASHINGTON, France and Great Britain, according to information received here, have just concluded an agreement in connection with oil supplies designed to secure international co-operation and to eliminate competition which might give rise to friction between them.

Provisions of the agreement it is understood, extend to all countries where oil interests of the two nations can be usefully applied or might be in conflict. It deals specifically with the French and British crown colonies and provides co-operation in connection with commercial concessions to develop oil wells in Romania, Asia Minor, Galicia and the territories of the old Russian empire. There is a proviso permitting extension to other countries by mutual consent.

In connection with commercial concessions in Romania, the governments agreed not to compete but to enter into common negotiations when their nationals desire to obtain oil rights there.

They also agree that in connection with these concessions and shares belonging to former enemy subjects or bodies in Romania and segregated by the Romanian government, they will support their respective nationals in common negotiations entered into with the government of Romania for acquisition of such property.

Shares and interests belonging to former enemy companies and corporations that can be secured by such joint action will be divided 50 per cent each to British and French interests.

In companies formed to undertake exploitation of these concessions, nationals of the two countries will have equal voting power as well as equal proportions of the capital subscribed and equal representation on the executive board.

NEW YORK.—Appointment by Attorney General Palmer of a committee to "decide on a fair margin of profit for producers and dealers in bituminous coal, beyond which production under the lever act will follow, is expected to have a deterrent effect on those who are now taking excessive profits." This view was expressed in a joint statement tonight by Mr. Palmer and Charles S. Allen, secretary of the Wholesale Coal Trade Association of New York.

"Attorney General Palmer," the statement said, "has asked this committee to consider the feasibility of limiting a fair margin of profit for producers and dealers in bituminous coal. It is and the attention of the department to fix prices."

"It is expected that the committee will advise the attorney general upon this matter within a few days and if the purpose of Attorney General Palmer to instruct the United States and to instruct attorneys and his special representatives that a producer or dealer will be presumed to be within the spirit and the letter of the Lever law and that as to those who exceed the margin, such action will call for an investigation."

WILL HELP SOME.

NEW YORK.—Appointment by Attorney General Palmer of a committee to "decide on a fair margin of profit for producers and dealers in bituminous coal, beyond which production under the lever act will follow, is expected to have a deterrent effect on those who are now taking excessive profits." This view was expressed in a joint statement tonight by Mr. Palmer and Charles S. Allen, secretary of the Wholesale Coal Trade Association of New York.

"Attorney General Palmer," the statement said, "has asked this committee to consider the feasibility of limiting a fair margin of profit for producers and dealers in bituminous coal. It is and the attention of the department to fix prices."

"It is expected that the committee will advise the attorney general upon this matter within a few days and if the purpose of Attorney General Palmer to instruct the United States and to instruct attorneys and his special representatives that a producer or dealer will be presumed to be within the spirit and the letter of the Lever law and that as to those who exceed the margin, such action will call for an investigation."

SKAGGS' Grocery Specials

"Skaggs' Stores" do not offer grocery specials. We do not believe in grocery specials, we cannot conceive the logical reason why a dealer in food-stuff should be able to offer a special premium for business on special days only.

We can only view such methods as carrying a catch which is exposed to every intelligent food buyer, we would consider such practices as an insult to the good judgment of our trade. Our honest, straightforward method of dealing, and our consistently low prices and small profits, continue to gain in favor and patronage, which is good evidence of their soundness.

SEND SPECIAL SERVICE SHIP.

HONOLULU.—The Japanese navy department has dispatched a special service ship to Nikolaievsk, recently captured from the Bolsheviks, to remove all obstacles that stand in the way of complete military occupation of the city by Japanese forces, according to Tokyo cables to the Nippon Jiji, Japanese newspaper here. It is announced, says the Nippon Jiji's correspondent, that the dispatch of the special service ship is a preliminary step to sending more troops to Nikolaievsk.

BROKEN ROADS.

