

THOMPSON MEN AHEAD IN PRIMARY

Len Small for Governor and Frank Smith for Senator Appear Victorious

ELECTION OFFICIALS SAY CONTEST WAS QUIET

Only One Man Killed, Scores Injured and Some Kidnapped is Report of Authorities

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Tickets headed by Len Small of Kanawake, for governor and Congressman Frank Smith of Alamo, for United States senator and which had the support of Mayor William Hale Thompson were leading for the republican nominations in today's Illinois primaries in early returns.

Cook county in early returns gave the Thompson faction ticket a large majority over that headed by Len Small for Governor Oglesby for governor and William B. McKinley for senator, supported by Governor Lowden, but downstate Oglesby had a lead on a fifty-fifty basis outside Cook county gave Oglesby 9,875; Small, 7,864.

In Cook county Small, in returns from 140 precincts had 26,979 votes against 22,028 for Oglesby, giving him 54,827 in 495 precincts in state against 22,883 for Oglesby.

For senator, Smith was leading McKinley by approximately 13,000 in 447 out of 5,637 precincts in the state.

Reports from 122 downstate precincts gave McKinley a lead of about 1,000 but Smith polled a big majority in first returns from Cook county.

On the democratic side, former Senator James Hamilton Lewis led his opponent for the gubernatorial nomination, Barnett O'Hara, by about five to one in early returns. Two close races developed, however. MacLay Hoyne, seeking re-election as state attorney for Cook county was running behind Michael Leece, Robert E. Burke of Chicago and Peter A. Walter of Kewanee, were within a few votes of each other in returns from 293 precincts, including ten outside of Cook county, for the democratic nomination for senator.

Although one man was killed, half a dozen kidnapped and a score injured in fights around Cook county polling places, election officials tonight declared that the election had been "comparatively quiet" and that disorders had not been so great as they had feared.

They charged that the assassins in most cases were Thompson adherents, brought statements from the mayor's faction that many of the 2,000 special deputies sworn in by Sheriff Peters and Lower and were in such conviction that they had started most of the fights. Sheriff Peters said that a few "disreputable characters" might have been included among his deputies but that they were discharged as soon as discovered.

Shot by Policeman Michael Pennessy, precinct worker, killed, was shot by a policeman who said Pennessy fired.

Two women were bruised badly when they attempted to help Sergeant John Coyne quell a disturbance in one place over charges of "peppering" in the voting. Coyne was seriously injured and the woman knocked to the floor.

Several unsuccessful attempts to steal the ballot boxes were made and two precinct captains were included among the men kidnapped, one each caught by gangs in automobiles.

In the race between Congressman Frank Smith and William B. McKinley for the republican senatorial nomination, 147 precincts out of 5,774 gave Smith 12,138; McKinley 8,945. For the democratic nomination for governor, 318 precincts in both city and state gave former Senator James Hamilton Lewis 10,516 and former Lieutenant Governor Barrett Harsh 1,181.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon led an early returns in the 18th congressional district. With 66 out of 211 precincts in, he had 2,569 to 2,874 for E. B. Cookley.

IMPROVED METHODS IS RESULT DESIRED

American Farm Bureau Federation Selects Committee to Work Out Plan for Action

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The American Farm Bureau Federation announced today the personnel of the committee of seven appointed by President J. H. Howard to work out a plan for co-operative marketing of the American grain crop. Methods of co-operating grain producers in the middle west and of the grain raisers of western Canada will be studied as well as the systems used in similar marketing enterprises by fruit growers and other producers. The federation, which estimates that it would require two years of preparation before a co-operative plan for the grain crop could be put in action.

The committee includes George Livingston, chief of the United States bureau of markets; Dr. H. J. Waters, Kansas City; C. H. Gustafson, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union; William G. Bekhand, Illinois State Farm bureau; C. V. Gregory, selected by the American Agricultural Editors association; J. M. Anderson, Equity Co-operative Exchange, St. Paul, Minn.; P. E. Powell, Missouri Farmers Grains Dealers association; A. Bingham, Maryland State Farm Bureau; J. C. DeLoe, Kansas City Equity Union; Dr. E. P. Ladd, North Dakota Agricultural college and republican-Non-Partisan nominee for senator in North Dakota; I. J. Taber, master, Ohio state grange; Clifford Thorne, Chicago, counsel for shipper organizations; Chas. H. R. Metz, Farmers National Grain Dealers association; Minnesota; A. L. Middleton, Eagle Grove, Ill., and H. Snyder, Kansas State Farm Bureau.

