A Hustling Young Fellow

Opened an account with us some time ago with a small deposit. The next week he added to it; the following week he added more, and the week after that he added some more.

And he is still at it—he saves as regularly as most people eat.

The other day he mentioned that he is going in business for himself—as a result of the capital he got together by saving.

No wonder the fable remarks: "Little by little does the trick."

IDAHO POWER COMPANY

the greatest year in the history of good road building in that section is fulfilled.

Three states have already planned bond issues or appropriations of large sums of money to be used in road construction work which will begin soon. Alabama will spend $25,000,000 of her own money and an equal sum from the federal government in improving highways. Louisiana expects to put $70,000,000 in her road work, covering a 12-year period. Half that sum is state money and half federal. Arkansas has $10,000,000 state and $10,000,000 federal funds to put into new construction. Mississippi has not appropriated her funds yet, but will try to do so at the next legislative session. The legislature will probably appropriate $25,000,000, and ask for federal highway appropriations of the same amount.

Increased automobile license taxes and a slight increase in general taxes will be the principal methods of paying for these improvements.

This sounds like a lot of money, but every dollar of it will be well spent if the new roads are soundly constructed with an eye to the future needs of growing and thriving communities. Width to accommodate increasing motor traffic and strength enough to bear the weight of the trucks which are playing an increasingly important part in distribution are the first points to be considered. If at the same time these highways can be made beautiful, and will open up new and undeveloped regions to freer communication, many blessings, social, economical and educational, will follow.

Some other sections of the country like to refer to the South as "backward," but if the complaints of cross-continent tourists have been heard aright, there are other states which could expend some millions in such work with wisdom and profit.

WESTERN GOLF

Golf is no longer considered altogether a "rich man's game," but it is still thought of pretty much as a sectional game, whose habitat is "the effete East." The East, at any rate, has so considered it. A New York newspaper takes occasion to show the error of that view, taking as its text the national open-championship meet at Toledo, O.

Of the 70 players who qualified for the tournament, nearly half represented clubs west of—and to most New Yorkers, New Englanders and New Jerseyites "west of Pittsburgh" still means the dim hinterland of civilization. Chicago furnished more contestants than New York, Detroit and Toledo furnished as many as Boston. There were winners from St. Paul, Denver, Sioux City, St. Joseph, Tulsa and other spots far remote from the famous golf links of the east.

The fact is, of course, that golf is played all over the country. It knows neither section nor social station nor age. It is probably better adapted to the West than to the East, everything considered, because there is more room here to play it in, and western men, perhaps, have a bit more of boyish vigor and the spirit of play. It really may become, in time, as the paper quoted suggests, "the national game." It is certainly a close second now.

STUDY THE COVENANT

If the voters of this country wish to vote with understanding and intelligence they have some real studying to do between now and election. The question of the League of Nations enters into the campaign to a very considerable extent. In order that the stand of each of the great parties may be thoroughly understood, it is necessary for the public to inform itself anew as to the things which the League Covenant contemplates, and to seize every chance to acquaint itself thoroughly with any new suggestions or explanations which may be presented.

No good American wishes to enter into any alliance which will jeopardize the independence and safety of this country. No good American wishes to refrain from any such lining up of the forces of civilization as shall best safeguard working class." Those five words will repay long study. They challenge attention by their novelty. Perhaps Lenin is the first important personage ever to intimate that workmen anywhere may be "aristocratic." Labor has always been associated with dreams of democracy, not aristocracy. Yet perhaps Lenin is right about labor of a certain class being aristocratic, and certainly he is right as to the main point—the class of labor he refers to is in reality the bitterest foe to Bolshevism, and the force that is destined to overthrow it.

That class consists of the skilled, organized workers who have risen above the rank of day laborers and above the mode of thinking that goes with that rank. They have grown out of the "proletariat" into the rank of "bourgeois" or middle-class citizens. Then have acquired some property and naturally want to keep it, and acquire more. Thus they have gained the sobering perspective that property gives, a certain respect for the law and order without which personal possession of property and safe transmission of it to their chosen heirs are impossible.

Lenin had in mind particularly the English workman, but the American workman is the best representative of the type. In this sense, the great majority of our manual workers are "aristocratic," and that majority is always gaining recruits from the proletariat minority. They are also, as Lenin suggests, "opportunists." That is, having gained a vision of progress and prosperity, they are alert to see and seize every opportunity for getting ahead. The preponderance of such qualities in American labor is a sure guarantee that America will never turn Bolshevik.