If it were not for motor trucks, the roads of this country would be in fairly good condition. But the trucks have wrought havoc. During the war they had a great deal to do with wearing out highways, particularly where army trucks passed through.

As a result, paving that was practically perfect according to the pre-war standard, and would have stood up for many years under ordinary wagon and automobile traffic, has been worn out in a half or a third of its natural life. In many cases, where the truck traffic is particularly heavy, between important industrial centers, new paving has been destroyed within a few months.

There seems to be only two possible solutions. One is to stop the truck traffic; the other is to build better roads.

The first solution is hardly possible, and would probably be a mistake if it were. Limits can be placed on the weight and speed of trucks, and the width of their tires, and this is being done in states that are alert to the value of the highways. But the truck as an institution is here to stay, and to limit its size unduly is to limit its usefulness.

Clearly, then, the roadbeds must be made deeper and stronger, the surfacing more durable, the drainage more scientific. The new construction will cost a great deal more, but it will be worth the money. The funds are hard to find now, but they must be found somehow; and even at present prices, the right sort of paving will pay for itself in length and quality of service.

NOW FOR ENFORCEMENT!

The supreme court decision on the prohibition amendment should do away with the disposition, heretofore found in many quarters, to treat the amendment lightly. The court abolishes all uncertainty by declaring:

"That amendment by lawful proposal and ratification has become a part of the constitution, and must be respected and given effect the same as other provisions of that instrument."

It likewise declares that Congress in the Volstead act, has not gone beyond its powers in prescribing how the amendment shall operate, and that the one-half of one per cent rule is therefore just as binding on every part of the country, and every individual in it, as is the amendment itself.

There has been too much laxity, based largely on expectation of having the Volstead act declared invalid. Now let us have real enforcement, everywhere.

CONGRESS AND THE CENSUS.

Somebody adds a note of interest to census discussion by reminding people what the census is for. Contrary to what seems to be the popular impression, it was not designed by the fathers of the constitution, who established it, for the purpose of stimulating municipal rivalry and enabling rapidly growing cities to gloat over their unfortunate neighbors. It was intended to furnish, every 10 years, a new basis for the apportionment of congressional representatives among the states. It served originally, also, as a basis for apportioning direct taxation, but that has been abolished.

The 1920 census, then, is primarily a device by which it can be determined how many members each state can send to the national house of representatives for the next decade, if the 1910 ratio is maintained, and to what extent the ratio of representation to the population must be changed if the number of representatives is to continue as it is.

The present number of representatives altogether is 435. With the existing ratio, and with the population grown about 15,000,000 larger than it was 10 years ago, the house would be increased to at least 500 members. It is generally admitted that the house is too large already. It has become more of a mob than a deliberative assembly. An individual representative is lost in the crowd. It would doubtless work more effectively if its numbers were cut down.

That is not to be expected. It may be hoped, though, that the number will not be further increased, but that it will be kept approximately as it is, by simply making each congressman represent a larger number of people.

SHOES TO FIT THE FEET.

The Y. W. C. A., in carrying on its campaign of health education, is laying particular emphasis on feet and the shoes which cover them. In Cincinnati, the public schools and the public health federation are co-operating with the Y. W. C. A. in its work of getting young girls and their parents to realize the fact that good sense, good taste and good looks can be combined in good shoes if one wishes.

A set of attention-arresting dogeers puts the matter briefly and cleverly in a few questions worth quoting:

The first is: "Men do not walk on pegs—why should women?" Of course, pegs, covering a smaller sidewalk area, may convey the illusion of smaller feet, and if that illusion is the main end to be sought in wearing shoes, one may as well forget all the other considerations of comfort, health and natural beauty. But the dodger attacks the "pegs" with another question, "Do you buy shoes to fit some one's eyes or your own feet?" It must be admitted that too many shoes worn by women are indeed bought to "fit someone's eye," an eye whose vision is deformed by false standards of what is beautiful and suitable.