No Price Fixing "I desire emphatically to deny," said President Howard, "that any policy or plan involving price fixing, price control or any other anti-trust or anti-competitive action by the American Farm Bureau Federation or any committee appointed by it. We desire merely to evolve a marketing system which will eliminate needless handling costs, unnecessary logging and shipping charges, and secure a supply and demand so to insure that on the one hand the producer receives the cost of production plus a reasonable and living profit and on the other hand the consumer gets an adequate and uninterrupted food supply at the least possible markup over actual cost."

COMMISSION TO CONSIDER CABLES

International Conference Will Endeavor to Take Steps to Prevent Threatened Monopoly

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—American commissioners to the international communications conference to be held in Washington next month held their first meeting today at the state department. They began a study of the entire cable situation with a view to preventing a threatened monopoly of cables by other nations.

Because of the commercial and diplomatic significance of the conference the chairmanship of the commission was recently conferred from Postmaster General Burleson to Under Secretary of State Davis who presided. Officials said today that the monopoly exercised by the British on the west coast of South America made it imperative that the American representatives devise measures not only to reach an equitable solution of that question, but also of similar adverse conditions confronting the United States elsewhere.

It was to await the outcome of the conference that the state department recently held up action which would grant the Western Union Telegraph company permission to land a cable at Miraflores, Ecuador, and connect it with the British cable from South America to the Barbados. State department officials desired to determine whether the British monopoly on the west coast of South America.

England has Monopoly In the preliminary study of the cable situation made by the United States it is estimated that Great Britain exercises control over more than 150,000 miles of cables in the world, or more than the combined total of all other nations. The United States has control over only slightly more than 50,000 miles. Of greater importance, however, is the fact that the United States obtains direct information, from co-operation or the control exercised by other nations over the vast distances, through foreign territory from only the west coast of South America to a limited extent from the Pacific.

FORMULATE PROGRAM TO INCREASE MEAT SUPPLY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—A program to increase the meat supply was outlined to the packers at the annual convention today of the Institute of American Meat Packers by Dr. H. Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture. He asked the packers to support the plan.

Dr. Mohler said it might be possible within reasonable time to add 200,000,000 pounds of beef yearly to the country's supply by improving the quality of cattle.

"I ask your organization," he said, "to lend its support to the following program for increasing the nation's meat supply:

- Reduce losses from livestock diseases, especially and from other avoidable causes.
Improve methods of breeding and feeding.
Determine and remove causes of runty and unthrifty stock.
Endeavor to regain normal consumption of meats and possibly increase it by bringing about a price of retail prices that will be a relief to the consuming public and which may be confidently regarded as free from unnecessary costs of distribution.
Of the 24 million head of cattle now re-elected including Charles S. Hardy, San Diego, Cal., vice president.

SEARCHING IN VAIN FOR LOST AVIATOR

Pilot Eaton Has Disappeared in Wilds of Sierrita-Efforts to Find Him Unavailing

By the Associated Press. RENO, Nev., Sept. 15.—Thirty-five hours after leaving Reno north, whereabouts of Pilot John L. Eaton of aerial mail plane number 4-331, who left Reno Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock enroute to Elko, a station between this city and Salt Lake City, Elko, 200 miles due east of Reno, reported a plane flying over that place at 10:30 Tuesday morning, which bears out the report that Eaton had flown east to Fallon where he was last identified, as Elko is directly east of Fallon, and about 60 miles due south of Elko, his original destination.

A privately owned plane spent the entire day scouting in the vicinity of Winnemucca, 150 miles northeast of Reno.

The B-16, flying plane No. 164 who left Elko at 3 o'clock, was forced to land at Hazen, Nev., 50 miles east of Reno, on account of engine trouble. He was bound west.