SAFE FOR WOMEN

Two women doctors have recently arrived in California, after driving across the United States in their motor car. Two other young women are walking across the continent, having started late in the summer, and expecting to spend Christmas day beside the Pacific. A year ago a woman of nearly seventy drove her own car from the state of Washington to Florida.

None of these women have had any unpleasant experiences. Not one of them has met with and insulting look or word. They have found their fellow-men courteous, interested and helpful if there was any need of help.

Such experiences are the best possible proof that the world is safe for women if the women make it safe for themselves. There are, of course, exceptions to this statement, individual cases where women have come to harm through no fault of their own, and society must ever be on the alert to prevent this sort of thing. But take it by and large, the world, at least so far as this country is concerned, is a safe and wholesome place. The women in it may go ahead freely to take advantage of the wider scope which life affords them, without fear of molestation or interruption as long as their own conduct is calculated to inspire respect.

LITTLE HOME WRECKERS

Early September is moving time. Once again the family with children is called upon to wrestle with reluctant landlords. Again the question arises as to what can be done about it. A writer to the Florida Times-Union says, "Train the children!" and adds the oft-repeated remark that it is not to children as children that the landlord objects, but to children as wanton destroyers of property.

Children would be supernatural who never broke anything or scratched any paint by accident or thoughtlessness. But there is a long way between this kind of thing and wanton vandalism. It is possible to train children away from the latter at a very early age.

An increased demand for horse shoes is reported by the Master Horseshoers' Association of America. Does this mean the horse is coming back, or are people tired of trying to get Ouija to promise them luck?

DISPUTANTS FROM MURKING ARE TOLD TO ESTABLISH MORE AMENABLE RELATIONS

Samuel Broom, farmer of the Murkings district, accused of assault with a deadly weapon toward William Lewis, also of Murkings, yesterday was tried in the probate court before Judge G. P. Duval. After hearing of the case, a compromise was arranged whereby Broom was released and told to make a record for good behavior in the future.

His feeling is said to have existed between the two parties for some time. This continued not work when Broom is alleged to have threatened to kill Lewis and to have produced a weapon on a second occasion. He was thereupon arrested upon complaint of Lewis and has been held in the county jail since the latter part of last week.

According to terms arranged by the court, Lewis and Broom are to establish peaceful relations between themselves. The first man who renews the trouble to be brought before the court. Concealed weapons will mean immediate arrest. Upon these conditions Broom was released and he and Lewis were sent back to Murkings to live more amicably than heretofore.

Thought the idea of such an organization was a good one and that the democrats had one of their own and "But we financed our league through the national committee and whatever it collected was turned in to the committee," he said.

The American Defense society was similarly endorsed, he added that it was spending money to help elect Harding and he thought that fact was pertinent to the inquiry. There was a deal of discussion about the Southern Protective Tariff association. The letter submitted from this organization asked that $20,000 be collected in Texas alone and no one, he indicated that four democrats and eight republicans had already given $1,000 each to the association.

Mr. Marsh said anyone contributing to a protective tariff association should be classed as a republican and used the term "camouflaged democrat" in this connection. Senator Kenyon asked of Mr. Marsh thought the republicans had any real objection to money in southern states and the latter retorted that he hoped to be able to carry North Carolina and on very hopeful days "extended this hope."

Senator Kenyon asked if the League to Enfranchise People was not a protective tariff money-in-aid society of the league of nations and the witness thought the democratic national committee ought to do that. Saw No Reason.

"If you mean the organization of which William H. Taft is the head I see no reason why we should under take work that Mr. Taft is doing so well," replied the democratic official. The chairman suggested that large expenditures would not in themselves indicate corruption if the work itself was legitimate and when Mr. Marsh

LETTERS TO CAMPAIGN IN A DOZEN SOUTHERN STATES.

"You have the same advantage in some other states," rejoined Mr. Marsh, "and no one knows one of them better than you do."

Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, reverted to the Barnes book list and after persistent questioning obtained from Mr. Marsh the information that he had seen an list of subserpents of the Barnes propaganda which was not headed "republicanism of 1928" published by the Albany Evening Journal.

"But I do not believe," explained Mr. Marsh, "that the Albany Journal head of those lists mean any more than if I used one of my letterheads as an owner of the Waterloo Times-Tribune to appeal to citizens of that territory to build a church."

NEW CONSTITUTION WAS RECEIVED COLDLY

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Rome quotes the Corbis Romae as saying Gabriele d'Annunzio has decided to abandon Fiume because of disappointment at the cold reception. The inhabitants of Fiume gave him precipitation of a constitution for the Italian regency of Quarnero. A new state which was to comprise the city of Fiume and several of the islands in the Adriatic sea. The existence of the state was to be officially declared September 11, according to d'Annunzio.