There seems to be a lingering doubt in the feminine mind that healthful and comfortable shoes can also be attractive and tasteful. If the Y. W. C. A. or any other organization or individuals can dispel that doubt, the sensible shoes will become as familiar and pleasing to the general eye as the "sports costume" for women which came into fashion primarily for golf and tennis enthusiasts and remained for all womankind to wear and rejoice in.

SHUTTING WRECKED MINDS.

"American Medico-Psychological Society" may be a fearsome title, but the organization is engaged upon work of endless benefit to society, and especially to the afflicted individuals with whom it deals. Its business is the salvaging of wrecked minds.

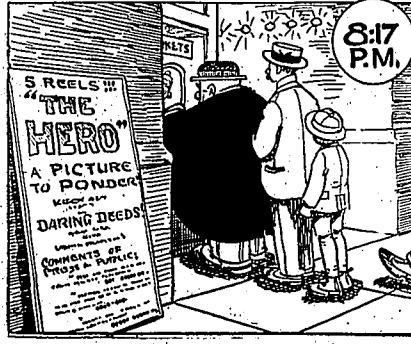

All sorts of mental cases, violent and mild, temporary and permanent, are studied and aided by this society. They are carrying on work in 14 different asylums and institutions throughout the country, and the influence of their knowledge and methods is felt in many more.

One of the members reports that the result of their efforts has been to make two-thirds of the mentally defective people productive industrially. Some of the cases have even been turned back into ordinary industrial life. Most of the others they make fit for institutional industry.

Inspired by their success with the defectives, they are working hard to find methods of reaching the violently insane and making their lives more useful and bearable.

It is a great work which this society is doing, and it marks a long step from the days when deficient and insane people were laughed at or feared, neglected or held in pitiful restraint with nothing to ameliorate their condition. Worthy of a wider understanding, and a fuller co-operation are the labors of these people.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

SITUATION WILL END WHEN VICTORY COMES

WILLIAMSON, W. Va.—The campaign of the United Mine Workers' organization for the 1920 election in Mingo county bituminous coal field has precipitated a situation which each side declares can only end when it has won complete victory. In the conflict growing out of this move 12 or more persons have lost their lives. Women, apparently, form a secondary consideration, the battle being waged around recognition of the union and the right of mine owners to employ private detectives in and around the mines.

"The men and the operators could get together and settle this thing were it not for the question of mine strikes," said Charles H. Keeney, president of District No. 17, United Mine Workers, who is in command of the union forces. "But in your present temper these men are not to be fooled with. Right now this situation is a powder mill."

"There is at a mine grange in Mingo county, and there has not been for years," said George H. Hines, secretary of the Coal Operators' association of Williamson. "Private detectives are employed on each other's corporations employ detectives for intelligence work in and around their properties. They are not used for guarding the mines."

"The question of wages hinges on the scale paid in the Kanawha valley. The union leaders declare that adoption of this scale would increase the pay of the miners in Mingo, while the operators insist that their miners, under the scale now in force, are paid more than it is possible for the Kanawha miners to earn. However, little attention is being paid to that phase of the controversy. Here the question of the union is the big issue."

The Mingo field, includes all of Mingo county and the mines along the Kentucky side of the river, a shallow, narrow stream which flows in this region forms the boundary between Kentucky and West Virginia. High mountains rise abruptly on each side of the river, their sides covered with a hoary growth of bushes. Along the mountain sides are the drift mines from which comes the coal, and nestled in the narrow valley are the little towns where live the miners and their families.

Fully 75 per cent of the miners in the region are native born, many of them descendants of pioneers who entered the country more than 100 years ago, and who are proud of their lineage. Some foreign-born miners can be found in the camps, settled and they have returned to while numbers of negroes are sent-work-played. Often the miner owns a small acreage, for which in the planting and harvesting he will abandon the mines.