ALLEGED WOMAN IS NOT LEGALLY IMPRISONED

By the Associated Press. TOPEKA, Kans., Sept. 15.—A story involving a French woman, said to be of noble birth, alleged to have been wrongfully committed to the Kansas state asylum for the insane so that others might obtain control of a New Mexico mining property, reached Governor Allen today. The story was told in a letter from Arthur B. Stevens, an attorney in the treasury department at Washington and to do with Mrs. Ruby de May, a French woman, who has been a patient in the hospital for 10 years. Governor Allen ordered an investigation.

According to the letter, Mrs. de May, who owned mining property at Fleming, New Mexico, was held a prisoner by a quarter-breed Indian, near Winfield, Kansas, her three-year old daughter was taken from her and the child was brought up ignorant of the mother's existence. Mrs. de May, represented to be insane, was finally committed to the state asylum, the letter said.

GOVERNOR COX CONTINUES TO DEFEND PACT

Plans for International Court as Outlined at Paris Please Candidate Greatly

IDEA OF WORLD COURT CONFOUNDS OPPONENTS

Commission of Which Root is Member Brings in Report That Confirms League's International Power

By the Associated Press. SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 15.—Plans for an international court under the league of nations as reported from Paris, were advanced by Governor Cox of Ohio, in his Utah campaign today as a telling argument for the league. They further confounded Senator Harding and other republican opponents, the democratic presidential candidate, during his addresses here tonight. In the great Mormon tabernacle, and earlier today, at Ogden. Statement—On Court Plan. Retreating that the republican league critics had failed to offer any substitute and had expected that Elliot Root, said in his report on the new plan, Governor Cox made the following statement on the reported court outline:

"Today we learn that the commission, on which Mr. Root is a member, has made its report, establishing a world court, for the settlement of questions according to rules of law. We find, however, that this court is a part of the league covenant. That Mr. Root and his colleagues were appointed by the council of the league; that they made their report to the council; that the league and this report is now to be submitted to the various members of the league. Furthermore, it appears that the judges of the court are to be chosen by the council for the term of five years, but their salaries are to be paid by the league.

Have No Standing. "It is apparent, therefore, that the court of international justice, which Mr. Harding hoped would be a substitute for the league of nations, now appears as an essential part of the league, and one which without the league would have no standing whatever.

"This thing having been out of Mr. Root's sitting on the end, we may confidently look forward to another frantic effort to keep both Senator Johnson, who is against any kind of league, and Elliot Root, who is not only for the league, but has performed brilliant services for the existing league, for the party candidate."

The league, together with progressivism, were the backbone of all of Governor Cox's addresses today. He has been touring the state since this morning at Pocatello, Idaho, with later addresses at Logan and Brigham, Utah, enroute to Ogden and Salt Lake City.

A demonstrative welcome was given the candidate all through Utah. Brass bands serenaded, auto, mobile parades, shotgun salutes and participation in an annual "poach day" celebration at Brigham, including being photographed with a very big, young giraffe labelled "prize game" were features of the governor's receptions. A dinner here tonight given by local democrats, a mass meeting and parade to the tabernacle and the governor's address closed the candidate's Utah campaign. He left late tonight to speak tomorrow at Elko, Sparks, Winnemucca, Lovelock and Reno, Nevada, enroute to California.

Progress and peace were the principal Utah presidential addresses of the governor. He also assailed the "senatorial oligarchy" and "big business" and repeated attacks upon republican campaign "counterfeits." "Every ounce of big business," he said, "is being used to keep the Brigham audience, to which I am introduced by Mayor John W. ... That the 'same crowd' ... can read, 'which' ... Roosevelt fought in 1912 ..."

ATTENDANCE RECORD AT FAIR BROKEN YESTERDAY

More Than 3,500 People Went Through Gates Making Largest Crowded Recorded to Date; It Was Buhl Day and That City Turned Out in Force; Livestock in Parade.

All previous attendance records at the Twin Falls county fair were broken yesterday when over 3,500 people passed through the fair gates. It was the largest crowd recorded to date. Yesterday was Buhl day and apparently the entire city of Buhl was present. A great many were ribbon bearing the command, "Hoist Buhl!" while others carried pennants with "Buhl" prominently displayed.

The many exhibits at the fair were even better than the previous day. The stock had been carefully cleaned up, all every animal shone brightly and even the displays of fruit were in better condition. Other exhibits were rearranged all making for a better display.