FIVE THOUSAND ARE KILLED

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Five thousand persons were killed by partisans at Nikolaiyev, according to M. Matveyev, a Russian journalist who has arrived in Tokio from a visit to that scene of massacre of 500 Japanese by the radical Russian faction on the Nikolaiyev mission last winter. The Russians were six times those of Japanese. Matveyev asserted and declared that 2500 Russian lives were carried off by the partisans into the interior lives in constant danger of massacre.

RACE FANS ARE SURPRISED

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 1.—Hallie Haxie a bay mare driven by Owen, an added starter sprang a big surprise to the racing fans at the state fair race this afternoon by capturing the feature event the Plankington hot stake of $30,000. It was one of the most exciting turf races witnessed here in many meetings of the great western trotting association.

SENATOR SMITH LEARNING

WOLFHAMPTON, R. C., Sept. 1.—Early and incomplete returns from 29 of 48 counties in South Carolina's democratic primary today show Senator E. B. Smith leading for the senatorial nomination with 11,253 votes followed by George Warren with 6,553. W. P. Hollock was third with 3,022 and W. C. Fry fourth with 1,851.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Perennial buying for seaboard account gave firmness today to the wheat market.
The close was unsettled half to 3-4c
net higher with December $2.25 and March $2.34 3-4. Corn lost 1-3c to Bulls had the advantage in the wheat market throughout the day except during a brief setback shortly after the opening.

Chief stimulating influence was a general belief that the demand from the seaboard indicated export business on a large scale. Besides there was rumor that a holding attitude had become widespread among farmers.
Furthermore, a leading authority figured the 1920 crop as meaning a total supply 7,000,000 less than last year.
Corn weakened owing to failure of forecast predictions and as a result of benign crop estimate. One expert suggested a probable yield of 3,225 bushels against 3,225,000 bushels, the prospects a month ago.
Oats were easier with corn.
Heavier deliveries on September
contracts weighed down provisions.
Carriers sold the October deliveries.

How to Jump into First Place

On each six-year subscription to the Chronicle ($42) 462,500 votes are given; on two three-year subscriptions ($42) 270,000 votes are given; on six one-year subscriptions credit for 242,000 votes are allowed, providing you secure the subscriptions NOW during the big vote period.

A glance at the vote totals show that a very few such subscriptions for any candidate would make a new leader in the race. In fact, ENTIRELY NEW candidates could, by a little enthusiastic effort, climb to the top of the list and acquire leadership for the big grand prizes.

Candidates in The Chronicle $16.00 grand prize distribution are now on the "home stretch."

If you are one of the persons who have decided to present yourself with an automobile or a bag of gold, it's a safe bet that this morning's first thought was, "How many votes am I going to get—how can I increase my hold these last eight days of the big vote period and land myself in top position toward winning one of the large touring cars."

And that is exactly what you should do. Now is the time to "release the brakes"—"put on more steam and speed up" for, this big week ahead of you—these next eight days are vitally important to your success in the race.

means to you—that's how important it is to your success in winning the prize of your choice.

442 "Clubs" Count 462,500 Votes. Briefly, every $42 in subscriptions turned in during the next eight days means from 242,000 to 462,500 votes.

In a nutshell, that is the situation. Now, what can you do in these eight important days? How many votes will you have to your credit on the last day of the big vote period? There's plenty of time for business—you can do big things these next few days. If you had but eight days to live, you could get lots of things done. Couldn't you?

Well, you've got just eight days to turn in these $42 "clubs" of subscriptions and receive from 242,000 to 462,500 votes for them, depending upon the size of the subscriptions. This is the time to add immensely to your present total of votes.

When the clock strikes 12 on Monday night, September 13, you'll be nearer the goal you have set out to reach—YOU SHOULD BE.

This is the Week From now on until Monday night, September 13, is the time to "dig in" and gather the votes while they are plentiful because of the big vote schedule. The present big vote schedule will be the means of many candidates coming from low to high positions in the list of the standings and will inspire men and women to "go over the top" in the next few days.

With every hour that the clock ticks this coming week, there is double inspiration to get out and make sure of being one of the big-gest prize winners. Your time is worth a lot of money these eight days—stacks of money. It is the time of the election for real results to be apparent. Another feature that makes the big vote after extraordinary valuable, when results are decided, is the fact that there is no limit to the number of "clubs" a candidate may secure. Just as soon as you complete one "club" start another, for each one means thousands and thousands of votes for you. AND YOU MUST GET THIR VOTES TO WIN.