Good Places to Live. In some places the miners live in brick cottages, each having its garden plot and front porch. Such a village is Hordertown, where early this month miners went down upon from the mountaineer while going to work. In other villages the houses are of frame construction, each set in its own garden plot, and for which the miners pay, at the rate of $2 per month per acre.

Williamson, the center of the region, is pleasantly placed in the valley, with substantial buildings and good stores. The Mingo county court house is one of the best structures, but the city hall also is a complete office building, while there is in course of construction a theater which will cost $250,000. The 8,000 residents of the town very generally are in the prosperity which has come to the coal trade in the past few years.

Early in the year the movement to organize the United Mine Workers was inaugurated by President Keeney from district headquarters at Charleston, and organizers were sent into Mingo county. They met with such success that a demand was made upon the operators for the enforcement of the Kanawha scale and recognition of the union. This demand the operators refused, and the union called a strike. The order, mine operators say, was answered by from 1,600 to 1,500 miners, but the union officials put the figure higher.

The companies, through their lawyers, took the position that the houses built for the miners who had gone on strike reverted at once to the owners.

The miners, in some instances, have taken that if the companies wanted the house of a man they must obtain possession of it by due process of law.

Numbers of miners were evicted from company houses, and it was for that purpose private detectives, "mine guards," the miners term them, were sent to Matewan, June 19, and where in the fight which followed the eviction of five families, 10 persons were killed.

Many miners, however, moved from company houses without protest, and the United Mine Workers established for such persons tent colonies along the river near the places of their former employment. There the strikers and their families live in army camps, and there they declare they will stay until the strike has been settled, and they have returned to while numbers of negroes are sent-work-

DR. ADAMS IS STAR WITNESS IN CASE

Testifies He Paid $300 to Dr. Myers for License; Did Not Know It Was Irregular.

BOISE, July 29.—Dr. L. P. Adams, formerly of Meridian, later with the Parker Paintless dent system at Twin Falls, now of Chicago, was the star witness for the state in the dental bribery case in which Dr. W. A. Myers, former secretary of the state dental board and Dr. V. A. Fitzgerald are defendants. Dr. Adams testified to paying $300 to Dr. Myers for a license, the transaction being made in the office of Tolson and that at the time he believed he was paying for a special examination although no questions were asked of him and he did not know there was anything irregular about the license until he received word from the department of law enforcement and then he realized he had been jobbed. He testified that he took the matter up with Myers and was advised the license was all right and could not be annulled. Adams was given a long cross-examination. Under it he admitted that he had been permitted to practice for some time by the law enforcement department under the license which was annulled. A letter written by Adams to a dentist in Payette was read. This letter stated the witness stood as high with Jones and expected an examination would be given him. He testified that he was not in the office in 1918-1919, but was the effect of the Fitzgerald had solicited him to pay for a license. On cross-examination, he testified he afterwards received a license but did not pay for it.

AMERICANS ESTABLISH HOSPITAL IN CONSTANTINOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE—Americans in Constantinople have established a hospital which is devoted essentially to the nucleus of an important American military center in the Near East. Admiral Bristol, the American high commissioner, is chairman of the hospital's board of directors which include G. B. Davidson, the American commissioner and president of the American Chamber of Commerce; Major G. Clifton Davis, director of the American Red Cross in the Near East; Colonel James P. Conboy, director of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East; Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, president of Constantinople College for Women; Dr. W. W. Peet, representing the various American missionary boards and Mrs. Huntington, representing the Red Cross. Equipment for the hospital, which will have 100 beds, will be supplied by the American Red Cross. The personnel will be supplied by the American Red Cross and the American Committee for Relief in the Near East, both of which have many doctors and nurses working in Turkey among war refugees of various nationalities.