The program for the afternoon was started off with the livestock parade. The entire exhibit of cattle and horses were led along the race track, and were the cause of much comment from the crowded grandstands. An announcer told of each animal as it passed in review and gave its name, record and owner.

Following the parade the racing program for the day was started. The attendance at the races was much better than on the opening day and nearly twice as many people were packed in the stands as on the previous day. Paid admissions to the grandstands amounted to over 2,000 people.

MANY ARE ENROLLED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Superintendent Blinn Reports 2262 Pupils First Two Days—Before January He Anticipates 2400.

The enrollment at the public schools of Twin Falls for the first two days of the year amounts to a total of 2262, according to figures compiled by Superintendent Blinn. Of this number 647 are enrolled in the high school, 713 at the Lincoln school, 573 at the Bickel school and 421 at the Washington school. Pupils of the seventh and eighth grades have not enrolled.

Superintendent Blinn predicts that the enrollment during the first two weeks of school will amount to 2389 and before the first of the year he believes there will be about 2500 pupils on the roster of the schools. The last year the enrollment at the high school was 633. Figures of the grade schools are not available, but last year there were forty teachers employed while this year 48 are needed. There is not one room left at the Lincoln school for the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, while last year six rooms were available for those pupils. At the Bickel school the only place available for those grades is the auditorium and the same condition exists at the Washington school.

The enrollment at the high school is composed of 99 seniors, 105 juniors, 161 sophomores, 67 freshmen, 165 beginning freshmen, 55 foreign credit students, and four post graduates.

HAY PROBLEMS.
The bureau of markets anticipated weeks ago, that the big surplus would doubtless cause hay to be "drum" on the market at this time of the year when feeding is generally high. The serious financial condition of the farmer has taken away the big and famous market of the Idaho farmer. Breeding ewes and cows are being marketed rapidly and the farmer is making a serious mistake in not purchasing enough cattle or sheep to furnish him a means of marketing this hay. And if a majority of producers should seek this method of getting proper returns from this year's crop, what could be done in the future if our flocks and herds are decreased to the extent that is now apparent.

The farmer must awaken to the all-important "hay problem." Alfalfa is a necessity in our crop rotation, and will probably continue to be the big crop of Idaho farms. But alfalfa will soon lose its popularity if returns are poor. Will the farmer still buy and use thousands of tons of alfalfa by his door, his market, when those same sheep and cattle are the natural consumers of this hay? Don't the farmer's move, who has several stacks of hay on his hands, to intercept a few shipments of lambs or steers, if not cows or calves, to those same sheep and cattle to his own farm? It appears to us that the farmer should try to create his market instead of waiting for it to come to him—for it might not come.

Last year, with livestock consumption being the market, to his own farm, there was a surplus of over 15,000 head of sheep and cattle on the O. S. side guard. The retiring officers will banquet the new officers on the night of installation.

and should receive immediate attention from bankers and business men as well as producers.—Market Table.

DAYTON, O.—Blockie Richards, unbeaten of a year ago, has come to the front so fast that he is being touted as the best featherweight capable of giving Champion Johnny Kilbane a run for his title.

second and third places. The Yankees are leading the Athletics by three percentage points, or by one game. The White Sox are 17 points, or two and one-half games behind the Yankees.

The Yankees from Chicago, Brooklyn maintaining its lead in the National League of five full games over Cincinnati, which won from Philadelphia. The New York Giants did not play and consequently are half game behind Cincinnati and five and one-half games in the rear of the Yankees.

Tomorrow, the first half of the all-important series involving the National League pennant will be opened between Brooklyn and Cincinnati at Brooklyn. While the Yankees enjoy a comfortable lead they still have five games to play with the Giants in addition to the three games with Cincinnati.

The New York Yankees will open a series tomorrow at Chicago. It will be necessary for the Yankees to win all three games to retain first place unless the Cleveland club drops a game while the Yankees and White Sox are fighting it out.

CANADA LOSES POPULATION
There has been much said during the last few years about emigration from the United States to Canada. It has, indeed, been large, amounting to over 400,000 in five years. It develops that the situation has been misinterpreted, for the reason that Canada gave only one side of it. Statistics from Canadian sources failed to take account of the migratory movement from the Dominion into the States. It is now revealed by figures from the Grain Growers' Guide, organ of the Agrarian movement in western Canada, that this movement has been greater than the one in the opposite direction. During the five-year period mentioned more than 600,000 persons left Canada for permanent residence in the United States. Thus there is a balance of 200,000 in this country's favor.

The fact is not mentioned because of any disposition to gloat over Canada. It is natural, though, that Americans should find patriotic satisfaction in figures which show that the pull of the United States is greater than that of Canada, especially when the population computed for by the two countries is for the most part more desirable than the usual class of immigration. Those who move north or south across the international line are usually farmers or skilled workmen. The United States is particularly glad to obtain such recruits instead of the illiterate laborers or peasants that come from various European countries.

There is natural sympathy, however, for Canada. Added to the net loss mentioned is the loss of 60,000 of the country's best men who laid down their lives overseas, in the big war. The deficit is further increased by the thousands, who, drawn by the lure of the mother country failed to return after the war. The natural increase of population due to excess of births over death can hardly do much more than balance all these losses. Canada, therefore, is destined to be disappointed when the new census is taken next year. In 1911 she had 7,200,000 people. In 1921 most Canadians are said to be expecting 9,000,000. A Toronto authority says they will be lucky to have 8,000,000. Americans could wish Canada better luck than that.

THE LADY AND THE SLAVE

Women of East Longmeadow, Mass., did not approve of the slate prepared by the men for the local elections. So they walked out to the town meeting, smashed the slate into a thousand pieces, reversed the program and planned by the Selectmen and did their own nominating. This does not look as the women in Yankee regions at least, were going to lobby timely in the lead of the men. On the contrary, with true Yankee grit-up-and-git they are doing not only their own thinking but their own acting as well.

Whether the new plans for the government of the town are better than those prepared by the men, time alone can tell. But it is safe to say that there is going to be more active interest in the local politics of East Longmeadow the coming year than there has been for many a decade previous.

Active interest, moreover, and direct, swift action based on that interest, is what most towns need; and some states.

A LABOR SURPLUS

The anthracite coal strike, like most of the recent strikes in various lines of industry, proves to be short-lived. The "vacationists", after thinking matters over for a few days, decide to go back to their jobs.

Partly, no doubt, this is due to a growing realization of the fact that if organized labor is to hold together and get anywhere, it must act in an honorable and businesslike way, and keep its agreements with employers and its faith with the public. Partly, too, it is the discovery that a job voluntarily abandoned may not remain open indefinitely.

The labor shortage has almost disappeared. In some specialized industries there has developed an actual surplus, and in some sections there is a general surplus that can be turned easily to supply a temporary need in almost any industry. This surplus as yet is not large. It is really insignificant compared with the "army of unemployed" that has been familiar in many previous periods of retarded business, particularly in presidential years. But it does not take much of a labor surplus to change the situation, and to make jobs less secure, to imperil boom wages and change the whole psychology of the workers.

Since any surplus at all means competition, there is a visible improvement in effort and conscientiousness. Labor is pronounced more efficient and dependable than it has been for some time. Industry profits accordingly, and in one way or another everybody profits.

Thus a little unemployment is found to be a good thing. Much of it, of course, would be a bad thing. But there is no reason why there should be much, if the workers work in the right spirit and if the employers, in this new situation, refuse to take advantage of them.

SHARING ART TREASURE

Why should not the smaller communities be allowed some of the great works of art, since nearly every large art gallery and museum in the country has more of such treasures than its walls or floor space will accommodate? This is the query of the editor of the American Art News.

His reflection arose from the fact that the Metropolitan Museum in New York has been notoriously overcrowded for years, and that recently two bequests have been made to the Philadelphia museum for which there is no space available. He comments as follows:

"The thought arises that scattered throughout the States are numberless communities that would be more than delighted to be started on the primrose path of the permanent collection. Why can not the great museums clean out from time to time their well-stocked basements and do some pruning in their galleries? Their ensembles would not suffer, but, on the contrary would benefit, and many a little town would kindle bonfires of joy. Museums should absolutely decline all gifts and bequests saddled with any condition; they would then retain the power to bestow works of art wherever their advisory committee might deem it expedient."