Dr. A. R. Hoover, who has lived for many years in Turkey, will be director of the hospital and Dr. Eric Ulichewitz, formerly physician to Vassar college and a member of the Wesleyan Unit of the American committee for Relief in the Near East, will be his assistant. Mrs. Anna E. Rothrock, of Glenside, Pa., will be superintendent of nurses and her assistants will be Miss A. Estelle Sutton, of Detroit; Miss E. K. Richards of New York, and Miss Mary E. Coughlin of Acton, Mass. Constantinople College for Women will open a school for nurses in connection with the hospital and within a year will open a medical college to afford medical training for women of the Balkan states. Admission to the school will be open to women of all nationalities and religions. The Rockefeller foundation has promised to open a board of inspection to Constantinople and the hospital board hopes to get the assistance of that organization in a general improvement of health and medical conditions in the Near East. The need for a hospital for English speaking patients is very urgent. American firms are opening branches in Constantinople every week. It has become a great rendezvous for the American navy. The Young Men's Christian association and Young Women's Christian association have large organizations, in addition to many relief and missionary bodies which are constantly in need of hospital space.

Under the direction of the Constantinople Unit of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East an open air hospital for tuberculous children has also been opened on the shore of the Bosphorus five miles north of Constantinople. This hospital is under the direction of Dr. Eric Ulichewitz. It has 50 beds and is designed as a model institution for the American people of the Turkish, Greek, Armenian and Jewish communities to duplicate. The new American hospital has leased a large private residence in Sionbul, the Turkish section of Constantinople.

DISAPPEARING BEDS

NEW YORK—Residents of Manhattan Island, in their eternal fight for space, have now turned their attention to the disappearing beds. As the announcement by a New York city syndicate that it will build a $400,000 apartment house, with disappearing beds. Officials of the syndicate are silent as to what form the "disappearing beds" will take during the day time. They discuss the matter by saying that "disappearing beds" and many other labor saving devices will be installed. Architects, however, have given their opinion on the proposed innovation. The beauty of "disappearing beds," the architects say, is that the beds cannot disappear while the occupant is lying in it on his back, with his knees up and his mouth open. This was the chief drawback to the old-fashioned folding bed. The architects made this statement to quiet the fears of many New York residents who had inquired as to whether the "disappearing beds" were similar to the old-fashioned folding bed, or contained any of the latter's frankly and uncertain tendencies.

The architects say that a "disappearing bed" is a bed at night and an oil painting of a Gerson settee or something like that in the daytime; that it can be slipped under the bathroom floor or tucked away behind the apartment or that it may be sunk into a trap door in the floor and an Oriental rug placed over it so that the tell-tale cracks may not be seen. The apartment house of the disappearing beds, the architects announce, is to be built on West End Avenue, Manhattan.

fully all campaign gifts so that "no obligation will be entailed on the candidate." Mr. White asserted, adding that any plans to restrict the amount of gifts would be useless since such could be easily circumvented.

The new national chairman declared that Governor Cox "had become the new head of the democratic party."

With respect to interpellations placed on the recent conference at the White House between President Wilson and Governor Cox on the League of Nations issue, Mr. White said there "were no iron-clad contracts entered into and there was a certain amount of elasticity in the statements."

Have a slogan, Democratic campaigners will go before the country with the slogan "peace, progress and prosperity," Mr. White announced. With this line, he added, "we will be 'coarse of winning.'"

Campaign plans so developed thus far, Mr. White said, call for a tour by Governor Cox of most of the states. He referred to the state of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois as the "hinge-grounds."

The aid of William G. McAdoo, runner-up to Mr. Cox at San Francisco, has been obtained as a speaker, Mr. White said. The chairman expected to see Attorney General Palmer before leaving Washington to ask him to take the stump during the campaign.

Selection of a campaign committee, numbering possibly 15, will be announced soon, as will the western members of the committee who will have headquarters at Chicago. Wilbur M. Marsh has been asked to organize a committee to direct the financial affairs of the campaign.

EASTERN BROOK TROUT.

Fairbanks, Alaska.—The eastern brook trout has been planted recently in three Utah streams, according to forest service advice.

THE REAL ISSUE OF THE PRIMARY.