The idea is both delightful and practical. All that it needs is the first impetus to set it going. The French Academy of Fine Arts has long made a practice of placing works of art about the country in provincial museums. The scheme may well be taken up seriously in art centers here.

THE NEW AIR MACHINE

The "Amphibious tank" prophesied by a French army officer has become a reality. A tank has been built in England which crosses rivers completely submerged, making the depth of the water a mere detail. American military men believe there will come eventually a huge tank that can cross the sea like a submarine or what amounts to the same thing, a submarine capable of locomotion on the land as well as in water.

Among the strictly dry-land tanks there have been many notable developments since the armistice. England has tanks weighing 50 tons, carrying six-inch cannon, capable of moving over the roughest ground. France has tanks weighing 60 tons, heavily armed enough to resist six-inch shells.

Then there are armored planes, bigger and more fearsome than any used in the war. There is talk, too, of machines projected that will travel equally well on land and in air, serving the double purpose of tanks and planes.

Who knows but that some genius will devise a steel monster adapted to all three elements, capable of torpedoing a ship from beneath the surface of the sea, or crashing through hostile trenches to prepare the way for an infantry charge, or rising into the air and sweeping the enemy's ranks with machine gun fire and raining bombs on beleaguered camps and cities?

There are improvements in poison gas and liquid fire, too, and in the possible military use of distase germs.

A pitched battle took place on the streets of Coney Island the other day. Eleven prisoners were taken by the police and $100,000 worth of booze was confiscated. Ireland isn't the only country that can boast of street riots.

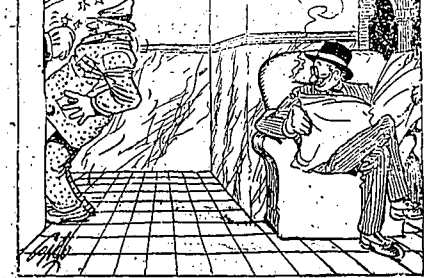

Ohio Republicans have chosen a man named Dave R. Jones as their executive secretary. And what if he puts those famous contributions into his locker?

The earnest seekers who keep asking, "Is marriage a failure?" might as well ask whether life is a failure. And the answer to each question is the same—"It all depends."

JAPANESE QUESTION MUST BE SETTLED

Senator Harding Asserts Pacific Coast Problem Will Have to Be Solved Soon.

MAHON, O., Sept. 14.—Solution of the Pacific coast race problem was declared by Senator Harding in a speech today to be imperative if the nation's future security and tranquility are to be insured.

Speaking to a party of Californians, the republican nominee said the government could not afford to be unmindful of the situation raised by oriental immigration but must give its support to the far western states "in necessary measures" consistent with our national honor to relieve them of their difficulties.

Without raising the question of racial inequality, he asserted provisions could be made in existing laws of our race who had shown themselves incapable of Americanization. He added that the right to take such steps was assured both by moral law and by international usage.

The senator also replied to democratic charges of a republican "senatorial oligarchy" asserting that no one complained about the exercise of congressional power except those who want to perpetuate "autocratic, personal government."

He also touched on the tariff question, declaring it was possible that a long list of agricultural products might be found requiring a protective tariff levy when the problem was brought up for study and action by a republican administration.

About 40 state political leaders and representatives of state and city organizations made up the party from California. Headed by Governor W. Stephens, they marched to the Harding headquarters in line with a Belmont county, Ohio, contingent and assured him that California would join with Ohio in November to make his election sure.

Others answered many of the nominee's questions and after he had finished speaking the crowd gave "three cheers for Harding."

Governor Stephens and Mrs. J. T. Hines, were spokesmen for the Californians, in their telling Senator Harding that the women of his state would welcome themselves this year of "the criticism of having rejected President Wilson because he kept us out of war."

Among other callers today was David Jayne Hill of New York, former ambassador to Germany. He expressed gratification at the stand taken by Senator Harding on the behalf of nations and declared European nations were ready to accept a world peace plan such as the nominee had outlined.

the early morning hour, Governor Cox had a capacity audience at the Postville hotel. He was applauded frequently, especially when he criticized the Marion farm porch campaign.

Mr. Logan, the candidate was welcomed with a shouted salute and brass band serenade. After an auto mobile parade the governor addressed several thousand persons on the Mormon tabernacle lawn, where he was introduced by Joseph W. Pank, democratic congressional candidate. Logan schools were dismissed and the streets and homes decorated.

Prancing progress as against reaction, Governor Cox, referring apparently to the Mormon church, said that organization had progressed "in order to broaden the influence of this organization that has meant so much to the hearts of your people and the welfare of the commonwealth."

In characterizing the League he said declared it was a matter of "keeping faith" with american boys whom he said fought to prevent future wars. League officers, the governor said, had not come forward with a single thing to take its place. The idea to "split, to end the war" was applauded as well his pledge to use money saved by disarmament in reclaiming acid lands.

Today was Governor Cox's third wedding anniversary. He sent Miss Cox a telegram.

THOUSANDS OFFER SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 15.—Thousands cheered the governor during the parade to the tabernacle. He declined to ride and walked alone at the parade head, carrying a flag while automobile spotlights played on him.

The tabernacle was overflowing long before the governor arrived and he was given an ovation as he entered. Many men in floor-length suits and doorways were black with cheering crowds and an overflow meeting outside was addressed by Senator King, representative Welling and others.

The tabernacle meeting was opened in prayer and music. The audience rose and cheered as the governor began with a plea for Americanism and non-partisanship in considering national affairs.

The audience roared approval when Governor Cox attacked the "senatorial oligarchy" and ridiculed the republican front porch campaign. "The idea of the sovereign in America," he said, adding: "I would consider it unbecoming an American to make a throne out of my front porch in Ohio."

When the governor said he would answer any questions, a man interjected: "How about prohibition?" Darning and taking a long drink of water, while the crowd laughed and cheered, the governor replied that he was glad to answer and recalled his statement made in Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Oregon. "It is my friends, no more an issue in this campaign than slavery and you know it." "The 18th amendment is there. On

SYMPATHY FELT FOR FRENCH PRESIDENT

Condition of Executive Has Been Subject for Four Months—He Wants to Resign.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 15.—The tragedy of Deschanel's which for nearly four months has been the secret of a few persons, now has become public property and nothing but the warmest sympathy is being expressed on all sides for the president, as it is understood that he has decided irrevocably to resign.

President Deschanel's four months' flight against illness has been a courageous one since his accident at Montargis, May 23, when he fell from a moving train. It has been a long one, and the hope for an early recovery now has been abandoned. Before another week has passed, it may now safely be said, M. Deschanel will be retired to private life.

There is no immediate danger of President Deschanel's dying, it is said, but it is certain that there is no possibility of his resuming the duties of chief executive.

He Desires to Resign.
The initiative for the resignation came from M. Deschanel himself. Several times since his accident he has informed Premier Millerand that it was his intention to relinquish office.

"If within a reasonable time I have concluded that it will be an impossibility for me to resume full charge of the functions which were entrusted to me by the national assembly I shall resign," M. Deschanel told Premier Millerand.
Charles C. A. Jannart, extraordinary ambassador to the Vatican, who is looming up as a formidable candidate for succession to the presidency, is now at his country home near Digne.

This secretary said that M. Jannart would respond to the call of the deputies and senators if they decided to choose him for the post.

UNEMPLOYED CARRY RED FLAGS

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—Five thousand unemployed men, bearing red flags, made a demonstration today before the office of the employment committee, demanding the women's dismissal. Later they forced themselves into the committee's office and forcibly removed the officials. The security police were compelled to go to the officials' assistance.

COX IS FOR RECLAMATION

LOGAN, Utah, Sept. 15.—Governor Cox told an audience of several persons gathered on the lawn of the Moranba tabernacle here this morning that he was counting back into "the western country" some time during his first term and that he was going to advocate the reclamation of western lands instead of building battle ships.

SENATOR HARDING ISSUES STATEMENT

Tells Women of Party America Must Preserve National Conscience At Home.

MARION, O., Sept. 15.—Urging the adoption of a new proposal for prevention of war instead of the league of nations, Senator Harding by a message today to the committee women's organizations and women's Harding and Coolidge clubs, asked that we "preserve our own national conscience at home and not check it at Geneva."