Will be discussed Friday evening in the City Park. Several well known speakers will tell the inside story—it will be mighty interesting—be there, —Adv.

COUNTY DIVISION? NO! NO! NO! NO! NO!

Once more some of the citizens of Buhl are attempting to divide our splendid County; and one of our own people, honored and trusted by us in the past, in the extremity of his political necessity, has joined hands with them to that end. Of course, reference is had to Ex-Senator M. J. Sweeley, who has become their candidate for renomination in the Republican primaries, and who, in public addresses both at Buhl and Twin Falls has declared himself for County division.

Don't be misled by Sweeley's smooth arguments or camouflage. He attempts to capitalize your dissatisfaction with road work and other matters of local interest. Will his election to the Senate hurry the road work, or get us more miles of paved roads? Ask him how. He complains of taxes. Will it lower the taxes to divide this County and make the same territory support two court houses and two sets of county officials instead of one? No, most emphatically, no! It is an admitted fact that the creation of the new county would, through the burden of maintaining an additional county government in all its branches, increase our taxes, and we all know they are high enough now.

Mr. Sweeley argues that because our representatives and senators have in the past repeatedly voted to divide other counties, we are not fair or consistent in resisting the division of this County at this time. The huge counties first organized in sparsely settled Idaho, as Mr. Sweeley well knows, had to be divided as population grew, and the divisions were made with the consent and approval of everyone interested, constituting no precedent for the case of a compact and convenient County like Twin Falls, more than two-thirds of the Citizens of which are as hostile to division as were the people of the North when it was proposed to divide our Nation.

Does Mr. Sweeley really believe that the proposed division is for the best interests of our County? By no means. His action in the past, uniformly opposing division, shows him to either have been insincere then or now. The plain facts are believed to be that Mr. Sweeley desires to go to the Senate for other reasons, and perhaps thinks that his only chance to do so is by securing the votes of the Buhl divisionists.

It has been "doped" that the Buhl people will vote for Sweeley because he represents their desires and that we in Twin Falls and vicinity will support him through loyalty to a fellow-citizen. Loyalty is a true test of citizenship, but the right to benefit by it has, in Mr. Sweeley's case, been forfeited by utter disregard for local convictions, feelings and interests.

As a plain matter of fact, Mr. Sweeley is not entitled to the vote of any Citizen of Twin Falls, or of Twin Falls County, who does not desire to see his County dismembered and broken up.

Senator J. H. Seaver is a candidate for re-election. Mr. Seaver served the county well as Senator in the last legislature, stood firmly against County Division, and was a strong and valued member in every way. You make no mistake when you vote for him. The fight for the Republican nomination is between Sweeley and Seaver, and a vote for any other candidate for State Senator in the Republican primaries is a half vote for Sweeley.

Saturday is the last day for registration. You must register for this election no matter whether you moved from your last voting precinct or not. See that you are registered, then get out and vote for Seaver on election day.

Grain

CHICAGO, July 29.—Attention to local elevators in the financial outlook centered today in depressing the grain market after an all-round advance. Wheat closed heavy, 1-1/4 to 1-1/2c net lower, with December 2.32 1/4 and March 2.26 1/4. Corn finished 1/2 to 3/4c down and oats varying from 1/2 to 1/4c decline. 1-1/2c gain. The outcome in provisions was a netback of 2 to 15c.

At first the wheat market had an upward tendency with other cereals moving largely to appreciation that day weather might injure the crop. Later, however, the fact that export bids were 6 to 8 cents lower put a weight on the market, and so the old weakness of foreign exchange. Besides, the spokesman for one of the largest firms on the board here was quoted as saying that harvesters' difficulty in obtaining money was placing the grain trade in an embarrassing position.

Sharp upturn with which the day opened in the corn market gave more than wiped out in the last hour. Dealers made much of assertions that rural buying did not have the volume which would indicate abundance of lack of rain would warrant.

Oats were governed almost entirely by the course of other grain. Provisions advanced and then reacted with corn.