The message which was being prepared by the 17th member of the women's Harding and Coolidge club of New York City, and sent to all women's organizations, also asserted that "American women must realize that the league of nations as presented by a committee administration would not mean peace for us but would mean American boys living in army tents overseas and asked to die for causes in which they would have no voice."

The message was intended to set forth to women voters the candidate's views on their entrance into politics, why they should enroll in the republican party and a brief outline of the party's position on the league of nations. Senator Harding's message, which is to be sent to make a comprehensive discussion of the league from the women's viewpoint, in a front page speech.

Confers With MILLIS.

Before leaving for Columbus today, Senator Harding conferred with Dr. Newell Dwight Millis, pastor of the Fourth Street Methodist church in Columbus. Millis later gave out a statement in which he said that "possibly one reason why the tide is ebbing away from the party in power" is because "the people think that Governor Cox illustrates the law of arithmetic progression. Beginning with the charges that the republicans were spending eight million dollars in buying the presidency he jumped to $15,000,000 and yesterday to $30,000,000 and soon probably, in the spirit of a progression, will have the republicans spending the total annual income of the nation as a corrupt fund, and the next week he will have us borrowing money from Germany. Sidney Smith once said concerning certain fables that a supposition was spun whenever 'the people begin to laugh at it.'"

"Why is the tide running so strongly towards Senator Harding? The serious note in the senator's thinking," Mr. Millis' atmosphere of self-criticism, "is the sincerity of a man consumed by reserves, his generous judgments of those who differ with him; the total absence of any bitterness in any word of any speech; his spirit of kind,ness, his good will, his big broad Americanism, his constant use of words 'back to the constitution,' the way in which he restrains his friends with the words 'remember that this is a government of law and not men,' the earnestness with which he uttered these words in his private life."

"My primary purpose in these speeches is the building of American manhood and strengthening of American institutions, my secondary ambition is to be president of the United States. But I would be a thousand times rather lose the presidency and be conscious that I have done something for American manhood and American institutions than gain the presidency through any word or deed that might weaken faith in home or abroad in our free institutions, or in the quality of American manhood—all that has convinced the American people that at least there is a man that is equal to and in a sense bigger than an 'office whatsoever.'"

PRESIDENT REVIEWS FOREIGN WARS MEN

Executive Is Sent to East Port of White House Where He Has Good View.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Seated in a wheel chair on the east portico of the White House, President Wilson today reviewed a parade of Veterans of Foreign Wars men.
The president passed the veterans of the best view of the line of men early and while waiting for the parade, Mr. Wilson read to him the respective responses to the salute of the passing veterans and the passing of the national colors by Union Hill.

At the east steps of the capital the parade was reviewed by the great President. Secretary Daniels, Chief of the Marine Corps, accompanied of the marine corps also was in the reviewing stand.
More than five hundred poets were represented and while a majority of the marching were veterans of the world war, there were many who had fought in Cuba, in the Philippines, China and other countries.
The wounded rode near the head of the parade in automobiles and trucks while near the end of the procession were nurses who had worked in hospitals of France. Plans commemorating the work of the Red Cross and welfare organizations were the last in line.

Here's an example of how easy it is to secure over a million votes in the next few days.

Up until one week from Saturday night (just eight more days) every six year subscription to The Chronicle counts a total of 410,000 VOTES. Just three of these would count 1,230,000 VOTES.

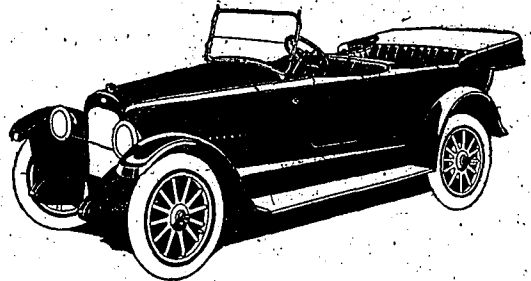

Subscriptions count fast these days—but the vote schedule will be reduced again one week from Saturday night.

The attention of contestants is again called to the big vote-value of SECOND PAYMENTS on subscriptions—that is, extensions of subscriptions received earlier in the campaign. In securing these, contestants should be certain that the receipt stub is plainly marked "second subscription," and the amount of the first subscription shown.
